The hopes for Notre Dame's future are high.

The plans for it are demanding, and fascinating.

As I write this, I have just come from the funeral of Father Kermit Healy, C.S.C., '15. Father Healy was my Shakespeare teacher. When appreciation of the immortal prose palled, he would on occasion startle and delight us by reading an essay or two by Stephen Leacock, thereby endearing both Shakespeare and Leacock (and the teacher) to the class. Father Healy was an embodiment of the educated man. We thought then that it was the Harvard touch, because we hoped Notre Dame would do the same for us. Later we learned that there is an innate refinement, and gentleness, and love of culture, which schools welcome and cultivate, but cannot create. This is a radiation personality which, in the spiritual and intellectual fields of influence, is deserving of a study more intense than radiation chemistry. (I am not against radiation chemistry, but more people are exposed to personality.)

Two weeks ago we buried John Cardinal O'Hara, C.S.C., '11, in Sacred Heart Church. Notre Dame men need to be told little about his life, though for the record a few of its highlights are in this ALUMNUS.

About the same time, Edward "Babe" Voorde, '36, mayor of South Bend, was killed in an auto accident, buried in Cedar Grove Cemetery on Notre Dame Avenue. A popular, helpful, loyal and civic-minded man, Babe Voorde represented the strong lay liaison that Notre Dame has enjoyed with its neighbors over the years.

I have also noted the rich record of achievement in the obituaries in the September ALUMNUS. Space seems so inadequate, yet what space could be adequate to tell strangers, for quick example, the stories of Father Michael Mathis, Ed Crowe, Father Norman Johnson, Bob Kirby, or Dr. Ted Just. Here were personalities, ages, activities as varied as you could imagine.

And I read, with the same pang of regret over the inadequacy of the record, the 1960 retirement list of professors, laymen whose humility and dedication covered up the tremendous strength of character, and conviction of mind and soul, that it took to pursue these virtues. For example —

Cecil Birder, whose Gilbert and Sullivan enlivened Washington Hall, and enriched both the cultural and theater traditions of Notre Dame, while his talent and devotion in the teaching fields of speech and music furthered many young men; Ronald O'Neil, who died shortly after retirement, a man of talent and accomplishment who returned to the teaching profession at Notre Dame to share these assets with the aspiring young men in the College of Commerce, bringing with him also the background of a Notre Dame family of like talents and accomplishments, authors of pages in the history of the University that reflect its strength; William Roemer, whose philosophy reflected itself in his manner, in his activity on the lay faculty, in his family life and his identity in the civic and spiritual community in which he lived; William Turner, a quiet, gentle man, whose abilities as teacher of engineering drawing gave students in engineering a quarter century of developing early competence in their approach to their fields; George Wack, long time (1923) teacher in the Modern Languages, whose even pleasant temperament carried through vicissitudes of his profession, family and economic problems the constant unselfish competence of serious teaching.

All of these people were tributaries in the mainstream that is Notre Dame. It would be a wonderful, and I think better, world, if literature were to recognize that the biography of the well man, the happy man, the spiritual man, the unchanging man, is as significant as the biography of the well known man. (Continued on page 8)
A couple of weeks ago, the eminent Archbishop of Philadelphia died—John Francis Cardinal O'Hara, C.S.C.

Today, Notre Dame men in every corner of the world are thankful that they once knew this great priest when he was simply Father John F. O'Hara, prefect of religion on the Notre Dame campus.

In those days—1917 to 1933—Notre Dame men spoke of Father O'Hara casually as "the pope."

"Is the pope in his room?" (141 Sorin Hall, the front-room corner nearest Sacred Heart Church.)

"The pope's busy typing out tomorrow's BULLETIN." (The RELIGIOUS BULLETIN which he founded in 1921 and which has been quoted in every rector, convent and school in the country for its down-to-earth spiritual wisdom and journalistic impact.)

"The pope has a class right now in the library basement, but you can catch up with him at 3 o'clock. He'll be down at the lake swimming."

It was an ordinary night if you found eight or ten boys ahead of you, queued up along the wall leading to his door, studying in the dim light of the Sorin corridor. But it was your waiting to get his counsel. He was the Cure d'Ars all over again—able to stop quickly at the heart of your problem, deft at binding your wounds and strong as God in his opposition to the devil. "The devil," he used to say, "made a specialty of trying to discourage boys from becoming men." But God had given Father O'Hara his priesthood to preach courage to boys.

Surely no priest in our time and country ever had greater love—or more effective love—for young men than Father John F. O'Hara.

"Father O'Hara made Notre Dame "the City of the Blessed Sacrament." The stole that you saw hanging from his neck almost every time you saw him had two sides: purple for Penance, white for the Eucharist.

He urged all Notre Dame men to receive Holy Communion daily. He secured permission to reserve the Real Presence in the chapel of every residence hall.

He got apostles like Fathers Tom Steiner, Charles Doremus and George Albertson (Friar Tuck) to hear confessions, as he himself did, in season and out of season, and all the hall rectors and prefects to distribute Communion before, during and after Mass. (His accent on Communion outside of Mass disturbed some liturgists; but happily, today Notre Dame is an outstanding liturgical center, thanks to the efforts of men like Fathers George Marr and Michael Mathis.)

Even now, on Sunday, in Sacred Heart Church the spontaneous rush of the whole congregation to the altar rail is a tribute to Father O'Hara's Eucharistic zeal. Back in the late 20s, when the tall, wiry priest sped along that rail distributing the little white Host, it was amusing to watch the ease with which he always ducked his head beneath the protruding, overhanging pulpit as he neared the Gospel end of the rail. It was uncanny how he missed knocking his head, as if by some magic radar!

Incidentally, all this devotion to the "box" and the "rail" he learned from the priest that he saw hanging from his neck almost every time you saw him had two sides: purple for Penance, white for the Eucharist. The prefect of religion tapped out a notice and tacked it up on the bulletin board. The boys begged for regular BULLETINS.

His instructions on chastity and his exhortations to prepare wisely for marriage were priceless and are still quoted. For example, "It is the great desire of God that heaven be peopled with saints who will be happy with Him eternally; yet He makes the creation of a soul dependent on the will of a man and a woman . . . God is not mocked. A terrible judgment awaits the man or woman who tries to cheat God out of His share in His partnership." Years later over NBC, addressing alumni scattered across the nation, he reminded them that God must have a share in all their actions. "Business is a relationship—not simply between a buyer and seller, but between buyer and seller and God. Government is a relationship—not merely between ruler and citizen, but between ruler and citizen and God. . . . Take God out of this picture, and the whole scale of values is changed."

It is no wonder that in 1939 Pope Pius XII chose Father O'Hara to be chaplain to the Catholic chaplains of the U.S. Army and Navy. Father O'Hara was a priest's priest, perfectly suited to minister to chaplains and to speak up with force when Army or Navy brass pressured for "common worship" or contraception.

It is no wonder that, after the war, as Bishop of Buffalo and Cardinal-Archbishop of Philadelphia this great priest concentrated on building Catholic schools and strengthening Christian family life.

I met Father O'Hara first on a hot, muggy day in mid-September, 1928. He said, "How about a swim tonight, down by the pier in St. Joe Lake at 10 o'clock?" It was a lucky meeting for me. Like many another, I owe my priesthood to the life and work of the late Cardinal.

"(Following her, you will not go astray)"

Excerpts from a sermon by Bishop-elect Francis J. Furey, D.D., at the pontifical requiem Mass for Cardinal O'Hara in Philadelphia: "One of St. Bernard's most famous sermons was on the Holy Name of Mary... "Following her, you will not go astray; praying to her, you will not lose hope; thinking of her, you will never make a mistake. If she is your support you will not fall; if she is your protectress, you have nothing to fear; if she is your guide, you will never grow weary; if she is on your side, you will reach your goal. . . . He who loves her is blessed. . . . The Cardinal Archbishop should have chosen for his episcopal motto a phrase from St. Bernard's homily. . . .

"After the evening meal, visitors to his home would be invited to go with him to his chapel to recite the Rosary of Our Lady. After the Rosary, he himself would lead his small congregation in the Litany of the Blessed Virgin, which he knew by heart and which he loved to say. . . .

"To follow in his footsteps we must follow Mary. 'Ipsam sequens, non devis.'"

Opened Hearts and Homes When Padres From Notre Dame Came to Visit

Our Family to the South

The Church's interest in the Spanish-speaking third of our hemisphere, once typified by the early efforts of Father John Zahm and the "good neighbor policy" of the late John Cardinal O'Hara, has received a new impetus from the travels of Notre Dame priests among alumni and friends in Latin America.

Father Theodore Hesburgh, C.S.C., accompanied by Father Robert Pelton, C.S.C., recently visited alumni throughout the Central American countries. Father Hesburgh was warmly entertained on Sunday, August 7, in Mexico City, and went from there to Guatemala, where he was joined by Father Robert Pelton.

In Guatemala the Notre Dame priests were the guests of a Notre Dame graduate, Adolfo Cordon, '53. A gathering of the entire Notre Dame family took place on August 10. At that time Father Hesburgh told of the many recent developments at Notre Dame, as was the case in each of the Latin American countries. Brochures in Spanish describing the University were distributed and copies given to the outstanding prep schools of the country.

In Nicaragua the priests spent two memorable days. There is an excellent Notre Dame contingent there. Our graduates have distinguished themselves as newspapermen, lawyers, engineers, etc. Mr. and Mrs.

In Nicaragua, as throughout Central and South America, Fathers Hesburgh and Pelton were warmly received by alumni and friends. Notre Dame Alumnus, November, 1960
On the bust of Molière that stands in the French Academy are the carved penitential words: "Nothing is lacking to his glory; he is lacking to ours." This is a great tribute to a writer. It means he did masterful work and any lack of appreciation must be the fault of the readers.

You will recall we are treating some of the privileges and obligations that come to all of us as alumni. One of these we stated as learning. From this we got into the value of Adult Education discussion groups, the Great Books. One article is not enough to develop what should be said. This means we will have to be patient. We will touch briefly on each point, then, at another time, we will develop the points.

Mortimer Adler in one of his articles on Adult Education says that if he had his way he would use "schooling" to signify the development and training of the young; and "education" (without the word "adult" attached to it) to signify the learning done by mature men and women. He goes on to say that the brightest student in the best college under a most competent faculty after four years—even with the greatest study—is not an educated man. He says the obstacle to becoming educated is youth. This is so because the walls of an educational institution are protectors and tend toward an artificial life. As children, he says, we are spared pain, suffering and grief. But we pay for this protection by remaining immature, irresponsible and unserious.

We are not supposed to remain children the rest of our lives. We are supposed to grow up, to become mature, responsible and serious. It is true to say that merely leaving the protective walls and halls of a school does not give us this maturity and responsibility. Age helps; sorrow helps. Yet some people grow old but never grow up. Some people have sorrow and pain for a lifetime, but never know the privilege of pain. I think it was Voltaire who said: "Ideas are like beards; men do not have them till they grow up."

As alumni we are away from the walls and halls. Now is the time when a due sense of value and proportion should regulate the care bestowed on every action. We are a busy group. This is true for the world around us. But if we are to give a due sense of value to our actions we should begin to get busy with the things that count. In this life it often happens that it is not what we take up but what we give up that makes us rich. And "rich" here is not meant in a financial sense. And what we take up is very often the unnecessary burdens that have a habit of dividing and growing bigger. In a word, we tend to clutter our lives with trifles. And every introduction of a speaker says "... who, in his very busy schedule, has taken time to be with us."

How nice! We are rushing ahead in all directions and have forgotten the fine art of making time our servant instead of ourselves the slaves of time.

As reasoning and intelligent alumni we ought to judge our day and our life. We ought to separate the important from the urgent, the necessary from the trivial. Only then will we begin to see that we must get back to reading and discussion. We must begin, as adults, to embrace the world of ideas. A Great Books group can be the solution to the development of our minds and keeping them alive. Our school days are over but our education should continue through all the years of our adult life.

How wonderful it would be if our Alumni Clubs across the country had a permanent committee on adult education and the Great Books! The Chairman of the committee would have to learn how to lead discussions of these books that represent a great fund of human wisdom. Then they would get the Club members to invite some of their neighbors and friends to join the group. This is the beginning. This is the job to be done. And if we take the responsibility on our shoulders we will leave no room for chips.
News of the Notre Dame Law School

The number as well as the quality of law students has been declining. To illustrate, in 1949 there were 47 law students in this country for each million of the population whereas, in 1959, the number had dropped to 24 per million of the population.

We have a heavy burden of responsibility, therefore, to take all suitable steps to improve our recruitment program. To that end, in each important population center, alumni committees are being appointed whose members will talk to outstanding prospective law students about the practice of law and the advantages of the Notre Dame Law School. Those invited to serve on these committees have responded enthusiastically and there is good reason to hope that the committees will be most helpful.

Another and very important step was taken with the appointment by Rev. Chester A. Soleta, C.S.C., Vice President for Academic Affairs, of Professor Richard M. Lyon as Pre-Law Advisor for the College of Commerce and Professor Robert L. Brannan as Pre-Law Advisor for the College of Arts and Letters. I have no doubt that this move will be fruitful.

—from Dean O'Meara's Annual Report for 1959-60

GOOD EXPERIENCE

More and more law firms, government departments and large industrial corporations are offering summer employment to law students between their second and third years. Among the firms which, last summer, employed Notre Dame students, after their second year of law study, are the following: Barnes, Hickam, Panzer & Boyd, Indianapolis; Covington & Burling, Washington, D.C.; Mayer, Friedlich, Spiess, Tierney, Brown & Platt, Chicago; Shearman and Sterling and Wright, New York City; and Seebirt, Oare and Deahl, South Bend.

In addition, a Notre Dame Law student was employed in the Office of the General Counsel of the Ford Motor Company and of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

PRIZES OFFERED

Mr. A. Harold Weber, '22, has provided a further incentive to excellence in the form of several generous prizes. The winner in the annual Moot Court Competition will receive $150 in cash and the runner-up $100. The student adjudged by the Faculty to have written the best senior research paper will likewise receive $150 in cash and the student writing the second best senior research paper will receive $100.

THE FACULTY

Professor W. J. Wagner has returned to the Law School after a year of lecturing at the University of Paris and other European countries. He was the holder of a Fulbright Fellowship.

Mr. Richard C. Clark, '59L, has been appointed visiting assistant professor. He will teach Business Associations during the absence of Professor Rodcs. The latter, who was awarded a Ford Foundation Law Faculty Fellowship, is spending the year at Oxford University in England.

Dean O'Meara was one of the American delegates at the 1960 Conference of British, Canadian and American Law Teachers in New York early in September.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Former Dean Clarence Manion has entered with enthusiasm upon the performance of his duties as National Chairman of the Notre Dame Law Association's Scholarship Program. He has written to every Notre Dame lawyer regarding The Law School's need for scholarships.

Area Chairmen have also been appointed and are undertaking a systematic follow-up of Dean Manion's letter.

Contributions received by mail in response to Dean Manion's letter will be credited to the area from which they come.

Thanks for your generous response and all best wishes.

Notre Dame's Memorial Library

The new Memorial Library, towering thirteen floors above ground, will be the largest and tallest structure ever to be erected on the campus of the University of Notre Dame. Reaching to a height of more than 180 feet, the library roof will be on approximately the same level as that of the Blessed Mother's statue surmounting the world-famed Golden Dome.

The library will be located on the East campus, near numerous post-World War II edifices including O'Shaughnessy Hall of Liberal and Fine Arts, the Nieuwland Science Center, Keenan and Stanford residence halls, the University's television and radio studios and the North Dining Hall. Building the new library here will necessitate moving the Navy Drill Hall and changing the baseball field, the track and the practice area for varsity football to other parts of Notre Dame's spacious 1,000-acre campus.

Ellerbe and Company, of St. Paul, Minnesota, designer of O'Shaughnessy Hall, the Sculpture Studio and the North Dining Hall, has completed drawings and ground breaking is planned for next Spring or Summer.

Air conditioning throughout the building will be a boon to all who use the library, especially during Indiana's frequent hot spells, and will aid materially in the preservation of books. Plans call for the eleven floors in the "tower" section to be used primarily for research while the first two floors will be largely for undergraduate study. However, additional space in the tower as well as in the two ground floors and the basement will be allocated to an auditorium, the Maritain Center, the Mediaeval Institute, University Archives, the Notre Dame Library Association, the Committee on International Relations, a Treasure Room for rare books, the Notre Dame collection, technical services and audio-visual facilities.

There will be special reading areas for the humanities, social and business studies, science and technology.

Much has happened at Notre Dame in the 44 years since the dedication of the present library. Not only has there been an increase in the number of students and faculty but there also has been a steady growth of the Graduate School, non-existent when the library was built. In the revision of curricula and in the development of new study programs there has been a trend to curtail the textbook-type course and to place more emphasis on reading and research. Most courses, therefore, depend on the availability of many books and references and consequently more extensive use is made of the library than ever before. All these elements have combined to overburden the structure beyond its resources.

It has often been said by learned scholars that a great university is marked by an excellent library—an ‘academic center’ where students and faculty pursue intellectual activities in attractive surroundings and in an atmosphere conducive to intensive study. That a large, modern building for such a library is urgently needed at Notre Dame, the next step in the steady march toward ever-higher academic achievement, must be clearly apparent to all who have the University's best interests at heart, students, faculty, administration, alumni and other friends.

For this reason, the Memorial Library has been designated the “top priority” project in Notre Dame's multimillion dollar ten-year “Program for the Future,” announced by Reverend Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., President, in 1958. It is the first major building for which funds are being sought during this decade.

Alumni are being asked to give $4 million as their share of the over-all cost, now estimated at $8 million, with the remaining $4 million to be contributed by non-alumni friends, corporations and foundations. Pledges, collected by volunteer workers in a personal solicitation campaign this Fall and next Winter, may be paid over a three-year period.

The University faces this challenge as she has so many others in her 118 year history: with great confidence that what must be done surely can be done with the help of God and the Blessed Mother and the loyal devotion of her many, many friends throughout the world.

significant in our society as the biographies of the sick, the unhappy, the material, and the unstable. All of these Notre Dame men had conflict, tragedy, love, and colorful lives, yet fundamentally they had a persisting and dominant and intellectual stamina which gave them ultimate triumph.

Why did my thoughts turn from high hopes and the demanding and fascinating future of Notre Dame?

Because without the high hopes of older generations, and their contributions and planning, Notre Dame's future would be far less fascinating, far more demanding. There should always be time for a sincere, if inadequate, "thank you."

Below: Bishop-Elect O'Hara's Farewell to N.D.—From the 1940 Religious Bulletin.

Godbye, Boys. God Bless You.

The typewriter is a bit rusty from disuse, and perhaps the fingers move more slowly than they once did, but the heart begs the Prefect of Religion for a chance to do one more Bulletin before the separation.

Shall it be done in retrospect? The mind wanders back easily, especially in the familiar surroundings of the Sorin Hall tower, with chains and medals all around, with the old San Xavier picture on the wall, and the blessing of Pope Pius XI, and in the drawer on the left the purple stole that is stained with the chrism of ordination and the tears of penitents. Yes, the mind can picture a line of penitents at the door, waiting to tell a story whether of ten years or ten hours—that will turn a soul from death to life, that will empower a boy once more to smile from his heart.

Yes, retrospect is easy—especially when in three decades of work with Notre Dame men you can't recall one who was really evil. Retrospet is pleasant when you know that thousands of penitents have gone out with resolutions strong enough to withstand temptations, when you know that daily Communion has turned good intentions into good deeds, has made weak infants into strong men, and strong men into saints of God. Retrospect is inspiring when the priest, poor, weak mortal like anyone of you, learns daily lessons in humility from the great-hearted men who kneel to him who takes God's place in their lives.

But retrospect, while pleasant to nodding old men, is useful to your spiritual growth only so far as it gives you pitfalls to avoid and good example to emulate.

Your problem is of the present and of the future. It is yours to say whether Notre Dame shall be for your brother and your children and for your children's children, the Shrine of Our Blessed Lady, the haven of peace it has been to you.

The one thing that can insure your happiness, the one thing that can keep Notre Dame a holy place of goodness and clean fun, is the supernatural spirit of sacrifice. You will find happiness only in what you do for others—for God, or for your neighbor. Even the personal quest of salvation, to which you are obliged by justice and charity, gives the greatest happiness when you forget yourself in the love of God.

Daily Communion is the Food of Sacrifice—never let its tradition weaken or fade. Daily Mass is the sacred core of Sacrifice. Daily visits to Mary, the Mother of God—at the Grotto, telling your beads, in a goodnight smile to the Lady of the Dome—these means of grace keep you close to God.

To the students of today and tomorrow I entrust Notre Dame.

Goodbye, boys. God bless you.

Baltimore

The Baltimore Club held a family picnic August 30 at the Columbia Country Club, and an exceptionally fine job in handling arrangements was done by President FRANK MURPHY. Events for the coming year were discussed, and student chairman DON GAYHARDT arranged for a get-together with two new students from the area.

On October 9, a Stag TV Party was held for the Columbus Alumni Club, with a buffet luncheon and unlimited refreshments. JOE RYAN was chairman. Coming events and chairmen include: Communion Breakfast, Dec. 11, JACK OWENS; Noon Luncheon, January 22, 1961, SECRETARY BILL GAUDREAU; Theater Party for the Vacapoled Players' "Taming of the Tuckoo," Feb. 24, 1961, FRANK HOCHREITTER; Universal Notre Dame Night, April 10, 1961, FRANK MAYER; and the Annual Golf Outing in June, 1961, under DON SOLGOMON.

Boston

The Officers and Directors sponsored a Freshman Party on September 7, 1960, at the University Club for Boston boys entering Notre Dame as members of Class of 1964. An interesting talk to the young men and their parents was delivered by RT. REV. TIMOTHY F. O'LEARY, Director of Education, Archdiocese of Boston. Among the 46 young men entering are the three Cardinal Cushing Scholarship winners. One of the most popular events of the fall season was the annual luncheon meeting, at 12 noon, Jacoby's 624 Brush.

Central California

The Lancaster Country Club again provided the site for the annual stag outing on June 25, 1961, the weekend of July 28 under the able chairmanship of MIKE REGAN. JACK BARGY, 29, won the Mary Quinn Memorial Trophy which has been provided by MAURY QUINN in his memory. GERRY MOORE, as manager, for the Boston Patriots of the new AFL, was the principal speaker at the dinner following golf. JOHN ODONNELL, who has been appointed by President JACK ENDERS to fill the unexpired term of Director Art Statuto, is chairman of the Notre Dame-Navy game excursion to Philadelphia the weekend of October 28-30.

The September 13 meeting was a send-off for upperclassmen from the Club against the fathers of incoming freshmen as honored guests.

Plains are taking shape for the Christmas Dance on December 11 at the Country Club. Again there will be in Terrace Room of the Statler-Hilton.

—DON MAHONEY, '50, Secy.

Calumet Region

Twenty-eight golfers and 50 diners gathered for the annual golf outing at Woodmar Country Club.

TIM TOOMEY was chairman of the outing, with TIM TOOMEY, Secy.

—HAROLD A. BAIR, '29, Secy.

Central Illinois (Springfield)

After several years of inactivity, the Notre Dame Club of Springfield has been reactivated in hopes of again having a club here in south central Illinois.

The film "Notre Dame" was shown. Arrangements were made to show it to the Sisters of the Holy Cross at the various schools in the city of Fresno.

After the meeting was elected the following en- joying the annual meeting of the Club, and the dinner, among a pair of tickets to the Michigan State game in a pool that swelled the Club treasury.

—BOB WELSH, Secy.
Central New Jersey

Our club had one affair last summer: A well attended golf outing in August in New Jersey, FRANK CUNNINGHAM, '55, head­ ed up the program. Men from Class of '50 and later also attended.

We have a full program in the fall with a fresh­ man send-off in September, a trip to the Navy game in October, and a joint rally with Iowa Alumni in November.

Several members from the club attended the 1960 reunion and had a great time: TOM KOM- NELLY, ’55; CHRIS LARSEN, ’55; JOHN HOBITZEL, ’55; WALTER RAVANAUGH, ’55; JOHN CUNNINGHAM, ’55; and yours truly. Chris was recently transferred to New Orleans and with Worthington, but he still came all the way for his first reunion. More should have the same spirit.

Chicago

NOTRE DAME CLUB OF CHICAGO GOLF OUTING

Perfect summer weather and a star-studded Sports Night program combined to draw more than 315 Chicagoland alumni and friends — the largest head count in the history of the event — to the annual Notre Dame Club of Chicago golf outing at Elmhurst Country Club on Aug. 8.

COACH JOE KUHARICH highlighted the Sports Night program presented by W. B. PHILLIPS, Chicago's foremost disc jockey and radio personality, who has built up a terrific following over Station WGN with his rapid-fire comments, was the hit of the evening in his toastmaster role.

REV. EDMUND P. JOYCE, C.S.C., executive vice-president of the University, enjoyed a round of golf and spoke before the Sports Night dinner. Other University officials present at the dinner were REV. JOHN WILSON, Foundation director; JAY PHILLIPS, head of the department of economics; and REV. MATTHEW DURBIN, assistant golf coach.

For the annual golf outing was COL. FRED B. SWEET, whose beautiful country club is a perfect backdrop for the Notre Dame outing. The Colonnade awarded the FREDDIE ST££, JR., Me­ morial Trophy to ART ARQUIMA and JIM CELANO, who tied for low gross honors with sparkling 74s over the difficult Elmhurst layout.

Celano retired the Strike trophy last year with his third consecutive victory, and gained one leg on the nationally ranked Sports Night dinner. Other University officials present at the dinner were REV. JOHN WILSON, Foundation director; JAY PHILLIPS, head of the department of economics; and REV. MATTHEW DURBIN, assistant golf coach.

GEORGE MENARD, '34, president of the Chi­ cago Club, presided at the Sports Night dinner, and in his toast he introduced WALLY PHILLIPS, Chicago radio personalities. Menard is affiliated with WBBM; Phillips with WGN.

Bill Pfeiffer, winner of the club's annual KNUTE ROCKNE award as the outstanding Catholic League football player in the Chicago area, was introduced at the Sports Night dinner. Bill, who garnered All-American honors while quarterbacking at DePaul Academy, now is a freshman at N.D. and a member of the yearling squad.

BILL REYNOLDS, ’54, and PAUL FULLMER, ’55, head the program for the combination golf outing and Springs Night dinner. JOE PAG­ IARI, ’53, first vice-president of the club, helped the program with his usual enthusiasm.

Committee chairmen included JOE WETH­ ERS, ’55; JOE MADIGAN, ’54; STEVE REBORA, ’55; CHUCK FALKEMANN, ’50; PAT MONT­ ROY, ’53; JERRY PRASSAS, ’55; and PAT SHANNON, ’48.

More than 100 golf and door prizes were awarded during the Sports Night program, which followed a tremendous smorgasbord dinner.

—PAUL FULLMER, ’55

(Ed. Note: Last issue's Notre Dame Night report, in an unfortunate garbling of radio manu­ facturers, coupled the name and firm of Founda­tion Orthopedic Surgeons, Ray Durnin, Chicago's 19­ N.D. Man of the Year ROBERT W. GALVIN, with Galvin and equal time to Mo­ torola, Inc. To set the record straight, Bob is president of Motorola, of Radio-TV-phonograph fame, while Durst and guest FRANK FOLGM have been associated with other corporations. J.L.)

Cincinnati

At the June meeting, new officers were elected for the coming year. They are BERTRAND A. SCHLOENBERG, president; BARRY SAVAGE, vice­ president; JOHN R. LABAR, secretary; CHUCK LIMA, treasurer.

On the 20th of July, a Notre Dame Golf Day was inaugurated for the first time. It was held at the Hyde Park Golf & Country Club and, under the chairmanship of PAUL KELLEY, proved to be a big success. Besides golf, a delicious dinner was served and prizes were awarded for both good and poor scores. It is intended that this will become an annual affair.

The annual picnic honoring freshmen entering Notre Dame from the Cincinnati area was held on Sept. 6th. JOHN MCCORMICK was chairman and a large turnout was expected.

A football trip is being planned by WALLY NIEZABER, probably to the Miami game, and a large turnout is expected.

—JOHN R. LABAR, Secy.

Cleveland

September was a busy month in Cleveland. The wives started off with a cocktail dance Sept. 10 at the Stater Hotel. On Sept. 15 a general meeting was held at Rolle's Restaurant with the primary purpose of introducing present students, new freshmen and their fathers. Highlight was an orientation discussion by the Campus Club officers and members, with a film and refreshments. But for members it was also the time of a dues drive and the kickoff for the annual Scholarship Drawing. The prize this year was an all-expense air trip for two to Miami and the Eden Roc hotel for the N.-D.-Miami game. TOLD MULLIGAN ran the drive, assisted by FRANK NOVAK and GARY VONDRAH. Drawing was held Nov. 1 at Rolle's.

ROM—Dr. Tom Dooley, '48, visiting the fabled Scoglio ("Rock") di Frisio (Notre Dame's aptly named Roman rendezvous), addresses the Eternal City Club and guests (American medical students in Rome) on his medical apostolate.

Colorado Springs

On Thursday, Sept. 29, 1960, BILL HEARN, '27, acting chairman for organizing a Notre Dame Club of Colorado Springs, called a meeting at the Officers Club, East Air Force Base. In attendance were DON ALEXANDER, JR., '29; JIM CARNAN, '51; BILL DONELAN, '29; BILL HEARN, '27; DR. JIM JOHNSON, '29; CHUCK LOUGH- REY, '33; and PAT SMITH, '47. DAN McNAB, MARIA, FRANK S硫ACK and CHARLES CUL­ SACK were not available. A survey was begun of Notre Dame men at the Air Force Academy and other military installations.

The following officers were elected: WM. J. DONELAN, JR., president; WM. G. HEARN, vice-president; DR. JAMES A. JOHNSON, secretary-treasurer. All of our membership, present and future, both active and associate, will be resi­ dents of the City of Colorado Springs, Colo., in accordance with the advice of REV. THOMAS J. O'DONELLI, C.S.C., who addressed a meeting of Notre Dame men and their friends last May, along with R. J. BOWERS of the Foundation. A charter meeting was planned for Oct. 29.

—BILL DONELAN, Pres.

Columbus

About mid-September our Columbus Club held its annual pre-school gathering at Falter's Farm south of Columbus, Ohio. We were honored by the visit of U. S. Representative SAM DEVINE. Had several out of town friends, including DR. PAT HUGHES, '48, who was in town for the annual Convention of General Practitioners. In all, 62 were present including ten students and five of their fathers. JACK GORDON was chairman and he did an exceptional job.

AL EICHELPAUB and the writer have worked hard to make the Club's annual football special a success. At the present time, the number of tickets sold out of 400 is 361. Our train leaves for South Bend from the Union Depot at 6:00 A.M. and we all are hoping to see the Irish take off on Michigan State. Proceeds will be given over to our Club's scholarship fund.

Our first business meeting will be on October 25 at which time the winner of our drawing for the Miami-Notre Dame raffle will be completed. I would like to use this time to invite any new Connecticut Valley

This is a report on our annual going-away dinner for students of the Greater Hartford area who are attending Notre Dame for the first time this fall.

Our "Freshman Dinner" was held on Tuesday, September 13, 1960, at the City Club on Farmington Avenue, and 150 people were in attendance, including freshmen, fathers and alumni. A total of 15 freshmen from our area were named by their high-school principals, the largest number for some time and probably the most ever.

Among the activities of the evening was the showing of the film "Notre Dame," which reprised the academic, athletic and social life at the University.

The next scheduled Alumni event for this area is our annual "Communion Breakfast" which this year will be held on Sunday, December 11, 1960, at the Stratler-Hilton Hotel in Hartford.

—ROGER C. TREMBLAY, S.C.

Dallas

The annual Summer Party of the Notre Dame Club of Dallas was held at the Spring Valley Country Club. The social announcement on page 4 in this report was a great success, with 150 people in attendance, including freshmen, fathers and alumni. A total of 15 freshmen from our area were named by their high-school principals, the largest number for some time and probably the most ever.

The next scheduled Alumni event for this area is our annual "Communion Breakfast" which this year will be held on Sunday, December 11, 1960, at the Stratler-Hilton Hotel in Hartford.

—ROGER C. TREMBLAY, S.C.

Dearborn

The tenth annual Communion Breakfast was held Sunday, May 22, after 9 o'clock Mass at St. Bernadette's Church, Dearborn, and the Febrian Motel, with the entire family invited. Guest speaker and celebrant was Fr. J. D. SCANLON, O.P., a former member of the Dearborn Alumni Club.

The dinner was LEO BARXHORST. Guests at the Dearborn Station to Dykele Stadium will be announced next week and return to the station after the game. Refreshments and lunch will be served. First year, third year and all Alumni Alums! Honored guests from the University were Fr. GEORGE BERNARD, MD, EDMUND and MR. E. MOORE.

—THOMAS J. VERBIEST, Dearborn.

Eastern Illinois

On Sunday, August 28, a picnic and farewell party was held at the farm of President ED LAYDEN outside of Hoopeston, Illinois. DON FIELDS is departing from the Chicago area to take over an insurance agency at Davenport, Iowa.

About twenty alumni and wives gathered to wish Don well and enjoy a perfect day on the farm. On Saturday, October 23rd, thirty alumni and wives will journey to Evanston, Illinois, to witness the Notre Dame-Northwestern football game. This will be the first private outing of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad.

The trip from the Dearborn Station to Dykele Staduim will be the means of return and to return to the station after the game. Refreshments and lunch will be served. First year, third year and all Alumni Alums! Honored guests from the University were Bob CRONIN, ED RONEY and TOM VERBIEST.

—THOMAS J. VERBIEST, Eastern Illinois.

Fort Wayne

Local students and prospective freshman guests were the honored guests at the Fort Wayne Alumni Association's Picnic at the southwest Conservation Club on July 13, featuring games of chance, fried chicken and refreshments. TERRY WARD was chairman.

Grand Rapids and Western Michigan

On August 2, the Grand Rapids Club held election, the results were as follows: FRANK FALCON, '33, president; ROBERT KIRCHNER, '52, vice-president; FRANK KOERNER, '47, treasurer; JOHN JORDAN, '53, secretary.

Local clubs were the golf stag and the Michigan State Illegal Alcoholism Communion Breakfast, Christ­

Kansan City

It's fall, football time, and the Kansas City Alumni and their guests joined other Notre Dames at the game of the year in Kansas City. A group of seventy-five spent the weekend in Chicago and took time out to cheer the Irish at Evanston. The real winner this year is the All-American Rock and Roll Scholarship Fund. The group traveled under the Personal Supervision of Ed Ayland and Ross Fass and were housed at the Mercantile, the Hotel Tangent, the Hotel Tangent. Their hosts were Tom and Son, Dave Brooks, Craig Whitaker, and Bob Metzler assisted by several local club members.

The alumni from Indianapolis have been keeping very busy with their activities during the vaca­tion.

—GEORGE J. HIGGINS, Secy.

Notre Dame Alumni, November, 1960 13
Kentucky

The Abbey of Our Lady of Gethsemani in Trappist, Kentucky was again the site for the annual retreat of the Notre Dame Club of Kentucky. The retreat was conducted on August 27, and was enjoyed by many club members. Our thanks to BILL WUETZGER, '52, who did an excellent job in making all the arrangements.

The traditional Notre Dame-Xavier University Alumni outing was held on August 31. The mid-week activities were a break from our normal weekend outing but the change was welcomed with increased enthusiasm by members of both clubs. The evening activities included the big Notre Dame vs. Xavier softball game, volleyball and pitch & putt golf—all culminated by a fried chicken dinner. Congratulations and thanks to PAUL MOLONEY, '52, and JACK DOUGHERTY, '50, for a fine outing.

J. G. HUTER, father of ROD HUTER, died during the month of August. The club met at the funeral home to cite the rosary for the repose of his soul.

—T. A. Brand, '55, Secy.

Lehigh Valley

Our annual fall "Getting Acquainted and Going Away" meeting for alumni, students and parents was scheduled for September 24. In conjunction with this program the films "Notre Dame" and "Football Highlights of 1935" were shown. President ROGER MULLIN, '57, has been called away from the Valley, Vice-President DAVID LANGLEY, '49, has succeeded to the presidency.

COURTAN, area vice-president; and MIKE SALTZ, area vice-president.

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Getting into orbit at the Capital Club's interplanetary Universal Notre Dame Night, held last spring at the Sheraton-Clinton hotel, were (1 to r.): JOHN L. KENOLI, co-chairman; JOHN A. JOHNSON, general counsel, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, who spoke on "The Exploration of Space"; REV. JOHN H. WILSON, C.S.C., N.D. Foundation director, who outlined the University's progress in scientific research; and WALTER H. JOHNSON, Jr., co-chairman.

Maine

The Notre Dame Alumni Association of Maine met on Saturday, September 10, at the Martha Washington Hotel in Augusta, Me., and a rather large select group of Notre Dame Alumni, students and parents gathered to make it a memorable occasion. Among the alumni were PAUL SCULLY, JOE DOYLE, '42; RAY GEIGER, '57.; LES TIBBON, '38; MIKE SALTER, '54; ROLAND DECOUETTE, '51; and JOHN LAUFLIN, '54. It is unfortunate that our State is so large not every one can attend these scattered functions. However, those who were unable to attend report these occasions participating in a raffle of two tickets to the Notre Dame-Miami football game for the benefit of our scholarship fund.

The officers for the coming year were re-elected as follows: J. LEONARD TOBIX, president; JOHN J. DENDY, vice-president; RAY RUTHERFORD, secretary; JOE DOYLE, treasurer; ROLAND DECOUETTE, area vice-president; and MIKE SALTER area representative.

The group was apprised of the new Foundation drive for $66 million dollars and RAY GEIGER, recently appointed as Foundation Governor for the State of Maine, stressed the importance of each alumni giving his share to the University and soliciting those who could afford to give from outside of Notre Dame circles.

The alumni of Maine passed a resolution to continue its assistance to RICHARD BEAUREGARD to help him through his third year at Notre Dame and a check was ordered issued to the East Bank of the University and all Notre Dame circles.

Officers in the Philippines this year are President CONRADO SANCHEZ, JR., and Secretary-Treasurer JULIO R. TIONG, respectively. JIM O'BRIEN, '53, has filled the position of treasurer. Jim is employed by the Adjustable Fixture Company. The Vice-President is GENE SCHUMAKER, '42. Gene is employed by the Square D Company.

Miami

A July 7 meeting was held at the Monte Carlo Hotel with wives and girl friends as special guests, featuring delayed refreshments and a displaced winner roast, courtesy of Pres. J. SMITH. A football week end planning meeting called for ED KELLY and MIKE ZOROVICH on August 5 at the Monte Carlo Club Room produced little planning but a good turnout of the faithful, including PAUL LESKO. The annual picnic was held August 29 at Crawford Park Gahanna with approximately 140 in attendance for a sumptuous picnic dinner and a number of the clergy of the county and friends of Notre Dame. About 60 persons were in attendance.

The new guest, FATHER THOMAS O'DONNELL, completely captivated the crowd with a very inspiring talk, and gave us just the needed spark to make the first official get-together a delightful success.

—JOSEPH A. CONERTY, JR., Pres.

Mid-Hudson Valley

The first New York Actors Equity strike in forty-one years caused cancellation of the Mid-Hudson Valley Notre Dame Club theatre party on June 11th. With the newly-elected officers on the job, many activities are being planned that we hope will interest everyone. Our president is GEORGE SCHUMAKER, '42. Gene is a native Milwaukee man, father of six, and operates the Adjustable Fixture Company. The vice-president and secretary are the same as last year — JACK WILKINSON, '51, and TOM HERMAN, '51, respectively. JIM O'BRIEN, '53, has filled the position of treasurer. Jim is employed by the Square D Company.

Sunday, August 21, we got together with our families at Greenfield Park for our annual picnic.
New Jersey
The J. M. BYRNE Travel Service ran a special and well publicized trip to Florida for New Jersey fans, including reservations at team headquarters in the Monte Carlo Hotel.

New Mexico
On July 31, the Notre Dame Alumni of New Mexico had a business-picnic at the Benedictine Abbey in Pecos. About 100 alumni, wives, and children were present. All that were there had a very joyful afternoon. Elected as new officers during the business meeting were: FRANK HUDSON, president; DICK EVERENGE, vice-president; BILL HARVEY, secretary; and BILL BENEDICT, treasurer.

New York
The annual Spring Smoker was held on May 19th at the Seventh Regiment Armory. BOB SCHRAMM was in charge of the arrangements for this meeting, which is responsible for the large turnout. JOE KUHARICH was guest of honor, and he sized up the football squad for the forthcoming season. JIM ARMSTRONG attended and as usual had some very interesting comments on the present day picture at N.D. J. M. WALKER, former Postmaster General and Laetare Librarian Fund in memory of the late FRANK C. WALKER, gave the 25th Annual Retreat at the Jesuit retreat house in Shattuck Oak, N.Y. The retreat was a three-day program which carried over the weekend of May 26th.

President BILL CUDDY, '52, presented the Jack Lavalle Memorial Trophy to Sacred Heart H.S. of Yonkers, winners of the annual CYO golf tournament. The setting was the Westchester C.C. on May 26th.

At a meeting on May 10th, the Board of Governors voted to pledge $1000 to the University Library Fund in memory of the late FRANK C. WALKER and战略 to the John J. Holy Medal recipient. Mr. Walker was a dear friend and club member for years.

HAROLD MARSHALL, '59, presented to his classmates FR. VINCE McCALLEN of the Holy Cross Missions, a set of Mass vestments to be used in the foreign missions. The presentation was made on June 6th in the Jesuit retreat house. The vestments were a gift from the Club.

The Huntington Crescent Club on Long Island was the scene for the annual Golf Outing on June 21st. This year the affair was sponsored by the Long Island Division. GORDON FORREST led up the hard-working committees. A large crowd was on hand to test the course and partake in the feast afterwards. FR. GORMAN, C.S.C., chairman of the fund-raising project, was presented with a gift as a token of appreciation for the wonderful work he did in the Club. Father has been forced to resign due to a change of assignment.

The Long Island Division sponsored a dance at Grand Central Station. Tickets go to the Scholarship Fund. Among those who spearheaded the committee were JOE WURTZLER and MARY VONDOY, JOE MASTELL, TOM WALSH, TOM MURPHY, '53, and ED FITZPATRICK, '51. The dance was a great success.

The Pittsburgh Club sponsored a Picnic and Outing for the members of the area and their families on July 31st. The site was the Blind Alleys on Purchase, N.Y. The feature attraction was an outstanding pole match between two of our fine Eastern teams. Thanks to JACK CAPRIO and his committee for a wonderful afternoon of fun.

LYNN MARSHALL, '50, son of Harold J. Marshall, '21, who is President of the Club, is presently studying at Bellarmine College in Plattsburg, N.Y.

We in the Notre Dame Club of N.Y. extend deepest sympathy to GEORGE BARS, '48, and his family on the occasion of the recent death of his mother.

Our agenda for the Fall was the annual Kick-Off meeting of which GEORGE VERGARA, '75, is chairman. The meeting was scheduled for September 11th, the Four Horsemen as our guest. Chairman POWERS, '52, headed the Committee working on details of the Affair.

The Club sponsored a Forum October 12. Guest speakers will be GEORGE Sokolosky, noted economist, Dr. Charles Schuster, Lastarrie medal recipient. The subject will be "Conservatism" and "Liberalism" in 1960.

—ROBERT J. FINK, Secy.

Oregon
Pres. Start having gone into hibernation for the summer, we all have a chance to recuperate. But a telephone call or other day warn's us he's ready to go again! Things will be a doin'.

Meantime, a few of the boys have been making new contacts. In the first term, he's been re-elected president of the Independent Bankers Assn. of the 12th Federal Reserve District—and that includes some of those big banks in California! ED LEAVY—excuse me, Your Honor!—is a candidate for Lane County Circuit Judge, having run for the seat in the May primary. May, Hope you make it, Ed OTIS JORDAN'S Pacific Concrete Co. continues to get its share of big construction.

Speaking of politics: HUGH DACEY, JR., '45, recently caused a local tempest when his duck-hunting dog won the prestigious Olympic duck-bill ballot victory for County Coroner. However, the state attorney-general has ruled that no Republican candidate can use the duck-hunting issue in the primary. Only the party's official candidates can use the issue. And who gave us the duck? I was the scene for the annual Golf Outing on June 21st. The main speaker was PAUL MAATZ, former coater and now in the process of building a retirement home. A post-game cocktail party in the grand ballroom of the Ben Franklin Hotel, with proceeds going to the Scholarship Fund. Among those who spearheaded the Club was BEN GROTTHAUS also arranged for a post-game dinner in a private dining room of the Franklin. On Nov. 10th a cocktail party was given at the Carlton Hotel for a Humphrey-N.D. Midwest game week end. CHARLIE CONLEY, WALT GROTHAUS and BILL WHITBIDE were co-chairmen of the trip.

The Annual Notre Dame Communion Breakfast will take place on Dec. 11th.

Phoenix
At one of the largest local alumni meetings ever held in Phoenix, the following officers were named for 1960-61:—BOB KENDALL, president; BOB KENDALL, secretary; and BILL WHITESIDE, vice-president. BOB LONCHARICH, Secy.

Pittsburgh
The annual golf party and dinner was held September 7 at the Pittsburgh Field Club with nearly 100 in attendance. PAUL HUDAK and CHARLIE TOTTEN tied for the championship. The Scholarship Fund drive netted $861,00, with Mr. and Mrs. James B. Butler (golf guest of JOE GASPELLA) winning a trip to the N.D.-Pitt game. Among dinner guests were students, incoming freshmen and parents. Chairman GEORGE COYNE was ably assisted by JOHN VUONO, BILL ENGLE and BILL MCGOWAN. N.D. and Pitt football fans joined the Group for the N.D. - Pittsburgh Carillon Hotel for a sumptuous N.D.-Miami game dinner. The event was planned by the co-chairmen, CHARLIE CONLEY and several others whose names escape inc at this writing. If all arrangements come out as planned, this Club will sit on the South side of the upper deck during the game.

Rockford
The Notre Dame Club of Rockford held its Annual Banquet on Saturday, October 14. The event was held at Freeport, Illinois and was well attended by members of the club, both alumni and students.

The event was well planned by the co-chairs—DR. FELIX LONWICK and CHARLES LUECKE, .

Notre Dame Alumnus, November, 1960
with a large number of prizes to be won and splendid co-operation from the weather man.

Among heroes of the day were JIM GALLAGHER, who won the prize for the straightest drive of the day, and DICK WILLSON, who won the prize for the longest drive of the day.

Many of those attending brought along their parish pastors, and those who came to the attention of the secretary were FR. PHILLIP O'NEIL and FR. ARTHEA O'NEIL.

The golf game was followed by a delicious meal, and the digestion of all was aided by the program of entertainment by Al CARROLL and BOB SCHMELZEL.

New officers for the Club are:
President – AL CARROLL; 1st Vice Pres. – CHUCK LUECKE; 2nd Vice Pres. – TOM KEEGAN; Secretary – BILL GALLAGHER; Treasurer – JIM GALLAPR; Board of Directors – JIM DUNN, JR., MIKE LORDES, BILL LICHTENBERGER, and GEORGE CORYL.

Rome

Our temporary loss is the University's gain in the informal visit this summer of our Rome chaplain, FATHER ED HESTON, C.S.C.

Eye-witnesses on campus can ask Father Heston down a cast. And yet his painful pilgrimage to N.D. was in gain in that he represented the Notre Dame Alumni in matters of import with the Alummi Office.

More permanent losses here: BROTHER DONARD PAPENFUSS, C.S.C., on eight years of consecrated service to the now flourishing Notre Dame International School for Boys, has been transferred to the Archdiocese of Chicago.

BROTHER RAYMOND PAPENFUSS, C.S.C., principal of the Eternals, and member of the Class of '51, has accepted the Rome post, where he will be accompanied by his brother DICK and Mrs. Bill McCULLOUGH (of South Bend), with an International Man of the Year Award.

The Rome Club has succeeded in doing to these testy teenagers what had been clandestinely arranged with the University of Rome as guests. DR. TOM DOOLEY, who gave spirited talks to the club with American medical students of the U.S. Naval Hospital, and former N.D. Basketball Coach of the Philadelphia Eagles; JOE and Mrs. DONOVAN, '39, of Los Angeles; ED BURKE, '63, of Chicago; HARRY FATH, '63, Cinncinati; BOB WOODS, '63, Chicago; BOB KEARL, '53, Cleveland; BOB "Buck" HOFER, '33, AL DANT, '37, TOM BETTERTON, '37, Brunswick, Me.; ALAN FITZGERALD, '34, St. Louis; BILL and JIM MURTAGH of Toled, '46; JUSTIN MURPHY, '53, Maastricht, N.Y.; JERRY CROWLEY, So. Bend; JOHN HANPIN, Poughkeepsie, N.Y.; BILL MAHONEY, '43, Maastricht, N.Y.; and BERNARD O'KEEFE, '51, Duesseldorf, Germany.

a preview of the 1960 charges of JOE KUHARICH, and the turnout of more than 12,000 spectators at South Bend's School Field while the stadium was being rededicated, insured the continuing of the club's scholarship fund to area students. For the record: Varsity, 27; Old-Timers, 15.

In June, more than 200 alumni and friends gathered at the N.D. Golf Course for the Club's annual golf outing. Also for the record, no course records were set.

President JOE GOMY has also received a very encouraging report from Quarterly Luncheon Chairman JERRY HAMMES concerning the Fall program which features noon-time luncheons with famous Grid speakers at South Bend's LaSalle Hotel Bretwood Room.

The entire package, four luncheons and guest speakers, totalled for $15.00. Plans called for Red Mackey, Purdue athletic director on Sept. 26; Red Grange, on Oct. 10; Biggie Munoz, Michigan State athletic director, on Oct. 31; and Stan Holcomb, Northwestern athletic director, on Nov. 14.

In addition, Coach Kuharich was on hand on Oct. 10 to let us know whether the season would continue as begun.

Additional info and end-of-season reservations can be obtained from JERRY HAMMES, chairman of the New Downtown Quarterly Club.

Forty members and guests attended the club's Universal Notre Dame night celebration at the Diggers in Madison. This was our first social event of any kind since a fall outing in 1958. Dr. WILLIAM BURKE, director of the Office of Student Affairs, was our speaker and those in attendance were very appreciative of his frankness and the earnestness in providing us with information, regarding not only the physical layout but of the impact of the increasing number of prospective college students and how the University proposes to meet the challenge as to admission requirements and prospective expansion. We certainly wish to thank the Association for providing Dr. Burke as our guest speaker. TOM HAMILTON served as master of ceremonies.

The results of our club's postcard balloting for officers were announced by outgoing president TOM FOSTER during the business portion of the meeting. They were: F. LAWRENCE Lenz, 25th; B. Gregory, Madison, president; FRANK HAMILTON, Dodgeville, vice-president; and BERNARD MIXTACKI, 400 Flamingo Road, Madison, secretary-treasurer.

Twenty-four members and guests attended our summer outing and dinner at the Dodge Point Country Club. TOM HAMILTON sort of served as a one-man gang in charge of arrangements. During the business portion of the meeting, LARRY Lenz announced he was moving to Illinois and that could not serve as president for the remainder of his term. WILLIAM GORGEN, of Mineral Point, was elected president for the interim. Our business meeting mostly consisted to looking ahead to 1961, when Notre Dame comes up this way to play the University of Wisconsin. REN EUGLE, of Madison, was named chairman of a dinner tentatively set up for some time in October. Though our attendance was not very big, the encouraging part was the interest shown by some of those who could not be present who informed us they could not attend.

Dr. Bernard Waldman, Professor of Physics at the University, who has been named director of the Midwestern Universities Research Association Laboratory here in Madison, has accepted our invitation to participate in the activities of our club. Also, in this area, TOM VELCH, '59, now a golf professional at Milwaukee, came into Madison for the Capital Times open and walked away with second place among the pros. In the three prior years he has come in first so he sure has become acquainted with the folding money from this area.

Spokane

Members of the Notre Dame Club of Spokane, their wives, children and some friends enjoyed the Annual Summer Outing of the Club on Sunday afternoon July 31. FRANK HERRON, '35, chairman of the committee in charge, very kindly offered the use of his attractive home on the shores of Liberty Lake for the affair. It was a very happy afternoon for all present, concluding with a picnic supper for which the Club provided the liquid refreshments. A prize in the form of a preview of the 1960 charges of JOE KUHARICH, President PAUL MARIETTA has appointed a program chairman for each meeting. The Terre Haute Notre Dame Club meets the 3rd Tuesday of each month at 7:00 P.M.

The September meeting under the chairmanship of FRANK PROX was a very interesting one. After the regular business meeting, FATHER CHARLES ZENGEEL showed slides of his recent trip to Rome along with an excellent commentary.

A change of pace is planned for the November meeting under the guidance of RAY KEARNS. The wives have been asked to attend this meeting with a social planned after the meeting. JIM SULLIVAN will be in charge of this year's Communion Breakfast, and BERNIE BURDICK will be in charge of stag to be held the Friday before Lent.

Alumni who have located recently in Terre Haute are: RON BURTON, '60; MICHAEL KEARNS, '56; ROGER TOOTH, M.A., '50; and CHARLES MCCONLEY, '59.

The Notre Dame Alumni Club of Terre Haute was asked to present at recent celebration honoring Terre Haute's Olympic gold medal winner, Terry Dohinger (a member of the U.S. basketball team).

Tri-Cities

The Tri-City Alumni Club of Notre Dame had their annual picnic July 16th. Over two hundred people attended this function.

The club planned a bus trip to the Notre Dame-Northwestern game in Chicago.

Our Fish fry stag was held Sept. 2.

Washington, D.C.

After a highly successful family picnic under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. JACK PITTS, the annual golf outing took place September 27 at Kenwood Country Club, with golf and tennis followed by cocktails and dinner. Highlights included a fine roast beef dinner; awarding of a new CARDINAL O'HARA trophy donated by Chairman ROB DEORSEY and HAL RODDY, plus prizes for all, presented by REV. THOMAS J. O'DONNELL, C.S.C.; football movies, free suds and football commentary by RALPH GUGLIEMI, DAVE SLATTERY and other experts.

JACK MCGRAW was the host for an N.D.-Northwestern TV party at his Maryland home on Oct. 22, and the Club ran a special train to the N.D.-Navy contest in Philadelphia on Oct. 29.

SAN GABRIEL VALLEY — This poolside get-together at the home of Donley Brady was the charter meeting of a new Notre Dame Club in eastern Los Angeles County. Festivities included tennis, swimming, and a barbecue.

Neither the past nor present of Catholic education has been free of problems, criticisms and concern. In 1834 a Catholic girls' school in Charlestown, Massachusetts, was burned to the ground by an irate mob of bigots. Ten years later, a similar fate befell a parochial school and seminary in Philadelphia as a result of protests over reading the Protestant version of the Bible to Catholic students in public schools. A few years ago a publication of the National Education Association, "Public Schools and the Future of America" charged that Catholic schools were divisive and undemocratic. Last year thirty lawsuits were pending in Texas over nuns teaching in public schools. But the Catholic educational system has weathered these serious reverses and research here at Notre Dame has pretty much refuted the silly charge of divisiveness. When sixty-five public school superintendents throughout the nation were asked if the existence of parochial schools caused interreligious tensions within their communities, eighty-eight percent said, "No." But future problems and concerns of Catholic schools are an intra-Catholic matter and demand serious consideration. In fact, their very survival on the elementary and secondary level may be at stake.

Today, one out of every seven students in the United States enrolled in grammar school and high school is in a Catholic institution. Seven percent of all college and university students are in Catholic schools. Growth between 1945 and 1967 has been phenomenal: Catholic elementary schools increased 80%; secondary schools, 61%. But the past is nothing compared to what the future will be if population predictions even approximate accuracy. Conservative estimates claim that college enrollments will double by 1973, and if the present trend for more and more students to attend colleges continues, enrollments will triple by that year. If American Catholics of the future hope to educate the same proportion of their children in Catholic institutions as they do today, some hard facts must be faced realistically: how will they pay for the buildings, libraries, laboratories, other equipment and teachers' salaries?

The actual cost of Catholic education nationally is not readily determined but some approximation of it is feasible. The late Cardinal O'Hara took the cost of educating pupils in public elementary and secondary schools in various regions of the country and then multiplied this by the number in Catholic parochial grade and high schools. He estimated that in the year 1956-57 American Catholics have saved the U. S. taxpayer, including themselves of course, almost one and a-half billion dollars. While this was not the actual cost to Catholics, largely because of minimum salaries paid to Nuns, Brothers, priests and lay persons on these faculties, the true cost probably approached a billion dollars. This does not include colleges and universities where relatively higher tuition is paid. Such tuition usually covers only about one-third of the instructional costs. Here the deficit is made up by gifts of alumni, friends, business and industry, and again costs are reduced by a teaching staff of nuns, Brothers, priests and relatively low salaries to lay faculty. When this expense is added to that of Catholic elementary and high schools, the total is staggering.

But there is another problem which American Catholics must face about their school systems. Increased facilities are obviously needed. Efforts to provide them are being made but as costs spiral, there is always the danger that enforced cutbacks may seriously impair instruction and the separate facilities of public and Catholic education could become grossly unequal. It would be a tragedy if the price of maintaining a Catholic school system cost children an adequate education.

No matter what the cost of Catholic education is today, these expenses will become greater in the future. This is true for all schools but acutely true for Catholic schools on the elementary and secondary level. The major reason for this is the necessity of employing more and more lay teachers. The National Catholic Welfare Conference in its biennial survey of 1956 stated that in the last ten years lay teachers had increased by 196%. The largest increase occurred in elementary schools, 409%. Actually, in the past there had been relatively few lay persons teaching in parish schools, so the percentage of increase, while startling, reflects the fact that many elementary schools have now added lay teachers. That they will have to add more in the future is a foregone conclusion. Vocations, generally, do not appear to be keeping pace with demand and if schools are to be staffed the only source is the laity. In 1956 there were 20,980 lay men and women teaching on the elementary and secondary level of Catholic schools. Estimating their average salary at $2700 annually, a dismally low income by today’s standards, total cost was $76,000,000. By now it has well passed that mark.

But costs of Catholic education to parents do not end with payment of tuition and contributions to the church. In some states there are book purchases or book rentals, usually both. Annual raffles, dinner, photographs and other fund-raising devices are common. Extracurricular activities likewise cost money, and Kathryn Douglass found in her study of two private schools that boys spent $69.17, girls $22.12 yearly, only part of which was earned by the students.

Some extracurricular activities such as athletic teams and student clubs also tax the resources of Catholic schools. Most institutions have Fathers' Clubs, Mothers' Clubs or some similar organization dedicated largely to the raising of money for such equipment. While Catholic students do use the public library, some kind of school library is essential. The expense of building up and maintaining adequate facilities of this type today is really prohibitive. Finally, in many states Catholic parents watch public school children riding to and from classes in tax-supported buses for which they pay while they either drive their own youngsters to school or pay for public transportation out of their own pockets.

In summary then, the problem is this. The Catholic birth-rate at all social-economic levels except the very lowest exceed that of non-Catholics. Consequently, more Catholic families, consequently more children to educate, less money with which to do it, and the added cost of a private and/or parochial school to maintain. They face the dismal prospect of an expansion of public education for which they have an obligation to pay as taxpayers and expansion of the Catholic system for which they want to pay as religious persons. Just how far and how long Catholic resources can be strained to continue the present pattern merits frank and serious consideration. Lutheran, Quaker and Presbyterian schools in some parts of the country folded long ago for this reason. Can Catholic schools survive?

Short of outright state subsidization, which is highly unlikely, certain changes in the Catholic school structure will fast become imperative. Just what form they take may vary from one diocese to another. However, among possible changes may be a reduction of the parochial school to four years with the other four years taken in a public school. Or Catholics may concentrate on the high school and college level, eliminating the grammar school entirely. These are drastic alterations and no decision should be made without thorough research. But what is more likely is a look in Catholic education or not, two steps are still essential.

First, prayers for more vocations to the priesthood, Brotherhood and Sisterhood are indicated. Definite efforts should be made to encourage more young men and women to enter the teaching profession. Mothers, whose children are of school age and who have had the required education, should be given refresher courses to enable them to staff parishial schools and high schools. Second, even if all of these suggestions enjoy modest success, religious education within the Catholic home will have to be stepped up and Newman Clubs extended to public high schools. Until the wave of the future born during the late forties and early fifties reaches an age when it can give its financial support to Catholic education, there will be a serious lag. How serious this will be depends on how seriously American Catholics realize it today.

THE POPULATION PANIC

by Donald N. Barrett

T he cries of impending calamity due to “overpopulation” are rising to an almost irrational pitch. Faith in the automatic, mathematical formula for doom, enunciated by the “pessimistic parson,” Thomas Malthus, has declined considerably, but a faith in population projections has grown apace. Gaining assurance for our faith and values from what is assumed to be science has not been unusual in America, but in the controversy over the “population explosion” science seems to be prostituted on all sides.

In a recent issue of the Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists Charles Darwin plays the popular game of population “scare” projections by saying that in 1000 years the present rates of increase would mean “just about standing room” for the people on the earth’s land surfaces. A widely read picture magazine several months ago preferred the estimate that in 750 years human beings will be “so tightly packed” that each person’s estate will be only one foot in area. But the asserted dangers are not only quantitative, it seems, for, as Julian Huxley prophesies, “the quality of the population will without question go down.” Presumably we can now predict the horrors of rising rates of mental deficiency, disease and other abnormalities, all due to population growth.

On the other side of the controversy we find very few literate and vocal protagonists. This lack of opposition gives rise to the impression that all the factual and scientific arguments are on the former side. The absence of intellectual vigor on the part of large numbers who oppose the “population explosion” thesis derives in part from what Bishop Dwyer of Reno has called the danger of orthodoxy. Too many Christians, and also Catholics, would prefer to “believe” that their position is empirically tenable, rather than give respect and support to thorough research on the problem. In illustration of this preference to believe, rather than know, we may point to the facts that there are fewer than five trained Catholic demographers in the United States and also that no Catholic university or agency has sponsored or encouraged an on-going program of research. Catholics generally have a large faith today theology and philosophy tend to be unconvinced in the intellectual marketplace of contemporary problems, so non-Christian “answers” to such questions become powerful and persuasive by default of empirical research.

The few Catholic voices which are raised about the population question have often reached only a limited audience and generally have not been characterized by a high level of professional persuasiveness. In opposing certain family limitation methods a member of the staff of the National Catholic Welfare Conference was provoked into asserting the possibilities of interplanetary and interstellar travel to drain off the world’s future growing population. Predictably an article appreciated soon afterward in a scientific journal exploring this possibility. Therein we get figures that are overwhelming. At all favorable estimates, for example, it would cost about 9,000 billion dollars per year to take America's present excess of births over deaths to the nearest inhabitable star. The trip, by the way, would take only 350 years at an average speed of 7,000,000 miles per hour. Probably the most vocal of Catholic writers on this issue, a theologian, has been successful in reaching some Catholics. His pamphlet, having sold over 300,000 copies, sensitizes the reader to the moral implications and importance of certain aspects of population growth. He has also recruited to his cause, in his letters to the press, the declarations of Pius XII and the Japanese problem this theologian has ranged broadly in his writings through the statistical, economic, sociological and political technicalities of the problem. It has become clear that the weakest aspects of this writing are in those professional areas where only thorough training can help one avoid the pitfalls of inaccuracy and oversimplification. Such a program requires a certain literacy, technical intelligence and sympathy which are more often lacking in these countries. Rapid population growth is only temporary due to the slowing of decline in death rates is both misleading and fallacious in professional analysis.

The crucial feature of the current controversy, however, centers on policy decisions about population growth. The loudest, though not necessarily the most reasonable, policy urged upon the United States in its aid to "exploding" countries is to stimulate birth control by compelling all fertile women in Puerto Rico to submit to sterilization if they have had three children and lack any other children. The Catholic Population in the U.S. has an A.B. from Georgetown University, a Ph. L. from St. Louis University, and an M.A. from the University of Pennsylvania. Formerly on the faculty of LaSalle College, Philadelphia, Mr. Barrett is the author of several sociological papers, including the much-discussed Changing Catholic Population in the U.S. He is a member of the American and American Catholic Sociological Societies, the Society for Applied Anthropology, The American Population Assn., and Alpha Pi Omega fraternity.

Conversative opposition to endorsement of such policies must be based on rational argument. This, in turn, must be backed by such a depth of professional understanding that there is a compulsion for all to engage in the dialogue. As stated above, theological argument seems to be ineffective in America except as an appeal to the power of the vote by dire warnings of a communist "takeover." The most fruitful approach, a rational dialogue, for the simple taking of positions on an issue does not fulfill the democratic principle of intelligent citizen participation. We need to be able to understand all important sides, rather than first take a position, then attempt to rationalize it and anathematize the opposition.

Two broad levels of questions can be distinguished on the population explosion thesis. The first is fundamental and asks: what are the facts and scientific reasoning on population growth? It cannot be the pretense of this short essay to attempt to deal with all the technical details. Instead, principles may be briefly proposed. Immediately it becomes clear that protagonists on both sides of the policy question have emphasized selected, supporting data and scientific studies and minimized embarrassing or contrary evidence. The favorite persuasion of pseudo-scientists is to project population trends 250, 500 or 1000 years into the future and then to manipulate numbers, nomenclature, to which the paranoid mind presumably has no counter-argument. Yet it is a truism in all science that the more distant in time the event predicted, the less reliable the prediction. No responsible scientist would hazard any credence to projections beyond 50 or 100 years and even these have to be so guarded by stated assumptions that their scientific meaning is not only lost but meaningless. Extremists in the controversy seldom suggest that it is necessary to project in a parallel way the figures on production, food consumption, etc., in order to give the population projections some real meaning. Yet man must plan for the future and for this he needs projections, or like the onetalent-man in the scriptural parable, life will catch up with him. In the case of exploding populations, in the words of Galton, "It is the duty of the profession to encourage a rational dialogue, for the simple taking of positions on any issue is a compelling argument.

Donald N. Barrett, an assistant professor in the sociology department, joined the Notre Dame faculty in 1955. His particular interests are criminology and demography (the study of population). He has an A.B. from Georgetown University, a Ph. L. from St. Louis University, and an M.A. from the University of Pennsylvania. Formerly on the faculty of LaSalle College, Philadelphia, Mr. Barrett is the author of several sociological papers, including the much-discussed Changing Catholic Population in the U.S. He is a member of the American and American Catholic Sociological Societies, the Society for Applied Anthropology, The American Population Assn., and Alpha Pi Omega fraternity.
Harrison Brown in The Challenge of Man's Future has published articles on the Irish penal code and revolutionary movements in recent numbers of the Catholic Historical Review and has written several regional studies.

Gilmary Shea history prize for his Roman Catholicism and the American Way and several books, including The Congress Founds the Navy.

Rev. Thomas Timothy McAvoy, C.S.C., professor and former department head, has been the University's archivist since 1929 and a faculty member since 1933. With A.B. and M.A. degrees from Notre Dame and a Ph.D. from Columbia University, Father McAvoy is an authority on U. S. regional and Church history.

John Philip Gleason joined the faculty as an American history instructor in 1953 and was lecturer in Christian culture at St. Mary's College. He took a B.S. (Ed.) from the University of Dayton and an M.A. at Notre Dame as a recipient of the first fellowship in favor of what President Eisenhower has called a many-pronged integrated approach. One of the most powerful arguments by Catholics has been adduced by the recent statement of the American bishops on "population explosion", namely that contraception is based on a negative principle which is in direct opposition to the positive values of conception held by over two-thirds of the world. If contraception were the simple answer, then France should be the most economically and socially stable nation in the world. Actually France has regretted its negative policies under the Napoleonic codes. We have already emphasized the problem today as one of distribution among the nationalistic, face-saving countries. Further, it could have been foreseen that Belgium and Holland may have been conscious of the need for family limitation with their dense populations, but both found that a growing population is manageable when men concentrate on expanded trade and production, food development, etc. This faith and optimism in the cooperativeness and ingenuity-industry among men characterizes the greatest difference between the two sides of the population controversy. The scientific evidence is not compelling, despite its quantity favoring population restriction and paucity favoring other solutions. Most population analysts, it must be emphasized, wish intelligent discussion of the issues (see "An Inquiry concerning Some Ethical Principles Relating to Human Reproduction" by Lorimer, Bourgeois-Pichat and Kirk in Social Compass, vol. 4, numbers 5-6). No counter-charges against their "guess-tamates" will resolve the issue.

At the present juncture of arguments concerning the contraceptive "pill", the sending of birth control aid to other nations and the cross-fire of charges and statistics, the constructive reaction can be found in the development of respectable research, such as the work of Zeegers in the International Catholic Institute for Social Ecclesiastical Research in Geneva and the work of deLeStapis in his recent La limitation des naissances. Importing specialists such as these will not generally aid the Non-Malthusian forces in America, for the simple reason that the professional environment of the controversy here is quite different and alienating to most Europeans. We have the universities, some scientists and many resources among Catholics in America to engage in intelligent arguments, but where are we to do it?

REUNION RIME

Quite a few Jubileers have been torn, it appears,
From their golden companions a full 50 years.

So let's gather for fun in the summertime sun
June 9-10-11 in Sweet Sixty-One!

The BIGGEST AND BEST event in the last fifty years will occur on June 9, 10 and 11, 1961 — our Class Reunion. With the help of all the noble members of our group we can make this the largest and best Golden Reunion ever. Your humble secretary requests that you start right now corresponding with your buddies of fifty years ago and make a date with them for the occasion. It is our last and only chance to attend such an affair to share memories and meet you face to face June 9 next, so please be there and bring your classmates with you.

There'll be some sadness in our gathering. We might have looked forward to visiting with "Stafl" O'Hara, the "professor" and classmate of our youth. Carol O'Hara will be there in body and beloved memory. Who could imagine that the "drama" for which we gathered material would include 30 years of inspiring service to future students and a subsequent rise to the most exalted hierarchy of the Church? We can dedicate this gathering to "Father" and visit His Eminence in Sacred Heart Church.

We have a large group still above the sod and with some effort and luck we should by far have the biggest golden jubilee reunion to date.

From the Alumni Office:
The passing of the Hon. J. ELPIER PEAK last spring went unheralded in this column only because of the rush of other events. Judge Peak was a fellow since 1913. An architect for 34 years, Harold lives at 215 E. 2nd St., Perrysburg, Ohio.

BOB ROACH has accepted the chairmanship of the 1965 Reunion Committee. Our thanks to JOE BYRNE for the success of this year's meeting when the Class of 1915 had the highest percentage of returning classmates of any reunion on the campus.

REUNION RIME

Anniversary nears, and for 45 years We've been parted from friends who shared laughter and tears.

Let us toast every one with a Notre Dame bunJune 9-10-11 in Sweet Sixty-One!

From the Alumni Office:
From the rosters sent out over the summer it is apparent that there are sixty or seventy guests still in circulation who could make the 45th Reunion the biggest ever. It's also apparent that the Class of '16 is one of the last few of all Notre Dame groups. If you have time to help organize attendance from your part of the country please write to GROVER MILLER at the address above and tell him whom you plan to bring to June 9. BILL BRADBURY and FATHER VINCE MOONEY were on hand twelve months early to check the terrain.

REUNION RIME

Jubileers appear, for President Ellsberger to represent the U.S., at the 11th general conference of UNESCO starting Nov. 14 in Paris.

Pray for FATHER KENNDT HEALY, who was taken this fall after several courageous years as a semi-invalid.

From their golden companions a full 50 years.

50-Year Club

Congratulations from all the semi-centenarians to REV. WILLIAM F. CUNNINGHAM, C.S.C., who has been honored as an author and teacher was recognized with an honorary doctor of letters degree, the only honorary degree presented at the Reunion. Dr. Cunningham exercises on August 2. Father Cunningham heard himself described as "one of the most influential Catholic educators in America" and was cited for "his ability to praise the values he finds in secular education and to criticize effectively the flaws he finds in Catholic education."

From the Alumni Office:
In Kansas City City Dr. D. M. NIGRO will soon be organizing another Knute Rocke Memorial Awards Dinner. In the past several years the doctor has made this event one of the top incentives to excellence in all forms of athletic endeavor. More power to you, Doc.

DR. NEIL WHALEN, of Grosse Point, Mich., together with Mrs. Whalen, have returned from an extended visit in Bermuda, and the New England states.

Completing 40 years of faithful service with the Michigan State Highway Department CLARENCE H. BROWN recently was honored by 40 of his colleagues, as at a testimonial luncheon in Detroit. Clarence, who will be remembered as a real serious engineering student, is in charge of highway work in Berrien, Grant, and Cass Counties, including the City of Detroit, and he has supervised the building of the wonderful expressways in that area. He has reached the normal retirement age, but proposes to carry on for the time being.

TOM KING, football and track star, long Dean of ND at Michigan State University, informs us that the registration this Fall at the East Lansing institution, reaches the record of 22,500. Tom says he is four years away from retirement. He will be on the ND campus for the Mich. State-ND tilt.

REUNION RIME
Well, gentlemen, here's to the classmates and peers
Who'll return from an absence of 40 full years.
From the '21-gun, a salute (that's a pun?)
To June 9-10-11 in Sweet Sixty-One!

From the Alumni Office:
Only a few months remain before the Class will be celebrating a 40th anniversary. Missing will be RAYMOND CONRAD and MICHAEL TIERNEY, who was called to a more important reunion; may God rest their souls. But more than a hundred men remain who could make the reunion in Wayne and Monroe to DAN DUFFY and tell him you'll be on hand.

Since Christmas, five of our classmates—AARON HUGUENARD, JACK HIGGINS, JERRY DIXON, CHET WYNNE and DOCTOR HENRY ATKINSON—have been hospitalized for surgery. Thank the Lord, all came through with flying colors, and are presently back on their respective jobs and are performing admirably. In early August, JERRY BARRETT of Omaha was rushed to the hospital with a broken leg suffered in a fall in his living room. He returned to his home two weeks later with a cast to carry around for a few more weeks.

On July 31, FATHER GEORGE FISCHER, G.S.C., left New York via France with the Holy Cross Fathers' Pilgrimage to visit the shrines of Europe and to attend the Eucharistic Congress in Munich in early August. FATHER George promised to remember his classmates—deceased and living—at all of his shrine visits.

In June, DR. DANIEL SEXTON was attending meetings of the American Medical Association in Miami, and in August, he and his family left their Clayton, Missouri home for a motor trip and visit to Colorado.

The JERRY DIXONS of Evanston, Illinois, were on a vacation motor trip in late July to visit Montreal, Quebec, and the shrine of St. Anne on her July 26 Feast Day.

Previously we mentioned the death of the father of FRED DRESSEL, (William Dressel, age 82 on March 27) and later learned that Fred's mother died on Christmas Day last. Again, our sincere sympathy to Fred on the great loss of his loved ones. Kindly remember them in your prayers, also one of our beloved class chaplains—FATHER PATRICK J. HAGGERTY, C.S.C., new 78, former president of St. Edward's University, who died in the Notre Dame Infirmary on May 9.

On August 20 at Sacred Heart Church, Grand Coteau, Louisiana, a Nuptial Mass was celebrated at which a fine couple were united in marriage—Miss Helen Louise Oliver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. OSTER Octave Olivier, to Mr. William Geo. Gregor Castellini, son of our beloved classmate (deceased) WILHELM A. A. CASTELLINI and MRS. GEORGE UHLMEYER, of Des Moines, California, with whom GEORGE PATTERSON renewed mail contact through a mutual friend of his and Pete's.

This office, through the cooperation of classmates, has secured N.D. Student Directories for the years 1919-1920 and 1921-1922. If I could now separate someone from their directories for the years 1920-1921 and 1921-1922, my valuable archives would be complete. Mrs. Marie Gould, widow of EDDIE GOULD, has filled me in with certain issues of the DOME, so that the "23 archives include the DOMES for 1920-1921-1922-1923. In fact I have two copies of the 1921 issue, which I will trade for a copy of the 1923 issue.

Mrs. Gould's '23 copy went with her good wishes to all you '25ers a Very MERRY CHRISTMAS.

We will be celebrating a 40th anniversary, missing will be RAYMOND CONRAD and MICHAEL TIERNEY, who was called to a more important reunion; may God rest their souls. But more than a hundred men remain who could make the reunion in Wayne and Monroe to DAN DUFFY and tell him you'll be on hand.

JOHN B. HENNAUGHAN, Ph.B. For. Com., died at DeKalb, Ill., his home town, about July 1, according to belated word received from GEORGE A. PATTERSON, a classmate, this summer. Mr. and Mrs. Pat were visiting friends in DeKalb and in that manner learned of John's decease. Pat reported that John left a widow but had no children.

Your secretarial sleuth slipped up on the big angle in the death of JAMES J. METCALFIF, preciously reported. The Alumni Office is authority for the fact that J.J.M. was a seminarian for a short time back in our school days and later as a newspapersman because of "Some Portraits" syndicated nationally in newspapers and published in several books. Frankly, I missed the connession, Metcalfe being legion, etc.

MRS. GEORGE UHLMEYER died suddenly July 10 of a cerebral hemorrhage, according to word from George in Rock Island, Ill. She had been in good health, had accompanied her husband at the graduation of their son Dick, at N.D. in June, and had attended a picnic the day before her death. A married daughter, Jacqueline, also survives.

Globe-trotters of the Class of '23 this past spring and summer, include Mr. and Mrs. JOHN C. COCHRANE, Mr. and Mrs. JOHN CHAPLA, Mr. and Mrs. LAWRENCE STRABLE, Mr. and Mrs. GEORGE CARLTON, and possibly others, although all these are the European travelers from whom I have heard.

20 Notre Dame Alumnus, November, 1960
great team of '24, Ed was assistant coach at Fordham and he also coached at Villanova with Harry Stuhldreher and later at Niagara. During World War II he served in the Navy. In late years he was an engineer for a Philadelphia contracting firm. Ed never married.

In the last pre-war news I have had on Ed for 25 years as I don't believe he made any of our reunions.

I stayed over night in Chillicothe and called John Fleming, Sr., 3525 Turtle Creek Boulevard, Dallas, Texas. I would like to express my sympathy to Mrs. John Fleming and her family and that of the class in the loss of her husband.

There may be another letter copy from the Alumni office awaiting me when I get in so I may have to add another so keep those MASS contributions coming in.

Our reunion in June was a huge success. JAMES ELLIOT ARMSTRONG went out all as usual and the list is the best ever. We had a third of our class back and one of the nicest things happened at this reunion, I would say another FIRST FOR '25. HOWARD SPENCER'S mother, Mrs. John Fleming, Sr., did our darndest to keep praying for the boy so there is no delay in our keeping with the rest of the family in the loss of her husband.

We have recently heard that James Stack, son of our DR. JAMES E. STACK, has been elected captain of the 1961 track team at Yale. I'm sure that our whole class will feel proud and congratulate both you and your son on this fine honor.

In June JOHN RYAN and I were going to lunch and bumped into Ray DURST, our past president on Michigan Avenue in Chicago. Ray was hurraying to a Notre Dame Foundation meeting. He is chairman of this organization in Chicago.

We were saddened to hear of the deaths of VINCENT D. (KEN) O'MALLEY and VINCENT L. GUILTY, our Class Treasurer. Both have been enrolled in the Holy Cross Mission Purgatorial Society. John Ryan has asked me to fill out Vince's unexpired term.

No doubt you have now received the fly-leaf on the 1961 reunion classes and our Class roster which was sent out by the Alumni Office in August. We noted some omissions and errors in the roster. We will send you the corrections in one of our mailings.

From the Alumni Office:

ADAM WALSH has joined Geiger Bros., advertising specialties manufacturer of Lewiston, Me., representing the company in his own Brunswick area.

ARMANDO PORTA has added to his laurels as a member of the J.O.D. Advisory Council for Science and Engineering.

At the Class of '15 reunion (1. to r.), President Bob Roach, Henry Snyder, Ed Riley and Harold Mungcr were joined by perennial reunionist Bill Grady, '17.

REUNION RIME

Twenty years, three cheers for those gay old Saturdays.

We haven't laid eyes on for 35 years! May we meet every one ere the set of the sun on June 9-10-11 in Sweet Sixty-One.

We hope that by the time this issue of the ALUMNUS reaches you, we will have formulated some plans for our 35th reunion which will be held on June 9, 10, 11, 1961. JOHN RYAN, our Class President, is now setting up some committee to handle the details. We would like to have your opinions as to your likes and dislikes so keep those letters coming in our previous reunions and suggestions for new things to try.

HAROLD KLEIN was promoted to senior vice-president and the firm now has a v.p. since 1943. He's also a vice-president and director of Northwest Equity Corp., state chairman of the legislative council, American Bankers Assn., and a former Chairman of Commerce president.

Notre Dame Alumnus, November, 1960 21
EXCEPT FOR THE POLITICAL CONVENTIONS, THE FERMENT IN CUBA, THE CONGO AND THE POWERS Spy trial, this has been a quiet summer. One week was spent in the Holy Land, another week in London, and the rest of the time was spent at home, in television, the Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, PAUL BUTLER, who retired after the convention, was a close friend of the class and regretted reading of the death of Father PATRICK HAGGERTY, C.S.C., his death being more important than the one preceding it, so you had better begin to lay your plans. Bill is in the furniture business in Buffalo. He certainly did serve as a link to the armed forces in Germany and a daughter of his family, somewhat like a news bulletin. These letters are remarkable for their detail. He no longer joins the hotel at any particular city, but recommends a particular hotel from which to get the best view.

I ran into TOM DUNN the other day. He is now joining the roster of classmates to have a son at Notre Dame. Arthur will enter in September of this year.

When my own son returned from his freshman year in June, he brought a 1960 Dome with him. It has now taken its place with the Domes which were published when we were at school. The last one I have is 1957. There now seem to be a strange gap between that year and 1960. Whatever happened to the Domes of 1953, 1947 and 1957, and all the others? Somehow the current Dome seems to fit naturally next to those of more ancient date. When I compare the Annals of the two periods, the truth is again borne out, that the characteristics of a school, or I suppose of the world, do not change, the faces only are different.

Our ranks have been thinned again since the last issue of the Alumnus. I received word recently of the deaths of SAM KEHOE, BSEE, and GEORGE SMITH, B.S. Please remember them in your prayers.

News of the 1960 Class Reunion naturally directs our thoughts to our classmates who will come, as not in 1961, but the year after that. It is not too early to think about attending this one, which will be our 25th. Perhaps I do not need to say that as the years go by, each Reunion bears of this year.

VINCE WALSH telephoned the sad news of the death of the wife of BILL KIRKAW following a long illness. He and his children were at home when the news came. Bill's son was a friend of the class and always looked forward to joining us at our reunion. Please remember these relatives and friends of classmates.

FATHER JIM McSHANE, S.J., is now located in the Republic of Honduras where he is one of fifteen Jesuit missionaries. There are 400 children in the school, and about 40 in the prep seminary where he is located. Jim reports it is hot and dry, never below fifty in the evening, much like our own seminary.

If you have seen any of your classmates this summer, please let me know. Your Class Secretary has seen a number of '28 men recently in New York. He has a good get-together at JOHN ANTUS' home in Manhattan, and another at the Universal Notre Dame Night in Birmingham, Alabama. He is working in the legal department of Tennesseeker and Company this summer just before George left for a vacation in Europe. I got together with DENNY UVNUS in New York, this summer, which included BOB HAMILTON, BERNIE GARBER and BUD TOPPING, BOB HAMILTON, who is System Stores Manager of Pan American World Airways System, now a grandfather, has one daughter a nun and one daughter at home. BUD TOPPING, who is with Johns-Manville, has three sons. Bud's oldest son will be doing graduate work at Columbia University this year and another son is at Notre Dame. BERNIE GARBER, who is with Lyman, Anderson and Ingersoll, has three sons. His oldest son will be entering Notre Dame this year. JOHN ANTUS practices law in New York City. He has three sons and is also entering Notre Dame this year. BUD TOPPING mentioned that he talked recently to DICK GREEN who is with Counsellor in London.

BILL CROWN came in from Larchmont to have lunch this summer with BERNIE GARBER and your Class Secretary. Bill is now a junior at Notre Dame this year. He has a married daughter and has two daughters at home. Bernin and I also had lunch with GEORGE GRONGEY at the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company this summer just before George left for a vacation in Europe. I got together with DENNY DALY and his wife and two sons when they visited New York this summer. Deny, who practices law in St. Paul, Minnesota, and teaches law at Minnesota University, attended a course here in tax law, which is his specialty.

A very pleasant evening was spent at BERNIE GARBER'S home in Bedford Hills, New York. LARRY CULLINEY and his wife from North Haven, Connecticut, joined us there. Larry has five children. His oldest son is estearing Yale this year in a pre-medical course. Larry is an examiner in New England for Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., specializing in trust department examinations. Larry would like very much to know the whereabouts of SNUBBER (JOHN) MURPHY who was from Lowell, Mass. Please drop me a note if any of you have seen him.

FATHER MARK FITZGERALD, C.S.C., visited us after he had taught at Notre Dame for the summer and had served as chaplain on a Great Lakes cruise for a few weeks. I saw BILL JONES and BILL COYNE in Washington this summer. BILL JONES is busy practicing law there and BILL COYNE is in the legal department of the Housing and Home Finance Agency. BILL JONES was the new captain of the N.D. track team. He is a fine athlete and always looked forward to joining us at our reunion. Please remember these relatives and friends of classmates.
has a daughter at Newton College and BILL CONVEY's son is in medical school at Maryland University.

JOE KANE is now with Bellevue Hospital in New York City. GEORGE COURY called me on his way to Canada. He enjoyed having JOHN FREDERICK and JIM CONVEY visit him in Miami. I had a good session with AL KOBORSKI in the legal department of the City of New York.

Our Class President, JIM ALLAN, reported that the Northwestern game and Homecoming in June for his son's graduation he met the following '29 men with sons in the graduating classes: BERT WILSON, DON HILGER, DICK PHelan, ED MCKEOWN, DON CORBETT and CHARLIE CASH. DON CORBETT's son was President of the senior class. JIM ALLAN also reported that HOWIE PHILIN was among those who attended the luncheon for President Eisenhower before the Johnson-Johnson debate.

We are all looking forward to a great get-together at the '29 Class cocktail parties on October 21st at O'Shaughnessy Hall, and on October 22nd following the Northwestern game at the home of our Class President, JIM ALLAN, 142 Fargo Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. If you have not already done so, please drop JIM ALLAN or VINCENT CARNY a line to discuss the arrangements that you will attend either of both of these '29 affairs. I hope to see you all at both get-togethers.

From the Alumni Office:

Secretary LOU BUCKLEY, as a leading economic scholar and East Coast boss of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, was the key speaker at the 43rd annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce in October. JIM SHOCKLEY was also reported that HOWIE PHALIN was among those who attended the luncheon for President Eisenhower before the Johnson-Johnson debate.

JACK MCLAIREN is another active '29er in San Diego. He represents the LeTourneau Westinghouse house. The Mclaillens have two grandchildren, Julie and Charley, children of daughter Kay (North). Their son, Thomas, is 20, and daughter Melissa and Martha are 8 and 6 respectively. Jack is recovering from an acute siege of pneumonia. He recalls a pleasant visit with Father O'Hara and others on the campus back in '33 while visiting at Notre Dame on his honeymoon. He had maintained a correspondence with the Cardinal.

Plants for a get-together of '29ers and their friends are being formalized at this writing. A site convenient to the stadium after the Michigan State game is being considered. We shall probably have gathered in the Science Bldg. MICHAEL J. O'REILLY is listed in Westwood Supper Club, State Road 2, Mt. Mary's, Ohio. We couldn't imagine one with more promise to a homely classmate.

JOSEPH D'ILITINO's new Chicago address is 601 West Diversey Parkway, while DON PERRY has taken a position at Northwestern. DON LAUREN'S new residence is 2319 Cherry Wood Lane, Orlando, Florida. Our Class President, JIM ALLAN, reported that the Johnson-Johnson debate.

From the Alumni Office:

JOSEPH P. CONNOR recently became assistant vice-president of New York's Fromm & Schel, Inc., the largest wine distributors for the Christian Brothers.

REUNION RIME

What '31 seers can predict without fears
There'll be chances to gather for 30 more years
If you haven't begun to make plans, get it done
For June 9-10-11 in Sweet Sixty-One!

As I sit myself down to type a few notes to the men of 1931 it dawns on me that this time next year we will have had our THIRTY YEAR REUNION behind us. Little did we think that the beautiful campus we knew in 1927 would be the magnificence one it is today. For those of you who have not returned to a reunion or to other campus events, next June will be an excellent opportunity and perhaps the last time many of us can get together for a while. Dad, you've got me worried. I've got to pack up and go. I'll be back when I can. What '31 seers can predict without fears there'll be chances to gather for 30 more years.

which is not far from his old home town of Waukegan. JACK SCHMITT has forsaken city life and is now living in Park Ridge, Illinois. GEORGE MANGAN, formerly of Elgin, Illinois, is now living in Birmingham, Alabama. MIKE TREDER, the Indiana flash, has been in Pittsburgh for some time. Mike, I wish you would work on the nucleus of 1931 men in that area and bring them all back next June. CLIFF FISHER, who has been in Kansas City, Mo., for the past few years is now in the Chicago area and living in Morton Grove, Ill. I had a letter from FREDDIE SWITZ, who is now living at 4609 Toddrington Drive, Nashville, Tenn. Fred has had a siege of illness the past year or so but is now on his feet and doing well again. Fred is in the accounting business and has two children to keep him on his toes. He plans on making the reunion in 1961. I had a wonderful letter from Marie and Jim McQUAID dated June 5th which was their 23rd wedding anniversary. Their Magazine Rock location was torn down because of new highways so they are operating the Old Post Bookstore in the Student Union Building at Vincennes University. Marie is taking a refresher course to go back to teaching and Jim hopes that with his teaching experience he can serve in guidance and limited counseling capacities both are planning on making the 1961 REUNION. They mention receiving subscriptions from ART McMANSON and LEO KLEIN. Jim has some problem with his eyes due to his service in Rome. Another of their faithful visitors is JACK ELDR, who always stops on his way through Vincennes. Another Reunion supporter is JIM MULVANEY, who said he heard from JOHN BURNS which indicated that he and TED TOOMEY would lead the New York contingent to the campus next June.

By now you should have received your pre-reunion information from the Alumni Office. They will get together with a group in Chicago to select various regional committee members who will be asked to help in making this one of our best reunions. I am sure there is enough life in all of you to make this a memorable event.

From the Alumni Office: JIM DOYLE was robbed of the announcements by an early deadline, but the reunion-bound should start to celebrate some new distinctions for the Class of 31. The consecration of His Excellency the Most Reverend ALFRED F. MENEZ, C.S.C., as Notre Dame's newest bishop, first shepherd of the new Puerto Rican Diocese of Arecibo took place Oct. 28 with Cardinal Spellman officiating and a host of American hierarchy in attendance on the campus. Sympathy to FRANK LEAHY on his recent illness; his appearance at the champion '30-'31 football squad reunion, evoking the departed Rockne glory, was a memorable event.

there has been no playback to me from that issue. A number of us, however, have started to work on and talk about the most important reunion of our lives next June. Early in July, JIM SHERRY, ART CROVIN, HAL STINE and I spent a wonderful evening at GEORGE WOLF's home discussing the 'Old Days' and trying to scheme up ways and means to influence all of you to attend our 25th next year. President Sherry is appointing a local committee in the South Bend area and also will ask some classmates to stir up interest in their regions. As soon as these are all lined up, we'll get out a special mailing to acquaint you with the plans. Already you have received from the Alumni Office the "kick off" announcement and a class roster. Get busy now to make sure your roundmates, neighbors, friends and possibly foes from our class are gathered at Notre Dame June 9, 10 and 11.

Continuing our reports on the survey we ran last fall, here are some additional new news items from far and wide. BILL FLANNERY is an attorney with DeWitt, Nast & Diskin in New York. Bill is in the father of three children and suffered the great tragedy of the death of his wife in 1956. Bill's law specialty is in libel, copyright and trademarks, and he serves as a consultant to magazine publishers and newspapers. He expects to attend our 25th. JOE FOX is in Rochester, New York, where he is a financial administrator for the Ritter Company, manufacturers of dental and medical equipment. Joe has two children and expects to play a lot of golf during our next reunion.

BOB MCGAEE is chairman of the English Department of King's College in Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania, which is a school operated by the Holy Cross Fathers. Bob is the father of twin sons and states that he was one of the pioneer faculty members of this relatively new college. In commenting on our request for suggestions for improving class spirit, Bob writes as follows: "Hard to say—we are depression buy-war buy—but maybe the reunion will be the spark needed—distance and time were the old ties—but it is still Notre Dame for me."

PETE NEMETH is a lawyer in South Bend where his son is at Notre Dame, one daughter at St. Mary's Academy and two daughters at home. Pete has been kind enough to offer his assistance in any way that would be helpful in connection with the local arrangements and plans for the 25th reunion. FRED McNeely is an architect and vice president of the Cardiiff Company in St. Louis, Missouri. Fred has two daughters. He said he spent about three weeks in Mexico last summer where he saw quite a lot of ENRIQUE GREE which he is practicing architecture in Mexico City.

PAT MALLOY is in the general practice of law specializing in real work work in Toledo, Ohio. Pat has three sons and a daughter. He suggests that we mail a questionnaire like the previous one once a year and also suggests that we put some additional questions with it. Thanks for the ideas, PAT. DICK SNOOKS is president of the Citizens Loan & Sav.
After many happy years in Jersey, then Western Springs, Ill., he now resides in New Canaan, Fairfield County (this means something), Conn., and fights the woes of the New Haven RR each day. Jack finally had to give up on his baseball career, but manages his tennis game. He has crossed paths with three 1937ers, FRAY B. FLYNN, Jr., partner of Tonka Toys (Christmas is coming), and GEORGE CECALA, a transplant from Salt Lake City to Greenwich, Conn. CECALa writes (commercial and documentary scripts for industrial films).

FRANK REILLY was touring thru N.J. this summer and called the secretary. He hadn't run across any of the fellows lately. Believe Frank was showing his family the places where he used to camp in Sussex County and also our famous Ginger Bread Castle. (Ginger Bread existed long before Disney and Freedomland).

The ad director, FOUNDATION, JOHN "ZEKE" CACKLEY has been in contact with some of the lads and forwards the news that Drum Major LOU ALLEN has moved in at the offi- ce and will say hello. Letters to his office from FATHER JOE ENGLISH, SJ, that he expects to get back to the camp here in Sussex County and also our famed Ginger Bread Castle. (Ginger Bread existed long before Disney and Freedomland).

Leisure time during the summer vacation didn't move too many men of '37 to write to the secretary.

We finally smoked out some news from VINCE MCCOLLA, Director of Training, Department of Revenue, Harrisburg, Pa. Vince has been very active having just completed a postgraduate work at Scranton U. while teaching and coaching there, and also at Bucknell U., military service in the Air Force Reserve, and the rank of captain. He also served with the Air Force Command during the Korean Campaign. His family has moved to fast-growing Scranton where he now resides in Camp Hill, Pa. He is also a veteran speaker of the banquet circuit and has one of the most influential and interesting groups of clubs who are on the entertainment committee of your clubs. Vince has been coast to coast and abroad to become resident airport consultant at Chicago's Navy Base, and also offi- cer-in-charge of the Naval Reserve Office. Jerrj- has one son attending Augusta Mili- tary Academy in Virginia and wants to follow a career in the Navy. He has been active in the Naval Reserve. He finally heard from MATT THERXES is head football coach and professor at Kalamazoo College, the third generation of Schwartzes' at Detroit, and can speak on all subjects save parlor games in the fall. Fr. Joe is an excellent corre- spondent, Cackley also reports on JACK PUT- Nam, Lt. Col. Reserve, who is in England with all the little redheads, and they agree along with a lot of us, that WIL KIRK is now a fully trans- planted new N.J. native. Jack has been trans- vinced after talking to WIL in Dallas one day. Al is a real pro of his No. 1 son who entered N.D. the last few days and is representing the third generation of Schwartzes at N.D. Probably brought his lovely wife, a spacious new home, a well-mannered Rubbers company, and down the east coast for a large travel agency.

F. SULLIVAN, of course, had to report the summer months Ed kept busy running tours up to East Paterson, N.J., a very active member of the Board of Directors of the Bank of New Jersey, College of New York; and during the daylight hours he manages to keep a living with U.S. Rubber Co. again owning a long lost name company, Building 40, Cardinal O'Hara and made the trip to Rome with his Excellency. Ed and his family planned to attend the sessions in Kansas City to watch his Excellency. Ed and his family planned to attend the sessions in Kansas City to watch the Cardinal O'Hara in their prayers. During the summer months Ed kept busy running tours up and down the east coast for a large travel agency in N.Y.C.

Finally, my friends, we have a job to do for the 50th Reunion in 1982. We must now be on the watch for classmates and alumnae to cooperate by sending back the information. One other thing, don't give me the line of "as I sit down, I can't think of anything to write to you" stuff; I am running out of aspirin.

From the Alumni Office:

ROBERT L. WALDECK, general manager of Overseas Operations, Ltd., Los Angeles, Calif., is one of the outstanding alumni授信ing the Washington, D.C., to East Africa on a six-week tour of cities in Kenya, Uganda and Tanganyika from October through December.

You might remember the 1937 ALUMNUS story on WILLIAM J. O'SULLIVAN, JR., head of the space-flight group of the National Advisory Com- mittee for Aeronautics at Langley Laboratory, Hampton, Va. Bill designed the highly successful Edelweiss rocket. He now hopes to make possible the transmission of electromagnetic signals around the globe.

August with his son, who was especially interested in Rocke Memorial since he is on his high school swimming team. Charlie, a chemist, was given the VIP treatment by CHARLIE GALLAHAN at the alumni locker room. Charlie and his wife and son from a trip to Boston to visit his folks.

Speaking of politics, the voice of BILL T. GROGAN, outgoing president, is to be heard loudly and clear at the Democratic National Convention when he voted Arizona's delegation for Kennedy. Bill, a member of the Class of 1960, headed the Arizona Kennedy-for-President organization.

Speaking of Presidents, the class of thirty-eight has a few. TONI FITZGERALD is now President and General Manager of the Mallory Capacitor Company of Indianapolis where he lives with his wife and two boys age 7 and 8. Tom attended Yale University, received his B.S. in chemical engineering with a minor in art, and is the son of the late George and Lillian Mallory. He holds the town of San Jose and San José Parish, Austin, Texas, which means that during last summer's hot spell he probably couldn't tell the difference.

Maybe if I am real patient and live long enough I may hear from one or two, but as you can well appreciate if you don't send in the questionnaire (of which there were three) I can't make up the news. Please try to sit down today and drop me a card or a note so that your name will appear in the next issue of the ALUMNIUS.

WALTER J. SHORT is the Vice-President and Secretary of the Medical Society of Washington, D.C. Walt lives there with his wife Martha, and sons Charles W., 16; Robert A.; and a daughter, Debra Ann, 14; all of whom he adores. Walt is a director of PAUL TULLY, PHIL MALONEY, VAL DEALE, PAT GORMAN and WALT JOHNSON. Walt would like to hear from PAUL RICE, BILL BLAIR, TONI GROGAN and BILL JOHNSON and others. Walt would also like to hear from VINCE KIERMAN, JOHN CLEMENS, JOHN DAVIS, JOHN DOYLE, BILL LONG, JOHN PLANNAL and TOM SENGON. But has three sisters who are graduates of Michigan State University and takes quite a trumping when N.D. is bested at football. Our best wishes to J. C. (George) Miller, Jr. who says "We'll have a Notre Dame Club at Caracas this year as he is to be the only member." Jim is employed as Grand Advertising, S.A., as an Advertising Executive. He must have many interesting experiences to relate.

My congratulations to FRANCIS "BUD" VALLEZ for sending in his questionnaire. Bud is sales manager for the Multi-Coral Corporation in Detroit. He and his wife Virgil have adopted a girl, Jeanie Marie, who was three years old August 1. Bud is an ardent Civil War student, and would appreciate hearing from anyone who is interested in the same. The twelfth reunion of the class of 1940 was a great success. If you were unable to attend, your classmates missed you and hope that the time schedule will work out for everyone in 1963. We had about 125 men on hand and an excellent job of preparation by MRS. MARGARET O'ROURKE and her So. Bend Committee of DICK BURKE, JIM DELAHANTY, DON ROSINSKI and DICK STEFFANIAK, added much to the University program. We had the Rockne Memorial for our Friday night buffet and Saturday cocktail hour. A memorial Mass was celebrated Saturday morning by our own FATHER PAUL HACKMAN and was attended well enough to completely fill Morrey Hall with old Notre Dame men.

Above are represented two phases left behind in the career of John Gelston Smith, ’49. Following 17 combat missions in Europe as a W.W. II pilot (inset), John was an honor student in Commerce and Law, a record-breaking hurdler, track captain and assistant coach. He joined the Chicago law firm of Lord, Rissel & Brook in 1950 and became a partner in 1958, having served as assistant Illinois attorney general in Springfield 1954-57. John, wife Jo Ann and family live in suburban Lake Bluff, II.

was at the reunion on Saturday as his wife was expecting momentarily. This about recap the 20th from memory. Please bear with the column if your name wasn't mentioned; it's difficult to get 125 names in one issue.

New twists to old get-togethers: BANGERT buzzed in the newest Marine jet equipment; MEKKER and MIZE MORRIS flew their own private planes in from Missouri and California and wanted at a motley occasion on the showroom floor. A long talk with PAUL HELLMUTH who, in his usual way, held forth and brought back to Chicago with me after the reunion. He missed seeing his old hurdlng crony, DAVE REY. Dave is located in a new home in Massachusetts.

The only classmate I have seen so far is TOM CALLAN, who has been in New Orleans, Louisiana, and has returned from his year's absence. I heard that his oil business was not at the reunion. Hate to close a reunion in this fashion, but I must. At the same time, I have been unable to contact such old friends as SOUPE, SAUNDERS, and WARREN who have been on business.

From JOHN J. GAVIN, 512 Amberst, Wichita Falls, Texas, we hear the following: "It was a pleasure to hear from you and to know that you are still the long-suffering secretary of our illustrious group. It was also a pleasure to be reminded that almost all of our friends from Notre Dame have not been seen for eighteen years. I moved to Wichita Falls in 1949 in order to be associated in the ready-mix concrete business with my Freshman Hall roommate, TOM FOLEY. In the intervening years, Tom has become the leading citizen of this city of over 100,000 souls. We had a wonderful time building up a good business and raising our families. On March 31st of this year we sold out to a group from Dallas and I purchased a general insurance agency in order to be in business with my younger brother, Bob, who had been moved here from Indianapolis. We have high hopes for the future and we are enjoying our new association immensely. This is a wonderful place in which to live—the people are truly some of the finest that can be found. One of our few complaints is the scarcity of N.D. men. Besides Tom and me, the only ones I can think of here are JOE SATTIA, who has just announced the formation of a company to manufacture sporting goods, particularly the new football shoe that Joe has developed; LOUIS BROWN, who is superintendent of the large American Petroleum refinery. If there are others they are keeping quiet about it. As for family, the Gavins now have five children ranging in age from Street to six. The Foleys also have five, ranging from thirteen to six.

"It is either a sign of advancing age or a truly sedentary existence that I seem to have covered any item that may be of interest to our friends of '42. We would enjoy hearing from some of them, to let us know that we are still remembered."

From the Alumni Office:

L. J. MASTERSON has transferred to U.S. Gypsum Chicago sales from a position with U.S.G.'s Latrobe division.

DR. JOHN R. FELDMEMER, who took his Ph.D. with the Class, is now associate director of research at Plough, Inc. He is also anything but a sedentarypps. Formerly with Westinghouse, St. Thomas College, Rutgers and M.I.T., he lives in Blue Bell, Pa., with Mrs. F. and five children.

As the deadline date of August 25th rolls around, and this column is written, Class President JOHN LYNCH reports the 15-year survey is on the press and should be ready for distribution to each class member early this fall. We had the privilege of examining the final proofs and John has done a magnificent job, correlating the many statistical facts and data that appeared in the responses to the questionnaire. Nearly 50% of our class membership participated, and the results, therefore, represent a fairly accurate sampling of the class. I feel certain our survey will be of interest to several others done by earlier N.D. classes and will serve as a valuable guide for some of the later classes. The results, which in many departments proved quite startling, I shall leave for your study and evaluation when the survey reaches you. On behalf of the class, a large vote of thanks to Lynch for a tremendous job!

Faithful correspondent and midwest vice-presy JOHN ("BLACK JOHN") MURPHY, reports from Terre Haute a recent visit from RED JOHN MURPHY and spouse, Stel. Happy to learn that Red John is looking so well and at "fighting weight." The JIM KANES were also to have attended a recent function at the Notre Dame Club of Terre Haute, and that ERNIE "BRACH" SEDLMYER, Danville, Illinois, was expecting his 4th heir.

Via Murphy we also have news of TOM O'REILLY and the crowd in Fort Wayne. Butch Dehner, Dick Dornier, Roy Grimner, Artie Hoffman, Jim Keeper, Donnelly McManus, Jack Waters, and Al Young are all well and prosperous. O'Reilly recently opened a new office supply store in Fort Wayne that is the last word. He and his wife visit with Omer Sturn and family a couple of times a year. Omer is general manager of the Jasper (Ind.) Table Company. Another office supply man Tom hears from is JOHN PRINCE in Jackson, Michigan. Last year while in Florida the O'Reillys visited Mike Zorovich and enjoyed a ride in Mike's new 250 Piper Comanche, making an aerial inspection of Mike's cement company operations along the Great Coasts. Also on the Florida trip he reports seeing BEN BRUNETTI, who is still single, living in Fort Lauderdale and working in Miami. O'Reilly thinks that some of the Commerce Forum boys will remember GAIL FITCH, '43. Gail is now living in Fort Wayne and a kingpin with the large Sears store in town.

"Black John" asks we report that the 8 mm. color movies he took of our 15th reunion (on a color movie camera) are all processed and under 200-ft. reel are available for local showings. Any one interested, write John Murphy at 2600 Crawford, Fort Worth, Texas.

1949 — This year's Testimonial Dinner for retiring officers and board members at the Chicago Athletic association honored President Philip J. Facenda, '51; Honorary President Raymond P. Drysdale, '29; Governors William S. Arten, '21; George L. Connelly, '48; Edwin A. Gauselle, '33; Robert J. Geiman, '56; Daniel Hanson, '49; John F. Morley, '33; Frank J. Munnane, '49; and Robert K. Wilmouth, '50.

VERE TRINKLEY, who recently lost his father; ED CASHMAN, who has been extremely busy in recent months; and HARRY YEATES, whose mother died this past summer.

YOURS TRULY reports a recent visit to the New York Office of Reuben H. Donnelly Corporation where he is busy editing trade papers for the magazine publishing division of the Company.

We just learned that JOHN TUCKEY was promoted to Assistant Professor in the English Department of Purdue University. John received his M.A. and Ph.D. in English at N.D. between '47 and '54. Summer before last he and the family were out in Berkeley, California, where John was doing research in Mark Twain papers.

JOHN LYNCH passed along news that JOE "ALGERNON" FLynn, who starred in the Cashman-Lynch-Weedle campus production of "Let's Get Going" (the original musical comedy produced four years ago) was appearing on the George Gobel show. We happened to catch Joe on the L.A. end of the recent TV Emmy Awards production. Joe is moving along fast as a bright, new comedian, and we understand he will be appearing in a regular weekly situation-comedy TV series this fall.

BILL WALDRON, our eastern vice-presy, advised that ANGELO BERTELLI and FRANK TRIPUCKA are now in partnership operating a package store in Bloomfield, N.J. Bill, with his lovely wife, Anna, and family, are spending the summer at the Jersey shore and had a recent visit with FRANK GARALDI, who is also in our local area for the summer months. MYLE KELLY and Bill cross business deals occasionally. Kelly is selling roofing material to roofing contractors and Bill & co. build buildings under the roofs. Also, a report on the CASEY brothers. Dan is now at 26 N. Summit Avenue, Chatham, N.J., and brother Bob is living in Lyndhurst, N.J. And a final note from Waldron informs us JACOB WHITELY is Exec. V.P. for W. R. Grace & Co., concerned primarily with international operations. We understand Jack and his wife are enjoying the summer in Bermuda.

From Columbus, Ohio, we hear that GUIDO ALCOLEA, who has family who operate in recent months, and HARRY YEATES, whose mother died this past summer.

COLUMBUS — Notre Dame Night principals included (l. to r.) President J. R. (Bob) Echenrode, ’48; guest speaker Father Stanley Parry, C.S.C.; John Igoe, ’28, master of ceremonies; Louis C. (Bud) Murphy, ’33, N.D. Man of the Year; and Dr. Joe Hughes, ’31, outgoing president.

NOTRE DAME, OHIO—This past season was a historic one for the University of Notre Dame. The Fighting Irish, led by head coach Howard Keenan, captured the national championship in football. This was the first time in 25 years that Notre Dame had won a national title, and the victory was achieved in dramatic fashion. The team, which had gone 10-0-1 in the regular season, faced the University of Oklahoma in the Sugar Bowl. The game was a close one, with Notre Dame winning 38-35 in overtime. It was a momentous victory for the Fighting Irish, and one that will be remembered for years to come.

NEWS BITES

BOB CROHN sent his regrets that he couldn’t make the reunion, he was awaiting the arrival of their fourth child, Nancy Suzanne, July 6th, their first girl—congratulations. . . . A few of the ’45ers participated in the golf outing of the N.D. Club of Chicago: FRANK CULHANE, MARK CROHN, JOHN LAVERNE and JOHN CARON. From the reports the talking was better than the playing—none taking home a prize. . . . DR. BILL MURRAY returned his native Troy, New York, to open his practice. He graduated from Albany Medical College, Interned at Grace Hospital, Detroit, Michigan, served three years as Captain in the Air Force, and completed surgical residencies at Kings County Hospital Center, Brooklyn, N.Y., and a Medical Center for Geriatrics and Allied Diseases, New York City. Best of luck, Bill. . . . HARRY WALTERS and his wife, Ann, spent an enjoyable weekend with us in the Berkshires. While staying at Great Barrington, Mass., he ran into Bill "Judge" Granfield, ’46, and re-lived days at Sorin Hall, Bill, by the way, has a race horse and is training it for the Boston tracks.

Thought you would be interested in knowing more about our new officers. Our new president, JIM BETTER, is District Sales Manager for Union Carbide Chemical Company at Boston, Mass. Prior to his Boston assignment he was at Albany, New York, Detroit, Cleveland and New York City, all with Union Carbide. While in Cleveland, he did graduate work at John Carroll U. Recently, he served as Chairman for the Chemical Progress Week, in Boston. Jim is an active member of American Chemical Society, Society of Plastic Engineers, American Association of Textile Chemists and Colorists, and other professional societies in the Boston area. Also finds time to serve as Secretary of St. Bartholomew Holy Name Society. Married Florence McCarthy of New York City and they have five children, three boys and two girls.

"TEXAS JOE" HAGGAR, our Vice-President—South, is Secretary-Treasurer of the Haggard Company of Dallas. Joe is a very active alumus and businessman, past president of the N.D. Club of Dallas, trustee of Dallas N.D. Scholarship Fund, member of the Board of Directors of Texas Bank and Trust, past chairman of the Advisory Committee of St. Paul’s School of Nursing. Recipient of "Manufacturer of Year" award in 1955 in Dallas. Joe is also active in Community Chest and other charitable drives in Dallas. He is active in Cub Scout leadership work. Joe has three children.

JOHN CARON, Vice-President—Midwest, spent a year in the Navy after graduation at Bowdoin College, pre-Radar School, Washington, D.C. Gun­ nery School, CI, 104 USS Atlanta. Since his discharge he has been with Carr Spinning Company, Rochelle, Illinois, serving as President of the firm since 1956. They manufacture yarns of wool or synthetics. John also has three children.

REUNION RIME

So your rent's in arrears and the wife is in tears;
You've awaited reunions the past 15 years.
Let the landlord dun; tell the wife, "Spare me, hon,
June 9-10-11 in Sweet Sixty-One!"

KEEP 'EM COMING

The questionnaires we sent out in the summer have been cascading back at a surprisingly good rate: as of deadline date, Sept. 1, we had about 100 already.

Concursus about the questions asked will be the subject for a later newsletter, but it can be reported that 40 of our classmates have indicated they'd dearly love to see the 1962 reunion and 39 others have said "maybe." So, even this early, the 13-year-get-together shape up as our best yet and you are implored to begin right now arranging your June, 1962 schedule so you'll be on campus for a wonderful time.

Notre Dame Alumnus, November, 1960 29

-GLEANINGS-

Sifting through the questionnaires, some of which were signed and a few of which bore additional memoranda, we learned that MIKE YARBENET is a CPA in Erie, Pa.; that FATHER DAVID SCHEIDER is teaching at Notre Dame High School in Batavia, N.Y.; that DON HAINES is a Lieutenant-Commander aboard the USS Reno, and that THURMAN L. COSS is Chairman of the Department of Philosophy and Religion at Hamline University in St. Paul, Minn., and is the father of two sons.

From JACK GALLOWAY in Albany, N.Y.: "I should have written many moons ago, but guess I needed this as a reminder. We were visiting FRANK KOWALSKI, '46, in Connecticut a short time ago; he has a little girl. We have four—three boys, one female."

"I held P.E. occasionally; he's now a local stock broker and formerly an assistant war den at Sing-Sing. I read where WALT KEN NEY has written a book, 'Walt: The Law,"' but I've been around the circuit a few times since leaving the publicity office.

"I met PATRICK and EUGENE LUTZ were in Albany for a wedding not too long ago. They didn't graduate until '48 or '49 but used to hang around WMRN and made it. I have tickets for the N.D.-Navy game and plan to attend with the Kowalskis. BENNIE DUCLOS married my younger brother while I was in the service.

"Have you heard from MOOSE MATTHEWS or BOB MULCAHY?" (Note: Indeed I have, along with a few more paragraphs later.) Thanks for the nearby missive, Jack.

PHIL DELINCE writes: "Sorry I have been so neglectful of my correspondence, but you might say I'm working days, nights, and weekends, too. My days are devoted to improving waste water and air pollution control facilities for a well known Refining Co. My nights are devoted to improving my technical background for increased value to Atlantic Richfield Company. My weekends are devoted to improving the financial picture through magazine sales.

"Truly I would like nothing better than to attend our 15-year reunion but can't. Perhaps we can swing it a few years later. . . . I often daydream myself back to those happy days under a scene that shaped us to be the men we are today.

"Let you know how we make out."

FINNEY is with the State Mental Health Dept. of Wisconsin. DON PHELPS moved to the District of Columbia; he's now an analyst with the Department of the Interior. Also recently in Rome (see Rocc Club report and minutes of the Italian Club) was the 100 friends for 100 contributions of $100 apiece to the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception, sponsored by the Knights of Columbus. Three N.D. grads received the habit as Holy Cross novices in August ceremonies at Sacred Heart Monastery, Jordan, Minn. They are (l. to r.): Willoughby Marshall, '47, Apalachicola, Fla.; Robert Schoene man, '59, Hawarden, Ia.; and Jerry Florent, '60, Michigan City, Ind. After a year they will pronounce first vows and continue their studies at Moreau Seminary on the campus, as has Don McNell, '58 (not shown), Winnimac, Ind.

PERSONALS

JIM MURPHY, our academic sub-theme ex-traordinary, was named recently to the board of directors of the Indiana College Public Relations Association.

Always a good news source, Jim passes along word that:

ED SWEENEY is with an insurance underwrit ing firm in Seoul, N.Y., and that he and his wife Charlotte were expecting No. 6 offspring in September.

Barbara and JIM KELLY have returned from Denmark, where Jim has been in the American Embassy. . . .

DAVE KORTY, manager of a bank in Lafayette, Ill., was a visitor on the campus late last month.

Another banker, DON MCDONALD, and Murphy reminisced a bit in Fort Wayne during the summer. Don, executive vice president of Farmers National Bank, is also a state representative, head of the urban renewal program in Fort Wayne, and member of a recent hospital fund campaign which soared over the top.

A note from the Alumni Office reveals DR. JOE FINNEY is with the State Mental Health Dept. in Honolulu.

NEW ADDRESSES . . .

are obtainable but for the asking on Bob McEVEY's, DAVE SWANSON, FATHER JOHN PAT RICK DOLAN, C.S.C., FATHER WALTER O. BOZEK, RUSS STECICHULITE, PAT SMID, JOHN McCARTHY, BOB KOSLINSKI, KEVIN CAREY, GERRY BARTA, BOB WELCH, JIM MCGUCKIN, MARTIN KILDSNON, DICK DEEB, FATHER TOM GallON, C.S.C., RED ALLMAN, BOB KELLY, DR. ED POLITOSKE, BILL CLARK, PAUL DEHEMER, ALVIN FEUER, JOHN FORD, TED HAYLEY, HENRY SMITH, KEEL, VANCE LIERMAN, DON MANDICH, and BOB PALLADINO.

THIRTY-THREE YEARS . . .

... it has taken me to realize I am in the wrong profession! I should have been a dentist, it develops, since I needed this as a reminder. had high hopes for his South High Golden Knights after many changes in the training and strategy. Reunion chairman CARLOS CORONA was recently promoted from the Bendix Mithwakia Division to the Bendix Research Laboratories, another division of Bendix Corp. He'll move his family from Flat Rock and the kids to Detroit, where he'll be in charge of such personnel phases as training and recruitment.

DAVID J. SMITH has moved from San Diego, Calif., to Pauldorado, N.J., having become a systems analysis engineer for General Electric's missile and space division in Schenectady, N.Y. He has formed his own agency, Mark's Delicatessen, Inc., handling all types of life and casualty for the Andover Companies. He hopes to bring Marie and the kids to South Bend next year for the Syracuse game.

Basketballer PAUL C. GORDON, Jr., another former F.B.I. man, has been appointed director of employee relations for International Telephone & Telegraph's components division, having been chief relations manager at Federal Electric Corp. Paul will be responsible for personnel work at four IT & T plants from his Clifton, N.J., headquarters. The Gordons and their daughter live in Waldwick, N.J.

From the Alumni Office:

Bishop THEOTONIUS A. GANGLY, C.S.C., appointed by Pope John as auxiliary to Daece, East Pakistan, has recently returned to Indiana to continue his research at the University of Notre Dame. Father Mark is very active in the affairs of the Notre Dame Club of South Bend. He hopes to bring Marie and the kids to South Bend next year for the Syracuse game.

The Gordons' have a son.

includes four children at the most recent tabulation. MIKE GROZIER makes his home in Ame- lior, California, and currently is a Navy LT (MC) stationed at NAS Moffett Field. Mike married the former Betty Ann Curran and has a son Michael born June 1959. Reportedly, another Grozier is on the way. In Denver, TOM FLECK is senior flight test engineer at Con- vair, and is the father of four. ED GIALOMINI recently received his new degree from the University of California at Berkeley, is married, and has one child.

PAT GUNNING is a Lt. in the U.S. Navy, and as such was stationed at NAS Whiting Field, California, has been recently instructing formation at NAAS Whiting Field. In May of this year Pat was assigned to the staff of the newly formed Non-Pilot officer's school at NAS Pensacola. Pat has two girls, aged 3 and 1. GENE GRIESE resides in Orlando, Florida, and is a flight test engineer with the Martin Co. working on the Pershing missile. Gene has one child, and with his wife Alice operates a dancing school as his business.

CLARENCE FAVRET JR., is a New Orleans attorney, and has two children. BOB GIRARDET is a technology with the Shell Oil Co. in Metairie, Louisiana. Has anyone heard from JOE DAVID down there in Creole country?

JIM COLLINS is a mechanical engineer with Colgate-Palmolive Co., New York, is a three fourths complete in his studies toward an LL.B. at the U. of Louisville. Jim has two children. PAT CEDARALD is secretary of the Capital City Supply Co. in Indianapolis. D. richard Gill recently graduated from the Indiana Uni- versity of Medicine in Indianapolis. In the shadow of the Golden Dome, PAUL FARMER is an accountant with the Clark Equipment Company, but recently has been a Lt. in the V.A. Hospital. JIM GANNON is a radio-tennis announcer with WSBT in South Bend.

DOM GENTILE received his M.D. at George- town U. Medical School, and is now a resident in internal medicine at the VA Hospital. He now shares a household with a fellowship there. BART COLOMBO FERRARI has his hands full as a pro-life parent, and certainly must have the record family in our class. Bart has eight small Ferrari's, and is employed as an assistant engineer for a leader in the field of computer design (for the benefit of our Commerce majors, that means television design specialist) with General Electric.

GLENN FIALSKY resides in Chicago, Illinois, with his family of four, and manages the Herman Falter Meat Pack- ing Company. He is a member of the Polish Club of Columbus, and is a towel-roller with Columbus Coated Fabrics Corp. in Columbus. Joe has two children.

EARL FOSSELMAN is an attorney in Waterloo, Iowa, and from what he has told BARB for parenthood hopes with eight. Earl is also district deputy for the K. of C. Bill (STEDE) GILBERT is about to complete his B.S. in the P. D. George School in Florissant, Mo. Steve SEGERS is setting up a marketing operation, specializing in sales of paint and related products to railroads and mining companies. FRED GILCHRIST is director of the research for the Winns-Brandson Company, an advertising agency in University City, Missouri. Al is one of our rapidly diminishing group, the bachelors.

TOM FELDAUSCH handles merchandising for Family Circle. He owns a small chain of supermerkets in Alhion, Michigan. Tom has one offspring, JOHN FISH is a lawyer with the firm of Bellah & Fish in Detroit, Michigan, and is specializing in probate and negligence. On a most pleasant note, John has 4 in his growing family. In Detroit, JIM GILFORD is a partner in a private enterprise, and is the author of a book. Jim is enjoying getting the new business started almost as much as getting his family started, and it tooo that as though he's well on the way with both. Best of luck, Jim. A letter from JIM KLINK reveals that since his return from Camp Kilmer, N.J., in 1955 he has been a C.P.A. with the Mid-Hudson Valley N.D. Club. He's moved from Schenectady to Scotia, N.Y., and is practicing law in Paterson, N.J. E. J. (Jim) CLARK is still in advertising, and sales promotion with General Electric. Tho. Clark may have another plummate for Kathlen (3-11-56) as an engineer with GE.

THOMAS M. GALLAGHER has been appointed a regional manager in the Maytag company's Piperton, Tennessee, plant, and also with the Chemstrand Research Center, Inc. He was in Chapel Hill pulling in vain for an N.F.L. win in October.

Lastly, our long-time acquaintance EMIL BANAS, Standard Oil research chemist in Whiting, Indiana, has been made a trustee of his undergraduate school, Illinois' St. Procopius College.

news for next time. In other words, friends—SEND ME SOME MATERIAL!

The little news which I do have consists of some notes concerned with family-type news. Just after the submission of my last column (in May) I received news from GENE KERVIN to the effect that he will be married in October. The bride-to-be is Miss Frances Opp of Dallas. The wedding will be on October 28; in the meantime Gene is anticipating his release from the Army, at Fort Meade, Maryland. Congratulations, Gene.

Tom Eisenhauer is another prospective bridgegroom who recently reported in. His wedding will be on October 1, and the blushing bride will be Miss Nancy Clark of Dayton (Tom's hometown). As for Tom's employment situation, he is with the overhead Pool Company and is being trained for personnel management.

And for our next item here is some news from the nursery. Carol and Dave Holthouse have informed me of the birth of an addition to their family—namely Julia Catherine. The young lady weighed in at 7 pounds and 7 ounces and she brings the Holthouse population to a total of four.

Finally, here are some items which I received from JOE IVAN when I ran into him in South Bend last May. Joe was wed on August 20 to Miss Carol Cavanaugh. He is studying law at Detroit, having recently joined its Navy hit. Joe also reported that Ed Hourican had been playing some basketball in the Navy (parties are not available), and that Larry Pelton has been accepted in submarining school after being graduated from Wharton business school at the University of Pennsylvania.

Well, that's the ball game for this time. Let me again express my regrets for its brevity, but all I can say is "Look thee to it!" or in less poetic but more expressive terms "GET ON THE BALL-POINT AND WRITE!"

Notre Dame Alumni, November, 1960 35
Office of the President
The University of Notre Dame
Alumni Association

October 15, 1960

Fellow Alumni:

Since our last Alumni letter (January 31) there have been a number of developments worth reporting.

June was a particularly significant month. At the kind invitation of Father Hesburgh, I was privileged to represent all of the Notre Dame Alumni in the group that met President Eisenhower at a private luncheon on his visit to the campus in early June, when he received an honorary degree and addressed the graduates. Father Hesburgh's kind consideration on this occasion will long be remembered.

The following week end we attended the Reunion on the campus, made a report at the Alumni Banquet, at which well over 1,000 of us heard Father Hesburgh's remarkable address on Notre Dame today and the challenge to the University to become the leading center of influence and education in the world.

During the Reunion we were particularly impressed with the newly introduced Traditions Banquet held on Friday night in the Morris Inn for all Alumni whose reunion was the 35th or longer. This included the 1925 class of the Four Horsemen back to the class of 1900.

Concerning the Reunion, it would be most difficult for me to understand how any Alumnus could leave the campus, although fatigued, without feeling even a greater warmth for Notre Dame than when he left as a graduate.

Two committees of the Alumni Board have now completed the two slates for the four new members of the Board for 1961. This is a difficult task in selecting nominees by geographical location, and at the same time, by class grouping. Ballots should be in the mail shortly.

I know that all Notre Dame men share my sorrow at the death of His Eminence, our beloved John Cardinal O'Hara, whom many of us can best remember as the Prefect of Religion, when he edited the daily Religious Bulletin, and encouraged us in the reception of daily Communion. And again, of course, as one of Notre Dame's great presidents.

We have now all been informed as to Notre Dame's projected new thirteen-story library which Father Hesburgh terms "the University's most urgent and critical need." Father Hesburgh is relying upon the Alumni to contribute at least four million dollars in the next three years to help underwrite the project.

In the wake of the library announcement came the news of the Ford Foundation grant of $6,000,000 to Notre Dame during that same three-year period provided that the University receives $12,000,000 during that time from her Alumni and friends.

The Alumni Board members are particularly pleased at the University's decision to immediately apply a sizeable portion of the Ford grant toward a retirement plan for administration (non-academic) employees, which is a program that has long been among the University's high priority needs.

What may later be termed the Library Foundation Drive will begin in early 1961. Meetings are being held and plans are being made in all areas of the country for this most important Foundation Drive. Perhaps we should consider this challenge that the Ford Foundation has laid before us and agree that we should contribute to Notre Dame to the point of sacrifice.

Sincerely,

John O'Connor
President
