Here are the ideas you need to help improve the world.

The greatest personal library of great writings ever assembled...GREAT BOOKS.

Granted, the world is not in good shape. War, pollution, poverty, simple social justice...the problems are all around us.

And today, everyone seems to have pat, simple solutions to very complicated problems. Problem is, most of these solutions are more simplistic than simple. Meanwhile, the problems remain.

What more can you do about these problems? How can you, personally, begin to attack them? Paradoxical as it may sound, you can move ahead by looking back.

Because these problems are not new; they've been around as long as man has been around. It's just that they're intensified by the surge of population growth and the speed-up of social change.

Unless you're one of the minority that feels the past is all dead matter, you'll likely agree that the great ideas of such thinkers as Plato, Homer, Cervantes, Ibsen, Tolstoy, Aristotle and Freud still have great relevance for today.

And that's what the Great Books are all about! They contain just about every key idea conceived by Western man over the past 3000 years. The Great Books are published in collaboration with the University of Chicago, by Encyclopaedia Britannica. A set of 54 sturdily bound volumes containing 443 master works by 74 of the greatest geniuses who ever lived.

The $1,000,000 Syntopicon included

With the Great Books (and available only with Great Books) is a unique reference work called the Syntopicon. An amazing index, it took some 8 years and cost some $1,000,000 just to write!

Unlike a dictionary that defines words or a reference book that synopsizes facts, the Syntopicon indexes ideas—every one of the thousands of topics and subtopics within the Great Books.

In minutes, the Syntopicon enables you to look up any idea in the Great Books and find what each of these great thinkers thought about it.

A wealth of knowledge for you to use

As you begin to absorb some of these great ideas, you'll find it may change many of your reactions to the world around you. You'll find yourself re-thinking some of your original opinions on war, ecology, justice, opportunity—all the problems confronting the world today.

You'll find yourself referring back through the Syntopicon to that wealth of ideas in an instant—double-checking your original reaction with your considered reaction.

If you really want to help change the world, and change your life in the process—if you're not afraid to have your ideas challenged—look into the Great Books. Not incidentally, you'll find there a lifetime of reading for pleasure as well as stimulation.

Giuffrida, Ackerman head SLC

In its initial action of the year, the Student Life Council unanimously elected Fred Guiffrida as chairman for 1972-73. Dr. Robert Ackerman, director of student activities, was also unanimously elected to serve as the Council's Vice-Chairman.

After the meeting, Guiffrida promptly announced his resignation from the editorial board of the Observer. Guiffrida held the position as editorial editor of the paper.

The SLC likewise established four general areas in which they intended to work this year: 1. possibilities of alternative life styles in the residence halls; 2. what action the University will take if the age of majority is moved to 18; 3. the problems of overcrowded housing, and 4. what halls will be changed to female residence dormitories for next year.

Election of the Chairman

Nominations for the post of chairman also went to Floyd Kenne and Professor John Uhran. Both however withdrew the nominations. Guiffrida's nomination then prompted his election.

The situation was similar in the election of the Vice-Chairman. Sister John Miriam Jones also withdrew her nomination. She felt that she lacked the experience necessary for the post.

Faccenda Opens Session

Dr. Phillip Faccenda, Vice President for Student Affairs, who by ad hoc action opened the meeting, defined the SLC's function. He offered that the SLC was to "legislate in that area of responsibility which is assigned to the office of the Vice President of Student Affairs."

He further claimed that the Student Life Council needed action this year to prove to the university community that something does go on at Student Life Council meetings.

Radin and Walsh Representation

Discussion then moved to the floor where the question of representation from Radin and Walsh halls was pursued. Council members felt that in this year's issues the contribution from such a representative would be extremely valuable.

The SLC therefore adopted a motion to the Steering Committee to study the possibilities for such representation on the body.

Steering Committee Elected

The Steering Committee, which sets the agenda for SLC meetings, is comprised of one student, faculty member, and Administration representative. This year's body elected Floyd Kenne, Fred, Fred Syburg, Assistant Director of the ND-SCM Theatre, and Leslie Fushino, Assistant Dean of the Law School.

Further floor discussion prompted more topics which the SLC will consider this year. Included in these were used housing, renovation of LaFortune, student initiated enterprise on campus, and university initiated rent control for off-campus students.

On the question of LaFortune renovation, Faccenda noted that he already has a committee looking into the matter. For SLC purposes, he hoped that the body would look into more areas concerning the use of the facility. They hope to discuss the 24 hour opening proposition and the need of what should be done with the center.

Kersten Unseated

The SLC also approved the seating of Dennis Flitene (H-Man) in Student Government's ex-officio seat on the body. He will replace King R. Calhoun Kersten who holds the seat in his position as Student Body President.

Kersten submitted that he could not hold the seat because he had a French class at the same time and promptly departed to take a French test.

Academic Council studies Faculty Manual revisions

The University of Notre Dame Academic Council has received recommendations from its steering committee for revising the Faculty Manual, originally adopted in 1947.

The steering committee draft revision came after it studied charges suggested by the Faculty Senate, colleges, departments and individuals. Materials distributed to Council members included, in addition to the committee draft, copies of all suggestions submitted, including a couple of completely revised texts of the manual. The Council voted to study the material before deciding on a procedure for the next three meetings, which have been reserved for discussion of manual revision.

The Council also:

- Deferred a decision on whether or not professional staff members of Psychological Services ought to have status on the University's teaching and research faculty until the matter could be discussed in the context of Faculty Manual revision.

Phys ed expansion?

- Received a report from a committee which considered the physical education requirements for freshmen. The report recommends that "the present physical education requirements for freshmen be maintained with the hope that still further diversification of program activities may be developed" and that women undergraduates be incorporated directly into the existing program.

- Extended the two-year experimental appointment of seven students to the Council through the life of the Faculty Manual revision discussion.

It was pointed out that, although review of the experiment was scheduled for this fall, revision of the manual might resolve the question.

Committee members

Announced a Committee on the Course of Study which will discuss the cluster of issues relating to the question of what the organizing principle of undergraduate education at Notre Dame should be. Members of the committee are Dean Frederick Crosson, chairman; Dr. William Burke, assistant provost; Dr. Robert Appel, assistant professor of marketing; Antonio Colacino, second-year law student; Dr. Donald Costello, professor of English; Dr. Dennis Dugan, associate professor of economics; Dr. John Kazak, assistant professor of chemistry; Dr. Stuart McCusson, professor of aerospace and mechanical engineering; Dr. Vaughn McKin, associate professor of philosophy; Dr. John Milich, professor of physics; John Rigney, senior in Arts and Letters' preprofessional program, and David Sparks, director of University Libraries.

Fred Guiffrida and Fr. Richard lead the discussion at the SLC meeting. Fred resigned his Observer position after the meeting.

Fred Guiffrida was elected chairman of the SLC at yesterday's meeting.
Shriver expected to make major policy statement here

Sargent Shriver, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, will speak at 7:30 p.m. EST today (October 11) in Stepan Center at the University of Notre Dame. The campaign speech is a result of an invitation extended to presidential and vice presidential candidates of both parties by Notre Dame's president, Fr. Theodore M. Hesburgh, to present their views to the student body.

Shriver, who has been associated with the University in various capacities, has been invited to Notre Dame's campus by Hesburgh. The visit by Shriver is expected to be on the platform with him. From South Bend, Shriver will fly to Gary, Ind., for a campaign stop.

Shriver was again at Notre Dame podium, accepting the 1965 Patriotism Award, given annually by the Notre Dame Senior Class. In 1960, the University conferred upon Shriver the Laetare Medal, generally regarded as the most significant annual award given to Catholics in the United States. Hesburgh made the presentation in June in Paris, where Shriver was serving as American Ambassador to France. The award citation noted the recipient's "concern for those less fortunate... whether disadvantaged fellow citizens or peoples of far-off and under-developed nations."

Third District Congressman John Brademas (D., Ind.), a close friend of the vice presidential candidate, is expected to be on the platform with him. From South Bend, Shriver will fly to Gary, Ind., for a campaign stop.

Travels

Shriver's trip to the United States will include visits to Chicago, Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Washington, D.C. He is expected to return to Paris on October 15 and then travel to London, where he will speak at a conference on youth and community problems.

Shriver's visit to the United States is expected to be a major event on the campaign trail. He is expected to be a strong supporter of President Johnson's re-election campaign.

The Observer is published daily during the college semester except vacations by the students of the University of Notre Dame Senior Class. Subscriptions may be purchased for $18 per semester ($36 per year) by the students of the University of Notre Dame Senior Class. Kovatch upgrades SMC security

by Maria Gallagher
St. Mary's Editor

St. Mary's campus security is "better this year than last year," according to Dennis Mandt, associate director of Campus Safety. Kovatch and his committee have stepped up the campus patrol and improved communication with the administration.

According to Kovatch, one year of experience as the South Bend firefighter, as well as police training, helped him work the campus and most recently worked security for the South Bend Community Bank and Security, and so comes well-qualified to his new post.

South Bend Community College's Fall Semester Campus Safety September 18, Kovatch has started a campus safety patrol. Kovatch has a wealth of suggestions for the improvement that he would like to see implemented. "First of all, we're planning to floodlight the entire south side of the main drive to the wooded area," he revealed, in the wake of the capture of an attacker on campus.

Kovatch also hopes to expand the security force, but the financial considerations have to be reviewed. Kovatch has made recommendations for human resources, but Kovatch also reminded that the function of campus security as protecting the student life and study environment, and not to restrict students to the walking path, not the north part of the street, "which is reserved for pedestrians or the road. Even with lights and reflectors, it's still sometimes hard to see someone on a bicycle," he said.

Kovatch emphasized that the couples should ask someone if they are lost or need help, and Kovatch also reminded that the function of campus security as protecting the student life and study environment, and not to restrict students to the walking path, not the north part of the street, "which is reserved for pedestrians or the road. A Good Start

The Student Life Council broke with its tradition of selecting a faculty member chairman and elected Fred Giuffrida, district VI student representative, as the first student chairman in the Council's history.

Not bad for openers but the new mood of the SLC is probably better represented in Dr. Philip Facenda's remarks after the election of the chairman. He asked the council:

- to study alternative life styles in residence halls.
- to study the problem of what action the university will take in the event of the lowering of the age of majority in Indiana.
- to decide how many will be asked to move off campus in order to eliminate the present bed shortage.
- to decide which halls will house women when the number of female undergraduate students is increased next year.

The Catch is...

If the SLC produces legislation on all of these topics, it will begin to live up to the potential that the plan can have.

Flexible Proposal

A flexible proposal like this one would allow the administration to make the announcement of dormitory plans for next year in time for the announcement to have some bearing on a student's decision to move off-campus. Such a proposal would also represent a first (and hopefully extensive) effort in the area of long range housing planning.

Most importantly, the proposal would give Faccenda the information and advice he needs anyway to make the decision to convert a residence hall. It would be foolish to request such a report and then not act on its recommendations.

Once this major consideration is handled, the credibility and usefulness of the SLC can be considered with useful evidence. Certainly, the two critical considerations will be whether the group can deliver a well-written, well-researched report and whether the administration treats that report with the respect it deserves.

Right now there is good reason for optimism. The unanimous actions of the body indicate that, more than in past years, the three areas have a common sense of purpose. The SLC has always been politicized and sometimes this factionalization has worked in the students' best interests. It's just possible that a smoothing over of the sharp political distinctions will make the SLC work more effectively this year.

Budget Recommendations: A time for change in Notre Dame Student Government

For the past several years students, faculty, and administrators have addressed these problems. They have identified the deficiencies and priorities of the Christian University. In determining these priorities, we are asking the student body to take an active role in defining the needs of the University. For example, in the fiscal year 1972-73, we have added a new position of Coordinator of Student Life and have made significant budget requests for community service activities. We believe that such activities are essential to the well-being of Notre Dame students and the University as a whole.

The Student Activity Fee of $4.25 per semester has been set by the student body at Notre Dame in order to subsidize various extracurricular activities and services programs within the framework of the philosophy of Notre Dame education. This proposal is not a tax or a surcharge, but is a means of expressing the student body's desires.

In this budget, we ask that you consider the following recommendations:

1. Support the budget requests for community service activities. These activities are essential to the well-being of Notre Dame students and the University as a whole.
2. Support the budget requests for cultural and academic events. These activities provide an essential service to the student body and the University.
3. Support the budget requests for athletic programs. These programs provide a means of promoting student well-being and providing a means of physical fitness.
4. Support the budget requests for student government activities. These activities provide a means of student participation in the governance of the University.

We believe that these recommendations are in the best interests of the student body and the University. We encourage you to support these recommendations and to make your voices heard by voting in favor of these budget requests.

Letter to the Editor:

This letter is being written in response to a recent editorial in the student newspaper. The editorial was critical of a recent student government vote and its implications for the future of the University.

I believe that the editorial was out of line. The student government is elected by the student body and is responsible to the student body. The editorial seems to be out of touch with the feelings of the student body.

I urge you to vote in favor of the budget requests and to make your voices heard by voting in favor of these recommendations. Your support is essential to the continued success of the University.

Columnist calls for end to business intrigue

by Cein Makers

Dr. Leonard Silk, nationally known columnist and member of the editorial board of the New York Times, called for a "national effort" to bring "clandestine business-government operations out into the open," yesterday afternoon in the Library Auditorium.

Dr. Silk, speaking on the "Future of American Capitalism," stressed that there is a trend today toward "greater intermixture between government and business." He warned that too close an arrangement between the two is "dangerous" and cited as an example the closeness of defense military establishment. He called for "higher ethical standards from all involved - the press, business, and the government."

Dr. Silk's address was the opening lecture of the Cardinal O'Hara lecture series. He spoke before 200 people.

He also advised against excessive intermixture of government and business in federal housing projects and urban development.

Grad school interviews begin this week

The first of about 25 Graduate Schools of Business and Law Schools will begin their interviews at the Placement Bureau, Thursday and Friday of this week.

On Monday, October 16, the Graduate Schools of Business at DePaul and Amos Tuck School of Dartmouth College, will recruit on campus. On Wednesday, October 18, Virginia and Purdue Universities will visit the campus. New York University will be scheduled for Friday, October 20.

Students interested in the above Graduate Schools of Business may now sign up for interviews in Room 207, Main Building. Students interested in Law School interviews should sign up outside Dean Waddick's office in O'Shaughnessy Hall. All interviews will be held in Room 210, Administration Building.

Watch for the Placement Bureau bulletin for additional visits for the weeks following the above listed interviews.

Columnist calls for end to business intrigue

by Cein Makers

Dr. Leonard Silk, nationally known columnist and member of the editorial board of the New York Times, called for a "national effort" to bring "clandestine business-government operations out into the open," yesterday afternoon in the Library Auditorium.

Dr. Silk, speaking on the "Future of American Capitalism," stressed that there is a trend today toward "greater intermixture between government and business." He warned that too close an arrangement between the two is "dangerous" and cited as an example the closeness of defense military establishment. He called for "higher ethical standards from all involved - the press, business, and the government."

Keenan wins IH grudge rematch

by Sae Uranker

A pair of North Quad teams captured important victories, and the 1972 finalists continued to roll toward an eventual rematch in Interstate football action Sunday afternoon. Keenan and Farley both came up with clutch touchdowns to label them as contenders for the campus title, while Dillon and Morrissey showed no signs of weakening as divisional play neared its second week.

Keenan 6, Breen-Phillips 0

Last season, the two teams clubbed a 6-4 tie that eliminated B-P from playoff contention. Keenan got their sixth again in this year's rematch, via quarterback John Gilculen's one-yard run that capped a 45-yard, second period scoring drive. B-P took their opening series to the Keenan seven, but lost the ball on a fumble, one of five turnovers forced by the winners' defense. "Tom Hudes made a key interception for us in the fourth quarter," commented Keenan coach Tom Ewing. Ballhawk Don Curf also picked off an errant B-P aerial to seal this North Quad verdict.

Farley 14, Cavanaugh 0

A rugged defense that forced five Cincinnati turnovers powered Farley's 14-0 victory over Cavanaugh yesterday afternoon. Keenan and Farley scored in the second quarter, with Breen crashing in for the final two points.

Morrissey 14, Zahm 0

"We made mistakes, and had too many fumbles," quarterback Kirk Miller said about the Mauraders' second victory. "It wasn't a sharp effort. The running just wasn't as smooth as usual."

Despite the off-day, Morrissey ground out 162 yards rushing, with tailback Paul Breen the sparkplug. The senior from Columbus, Ohio, took a pitchout from Miller and raced nine yards to a second period touchdown that capped a 64-yard drive.

An interception paved the way for Carl Oberzut's four-yard run in the final stanza. Oberzut then passed to end Harry Bigham for the extra point conversion.

Holy Cross 0, Pangboge-Fisher 0

"There's not too much you can say about a scoreless tie. Our offense just couldn't get moving," Cross halfback Gary Caster noted. "They (P-F) had some big tackles, blocking the way, and our play calling just did not get going."

The only serious scoring threat of the game occurred on the Irish's first play. Pangboge Fisher clicked on a 50-yard bomb to the HC 15, but the play was negated on a offsides penalty.

Grace 12, Planter 0

Second and fourth quarter touchdowns gave Grace victory in the annual battle of the Big Red teams. QB Jim Ronan hit Jerry Samunaggio with a 25-yard scoring pass for the winning points, and Tom Keenan got their six again in this year's rematch, via quarterback scoring drive.

A total team effort brought Lynns back up to the 100 level in the League Two race, a game behind the running Marrs and Farley. A tiegame drive in the second quarter stoppedit their necessary touchdown, as Paul Solochol passed 15 yards to end Rob Raths at the 11.
