World leaders mourn Eisenhower's death

TMH telegrams Ike's end
Father Theodore M. Hesburgh sent a telegram to Mrs. Dwight David Eisenhower expressing his sympathy over the death of her husband. General Eisenhower visited here in 1952 and 1960, and he participated in a Notre Dame sponsored event of the battle of Gettysburg in 1963.

TURNOVER (UPI) Eisenhower's body will be in state until today when it will be returned to Washington National Cathedral for funeral services. Burial will be in Abilene, Kan., Wednesday. A funeral train will pass through South Bend en route to the boyhood home.

A people's homage to a dead hero began Saturday at the Cathedral as an estimated 60,000 passed by his casket in a chapel to pay their last farewells.

WASHINGTON (UPI) Eisenhower's body will be in state until today when it will be returned to Washington National Cathedral for funeral services. Burial will be in Abilene, Kan. Wednesday. A funeral train will pass through South Bend en route to the boyhood home.

The casket was gently carried up the steps by the Honor Guard and placed in the Rotunda where every sound was amplified by echoes from the vaulted ceiling. Then after a breathless pause of respect, Nixon stepped from behind the coffin and spoke of the man he had served as vice president.

During his eulogy in the Rotunda of the Capitol, President Nixon said that he knew Mr. Eisenhower would permit him to share the words of his husband on the day he died.

Eisenhower in his last hours said:

"I've always loved my wife; I've always loved my children; I've always loved my grandchildren, and always loved my country."

His 72 year old widow stood in forlorn silence, clinging to the arm of her son, John, as hundreds in the Rotunda somberly listened to Nixon praise the general as "one of the giants of our times."

Mrs. Eisenhower hit her lip, blinking back the tears as the pall bearers in measured paces placed the flag draped casket in position.

"He came from the heart of America, and he gave expression to the heart of America and to the heart of the world."

"He remained to his final days the world's most admired and respected man, truly the first citizen of the world," said Nixon.

When the rotunda ceremonies were over, after Nixon had laid a wreath, the great vaulted ceremonial hall under the Capitol dome was opened to the public. Visitors filed past the casket on a black velvet draped catafalque first laid for Abraham Lincoln at the rate of 70 persons a minute.

Turnbull elected St. Mary's SBP
by Anne Conway
Susan Turnbull was elected Student Body President by a margin of sixty votes over her opponent, Barbara Curbin.

The final vote was 278 for Turnbull and 217 for Curbin, with 7 abstentions, and 42% of the student body voting.

The uncrowned candidates for the offices of Student Vice President, Academic Affairs Commissioner and Student Representative to the Student Affairs Council were Beth Driscoll received 393 yes votes, no votes and 39 abstentions for the Vice Presidency. Pam Carey running for Academic Affairs Commissioner received 423 yes votes, 25 no votes, and 54 abstentions. Karen Weber received 445 yes votes, 19 no votes, and 54 abstentions for her seat on the Student Affairs Council.

The Ambrusko, the present Student Body President, stated that "I have every confidence in Susan's ability to be Student Body President in the coming year. I was, however, very disappointed in the voting turnout. For me it's hard to understand, especially knowing how much influence Susan Mary's students could have next year."

Miss Turnbull enter the campus May 1. Until that time she will maintain herself with the various offices and duties of the Student Body President.

We are planning to get a lot of people involved in Community Government who have not had a part in it before. Most of my campaign was run by 'non-government' people and I'd like to see them continue working for me," one of Miss Turnbull's first duties will be to set up a Review Board to interview and fill the forty or fifty appointed positions in the Student Government.

Miss Turnbull plans to get together with her Vice-President, Beth Driscoll, soon after Easter to discuss plans for their coming year in office.

Barb Curbin, the other candidate for Student Body, plans to stay in student government, but has as yet no definite plans as to what she will do in the government.

Miss Curbin commented that she "will continue in her position of having to deal with the very obvious and thrust upon you what you choose to do."

Nixon praised the man he served as vice president.

Ryan and Kelly appointed

Student Body President elect Phil McKenna announced last night the appointments of Bernie Ryan as Off-Campus Commissioner and Pete Kelly as community Relations Director.

McKenna explained that he chose Ryan because he knows off-campus people, is very energetic, and an extremely hard worker, as he proved in the campaign. He also stated that his choice of Kelly was based on the fact that "he's working in community relations now. He's a worker, as he proved in the campaign."

Outlining his plans for the coming year, Ryan stated that he thinks "No one has the right to dictate where the student can live." He stated disapproval with the recent statement on off-campus housing by Dean of Students Fr. James Reische and plans to discuss matters concerning off-campus housing with Fr. Reische in the near future. Another major concern of Ryan will be the apparent disregard for off-campus students. He plans to make more areas of the La Fortune Student Center available for use by O-C students.

One of the first things Ryan will do will be to get an accurate list of all off-campus students and their addresses in order to serve them more accurately. He feels that this area has been neglected in the past and that the fact that a student is living in illegal housing should not stop him from registering with the O-C office.

McKenan plans to make more appointments tomorrow. Among these will be the New Academic Affairs Commissioner, Public Relations Director, Judicial Coordinator, Executive Coordinator and Human Affairs Commissioner.

Heidecker new HPC chairman

by Dave Fromm

Rich Heidecker, Zahn Hall President-elect, was elected chairman of the Hall Presidents Council at a meeting last night in the student center amphitheater. He will only complete the term of Phil McKenna, Student President-elect, which should have normally have expired in October.

Ron Mastriana will serve another year as HPC co-chairman when his present term expires in May. Mastriana was the sole candidate for the office.

Heidecker viewed the HPC as both a body and a group of individuals. As a body, he said that the HPC needed to redefine itself.

"We must determine where the HPC fits into the "scheme of things," he said. Individually, the president and co-chairman work more fully, especially in the coordination of activities.

ND prof. hit by car

Robert Hassenger

Robert Hassenger, a Notre Dame faculty member, was struck by a car driven by a Notre Dame student, Friday night while walking across Notre Dame campus.

County Sheriff's Deputies immediately rushed him to St. Joseph's Hospital. He is presently listed in fair condition with a massive bruise of the head and minor facial bruises and cuts.

Hassenger, the Director of the Notre Dame Office of Education, was walking from Morris Inn to the Faculty Club when a car driven by Edward Minch, an Arts and Letters Junior, struck him in the side. No arrest was made.

Mrs. Hassenger stated yesterday, "The doctors haven't said how long he'll be in the hospital, but it looks as if he'll come home tomorrow."

USC Cotton Bowl

Before McKenna turned the meeting over to Heidecker, he briefly outlined a room selection proposal drawn up by Rev. Edgar Whelen, CSC, Director for the Office of Student Residence. Each hall's freshman quota has been increased except for Keenan's which will remain the same and Stanford's which has been decreased. 180 freshmen have been apportioned to each of the new dorms. "Freshmen will compose about 30% of the total occupancy in every hall," McKenna said.

Massey named chairman

Dr. James L. Massey, professor of electrical engineering at Notre Dame, has been elected chairman of the group on information theory of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers. Massey joined the Notre Dame faculty in 1935 after receiving his doctorate from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Questions from the audience included how long he'll be in the hospital, how much he'll be working with the body as HPC Chairman and would like to continue doing so as Student Body President.

Koval test cancelled

Professor Koval's sociology 81 test originally scheduled for Wednesday will be postponed until after Easter.

Fencers finish sixth

The trio of Bob Mendes, Bob Babineau and Joe DePietro carried Notre Dame to a sixth-place finish in the National Basketball Association playoffs. Both the wise old New York Knicks and the brash Philadelphia 76ers and Baltimore Bullets in the West, the San Francisco Warriors were waiting for tonight in hopes of picking up their their win-and-a 3-0 margin-over the startled Los Angeles Lakers.

The Celtics punished the 76ers for their 112-114 loss to Philadelphia’s home floor and the Knicks went to Baltimore where they could whip the 119-116. Philadelphia flaged a desperate rally in the final 112-101 to 119-117 with 1-47 left, but San Francisco couldn’t hold back two three two three to keep the Celts safe.

Due to inclement weather, coach Aras Parshgan ran his lads through their paces in the Convocation Center Friday and Saturday. The team was slated as outdoor session today. Jackson was running a pass pattern unannounced Friday when he sustained the injury. It is expected to keep him out a few days.

Spearheaded by the sophomore duo of Bill Berry and Charles Collie, Notre Dame’s "A" rugby side knocked off Palermo Institute of Iowa for the first time ever Saturday-a 15-7 victory on stepan Center field.

Woodo deserves one

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—They’ll be handing out the big movie awards soon and at least one of the candidates is unhappy about it. Joanne Woodward is up for an academy award as best actress for her sensitive portrayal in "Rachel, Rachel," and naturally she isn’t put out about that, but she is over the fact that among those not nominated was the director, Paul Newman, who also happens to be her husband.

Her first cousin, William Frederick Woodward, better known as Woody Woodward, isn’t in the movie so he isn’t up for an award. He should be though.

Woody Woodward plays short stop for the Cincinnati Reds and although he has absolutely nothing to do with the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences he rates some kind of special award for being some kind of special ballplayer.

He’ll tell you himself he’s no superstar and his .233 lifetime average supports that, but there’s something he doesn’t tell you, something you have to see for yourself and that something is what makes him rather special.

He’ll tell you himself he’s no superstar and his .233 lifetime average supports that, but there’s something he doesn’t tell you, something you have to see for yourself and that something is what makes him rather special.

The first time in his six major league seasons, Woodward has been told he has a regular job this year. It means a lot to him. An awful lot. As much as it means, he’s still helping another fellow take away.

The Irish Eye

The clock is running out

Ten, nine, eight, seven, six...

The clock is running out on this column. Following the lead of Joel Cosgrove, I move from the Observer to the Scholastic tomorrow. It has been sometimes drtig at, sometimes disappointing, always educational experience. Certainly it will be that way for my replacement, Mike "The Man" Pavlak, otherwise known as "Jarmo." He is the Letters sports editor from Wilmington, Del.

My thanks go to many people, especially to a hard-working staff—Parlin Pete, Bruderle, Terry Shields and Greg Wingfield. Only Wingfield graces this spring, the other three return to the Observer.

The other fellow is 21-year-old Darrel Cahney, five years younger that Woodward, from Wilmington, Del. He has been a fine year for athletics at Notre Dame and he is a regular.

We roomed together three years and he has some kind of award for that. Woodward sallied out in the Hollywood sense of it, going back a few years in the business. Nobody has ever to help them but Woodward remembers both.

Dwight Murphy (left) and Bob Whitmore have been selected for the 14th Cincinnati manager and it first meets Kentucky in their fourth annual game April 11-12. Johnny Dee will coach the Hoosiers standouts.

Squelched, squelched, squelched, this year the Irish finished sixth in the ACC. Mike DeCicco.

I guess that’s the way it came down to it," Woodward said.

Perhaps the biggest booster Woody Woodward has is his teammate in Duke Bristol and he’s got one to live by because he manages the Reds. Bristol says Woodward will be his regular shortstop.

There are ballplayers who can’t remember that last town they were in, much less the first fellow ever to help them but Woodward remembers both. He also has a habit of remembering to be right there anytime someone needs his help. He was nothing strange about that.

"He’s just got the way to do it," he says. "And the only way I know how." Woody Woodward wouldn’t want, but there should be some kind of award for that.
