The Vietnam War and to disrupt the American political system.

The vote was short of the two thirds majority required to invoke the parliamentary device of closure which would bring up the nomination for a vote. He said he would wait thirty members of the student body, so I can only assume that some people simply don't know how to lose well.

Nau disputed the position of the petitioners that signatures from 25% of the student body are needed, claiming that the signatures of 25% of the electorate which chose the President are needed under the student body constitution. This presumably would make freshmen signatures invalid.

The petition itself begins with the words "We, the undersigned, hold that J. Richard Rossie has abrogated the trust placed in him by the student body. We hold that 'power politics' and 'guardhouse lawyering' are not the correct approaches to use in attempting to seek change, and that J. Richard Rossie, by his continuing adherence to these policies, has alienated the administration and faculty."

Rossie himself spent most of the evening at the home of History Professor Dr. James Silver, being unaware of the petition until told by Farley Hall President Mike McCauley. Rossie declined to comment on the document, but Vice President ended by more than 60% of the student body, so I can only assume that some people simply don't know how to lose well. Nau disputed the position of the petitioners that signatures from 25% of the student body are needed, claiming that the signatures of 25% of the electorate which chose the President are needed under the student body constitution. This presumably would make freshmen signatures invalid.

In his first press conference ever held exclusively for the campus media Vice President for Student Affairs Rev. Charles I. McCarragher, CSC, yesterday announced that the names of the administration representatives to the Student Life Council would probably be released Friday.

Fr. McCarragher was questioned in several other areas also, including on campus drinking for persons over 21, the Thurmond walkout, the new high-rise dorms, the Fieldhouse and the Rathskeller.

The selection of the six administration representatives is presently being conducted from a preliminary list of 30. Fr. McCarragher explained that 67 people were finally deemed as members of the administration including anyone working under the president or the various vice presidents, deans of the individual colleges, and all rectors and similar persons.

Letters were sent to those 67 requesting a reply if they were interested in becoming members of the SLC and if they could find the time. Thirty members were interested. As of yesterday morning Fr. McCarragher had received 57 of the 67 votes. After the winners have been contacted their names will be released.

He was questioned as to whether he believed the issue of drinking for persons over 21 would be brought before the SLC. "I myself am convinced the question will be brought up. I wouldn't oppose it unless other factors were brought up which would discourage it."

"Fr. Heeb had many hopes that the faculty club would be open to students over 21, but the faculty was not happy with the idea although a student may be invited in by a professor."

"I see no reason at all why we cannot permit it. We do have to do something with the old faculty club building. And in my opinion the Senior Bar is not working. Less than 200 cards were sold."

Fr. McCarragher expressed hope that the new prefect system would not be brought before the SLC for several months. He said it needed a chance to prove whether it can be successful or not. He added that it is too early to tell now. Fr. McCarragher was pleased with the procedure used by the proteins in the recent walkout on a speech by South Carolina Senator Strom Thurmond. "If one wants to protest, he should follow the guidelines in the student manual. The protestors did so in a very orderly manner. They registered with the Dean of Students and did not interfere with the proceedings," Fr. McCarragher said.

When questioned on the selection of students for the new high-rise dorms Fr. McCarragher said, "It is not absolutely clear what the selection procedure will be. He said however that undoubted students from such overcrowded halls as Morrissey, Cavanagh, Zahm, Dillon and Alumni will be moved to the new dorms. It is not clear whether off campus students will be moved on. It will be discussed when Fr. Heebah returns tomorrow," said Fr. McCarragher. Fr. McCarragher said nothing definite has been planned for the Fieldhouse as yet.
The Mail

Editor: Of course, the first Fr. Riehle was disturbed about drinking in the halls, girls in the rooms, and what some might consider the "arrogant" attitude of certain student representatives. Now, he has finally commented on the gross signs at the football games. I've been seeing the same sort of signs in the dorms from freshmen. I'm just a student-part of a small group of people who will only be on this campus a very limited amount of time.

Nevertheless, I do feel I've seen Fr. Riehle at least once a day the past two months explaining the administration's basically negative reaction to certain disturbing local phenomena. In fact he has always been uneasy about anything associated with the de-mythologize the university's "golden" image. And this uneasiness has always led to such typically negative reactions as the addition of sixty hall proctors, the tendency to take a legalistic approach to campus regulations, and a firm stand against any radicalism in student leadership. One can only presume that the next attempt to integrate the reality will be a ban on all student signs at the football games or, conceivably, the removal of all proclamations from the classrooms in O'Shaughnessy. Yet he must go on shaking his head and saying that what has gotten into the minds of certain "minority factions" on this campus. The facts are, there are probably more girls in the halls, more alcohol in the rooms, more automatic washers in the Notre Dame than ever before.

And now those embarrassing signs will be treated as a threat. The solution would be to build a giant wall around the entire universe, and then the possibility of embarrassing contact with the outside world) and the possibility of newspaper ads to convince everyone that they are really nonsense.

The Mail

Betty Doerr
The Russians Are Coming?

The news media has announced that this is the year for student rebellion. Activists are going to take a stand. The students for a Democratic Society are formed.

It is true that some students are attempting to set up a chapter of the Students for a Democratic Society on this campus. But it is not yet off the ground. If you are living in the administration building with the Student Activist of a Chapter, I am sure you are considering it.

Revolution is not the strategy. Action activist at Notre Dame. I've never seen so many liberal students, not campus activists. This seems to be the extent of student "radicalism" on Notre Dame campus.

If there is a Communist Plot to undermine the workings of this university, there is certainly no evidence of it. Folk hero Lenny Joyce, considered Notre Dame's first and biggest radical, made a major contribution to the body of work several years ago in his book on the Roman Catholic Church. People are making book on the number of Administration and ROTC buildings that will be burned. I hope no one is putting money on Notre Dame.

The purpose of the program is to provide delinquent and pre-delinquent youths of the South Bend area with the guidance and companionship of an older person. Many of them have been such companionship since they came into the program but there are still too many students. The students in the program work on a one to one basis with the boys.

The ultimate objective is to help the boy with his work in school, but merely spend some time with him in the sort of activity an older brother would.

Support for the program is growing in South Bend, and among people at Notre Dame. The student body is aware of the program and probably receive some guidance from the Police Department and Psychological Counseling Service.

Approximately forty Notre Dame students are presently in the program. The meeting tonight will include recruiting and some discussion of the background of the program. People who cannot attend the meeting tonight should contact John Garvey in 317 Holy Cross or call him at 3170.

Anti-War Group Meets Thursday

The Michiana Committee to End the War in Vietnam meets on Thursday, October 29, at 8 p.m. in the South Bend Public Library Auditorium to consider plans for the coming year.

Big Bros. To Meet

The Big Brother Program will hold its final meeting of the 1969-70 season at 7:00 p.m. in Room 278 of the Engineering Building.

The program is run in conjunction with the Catholic Social Service of South Bend and was started two years ago and activated last spring by Paul Ramsey.

The purpose of the program is to provide delinquent and pre-delinquent youths of the South Bend area with the guiding and companionship of an older person. Many of them have been such companionship since they came into the program but there are still too many students. The students in the program work on a one to one basis with the boys.

The ultimate objective is to help the boy in his work in school but merely spend some time with him in the sort of activity an older brother would.

Support for the program is growing in South Bend, and among people at Notre Dame. The student body is aware of the program and probably receive some guidance from the Police Department and Psychological Counseling Service.

Approximately forty Notre Dame students are presently in the program. The meeting tonight will include recruiting and some discussion of the background of the program. People who cannot attend the meeting tonight should contact John Garvey in 317 Holy Cross or call him at 3170.

The Observer is published daily by student publication of the University of Notre Dame. The views expressed do not necessarily reflect the views of the University or the Notre Dame Student Government. Subscription rates: Outside U.S. $10 from The Observer, Box 23, Notre Dame, Ind. Please make checks payable to Notre Dame. Subscriptions are non-refundable.
ASPI Seeks Majority in Senate Elections

The ASP will attempt to gain a majority control of the Student Senate tomorrow as 20 ASP members seek Senate and eight others have accepted the endorsement of the party.

In three halls the contents have already been settled. Stephen Ferrari is the only candidate from Sorin Hall and barring a write-in campaign should win easily. Joe Farajcic is also the only candidate from St. Joseph's, and Walsh Hall's two representatives will be Michael Comiskey and D. Trull.

In traditionally conservative Bren-Phillips Joe Brecher and Richard Hunter will carry the conservative flag while Terry Goodwin and Mike Brennanah have put forth liberal-campaigns for the hall's two seats.

Eight persons have filed for the two Senate positions in Cavannah including one ASP member. Farley Hall is generally considered to be a strong supporter of Student Body President Richard Rossie and hence the two ASP representatives are strong possibilities among six candidates.

Two ASP members are also

Thurin Assurnes

Publication Post

John P. Thurin, editor of Notre Dame's two principle magazines Alumnus and Insight, has been assigned additional executive duties under the title of Director of Publications. James W. Frick, vice president of public information and development, who announced the appointment, explained that Thurin will supervise the editing, design, and production of virtually all printed material turned out by the university. He will have no control over professional journals and student publications.

Thurin is a 1959 ND graduate, who joined the staff of Alumnus and Insight in 1963, and will running in Stanford while neighboring Keenan sports an ASP-endorsed possibility. It is difficult to analyze Zahn and its four candidates.

On the main quad Lyons Hall was the site of the first ASP primary in the history of the school. ASP Chafta Pete Kelly lost to two other party members, Thomas Payne, a contributing editor of the Scholastic and John Koch. John Rank is expected to be the strongest of the other three candidates to challenge for the position.

Two more ASP members have registered to run for the two Merrin Hall seats along with two other students. Likewise Howard has two representatives running for positions. Badin's one seat is being vied for by Scott Renneau and freshman Bob Howley.

Seven students have filed for the two Alumni hall seats including incumbent Bob Campbell. Alumni promises to have a brilliant fight.

Ten students, the largest number from any hall, were running for positions in Dillon, which offers three spots. Dillon is unique in that each of the three floors elects a senator.

ASPI-endorsed candidates are running on both the third and second floors which sport four candidates each.

Robert Arnot, the Fisher ASP candidate, opposes Jim Lehner for the single Fisher Hall seat. Jim Scherer is running for re-election in Pangborn with three others.

James Mancini and Eric Sandeen are running in St. Edward's Hall for the one seat the hall has. Carrol also has two candidates for the spot, Dooley, Diefenbach and John Nichols.

Four are campaigning for Holy Cross Hall's single seat including conservative incumbent Mike Mead. Chief opposition is expected to come from ASP candidate Mark Dellamano. Fred Clemen and James Geagan are also in the race.

Off campus, home of the ASP, may be in for some changes this year. A group of three students, calling themselves the Off Campus Independents have banded together and are running more or less as a slate. They include Brian Schmidlin, James Schwartz and B. Brian Moore.

Patrick Sullivan is running by himself and the other five candidates are all ASP, Pat Barbolla, Larry Klickum, Rick McDonough, Armand J. Gellinas and Sam Boyle.

New Left Security Problem?

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The FBI said yesterday the new left movement— which draws supporters from beatniks, hippies, disenchanted intellectuals and some "overage" students still on campus—has mushroomed into a major security problem.

Some of its adherents are "talking about sabotage, violence and the forcible destruction of certain key facilities," the FBI said in its annual report for the fiscal year ended last June 30.

It found the year to be "one of great challenge and accomplishment... in spite of severe burdens arising from the increasing onslaught of crime and uncontrollable acts of hate that spewed waves of violence throughout the nation."

More than 13,000 convictions were recorded during the year, including 281 "hoodlum vice figures," the FBI said.

If you've got the girl, I've got the diamond! Call Paul 234-3351

Open!

DIAMONDS in fashion forever

"The SDS has been the striking arm of student rebellions, such as at Columbia University in New York City," it said.

Watson To Speak

Dr. James R. Watson, a Nobel Prize winning biologist and author of several books on genetic research will speak tonight in the Library Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. His topic is Replication of the RNA Virus.

Student Senate Elections

Tomorrow, Thursday, Oct. 3

Elections will be held in the hall from 11:30 am to 1:00 pm and 5:30 am to 7:30 pm

Off-campus students vote in the off-campus office, basement of LaFortune Student Center, from 9:00 am to 7:00 pm.
St. Louis 8-5 Over Detroit in Opener

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Smart money rode with baseball know how today in rating the St. Louis Cardinals an 8 to 10 choice not only for the World Series, but also for Wednesday’s opening game matching Bob Gibson against Denny McLain. In making the odds, the speculators ignored McLain’s 3-16 won-lost record in favor of the 11-2 earned run average posted for the season by Gibson, the big right hander of the Cardinals who won 22 games and lost nine.

The “know how” has to ride with Gibson. He’s been a steady star and only a year ago was rated the most valuable player in the World Series, when he won three games and ran his streak of complete game victories in the series to five, tying a record. Gibson is also the only man to win the seventh game of two different World Series.

If he can beat McLain, he’ll have the Cardinals off and winging toward a second consecutive world championship. If the Redbirds succeed, it would be the first time since John McGraw’s Giants more than 40 years ago that any National League team has won back to back Series.

Speculators, though, might be ignoring McLain’s mark at their own risk. The cocky McLain has his team as hot as it could be, losing only twice this season away from the small confines of Tiger Stadium and the Cardinals’ Busch Stadium may just be the answer for him to beat.

The Tigers boast a far better slugging record than the Cardinals, 183 home runs to 73, but the ballpark can only help in their home park. Still, they should be able to match the St. Louis slugging in Busch Stadium, despite a .235 team batting average compared to .249 for St. Louis.

Busch Stadium will not be a new experience for McLain since he pitched for the Tigers in the 1961 All Star game and had no trouble in getting through three scoreless innings in last year’s World Series when the best hitters the National League could offer.

The Cardinal power in the lineup may be nullified somewhat by McLain’s experience and the power which make him the first pitcher since 1934 to win 31 games and the first in the American League with that total since Lefty Grove in 1931. McLain has an earned run average of 1.96.

Saturday’s game could be the first of possibly three classic confrontations between McFadden and Gibson, the Cardinals’ right hander and the best hitter the National League could offer.

Thus the Cardinal power in the lineup may be nullified somewhat by McLain’s experience and the power which make him the first pitcher since 1934 to win 31 games and the first in the American League with that total since Lefty Grove in 1931. McLain has an earned run average of 1.96.

The Cardinals’ batting order could be the first of possibly three classic confrontations between McFadden and Gibson, the Cardinals’ right hander and the best hitter the National League could offer.

The Tigers boast a far better slugging record than the Cardinals, 183 home runs to 73, but the ballpark can only help in their home park. Still, they should be able to match the St. Louis slugging in Busch Stadium, despite a .235 team batting average compared to .249 for St. Louis.

Busch Stadium will not be a new experience for McLain since he pitched for the Tigers in the 1961 All Star game and had no trouble in getting through three scoreless innings in last year’s World Series when the best hitters the National League could offer.

The Cardinal power in the lineup may be nullified somewhat by McLain’s experience and the power which make him the first pitcher since 1934 to win 31 games and the first in the American League with that total since Lefty Grove in 1931. McLain has an earned run average of 1.96.

Saturday’s game could be the first of possibly three classic confrontations between McFadden and Gibson, the Cardinals’ right hander and the best hitter the National League could offer.

Thus the Cardinal power in the lineup may be nullified somewhat by McLain’s experience and the power which make him the first pitcher since 1934 to win 31 games and the first in the American League with that total since Lefty Grove in 1931. McLain has an earned run average of 1.96.

The Cardinals’ batting order could be the first of possibly three classic confrontations between McFadden and Gibson, the Cardinals’ right hander and the best hitter the National League could offer.

The Tigers boast a far better slugging record than the Cardinals, 183 home runs to 73, but the ballpark can only help in their home park. Still, they should be able to match the St. Louis slugging in Busch Stadium, despite a .235 team batting average compared to .249 for St. Louis.

Busch Stadium will not be a new experience for McLain since he pitched for the Tigers in the 1961 All Star game and had no trouble in getting through three scoreless innings in last year’s World Series when the best hitters the National League could offer.

The Cardinal power in the lineup may be nullified somewhat by McLain’s experience and the power which make him the first pitcher since 1934 to win 31 games and the first in the American League with that total since Lefty Grove in 1931. McLain has an earned run average of 1.96.