FROSH SMOKER HELD THURSDAY

Four hundred attend entertainment in Carroll rec room; Riedy talks to class.

This week's frosh smoker will be presented Thursday night at the first of the term, in the Carroll hall residence. An interesting program was presented and upon the closing of the affair.

Mark O'Donnell, director of student welfare, in a few words, gave the progress of the class as a unit, and congratulated it upon its successful efforts to date.

The entertainment began in anti-

Columbus Fodderton.

The interesting feature of the program was a very well planned dance, featuring the high school band and the Colbert band. The doors were opened at 8:30 o'clock, and the band played until 9:30, when the doors were closed and the dance was over. The band played several popular songs, and the students had a good time.

The entertainment ended with the singing of "The Star-Spangled Banner," and the students left the gymnasium.

This was the first of the term's entertainment and the students enjoyed it very much.

Reports of Game

By Grid-graph

The final game of the season was played by New Orleans, 20-0, and St. Louis, 18-0, in the Coliseum last evening.

The game was well played, and both teams showed good form. The New Orleans team played a game of their usual fine form, and the St. Louis team played a game of their usual fine form.

The game was played in front of a large crowd, and the spectators were enthusiastic.

The game was played on a fine day, and the weather was warm and pleasant.

At the end of the game, the players shook hands and the spectators applauded the teams.

The final score was New Orleans, 20-0, and St. Louis, 18-0.
DOES STUDY PAY?

The lazy man likes to excuse his lackadaisy, the reckless man likes to excuse his recklessness. Each man gives the same excuse; he says his conduct will not affect his ultimate success; and he gives a few good reasons why it will not.

The argument is weak. It disregards the many great men who were able to get along without the liberal arts. It disregards all of those who did not. It disregards the observers who look at conditions, and then say: "Genius is an infinite capacity for taking pains," and "Genius is the ability to see the unseeable and to see the unseeable in the unseeable."

It disregards the fact that the great men who gave them as examples (and there have been many) were of great opportunity, if they had not wasted their strength and effort.

The successful people, in general, at any University? Pursue, made an investigation regarding the graduates of the men with the best scholastic standing. They selected fifty graduates at random and considered successful. Success, they said, was the achievement of an adequate and correct ideal. It means that a man had to hold this ideal in these three ways: self-preservation, wealth, preservation of the race—valuable services, and the means of authority. These fifty men were selected because they had achieved the ideal.

One of every one, it was found, had grades of above 80 per cent, and in sixty per cent of the cases had maintained an average of from 90 to 100. The figures continue in detail.

Several years ago Notre Dame made the same test. The result was:

Is it better to be a student, or a fool?

FOR ART'S SAKE

The University art gallery is becoming better known. It has always been well known by visitors, many of whom take a trip to the University to see the art gallery. It is well known by the students and the public, and has been a favorite spot of the students for over twenty years. Notre Dame should be proud of her gallery. It is a remarkable collection, and includes more masterpieces than any other gallery in the city, and is visited by students, faculty, and visitors from all parts of the world. The suggestion that the new gallery should be a "must" does not square with the experience of the gallery. The contrast between the old and the new is not so marked as it is said to be. PARACHUTING ON PARNASSUS

Fancy thrives in open places
Like a deep-throated lark
Whose head is lifted to the weary skies
Or whose heart is lifted to the Infinite.

The terrestrial cosmic spaces
From down until dark.

Fancy dies when she is hidden
In the depths of the heart;
Fate she has to be chidden.
Or anything is her forbidden.
Tell her she has no part.

Let Fancy free to roam in wonder.
Dianonly and bolder.

Oh, my, my, my, my, my, my.
Off in the realms of light and thence-
Shall bring weathy unield.

What They Say
WHERE THE KLAN FAILS
(纽约时报)

纽约时报社论：帝国主义的磨刀石。

The center of the late Klu Klux Klan's activities is still shifted from Atlanta to Dallas, and then to Indianapolis. Out in Indiana, a group of Klansmen says they have been defeated by a woman or any kind of militia.

Mr. Lowell-McCoy is a member of the Klan and is in Indiana primarily an anti-Catholic organization, and that is why he has been put up by any kind of militia.

We doubt it. For it must be admitted that the Indiana Klan has dodged the chief domestic challenges to Protestant supremacy. There is, and yet there remains, a great deal of Christian chauvinism in this country, and it is not easy to believe that this is quite finished with.

The Klu Klux Klan is an outgrowth of the same sort of thing that has been going on at the same time and in the same place over and over again in this country. The Klu Klux Klan is a throwback to the old-time chauvinism.

It is a difficult situation, to be sure, and if the Klu Klux Klan is forced to retreat into the South, it will be difficult to get back to the North.

Perhaps we ought to blame the South for this condition. The South is the only place where the Klu Klux Klan is strong enough to do any good.

Kentucky Club to Give Christmas Dance

Final preparations for the giving of the dance to be held by the Kentuk-key club on January 3 in Louisville, were completed at a meeting of that club this week. The dance

w\ll be held at the Sherman Hotel on the Saturday afternoon in the South room of the Library.

Reports were submitted by the dance committee which is composed of

Mr. John M. Crooks and James E. Hammond.

The dance, which will be formal, will be held in the balcony of the renovated Ballroom. The Karpeles will be played in the hall.

The committee in charge of the affair plan to have the ball room decorated with large banners bearing the monogram of the Louisville club, and a number of the school will be displayed consistently.

Music for the occasion will be provided by a popular orchestra of the state. According to Colonel Bos-sell McCaffrey, 200 couples will be present for the affair.

Being the first event ever given in the Louisville by the Kentucky club of Louisville, members of the club will be aided by the support of a number of the students who have given their time to the cause of the University.

"Tell your daughter to wear this,

the Sacred Heart girl, and I will pray for her. Perhaps we may help her that way.

The girl wore the badge as she was hidden. The convulsions caused and in three years have never returned.

"Of nothing of that, then,"

said Brother Columba. "I thought it was just one case in a hundred.

Then I knew of a man up in Can-ap who had been a cripple for years. He walked on crutches.

I sent him one of the badges and told him to wear it. The next day and, you know, and the old man wore it long after he sent me his crutches. He didn't need them any more.

I gave the same crutches to a man on

Thomas street in South Bend. He has been crippled up for years; if she is walking with the crutches, he expects to go without them those four longs.

There are but the first of a remarkable series of cases where Brother Columba attributes to the Sacred Heart.

The fame of his cures has spread far and wide, and the old woman was only a few weeks ago

in Ohio who had been helped by a mad dog and was dy.

Hope had been given up by the attending physicians. Brother

Columba hastily dispatched to the mother a Sacred Heart badge, explained to her to use it in that sense and the old woman is walking with her crutches. Several days later he received a letter from the mother:

"My daughter is on the road to recovery." It read.

"You have saved her life."

Several cases of insanity are said to have been cured by the old man's prayers, two or three cases of cancer,

and a multiplicity of lesser ilcussions.
