WASHINGTON (UPI)—President elect Richard M. Nixon recently feelings positive reactions to Republican congressional leaders yesterday before announcing them to the nation. Former Arty, Gen. William P. Rogers and Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin got the top post of secretaries of state and defense.

Before his 10 p.m. EST nationwide radio and TV broadcast, Nixon told a New York news conference he had picked for his cabinet men who are going to have a cabinet which will be basically yes men.”

Besides Rogers and Laird, congressional sources said Nixon made these selections:

Secretary—Treasury—David M. Kennedy, 63, chairman of the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Co. of Chicago and member of the Federal Reserve System’s board of governors from 1930 to 1946.

Attorney general John N. Mitchell, 55, Nixon’s New York City law partner who arranged his presidential campaign.

Secretary of health, education and welfare—Robert H. Finch, 43, lieutenant governor of California. Nixon’s administrative assistant who was in the vice president and a director of Nixon’s unsuccessful 1960 presidential campaign.

Secretary of housing and urban development—Michigan Gov. George Romney, 61, who failed in his bid for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination.

Secretary of labor—George P. Shultz, 48, dean of the Graduate School of Business at the University of Chicago, who was a Labor Department consultant in 1959-60 and who was a consultant of the President’s Advisory Committee on Labor Management in 1961-62.

Secretary of commerce—Massachusetts Gov. John A. Volpe, 60, who made a fortune in the contracting business.

Secretary of interior—Alaska Gov. Walter J. Hickel, 49, a businessman from Anchorage.

Secretary of commerce—Maurice Stans, 60, New York investment banker and former budget director in the Eisenhower administration.

Secretary of agriculture—Clifford M. Hardin, 53, chancellor of the University of Nebraska since 1967 and former dean of agriculture of Michigan State College. He was a U.S. delegate to the International Conference on Agriculture at London in 1947.

Postmaster general—Winston M. Blount, 47, a building contractor from Montgomery, Ala., and president of the Continental Illinois National Bank.

At his morning meeting with reporters, Nixon announced his appointment of Robert Mayo, 52, as director of the Budget Bureau. He formerly was an assistant director in the Treasury Department and is now a vice president of Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Co. of Chicago.

Nixon’s hood to the nation was the first time in modern history that a president elect had named all his cabinet members simultaneously. Usually they have been named one or two at a time between elections and Inauguration Day.

Rossie, Rembusch Clash

A hassle developed yesterday between Student Body President Richard Rossie and Student Union President Richard Rembusch over a $60 check written to cover a car rental during last month’s Georgia Tech weekend.

Rembusch refused to sign the check which paid the transportation for four Student Union representatives and two St. Mary’s Student Government officials to a leadership conference held in Angola, Ind., Nov. 15-17.

Rembusch, however, said that Rossie was perfumed because the trip to the conference was made without his knowledge.

Rembusch said that Rossie said he would sign the check to the Avis company if “I would sign a written statement to the effect that they because they spend money we are obliged to pay it. The expenditure was not in Rick’s or our budgets,” Rossie said.

The Student Body President said yesterday, “There was no one official of the student body and when people represent the student body they are authorized either by the Student Body President or by the Student Senate or by direct popular vote.”

Rembusch said that Union officials are working on a petition to present to the Student Senate for a constitutional revision which would directly unionize the Unions from the Student Government.

Rossie said that he doubted that such a petition would pass.

If the check is signed by Rossie, Rembusch said that several Union members would pay the bill from their pockets. “To say the Student Union is separate from Student Government is like saying the state department is separate from the national government,” he said.

All Union monies come from the Student Government General Fund and all checks must be signed by Rossie, Student Government Treasurer Richard Roderick and Richard Roderick and Richard Roderick and Richard Roderick, vice president for Student Affairs.

Rev. Charles J. McCarragher, CSC, Roderick signed the check and McCarrragher’s signature is virtually automatic.

According to Wade, Rembusch may sign Union check instead of Rossie, although he has never done so in the past.

The Student Body President vehemently disagreed with Wade. “Wade is incorrect. 1967 Student Union President Browning never signed a check and was never authorized to sign a check. It’s absurd,” he said.

Rembusch explained the leadership conference. It was first held last year and former Student Union President Michael Browning sent four representatives. The Humble Oil Company underwrites the weekend with the exception of transportation costs. Rembusch said the students were housed at the Pottawattamie Inn in Angola, Ind. He added that Rembusch

N. Vleis To Consider Deascillation

PARIS (UPI)—Hanoi’s chief spokesman in Paris said Wednesday that North Vietnam is prepared to discuss the withdrawal of troops from South Vietnam as soon as the expanded Paris negotiations get underway.

Spokesman Nguyen Thanh Le was commenting on Tuesday’s Washington statement by Defense Secretary Clark M. Clifford that the United States and North Vietnam could start withdrawing their troops within 40 days, or before President Johnson leaves office.

“The Americans will be able to raise this and any other question,” Le said the issue of withdrawal of troops from South Vietnam had not been discussed so far in U.S. North Vietnamese talks seeking to set up procedural rules that would permit the long delayed conference to begin.

North Vietnam has never even admitted it has troops fighting in South Vietnam and some observers believed the statement of readiness to discuss Clifford’s suggestions might mean Hanoi merely was ready to discuss the pullout of U.S. troops.

North Vietnam, however, was believed to have withdrawn some troops from the South as a goodwill gesture following the U.S. bombing halt Nov. 1. But this has never been officially confirmed.

The North Vietnamese spokesman coupled his statement with a new blast at the United States, claiming the U.S. Air Force has repeatedly violated President Johnson’s bombing halt order in case that both reconnaissance flights and bombing attacks on the North.

Le claimed that between Nov. 2 and this Monday, the Air Force carried our 600 reconnaissance flights. He also charged that U.S. artillery smith’s of the Demilitarized Zone has been shelling North Vietnamese territory.

N. Vleis To Consider Deascillation

PARIS (UPI)—Hanoi’s chief spokesman in Paris said Wednesday that North Vietnam is prepared to discuss the withdrawal of troops from South Vietnam as soon as the expanded Paris negotiations get underway.

Spokesman Nguyen Thanh Le was commenting on Tuesday’s Washington statement by Defense Secretary Clark M. Clifford that the United States and North Vietnam could start withdrawing their troops within 40 days, or before President Johnson leaves office.

“The Americans will be able to raise this and any other question,” Le said the issue of withdrawal of troops from South Vietnam had not been discussed so far in U.S. North Vietnamese talks seeking to set up procedural rules that would permit the long delayed conference to begin.

North Vietnam has never even admitted it has troops fighting in South Vietnam and some observers believed the statement of readiness to discuss Clifford’s suggestions might mean Hanoi merely was ready to discuss the pullout of U.S. troops.

North Vietnam, however, was believed to have withdrawn some troops from the South as a goodwill gesture following the U.S. bombing halt Nov. 1. But this has never been officially confirmed.

The North Vietnamese spokesman coupled his statement with a new blast at the United States, claiming the U.S. Air Force has repeatedly violated President Johnson’s bombing halt order in case that both reconnaissance flights and bombing attacks on the North.

Le claimed that between Nov. 2 and this Monday, the Air Force carried our 600 reconnaissance flights. He also charged that U.S. artillery smith’s of the Demilitarized Zone has been shelling North Vietnamese territory.
Arts Festival Sets Schedule

The Chicago Symphony will perform on February 7, 1969 in Notre Dame’s newly-famed Athletic and Convocation Center as an advance opening for this year’s Contemporary Arts Festival. The event will mark the first time in 20 years that the orchestra has ventured in the South Bend area. Irwin Hoffman will be conducting; the orchestra’s program will include pieces by 20th Century composers.

The Festival itself this year organized by J. Patrick Dowdall, will take place the week of April 17-27 and will cover a wide spectrum of current art and media. Already scheduled for showings are:

- Jean Genet’s The Blacks: A Clown Show—a highly symbolic drama probing pretension and injustice. It is a powerful and often brutal play. First presented in Paris in 1959, it has brought international recognition to Genet, who is considered one of the greatest French writers living today. The cast is all black.

- An electric, delightful dance program featuring Don Redlich, accompanied by Gladys Bailin. Redlich is a young avant-garde type, employing film montages and mixed media techniques to create an entrancing effect. He has been accorded high acclaim in New York art circles.

- A chamber concert by a highly innovative and talented group of musicians, the Creative Associates, performing out of the State University of New York at Buffalo. Leader Lukas Foss is a noted professional composer and conductor, currently pursuing unusual sounds and styles in music. The Creative Associates are more an experimental workshop than a touring group, and their visit to ND marks a rare performance. The program given here will be repeated in New York’s Carnegie Hall sometime next May.

- An experience in poetry with James Dickey. Dickey’s verse, both lyric and narrative, concerns itself with aspects of life much more familiar to modern man than the poetry of someone like Allen Ginsberg. Other poets of less conventional expression have also been invited—Paul Carroll, Michael Yearns, and Charles Olson. A piano concert by Mrs. Emma Kountz, formerly of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra. A highly accomplished artist, Mrs. Kountz also performed at St. Mary’s last year.

Father Patrick Maloney, of Notre Dame fame, will sing and croon through a medley of 20th Century songs. Maloney teaches music and directs the Notre Dame choir; he has performed in campus productions and coffeehouses on many occasions.

An art show, featuring a cross-section of recent trends and developments. The show will include light, sound, and other mixed displays (even participational forms), as well as traditional sculpture and painting, and will be held in the Art Gallery under the supervision of Leo Castelli, New York art-dealer.

BERMUDA ’69

Sign up NOW thru Christmas for the Met Club trip.

Make your $50 deposit in either 459 or 229 Zahm

Student Directories

for Off-Campus Students

Off-Campus Office Today

"I know the way home with my eyes closed."

Then you know the way too well.

Because driving an old familiar route can make you dizzy, even when you’re rested.

When that happens, pull over, take a break and take two NoDoz® Action Aids." They’ll help you drive home with your eyes open.

NoDoz® Action Aids. No car should be without them.
“The Watch”

A seventy-five to one hundred page teacher and course evaluation booklet, being published by the Scholaric in-cooperation with the Notre Dame Academic Affairs Commission and the St. Mary’s Academic Commission, is now slated to appear on January 7, the day after Christmas vacation and the day before second semester pre-registration.

William Cullen, David Toolan, Brian Connelly, and Pam Carey are the principal coordinators for the booklet, which has involved the participation of some 300 Notre Dame and St. Mary’s students.

The booklet covers all of the elective and required courses in the liberal arts colleges of Notre Dame and St. Mary’s Full information on content of the courses, required texts, basis for grading, and average final grade will be provided, along with a critical appraisal of the course and the teacher. Also included in the booklet will be thirty to thirty-five questions outstanding professors in the various departments.

An Interesting Store
For Your Christmas Shopping Problems

Mans-Rintzsch
Luggage Shop

Michigan at Golfax

1. You sure are my kind of Folksinger, Fran.

“Ooh, a lonely mistrel I’m meant to be…”

2. Think maybe you and me could, uh, possibly…

“A singin’ my song to humanity…”

3. I’ve always admired you.

“Forever to roam is my destiny…”

4. And I was hoping that perhaps, somehow, the feeling might be mutual.

“Without any need for company…”

5. But I guess you’re just too wrapped up with your music.

“Alone, yes, alone constantly…”

6. It could have been beautiful, because I just got one of the great jobs Equitable is offering college people these days. Real good pay, challenging work, and promotions that come as fast as I can earn them.

Like to hear my version of “Lead Me Down the Aisle, Lyle?”

For details about careers at Equitable, see your Placement Officer, or write: Lionel M. Stevens, Manager, College Employment.
Irish Squeak Past Wisconsin, 57-56

By MIKE PAVLIN

John Powerless may be in his first year as head basketball coach at the University of Wisconsin, but he really comes off as pretty much of a genius. After all, he is his belligerent Badgers just about upset the seventh-ranked team in the country. And Powerless engineered his near thing the hard way.

He came into the brand new Convoy Center last night before thousands of shrieking students. His team came in 16-1 and shot a miserable .312, and compounded that by losing the rebound battle 43-34.

So how did the Badgers play the Irish off their feet for 10:50 frantic moments? First they used a balanced scoring attack which came right at you like a Cape Kennedy count-down: 15-13-12-10-6. Then they refused to deviate from a disciplined offense which kept the score down, but then in the lead. And of course the Irish contributed by shooting only slightly worse, .379.

Finally, Wisconsin had Clarence Sherrod. A skinny sharpshooter, Sherrod had 13 points and broke the ball up against ND's pressure defense. He also persisted in planting his ankles as if he was holding down the boards and refusing to leave until he had collected 6 rebounds. That figure was high for the game; not bad for a 6-1 guard.

The Irish put down the upstarts from Madison with a sophomore of their own. Austin Carr took the second half under his wing and poured in 16 of his 22 points during the second half on fielded goals, ranging from the 20-foot mark to close inside. And just to keep the Badgers honest, he stole two passes to break up their last quarter stall offense.

Johnny Dee's bunch prevailed in the end 57-56, with some clutch play from guard Tom Sinnott. Tom almost got himself an invitation to spend Christmas back home in Elizabeth, NJ - and never come back.

After the Irish had fought their way from an 18-6 deficit to lead 54-52, Sinnott gave the ball away to Sherrod. Clarence coolly converted both ends of Tom's ensuing one-on-one foul to tie up the contest.

James Johnson and Carr traded buckets, then a foul by Sherrod put Sinnott on the line with :10 left. The Badgers had held closely controlled but four second half fouls, leaving Tom with only one free throw. Sinnott did not err, and Sinnott was final 57-56 margin, then hounded Johnson into giving the ball away to Collin Jones in the waning seconds.

Notre Dame survived the absence of captain Bob Arzeno, out with an injured Achilles tendon, and had ample replacement with 13 points and 14 rebounds, both figures higher than Arzeno's season averages.

The Irish take off for St. Louis to battle the Billikens on Saturday. Over the vacation, hosts Minnesota, Indiana and St. Peter's, while hitting the road at Kentucky and American University (Baltimore).

In a preliminary contest, Notre Dame's freshman team dumped Northeast Illinois State 84-73. Doug Gemmell, 6-3 from Newark, NJ, pointed 21 points to pace the Irish.

Irish center Bob Whitmore cracks a jumper during last night's victory over Wisconsin.

6 NFL Officials Barred

NEW YORK (UPI) -- Six football officials who deprived the Los Angeles Rams of a touchdown in the last minute of a crucial National Football League game with the Chicago Bears Sunday have been told they will sit out the one remaining week of the season-plus any post-season games.

Pro football commissioner Pete Rozelle barred the six from further action in a statement Monday that said "officials erred in not permitting Los Angeles one more down near the end of the game."

Chicago won, 17-16, keeping its hopes for a Central Division title alive and eliminating the Rams from playoff contention in the Coastal Division.

A penalty against Los Angeles on the first down of its final series nullified an incomplete pass play. Following three additional incomplete passes, Rozelle said, "the ball was turned over to Chicago, thus depriving Los Angeles of a fourth down play to which it was entitled."

Rams coach George Allen viewed films of the game in Los Angeles Monday and agreed his team should have gotten another down, but he had nothing to say for publication. Public criticism of game officials is against NFL rules, and Washington coach Otto Graham recently was fined $2,500 by Rozelle for saying "the officials stole the game from us."

Los Angeles was on its own 47 yard line, with five seconds left in the game, when the ball was given to Chicago after the penalty and three incomplete passes. It had 31 yards to go for a first down but could have won one more chance to throw a "bomb" or attempt a field goal, which would have come from some 60 yards away.

Irish Box Score

Notre Dame

FGM & FGA FT% FTM T% R A P F P T

Jones 6 14 6 1 3 .286 0 0 0 6 3 33
Collist 4 11 4 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 3 13
Collins 2 4 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 3
Sinnott 2 2 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 3
Hinkle 3 6 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0
Hinkle 2 1 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Total 25 66 7 1 4 133 0 0 0 1 32

WISCONSIN

FGM & FGA FT% FTM T% R A P F P T

Notre Dame

Finales 9 18 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 2
Collist 3 11 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 2
Collins 2 4 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Sinnott 2 2 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 3
Hinkle 1 1 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Hinkle 1 1 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Total 10 25 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 2

Percentages FG% 1st Half 39% Game 38% Shots Made 43 Fts: 1st Half 34% Game 37% Team Record 9
Percentages FG% 1st Half 28% Game 28% Shots Made 49 Fts: 1st Half 27% Game 26% Team Record 6

Sports Parade

By Mitl Richaud, UPI columnist

Movie Star's Stand-In

NEW YORK (UPI) -- Jim Brown is well and soaking up plenty of sun in Acapulco.

At least he was only a few days ago. Jim Brown is a big movie star now and he was in Acapulco for the annual International Film Festival they hold down there.

It seems like only yesterday that Brown was burning up the NFL with the Cleveland Browns. Actually it was three years back that Brown was dominating all pro football. He was easily the best around. By far.

When he quit, Blanton Collier, the Cleveland coach, didn't kid himself or anybody else.

"I don't expect to replace him," he said about Brown.

"Runners like him come along once in a lifetime."

Collier was right. He couldn't reasonably expect to find another ball player as good as Brown. Not in a hundred years.

Well, all it took was one year and maybe 26-year-old Leroy Kelly isn't as good as Jim Brown was right now, but you'd be surprised how many sound judges of football talent think he has a chance some day to be even better.

"At least this guy blocks," cracked one of those judges. Kelly does any number of other things also.

He hits. Not just once or twice but three and four times on the same play. He has a different style of running than Brown had although he gets essentially the same results.

Once you see Kelly in action, you never forget him. He is somewhat reminiscent of handsome Henry Armstrong, the ex-boxer turned small-fry headliner. Once Kelly does any number of other things also.

As the league's leading scorer and leading ground gainer and added to those distinctions in a 24-21 victory by picking up 99 more yards plus another touchdown.

He now has a total of 1,172 yards and 19 touchdowns for the season and is a cinch to eclipse his 1,205 yard total of last year with which he also led the league.

With a runner like Kelly, the Browns discover he also helps their passing attack. Bill Nelsen, Cleveland's fine quarterback, knows the opposition keeps watching Kelly like a hawk.

So Nelsen plays it foxy. He purposely holds the Browns in the huddle longer than is customary and certainly long enough to give the enemy the idea a pass play is coming up. Nelsen then runs Kelly with the ball and you'd be amazed how often that worked out successfully for Cleveland this year.

Kelly is a native Philadelphian who earned four letters at Morgan State and was recommended to the Browns by Buddy Young. The Browns drafted him eighth in 1964 and last winter they did something with him they never did with Jim Brown. They signed him to a four-year contract, longest in their history.

Leroy's younger brother Pat was a promising outfielder in the Minnesota Twins' organization but they neglected to protect him in October's expansion draft and sure enough they lost him.

They turned over to him, "Don't expect to replace him," he said about Brown.

"Runners like him come along once in a lifetime."

Thurs, Dec. 12, 1968