"Dependig on God himself"

(c) 1971 New York Times

Jambua, India, Nov. 4 - "To keep alive now we are depending on God himself," the widowed Indian farmer said, pulling nervously at his faded rag - the only thing left to him by a disastrous cyclonic tidal wave that took more than 100,000 lives here last weekend.

Though he had kept his composure through a long recital of how he had floated to safety when a 15-foot high wall of brown water obliterated his village and all its rice fields, Sudhir Chandra Das began suddenly to weep, and his voice broke.

"I have lost everything," he said in a choked voice. "Three sons and a daughter I had and they are gone too. I have no clothes and the winter is coming. And there is no food."

And a dozen other survivors huddled miserably near the shore of a road that rises out of the saline mire of what was once a fertile rice growing area. In one of the other men a brown stalk of the unharvested crop was propped in front of him. There were no white grains of rice inside.

"These fields will be like a desert now," he said.

"so many bodies"

A few yards away, its arms stretched helplessly toward the sky where the sun was shining and the air was still, a male human body lay in a ruined field where, not long ago, there were white grains of rice. The sun was shining and the air was still, a male human body lay in a ruined field where, not long ago, there were white grains of rice. The sun was shining and the air was still, a male human body lay in a ruined field where, not long ago, there were white grains of rice. The sun was shining and the air was still, a male human body lay in a ruined field where, not long ago, there were white grains of rice.

"We don't know who he is," another farmer, Narindra Mandal, explained, "and there are so many bodies we cannot bury them all."

The still-choked rivers of the stricken area, a 750-square-mile swath of lowlying coastal Orissa state one day's road journey southwest of Cuttack, are still carrying the bodies of hundreds of human beings and cattle out to sea. No one knows how many were swept away when the tidal wave receded last Saturday.

But the poisonings of the water by so many dead animals and men and the salinity of food has led many of the survivors to fear that many of them too, will die, as their cattle are dying every day from drinking the salt water, unless massive amounts of aid arrive quickly.

epidemic possible

The main danger is the possibility of a cholera epidemic, and health officers of the government aretouring the affected areas now to inoculate people. Cholera can be contracted from contaminated water, but prophylactic shots are effective for only about six months, and many of the people here have never had any.

The government finds out how many people died in these areas when its small wooden relief boats arrive at the ruined sites to deliver its pitiful stores of rice and powdered milk to the hungry refugees. It has been raising its estimate day by day and the latest one, made by the State Revenue Official in charge of relief, is that 10,000 died. The eventual total may be two or even three times as many.

Amar E. Ammar Juchhiat's wife and four sons were among those who perished. Last Friday night the wind began rising and the rain slashed down and, when the water began rising inside the mud house, his family climbed to the top of their thatch roof. The mud walls of the house collapsed as the flood rose higher than a man, and pushed up 100 mph winds, the family floated away from the village on their bulky straw roof.

The great openness of the campus during the decade of the sixties gradually broke its isolation from the surrounding areas. The increased mobility of the students, with more possessing cars and without hours, relieved old responsibilities and brought new pressures to bear on security.

Pears began by hiring guards to patrol the campus, but he kept a man in each hall as hall monitor and fire guard. He purchased jeeps, patrol cars, and radio equipment, while directing operations from his office in the Administration Building, next to the Dean of Students, to whom Pears reports. Guards now patrol the campus on regular basis as well as manning the Main and East Gates.

Rules changes alter duties

by John Powers

The security guard used to pass down my corridor about midnight, in my freshman year at Keenan. Sometimes we slipped him a beer as he passed on carrying his flashlight and listening for "high-pitched voices" behind closed doors.

The Security Guards no longer patrol the halls, nor do they rarely leave the first floor of a dorm, unless called to an emergency. Changes in university rules on the consumption of alcohol and the expansion of parietal hours has probably changed the duties and responsibilities of the Security Department sooner than it ever expected.

Arthur Pears, formerly sheriff of Nile, Michigan, organized the Department when he came to Notre Dame in 1965. The only "incentive" he offered his men were the hall monitors who assisted the rectors in the nightly sign-ins of students and in the locking of the dormitories at midnight.

The greater openness of the campus during the decade of the sixties gradually broke its isolation from the surrounding areas. The increased mobility of the students, with more possessing cars and without hours, relieved old responsibilities and brought new pressures to bear on security.

Pears began by hiring guards to patrol the campus, but he kept a man in each hall as hall monitor and fire guard. He purchased jeeps, patrol cars, and radio equipment, while directing operations from his office in the Administration Building, next to the Dean of Students, to whom Pears reports. Guards now patrol the campus on regular basis as well as manning the Main and East Gates.

Rules changes alter duties

by John Powers

The security guard used to pass down my corridor about midnight, in my freshman year at Keenan. Sometimes we slipped him a beer as he passed on carrying his flashlight and listening for "high-pitched voices" behind closed doors.

The Security Guards no longer patrol the halls, nor do they rarely leave the first floor of a dorm, unless called to an emergency. Changes in university rules on the consumption of alcohol and the expansion of parietal hours has probably changed the duties and responsibilities of the Security Department sooner than it ever expected.

Arthur Pears, formerly sheriff of Nile, Michigan, organized the Department when he came to Notre Dame in 1965. The only "incentive" he offered his men were the hall monitors who assisted the rectors in the nightly sign-ins of students and in the locking of the dormitories at midnight.

The greater openness of the campus during the decade of the sixties gradually broke its isolation from the surrounding areas. The increased mobility of the students, with more possessing cars and without hours, relieved old responsibilities and brought new pressures to bear on security.

Pears began by hiring guards to patrol the campus, but he kept a man in each hall as hall monitor and fire guard. He purchased jeeps, patrol cars, and radio equipment, while directing operations from his office in the Administration Building, next to the Dean of Students, to whom Pears reports. Guards now patrol the campus on regular basis as well as manning the Main and East Gates.
Girls’ dorm decision by April

by Mike O’Hare

Hopefully, a decision will be made concerning a girl’s dormitory at Notre Dame before room selections in April, stated Thomas E. Chambers, Director of Student Housing.

Father Chambers cited many problems involved in establishing a girl’s dorm on the Notre Dame campus. One problem is the necessity of planning two separate budgets next year instead of one, a hindrance, although not insurmountable.

Another obstacle is the practicability and costs of changing a curmudgeon to accommodate women students to the different light of present baccalaureate commitments. St. Mary’s would face a similar difficulty in providing housing for men on their campus.

He spoke of the contrasting views held by the two schools concerning half life. Notre Dame operates on the stay-hall concept, while St. Mary’s employs a lottery system in room selection.

This is another difference that must be resolved in integrating the two campuses. Father Chambers also mentioned Father Burkheil’s statement in yesterday’s Observer that an increased number of freshmen girls might necessitate the creation of a girl’s dorm on campus next fall.

However, Mr. Goldrick, Director of Admissions, stated that there has been a decision concerning the number or ratio of next year’s freshmen. He said that this would be determined at a meeting in mid-November.

SWC nets $1310 for Pakistan

by Bill Sohn

The Students World Concern collected on Nov. 3 a total of $1310.60 from the Notre Dame and Saint Mary’s campuses with 3 halls yet to be accounted.

Thomas B. Hammer, director of the S.W.C., commented that while N.D. and S.M.C. donated approximately thirteen cents per person, the Cat Stevens concert is nearly sold out. He added, “Cat Stevens must be more entertaining than seeing a bloated stomach burst.”

Hampton also felt that ignorance of the situation was not a valid excuse because of the large amount of publicity given to the Pakistan problem. He labeled the small response a case of “callous self interest.”

The N.C. is writing to all the members of the U.S. Senate and urging immediate action. It is planning no further plans for the Notre Dame-Saint Mary’s community at the present.

La Raza seated at conference

by Jodi Campbell

The Mid-West Council of La Raza was granted eleven of 53 seats at the National Spanish Speaking Coalition Conference held in Washington, D.C. October 25 and 26.

Ricardo Parra, director of the Midwest Council said, “We asked for eleven of thirty seats but were outvoted. The Midwest is always overshadowed by the Southwest and New York. There is a mentality on the East Coast that believes that all the Chicanos are centered there, there is a mentality on the West Coast that thinks all the Boricuas are there; those in the Midwest are forgotten.”

The Conference was organized to deal with the social, economic and political problems of the Spanish speaking people in this country. Its real purpose was to initiate a national organization to contain the rising militancy in the Puerto Rican community and to channel the electoral action of the Chicano’s back into the two party fold.

“Conference was a complete failure.” No radical resolutions were passed by the conference nor did the sponsors realize their goals for the meeting.

The Midwest Blues Festival is coming

Nov. 12, 13, 14
at Stepan Center
$6.00 all three days
$2.50 single performance
Sponsored by Cultural Arts Commission

The Midwest Blues Festival is coming Nov. 12, 13, 14 at Stepan Center $6.00 all three days $2.50 single performance Sponsored by Cultural Arts Commission

The Observer is published daily during the college semester. Subscriptions are available at the University of Notre Dame and St. Mary’s College. Subscriptions may be purchased for $8 per semester from The Observer, Box G, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556. Second class postage paid at Notre Dame, Ind. 46556.
Humphrey solicits pledge card support

(c) 1971 New York Times

Minneapolis, Nov. 4—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey is using a modified version of the controversial political pledge card in an effort to secure written commitments of support from hundreds of Minnesota Democrats for his still-unannounced 1972 presidential campaign.

The manner in which the signatures are being collected has provoked criticism from some quarters of the state Democratic party, particularly from members working on behalf of other presidential candidates, who charge that improper pressure is being brought to bear on them.

The pledge cards being distributed here by that Humphrey organization contain one sentence: "Thank you,.... for allowing us to use your name in the formation of the Humphrey for President Committee."

The individual being solicited is asked to sign his name after the first two words of the sentence, then return the card to the Humphrey campaign worker, who signs it at the bottom.

"It's being done by personal contact only," said Jack Richardson, St. Cloud, in those approached "to sign the pledge card in written form."

"It was put to us very bluntly, we were told that either we signed or we would have no future in Minnesota politics," said Robert Richardson, who is chairman of the Democratic party officially known in Minnesota as the Republican party (DFL, 1919) party in the state's 4th Congressional district.

Richardson said he was subjected to "a tremendous amount of pressure" but refused to sign the Humphrey pledge because he is working on behalf of Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, "who, like Humphrey, is an unDeclared candidate for next year's Democratic presidential nomination.

Paul Petraitsev, a state assemblyman representing the suburban community of St. Louis Park, said he was approached to sign a similar pledge in a rather than card form. "I didn't sign because there are a lot of candidates in the field and I didn't want to be tied down so early," he added.

Petraitsev said he was aware of a number of other instances in which members of the state legislature had been pressured to sign the Humphrey pledge. "But I know a number of my colleagues who have not signed," he added. "I think Humphrey and his staff people are going to have a great deal of problems if they keep putting pressure on state legislators."

The young assemblyman also said he was approached by "a highly placed member of the Humphrey staff" after it became known that he had attended several public meetings held on behalf of the presidential candidates. "I told him that Sen. McGovern, D-S.D., and former Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy," three other persons in "the good light," said that the Humphrey pledges asked that they be signed.

Humphrey's campaign strategists have denied that there was any place to use excessive pressure in the signature drive, but acknowledged that some supporters of the Senator may have been more zealous than others.

The original amendment (sponsored by Sen. Mank­field, the majority leader, added the phrase "not later than six months after the date of enactment," but this was changed by the conference to read simply "at a date certain.").

The amendment also declares it to be U.S. policy to establish a scheduled withdrawal from Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia of all U.S. forces. This would presumably bar leaving so-called residual forces in Vietnam, a prohibition President Nixon has never agreed to.

The amendment still links the withdrawal of American prisoners held by the North Vietnamese and adds the demand for an accounting of all Americans missing in action "who have been held by or known to" North Vietnam.

The bill is the amendment to a defense bill to contain provisions for most spending on military equipment for the coming year.

The compromise amendment is more far reaching than anything in the chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, Rep. F. Edward H bieten, D-M., has agreed to in the past.

fixed schedule

The new Mansfield amendment would require the president to withdraw American troops on a fixed schedule. But should the president sign it without explicit reservations, he would be agreeing to a policy provision that goes further in stating American withdrawal policy than the Administration has even been willing to do.

The Mansfield amendment passed the House twice by wide margins. It has never passed the Senate, but its supporters said after the last vote that they expected it to pass if another test could be made, based on the progressive amounts of support it would receive during a series of test votes in recent months.

Pears re-organizes security department

(Continued from page 1)

Pears hired 2 graduate students as investigators and installed electronic door locks at Alumni Hall after several robberies and a serious fire. The incident the previous spring, involving some non-student girl, was followed by a rise in thefts.

Most foreign military analysts said it was too soon to tell whether the U.S. forces in South Vietnam will be cut back, but the Indian and Pakistani governments have repeatedly declared that they would not initiate an attack against the U.S. unless war scares continue and both sides have made elaborate preparations.

Dacca, the capital of East Pakistan, is holding an air raid drill tonight in which personnel caught showing a light are subject to six months imprisonment.

In September, Pears organized a student parking lot patrol to control the increase in thefts. By October, 12 students were hired at a wage of $2.00 an hour.

Security is now organized around 3 command officers, each taking an eight-hour shift. The afternoon and evening command officers answer complaints and may carry firearms, while the rest of the force of police veterans, moonlighting South Vietnamese and ROTC sergeants, carry mace but no sidearms. One of the officers was hired this fall to ticket illegally parked student cars.

Last year's Security budget of $30,000 is now close to $35,000, showing a larger increase than most other departments. Supplemental revenue comes from student traffic fines, but this probably yields little money. Faculty cars may also be ticketed, but the faculty are exempt from paying the fines.

India, Pakistan trade charges, bullets

Bengali guerrilla action hot

West and East Pakistan: Skirmishing between troops and police and guerrillas in Dacca now occurs nearly every day, generally with casualties. Outside Dacca, government defenses depend mainly on the Bangladesh and Indian armies. The Indian and Pakistani governments have repeatedly declared that they would not initiate an attack against the U.S. unless war scares continue and both sides have made elaborate preparations.

Dacca, Pakistan, Nov. 4—Bengali guerrillas sharply intensified their campaign against Pakistani authorities during the week, generally with casualties. Outside Dacca, government defenses depend mainly on the Bangladesh and Indian armies. The Indian and Pakistani governments have repeatedly declared that they would not initiate an attack against the U.S. unless war scares continue and both sides have made elaborate preparations.
great on defense would permit a team to fill the air with a devastating aerial bombardment as the Trojan of Southern California did this year and years past.

It seems any team can penetrate the Irish defense since inferior coaching on defense especially against the forward pass.

Furthermore a coach must be brainless when he used an inexperienced quarterback against a
team which is properly
trained against the forward pass.
Anyone who knows football can
visualize that the Irish pass
defense is porous and yet the
coaches on defense are too blind
to notice this weakness.

Another football season has ended abruptly for the Irish fans
since the defense that was highly known to maul weaklings but are vanquished by a team that doesn’t know how to protect the forward pass. Anyone, who desires to win against Notre Dame is called the brainless when he uses an inexperienced quarterback against a
team which is properly
trained against the forward pass.
Anyone who knows football can
visualize that the Irish pass
defense is porous and yet the
coaches on defense are too blind
to notice this weakness.

Another football season has ended abruptly for the Irish fans
since the defense that was highly
known to maul weaklings but are vanquished by a team that doesn’t know how to protect the forward
pass. Anyone, who desires to win against Notre Dame is called the
brainless when he uses an inexperienced quarterback against a
team which is properly
trained against the forward pass.
Anyone who knows football can
visualize that the Irish pass
defense is porous and yet the
coaches on defense are too blind
to notice this weakness.

Another football season has ended abruptly for the Irish fans
since the defense that was highly
known to maul weaklings but are vanquished by a team that doesn’t know how to protect the forward
pass. Anyone, who desires to win against Notre Dame is called the
brainless when he uses an inex­
experienced quarterback against a
team which is properly
trained against the forward pass.
Anyone who knows football can
visualize that the Irish pass
defense is porous and yet the
coaches on defense are too blind
to notice this weakness.

Another football season has ended abruptly for the Irish fans
since the defense that was highly
known to maul weaklings but are vanquished by a team that doesn’t know how to protect the forward
pass. Anyone, who desires to win against Notre Dame is called the
brainless when he uses an inex­
experienced quarterback against a
team which is properly
trained against the forward pass.
Anyone who knows football can
visualize that the Irish pass
defense is porous and yet the
coaches on defense are too blind
to notice this weakness.

Another football season has ended abruptly for the Irish fans
since the defense that was highly
known to maul weaklings but are vanquished by a team that doesn’t know how to protect the forward
pass. Anyone, who desires to win against Notre Dame is called the
brainless when he uses an inex­
experienced quarterback against a
team which is properly
trained against the forward pass.
Anyone who knows football can
visualize that the Irish pass
defense is porous and yet the
coaches on defense are too blind
to notice this weakness.
1600 students make ticket drive a "success"

by Judy Ahern

South Bend ticket project co-chairmen Jack Candon and Eric Andr us announced yesterday that 950 tickets had been received by the project. This represents an increase of 290 tickets over last year. Approximately 630 students volunteered to be monitors or drivers, according to Candon.

"A total of 1600 students were involved," said Andr us, "and Jack and I are overwhelmed that so many students were so helpful." They both felt the project was a "complete success" due to student generosity.

Of the 900 youngsters from the South Bend area who attended the game, 630 came from the Neighborhood Study Program, Candon said. The remainder, according to Candon, consisted of those who attend either Logan Center for Retarded Children, Sister Marita's Primary Day School, Hamel Center, or the Family Center of Mishawaka.

"Students from N.S.H.P. and the Family Center were instrumental in making the project a success," Candon said. "Without Kathy Kane, John Hopf and the captain, the project would have stopped." Candon also credited the approval and cooperation of Ben Bufford as "instrumental" in the program's success.

Last year the project was founded and accomplished through Student Government but this year Andr us and Candon worked independently of that body. "It's our baby, we wanted to do it ourselves," said Candon, "but we needed sponsors to back us up." The sponsors were SMC's Community Relations Board, of which Candon is chairman, and the Kennedy Institute.

Although this was only the second year of the project, Andr us said he and Candon hoped that they had started "another Notre Dame tradition." They both hoped to pioneer the project last year and feel "it went much smoother this year, after a year of experience." Both will be graduating this spring, but plan to "make sure plans to get it done next year" will be made before they leave.

Summing up his feelings on the endeavor, Candon said: "The most satisfying feeling came from looking at the faces of the kids when the game was over, and knowing that I helped to bring a little happiness into their lives."

More Letters

(Continued from page 4)

Continental Hair-Styling
1321 E. McKinley Hwy.
Mishawaka, Ind.
259-7679 by Appointment Only

SERVING ND MEN FOR PAST 4 YEARS IN ALL HAIR NEEDS.

SHAGS, EUROPEAN LAGER CUTS

Specializing in Long Hair Look

STUDENT SPECIAL

$2.50 Complete

ND

Pizza — Restaurant — Lounge
209 N. Michigan — South Bend

Reasonable Prices

Carry outs or Deliveries to your room

Call 234-3258 (Keep it - use it)

Open till 1 am Fridays

SMC Music Dept. Presents:

UNIVERSITY CHORUS & SMC GLEE CLUB
Concert of Choral Music by Brahms
Sunday Nov. 7 - 8:00 O'Laughlin - No adm. charge

ROGERS Optical

SMC Music Dept. Presents:

UNIVERSITY CHORUS & SMC GLEE CLUB
Concert of Choral Music by Brahms
Sunday Nov. 7 - 8:00 O'Laughlin - No adm. charge

ROGERS Optical

SMC Music Dept. Presents:

UNIVERSITY CHORUS & SMC GLEE CLUB
Concert of Choral Music by Brahms
Sunday Nov. 7 - 8:00 O'Laughlin - No adm. charge

ROGERS Optical

SMC Music Dept. Presents:

UNIVERSITY CHORUS & SMC GLEE CLUB
Concert of Choral Music by Brahms
Sunday Nov. 7 - 8:00 O'Laughlin - No adm. charge

ROGERS Optical

SMC Music Dept. Presents:

UNIVERSITY CHORUS & SMC GLEE CLUB
Concert of Choral Music by Brahms
Sunday Nov. 7 - 8:00 O'Laughlin - No adm. charge

ROGERS Optical

SMC Music Dept. Presents:

UNIVERSITY CHORUS & SMC GLEE CLUB
Concert of Choral Music by Brahms
Sunday Nov. 7 - 8:00 O'Laughlin - No adm. charge

ROGERS Optical

SMC Music Dept. Presents:

UNIVERSITY CHORUS & SMC GLEE CLUB
Concert of Choral Music by Brahms
Sunday Nov. 7 - 8:00 O'Laughlin - No adm. charge

ROGERS Optical

SMC Music Dept. Presents:

UNIVERSITY CHORUS & SMC GLEE CLUB
Concert of Choral Music by Brahms
Sunday Nov. 7 - 8:00 O'Laughlin - No adm. charge

ROGERS Optical

SMC Music Dept. Presents:

UNIVERSITY CHORUS & SMC GLEE CLUB
Concert of Choral Music by Brahms
Sunday Nov. 7 - 8:00 O'Laughlin - No adm. charge

ROGERS Optical

SMC Music Dept. Presents:

UNIVERSITY CHORUS & SMC GLEE CLUB
Concert of Choral Music by Brahms
Sunday Nov. 7 - 8:00 O'Laughlin - No adm. charge

ROGERS Optical

SMC Music Dept. Presents:

UNIVERSITY CHORUS & SMC GLEE CLUB
Concert of Choral Music by Brahms
Sunday Nov. 7 - 8:00 O'Laughlin - No adm. charge

ROGERS Optical

SMC Music Dept. Presents:

UNIVERSITY CHORUS & SMC GLEE CLUB
Concert of Choral Music by Brahms
Sunday Nov. 7 - 8:00 O'Laughlin - No adm. charge

ROGERS Optical

SMC Music Dept. Presents:

UNIVERSITY CHORUS & SMC GLEE CLUB
Concert of Choral Music by Brahms
Sunday Nov. 7 - 8:00 O'Laughlin - No adm. charge
THE OBSERVER
AN INDEPENDENT STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Assistant Editor
C. Treanor

Business Manager
M. Jendryk

News: 283-1715

THE OBSERVER

---

Nice Going

"All (meaning the Board of Trustees) were impressed by the caliber of today's students . . ."

—Father Hesburgh's last letter

It's too bad the Board of Trustees couldn't be here Wednesday night to observe the Student World Concern collect for Pakistani relief—just to give themselves a broader perspective. You see, the Trustee's contact with students was entirely vocal—they heard students speak. And students can talk up a pretty good case for themselves. After all, talking requires intellect and education—generally by compulsion. But action—that's a call not only on the intellect but the depth of a man. The educational system of America doesn't teach men to share in the souls they pick it at all.

Students talk well here because they're trained to talk well. They are considerably cheaper, and people here are generally well trained. Students speak. And students can talk up a pretty good case for themselves. After all, talking requires intellect and education—generally by compulsion. But action—that's a call not only on the intellect but the depth of a man. The educational system of America doesn't teach men to share in the souls they pick it at all.

It's apparent that they haven't here. Perhaps Student World Concern would be better off collecting speeches at Notre Dame. They are considerably cheaper, and people here are generally more liberal with them.

Meanwhile, the business of giving money to help feed the starving, sustain the diseased, and bury the rotting dead can be handled by men of a different caliber.

---

Football Game

Deborah Kerr

Gary stood talking with me and beads of salt water stood out on his forehead. Suddenly one broke loose, ran down the side of his face and trickled through his newly growing sideburns.

It was warmer than anyone had anticipated and I had worn a light sweater and jeans for my blind date to the game. I was even warmer since I had ridden bike to meet him and some of his friends at a pre-game party. It was a long ride through rows of cars and Middies, mothers and commanding officers. I had slept late, missing lunch, so the cold hamburgers and fries and warm cokes that Gary's friends had brought tasted exceptionally good. After about seventy of us had consumed all that our burger chef had to offer, we set out for the game, programs in hand.

Gary and I walked a little slower than some of the others because he has a problem with his leg and it's hard for him to walk fast. After the game we slowly made our way out, Joe again helping Gary.

During the pre-game show Gary sang louder than anyone around us playing the Star-Spangled Banner. He knew quite a bit about football and quoted some ratings, probable game scores, and asked about Navy, and wondered out loud who Coach Ara would start at quarterback. He was excited about seeing his first ND win of the year and talked sporadically, hoping that we would get our seats on time, worrying about climbing the stairs to the bleacher seats beside the band. I assured him that we would be fine and that my friend Joe would help him.

After the game we slowly made our way out, Joe again helping Gary. Once at Logan, the site of the pre-game bash, I asked Gary if he'd had fun. He thanked me, shaking my hand and said yes. I left him there waiting for his mother to come and pick him up. I rode back to the dorm. I was exhausted and took a nap.
In November begins the season when April's child is buried with wind-dries and raidings. For a brief, broidened time, when the icy blasts shake the flame out of every touch of fire; and the trees, gray and naked, stand in silhouettes of prayer, like ghetto Jews reaching out to the night.
...charlie” & “no place...” this weekend

On Saturday, November 6, at 8:30 pm there will be a performance of Charles Gordone’s Pulitzer Prize-winning play, “No Place to Be Somebody” in O’Laughlin Auditorium. This tragic-comedy, set in a dingy bar in West Greenwich, New York, revolves around the bar owner, Johnny Williams, and the black and white wharf racketeers and na"ive liberals who frequent his establishment. In the interactions between these people, Gordone is attempting to present an unbiased view of the black-white love-hate relationship, without coming to any absolute conclusion except that “terrifying contradictions exist simultaneously.” Gordone’s philosophy of theatre, not as political device but as a means to express universal experiences (in this case, the human and spiritual isolation of both black and white) is reflected in “No Place to Be Somebody.”

Dealing with a theme which could easily be overanalyzed each burst of lyric and drift of melody, is heard. Teaser and the Firecat can be yesterday, as a breaking morning, as a sounding wind, as a love worth having and dying, it almost works. He knows the magic is lost in the scambler for gold. Those few who can survive the ordeal and still play their music with new love exuberantly, but still wary of losing hope. You have to watch and wait for these strange men and women, and listen closely, for they do not sound like a herald for Cat Stevens, but should sound like a small man around-campus or-anywear boots

Continental $21.95 pr.

Specific styles for your kind of action . . . all Italian-crafted in Bronzo or suede leathers with Vibram or St. Moritz traction soles. And, if your “action” is in keeping up with the trends in style, the rugged looks of Continental Tyroleans® are today’s look in boots. For action — or for fashion, you just can’t buy better footgear!
Congratulations Mary, Mary Ann and ND!

by Joe Delang

The first two girls to graduate from Notre Dame will be Mary Davy and Mary Ann Proctor.

According to Observer editor, Ann Conway, a group of St. Mary's girls petitioned the St. Mary's student government for the privilege of being chaperoned at the ball.

Miss Davy, a senior in Marketing, is seeking a Bachelor of Business Administration degree. Mary Ann Proctor is a fifth year Architecture student who hopes to graduate in December, 1973.

Miss Davy has taken all of her major courses at Notre Dame although she lives at Lemmen Hall on the St. Mary's campus. She has carried at least fifteen hours every semester since her junior year at Notre Dame and is presently taking eighteen hours. According to Miss Davy, Dean Raymond, the assistant Dean of the Business School, has been a great help in picking out courses.

Mary Ann Proctor of Cleveland, Ohio, was in the Chemistry department at St. Mary's during her freshman year. She took some design courses at Notre Dame in the Architecture department and became interested in that field.

Miss Proctor spent her fourth year in Rome studying Architecture at the N.D. SMC foreign exchange program. At the beginning of this year Mary Ann was officially accepted as a Notre Dame student. All of her fees are paid to Notre Dame.

SMC Student Assembly forms committee

by Daniel P. Rock

The St. Mary's Student Assembly formed a committee to investigate off-campus student life and declined to act on bills authorizing four changes in the Coffee house, a meeting late Wednesday.

They will form a committee to study off-campus life as a result of a complaint by representative Morige Lanu, of Miss Davy, off-campus students suffer under the current food services policy and worry over the problem of a "healthy atmosphere" in Madeleina's lounge.

The Assembly formed a five-man committee, consisting of Ann Albers, Sue Curtain, Eileen Fitzpatrick and the St. Mary's off-campus commission.

Mary Davy is a senior in Marketing. She is seeking a Bachelor of Business Administration degree. Mary Ann Proctor is a fifth year Architecture student who hopes to graduate in December, 1973.

The committee is charged with investigating all problems involving off-campus students and student life.

The Coffee house bill would have changed the present 9 - 3 Coffee house hours into service for the duration of the night, but representative Kathy Eglis revealed that "additional security problems" make it impossible to institute that part of the bill.

The bill also included provisions to increase security forces, allow guests if escorted by ND or St. Mary's students, and establish inner-dorm smoke procedures for those girls with houses.

The bill was tabled pending Administration approval of the inner-dorm smokeouts and further investigation of security problems.

The Committee also heard a status report on the hall autonomy bill from SBP Kathy Barlow and representative Darlene Gallina.

The hall autonomy bill, which would leave decisions about parietal hours and security arrangements up to the halls, would entail a change in the Student Manual. The bill according to Miss Gallina is under "serious consideration by the Student Affairs Council." Miss Gallina said that she expects a vote from the Council of two weeks.

International Institute

by D. Patrick Rock

Over 200 students will participate in an international institute to be held at Notre Dame this weekend.

This includes 150 high school students from high schools, minority areas and foreign countries.

Chicagoans, American Indians from a reservation, and students from Canada, Central America and the United States will begin the program Friday afternoon at the Center for Continuing Education assisted by over 50 volunteer ND-SMC students.

General discussion sessions and group forums will be highlighted on Saturday when John Goldrick, Director of Admissions, addresses the entire institute with "Questions about Colleges."

An Ecumenical Midnight Liturgy on Saturday night and the Institute Banquet on Sunday night will climax the weekend's activities.

The International Student Leadership Institute, created in 1962, aims to develop a young students' potential leadership capabilities.

Who is Harry Kellerman and why is he saying those terrible things about me?

Dustin Hoffman

You have never seen anything like it

In PROGRESSive COLOR

You have never seen anything like it

San Francisco Ball

You have never seen anything like it

One of the best times I've had at the movies this year

—Gene Shert, WNBC-TV

WEDNESDAY thru TUESDAY NOVEMBER 3 thru 9
Irish frosh host Michigan

by Vic Deir, '74

The Notre Dame freshman football team, unbeaten in two starts, will be shooting for its third win in a row Saturday against the Michigan Wolverines. Temperatures in the home game—the only one of the season for the Irish frosh—will pit the high-powered ND offense, which has scored 189 points in its first two outings, against the quickness of the Michigan defense.

Irish players, as well as films of the Michigan-Michigan State freshman football game, have a pretty good idea of what to expect from the Wolverines. Denny Murphy, Michigan-Michigan State's defense, has spoken and talks of his role as a capable defensive lines ever to play at Notre Dame in an objective manner rather than an emotional one.

Denny Murphy, Michigan-Michigan State defensive back, is that he has a constant influx of junior college athletes. And I think he has a pretty good idea of what to expect from the Wolverines.

One of the "same things" which the freshman will be showing the Wolverines is halfback Eric Penick, who carried for 70 yards in 20 carries last week. Penick will be joined in the ND backfield by Chuck Kelly, who carried for 15 yards in 17 attempts last week, and by quarterback Bill Clements. Clements hit on nine of 21 passes against MSU, and figures to be looking for wide receiver Pete Demeule again on Saturday. Demeule was credited with seven receptions for 176 yards and a touchdown against the Spartans.

The Irish defense should present an equally stiff challenge to the Wolverines, who last season handed the ND frosh a 19-7 loss.

Smith names ass'captains

Irish hockey coach Lefty Smith has named three assistant captains for the 1971-72 season—senior Jim Cordes and sophomores Bill Nyrop and Ian Williams. Three players, rather than the usual two, were chosen to assist co-captains Bill Green and Kevin Hoene because Hoene's recovery from a broken leg is expected to keep him on the ice until mid December.

Smith said he selected the three new assistants, "for their leadership qualities and as the ice and the various aspects of the squad they represent."

The 1971 intraquad hockey scrimmage, scheduled for tomorrow, Sunday, has been canceled. Smith called off the workout to give his team a break before they begin the WCHA schedule Nov. 12 and 13 at the U. of North Dakota.

Irish coach emphasized: "We'll still be running the same things."
At this stage of the season, most of the country’s top college football teams are thinking about bowl bids and the fine print. The Irish are thinking about their next game, the first of the three Stanford over Notre Dame at Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh has the potential to be a formidable opponent for the Fighting Irish. The Panthers have shown that they can compete with the top teams in the country, but they're not strong enough to cope with the Trojans.

The return of halfback Ed Gulyas (12) has bolstered the Irish running game. Larry Parker (26) and Dave Casper (68) lead Gulyas on a Saturday, November 13, game against Stanford over Notre Dame at Pittsburgh.

The Irish offense, which came up with its second best point output of the season in last Saturday’s 31-0 victory over Navy, will again concentrate on getting the ball to its running backs and allowing them to do the work against a ball control style of attack.

Although Pitt’s passing statistics aren’t very impressive, they’re still dangerous. Pitt’s passing is predicated on a two-back system, and the formation is designed more as a spark, an inspiration, to bring your team in with speed and aggression as ever.

The offensive line served instead as a spark, an inspiration, to bring your team in with speed and aggression as ever.

Senior linebacker Ralph Cindrich is one of the Panther’s standout defensive players. He made 16 tackles against Syracuse last week.

rd leads Panther defense

The Irish Eye

Football picks

A pair of back-to-back, sub-par weeks has sent the old picks percentage dipping below the .500 mark.

Upsets have been fogging up my Crystal Ball but now it’s been laundered and got sent to the cleaners, along with me, last Saturday.

Notre Dame is facing a big challenge in Pitt, The Panthers are always given the Irish trouble.

The Irish offense is more exciting than could have been anticipated over the weekend, a shoo-in for a bowl bid.

The Irish defense is ranked among the top five nationally in rushing defense, allowing just 22.9 yards per game, and it’s also among the leaders in scoring defense, giving up only 6.2 points per game.

It’s tough to predict how the offenses will attack the Irish defense. As John Murphy said, “Two weeks ago Pitt used a split back field and last week they stuck to a T and split out. This attack middle of the defense extremely well and with a lot of power.”

Sophomore quarterback Bob Medwid directed the Pitt offense, the Panthers have two big games this year, a typical physical team that we have been accustomed to over the years. They always let you know that you’re in a football game and the defense has to be ready. They have seven back-ups they use and they’re all good.

Notre Dame will host the Panthers this Saturday.

The Irish offense is more exciting than could have been anticipated over the weekend, a shoo-in for a bowl bid.

You’re probably wondering why I have a decision to make.

But the Panther’s All-American candidate, linebacker Ralph Cindrich, is more than that. So much more. And it’s his inner qualities, as much as anything else, that help make him the man.

Cindrich is refreshingly honest and candid, a proud, intense young man who does a good job of keeping things in perspective.

The coaches will tell you that he’s been working on his running game, on怎么, for him, running game.

"Sometimes you just have to such and what happens is you don’t know what to do," said head coach John Murphy.

You don’t have any excuse," he said. "It’s tough, but I’m starting to come around."

The Irish defense is ranked among the top five nationally in rushing defense, allowing just 22.9 yards per game, and it’s also among the leaders in scoring defense, giving up only 6.2 points per game.

"I didn’t know what was wrong earlier in the year, but I felt I was doing pretty well," he said.

"I don’t have any excuse," he said. "It’s tough, but I’m starting to come around."

The Irish defense is ranked among the top five nationally in rushing defense, allowing just 22.9 yards per game, and it’s also among the leaders in scoring defense, giving up only 6.2 points per game.

The Irish defense is ranked among the top five nationally in rushing defense, allowing just 22.9 yards per game, and it’s also among the leaders in scoring defense, giving up only 6.2 points per game.

The Irish defense is ranked among the top five nationally in rushing defense, allowing just 22.9 yards per game, and it’s also among the leaders in scoring defense, giving up only 6.2 points per game.

The Irish defense is ranked among the top five nationally in rushing defense, allowing just 22.9 yards per game, and it’s also among the leaders in scoring defense, giving up only 6.2 points per game.

The Irish defense is ranked among the top five nationally in rushing defense, allowing just 22.9 yards per game, and it’s also among the leaders in scoring defense, giving up only 6.2 points per game.

The Irish defense is ranked among the top five nationally in rushing defense, allowing just 22.9 yards per game, and it’s also among the leaders in scoring defense, giving up only 6.2 points per game.

The Irish defense is ranked among the top five nationally in rushing defense, allowing just 22.9 yards per game, and it’s also among the leaders in scoring defense, giving up only 6.2 points per game.

The Irish defense is ranked among the top five nationally in rushing defense, allowing just 22.9 yards per game, and it’s also among the leaders in scoring defense, giving up only 6.2 points per game.

The Irish defense is ranked among the top five nationally in rushing defense, allowing just 22.9 yards per game, and it’s also among the leaders in scoring defense, giving up only 6.2 points per game.

The Irish defense is ranked among the top five nationally in rushing defense, allowing just 22.9 yards per game, and it’s also among the leaders in scoring defense, giving up only 6.2 points per game.

The Irish defense is ranked among the top five nationally in rushing defense, allowing just 22.9 yards per game, and it’s also among the leaders in scoring defense, giving up only 6.2 points per game.

The Irish defense is ranked among the top five nationally in rushing defense, allowing just 22.9 yards per game, and it’s also among the leaders in scoring defense, giving up only 6.2 points per game.

The Irish defense is ranked among the top five nationally in rushing defense, allowing just 22.9 yards per game, and it’s also among the leaders in scoring defense, giving up only 6.2 points per game.

The Irish defense is ranked among the top five nationally in rushing defense, allowing just 22.9 yards per game, and it’s also among the leaders in scoring defense, giving up only 6.2 points per game.

The Irish defense is ranked among the top five nationally in rushing defense, allowing just 22.9 yards per game, and it’s also among the leaders in scoring defense, giving up only 6.2 points per game.

The Irish defense is ranked among the top five nationally in rushing defense, allowing just 22.9 yards per game, and it’s also among the leaders in scoring defense, giving up only 6.2 points per game.

The Irish defense is ranked among the top five nationally in rushing defense, allowing just 22.9 yards per game, and it’s also among the leaders in scoring defense, giving up only 6.2 points per game.

The Irish defense is ranked among the top five nationally in rushing defense, allowing just 22.9 yards per game, and it’s also among the leaders in scoring defense, giving up only 6.2 points per game.

The Irish defense is ranked among the top five nationally in rushing defense, allowing just 22.9 yards per game, and it’s also among the leaders in scoring defense, giving up only 6.2 points per game.

The Irish defense is ranked among the top five nationally in rushing defense, allowing just 22.9 yards per game, and it’s also among the leaders in scoring defense, giving up only 6.2 points per game.

The Irish defense is ranked among the top five nationally in rushing defense, allowing just 22.9 yards per game, and it’s also among the leaders in scoring defense, giving up only 6.2 points per game.

The Irish defense is ranked among the top five nationally in rushing defense, allowing just 22.9 yards per game, and it’s also among the leaders in scoring defense, giving up only 6.2 points per game.

The Irish defense is ranked among the top five nationally in rushing defense, allowing just 22.9 yards per game, and it’s also among the leaders in scoring defense, giving up only 6.2 points per game.

The Irish defense is ranked among the top five nationally in rushing defense, allowing just 22.9 yards per game, and it’s also among the leaders in scoring defense, giving up only 6.2 points per game.
Cyclone survivors wander homeless, hungry

Community Center built with ND student assist

by Lynne Leane

In conjunction with the Miami Indian Tribe of South Bend, the Notre Dame American Club and the Kennedy Institute, a Community Center has been set up in South Bend. The purpose of this center known as the Meadow Brook Community Center is to have a place for neighborhood study tutoring and adult education classes.

This center, located on Hastings Road, has undergone construction for seven weeks now and is nearly completed. Bruce Bower, the project director, hopes to have the project completed within three weeks and has made arrangements to have more volunteers to help with the construction. Volunteers have been working every Saturday from 9 to 3 and 8 to 12 on football Saturdays. Anyone interested can call the Kennedy Institute at 834 or Bruce Bower at 1158.

The Kennedy Institute also has two major projects underway in line with its work with the Native American Indian tribe. On December 9th they will be bringing in a tribe of Sioux Indians to spend a weekend on Notre Dame campus. Plans are also underway for developing a center in American Indian Culture to be offered next semester on a directed readings basis and which will be opened to all departments for cross registration.

Cultural Commission's Literary Program presents

YEATS COUNTY
November 8 7:00 pm 205 O'Shaughnessy

An 18-minute color film commemorating the centenary of William Butler Yeats, 1865-1965

Adm. free

GALS!

Welcome to our little corner of your world

The word is out and spreading...The Campus Shop has a corner set aside for ladies' sportsware, blouses, sweaters, slacks, flannel nightgowns, beachwear, etc. Stop in, browse, open your account and pay one-third next, June, July and August with no service or carrying charge!

(One lady tells another too)

GILBERT'S

Campus Shop

ON THE CAMPUS . . . NOTRE DAME

CLASSIFIEDS

FOR SALE

WHY: WHY NOT?

WANTED

One Electric Typewriter, good or great shape. Call Tom, 387-0711.

HELP: Need help to Nashville, Tenn, for Thanksgiving. Will help with rent. Please call Sue 454-5989.

Electronics Engineer needed to work with music student, skilled photographer. Tri. med production control via compass. Call 740 midnight or before 8 am.

Computers, copiers, etc. Admission ticket to Tulane Game. December 10th. Call John at 1217.

Need ride to Knoxville, Tenn., for Thanksgiving. Call Tuesday, November 12. John 3076.

Need: Five General Admission Tickets to Tulane game. Need not be attendant. Will pay $425.

Rented: Need a general admission ticket to Tulane Dec 9th. Call Jim, 4892.

I need general admission ticket June 11th. Call John, 4953.

I want: Two general admission tickets to Tulane game. 9/29.

Rare who has . . . and needs: General admission tickets to Tulane Game. Call 3048.

Notices

NEED MONEY?

Harlow, Lawful Fund Bidwell of La Fortune 11-18.

SAM GIRLS...Part time job available. Call Denny 8861.

If you own or CAR today. We have the space tools parts and help. You do the work and SAVVE. Autorex. RI. 31 South in Miles. Open evenings and weekends.

WHAT: A FOOD BIST

WHERE: SOUTH EAT DINING

WHEN: TONIGHT

WHY?: WHYN'T?

Call 450-5546. Response to EUROPEAN TRIP inquiry. PLANS CANCELLED

Words

We're making ends meet.

ON THE CAMPUS . . . NOTRE DAME

CLASSIFIEDS

FOR SALE

Quality 8 track tapes. Big stock. All only $1.50. Call 4718.

ON SALE:

Brand new, guaranteed 1975 antique tape. Fantastic selections. All tapes only $2.99. Call 3191 (Pat) quickly.

STUDENT RECORD SALES

Sale. Brown tickets to SLASHED New show in large selection Live in '69. $9.95.

For Sale: '64 Ford Fairlane Coupe. Must sell now. Any reasonable offer accepted. Call Bob 5678.

For Sale: 1 New Jersey Club Tickets for Thanksgiving holiday. $75. Call 3098.

Separate student tickets for Sale. Call Anne 3498.

ND jacket one year old. Good condition. Reasonable price - $10.

For Sale: 2 tickets to Cat Stevens, at prices: $35.00 each. Call John 2064.

Two 2 New York Stevies tickets best offer. Tom Sera.

2 Cat Stevens tickets for sale. On the main floor. Call Guy 1957.

Garren SL68 Turntable with box. covered. $35.00. Call 2797.

PERSONALS

L.A. and T.B.

Thanks for eclectic Hallways, Creepy Night, B.J. and "Arvados".

Am Morris: Looking forward to this weekend with Frances.

Hi Pat: Welcome back. Thanksgiving.

Your profile. Keith-Native.

The Ford Motor Company extends greetings to a future of Four North, Old Mark, Knoxville, White Tree, B.J. and "Arvados".

Sara: Looking forward to this weekend with Frances.

Gals!

Welcome to our little corner of your world

The word is out and spreading...The Campus Shop has a corner set aside for ladies' sportswear, blouses, sweaters, slacks, flannel nightgowns, beachwear, etc. Stop in, browse, open your account and pay one-third next, June, July and August with no service or carrying charge!

(One lady tells another too)

GILBERT'S

Campus Shop

ON THE CAMPUS . . . NOTRE DAME

The Bengals of East Pakistan found that their government, which is dominated by the Pakistanis from the West, retracted with different degrees of little speed to their plight, and the storm helped push many of them into their people's open revolt against Pakistani rule.

48

The Observer Friday, November 5, 1971

Page 12

PRICES SLASHED

one year

Notre Dame Native American Community Center has been set up in South Bend. The purpose of the center known as the Meadow Brook Community Center is to have a place for neighborhood study tutoring and adult education classes.

This center, located on Hastings Road, has undergone construction for seven weeks now and is nearly completed. Bruce Bower, the project director, hopes to have the project completed within three weeks and has made arrangements to have more volunteers to help with the construction. Volunteers have been working every Saturday from 9 to 3 and 8 to 12 on football Saturdays. Anyone interested can call the Kennedy Institute at 834 or Bruce Bower at 1158.

The Kennedy Institute also has two major projects underway in line with its work with the Native American Indian tribe. On December 9th they will be bringing in a tribe of Sioux Indians to spend a weekend on Notre Dame campus. Plans are also underway for developing a center in American Indian Culture to be offered next semester on a directed readings basis and which will be opened to all departments for cross registration.

Cultural Commission's Literary Program presents

YEATS COUNTY
November 8 7:00 pm 205 O'Shaughnessy

An 18-minute color film commemorating the centenary of William Butler Yeats, 1865-1965

Adm. free

Cyclone survivors wander homeless, hungry

The Bengalis of East Pakistan found that their government, which is dominated by the Pakistanis from the West, retracted with different degrees of little speed to their plight, and the storm helped push many of them into their people's open revolt against Pakistani rule.

48

The Observer Friday, November 5, 1971

Page 12

PRICES SLASHED

one year

Notre Dame Native American Community Center has been set up in South Bend. The purpose of the center known as the Meadow Brook Community Center is to have a place for neighborhood study tutoring and adult education classes.

This center, located on Hastings Road, has undergone construction for seven weeks now and is nearly completed. Bruce Bower, the project director, hopes to have the project completed within three weeks and has made arrangements to have more volunteers to help with the construction. Volunteers have been working every Saturday from 9 to 3 and 8 to 12 on football Saturdays. Anyone interested can call the Kennedy Institute at 834 or Bruce Bower at 1158.

The Kennedy Institute also has two major projects underway in line with its work with the Native American Indian tribe. On December 9th they will be bringing in a tribe of Sioux Indians to spend a weekend on Notre Dame campus. Plans are also underway for developing a center in American Indian Culture to be offered next semester on a directed readings basis and which will be opened to all departments for cross registration.

Cultural Commission's Literary Program presents

YEATS COUNTY
November 8 7:00 pm 205 O'Shaughnessy

An 18-minute color film commemorating the centenary of William Butler Yeats, 1865-1965

Adm. free

GALS!

Welcome to our little corner of your world

The word is out and spreading...The Campus Shop has a corner set aside for ladies' sportswear, blouses, sweaters, slacks, flannel nightgowns, beachwear, etc. Stop in, browse, open your account and pay one-third next, June, July and August with no service or carrying charge!

(One lady tells another too)

GILBERT'S

Campus Shop

ON THE CAMPUS . . . NOTRE DAME

The Bengals of East Pakistan found that their government, which is dominated by the Pakistanis from the West, retracted with different degrees of little speed to their plight, and the storm helped push many of them into their people's open revolt against Pakistani rule.