By a vote of 23 to 19, the Action Student Party Monday night went on record in support of Rich Rosie for the Student Body Presidency. The endorsement, strongly supported by Carroll Senator Mike Kendall, was opposed by ASP Chair­man Jon Sherry, Stu­dent Body President Richard Rossie, and off-campus Senators Ed Kickham and Paul Higgins.

The two ASP leaders of last year, ASP Presidential candidate Dennis O'Dea and Student Body Vice President Tom McKenna, did not attend the meeting, although O'Dea spoke strongly in oppo­sition to the Rosie endorsement in private earlier in the week.

There was no immediate indication as to whether or not those opposing the Rosie endorsement would go along with it. After the meeting, Sherry asked Kickham, "Do you consider what happened a disaster?" The off-campus senator replied, "No, not a disaster, but I do think it's un­fortunate."

Another opponent of the endorsement later remarked, "There were a lot of new guys from Farley who swung it to Rossie." By Tom Figel

Students will sit by halls tonight to debate legislation on study hall, student rights, and academic reform. Each hall will have a microphones and floor leaders for reminders which will allocate time for debate, up to one and a half hours for each bill.

Although the other four committees established to draft General Assembly bills submitted several, Michael McCauley's committee drafted one, a four-page endorsement of stay hall. "The lack of identity and leadership within...the hall...is perhaps the most tragic situation con­fronting the students" at this time, according to McCauley's rationale.

The student rights bill drafted by Richard Rossie, leading candidate for Student Body President, expands from the premise that: "If students must obey the rules, they should make them."

The bill, if adopted, would protect "absolute freedom of choice" by making each hall responsible for the drafting and endorsing of its own regulations. In addition, "The Dean of Students shall not have the power of veto (over the campus judicial board)...in matters relating to student violations."

A second student rights proposal, sub­mitted by Jim Scherer, is almost exactly opposite to Rossie's. Scherer's bill states that "ultimate responsibility for...dici­plinary action of this university lies in the Adminis­tration and Board of Trustees." Because there has "never been an organized sys­tem of negotiations, the bill proposes es­tablishment of student committees to deal with the administration in the event of student pressure, in the event of committee failure, is left to the Student Body President.

The three proposals on academic reform were drafted by Phil Rathweg's commit­tee, have similar rationales but offer different solutions. The first bill proposes "compi­tion of a course-teacher evaluation book­let," the second proposes a system of pass-fail courses; and the third asserts that "a feminine influence" in the university should be supplied.

Two of the bills dealing with parietal hours claim that the decision on girls in the halls belongs to the students. One lea­ves the decision up to the individual and the other leaves it up to the hall. The third recognizes Administration authority but wishes the Student Body President to "mediate...on this matter."

Pangborn Hall drafted its own motion on judicial procedure. Similar to another proposal, it calls for recognition of the campus judicial board. A third motion is meant to protect the students' civil rights because "campus justice...is not...iso­lated...free to set up its own procedures."

A student should be considered innocent of any civil offense until he is proven guilty. Beginning at 7:00 tonight students will decide which of the several bills from the five areas to debate. Jim Fish, last year's Student Body President, and Sargent Shriver, Director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, will address the session.

Thursday night's session will be addres­sed by John Gearen and Minch Lewis, two former Student Body Presidents.

The Student Senate passed last night by a vote of 33-5 a constitutional amendment eliminating one of the re­quirements for the student body vice presidency. The provision had required that any candidate for the office must have served one year previously as an el­ected member of the senate.

Stay Senator and presidential can­didate Richard Rossie, as the proposer of the bill, was the first to speak in its favor. He is known to prefer for his running mate Academic Commissioner Chuck Nau, who has not served on the senate.

Rogers said that he was not trying to "ram it down your throats", and gave the senate two reasons for supporting the bill. First as a matter of principle, qualifications for the offices of Presi­dent and vice-president should be the same this year, that for him "it had made no difference."

Both Rosie and Off-campus Senator Ed Kickham raised the point that at least twice in the past four years the Senate has suspended requirements for senate experience for the office of Stu­sance. He went on to point out that unless his motion passed, Chuck Nau, his preferred vice-presidential candidate, would not be able to run.

Rossie's principal opponent in the debate was Stay Senator Phil Rathweg. Rathweg said that the President's job required him to be absent from many of the Senate meetings, and that pre­vious experience would help the vice­president in chairing the Senate when he had to. Vice-president Tom McKenna, when asked for his ideas in view of his experi­ence stated that each ticket will be allow­ed $300 campaign expenditure. Nomin­ations open this Thursday and should be submitted before midnight Sunday Feb. 11.

Official campaigning begins Monday, Feb. 12 and terminates with the elections on Tuesday, Feb. 20.

Murphy said the election committee, composed of senior members of the judi­ciary board, will keep a close tab on the campaign procedures of all candidates. Any complaints should be filed with Murphy or Tom McKenna, Student Body Vice President.

The election committee will convene and rule on each filed violation. Murphy hopes to avoid the difficulties brought on by "the impotency of past election committees."

This is not the same organization which backed O'Dea last year."

In asking for ASP's support, Walsh Senator Pat Dowd, who opposed ASP in his vice presidential bid of last year, stated: "I have been wrong, I have made a mistake. I have come to feel that you people are the committed ones at Notre Dame. We just might need a demonstration, or sit-in, or mass action to get things done, to change Notre Dame."

But the actual ASP vote was con­cerned with supporting Rosie or no one for SBP.

Election Rules

Today Student Body President Chris Murphy announced the election rules for the 1968 Student Body elections. Murphy stated that each ticket will be allow­ed $300 campaign expenditure. Nomin­ations open this Thursday and should be submitted before midnight Sunday Feb. 11.

The election committee will convene and rule on each filed violation. Murphy hopes to avoid the difficulties brought on by "the impotency of past election committees."

The two ASP leaders of last year, ASP Presidential candidate Dennis O'Dea and Student Body Vice President Tom McKenna, did not attend the meeting, although O'Dea spoke strongly in oppo­sition to the Rosie endorsement in private earlier in the week.

There was no immediate indication as to whether or not those opposing the Rosie endorsement would go along with it. After the meeting, Sherry asked Kickham, "Do you consider what happened a disaster?" The off-campus senator replied, "No, not a disaster, but I do think it's un­fortunate."

Another opponent of the endorsement later remarked, "There were a lot of new guys from Farley who swung it to Rosie."

Klemm May Run For SBP

Leo Klemm, president of the Sopho­more class, announced Tuesday night that he is seriously considering becom­ing a candidate for Student Body Presi­dent. Klemm said, "This is the result of the fact that I have looked at the tow candidates and I don't think either have much on the ball. I'm all psyched up about running." Klemm's running mate will be John Mee, currently Aca­demic Commissioner of the Sopho­more class.

The Irish beat DePaul last night in overtime: 91-85. Here McCauley (40) and Jim McKirchy (42)

Chris Wolfe

Appeal Legislation To Surface Pros

Of Student Discontent

By Chris Wolfe

The Student Senate passed last night by a vote of 33-5 a constitutional amendment eliminating one of the re­quirements for the student body vice presidency. The provision had required that any candidate for the office must have served one year previously as an el­ected member of the senate.

Stay Senator and presidential can­didate Richard Rossie, as the proposer of the bill, was the first to speak in its favor. He is known to prefer for his running mate Academic Commissioner Chuck Nau, who has not served on the senate.

Rogers said that he was not trying to "ram it down your throats", and gave the senate two reasons for supporting the bill. First as a matter of principle, qualifications for the offices of Presi­dency and vice-president should be the same this year, that for him "it had made no difference."

Both Rosie and Off-campus Senator Ed Kickham raised the point that at least twice in the past four years the Senate has suspended requirements for senate experience for the office of Stu­sanc. He went on to point out that unless his motion passed, Chuck Nau, his preferred vice-presidential candidate, would not be able to run.

Rossie's principal opponent in the debate was Stay Senator Phil Rathweg. Rathweg said that the President's job required him to be absent from many of the Senate meetings, and that pre­vious experience would help the vice­president in chairing the Senate when he had to. Vice-president Tom McKenna, when asked for his ideas in view of his exper­ienced Body President and Vice-president. Pat Dowd, the only other announced candidate for student body president, abstained in the voting.

Action on the bill concerning election of the Student Union President was withheld while the Student Union Com­mittee continued its deliberations.

Rosie also announced that a meet­ing was called for supporters of his committee's general motion on stu­dent rights. He asked those in favor of the motion to attend. Pangborn senator James Fish, Director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, will address the session.

Thursday night's session will be addres­sed by John Gearen and Minch Lewis, two former Student Body Presidents.

THE IRISH beat DePaul last night in overtime: 91-85. Here McCauley (40) and Jim McKirchy (42)
By WALTER GRANT

WASHINGTON (CPS) - When Vice President Hubert Humphry visited Africa early this year, a group of Peace Corps volunteers in Liberia wanted to meet with him to discuss their sentiments about involvement in Vietnam.

The volunteers were told by a top Peace Corps official in Liberia that any comment by them on Vietnam would carry with it an absence of the Peace Corps from the country. The Peace Corps is the only U.S. voluntary agency that says it will not carry on in the absence of any U.S. military involvement from the Peace Corps.

Their story, made public by a letter to the editor in a recent issue of the New Republic, is one example of why many students today are not volunteering to become part of a program which for the past seven years has drawn strong support from the younger generation.

Within the last nine months, the number of college campuses becoming a topic of controversy on many college campuses. Most of the Corps' goals have been a direct result of the war in Vietnam.

Students who consider joining the Peace Corps now must solve several ideological questions. Among them are:

Are volunteers free to present their views on any topic, no matter how controversial, as long as it does not affect their work as a volunteer?

Can the United States honestly be working for peace in some countries of the world, while, at the same time, dropping napalm bombs on another country in Southeast Asia?

Can volunteers be effective in their host countries at a time when the foreign policy of the United States is becoming more and more unpopular around the world?

If the Central Intelligence Agency was able to infiltrate political organizations such as the National Student Association, what, then, would keep it from infiltrating government agencies like the Peace Corps?

If these kinds of problems, the "free speech controversy" of the past, has not affected the Peace Corps?

To illustrate his guidelines, Vaughn says a volunteer in Thailand would not go "around making speeches on the war because of the deep involvement of the U.S. in Vietnam."

Vaughn does not think the effectiveness of volunteers is limited because of the Vietman war, even in countries where the U.S. policies are unpopular.

"The volunteer is considered to be the different American," he said. "I know of no case where the war has inhibited or made more difficult a volunteer's job. He is recognized as being an individual and not a representative of our government."

"Vaughn quickly discounted concerns that infiltrate the Peace Corps, since both agencies are under the same government. "The government is completely ridiculous," he said. "The Peace Corps has always taken pride in its independence from the other agencies of the government."
Irish Winning Trail

BY TERRY O'NEIL

It was one of those perfect nights they write folk tales about. You know, Beowulf against the monster, David against Goliath, good guys against the bad guys.

On second thought, it was more like Frank McMenamin in the Notre Dame Fieldhouse with a couple thousand O'Toole's, Donovan and Fitzpatrick bearing the joint down around him.

It was one of those nights that makes you sorry the new Convocation Center is nearly ready for play.

It was a night when the Irish basketball team downed DePaul 91-85 in overtime after the ND FG FGA FT FTA REB P A head referee- - -

Irish onto the court, Notre Dame will be accessed a technical team, coming off a three-game losing streak. A Zetzsche 2

Irishmen, Mike Dame's 16 points.

paper wads and resulting speech by the page

Irish increased it to 75-68 with two minutes to go, but missed five straight one-and-one free throws, permitting DePaul to run off seven more fouled out with his mates ahead 68-65. The go, but missed five straight one-and-one free liminated any chance of an especially at

There was the infirmary nurse, whose had

There was Tom Sinnott, throwing behind-H games on the playgrounds of Washington, tail out as if it were just a game of alley ball. There were picking them up, too, plus adding a few touches of their own.

There was Jim Hinga, grunting with every

There was the Philadelphia Palestra, passing like Wally and tipping in like Wilt.

move, and

There was the bowling capacity crowd, students virtually sitting on each other, checking out the St. Mary's foxes, unfurling double sheet banners with slogans not fit to print. There was the ROTC color guard, so far out of step they were almost in. There were the usual number of paper wads and resulting speech by the skinhead referee- - - "Next time a paper comes on the court, Notre Dame will be accessed a technical foul."

There was the infirmary nurse, whose had that same seat on the top row for the last 20 years. There was the standard amount of applause for DePaul's cheerleaders while we were winning handily and the average amount of boos for their cartwheels when the game got tight.

All the things that make the Fieldhouse so rich in tradition were there. And the freshmen were picking them up, too,plan adding a few touches of their own.

There was Austin Carr, playing with his shirt tail out as if it were just a game of alley ball. Of course that's all it really was to him. He rammed in 42 points and probably had much tougher games on the playgrounds of Washington, D.C.

There was Tom Sinnott, throwing behind-H back bounce passes and diving into the second row after loose balls like he was still back in Jersey. And little Jackie Meehan, imagining it was the Philadelphia Palestra, passing like Wally and tipping in like Wilt.

There was Jim Hinga, grunting with every career opportunities at Equitable, see your

There's something about living insurance, deciding what you'll do with your dough away.

Listen, I'm doing this so my wife and kids will have something to fall back on if something happens to me.

Then why don't you put some money into Living Insurance from Equitable. That way, you'll all be on solid ground. Living insurance gives top protection while your kids are growing up. And when you retire, it can give you a lifetime income.

I never could read road maps.

For information about Living Insurance, see The Man from Equitable.

for career opportunities at Equitable, see your Placement Officer, or write: James L. Morice, Manager, College Employment.

The EQUITABLE Life Assurance Society of the United States

Home Office: 1285 Ave. of the Americas. N.Y., N.Y.

An Equal Opportunity Employer, M/F ©Equitable 1968

THE NEW SENIOR BAR

CLUB '68

6-1 Weekdays

every Mon-Thurs: 6-9

"happy hour" two mix drinks for the price of one

every Wed-Thurs: All night

buck a pitcher

buck a pizza (large)

LIVE MUSIC EVERY WEDNESDAY

every Fri-Sat

Live music

Good Service-Low Prices

6-1 Weekends

THE HOUSE OF VISION inc.

Confidence in Vision

FOR THE FINEST EYEGLASSES AND CONTACT LENSES

THE SHEERLAND BLVD. - 123 S. MICHIGAN ST. - Chicago 3-2148

THE HOUSE OF VISION inc.

2000 N. Michigan Ave. - Chicago

1. Planning a trip?

It's called the Dog Harlot.

2. But that's just swampland.

Dabbling in real estate.

There's some choice acreage for sale.

3. What'll you do with the alligators?

How about one free with every acre?

4. Have you checked for better fares?

You sure look on the dark side.

5. I hate to see you throw your dough away.

Listen, I'm doing this so my wife and kids will have something to fall back on if something happens to me.

6. Then why don't you put some money into Living Insurance from Equitable. That way, you'll all be on solid ground. Living insurance gives top protection while your kids are growing up. And when you retire, it can give you a lifetime income.

I never could read road maps.

For information about Living Insurance, see The Man from Equitable.

THE EQUITABLE Life Assurance Society of the United States

Home Office: 1285 Ave. of the Americas. N.Y., N.Y. 10019

An Equal Opportunity Employer, M/F ©Equitable 1968

February 7, 1968
Implications

The tight rationale behind the success of the Senior Car proposal, that "Seniors should not have to decide their futures in the back of a bus," succeeded in spite of itself. Seniors, it was pointed out, are busy people with many responsibilities which cannot be fulfilled without a car. They must travel hundreds of weary miles for job interviews, marriage applications, not to mention draft physicals and consultations with the local board.

For all of these needs the Senior Bus would not suffice. The average Senior, if he is to get a firm hold on his rosy future, simply must, must, must have a car. A car, it's been shown, provides the intimacy necessary for the success of every senior's future decisions.

The argument stunned many, setting rows of philosophers on their ears and prompting some to abandon entire world views. Our world, a tenous one at best, is held together, not with bubble gum or high ideals, but with a dependable four wheels. The chains of super-highways are for real; there are no weak links, South Bend notwithstanding.

Henry Ford, that sage old philanthropist, went unheard when he said with a wry chuckle, "Give 'em any future they want as long as it's black." He had to answer the key to the phenomenon of decision and no one understood his perception. (Scholars are still undecided about Marie Antoinette's "Let them eat, haute octane.")

Now decisions are dirt cheap, literally as common as a two-cent cigarette. The Federal Government, as always, is expected to make decisions for us, and the least he wants is an apology from us.

Decision tachometer, and a variety of instruments which snap into the driver's brain. The argument is likely to be based on the principles Saville stated, "That we, as students, feel that the action was irresponsible.

Steve Ahern, Stanford Hall Senator, and Zahm Hall Senator Tom Duffy, both of whom went to see Riehle with Saville, said that it seems a fair solution to the problem.

The President's meeting was organized late yesterday afternoon with discussion pinpointing the exact wording of the proposal. The Hall Presidents said they wanted it to reflect the feelings of the students in their halls. It was decided that each hall would draft its own letter which would be approved by the Hall Councils. Saville said, "Each hall council will take its proposal over, and talk to him (Riehle). He is willing to talk, that's evident."

SUMMER JOBS

Thousands of college students for summer employment. Four-filled jobs with high pay in 37 states. The 1961 edition of the Students' Summer Employment Directory is now available! Page after page of certified jobs at leading resorts. Maps, mileage chart, applications, and helpful hints that help you "get that job.

SEND $1.00 for Directory to: onDor Publishers. box 15327, Tulsa, Okla. 74115

The Original Senior Bar

• CLUB '66 •

Basement of the Club Flamingo

Happy Hour: Mon - Thurs 4 - 8
Mixed drinks 2 for the price of 1

Beer:
Pitcher of Pabst $1
Wed & Thurs night

Band:
Soul Sounds of Louie Lane
Every Fri & Sat this Month

Private Date Room
With the same friendly bartenders
No Cover Charge.