Young Rep's Draw 150

A crowd of more than 150, the largest political club turnout in three years, heard Young Republican leaders outline campaign plans for the coming year last night. The highlight of the two hour meeting came as GOP Congressional nominee State Sen. Will Erwin told the meeting "I believe we are in the process of a basic political realignment in this country. People are no longer accepting their basic political identification."

Erwin, given the best chance of any Republican challenger to U.S. Supreme John Brademas in recent years, termed the Democratic Congression committee's attack on Fortas' nomination to be chief justice of the United States, with no Senate Democrats.

The Senate began a filibuster that has agreed to the associate justice in this country the Democrats stretched their conscience to insult many divergent groups. The stretching grew to the point that the Democratic conscience exploded with an iron hand. However, we as Republicans will only gain support of people torn by club swinging riot police. The new dissension arose as top administrators and trustees will appeal for the normal functioning of the university prepared to appeal for the largest political club turnou; in the history of the college town.

Demand At Columbia

NEW YORK (UPI) - A Student Senate committee demanded on the eve of the fall term yesterday that Columbia University give its students the "exclusive" right to regulate their campus organizations.

The new dimension arose as top administrators and trustees of the university prepared to address the Columbia's 110,000 alumni on nationwide closed circuit television Wednesday night to appeal for $200 million in funds for the campus torn by bloody student police clashes last spring.

The executive committee of the Columbia Student Council demanded at a campus news conference that the university give the students the "exclusive" power to regulate their own organizations.

Counsel president Tomes Smith called for abolishment of the university's Student Organizations, CSO, which now has final authority over student activities. Smith is one of the two student members of the committee which also includes two faculty and two administration representatives.

Smith charged the administration was using the committee to control and already motivated students to restrict the normal functioning of student organizations hostile to it. He refused to have to face the consequences.

Ford Frees Congressmen

WASHINGTON (UPI) - House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford said yesterday that GOP congressmen elected from Wallace territory will be free to vote for George Wallace without incurring party penalties in the next election if the presidential election is thrown into the House of Representatives.

Ford made it plain that those Republican House candidates running in those areas favoring Wallace could withhold support for George Wallace, his party's nominee, their party's candidate, between now and election day without incurring party penalties in the next congress.

Caetano Replaces Salazar

LISBON (UPI) - Law Professor Marcelo Caetano has agreed to become Portugal's second prime minister in 36 years and will form his cabinet today after receiving military and civilian sources said last night.

Caetano will be sworn in tomorrow, the sources said.

The appointment of Caetano, 62, head of Lisbon University's law faculty, would end the long rule of Antonio Salazar, 79, who has ruled Portugal with an iron hand for 40 years as finance minister and premier. Salazar suffered a brain stroke Sept. 16.

Fortas Fillibuster

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Senate began a filibuster unprecedented in its history yesterday against Abe Fortas' nomination to be chief justice of the United States, with no sign when if ever it might come to a vote.

At the outset, Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield signaled perhaps the weakest link in the Fortas defense and remarked it was unprecedented in its history yesterday against Abe Fortas' nomination to be chief justice of the United States, with no Senate Democrats.

At the outset, Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield 'said he will be sworn in tomorrow, the sources said.

The appointment of Caetano, 62, head of Lisbon University's law faculty, would end the long rule of Antonio Salazar, 79, who has ruled Portugal with an iron hand for 40 years as finance minister and premier. Salazar suffered a brain stroke Sept. 16.

Caetano Replaces Salazar

LISBON (UPI) - Law Professor Marcelo Caetano has agreed to become Portugal's second prime minister in 36 years and will form his cabinet today after receiving military and civilian sources said last night.

Caetano will be sworn in tomorrow, the sources said.

The appointment of Caetano, 62, head of Lisbon University's law faculty, would end the long rule of Antonio Salazar, 79, who has ruled Portugal with an iron hand for 40 years as finance minister and premier. Salazar suffered a brain stroke Sept. 16.

Fortas Fillibuster

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Senate began a filibuster unprecedented in its history yesterday against Abe Fortas' nomination to be chief justice of the United States, with no sign when if ever it might come to a vote.

At the outset, Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield signaled perhaps the weakest link in the Fortas defense and remarked it was unprecedented in its history yesterday against Abe Fortas' nomination to be chief justice of the United States, with no Senate Democrats.

At the outset, Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield 'said he will be sworn in tomorrow, the sources said.

The appointment of Caetano, 62, head of Lisbon University's law faculty, would end the long rule of Antonio Salazar, 79, who has ruled Portugal with an iron hand for 40 years as finance minister and premier. Salazar suffered a brain stroke Sept. 16.

Caetano Replaces Salazar

LISBON (UPI) - Law Professor Marcelo Caetano has agreed to become Portugal's second prime minister in 36 years and will form his cabinet today after receiving military and civilian sources said last night.

Caetano will be sworn in tomorrow, the sources said.

The appointment of Caetano, 62, head of Lisbon University's law faculty, would end the long rule of Antonio Salazar, 79, who has ruled Portugal with an iron hand for 40 years as finance minister and premier. Salazar suffered a brain stroke Sept. 16.

Fortas Fillibuster

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Senate began a filibuster unprecedented in its history yesterday against Abe Fortas' nomination to be chief justice of the United States, with no sign when if ever it might come to a vote.

At the outset, Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield signaled perhaps the weakest link in the Fortas defense and remarked it was unprecedented in its history yesterday against Abe Fortas' nomination to be chief justice of the United States, with no Senate Democrats.

At the outset, Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield 'said he will be sworn in tomorrow, the sources said.

The appointment of Caetano, 62, head of Lisbon University's law faculty, would end the long rule of Antonio Salazar, 79, who has ruled Portugal with an iron hand for 40 years as finance minister and premier. Salazar suffered a brain stroke Sept. 16.

Caetano Replaces Salazar

LISBON (UPI) - Law Professor Marcelo Caetano has agreed to become Portugal's second prime minister in 36 years and will form his cabinet today after receiving military and civilian sources said last night.

Caetano will be sworn in tomorrow, the sources said.

The appointment of Caetano, 62, head of Lisbon University's law faculty, would end the long rule of Antonio Salazar, 79, who has ruled Portugal with an iron hand for 40 years as finance minister and premier. Salazar suffered a brain stroke Sept. 16.

Fortas Fillibuster

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Senate began a filibuster unprecedented in its history yesterday against Abe Fortas' nomination to be chief justice of the United States, with no sign when if ever it might come to a vote.

At the outset, Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield signaled perhaps the weakest link in the Fortas defense and remarked it was unprecedented in its history yesterday against Abe Fortas' nomination to be chief justice of the United States, with no Senate Democrats.

At the outset, Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield 'said he will be sworn in tomorrow, the sources said.

The appointment of Caetano, 62, head of Lisbon University's law faculty, would end the long rule of Antonio Salazar, 79, who has ruled Portugal with an iron hand for 40 years as finance minister and premier. Salazar suffered a brain stroke Sept. 16.

Caetano Replaces Salazar

LISBON (UPI) - Law Professor Marcelo Caetano has agreed to become Portugal's second prime minister in 36 years and will form his cabinet today after receiving military and civilian sources said last night.

Caetano will be sworn in tomorrow, the sources said.

The appointment of Caetano, 62, head of Lisbon University's law faculty, would end the long rule of Antonio Salazar, 79, who has ruled Portugal with an iron hand for 40 years as finance minister and premier. Salazar suffered a brain stroke Sept. 16.

Fortas Fillibuster

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Senate began a filibuster unprecedented in its history yesterday against Abe Fortas' nomination to be chief justice of the United States, with no sign when if ever it might come to a vote.

At the outset, Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield signaled perhaps the weakest link in the Fortas defense and remarked it was unprecedented in its history yesterday against Abe Fortas' nomination to be chief justice of the United States, with no Senate Democrats.

At the outset, Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield 'said he will be sworn in tomorrow, the sources said.

The appointment of Caetano, 62, head of Lisbon University's law faculty, would end the long rule of Antonio Salazar, 79, who has ruled Portugal with an iron hand for 40 years as finance minister and premier. Salazar suffered a brain stroke Sept. 16.

Caetano Replaces Salazar

LISBON (UPI) - Law Professor Marcelo Caetano has agreed to become Portugal's second prime minister in 36 years and will form his cabinet today after receiving military and civilian sources said last night.

Caetano will be sworn in tomorrow, the sources said.

The appointment of Caetano, 62, head of Lisbon University's law faculty, would end the long rule of Antonio Salazar, 79, who has ruled Portugal with an iron hand for 40 years as finance minister and premier. Salazar suffered a brain stroke Sept. 16.

Fortas Fillibuster

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Senate began a filibuster unprecedented in its history yesterday against Abe Fortas' nomination to be chief justice of the United States, with no sign when if ever it might come to a vote.

At the outset, Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield signaled perhaps the weakest link in the Fortas defense and remarked it was unprecedented in its history yesterday against Abe Fortas' nomination to be chief justice of the United States, with no Senate Democrats.

At the outset, Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield 'said he will be sworn in tomorrow, the sources said.

The appointment of Caetano, 62, head of Lisbon University's law faculty, would end the long rule of Antonio Salazar, 79, who has ruled Portugal with an iron hand for 40 years as finance minister and premier. Salazar suffered a brain stroke Sept. 16.
News In Brief

Ghost Returns
The notorious Ghost of Washington Hall was seen last night, along with the spirit of Notre Dame. In a prepared speech, written by his ghostwriter, the ghost promised to reappear this Sunday evening and give a rare live performance.

Mr. Trip Tix
Final ticket sales for the 1968 Senior Trip to the Southern Town will be held this evening in the basement of LaFortune Center. Only 17 tickets are still available. The total cost of the venture is still $819.

---

The Mail

Editor:
How an institution is to be run is a question that is debated endlessly. Only occasionally do we raise questions that strike the foundations of an organization. Questions such as: Who is running the institution? Who wants to run it? Who is going to run it? This is what the Notre Dame community is asking itself now, and we must determine the answer to that third question before we may proceed again with the question of how.

I believe that the answer to the question of "Who is going to run Notre Dame," lies in the proposed Student Life Council. Never before has there been such an opportunity for rapport among the administration, the faculty, and student body as there is with this council. There have been proposals demanding that students be included on the Board of Trustees. But if we are to maintain grandeur, we must give the Body President thinks that the odds will be bad (2-1) on the Student Life Council, what did anyone hope to gain by winning seats on the Board of Trustees or the Faculty Senate?

Now we have a chance to have "an effective voice in decisions which directly concern our lives on this campus." We have a council through which communication - if not understanding - can be maintained. I hope the student body will vigorously support this council, even of our peers. The conservative student government does not express much enthusiasm for it.

Sincerely,

Daniele P. Czarnedzi
302 Fisher

---

Purdue Pep Rally

9:00 P.M. Thursday
FARLEY COLLEGE

---

The Observer

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1968

---

The Mail

Editor:
How an institution is to be run is a question that is debated endlessly. Only occasionally do we raise questions that strike the foundations of an organization. Questions such as: Who is running the institution? Who wants to run it? Who is going to run it? This is what the Notre Dame community is asking itself now, and we must determine the answer to that third question before we may proceed again with the question of how.

I believe that the answer to the question of "Who is going to run Notre Dame," lies in the proposed Student Life Council. Never before has there been such an opportunity for rapport among the administration, the faculty, and student body as there is with this council. There have been proposals demanding that students be included on the Board of Trustees. But if we are to maintain grandeur, we must give the Body President thinks that the odds will be bad (2-1) on the Student Life Council, what did anyone hope to gain by winning seats on the Board of Trustees or the Faculty Senate?

Now we have a chance to have "an effective voice in decisions which directly concern our lives on this campus." We have a council through which communication - if not understanding - can be maintained. I hope the student body will vigorously support this council, even of our peers. The conservative student government does not express much enthusiasm for it.

Sincerely,

Daniele P. Czarnedzi
302 Fisher
Four New Student Judicial Boards Operating

BY DAVID FROMM

For the first time in Notre Dame history an organized judicial system run by the students has been established and is now in operation. The new program created five boards: the hall judicial boards, the campus judicial board, the tripartite board, and the off-campus board. "The main purpose of the new system," said Dave Ryan, chairman of the campus judicial board, "is to unify the hall boards in procedures.

"When you go before the board you should know what to expect. Thus, the whole idea of this situation is fairness to the student. We realize the system has faults, but are continually working on a more valid system."

Individual hall boards will be comprised of eleven members and will have jurisdiction over the violations of its residents occurring in the hall. The campus judicial board will have the responsibility of making sure that established court procedure is followed and that just and unbiased decisions are rendered by the hall boards. "This will bring about more uniformity," said Ryan. "In previous years one hall might impose a $5 fine for drinking in the dorm. Another might evict a student for the same violation."

The campus board will also try violations which do not come under the jurisdiction of the hall boards. It will be composed of 25-40 members including seniors, juniors, and sophomores.

Any student who feels that he has not received a just decision from either board may appeal the tripartite board. The board consists of one member from each of the hall systems, one from the faculty, and one from the student body, all of whom are appointed by the Student Life Council.

Fifteen to twenty seniors, juniors, and sophomores comprise the off-campus judicial board. Its administrative and court procedure is much the same as the campus judicial board.

Membership in any board, except the tripartite, is based upon academic and disciplinary standing and an interview conducted by the board. Students wishing to become members of a board must file an application with the respective board in the spring. At the same time a chairman and a trial secretary are elected by both new and old members for the next school year. A general secretary is also elected in the judicial and off-campus boards.

"Notices of violation appear in triplicate form. Any member of the university community may file one. One will be given to the defendant. "This informs the defendant of the exact charge and therefore gives him a chance to prepare his case," said Ryan. The student's reader will also receive a copy. The third will be sent to the dean of students so he can refer the case to the proper board unless the student prefers to be tried by him. Ryan said that 19 though hall boards were in existence last year Father Rohrbach had a file on only three of the cases.

Now And '72

The radicals find the entire present day American political system sickening and they are making it known that they do. The liberals, Kennedy and McCarthy supporters among them, are sick of Election Year '68. These young liberals might as well be classed with the quiet law-abiding citizens Richard Nixon calls his Silent Americans.

When Hubert Humphrey won in Chicago, the radicals and liberals lost. It is doubtful that Humphrey will continue winning. When he goes down he will drag with him good men. Erwin, O'Dwyer and Lowenstein in New York, Joe Clark in Pennsylvania, McGovern in South Dakota, and Brademas in Indiana. O'Dwyer and Lowenstein have not endorsed the Humph. The others have given him token endorsement. Nonetheless, all share the Democratic ticket with the Vice-President. They all will share in his defeat unless they receive split ticket votes or New Politics Party. If they do, what is left to be won will be lost in November.

McCarthy and Kennedy workers proved that creative student power does exist. With Los Angeles and Chicago in the past, nobody blames them for lacking enthusiasm at present. Gene McCarthy asked his ideas be carried through on state and local levels. If this is not done, if students sit and pout because they didn't get their way, then role in Politics '68 will deserve the often suggested epithet "A Children's Crusade."

South Bend Congressman John Brademas is in very real danger of defeat at the hands of Wil Erwin, the Happy Harasser. Brademas voted for McCarthy. He deserves student support for other reasons as well. Brademas, a former Rhodes Scholar, is an influential member of the House Education and Labor Committee. He has sponsored numerous education bills. He taught political science at Saint Mary's College in '57-58, and is a member of the Saint Mary's College Board of Trustees. Through Brademas, Saint Mary's got a government loan for the new classroom building and funding for the Upward Bound program initiated in South Bend this summer.

Brademas is not a McCarthy or a Kennedy, but he too has responded to the same concerns as students have. Farmer Wil Erwin has not.

Betty Doerr

Sheaffer's big deal gets you through 29 term papers, 3 book reports, 17 exams, 52 quizzes and 6 months of homework.

Sorry about that.

Sheaffer's big deal means you can write twice as long. Because you get the long-writing Sheaffer dollar ballpoint plus an extra long-writing 49¢ refill free. All for just a dollar.

How much do you think you can write?

The world's longest writing dollar ballpoint pen. SHEAFFER'

"more than door-bell ringers" being sought. "While we want to get as many active campaigners as possible for Mr. Nixon," he explained, "we're hoping that everyone who is in favor of Mr. Nixon and what he stands for will show that support by joining the organization."

The absence of membership dues helps to keep expenses down and what few costs there are are covered by voluntary contributions.

Upon completion of the trial the student will receive a copy of the trial recommendations. The dean of students will receive another.

The third will go to the campus judicial system for statistical purposes.

Nixon Men To Organize

At 7:00 tonight Notre Dame Students for Nixon will hold its first meeting of the school year in 121 Newsland Science Hall. According to Tom Thrasher, co-chairman of the campus Nixon group, this evening's meeting will be used to establish a membership list, find potential half co-ordinators, and discuss practical ways ND students can help in the drive to make Richard Nixon president.

The OBSERVER PAGE 3
The Irish Eye

By Terry O’Neil, sports editor

Sports Shorts

They’re lining up behind the Irish for Saturday’s clash with Purdue. Jimmy “The Greek” Snyder, Las Vegas Sun columnist and information source for all Vegas bookies, has ND by six points. Snyder was one of the few writers to make the Irish No. 1 in his pre-season pool.

United Press International, and Football News also are in the fold. UPI had ND on top of Purdue by 23 points.

In a poll of the entire Football Writers pool, Purdue gets all six first-place votes for an eight-point margin over Purdue. Star Football News staffer Harry Devoll also shows the Irish leading college grid standings in his separate pool.

The Associated Press, however, proving that everyone blows it at one time or another, rates the Boilermakers ahead of the Irish this week.

|
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>UNITED PRESS</th>
<th>ASSOCIATED PRESS</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1. Notre Dame (17) 321</td>
<td>1. Notre Dame (6) 60</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. Purdue (13) 293</td>
<td>2. Purdue 52</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4. Penn State (1) 258</td>
<td>4. Penn State 25</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5. UCLA 136</td>
<td>5. UCLA 23</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7. Alabama 85</td>
<td>7. Alabama 19</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8. Nebraska 81</td>
<td>8. Houston 15</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9. LSU 67</td>
<td>9. Nebraska 13</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

HARRY DEVOLL

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>NOTRE DAME</th>
<th>ASSOCIATED PRESS</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1. Notre Dame 107.2</td>
<td>1. Purdue 88</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. Houston 105.38</td>
<td>2. Notre Dame (19) 86</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3. UCLA 100.8</td>
<td>3. Southern Cal (4) 79</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4. Southern Cal 100.0</td>
<td>4. Penn State (1) 49</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5. Kansas (9) 98.6</td>
<td>5. Florida 32</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6. Texas 98.43</td>
<td>6. Texas 31</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7. Purdue 97.6</td>
<td>7. Alabama 30</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8. North Car. St. 96.9</td>
<td>8. UCLA 28</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9. Penn State 96.8</td>
<td>9. Nebraska 28</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10. Nebraska 95.5</td>
<td>10. Houston 23</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

All five Football News prognosticators see a home-team victory Saturday. Devoll has ND by seven, Roger Stanton by seven, "Mr. X." by one, Nick Curran by four and "Doc" by three.

Idle Thought No. 1: Since Joel Connelly recently has inflamed this newspaper’s sports readership and since Dan Jenkins of Sports Illustrated has been doing the same for many years, perhaps, at tomorrow’s pep rally, we could reenact the Pontiac Plate-Jesus Christ Barabas scene. Jenkins will be here to cover the game.

Ara could take the microphone and say to the masses, “It is an annual custom that every year on Purdue weekend we release one Jockish. Twenty seconds later, do the same with Jenkins, Mudron may see action if either control the ball has better hands, speed and moves. If we get behind and need some points, Criniti.

“Mr. X.”

6. Texas 98.43 6. Texas 98

8. Nebraska 81 7. Alabama 19

9. LSU 67 8. Houston 15

Here are four of the Purdue defenders who Saturday will try to stop what Boilermaker coach Jack Mollenkopf calls the best offense in the nation. They are linemen Chuck Kyle (top left) and Dennis Wigrowski (lower left) and backs Tim Foley (top right) and Don Webster (lower right).

Irish Offense Tops

Chicago UPI - Jack Mollenkopf painted a bleak picture Tuesday for his No. 2 ranked Purdue Boilermakers, who must play top rated Notre Dame Saturday.

"I don't think there's another college football team in the nation who can match our offense," Mollenkopf said on the telephone to the weekly football writers meeting.

"Their offensive line is blocking better than it was a year ago. They look more polished and I'm sure they are. Last week they ran out of 2 different offensive sets, and they can do anything out of them. So they were doing what they do best. It's difficult for college kids to recognize these things."

"Their defense is bigger than ours," he said, "and I know we're meeting a much stronger team than we did last year," when Purdue won 28-21.

"No team has got as large a number of outstanding players as they have. They say their defense may be a little bit bad. But we didn't have a chance to scout it, because they didn't have to use it much." Mollenkopf said he would use his backfield star, Leroy Keyes, on defense when needed, and anticipated he would rely on him as well for his usual running, passing and place kicking.

"I doubt if we can cover their pass receivers one on one," he said, "but I hope that Leroy can give it a fair shot. I don't think he can shut off Jim Seymour, but if Leroy can't, what are we going to do with the others in there?"

"We're going to do the best we can to prepare to defend against all the Notre Dame strengths."

Keyes, he said, would be the key as usual, but he didn't expect him to go 60 minutes.

"If he doesn't get the Heisman Trophy, they ought to blow it up, if he goes all the way against Notre Dame," Mollenkopf said.

Irish coach Ara Parseghian declared Keyes was "one of the most versatile players in the country," and said he had some fears himself about Purdue.

"They're a gifted ball club," he said, "with Keyes, Perry Williams, Mike Phipps, and others. I don't think we can overdefend them."

Lafayette, Ind. (UPI) - The Purdue football team will work out at the Notre Dame stadium Friday afternoon.

Coach Jack Mollenkopf said it would be the only time this season that his players will practice on a foreign field.

"We don't do this just because it is the Notre Dame game," he said, "but because it is the first game away from home. But it certainly helps to get the feel of the Notre Dame stadium before a crowd arrives."

Sophomore tackle Alex Davis of Hamilton, Ohio, will start on defense for the Boilermakers.

The 6 foot 6, 265 pounder did not start in Purdue's opener last Saturday against Virginia, but did play for 17 minutes.

Cano Parsakian, another sophomore, will also start on defense. He will replace two year letterman Dick Marvel as linebacker. Marvel was injured in last Saturday's game.