Calley verdict draws fire

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Lt. William Calley Jr.'s conviction on April 17, 1969, and his going to gas chamber Tuesday and Wednesdays would wreck the administrations down the middle Tuesday and provoked angry protests on the House floor.

"The verdict constitutes a very dangerous step toward destruction of morale in the Army and of the Army itself," Rep. John J. Flynn, D-Mass., told his colleagues. He predicted it would wreck the administrations plans to create an all volunteer Army.

Seuney Hersh, the freelance reporter whose disclosure of the incidents at My Lai earned him a Pulitzer Prize, told the Washington Evening Star that Calley's conviction did not resolve the question of moral responsibility for the slayings.

"If they think that they're going to be able to put Calley away, or shoot him, and solve any of the moral questions of guilt in Vietnam, they're wrong," he said. The ultimate responsibility rests with the highest levels of the U.S. command in South Vietnam. "Given the nature of the war, given the nature of his training, I don't think Calley was able to make a judgment about whether killing unarmed civilians at My Lai was right." Because the Calley case will be appealed automatically, the Pentagon had no official comment other than to say the verdict speaks for itself.

But uniformed professionals in the Pentagon who requested anonymity expressed feelings as mixed as those of the civilian public.

One career noncommissioned officer said there had been talk among other professional soldiers - "probably just barroom talk" - of, if refusing future assignment to Vietnam out of protest. But uniformed professionals in the field might result in a court martial.

Scott doubts Provost's sincerity

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Charles Manson and three young women have been given the death penalty for the Tate-LaBianca murders but the chances of their being executed are remote.

Chief defense attorney Paul Fitzgerald said Tuesday that he intended to push appeals to the U.S. Supreme Court if necessary and predicted that the process could take four or five years.

Manson and the three female defendants —Susan Atkins, Patricia Krenwinkel and Leslie Van Ours — were scheduled to be sentenced by Judge Charles H. Older on April 19 but even that formality was expected to be delayed by motions for a mistrial.

Fitzgerald said he would appeal the case on four principal grounds:

Pre-trial publicity made it impossible to get a fair trial.

Refusal of the courts to grant a change of venue so that the trial could be held away from the area of the crime.

The admission of evidence considered virtually impossible.

The possibility of giving the death penalty.

Scott has referred to as "playing games" with "agreements that were definite, not vague."

The discrepancies involved the commencement of the hiring of black personnel in what Dr. Scott has referred to as "functuring" including financial aid, recruitment, admissions, counseling, student affairs and social life. According to Dr. Scott's description of the agreement, blacks "are supposed to be hired" in these areas. Fr. Burtchaell was not available for comment.

The discrepancy arose over Dr. Scott's "understanding" and Fr. Burtchaell's "possibility of hiring."

Already, Dr. Peter Grande, admissions director, has offered full-time admissions counselor position to a black alumna, according to a letter from the Provost to Dr. Scott dated March 19. The letter also claims that Arts and Letters William M. Dean Burke has arranged for a black counselor in the Freshmen Year Office for next September, a statement which Dr. Scott denied.

The two further disagree over the hiring of a black in the Office of Student Affairs to "deal with black student college life, social and cultural life."

Another bone of contention is whether the University Provost, Fr. Theodore M. Hesburgh's consent is to be formally designated.

According to Dr. Scott, the President has stated his agreement with his proposal, saying that it summarizes the understanding of the meeting.

"I have no doubt of Fr. Hesburgh's sincerity for the development of the Black Studies Program and services for the black student," said Dr. Scott. He qualified this by expressing a concern that Fr. Burtchaell was making problems "more serious" than they are in the enactment of the agreement. "I have serious doubts about Fr. Burtchaell's sincerity for the development," he added.

Barkett appoints Rejent to post of S.G. Treasurer

Junior Cass Rejent of Greese Pointe Farms, Mich, was appointed Student Government Treasurer last night by Student Body President John Barkett.

A double major in finance and accounting, Rejent was the assistant treasurer and financial planner this past year. He has also served as Morrissey Hall treasurer.

One of Rejent's main duties will be to continue efforts to decrease the Student Government debt. The debt now stands around $11,000 after a high of $40,000 two years ago.

Rejent praised former Treasurer Dennis Conroy and ex-Campusbuilder Brian Nagle for their "instrumental" roles in reducing the debt. "Personnel such as Conroy and Nagle have been the most important factors in lowering our debt."

More funds will be available to the halls now that the debt has been reduced, according to Rejent. He added that more funds will also be available for student activities such as concerts.

The new treasurer said he has two primary goals. The first is to encourage hall treasurers to become "money managers."

"Very few halls keep a close account of their financial affairs and this is one reason why so many halls are in trouble financially," Rejent said. He added that he will be skeptical in allocating funds to a hall with a poor or non-existent financial statement.

The second primary goal involves recruiting and orienting an inexperienced staff. With the exception of himself, this past year's staff was composed of seniors. However, he is confident that the new members would be able to adjust to their positions with a minimum of difficulty.

Charles Manson was given the death penalty but chances of execution are remote.
Krashna-Winings evaluate year; note student involvement

by Fred Schaefer

Citing coeducation as their number one accomplishment, ex-SBP Dave Krashna and ex-SBVY Mark Winings released a statement evaluating their administration yesterday.

"We of the 1970-71 student government are proud that students were deeply involved in developing this new relationship between Notre Dame and St. Mary's," the pair said.

Krashna also said that most of the programs which he recommended, the committee on social understanding, and the Over the Hill Nights, were successfully activated.

Krashna and Winings traced student involvement in the coed project from Joe Zigmaman's initial report last year, prompting the Boards of Trustees to hire Drs Rosemary Park and Louis Mayhew to study the question. In this year's 70-page student government sponsored coeducation alternative report.

On this report, they claimed, "The Trustees were impressed. Most of our proposals were adopted by the Trustees in their May Bicentene statement."

Krashna believes that both implementation of the coeducation program and development of a minority recruitment program should be top priorities for the Barkett administration.

Supporters, protesters debate extension of draft system

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Antiwar forces, seeking enough House votes to end the draft, charged Tuesday that conscription led America into Vietnam and will allow President Nixon to continue it, as a对自己的 war, called an illegal and immoral war. But proponents of a two year draft extension led by powerful Chairman F. Edward Hbert of the House Armed Services Committee warned that to abolish the draft or to continue it for only one year would jeopardize the all volunteer Army concept.

Opening debate on the bill to raise military pay and allowances by $2.7 billion came after a series of House speeches charging the murder conviction of Lt. William L. Calley en dangered Army morale and would possibly lead to the draft's repeal. Nixon administration hopes for an all volunteer Army by mid-1973.

Rep. Bella Abzug, D-N.Y., in her fiery speaking style, brought applause from the public galleries with a speech blaming the draft for American un-American" and "a disastrous war, a war which the American people have rejected."

Except for the podium pounding speech of Mrs. Alzip, the House debated on what Rep. Leslie Arndts, R-Ill., called "one giant leap" toward an all volunteer Army was confined to low-key arguments for and against what is probably the most sweeping legislative battle of the Vietnam War. The ranking Republican on the Armed Services Committee, Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., said that continuation of the draft to mid-1972, will be proposed in an amendment to the draft bill. Nixon administration hopes for an all volunteer Army by mid-1973, which will be proposed in an amendment to the draft bill.

Nixon administration hopes for an all volunteer Army by mid-1973, which will be proposed in an amendment to the draft bill.

The ranking Republican on the Armed Services Committee, Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., said that continuation of the draft to mid-1972, will be proposed in an amendment to the draft bill. Nixon administration hopes for an all volunteer Army by mid-1973, which will be proposed in an amendment to the draft bill.

"I am going to vote to end the draft as it is now. I am going to vote to shut off the money for Vietnam. I am going to vote to end the war in Vietnam."
INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS ASSOCIATION MEETING
Date: Wed, 31st March
Time: 7 p.m.
Place: International Lounge (La Fortune Basement)

AGENDA:
1. Annual Elections
2. International Festival
3. Freshman Orientation
4. Spring Activities
5. Annual Send Off For Seniors

Lee Aires, an off-campus Notre Dame student, was robbed of $70 in cash early Tuesday morning in what appears to be the latest in a series of similar robberies. The suspect is alleged to be Duane Jones, the same man arrested and fined Feb. 5 for wielding and pointing a gas gun on campus at two Ferry Hall residents.

At approximately 5 a.m. Tuesday morning, Aires returned to his house on 313 Notre Dame Avenue to find his roommate Dennis Donovan, also a ND student, speaking with the man who identified himself simply as Duane. He asked for a place to sleep.

Aires and Donovan recalled the name from a scholastic article (Feb. 5) as the man author Steve Dixon and his roommate Scholastic editor Jack Flala, allowed in their off-campus house.

N. D. Student Robbed
$70 theft latest in chain

Lee Aires discovered the theft and called the South Bend police. Nothing else was stolen. The description given to South Bend police matched that of the man arrested at the Notre Dame campus for the gas gun and who had been cited for earlier incidents by various students.

The description matched the description of the man who had robbed Dixon and Flala over the Easter break last year of 3 radius and a television set, and who had robbed them again over the Christmas break this year, said Air.

The South Bend police said that the money would probably not be retrieved and that there are going to be pick up the suspect sometime today. Jones, 22, lives at 1228 West Washington Avenue in South Bend.

Optimism over room selections.

by Mike Nevens

The annual Spring room selections are about to begin and it appears that the situation is not as critical as it has been in the last few years.

Frank Chambers, housing director, said that he expects no one to be forced to leave his hall. He asserted that the institution of the $50 contract has brought about a return to normalcy.

When questioned specifically about the situation for this year, two towers he was very optimistic and felt certain that there would be no difficulty in accommodating all those who wished to remain.

However, Chambers did emphasize that because of the stay hall system no one from outside the classes, two were decided that the picking will be within the classes, two were

SUNY to DISCOVER?

WHAT COPE WITH

In Person! Abe Saperstein's Fabulous

SUDAN! April 11 3:30 p.m.

ACC and SMC Discounts
Ticket prices:
$4- No discount
$3- Purchase for $2 (Limit 2)
$2- No discount

General Admissions-$1.50
Purchased day of game, only:
Must present ID Card
For Discount at ACC

GET TOGETHER TO GET IT TOGETHER...

an experience in Christian sharing.

SPRING RETREAT April 17 - 18 (Sat. & Sun.)
SPONSORED by SMC's Student Services Organization
and N.D.'s Office of Campus Ministry
Open to 40 ND and SMC students
Reservations must be made.
For info call 1330 before Sat., April 3rd.

IT'S THE REAL THING!

Paul Newman's RACING JACKET

Professional Style

SPECIAL OFFER

100% DuPont Nylon
Water Repellent
Men's small, medium, large and X-large
Ladies and children small, medium and large sizes

See Details
Available April 5 thru May 1, 1971

THE OBSERVER

Proof of age required

NOW thru April 6.

SAUCRILE

SACRILEGE

by Gary P. Hunt

In a survey done by the Observer, room pick methods appear to be basically the same for each hall.

Of the seven halls surveyed, four on the South quad and three on the North quad) all the halls were using the same general method of procedure.

Each of the halls surveyed is using the class seniority system with the exception of Soran, where the number of roomates of residence in the hall is of primary importance.

Four of the halls surveyed are using the Grade Point Average system to determine order of pick within the classes, two were definitely decided to use the lottery system.

The hall president of Cavanaugh said that in instances he does not expect the hall council to approve the lottery system that was used last year in that hall.

Of the halls surveyed only Grace and Cavanagh did not have some sort of room freeze option.

Some of the forms of room freeze that are being used in the other halls are:

freeze if all the residents that are presently in the room remain, and freeze if one remains and pulls in only other residents of the hall.

With the exception of Fisher, all the halls have decided that students who are residents of the hall last year and went abroad this year will be giving the same status concerning room picks as those presently in the hall. In Fisher however, those returning from abroad will probably be given a choice with someone already in the hall.

Room picks are virtually identical in most halls

by Mike Nevens

The annual Spring room selections are about to begin and it appears that the situation is not as critical as it has been in the last few years.

Frank Chambers, housing director, said that he expects no one to be forced to leave his hall. He asserted that the institution of the $50 contract has brought about a return to normalcy.

When questioned specifically about the situation for this year, two towers he was very optimistic and felt certain that there would be no difficulty in accommodating all those who wished to remain.

However, Chambers did emphasize that because of the stay hall system no one from outside the classes, two were decided that the picking will be within the classes, two were

SUNY to DISCOVER?

WHAT COPE WITH

In Person! Abe Saperstein's Fabulous

SUDAN! April 11 3:30 p.m.

ACC and SMC Discounts
Ticket prices:
$4- No discount
$3- Purchase for $2 (Limit 2)
$2- No discount

General Admissions-$1.50
Purchased day of game, only:
Must present ID Card
For Discount at ACC

GET TOGETHER TO GET IT TOGETHER...

an experience in Christian sharing.

SPRING RETREAT April 17 - 18 (Sat. & Sun.)
SPONSORED by SMC's Student Services Organization
and N.D.'s Office of Campus Ministry
Open to 40 ND and SMC students
Reservations must be made.
For info call 1330 before Sat., April 3rd.

IT'S THE REAL THING!

Paul Newman's RACING JACKET

Professional Style

SPECIAL OFFER

100% DuPont Nylon
Water Repellent
Men's small, medium, large and X-large
Ladies and children small, medium and large sizes

See Details
Available April 5 thru May 1, 1971

THE OBSERVER

Proof of age required

NOW thru April 6.
It is unbelievable that two such articulate and intelligent men such as Dr. Joseph Scott and Rev. James Burtchaell could emerge from a meeting with such diverse understandings as the two seem to have.

The meeting was supposed to have resolved the requests set forth by Dr. Scott and the black student group concerning the Black Studies program, counseling and other areas of black student life.

Yet a comparison of the statement released to the Observer by Dr. Scott yesterday and Fr. Burtchaell's subsequent comments shows that the two are far apart in their understanding of the agreement.

Part of it apparently has been resolved. Dr. Scott, in his statement Monday, claimed that the position of admissions director had been offered to a black. Burtchaell termed this statement false. Scott however said yesterday that a full time admissions counselor position has been allocated to a black. This black candidate is the third person.

The remaining disagreements are still serious. The honesty and sincerity of both men are on the line. Scott claims that, according to the agreement, blacks are supposed to be hired in the "functional" areas of financial aid, recruitment, admissions counseling and student affairs. Fr. Burtchaell says there is only a possibility that such action will occur.

Scott flatly stated that the linkage between these functional areas would be formal, a contention Fr. Burtchaell denied.

It is difficult to believe that the two men attended the same meeting on March 15. The very important question of what type of life black students must face here for great public relations, since a person who does not get involved doesn't get can be seen in Fr. Burtchaell's March 9th letter to Dr. Scott. Scott termed this statement false.

It is tempting to force Dr. Scott to restate his opinions, but it won't solve the problem. Either Scott or Burtchaell will have to get the support of the other. I'm not sure the time has arrived for Terry Scott or Rev. James Burtchaell to emerge from a meeting with such divergent understandings of the issues.

The Observer's job is not to criticize either, but it won't solve the problem. Scott has said that the linkage between these functional areas would be formal, a contention Fr. Burtchaell denied. Still, the meeting was supposed to have resolved the requests set forth by Dr. Scott and the black students concerning the Black Studies program, counseling and other areas of black student life.

By the way ... do you think that you could find the time to give us that much-publicized "responsible journalism." I'm sure that the editors and business managers of the papers that serve these two campuses, the college is indicating a lack of trust in the ability of the editorial boards. The idea of student editors having the final say concerning their own affairs is meant is that the old "responsible journalism" keeps creeping up on us. Scott has said that the linkage between these functional areas would be formal, a contention Fr. Burtchaell denied.

The meeting was supposed to have resolved the requests set forth by Dr. Scott and the black students concerning the Black Studies program, counseling and other areas of black student life.

By the way ... do you think that you could find the time to give us that much-publicized "responsible journalism." I'm sure that the editors and business managers of the papers that serve these two campuses, the college is indicating a lack of trust in the ability of the editorial boards. The idea of student editors having the final say concerning their own affairs is meant is that the old "responsible journalism" keeps creeping up on us. Scott has said that the linkage between these functional areas would be formal, a contention Fr. Burtchaell denied.

The meeting was supposed to have resolved the requests set forth by Dr. Scott and the black students concerning the Black Studies program, counseling and other areas of black student life.

By the way ... do you think that you could find the time to give us that much-publicized "responsible journalism." I'm sure that the editors and business managers of the papers that serve these two campuses, the college is indicating a lack of trust in the ability of the editorial boards. The idea of student editors having the final say concerning their own affairs is meant is that the old "responsible journalism" keeps creeping up on us. Scott has said that the linkage between these functional areas would be formal, a contention Fr. Burtchaell denied.

The meeting was supposed to have resolved the requests set forth by Dr. Scott and the black students concerning the Black Studies program, counseling and other areas of black student life.

By the way ... do you think that you could find the time to give us that much-publicized "responsible journalism." I'm sure that the editors and business managers of the papers that serve these two campuses, the college is indicating a lack of trust in the ability of the editorial boards. The idea of student editors having the final say concerning their own affairs is meant is that the old "responsible journalism" keeps creeping up on us. Scott has said that the linkage between these functional areas would be formal, a contention Fr. Burtchaell denied.

The meeting was supposed to have resolved the requests set forth by Dr. Scott and the black students concerning the Black Studies program, counseling and other areas of black student life.

By the way ... do you think that you could find the time to give us that much-publicized "responsible journalism." I'm sure that the editors and business managers of the papers that serve these two campuses, the college is indicating a lack of trust in the ability of the editorial boards. The idea of student editors having the final say concerning their own affairs is meant is that the old "responsible journalism" keeps creeping up on us. Scott has said that the linkage between these functional areas would be formal, a contention Fr. Burtchaell denied.

The meeting was supposed to have resolved the requests set forth by Dr. Scott and the black students concerning the Black Studies program, counseling and other areas of black student life.

By the way ... do you think that you could find the time to give us that much-publicized "responsible journalism." I'm sure that the editors and business managers of the papers that serve these two campuses, the college is indicating a lack of trust in the ability of the editorial boards. The idea of student editors having the final say concerning their own affairs is meant is that the old "responsible journalism" keeps creeping up on us. Scott has said that the linkage between these functional areas would be formal, a contention Fr. Burtchaell denied.

The meeting was supposed to have resolved the requests set forth by Dr. Scott and the black students concerning the Black Studies program, counseling and other areas of black student life.

By the way ... do you think that you could find the time to give us that much-publicized "responsible journalism." I'm sure that the editors and business managers of the papers that serve these two campuses, the college is indicating a lack of trust in the ability of the editorial boards. The idea of student editors having the final say concerning their own affairs is meant is that the old "responsible journalism" keeps creeping up on us. Scott has said that the linkage between these functional areas would be formal, a contention Fr. Burtchaell denied.

The meeting was supposed to have resolved the requests set forth by Dr. Scott and the black students concerning the Black Studies program, counseling and other areas of black student life.

By the way ... do you think that you could find the time to give us that much-publicized "responsible journalism." I'm sure that the editors and business managers of the papers that serve these two campuses, the college is indicating a lack of trust in the ability of the editorial boards. The idea of student editors having the final say concerning their own affairs is meant is that the old "responsible journalism" keeps creeping up on us. Scott has said that the linkage between these functional areas would be formal, a contention Fr. Burtchaell denied.

The meeting was supposed to have resolved the requests set forth by Dr. Scott and the black students concerning the Black Studies program, counseling and other areas of black student life.

By the way ... do you think that you could find the time to give us that much-publicized "responsible journalism." I'm sure that the editors and business managers of the papers that serve these two campuses, the college is indicating a lack of trust in the ability of the editorial boards. The idea of student editors having the final say concerning their own affairs is meant is that the old "responsible journalism" keeps creeping up on us. Scott has said that the linkage between these functional areas would be formal, a contention Fr. Burtchaell denied.

The meeting was supposed to have resolved the requests set forth by Dr. Scott and the black students concerning the Black Studies program, counseling and other areas of black student life.

By the way ... do you think that you could find the time to give us that much-publicized "responsible journalism." I'm sure that the editors and business managers of the papers that serve these two campuses, the college is indicating a lack of trust in the ability of the editorial boards. The idea of student editors having the final say concerning their own affairs is meant is that the old "responsible journalism" keeps creeping up on us. Scott has said that the linkage between these functional areas would be formal, a contention Fr. Burtchaell denied.

The meeting was supposed to have resolved the requests set forth by Dr. Scott and the black students concerning the Black Studies program, counseling and other areas of black student life.

By the way ... do you think that you could find the time to give us that much-publicized "responsible journalism." I'm sure that the editors and business managers of the papers that serve these two campuses, the college is indicating a lack of trust in the ability of the editorial boards. The idea of student editors having the final say concerning their own affairs is meant is that the old "responsible journalism" keeps creeping up on us. Scott has said that the linkage between these functional areas would be formal, a contention Fr. Burtchaell denied.

The meeting was supposed to have resolved the requests set forth by Dr. Scott and the black students concerning the Black Studies program, counseling and other areas of black student life.

By the way ... do you think that you could find the time to give us that much-publicized "responsible journalism." I'm sure that the editors and business managers of the papers that serve these two campuses, the college is indicating a lack of trust in the ability of the editorial boards. The idea of student editors having the final say concerning their own affairs is meant is that the old "responsible journalism" keeps creeping up on us. Scott has said that the linkage between these functional areas would be formal, a contention Fr. Burtchaell denied.

The meeting was supposed to have resolved the requests set forth by Dr. Scott and the black students concerning the Black Studies program, counseling and other areas of black student life.

By the way ... do you think that you could find the time to give us that much-publicized "responsible journalism." I'm sure that the editors and business managers of the papers that serve these two campuses, the college is indicating a lack of trust in the ability of the editorial boards. The idea of student editors having the final say concerning their own affairs is meant is that the old "responsible journalism" keeps creeping up on us. Scott has said that the linkage between these functional areas would be formal, a contention Fr. Burtchaell denied.

The meeting was supposed to have resolved the requests set forth by Dr. Scott and the black students concerning the Black Studies program, counseling and other areas of black student life.

By the way ... do you think that you could find the time to give us that much-publicized "responsible journalism." I'm sure that the editors and business managers of the papers that serve these two campuses, the college is indicating a lack of trust in the ability of the editorial boards. The idea of student editors having the final say concerning their own affairs is meant is that the old "responsible journalism" keeps creeping up on us. Scott has said that the linkage between these functional areas would be formal, a contention Fr. Burtchaell denied.

The meeting was supposed to have resolved the requests set forth by Dr. Scott and the black students concerning the Black Studies program, counseling and other areas of black student life.

By the way ... do you think that you could find the time to give us that much-publicized "responsible journalism." I'm sure that the editors and business managers of the papers that serve these two campuses, the college is indicating a lack of trust in the ability of the editorial boards. The idea of student editors having the final say concerning their own affairs is meant is that the old "responsible journalism" keeps creeping up on us. Scott has said that the linkage between these functional areas would be formal, a contention Fr. Burtchaell denied.
Jim Brogan's back!!!
My life and times as a rah-rah

For a freshman game, and able to get a reward. The recurring image of myself only yards away. I remember being as close to a live forming this first and only cartwheel, and it was wrong calls from San Antonio, Texas, enthusiast to freshman contest. we shall invite the whole team out for tea. For the first time in my life I could see the forest for the trees. The thought of hurling spheroid down the court, an article for the SMU Illustrated Special) and assorted tossing, throwing, and sometimes catching movements, in which the girls were completely dependent on my agile strength for support.

A pair of close calls in which Missy's cranium was almost squashed on a joined our简易 for his rather than further discussion. My dazzling split, my knees wavered with all the consistency of overcooked spaghetti, and my legs heavy as leeches. I finished the remainder of my debut timing my fall to occur just seconds before the starting whistle was blown. It was then dubbed "the goat can be argued by future fans that my only reward for such heroics were a negative response, and hoping to result in the Victory mount (for Sports Illustrated) and assorted tossing, throwing, and sometimes catching movements, in which the girls were completely dependent on my agile strength for support.

A pair of close calls in which Missy's cranium was almost squashed on a court, and exasperated Rooney Frailey, as if in a last ditch attempt not for top. (How Jolly) She shivered down the court, and fight, fight, fight. On comes chaps for du luscious greens! It won't be peaches if we win the game. Let's try not to injure them, but fight, fight, fight.

After dropping Missy, this was as close as I got to any other SMU cheerleader.

Let me now tell you of the time when I had a chance to start my next feature for the observer entitled: Dating an SMC belle. Rapidly I repeated through my mind the arsenal of quick result lines that I have learned. I knew it was just such an occasion, when you must be able to unleash the tried-and-true line about voting for me back in that day by saying: "Why on earth would any self-respecting man wish to see such a thing asa."

I was gently nudged by death grip around the neck by the vivacious Rooney Frailey, as if in a last ditch attempt not for top. It was funny but my sister always said "Anything that can kiss, can withstand it's funny but my sister always said 'Anything that can kiss, can withstand anything'. You mean you can't even... Here she demanded further information that I attempt something more difficult.

The more difficult stunt which I decided to reproduce for my benefit was lifting a female cheerleader from a standing position on the floor to a sitting position on my shoulder. Having rehearsed this into the ground earlier, I thought I could handle it with comparative ease. But with adrenalin pumping and muscles straining, I grabbed the girl's wrist and carefully guided her up on my right shoulder.

I finished the remainder of my debut timing my fall to occur just seconds before the starting whistle was blown. It was then dubbed "the goat can be argued by future fans that my only reward for such heroics were a negative response, and hoping to result in the Victory mount (for Sports Illustrated) and assorted tossing, throwing, and sometimes catching movements, in which the girls were completely dependent on my agile strength for support.

A pair of close calls in which Missy's cranium was almost squashed on a court, and exasperated Rooney Frailey, as if in a last ditch attempt not for top. (How Jolly) She shivered down the court, and fight, fight, fight. On comes chaps for du luscious greens! It won't be peaches if we win the game. Let's try not to injure them, but fight, fight, fight.

After dropping Missy, this was as close as I got to any other SMU cheerleader.

Let me now tell you of the time when I had a chance to start my next feature for the observer entitled: Dating an SMC belle. Rapidly I repeated through my mind the arsenal of quick result lines that I have learned. I knew it was just such an occasion, when you must be able to unleash the tried-and-true line about voting for me back in that day by saying: "Why on earth would any self-respecting man wish to see such a thing as..."
Hinkemeyer elaborates attack on SMC
Proposes black, and non-Catholic hiring

by Paul O'Conner

In a letter which appeared in Tuesday's OBSERVER, Professor Hinkemeyer had expressed his hopes that St. Mary's Education Department would hire at least one black and one non-Catholic to fill positions which will be vacated by the departure of himself and Fr. Raymond Romans. He also said that he hoped the existing faculty would be consulted on new appointments.

In an OBSERVER interview yesterday, Prof. Michael Hinkemeyer stated that, at St. Mary's, faculty appointments are made by the administration, in contrast to what he termed "real universities like Stanford, Berkeley, and Northwestern," where the power of hiring lies with a department's existing faculty.

In this regard, he feels, St. Mary's "operates like a high school," with the consent of its' faculty. "Here we have people who are merely job holders who will acquiesce to incompetent administration."

In a further attack upon St. Mary's upper orders, Hinkemeyer expressed his opinion of what a department chairman ought to be. He should be "a man of courage, of academic attainment and possesses the ability to protect his colleagues and to be honest with them." Hinkemeyer said. "Obviously, I still seek such an individual in my department."

Addressing himself to the issue of racism on campus, Hinkemeyer said that St. Mary's has an opportunity to prove that it is not a racist institution by selecting a Black or a non-Catholic as his replacement. He went on to say that when had been hired he was assured his position would not be hindered by the fact that he is not Catholic. Summing up his feelings on St. Mary's, he said, "this school is dead, and the people who do not realize that are worshipping a corpse."

Co-Ex helped SMC admissions

by Mike O'Hare

The decrease in the number of freshman applications for the fall of 1971 was termed a misleading figure by Mrs. Miller of the St. Mary's Admissions Department.

Mrs. Miller stated that the 441 freshman applications received this year is misleading because in the previous year, 1969, St. Mary's received 984 applications, the most in its history.

By March 26 of last year, St. Mary's had received 970 out of the total 984 applications finally received. By March 26 of this year, St. Mary's had received 839 applications as compared with the 984 applications received by March 26 of 1969.

St. Mary's freshmen applications are in room 320, Madeleva.

Application deadline - Friday, April 9

Winter Consort

Gordon Lightfoot

on sale at the student union ticket office and dining halls (tues., wed., thur.)

(gordon lightfoot will appear at 8:30)
Dear Mom and Dad,

Since I haven't written you all year, I thought I'd take advantage of my last opportunity to send something in the printed word back home.

I have to say that this has been the most enjoyable yet most traumatic year of my life. I have been able to witness and report on some of the greatest events in Notre Dame sports history.

Just yesterday afternoon "Dyso" and I went over to the Stadium to reminisce some of the great moments over four years of football. Why not? We closed the season with Frank Crippen's outstanding display of bellowing things like "...Herarity to Seymour for the touchdown..." They're around when the mighty editors were great for putting up with me. I don't know why but I thought I'd light up what was said quite expressively (probably stemming from the many in-between hours of sleep I've had this career). Looking at it now I still can't imagine not to imagine him and his will be probably one of the best who ever played sports.

Austin Carr is fine examples of the university. They and all of their teammates are the greatest. But mom and dad, sports isn't all I've learned about for these four years. I've learned a lot about people. I'd just like to mention a few.

Pleick. I even have a lot of dynamite memories from those years. Last night at the basketball banquet illustrates Notre Dame's role in the sports world. Mike Kruse presented all-America awards to two of the outstanding performers in collegiate sports. Joe Theismann and Austin Carr are fine examples of the university. They and all of their teammates are the greatest. I just wish I could reach each and every one for the thrills and excitement they've provided me.

But the thing about Notre Dame athletics is that it doesn't quit with just these major sports. I've found out a lot about desire and other intangibles by covering the minor sports where there is no bonus contract or even temporal glory. All there is for a Bengal bowler or a rucker or a freshman or anyone else involved in the collegiate scene at St. Joe's. I've learned about the pride and satisfaction of knowing that something has been accomplished to the best of one's abilities.

But mom and dad, sports isn't all I've learned about for these four years. I've learned a lot about people. I'd just like to mention a few.

Joe Theismann is the guy on my staff that could thank each and every one for the thrills and excitement they've provided me.

But the thing about Notre Dame athletics is that it doesn't quit with just these major sports. I've found out a lot about desire and other intangibles by covering the minor sports where there is no bonus contract or even temporal glory. All there is for a Bengal bowler or a rucker or a freshman or anyone else involved in the collegiate scene at St. Joe's. I've learned about the pride and satisfaction of knowing that something has been accomplished to the best of one's abilities.

But mom and dad, sports isn't all I've learned about for these four years. I've learned a lot about people. I'd just like to mention a few.

John Pleick is a person.

By E.J. Kinkop

When I first went to John Pleick's room to interview him he was busy giving a friend a haircut. Actually it was more like a shave. The victim kept babbling about how good the new razor was. The young man's fear was the scalp. And believe me, with the amount of hair that was left on his head, he could get plenty of scalp. And believe me, with the amount of hair that was left on his head, he could get plenty of scalp. And believe me, with the amount of hair that was left on his head, he could get plenty of scalp. And believe me, with the amount of hair that was left on his head, he could get plenty of scalp.

There is no way in the world I could ever forget all of those beautiful justifying typists (yes, even you Harold). A very special thanks to Amy, Robin, Sue, Deb, Jim and the whole staff. I just haven't left anybody out. If so, thanks to you.

I'm trying to try and say, mom and dad, was what Johnny Dee said earlier, and that's "the boys and the girls". The seniors he said, "I thank all of you for the great years you've given us, but I'm sure we can all agree that we haven't had a year without you." He was right. I don't matter who it is, the best of us all was registred by Pleick, but Notre Dame will go on without us and she won't ever be forgotten.

Remember that! I hope all of my readers who have suffered through that senior year will start reading again.

I guess I'm about ready to close. Say hi to Kathy and Mickey for me. And don't forget to send some tickets for the Pirate opener cause I think I'm coming home.

Thanks for everything mom and dad.

Your son, Terry.
THE OBSERVER
March 31, 1971

NIXON TO HIKE GI PULLOUT RATE

SANY CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI) — President Nixon will announce on April 7 that the American withdrawal from South Vietnam will proceed at a rate faster than the current withdrawal rate of 12,500 troops per month, the White House said Tuesday.

Despite some disappointment expressed by ranking Nixon advisers over the performance of South Vietnamese forces in their recent Laotian operation, Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler said there had been no change in the outlook the President gave last week of a continuation of the American withdrawal at least at the current rate.

"The President will be completing his assessment of the situation in South Vietnam this week," Ziegler said. "This decision regarding the next reduction of U.S. forces in South Vietnam will be based on an estimation of future enemy activity in the area... the impact of the Laotian operation and finally the ability of the South Vietnamese forces to continue to assume a greater share of the responsibility in South Vietnam."

The President had earlier indicated he would disclose the next troop withdrawal plan on April 10, but Ziegler said he had decided to move up the date so as to avoid the Easter recess of Congress. He will make it in an address to the nation from his Oval Office in the White House.

The announcement will project troop withdrawals after May 1 when the U.S. troop ceiling will be 54,000 men, down about 26,000 from January, 1969, when Nixon took office.

Ziegler would give no indication of the specifics of the President's announcement and whether or not he planned to leave a residual force in South Vietnam.

MOONEY'S Pranksters

Mooney's Merry Pranksters

Critically acclaimed playwright Israel Horowitz will give the Sophomore Literary Festival audience this evening at 8 p.m. in Washington Hall a preview of "Post-Becket Comedy." (This comedy is based on two of Mr. Horovitz' early plays, The Greek and It's Called the Sugar Plum.)

Mr. Horovitz' early plays, The Greek and It's Called the Sugar Plum have played in over 300 theaters in at least thirteen countries since their opening in the 1967-68 season in New York. Mr. Horovitz was born in Wakefield, Massachusetts in 1939. He was educated in Boston and studied under a fellowship at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in London from 1961 to 1963. While in England in 1965, he became the first American to be chosen Playwright-in-Residence with the Royal Shakespeare Company. Among the awards his plays have merited are the Jerusalem JournaU Award, the Vernon Rice Drama Desk Award, the OBIE award (twice) and the Show Business Grand Award as Best American Playwright.

A frequent contributor to Look magazine, the New York Sunday Times and Craft Horizons magazine, Horovitz is a Professor of Playwriting at the New York University and is Playwright-in-Residence at the City College of New York.

Director to receive Atomic Energy Citation

Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, Chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, announced last week that Professor Milton B. Burton, Director of the University of Notre Dame Laboratory, has been selected to receive the Commission's Citation for outstanding contributions to the U.S. atomic energy programs.

Commissioner Wilfrid E. Johnson will present the award to Professor Burton at Notre Dame on March 12th.

The United States Atomic Energy Commission Citation, established August 17, 1966, consists of a gold medal and a parchment scroll signed by the Chairman and members of the Atomic Energy Commission, the General Manager or the Director of Regulation, or both. The Citation may be granted to individuals, other than AEC employees, or groups for exemplary contributions in, or for meritorious contributions to, the United States nuclear program.