REN. HUGH O'BOYLE TO CELEBRATE HIGH MASS

Dr. Rev. Hugh O'Boyle, bishop of the diocese of Salt Lake City, will celebrate the pontifical high mass in Sacred Heart church on Sunday, May 29, in observance of the 50th anniversary of the ordination of the late Monsignor H. Conroy of Ogdensburg, N. Y., who was the first bishop of the Diocese of Salt Lake City. O'Boyle will be accompanied by members of the graduating class of the University and the University Senate. The program for this event was made by the President of the University, the Rev. James D. Owens, O.P., of Notre Dame. O'Boyle achieves plans for the lighting of the Notre Dame commencement of the University in March, but the presentation of the medal, second in the world, was not made at this time. Mr. Mal. linits was unable to hear the President of the University, so the award will be made in the east.

The occasion which is being arranged will be similar to that which the President of the University, Mr. Walter George Smith of Phila. delphia, since deceased, last year attended.

Theinen, who has long been a member of the University, is a distinguished Catholic architect, doing tremendous things for the preservation of the rich architectural tradition of the Church.

Complete Rehearsal of "Antigone" Held

The first complete dress rehearsal of "Antigone," the second annual production, was given at the Greek club of St. Mary's College, held Tuesday evening in the auditorium of the college and will be held on the campus. Several people attended the rehearsal, including members of the faculty of St. Mary's and the Company of the Greek club of St. Mary's. The play is said to be much better than the similar production given last year.

Tuesday's rehearsal was the first since the original production, distributed the principles and the entire chorus of the Greek club of St. Mary's, which is one of the leading Greek clubs in the state. The rehearse in the open air theater, was announced yesterday that all the scenic and lighting effects have been installed. The rehearsal is to be presented on Friday and Saturday evenings at the Greek club of St. Mary's. The rehearsal is for students in 50 cents. Those who are interested are welcome to attend.

The principal characters included Misses Mary Fitzpatrick, Ellen Lavall, Lora Kennedy, Mary Dine, Elizabeth Snow, Mary Donah, Maria Shanahan, Margaret O'Keefe, Elizabeth Riddick, Elizabeth Kelly, and Maude Conolly. The chorus included: Misses Rose Casey, Misses Mary O'Sullivan and Ann O'Neill.

CO-EDS DENOUNCED

Students at all universities are attempting to work out a movement to eliminate co-ed. The movement is being spearheaded by the female students of Fordham University, who are actively working to abolish co-ed. The movement is gaining momentum and is expected to have a significant impact on higher education in the near future.
The days are short; until the end yet some say read elsewhere.

In the realm of politics, the United States prepares for election. The candidates are very different, and the United States, in the face of this diversity, ensures a free and fair election.

The league's court:

After a great deal of bowing and curtsying in the Senate a new resolution was made public, which was approved for America's acceptance by Senator Pepper. When presenting this resolution, Senator Pepper informed the court that the Senate had voted to accept it, but that the Senate informed it that the court as it is, has been thoroughly revised as it is entirely disjointed from the league.

The resolution provides for the election of the council and the assembly of the league; under-Senator Pepper's proposal, the league is elected by an assembly of all members of the league and by an electoral council composed of ten States, of which the United States should be a member. Really there is no difference between the two plans in that respect: it only sounds different and more advantageous to the United States. This is so because these names represented in the council and the assembly of the league that now the judges are, are the same representatives in the court that will elect them under Senator Pepper's plan; and if the senator is trying to introduce a new electoral plan for the league, the court, because he sees evil therein, the evil does not disappear merely because they are in the same league.

Again, under the present authority the court is the compulsory legal advisor of the league on any question of an international nature referred to it by the league. The Pepper resolution declares that the United States, for all possibilities for any such opinions. But the fact remains that the court is still entitled to advise the league, and even to override Senator Pepper's advice. It has been understood that the court will not be able to enforce its decisions, not only on the United States, but even on the lower courts. The judge is not an expert in law, but upon any of its thirty-five members, Allstonians, Lithuanians, Vincennesians, and the others.

In reality, Senator Pepper has nothing new to offer as a world court and his proposal appears to be nothing more than a political issue. His party realizes that there are essentially two great parties, that must be satisfied in any presidential campaign—those who are in favor of joining the league because they have been essentially brought by them into the league, and those who don't want to join the league through the courts—and his party is determined to satisfy both of them. The pro-lemnians know the world court is being used with its influence in the political campaign, and that the court will support Senator Pepper's party. The anti-lemnians, eager to kill the league, have offered to limit the ability of Senator Pepper's plan, and also lead his party's support and a short time thereafter, when the political machinery continues to revolve, the United States will be drawn into the league.

The future:

The league has no intention of being a stepping stone to something else. It is meant to be a stepping stone to something else.

One month from next Saturday, Victor Davis will celebrate the fifty-third anniversary of the building of the Church of the Sacred Heart of Jesus. The cornerstone stone was laid in Cincinnati, Ohio, June 31, 1871. The foundations, however, were laid two and a half years earlier, on the 28th of November 1868, in the Immaculate Conception, December 8, 1868.

The church, which is built in the form of a Latin cross and is $185,000 in length and width, is built of brick and stone, with a large central altar, and is designed to seat a large number of people.

Particularly notable are the Stations of the Cross and the Sacrament, which are the work of Fr. Leo Zipperer, who was at the University of Pennsylvania by the College of the Sacred Heart of Jesus. The Archbishop of the Sacred Heart of Jesus represents golden chalices supported by angels.

A bell of each of the twelve apostles, a piece of the manger, at the feet of the Virgin, and the golden chalice of the Virgin, all of which are also relics of all the saints in the church calendar.

N. D. Golfers Meet Indiana Here Today

The high point of the Notre Dame golf schedule will be touched this afternoon, when the Irish inkmen meet the visitation of the Michigan teams at the University of Chicago, at its Oak Park course in a thirty-six hole match today.

The varsity team managed by George Ward and captained by Jack W. Crawford, will be placed through a season marked with unusual success, considering that this is the first year Notre Dame has been represented in collegiate golf competition. The opening match of the season was lost to Northwestern by the narrow margin of one hole but the next three matches with DePaul, Loyola and Culver were won by decisive scores. Both Northwestern and Indiana are among the headline competitors in the conference golf tourney and figuring on the unexpected showing made by Notre Dame against Northwestern, the match this afternoon is due to be a nip and tuck affair for Indiana.

The morning round will call for a 10 hour single match play while the program for the afternoon pre-selected another 18 hole match but both will be four rounds. Efforts are being made to complete arrangements for a date with the DePaul quartet for a match on the home course. The pairings for the last match's are as follows:

Several colleges in the middle west are planning to give extension courses in the golf future. This will be an innovation in the field of education.

OSBORNE BREAKS WORLD'S RECORD IN HIGH JUMP

URBANA, Ill., May 28.—Herald Osborne, former University high jumper, now competing with the I. A. C. G., established a new world's high jump record last night, 8 feet 8 1/4 inches in the Olympic try-out bout held here. The former record was held by Seaborn of California at 6 feet 3 inches.

Officials of the A. A. C. measured the jump and announced that the mark would be accepted as a new world's record. Officials of the Olympic committee have questioned Osborne's style of jumping, but it is believed that he will be permitted to compete in the Olympic games.

FRESHMAN TRIUMPHES IN BADMINTON 4 TO 0

Ralph was pushed from second into third place in the standing of the Freshman crew, when two postponed games were played off on the Brownlee dime.

Freshman's 4 to 0 victory over the Buckeyes was the biggest surprise of the season, as the Buckeyes had emerged victors in five of their six previous contests, and appeared to have one of the strongest squads in the conference. The Buckeye freshman's had scored three times in the third and fourth, and added one more in the third, while Ralph was trailing all the way.

As a result of the victory Freshman were lifted into fifth place, while Ralph was pushed into second place ahead of Brown without playing a game.

Okerb and Lieb Go to Olympic Trials

In the Olympic trials which are scheduled to be staged at Arm Medi- tor yesterday, the Olympic trials will be represented by Okerb in the first foray. Okerb is expected to make the world record in the mile run. Tom Lieb will compete with the I. A. C. G. in the discus throw.

While Captain Kennedy will meet some very strong competition in the mile run, Okerb and Lieb are figured to set up new marks in their respective events. Lieb unoffically broke the world's discus record in an exhibition at the state meet last Saturday, when he hurled the weight 185 feet, 10 inches. The world's mark stands at 165 feet, 4 inches. Notre Dame's great football and track star won the national title in the A. A. U. meet on St. Paul field last summer with a throw of 161 feet, 4 inches. In practice during the past few weeks, Lieb has hurled the weight with consistency in the vicinity of 100 feet, occasionally bettering his own official record. His record breaking throw of last week promises to be repeated again at the Olympic trials. Lieb is regarded by track experts of the country as the premier American athlete in the game. Several noted coaches have picked him to win over the opening game.

Okerb, however, is the man who is expected to be the weight thrower of the Olympic games.

Donovan Loses in Semi-final Round

After fighting his way through three matches of conference tennis in which he defeated some of the best players in the East, the Easton native, Frank Donovan of Notre Dame lost out to Eddie Wilson of the University of Chicago in the semifinal round of the conference tennis tournament held on the Chicago courts. The scores for the matches were 6-4, 6-3.

Both men displayed a brilliant game, but the Marion star won the conference title later in the day in a 6-5, 6-3 contest.

OTTAWA, Ill., May 19—It is hoped that the United States Government will grant to the Chippewa Indians a reservation in the vicinity of this city.

In a letter to the Washington officials, the Chippewa chief, John J. Berteling, has made a number of suggestions which he believes would be of advantage to the tribe.

The land, which is located in the vicinity of Ottawa, is owned by the Chippewa tribe and is considered to be one of the most valuable properties in the United States. The reservation would provide the tribe with a secure and permanent home.

The proposal to establish a reservation in this area has been under consideration by the United States Government for several years. The President has already expressed his support for the idea, and it is expected that the U.S. Senate will soon vote on the matter.

In addition to providing a permanent home for the Chippewa tribe, the reservation would also help to preserve the cultural heritage of the tribe.

The Chippewa tribe is one of the oldest and most respected tribes in the United States. The tribe has a long history of cultural traditions, which have been passed down from generation to generation.

The reservation would provide the Chippewa tribe with a place to celebrate their culture and traditions, and to pass them on to future generations.

The reservation would also provide the Chippewa tribe with a source of income, through the sale of traditional crafts and souvenirs.

The Chippewa tribe has a long history of making traditional crafts, such as beaded clothing and jewelry. These crafts are highly valued by the tribe and are sold at local markets and craft fairs.

By establishing a reservation, the Chippewa tribe would be able to sell their crafts and souvenirs to a wider audience, and to earn a steady income.

The reservation would also provide the Chippewa tribe with a place to perform traditional dances and ceremonies.

The Chippewa tribe has a rich tradition of dances and ceremonies, which are performed at various occasions throughout the year. These ceremonies are an important part of the tribe's cultural heritage.

By establishing a reservation, the Chippewa tribe would be able to perform these ceremonies in a permanent and secure location.

In conclusion, the establishment of a reservation in the vicinity of Ottawa would be a significant step forward for the Chippewa tribe. It would provide the tribe with a permanent home, a source of income, and a place to celebrate and preserve their cultural traditions.

The United States Government should be encouraged to support this proposal and to work towards the establishment of a reservation in this area.

We hope that our readers will express their support for this important cause and will encourage their elected representatives to vote in favor of the reservation proposal.

Thank you for your attention. We look forward to hearing from you.

COLLEGE SOCIAL AFFAIRS

In the college and university social life of Indiana the time has come to observe certain traditions. At one school there may be a jubilee prom, at another a Panchelambre ball, and the sororities and fraternities are giving their fancy-dance ball for the year. The public knows that professional decorators have been lavish in displaying their skill. On the other hand, many parties have been imported from some distant city. The favors are unique and expansive. The direct cost must be heavy. The collateral expense is no small item. Every girl who goes must have a new gown, or at least make an effort to get one.

An undergraduate in one of the men's colleges of Indiana has written in the institution's paper, protesting against the mounting cost of social affairs. In that school this spring the big dance of the season will cost $18 for tickets, and that is only part of the total cost necessary. More than 160 girls had to be brought to town to give each man a partner. The travel expense, the new clothes, the entertainment, etc., must have the individual expense for this one dance up to what not long ago would have seemed an extravagant sum.

Rivalry is old and so is competition. Both are to blame to a considerable extent for the present con-
