OK for day care center delayed by St. Mary's

Approval of a proposed day care center for children of ND, SMC, and students was postponed Monday by SMC administrators until organizers can meet certain logistical conditions.

The Happy Day Care Center must have the administrator's approval because it is scheduled to operate from the clubhouse on the south side of Holy Cross Hall.

Bob Weaver, co-author and ND student coordinator, said the center must present plans to maintain the center up-keep and to move its facilities when the clubhouse is scheduled for night-time painting.

"It's a problem of logistics which poses no real problems," Weaver said.

\[Date\]

on campus

7:00 meeting, birch bay for SMC_conv. on organizational meeting, afternoon, lounge, in'to 1156, 3206, 4684.
7:00 meeting, the ski club of new england, trip. 204 o'shaugh.
8:00 lecture prof. m. grant, gross, state university of new york, in town, a discussion on environmental series. library aud.
8:00 meeting rd smc council on the retarded: organizational meeting for those interested in new volunteers, neiuwolf science hall.

today...

InPIRG: ND hosts convention

by Danny O'Brien

Hall Hall, standing: Bob Higgins, announced today that the newly-formed Indiana Public Interest Research Group (InPIRG) would hold its first full convention on campus, Sunday, September 26.

Higgins, who two weeks ago attended a convention dealing with consumer protection groups in Chicago and New York, said that Notre Dame had been chosen to host the convention. This should give InPIRG the boost that it needs to get started on campus," he noted.

"We hope that the convention will be a success and that the well-organized product that it will bring to campus will be appreciated by everyone that InPIRG is definitely in the future of Notre Dame. Higgins emphasized that although the convention will begin on the week-old Notre Dame it was well on the way toward solid organization. Under the direction of Morrissey Hall residents could be approved at next Monday's administrators' meeting, begun in form as May at a proposal written by Lynne Mastriana, an SMC sensor.

The proposal, authored by Miss Mastriana, Weaver and SBP John Barlett, lists seven provisions:

They are:

- The clubhouse is the "most suitable location" because it is approved by the St. Joseph's County Public Welfare Department.
- Twenty children ages two to five years are the maximum capacity.
- The facility should be open 7 a.m. to 6 p.m.
- Inner closings (C) 1971 New York Times

- Peking reportedly informed a number of foreign governments last week that it rejected any softening in the resolution calling for the expulsion of the Chinese Ambassador to the United Nations.

This was reported by authoritative diplomats in Ottawa on the eve of the opening in New York of the annual session of the General Assembly, which is expected to vote on Chinese representation in the United Nations.

The diplomats said that Peking has acted in response to pressure from the United Nations governments that the reference to the expulsion of the Chinese Ambassador to the United Nations is an obstacle for all nations to become members of the United Nations.

A diplomat said that Peking, "as a result of the United Nations governments that the reference to the expulsion of the Chinese Ambassador to the United Nations is an obstacle for all nations to become members of the United Nations." (continued on page 8)

Today...

Peking resists softening'... No official candidate submitted.

Karachi, Pakistan--If the leaders of India and Pakistan cannot be brought together for peace negotiations, the United States and the Soviet Union would probably be too busy to participate in peace-making efforts, a Karachi newspaper, quoting authoritative sources, disclosed. The U.S. and the Soviet Union are already assisting Iran in its mediation between India and Pakistan, the Karachi Star also stated.

Washington--The House Ways and Means Committee began consideration, behind closed doors, of last aspects of President Nixon's New Economic Program which are aimed at stimulating a business upturn and reducing unemployment. The committee tentatively agreed to retain the special tax for business investment in new equipment but in a simpler form than (continued on page 3)

World Briefs

(C) 1971 New York Times News Service

- Peking'''s demand that diplomatic relations with the United States be reestablished.
- The resolution sponsored by Albania and 17 other nations to make it easier for more delegations to vote for it.
- Advocates of softening argued that a decision by the General Assembly to seat the communists in the Security Council and all other United Nations organs would throw the outer of the Nationalists.

High officials in Peking were reported to have insisted that the Albanian text remain intact even though they had acknowledged their uncertainty whether expedition could be achieved this year before a ruder in efforts on behalf of the Nationalists.

The Chinese Communists, who have said repeatedly that any change in the situation was unacceptable, have rejected any compromise, the diplomats said, even though they had insisted that the move by their allies to expel the Nationalists may hang on a handful of votes.

A ranking diplomat commended: "Peking distrusts the Americans so much and it is so determined to proclaim the principle that Taiwan is a politically part of mainland China that it is prepared to lose votes and even jeopardize its chance of being seated this year rather than make the slightest concession. Without China's approval because it is scheduled to operate from the clubhouse on the south side of Holy Cross Hall. Bob Weaver, co-author and ND student coordinator, said the center must present plans to maintain the center up-keep and to move its facilities when the clubhouse is scheduled for night-time painting.

"It's a problem of logistics which poses no real problems," Weaver said. (continued on page 6)
$200 million to go for emergency jobs

Washington, Sept. 28—The University board of trustees here today said it will allocate $200 million in emergency funds for service jobs to areas with high unemployment.

The funds, distributed in October, will go to cities, counties and neighborhoods where unemployment has been in excess of 6 percent. The money is part of a $1 billion appropriation made for the general public, including the Public Service Employment Act.

The allocation was made in New York, Los Angeles, Miami, and 10 other cities. As part of the general public, the Works Projects Administration of the 1930's. Further, $400 million was allocated under the main section of the act to states, counties and cities.

There were numerous complaints about the way these funds were allocated, especially from mayors who charged that a disproportionate amount went to the states.

The allocation announced today, under a special section for pockets of unemployment, is likely to be more favorably received, according to a spokesman for the National League of Cities and the National Conference of Mayors. Further, J.D. Hodgson said he was reserving $50 million to be used at some later date for “further alleviation of high-unemployment areas.”

Under the act, the state and local governments can use the funds to hire persons in a variety of occupations, from garbage collectors to engineers. As of last week, Hodgson said, more than 500 persons had been hired under the $500 million allocation.

The $200 million will be allocated on the basis of a formula that gives equal weight to both the number of unemployed and the severity of unemployment.

So many areas in the United States have unemployment exceeding 6 percent that the money will be spread rather thinly. However, in order to prevent the money from being dissipated among small government units, the Labor Department ruled that no grant of less than $25,000 would be made to any area.

Examples of how the money will be distributed are as follows:

- Los Angeles, with a jobless rate over 6 percent, is receiving $6,900,000 with the understanding that the city will distribute the funds within its boundaries to pockets of severe unemployment as determined by the city.
- New York, with a jobless rate of less than 6 percent, will receive $6,928,200 to be distributed as specified by the Labor Department—$1,377,900 to central and east Harlem; $1,074,500 to west and lower east Manhattan; $1,453,900 to the Bronx Poverty Neighborhood; $750,000 to the Williamsburg-Bushwick section of Brooklyn; $217,500 to the Model Cities Neighborhood in Brooklyn; $217,100 to other poverty areas of Brooklyn; and $177,900 to the Van Wyck East section.

Requests for:

STUDENT GOVERNMENT FUNDS
DUE: Tuesday, September 28th

FORM: Itemized costs on a stencil

APPLY: Student Government-Allocations Box 1002 Notre Dame, Indiana 46556

QUESTIONS: 7750 or 3651

I would like to thank all clergy, faculty, and staff for their many Masses, and Mass cards sent to me during my recent illness.

Also Father McGrath, Dr. Weinstein, Mrs. Spence, faculty and staff of the Biology Department for their kindness to me, also Mr. R. O'Brien, N.D. Band past and present members, Irish Guard, Mother Olivette Council, sisters and staff of St. Mary's for their many Masses and cards.

Again many thanks.

John Fye

Requests for:

MARDI GRAS CHARITY FUND ALLOCATIONS
DUE: Tuesday, September 28th

FORM: Itemized costs sheet

APPLY: Charity Chest Box 639 Notre Dame, Indiana 46556

QUESTIONS: 7750 or 3651

The Observer is published daily during the regular semester except holidays by the students of the University of Notre Dame and St. Mary's College. Subscription rates for purchase of $1 per semester from the Observer, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556. Second class postage paid, Notre Dame, Ind. 46556.
Reading Dynamics\textsuperscript{1}

SU resumes mail and bus service

The Student Union Services Commission has resumed free mail service between the NS-MDC campuses and its weekend trips to Chicago's O'Hare Airport.

Commissioner James Scheid said on campus mailboxes are located in all SMC dormitories and outside the Notre Dame dining halls and the library.

"Last year it was up to the on-campus mailmen to pick up the mail," Scheid said Monday. "This year, however, we have hired ND and SMC students to pick up the mail and deliver it to all dormitories."

The weekend bus trips will leave the Circle every Friday at 3:30 p.m. and return from O'Hare at 5 p.m. Sunday. Tickets are available at the Travel Bureau located in Badin Hall.

Academic Com. plans election

The Student Government Academic Commission is sponsoring elections to the Academic Council. According to Fred Guirado, Academic Commission chairman, "This is a very important election in that the Academic Council is equivalent to the SLC on the Academic level."

Guirado noted that, "There is a big chance for shakeups in this realm with co-education. We need responsible and articulate individuals who will be able to advance and defend the student point of view."

Applications will be sent to the college Advisory Councils for interviews. The number of applicants will be cut to three and sent to a larger committee composed of the four advisory council presidents, John Barkett, a faculty member and an administrator from the Academic Council, who will have only advisory privileges.

Applications should include an explanation of the candidates qualification, and must be submitted to the Student Government office by Sept. 27.

There will be one student selected from each of the colleges.

---

QUIZ FRIDAY

on the next six chapters

---

SU resumes mail and bus service

Your average reading speed probably ranges between 150 and 300 words per minute. Graduates of the Reading Dynamics course read and study at least 3 to 6 times faster than that. And the average graduate of our course actually improves comprehension over 10 per cent.

Thousands of college students are Reading Dynamics graduates, including over 1,000 at Notre Dame, Indiana University, and Purdue. This is the same basic course that first received national recognition when President John F. Kennedy invited Evelyn Wood to the White House to teach his staff personnel. Recently, President Nixon's staff took the Reading Dynamics course.

The best way to find out about the remarkable Reading Dynamics course is to come to a free MINI-LESSON. At this you'll learn what it's like to be able to read and study 3 to 6 times faster. You will see a short, enjoyable movie and have all your questions answered.

---

Attend a free mini-lesson. Increase your reading 50 to 100% on the spot. TODAY & TOMORROW 4, 6 and 8 P.M.

EVELYN WOOD READING DYNAMICS

---

SU resumes mail and bus service

The commission also will provide several other services throughout the including the following:

- ND-SMC telephone directories, financed in part by the freshman photo directory, will be distributed Oct. 1.
- Sponsorship of a spring trip to the Bahamas and co-sponsorship of the Ski Club's Christmas trip to Europe.
- Provision of low cost advertising for student organizations.
- Maintenance of Huddle Bulletin boards and distribution to an even calendar to the student government members.
- The commission is attempting to secure rights to a franchise on campus to sell Reading Dynamics products.
- An idea for a small leather shop and the re-opening of the Crypt, a discount record shop, have been blocked by student affairs, according to Scheid.

"I'm afraid the University doesn't want to be responsible for ships and needles, and the bookstore," Scheid said.

---

Hesburgh addresses freshmen at special lecture session

by Arlie Quinn

In the first of a series of lectures sponsored by the Freshman Year of Studies, University President Theodore M. Hesburgh spoke last night in Washington Hall to a crowd consisting mainly of freshmen. Sparked by Hesburgh's humor, the talk was unique in that it used his own learning experiences as examples of how the freshmen may contribute to society.

"Touching on a wide variety of subjects, Hesburgh mentioned how he has been involved in trying to improve the Notre Dame community over the last twenty years. He also cited the accomplishments of some of the programs with which he has been associated, such as the space program, the Atomic Energy Commission, and the Commission on Civil Rights. His point was emphatically made as he reviewed the changes made in this country in the past fifteen years concerning Civil Rights, and advances made by food research programs."

Hesburgh pointed out how 20 per cent of the world's population consumes 80 per cent of its resources. In a moving part of his talk, Hesburgh said, "I wish somehow I could take all of you on a two week tour of the world to see how the others live." He mentioned such places as Hong Kong and Johannesburg in the 'Third World' and South Africa where people are forced to live in "concrete pig pens."

---

Senate election candidates listed

(continued from page 1)

Grace Tower D (2) Mark Quadrini, James Lewis, Mark Wilcox
Holy Cross (1) Jack Mardarion Howard Hall (1) John McHugh Krenan (2) Jim Diette, Mike Boyle
Lyons Ed Graham, Gary Caruso James junior Guilliau Ladelle, Joe Roe
Morrissey (2) Gene Slason Pangborn (2) Charles Lukem St. Edward's (1) George Kovacs, Frank Meloche, Sorin (1) Paul Ruschman, Tim O'Meara
Snaidero (2) an official candidate submitted
Washington (1) Gerald Budelman "ahm (2) Phil Carey, Robert Germaine, Thomas Eichlein, Bill Kope Off Campus (5) George Anderson, Bill Does, Charles DeWitt, Louis Rメイン, Catherine Young, Andrew Hensley, Paul DeWitt

---

SU resumes mail and bus service

The Notre Dame Student Government finished the fiscal year ending August 31, 1971 with a net income from earnings totaling $14,856.05 and a total outlay of $19,146.25 in grants and expenses during the year.

The statement of operations issued today from Rejent's office showed a total revenue of $34,217.07 from student products, transportation and activities. The Student Government paid out a total of $21,940.07 for student products, transportation and activities. The Student Government paid out a total of $21,940.07 for student products, transportation and activities.

---

SG budget shows surplus

The Notre Dame Student Senate Government received the fiscal year ending August 31, 1971 with a net income from earnings totaling $14,856.05 and a total outlay of $19,146.25 in grants and expenses during the year.

The statement of operations issued today from Rejent's office showed a total revenue of $34,217.07 from student products, transportation and activities. The Student Government paid out a total of $21,940.07 for student products, transportation and activities. The Student Government paid out a total of $21,940.07 for student products, transportation and activities.
Tale of Two Bungles
Awarding Degrees

The late decision to deny students from the Graduating Class of St. Mary's Notre Dame degrees or even Notre Dame credit for Notre Dame courses, born as it was of a marriage between stupidity and misanthropy, is probably only the first of a series of preposterous administrative blunders destined to come out of this merger. As such, it probably shouldn't fret too many people. But for the SMC seniors who have taken between twenty-five to seventy-five per cent of their hours at Notre Dame, the decision must have been a bitter pill to swallow.

The dichotomy between Notre Dame and St. Mary's is everywhere apparent. It is especially apparent at Grad Schools, where a degree from Notre Dame is worth far more than a degree from St. Mary's. To deny women who have specifically taken the risk of signing up for Notre Dame courses, Notre Dame credit for those courses because of an administrative mistake is more than cruel, it is unfair.

More than this, it is baffling. How will a university that has a standing reputation of acting as if it can stop the rain (by denouncing someone or something else - H. L. Mencken), do so when members of its honor society have become so belligerently acerbic? St. Mary's Notre Dame courses, born as it was of a marriage between stupidity and misanthropy, Mary's Notre Dame degrees or even Notre Dame credit for Notre Dame courses, Notre Dame credit for those courses because of an administrative mistake is more than cruel, it is unfair.

More than this, it is baffling. How will a university that has a standing reputation of acting as if it can stop the rain (by denouncing someone or something else - H. L. Mencken), do so when members of its honor society have become so belligerently acerbic? St. Mary's Notre Dame courses, born as it was of a marriage between stupidity and misanthropy, Mary's Notre Dame degrees or even Notre Dame credit for Notre Dame courses, Notre Dame credit for those courses because of an administrative mistake is more than cruel, it is unfair.

Delaying the Day - Care Center

Concurrent with the Administrative bungling of SMC degrees, the procrastination about establishing a day-care center is in questionable taste. Given its enthusiastic welcome from Father Hesburgh, Sr. Alma, Fr. Burchaell and almost everyone else, it appears puzzling that this set-up would be delayed waiting for assurances that the Phoenix T. Barnum Club would not be displaced- puzling until one notes the long history of bureaucratic foul-ups at St. Mary's.

If St. Mary's is committed to establishing a day-care center, it should establish a day-care center. The St. Mary's clubhouse would be an excellent place for it. If the St. Mary's administration is committed to using the clubhouse for the myriad of important things it was used for last year, another empty St. Mary's office should be used. But this continual delay and these feeble excuses have got to stop.

Do they really think I can stop the rain?
By this time even the slowest of freshmen have learned the ground rules of this "doozer game". You should know a few of the guys on the football team but you can get by if you know a few inside stories about them. More than one St. Mary's girl should by now have written you off as a heartless cad. Or you should have at least convinced your roommates that you've decimated enough hearts to keep Christian Bernard busy for a year. But if you're playing that game don't bother to bolster your ego trip by joining the Ombudsman staff. All we do is use our heads to make going to get a cloud of dust, let alone three yards, if you offer to muscle up your head for some camp follower. It doesn't impress anybody.

By this time even the slowest of freshmen have learned the ground rules of this "doozer game". You should know a few of the guys on the football team but you can get by if you know a few inside stories about them. More than one St. Mary's girl should by now have written you off as a heartless cad. Or you should have at least convinced your roommates that you've decimated enough hearts to keep Christian Bernard busy for a year. But if you're playing that game don't bother to bolster your ego trip by joining the Ombudsman staff. All we do is use our heads to make going to get a cloud of dust, let alone three yards, if you offer to muscle up your head for some camp follower. It doesn't impress anybody.

But the enjoyment of being able to help somebody out of a hole. It's a warm glow you get that sits right below that hangover from last night and right above the heartburn from lunch. The crowd, the rabble, is only capable of complaints. Answers and solutions are much harder to come by but they are surely the better way. Ask Dan Sullivan, a freshman on the football team but you can get by if you know a few inside stories about them. More than one St. Mary's girl should by now have written you off as a heartless cad. Or you should have at least convinced your roommates that you've decimated enough hearts to keep Christian Bernard busy for a year. But if you're playing that game don't bother to bolster your ego trip by joining the Ombudsman staff. All we do is use our heads to make going to get a cloud of dust, let alone three yards, if you offer to muscle up your head for some camp follower. It doesn't impress anybody.

One of those is the satisfaction of helping somebody out of a hole. It's a warm glow you get that sits right below that hangover from last night and right above the heartburn from lunch. The crowd, the rabble, is only capable of complaints. Answers and solutions are much harder to come by but they are surely the better way. Ask Dan Sullivan, a freshman on the football team but you can get by if you know a few inside stories about them. More than one St. Mary's girl should by now have written you off as a heartless cad. Or you should have at least convinced your roommates that you've decimated enough hearts to keep Christian Bernard busy for a year. But if you're playing that game don't bother to bolster your ego trip by joining the Ombudsman staff. All we do is use our heads to make going to get a cloud of dust, let alone three yards, if you offer to muscle up your head for some camp follower. It doesn't impress anybody.

But the enjoyment of being able to help somebody out of a hole. It's a warm glow you get that sits right below that hangover from last night and right above the heartburn from lunch. The crowd, the rabble, is only capable of complaints. Answers and solutions are much harder to come by but they are surely the better way. Ask Dan Sullivan, a freshman on the football team but you can get by if you know a few inside stories about them. More than one St. Mary's girl should by now have written you off as a heartless cad. Or you should have at least convinced your roommates that you've decimated enough hearts to keep Christian Bernard busy for a year. But if you're playing that game don't bother to bolster your ego trip by joining the Ombudsman staff. All we do is use our heads to make going to get a cloud of dust, let alone three yards, if you offer to muscle up your head for some camp follower. It doesn't impress anybody.
Soviet Jews petition UN seeking aid in emigration

MOSCOW, SEPT. 20—More than 500 Jews have signed an unprecedented coordinated signature-collection effort since Soviet Jews began to campaign for emigration in recent years.

Calling on the Soviet leadership to change its policy barring unhindered emigration, the petition said:

"The issue of free emigration of Jews to Israel is not a new one and is becoming more acute with every passing day. More and more Jews realize and then openly proclaim that they do not want to assimilate with other peoples. This movement has its historical causes and cannot be stopped by administrative decision."

"Here, in the U.S.S.R., where there is no Jewish culture or national life, where there are no Jewish schools or Jewish theaters, there is no possibility of studying Yiddish or the culture and history of the Jewish people, where the unprecedentedly low percentage of Yiddish-speaking Jews is declining from day to day, in this country there is no future for us as Jews."

Affirming that they wanted to live in a Jewish state "as equals among equals," the signers charged that "Here, in the Diaspora, we are permitted only to sit in a synagogue or to rest in a cemetery under the Star of David."

The petition represented the latest effort in a continuing campaign by an unknown number of the Soviet Union's two million Jews to emigrate to Israel. Emigration for all Soviet citizens is restricted, and permission is granted only after a complete background investigation. Persons who are employed in sensitive security positions or who are of military age are generally barred from leaving.

The rate of Jewish emigration spurted earlier this year, rising to perhaps as many as 1,400 in April. Since then the number of monthly exits has declined, but the rate is still above that of last year when only about 1,000 left in the entire year.
by Jim Donlson

THE OBSERVER

Tuesday, September 21, 1971

Ara amiable, Alex angry Sat.

Northwestern coach Alex Agase explained his approach to answer any questions Saturday.

Disgusted over the 50-7 drubbing his Wildcats had given by the Fighting Irish, Agase said to the press that he put the hell best out of us and that all there was to it was a 50-7 North.

With the Wildcats quarter, was not so close

"Notre Dame has the best front four I've ever seen," Patuklici is just.

Big Walt and his defensive chers' respect by consistently putting the Wildcats quarterback on the seat of his pants. Northwestern had been beaten by Michigan in the season opener for both clubs the week before the Cats played the Irish. Dagnieuze was much more impressed by Notre Dame's talent than the Wildcats.

"Notre Dame is by far the best team in the Big Ten," Dagnieuze commented. "If ever a team deserved to be number one, it's Notre Dame."

There were few people on hand Saturday who would have argued about the fact that the Irish have another powerhouse ball club. Their vaunted defense put on a great show and both Bill Eiter and Mike Pavlin

First off, let me extend my sympathies to Willie Townsend.

Selby's record Homeland in the third and fourth I've ever seen. Patulski is just much more impressed by Notre Dame's talent than the Wildcats.

"I've decided to play both, according to the situation, before the game," he said. "Although this is the first time I have alternated quarterbacks, we will continue to do so if the circumstances dictate it."

The difference in attitude in the Irish and Wildcat locker rooms was as varied as the point totals on the scoreboard. Agase was light-hearted and happy and his players wasted little time in getting on the bus for home.

In the Notre Dame dressing room it was just a happy one.

There was a lot of activity and talk in the crowded quarters as the players related their victory and discussed the game with friends and followers.

Ken Schleson, a junior who intercepted three passes, three touchdown passes, in Irish lines in a happy one. It was the best day in his college career.

"I went in for O'Malley in passing situation. I just matched the quarterback and played the ball," Patuklici towered above the circle of reporters around him and patiently answered a variety of questions.

Bill Eiter, happy to be back in an Irish uniform again after a year's absence, remarked that, "I felt terrific out there. I have more confidence now than I had two years ago. I wasn't nervous a bit."

Everywhere in the Notre Dame dressing room the complacency of the faces could be seen. Ara was as pleased with his charges as Agase. Ara explained his club's poor passing in the 50-7 drubbing by Alex Wilson.

"If you can't run the ball you can't win. When we ran into the line and gained a yard or two, we were forced to throw. Notre Dame had the people to pick a 6-8 Irish mark for pass thieves in a game, could be heard laughing and enjoying their victory in a happy one.

Ken Schleson, a junior who intercepted three passes, three touchdown passes, in Irish lines in a happy one. It was the best day in his college career.

"I went in for O'Malley in passing situation. I just matched the quarterback and played the ball," Patuklici towered above the circle of reporters around him and patiently answered a variety of questions.

Bill Eiter, happy to be back in an Irish uniform again after a year's absence, remarked that, "I felt terrific out there. I have more confidence now than I had two years ago. I wasn't nervous a bit."

The defense forced Northwestern to make a number of mistakes which we capitalized on," Parshegan continued. "The turnovers made the difference."

Ara for the timely insertion of Ken Schlezes, a junior who intercepted three passes, three touchdown passes, in Irish lines in a happy one. It was the best day in his college career.

"We're not that good and they're not that bad but we were better today," Ara said. "Our defense did an outstanding job. Northwestern's running attack wasn't good enough to keep us honest and we were able to use a heavy pass rush."}

Burt Pauklici and Mike Kadish pressure 'Cat QB Maurie Daigneau. Notre Dame's strong pass rush had a devastating effect on Dignage and the 'Cats Saturday.

"The defense forced Northwestern to make a number of mistakes which we capitalized on," Parshegan continued. "The turnovers made the difference."

Ara for the timely insertion of Ken Schlezes, a junior who intercepted three passes, three touchdown passes, in Irish lines in a happy one. It was the best day in his college career.

"We're not that good and they're not that bad but we were better today," Ara said. "Our defense did an outstanding job. Northwestern's running attack wasn't good enough to keep us honest and we were able to use a heavy pass rush."
Letters to the editor

Editor,
I have to give credit to a few guys who averted what could have been a major panty raid on Wednesday evening. As it turned out, only a major pep rally occurred.

These four guys decided that the situation was out of hand, and stopped the excited crowd at the Grotto to talk to them for a minute. They pointed out that if the pep rally ended like the panty raid of two years ago, then Mr. Stepan and the Board of Trustees would probably consider John Barkett’s statement that the students are responsible and harmless pep rally, not panty raid, at St. Mary’s.

My hat is certainly off to the four courageous guys who stood up to at least 800 others in hopes of attaining respect towards the ND student. Thanks to Tom Gies, Pete McCoy, Herb Eastman, and Gary Caruso.

Jay Hayes
Lynn Hall

Editor:
I am writing this letter in response to the article “Enforcement Has ‘no Effect’ of Sept. 13. The article quoted me, but some clarification is needed in regard to one statement. It seems that your interviewer took one comment out of context, and the statement can easily be misconstrued by your readers.

You claimed in your article that St. Edward’s Hall had a number of “section parties.” Such parties are specifically against the Trustees recent statement to Fr. Henrich. When I was interviewed, I pointed out that parties were held in different sections, but drinking was restricted to private rooms, in accordance with the reenforced SLC statement. As you are all aware, the term “section party” here at Notre Dame has a much different connotation — i.e., drinking in the corridors, in the lounge and so on. Such behavior did not occur in our hall, as the men are well aware of those regulations, so no enforcement themselves.

If one were to go by your article, it would seem that St. Ed’s blatantly violated University regulations. As I stated before, this is not the case.

I hope you will clarify this point in the next issue of the Observer.

Sincerely yours,
Tom Gies
34 Lyons

Editor:
The saddest and most overwhelmingly depressing aspect of the latest Trustee-student confrontation is the terrible feeling of deja vu it recalls for those of us who have watched similar battles in years gone by. Despite the sincere wishes on the part of all the students who have watched similar battles on the campus, we have not been able to move past the question of hall, in years gone by. Despite the sincere wishes on the part of all the students who have watched similar battles on the campus, we have not been able to move past the question of hall, and ultimately student autonomy; we have been consumed by a ridiculously banal game of Beat the Clock and Watch the Cop. I cannot help but be filled with a deep sense of frustration — please people, there ARE other things in the world to worry about than 2 a.m. and Indiana drinking statutes. Will the time ever come when people will be able to do more than habituate on this campus, complaining and living for summers and graduation? Or will people someday be able to see the campaign promises of everyday citizens such as Richard Russo come to fruit — will the quality of life ever improve here? I fear not, unless we realize that we stand exactly where we stood four years ago as far as hall life is concerned, and that it is certainly not progress.

Sincerely,
Tom Gies
34 Lyons

Editor:
I have to give credit to a few people who work at the South Hall especially the men who take care of the hall regulations. The city of managing the managers what a good job they are doing. We appreciate everything. All cold drinks, the food and service. We know you people get a lot of complaints about food, service, etc. As one of the students who eats at the South Hall I want to thank the dark tail man who helped me when I wanted an answer to some questions. We only wished more people would be co-operative as South Hall.

Observer:
What is happening to Notre Dame tradition? I see all shapes and sizes of undergraduates using the front stairs of the Administration Building. I feel the front stairs to the “Golden Dome” should be used only by Alumni. This is one small tradition which should be preserved.

An Alumnus ‘67

Send THE OBSERVER home (or to a friend)

MAIL YOUR CHECK
$14 / year $8 / semester to :
PO Box 11, Notre Dame, Ind. 46556

NAME ___________________________
ADDRESS _______________________
ZIP ____________
SENT BY _________________________
ADDRESS _________________________
RENEWAL __________
yes

New mailing to start with Sept. 22nd edition.

Peking may refuse UN seat

The report of Peking’s desire to see the Assembly reaffirm the wartime declarations on Taiwan is disturbing. Here is the record of the previous Republic of China — even if Nationalists, is expelled. In the absence of such a reaffirmation. China’s long-term strategy, it was said, may attach greater importance to the status of Taiwan than to a United Nations seat.

On numerous occasions, ranking officials in Peking have expressed their concern that the United States and Japan would strive to turn Taiwan into an “independent” state if the Nationalists were ousted from the United Nations. It was noted that Peking officials had been privately expressed doubts that expulsion could be achieved this year because of the United States’ determination to save the nationalists’ Assembly seat when the Communists were admitted.

The officials U.S. position on that question of “dual representation,” as expressed in the draft resolution to be presented tomorrow, is that Communist China should be admitted as one of the five permanent members of the Security Council but that the United Nations should affirm “the continued right of representation of the Republic of China.” The diplomats here noted any Chinese demand that the assembly take a stand on the status of Taiwan — which Peking considers an internal matter— might throw new support to the U.S. resolution. The diplomats said it could not be concluded that Peking, believing that the American resolution will be voted, has chosen to score political points that will be important in the future.

Anyone interested in working overseas

this summer must attend the meeting tonight

Tuesday Sept. 21, at 7:30 in the Engineering Aud.