Strict enforcement of parietal air, drinking rules is in the offing, according to a letter by President Fr. Theodore M. Hesburgh, scheduled to arrive in student mail boxes sometime this week.

The letter explained the policy set down by the Board of Trustees in their summer meeting, calling for more enforcement of parietal and drinking rules, guidelines for sanctions set by judicial boards, and calls for more student publication of the rules on student body.

Mrs. Mary A. Doherty, SMC Dean of Freshman Students, said that this academic regulations for the S15 new SMC freshmen programs.

"Whatever requirements Notre Dame has will have the recommendations for the Saint Mary's freshmen," Mrs. Doherty said. There can be some changes that can be made, but as of the present, the incoming freshmen are in the Notre Dame program.

There is little change, according to Mrs. Doherty, in the freshmen curricula for BA majors. The past freshmen have been allowed to determine their own parietal rules, after consultation with the hall board, and that each hall be allowed to determine rules and guidelines for hall and section parties.

According to Stephan, the trustees felt it would be unwise at this time to alter the present regulations on parietal hours... claiming that all the visiting hours were originally allowed in order to improve the social life of the campus and... contribute to the growth and maturity of the individual student.

Stephan reiterates the rule concerning drinking in the halls saying "all parties, whether sponsored by a hall, a section, or a campus organization, are to be held off-campus if alcoholic beverages are to be served. The University's status before the law and its responsibility for the welfare of each student requires that this original policy be retained and strictly enforced."

The Trustees called for clarification of the campus judicial positions boards, claiming that "some boards have chosen to ignore the seriousness of instances of larceny, assault, excessive drinking, major violations of parietal hours, and except in those departments in which the department head received during the summer. In those departments, the chairmen have not been replaced.

Mrs. Doherty stated, "if anything, there will be a slight reduction in required hours." The upper classes are required to have 12 hours in order to graduate. The freshman load will be reduced because of the new science requirements for BA majors and the coordination of SMC-ND courses. Freshmen will take a normal course load of 16 hours except those going overseas. Those in the Rome and other programs abroad will be required to take more language credits than regular BA majors.

Mrs. Doherty stated that "some changes that can be made, but as of the present, the incoming freshmen are in the Notre Dame program..."
Merger completion still in planning

SMC orientation planned

Cooperation with Notre Dame in the keynote of this year's freshman orientation is aimed at establishing a link to K. C. Tiernan, Social Co-chairs of the SMC Orientation Committee.

"The basic difference between the orientation this year and that of past years is that we decided to work with every student on the ND campus," Miss Tiernan said. "In last year's orientation, the Committee coordinated activities with only a few halls on the ND campus. When we met last April to formulate plans for this year we decided to assign advisors to work with each dorm on campus in planning activities for the new incoming freshmen." In keeping with last year's orientation, the advisor group will continue to act as a liaison between the Student Advisors groups at St. Mary's. "We're trying to keep this correspondence so that the students and freshmen can meet as many people as possible both on the ND and on the SMC campuses."

One big difference from days past is that in the past, the freshmen at St. Mary's have been the "monster mash" mixer, whereas the freshmen at SMC have been the 'way out of proportion."

The members of the SMC Orientation Committee urge all freshmen to attend the Welcome Program tonight at 8:30 p.m. in O'Laughlin Auditorium. "We urge the freshmen to attend so that in the future they will be familiar with the different administrators and opportunities that St. Mary's has to offer." The Observer

ND councils' functions defined

The THEOBERE

By Milton Jones

Although few students are aware that a quite a few committees and councils exist at Notre Dame, few students know the names, functions, and other pertinent information about these groups. The following is a compilation of many of the committees and councils on campus, and pertinent information about them.

The Hall Life Board, which is composed of the three faculty members, and three administrators, meets once a month. Its function is to review the governmental bodies of the individual halls and approve or disapprove them. Its purpose is to help the halls improve their government and following procedures.

The Hall Presidents' Council coordinates ideas and programs concerning the halls, and meets Monday nights in LaFortune center. It handles and assists the handling of all functions and freshmen orientation, homestay arrangements with resident assistants of the individual halls, and other similar matters. Freshmen orientation includes the twenty priests of the halls, business office, and an executive coordinator.

Another group which deals with the daily activity and atmosphere of the University is the Student Life Council. The SLC is composed of twenty-four persons. Administration, faculty, and student body are each represented by one of the full membership of the Council.

Observer Insight

The SLC decides on matters concerning the everyday life of the University community. It participates in all campus, student, cars, the drug situation, and other similar matters.

There are also committees and councils composed under general category of student government. Theman ones are the present student body president, and student union board of directors. The student union board of directors is composed of one faculty member, the SUI, the SBV, student body treasurer, and a stay senator. It dictates the policy of the student union and meets as needed.

The Dean's Committee, Budget Committee, and University Officers are standing committees that are categorized as administrative committees. The university officers are the provost, president, associate provost, and all the administrative vice-presidents. This is the equivalent to President Hesburgh's cabinet and functions in that manner.

The Budget Committee is responsible for the president's provost, executive vice-president, vice-president, vice-president for business affairs, and the comptroller for the direction and control. The committee decides on matters concerning the budget of the university.

The Dean's Committee membership include the provost, associate provost, assistant provost, and all deans. It decides on matters concerning academic and administrative matters.

The Academic Council is comprised of 65 members, seven of which are students. Student representatives consist of the student government academic commissioner, one delegate each of the four colleges, and two graduate students. It is chaired by Fr. Bartholomew, and makes academic decisions such as grading systems, academic calendar, and other similar decisions.

There are also committees which were organized by students to handle particular matters. Two of these are the Dining Hall Advisory Committee and the LaFortune Center House Committee. The DHAC is composed entirely of students. It meets each week with the dean of Food Services, Edmund Price, and makes suggestions concerning food service for the students.

The LaFortune Center House Committee is made up of one faculty member and his wife, the student body president, associate vice-president of student affairs, the non-student secretary in the student government office, SBV, and the student body president. It is a research and development coordinator.

Alma's freshmen are considered Notre Dame students immediately. "They are following programs which will prepare them for ND academic programs in their sophomore years and beyond," Dr. Hefman noted.

"We are operating in structures which were inherited rather than one which have developed. There will be some difficulties, some changes which we might not have anticipated. We hope we have minimized these." Dr. Hefman added.

"We think that students will understand," Dr. Hefman said.

Dr. Hefman will continue to teach the General Chemistry course which he has taught for over 15 years. This course brings him in contact with 600 freshmen each year.

IRA bombs injure 39 people in Ulster

Belfast, Northern Ireland, Sept. 4 - Six bombs exploded in downtown Belfast today within minutes of one another, injuring 39 persons and wrecking the ruling Unionist Party headquarters.

It was the first time that the terrorist Irish Republican Army had hit such crowded areas in a daylight attack. Officials feared that today's bombings could mark the beginning of a new phase of activity against civilians.

In only one case was there a telephoned warning but by the time the anonymous call was received two bombs had exploded in a multi-story parking garage, wrecking scores of cars and causing a fire.

Six persons were injured when the first bomb exploded outside the front door of the Unionist Party headquarters, devasting the ground floor offices. A bomb planted there two weeks ago had failed to explode, and in March all the building's windows were blown out by a bomb.

There were no politicians in the building at the time of the blast, although the building is usually minimal during the day because the city's streets in armored cars, but as well as confusion there was anger on the streets. Trade union leaders at the Belfast shipyards, where most of the 10,000 workers are protestants, pleaded with the men not to march in protest against what they assert are inadequate security precautions.

British soldiers patrolled the city's streets in armored cars, but security at key buildings is minimal during the day because the I.R.A. has usually struck at night.

Prime Minister Brian Faulkner in a statement said the bombings were "the action of subhuman animals". He called on people to show their determination not to submit to terrorism by joining one of the part-time security forces. The blasts are assumed to be the work of the provisional I.R.A., which had claimed responsibility for most of the recent bombings, including the daylight attack on the offices of the Northern Ireland Electricity Board a week ago which killed a man and injured 35 persons, many of them young girls who were disfigured for life.

The provisions, or "provos" broke away from the regular I.R.A. or "officials" two years ago because they disagreed with the "officials" emphasis on political rather than military action.

Edmund Stephan Chase
Chairman of the Board of Trustees

Rev. Theodore Hesburgh, C.S.C.
Barkett said he was writing a response to Stephan's letter which would be released next week.
Irish fans from the subway alumni in New York City to the most rah rah frosh can take their choice of two preseason polls — Playboy or UPI.

Playboy has placed Notre Dame first, or to put it another way, 19 places ahead of Texas. No. 2, or to put it another way, according to both preseason polls — UPI and Playboy — is Nebraska.

According to Playboy, Brown is "the best offensive player this spring and in look us over.

Bill Etter is a six-foot, two inch sophomore who directed every offensive play for last season's sophomore weighing 185 pounds. He completed his first varsity pass - a 37 yard bomb - in the Cotton Bowl. He received the Hering Award as the most improved offensive player this spring and threw a touch down pass during the Blue-Gold game. He was seven for 18 passing in the Blue-Gold game accounting for 113 yards.

ABA PARSEGHIAN

have a bunch Brown will make big waves his first season." Brown is a six foot, 200 pound sophomore who directed every offensive play for last season's freshman. He connected on 42 of 98 pass attempts. During the spring Blue-Gold game he booted a 52 yard field goal and put several punts out of the end zone.

The other quarterback candidates are: Pat Steenbergen a six-foot, one inch 175 pound senior who compiled more than 40 minutes playing time as the understudy to Joe Theismann. He rolled up 45 yards on 15 rushes and completed seven of 15 passes for 98 yards. He was seven for 18 passing in the Blue-Gold game accounting for 113 yards.

Jim Bulger is a six-foot five inch, 200 pound junior who completed his first varsity pass - a 27 yard bomb - in the Cotton Bowl. He received the Hering Award as the most improved offensive player this spring and threw a touch down pass during the Blue-Gold game. He was seven for 18 passing in the Blue-Gold game accounting for 95 yards.

Bill Ettor is a six-foot, two inch senior weighing 185 pounds. He was sidelined last year by a non-football injury. Slated as the number two quarterback last season, he set an Irish record in 1969 by posting a 10.7 yard running average. He also made the longest run of that season, a 79 yard romp against Navy.

Defensively, Playboy has no comment other than, "There are some pro coaches who would like to swap defensive units."

The issue also has pictures of some of its 1971 preview offensive and defensive All American teams. Three Irish made defense: end, Walt Patalski; tackle, Mike Kadish and back, Clarence Ellis.

Wide receiver Tom Gately was named to the offensive unit. The top ten playback teams are: Notre Dame, Nebraska, Southern California, Michigan, Georgia, Syracuse, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Auburn and Penn State.

The UPI poll and point totals is: Nebraska, 399; Notre Dame, 354; Texas, 219; Southern California, 183; Michigan, 146; Tennessee, 129; Auburn, 105; LSU, 86; Oklahoma, 79 and Ohio State, 78.

The Cornhuskers garnered 49 first place votes to Notre Dame's five. Texas did not receive a single first place vote.

GEMMELL OUT, LEG FRACTURED

The Fighting Irish basketball outlook took a turn for the worse three weeks ago when guard forward Doug Gemmell fractured his left leg in two places.

The fractures were caused when Gemmell was in an accident while riding a motorcycle near his Irvington, N.J. home.

Gemmell, a senior, probably will be sidelined for the entire 1971 game season. His injury was limited to fractures. Coach Digger Phelps said Gemmell will be missed because of his experience.

In two varsity seasons Gemmell appeared in 43 games, scored 164 points and grabbed 147 rebounds. He made 36 percent of his field shots in the 1970-71 seasons and 60 percent of his free throws.

Phelps, named coach of the year for district 2 of the National Association for Collegiate Basketball, said Wednesday that he has no plans as yet for replacing Gemmell.

Phelps named a mediocre Fordham team into a national contender last season, was appointed May 4.

He is faced with a young inexperienced team, one of the toughest schedules in the nation, and will have to replace four starters lost to graduation, including All-American Austin Carr.
