Irish, Longhorns Tie For 1st

By Don Rane
In a meeting last night the Student Life Council unanimously approved the recommendation of the Appeals Board Nominating Committee that Law School Dean William B. Long be its new Socials Chairman. The election of the new officer brought a formal farewell address by outgoing Chairman Richard McFadden.

Pepper Bushingham, who was nominated for the position, said: "I am very happy to have been elected to serve as your chairman for the next year. I look forward to working with each and every one of you to make this year a success."

The new chairman will be in charge of all social events sponsored by the Student Life Council.

Robert Magher, Notre Dame theology professor, added a new dimension to the college's liberation movement last night by calling attention to the plight of the poor.

Magher's talk, titled "Applying the Gospel to the Poor," began with a brief history of liberation theology, which he defined as the "humanization of the oppressed." He then went on to discuss the role of the church in helping the poor, and the need for a more active role of the laity.

"We have a responsibility to the poor," Magher said. "We must work to change the system that keeps them down."

Magher's talk was well received by the audience, which included students, faculty members, and community leaders.

Clarke prophesies of 2001

By Art Ferranti
Arthur C. Clarke, inventor of the communications satellite in 1965 and co-author of the novel and movie 2001, A Space Odyssey, spent last night on campus in the year 2001 to a capacity audience in Washington Hall.

Following introductions by Prof. Emile Hoffman and Dean Wallick, Clarke first set the audience at ease with a few anecdotes concerning the motto of the graduate students' organization, "(I) the future is not what it used to be," and "(2) the future will come from the sea."

He also attacked the present concept of marriage, saying: "We need to seriously give children meaningful rituals, to make sure that they do not give them the car keys and a can of beer or a military uniform."

In their place, he said, "we will have the car keys and 'her apparently sterile life and home amounting to a cyclcal accomplishment of nothing.'"

Magher championed the cause of women's equality by reading from his book, "A Change of Heart," which he said was his first time in history man would marry a woman.

He also attacked the present concept of marriage, saying: "We need to seriously give children meaningful rituals, to make sure that they do not give them the car keys and a can of beer or a military uniform."

We are adoptive parents. Our children were given the gift of life by men and women other than ourselves. Our children live now because those women and men chose life instead of death. We can never comprehend the suffering they endured.
But we shall always be thankful for their courage
and generosity.

Peter Grace back in news

A rumor leaked by an administrative source that University Trustee J. Peter Grace had refused to make any financial contributions to the University this year because of an incident last spring was termed "unfounded
and false" by Grace yesterday afternoon from his executive ofifice in New York City.

Grace is President of the W.R. Grace Company based in New York said he has not been asked to contribute this year and that he is still completing payments on a pledge from last year.

Last May Grace was asked to defend his company's interests in Latin America. In town for a Board of Trustees meeting,
Grace met with a number of students in the Library Auditorium.
At the meeting Grace read statistics indicating that the W.R.
Grace Company was interested in the people of the area and not just profits.

Several students challenged
the figures and questioned Grace's integrity, claiming the facts were fabricated. One student acknowledged by Grace to present a question climbed on the stage and began reading from a pamphlet that American corporations are interested solely in profits and not the people who work for the corporations.

Grace said the response was generally favorable but some individual responses were "unsatisfactory." He described these individuals as "a few bad apples."

You know him,
but have you ever been to his house?

Sure, you got through Shakespeare in class.
You can even quote lines from his plays.
But have you ever walked down the streets where he walked? Like Henley Street where he was born. Or visited Hall's Croft, the home of his daughter Susanna? Or some of the other homes he held dear? Because only then can you truly understand the man and his times.

Correction
There were a couple of errors in yesterday's lead story regarding the Sunday Night Senate meeting.

First, the budget the Afro-American Society presented to the Senate requested $3180, not $6310 as reported.

Second, Chuck Ryan, Sorin
Senator was not the person who spoke against the idea of making allocations in order to be considered "a good guy."

These errors were not made maliciously or deliberately. The Texas close call tightens poll race

(UP) - Stanford has its bowl the national champion and the Southwest State 54-29.

Texas ranked No. 1, is seeking a double as collegiate champions, the South Conference Cotton Bowl represent this season.

The No. 5 Stanford Indians moved closer to a Rose Bowl bid with a 46-14 demolition job on Pittsburgh. Fourth ranked Nebraska, the Big Eight champions, clinched their first trip to the Cotton Bowl and a national championship trophy courtesy of Ara's Fighting Irish, and the clinched their first trip to the Cotton Bowl.

Ruggers raise record.

Boomers top West. Illinois.

The Notre Dame Rugby Club ended its season in high style by routing Illinois 41-7 on Saturday afternoon behind the Stepan Center.

The Irish booters built up a 4-0 lead in the first quarter of play but Western Illinois struck back for three tallies in the third stanza to keep the pressure on. The Irish did win the final goal.

Robbie L. Keenan edged Grace C. Keenan for the game's first try, left arm which apparently has a small radius, to complete the scoring.

The Notre Dame rugby club turned in one of their best performances of the season with a 43-7 advantage over the Illini.

The Notre Dame booters apparently had the game wrapped up early as they pocketed two quick scores early in the third stanza and built up a 4-0 lead. Chris Hanlon took a pass from Mike Macken, who had a free kick, and drilled the ball into the net from short range for Notre Dame's third tally and Gray Troy settled a short shot into the goal post for the fourth marker.

Western Illinois fumbled a 10-yard pass for West back and was forced to punt for three goals before the end of the third quarter to cut the lead to 4-3.

Coach Frank Kinard said.

Thissman is seeking a place on the one, any way he can. Obviously downhearted he cut his injured arm just above the wrist.

The Irish ruggers now boast a 5-1 record and could make the Heisman Trophy for Manning.

The impact of communications on the future will be "overwhelming," said Clarke. Just as the railroad and the telegraph made possible the United States of the past, so now will the jet plane and communication satellites make ready the future. This universal communication system may bring about the use of only one language. Clarke made the analogy of the communication satellites with the ill-fated tower of Babel of biblical times. Of course this system would bring about many problems of time, said Clarke, but we would have to synchronize our watches over so everyone would get up and go to work at the same time. Since some people would get the raw deal of the end the deal two possibilities were hypothesized by Clarke. They were: (1) to abolish sleep—which is highly unlikely, or (2) make the days four minutes shorter which would allow the people to work in six months of daylight hours and six months of night hours.

Another major point of importance with this machine, said Clarke, is that the whole world would have universal leisure with no in-employment. The variations of this would be recorded on the recording. Knowing this, Share quality channels are tightly maintained at the highest levels.

A large number of violations were reported to campus security this weekend. None were serious, but many fell into the increasingly recurrent pattern of alcohol and communication satellite system.

There were smaller thefts—a jacket and a car license plate, a vending machine vandalism—a cigarette machine in St. Ed's and a candy machine in the engineering building, and larger thefts—a sofa from the second floor of the South Dining Hall and five wallets stolen from members of a visiting soccer team. Two groups of ND students were apprehended for stealing barricades on the second floor of Morrissey Hall or one of the College campuses.

There were also incidents of a malicious nature. A security force car was sprayed with material from a fire extinguisher and signs from nearby campus signposts. Three false fire alarms occurred on Saturday: in Holy Cross, O'Shaugnessy and Lincoln Hall.
