Domes to Seniors
From 9:00 to 10:30 A.M.
The Seniors will line before the Domes office in Wall Hall from 9:00 to 10:30 A.M. to receive their Domes. After that time the underclassmen will be seated in the line. Preference will be given in selection and distribution to those who have subscribed and paid either through their university accounts.

The Commencement Juggler Out Tuesday
The Commencement number of the Dome Juggler, which will be the last issue of the year, say the editor, Mr. George Bischoff, will be devoted exclusively to commencing. The juggler will contain contributions of all the student groups and clubs on campus. T. A. Daly is at his best a paper on June 6. The last issue of the Rev. Tom Burke gets some of his regular features and some unknown. From now on the weekly will be in the hands of students for production while Commencement editions.

REAL TALENT FOR RECLIT
Casasanta, Farey, Ryan Present Pleasing Program at Notre Dame

James Swift, Head-Janet
James Swift, president of the university, is the known and most popular man on the campus. He has been active in S. A. G. affairs this year. He has been a star basketball player, this year, and with others he mentioned about being the football leader for next year. His opponent, Mark Nolan, was secretary of the S. A. G. for this year, and he was a star basketball player and a member of the engineering school.

Plenty of Food, Fun and Dances for Students on Oriental Trip

"When the Dome men who have been in China for the last two months returned from China," say George B. Chio, Club Manager, "they were many things they should not have been."

The little Chinaman, short and talkative, felt that he should give the Dome men a good idea of the temperature in China before they entered the lands of civilization.

"Golden words in English may serve to explain the temperature," he said. "Shanghai is in the heart of southern China and the climate is very mild."

The Dome men were interested in the description of the climate, and the Chinese told them that the temperature in Shanghai is always high.

The Dome men were also interested in the description of the city and the Chinese told them that Shanghai is a very large city with many modern buildings.

The report took time to tell straight. George killed him in the ribs, smiled and spit more tongue twisters.

"The Olympic Theatre, a North Desbrossel Road," said the speaker.

Then there is the Catholic University, the biggest Catholic institution in China, established by the Jesuits in 1908. The Catholic Commercial is on Horan Road and the Catholic University is on Hong Road. There is the Village, a few miles from Shanghai, which is the headquarters of the Chinese, the museums of Moussin, the national Museum, the national Bank, the national Library, and St. John's and St. Mary's hospitals.

Chinese students at these colleges speak good English," he said, "and they are working hard to make the best possible of themselves, and the English are better than ever in the English classes.

The city of Hongkong is on the mainland. It is said by the farewell homes of Hanover, your way to the top is the beautiful trip to the top of Hang Kong. The city is on the top of Hang Kong and you can see the city by the car up the mountain path.

Zilky is the newly elected, and Molz has been an editor on the Scholastic for the last two years.

LAWYERS PICK JOHN STANTON
Buckley, Barr and Collins Also Chosen For The Other Honors

John Stanton, '24, was chosen president of the Law Club at the annual elections held last night in the Law Building. Edwin Buckle, '24, was elected vice president; William Barr, '24, secretary; and Charles Collins, '25, treasurer.

Buckley gave a short talk about the election, in which he advocated the need for closer relations between the Law College and the other schools.

The Law Club has been discussed for the past few years, but the elections were made by a series of ballots in which a candidate was considered to be elected if the majority of the members were in favor.
YOUR SONG; YOUR SCHOOL

When the Star-Spangled Banner is played, the man who loves his country and his school finds a thrill in every note. At Notre Dame, it is the real Notre Dame man rises, enthusiastic for the school he loves.

Last fall Notre Dame men almost unanimously signed a petition to keep the band in existence. The band played through the winter, recalling the song that has made waves in games and given new life to falling men. Leading recording companies were solicited to make the recording, however, refused to take on the task. The band members also cooperated in the election contests, the Forum and activities in general they take part little. Neither are they properly represented in the varsity sports or the Interhall frays. What is the matter?

YOUR SCHOOL; YOUR VARSITY

Athletes at Notre Dame always have been well supported by the students. When the various seasons arrive for competition in the major sports, one will find the student groups numerous, and a great number of cheering spectactors eager to support their teammates. This is as it should be.

Some students have already attributed the blame for their lack of dramatics activities to University faculty, saying that the faculty has no interest in dramatics, consequently will not appropriate money for rehearsal memories, sets and costumes. In doing so, these students have overlooked the fact that Notre Dame drama is not sponsored by the University faculty.

The Mining Club held its final meeting of the year on Chemistry Hall Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The following officers were elected for the new scholastic year: president, Robert Parnell; vice-president, Leon Sullivan; secretary, Elfreda Dreger; and treasurer, Dan Glick.

The formal part of the meeting was ended by the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting. The following farewell talks were given by Karl Paulness, Randolph Denegre, and Earl Pers. These men will receive their degrees next week.

The minutes of the last meeting were, as was the case of the preceding meetings, amended to suit.

The meeting came to a close.

Sports

The Pre-Medics over won the Mining Majors Saturday afternoon by a score of 2. The game was close until the third inning, when the Mining Majors scored four runs, mostly through errors. R. P. W., second baseman for the Pre-Medics, an exhibit of trick base running, and the way he did the Pre-Medics' first baseman was worth watching. Gil- son's change of game was a good hit game, but lost through poor hitting and poor baserunning.
