Arthur Pears, director of campus security, was not available for comment on the subject due to illness. However, Jerry McGlinn, the guard handling the case, did make a statement. McGlinn noted that, "at this time," they had no definite information as to the description of the robbers as of the time of apprehension. He also stated that the investigation was far from complete and they were doing all things to try and get the information. The description that he did have of the burglars was that they were of "student age but probably not students." He also stated that the St. Joseph County Police have been involved since last night and that the County Police and Campus Security were conducting the investigation together.

The regular policy, McGlynn explained, was for security to conduct an investigation and call in the County Police whenever necessary.

When asked why the investigator did not arrive at the scene of the crime until twenty-three minutes after it was reported, McGlynn said that it was not his place to comment and he reserved comment for Mr. Pears.

When asked for a statement Prof. Hulse of the rector of Grace, said that "he really wouldn't have make any comment at all." The situation, robbery victim, was stated to be satisfactory and that the investigation and that the police were "doing everything they possibly can do." He pointed out that the robbery took place on the ninth floor and that people were all around, and that the robbers walked right in and right out.

Washington--Henry A. Kissinger, the presidential adviser on National Security, will go to Communist China for the second time in these months, to make "concrete arrangements" for President Nixon's visit to Peking, the White House announced. Kissinger, who emphasized that the recent unexplained events within China had not changed Nixon's plans, will leave for China later this month.

United Nations, N.Y.--A statement, made by the government of the People's Republic of China on Aug. 26 declaring that it would "have absolutely nothing to do with the United Nations if a two-China or a China- Taiwan situation" were created, was read into the record of the General Assembly by Albania as a rebuttal to the United States proposal for a dual China representation.

Washington--The chief negotiators for the United Mine Workers and the Bituminous Coal Operators Associe atsey were told by Secretary of Labor James D. Hodgson not to use the current freeze on wages and prices as an excuse for failing to reach a contract settlement. The White House was expected to move soon to obtain an injunction ordering striking longshoremens back to work, as the administration sought to end both strikes.

Washington--A New Jersey businessman told the Senate Commerce Committee that he had paid $3,162.50 per month for the past eight years to a Mafia Chemist to promote sales of a detergent. He told the senators that the deal did not increase sales and the contract was still good for five more years.

The Hall Life Committee of the SLC listens while many students protest the proposed sanctions and parietals.

SLC committee told that sanctions are not solution

By W. Dennis Duggan The Hall Life Council of the SLC held an open meeting Thursday night in the OCE to hear students express their views on parietals and for partial hours and drinking regulations. Approximately 100 students attending the meeting heard Tom Reilly, Jr., SLC president say that it would be impossible for him to continue to be on the SLC with sanctions, as they have been proposed, being imposed from above. He felt that sanctions were not the answer but rather better hall judicial boards.

The vast majority of students who expressed opinions seemed to agree that sanctions imposed by the trustees were not a solution and would not be accepted by the students. Many people agreed that a stronger than usual was a step in the right direction but the overwhelming feeling was against any type of sanctions.

Mark Sylvester, an R.A. in Flanner, said that you can't deal with complies issues such as parietals and drinking, with simplified solutions. He felt that this was a big issue that are dealing with people and must be handled as such.

Father Edgar J. Whalen, Chaplain of the Hall, raised the question, "What do we do with the individual who does not believe in morality? There are Hall students who believe that they are not as morally."

Finance Committee suggests new budget

Another change is the drafting of a "Student Organization Grant Agreement," which is to be completed at the time of the financial grant. This is essentially a contract whereby the head of the student organization promises he will use the funds granted for the duties and obligations stated in his budget request. "Previously," Rejent commented, "we had no control over what the organization did with the funds after they were granted." He cited lack of responsible control and indiscriminate writing of checks as examples of violations.

"If they don't follow the game plan, why should we give them more money?" the treasurer asked.

The first Senate meeting concerning the recommended student budget will be held at 8:00 p.m. on Monday Oct. 11 in the LaFortune Student Center Amphitheatre.

All budget recommendations along with related information are being mailed to the senators and the Finance Committee asks that the representatives be prepared for immediate discussion. Rejent also suggested that if any organization would like to discuss changes in their budget requests, he be contacted so that a speaker's schedule may be drafted.

The Finance Committee is composed of nine members. John Barket, Student Body President, Orlando Rodgers, Student Body Vice-President, and Cass Rejent, Student Government Treasurer head the list. The other members include Bill McGrath, Student Union Director, and Tim Howald, Associate Director. Student Senators Jim Clark, T. E. Treasurer, are also on the committee, along with Fr. Thomas Blilans, Vice President of Student Affairs and Prof. John Mueck, a faculty member.

Sanctions slammed at SLC Comm. meeting has to be some sanctions and some very serious sanctions to deal with those matters more serious than parietals. He suggested possibly handing people accused of larceny or assault over to state or federal authorities.

It was the general opinion of some students that parietal hours were unenforceable. A student who identified himself as a junior from Badin, suggested that the Trustees should make their own sanctions and then try to enforce them. "They would find it enlightening," he added.

It is now the job of the Hall Life Council to come up with some kind of guidelines and to report to the SLC. Specifically the recommendations will come from Professor Peter W. Thurston, Father Thomas E. Chambers, Father James F. Flanagan, Professor Robert Goodfellow, Buzz Imhoff, and SBEVP Orlando Rodriguez, who comprise this sub-committee.

O's win AL title; Bucs lead, 2-1

by Joseph Durso

The wonder team of baseball that has been playing behind the seven-hit pitching of Jim Palmer, who also won their pennant clinchers the last two years. But he was supported in furious style by a lineup that delivered 12 hits, got nine walks, left 13 men on base and produced at least one hit in every inning except one against five Oakland pitchers.

Not only that, but half the Baltimore lineup got on base three or more times, with Brooks Robinson leading the charge with a two-run single in the fifth inning that put them ahead to stay. In reply, the Athletics hit three home runs—one by Sal Bando and two by Reggie Jackson—but the reply was no answer to all that offense.

The Orioles now have won four pennants in six seasons; they are the first triple winner since the Yankees won five pennants from 1937 through 1941. They are the third club in baseball annals to win 100 games three straight years, and they are the first team in half a century to do it with four 20-game pitchers.

The first three Baltimore batters promptly reached base on Diego Segui, the 33-year-old Cuban forkball pitcher who was pressed into service because of Chuck Dobson's sore elbow. Don Buford walked, Paul Blair singled to left and Boog Powell walked, loading the bases with nobody out. Segui struck out both Frank and Brooks Robinson, though Buford scored meanwhile on a 385-foot fly to center by Eldred Hoeber.

Then, with two outs in the home half of the third, Jackson poked an opposite-field home run run for a 1-0 lead.

In the fifth the Orioles struck with some strategic help from the Athletics. Buford singled, Powell walked and, with two down and runners on second and third, they decided to walk Hendricks and pitch to Brooks Robinson.

Robinson lined the next pitch into left-center for tworuns and a 2-1 lead.

In the sixth Bando made it a 3-2 game by pulling a home run just in front of left-field fence. But in the seventh, with Roland Fingers pitching, Powell walked for the third time and Frank Robinson lined a double to left field while Powell slid home ahead of a sloppy relay.

New Oakand switched to the left-handed Darold Knowles, eight-handed Andy Etcherbarren, pinch-hit pin fey to left, but before he did. Knowles threw a wild pitch past the plate while Robinson scored and it was 5-2. A double by Brooks Robinson and two more walks loaded the bases, but before he could be out, Knowles threw another wild pitch, and he was out.

Miss Moczek said, "I was in-structed to go back to class and told 'Keep your hand up in the air' so that the wound would not start bleeding again.

After class she went to the St. Mary's Health Service, which by this time, was closed. When the Infirmary opened up they advised her to go to St. Joseph's Hospital in South Bend.

There she was completely treated for the skin that was burned on her left hand for the poisoning it would have been done by a mercury thermometer. complete self-government. The institution.

Miss Moczek said, "I told the Infirmary it was injured with a mercury thermometer."

Sister M. Celeste, infirmary administrator, confirmed that Miss Moczek said that she had cut herself with a mercury thermometer.

However, Sr. Celeste stated, "The injury was not serious at all. We did not consider it an emergency."

Several boys were treated before her because we didn't consider the matter grave. There was a delay in the records room because of the fact that she was from St. Mary's. We have told the girls to come in time that they are supposed to go to their own health service," Sr. Celeste added.

Calls to both of the student health services confirmed the fact that they will treat emergency cases of the other institution.
