UNIVERSAL NOTRE DAME NIGHT, 1959

(Right) PHILADELPHIA—John Cardinal O'Hara, C.S.C., '11, Archbishop of Philadelphia, received the annual Man-of-the-Year award of the Notre Dame Club of Philadelphia at this year's Universal Notre Dame Night in the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel. Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., president of the University, was principal speaker.

(Below) CHICAGO—Here is a portion of the 700 Notre Dame alumni and friends gathered at the massive U.N.D. Night ceremonies in Chicago's Sheraton Hotel. Laetare Medalist Robert D. Murphy and Father Hesburgh were among the distinguished guests. For a complete Universal Notre Dame Night report see the Notre Dame Club section.

Flexibility!

In an era of organization, plan, conformity, and structure, I find myself face to face with good Club presidents, Class secretaries, event chairmen, Foundation contributors, or general correspondents, who feel politely or more firmly that our Alumni Association policy is not possessed of the familiar charts and instructions to which their corporate, civic or parochial life is accustomed.

Even your Alumni Board, with total three-year turnover, tends to a little justifiable exasperation, as does the University administration and faculty, that our programs and our response in our alumni world seem to fluctuate, or to lack the predictability of actuarial tables or All-American teams.

I have suspected, even without outside suggestion, that 33 years might produce resistance to change; that old age might produce a weariness with routine; that the bright light of inspiration might be a kerosene holdover. So I have been unusually objective in my analysis of our flexibility. Because we are flexible!

I still find it not only good but essential.

Basic argument for avoiding rigid structure is the fact that we work almost with a completely voluntary organization in our Club and Class programs. And without economic incentive, reward, or sanction. results — no matter how carefully planned — essentially fluctuate. We have kept our patterns flexible so that they will shape with the fluctuation, not crack.

For almost ten important years — 1929 to 1939 — our organization expansion was handicapped by an independent Association budget based on dues that did not permit either staff or mechanics to do more than move with the amazing but varying tides of volunteer activities.

The next ten years — 1940 to 1950 — were largely occupied with the unprecedented adaptation of our programs to years of war, and years of post-war adjustment, that taxed every resource to keep within even our flexible pattern.

During the post-World War II years we suddenly found our Alumni Association growing, through record graduating Classes, by percentages that doubled membership in a decade.

One young Class in this new era created a mailing problem almost as substantial as the total Reunion mailing problems of a decade earlier.

Reunion attendance, once almost lost in the Commencement week end, now brings a thousand alumni back to the campus on a totally different week-end pattern.

Two magazines for alumni suddenly emerged from the Foundation and Alumni programs of 1948, to join a growing volume of correspondence.

Clubs, some of them literally wiped out by World War II and its drain of young men, resumed and mushroomed in new areas after the War. (From 97 in 1948 to 170.)

In addition to this great physical growth we have encountered a brand new set of circumstances — men are more serious in their organizational approach, and the competition for time has jeopardized many older fraternal customs. “Lodge night” has gone out the window, and a meeting now must have more purpose.

Even more significant in our study of the desirability of flexibility is the study of today’s college student — the alumnus of tomorrow. The survey says he is serious about his identity and his life. He is not attracted to organization. He is not moved by tradition. He fears conformity. He wants only limited success, not the top stop in his business or profession.

When you consider, as I hope you will, the number of times we would have had to take our structure completely apart had it been rigid; how unable we are to say now what will be our most effective blueprint for a decade ahead; how even the gospels that experience has written for Club and Class are subject to the varying talents and zeal of officers — I hope you will recognize that over the years the Alumni Office has not ignored practical progress, but has definitely hesitated to trade an effective pliability for a speculative rigor mortis.

J.E.A.
Golden Jubilarians: Three at N.D. Celebrate 50 Years in Priesthood

In the nature of the priesthood and the Congregation of Holy Cross, it is difficult to evaluate one member over another. You are not supposed to. But occasionally time and personality, office or genius, will demand some special notice. This is one of those occasions. From the Province Review:

"On June 26, 1909, in Sacred Heart Church at Notre Dame, the Most Rev. Herman Alerding, then Bishop of Fort Wayne, ordained one of the — up to that time — largest number of Holy Cross priests to be ordained in this province. There were nine of them. Six of those priests have already died. They were Fathers Joseph Burke, George McNamara, Ernest Davis, John Ryan, John Delaunay and Albert Blin. The three who survive are Fathers Thomas Irving, Eugene Burke, and Cornelius Hagerty."

In that one paragraph is so much of the history of Notre Dame during the last fifty years, so much of the obvious answer to Notre Dame’s success — dedication, personality, competence, leadership, and the complete example of the rich relationships that develop daily where religion and education, as Cardinal Newman enjoins, are “found in one and the same place and exemplified in the same persons.”

Of the three jubilarians remaining, they are an editorial problem. First of all, they can tell far more about Notre Dame alumni than the ALUMNUS can tell about them. Secondly, their multiple virtues and talents defy our space limitations. And thirdly, a book will be written about each of them, which should not be delayed by any effort at proper description in these limited pages. Nevertheless, just the occasion (and the fact that many alumni are younger) calls for a hopelessly inadequate but suggestive sketch of three of the great men of Notre Dame.

Father Thomas P. Irving was born in Wisconsin, one of eleven children. He was graduated from Notre Dame in 1904 and received his doctorate in physics from Catholic University. He joined the Notre Dame faculty in 1909 and was later appointed superior of the Holy Cross Seminary. Teaching, a term as director of studies, and two terms as superior of Moreau Seminary, filled Father Irving’s earlier years. He served also as assistant Superior General under Father James W. Donahue, and later headed the department of religion at Notre Dame. He has acted as student counselor and a member of the Provincial Council.

In all of this you must see one common factor that spotlights the great talent Father Irving has devoted to his work — the counseling of young men. When Brother Andre, the miracle worker of Montreal, told him in 1920 that St. Joseph would cure him of incipient tuberculosis, it was not only indicative of how close God and St. Joseph were to Brother Andre, but how generous they have been to Notre Dame.

Father Eugene P. Burke, one of six children, is a native of Chicago. He fell under the spell of the late Father John W. Cavanaugh, C.S.C., and he and his brother, now Father Tom Burke, became two of the great contributions Father Cavanaugh made to the Congregation and the University. Father Gene was graduated from Notre Dame in 1906 and studied Holy Scripture at Catholic U. where he received his doctorate and taught at Holy Cross College there. He returned to the Notre Dame faculty in 1914. In 1919 he went to Columbia (now the U. of Portland) as president. He returned to Notre Dame in 1928 where he became assistant provincial and aided and then succeeded Father Daniel Hudson as editor of the Ave Maria. In 1933 he joined the Notre Dame faculty as head of the English department and later the Department of Religion. He directed campus radio, arranged programs in Washington Hall, preached inspiring sermons and all those other varied and vital things that never seem to begin to give you the picture of a great, a good, an inspiring, and a most pleasant priest.

1959 FOOTBALL TICKET INFO FOR ALUMNI

As we round out our twenty-fifth year in the Athletic Department, and begin our nineteenth season as Ticket Manager, we sympathize with you fellow alumni. You must tire of reading our annual rubrics, just as we vainly seek a fresh approach to the same old stuff. We’re buoyed up each year though, in a negative sort of way, when we again become aware (as the season progresses) that many of you don’t read this anyway. Thus heartened by the fact that we apparently annoy only a segment of you each year, we give you once again the framework of alumni ticket distribution policy and methods. Who knows — maybe everybody will read it this year!

1. Contributors to the Sixteenth Annual Alumni Fund in 1958, religious and honorary degree holders, plus the June Class of 1959, are eligible for Advance Sale order forms for the 1959 football season. PLEASE NOTE that a contribution SINCE January 1, 1959 assures ticket preference for 1960, but NOT for this current year of ’59.

2. Alumni Advance Sale opens June 20, closes July 15.

3. Advance Sale order forms are clearly identified as such by the words “ALUMNI ADVANCE SALE” in bold type along the left edge of the form. These should be in the hands of eligible alumni prior to June 20. If you have not received them by then and you are CERTAIN you qualify under Point 1 above, notify the Ticket Manager at once. All Alumni order forms are addressed by the Alumni Office, but prepared and mailed by the Ticket Office. We shall gladly correct an error promptly upon notification. However, once a game is sold out, correction can become a knotty problem, regardless of where or how the error occurred. Don’t delay if you think you’ve been improperly passed over (most of you don’t — I assure you).

4. Advance Sale forms are limited to two tickets per game, are not transferable, will be honored until July 15 or until the ticket supply is exhausted.

5. General Use applications for most games will be sent to ALL alumni the latter part of July. It is probable there will not be a General Use sale for the Michigan State game, and possible that California may also be claimed by Advance Sale. At this writing (April) these appear to be the only two that may be gone by July 15. General Use forms are transferable and usually valid for more than two tickets. They may be used by the contributing alumnus to order additional tickets; and are a source of tickets for the non-contributor slightly in advance of public sale. They do not carry any locational preference, for all such orders are filled AFTER Advance Sale purchases.

6. Public sale opens annually on August 1. The Ticket Committee will gladly send public order forms to anyone as long as tickets are available. We urge alumni to take advantage of this method for friends or business connections. Instruct us to send them order forms directly, or ask us to send you a supply for distribution. This procedure often gets alumnus off the hook gracefully by letting our own mailing pieces explain to the general public applicant why his seats must be behind the goal line.

7. An Alumni Club planning on a bloc of tickets must file a request with the Ticket Manager BY JUNE 20. Accommodation of Club requests is entirely contingent upon the total Advance sales which close July 15. No definite decisions regarding bloc requests can be reached until that time, but a tentative reservation will be made; then, in the event of shortage, a Club will always be given preference over non-alumni groups. As to GROUP SEAT LOCATIONS, PLEASE, REMEMBER THIS: BLOCK ORDERS ARE ASSIGNED FROM SEATS REMAINING AFTER ALL INDIVIDUAL ORDERS ARE

(Ed. Note: If you can’t get a seat on the 50-yard line don’t complain—the fellow who sold you the ticket can’t either. Ticket Manager Bob Cahill, who wrote this article, seldom sees the Fighting Irish in action although he sells thousands of ducats each Fall to alumni. On home game week ends, his job is so confining at Gate 14 that there isn’t much leisure time to watch the touchdown parade.)

FILLED. THIS MEANS END ZONE SEATS, without exception.

8. More and more Alumni Clubs are requesting two or more seats in "choice location" for raffle or fund-raising prizes. With the preferred seat situation so acute (see again Point 4), the Ticket Committee could furnish "choice" locations only by poaching on the already inadequate Alumni sections. We think this unjust, and unless a Club member surrenders his Advance Sale privilege for the game in question, tickets for prizes must be of the general public variety.

At the NCAA convention last January our College Athletic Business Managers Association was treated to a very interesting (but frightening) talk about the use of Digital Computers in the athletic ticket business. Automation will one day be with us but I sure hope I'm still around the first time the President of the Notre Dame Club of East Euphoria addresses his first irate letter to an IBM 704! SYMPOSIUM ON DESEGREGATION

"The Problem and Responsibilities of School Desegregation" was the subject of a symposium at the Notre Dame Law School on May 8 and 9. In opening the Symposium, Dean O'Meara said "We have no intention of debating the merits or demerits of the Supreme Court's decisions, which we support. Nor are we interested in platitudes or generalities. Our purpose is to concentrate on the practical problems arising from the Court's decisions and on the responsibilities, in relation to these problems, of the churches, educators and school administrators, of public officials, of the Negro community and of the legal profession.

"There are two ways of approaching a problem: one is to treat it as an insuperable road block, the other as a challenge. Our Symposium has been planned on the assumption that the latter is the approach that should be made. It has been planned on the assumption that, if we stop calling names long enough to take a hard look at the practical problems involved in desegregation, and to assess our responsibilities in respect thereto, we will find a viable way out of the present calamitous situation and thus be able to face the challenge of a thermonuclear world as a united and a free people."

Program

Participants in the Symposium, each of whom addressed himself to the problems and responsibilities of the group he represented, were: representing the churches, Bishop Vincent S. Waters of Raleigh, North Carolina, Rev. J. J. Murray, visiting professor at the Presbyterian Theological Seminary, Louisville, Kentucky, and former moderator of the Virginia Synod of the Presbyterian Church, and Reverend Albert T. Mollegen of the faculty of the Protestant Episcopal Theological Seminary, Alexandria, Virginia, last year's moderator of the Supreme Court in the American Constitutional System is still attracting favorable attention. The paper contributed to the Symposium by Mr. Carl McGowan, a member of the Chicago law firm of Ross, McGowan and O'Keefe, and General Counsel of the Chicago and North Western Railroad, was reprinted in condensed form last fall in the Washington Star. Reprints of that condensation have now been sent by the U. S. Information Service to all of its offices in foreign countries for distribution and further republication (in English and in translation) throughout the world.

LAW HONOR BANQUET

The President of the American Bar Association, Mr. Ross L. Malone of Roswell, New Mexico, was the featured speaker at the Law Honor Banquet on Wednesday evening, May 6. This annual affair affords an opportunity to honor the members of the graduating class and, at the same time, to recognize the achievements of all members of the student body who have distinguished themselves in one way or another. This year, in addition, it was the occasion for a joint observance of LAW DAY U.S.A. by the Notre Dame Law School and the St. Joseph County Bar Association.

Mr. Malone's predecessor as president of the American Bar Association, Mr. Charles S. Rhyme of Washington, D. C., addressed last year's Law Honor Banquet; and his successor, who will be formally installed as president of theABA at the annual meeting in Miami in August, Mr. John D. Randall of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, will be the featured speaker in 1960.

MOOT COURT

The judges who will hear the final arguments in the Annual Moot Court Competition next October are:

Honorable Harold H. Burton, Supreme Court of the United States

Honorable Alfred P. Moynihan, United States Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit

Honorable Paul C. Weick, United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio

This carries forward the tradition of having on the court for the final arguments a member of the Supreme Court of the United States. Last year the Supreme Court was represented by Justice Sherman Minton.

The following students will participate in the final arguments:

Mr. William B. F. Custer, Fredonia, N. Y.
Mr. Don R. Gardner, Cincinnati, Ohio
Mr. Paul H. Titus, Bradford, Pa.
Mr. Lawrence D. Wichmann, Erlanger, Ky.

They were selected by the following judges, sitting in the semi-final round of the Competition held on May 1:

Honorable Bernard M. Decker of the Circuit Court of Illinois

Honorable James O. Monroe, Jr., of the Circuit Court of Illinois

Honorable Arthur J. Murphy of the Appellate Court of Illinois

Honorable Jack Murray of the Indiana Circuit Court.

STUDENTS APPOINTED

Notre Dame is on the list of law schools visited annually by a representative of the Attorney General of the United States in connection with the Attorney General's Recruitment Program for Honor Law Graduates. An offer of employment, under this program, was received by Mr. Patrick F. McCarty of Youngstown, Ohio, Editor-in-Chief of the Notre Dame Lawyer. He, however, had already accepted appointment as law clerk for Justice Charles E. Whittaker of the Supreme Court of the United States. Mr. Robert P. Gorman '57 L, one of Mr. McCarty's predecessors as editor-in-chief of the Lawyer, spent the year following his graduation as law clerk for Justice Tom C. Clark.

AN IMPORTANT POINT

A generous contribution to the Law Scholarship Fund has been received from the Farmers Insurance Group of Los Angeles. In his letter of transmittal Mr. T. E. Leavy, President of the Farmers Insurance Group, made an important point: "One of the significant American traditions," he said, "is educational opportunities for young people with outstanding talent but with limited finances. Another is the position of the independent universities, which among our institutions of higher learning are uniquely American in their freedom from government support and control."

To all who have contributed to the Law Scholarship Fund warm thanks are extended by the National Chairman of the Notre Dame Law Association. Mr. Oscar John Dorwin, Senior Vice President and General Counsel of The Texas Company.

Those who have not yet contributed are urged to do so promptly.
Eve of Reunions Comes Too Soon

Commencement and the 1959 Class Reunions may seem late by the calendar this year, but they came so soon after the last observations of Universal Notre Dame Night that there was no time to publish adequate advance information.

As this issue of the ALUMNUS goes to press, a thousand alumni are converging on the campus for the reunion week end and another thousand are departing with degrees after commencement exercises that featured, among other things, the appearance of two European Cardinals of international stature. The Alumni Association Board of Directors are meeting on matters of great concern to the University and her graduates. These events will be covered in detail in the next issue, but for now, on the eve of reunions, we must be content with a brief summary of the week-end festivities. They include:

Saturday, June 13. Class Memorial Masses in each hall chapel. Golf Tournament continues all day. President's Luncheon for the Class of 1934 in the North Dining Hall. College luncheons of some classes in the Morris Inn. Box lunches for all other classes at the halls. Class pictures. Campus tours at 3:30 p.m., the College Hours: open house in the Colleges of Arts & Letters, Commerce, Engineering, Science and Law, with special meetings called by the deans at 4 p.m. After 4:30, cocktail parties, etc. At 6 p.m., the Annual Alumni Banquet, featuring reports to the alumni by Father Hesburgh, president of the University, and William E. Cotter, Jr., president of the Alumni Association; Athletic Director Ed Krause introducing the coaches, including Joe Kuharich and his football staff; and a special ovation for the three golden jubilarians honored in this issue, Fathers Burke, Hagerty and Irving.

Catholics who visit the Grotto of Our Lady of Lourdes at Notre Dame will continue to receive the special indulgences granted by the Church during the Lourdes Centennial Year.

According to Rev. Philip Schaefer, C.S.C., a plenary indulgence (total remission of the temporal punishment due to sin) may be obtained by members of any group (four or five) visiting the campus shrine. Those who visit the Grotto as individuals will receive a partial indulgence. Father Schaefer is director of the Confraternity of the Immaculate Conception of Our Lady of Lourdes, whose headquarters are on campus.

The special indulgences were extended for a period of seven years by the Tribunal of the Sacred Penitentiary at the Vatican. They are renewable for successive seven-year periods.

The Confraternity of Our Lady of Lourdes was established at Notre Dame in 1874, 16 years after the appearance of Our Lady to St. Bernadette. The Grotto, a replica of the shrine at Lourdes, France, was erected in 1896 and has been the center of devotion to Our Lady of Lourdes and distribution of Lourdes water ever since.
GOLDEN JUBILARIANS

local A.O.H., one of seven children. He was graduated from Notre Dame in 1906 and received his doctorate in philosophy at Catholic University in 1911. The next ten years he taught philosophy at Notre Dame. He taught at Portland and at St. Edward's, but his teaching has largely been at Notre Dame, and in the field of his great love, Thomistic philosophy. The priestly qualities of Father Hagerty practically shine through, and radiate a youthful-ness out of keeping with the connotations of a Golden Jubilee. Possibly part of this radiance stems from his long love of outdoor life, his frequent canoe trips and long hikes. Father Hagerty's most memorable characteristic is a forthrightness of opinion and an unwillingness to compromise with truth. For several years he has been chaplain of the Brothers of Holy Cross in Du-Jarrie Hall. The tribute which the Hibernians paid him on their annual banquet night this year was only one of hundreds that groups and individuals would gladly add for his deep and spiritual dedication.

When you wonder sometimes the miracle of Notre Dame, recall that many of its advances have come from the miracle of the concentration and devotion of men like these over the years.

ENGINEERS STAGE 'PROJECT TOMORROW'

The students of the engineering college held their annual Engineering Open House April 24-26. This year's Open House, entitled “Project Tomorrow,” was chairmained by Bob O'Shea, a senior metallurgy major from Chicago, Illinois.

The inaugurating event was the Engineering Show which featured Mr. David Rossin of Argonne National Laboratory speaking on “The Economic Aspect of Atomic Power.”

The principal exhibit of the Auto Show, held in the Navy Drill Hall, was Ford’s Levacar. This amazing experimental automobile rides on jets of compressed air instead of tires. A four-foot "Levascooter," operating on the same principle as the Levacar, gave demonstration rides to the spectators.

On Saturday afternoon, the Chariot Race was held on Cartier Field after thermite welding demonstration. Polyurethane foam production, stop-watch reactions and a rocket fuel exhibit were the core of the chemical engineering department's open house.

The well-deserved prize for the best department displays were presented to the electrical engineers. A few of the myriad of interesting displays they offered were: gyroscopic control systems, sonar, closed circuit TV, digital computers, solar batteries and stereophonic sound. The exhibit meriting the big individual display award, was an architectural exhibit outlining the steps taken from the initial sketches to the final drawings of an office building.

The Open House was considered quite successful by everyone concerned after it was learned that over 6,000 persons viewed the displays during the three-day period.

BOOK REVIEW

The popular image of the American Civil War has been one of battles fought in Virginia and neighboring states with but few skirmishes west of the Mississippi. Actually the campaign for the control of the southwest was, in the author's words "bound more closely to the whole tragic problem of slavery's expansion;" the New Mexican was "not a mere sideshow of the rebellion." The Confederacy in some ways had the initial advantage in the area. There was a considerably large nucleus of support among the residents of the area and in the early phases of the war there was significant desertion of soldiers and officers to the Southern cause. Among the deserters was Col. H. H. Sibley, who went to Richmond to present to President Davis the arguments which Sibley set forth in favor of full scale invasion of New Mexico and who eventually led the main contingent of Confederate forces to the area.

The arguments which Sibley set forth in favor of his plan were impressive: the southwest contained many anxious to join the Confederacy and would thus prove a good recruiting ground for the South; its possession would provide more room for the expansion of slavery; the vast mineral wealth of the area would help remedy the dangerous inflation under which the South was laboring; the greater accessibility of California would bring nearer to realization the Confederate hopes for a Pacific coastline.

The author's portrayals of the leaders of

both sides and his account of the campaign self are sufficiently detailed and very readable. The Southern forces made considerable gains at first and at one point Sibley's forces succeeded in raising the Confederate flag in Albuquerque. However, by July of 1862 the Union Col. J. Slough had secured New Mexico from the enemy forces with the result that Confederate authority along the Rio Grande gradually evaporated. In his analysis of the Southern failure the author admits that Sibley's forces were inadequate for the undertaking. Many of the settlers in the southwest were suspicious of the Southern cause and many others were alienated by the wholesale plundering indulged in by the Confederate forces. Moreover, besides a proneness to drink which impaired his capacity for leadership, Col. Sibley had serious inadequacies as a military tactician.
Robert Kerby is at present an Air Force lieutenant and this work originally appeared as a master's essay written at Notre Dame in 1956. The book is illustrated by the author and has a very attractive format.

Alumni

APPOINTMENTS

Alumni appointed to advisory councils of the University include William C.
Schmitt, '10, board chairman of Schmitt
Steel, Inc., Portland, Ore., just named as chairman of the Monongahela Club, to the Advisory Council for Science and Engineering; Paul J. Cushing, '31, president of Hydraulic Dredging Co., Ltd., Oakland, Calif., a Knight of Malta and a director of the Alumni Association, also to the Science and Engineering Council; and Henry Barnhart,
'23, vice president of the Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton Corporation, Lima, Ohio, to Notre Dame's Advisory Council for Liberal and Fine Arts.

LIGHT IN DARKNESS

Stephen J. Rogers, Jr., '56, is an inspiration at Harvard University, where he has been teaching English composition while studying for a Ph.D. in comparative literature. Stephen has been blind since he was two years old, but it didn't keep him from participating in wrestling and swimming at Notre Dame, which he chose for its Spartan atmosphere and high intellectual standards.
He accomplishes his gigantic tasks at Harvard with no other help than a reader and a long cane named "Matilda." In the Course of his studies Stephen has read
Braille in five languages.

DETERMINED TEACHER

Another miracle in the Boston area is the recovery of William G. O'Hare, Jr., '40, from a polio attack that threatened to cripple him hopelessly for life. Bill was stricken in 1953 while he was dean of the College of Commerce at St. Edward's University (C.S.C.), Austin, Tex., and spent a year in an iron lung before fighting back to work as a teacher, first at St. Ed's and now teaching government at the University of Massachusetts besides serving as as-istant director of its bureau of government research. Nursed back to activity by his wife, he became interested in crutches, fishes with his son Greg and William III. A China-Burma-India veteran, Bill was a magna cum laude at N.D. and taught at Boston U.

PROFESSORSHIPS GROW

The list of alumni-sponsored professorships and "living chairs" lengthens with the announcement that Edward P. "Slip" Madigan, '20, and his son Edward E., '54, are establishing a professorship in Arts and Letters in honor of Rev. Eugene P. Burke's golden jubilee in the priesthood. Alumni with full professorships now in process include: Charles Cushman, '31; Neil Hurley,
'52 (Commerce); John A. McGuire, '59
(Engineering); Francis J., '22, William J.,
'28, and Hugh M. O'Neill, '17; and C. M.
Verbiest, '20 (Commerce).

LAVELLE FUND CONTINUES

The West Point Society of New York, the Yale Club, the New York Giants, etc., have continued to support the fund for the widow and children of the late great Jack Lavelle, spurred by warm tributes from Red Smith, Arthur Daley and other leading sport scribes. The fund has been coordinated by the N.D. Club of New York.

PAPAL KNIGHTHOODS

In the past few months a number of Notre Dame men have been invested as knights in the military orders of the Church by representatives of Pope John XXIII. Among these are M.E. Walter, '14, of Houston, Tex., editor of The Houston Chronicle, invested in the Order of Malta by Francis Cardinal Spellman on Jan. 19 in New York's St. Patrick's Cathedral; Richard C. Muckerman, '20, of St. Louis, businessman and former owner of the St.
Louis Browns, also made a Knight of Malta, who died shortly thereafter; and Harry J.
Kirk, '13, of Washington, D. C., presented with the insignia of knighthood in the Order of St. Gregory the Great by Archbishop O'Boyle March 8 in Washington's St. Matthew's Cathedral.

PERSEVERANCE PAYS

James W. Cullen, '28, of Sayre, Pa., is now Common Pleas Judge of Bradford County, Pa., but his victory over Republican Andrew S. Moscrip cost 436 days of recounts, recriminations and appeals in what may be the longest hassle and the greater farce in the history of the American electoral system. The 436-day ordeal began on Nov. 5, 1957, election day, with an apparent 80-vote lead for Moscrip, but 70 votes appeared to be missing. This led to a series of recounts in which all tallies were challenged, several ballots were voided and the Moscrip lead steadily dwindled.
Finally a three-judge panel declared Cullen the loser by one vote, but the decision was overruled by the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, which judged the contest a tie and ordered the candidates to cut a law book to determine the winner. The decision was protested by Jim Cullen, who charged the court had "substituted a dice box for the scales of justice." But it was the law, and on Jan. 16, 1959, Cullen won the cut, became judge and ended the 15-month
rhubarb.

ROMAN HOLIDAYS

Mentioned but not remarked in the last issue's report on the elevation of Cardinal O'Hara were several well-known alumni who have appeared in Rome in recent months. Ray Durst, '26, of Chicago, a vice president of the N.D. Alumni Association, was one of a handful of Americans to witness the funeral rites of the late Pope Pius XII, and he prepared a detailed report on the solemnities for distribution to his friends. Lawrence A. "Moon" Mullins, '31, athletic director of Marquette University in Milwaukee, Wis., after a disastrous football season and before a brilliant N.C.A.A. basketball stand, had an exciting stay in the Eternal City, witnessing the ordination of his son Lawrence A. Jr., '55, and the subsequent marriage of his daugh-

ALUMNI CLUBS

The 36th annual Universal Notre Dame Night proved what we have known for several years, that the “Night” is one of the great public relations channels of the University, bringing the story of Notre Dame into the community by a locally spotlighted program. Because of this evolution to the local spotlight instead of the once-projected centralized program, the success has been multiplied by extending the observation at local option to dates on either side of the official “Monday after Easter Monday.”

This year of 1959 your Alumni Secretary, partly by design and partly by happy accident, covered his new high record of U.N.D. Night meetings — Rochester, Olean, Syracuse, Utica and Buffalo, N.Y.; Harrisburg and Erie, Penn.; Birmingham, Ala.; Atlanta, Ga.; Jacksonville, Fla., and the Florida State Convention at Ft. Lauderdale, representing the half-dozen Notre Dame Clubs in Florida. These Clubs will have their own equal time for reporting the individual meetings.

I would, however, like to say, for the benefit of all Clubs and all who read, that John Neeen, Sr., Alfred C. Ryan, Jr., and the Rev. Matthew Walsh, C.S.C., who launched the first Notre Dame Night in 1924 as alumni president, alumni secretary, and University president respectively, would glory in the development of their inspiration.

Once in a while you encounter a little nostalgia for the good old days when the boys got together to reminisce, and this is not to be discouraged — it should be recognized by Clubs either in some phase of U.N.D. Night or in a special meeting to cover nostalgia. But in my opinion, formed over 34 of the 36 years the Night has existed, the present growth of Notre Dame public relations owes a large part of its stature to the expansion of the Club programs to include the wives of members, the parents of present students, prominent religious, civic, industrial and educational leaders in the community.

All of us at Notre Dame are impressed by the successful programs which have become truly universal. We are happy that this year so many campus representatives took part in these programs. Their contribution to Notre Dame is immeasurable. —J.F.A.

Akron

Universal Notre Dame Night April 16 in Akron’s Sheraton Hotel featured the appearance of several former Notre Dame football stars as guests of the Akron Club to pay homage to the University’s excellence in the academic arena. Present were Club President BOB KAPISH and GENE KAPISH ’52, of Barberton, O., former running back; STAN COFFMAN, captain of the 1916 Irish, now president of the National Solvent Co., Cleveland, O.; JOE BOUGAINVILLE, ’27, South Bend radio-television sports commentator, formerly a tackle; DON MILLER, ’25, famed quarterback of the Four Horsemen and former U. S. district attorney in Cleveland, and STEVE SITKO, ’40, of Akron, a famous N. D. quarterback.

Named Notre Dame Man of the Year was WILLIAM G. BURKHARDT, ’35, president of Burkhardt Consolidated Corp., honored for his civic service, his efforts for Catholic Charities, the Red Cross, the Boy Scouts and the Akron Club as well as his exemplary personal life. JOSEPH KRAKER was toastmaster of the affair.

Officers elected for 1959 are: JOHN L. DARAGO, ’56, president; JOHN B. HUMMEL, ’48, vice-president; BRUCE RAFF, JR., ’49, secretary, and JOSEPH WEIBEL, ’56, treasurer.

Atlanta

On April 22 the Notre Dame Club of Atlanta held the fifth annual Universal Notre Dame Night with Alumni Secretary JIM ARMSTRONG as guest speaker. Among local dignitaries attending were Mayor William B. Harris of Atlanta and Judge James C. Davis of the U. S. House of Representatives. AL ABRAMS, Georgia’s leading supporter of Notre Dame, was selected as the recipient of this year’s Man-of-the-Year award, and Club President DICK DONELLY was honored with a certificate of appreciation for his outstanding efforts in behalf of Notre Dame and the Club. Dick is being transferred to Dallas, and new officers will be announced in the next issue. Coach HARRY MEHRE was toastmaster, and REV. VINCENT P. BRENNAN, S.M., gave the invocation as Club chaplain. Other officers of the past year were JAMES E. BARKNARD, vice-president and secretary, and MEL-Ville S. Rummel, Treasurer. Kenneth G. Davis, Jr., was chairman of the program.

Boston

The Notre Dame Club of Boston celebrated Universal Notre Dame Night April 13 with an attendance of approximately 120. Among the guests were: Bishop Minnihan, several distinguished priests, Father R. M. Sullivan, and Monsignor DeAN JAMES W. Culliton of the Notre Dame College of Commerce. Bill Dacev was installed to succeed Dick Hyland as Boston Club president.

Buffalo

The following Notre Dame men made a week-end visit to the St. Luke's Convent at Derby, N.Y.: Maurice Quinn, '33, (chairman); President John LaVigne, '40; newly-elected President Tony Guarino, '48, Frank Gagliano, '30; Ray Rusek, '38; Don Jacobi, '33; Joe Ryan, '38; John Enders, '32; John Egan, '37; Harry Quin, '39; Edward T. Flanagan, '38; Joseph Mangan, '45, and John Madden, '50.

At our latest club meeting Chairman Tony Guarino, '30, of the Notre Dame Foundation reported that 47.5% of the current membership and a total rising to 81.5% were contributing to the Foundation. This is a direct result of Tony's consistent work on the foundation program. Now Tony has all his legal associates together to make sure that $1,000,000 per year deduction is possible for the law school scholarship program. If it can be done Tony will be the man to do it.

Buffalo was host to Jim Armstrong as guest speaker for Universal Notre Dame night in Buffalo. Chairman Harry Quinn, '49, Chairman Donald Seifert, '49; and committee established April 13, 1959, as Universal Notre Dame Night in Buffalo in order to agree with Jim Armstrong's itinerary.

One of the programs for Jim Armstrong assisted in the installation of the following newly elected directors: Harry Quinn, '49; Thomas Kelly, '49; Eugene Seifert, '49; Jack Doyle, '49; Bill Stanley, '48. Newly-elected officers of the Notre Dame Club of Buffalo for 1959-60 also satoted on this night with the installation of Father John F. Enders, Jr., 53; Treasurer Thomas Kelly, '49; Financial Secretary John Boland, '58; and Secretary Don Jacobi, '33.

There was an unusually large turnout of Notre Dame men and their friends in attendance at the Hotel Lenox for this night, the opening of the Buffalo Club in order to agree with James Armstrong's installation of the following newly elected directors:

Five Notre Dame men and a number of their wives were in town to play Canisius College. At a pre-game cocktail party Father O'Donnell spoke on the obligation of the alumni to their school and urged the graduates to continue their educational process, primarily through reading, even though they have completed their formal years of classroom work. He emphasized the instilling in the minds of their children the desire to learn through reading. As a result of Father O'Donnell's talk the organization of a reading-discussion seminar is in the planning stage.

The next activities on tap for the Club are the Summer Communion Breakfast in June with the N.D. students from this area and the annual picnic which will be held August 1 at 30th Street Park.

Ed Machuga, Secy-Treas.

Cedar Rapids

A large number of alumni, parents and students gathered at the Sheraton-Monroe Hotel for Cedar Rapids' third annual Universal Notre Dame Night.

Father Richard J. Grimm, C.S.C., Religious Superior at Notre Dame spoke on the student of tomorrow. He told the group that "a well read boy, one that has read beyond the minimum high school requirements makes the best student." Many questions were raised about the best way to prepare a youth for college.

Msgr. Maurice Shelly (Vice Admiral USN, ret.) introduced Father Grimm. Many Notre Dames probably recognize the "Admiral" as he spent 23 years at Catholic U. and spoke at various Washington, D.C., Notre Dame gatherings.

Guests included: The Rev. Mr. Carl Level, '40, Mr. St. Bernard Seminary, Dubuque, la.; Mr. Cy Locher and family of Monticello, la.; Mr. CHAS. CASH and family, Anamosa, la.; Mr. M. W. O'REILLY, Mr. CHAS. SCHWISS and Mr. John Palka, and Mr. and Mrs. BRUCE MAJERUS.

Congratulations to Mr. George Benning on his recent promotion to Group Leader in the Research and Development Division of Collins Radio Co.

Central Florida

Notre Dame men of the Orlando area were invited to take part in Universal Notre Dame Night ceremonies at the Florida State Convention in Fort Lauderdale, featuring Executive Vice-President Rev. Edmund P. Joyce, C.S.C., and Alumni Secretary James E. Armstrong as guests from the campus.

Central New Jersey

The two major social events of the Central Jersey Club since the last report emanated from the Garden State at the Cherry Hill Country Club in December and Universal Notre Dame Night Dinner Dance on April 11 in Plainfield.

Tony Guiffre, chairman of the dance, displayed his characteristic flair for providing a most enjoyable evening with danceable music and a highly delectable buffet. "Pres." Dan Grace proved the master of cordiality, by some very proficient table hopping.

Central New Jersey's pair of Veeps, Joe Simmons and ED Sadowski, co-chairman the U. N. D. night, attended by 120 members, wives, and friends at the Park Hotel. The success of the affair was assured with the presence of Father Edmund P. Joyce, C.S.C., executive vice-president of the University, as the honored guest and principal speaker. Joe Rea, Secretary, presented with the "Man of the Year" award for his outstanding contributions, over the years, to the club and its community. The entire Club is proud of Jack's accomplishments. Giving assist to Joe and Ed were: DAN GRACE, Jack McKenna, Ken Black, Jack Doyle, Tony Guiffre, Chris Lassen, and Joe Sepskoski.

Many of the members took advantage of the opportunity to hear the Notre Dame Glee Club in their appearance in Sommerville Easter Sunday evening.

The Club is temporarily losing the services of Ken Buck who is spending a three-month sojourn in Uncle Sam's forces at Fort Monmouth. The Club would like to express, through these pages, its deepest sympathy to Jack McKenna for the loss of his parents who died in an automobile accident recently.—Joe Sepskoski, Secy.

W. JOSEPH MALONEY, a pioneer organizer of retreats for Catholic laymen, was named Chicago's "Notre Dame Man of the Year."

Maloney, a former public utility executive, has been active in arranging Notre Dame's summer retreat for laymen for nearly 40 years. This retreat annually draws hundreds of Chicago area men.

The Club honored LEO T. EAGAN, President of Notre Dame, at a dinner April 12 at the Statler Hotel. MONSIGNOR GALLAGHER was the Mass celebrant at St. John's Cathedral. CLAYTON LEROUX announced that the Club was receiving three- or four-year scholarships from the Cleveland Club and that both the demand and quality of applicants was the best in several years. The only other order of business at this meeting was a constitutional change raising the amount of the dues to $3.00 per year.

Mrs. Agnes M. Smith, wife of EARLE G. SMITH of Cleveland wishes to announce that the Women's Advisory Council of the University has selected "the needs of the University Library" as its special project this year and has organized the Notre Dame Library Association to help handle this problem. It is hoped that all Cleveland Alumni members and their friends will act enthusiastically on the literature to be sent them regarding the University Library.

IN MEMORIAM

On April 3, 1959, the University of Notre Dame and the Cleveland Club of Notre Dame lost a dear friend with the passing of JAMES W. ROHR, a true son of Our Lady. Chuck Rohr gave of his time and his resources continually throughout his career as a Cleveland businessman for the betterment of the Cleveland Club and friends of Notre Dame. The annual picnic held at Rohr's Farm will never be the same without the presence and our host in his white apron and chef's hat. The Cleveland Club of Notre Dame extends their prayers and deepest sympathy to Mrs. Charles Rohr.

Dayton

On February 9 we had about 45 members and guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Paul Lammers. An excellent dinner at Sue Miller's Restaurant. ED (Red) SHEA, '23, was the guest of honor as we celebrated his election to the Board of Directors of the Notre Dame Alumni Association. Ed, who is generally conceded to be Notre Dame's foremost representative in the Dayton area, was verstitially happy to receive the honor which he so fully deserves. Despite the journalistic furor created by the choice of football coaches shortly beforehand, the election seemed to be in sympathy with the turn of events, similar to the attitude expressed in the Scholastic editorial published in the March Alumni. Another featured speaker at our smoker was Wally Post, former slugging of the Cincinnati Reds and now an outfitter with the Philadelphia Phillies. Wally gave a brief talk about his baseball experiences and then graciously answered baseball questions from the floor of the room. Wally said that he thought the hiring of TERRY BRENNAN as a physical conditioning specialist by the General Manager of the Cincinnati Reds was a good idea because they realized that a thorough conditioning than baseball and Terry's training facilities at bearkind might help to introduce new football ideas into the teaching program of the football team. A film covering the World Series Highlights of 1959 was shown.

On April 8 with an excellent prime rib dinner at the Gibbons Hotel (SAM GIBBONS, '33, made the cuisine arrangements), attended by 75 members and guests. ED SHEA presented the "Man of the Year" award to our outgoing president, PAUL LAMMERS, '54, for the considerable effort he expended in keeping the Club rolling in high gear during the past year.

ED SHEA presented the "Man of the Year" award to our outgoing president, PAUL LAMMERS, '54, for the considerable effort he expended in keeping the Club rolling in high gear during the past year.

The Universal Notre Dame Night address was delivered by DR. THOMAS CARNES, Vice-President in charge of research and development at the Eli Lilly Company of Indianapolis. Dr. Carney, who received his bachelor's degree from Notre Dame in 1937 and his master's and doctor's degrees from Pennsylvania State University and who did additional graduate work at the University of Wisconsin, discussed the role of science in modern education. Dr. Carney explained that as consultant to the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, he assisted in a survey of the curriculum in grade schools, high schools, and colleges and universities. He discovered that the trend in some modern schools is to operate a type of educational curriculum permitting young students to select courses at random without proper guidance. As a result, some students choose all "desert" courses instead of having a few of such courses properly offset by a heavier schedule of "meat and potato" courses. Dr. Carney asserted that although science is very important, it is but one part of culture. We must remember, he stressed, that science, art, and philosophy are interrelated and that philosophy is the parent of science.

Paul Lammers announced that the following members had been elected to office for the coming year: President: HERMAN A. ZITT, '48; Vice-President: WALTER J. GEREND, '39; Secretary: GEORGE A. PLAUM, '54; and Treasurer: ANDREW AMAN, '47. Andy deserves the title of "Mr. Moneybag" for being re-elected Treasurer for the "unprecedented" time. The two members newly-elected to our Board of Directors are JAMES A. BORSCHE, '34, and WILLIAM W. MACMILLAN, JR., '32. Other members of the Board of Directors are: LEO J. (Bud) CONDRON, '39; PAUL LAMMERS, who, as retiring President, automatically becomes a member of the Board; TOM LANDGREN; FRANK E. McBRIDE, JR., '30; and EDWARD (It's a girl!) STEINER, '41, Ed's daughter, Mary Alice, comes as a welcome addition to the family, having been preceded by four boys.

With Lent following shortly after the Christmas season, local club's activities were rather sparse from Christmas Eve until the Universal No­ tre Dame Night function.

The annual Christmas Dance, this year being its seventh, was again held at the President Hotel in Kansas City. Starting at the usual 7:30 time, the bar was opened for "all you wanted" until 8:30, when the light refreshments were served. The dance continued until midnight. Afterward the guests jammed the basement of the Dan Hoe­ ddy Cocktail lounge. Dan, being a good N. Dick was able to once again renew old friendships here and gain a good insight to many of the more pressing questions presented to him by the local alumni. The affair was held on April 13 at the Black Angus Steak House in the south part of town. This year's affair was restricted to the male side of the alumni, and a nice crowd of approximately 75 were present.

Preceding Notre Universal Notre Dame Night, ballots were sent to all members for the new officers, who are replaced every two years. The officers elected for the coming term were: President, JOHN T. MASSMAN, '56; Vice-President, JAMES H. DE COURCEY, '56; Secretary, GEORGE J. HIGGINS, JR., '55; Treasurer, HAROLD SOLOMON, '47.

Also coming fast to the front is the Scholarship Award of the William Rockhill Nelson Scholarship made each year during the latter part of the summer. Next time we hope to have the results.

Kentucky

On Sunday, March 1, the Notre Dame Club of Kentucky held a Communion Breakfast at St. Mary Magdalen Church in Louisville.

At our regular monthly meeting on March 24, Kentucky alumni were pleased to have as our guest MR. JAMES FRICK of the Foundation. Mr. Frick presented a most interesting and informative talk, and also brought with him movies of the highlights of last year's Allentown, YALE-WILLENBRINK, '49, arranged to have a projector and screen available, and a very enjoyable evening was had by all.

The Club gathered on Universal Notre Dame Night at the University Club in Louisville on April 18, for an enjoyable dinner dance. Brother Thomas More, C.F.X., principal of Saint Xavier High School, was our guest speaker. The approximately 83 guests who attended helped to make the affair a fine success, and our thanks go to JOHN JONES, '50, BILL WELCH, '50, and LEONARD BROWN, '50, who handled the arrangements.

Our annual retreat to the Abbey of Our Lady of Grottoes, Ky., was well attended and thoroughly enjoyed. It took place for the first time from May 22 and 23 this year. Arrangements were handled by FRANK BLOEMER.

Mr. ED ROSLER, a prominent Catholic layman in Louisville, and father of Air Force Captain BOB ROSLER, '50, died recently. The Club gathered to say the rosary for the repose of his soul.

La Crosse

Our Universal Notre Dame Night celebration was held April 7 at the Cerie Club before a splendid turnout of many friends, their wives and guests. FATHER LOUIS PUTZ, C.S.C., of the University delivered the main address, which was enthusiastic and inspired.

It was a real pleasure to have Father Putz as our guest and the many friends he has in this area welcomed the opportunity to visit with him. FREDERICK FUNK turned in an excellent performance as toastmaster, and JERRY HEBERLEIN, who recently took over the Abbey Club, did a splendid job of handling the affair.

In June we are holding our annual summer dinner-dance at the Country Club. Engineered very well and given by Mrs. Putz, the function has proven itself a successful means of early summer relaxation for members and friends of the club. If you have always desired to have a steady position as head of the gala event. Congratulations were in order for president, JIM FRICK, on his announcement of a new addition to the Krooner household; regrets but best wishes to GENE SMITH, District Manager of Equitable Life Insurance Company, on his transfer to the Milwaukee office.

Members next point to the steak fry in September.

Lehigh Valley

For the third straight year the Universal Notre Dame Night celebration was successful and a huge success. Over 200 alumni, students, and guests gathered for a Holy Hour at St. Catherine of Siena parish in Allentown on Saturday, April 4. MR. EDWARD O'LOUGHLIN, pastor of St. Catherine's and new club chaplain, conducted the ceremonies. Following the Holy Hour, the group moved to the Hotel Traylor in Allentown for a delicious luncheon.

Features of the evening included an address by Fr. GEORGE BERNARD, C.S.C., Vice-President of the university Affairs and the theme of "Notre Dame Man of the Year" award to Dr. LOUIS T. GABRIEL, JR., past president.

Fr. Bernard's address concerned the general theme of this year's Universal Notre Dame Night, "Tomorrow's Students."

Los Angeles

April 9 was the date of Los Angeles Universal Notre Dame Night. That very famous gentleman who has stirred up the "Big Controversy" in Los Angeles, Dodger President, Walter O'Malley, was guest speaker. The Dodgers didn't open in Los Angeles until April 14 but Mr. O'Malley returned to Los Angeles early in order to speak to the Notre Dame Alumni. In the entertainment department there were some wonderful surprises. Top Hollywood personalities were lined up. Last, but not least by no means, we bestowed our Notre Dame Man-of-the-Year award for 1958 to that well-known and widely respected Notre Dame National Alumni Board Member and Bank of America Vice-President, GENE KENNEVY. The only business conducted that night was a very brief report on events of the past year and coming 1959 events, with special emphasis on the progress of our scholarship fund.

Miami

The Miami Notre Dame Club had a highly successful special dinner-meeting on Monday, Feb. 23, in the University Club of the Urney, to honor Father Tom 0'DONNELL, C.S.C., Assoc. Director of Athletics.

The following members of the Greater Miami Foundation Committee were on hand: FEAR C. WARD, State Governor; L. L. PROBST, City Chairman; ED HANLY, JR., JAMES HULL, ED KELLY, CHARLIE MAHER, DAN ROWLANDS, JIM SMITH, BILL SELK, and MIKE ZOROVICH.

Father Tom gave us a very informative and inspiring talk on the Foundation and its aims for Notre Dame in the next ten years. He covered the plans for the use of the $6 million dollars the Foundation hopes to procure, stressing such items as endowment for increased faculty salaries to obtain the best possible teaching staff, research, student aid, new buildings, etc., and the all-important item of alumni participation in the drive.

With considerable persuasion we managed to get Mike off the subject of how to catch salmon (he boasts a 6'6" sail was "caught" by Big Moose who is only a couple inches shorter) — how the fencing team fared, the cross-country team, the tennis team — etc., etc., — to talk about a subject "known at" Football — and he didn't even mention the question in the forecast of Catholic student life and varied his speech to those of you who were there "got the word!".

The annual Universal Notre Dame Night observance of the Notre Dame Club of the Mohawk Valley was held Saturday evening, April 11, at the Beaches in Rome.

Approximately 130 guests attended the dinner and heard principal speaker JIM ARMSTRONG, '35, secretary of the alumni association, state that "most colleges today are interested in the solid, all-around boy who wants to share the benefits of his college education with his community."

TOMY GIUZZI, '36, served as chairman of the event. JAMES T. GRIFFIN, '34, prominent Rome attorney, did a terrific job as toastmaster, while FATHER FRANCIS WILLENBURG, head of the Catholic Charities in Utica, gave the invocation.

Speaking on the topic, "Tomorrow's Student," Armstrong stressed the idea that a well-prepared youth today need not worry about being a genius to get into college. "Today's college student is more serious than yesterday's," he said, "and less tendency to bury himself. He doesn't want to succeed for success itself but to achieve a place in life." Because of this changing goal, Armstrong said, it is necessary for parents and counselors to step in early to aid young men in their college preparation.

Area committee members assisting Giuzzi were BILL LYNCH, '54, chairman; DR. DANIEL C. SHAUGHNESSY, '50, and DR. DONALD A. GAVAGAN, '42, Herkimer; JOHN J. MCCANN, '50, Utica; JOHN J. NOSS, '42, Utica; LOUIS P. CLARK, '34, Yorkville; L. DANIEL CALLAN, '50, New Hartford; FRANK W. DONALTY, '32, EDWARD A. BAGNARI, '32, and EDWARD J. SWEENEY, '30, all of Utica.

DANIEL WATERBURY, '41, club president, and his wife were also at the speakers' table along with treasurer ROGER LEMKE, '38, and Mrs. Lecme.

On Sunday morning JIM ARMSTRONG and his charming wife attended Mass and had breakfast in Utica with KEN MURPHY, '54, club secretary, and Mrs. Murphy. The Armstrongs then left for the remainder of their eastern swing.

Congratulations, incidentally, are in order for two brand new fathers in the club. BILL LYNCH, '54, and ROGER LEMKE, '38, were each presented with baby daughters recently. Both are doing fine (the fathers, we mean).

KENNETH F. MURPHY, Secy.

New Mexico
Governor John B. Burchett helped the Notre Dame Club of New Mexico celebrate Universal Notre Dame night by attending our banquet Friday, April 10. Judging from the way he put the University's athletic director on the spot for a pair of good tickets to a future Notre Dame game, he seems to be one of our loyal "subway alumni."

Nearly 200 alumni and friends of Notre Dame gathers enjoyed the Lobster Tail dinner and the entertaining and moving talk delivered by the principal speaker of the evening, "MOOSE" KRAUSE.

The "Man of the Year" award was given to Paul W. Salazar, former juvenile probation officer for Bernalillo County.

Even more important than the fact that the banquet was a financial success was the fact that those in attendance enjoyed the evening immensely and took home a better appreciation of the aims and status of the University of Notre Dame.

Despite an extensive "flu" sick list the attendance was almost record breaking.

The speaker of the evening was Rev. James M. Riblee, Diocesan Director of Vocations, who followed in his speech the theme of this year’s programs, "Tomorrow’s Student." Father Riblee, an unusually fine speaker, held the rapt attention of all those present with his unique approach to the subject. He stressed the importance of premonition and the role of prayer in premonition. Salesmen, DR. BOB MAHER, ’35; DR. DENNIS C. HIGGINS, ’50, vice president; TOM LULLY, ’06; the outgoing president, was master of ceremonies.

The Club presented Father Riblee with a check for a use in connection with his work at Bishop White Preparatory Seminary. One of the seminarians, Robert Murphy, son of DON V. MURPHY, ’37, was present as a special guest of the Club.

The Club officers made up the committee arranging the event. They were: John E. Liston, vice president; John L. Good, treasurer; L. L. Frazee, and J. F. Collins, secretaries.

An open house honoring HUGO C. ROTHERT of the Class of 1893 in Toledo, Ohio, March 4. Mr. Cooney, the oldest Notre Dame alumnus in the Toledo area, was feted by the officers of the local Notre Dame Club.

On hand at the Universal Notre Dame Night dinner of the Notre Dame Club of Eastern Indiana was CHARLES F. VOGT, of Muncie, a former president of the Eastern Indiana Club and an alumnus for sixty years.

Requiescant in pace: WILLIAM F. MONTAVON, '98, and JAMES B. QUINN, LL.B., '97. Mr. Quinn's daughter, Mary, reported his "intense and constant loyalty to Notre Dame."

Solemn Requiem Mass for WILLIAM F. MONTAVON, Class of 1899, a pioneer in the work of the National Catholic Welfare Conference and director of its Legal Department for a quarter century, was offered Feb. 19 in the Shrine of the Blessed Sacrament, Washington, D. C.

Mr. Montavon died February 13 at a local hospital after a prolonged illness of several years. Honored by popes and lauded by cardinals, archbishops and bishops for his years of zeal, prudence and ability, Mr. Montavon retired as director of the NCWC Legal Department in 1951 after serving in that post since 1925.

Born on July 14, 1874, near Portsmouth, Ohio, Mr. Montavon also attended St. Edward's College in Ostate; St. Charles' College in Maryland, and the Lausanne Institute near Paris, France. He received his doctorate from the Catholic University of America.

At that time the Catholic University was called upon by the U. S. government to supply a teacher for work in the Philippines and Mr. Montavon was selected for the assignment. In 1915, he became superintendent of schools for the Province of Tayaba, largest in the islands.

He returned to the United States at a time when the U. S. Department of Commerce was organizing its foreign service. Appointments of 10 commercial attaches of the department were authorized by Congress. In a competitive examination with 123 candidates, Mr. Montavon won first place and was named U. S. Commercial Attaché in Lima. His territory covered Peru, Ecuador and Bolivia. When the Inter-Allied Board on Enemy Trading was formed in Lima during World War I, Mr. Montavon was chosen as secretary, and chairman of its committee on investigations.

After World War I, Mr. Montavon left the government service and took a post with an American corporation in Peru. He returned to this country in 1923, continued in the service of the corporation until 1925 when he was named director of the NCWC Legal Department.

He accompanied the late Msgr. John J. Burke, C.S.P., first NCWC general secretary, on a mission to Mexico at the height of vicious persecution of the Church in that country. A short time after the two conferred with the then President Calles of Mexico, a nuclear crisis was reached and the persecution began to abate.

In 1929, Pope Pius XI conferred Knighthood in the Order of St. Gregory the Great upon Mr. Montavon in recognition of his work with the NCWC and his efforts in the Mexican situation. A year later, Mr. Montavon made another trip to Mexico, during which he was honored by members of the Mexican Hierarchy and by Catholic societies of the nation.

In 1930, President Herbert Hoover named Mr. Montavon to accompany the Forbes Commission on a trip to Haiti, where he rendered important service to the commission as well as to the Haitian Hierarchy. The same year, Dayton University conferred an honorary doctorate of laws upon Mr. Montavon and the following year he was named for the Catholic Action Medal by St. Bonaventure University.

In subsequent years, Mr. Montavon served in a number of advisory posts for the U. S., principally in Latin American affairs, while continuing as head of the NCWC Legal Department.

A second papal honor came to him in 1945 when Pope Pius XII named him a Knight Commander of St. Gregory the Great.

Mr. Montavon's wife died several years ago.

On the occasion of his retirement from the NCWC, Mr. Montavon received the paternal blessing of Pope Pius XII and tributes from scores of members of the U. S. hierarchy. He also was lauded by the National Health and Welfare Retirement Association for his efforts in establishing a retirement system for members of the NCWC staff and for his services as a trustee in the organization.

Members of the hierarchy in this country and in Mexico praised the service rendered to the Church by Mr. Montavon as he was laid to rest in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

Archbishop Patrick A. O'Boyle of Washington prided at the Solemn Requiem Mass. Bishop Howard J. Carroll of Altoona-Johnstown, former general secretary of the NCWC, and Auxiliary Bishop John M. McManus of Washington were in the sanctuary, as were a number of monsignori and priests.

Msgr. Paul F. Tanner, NCWC general secretary, was celebrant of the Mass. Priests on the NCWC headquarters staff filled the other offices of the Mass. The death of Mr. Montavon calls not only for an expression of sympathy to relatives and friends, but also "for an expression of thanks to Almighty God for having raised up among us a man of such deep faith, sincere devotion to the interests of the Church and generous dedication of his unusual talents to the welfare of his fellow men," said Archbishop Karl J. Alter of Cincinnati in a message read by Msgr. Tanner.

The chairman of the NCWC administrative board added that the Conference "gratefully acknowledges its indebtedness to his wise counsel, generous self-sacrifice and highly efficient service in the Legal Department over a period of many years. He was a pioneer in the formation of our traditions."

Archbishop Joseph F. Rummel of New Orleans said Mr. Montavon merited the gratitude of our Catholic hierarchy by his constant dedication and prudent understanding in connection with the NCWC office.

Mr. Montavon was a distinguished Catholic who "gave his most valued services to the NCWC," said Archbishop Francis P. Keough of Baltimore.

Service rendered by Mr. Montavon toward the settlement of the persecution waged against the Church in Mexico in the time of President Calles was recalled by a telegram from Archbishop Miguel Dario Miranda y Gomez of Mexico. The Archbishop, then a young priest, worked with Mr. Montavon in seeking a settlement of the persecution.

"From the bottom of my heart," said Archbishop Miranda, "I join NCWC mourning with my prayers for Mr. Montavon whose long and faithful service of our Holy Mother the Church we all admire and praise."

Bishop Emmet M. Walsh of Youngstown, episcopal chairman of the NCWC Legal Department, recalled that for over a quarter of a century Mr. Montavon "filled with great distinction the onerous office of director of the Legal Department and was one of the key figures in NCWC." His great gifts of mind and heart aided mightily in building up the ability of NCWC to serve the Church.”

Bishop Carroll said Mr. Montavon’s services to the Church “were manifold, vast in their scope and of immense significance.” “His uncommon background of scholarship and experience, his vision and his fine Catholic sensibilities were a providential blessing to the Legal Department of the NCWC in its difficult formative years,” the Bishop added. “As a pioneer in the establishment of that department he had a large role in laying the solid base upon which it has risen to eminence and esteem.”

In Portland, Ore., Multnomah County Circuit Judge FRANK J. LONERGAN, ’04, was treated for a dislocated hip in February after an automobile collision. Judge Longen recovered satisfactorily and said he was thankful his injuries were not more serious.

Since this has been a jubilee issue we shouldn’t forget the anniversaries of two well-known Brothers of Notre Dame. On March 19, 50 years for BRO. GREGORY KACZYNIAK, C.S.C., and an amazing 60 years for BRO. BERNARD GERVASI, C.S.C.

GOLDEN CIRCLE—More than forty alumni and friends of Notre Dame heard James E. Armstrong, executive alumni secretary, speak at the Castle in Olema, New York, on Universal Notre Dame Night. Present were (1 to r.) Prof. Nicholas J. Amato, ’44, newly-elected vice president of the Golden Circle Club of southwestern New York and northwestern Pennsylvania; James F. McVay, ’43, president; the Very Rev. Brian Lhota, O.F.M., president of St. Bonaventure University; Mr. Armstrong; the Rev. Frederick Reilly, assistant pastor, St. Bernard Church, Bradford, Pa.; Dr. Russell J. Jandoli, ’40, dinner chairman, and Nicholas J. Ash, ’49, secretary-treasurer.

From the Alumni Office:

WALTER DUNCAN was on the campus during the last week of May for a meeting of the Associate Board of Lay Trustees and passed along a hello to his classmates.

From the Alumni Office:

WILLIAM E. COTTER, who died in August of 1957, would be pleased at his son’s election to the presidency of the Alumni Association, which he headed twenty years ago, just as Jim Keenan, Jr., who died in 1941, would certainly have loved to live in the residence hall dedicated as his memorial by his dad, JAMES F. KEENAN.

Classmates will be happy to hear that Pope John XXIII has conferred Knighthood in the Order of St. Gregory the Great on HARRY J. KIRK for his many efforts in behalf of the Church. The insignia was presented by Archbishop Boyle at Washington's St. Matthew's Cathedral in March.

From the Alumni Office:

Congratulations are overdue for M. E. WALTER, editor of the Houston, Tex., Chronicle, on his appointment by Pope John XXIII to the Knights of Malta. Cardinal Spellman officiated at the ceremony in New York’s St. Patrick’s Cathedral in January.

From the Alumni Office:

DR. GEORGE N. SHUSTER, the Class’ hardest headline-grabber, has been at it again. In February his address to 700 Hunter College alumnae at New York’s Astor Hotel rated a couple of columns in the Sunday Times for its frank appraisal of U.S. education. Then he announced that he would resign next January as president of Hunter to devote more time to writing. (He has published a score of books and been an assistant of Congress for years.) Then on April 21 he was awarded Fordham University’s Insignis Medal for “extraordinary distinction in the service of God through excellent professional performance.”

Classmates will be happy to hear that Pope John XXIII has conferred Knighthood in the Order of St. Gregory the Great on HARRY J. KIRK for his many efforts in behalf of the Church. The insignia was presented by Archbishop Boyle at Washington’s St. Matthew’s Cathedral in March.

From the Alumni Office:

Congratulations are overdue for M. E. WALTER, editor of the Houston, Tex., Chronicle, on his appointment by Pope John XXIII to the Knights of Malta. Cardinal Spellman officiated at the ceremony in New York’s St. Patrick’s Cathedral in January.

From the Alumni Office:

DR. GEORGE N. SHUSTER, the Class’ hardest headline-grabber, has been at it again. In February his address to 700 Hunter College alumnae at New York’s Astor Hotel rated a couple of columns in the Sunday Times for its frank appraisal of U.S. education. Then he announced that he would resign next January as president of Hunter to devote more time to writing. (He has published a score of books and been an assistant of Congress for years.) Then on April 21 he was awarded Fordham University’s Insignis Medal for “extraordinary distinction in the service of God through excellent professional performance.”

After a long and distinguished career as Superintendent of Schools at Escanaba, Mich., Class President JOHN A. LEMM, will retire as of June this year. John hopes to devote an increasing amount of time to Rotary, of which he is District Governor, a division which includes no less than 39 Rotary clubs.

Sadness has his GEORGE E. HARTBERG, long our class secretary up to a year ago, with the untimely death of his oldest son, Richard, who was killed in an airplane accident. Richard was 32 years old, and left a wife and three young children. The tragic death was preliminary to a heart attack suffered by Mrs. Hartbergh, who shortly proved fatal.

JOHN VOELKERS, who has been retired at St. Augustine, Fl., presently plans to move to Orlando, Fl., which he refers to as a much more progressive community. John was in South Bend for one of his grandchildren's birthday, to visit his brother, and he reports he couldn't get back to Florida quick enough to enjoy the warmth.

LEO GAUSS, who recalls with pleasure that he spent some time in Bronson Hall three floor dormitory, is completing 30 years in the Fire and Casualty Insurance business. He enjoys getting back to the campus for an occasional football game.

TOM KING, the Michigan State University Dean of Students, is lyrical about his recent trip to Ireland. His father was born in Galway. This may account for Tom's fine disposition at all times except when he was smacking end on two or three of Rockne's great football teams.

After those two heads got together letters started flying. If you didn't once it's only because the P eru vian and the Professor ran out of stamps. You are expected on June 12.

Ordinarily it is not a difficult task to gather together and consolidate a few notes of interest for reading by our classmates, except when they concern the death of our classmates which has been most recent and of long ago, and especially so when such friends have been extremely loyal to the year in support of the Class of '22. It is indeed a very sad task to mention that two very fine gentlemen of '22 can no longer answer the roll call of future reunion conclaves on this earth but they do greatly augment our Chapter in Heaven. God In His Wisdom summoned us from this world, on Dec. 27, STEPHEN E. GARMS of Carlinville, Ill., and on Feb. 18, EDWIN J. BYRNE of Natchez, Miss. We cannot comment on them privately because each had much admiration for the other, also because they have left us almost hand-in-hand. Whenever we go, when Chic Grieve is it he has quite unlikely they will not be thinking of Steve Carmody and Eddie Byrne, both of whom could count every classmate as a close personal friend. The fine qualities of each should inspire us greatly.

We do rejoice that I had remembered to send Christmas greetings to Steve and Eddie and take on their journey. Our very deep sympathy to Mrs. Carmody and Mrs. Byrne, to their children and other relatives. We exhort all to remember the deceased in your prayers.

CHARLES "RED" CROWLEY, former thrush of the Notre Dame Football Club, was a three-year letterman. Imparted to the Class of '22. DAN YOUNG reports a visit with FRED RABMER in Jacksonville, Fla. Fred's oldest son is attending Catholic U. and expects to be ordained in '62. Dan and wife expected to be back from a Caribbean cruise proved to be delightful and most restful to Mr. and Mrs. JACK HIGGINS of Detroit-Birmingham, Mich. Jack and wife were absolutely delighted with the cruise. Jimmy referred to Eddie as the nation's Dean of coaches — the senior major college coach, who was voted by college coaches themselves the no. 1 coach in the East for all-round skill, personality and ethics. "All things considered," said Jimmy, "planning, teaching, playing, coaching — Eddie Anderson is quite an accomplished. We second the motion.

Be With Thee in Sixty-Three
If not, pray for me. — GEORGE N. SCHUSTER

The above slogan for the 1963 Reunion of the Class of '23 was received in the mail, apparently in response to the announced contest for the best such slogan. Ostensibly it came from our erstwhile prof, but it was typed on stationery of the U.S.O. and bore a Kansas City postmark, clues which point to the identity of FOD COTTON as the author of the supplicant gem. To Fod would go the announced prize of two unused tickets to the Purdue football game last fall, but since the award is of such exceeding value, it is being withheld lest any better ideas come in a later mail.

30 Notre Dame Alumnus, June, 1939

Happily, there are no deaths of classmaters to report, although sadness dogs the lives of several of our boys with deaths in the family or their own serious sicknesses. JULIUS T. HENZOG lost his wife Julia on May 29, 1938. This office had no inkling of his bereavement until ED KREIMER told me that Julie had made a notation to that effect on a Christmas card he sent to Ed. Besides the husband, a married daughter, Mary Frances, survives. I am sure I speak for the Class in offering belated but sincerest sympathy to the survivors.

Also relayed to me by Jim Armstrong was the news of the death of the mother of Francis X. DISNEY on January 11. She was remembered in a special Mass on the campus on Saturday, February 7. Our sympathy and prayers, also, Frank.

Our popular Reunionist of last summer, Dan Nolan, suffered a heart attack on December 29, in Latrobe, Pennsylvania, Hospital for three weeks, according to a note from Mrs. Nolan dated December 15. "If everything goes well," she wrote, "May she be home for Christmas. . . . He is still planning on the '33 reunion." And so are we, Mrs. LINUS GLOTZBACH at last report continues on the sick list. Jack Norton relayed a letter to me from Mrs. G. in which she reported, as of December 29, that Linus had been operated on again.

Whether your voting or my mail campaign was decisive is not known, but I am glad to report that W. EDMUND SHEA, 1923, Dayton, Ohio, attorney, was elected to the Alumni Board of Directors, according to an announcement in the January 13 South Bend Tribune. Jan. 13. Bucking the voting strength of the more populous newer classes, Red was elected 202, White, 72, and Blue 4. PAUL J. CUSHING, '31, and WALTER L. FLEMING, JR., '40, Congratulations, Red. Now our classmates can write to you for unused line tickets instead of to me.

Two-thyme-reeling JOHN BYUKE scribbled me a report of a scrap of paper stapled to a sheet torn out of Time magazine: "Have we an Ambassador in our Class?" The Time article was to the effect that several officials were shown a picture of Peru's ambassador FERNANDO BERGEMEYER. With RED SHEA and HANK BARNHART and FATHER CAVANAUGH and FRANK WALLACE, et al., "Old Faithful!" KID ASHE, '22, sent me a note in February: "Am enclosing a Christmas card from AL FICKS. It has some news tid-bits for '33. . . many thanks for sending me your bulletin." The card, Ficks to Ashe to Bruggner: "Spent the winter in Japan, Hong Kong and the Philippines. Flew both ways, had wonderful time, our weather has been wonderful here." BILL VOSS was in town—hurried to phone—not did not get to see him. His son works out here."

HY HUNT single-spaced two typewritten pages of typed stationary in Chicago; a letter in November: "In territory tonight and realized I had never paid the bank charges on Class of '23 checking account, also my father. Can't write the union the last I have seen of any N. D. man was PAUL CASTNER."

Another greaty-prized picture came in December from Frank S. DORIOT of the Doriot Distributing Co., Huntington, W. Va., showing him shaking hands with Arthur "Hector" Garvey. Both men are grinning from ear to ear which bears out information in Frank's letter: "Hector Garvey had a state convention here in Huntington, and he did it up brown. . . . a real show, plenty of everything. . . . hasn't changed much after 38 years — still is possessed of a great memory and is an exceptionally good entertainer."

A clipping from the Marinette, Wis., Eagle-Star dated December 15, 1958, by Paul M. Chemical Company of a foreign-based subsidiary, Annu International Corporation, S. A. with T. M. FLEISCHER, Foreman, Multnomah County chapter of the March of Dimes. A tip of the hat to Tom, whose picture graced the newspaper article.

The clipping arrived on this desk through the akeenness of HENRY J. LAUERMANN who, in a now-can-be-told paragraph, explained that the groundwork for this production of the chemical combine is what took Tom to Europe last spring, after he had made plans to attend our Reunion. An unlikable Vixen with "a great deal of report that my recovery, while not complete, is progressing daily and I will continue to look forward to the next issue of "What's become. . .?" at hand is a letter from E. B. Unverferth, from the law office of Unverferth & Unverferth, Ottawa, Ohio, dated December 30, to wit: "Dear Louis, NELSOn J. CALLAHAN handed us recently your letters styled "Make It a Date in '58," and I am sure a revelation after thirty-odd years."

From the Alumni Office:

Portland, Ore., Postmaster AL HODLER had a busy February. He was elected chairman of the Multnomah County chapter of the March of Dimes and was injured (not seriously) in an automobile accident along with JUDGE FRANK LONERGAN, '04.

Crawford County, Ill., State's Attorney J. STANLEY BRADY, whose busy schedule dashed his hopes of attending last year's reunion with LYLE MILLER and BILL FITZGERALD, received a double commendation in a resolution adopted by the convention of the Illinois State's Attorneys' Association praising his work with delinquent children as president of the state's Big Brothers and Sisters Association.

Congratulations to HENRY BARNHART, vice-president of the Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton Corp., on his appointment last fall to the University's Advisory Council for Liberal and Fine Arts.

FORT WAYNE—New officers of the Fort Wayne Club who took office after Universal Notre Dame Night dinner were (standing, I to r.): Allen C. Ward, treasurer; Robert R. Luther, Secretary; (seated, I to r.) Joseph Daniels, membership vice president; Paul O. Schirmeier, president, and Ralph Blume, program vice president.

HAWAII—This happy group was in attendance at the Universal Notre Dame Night dinner of the N.D. Club of Hawaii April 17 in Honolulu.

A report from REV. CIACIO PEDROSA, O.P., reveals that he has been in the Philippines for many years, the result of his taking what is called the Sacred Arts at the University of Santo Tomas, the Catholic University of the Philippines, in Manila. Currently, he is teaching physics and mathematics, and in addition, he is head of the physics and mathematics departments and is Vice-Recteur of the University, a variety of jobs that he has held for a number of years. Father Pedroza wrote: “I still hope I will not die without seeing again Notre Dame. May God grant me the chance.”

R. C. MILLER, in a town for a football game last fall, passed on an item about R. F. GIBBONS, variously known as “Mike” and “Dick,” to Secretary JOSEPH SOLOMON, Senior Service, Washington, D.C., with several others about the growth of the Class of ’25. Bob and his brothers just about run that whole alumni chat. Ward is a permanent citizen of LaGrange, Illinois, where he is Director Sales Manager of the Chicago Coal Merchants Association and a member of the Itasca Country Club and the Lake Shore Athletic Club. He expects to attend our 35th reunion in 1956.

PHILIP M. NOVANOV has moved to Cincinnait, Ohio, where he is Division Sales Manager of Recordak Corporation, a subsidiary of Eastman Kodak Company. Phil’s wife was Josephine McCarthy; they have a son, Michael, 13. Phil sav’s he sees the family in Maricopa, Arizona, and that his mother, who is 83 years old, survives him. He will have a good turnout for it. If any of you have any ideas you believe would be appropriate for this affair, we would like to hear about them.

Further inquiry into LEO ST. JOHN’s death revealed that his mother, who is 83 years old, survives him. Leo’s wife died several years ago; they had no children.

JOHN C. BULGER writes that he will be at our 35th reunion. John is a representative for the Manhattan Reckrattting Company in Chicago. His job is to be an active member of the Alumni Association Board of Directors. Ten can be expected to submit in 81, if only to campaign against his own re-election.

The remarks of the happy principals were as follows:

Mr. Pavela opened the meeting with a prayer and a brief introduction of the speaker. He thanked the committee for their hard work and the guests for attending.

Rev. Louis Purp, C.S.C., delivered the lecture on the life and works of St. Joseph. He spoke on the importance of St. Joseph's role in the life of Jesus and the Church.

Fred Funk then introduced the toastmaster, Karl Schaeftle, who delivered a humorous and engaging speech.

Sylvester Mobley, a pharmacist and manager of the Standard Drug Store at East 131st and Miles Avenue in Cleveland. He has two married daughters and a son at Bowling Green State University.

EARL LAMBOLE, who is an attorney in Menos, Wis., advised that HUGH HAYES, '28, who practiced law at Oregon, Wis., died very suddenly the past summer of a heart attack. Earl sees JOHN VOGT of Eau Claire, Wis., occasionally.

BERNIE CARBER, who has a keen eye for spotting '28 news items, sent a clipping from a New York paper regarding a civil suit involving a famous actor before Superior Judge MERVIN AGGELER in Santa Monica, Cal. Bernie commented that the court proceedings should not be dull.

Comments regarding our 30th reunion are still being received. The latest, from SWEDER SCHROEDER who practices law at Detroit Lakes, Minn., is as follows: "A person would have to be overly gifted in semantics to come up with an adequate expression about the 30th reunion. In my humble way I can only say that it was terrible — so terrible that I will be present at all reunions as long as the good Lord permits." Swede also inquired about the "cocktail game" for 1959, which will be the Northwestern game. Swede continued, "My two girls are at St. Catherine's in St. Paul. At the Army game '28 class cocktail party while visiting with Vince Garney and his wife, I learned that they too have a daughter at St. Kate's. That's not unusual, but to later discover that one of my girls and Vince's daughter are inseparable friends (indeed they were out together at the very moment Vince and I were talking about them) demystified me again. I still wonder if, for they never even dreamed that Vince and I knew each other. Later I had an opportunity to take all the girls out for an evening — at the risk of bragging I must admit that they raise them much nicer nowadays." Swede also advised that he attended the funeral of the father of Denny Daily and a proceeding which the Bar Association conducted before the Court in memory of Denny's father.

Father JIM McSHANE, S.J., who is at St. Malachy's Church in St. Louis, was with VINCE WALSH in Mosthetl, Pa., for Christmas. Jim had just returned from giving retreats in Kansas City, Aberdeen, St. Louis and Decatur. The St. Louis retreat was given for hoboes. BILL KIRWAN also dropped me a note as he was visiting Vince at the time my December Newsletter arrived. I understood that Vince expected to have another eye operation.

Father ANDY MULREANEY, C.S.C., wrote from St. Patrick's Rectory in South Bend, Indiana, after he had returned from New Orleans and Dalvenston where he spent the Christmas holidays. Father Andy mentioned that Judge BOB GRANT is doing his usual good work on the Federal bench. He commented on JACK KANEN as follows: "Jack was not only a great Notre Dame man, but a real booster for the Class of 1928, as evidenced by his help in our 30th reunion. We shall miss him. May God take this great soul to Himself."

I made a check of the current N.D. student directory and spotted 99 sons of '28 men. Two classmates, Dr. MARCUS FARRELL and DICK PHELAN, each have two sons there. The list of classmates, with the number in parentheses indicating the year in college, having sons at N.D. is as follows:

In Arts and Letters: JIM ALLAN (3); JOE BAILI*, (4); GORDON BENNETT (1); ROGER BRESEN (4); DON CORBETT (3); BILL CRO- NIN (2); BOB GRANT (2); ALBON GRUFF (4); GUY LORANGER (1); JOE McMAHON (2); ORVILLE MURCH (2); DICK PHELAN (3) and (5); FRED RICKS (2); LEO ROZUM (2); WALT TOWUSANT (4). In Science: BERNIE BIRD (2); HENRY HAY- LEY (4); MARCUS FARRELL (2) and (4); EARL LAMBOLE (1). In Commerce: FRANK CREADON (3); EMMET DOHANY (3); BILL DOWDALL (4); CHRISTIE FLANNAGAN (3); PETE GALLAGHER (1); JOE HILGER (3); GUS JENKINS (4); BILL KAR- NIN (2); ED McKENZEE (3); JOE McSORELY (1). In Engineering: JACK CANTARZO (2); CHAR- LIE DAVIS (3); TIM KARIN (3); GERALD LUDWIG (3); JOE MORRISSEY (2); ED PHIL- BIN (1); GEORGE SCHEUER (2); CHARLES SCHUESSLER (4); DICK TRANT (4). In Law: FRANCIS BEGGAN (deceased) (2). Please let me know if any names were inadvertently omitted.

A friend of mine from Connecticut reports that CHARLES DUCEY is still with the Knights of Columbus in New Haven, Conn. He is also a partner in an arena ski shop in New Haven. His daughter, who has degrees from Goucher College and Yale University, is now a research assistant at Yale University. Charlie is very active in community organizations, having served as president of the New Haven Community Chest, and the Travelers' Aid Society and Chairman of the Helen Library Board.

I noted in a publication of St. Joseph's College Institute of Public Relations in Philadelphia a pic-Inside Eastern Indiana's Notre Dame man of the Year 1959 was William F. Craig, Sr., an intensely active citizen of Muncie, Ind., for more than two decades.

Bill is vice-president, commercial manager, film buyer, etc., for the Tri-City Radio Corporation, which operates WLBC Radio and television in Muncie, maintaining a high level of family entertainment with such public services as educational programming with local college personnel and televised Little League baseball from a station-owned field.

He has been general chairman of the United Fund of Delaware County twice, including the 1958 campaign when Bill's direction was so successful that the goal was oversubscribed by $60,000 in spite of a business recession and the loss of an executive secretary in mid-campaign. At present he is serving as chairman of a new Chamber of Commerce committee looking to Muncie's urban development.

Bill is a member of St. Lawrence Church; Past Navigator of the Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus; a member of the Delaware Country Club, Muncie Club, the Rotary, Elks and Moose. He is past director of the Indiana Broadcasters' Association, vice-president and director of the Muncie Chamber of Commerce and works hard as a city chairman for the Notre Dame Foundation.

His family consists of his wife Ann and 10 children: Bill, Jr. (father of three boys); Marjorie (Mrs. Allen) Steinke, Denver, Colo.; Patricia (Mrs. Robert) Stough, Muncie; and Mike, Bob, Tom, Joe, Don, Jim and Tim Craig. With all these responsibilities Bill seeks relaxation as an airplane pilot and dedicated golfer.

These parties are very popular, as they are our only class get-togethers which include the wives of classmates.

The Notre Dame Club of New York City wishes to thank those members of the Class of '28 who have contributed to the Jack Lavalle Fund, as it was possible to write each one individually.

As of April 1 the '28 contribution totaled $1250.00.

Our President, JIM ALLAN, commented as follows on the Class report on Foundation contributions during 1958 which appeared in the Spring issue of Notre Dame magazine: "It looks as though the '28ers have pulled ahead 6 percentage points in the number of classes as regards both the percentage of donors and the amount contributed. There are only six classes with a better percentage than ours and six with a greater total. I hope we will be first in both categories when the report comes out for 1959."
the 1929 Class Reunion. I still remember with great joy the reunion of the Class of 1929 in 1954. Unfortunately, it appears, at the present time, that it would be extremely difficult, if not impossible, for me to attend the reunion which you are planning for June. In any case, you will know that, although absent from Notre Dame, I am most keenly interested in everything which concerns the Class of 1929. "Signed" CHRISTOPHER O'TOOLE, C.S.C.

Thank you sincerely, Father, for your interest. We will continue to hope that you will be with us.

J. HVRVEY DALEY, management consultant, of Toledo, pastor of St. Agnes' Church, Elyria, O.; also PAUL HOLAHAN of Cleveland; LOUIS CLELAND of the Chicago Board of Health. John was the nephew of GENE GALDABINI.

REV. LOUIS THORSTON, C.S.C., and GAYLORD HAAS were among the "29ers who attended the April funeral of CHARLES ROHR, '30, in Cleveland. Charles had many close friends in our class. His passing was a shock to us. We will remember him and his family in our prayers.

JIM KENNEDY of the ELECTRONIC-Key Press, Inc., in Chicago, writes this news of his family of twelve: "The two oldest sons have been graduated, one is in the Army and the other doing graduate work at De Paul. Elizabeth is a senior at Lewis College (Lockport, Ill.), working toward a B.S. in Industrial Art-aviation. She is a licensed pilot as well as participating in other extracurricular activities. Second oldest daughter is in third year of nursing training at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Chicago. Tom is in his third year at Holy Cross Seminary, La Crosse, Wis. Bob is in his first year at Chasles Preparatory School, Chicago. Tom, St. Margaret Mary, Chicago, and Kevin, 3, is too young for school, too old to be confined in a play pen, too active to be on his own. Swell little fellow, but quite a problem."

If you are on the point of planning which home football game you will attend next fall, you might like to know that tentative plans for a get-together of "29ers and wives are already being considered for immediately after its fall game. Among those who attended the after-Army game banquet last fall have indicated a preference of the Navy game. I propose the establishment of a Class of '29 get-together.

"Public Administration" is the title of a new book by K. C. BARTHOLOMEW, professor of political science at Notre Dame.

Contrary to the rumors, BERNARD E. LOHSCHER has left the Air Force, for the National Bureau of Standards.

Congratulations to BILL CRAIG, a "Spotlight Alumnus" in this issue.

HUGH J. McMANIGAL has again come through for us. He has mailed some 130 letters to classmates promising attendance at the June reunion. Thank you, Hugh. Regards, LARRY STAUFFER, Class Secretary.

From the Alumni Office:

His classmates deeply grieve the death of CHUCK ROHR, popular Cleveland restaurateur, a selfless patron and promotor of Notre Dame activities in his home town and a director of the Alumni Association. Heartfelt sympathy is extended to his widow and children, and your continuing prayers are appreciated.

Congratulations to ALLEN LOVE, recently appointed as vice-president of Western Union Telegraph Company. He will continue as comptroller of the company in his new position he has held since 1937.

A week after an unusual and costly contested election in which proxy voting was permitted for the first time, JOSEPH LORDI, former N.D. second baseman and 1937 national squash champion was installed as president of the New York Athletic Club in January. Joe, who owns the Petroleum Inc. and Power Co. of Newark, N.J., joined the Winged Foot Club as an athletic member 28 years ago. It is the second time in the 91-year history of the club that a former athletic member achieved the presidency. Joe had been vice-president for three years.

On Sunday, March 15, 1959, the sting of defeat for the University's quiz team at the hands of some highly cerebral fists from Columbia's Business School was softened somewhat by the appearance of another Notre Dame man, DR. RAYMOND J. SPARK, with a fascinating scientific development on the same network's "What's My Line," Roy, who followed up his Bachelor of Science in 1930 with a Ph.D. in chemistry in 1939, has pursued the panel with his specialty, research on a pinless diaper.

From the Alumni Office:

Alumni will sorely miss a distinguished representative in the Congregation of Holy Cross who died April 18 after months of terrible suffering borne cheerfully and heroically. FATHER RICHARD D. MURPHY, C.S.C., for many years a scientist-priest and teacher of physics at Notre Dame, is in a sanatorium. You may address correspondence to LARRY MOORE and JOHN HINKEL.

News from insurance man FRANCIS J. BUSKIN of Canonsburg, Pa., is likewise that he will be present in June. EDWARD DONOHOO, employed by J. A. Kinsell Co., Cincinnati, plans to continue as comptroller of the company, a selfless patron and promoter of Notre Dame activities in his home town and a director of the Alumni Association. Heartfelt sympathy is extended to his widow and children, and your continuing prayers are appreciated.
NEW HAVEN—Edward A. Byrne (left), New Haven teacher, receives a scroll naming him "Notre Dame Man of the Year" from Club President Joseph Benoit (right), as guest speaker Dr. Albert E. Burke looks on at New Haven Club U.N.D. Night ceremonies.

DONALD K. KILLIAN has been named vice-president of the Alumni Association of the University of Notre Dame, and has been elected to the board of directors of the Alumni Relations Committee. Dr. Killian, a 1936 graduate of the University, was one of the original members of the faculty advisory committee, and has served as chairman of the Alumni Relations Committee for the past three years.

Dr. Killian was born in South Bend, Ind., and attended the University of Notre Dame, where he received his B.A. degree in 1936. He has been active in many campus organizations, and has served as president of the Notre Dame Alumni Association. He is a member of the American Chemical Society, and has served as chairman of the local section of the society. He has also been active in the local chapter of the National Alumni Association, and has served as president of the chapter for several years.

Dr. Killian is married to the former Mary Coughlin, a graduate of the University of Notre Dame. They have two children, John and Mary. They reside in South Bend, Ind., and operate a successful business in the area.

Dr. Killian's appointment as vice-president of the Alumni Association is a reflection of the University's commitment to alumni affairs, and is a recognition of his contributions to the University and its alumni organizations.
LEO J. KLETZLY, '31

Tribute to a Tireless Trucker

In an article called "Kudo for Kletzly" the Suburbanites magazine announced that the board of directors for Suburban Motor Freight, Inc., had elected general traffic manager Leo J. Kletzly of Columbus, Ohio, to a vice-presidency, the second man to achieve that office in 43 years.

A native of Wheeling, W. Va., Leo has been in trucking since graduation (cum laude), first with a Wheeling local carrier. Joining Suburban in 1939, he was successively a rate clerk, office manager and manager of the Wheeling terminal before transfer to the Columbus home office in 1944. Appointed traffic manager four years later, he became a special accounts representative and general traffic manager of both firms when Suburban acquired Liberty Highway Co. two years ago.

The article noted Leo's pugnacious charm, his tirelessness and his "passion for lending himself to movements in the interest of underprivileged children," but it could list only a fraction of his quiet efforts for Church, family and community: charter membership and recent vice-presidency in the Serra Club (his work for vocations is matched by his work in religious life); parish chairman and board membership in the Retreat League; labor in drives for Catholic orphanages and high schools; the Big Brother Association (his first "little brother" is now an N.D. grad); perennial activity in the United Appeal, and local trusteeship in the Kiwanis, all this (which made him Columbus "N.D. Man of the Year" a few years ago) he assumes is the minimum to be expected of a Notre Dame man. A close friend confides: "You cannot know him without being a little better yourself."

Married 25 years, Leo and Marcelle Kletzly have three children: Ernest, '57, recently married; Lee, '38, a seminarian bound for Rome, and Marceline, a soph at Marian College.

Secretary BOB ERVIN wants the Class to know that this edition of the '36 news is thin because his deadline came and went before the last ALUMNX issue was circulated. Conscientious Bob reports difficulty "getting the guts to write unless they have a column to stimulate." You can remedy this situation by dropping Bob a line about your buddies wherever the spirit moves you.

From the Alumni Office:
Sad tidings concerning the families of two loyal "Sons who have served long and faithfully with the Notre Dame Clubs." The deepest sympathy of all the Club members to the families of EDWIN WAARDS, ALBO, who lost his 11-year-old daughter, Nancy Alice in January following an operation for a heart ailment; and to TOM LUCAS, whose mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Hills, died in March at the age of 78 in the Sentry, N.Y., home of his sister, Clara. Clarence Lucas is survived by his other brothers, Frank and William of Schenectady, N.Y. Mother is a sister of the Spokane Club and Tom is a mainstay and former 4th of the Year of the New Haven, Conn., group.

1935 may be the clubiest class in the N.D. system, the remaining news, in a happier vein, concerns the triumphs of other all-round organization men. Class Secretary FRANK HOCHREITER, a personnel worker for the Baltimore Club, may still be recovering from the Navy game rally he staged last fall and the Class questionnaire he distributed in the spring, when it didn't slow him down on other activities, viz., a new title (Chief, Progress Control, Renewal Operations, Baltimore Urban Renewal and Housing Agency) and a new show (directing and playing a police inspector in the Vagabond Players production of the French chiller "Monique") with a wonderful program lined up for the 25th Reunion.

Your Secretary is proud to add some new names to his correspondents this time. Follows the column hasn't been able to report on for a long time.

BILLY SCHWER, who lost his only child and brother in a plane crash last year, has been with JACK BAKER, who is executive vice-president of the Holmes Dept. Store in New Orleans, for the past year. Boyd also lives in Fairfield, Conn.; also FRAN HERN, who is with a business machine company in Baltimore.

DICK SCOTT has reported that he'll be back in Dayton with DON HANNING, who is still with the FBI, and DAN SULLIVAN, both of whom live in Washington, D.C.

A real good correspondent is now heading back East — Jack Gillespie is being transferred to New York City for the domestic company, Mobil Oil Co. (Sonnev), in charge of public relations after having the same department on a smaller scale in the Midwest. Jack will join the delayed New Haven commuters this summer in the Fairfield County area.

Frank Lecellong, sales manager of Tonka Toys, checked into the Toy Show in New York in mid-December and we had a daze which I couldn't keep. Frank and Jack were roommates and finally got together last year. Tonka Toy has been around on the road ever since.

Father Joyce, C.S.C., acknowledged his freak eye accident and stated that the vacation came in handy once he learned of no impaired vision. (Freddy stepped on a plank, that sprung up and hit him in the eye, for your info.—likely story). He also reports that the best winter in South Bend history has just been completed.

Gordon Murphy, v-p. of American National Bank, reports in from Chicago, Wyo., that the Air Force leaving Cheyenne and now the mil- s program moving in with Convair have changed the present economy of the area. Business can’t be too bad, as the bank expects to put a new building up in the area.

William V. Shakespeare, '36
Still Winning in Ohio

William V. (Bill) Shakespeare, All-American halfback of 1933 whose last-minute pass beat Ohio State 18-13 that year in one of the most memorable comeback victories in Irish grid annals, has just been elected a vice president of Cincinnati Rubber Manufacturing Company, Cincinnati, Ohio, a division of Thor Power Tool Com­ pany of Aurora, Ill. Bill has been assistant to the president since 1956 and has been in the Thor organization since his graduation.

Fans most frequently recall Bill’s role in the remarkable comeback win over a mighty Ohio State team. The Irish were down 13-0 going into the final quarter and were that close only because of Shakespeare’s excellent punting.

Sparked by Andy Pilncy, Notre Dame scored twice but still trailed 13-12 with a minute to play.

With the clock ticking off the final sec­ onds, Shakespeare faded all the way to Ohio's 38 and let loose a pass which Wayne Millner grabbed in the end zone.

Bill Shakespeare entered Thor Power Tool Company’s Export Division after his graduation and has been in the Thor organization since. He traveled extensively throughout Central and South America, Africa, and the Far East before becoming Thor’s export sales manager, headquartered at New York City, from 1951-56. He moved to the Cincinnati Rubber Manufacturing Company division of Thor in 1956.

Bill resides with his wife and two sons, Bill, Jr. and Warren, at Kenwood, Ohio. During World War II, as an infantry cap­ tain, he was awarded a Bronze Star for gallantry during the Battle of the Bulge.

This is the last issue of the Alumnus before the Class Reunion on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 12-13-14, 1959. As your secretary I add my own cordial invitation to the one sent out by your president, Chuck Reddy and myself are trying to plan a very interesting, challenging and enjoyable week end for you. The University has kept our invitation were PAUL DONOVAN of Elsmere, N.Y., and JACK MCDONALD of Cleveland, Ohio, but there have been many since.

The following are the next addresses of '39ers:

JOHN R. ZERBST, '38
Private Point Four

In his thirteen years in Brazil Jack Zerbst has conducted a private Point Four program which has possibly brought more U. S. "know-how" to South American business and industry than a dozen Pan-American trade conferences.

In 1946, following service in World War II, Jack was sent to Brazil as a sales representative for the foreign department of Union Carbide and Carbon Corporation, with all of Brazil as his territory. In 1948 he founded Union Carbide do Brasil S.A. as the first Union Carbide foreign unit. This company was the sales agent for Eveready Products as well as chemicals and plastics. During that year he also promoted stock participation of Union Carbide in S.A. White Martins, the leading Brazilian company engaged in oxygen and acetylene products and distribution.

In 1950 he founded National Carbon do Brasil S.A. as the manufacturing subsidiary of Union Carbide do Brasil, making Eveready flashlight cases and batteries. In 1951 Union Carbide became part owner of BAKOL and entered the polystyrene business, building the first polyethylene plant in Latin America near Santos, Brazil. In 1958 he further diversified his interests by forming a new company, CODIM, to explore mineral reserves in Brazil.

All the above Jack has done as president of Union Carbide do Brasil, but he has mixed his Brazilian business career with continuous civic and charitable activity, including positions on the board of directors of the American grade school and the American Chamber of Commerce in Sao Paulo, where he lives with his wife Elizabeth and 13-year-old son John.

Robert Benavides, '39 Cow-Punching Judge

Robert Benavides' taking up the gavel in January had all the elements of a TV western.

Elected last fall as Judge of Webb County (Laredo and surrounding area), Texas, on the banks of the Rio Grande, Bob Benavides established a record by being victorious without any kind of party affili­ ation. Since Bob graduated cum laude with an L.L.B. he has divided most of his time between law practice and ranching. Over the past two years he has been elected and re-elected Grand Knight of Knights of Columbus 2304, is Chairman of the Laredo Red Cross for the second straight year, and is Chairman of the Laredo City Planning Commission.

A native of Laredo, he has long been active in religious work, and is also one of the disappearing breed who are at home just as much in the saddle on a ranch pony as in a living room.

Bob is married and resides at 1420 Corpus Christi Street, Laredo, Texas.

From the Alumni Office: Class Treasurer JIM MADIGAN has reported to Secretary JACK WICKS some indications that the class' ambitious "Buck-a-Week" pledge plan may increase the class gift to the N.D. Foundation substantially, but that most of the Class has yet to follow up on the pledge plans in May. Jim would like to remind everyone that the $32 is only a standard of the mean contribution that might be expected of a class; 100 members will make more than a buck a week, but with a few it could be much, much more.

ED RONEY is in and out of Detroit, presumably still trying to work through his academic and European shrines, particularly Lourdes and Rome. On campus Father BOB PELTON, C.S.C., mod­ erates the swimming day, and meets the other variety team status. Now rector of Morrison Hall, Father Pelton has been editing a Spanish-language catalog of American Catholic colleges and universities for distribution abroad, particularly in Latin America. Father GEORGE BERNARD, C.S.C., Notre Dame's vice-rector for student activities, has added a winter banquet trip in the East recently for Universal Notre Dame Night.

DR. ROBERT P. NENNO was recently named a professor and chairman of the Department of Psychology at Seton Hall College of Medicine. Bob was formerly assistant director of the Department of Psychology at Georgetown University School of Medicine, where he founded a Retired Alumni's Clinic, and a psychiatric residency program.

CHI­ LAS A. MILAM, who has been with the Indiana & Michigan Electric Co. for several years, has been promoted from comptroller to vice-president su­ bvisor to administrative assistant of the South Bend Division. Dallas was also recently elected to the board of directors of the Southern Associated merce of Commerce. JOHN MCHEALE agreed to take over as general manager and vice-president of the National League Championship Baseball Association. Since 1957 John had been general manager of the Det­ roit Tigers, who went into a slump as soon as he left. His new team is the Milwaukee Braves and at 37 is one of the younger top executives in baseball. He played with various Tiger farm clubs, batted .373 and collected 22 home runs with Buffalo in 1945.
Soon after New York's Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller announced the appointment of John Hart Terry, of Syracuse, New York, to the important post of appointee officer on his new staff, John was elected by the Syracuse Jaycees as the city's outstanding young man for 1958.

Active in the N.D. Alumni Club of Central New York, John has served as president, secretary, treasurer and director. He was general chairman of Universal Notre Dame Night in 1957 when Father Hesburgh addressed the group in Syracuse.

John is a member of the Board of Founders of Bishop Foery Foundation, Inc., and chairman of the board of CYO of the Diocese of Syracuse. Associate general secretary of the S.S. John Bosco Boys' Home drive of Most Holy Rosary Parish in Syracuse, he was president of the Holy Name Society for two years.

A prominent Syracuse lawyer, John is with the firm of Smith and Sovik, a member of the American and New York State Bar Associations. To accept his new position, he will relinquish his 11-year position as supervisor of the 12th ward in Syracuse and his membership on the Board of Supervisors of Onondaga County, he where the enjoyment by John the distinction of being the youngest person ever to be elected to membership in that group. He is retiring as president of the U.S.O. of Syracuse and Onondaga County (N.Y.). He has also served the county on the Mental Health Board, Committee on Alcoholism and Citizens Committee of Childrens Court.

He received his law degree at Syracuse University after serving in the Army in W. W. II, winning four battle stars in the European Theater as well as the Bronze Star with cluster and the Purple Heart.

John will occupy offices in Albany and New York City and will maintain his home in Syracuse where his wife Jean, and three daughters, Jean, Lynn and Susan, will continue to reside.

John is now the Eastern sales manager for a firm that supplies equipment everywhere. He is president of the firm. He travels a great deal but since his office is nearby, we do see each other frequently. John has five children, all about the same age as mine.

"I think John is happier now," Jack Kelly at the reunion. That is about the night we received a phone call at 2:00 a.m. It was Joe Farreman, calling Ed. Joe had just arrived from Chicago. It seems they stopped for a cocktail after work, and about four hours later decided to have a nightcap in New York with their old friend Rocky. The story goes from there—long into the night, but Jack can have that kind of thing, you know."

"BIL ROGER: Bill sells all of us our insurance now. We see quite a bit of him, naturally. Bill also has five, but his eldest is now in high school."

"JACK KELLY: Jack left the attorney general's office and is now a public prosecutor. Among others, he represents ANDY BARBIERE's Company. Jack promised me that he would work through the '44手动 group."

"JOHN KERNEY: We seldom see John, but he keeps in touch with JACK KELLY. I really don't know what he is doing, but I understand he is still single."

"ED DOWLING: We seldom ever see Ed—we have not seen much of him since he left our company is one of our larger customers."

"RICHIE NIEMI: I was in Chicago last year and the last time I saw Rich was coaching basketball at Weber High and that time he was on his way to the city championship."

"TONY BILLOTTI (Boom Boom): is with the American Chiefe Company. I do not see much of Tony but it appears like he is one of our larger customers."

"LYLE JOYCE: We see Lyle every time his brother comes to speak at an alumni affair. He is now living in New York and teaching speech at Iona College."

"FRANK ENGLISH: Frank was running the family Chrysler Dealership in New Rochelle, but I haven't heard from him in almost two years. He also has five or six children."

"BIL MULLIAFF: I haven't seen Bob since the last reunion but as you know, he is president of the law in Syracuse."

"ANGELO BERTELLE: I usually see Angelo on all the reunion literature but I think he has changed at all except possibly the shape of his head, which seems to be thinning out at the top. Bert is running two or three of the '44-'45 'Package Shops' in Jersey in addition to doing the radio on Rutgers and Princeton football games and making speeches at banquets. He also likes the All-Havana jockeys now rather than the old 3 for 10c type."

"BILL BOSS and BILL HARTFORD are both recent arrivals in town but we haven't seen much of them."

"Thanks, Duffy, for all the news. You gave "the column" a real assist this trip!"

And now we come to the "Spotlight Alumnus" column, I again (and for the last time) urge each and every '44 man to stand up and be counted on June 12 at N.D. I personally guarantee a memorable experience.

The news of EARL MULLEN’s death in Minneapolis came as a shock. He died January 11 of leukemia. Surviving are his wife, Janet, four children, his parents, and two sisters. He was employed by General Electric in Sioux Falls and Minneapolis. Those of you who want to have Masses said and wish to notify the widow can do so at 6029 Kellogg Avenue, South, Minneapolis 24, Minnesota.

JOHN YONKON has been appointed superintendent of the general labor department of Republic Steel Corporation’s Cleveland plant. He joined the company in 1936. After winning an All-American berth as a right end in 1943, he served with the Marines in the South Pacific. He played pro football with the old New York Yankees and with the Marines in the South Pacific. He played professional football and distinguished play for the Detroit Lions and Chicago Cardinals until 1953, combined with law studies at Notre Dame and off-season work in the brokerage and securities business.

In 1954 John entered the construction equipment business for a local distributor in Detroit. He displayed such enterprise and leadership that manufacturers encouraged him to open his own equipment house. Thus the J. R. Panelli Equipment Co., Inc., was founded in 1957, with John as president. Representing a dozen leading manufacturers of construction and industrial equipment, the Panelli Co. sells, rents and services everything from tiny tools and accessories to huge earthmovers, cranes and mixers.

Elected president of the N.D. Monogram Club last summer, John has been active for many years in the Notre Dame Club of Detroit and is presently on the board of directors. In recent months Monogram Club President John Panelli has worked hard to have been so busy that he’s family related to him as a boarder in transit. The principal activity was breaking in a new sales force for his burgeoning business, an activity quite different from that of ten years ago.

In January, 1949, the same month he was graduated, John broke through the Western line often enough to be voted the most valuable player in that year’s East-West Shrine football game. He signed for professional football and distinguished play for the Detroit Lions and Chicago Cardinals until 1953, combined with law studies at Notre Dame and off-season work in the brokerage and securities business.

It is again my sad duty to begin this column by reporting the death of another of our classmates.

LT. ANDREW FRANZONI, JR., was killed in a plane crash near Cherry Point, N.C., on March 6, 1955. May I speak for his classmates and friends in assuring his parents that he will always be remembered in our prayers. The class also extends its sympathy to L.-VRRY (Dortmund) made quite a splash with his investigation and reform bill on “not-for-profit” laws.

This promises to be a pretty skimpy column unless I’m deluged with many sacks of mail in the next three hours. I might remind all those who have never written to write. And to those who have written, write again. Meanwhile, I’ll pass along the handful of information I’ve received since last time. One last thing, start making plans for the next three hours. I might remind all those who have never written, to write. Meanwhile, I’ll pass along the handful of information I’ve received since last time. One last thing, start making plans for the next reunion now — June of 1960. Tell your wives that next year’s convention is to be held in Joers Auditorium, South Bend.

Had a very welcome visit from DICK O’DONNELL who is working for Benton & Bowles Advertising agency in New York. Dick was passing through after a business trip to the West. We both donned our gray flannel suits, slipped into a dry martini, and spent the evening heckling the town’s biggest attraction in many moons. Ted (When My Baby Smiles at Me) Lewis. When Dick got back to Madison Avenue, he passed on the following facts.

LARRY CORBETT on the death of his father, Lawrence Patrick, Sr.

ROME—Notre Dame-St. Mary's students spending their junior year abroad gather with friends for an Easter celebration in the Eternal City: (from left in this composite picture) Dick Reamer, '55; Brother Robert Fontenot, CS.C., were both ordained in Le Mans, France, last June. BOB AUSTGEN, C.S.C., and JIM SIMONSON, C.S.C., were ordained in Rome this past December. All four of those mentioned above who were recently ordained are finishing out their studies in the Holy Cross chancery in Rome. They will probably be back in the states by the beginning of the next school year.

In April, two members of the class of '55 will be ordained Holy Cross Fathers in Santiago, Chile. They are MALCOLM JOHNSON, C.S.C., and TOM ENGLISH, C.S.C. They will probably be back in this country sometime next winter for their first Solemn Masses.

In June, seven other members of the class of '55 will be ordained to the priesthood in ordination ceremonies at Sacred Heart Church on the N. D. Campus. They are JIM McGrath, C.S.C., ROLLAND STAIR, C.S.C., JACK KEFFE, C.S.C., BILL MELODY, C.S.C., JIM BLANTZ, C.S.C., JOHN FORD, C.S.C., and JOHN McMANNON, C.S.C., who supplied all of this news.

JOE O'DONNELL, C.S.C., and NICK AYO, C.S.C., hope to be ordained in the Holy Cross order next year. NIE will be ordained in Rome in November or December of 1959, and Joe at Notre Dame in June of 1960.

MIKE DUCEY, S.J., will finish his course in philosophy at West Baden College this year, and hopes to take his theology and be ordained in India, in the Jesuit Patna missions.

JOE O'BRIEN called while passing through Kansas City on his way to Salt Lake City. He's working for Link Aviation.

Bob Arrix is also to be included among the list of Kansas City visitors. Bob spent several weeks here in his capacity as Assistant Production Manager for Johnson & Johnson — baby oil division.

JACK HOBITZELL is still selling many Chevrolets, and has recently added to his inventory one little pink Corvair by name, Jackie, Jr.

CHRIS LARSEN is working for the Worthington Corp. and still finds time to attend New York University at night.

What ever happened to — JOHN MUSOLINO, DICK NORTON, BILL McCULLOUGH, ROB KUNZE, JIM HOPP, DON HUMIL, GEORGE HARKIS, JIM WALLER, PAUL ZOWA, DAVE BECK, BOB BROWN, KAY ALEXANDER, JOE GLISSERATH, and WALT ZOTTER?

The Rev. MR. JOHN McMANNON, C.S.C., sent a letter from Holy Cross College in Washington, D.C., and did a good job of bringing me up to date on the grade who are soon to be, or already have been ordained in the order. JOE O'DONNELL, C.S.C., is in his third year of theology at Holy Cross College also, and he passed on the information that Rev. Larry "Moon" MULLINS, president of our freshman class, was ordained to the priesthood a few days before Christmas. He will be assigned to the Diocese of Davenport, Iowa, when he returns from the North American College in Rome, where he is taking theology. His first Mass was offered in the chapel of the Sisters of Holy Cross in Rome. His second Mass was a pastoral Mass, at which his sister was married. Father Mullins' parents and other members of his family attended the ceremonies in Rome.

GEORGE COULON, C.S.C., and BERNIE CLARK, C.S.C., were both ordained in Le Mans, France, last June. BOB AUSTGEN, C.S.C., and JIM SIMONSON, C.S.C., were ordained in Rome this past December. Bob and his wife recently added a daughter's name to the mailbox. We planned to have dinner together, but he was called unexpectedly to Chicago on business. I'll give you a rain check, Bob. While I'm at it, let me extend an open invitation to any grad passing through to give me a call at my home.

From down in Memphis, Tenn., news filtered through the Union lines from SONNY COWLES. After spending two years in the Army, Sonny is now working as a salesman and promotion manager in the wholesale electronic parts business. Enclosed in his letter was a card announcing the arrival of a daughter, Colleen Kelly, who was born on January 7 and weighed in at 7 lbs., 2 ozs. Sonny tells me that CHARLIE NAJAR is going to be the godfather. I received an announcement stating that BILL STOUTENBURGH has become a member of the New York Stock Exchange and will be located at the office of Hayden, Stone, and Co. Anyone finding loose change under the cushions of the divan might call Bill at Digby 4-6700.

LEE CREAN and his wife, Mary, sent a card announcing the arrival of Kevin Patrick who was born on March 10. Congratulations to you both.
and I'm sure that he'll make good Glee Club material.

Not to be outdone, FRANK BURKE and his wife, Ann, just added a third to the clan on the 22nd of March, Kathryn Alben. Again, congratulations are in order. Frank is working for the Lybrand Co. and he and Ann are living in Saddle River, N.J.

JIM CURTIN sent a welcome contribution and mentions that AMEEL PICCINI is finishing med school this year at Stritch School of Medicine in Chicago. He also tells me that SILVIO PICCINI was critically injured by falling debris during a Florida windstorm. Here's hoping that you'll be up and around soon, Silvio.

The southern influence makes itself felt again, and welcome it was, in the form of a letter from DICK CONNELLY. He is living with his wife and daughter in Memphis where he is a reporter on the Commercial Appeal. Dick previously served in the Air Force and combines a little military and civilian news to help fill out the column. The following items are from his letter. JOHN LICHTEFELD is living in Hawaii with his wife and two sons. He received his M.A. degree in Fine Arts from the University of Hawaii and when last heard from, he was teaching art there.

BRIAN GAFFNEY has finished at Fordham School of Law and is awaiting a word of greeting from Uncle.

PETE WALSH completed his Army chores on a lonely Pacific island and plans to attend law school in the near future. Rumor has it that he was recently married. Write and fill me in, Pete.

JOHNNY WILSON, his wife and daughter are living at Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio. He works in the wind tunnel division there.

The BURKEs, his wife and daughter are living at Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio. He works in the wind tunnel division there.

But BTCII also served a little spare time in the Air Force and is now working for a Detroit department store. At last word, he's now the father of two.

JERRY HUGHES is still showing students the ins and outs of jet aircraft at Webb Air Force Base, Texas. Next time you fly over Kansas City, Jerry, drop a line to say you're feeling fine.

TOM CONLON is a roving auditor for General Electric and is still living in New Cumberland, W. Va.

BOB McGGRATH is working as an electrical engineer for an aircraft company on the West Coast. Philip Burke, his son and daughter are living at Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio. He works in the wind tunnel division there.

be to wish one and all a happy anniversary. In case you haven't thought about it, this has now been a full year since we graduated and left the "land of learning." There are some of us, such as your secretary, who haven't gone very far in a year's time; but then again there are many who have been ranging far and wide across the map. There are undoubtedly some interesting tales to be told about the happenings of the past year; and I, for one, would like to hear them. (This is obviously becoming a not-insensible request for news.) As the man says, "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the party!" So, cast aside all reticence, sit down, and write that letter or postcard that you have been intending to send.

The correspondence of the past two or three months has been somewhat limited but interesting. BOB PIVONKA wrote from Denver where he is studying medicine at the University of Colorado Medical Center. It appears that Bob is doing exceptionally well with the studies, which is not surprising. He reports also that he will be married on June 13, to Margaret Mary Hessburg. All in all, things are going well for Mr. Pivonka. DICK NEMECHER is sharing an apartment with Bob in Denver, and is working with the Martin Company.

Walter Wolf is still dicing in a local Camden office. He will take the Bar June 11 and 12 and on the 30th will join Uncle Sam. He indicated that he had heard from the Gene Griffin, and that they were doing well, though Gene would like to try a small office practice.

General William Engel is at Ft. Bliss, Texas, as this column is written, and indicated that he is immensely enjoying his paid vacation with the government. He saw his first bull fight not long ago and decided it wasn't nearly as glamorous as the movies make it. He stated in his letter that JERRY CURRAN is at Fort Knox and that has almost bought him back to life.

After a long period of silence from Kansas, Tom Oglevle finally wrote to tell me that he has been quite busy. He is representing several insurance companies, and among his non-business activities he is co-chairman for the March of Dimes and the Heart Fund Drive. He represents the Bishop in Northwest Kansas and is a local police judge and justice of the peace. He says that there is an opening for anyone who would like to partake of the paradise that Western Kansas offers.

John Murray was recently in Indianapolis, where he was trying a case for the Heviners. He seems to be doing his usual work, but indicated that the government has a hard time winning. He had been traveling extensively and indicated that his social life had taken a change for the better.

From New York, Jack Economou writes that he is with the firm of Langlee, Parry, Card, and that he continues to work in the area of international trademarks, copyright practice. Jack said that he is preparing to try a case of the bar exam and is presently working on his review. If any members of the class pass through his area, Jack extends an invitation to them to call him.

Froggy Drexler recently celebrated a quarter of a century of existence on this earth. He didn't read much other information, but from Murray I did find out that he is now wearing Broom Brothers suits, complete with vest and homburg, as only a few could. When I told him of my six months' deal with the Air Force, he indicated that he would join up, hoping to set in the missile development section.

Tom Darragh writes that he is still having trouble finding a job because of his health. He did not have much to say about himself, but indicated that Curran will soon be the sole legally trained person on the base and that he has been handling some cases. He also informed me that Frank Vargas continues to work in a law office while preparing for another shot at the Bar. Your truly does not have much to add to the letters that I recently sent out except to say that the two cases that I was to try this month have both been settled. Of course, I am looking forward to my six months with the government, and perhaps I will have more to say after I have begun my rest. One exhortation in closing—those of you who have not written, please write.

VIRGINIA—Father Thomas Brennan, G.S.C., guest speaker from the campus at Universal Notre Dame Night in Richmond, congratulates Charles A. LaFratta, outgoing president of the Notre Dame Club of Virginia, who was selected as Notre Dame Man of the Year.

While on the subject of travelers in the upcoming spring break, perhaps I should have mentioned DON McNeill, who recently returned from a semester of study in Vienna. According to an item in one of the Chicago papers, Don made quite a hit with the Europeans—playing on an Austrian basketball team in international competition. Don and his brother Jim, named for the U.S. by a roundabout route through the Middle-East, Asia, Japan and points east. From all reports, it was a fascinating trip. Don is now enjoying his tour of duty two years in the Army.

Bill Quinlan dropped by recently on his way to San Francisco for subsequent transfer to Okinawa. Bill, a lieutenant in the Marine Corp, will be in Okinawa for fifteen months. Unfortunately, he was away when Bill dropped in so I missed him, but he left a note for me with the above information. Bill also remarked that he accepts our thank-you for keeping America strong.

According to a letter from JIM MORRIS' mother, Jim signed a contract with the New York Yankees organization last summer. He played with Auburn, N.Y., last year and will be with F astro, N. Dak., this summer. Jim married Susan Erk last October 11, in Springfield, Ill. All ECK, who is working with the accounting firm of Kerber, Erk, and Kerbeck of Springfield and St. Louis, is the proud father of a daughter, Catherine Anne, born last September.

I was happy to hear from Bill Sturgis on the tip of his ship being oversased. Bill writes that he has a chance for one of the following assignments: Guam, Okinawa, Hawaii, Japan, Alaska, or Italy. From the 12th of January until April 27, Bill was stationed at Fort Lee, Virginia, in the Quartermaster School.

My old roommate, JIM POLEY, has written twice since the writing of my last column and has offered a bit of news concerning himself and some of our other classmates. Jim interrupted his graduate work at the University of California for a six month's stay at Army life at Fort Ord, Calif. He had entered California Graduate School almost immediately after our graduation last June and completed two sessions before taking up with Uncle Sam. Jim will resume his studies toward an M.B.A. next fall.

A few brief items forwarded by Mr. Pooley, include the news that JOHN SENG is now in the Army. Dear Fellow Alumni:

One of the considerations of your Alumni Board has been the desirability of impressing on all Notre Dame Alumni the responsibility they bear as Catholic laymen. The Board has adopted several recommendations in the past having to do with informing Alumni of the importance to Notre Dame of the part they play in Catholic and civic lay activities. You may recall many of the articles in the "Alumnus" spotlighting individual Alumni or advising us of the Catholic position in state and national affairs.

Certainly all Catholic laymen have such a responsibility. Is it not so, however, that a Catholic layman with benefit of a Notre Dame education has a greater than ordinary obligation in this respect? Fortunately, most Notre Dame Alumni recognize an obligation to themselves, their church, their country, and to Notre Dame, to use their education for reasons other than their material gain. Your Alumni Board encourages all Notre Dame men to consider the good they can accomplish by active participation in the variety of lay activities which every day seek the assistance of educated Catholic men.

The attention of the Board has also been directed towards assisting the University wherever possible in matters of student admissions. Many of our Notre Dame Clubs throughout the country are making a significant contribution to Notre Dame by working with the University Admissions Office in interviewing prospective students and advising candidates on the admission policy. We can all, acting as individuals or as club committee men, offer needed help to Notre Dame in this respect. In order to provide this help, we must, of course, be aware of the qualifications which Notre Dame seeks in a candidate for admission.

Everyone expects the best from Notre Dame in all of its undertakings. Therefore, Notre Dame tries to provide the best in its graduates. This does not mean, however, that all candidates to be admitted must be straight A in high school. It means, rather, that to be admitted, a student must have some proven scholastic ability, and must have shown some recognizable potential. Notre Dame seeks the well-balanced student, not the young man who is scholar only, or athlete only, or whose record shows an abundance of social activities alone. Being only a student is not enough, just as being only an athlete is not enough. The best applicant is one who has exhibited an interest in study, in play, in fun and in prayer—with an understanding of the relation of one to the other.

Once we know what Notre Dame wants in its applicants, we Alumni can be of real service to the University by advising interested candidates along these lines. And we can be of further service by seeking out the better high school students who we honestly believe are the kind of young men Notre Dame wants.

One of the recent mailings from the Notre Dame Foundation Office brought with it a small pamphlet entitled, "Notre Dame Makes the Honor Roll." If you read it, you will recall that Notre Dame ranks in the top ten of all private schools in Alumni support. As Alumni we can all be proud of this position. The record shows that in 1957-1958, 49.2% of all the Notre Dame Alumni actually contributed to Notre Dame's great need for assistance. It also means that at least one half of our Alumni did not consider the need. This is a surprising statistic, when we look at it in reverse. That percentage should be much closer to one hundred. Your Alumni Board urges you to do all you can to be part of Notre Dame in this respect, as in all others.

In his message in the 1959 spring issue of the magazine, "Notre Dame", Father Hesburgh spoke of the aroused interest in America today in the significance of education to our national welfare. He referred to the position of Catholic education and Notre Dame's place therein. He commented that "more and more, we are being asked what specific contribution our Alumni are making to solve the great problems that face us today". As Alumni we should accept the obvious challenge to help Father Hesburgh, and Notre Dame, answer that question. Some of the ways we can do this are by considering the thoughts mentioned above. All of you are encouraged to accept your obligation as Catholic laymen, to assist Notre Dame in its search for the better, well-balanced student, and to recognize the need Notre Dame has for whatever financial assistance you can give her.

Very best personal regards to all of you from all the members of the Notre Dame Alumni Board.

Very truly yours,

Bill Cotten
President
