Parietals statement due from Trustees next week

By Charlie Myers

A statement from the University Board of Trustees concerning personnel changes was to be released at the morning session of the Board, according to Dr. Thomas Carney, chairman of the Board's Student Affairs Sub-Committee.

The committee met yesterday in the Center for Continuing Education to review a presentation by faculty and students on ball hall. The Board of Trustees is also expected to release statements on education and drilling at Notre Dame in the near future.

The documents, prepared at the full Board's Faster meeting in Miami, were to be released today, but the transcription of these decisions caused the delay according to Carney.

The highlights of the closest meeting of the Board were presentations by the

Swigert to sub for ailing moon pilot Mattingly

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — Substitute astronaut John L. Swigert, who will fly in place of ailing moon pilot Fred W. Mattingly Jr. on today's Apollo 13 mission, said yesterday's drills with the two healthy members of the Apollo 13 command crew were "a close-knit team" with a "tough-flying" day.

"We think we are still go," said Donald K. Slayton, director of flight crew operations. "If we had run into any stone walls, we would have moved.

"But we have a lot to look at to see if it is realistic to consider flying on the day.

The decision on whether to go with Swigert Saturday or fly with Mattingly today was expected to be based primarily on Slayton's assessment of Swigert's ability to replace Mattingly with little practice.

Slayton, 38, a native of Denver, has been working with the command and service module since he was assigned to the Apollo program five years ago. His test pilot days at North American Aviation and North American Rockwell Corp., the company which built the craft.

Nutting for President

At the morning discussion session, little was said concerning the Nutting presentation. Dr. Carney, who attended Nutting's session, until last week, many of the Board members knew little or nothing about the campaign.

Concerning the Arts Council, Dr. Carney declared that there would be a "moratorium on destruction" in the Fall House, until a more constructive study could be made by the council. He did feel that, at present, there was no argument to support the destruction of the Fall House.

Although the afternoon session lagged behind schedule, the meeting was opened at 4 p.m. for those students wishing to attend. The open portion of the session included presentations by students on such issues as the judicial system, black concentration, hall government, and student individuality and responsibility.

At the conclusion of John Barkey's summarization, the meeting became a question and answer period.

Despite a few initial queries into the possibilities of lay rectors, the major thrust of the discussion centered around the Board's decision-making powers.

Beginning with the topic of personnel hours, concerned students confronted the board with the charge of trying to "legislate morality.

The members of the Board denied this accusation, noting that issues such as parietals were just one of many concerns which the Board took into consideration.

One member noted that the Board has the right as well as the obligation to look into all aspects of student affairs. The members stated that the Board of Trustees does not determine regulations such as parietals, but rather makes judgement on the recommendations presented by them by the respective campus committees.

The students countered this statement by noting that in

Solotaroff to keynote SLF

by Bob Meyers

Opening and concluding this year Sophomore Literary Festival will be two outstanding and unique individuals. Theodore Solotaroff stands for the "New Principles of Literature" shaping the style of today writers. Tom Wolfe represents their fulfillment.

Mr. Solotaroff will present the keynote address of the 1970 Sophomore Literary Festival Saturday at 4:00 p.m., April 12 in the Library Auditorium.

The aspiring young authors of the 70's will look toward Theodore Solotaroff for inspiration and acknowledgement in their promising careers. As editor of the New American Review, Solotaroff is a pivotal figure in the search for an American interpretation of modern fiction and nonfiction. His magazine brings to the world of literature the dynamic talent of young writers with novel ideas and modes of expression. He has both the perceptive and sensitive mind to recognize and deal with these people and their works while the New American Review provides the medium for introducing the public to their creations.

"I don't know that one could find in print now a better collection than this of sensitive literary minds on the loose, determinately confronting the sordid wild revolutions around us."

Doubtful that the American Review, which has been published in the last five years, will be included in these sordid revolutions.

"I doubt the American Review is the future of American literature."

Mr. Solotaroff will present the keynote address of the 1970 Sophomore Literary Festival Saturday at 4:00 p.m., April 12 in the Library Auditorium.

The aspiring young authors of the 70's will look toward Theodore Solotaroff for inspiration and acknowledgement in their promising careers. As editor of the New American Review, Solotaroff is a pivotal figure in the search for an American interpretation of modern fiction and nonfiction. His magazine brings to the world of literature the dynamic talent of young writers with novel ideas and modes of expression. He has both the perceptive and sensitive mind to recognize and deal with these people and their works while the New American Review provides the medium for introducing the public to their creations.

"I don't know that one could find in print now a better collection than this of sensitive literary minds on the loose, determinately confronting the sordid wild revolutions around us."

He will lecture on the theme "The Sense of the Future."
Tom Wolfe scheduled for SLF

(Continued from page 1)
and Atlantic Monthly. He will soon publish a collection of personal criticisms entitled A Sense of Direction (Atheneum). Surely, Theodore Solotaroff will inspire this direction in the authors of the future.

Mr. Solotaroff will present the keynote address of the 1970 Sophomore Literary Festival Sunday at 4:00 p.m., April 12 in the Library Auditorium.

There is nobody in his milieu — no one in the sense, sound and shock-value comedy bag like Tom Wolfe. He is the main pop proponent and from 1965's Kandy Kolored Tangerine-Flake Streamline Baby to 1968's Pump House Gang (both collections) and the mad Ken Kesey book, The Electric Kool-Aid Acid Test, he has placed himself at the pinnacle of the new journalism's jumble of talent. Now contributing editor to New York magazine, he has edited a forthcoming anthology of the New Journalism which promises to fill a long-realized gap which has existed between the traditionalists and the new-dominant breed of writers.

Wolfe was born in Richmond, Virginia, and educated at Washington and Lee, and Yale. He distinguished himself in 1961 with reporting for the Washington Post on Cuba and the Senate's civil rights filibuster. He moved on to the New York Herald Tribune and its successor, The World Journal Tribune. The only survivor of the demise of the publication in New York, which ranks as the foremost of the new regional magazines, due in part, to Wolfe's contributions.

On April 16 at 8 p.m. in Washington Hall, Tom Wolfe will speak on "The New Journalism — and How It's Shaking Up the Literary World." You will find then why Ken Kesey, in Book World, calls him "more than brilliant, ... a goddamn joy.

---

Kappler wins Howard presidency

The team of Rick Kappler and Mike Martinelli, swept yesterday's presidential election in Howard Hall from two other teams headed by Ron Chumak and Steve Martinek by an 840-11 vote. Kappler won on a "community involvement" ticket and strongly backed proposals for a student forum.

In the hall's senatorial election sophomore Kelly Flynn from Indianapolis ran unopposed to fill the seat vacated by Senator Russ Stone who was recently elected to a stay-senator position.

Commenting on his stance with regard to Student Body President Dave Krasnoff's ideas concerning the student forum and the student senate Kappler said: "We're really pretty much behind Dave's proposals. The student senate should be abolished.

"Kappler said the these underlyling his term of presidency will be "community involvement, a kind of spirit de compagnie" that will give Howard a new atmosphere and a new image.

President Kappler said he intends to add more social events to the hall's activities as a means of fostering student involvement. He plans to intensify the Hall Fellows Program in Howard and expand the tutoring and test filing programs as other means of promoting the academic side of life in the residence hall.

Newly elected senator Flynn said his most important task in that position will be to represent the hall's opinion regarding the future of the senate.
Senate Con-Com holding meeting

by Mark Walbran

The Student Senate’s special committee charged with the task of writing a new constitution for student government decided Wednesday night to prepare copies of the present constitution along with recent amendments for all committee members to examine and evaluate.

The committee will hold an open hearing next Wednesday evening so that all ideas concerning the future and direction of student government may be aired. The hearing will be open to the student body and all interested students will be able to give their views.

Student Body President Dave Krashna is chairman of the committee, its members include: Mark Winnings, Student Body Vice-President Phil DeBuse, President of Planner Hall, Mark Lindberg, President of Breen-Phillips Hall, Tom Sudden, President of Holy Cross and chairman of the Hall Presidents Council, John Bartlet, President of Monroeville Hall, and the four stay senators, Tom Thrasher, Russ Stone, Pat Weber, and Al Giuffrida.

Following the hearing the committee will prepare its proposal to submit to the Student Senate. Thrasher explained yesterday that the new constitution will be handled by the senate as an amendment to toto, and will require either a two thirds vote of the senate or a majority of the student body in favor of the amendment to pass.

One of the controversial topics which the committee will examine is the dissolution of the Student Senate. Krashna is in favor of the senate’s dissolution and has proposed the idea of a Student Forum.

However, according to the four stay senators, the committee seemed in general agreement that the question of the senate vs. forum was not an “either-or” situation. The committee is generally interested in how student government can better be run. In an interview yesterday all four stay senators said that they were dubious of a Student Forum because they had not yet been presented with any concrete plans.

Thrasher said that there was a real need for a new constitution as the present one is both complicated and contradictory. However, he said that he would reserve judgment on a Student Forum until after the hearing.

“I believe that the senate structure-wise is perfectly workable,” said Stone. He added that he would like to see the Senate’s representation increased.

Weber felt that students would be losing representation if the Student Forum were made up of the hall presidents as Krashna proposed during the campaign. Under the present system, he explained, halls having 150 residents or less are represented by one senator, those having up to 300 residents are represented by two senators, halls having up to 450 residents are represented by three senators and those with more than 450 residents are represented by four senators. If the hall presidents make up the Student Forum then each hall will have only one representative, regardless of the number of residents.

Giuffrida said that the only fair way to decide the issue would be for the students themselves to decide whether or not they want to abolish the senate in favor of a Student Forum.

Rusksys rebuked

(Continued from page 1)

28-16-8 and 35-10-7, respectively.

Although they were of little consequence in this particular debate, the activities of the Russian delegation is of special note. At one stage in the proceedings, the delegation led an extended celebration in honor of the 90th anniversary of Lenin’s nativity. Mike Kelly, chairman of the Model UN, responded by temporarily rescinding Russia’s right to speak.

The ensuing reaction of the Soviet Union was something new to the committee in that they verbally and physically harassed a Norwegian delegate. Kelly severely reprimanded the Soviets, calling their hooting, calling, and throwing of paper wads “childish.” Kelly also noted that he hadn’t thrown a paper wad since his schooldays.

WEAVER WINS

Sophomore Bob Weaver was elected President of St. Edward’s Hall yesterday, beating sophomore Dan Hyde by a vote of 64-25. Weaver will replace the current SVP, Mark Winnings, as President.

The Observer, a weekly newspaper of the University of Notre Dame, is published by the students of the university. The Observer is the official student publication of the University of Notre Dame. It is published every Wednesday at the University of Notre Dame. Subscriptions may be purchased for $3.00 per year from The Observer, Box 11, Notre Dame, Ind. 46556. Second class postage paid at Notre Dame, Ind. 46556.

The time has come to take a realistic look at yourself...

If you’re about to get your degree, it’s time to ask yourself some penetrating questions—what kind of questions many people never really face up to.

Are you more interested in people, things or in abstract ideas? Are you willing to make meaningful commitments to other people as well as to yourself?

It is worth thinking about. We at International Harvester also continue to critically examine our economic and social responsibilities. We are growing in the United States and in 166 other countries because IH products are making an important contribution to a better life.

Trucks—from low utility vehicle to giant off-highway specialized vehicles.

Farm & Industrial Equipment—from garden and farm tractors to loader-backhoes.

Construction Equipment—from in-plant loaders to powerful earth scrapers.

Iron & Steel—from cold-finished bars to special alloy steels.

Gas Turbines—from stationary generators to mobile power units.

Aerospace—from specialized space vehicle components to complete systems.

To help you plan your future, we invite you to stop in at your College Placement Office for a free copy of our book, "Your World of Opportunity."
Dave Lammers

Contract Buyers League

THE OBSERVER
An Independent Student Newspaper

DAVID C. BACH, Editor
GAETANO M. DE SAPIO, Publisher

FOUNDED NOVEMBER 3, 1966
NOTRE DAME, INDIANA

---

Letters

"Here we go round the prickly pear at five o'clock in the morning.

Supposedly starting with that quote should impress you that I read the newspaper."

"I have the answer to that question on parietals here on tape somewhere..."

---

Campus Opinion

Edited by Glen Corso

The controversy surrounding abortion has risen to new heights this year with several states passing or seriously considering bills that would allow for greatly relaxed rules for abortion. There is a vociferous segment of the population who sincerely believe that abortions is nothing but murder. On the other hand, there are those who feel that abortions is a natural right which state laws are denying mothers. They argue that the decision to have an abortion is a personal one that each person must reconcile with her own conscience.

Certain polls that show sentiments for legalized abortion laws are near majority levels. However most Americans are not yet ready to allow an abortion to be a matter of public policy. While about 40% of the people feel that abortion is a personal decision, this poll cites that only 40% of those in favor say an abortion should be allowed if there was a good chance that a child would be born defective. Close to 71% favored allowing abortion if the life of the mother was endangered. It is the only condition under which the Blessed Virgin Mary would permit an abortion.

The American Civil Liberties Union has long been an ardent proponent of the complete abolition of abortion laws, arguing that abortion is a private matter between patient and physician. A spokesman for the ACLU, speaking in Chicago, described the present abortion laws as "hollow" prohibitions. Actually, writing about this year with several states passing or seriously considering bills that would allow for greatly relaxed rules for abortion. There is a vociferous segment of the population who sincerely believe that abortions is nothing but murder. On the other hand, there are those who feel that abortions is a natural right which state laws are denying mothers. They argue that the decision to have an abortion is a personal one that each person must reconcile with her own conscience.

Certain polls that show sentiments for legalized abortion laws are near majority levels. However most Americans are not yet ready to allow an abortion to be a matter of public policy. While about 40% of the people feel that abortion is a personal decision, this poll cites that only 40% of those in favor say an abortion should be allowed if there was a good chance that a child would be born defective. Close to 71% favored allowing abortion if the life of the mother was endangered. It is the only condition under which the Blessed Virgin Mary would permit an abortion.

The American Civil Liberties Union has long been an ardent proponent of the complete abolition of abortion laws, arguing that abortion is a private matter between patient and physician. A spokesman for the ACLU, speaking in Chicago, described the present abortion laws as "hollow" prohibitions. Actually, writing about Taking over after Tim O'Melia's brief command, Holliday and DeSapio decided to continue expansion. The idea originally was to publish three four-page and two four-page editions a week, but later an eight-page daily was the goal. The decision made, the Observer was forced to become a departmentally and (relatively) efficiently run publication.

With Holliday concerned largely when business and exterior operations (as well as another ambitious project: hockey and Protestant theaters) were born soon after, and published two and later three times a week. Later, something quieted down the style but ambitiously adopted the seem...
Nixon: Next judge from North

WASHINGTON (UPI) - President Nixon announced yesterday that his next Supreme Court nominee will be a conservative but will be selected from outside the South because the Senate, "as it is presently constituted," will not approve a Southerner.

The President said he would make his choice known "in the very near future" and he pointedly asserted his belief that "a judge from the North...will be confirmed by the Senate."

Nixon made his views known in a brief personal visit to the new White House press room and in a written statement after he conferred with Attorney General John N. Mitchell. When he spoke to newsmen, the usually composed President appeared to be grim to the point of barely concealed anger.

He accused opponents of both his rejected court nominees, Judge H. Harrold Carswell of Florida and Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. of South Carolina, of "hypocrisy" and "malicious character assassination" which he said was unwarranted.

"Judge Carswell, and before, Judge Haynsworth, have submitted to vicious assaults on their intelligence, on their honesty and on their character. They have been falsely charged with being racists," he told newsmen, pumping and ringing his hands.

"But when you strip away all the hypocrisy, the real reason for their rejection was their legal philosophy, a philosophy that I share, of strict construction of the Constitution, and also the accident of their birth, the fact that they were born in the South."

In words clearly aimed at the South, Nixon said: "I understand the bitter feeling of millions of Americans who live in the South about the act of regional discrimination that took place in the Senate yesterday. They have my assurance that the day will come when men like Judges Carswell and Haynsworth can and will sit on the high court."

Nixon obviously chose to make the issue now, with particular appeal to the South for forebearance, in his effort to appoint someone to fill the Abe Fortas vacancy who would restore what he terms "balance" to the Supreme Court. The President said his next nominee "will be from outside the South and he will fulfill the criteria of a strict constructionist with judicial experience either from a federal bench or on a state appeals court."

Some Southern members of Congress, including Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D.La.), and Howard R. Baker Jr., (R.Tenn.), agreed with Nixon's arguments. "It's all right with me as long as he gets a good man," said Ellender. "I don't give a damn where he comes from."

Sen. Strom Thurmond (R.S.C.) said the "issue" is not whether the nominee is from the South, "It is more important that the new Supreme Court justice be a conservative who is a strict constructionist and who will balance the court."

HAIR
Student Trip Saturday Night
April 11
Limited number of tickets available

call Peter Van Brunt 1504
Between 7 and 11 tonight

AMERICA
Is what you make it.
Make it great.
Start this weekend

I DON'T CARE WHAT THE ODDS ARE,
I WANT RICHMOND

NO SOONER SAID THAN DONE, SIR,
JUST DIAL 1 AND AREA CODE 703

SMC site of festival

Over 200 young impressionists will gather in Monroe Hall on the Saint Mary's College campus tomorrow for the Northern Indiana Music Festival. Painters, vocalists and dancers from Michigan City, Angola, Indianapolis and other cities will compete for ratings and awards during the morning session.

Selected students earning the superior rating will display their talents during an afternoon program in the Little Theatre.

As judges for the day's events will be Saint Mary's faculty members: Dr. Willis Stevens, professor and chairman of the music department; Sister M. Dolorosa, assistant professor of music; Monte K. Floyd, assistant professor of music; Pamela Griffin, instructor of music; Arthur Lawrence, assistant professor of music; Janettta McNamara, instructor of physical education; Daniel Miller, assistant professor of music; Ronald Morebello, instructor of music; and Susan Stevens, instructor of music.

Get out of town without leaving campus. Dial Direct.
The lowest long distance rates are in effect every school night and all day Saturdays.

Indiana Bell
Use your long distance calling number. Save time.
Dial your own calls.
Notre Dame Liberation’ claims credit for window bombings

Cherry bombs were used to destroy several windows in both the lower and third floor of the administration building. This was disclosed by Director of Security, Arthur Pearse, in two interviews this week. The windows were destroyed shortly before the Easter vacation. Pearse said that security had, as yet, no leads for the bomb's except that they had received an anonymous phone call after the bombs had detonated.

On the morning of March 25, The Observer had received an anonymous phone call around 1:15 a.m. T.C. Treanor, a member of the staff, took the call. He described the voice of the caller as "husky". Treanor said that the caller was disgracing his voice.

The anonymous person, according to Treanor said, "This is Notre Dame Liberation. We have just bombed the laundry and the administration building. This is not a prank but we are serious."

The mysterious voice went on to say that "Arthur Pearl's office may be messed up a little as well. The last thing the phone did was to issue a warning, "The next time it might be dynamite."

The Observer staff immediately dispatched two reporters to see if there was any damage done to the administration building, but due to darkness, they did not see the broken windows.

About 1:30 a.m. The Observer staff again received an anonymous phone call from a similar husky-voiced caller. This time the man complained that Notre Dame Liberation "didn't like the way The Observer was covering them," and warned that The Observer's office may be the next target.

The Observer then contacted campus security, which told them not to worry and that they too had received an anonymous telephone call.

When informed of this Pears said that he doubted whether there was really such an organization as Notre Dame Liberation. He had no previous knowledge of the existence of any "Notre Dame Liberation".

"The only thing I know is that the bomber blasted off as if I had been a great deal for the whole vote. I want you to crusify Fullbright and that's it."

Fullbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relation Committee, made a rare break with his Southern colleagues Wednesday when he voted against confirmation of Judge G. Harold Carswell for the high court. Carswell was rejected on the 51-45 roll vote.

When informed of Mrs. Mitchell's phone call to the paper, Fullbright smiled and said, "Mrs. Mitchell has become a kind of character around here."

The attorney general's wife, who is a native of Pine Bluff, Ark., was quoted as informing the paper she had talked to three or four "very influential" people from Arkansas who said they'd "crusify" Fullbright because of his vote.

"He is not representing the people of Arkansas," she said. "I love Arkansas, and I want everything possible for my state.

I am from Arkansas. It is my home state. Fullbright doesn't oppose the state."

To this, Fullbright retorted: "I don't believe she's in touch with the people of Arkansas. She was born in Pine Bluff, but she's been away from them for 20 or 30 years. She's a New Yorker."

The Gazette has strongly supported Fullbright, whose term does not expire until 1974, and editorially opposed the Carswell nomination.

Cruucify' Fullbright

WASHINGTON (UP) - The wife of Attorney General John N. Mitchell telephoned the Arkansas Gazette at 2 a.m. "Mrs. Mitchell informed the newspaper to "cruucify" Sen. J. William Fulbright," said an administration spokesman for the Arkansas senator.

The newspaper received a call Tuesday night at 10:15 and warned that "the office may be messed up a little as well."

"I don't believe she's in touch with the people of Arkansas. She was born in Pine Bluff, but she's been away from them for 20 or 30 years. She's a New Yorker."

The Gazette has strongly supported Fullbright, whose term does not expire until 1974, and editorially opposed the Carswell nomination.

Govt. closed?

A meeting to discuss the various aspects of the recently announced cutbacks in the Government Department will be held Sunday evening at 7:00 p.m. in O'Shaughnessy.

Mr. Brinkley, Department Chairman has recommended that all government courses be restricted to government majors and C.A.P. students. Therefore, John Zappala and other government students have called this meeting to discuss possible solutions and to draft a statement which will be presented to the administration next week.
An Indiana •

This is far from the greatest fault with the aware) is worth $1.4 million, yet that's what he received from the draft. I like in one day. Somehow I just can't get up for January I anymore. The game, however, is scheduled for Saturday afternoon.

nearly every game would draw fine crowds (since the number of home contests at a number of sites.

State of Detroit will provide the opposition for our stickmen. Another factor that riles my Irish is expansion. All of the major of even the most avid fan who could name more than three starters. Their creed seems to be this?'". Another factor that riles my Irish is expansion. All of the major is their main mode of transportation. It wouldn't be too bad if the club was only traveling to Elkhart or Oscoda but their tickets have included stops in Virginia, Philadelphia and Philadelphia, N.Y. amounts to about 2,400 miles.

When the club travels they try to lose their own "home" (the type of boat used) in the St. Joe River and rely on the host toom main with a fib. Since the club doesn't have its own boats to work with, the compensation would be less. This might explain the vanity's record of 1-3 for this season in the worst major league sport which dates back nearly 130 years, there is only one closer to 1.000 record is not automatically indicative of their teams. Besides a vanity crew of eight members, there are junior vanity and freshmen ones.

The race itself consists of a 2,000 meter haul which is usually traversed in about six and one-half minutes. Club president, and coach Paul Weatherby feels that this takes a lot of conditioning to accomplish and that coaches haven't had enough time to prepare for the season because of the poor weather in South Bend. The homes this year have been to universities of Temple, University and Marist Colleges. One victory came at the expense of Virginia Commonwealth.

The point of the varsity squad include Dan Menchen in the header, business, Charlie Krebs, Tom Powers, Tom Mollenwerk, Bill Toffler, Bill Mcauliffe, and Jay Radovich in positions two through eight. Cliff Losh in the vanity coxswain.

This weekend the Crew Club travels to Detroit to race against Wayne State University. The race will occur on Saturday at Wolverine Lake.

Some of the big races the club will be involved in are the Midwest Championships at Detroit, the Big Ten Meet, and the Dad Vail Championship in Philadelphia (including 35 schools) on May 8 and 9. Some races are open to everyone and others are limited to members of the Notre Dame Crew Club.

The 1970 Notre Dame Crew Club's vanity is shown above, practicing on the St. Joseph River. From left to right the vanity members are Dan Menchen; John Sellinger, Charles Krebs, Tom Powers, Tom Mollenwerk, Bill Toffler, Bill Mcauliffe, Jay Radovich and Cliff Losh.

Terry Shields

THE IRISH EYE

The Professionals

Remember when we were kids how excited we would get when New Year's Day would come and we could see football games in

in one day. Somehow I just can't get up for January I anymore. The game, however, is scheduled for Saturday afternoon.

nearly every game would draw fine crowds (since the number of home contests at a number of sites.

State of Detroit will provide the opposition for our stickmen. Another factor that riles my Irish is expansion. All of the major of even the most avid fan who could name more than three starters. Their creed seems to be this?'". Another factor that riles my Irish is expansion. All of the major is their main mode of transportation. It wouldn't be too bad if the club was only traveling to Elkhart or Oscoda but their tickets have included stops in Virginia, Philadelphia and Philadelphia, N.Y. amounts to about 2,400 miles.

When the club travels they try to lose their own "home" (the type of boat used) in the St. Joe River and rely on the host toom main with a fib. Since the club doesn't have its own boats to work with, the compensation would be less. This might explain the vanity's record of 1-3 for this season in the worst major league sport which dates back nearly 130 years, there is only one closer to 1.000 record is not automatically indicative of their teams. Besides a vanity crew of eight members, there are junior vanity and freshmen ones.

The race itself consists of a 2,000 meter haul which is usually traversed in about six and one-half minutes. Club president, and coach Paul Weatherby feels that this takes a lot of conditioning to accomplish and that coaches haven't had enough time to prepare for the season because of the poor weather in South Bend. The homes this year have been to universities of Temple, University and Marist Colleges. One victory came at the expense of Virginia Commonwealth.

The point of the varsity squad include Dan Menchen in the header, business, Charlie Krebs, Tom Powers, Tom Mollenwerk, Bill Toffler, Bill Mcauliffe, Jay Radovich and Cliff Losh.

Terry Shields

THE IRISH EYE

The Professionals

Remember when we were kids how excited we would get when New Year's Day would come and we could see football games in

in one day. Somehow I just can't get up for January I anymore. The game, however, is scheduled for Saturday afternoon.

nearly every game would draw fine crowds (since the number of home contests at a number of sites.

State of Detroit will provide the opposition for our stickmen. Another factor that riles my Irish is expansion. All of the major of even the most avid fan who could name more than three starters. Their creed seems to be this?'". Another factor that riles my Irish is expansion. All of the major is their main mode of transportation. It wouldn't be too bad if the club was only traveling to Elkhart or Oscoda but their tickets have included stops in Virginia, Philadelphia and Philadelphia, N.Y. amounts to about 2,400 miles.

When the club travels they try to lose their own "home" (the type of boat used) in the St. Joe River and rely on the host toom main with a fib. Since the club doesn't have its own boats to work with, the compensation would be less. This might explain the vanity's record of 1-3 for this season in the worst major league sport which dates back nearly 130 years, there is only one closer to 1.000 record is not automatically indicative of their teams. Besides a vanity crew of eight members, there are junior vanity and freshmen ones.

The race itself consists of a 2,000 meter haul which is usually traversed in about six and one-half minutes. Club president, and coach Paul Weatherby feels that this takes a lot of conditioning to accomplish and that coaches haven't had enough time to prepare for the season because of the poor weather in South Bend. The homes this year have been to universities of Temple, University and Marist Colleges. One victory came at the expense of Virginia Commonwealth.

The point of the varsity squad include Dan Menchen in the header, business, Charlie Krebs, Tom Powers, Tom Mollenwerk, Bill Toffler, Bill Mcauliffe, Jay Radovich and Cliff Losh.

Terry Shields

THE IRISH EYE

The Professionals

Remember when we were kids how excited we would get when New Year's Day would come and we could see football games in

in one day. Somehow I just can't get up for January I anymore. The game, however, is scheduled for Saturday afternoon.

nearly every game would draw fine crowds (since the number of home contests at a number of sites.

State of Detroit will provide the opposition for our stickmen. Another factor that riles my Irish is expansion. All of the major of even the most avid fan who could name more than three starters. Their creed seems to be this?'". Another factor that riles my Irish is expansion. All of the major is their main mode of transportation. It wouldn't be too bad if the club was only traveling to Elkhart or Oscoda but their tickets have included stops in Virginia, Philadelphia and Philadelphia, N.Y. amounts to about 2,400 miles.

When the club travels they try to lose their own "home" (the type of boat used) in the St. Joe River and rely on the host toom main with a fib. Since the club doesn't have its own boats to work with, the compensation would be less. This might explain the vanity's record of 1-3 for this season in the worst major league sport which dates back nearly 130 years, there is only one closer to 1.000 record is not automatically indicative of their teams. Besides a vanity crew of eight members, there are junior vanity and freshmen ones.

The race itself consists of a 2,000 meter haul which is usually traversed in about six and one-half minutes. Club president, and coach Paul Weatherby feels that this takes a lot of conditioning to accomplish and that coaches haven't had enough time to prepare for the season because of the poor weather in South Bend. The homes this year have been to universities of Temple, University and Marist Colleges. One victory came at the expense of Virginia Commonwealth.

The point of the varsity squad include Dan Menchen in the header, business, Charlie Krebs, Tom Powers, Tom Mollenwerk, Bill Toffler, Bill Mcauliffe, Jay Radovich and Cliff Losh.

Terry Shields

THE IRISH EYE

The Professionals

Remember when we were kids how excited we would get when New Year's Day would come and we could see football games in

in one day. Somehow I just can't get up for January I anymore. The game, however, is scheduled for Saturday afternoon.

nearly every game would draw fine crowds (since the number of home contests at a number of sites.

State of Detroit will provide the opposition for our stickmen. Another factor that riles my Irish is expansion. All of the major of even the most avid fan who could name more than three starters. Their creed seems to be this?'". Another factor that riles my Irish is expansion. All of the major is their main mode of transportation. It wouldn't be too bad if the club was only traveling to Elkhart or Oscoda but their tickets have included stops in Virginia, Philadelphia and Philadelphia, N.Y. amounts to about 2,400 miles.

When the club travels they try to lose their own "home" (the type of boat used) in the St. Joe River and rely on the host toom main with a fib. Since the club doesn't have its own boats to work with, the compensation would be less. This might explain the vanity's record of 1-3 for this season in the worst major league sport which dates back nearly 130 years, there is only one closer to 1.000 record is not automatically indicative of their teams. Besides a vanity crew of eight members, there are junior vanity and freshmen ones.

The race itself consists of a 2,000 meter haul which is usually traversed in about six and one-half minutes. Club president, and coach Paul Weatherby feels that this takes a lot of conditioning to accomplish and that coaches haven't had enough time to prepare for the season because of the poor weather in South Bend. The homes this year have been to universities of Temple, University and Marist Colleges. One victory came at the expense of Virginia Commonwealth.

The point of the varsity squad include Dan Menchen in the header, business, Charlie Krebs, Tom Powers, Tom Mollenwerk, Bill Toffler, Bill Mcauliffe, Jay Radovich and Cliff Losh.