Shoppers, workers among victims

52 injured in Belfast blast

Belfast, Northern Ireland, March 6.
Fifty-two persons were injured here today when a bomb exploded in a parking lot at the rear of a movie theater. The injured were mainly women shoppers and office workers.

Security forces said that the explosion had been caused by a 50-pound gelignite charge planted in a stolen truck parked behind the Ritz Cinema. They were investigating the possibility that the bomb had been planted by the same terrorists who set off an explosion in a Belfast restaurant on Saturday that killed two persons and injured 136.

Police warned

An official spokesman said the police had received a telephone call earlier informing them that a bomb had been left in the parking lot. The lot was searched, but the truck was not there at that time, the spokesman said.

Tonight, a security patrol, hearing gunshots, found a youth lying in a pool of blood not far from the scene of the blast. He was taken to the Royal Victoria Hospital in serious condition.

Today's blast is the latest in a series of attacks on this city. Almost 200 people have been injured in such incidents.

In Londonderry, a bomb left by two gunmen wrecked one of the city's 3 remaining hotels. Staff and guests at the 17-room Ardown Hotel were given a 25-minute warning by the armed men, who asserted that it was frequented by detectives.

Meanwhile in Coleraine, the tribunal investigating the killing of 13 persons by British soldiers in Londonderry on Jan. 30 went into its third week.

The British Army Brigade Commander in the Londonderry area told Lord Widgery, Britain's Lord Chief Justice, who is sitting as a one-man tribunal, that the army had rejected advice from the local police to allow the Civil Rights March to take place.

Rights march related

Brig. Prick MacElhan said cross-examination that the local police chief had warned before the march that if it was halted there would be intense violence. He said that the police chief, Frank Legam-a Roman Catholic—had suggested taking photographs of the march leaders for prosecution later.

Del. Derek Wilford, who was directly in charge of the paratroopers when they advanced into the Catholic Bogside area, said he had seen only one soldier fire one shot and had not personally seen any civilian gunmen or nail bombers.

He said that during the clash the paratroopers fired 103 rounds of ammunition.

South quad favored in Badin, Walsh picks

Halls on the South Quad quickly filled last night as displaced residents of Badin and Walsh chose new dorms.

247 students picked rooms from the quotas which the ad hoc housing committee had determined for each hall. Dorm quotas ranged from Holy Cross's low of 10 to a high of 30 in Flanner and Grace.

Morrissey, Howard, Lyons, Sorin and Fisher were the first halls to fill. On the North Quad only Farley, Flanner, and St. Ed's filled. No Badin-Walsh residents chose Keenan-Stanford.

Residents picked into other halls on an equal basis with those already living in those halls," according to Badin Hall President Roger Burrell.

He added that most halls did not set aside specific sections but that students choosing those halls could form their own sections in a manner consistent with that hall's policy policy.

"No section was forced to split up," Burrell added.
Student Union robbed

by Daniel Barrett

A set of lost keys was apparently responsible for vandalism in Student Union offices Saturday night. An unknown person or persons entered the offices by key and stole twenty-five dollars from the petty cash cabinet drawer.

All locked cabinets were pried open and emptied. Both the keys and money were later duplicated.

Bill McGrath, Student Union director believes vandalism of S.U. had a lost pair of keys.

He was unsure whether the key was lost by a present S.U. member or a person on special assignment.

“Delicate” news is so hard to communicate in a letter—and so much more graciously said with a long distance call.

Costs so little, too, when you dial direct (about 1½ the cost of person-to-person). For example, a direct-dialed call to Niagara Falls after 5:00 p.m. would cost less than $1.00. The tactful way to “break news” is to call. The economical way is to dial the call direct.
Irish ready for playoff opener

The Irish Eye

Playoff Patter

Mention the word "playoffs" around a hockey player or a hockey fan and you're sure to stir up a lot of enthusiasm. Playoffs are the game that all hockey players, and a lot of fans, look forward to each and every season. This year the Irish have qualified for the playoffs, and it's a great opportunity for them to make some noise in the NCAA tournament.

The Irish finished third in the WCHA, and the top two teams, Minnesota-Duluth and North Dakota, have controlled the league all season. With those two teams playing so well, it's difficult to believe the Irish can make a deep run in the tournament. However, with the strength of schedule the Irish have played this season, they have a good chance to be successful.

The Irish have a good chance of winning the first round of the playoffs, even if they have to play a tough team like Denver. The Irish have a lot of experience with the Pioneers and are familiar with their style of play. If the Irish can keep the game close, they have a good chance of winning.

The second round could be a tough match-up, depending on who the Irish face. A team like Michigan or Minnesota would be a tough challenge, but the Irish have a good chance of winning if they play well.

The third round is where the Irish would have to be at their best. A team like Boston College or Minnesota-Duluth would be tough to beat, but the Irish have a good chance of winning if they can keep the game close.

The big question is whether the Irish can make a deep run in the tournament. It's difficult to believe they can make it to the championship game, but they have a good chance of making it to the next round.

So, the Irish have a good chance of making some noise in the NCAA tournament. They have a good chance of winning the first round, and they have a good chance of making it to the second round. The third round is where the Irish would have to be at their best, but they have a good chance of winning if they can keep the game close.

Digger to chair drive

Richard F. (Digger) Phelps, University of Notre Dame basketball coach, will be the honorary chairman of the annual membership drive of the Council for the Retarded of St. Joseph County.

Phelps’ appointment was announced today by Rev. A. T. Verda, President of the Council. The month-long membership campaign will be conducted in March.

The Council for the Retarded of St. Joseph County is a community agency which provides a variety of services to retarded persons in the county. The council operates Logan School for mentally retarded children between the ages of 2 and 16, and an Adult Training Center and Workshop which provides job training for older retarded persons, many of whom become self-sufficient after their training.

The United Way agency, also supported by county tax funds, offers evaluation and referral services for retarded persons, a recreation program, and social services to the retarded and their parents.

Among the activities planned by the Council during its membership campaign is an open house and community appreciation day on March 15. Open House tours of Council facilities will originate at Logan Center, 2355 North Eddy Street, that day.

McGovern says sue GA police

James Reedy, chairman of the Indiana organization of the McGovern for president campaign, has filed charges against McGovern petitioners.

Students from the Third District, including three Notre Dame students, were in Gary last weekend trying to secure necessary signatures for McGovern. George McGovern in order to put his name on the Indiana primary

The delegation was at the Village Shopping Center for less than an hour when Gary police collected them and threatened them. Too police had no legal basis for their treatment of the students felt compelled to leave and did so peacefully.

The students plan to return to continue their drive in the hands of their drive.
