One Hundred Attend Junior Stag Supper

With possibly a hundred members of the men of "35 present, the Junior Stag Supper was held at the College Inn of the La-urtle yesterday. The stage supper was held as a "get-together" and as an opportunity to foster better spirit of friendship among the juniors.

The presidents of the three upper classes, Don Gallagher, John Kizer, and Allan Thurn, all contributed to the success of the affair. Other men who spoke were: Raymond Leach, P. Peter D. Thomas, Vincent Harrington and Gerald Schenber.

The entertainment was supplied by Eddie Lutes, William Fayre, and the popular Waltis. Thomas Locas, Donald Dimple. Plans for the future and suggestions for the next year were put forward by P. Peter. Thomas Distinguissed, together with other matters of class interest.

IRISH BASKETEERS BEAT ARMOUR, 29-17

Much Speed and Pretty Passing Displayed as Notre Dame Opens Home Court Season.

The Notre Dame men defeated the Armour Institute quint 29-17 yesterday in the opening game of the Irish court sea- son. Armour was outclassed.

The game, which was played with speed, particularly displayed the Irish court's进步 therein the usual early season variety, but con- trolled the fact that Coach Keck-man's men had had two weeks' training and some exhibi- tion some form with the short, and with a few more weeks of hard work, the team that will be developed should be hard to beat. Last night the Irish enjoyed no little success in shifting the winning an advantage with the great speed of the forward hold to fair to be a hard tarea playing pair on the front line that was.

Clem Crowe, Charlie Ward, and also comprised a fast trio of the leading players of Notre Dame at the most important of Armour. The speed of Armour and the handy of Miller hung up four field goals and one free-throw pair on the front line that was.

Brennan and Kizer opened the game and the first whack the two stars that made them stars of last year's quint. Kizer opened the season, and the second star of whom who explored Myers and Keck, con- tinued to show them twisting as "mature," and exhibited some pretty passing. J. Lawrence, the leading point score for the visitors and played a game of his own with Halley, the Teammates, Terry and Gaylord, the leading passer of the Chicago quint.

Engineers to Head Friends and Ensign

The Notre Dame branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers is to make its debut in Notre Dame Monday night, December 17, in the Engineering Auditorium.

At the meeting Frank Freimann and Earl Ensign, of the Lynden Company Engineers, the manufacturers of radio winks, manufacturers of radio re- ceivers, will speak. They will explain and demonstrate a radio receiving set and wave range and will have experienced in the field of wireless. They will be from the country.

All students registered in the Electrical Engineering course are cordially invited to attend. Those who are interested in communications.

WALSH HALL SMOKER

Walsh hall will hold its first meeting of the year in the Knights of Columbus council chambers. A suitable entertainment will be provided. Those interested in participating in the meeting should contact Patrick Hickery, the head of the council.
MUDY PERMUF

The holiday season is upon us, and with it, the custom of going to banquet, is upon us, and the after-dinner singer is now in order. To forestall criticism and perhaps correct on existing evil, it is important that the ethos or the character of Notre Dame be made clear here and forth. The college man is too often accused of vulgarity; perhaps there is some cause and there is a reason for the accusation. But that vulgarity should enter the banquet talk of students is to be regretted; and for the most part, emphatically denied. The after-dinner singer is an art. It requires careful discrimination, judicious "leaving out," and just the right degree and type of humor. It would not be a serious criticism to accuse a man of not being an entertaining speaker; it would be serious to accuse him of vulgarity in his speech and choice of stories.

IDEALISTS

We are, unfortunately, living in a thoroughly materialistic age. The movie screen and the impersonal is inogue. According to a recent census, more than half of the residents of Indiana profess to be of the most religious sect. Our co-called "magnate" for the liberal and the enlightenment have no abiding principle other than that there is a certain giving in the public that they think they want. The satirist, who has always been somewhat of a misfit, says that the "ideal" is often too lump into what is no more than a commercialization of the"ideal" and that, if one, if they are not actually on the score, are certainly not progressing.

A denunciation of materialism does not necessarily mean a condemnation of individuality. A man is judged partly by what he says and in like manner, a school is judged by the utterances of its undergraduates and alumni. The representatives of Notre Dame when on the campus during the holidays will, it is hoped, use their splendid talents to boost Notre Dame's reputation as a school of character. If they do not, then may the younger idealists-by-as-appeal-decide vulgarity or to the toying of "muddy performer."

day for a car, and while listening to the music, some of the boys whispered confidentially in the ear of their most gallant Queen. Ash is a student in a Prof. "Bob" McAllister class, and his interest and unusual feature of the story is that "he's got the most beautiful neck in the world," according to n, g, Prof. McAllister in explaining the intrication of a machine which he has been working on for a year. This work as early as the one-process machine will greatly improve the quality of the American flag in drawn upon. And we can see them range into an upjear when one of the third class clerks hurried out and tells one about Ninths or Methuselah. I believe your critic should be congratulated for giving him honest opinions of the show. What would be the purpose of a critic if he did not tell us what he thought? It is lucky for the DAILY that my critic is clever enough to express his opinions of some of these films without the use of coarse words. As for the remark regarding the Polly's I venture to say that these from Notre Dame would need an in-terpreter with them in order to tell you the performances.

A BRADER

P., S.-Don't tell them that there isn't any Santa Claus.

Dear EDITOR:

What is the future of the wire entertainment for along the lane near the river? I have nearly cut my mouth on it. I have seen it, and it is at the right height to be used by all. There are many places where the water is up, and it seems to be going to make any cattie in or out. How can we settle this?

Get it early . . . tonight . . . that new but highly jubilant volume of "The Scrubbers' Book of Notre Dame Verse."

Among the best known of the many noteworthy features of this not unjustifiable poem is "For George Gipp." The last verse of this poem is:

"Lo! you have taken of our best
To make a playmate for the geraniums.
There on the west side campus of Notre Dame you'll be."

Writers will not let our great name dim. The newest addition to the already extensive list of verses is "Whose Dream" by President Guglielmo. The author, a Missouri, and a West point alumnus, personifies "Whistling Colli" for the Boston Herald. He has been for a number of years in a position to study the president.

These studies of presidents appear to be very popular. "Theodore Roosevelt," by Lord Charnwood, is maintaining its high place among the best sellers.

"Take Keer O' Yourself"

Men of Notre Dame

That familiar line of the poet Riley comes forcefully to mind in this kind of weather. To keep your feet thoroughly dry and warm is the great thing now.

The shoe pictured is styled with a Smile for Sunny days—but packed with a wallop for Bad Weather.

A real shoe—all the way through.

Paul O. Kuehn

Footwear of Fashion
125 South Michigan St.
A Chicago football arriere recently made the observation that since Iowa defeated Notre Dame, 10 to 7, in 1921, he had not noticed any Big Ten teams that were among the headliners in the conference title race, on the Irish grid schedule.

This week Coach Richter signed two conference teams for the 1924 Notre Dame schedule, although the game plan at Bruson has made no particular showing in conference football for the past five years. Wisconsin has been one of the so-called headliners and was the equal of any title contender this fall. Witness the following scores: Wisconsin-Illinois, 10 to 0; Wisconsin-Minnesota, 0 to 0; Michigan-Wisconsin, 6 to 0. There was no runaway in any case. Martinez and Malcolm Graham fought this game of their lives when they met the Badgers. Michigan won on the break. And Illinois got on tally when Graung succeeded in breaking away once. It will be recalled that on the eve of this game, the Buck eye star tackle was declared ineligible, and the team work of the line was broken up. Gerber was reinstated and will be back again next year to meet Big Miller.

Among the country's football teams that are laying claim to various sectional and conference titles, the Kalamanzo college aggregation claims dominance of not having won a single game of their 10-game schedule. The Kazoo gridironers have a running total of 30 points while their opponents counted 472 points. Against an overwhelming defense suffered by the Kalamanzo eleven are: Notre Dame, 72 to 0; Detroit, 75 to 0; Lombard, 70 to 0; Morningside, 60 to 0, and Kalamanzo Normal, 54 to 0. There has been some speculation around this section of the country as to the speeches that were made at the Kalamanzo football banquet.

The football season did not come to a close without the presence of some long scoring runs being recorded for postality. Bowman of Syracuse, holds the 1924 record for the East; he received the kickoff on his own goal line and ran 106 yards against William and Mary. Beane of Greenmont, swooped up a fumble behind his own goal line and ran 104 yards against William and Mary. Branch of Beaumont, scooped up a fumble on his own goal line and ran 94 yards against William and Mary. Nobody of West Point ran a total of 200 yards in the game with Jewett

Vance. Wilson of Penn State, the 90 yards in the game, the apple of the Army's eye, and made three runs for touchdowns against the Midshipmen that totaled 121 yards.

There is a ton of bone and muscle on the Centre College varsity team this fall. The eleven men comprising the first eleven have a combined weight of 2,016 pounds, making the team lighter on one of the heaviest ever put together by Coach Charlie Moran. Three men weigh over the 200 pound mark. The line from end to end at present averages 188 pounds, while the backfield averages 154 pounds.
