SMC presidential search now?

Priorities questioned

by Jodi Campbell

The search for a new St. Mary's President, and means for securing Notre Dame student cooperation in the protests over suspension of unification were the prime topics at last night's meeting of SMC student government officials with students and faculty.

The priorities of the protest over the decision were also discussed during the ninety minute session.

SRP Kathy Barlow said that she did not know if the presidential search SMC's acting president Sr. Alma Peter called for last week would be conducted as it was last year. Miss Barlow, a member of last year's search committee, reported that she has "not as yet been contacted," about a position for herself on the new committee.

Several people, including Barlow, questioned the necessity of selecting a new president, contending that immediate total merger by the two schools ought to be the goal of the current SMC administration.

student demands

Both Miss Barlow and Student Assembly Representative Eileen Fitzpatrick suggested that the current priorities be reevaluated in light of the "small amount of time" remaining in the semester. The semester ends Dec. 19th. Presently the priorities stand as they were presented in the first statement issued by Student Government. These priorities are:

1. Justification of the decision
2. The location of an outside arbitrator and
3. A reversal of the decision.

Barlow contended that since there are only two more weeks before vacation tactics could not afford to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated." SMC Physics professor, Dr. Mark A. Bambenek, in discussing the rationale the trustees set forth that the merger had to be "separated."

Barlow queried, "If the reasons are valid, why are they secret?" The decision was made by a group not in communication with those affected. Outside arbitration comes after inside communication breaks down... we never had any. I think if you're looking for the guys in white hats there aren't any." Means of obtaining the cooperation of ND students were discussed.

"We must make the people over there more aware and conscious of why they haven't responded." Fr. Roger Cernier stated.

"If they are good reasons, we may make the same decision," regarding the merger.

"It is basic to Christian ethics to never stop trying," Fr. Amen declared. "Education is one of the few things when good people will go down with the ship. If it's a bad ship they'll abandon it like hell." He suggested that the demand for arbitration be modified to let faculty, students, administration and trustees make decisions together.

The statement also presented a proposal that the two boards meet jointly, in an open meeting and that the two schools should continue at the present level of cooperation.

India to follow P.O.W. rules, recognizes Bangla Desh rebels

(C) 1971 Washington Star

New Delhi, Dec. 6--As Indian troops pushed into East Pakistan from all sides, Prime Minister Indira Gandhi announced today India's formal recognition of the government of Bangla Desh (Bengal nation).

This declaration that East and West Pakistan no longer exist as one nation provides a legal basis for cooperation between India and her new ally.

The Indian government, which had originally sponsored the Bangla desh government as an exile regime in Calcutta, is now seeking to exercise some control over Bangla desh military forces which she armed and nurtured.

India has publicly proclaimed that she will observe Geneva Convention rules for prisoners in East Pakistan, and it wants the local insurgent forces to do the same. This is intended to encourage the Pakistani army to surrender.

An Indian military spokesman said today that East Pakistan is now isolated from West Pakistan, with no hope of receiving reinforcements or supplies. India's policy is to try to avoid head-on battles so far as possible.

But Bangla desh spokesmen have said in the past that their forces would take no prisoners from the army which they said has murdered, raped, pillaged and burned East Pakistan.

India is trying to bind its new ally to military conventions which will prevent this attitude and therefore offer hope of avoiding bitter last-ditch fights by the 3½ Pakistani divisions in the East.

India has guided the exile regime since its founding. But the Indian government has become increasingly worried that the moderate leaders of the Bangla desh government might be outflanked by more radical forces if the struggle goes on indefinitely.

A foreign ministry spokesman said it was too early to say whether the Bangla desh government would be established now -- with Dacca still held by the Pakistani army -- and where India's new ambassador would be sent. No ambassador has yet been named.

More on India-Pakistan war on pages 3 and 10
Over ND release
SBP Barlow dislikes wording of statement

by Daniel P. Rock

St. Mary’s Student Body President Kathy Barlow said yesterday that she “disliked” the wording of a statement of Notre Dame’s Student Government released Sunday night.

“The statement decried the “injustice” of the recent merger cancellation. It asked for the “provost in cooperation with the four college deans and department chairs” to clarify details of procedures for St. Mary’s students getting ND’s degrees.

“...om the strike. They themselves aren’t taking any part in the strike.”

Miss Barlow said that the word “decried” used by the Student Government does not have the “right perspective.” According to Miss Barlow, if NO Student Government “decried” the lack of information supplied to the students, they should have demanded the information.

Miss Barlow also said that the Student Government of Notre Dame also limited themselves to three categories: transfer students, co-ex classes and primarily degrees.

“...small part of a larger picture,” she said, “...Where are all the other issues? ...The decisions and the people who made them?" She said, “...What are they going to do with the Notre Dame Administration?”

Although Miss Barlow agreed with the statement’s contention that many students at Notre Dame expressed apathy about the non-merger because Notre Dame is going co-op anyway, she said that Notre Dame students must realize that a small number of girls will be taken in to Notre Dame and the co-ex program will be out of the picture. Obviously, she said, they stand to lose by this decision.

Miss Barlow reiterated her demand of a whole reversal of the no-merger decision.

“...There is a need to put pressure on Notre Dame’s Administration and Trustees, and we are preparing actions now,” she said.

“As far as St. Mary’s is concerned, right now, actions are continuing and things are going well,” she added.

In a related move, Kathy Barlow released the following telegram from Trustee Fr. Neil McCluskey.

McCluskey telegram

To: Kathy Barlow

Shocked by decision to postpone merger made totally without my participation during October 22 Board meeting. I repeatedly stressed impossibility of turning back and urge completion of unification plans no matter what. Tragic that mutual lack of confidence can block this necessary development. I see no future for St. Mary’s without Notre Dame and less worthy future for Notre Dame without St. Mary’s.

Rev. Neil McCluskey
St. Mary’s Executive Board

Remember these ads?

We ran them in a lot of college newspapers last year. Their purpose was to answer some of the critical questions students were asking about our company. Maybe you saw them. A lot of students did. And a lot wrote to us about them. In many cases the ads triggered additional questions, questions so provocative that we’ve decided to expand our communications with college students.

We’re doing it in several ways. We’ve already started to have conferences of student opinion leaders and GE people at all of our various plant locations. These conferences permit deep probing of sticky questions. They help us understand the concerns of students. But they involve relatively few student GE people.

So we’re going to share some of the questions and answers (like the ones above) with you by continuing our ads in college newspapers.

And we’ll make sure our people see your questions, too—through company magazines and plant newsletters.

We think your concerns are important. And we think you should know how seriously we take them.
Evacuations and curfews are rule in East Pakistan

by James P. Sterba

Dacca by night

Evacuations and curfews are rule in East Pakistan

by James P. Sterba

Vol. VI, No. 58
SECOND FRONT PAGE Tuesday, December 7, 1971

Washington—President Nixon met with Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau in the first of his scheduled five meetings with Western leaders before his trips to Peking and Moscow. Trudeau was reported to have discussed with the President the recent meeting with Soviet Premier Alexi N. Kossygin.

World Briefs

(C) 1971 New York Times News Service

United Nations, N.Y.—Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban told the U.N. General Assembly that his government was willing to resume negotiations with Egypt on the basis of the progress made with the major African heads of state for the organization of African unity. The program has not been made public, but reportedly does not call for an Israeli withdrawal commitment before the talks begin.

Washington—The Senate confirmed the nomination of Lewis F. Powell Jr. to the Supreme Court by an 86 to 1 vote, with the Democratic voting bloc favoring confirmation by a vote of 72 to 1. The vote was 29, the agreement that the Senate had reached in the conflict with Pakistan. The United States today suspended a large portion of its economic aid to New Delhi.

The State Department, reflecting the Nixon Administration anger at Prime Minister Indira Gandhi’s Government, announced that it was cutting off $87.6 million in development loans.

Charles W. Bray III, the department spokesman, said that the freeze should be viewed in the context that “the United States is not making a short-term contribution to the Indian economy to make it easier for the Indian Government to sustain its military efforts.”

Left untouched by the suspension was another $135 million in loans, either aimed at long-term projects or for purchase of goods already committed to India.

Officials said that the freeze would probably have little effect on Indi’s resolve to pursue the conflict with Pakistan but was a further sign of American pipe. Last week, the Administration cut off $33.5 million in licenses for military export to India.

The mood within the administration was clearly anti-Indian, consistent with a statement issued on Saturday by a high state department official who said that India had systematically sought to worsen the crisis in East Pakistan and therefore “bears the major responsibility for the broader hostilities that have ensued.”

Officially, the U.S. remains neutral, to the extent that it has imposed a halt on all military shipments to both India and Pakistan. But privately and publicly, India is called the “main aggressor.”

Bray said that Bush’s remarks represented those of the administration.

Administration officials said that President Nixon himself was determined to phase responsibility on India for the fighting. This followed, Bush said, the United Nations, N.Y.—Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban told the security Council deliberations over the weekend that India was the “main aggressor.” In an interview this morning over the Columbia Broadcasting System, Bush said in referring to India that “There’s quite clear aggressors. It’s obviously India.”

ny. The raids provided a spectacular show for thousands of Dacca residents. Tiny children dressed in rags scurried out for better views as the Indian MiGs passed on a strafing and rocketing run.

Pakistan is listening and waiting.

Indian Migs passed on a strafing and rocketing run.

Pakistan air force sources claim the capture of nine Indian pilots, including a wing commander. They also say an Indian B-70 — a Soviet-built fighter, was forced to land intact at the airstrip.

Only two Pakistan F-46 fighters were downed, they said, one shot by Dacca ground fire while chasing an Indian MiG-21.

was quite unfortunate, but at least the Indians didn’t get it,” they added.

The raids provided a spectacular show for thousands of Dacca residents. Tiny children dressed in rags scurried out for better views as the Indian MiGs passed on a strafing and rocketing run.

Pakistan air force sources claim the capture of nine Indian pilots, including a wing commander. They also say an Indian B-70 — a Soviet-built fighter, was forced to land intact at the airstrip.

One film crew worked in bathing suits, saying they might as well get a suntan. Others had room service deliver cold drinks and lunch. As a Mig shot over twice by sabers and then flew into cover in the airstrip, a cameraman turned to a uniformed waiter to say: “Oh waiter, waiter. Make that a double order—fruit cocktail and iced tea with lime.”

The hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides they have got to break for lunch. The hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides they have got to break for lunch. The hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides, the hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides, they have got to break for lunch.

Photographers and film crews are in the hotel punching their typewriters by candlelight and collecting the scraps of information. Photographers and film crews are in the hotel punching their typewriters by candlelight and collecting the scraps of information.

“We have been told a thousands of Dacca residents. Tiny children dressed in rags scurried out for better views as the Indian MiGs passed on a strafing and rocketing run.

Pakistan air force sources claim the capture of nine Indian pilots, including a wing commander. They also say an Indian B-70 — a Soviet-built fighter, was forced to land intact at the airstrip.

One film crew worked in bathing suits, saying they might as well get a suntan. Others had room service deliver cold drinks and lunch. As a Mig shot over twice by sabers and then flew into cover in the airstrip, a cameraman turned to a uniformed waiter to say: “Oh waiter, waiter. Make that a double order—fruit cocktail and iced tea with lime.”

The hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides they have got to break for lunch. The hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides, they have got to break for lunch. The hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides, the hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides, they have got to break for lunch.

Photographers and film crews are in the hotel punching their typewriters by candlelight and collecting the scraps of information. Photographers and film crews are in the hotel punching their typewriters by candlelight and collecting the scraps of information.

“We have been told a thousands of Dacca residents. Tiny children dressed in rags scurried out for better views as the Indian MiGs passed on a strafing and rocketing run.

Pakistan air force sources claim the capture of nine Indian pilots, including a wing commander. They also say an Indian B-70 — a Soviet-built fighter, was forced to land intact at the airstrip.

One film crew worked in bathing suits, saying they might as well get a suntan. Others had room service deliver cold drinks and lunch. As a Mig shot over twice by sabers and then flew into cover in the airstrip, a cameraman turned to a uniformed waiter to say: “Oh waiter, waiter. Make that a double order—fruit cocktail and iced tea with lime.”

The hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides they have got to break for lunch. The hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides, the hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides, they have got to break for lunch.

Photographers and film crews are in the hotel punching their typewriters by candlelight and collecting the scraps of information. Photographers and film crews are in the hotel punching their typewriters by candlelight and collecting the scraps of information.

“We have been told a thousands of Dacca residents. Tiny children dressed in rags scurried out for better views as the Indian MiGs passed on a strafing and rocketing run.

Pakistan air force sources claim the capture of nine Indian pilots, including a wing commander. They also say an Indian B-70 — a Soviet-built fighter, was forced to land intact at the airstrip.

One film crew worked in bathing suits, saying they might as well get a suntan. Others had room service deliver cold drinks and lunch. As a Mig shot over twice by sabers and then flew into cover in the airstrip, a cameraman turned to a uniformed waiter to say: “Oh waiter, waiter. Make that a double order—fruit cocktail and iced tea with lime.”

The hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides they have got to break for lunch. The hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides, the hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides, they have got to break for lunch. The hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides, the hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides, they have got to break for lunch.

Photographers and film crews are in the hotel punching their typewriters by candlelight and collecting the scraps of information. Photographers and film crews are in the hotel punching their typewriters by candlelight and collecting the scraps of information.

“We have been told a thousands of Dacca residents. Tiny children dressed in rags scurried out for better views as the Indian MiGs passed on a strafing and rocketing run.

Pakistan air force sources claim the capture of nine Indian pilots, including a wing commander. They also say an Indian B-70 — a Soviet-built fighter, was forced to land intact at the airstrip.

One film crew worked in bathing suits, saying they might as well get a suntan. Others had room service deliver cold drinks and lunch. As a Mig shot over twice by sabers and then flew into cover in the airstrip, a cameraman turned to a uniformed waiter to say: “Oh waiter, waiter. Make that a double order—fruit cocktail and iced tea with lime.”

The hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides they have got to break for lunch. The hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides, the hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides, they have got to break for lunch. The hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides, the hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides, they have got to break for lunch.

Photographers and film crews are in the hotel punching their typewriters by candlelight and collecting the scraps of information. Photographers and film crews are in the hotel punching their typewriters by candlelight and collecting the scraps of information.

“We have been told a thousands of Dacca residents. Tiny children dressed in rags scurried out for better views as the Indian MiGs passed on a strafing and rocketing run.

Pakistan air force sources claim the capture of nine Indian pilots, including a wing commander. They also say an Indian B-70 — a Soviet-built fighter, was forced to land intact at the airstrip.

One film crew worked in bathing suits, saying they might as well get a suntan. Others had room service deliver cold drinks and lunch. As a Mig shot over twice by sabers and then flew into cover in the airstrip, a cameraman turned to a uniformed waiter to say: “Oh waiter, waiter. Make that a double order—fruit cocktail and iced tea with lime.”

The hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides they have got to break for lunch. The hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides, the hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides, they have got to break for lunch. The hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides, the hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides, they have got to break for lunch.

Photographers and film crews are in the hotel punching their typewriters by candlelight and collecting the scraps of information. Photographers and film crews are in the hotel punching their typewriters by candlelight and collecting the scraps of information.

“We have been told a thousands of Dacca residents. Tiny children dressed in rags scurried out for better views as the Indian MiGs passed on a strafing and rocketing run.

Pakistan air force sources claim the capture of nine Indian pilots, including a wing commander. They also say an Indian B-70 — a Soviet-built fighter, was forced to land intact at the airstrip.

One film crew worked in bathing suits, saying they might as well get a suntan. Others had room service deliver cold drinks and lunch. As a Mig shot over twice by sabers and then flew into cover in the airstrip, a cameraman turned to a uniformed waiter to say: “Oh waiter, waiter. Make that a double order—fruit cocktail and iced tea with lime.”

The hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides they have got to break for lunch. The hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides, the hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides, they have got to break for lunch. The hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides, the hotel filled in the afternoon. Besides, they have got to break for lunch.

Photographers and film crews are in the hotel punching their typewriters by candlelight and collecting the scraps of information. Photographers and film crews are in the hotel punching their typewriters by candlelight and collecting the scraps of information.
ND-SMC student leaders issue first joint demands

Student leaders on both campuses have joined forces to demand that trustees from Notre Dame and St. Mary's resume merger negotiations by January 1972, Eric Andrus, spokesman for the two groups announced yesterday.

The joint statement released after last night's meeting marked the first unified action by groups on the two campuses. The statement read:

As men and women who consider ourselves members of one academic, social community, we join in the call for a reevaluation of recent decisions to reverse the merger of ND-SMC.

The goal of a new coneducational institution is one towards which we have worked collectively for several years. We cannot allow this goal to be abandoned without protest.

We acknowledge the fact that it is not only the women of SMC who have been insulted by the decision, but all members of both communities have been done serious injustice:

The situation which the proposed merger would have remedied is best, if seldom, described as one of segregation.

Violence in sports

by Jack Kelly

"The sooner or later will be heard, non-violently, but loudly stressing the violence inherent in American Football and contrasting it to the philosophy of the Catholic Church." The preceding is a quote from a letter recently received by Notre Dame President, Fr. Theodore M. Hesburgh, protesting the violence of American Football.

The letter from Nick Matavulli, Indiana Youth Soccer Organizer, was a plea to "educate" our campuses who promote football, to re-examine their souls and give an opportunity to their students to engage in team sports other than the violent sport of Football.

Specifically Matavulli wanted Fr. Hesburgh to use his "Christian authority and educator," to give more financial support to the "non-violent sport of millions of Catholic boys, that is soccer.

In a telephone interview with the Observer, Matavulli said "I feel this way because, when I refereed a soccer match at Notre Dame, I had no facilities to change, the soccer field was very poor, and there were no members of the ND Athletic Staff present.

Because we (men and women) are segregated, our stereotypes of each other are perpetuated, our insensitivity to the other's situation is increased, and our access to the other's collective and individual wisdom is diminished.

Because of the recent decision, this unhealthy segregation will continue. This is surely the case for present and future students of a separate ND football. Just as surely, this is the case for present ND students and the promise of a coneducational ND in the future and "continuing apprehension of" ND and SMC.

2) That this decision was made unilaterally by the Boards of Trustees violates the avowed respect for the opinions of all members of these "Christian Communities" in the decision-making process.

3) The present secrecy regarding the reasons for the decision is an insult to students and faculty of both communities, and carries the implication that negotiations were not conducted in good faith.

In the last week, the responsibility has been placed on the SMC Trustees and Trustees to blame Mary's. This may be the case, but until the facts are known, we must assume that at least half the responsibility must lie with the University of Notre Dame.

In light of the above, we demand:

1) Immediate and formal commitment by both Boards of Trustees and Administrators that negotiations will resume in January 1972.

2) Furthermore, that students and faculty be across the operators of an ad hoc committee convened for making final decisions in such negotiations, with representation equal to that of trustees and administrators.

The Observer, Tuesday, December 7, 1971

John Barkett, Notre Dame SBP
Kathleen Barlow, Saint Mary's SBP
Don Money, Student Union Social Commissioner
Fr. Roger Cormier, C.S.C., Acting Director SMC Campus Ministry
Melissa Underman, Saint Mary's SBVP
Bill McGrath, Student Union Director
Mary Ellen Stoltz, Coedlito, Scholastic
Dave Loring, Keenan Hall President
Darlene Gallina, Tom Pifferetti, ND Senior Class President
Jeanne Seymour, Eric Andrus
Eileen Fitzpatrick, Floyd Kosele
John Robinson

New York University
New York, N.Y. 10003

Junior Year in New York

Washington Square College of Arts and Science of New York University sponsors a Junior Year in New York.

The College, located in the heart of the city, is an integral part of the exciting metropolitan community of New York City—the business, cultural, artistic, and financial center of the nation. The city's extraordinary resources greatly enrich both the academic program and the experience of living at New York University with the most cosmopolitan student body in the world.

This program is open to students recommended by the deans of the colleges to which they will return for their degrees.

There are strong and varied offerings in many areas, such as fine arts, urban studies, languages including non-European, mathematics in the College and at the Courant Institute, psychology, and others.

A qualified student may register for courses in all other schools of the University, including the specializations in Commerce and Education.

The University sponsors programs in Spain and France.

Write for brochure to Director, Junior Year in New York

COLOR IN THIS "MINI-PRESIDENTIAL POSTER" OF ONE OF THE CANDIDATES!

1. Buy a whole bunch of Flair pens. You need black, red, blue, green, brown, orange, yellow, pink, purple, grey, aqua & olive. (You need them anyway for school.)
2. Now—color in the picture according to these color guide numbers. Block (9), Red (1), Blue (2), Green (3), Brown (5), Orange (6), Yellow (7), Pink (8), Purple (9), Grey (10).

Your AIR FORCE IS HIRING

At these typical annual salaries for Junior Officers:

$8,300 at entry (9,500 if you fly)
$10,200 after 2 years (12,000 if you fly)
$12,100 at 4 years (13,900 if you fly)

With many sweet fringe benefits.

THERE IS STILL TIME! Call ext. 6635 WITHOUT DELAY!
UN cease-fire bids killed by vetoes

by Eric Pace

1971 New York Times

United Nations, N.Y., Dec. 6. The Security Council debate on the Indian-Pakistan war bogged down further today as diplomatic moves toward a cease-fire resolution were thwarted by its veto power.

The possibility of shifting the debate to the General Assembly was raised as council members, growing increasingly impatient, pressed the United Nations to make some move toward stopping the bloodshed.

Secretary General U Thant, who retired to his office today after an illness of more than a month, said "active" shelling and aerial attacks by both sides were continuing in Kashmir.

Quoting U.N. observers along the Kashmir cease-fire lines, Thant said that "no ground moves had been possible" there by either army, however, in the 24 hours preceding 1 a.m. today, West Pakistan time.

On the East front, a U.N. spokesman here reported, both sides had agreed to cease hostilities near Dacca for four hours so that U.N. and non-Pakistani consular personnel could be evacuated to Bangkok by air.

No agreement was reached in the council chamber, however. The Nicaraguan representative, Guillermo Sevilla-Sacasa, expressed the mounting desperation here when he called on the United Nations to act. He said:

"Neither the Security Council nor the General Assembly can remain motionless while machineguns do away with thousands of lives in a region where understanding should flourish and brotherly understanding. This is all I wish to say, Mr. President. I wish to say only this at the hour of grave responsibility which is vested in us. Mr. President: Let us do where understanding should flourish and brotherly understanding should rule. Thousands of lives in a region remain motionless while desperation here when he called on India and Pakistan to accept a cease-fire as a first step would the council come to meet in search of measures to produce peace.

The Soviet Union was generally considered sure to veto the measure, however. Yesterday it voted an eight-nation draft resolution calling for a cease-fire.

What is life without love?

"The Legal Basis for Air Pollution Control," will be discussed in a telecon lecture by Sheldon J. Plager, professor of law at the University of Illinois, at 8 p.m. Tuesday (Dec. 7) in Room 206 of the University of Notre Dame's Engineering Hall.

The talk, sponsored by the Midwest Universities' Committee on Air Pollution, will be piped by closed-circuit television to member institutions of the Committee. Plager's talk is the second in a series of planned by the group.

Cultural Arts Commissions
Performing Arts Series presents
Night
of the Following Day
with Marlon Brando

Dec. 8 & 9 pm
Engineering Auditorium
Admission $1 PAS Patrons Free

From one beer lover to another.
ND is getting it too!

The un-merger is a week old now and doesn't look as if it is going to suffer the quick demise so many are wishing upon it. That it is living, and that Notre Dame students have just as great, to share learning with. students will have the benefit of even the partial education. That is the old game played out by the Ivy League now.

Without unification the half measure is a ploy---a pitiful ploy at that. LaFortune tonight at a reality. At best their plan is a half-measure, as it was designed to be. Some of it good, some of it bad. The decision reversed, Notre Dame Students, true to form aren't doing the earliest un-merger sticks, and if that Notre Dame students have just as great, if not greater, stake in this farce.

Right now roughly 1500 St. Mary's girls take courses over here. That's 1500 girls that are walking around and sitting in class—girls that are generally available to converse with, to exchange pleasantries with, and to share learning with. If un-merger sticks, and if St. Mary's girls are charged some ridiculous credit hour fee to take courses over here next year then there won't be 1500 SMC girls on campus, there probably won't even be 150.

Under the Notre Dame plan there will be an additional 250 girls here—those 250 will be added to 150, not 10.

That would be a real disaster—a real disaster for students on both sides of the road. St. Mary's girls would be forced to limit their education to the small number of courses offered there; neither they nor the Notre Dame students will have the benefit of even the partial co-education we have now.

Instead we will be faced with the largely unpalatable situation now being cooked up by Hesburgh and Co. Instead of having over 1700 women to co-educate with, we'll have 400, maybe.

That, contrary to whatever opinion you subscribe to, is not co-education. That is the old game played out by the Ivy League schools—bring enough women here to dress up the place, enough women to continue to attract top applicants who aren't interested in a monastic type life, enough women so that the Justice Department can't sue the university for discrimination on the basis of sex.

Notre Dame can't or won't admit enough women to make co-education a reality; it is a half-measure, as it was designed to be. Without unification the half measure is a ploy—a pitiful ploy at that.

A lot of verbiage has been thrown around so far about the un-merger, some of it good, some of it bad. The St. Mary's students are trying to get the decision reversed. Notre Dame Students, true to form aren't doing anything. Nor will they do anything unless they think it will directly affect them.

Well, it will. The present Sophomores and Freshmen will suffer the withdrawal pains of co-op replaced by Notre Dame's brand of co-ed.

Think about, think about this campus with a third-less women, think about your classes with a third-less women. Then, call Notre Dame Student Government and see if they need some help. And show up at LaFortune tonight at 10 p.m.

The earliest

Night people

Nite Editor: Jim McDermott

The Crew: Art "Weatherman" Espósito, Dan Ryan, Don Blancampo

Moral Support: Ann McCarr

Visitors and derelicts: John Abowd, Dan Ruane (71), TC Trahan, Glen Corso, Jack Kelly, Don Rock, Tom Bornholdt, and some 5G people, good and evil.

Features editor: Rick Smith (thanks—you know why)

Wannacat, the ——— machines: Joe Wilkowski

Sounding Off: James Donaldson

Newskite Editor: Jeremiah "Luckyus" Rulkoff, who didn't dare show his face.

Voices on the phone: Joe and the Rev.

The Phantom: Dan

Music in the air: "Art's" radio

"Friday-"flamin' and gapin', not to mention partyin'

Pearl Harbor: 30 years, and today. Happy finals! Out at four, and where's that other typist?(

---

THE OBSERVER

AN INDEPENDENT STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Assistant Editor

T.C. Traveen

Business Manager

Jim Jendryk

News: 283-1715

Assistant Editor

John Abowd

Advertising Manager

Bill Bauerle

Business: 283-7471

---

Value Added

It is come to the notice of many concerned people, not to mention a few concerned pterodactyls, that the present American society, is presently in danger of overproducing material goods to the point of ecological annihilation, if not to a chronic deficiency of spiritual vitamins. So before we are drowned in a sea of cars with fins, Yours Truly will offer a totally revolutionary concept of economics that will save us from Bioystem Cataclysm.

Take a piece of wood, carve it into a chair, and in doing so convert the cheap piece of wood into a moderately expensive piece of furniture. process, as anyone in Principles of Econ knows, adds value to the raw material in this case, wood. By summing up all the value added that Amherst produces, one gets a definition of gross national product.

In many European countries, furthermore, there is what is known as a value-added tax. If one takes $10 of wood and makes a $30 chair, one has added a value of $20. If the rate of the value added tax in a particular country was 10 percent, the chair maker would have to pay a tax of $2 for each chair produced.

So, in step one, Yours Truly would have our beloved government institute a large value-added tax. A bare minimum would be at a rate of 10 percent. 150 percent would give you zero incentive for producing anything. Without such a tax the nation would be like a large bubble, which will eventually burst into scrap wood? He would then be reducing its value from $30 to $10.

This enterprising young savant has caused a net value addition of negative $20. What I here propose is that the government extend the value added tax to negative values, except that for these, the government pays the person at the given rate. For instance, a rate of 10 percent, the destruction of one chair would give the maker a $2 subsidy. The negative value added tax is roughly in the same relation to the positive value added tax as the negative income tax is to the progressive income tax—a extension of the principle to a previously neglected domain.

The negative income tax would preferably not have a flat rate, however. Certain prohibitions would have to be included. Obviously the military would have to be excluded, lest SAC generals be tempted to become instant trillionaires. In a similar vein, any form of negative value added that causes pollution would not be subsidized. Simply burning things will not do. The destroyers must find more attractive means.

On the other hand, the destruction of capital goods which produce in turn more of the despised products, should clearly be subsidized at a higher rate. Lastly, the value reduction of objects in a natural process, as anyone in Principles of Econ knows, adds value to the raw material. In this case, the value of a chair coming out of a machine is roughly the same as the value of a bar of soap coming out of a machine.

Meanwhile, many chemical plants across the nation will be taking in gasoline, kerosene, motor oil, etc., producing petroleum that is then piped back into the ground. These would be relatively easy, but with some American research, which knows what may arise? Factories by which wood comes in and trees come out. Electricity comes in and coal comes out.

Goods would not be the only thing effected. Services would qualify. Negative medicine would pay for medicines for infectious people. Vandalism would be government subsidized, as would clumsy TV repairmen who leaves one's set worse than before. Speaking of TV, commercials would now be subsidized not for every home, but for having negative artistic value. The Buffalo Bills would be paid for playing negative football. Johnny Dee would have received it for being able to turn a great basketball player into a good one, rare talent.

The largest negative service, however, would be negative education. People come in, are fed false information, and bewildered, so that they come out uneducation. In recent events, this may very well be St. Mary's only hope for solvency.

A few more professions would be affected. Negative lawyers would arise advising their clients to murder rather than pay. By "pleading guilty to a greater charge." Negative psychiatrists would try to give their patients problems, while negative marriage counselors would be subsidized to convince people that they are in trouble and that negative marriage would be a fortune without even changing. Drug pushers would be paid for the amount of damage they could do to otherwise productive people. Negative cosmetics would exist to make people ugly, as would odonists.

The merits of this bold plan are obvious. Not only would it sweep the dreadful curse of affluence from the land, but it would accomplish this through true libertarian policy—making this policy financially lucrative instead of legally binding. With the great power of American industry properly harnessed, the nation could be back to the good old days of stone in the twinkling of an eyelash.
two tales from the chrome jungle
by Gladwin Hill

The tract is valued at upward of $50,000. The Santa Cruz type is notable for its long, orange-colored spots running down the middle of its black back, and by toes that are slightly longer in relative size than those of any other salamander. Its zoological name is Ambystoma Maculatum. The last two digits are Latin for long-toed yellow "Ambystoma" is a contraction of a Greek term for "Cram into mouth," referring to the salamander's habit of eating with its forelegs.

This animal is four to five inches long, and is carnivorous, eating almost any small form of life that does not eat it. It feeds on worms under willow and oak trees. Once a year, on warm rainy nights in January and February, it moves to a nearby pond to breed. The females attach eggs to certain marsh grasses, such as the spikemoss.

michigan city prisoner program needs books
by russell baker

Aerosol Opinionsville

The education program in which the students participate is useful to the inmates, but there is no vocational education instructor in the prison. There are a few inmates who teach skills which they are conversant with, but as Gannon is quick to point out, they are not really trained people. But, there are no allocations for a vocational ed. program.

The jobs that some of the inmates hold are really not rehabilitative and do not teach a skill. For example, many of the inmates work in the tag shop, or help make signs for the state road department.

The education program in which the students participate is useful to the inmates, but there is no vocational education instructor in the prison. There are a few inmates who teach skills which they are conversant with, but as Gannon is quick to point out, they are not really trained people. But, there are no allocations for a vocational ed. program.

The jobs that some of the inmates hold are really not rehabilitative and do not teach a skill. For example, many of the inmates work in the tag shop, or help make signs for the state road department.

The education program in which the students participate is useful to the inmates, but there is no vocational education instructor in the prison. There are a few inmates who teach skills which they are conversant with, but as Gannon is quick to point out, they are not really trained people. But, there are no allocations for a vocational ed. program.

The jobs that some of the inmates hold are really not rehabilitative and do not teach a skill. For example, many of the inmates work in the tag shop, or help make signs for the state road department.
newman is newman is

Once in a long while, someone like Randy Newman will come along, and people will stop and listen; for although Randy Newman is not like anyone else, he is not that much unlike you and me. One very obvious difference is that he sings. Another is something a little more involved. Like talent, along with the need to speak his mind; and the ability to do it through music.

Although his name is fast becoming one of the most respected in the music business, Randy Newman, to a lot of people remains an enigma. The question keeps coming up, "Hey, what's this Randy Newman thing?"

And they listen to the album, and they start to answer themselves, and then they stop. They play the album again. And maybe, just maybe, it will come across that Randy is doing something very special. He's singing a song in terms so straightforward and direct that sometimes you bypass it, and sit there knowing that he's just done something, but you aren't quite sure what it is.

And the truth of the matter is that you have to listen. Randy is a man who makes no pretensions about being honest; he just is. There is no muffling glitter to color up any empty spaces that may arise in his music. And if there are any, then they are Randy Newman Empty Spaces, and it is obvious why they are there.

Wis music is a very personal thing, and what comes across, above all, is that he is at all times himself. His work is not the kind that is tailored for anyone else; his only compromises are internal ones.

His first album, entitled simply "Randy Newman," is not only good, but it is also the kind that could easily be labeled a collection of singles. Each song is an individual statement, and individual experience. It's not a particularly easy thing to pull together a total album concept when there are 76 people working on it with you. Randy Newman's album is an outstanding example that it can be done.

Born in Los Angeles, California, on November 28, 1943, he spent the first three years of his awake life traveling with his family. First they moved to New Orleans, then Jackson, and then lived briefly in Mobile, before returning to Los Angeles. By the time he was fifteen, and a student at University High School, he was writing music for Metric Music Co. in Los Angeles. Graduating on time, he then moved to UCLA, where he majored in music composition for four years, and once again graduated on time.

In the four years that elapsed between his graduation from UCLA and the release of his first album, Randy did little else but what he wanted: writing a little, reading a lot, maybe looking out of a window. Important things. Among them, learning how to wait, for Randy isn't a man of immediate action.

"I never really wanted to do anything. Really. I never have. My decisions have always been made for me. Much easier that way." Ambition is a secondary thing to Randy. If something becomes a need, then that is different. But until then, Randy has time to wait.

In 1967 came marriage to Rosedith, his wife. And not long after came Amos Newman, their son.

"You know, Amos is really a very underrated name. So is Harry now that I think of it. Yeah, you know..."

He may go on for some time unless you're careful.

The truth of the matter is, there really isn't anything mysterious about Randy Newman. He gets nervous around tape recorders, smokes a lot, drinks Fresca, and probably reads more than anything else. His musical influences are few, mainly his two uncles, Alfred and Lionel Newman. He is, in essence, the guy next door who sings.

But his music is something else. His song "I think it's Going to Rain Today" has been sung repeatedly by artists such as Dave Van Ronk and Joni Mitchell. It was also one of the hit singles to come off Judy Collins' "In My Life" album. Van Ronk calls him "the Hoagy Carmichael of the '60's." And he may not be that far off.

Randy's songs are musical statements drawn out of his soul and put together with his head. Sometimes they seem like a cry, sometimes a wail from somewhere very far away. And sometimes like one long sigh. But the essence of them all is the unspoken feeling from which his songs have come, and to which you, as the listener, go.

michael jackson

Here's power and pep for tired engines!

See us today for our
CERTIFIED CAR CARE
ENGINE TUNE-UP SPECIAL

* CLEAN, adjust ignition points, inspect distributor • SET ignition timing • CHECK compression • CLEAN and INSPECT battery, cables, terminals • ADJUST carburetor, service air cleaner • TEST fuel pump • CHECK crankcase vent valve • INSPECT cooling system, adjust drive belts

Satisfaction Guaranteed

BROOK SILVERMAN
916 E. McKinley, Mishawaka

255-4751

A Diamond Is Forever

SPECIAL PRICES on diamonds to ND students.

Just show your I.D. cards at any of our stores.
The following was written by a S. Mary's student to a friend at Notre Dame. It is not a personal letter but an attempt to relate the feelings and decisions of the last few days. It was hoped that others might benefit from the letter.—ed.

Dear ___________

Of late you have been asking me "where's the story?", the reason that I haven't been able to answer you is that I haven't known, and still don't. That may be the story. The past week has been a busy one. Others might benefit by the letter. Writing about these people, not taking the time to relate to them, or maybe I should say relating to them, the feelings and decisions of the last few days. Because of it, we grew closer together and more aware of what we believed our relationship to be. What am I to do now? Notre Dame then you would love the Sisters of Holy Cross.

Speaking of bankruptcy, Notre Dame could go under before S. Mary's College if useless spending and waste is not corrected. S. Mary's College has a long list of great alumnae and there are so many stories to tell of those alumnae who will back up the facts. You came to Notre Dame to get a Christian education yet in your desires you ask nothing but evil to S. Mary's College. Where is this great intellectual pursuit taken you, certainly not upward in Christianity.

Bro. Francis J. Goubes.

Freshman Council Meeting.
7 pm tonight
3rd floor La Fortune
All interested students invited for a discussion of the merger.

Editor: The following was written by a S. Mary's College student.

As I write this, I feel that my words will be like most other words in this world, they will be forgotten long before they were written.

The Holy Cross Sisters worked here from sun rise to sun set and then after that in the chapel. To the University of Notre Dame as they would tell others many stories about to engage in contact with them and all they asked for was a peace. That's all. The Holy Cross sisters are seeking protection for their many retired members who go on the county and all they get is abuse from the men of Notre Dame. Instead of degradation there should be a work of thanks and I wonder if you really like Notre Dame then you would love the Sisters of Holy Cross.

Editor: In making the University of Notre Dame the great Catholic school the sisters sacrificed their college to make this place grow and be a place of learning.

Editor: To the writer of the editorial article in Nov. 30, 1971 observe: "For I tell you that the real people should work together not condemn through reference. Call it what you may, temporary emotionalism, ignorance of history, or outright cruelty, there should be a public apology to the president and sisters of S. Mary's College also to the sisters of Holy Cross Order.

Editor: If one has lived through this particular heartbreak over Vietnam and is equally saddened by those who opted to fight in their own country in jail. I cannot condone sweeping trouble under the rug through the stroke of a pen. It is the easy way out. Taking the easy way out gets us into Vietnam in the first place. It would seem more appropriate to quietly endeavor our loss rather than excusate wounds that are not beginning to heal.

Mike Sullivan

Editor: Why not write for more information to:

Sister Mary Christmastree
Notre Dame, Ind.

Editor: Of late I have been asking you "where's the story?", the reason that I haven't been able to answer you is that I haven't known, and still don't. That may be the story. The past week has been a busy one. Others might benefit by the letter. Writing about these people, not taking the time to relate to them, or maybe I should say relating to them, the feelings and decisions of the last few days. Because of it, we grew closer together and more aware of what we believed our relationship to be. What am I to do now? Notre Dame then you would love the Sisters of Holy Cross.

Speaking of bankruptcy, Notre Dame could go under before S. Mary's College if useless spending and waste is not corrected. S. Mary's College has a long list of great alumnae and there are so many stories to tell of those alumnae who will back up the facts. You came to Notre Dame to get a Christian education yet in your desires you ask nothing but evil to S. Mary's College. Where is this great intellectual pursuit taken you, certainly not upward in Christianity.

Bro. Francis J. Goubes.

Freshman Council Meeting.
7 pm tonight
3rd floor La Fortune
All interested students invited for a discussion of the merger.

Editor: The following was written by a S. Mary's College student.

As I write this, I feel that my words will be like most other words in this world, they will be forgotten long before they were written.

The Holy Cross Sisters worked here from sun rise to sun set and then after that in the chapel. To the University of Notre Dame as they would tell others many stories about to engage in contact with them and all they asked for was a peace. That's all. The Holy Cross sisters are seeking protection for their many retired members who go on the county and all they get is abuse from the men of Notre Dame. Instead of degradation there should be a work of thanks and I wonder if you really like Notre Dame then you would love the Sisters of Holy Cross.

Editor: In making the University of Notre Dame the great Catholic school the sisters sacrificed their college to make this place grow and be a place of learning.

Editor: To the writer of the editorial article in Nov. 30, 1971 observe: "For I tell you that the real people should work together not condemn through reference. Call it what you may, temporary emotionalism, ignorance of history, or outright cruelty, there should be a public apology to the president and sisters of S. Mary's College also to the sisters of Holy Cross Order.

Editor: If one has lived through this particular heartbreak over Vietnam and is equally saddened by those who opted to fight in their own country in jail. I cannot condone sweeping trouble under the rug through the stroke of a pen. It is the easy way out. Taking the easy way out gets us into Vietnam in the first place. It would seem more appropriate to quietly endeavor our loss rather than excusate wounds that are not beginning to heal.

Mike Sullivan

Editor: Why not write for more information to:

Sister Mary Christmastree
Notre Dame, Ind.

Editor: Of late I have been asking you "where's the story?", the reason that I haven't been able to answer you is that I haven't known, and still don't. That may be the story. The past week has been a busy one. Others might benefit by the letter. Writing about these people, not taking the time to relate to them, or maybe I should say relating to them, the feelings and decisions of the last few days. Because of it, we grew closer together and more aware of what we believed our relationship to be. What am I to do now? Notre Dame then you would love the Sisters of Holy Cross.

Speaking of bankruptcy, Notre Dame could go under before S. Mary's College if useless spending and waste is not corrected. S. Mary's College has a long list of great alumnae and there are so many stories to tell of those alumnae who will back up the facts. You came to Notre Dame to get a Christian education yet in your desires you ask nothing but evil to S. Mary's College. Where is this great intellectual pursuit taken you, certainly not upward in Christianity.

Bro. Francis J. Goubes.
Pakistan urges Soviet Union not to recognize Bengali rebels

By Hedrick Smith
(C) 1971 New York Times

Moscow, Dec. 6--Pakistan's Prime Minister today urged the Soviet Union not to follow India's recognition of East Pakistan as the independent nation of Bangla Desh. Well-placed Soviet sources said such a move was unlikely in the near future.

The Indian government has steadfastly backed India in its confrontation with Pakistan, diplomatic sources said there was evidence that the Kremlin did not want to damage its diplomatic relations with the military triumph could be government, well-placed Pitt Club sources indicated that Moscow would probably keep Pakistan deliberately to demonstrate its desire to maintain ties with Pakistan, although, like other nations, it may seek to remove dependents of its officials for safety reasons.

A well informed government extended recognition to Bangla Desh today, it was known to have anticipated Soviet slowdown on this question.

"The Soviets will be very cautious," said one well-placed Asian diplomat. "They will only inch forward very slowly." Soviet sources said Moscow anticipated a short war between Indian and Pakistan and, although he expressed caution about Communist China's possible actions, was doubtful that Peking would intervene militarily in the conflict, especially because of a recent political purge among the top command of the Chinese army.

Well informed diplomats said the Indian strategy--coordinated with Moscow--was to achieve a quick and crushing victory over the Pakistani army in East Pakistan to enable government of Bangla Desh to begin operating in that region and to allow Indian troops to withdraw voluntarily. Only after that, it was explained, would the Soviet Union go along with a cease-fire resolution at the United Nations.

The Indian objective, as explained here, is to end all question about the establishment of Bangla Desh as a separate nation and thereby force other powers as well as Pakistan to accept it as a fact. The Indian government, well-placed diplomats said, was confident as of now that the necessary military triumph could be achieved by next weekend, and Western specialists said Moscow's recent tactics were in play for time at the United Nations.

Pakistan's ambassador, Jamshed K. A. Marker, presented his government's position on the Soviet foreign ministry this morning. Pakistani officials said.

In a 45-minute meeting with Andrei A. Fomin, director of the ministry's South Asian division, Marker was reported to have expressed strong disagreement of Russian efforts to win a hearing at the United Nations for Bangla Desh representatives and to have reminded Moscow that the U.S. would interpret formal recognition of Bangla Desh as an unfriendly act.

The Soviet initiative at the United Nations on behalf of what the controlled Soviet press now calls the "National Liberation Front of East Pakistan, Bangla Desh" was interpreted here as an important increase in Soviet advocacy of the East Pakistani independence movement.

On rare occasions the Soviet Union referred to Bangla Desh rather than East Pakistan. But during Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's visit here in late September, Moscow insisted upon calling the region "East Pakistan" in a joint communiqué. India disagreed and published a different version of the communiqué, using the term, "East Bengali." Tass, the Soviet news agency, today blamed the "one-sided prejudiced position of the United States and the Chinese People's Republic" for the security Council's failure to agree on measures to end the war satisfactorily.

Both the diplomatic maneuvering at the U.N. and that progress of the war were believed to be the primary topics at a meeting today between Dr. R.S. Shewlanwarkar, the Indian ambassador, and Vasily Kuznetsov, first deputy Soviet foreign minister. Indian sources said it was part of the daily exchange of information between the two governments.

Tass also reported today the Indian recognition of Bangla desh in a very brief item without comment. It was not carried this afternoon in Izvestia, the government newspaper.

SMC question session

This week S. Jeanne Finke, SMC academic dean, will meet with students to answer any questions they might have about their schedules in light of the non-merger.

Wednesday evening at 6 p.m. she will meet with juniors. Thursday at the same time with sophomores, and Friday at 6 with freshmen. in the Little Theatre.

Ste. Jeanne re-affirmed that freshman and sophomores should follow the academic guidelines for the degree they intend to receive listed in the catalog as published their freshman year.

There will be another PItap Center Benefit on Friday, December 17, at 7 PM, at Stepan Center on the campus of the University of Notre Dame. The two featured groups are Johnny Littlejohn--back from a successful performance at the Notre Dame Blues Festival--and Simba. Free food will be provided as usual. There will be a donation of $1.00 at the door.

Pitt Club

Sign-ups and payment for Christmas Bus.

Wed. Dec. 8
7:30 pm to 8:30 pm

Room 2-D La Fortune

Christmas shop at your Golf Pro Shop

"in the Rock"

- Golf balls gift wrapped
- Alpaca Golfling
- Cardigans
- Jantzen Golf shirts
- Monogrammed Caps
- Munsingwear
- Golf Jackets
- Novelty items
- Ski & Toboggan hats
- Socks

...and saves you money.

Your Student Billing Card is yours at no cost at the Indiana Bell Business Office. So, if you live in a dorm you can make long distance calls from your room simply by telling the operator your card number.

Calling by Student Billing Card eliminates the 25-cent additional charge made on every station-to-station "collect" call within Indiana.

If you're a dorm resident, get your card now!
Irish rack up second win, 83-76

By “Lefty” Reischmann ’73

The distance between the teams fell not a lot longer than it looks for someone attempting the transition from football to basketball. In fact, Tuesday night, the Irish padroned the move quite well, but the transition was still not perfect. As the night’s 83-73 triumph over Western Michigan University, the Irish put up 24 points in the first half, and 59 in the second, as they defeated the Broncos 83-76. It was not a complete domination of the game by the Irish, as Western Michigan kept the game close for most of the night, but a good showing for Notre Dame.

At the half, the Irish led the Broncos 48-32. Chuck Townsend had led Notre Dame with 14 points at the half, and Willie Townsend had added 13. But both were quiet in the second half, scoring just two points combined.

The Irish improved slightly over their ’68-’69 figures. This illustrates how players improved their scoring over previous years. All three in the lineup scored in double figures, as did Mike Kane, who added 17.

The Irish had a 12-point lead at the end of the game, 65-53. But after the lead was cut to 65-56, the Irish were able to take control of the game. They scored 14 points in the final 10 minutes, compared to 21 points by Western Michigan.

Swimmers triumph

The Irish swimmers came out on top in the annual Notre Dame Invitational Relays Saturday, but the ND squad had a good showing in the swimming and water polo to overtake surprising Purdue University.

The Irish swimmers had a balanced effort in the meet. They scored 140 points, 97 for relay and 43 for individual events. The Irish were led by Frank Ayers, who scored 22 points, 16 on points scored and six on relay.

Notre Dame came out on top in the 200-yard backstroke relay with a time of 7:41.6. Jim Kane was the anchor man in that race, and he put them ahead of Purdue (9:01.5) and Michigan (9:42.5). The Irish also scored 14 points in the butterfly relay, two in the breaststroke relay, and six in the medley relay. The Irish had a 1-2-3 finish in the men’s 200-yard breaststroke, with a time of 2:16.6.

The Irish also scored 14 points in the medley relay, with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish won the medley relay with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish also scored 22 points in the 100-yard breaststroke relay, with a time of 1:42.3. The Irish anchor man in that race, Mike Kane, won the event with a time of 1:42.3.

The Irish also scored 14 points in the medley relay, with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish won the medley relay with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish also scored 22 points in the 100-yard breaststroke relay, with a time of 1:42.3. The Irish anchor man in that race, Mike Kane, won the event with a time of 1:42.3.

The Irish also scored 14 points in the medley relay, with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish won the medley relay with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish also scored 22 points in the 100-yard breaststroke relay, with a time of 1:42.3. The Irish anchor man in that race, Mike Kane, won the event with a time of 1:42.3.

The Irish also scored 14 points in the medley relay, with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish won the medley relay with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish also scored 22 points in the 100-yard breaststroke relay, with a time of 1:42.3. The Irish anchor man in that race, Mike Kane, won the event with a time of 1:42.3.

The Irish also scored 14 points in the medley relay, with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish won the medley relay with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish also scored 22 points in the 100-yard breaststroke relay, with a time of 1:42.3. The Irish anchor man in that race, Mike Kane, won the event with a time of 1:42.3.

The Irish also scored 14 points in the medley relay, with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish won the medley relay with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish also scored 22 points in the 100-yard breaststroke relay, with a time of 1:42.3. The Irish anchor man in that race, Mike Kane, won the event with a time of 1:42.3.

The Irish also scored 14 points in the medley relay, with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish won the medley relay with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish also scored 22 points in the 100-yard breaststroke relay, with a time of 1:42.3. The Irish anchor man in that race, Mike Kane, won the event with a time of 1:42.3.

The Irish also scored 14 points in the medley relay, with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish won the medley relay with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish also scored 22 points in the 100-yard breaststroke relay, with a time of 1:42.3. The Irish anchor man in that race, Mike Kane, won the event with a time of 1:42.3.

The Irish also scored 14 points in the medley relay, with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish won the medley relay with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish also scored 22 points in the 100-yard breaststroke relay, with a time of 1:42.3. The Irish anchor man in that race, Mike Kane, won the event with a time of 1:42.3.

The Irish also scored 14 points in the medley relay, with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish won the medley relay with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish also scored 22 points in the 100-yard breaststroke relay, with a time of 1:42.3. The Irish anchor man in that race, Mike Kane, won the event with a time of 1:42.3.

The Irish also scored 14 points in the medley relay, with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish won the medley relay with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish also scored 22 points in the 100-yard breaststroke relay, with a time of 1:42.3. The Irish anchor man in that race, Mike Kane, won the event with a time of 1:42.3.

The Irish also scored 14 points in the medley relay, with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish won the medley relay with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish also scored 22 points in the 100-yard breaststroke relay, with a time of 1:42.3. The Irish anchor man in that race, Mike Kane, won the event with a time of 1:42.3.

The Irish also scored 14 points in the medley relay, with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish won the medley relay with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish also scored 22 points in the 100-yard breaststroke relay, with a time of 1:42.3. The Irish anchor man in that race, Mike Kane, won the event with a time of 1:42.3.

The Irish also scored 14 points in the medley relay, with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish won the medley relay with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish also scored 22 points in the 100-yard breaststroke relay, with a time of 1:42.3. The Irish anchor man in that race, Mike Kane, won the event with a time of 1:42.3.

The Irish also scored 14 points in the medley relay, with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish won the medley relay with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish also scored 22 points in the 100-yard breaststroke relay, with a time of 1:42.3. The Irish anchor man in that race, Mike Kane, won the event with a time of 1:42.3.

The Irish also scored 14 points in the medley relay, with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish won the medley relay with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish also scored 22 points in the 100-yard breaststroke relay, with a time of 1:42.3. The Irish anchor man in that race, Mike Kane, won the event with a time of 1:42.3.

The Irish also scored 14 points in the medley relay, with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish won the medley relay with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish also scored 22 points in the 100-yard breaststroke relay, with a time of 1:42.3. The Irish anchor man in that race, Mike Kane, won the event with a time of 1:42.3.

The Irish also scored 14 points in the medley relay, with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish won the medley relay with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish also scored 22 points in the 100-yard breaststroke relay, with a time of 1:42.3. The Irish anchor man in that race, Mike Kane, won the event with a time of 1:42.3.

The Irish also scored 14 points in the medley relay, with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish won the medley relay with a time of 2:13.6. The Irish also scored 22 points in the 100-yard breaststroke relay, with a time of 1:42.3. The Irish anchor man in that race, Mike Kane, won the event with a time of 1:42.3.
The Hall President's Council Presents:

Budweiser

Tiffany Glass Candles

Beautiful Christmas Gifts

Six different scents

HPC giving all profits to give Christmas jobs to South Bend kids

See your Hall President today

Supply limited