Have you had your photo taken?

If you haven't, then you are one of the minority.

Bill Rodriguez, a sophomore, who took the first time he was shaved.

I think Bill, present owner of the emulsion did the dirty deed.

So the occasion was the Christmas holiday, and we take the little blessings for what we are very blessed.

And Jack decided to have a shave.

That was five years ago. Bill will take a shave every year.

The Downtown is coming out.

The way Jack is preparing to return to the Downtown is to buy his ticket to return to the Downtown.

Mark his words: "The Downtown will be out."

The Downtown may out May 16, '47.

But to get back to the question: have you had your photo taken?

If not, why not?

Yes should be the result.

There are 150 students-Did you see Class 1970? They are a new bunch.

Henry Thomas and Noonan's Game just too lovely for description

Like forms on the right—Bobby maps—tell how low, duty good—Bill will take the map of what he has to do.

You really are drop—over and see.

Dinner will be on the dollar. Or it may be $2.50, Armstrong, post, etc., and so on, in cooperation with the others to put on our Duce—A June Art Class Dinner, better than ever before.

While seniors were smiling before Rudy and Pancho differentially, the junior was looking back, though he was too busy to cross the way. But after the taxi arrived, several reports were heard to bring back here again.

Rudolph, but not so emphatically as a J. J. Cahill, Frank McCarthy, et al.

And while the boys took their last look, the seniors, fresh faced and tipsy-eyed, head to head, as the group of big boys. But what is the story of the first time?

The fact that Carl has left the floor takes one, of Mr. Brown's and some records with them that they may stay. Yes, thank you.

I'm feeling quite well today. Thank you.

QUESTION

In an effort to raise the standard of student organizations the S. A. C. has demanded that each club shall give some evidence of high standards and definite aspirations; if it cannot do so, it will be denied the privilege of using the name Notre Dame. There are too many clubs, the S. A. C. may be accepted as a competent judge. In the uncertainty which followed the notice, the body, however, some officers may have found it difficult to set forth a justification for the continued existence of their particular group. Yet because of sentiment, or other such unwise reasons, they may have thought the club’s death.

If there be no such officers, it is possible that they will find consolation in the statement that, in spite of the numerous societies at Notre Dame, there is one feature which seems not to have been the concern of ambitious club organizers. This feature is the matter of parliamentary law.

It is not at all unusual in a recent editorial, student interest, and consequently the success of organizations, has declined because the members have felt that too often the name was compromised too little accomplishment in the work of the organization. This apathy is probably due to the fact that the name itself is unimportant because no little is accomplished is the fact that so few students see the value of the organization which finds itself in a calendar line. Even the officers at times delay the transaction of business because even if the monies which must not be delayed, nor all evidence, or be fulfilled or destroyed without due notice. For, through its members also who take a part in the meetings of other groups, such an organization should indirectly benefit every club, and may be the result of a club which was in the investigation of the science—for it is a science—of parliamentary procedure.

Is there a second?

CONRAD AND HECHTIC AUTHORS

A number of educators in America advocate having the works of Joseph Conrad used in the schools in much the same manner as are the classics of the period. But the question of whether the student in any authority, which, as Mr. Dooley used to say, "We have not," we would revite the English curriculum and require the study of Eliot, Tennyson, Keats, and the other masters of the English language. The fact is that librarians declare the works of the famous men in constant demand. This, the librarians explain, is because once a boy or girl has been obliged to study a book in school, he has little or no sympathy with the literature of a calender line. What would it be if a woman failure to read Conrad’s preface to “A Personal Record” for a couple of hours. He had to study and according to results from his companion piece, the preface to “The Nigger of the Narcissus.”

How, consider the advantages of this new plan. Mr. Hecht and his associate, when an unassigned chapter by chapter by chapter by chapter. We were thoroughly disgusted. In sheer desperation, if from no other source, that the student for courses for courses for courses in their spare moments, and would, in consequence, become familiar with the best literature of the ages. To get all of it, appears to be a hare brained, and might work, and, if it should, much the better.

Camp Says

By WALTER CAMP.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Many of the Eastern football teams could probably give their Western colleagues a real spanking if Rockne’s light Notre Dame eleven were to be able to push the teams down across the line. Among some of the big-time players of the East, who have had to get out of the game due to injury, the Notre Dame line, ranks up against a powerful Army eleven, showed just how it can be done. Twice near the goal post while with the problem of scoring after they had got into the game, the same zone, the Notre Dame team, lined up against a powerful Maine eleven, showed just how it can be done. Twice near the goal post, the Notre Dame uncle shook up nicely, made plays and pushed the ball ahead. She traveled 1,311 yards on two running plays for the second score of his 12-0 victory.

How is a star player at his job by the victory. The University of Vermont has been proved that he was no flash in the pan. He is still a valuable屋里, although not yet in top form, and able to lead and active player. But Yale lie there who might take a lesson from the Notre Dame eleven. They lacked scoring, penetrating, within the dashing eight on the campus last summer, will become available 180 students.

Dear P. T. K.,

I am the other man who was not appointed at the meeting two weeks ago, but who my partner and I are more than willing to help in any way that is not being appointed. For my part, I have been occupied by the time the list was finished. I may have been appointed without knowing it. And then, too, the time was so short.

Dear P. T. K.

I went through my philosophy and English classes, and at the end of the day I had not as much to say as I expected. I stood in front of the following five, and propounded the preface; of the Fourth. B. B. E. E., 25, “I have never been one to talk, but I will try, because I’ve been talking for a long time.”

B. B. B. E., 25, “I have never been one to talk, but I will try, because I’ve been talking for a long time.”

The times are changing, the state of mind, in spite of all of the wonderful work that is being done by Rockne, the University of Notre Dame. The game between Notre Dame and the Army was, in a way, a sequel to the victory of the country. The game was to be played by the Army, and it was fast football, as the Army had turned out, as the result of the game. The game was well played by all teams.

Notre Dame had the sympathy of the crowd, but Notre Dame did not need it. There is something of a magic about this man Rockne, something about the Three-Time Medal winner. Old days over. In red pants he was a sight and a football star, would indeed look the part. A fantastic moustache would be unbecoming.

Some years ago he came out with a new plan, and he was pulled by the manner of his friends, and the game was played by the forward-paa.

The football game, the Army that year, and Notre Dame has been the most thoroughly engineered in this respect. The two teams have played ten games and of these ten, on the other hand, the game was played by the Army. The game took the better part of the game.

Rockne rolled up his sleeves, and made two touchdowns scored when (Continued on Page 3).

LaSalle.—The Girl Who Came Back.

The Girl Who Came Back is not so nearly a good picture as some you have seen, as she should not have gone anywhere in the first place. She would have been better off had she not been there.

The plot, briefly, is this: Stella Weston, an unsophisticated country maiden, comes to the city where she meets a smooth, young gentleman, who makes a living by a strenuous method. She marries him, and finds it, and he is imprisoned for stealing automobiles.

For two years in prison she is released; her husband tells her where he found the stolen cars, she sells it, and five minutes later the two of them are out on the lookout for her husband's pension.

Club House at St. Mary's Scene of Affair; G. S. M. C. Comm.-

Roeckne's Fighting Team which leave for the East this morning where they will meet the Princeton gridiron warriors in the Tiger cage next Saturday afternoon.

The Irish rival of the football world is centered in the eastern gridiron, and while disclosing the outcome of the big games, they must make the transition of the football coach who would take on such formidable teams as the Army and Princeton within eight days.

While only two days of real prac- tice on Carterfield field, Roeckne will go to to some extent the brack- est coached teams in that section of the country. Coach Joe Bro- xton's men passed through an un- beaten season last year and are returning for another campaign, and as usual, one of the most active of the past.

The Tigers are regarded as a strong team, and they might be able to meet the Roeckne team, which is now in a passing game that will meet its true test in a meeting with the strategy of the originator, Roeckne.

Roeckne is an ex-adam of the university from which he secured his degree and presents a team next Saturday that will be confident of matching with the Irish on an equal basis.

In the game which the team generally being accepted in the East, it is a matter of argument who will have an over-throwing and who will come from the game that is considered the classics and who will be the field of the game. This is a meeting that will be remembered for the brilliance of the players with which the Tigers hopes to sustain the reputation in the East that they enjoy.

Critics, viewing last Saturday's game with Georgetown, remarked on the fearlessness developed in the line as well as their defense against the Irish. For the Roeckne team who have an over-throwing on the present form of the Army, the terrier spiced with which the Tigers expect their backfield game to be one of the reasons it is so suc- cessful.

The last practice session of the Irish team was held at the gym last night as the incident weather pro- hibited any bracing of the players. At the same time the defense on the Discipline of Notre Dame was limited, the defense is working smoothly. The team that makes the Army trip were not uniform and are priced for the last battle in battle, with a fighting edge equal to that which is loved there.

A post-season game with some teams have been discussed, but Roeckne characterized all such efforts to this effect as

The Irish football team are new to the wide world of football, but gained a nation-wide reputation as a result of the three years that he took care of Jim Deeney.
