Officials Criticize Changes In Student Gov't Finances

By GUY DESAPIO

Last year's Student Union President Michael Browning and this year's President Dick Roderick voiced concern yesterday over the financial policies of Student Government and the procedures of Student Body President Richard Rosie used to remove the signature of Vice-President for Student Affairs, Rev. Charles McCarragher's name from Student Government checks.

"I disagree with the action," R embusch said of the removal of McCarragher's name from the checks, "because my understanding of the Student Government constitution. According to my understanding of the constitution the Student Body President does not have the power to remove Father McCarragher's name. ... with the information I have now, I am adamant that Father McCarragher's signature be reinserted to the checks.

Mike Browning said that the move was probably made in the hope that "the checks go in the mail and operate effectively. It doesn't give Student Government anything more meaningful. In fact, it might hurt them."

Both Rembusch and Browning's statements were made as a result of Rosen's announcement to the Student Senate last week that he had Father McCarragher's name removed from Student Government checks. According to Browning, the move was made by convention of the Senate.

Rosen said at that convention that the move was made as a direct result of Rossie's statements during the NSSC meeting last week that he had Father McCarragher's name removed from Student Government checks.

Rosen said that Father McCarragher's name was removed from Student Government checks because Father Hesburgh had found out that every time that the move was also being made as a matter of convenience. It would not be necessary now to look for Father McCarragher to get every check approved and signed. Presently only Rossie and Student Government Treasurer Dick Roderick sign Student Government checks.

Rembusch and Browning contend that Rosie did not follow the proper procedure in making the move and that the action is extremely imprudent. They contend that Rosie not only quotes the Financial Fiscal Policy Bill of Student Government which was passed by the 1970 year's Senate. The bill specifically states that Father McCarragher must sign all checks. It also states that the "scope of authority" of the Student Union Treasurer includes that his consultation is required of any allocation... or other matter affecting the financial status of Student Government.

Rembusch said that Roderick was not asked about the matter of Father Rosie had he asked he would have found out that Rod erick was against the move. R embusch said that Rosie also failed to consult the Student Union Financial Committee. Browning, last year's SBF President Chris Murray, last year’s SBF President Tom Roundley, or himself. If he had, R embusch said, he would have found out that every one was opposed to the move.

R ichie To Meet Demonstrators

By JOEL CONNELLY

A group of 25 students arrested in an NAACP sit-in at South Bend last Mon. will meet this morning with Rev. James L. McDonald, CSC, Vice President for Student Affairs. The purpose of the meeting, as defined by Senior Brian McTigue, will be to request that Father McDonald issue a statement allegedly made to the WSDN last week that those arrested would be liable to disciplinary action by the University if convicted.

Arrangements for the meeting were made Fri. afternoon when a group of more than 20 of those arrested came to Riehle's office at about 2:00 in the afternoon. As the group led by McTigue pushed into the office, Riehle denied them entrance and requested the arrested students mark and return to his office. spokesman McTigue countered with a demand for retraction of the WSDN statement to which the Dean of Students replied "You're accusing me of making a statement I didn't make. You can make an appointment and we can talk about this. Right now I'm not an appointment at the Arts & Letters office."

McTigue and the group refused to leave their tactics intact and ended up with Riehle for more than 15 minutes. McTigue maintained that the Student Manual specifies that any student who violates the rights of a fellow student of a civil offense is liable to disciplinary action. Regarding the 25 arrested in the NAACP sit-in, McTigue commented "All I can do is say what's in the manual. I don't know what will happen to the checks.

In a statement released yesterday the Campus Coalition for Peace asked the Administration to "withdraw both its legal and moral support" toward the University's action of removing McCarragher from his position as treasurer. They condemned the action as "prejudiced and discriminatory" and said that it was a "step towards the eventual undermining of the student's right to free expression and political activity."

"The group expressed dissatisfaction with the response of the Dean of Student Affairs and Riehle, CSC, who had been asked to meet with the students," McTigue said. The statement further contends that "the University is taking a "negative status quo stand" on the race problems in South Bend. He stated "Our lines should have been direct at the University. What the University is doing is taking a negative status quo stand. The status quo in South Bend is white supremacy and second class citizenship for its black community."

As the meeting continued, McTigue read the full NSSA Manual paragraph on civil arrests in cases such as civil rights. The statement contends that "Acts of students may upon occasion result in violation of laws. In such cases, institutions often act separately to arrest students who are sources of legal violations and may offer additional assistance. Students who violate the law are sometimes penalized by civil authority, but institutional authority should never be used merely to duplicating the function of general laws."

Answering McTigue's argument that the NSSA directive ought to be the basis of University policy, Riehle repeated "You received the Student Manual when you came here. By coming here you agreed to live by that manual." McTigue replied "The reason many of us are here today, Father, is to change it so that says in that manual.

After twenty minutes of sometimes heated argument the group agreed to McTigue's suggestion of the appointment for today.

CPC Letter Attacks ROTC

The group expressed dissatisfaction with the response of the Dean of Students in his attempt to deal with the University's action of removing McCarragher from his position as treasurer. They condemned the action as "prejudiced and discriminatory" and said that it was a "step towards the eventual undermining of the student's right to free expression and political activity."

"The group expressed dissatisfaction with the response of the Dean of Student Affairs and Riehle, CSC, who had been asked to meet with the students," McTigue said. The statement further contends that "the University is taking a "negative status quo stand" on the race problems in South Bend. He stated "Our lines should have been direct at the University. What the University is doing is taking a negative status quo stand. The status quo in South Bend is white supremacy and second class citizenship for its black community."

As the meeting continued, McTigue read the full NSSA Manual paragraph on civil arrests in cases such as civil rights. The statement contends that "Acts of students may upon occasion result in violation of laws. In such cases, institutions often act separately to arrest students who are sources of legal violations and may offer additional assistance. Students who violate the law are sometimes penalized by civil authority, but institutional authority should never be used merely to duplicating the function of general laws."

Answering McTigue's argument that the NSSA directive ought to be the basis of University policy, Riehle repeated "You received the Student Manual when you came here. By coming here you agreed to live by that manual." McTigue replied "The reason many of us are here today, Father, is to change it so that says in that manual.

After twenty minutes of sometimes heated argument the group agreed to McTigue's suggestion of the appointment for today.

The group expressed dissatisfaction with the response of the Dean of Students in his attempt to deal with the University's action of removing McCarragher from his position as treasurer. They condemned the action as "prejudiced and discriminatory" and said that it was a "step towards the eventual undermining of the student's right to free expression and political activity."

"The group expressed dissatisfaction with the response of the Dean of Student Affairs and Riehle, CSC, who had been asked to meet with the students," McTigue said. The statement further contends that "the University is taking a "negative status quo stand" on the race problems in South Bend. He stated "Our lines should have been direct at the University. What the University is doing is taking a negative status quo stand. The status quo in South Bend is white supremacy and second class citizenship for its black community."

As the meeting continued, McTigue read the full NSSA Manual paragraph on civil arrests in cases such as civil rights. The statement contends that "Acts of students may upon occasion result in violation of laws. In such cases, institutions often act separately to arrest students who are sources of legal violations and may offer additional assistance. Students who violate the law are sometimes penalized by civil authority, but institutional authority should never be used merely to duplicating the function of general laws."

Answering McTigue's argument that the NSSA directive ought to be the basis of University policy, Riehle repeated "You received the Student Manual when you came here. By coming here you agreed to live by that manual." McTigue replied "The reason many of us are here today, Father, is to change it so that says in that manual.

After twenty minutes of sometimes heated argument the group agreed to McTigue's suggestion of the appointment for today.

The group expressed dissatisfaction with the response of the Dean of Students in his attempt to deal with the University's action of removing McCarragher from his position as treasurer. They condemned the action as "prejudiced and discriminatory" and said that it was a "step towards the eventual undermining of the student's right to free expression and political activity."

"The group expressed dissatisfaction with the response of the Dean of Student Affairs and Riehle, CSC, who had been asked to meet with the students," McTigue said. The statement further contends that "the University is taking a "negative status quo stand" on the race problems in South Bend. He stated "Our lines should have been direct at the University. What the University is doing is taking a negative status quo stand. The status quo in South Bend is white supremacy and second class citizenship for its black community."

As the meeting continued, McTigue read the full NSSA Manual paragraph on civil arrests in cases such as civil rights. The statement contends that "Acts of students may upon occasion result in violation of laws. In such cases, institutions often act separately to arrest students who are sources of legal violations and may offer additional assistance. Students who violate the law are sometimes penalized by civil authority, but institutional authority should never be used merely to duplicating the function of general laws."

Answering McTigue's argument that the NSSA directive ought to be the basis of University policy, Riehle repeated "You received the Student Manual when you came here. By coming here you agreed to live by that manual." McTigue replied "The reason many of us are here today, Father, is to change it so that says in that manual.

After twenty minutes of sometimes heated argument the group agreed to McTigue's suggestion of the appointment for today.

The group expressed dissatisfaction with the response of the Dean of Students in his attempt to deal with the University's action of removing McCarragher from his position as treasurer. They condemned the action as "prejudiced and discriminatory" and said that it was a "step towards the eventual undermining of the student's right to free expression and political activity."

"The group expressed dissatisfaction with the response of the Dean of Student Affairs and Riehle, CSC, who had been asked to meet with the students," McTigue said. The statement further contends that "the University is taking a "negative status quo stand" on the race problems in South Bend. He stated "Our lines should have been direct at the University. What the University is doing is taking a negative status quo stand. The status quo in South Bend is white supremacy and second class citizenship for its black community."

As the meeting continued, McTigue read the full NSSA Manual paragraph on civil arrests in cases such as civil rights. The statement contends that "Acts of students may upon occasion result in violation of laws. In such cases, institutions often act separately to arrest students who are sources of legal violations and may offer additional assistance. Students who violate the law are sometimes penalized by civil authority, but institutional authority should never be used merely to duplicating the function of general laws."

Answering McTigue's argument that the NSSA directive ought to be the basis of University policy, Riehle repeated "You received the Student Manual when you came here. By coming here you agreed to live by that manual." McTigue replied "The reason many of us are here today, Father, is to change it so that says in that manual.

After twenty minutes of sometimes heated argument the group agreed to McTigue's suggestion of the appointment for today.
McGrath To Retain SMC Presidency

Rev. John J. McGrath, acting president of St. Mary’s College since Jan. 1, will be appointed permanent SMC president at the June meeting of the College’s Board of Trustees.

Father McGrath, on leave of absence from the Catholic University of America where he holds the position of professor of comparative law, said yesterday “the Board asked last week if I would accept a permanent appointment.” McGrath said that the Board decided to consult with the faculty before making the appointment final and that Mother M. Olivette, CSC, chairman of St. Mary’s board had mailed out a letter eliciting faculty response to McGrath’s proposed appointment. Father McGrath said yesterday that he expected his appointment to become final with the June meeting of the Board of Trustees.

Father McGrath said that there is no term of office for a St. Mary’s president and that the length of this term would be “indefinite, at the pleasure of the Board.”

The acting-president said that he would take the permanent post because “a permanent president is essential in terms of long-range planning.” He pointed to the recommendations of Heald, Hobson, and Associates, the New York firm studying SMC and SMC potential development, that a permanent president was necessary for proper staff and faculty planning.

“To Make St. Mary’s the finest institution possible” was Father McGrath’s reply to questions as to immediate and long-range goals for the college.

Father McGrath said that it is too early to evaluate all of the findings of the Heald, Hobson study which is still in progress, but that this “enormous study” would affect many aspects of St. Mary’s development.

Further co-operation with Notre Dame was stressed by Father McGrath who pointed to the appointment of John Kane of the Notre Dame sociology department as chairman of the Board of Trustees.

He said that this type of faculty arrangement was being studied in greater detail and that there was a change for extension of this arrangement with Notre Dame and other schools for the fall semester.

Gen. Walt

Lt. Gen. Lewis W. Walt, assistant commander of the Marine Corps, will be the ranking reviewing officer at the annual President’s Review of Army, Navy, and Air Force ROTC cadets at 4 P.M., Tuesday.

Walt will also speak at 8:30 P.M. in Stetson Center in an appearance on behalf of the Student Union Academic Commission. His subject will be the Vietnam War.

Also taking part in the Academic Review will be Col. John L. Lavan, new head of the Army ROTC at Notre Dame; Capt. John J. Stephens, retired Army ROTC commander; Capt. Louis J. Papas, Navy ROTC commander; and Col. Victor J. Ferrari, Air Force ROTC commander.

Get your bumblebee degree

Dodge Charger R/T

Enroll in one of three exciting classes. Charger R/T, Coronet R/T, or Dart GT. Each has its own distinctive sporty style, but all three have a lot in common. Like automatic transmissions, wide-tread red line tires, special handling packages, and a long list of other standard and optional features.

Dodge Charger R/T

To help you make the grade, the standard engines for the Scat Pack include a 340 cu.-in. V8 for the Dart GT. And for Charger R/T and Coronet R/T, a 440 Magnum V8. Or for a more accelerated course, you can order the optional 440 Hemi.

Dodge Dart GTS

All three members of the Scat Pack offer distinct gushing marks at no extra cost. Build bumblebee stripes wrapped around the rear. Or Rallye stripes along the side. Or if you prefer to be a little more modest, no stripes at all. It’s your choice. Ready for class? With the Scat Pack, you’ve got it. Why not sign up at your nearby Dodge Dealer’s and get your Bumblebee Degree, today?

Dodge Dart GTS

To add some color to campus, get your official Dodge Scat Pack jacket in the official “Dodge Red” Color—with the authentic, embroidered “bumblebee” design on front and back. Send for yours today.

The Journey

Seniors desiring to sip and celebrate in Los Angeles next Thanksgiving are required to make a $20 deposit Wed. between 6:30 and 8:00 p.m. in the Coke Bar of the Rathskeller. There are 150 spots available for the senior trip to LA for the Notre Dame-Southern California finale. The total cost of the trip is $191 for 5 days at the Miramar Hotel on the beach at Santa Monica via commercial airlines.
Mroz Plans For Big Year

By DAVE BACH

Student Union Academic Commission

Chairman John Mroz announced yesterday plans for an LSD Conference for early Oct. built around a keynote address by Dr. Sidney Cohen. Dr. Cohen, one of the foremost authorities on LSD, was the first to report the effects of LSD on chromosomes and is the recent author of The Beyond Within. Mroz also hopes to attract former Harvard professor Thomas Leary to the conference. But he added that this would depend on the budget for the commission approved by the Student Senate tonight.

The LSD Conference is one of the five new conferences being organized by Mroz and his staff. The others are on Pornog-

raphy and Censorship, Black Power, Student Power, and Abo-

rition. SUAC is also planning to initiate two new lecture series, an Athletic Speakers Series and a Foreign Speakers Series, and a Constitutional Convention in addition to expanding several of the existing programs. The budget to be submitted to the Senate calls for approximately $28,000.

"The plans for these programs are tentative," Mroz said, "depending primarily on the funds that are approved for the projects. The proposed fee increase is very important to our success. The additional funds we can introduce a program unmatched by any major university at present cost."

Mroz added that this list can be expanded if additional funds are granted, or if admission is chargeable to some of the events. "The speakers we are trying to attract offer a wide spectrum of life," Mroz added, "and we are trying to find something for everyone. We're trying not to concentrate on political figures since it will be a non-campaign year for the most part."

An expanded Free Film Series is also planned for the fall. A noted film will be presented every two weeks, beginning with The Longest Day on Sept. 19. The commission is also planning two weekend film festivals featuring the appearance and films of a noted director or actor. Negotiations are being made with Otto Premier and Alfred Hitchcock. The request for the free film series is $4200.

The Athletic Speakers Series already has scheduled A.J. Foyt as a speaker. Others being sought are Casey Stengel, Jimmy Brown, Howard Cosell and Cassius Clay. The commission is working with Sports Illustrated to obtain contracts.

The Foreign Speakers Series will feature dignitaries on official State Department tours. Mroz is asking $1100 for each tour.

This year's Oxford debates will include Harrison Williams of New York University and Robert Smithson. Negotiations with Sen. Williams are in the final stages, while contract with Tower is still in the preliminary stages.

The Poetry Series now has a requested budget of $1500. Mroz has contacted Allan Ginsberg, songwriter Leonard Cohen and Lawrence Ferlinghetti. Mroz would like to see the budget for this event increased so that he could expand the list.

Under Special Projects, the budget calls for $800 in a Religions of the World Series, presenting speakers from the major religions of the world. Also under special projects, Mroz said, "We'd like to see more exhibits of aspects of life that are neglected at Notre Dame, such as films from NASA and the Smithsonian."

The Beyond Within. Mroz was the first to report the effects of LSD on chromosomes and is the recent author of The Beyond Within. Mroz also hopes to attract former Harvard professor Thomas Leary to the conference. But he added that this would depend on the budget for the commission approved by the Student Senate tonight.

The LSD Conference is one of the five new conferences being organized by Mroz and his staff. The others are on Pornog-

raphy and Censorship, Black Power, Student Power, and Abo-

rition. SUAC is also planning to initiate two new lecture series, an Athletic Speakers Series and a Foreign Speakers Series, and a Constitutional Convention in addition to expanding several of the existing programs. The budget to be submitted to the Senate calls for approximately $28,000.

"The plans for these programs are tentative," Mroz said, "depending primarily on the funds that are approved for the projects. The proposed fee increase is very important to our success. The additional funds we can introduce a program unmatched by any major university at present cost."

Mroz added that this list can be expanded if additional funds are granted, or if admission is chargeable to some of the events. "The speakers we are trying to attract offer a wide spectrum of life," Mroz added, "and we are trying to find something for everyone. We're trying not to concentrate on political figures since it will be a non-campaign year for the most part."

An expanded Free Film Series is also planned for the fall. A noted film will be presented every two weeks, beginning with The Longest Day on Sept. 19. The commission is also planning two weekend film festivals featuring the appearance and films of a noted director or actor. Negotiations are being made with Otto Premier and Alfred Hitchcock. The request for the free film series is $4200.

The Athletic Speakers Series already has scheduled A.J. Foyt as a speaker. Others being sought are Casey Stengel, Jimmy Brown, Howard Cosell and Cassius Clay. The commission is working with Sports Illustrated to obtain contracts.

The Foreign Speakers Series will feature dignitaries on official State Department tours. Mroz is asking $1100 for each tour.

This year's Oxford debates will include Harrison Williams of New York University and Robert Smithson. Negotiations with Sen. Williams are in the final stages, while contract with Tower is still in the preliminary stages.

The Poetry Series now has a requested budget of $1500. Mroz has contacted Allan Ginsberg, songwriter Leonard Cohen and Lawrence Ferlinghetti. Mroz would like to see the budget for this event increased so that he could expand the list.

Under Special Projects, the budget calls for $800 in a Religions of the World Series, presenting speakers from the major religions of the world. Also under special projects, Mroz said, "We'd like to see more exhibits of aspects of life that are neglected at Notre Dame, such as films from NASA and the Smithsonian."

The Beyond Within. Mroz was the first to report the effects of LSD on chromosomes and is the recent author of The Beyond Within. Mroz also hopes to attract former Harvard professor Thomas Leary to the conference. But he added that this would depend on the budget for the commission approved by the Student Senate tonight.

The LSD Conference is one of the five new conferences being organized by Mroz and his staff. The others are on Pornog-

raphy and Censorship, Black Power, Student Power, and Abo-

rition. SUAC is also planning to initiate two new lecture series, an Athletic Speakers Series and a Foreign Speakers Series, and a Constitutional Convention in addition to expanding several of the existing programs. The budget to be submitted to the Senate calls for approximately $28,000.

"The plans for these programs are tentative," Mroz said, "depending primarily on the funds that are approved for the projects. The proposed fee increase is very important to our success. The additional funds we can introduce a program unmatched by any major university at present cost."

Mroz added that this list can be expanded if additional funds are granted, or if admission is chargeable to some of the events. "The speakers we are trying to attract offer a wide spectrum of life," Mroz added, "and we are trying to find something for everyone. We're trying not to concentrate on political figures since it will be a non-campaign year for the most part."

An expanded Free Film Series is also planned for the fall. A noted film will be presented every two weeks, beginning with The Longest Day on Sept. 19. The commission is also planning two weekend film festivals featuring the appearance and films of a noted director or actor. Negotiations are being made with Otto Premier and Alfred Hitchcock. The request for the free film series is $4200.

The Athletic Speakers Series already has scheduled A.J. Foyt as a speaker. Others being sought are Casey Stengel, Jimmy Brown, Howard Cosell and Cassius Clay. The commission is working with Sports Illustrated to obtain contracts.

The Foreign Speakers Series will feature dignitaries on official State Department tours. Mroz is asking $1100 for each tour.

This year's Oxford debates will include Harrison Williams of New York University and Robert Smithson. Negotiations with Sen. Williams are in the final stages, while contract with Tower is still in the preliminary stages.

The Poetry Series now has a requested budget of $1500. Mroz has contacted Allan Ginsberg, songwriter Leonard Cohen and Lawrence Ferlinghetti. Mroz would like to see the budget for this event increased so that he could expand the list.

Under Special Projects, the budget calls for $800 in a Religions of the World Series, presenting speakers from the major religions of the world. Also under special projects, Mroz said, "We'd like to see more exhibits of aspects of life that are neglected at Notre Dame, such as films from NASA and the Smithsonian."

The Student Senate met last Thursday night, considered one bill, tabled it, and then was forced to adjourn because it lacked a quorum, the minimum number of Senators necessary to conduct business. A quorum in the Student Senate is one half of the number of Senators plus one, or twenty-one of the forty-one Senators. When the meeting ended Thursday night, only seventeen Senators were present.

It is deeply disturbing that less than one-half of the Student Senators thought that the meeting was important enough to attend. The Senate has a number of important bills to consider besides the draft bill which it eventually tabled. On the agenda were bills concerning the abolishment of the ROTC program at Notre Dame, the abolition of the University from accepting secret government contracts, the abolishment of the position of college Senators, the establishment of college governments, and the proposed raise in the student activities fee.

The startling fact that makes Thursday's meeting even more tragic is that it was not the first time that the Senate has lacked a quorum. Thursday was the sixth time in its last seven meetings that the Senate has lacked a quorum. Most of the bills that were to be considered Thursday night had been on the Senate's agenda for its last eight meetings.

It is time for something to be done. Many of the Senators have been absent from as many as six to eight meetings, while the limit for unexcused absences is two. It is too late to do anything about those Senators now. It is too late to remove them from office and replace them with responsible legislators. However, something can be done to insure that they do their job for the remainder of the year.

Tonight the Senate will meet again—or attempt to. It will consider the Student Government budget for the summer, the bills that it failed to consider last week, and the bill asking for the ten dollar raise in the Student Activities fee. We urge every Senator to attend tonight's meeting.

With the advances made toward self-government at Notre Dame in the past few years the role of the Senate has become extremely important. Senators must become more concerned about their office if self-government is to work at Notre Dame. If the Senate is to look someplace else for a responsible representative body. It might find one, or self-government just might die tonight with the Senate.

Rule Number Eight

University Rule Number Eight is most explicit. Conveniently found on page two of The Student Manual, it states that "Any student who has been publicly arrested is subject to disciplinary action by the Dean of Student Center and his inability to adequately communicate with students. His talk was revealing in the sense that it pointed out in part a problem of communication and action which exists at Notre Dame.

Fr. Riehle himself has in my dealings with him been exceedingly pleasant and quite open to opinion differing from his own. In fact, he has made a conscious effort to obtain a broad spectrum of student views. The same can be said for Fr. McCarragher, who in spite of one's differences with him is a pretty great person to talk with.

Even Fr. Hesburgh in the late hours of the evening is quite open to those who wish to approach him. However, the simple act of listening is not enough. It is here that the Administration has this year made a most significant error.

The student viewpoint has been met with open ears but then not responded to it when decisions are being made or directives drawn up. Student resentment has grown over this, with Riehle becoming the unfortunate public victim.

Clear the Administration must realize that an open ear policy will merely keep the lid on, not prevent the pressure from building. More serious even than the resentment against the Administration is the credibility gap which has arisen. I know this is an old expression, but it has a great deal of validity here at the moment.

This has been a year of great expectations and great letdowns. From the student viewpoint has been met with tolerance. Communication has been established to the extent that Fr. McCarragher and Rich Rosie talk almost daily. Everything is pleasant, except perhaps for some Riehle-radical and Rosie-Rosie discussion.

The essential point, though, is that little has been accomplished.

Two years ago student government lay down in a major series of discussions with Fr. McCarragher and, with considerable application of pressure, obtained abolition of curfew. It would seem, however, that that was one of the few times ever around here where negotiation between equals took place. Of course there have been isolated cases, the most notable being the student who spoke three hours with Fr. Hesburgh during the suspension controversy of last month.

For the most part, though, we have been met by open ears but closed minds.

Now for years at this place the students clamored to be heard. Now, however, the tolerance of Fr. Hesburgh and the wise advice of Fr. McCarragher do not suffice. Neither is it adequate for Fr. Riehle to seek out student opinion but then not respond to it when decisions are made or directives drawn up. Student resentment has grown over this, with Riehle becoming the unfortunate public victim. Clearly the Administration must realize that an open ear policy will merely keep the lid on, not prevent the pressure from building.

More serious even than the resentment against the Administration is the credibility gap which has arisen. I know this is an old expression, but it has a great deal of validity here at the moment.

This has been a year of great expectations and great letdowns. From the verbal point of view, much has been done. In the General Assembly and in the Student Senate the student voice has been heard. Again and again people have conferred. Many have logically expected action after each meeting. Their hopes, however, have been dashed. There is an open contradiction for all to see between what is said and what has been done.

Thus far the year has brought but two significant changes—Senior class and student government of the student center (one must admit, though, that this latter change has been a source of the juiciest of quotes and the most vicious of hate mail). With the tolerance of the Administration and apparent openness to even the most radical of proposals must more was expected. Disappointment and frustration have led to resentment and distrust.

The Administration to alleviate this must be ready not simply to listen, but to act.

In The Senate

University Rule Number Eight is most explicit. Conveniently found on page two of The Student Manual, it states that "Any student who has been publicly arrested is subject to disciplinary action by the Dean of Students." No one seems to be able to explain exactly why the University should pass its own judgement and impose its own punishment upon a student charged by civil authorities.

The University cannot ignore violations of existing laws on its campus, but if the University is to enforce its statutes and punish their off campus violation, then let the school's officials wear South Bend or Indiana State police uniforms or carry FBI identification.

If a student violates any state law and is convicted, he will face society's punishment. Disciplinarians who add Notre Dame's punishment to any civil penalty incurred do more to bring embarrassment to this University than any civil disobedience by Notre Dame students.

It is our hope that the twenty-five Notre Dame students arrested in last Monday's sit-in will face no Administration reprisals. However Rule Number Eight is still in black and white in the Student Manual. It stands as an unnecessary intrusion of the University into a student's life and a duplication of civil authority. Not enforcing this rule against the twenty-five students involved in the sit-in last week is not enough. The rule still remains in the Manual for the use of Administration and convenient reference.

It would seem that there are enough University rules and campus rules and regulations and directives for the Administration to impose and enforce and enough campus violations to punish that the Administration need not compete with the South Bend police for punishment of student violations of civil laws.
In America's Political Capital

By JOEL CONNELLY

Indianapolis is a city which rather gaudily stresses its Americanism. The center of the city is dotted with monuments to soldiers, heroes, wars, and so on. The newspapers are parochial and conservative, having as their notion of the world the state of Indiana and the small portion of Illinois occupied by the Tribune Tower in Chicago.

However, Indianapolis is also a city with another side in the form of a dynamic young mayor who is a former Rhodes Scholar, a graduate of St. Louis U. 31 coming into the city, there exist sprawling Negro areas but a few blocks away. Many in the population tend to be young and reasonably sophisticated rather than old and Hoosier.

Over the past three weeks, Indianapolis has become the capital of the state of Indiana but the political capital of the country. Within a block in downtown Indy are located the headquarters of the three contenders in the Indiana Primary. Each center of activity has its own personality, its own spirit. Brani gan Headquarters mixes folksy hospitality with hard politics. Although the Indiana Democratic Governor of Illinois spends long hours of every day decrying the spending of his opponents, he still is applying consider able muscle through a patronage army which runs into the thousands. Brangan posters and buttons can be easily spotted in most every courthouse of the state. This is Brangan's strength. The man's appeal is to the traditional Indiana. In this context, there are slogans such as "Put Indiana First" and "Make Indiana Count." Presumably you can do this through allowing the Governor to control the state's delegation in Chicago. Brang an also subtly relies on hate Kennedy sentiment, of which there is considerable in Indiana. There are no Wallace-style denunciations, only a harping on the financial issue. However, with the talk at headquarters, it is clear what the Brangan people think of the junior Senator from New York.

Kennedy headquarters is anything but folksy. There appears to be a super- efficiency of operation, with no hacks standing around. Most of the operatives here are young. There is a businesslike quality about everything, and also an intensity which matches that of the Senator. However nobody is treated roughly or shoved aside. Everything is done with a grace of dignity.

Kennedy is not waging the old-style campaign of buttons, sashes, and bumper stickers. All traditional instruments, even literature, are at a minimum. Clearly there is a concentration on two aspects of campaigning—the canvas and the mass media. Volunteers are plentiful and each is given a task.

The McCarthy Headquarters, which was my home for six days, is in the old and burned out Claypool Hotel. Abraham Lincoln once spoke from its steps and it looks as though they haven't been cleaned since. The headquarters is spacious and none too organized. The McCarthy operation is one of those where everything gets done, but not in the organized German-Style fashion. Presiding over this organized chaos are a set of exceedingly talented amateurs. The percentage of New York attorneys is high, as are the number of people you might expect to see at the Israel bond dinner.

The McCarthy staff started out crude and inexperienced, however, after five primaries it knows how to operate. Again, as with Kennedy but even more so, there is emphasis on canvassing and television. The main task is to get the Senator known, and every resource known to man is being applied to put Crew "Genie before the doors.

Notre Dame's contribution to the Clay pool operation is considerable. In the forefront of the talented amateurs is Notre Dame's Dr. James Bogle, Bogle, founder of Hoosiers for a Democratic Alternative, along with Chicago Gans of the national staff as campaign manager. Down the hall from Bogle's office is a room where the massive student canvass is directed. From here one finds Mary Perronne, former Mrs. Bogle's Academic Commissioner- and state McCarthy youth director.

How is Indianapolis taking the cam paign and the fact that Hoosierville just could select the next President of the United States? Brangan's headquarters is clearly the most popular with the very elderly and probably most of them do not mention dime horde. McCarthy has attracted support from Indianapolis's sizzling suburbs with a GOP coalition expected. However, Kennedy, as reported in Newsweek last week, seems to have the strongest appeal.

Institutional Indianapolis seems to back Brangan. The newspapers have put the governor on the front page every day and have treated Kennedy in the manner that the Pecking Review treats Khruschev. The state employees and politicians are faith fully backing Brangan. The newspapers, however, only the capital, are guys and gals.

As for her beloved Nathan Detroit—well played by the less than thirty-year-old. Shades of the tailor retaileored, marital bliss is no more a concern to him than martial bliss, but as a result, he is an even more capable candidate. His lieutenant is elegantly clad, as one would expect, in a shadowy Runyon character (it's hard to explain—you have to see it). His responses become more sophisticated, more melodic, more addresses, as do his campaign themes. He is an expert in the usage of the most popular sentences in the English language, "I'm a man of the people."

The production numbers are done in triumph style, often turning on hard granite voice; the most notable off them is done by Paul Briggs and Paul Endres, in intoxicatingly sophisticated mannerist style. Charles Lehman's production design encompasses the whole of O'Loughlin Auditorium from the audience, lined with light bulbs, to the back of the enormous stage. A sense of the grandeur and scope of the event was the result of our examination of the fac tification of Brunyonic incarnation, a pleasant time is guaranteed all.
Shannon Changes His Topic, Theology Of War

By PAT GAFFNEY

Yesterday in Sacred Heart Church, the Year of Faith series came to a close with the Rev. James P. Shannon, DD celebrating the Mass "Uttering All preaching; "Christ, Peace and War." Originally, as announcements indicated, he had intended to speak on "Vietnam and the Christian Con­science," but in view of President Johnson's statement on Mar. 31 "that maximum efforts would be made to effect peace" and seeing that "we are now embarked on that course", the Bishop said he had decided to speak more generally on the whole principle of war.

He began by citing gospel passages where Christ had unequivocally called his followers to roles as peacemakers. "The Christian in the world is always in a field of tension between his values as a follower of Christ and his values as a realist in human society. Nowhere is this truth more evident than in the historic reason of the Christian convic­tion that war is evil and peace is a Christian vocation." Fifteen centuries of wars against barbaric tribes, or struggles to maintain a balance of power or settle colonies "have compromised our original clear vision."" But in our own time, with "the ultimate weapon, the Colt .45 raised to the highest power... man is paralysed by the knowldge that he possesses the means not only to defeat but utterly to destroy his enemies, providing he is also willing to be destroyed in the inevitable retaliation which nuclear warfare must bring." Any realist can understand that "man must seek peace by peaceful means—simply because the alternative is now literally unthink­able—except to a few politicians."

However, we don't acknowledge what we know as true, "Like children we play at intermediate war. We kill and cut and blind and maim with old savage weapons, because we are both too smart and too timid to follow the principles of war to their ut­ imate conclusion in the nuclear age." Our martial technology has indeed brought us back to the teachings of Christ, "the realization that warfare...cannot settle the ultimate questions which divide mankind." The Auxiliary Bishop of St.

Skippers do it!

English Leather

For men who want to be where the action is, very often people wear macoline, ALL-PURPOSE LOTION. $3.50. 50¢ on the complete array of ENGLISH LEATHER men's complete.

Don Hynes

"Cheer - Cheer!"

In conjunction with the new rules concerning demonstrations, Father Riehle and his band of renown have issued several new University directives.

Due to the inconvenience caused to Administration officials and partially by the April snowstorm two weeks ago, the Administration has decided to further regulate the weather. Starting May 6, and lasting till Ireland sinks back into the sea, snow will only be permitted on the Notre Dame campus in the months of December, January and February. The Administration will permit the snow to fall only on the grassy and wooded areas of the campus, and snow falling on the sidewalks will be considered impossible action by God. Any snow found on campus cement will receive a subpena from the security office.

Members of the campus snow removal team, and/or Kamikazi squad, are planning a protest against the directive, because it de­ grues them of their winter diversion of running down unsuspecting undergraduates with their Double A fuel snow plows. However, University officials have declared the entire western hemisphere off­ limits for such a demonstration. The embittered proletarians will canvas the campus this week, soliciting funds to send a token group of a hundred caretakers to the Island of Formosa on the Fourth of July where they wish to hold a worker's freedom rally.

The campus lawn has long been an object of glory and pride for Notre Dame, and in the future, no students will be allowed off the sidewalks at any time. The emphasis is on enforcement this time, according to Father McCarthy, and on keeping with this spirit, Mr. Pears has given shoot to main orders for those students who try to pervert the social order by walking on the grass. Campus police also have orders to shoot to kill those anarchists who attempt to destroy the heritage of Notre Dame by playing ball on the Elyson fields.

Further traffic restrictions have also been issued. Off-campus students have been ordered to park their cars in a new student parking lot which is now being constructed in Niles, Michigan. An increase in the Student Government fee will go along with this directive in order to provide whistle bus service between the parking lot and campus. Mr. Pears has stated that he hopes to add a tank to his arsenal by the Fall, in order to destroy those cars found parked illegally on campus.

Unfortunately, students will have to be moved out of the La Fortune Center, in order to make room for the even expanding and improving security forces. A strategic power complex with a new office for the Dean of Students will be built in a sub-basement vault under the building. Father Riehle has said that he will still be open to door students and to discuss their problems, as long as they receive security clearance from the armed ronuchs on the main floor, and say the magic words, "cheer-cheer!"

Be sure to order your flowers early for Mother's Day, May 12. Also your prom corsages for that special girl. (FTD)

WYGAN'TS,

327 Lincoln Way West

232-3354

STUSOC Presents THE

LOVIN* * SPONJUL

In Concert

Saturday, May 11, 8:30pm

at Stepam Center

Tickets: $3 and $4

On Sale In Dining Halls

Tues., Weds. & Thurs.
THE SPLIT LEVEL

ALBUM DLP 25636

Contains their new single release...

Right Track

...and Dot's got it!
With only five practices remaining, the scramble for positions is becoming frantic among ND footballers. Personnel at many positions is uncertain six days before Saturday’s Blue and Gold intersquad game.

Even veteran observers in the press box had to admit that the situation was confusing Saturday as the starters defeated the reserves 43-22 in a game-type scrimmage.

On the offensive line, Jim Seymour and Jim Winegardner are fixtures at ends. Charles Kennedy appears to have won the left tackle job created when Reilly was out with a bad hamstring. Jeff Zimmerman’s groin injury kept him out of action and moved Ron Dushney into the starting backfield. Bob Gladieux has nailed down a halfback job and will run opposite Ed Ziegler or Frank Conzi. Ziegler has the inside track.

On defense, freshman Bob Nederst has moved to a tackle position with Bob Kreucherberg. Pat Mudron, another frosh, currently is beating out Eric Norri for a tackle slot alongside Mike McCoy.

Linebacking may be open up until the day of the opening game next fall. Bob Olson and Tony Copers seem secure, but the other two backers will come from a group which includes Tim Kelly, Jim Wright, Larry Schmader, John Lavo and Jim Merletti. Kelly and Wright, both frosh, were front runners Saturday. Merletti bobbled the off the field in the first half.

Tom Quinn, Ernie Jackson, and John Gasser comprised the secondary Saturday. Gasser has replaced the injured Kline at the beginning of drills. O’Brien may get another shot at defensive halfback. Kennedy appears to have won the left tackle job created when Reilly was out with a bad hamstring. Jeff Zimmerman’s groin injury kept him out of action and moved Ron Dushney into the starting backfield. Bob Gladieux has nailed down a halfback job and will run opposite Ed Ziegler or Frank Conzi. Ziegler has the inside track.

On defense, freshman Bob Nederst has moved to a tackle position with Bob Kreucherberg. Pat Mudron, another frosh, currently is beating out Eric Norri for a tackle slot alongside Mike McCoy.

Linebacking may be open up until the day of the opening game next fall. Bob Olson and Tony Copers seem secure, but the other two backers will come from a group which includes Tim Kelly, Jim Wright, Larry Schmader, John Lavo and Jim Merletti. Kelly and Wright, both frosh, were front runners Saturday. Merletti bobbled the off the field in the first half.

Tom Quinn, Ernie Jackson, and John Gasser comprised the secondary Saturday. Gasser has replaced the injured Kline at the beginning of drills. O’Brien may get another shot at defensive halfback. Kennedy appears to have won the left tackle job created when Reilly was out with a bad hamstring. Jeff Zimmerman’s groin injury kept him out of action and moved Ron Dushney into the starting backfield. Bob Gladieux has nailed down a halfback job and will run opposite Ed Ziegler or Frank Conzi. Ziegler has the inside track.

On defense, freshman Bob Nederst has moved to a tackle position with Bob Kreucherberg. Pat Mudron, another frosh, currently is beating out Eric Norri for a tackle slot alongside Mike McCoy.

Linebacking may be open up until the day of the opening game next fall. Bob Olson and Tony Copers seem secure, but the other two backers will come from a group which includes Tim Kelly, Jim Wright, Larry Schmader, John Lavo and Jim Merletti. Kelly and Wright, both frosh, were front runners Saturday. Merletti bobbled the off the field in the first half.

Tom Quinn, Ernie Jackson, and John Gasser comprised the secondary Saturday. Gasser has replaced the injured Kline at the beginning of drills. O’Brien may get another shot at defensive halfback. Kennedy appears to have won the left tackle job created when Reilly was out with a bad hamstring. Jeff Zimmerman’s groin injury kept him out of action and moved Ron Dushney into the starting backfield. Bob Gladieux has nailed down a halfback job and will run opposite Ed Ziegler or Frank Conzi. Ziegler has the inside track.

On defense, freshman Bob Nederst has moved to a tackle position with Bob Kreucherberg. Pat Mudron, another frosh, currently is beating out Eric Norri for a tackle slot alongside Mike McCoy.

Linebacking may be open up until the day of the opening game next fall. Bob Olson and Tony Copers seem secure, but the other two backers will come from a group which includes Tim Kelly, Jim Wright, Larry Schmader, John Lavo and Jim Merletti. Kelly and Wright, both frosh, were front runners Saturday. Merletti bobbled the off the field in the first half.

Tom Quinn, Ernie Jackson, and John Gasser comprised the secondary Saturday. Gasser has replaced the injured Kline at the beginning of drills. O’Brien may get another shot at defensive halfback. Kennedy appears to have won the left tackle job created when Reilly was out with a bad hamstring. Jeff Zimmerman’s groin injury kept him out of action and moved Ron Dushney into the starting backfield. Bob Gladieux has nailed down a halfback job and will run opposite Ed Ziegler or Frank Conzi. Ziegler has the inside track.

On defense, freshman Bob Nederst has moved to a tackle position with Bob Kreucherberg. Pat Mudron, another frosh, currently is beating out Eric Norri for a tackle slot alongside Mike McCoy.

Linebacking may be open up until the day of the opening game next fall. Bob Olson and Tony Copers seem secure, but the other two backers will come from a group which includes Tim Kelly, Jim Wright, Larry Schmader, John Lavo and Jim Merletti. Kelly and Wright, both frosh, were front runners Saturday. Merletti bobbled the off the field in the first half.

Tom Quinn, Ernie Jackson, and John Gasser comprised the secondary Saturday. Gasser has replaced the injured Kline at the beginning of drills. O’Brien may get another shot at defensive halfback. Kennedy appears to have won the left tackle job created when Reilly was out with a bad hamstring. Jeff Zimmerman’s groin injury kept him out of action and moved Ron Dushney into the starting backfield. Bob Gladieux has nailed down a halfback job and will run opposite Ed Ziegler or Frank Conzi. Ziegler has the inside track.

On defense, freshman Bob Nederst has moved to a tackle position with Bob Kreucherberg. Pat Mudron, another frosh, currently is beating out Eric Norri for a tackle slot alongside Mike McCoy.

Linebacking may be open up until the day of the opening game next fall. Bob Olson and Tony Copers seem secure, but the other two backers will come from a group which includes Tim Kelly, Jim Wright, Larry Schmader, John Lavo and Jim Merletti. Kelly and Wright, both frosh, were front runners Saturday. Merletti bobbled the off the field in the first half.

Tom Quinn, Ernie Jackson, and John Gasser comprised the secondary Saturday. Gasser has replaced the injured Kline at the beginning of drills. O’Brien may get another shot at defensive halfback. Kennedy appears to have won the left tackle job created when Reilly was out with a bad hamstring. Jeff Zimmerman’s groin injury kept him out of action and moved Ron Dushney into the starting backfield. Bob Gladieux has nailed down a halfback job and will run opposite Ed Ziegler or Frank Conzi. Ziegler has the inside track.

On defense, freshman Bob Nederst has moved to a tackle position with Bob Kreucherberg. Pat Mudron, another frosh, currently is beating out Eric Norri for a tackle slot alongside Mike McCoy.

Linebacking may be open up until the day of the opening game next fall. Bob Olson and Tony Copers seem secure, but the other two backers will come from a group which includes Tim Kelly, Jim Wright, Larry Schmader, John Lavo and Jim Merletti. Kelly and Wright, both frosh, were front runners Saturday. Merletti bobbled the off the field in the first half.

Tom Quinn, Ernie Jackson, and John Gasser comprised the secondary Saturday. Gasser has replaced the injured Kline at the beginning of drills. O’Brien may get another shot at defensive halfback. Kennedy appears to have won the left tackle job created when Reilly was out with a bad hamstring. Jeff Zimmerman’s groin injury kept him out of action and moved Ron Dushney into the starting backfield. Bob Gladieux has nailed down a halfback job and will run opposite Ed Ziegler or Frank Conzi. Ziegler has the inside track.

On defense, freshman Bob Nederst has moved to a tackle position with Bob Kreucherberg. Pat Mudron, another frosh, currently is beating out Eric Norri for a tackle slot alongside Mike McCoy.

Linebacking may be open up until the day of the opening game next fall. Bob Olson and Tony Copers seem secure, but the other two backers will come from a group which includes Tim Kelly, Jim Wright, Larry Schmader, John Lavo and Jim Merletti. Kelly and Wright, both frosh, were front runners Saturday. Merletti bobbled the off the field in the first half.

Tom Quinn, Ernie Jackson, and John Gasser comprised the secondary Saturday. Gasser has replaced the injured Kline at the beginning of drills. O’Brien may get another shot at defensive halfback. Kennedy appears to have won the left tackle job created when Reilly was out with a bad hamstring. Jeff Zimmerman’s groin injury kept him out of action and moved Ron Dushney into the starting backfield. Bob Gladieux has nailed down a halfback job and will run opposite Ed Ziegler or Frank Conzi. Ziegler has the inside track.