Frank Devine takes last SLC district election

After a mixup in balloting for SLC representative in District 5, Frank Devine took the position in a special election yesterday.

Devine led the field with 193 ballots cast in his favor. Of his opponents, Dennis Etienne took 118 votes, Jan Waltman 102, and Rick Hilton 76.

Because of a mixup during the regular elections which prevented all the residents of Badin Hall from voting, the special balloting was held at Radio yesterday. The last results were then added to the earlier ones received from Dillon, Sorn, Alumni, and Walsh halls, the other four members of District Five, Wednesday.

Upon hearing the final verification of his victory, Devine was ecstatic. He was aware that Wednesday’s results had placed him in the lead, but had been apprehensive about the late Badin election.

“It was like tasting victory, having it snatched away, and then having it returned again,” he commented.

He also announced his plan to make good use of his seat.

“In past years the SLC has merely served as a debate club instead of acting as a major force in relieving the administration of the burdens of improving the quality of student life on campus,” he said. “I plan to take an active role in attempting to rectify this situation, and I urge my fellow SLC members to do likewise.”

Devine: Intends to put newly acquired seat to ‘good use.’

During the special election, a surprise move was made by a previously unannounced candidate, Jan Waltman. Her name had not been entered on the ballot for the originally scheduled election, so Wednesday she launched a last-minute, door-to-door campaign in Badin as a write-in candidate. Her efforts won her the 102 votes which placed her third in the final count.

Fourteen seats filled in Assembly races

Saint Mary’s filled fourteen seats on the Student Assembly yesterday in an election that saw only one race out of four contested.

Freshmen Debbie Beck and Judy Mardosian won the two freshmen-at-large seats on the Assembly, defeating Lisa Kinney by moderate margins. None of the other races were a fight and Holy Cross was unable to fill the three seats allotted to the hall, electing only Jackie Eickholt with 117 votes. The other two seats will be filled by the Election Committee within the next week.

In McConnellos Hall, Cathy Sebott came out on top with 59 votes, leading Lynn Mosberg by one and Barb Wolfsten by two. All were elected.

In LeMans Hall, five women were chosen, all within three votes of each other: Cathy Foley, Gale Froom, Diana Gavin, Ellen Hanahue, and Beth Jones. There were no losers.

Regina elected three representatives, all within six votes of each other: Denise Petersen, Betsy Nolan and Mary Beth Gillogly. As in the other halls, there were no losers.

Regina Hall also elected Vice-Presidents to replace a transfer student. Two vice-presidents were elected, each without opposition. Cathy - Heter - won in the North sector of the hall, and Mary Jane Silva was in the South part.

Student Body President Jean Seymour was pleased with the election, saying, “Now we’ll be able to move ahead with a lot of proposals of concern to the students.”

Seymour included parietals and 24-hour open lobbies as matter of immediate concern.

The first meeting of this year’s Assembly is scheduled for next week sometime.
Further, Caddell said, he had information that the next Gallup-Poll would substantiate his findings, and that in the next few weeks McGovern might jump as much as 14 points in the public opinion surveys.

But the good news proved mostly illusory. During the next 36 hours McGovern found that factionalism within the organization, regular Democrats and the forces of the United Auto Workers to turn out more than 1,000 votes; at the airport in a city noted for its attachment to Republicans and especially President Nixon.

And his young pollster, Pat Caddell, was waiting at the airplane ramp with some exciting news—Caddell had just received word he had interviewed in July and August and discovered that almost all of those who had abandoned McGovern earlier had returned to the fold.

McGovern vs. the polls: Both sides seem to be winning, a reason for a Senator's dismay.

by James Doyle
(c) 1972 Washington Star-News
Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 21—When Senator George McGovern lapped here Tuesday night his spirits were sent soaring by two events.

His old party adversary, Governor John Gilligan, had gotten together with the organization, regular Democrats and the forces of the United Auto Workers to turn out more than 1,000 votes; at the airport in a city noted for its attachment to Republicans and especially President Nixon.

And his young pollster, Pat Caddell, was waiting at the airplane ramp with some exciting news—Caddell had just received word he had interviewed in July and August and discovered that almost all of those who had abandoned McGovern earlier had returned to the fold.

Facts for the first time a real and tangible space, gave weight and material existences to his figures and an abstract equilibrium to his compositions. Although today only compositional outlines and traces of modeling are preserved from his creations at the Peruzzi Chapel in Santa Croce, the Chapel was once called the school of the renaissance because Giotto's frescoes are considered among the greatest 15th century Florentine masters. All the major cycles of Giotto's frescoes are filmed in detail, many for the first time, and including those at the Upper and Lower Church of San Francesco, Assisi, and the Scrovegni family Arena Chapel in Padua.

The "Museum Without Walls" film series is co-sponsored by the South Bend Art Center and the South Bend Art Center of the National Archaeological Museum. Tickets may be purchased at the South Bend Art Center or at the door.

Art films continue
The 56-minute color film "Crete and Mycenae," to be screened Monday, September 26th at the Notre Dame Engineering Auditorium brings to viewers' first-time look at the arts and culture of the island of Crete, the first fully developed European culture. From the Early Bronze Age (2500 B.C.) to its sudden destruction in 1560 B.C., the Minoan Civilization flourished as one of the greatest Mediterranean civilizations. Bob Ewan, front of the Museum's "Museum Without Walls" art film series, the McClure picture is an ideal introduction to the prehistoric and the ancient Early Greece.

Giotto and the Pre-Renaissance "Giotto and the Pre-Renaissance" at the Notre Dame Engineering Auditorium on Monday, Sept. 25th at 8 p.m. is a sensitive new look at the old master. Giotto, an artist recognized in his lifetime as the precursor to the greatest Florentines from Masaccio to Michelangelo.

Nominated by Richard Basehart, the 35-minute color film was produced for the new series of eleven films on art, "Museum Without Walls," and will be screened with a film on the arts and cultures of Crete and Mycenae.

The historic mood of Giotto's predecessor is contrasted with his great innovations in sensitivity and human involvement. He created the observer as a sensitive new look at the old master. Giotto, an artist recognized in his lifetime as the precursor to the greatest Florentines from Masaccio to Michelangelo.

The book, "Poetry and Crisis in the Age of Chaucer," was written by Charles Muscatine, a professor at the University of California at Berkeley, and was released in spring of 1972.

Titles for inclusion in the Scholar's Library are selected by a panel of distinguished scholars from among university press publications throughout the nation.

Giotto film planned
"Giotto and the Pre-Renaissance" at the Notre Dame Engineering Auditorium on Monday, Sept. 25th at 8 p.m. is a sensitive new look at the old master. Giotto, an artist recognized in his lifetime as the precursor to the greatest Florentines from Masaccio to Michelangelo.

Nominated by Richard Basehart, the 35-minute color film was produced for the new series of eleven films on art, "Museum Without Walls," and will be screened with a film on the arts and cultures of Crete and Mycenae.

The historic mood of Giotto's predecessor is contrasted with his great innovations in sensitivity and human involvement. He created the observer as a sensitive new look at the old master. Giotto, an artist recognized in his lifetime as the precursor to the greatest Florentines from Masaccio to Michelangelo.

The book, "Poetry and Crisis in the Age of Chaucer," was written by Charles Muscatine, a professor at the University of California at Berkeley, and was released in spring of 1972.

Titles for inclusion in the Scholar's Library are selected by a panel of distinguished scholars from among university press publications throughout the nation.

Giotto film planned
"Giotto and the Pre-Renaissance" at the Notre Dame Engineering Auditorium on Monday, Sept. 25th at 8 p.m. is a sensitive new look at the old master. Giotto, an artist recognized in his lifetime as the precursor to the greatest Florentines from Masaccio to Michelangelo.

Nominated by Richard Basehart, the 35-minute color film was produced for the new series of eleven films on art, "Museum Without Walls," and will be screened with a film on the arts and cultures of Crete and Mycenae.

The historic mood of Giotto's predecessor is contrasted with his great innovations in sensitivity and human involvement. He created the observer as a sensitive new look at the old master. Giotto, an artist recognized in his lifetime as the precursor to the greatest Florentines from Masaccio to Michelangelo.

The book, "Poetry and Crisis in the Age of Chaucer," was written by Charles Muscatine, a professor at the University of California at Berkeley, and was released in spring of 1972.

Titles for inclusion in the Scholar's Library are selected by a panel of distinguished scholars from among university press publications throughout the nation.

Giotto film planned
"Giotto and the Pre-Renaissance" at the Notre Dame Engineering Auditorium on Monday, Sept. 25th at 8 p.m. is a sensitive new look at the old master. Giotto, an artist recognized in his lifetime as the precursor to the greatest Florentines from Masaccio to Michelangelo.

Nominated by Richard Basehart, the 35-minute color film was produced for the new series of eleven films on art, "Museum Without Walls," and will be screened with a film on the arts and cultures of Crete and Mycenae.

The historic mood of Giotto's predecessor is contrasted with his great innovations in sensitivity and human involvement. He created the observer as a sensitive new look at the old master. Giotto, an artist recognized in his lifetime as the precursor to the greatest Florentines from Masaccio to Michelangelo.

The book, "Poetry and Crisis in the Age of Chaucer," was written by Charles Muscatine, a professor at the University of California at Berkeley, and was released in spring of 1972.

Titles for inclusion in the Scholar's Library are selected by a panel of distinguished scholars from among university press publications throughout the nation.

Giotto film planned
"Giotto and the Pre-Renaissance" at the Notre Dame Engineering Auditorium on Monday, Sept. 25th at 8 p.m. is a sensitive new look at the old master. Giotto, an artist recognized in his lifetime as the precursor to the greatest Florentines from Masaccio to Michelangelo.

Nominated by Richard Basehart, the 35-minute color film was produced for the new series of eleven films on art, "Museum Without Walls," and will be screened with a film on the arts and cultures of Crete and Mycenae.

The historic mood of Giotto's predecessor is contrasted with his great innovations in sensitivity and human involvement. He created the observer as a sensitive new look at the old master. Giotto, an artist recognized in his lifetime as the precursor to the greatest Florentines from Masaccio to Michelangelo.

The book, "Poetry and Crisis in the Age of Chaucer," was written by Charles Muscatine, a professor at the University of California at Berkeley, and was released in spring of 1972.

Titles for inclusion in the Scholar's Library are selected by a panel of distinguished scholars from among university press publications throughout the nation.

Giotto film planned
"Giotto and the Pre-Renaissance" at the Notre Dame Engineering Auditorium on Monday, Sept. 25th at 8 p.m. is a sensitive new look at the old master. Giotto, an artist recognized in his lifetime as the precursor to the greatest Florentines from Masaccio to Michelangelo.

Nominated by Richard Basehart, the 35-minute color film was produced for the new series of eleven films on art, "Museum Without Walls," and will be screened with a film on the arts and cultures of Crete and Mycenae.

The historic mood of Giotto's predecessor is contrasted with his great innovations in sensitivity and human involvement. He created the observer as a sensitive new look at the old master. Giotto, an artist recognized in his lifetime as the precursor to the greatest Florentines from Masaccio to Michelangelo.

The book, "Poetry and Crisis in the Age of Chaucer," was written by Charles Muscatine, a professor at the University of California at Berkeley, and was released in spring of 1972.
President's Convocation

Henry outlines dialogue

by Beth Wille

Dr. Edward L. Henry, new St. Mary's President, spoke on progressive change and the planning for this change at the first President's Convocation of the year in O'Loughlin Auditorium yesterday evening.

O'Shaug displays Todd sculpture

The abstract sculpture of Michael Todd, a 1957 magna cum laude graduate of the University of Notre Dame, will be on display through October in the O'Shaughnessy Hall Art Gallery. Todd is presently on the art faculty of the University of California at San Diego.

Two of the larger pieces, a yellow enamelled steel piece entitled "Tulip," and a Corten steel piece, "Tippit," are located on the lawn near the gallery.

Selected works from Notre Dame's permanent collection make up the major exhibit in the University Art Gallery at the present time. This display will continue through early November.

LOW COST-PRINTING

WHILE U WAIT

DTY LTR LGL

25 1.80 2.10

50 2.10 2.40

75 2.40 2.70

100 2.60 3.05

250 4.10 4.80

500 6.10 7.20

1000 8.60 12.20

INSTANT COPY OF IND

ACROSS FROM 6 A.M.

ZAGRAN'S ZINEMA WEST

Friday, Sept 22

Engineering Aud. 8 & 10

Saturday, Sept. 23

"America" in Flanner Hall 8 & 0

Admission only $1.00

Hesburgh starts new annual award honoring Niebuhr

Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., University President of Notre Dame announced yesterday the establishment of a $5000 Reinhold Niebuhr Award at Notre Dame.

The award would be made annually to a student, faculty member or administrator whose writings promoted or exemplified the lifelong theological and philosophical concerns of Reinhold Niebuhr, particularly in the area of social justice in modern life.

Father Hesburgh, who is chairman of the U.S. COMMISSION ON Civil Rights, made the announcement at ceremonies at Union Theological Seminary in New York City at which he and Chancellor Willy Brandt of West Germany were the first recipients of Reinhold Niebuhr Awards for outstanding contributions to the Protestant theologians and author.

The awards carried $5000 for each recipient, and Father Hesburgh said he would put his $1000 into Notre Dame's endowment to underwrite a cash award for the annual winner of the campus honor.
President Nguyen Van Thieu...said...rejection of coalition proposal.

Walsh elections set

Arabs plan block of UN discussion

Judi Ojefule, a junior Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering major is running on a single ticket for president. Miss Ojefule's platform calls for the establishment of committees for various hall activities. She feels that the idea of a democratic type of government is necessary.

Cardy Kelly, hall president hopeful, has selected Marianne O'Connor as her vice-presidential running mate. Miss Kelly, a junior majoring in Government, has set...for special committees for hall activities.

Jamil M. Baroody of Saudi Arabia said that the issue item was referred directly to the committee that the issue was set aside for discussion by Secretary General Waldheim to be deferred.

dispute over Saigon

The General Assembly...at the Quangtri front...An offensive had been...on Saigon...failure...Saigon...pull their troops back to North Vietnam...Communist...Thieu also told newsmen during a visit to the Quangtri front Wednesday that he did not believe there was a military threat to Saigon any more. Most American and Vietnamese military sources in Saigon dispute this view, and are expecting a step-up in military between now and the November elections in the United States.

additional blows

A recent broadcast on the Communist radio called the election "an extremely favorable opportunity for us" and said, "our armed forces and people are determined to step up their struggle...to the puppet (Saigon) army and to...stabilize the southern revolution to final suc..."
by Pete McHugh Observer Staff Reporter

A quota for next year's freshman class, including a quota for women, will be determined in independent decisions to convert another dorm into a female residence hall, according to Dr. John Goldrick, admissions director.

Goldrick said the University Quota Committee has not met this year. The committee will determine the size of next year's class and the number of women to be admitted.

However, the body will not make any decision regarding the conversion of utilization of dormitories. Goldrick added, residence hall decisions and freshman quotas will be made independently, according to the director.

Goldrick: The Quota Committee will have no connection with decision of the next female dorm.

Holy Cross - St. Ed's co-op theatre opens

by Anthony Ahlward

In an unusual cooperative effort, two halls, Holy Cross (ND) and St. Ed's, have joined forces to run the Lakeside Theatre, a new theatre in Holy Cross auditorium.

There are certain advantages to having two halls run the theatre, says Rich Golden, one of the organizers. "This splits the responsibility and creates an example of the ability of two halls to work together."

Lakeside Theatre is believed to be the first cooperative venture of this type on campus. Theatres in the past have been run by individuals or the Student Union.

Few halls have established theatres together or cooperated in a business enterprise. "I don't know if two halls have gotten together in a business venture before. I think this will be an incentive for other halls to cooperate with each other," says Golden.

The two halls will split the costs and profits from this venture. Lakeside Theatre received an initial donation from both halls for the first movie, "Bullit," which will be shown Saturday night.

"We're looking for most of our support from Holy Cross and St. Ed's," says Golden. "But with low admission prices, good movies and concessions we hope to attract many other people."

The Holy Cross auditorium in the basement of Holy Cross will hold about 200 people. Soft drinks and popcorn will be available on movie nights.

Rick Golden, who lives in Holy Cross, and Mark Humphrey, St. Ed's social commissioner conceived the idea of this joint venture.

"We had the movie catalogue

"Come in and get acquainted"

1 mile No. Mix Mendoza's Italian De Luxe Music Stores

GUITARS imported from Spain for the discriminating buyer others $19.95 and up for beginners

GUITAR MUSIC - STRINGS - ACCESSORIES

REPAIRS, new and old, all makes and models

PHONOS

TAPES-CASSETTES

FILM-PHOTOFINISHING

Steve McQueen stars in Bullit, first production of the Holy Cross-St. Ed's coalition theatre, The Lakeside Theatre, and they had a room," explains Humphrey. Holy Cross Hall President Fred Barzakowski and Greg Thomas, St. Ed's president, and the work necessary to get university permission to operate the theatre.

Goldenard Humphrey and the president of Holy Cross and St. Ed's hope this effort will instill some spirit in their halls. "St. Ed's has been pretty inactive in the past," says Humphrey. "Now the hall is behind the project."

"We want to make Holy Cross not just the hall between the lakes. We want to make it a center of activity," says Golden.

SMC regents on WNDU Sunday

Dr. Edward Henry, St. Mary's president, and Sister Katherine Francis Ford, new chairman of the Board of Regents, will be interviewed today on WNDU's "South Bend," 5:00-5:30.

The program will be broadcast locally on channel 18.

SMC regents on WNDU Sunday

Dr. Edward Henry, St. Mary's president, and Sister Katherine Francis Ford, new chairman of the Board of Regents, will be interviewed today on WNDU's "South Bend," 5:00-5:30.

The program will be broadcast locally on channel 18.

Goldrick explains quota decisions

Freshman are admitted if the Admissions office believes they can handle the academic stress of higher education and possess good credentials of leadership, and have worked to develop their talents through extracurricular activities and work.

In the heart of downtown South Bend

GOOD FOOD AT MODERATE PRICES

Sticks 'Chops Chicken Sea Food
Quiet atmosphere - pleasant surroundings

CLOSED MONDAYS

Daily & Sunday
11 am till 9 pm
Saturday
11 am till 10 pm

THERE ARE STILL MANY SEATS AVAILABLE
FOR THE M.S.U. BUS TRIP, OCT. 7
PRICE IS $18
FOR BUS AND FOOTBALL TICKET.

BUS LEAVES 8:00 a.m. FROM CONT. EDUC. CENTER.
REMAINING TIX ON SALE FRIDAY, TODAY
3:00 p.m. AT ST. STUDENT UNION OFFICE

Design Your Own
Personalized Shirt
From Our Selection

All types of t-shirts and jerseys. Many colors to pick from.
Your choice of numbers, letters, N. D. Emblems and designs. We print almost anything. See our large selection.
Open Mon.-Sat.
9:00 am to 5:00 pm

110 WEST COLLEGE AVE., SOUTH BEND
THE OBSERVER

AN INDEPENDENT STUDENT NEWSPAPER

John Abowd

Editor-in-chief

Don Rurya

Executive Editor

Joe Butler

Advertising Manager

Contents printed in The Observer reflect the opinion of the writer, on behalf of the editorial board. Columns reflect the opinion of the individual writer; they are not to be taken as editorial comment.

Friday, September 22, 1972

Something For Everybody

Issues we’re waiting for somebody to bring up again so the whole first semester won’t be wasted on summer inertia and waiting for football season to end.

THE 18 YEAR OLD MAJORITY IN INDIANA—Gov. Whitcomb vetoed the last bill the Indiana legislature passed on the subject because it legalized the sale and consumption of all alcohol for 18 year olds. Some of the universities in Indiana (including Notre Dame) are already shipping in Indianapolis for a new law with the same provision. Political soothsayers predict that the inevitable college boozehouse (Whitcomb cannot succeed himself) will bring a more favorable attitude toward the subject. 6,000 letters to Matt Welsh and Otis Bowen (Democratic and republican gubernatorial candidates) would be helpful icing on the cake.

THE FACULTY MANUAL REVISION—The Executive Committee of the Academic Council’s Faculty Manual will be placed before the Academic Council. One version is not yet public. The other is the result of an eight man committee of the Faculty Senate. The later was released in April and vigorously discussed at a open meeting of the senate. The manual is bound to be a controversial and no one’s best interests will be served if extensive public discussion does not precede the Academic Council’s final action.

DISTRIBUTION OF THE STUDENT GOVERNMENT FUND—September 29 is the deadline for requests but right now not one formal body exists to use the fund. Unless the senate is reconvened (not a very hopeful prospect) or the new constitution is approved, the money will sit around collecting dust all year. That would put Student Union in a pretty awkward position, to say the least.

OPEN THE STUDENT CENTER 24 HOURS A DAY—Many people have raised this suggestion. The formal requirements should be minimal since a portion of the building is already open 24 hours a day. There is no reason why groups meeting in the late evening or by garry trudeau

Donesbury

---

Mene, Tekel Parsin

Coed Dorms and Mars

tom bornholdt

There is a theory circulating among the more influential students on this campus that the highest form of human endeavor is student politics. This group also holds as Absolute Certainty, that the essence of student politics is issues. Thus it is not surprising that the majority of the Organization for Positive (OFP) is that student politics without issues is at best something had called “Bertolinoz” and at worst something called “Ker- stennism.”

Carry back to Notre Dame this fall, the Lords of Wisdom were shocked to find a famine of issues. Notre dame had finally admitted women at a pace that was pleasing to the vast majority of students. No strike or pornography conference was necessary in a moment of time from Stopen. Great Caesar’s Ghost!  There must be issues!

And so there was. For the first time, the O.P. got together and put their collected genius to work in search of the Holy Issue. With great prudence, they rejected the food, security, and freshmen crowding (th., there are always good swords but they never get the student body stirred up and never win.) And an issue, worthy of the title, must motivate large numbers of students. With this in mind the Magi erected the following proposition: If students were apostate about last year, what would they be this year? Drinking and partying were no longer an issue, (a few of less than impressed hues had hoped that the Trustees might again make an issue out of it.) Likewise academic reform continues to possess a great deal of concern, but it takes less than a positive vision to see that there are a great deal of students who couldn’t care less about academic improvements.

The less infinitely Patient of the Masters of Truth began to despair. Could it be that there were no issues? Was life without ultimate meaning? Is Man absurd? At this Supreme Nadir (not Nadal) there appeared a star on the horizon, a dream disintegrating into a dream, etc. The Magi quickly travelled to where the star was headed. There in a manger they found an infant God. Had they answered their prayers sending them a saving issue, which would redeem Student Government. And every knee should bow to this issue.

Conscientious Dorns. Are you aware, the Mass Wise Vissiers came to reveal to the faithful, that there is an issue among us. And the Issue is good. For the issue they have heard about coed dorms three million times. Conscientious Dorns and Torts are united in this belief. The issue must be involved more than it is, because we NEED coed halls.

Coed dorms, we are told are not less objectional than any other student got concerned? If only a coin would flip heads six thousand times in a row, I would be a rich man. Instead of indulging the useful little nasty speculation by defending the following proposition: If we can get women on campus, we can get them into our halls - if we can get coed halls! The explanation for how coed dorm will come into being, is very simple.

We can get women on campus, we can get them into our halls — if we have an issue. For the first time, the O.P. got together and put their collected genius to work in search of the Holy Issue. With great prudence, they rejected the food, security, and freshmen crowding.

To counter this argument, I will list several facts that suggest an as- sumption is made that the issue is more important to coed dorms than to regular dorms.

First, in the lack of solidarity in student opinion. A very large majority of Notre Dame students felt that coeducation was not only desirable but necessary. The concern raised about coed halls is that they are desirable, but not necessary. Furthermore, there is a large number of students who actually do not like the idea of a coed dormitory.

In the Student Senate, the issue made a clear majority. The Student Senate was passed overwhelmingly and most of the no votes were over a side issue. The experimental college proposal was passed only for those relatively few males living in the same hall. Most ND males would readily prefer 200 women in Walsh to 200 women in a coed dorm.

Students don’t feel strongly about the problem; in fact, there is an idea that the Alumni are at last opposing coed dorms as a serious issue. With equal sagacity, the Magi rejected the merger.

The less Infinitely Patient of the Masters of Truth began to despair. Could it be that there were no issues? Is Man absurd? With equal sagacity, the Magi rejected the merger.

The explanation for how coed dorms will come into being, is very simple.

The explanation for how coed dorms will come into being, is very simple.

The explanation for how coed dorms will come into being, is very simple.

The issue staff:

Night Editor: Joe Abell

Asst Night Editor: Marlene Zizza

Day Editor: Bill Smith

Assistant Editor: Tom Modaneau

Night Editor: Joe "Screamlin" Niskewicz

---

News: 283-3175

Editorial: 283-8661

Business: 283-7471

---

"I, Carius, still SOUPERIMPORTANT. Did YOU leave my husband and LADY home and Leen NICHE HOME, and LADY CHILDREN?"

"Yes, doctor, but for you, Mr. Carius, I WAS SOUPER IMPORTANT. That I was DEFINED myself SOUPERimportant!"

"Mr. Carius, myself and those SOUPERimportant are the SOUPERability involved in a MR. Cariusuly serious."
Now that the fall concert schedule is set, it's time to take a look at the current phase in the evolution of rock 'n' roll. The sound of today's music has its antecedents in the rich tradition of rock that has been unfolding for the past thirty years.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.

The music of the day is a reflection of the social and cultural changes that have occurred in the past decade. The music of the past is still very much a part of the present, and the future is shaped by the influence of the past.
Shirley Griffith and the Indiana Blues

Chicago Blues? Sure! Delta Blues? Of course! Indiana Blues? Yes! Not all the migratory routes led to Chicago; some went to St. Louis, others to Detroit, and a few even stopped in Indiana. Straggler Blackwell and Leroy Carr, Guitar Pete Franklin, and two, or three, or even four, people, the blue/grey shadow of a迁移路线并未都到芝加哥；有的到了圣路易斯，有的到了底特律，甚至有的就在印第安纳停了下来。斯特拉格尔、布拉克威尔和勒罗伊·卡尔，吉他皮特·富兰克林，二三甚至四个人，是迁徙路线的蓝色和灰色的阴影。

The Famous 1929 Tommy Johnson - Ishman Bracey Session
Roots R-330
Jackson Blues, 1928-1930
Yazoo L-1067

Friday, September 22, 1972
8:00 p.m.
Doors open at 7:30
$1.00 at the door

Shirley's Dirtsh and the Chicago Blues All-Stars. Mighty Veal brought with him Koko Taylor, who introduced herself by saying, "Larry Brother, Montgomery, Sunnymad Slim, Hood Dog Taylor. J. B. Hutto, and Jimmy Johnson. These three with an emphasis on country blues and small city groups pushed up a thorough exposure to the future of Blues to the steady audience. All the Blue/Series, as its work in for the new audience, its variety, anything curious or interested in a Blues show, to "Stop, Look, and Listen."
Republican want postponement

by Patrick Collins and Jeremiah O'Leary

141 1972 Washington Star-News

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25—Attorneys for President Nixon's campaign committee today asked for another postponement in the $3.2 million invasion-of-privacy suit filed against them by the Democrats in connection with the Watergate break-in.

The attorneys have asked United States District Court Judge Charles Richey to suspend all action in the case until the seven men indicted in the case have been tried on criminal charges.

The attorneys said that to continue deposition proceedings would create publicity that would prejudice the criminal charges.

They made the request in a reply to a new series of questions asked by Richey to determine if the men should go to trial. The request was made in a memorandum prepared by Thomas Penfield Jackson, one of three lawyers representing the Finance Committee for the Re-election of the President, the Finance Committee to Re-elect the President and Maurice Stau, the Finance Committee Chairman.

In the trial, Jackson said, he would present evidence to show that Lawrence F. O'Brien, former Democratic National Committee Chairman, filed the suit not to recover any damages but for political purposes.

He said the evidence will show that O'Brien used the deposition proceedings to "create" the appearance that certain Republican campaign officials had knowledge or were participants in incidents in which seven men were indicted on charges concerning conspiracy and violations of Federal wiretapping law.

"The suit as a device to expose the inner workings of the Nixon campaign," he observed. "The suit to 'divert' the Nixon campaign officials' attention from the Presidential campaign.

"The suit to delay the case until 33 witnesses during the trial, including 14 Democratic officials, add to imagine 70 newspapers and a district police officer.

Over the past few years, several preliminary disclosures: one of the seven, Bernard L. Barker, on local charges. At today's hearing two counter-suits filed by the Republicans last week, charging O'Brien with libel and abuse of the judicial process, also were discussed.

Shortly after the Democrats filed their original suit on June 29, lawyers for the defendants sought to postpone the case until after the election. When Richey denied that motion they made another request to keep Democrats from taking sworn statements in the case until after the grand jury completed its investigation.

That motion was also denied by Richey who had ordered all depositions sealed, but has been generally unresponsive to requests to halt the trial for fear of prejudicial publicity.

In a recent session Richey suggested it might be a good idea to grant immunity to the suspects charged to get the facts out in the open.

In answer to a question about conduct that reject not only the materialism of their city-suburban background, but also the sense of gratification and free expression of the youth counterculture.

The Four Religious Principles, for example, concede "freedom of sex. All sexual acts, including kissing, is considered illicit unless it is performed by married couples once a month at the optimum time for procreation. Intercourse is to be attempted only after each person performs several hours of chanting to cleanse the mind. The consumption of meat, fish and eggs is forbidden.

No assassins of any kind are allowed, and that includes coffee and tea. The final restriction is upon the worship, which is extended to include all "mental speculation."

A dictum that denies the privilege of American medical care to Vietnamese doctors and civilian patients produces these disclosures: Of the slightly more than 2,000 doctors in South Vietnam, 1,000 are in the one-million-man armed forces, leaving only 600 to serve the nation's 17 million civilians.

Although medical care is technically free in Government system here.

It was the opening of a seven-day festival at a communal farm celebrating the birth of Lord Krishna nearly 5,000 years ago, and the chanters were members of the Hare Krishna movement, a small ascetic band of young mendicants in flowing robes who are usually found on the streets of large American cities from Times Square in New York to Ghiradelli Square in San Francisco.

"Hare Krishna Hare Krishna; Hare Rama Hare Rama.

The consumption of meat, fish and eggs is forbidden.

"The rigidity of behavior and thought control has a purpose," observed Pranajit Das, a former social worker from Texas. "The regulations control activity," he explained. "The control of activity reduces tension, freeing the senses. The heightening of the senses mingles the mind, and leads to a greater consciousness."

The initiates are expected to turn all their concerns, freeing the senses. The heightening of the senses mingles the mind, and leads to a greater consciousness."

The chanters' getup did not stop them from wearing the hair styles of the times. "Look at the fad of bracelets," said one of the devotees, "we used the bracelet as a part of our faith, but now it is also a part of the fashion scene."

The consumption of meat, fish and eggs is forbidden.

The men, their heads shaved except for a top knot of hair, wear shirts (long loincloths) of burnt orange and pale yellow. The women are dressed in saris. All wear the mark of Krishna—a dash of white clay or some other material that streaks down the face or is smeared around the eyes.

Most of the devotees are in their late teens or early twenties. "We are just using the bracelet as a part of our faith, but now it is also a part of the fashion scene.""Hippies are our best customers," remarked Dhyan Gita Dasa, 24, a mold wall, while awaiting the arrival of Phaluphas in the hotel's 550-acre campus in Arkansas. "We are from the city and we have learned that a life of illicit sex and drugs is not the way to spiritual awakening, according to the cult's saintly consciousness."

In a question about what evidence the attorneys plan to introduce Jackson said they would exhibit any confidential justice department or FBI report or grand jury transcripts "found to be in the unauthorized possession of O'Brien and his employees or agents."

He said he planned to produce any documents relating to the Watergate which O'Brien has given to the news media and any information O'Brien may have forwarded to the District Attorney (Fla.), Prosecutor Richard Corcoran, Georgia is presenting one of the seven, Bernard L. Barker, on local charges. At today's hearing two counter-suits filed by the Republicans last week, charging O'Brien with libel and abuse of the judicial process, also were discussed.

Shortly after the Democrats filed their original suit on June 29, lawyers for the defendants sought to postpone the case until after the election. When Richey denied that motion they made another request to keep Democrats from taking sworn statements in the case until after the grand jury completed its investigation.

That motion was also denied by Richey who had ordered all depositions sealed, but has been generally unresponsive to requests to halt the trial for fear of prejudicial publicity.

In a recent session Richey suggested it might be a good idea to grant immunity to the suspects charged to get the facts out in the open.

In answer to a question about conduct that reject not only the materialism of their city-suburban background, but also the sense of gratification and free expression of the youth counterculture.

The Four Religious Principles, for example, concede "freedom of sex. All sexual acts, including kissing, is considered illicit unless it is performed by married couples once a month at the optimum time for procreation. Intercourse is to be attempted only after each person performs several hours of chanting to cleanse the mind. The consumption of meat, fish and eggs is forbidden.

No assassins of any kind are allowed, and that includes coffee and tea. The final restriction is upon the worship, which is extended to include all "mental speculation."

A dictum that denies the privilege of American medical care to Vietnamese doctors and civilian patients produces these disclosures: Of the slightly more than 2,000 doctors in South Vietnam, 1,000 are in the one-million-man armed forces, leaving only 600 to serve the nation's 17 million civilians.

Although medical care is technically free in Government system here.

It was the opening of a seven-day festival at a communal farm celebrating the birth of Lord Krishna nearly 5,000 years ago, and the chanters were members of the Hare Krishna movement, a small ascetic band of young mendicants in flowing robes who are usually found on the streets of large American cities from Times Square in New York to Ghiradelli Square in San Francisco.

"Hare Krishna Hare Krishna; Hare Rama Hare Rama.

The consumption of meat, fish and eggs is forbidden.

The men, their heads shaved except for a top knot of hair, wear shirts (long loincloths) of burnt orange and pale yellow. The women are dressed in saris. All wear the mark of Krishna—a dash of white clay or some other material that streaks down the face or is smeared around the eyes.

Most of the devotees are in their late teens or early twenties. "We are just using the bracelet as a part of our faith, but now it is also a part of the fashion scene.""Hippies are our best customers," remarked Dhyan Gita Dasa, 24, a mold wall, while awaiting the arrival of Phaluphas in the hotel's 550-acre campus in Arkansas. "We are from the city and we have learned that a life of illicit sex and drugs is not the way to spiritual awakening, according to the cult's saintly consciousness."

In a question about what evidence the attorneys plan to introduce Jackson said they would exhibit any confidential justice department or FBI report or grand jury transcripts "found to be in the unauthorized possession of O'Brien and his employees or agents."

He said he planned to produce any documents relating to the Watergate which O'Brien has given to the news media and any information O'Brien may have forwarded to the District Attorney (Fla.), Prosecutor Richard Corcoran, Georgia is presenting one of the seven, Bernard L. Barker, on local charges. At today's hearing two counter-suits filed by the Republicans last week, charging O'Brien with libel and abuse of the judicial process, also were discussed.

Shortly after the Democrats filed their original suit on June 29, lawyers for the defendants sought to postpone the case until after the election. When Richey denied that motion they made another request to keep Democrats from taking sworn statements in the case until after the grand jury completed its investigation.

That motion was also denied by Richey who had ordered all depositions sealed, but has been generally unresponsive to requests to halt the trial for fear of prejudicial publicity.

In a recent session Richey suggested it might be a good idea to grant immunity to the suspects charged to get the facts out in the open.
USSR joins US in pollution attack

by Hedrick Smith
(e) 1972 New York Times

Moscow, Sept. 21-The United States and Soviet Union today agreed to undertake 30 joint projects on environmental protection for the cities, farms, rivers, lakes and air of both countries.

Researchers switch

At a news conference concluding the two-day meeting of their newly-established Joint Committee on Coordination in the Field of Environmental Protection, Soviet and American officials said that some actual projects would get under way as early as November and would put Soviet specialists on American research sites for weeks or months as well as Americans in the Soviet Union.

If the projects develop as hoped, one American official said, as many as several hundred scientists and specialists would be involved in joint studies on such problems as air and water pollution, greenhouse research, comprehensive environmental research, common environmental problems, pest management, the use of chemical pesticides, atmospheric pollution, jet aircraft and super-sonic transports, or the unusual problems of permafrost regions, where the ground is frozen year-round.

There was no indication, however, that the projects would go beyond cooperative research and commit both sides jointly to develop and apply safeguards for combating pollution.

Russell E. Train, Chairman of the White House Council on Environmental Quality and chief American delegate here, hailed today's agreement as an unprecedented breakthrough in international cooperation on environmental problems. It extended the earlier agreement signed last May 25 by President Nixon and President Nikolai V. Podgorny.

A great beginning

"We are trying to develop solutions by bringing our people together to work on projects as a team," Train told newsmen. At the House of Unions, a conference center, "This is the new element. It is by far the most comprehensive agreement on environmental cooperation ever entered into by any two nations."

His Soviet counterpart, Yevgeny K. Fyodorov, head of the Soviet team, praised the 20-page memorandum of understanding that they signed, and said it was to be followed by active work for the benefit of both countries."

Among the specific projects described by the two countries as either in their newly signed memorandum of understanding or in their new accord were the following:

--A joint project for developing mathematical models on air pollution in two cities leading to improved life and property management, using St. Louis and Kansas City as test cases. Privately, American officials said neither side had been particularly anxious to begin with their largest cities, New York and Moscow.

--Joint study of water pollution in river basins with the Delaware River and a still-to-be-designated Soviet River, as sites, hopefully adding the Potomac River and a second Soviet site later.

--Joint studies of comprehensive urban environmental problems comparing San Francisco and Atlanta with Leningrad and a second Soviet city, and not yet chosen.

The first Soviet teams would visit the two American cities this fall.

--Improvement of earthquake prediction methods, with each side setting up equipment on the other's territory, the simple regions to be in San Andreas fault, a major California earthquake region of the area and Dushanbe in the earthquake region of the Pamir Mountains, in the central Asian Republic of Tadzhikistan.

--Studies of entirely new communities bringing Soviet researchers to Benton, Va., and Columbia, Md., and sending Americans to some free-standing Soviet communities outside the North Siberian mining center of Norilsk.

South Viet's lack medical care

Saigon: A room in the Children's Hospital in the Chosone sector of Saigon. Seven beds serve 38 children, their parents or relatives often stay in the hospital overnight to tend them, because of a shortage of hospital beds.

New York Times Photo

EPA extends area consortium program

The Midwest Universities Air Pollution Consortium, a group of seven area universities including the University of Notre Dame, has received $30,000 from the Environmental Protection Agency to continue its programs for another year.

Dr. Andrew R. McFarland, associate professor of civil engineering and Notre Dame's representative on the group, explained that the group has three main goals in its program to foster improved data on air pollution and understanding of area air pollution problems.

The first is to supply tutorial and educational material to university students. McFarland said that one popular and useful tool to help students understand the complex social, political and economic factors facing efforts to control pollution is a new computer program called "APEX." Developed for use at the Air Pollution Control Institute in Los Angeles, the game assigns students certain "roles" in the community and lets them see the results of their decisions on the city. McFarland plans to try the game with Notre Dame engineering students.

The consortium also sponsors regional conference for faculty, air pollution control agency personnel and industrial representatives to discuss problems of local concern. The group will continue its seminar series, which brings technical lectures on air pollution to all seven universities.

Members of the Midwest Consortium are the Universities of Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, Northwestern, Purdue, Notre Dame and the Illinois Institute of Technology.

FRESHMAN

who have expressed interest in

KARATE

Come to gym 4 ACC
Mon. Sept. 25 6:30 p.m.

last day for applications for semester

South Bend's Newest

THE RED DOOR CLUB
1105 N. Main
(Behind Wyman's in Allen's Alley)
featuring: Jimmy Foy on the piano
Ray Reindeed on the guitar

N.D. Night on Tuesday
OPEN 11 A.M. TO 3 P.M.

South Bend State Society Meeting
Juniors, Sophomores, Freshmen
Friday, September 22 1972
Library Auditorium, 7:30 p.m.

LAKESIDE THEATRE
premises

"BULLIT"
Sat. Sept. 23 Holy Cross Aud. (ND)
7:30 & 10:00 75c

WE SERVICE ALL MAKES IMPORTED & DOMESTIC

American Japanese
French English
Italian

QUALITY IMPORTED
SPEEDS 5-8 UP
IMMEDIATE DELIVERY

BICYCLE CENTER
OPEN MONDAY 'TIL 8:30 PM
Phone 287-1623 Daily 9:30 'TIL 5:30 1427 Portage Ave.

CHICAGO BLACK HAWKS VS. DALLAS
SATURDAY, SEPT. 23rd 8:00 p.m.
NORCROSSführen ALL SEATS RESERVED
ADULTS ... $3.50
KIDS 12 AND UNDER ... $1.50
Tickets on sale at ACC Mon.-Sat. 8 A.M.
also at Gate 3, 1 hour before game
Youthful Irish open with 'Cats

by Jim Donaldson
Sports Editor

Match the youthful teams with almost totally rebuilt defenses and sophomore quarterbacks early in the season. What you got? Quite likely, an exciting, un- predictable two ball showdown. Or, you might call it Notre Dame versus Northwestern at the Notre Dame Stadium in Evanston's Dyche Stadium.

The Fighting Irish enter their 11th season of collegiate football with sophomore Tom Clements at quarterback and six other sophomores, as well as a freshman, in the starting lineup. Northwestern will counter with a sophomore signal caller of its own - Mitch Anderson - and a defensive unit manned by only two veterans.

Clements was given the starting QB job Wednesday by coach Ara Parseghian, entering his ninth year at Notre Dame with a 66-12-4 record.

"Our defense did an admirable job for being so new," Parseghian commented earlier this week. "I expect them to throw more against us," Parseghian predicted. "That philosophy is to be the strong point of our defense."

The Irish will be able to develop with their backs on the ground and the air. With speed backs such as Persico, G. Hill and Gary Domnack, perhaps the best running backs such as Andy Huff, John Cieszkowski and Darryll Dewan, the Notre Dame rushing game appears almost unpredictable. Both backs are fast inside and outside with devastating blocks. With the defense to stop Notre Dame's rushing game, Parseghian said his team has been completing between 60 and 65 percent of its passes in the season. With the weather the Screen comes, this fall, can throw the ball to either tight end All-American Mark Smith or the other tight end All-American Tom Anderson. Parseghian has a great deal of respect for Northwestern's youthful defense contingent, too. Northwestern has a sticky defense that works well." Parseghian commented earlier this week. "Our strong points with all the fighting films of the Michigan Northwestern game. One aspect of that contest which surprised the Irish coach was the small number of times that the Cats threw the ball (11). With first-rate receivers like split end Jim Lash and tight end Steve Craig, the Wildcats can boast of two of the best pass catchers in the Big Ten.

"I expect them to throw more against us," Parseghian predicted. "Explaining why stayed mainly on the ground last Saturday, Ara Parseghian remarked, 'We weren't consistent with our throwing. It was our passing that let us down."' But that was our quarterbacks' first game and they'll go better.'

The Irish figure to be able to develop with their backs on the ground and the air. With speed backs such as Persico, G. Hill and Gary Domnack, perhaps the best running backs such as Andy Huff, John Cieszkowski and Darryll Dewan, the Notre Dame rushing game appears almost unpredictable. Both backs are fast inside and outside with devastating blocks. With the defense to stop Notre Dame's rushing game, Parseghian said his team has been completing between 60 and 65 percent of its passes in the season. With the weather the Screen comes, this fall, can throw the ball to either tight end All-American Mark Smith or the other tight end All-American Tom Anderson.

Jim Donaldson

The Irish Eye

as a freshman, tackle Steve Anderson completed four of six passes to lead Northwestern in the 72-44 win over Michigan State. Steve Anderson completed four of six passes to lead Northwestern in the 72-44 win over Michigan State. The Irish would seem capable of putting more than a few points on the scoreboard themselves. But, early in the season, things are unpredictable.

There is just one constant factor about Notre Dame openers. Since Parseghian started coaching the Irish in 1964, they've never lost their first game.

Jim Donaldson

The Irish Eye

Football Picks

As far as many football fans across the country are concerned, the football season hasn't really begun. Sure, three-quarters of the nation's college football teams will hit the gridiron at some point this weekend, but a certain segment of college football fandom, the football season hasn't really begun. Sure, three-quarters of the nation's college football teams will hit the gridiron at some point this weekend, but a certain segment of college football fandom, the

The Irish Eye

John Wick

Harried club Valparaiso 19-44

The Notre Dame cross country team scored its first victory of the season Wednesday, trouncing Valparaiso 19-44 in a dual meet at Valparaiso.

Irish captain Dan Danne captured first place honors in the meet, covering the five-mile course in a good time of 25:26. Kevin Shellenberger, a fast-improving Valpo freshman, finished second, completing the race in 5:3:24. That was the best the Crusaders could muster, as Notre Dame barriers captured the next six places.

Despite being spiked and taking a spill in the first 100 yards of the race, sophomore Mike Gahagan finished third in 25:27. He was followed by teammates Jeff Kiefer, Marty Hurt and Jim Hill right behind him. Not far back were Irish runners George Christoph and promising freshman Tom Callahan.

The Irish runners stayed close to each other as they began to pull away. By the three-mile mark Danne, Shellenberger and Christoph worked their move and continued to increase the distance between the rest of the field throughout the remainder of the race.

Notre Dame has a well-balanced club, as evidenced by the com- bined efforts of senior Norm Kiefer, junior John Tormeyer and young freshmen who finished strong for the Irish at Valpo. A first place finish does not always win a cross country meet for a team. The Irish were out-hustled in second, third, fourth and fifth places.

"There are a number of top-flight teams on tap this weekend," coach Alex Wilson feels that this year's Northwestern defense did an admirable job for being so new," Parseghian commented earlier this week. "I expect them to throw more against us," Parseghian predicted. "That philosophy is to be the strong point of our defense."

The Irish will be able to develop with their backs on the ground and the air. With speed backs such as Persico, G. Hill and Gary Domnack, perhaps the best running backs such as Andy Huff, John Cieszkowski and Darryll Dewan, the Notre Dame rushing game appears almost unpredictable. Both backs are fast inside and outside with devastating blocks. With the defense to stop Notre Dame's rushing game, Parseghian said his team has been completing between 60 and 65 percent of its passes in the season. With the weather the Screen comes, this fall, can throw the ball to either tight end All-American Mark Smith or the other tight end All-American Tom Anderson.

Jim Donaldson

The Irish Eye

Football Picks

As far as many football fans across the country are concerned, the football season hasn't really begun. Sure, three-quarters of the nation's college football teams will hit the gridiron at some point this weekend, but a certain segment of college football fandom, the
No US combat deaths last week

(e) 1972 New York Times

September 30th—For the first time since March 1, 1966, a week has passed with no American combat deaths in Indochina, the United States Command reported today.

According to the American figures for the week of Sept. 18-24, there were no American combat deaths resulting from hostile action, although there were five deaths attributed to accidental or natural causes.

Seven Americans were listed as wounded, of whom three required hospitalization. Another four were described as missing in action or captured. Persians listed in the latter category are sometimes transferred to the killed in action list when additional information is obtained.

In recent months American casualties have dropped steadily. Last week only, one American was reported killed in action.

The latest weekly report brought American casualties in Southeast Asia since Jan. 1, 1961 to the following totals:

- Deaths resulting from hostile action, 41,897.
- Deaths resulting from non-hostile action (accidental and natural), 19,274.
- Wounded requiring hospital care, 161,161.
- Wounded not requiring hospital care, 10,226.
- Total wounded, 303,387.
- Missing, captured or interned, 1,675.
- Missing not resulting from hostile action (mainly desertions), 116.

The preceding statistics cover American casualties throughout the current and previous wars in South Vietnam and South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos.

The first American to die in the Indochina war was Army Spec. 4 James T. Davis of Livingston, Tenn., killed in a Communist ambush near Saigon on Dec. 22, 1961.

The latest American casualty was a helicopter pilot killed in Vietnam when the flow of American casualties increased steadily. But the toll reached large proportions only after Feb. 1, 1965, when the United States sent large numbers of ground troops. At its highest, the American presence in South Vietnam exceeded one half million.

SB day-care center begins supply drive

by Pam Garwrite
Observer Staff Writer

A special drive to obtain supplies needed for a South Bend day-care center will begin today.

Hospitality House, 111 W. Thomas St., is a new center for children of migrant farm workers. Manitowoc, training classes, offered to parents of the children, especially the women, are designed to help make the transition from rural to urban life easier.

Training classes, offered to parents of the children, especially the women, are designed to help make the transition from rural to urban life easier. The day-care center will tend to the children while the Badin Hall sets weekend activities

Flicks, fun, and football are all part of the activities planned this weekend by the women of Badin Hall.

The famous Badin Vintage Carnival will return for a two-day stand Friday and Saturday with the Movie "Citizen Kane," to be shown in the chapel at 7 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. Prices remain unaffected by inflation—still seventy-five cents per person. If the showing is a success, the Badin Vintage Carnival will return next year.

Also on Friday evening from 8:00 p.m. till 10:00 p.m., Badin will host a pep rally for the Badin basketball team to be held on the fourth floor.

Sunday will feature the first Badin-Wallah interhal football game.

-stop in .. see the total look

We’re ready to show you everything you’ll need in clothing and accessories…suits, sportcoats, jeans, shoes, belts, shorts, sweaters, dresses, knits, coats and much, much more. All university styled.

PAY NEXT YEAR
...NO SERVICE CHARGE

This is the exclusive Campus Shop Way to buy…choose your apparel now, pay one-third next January, one-third in February and one-third in March. Pay no service or carrying charge of any kind.