Philosophy, rules change go to SLC

by Anthony Abwed

News Editor

A statement on Christian philosophy for ND staff and several suggestions for rule revisions head the list of summer work done by the office of Student Affairs.

The statement, delivered to the rectors at their orientation, "is an attempt to recognize the Christian nature of relationships that staff should utilize with students," says Dr. Robert Ackerman, director of staff development in Student Affairs. "This is a staff policy not something which asks any action on the part of the students."

The rule revisions are suggested presented by Student Affairs to the Student Life Council (SLC). The SLC is responsible for revisions of the student Manual. Some of the suggestions regarding softening past University policy concerning the use of alcohol on campus.

STUDENT AFFAIRS IS prepared to permit alcohol use in private rooms and elsewhere on campus "in accord with guidelines established by the Office of Student Affairs," according to the most recent revision of legislation to be presented to the SLC.

The present student Manual overturns "the use or presence of alcoholic beverages in all public places on campus." It does mention the use of alcohol in private dorm rooms.

"We have submitted a working document of suggestions," says Phillip Facenda, vice-president of Student Affairs, "which we hope will lead to a redrafting of the university rules.

Ackerman stresses that these ideas are not in their final form but suggestions from the office of Student Affairs to the SLC.

"These are our ideas, what we think it ought to be," says Ackerman. "We are not trying to pressure anyone to accept them."

MEETINGS FOR THE SLC, a committee composed of students, faculty and administration, have not been set. The SLC is charged by the Board of Trustees of the university to periodically review the Student Manual.

This statement on Christian philosophy for the staff is not its final form. It asks that rectors and all staff Affairs personnel be Christian in their actions with students.

"We would like to make a short statement of our educational purpose. It's a value statement of what we believe and are willing to do with regard to our educational format," said Facenda.

Student Affairs under Facenda's leadership, began formulating policies and goals only since last May when Facenda's appointment to his position was made permanent. At that time a large number of staff realignments were also announced. Over the summer the offices for Student Affairs were moved to a new location in room 315 of the Administration building.

ALSO THE OFFICE has outlined procedures for rector orientation and staff education. This will be Ackerman's primary responsibility.

"I will hopefully spend the year trying to help the professional staff develop skills to do a good job," says Ackerman. "There are concerns the rectors have, such as counselling and understanding the personal growth of students that I can help with."

Facenda hopes to have a free flow of information from his office to the students this year.

"My underlying theme is that everything we do is open. In terms of policies and attitudes we're going to be as open as possible. This will, I hope, eliminate many suspicions," says Facenda.

Storage hit: losses 'minimal'

by Art Ferranti

Executive Editor

Thieves broke into the Notre Dame fieldhouse shortly before students returned from summer vacation.

Used for summer storage by students, the fieldhouse sustained minimal losses, according to Jim Hunt, ND graduate of 1973 and president of the 73 senior class, who was in charge of the summer storage.

Security estimated that the burglary took place between 3:30 p.m. and 6:45 a.m. between Aug, 23 and Aug 30. Hunt said Tuesday that two or three of the best bicycles were taken, 200 stereo buyers and some furniture damaged, according to Security. Arthur Pears, director of security, reported "The building is like a sieve." They have often found the building unlocked. Wire cutters were used to break in, but there are no clues as to the identify of the thieves.

Rod Brace, the resident of the fieldhouse, became ill approximately 3:30 p.m. Thursday, August 23. Security took him to the infirmary a few minutes later, and when he returned on Saturday, he did not check the storage area.

Security guard Ziggy Podeszka, last year's notary public and custodian of St. Slovin Center, noticed the disarray of bikes and boxes Sunday morning at 7:30 a.m.

Security did know about the storage in the fieldhouse, according to Pears, but they were not officially notified and did not have (continued on page 3)
Notre Dame students have long been noted for their prowess with the brew, but few have ever bought more than a keg at a time, much less 200 cases of wine and 175 cases of liquor at one time.

Summer business has packed the establishment on weekends, and an even greater volume is expected when the students return, but Kanser said he plans no further expansion.

"At this point, I can't afford it, but I'd also like to keep the place small," he said. He feels his place of business will have a "friendlier atmosphere" than the larger bars in town.

Kanser also feels that the mark of a good business is a concerned owner. He speculated that the reason business had slacked off in several places around town was because the owners were not there, or obviously didn't keep close tabs on their places and personnel.

"Customers notice these things. If an owner doesn't really care, his place reflects it. Just being there can make a big difference," Kanser will literally be "living" there on the second floor. He modestly disclaims any credit for the establishment's new name, which was first suggested as a joke. "That was Rich Sherman's idea," he admitted. Kanser himself was out playing golf when the new sign for the front arrived.

"I really didn't think they'd do it," he grinned.

Kanser first got the "crazy idea" of running a bar in October of his senior year. He had originally planned to build a new place, and had an option on some property on St. Bend Avenue, but his loan request fell through.

Notre Dame graduate Rick Kanser ('73) recently purchased Frankies restaurant on Notre Dame Ave., and expects lots of help from his fellow Domers to keep his business going. So far he has invested over $8,000 in a new bar and various other renovations.

Notre Dame students have long been noted for their prowess with the brew, but few have ever bought more than a keg at a time, much less 200 cases of wine and 175 cases of liquor at one time.

Summer business has packed the establishment on weekends, and an even greater volume is expected when the students return, but Kanser said he plans no further expansion.

"At this point, I can't afford it, but I'd also like to keep the place small," he said. He feels his place of business will have a "friendlier atmosphere" than the larger bars in town.

Kanser also feels that the mark of a good business is a concerned owner. He speculated that the reason business had slacked off in several places around town was because the owners were not there, or obviously didn't keep close tabs on their places and personnel.

"Customers notice these things. If an owner doesn't really care, his place reflects it. Just being there can make a big difference," Kanser will literally be "living" there on the second floor. He modestly disclaims any credit for the establishment's new name, which was first suggested as a joke. "That was Rich Sherman's idea," he admitted. Kanser himself was out playing golf when the new sign for the front arrived.

"I really didn't think they'd do it," he grinned.

Kanser first got the "crazy idea" of running a bar in October of his senior year. He had originally planned to build a new place, and had an option on some property on St. Bend Avenue, but his loan request fell through.
Civil rights center set up

A new political and social force has been founded at Notre Dame. Financed by a $50,000 grant from the Ford Foundation, the newly formed Center for Civil Rights under the direction of ND law professor Howard A. Glickstein is aiming toward provision of new and dynamic leadership for the civil rights movement. The "civil rights movement is now in need of fresh, new ideas," director Glickstein noted. The problems over the years have become more sophisticated and the center will generate these new ideas to meet the cause of civil rights.

"The center can influence social and political action by making legislative comment on the cause of this apathy," Glickstein hopes that the center will become the focal point for changes in housing and employment.

CIVIL RIGHTS PROBLEMS are simply too massive and complex that the public has difficulty seeing immediate solutions. "It was easy to get people excited about civil rights several years ago when the goal was to give people the right to vote. But today the problems are of the magnitude of Gary, Indiana. You look at Gary and you just raise your arms in frustration." Howard Glickstein has spent much of his career as an attorney crusading for the cause of civil rights. In the turbulent years of the early Sixties worked in the Civil Rights Division of the Department of Justice, where he helped enforce desegregation of schools and lunch counters in the South.

In 1965 he became counselor for the Civil Rights Commission where he served under Father Hesburgh. In 1969 Glickstein assumed the job of staff director for the Commission. "Over the last few years the source of civil rights activism has been the Civil Rights Commission." Glickstein observed. With the Civil Rights Center we can change the focus of progress from the Civil Rights Commission.

TERRY KEEN\y

Discriminatory housing cited

by Ann McCarr

Bitten by the alleged discriminatory practices of several South Bend landlords, William L. Montgomery, a black philosophy student is petitioning the university to form an investigative off-campus housing committee. Montgomery who was unavailable for comment, was rejected as a tenant by three landlords whose names were supplied by the Off-Campus Student Housing Office. His experiences inspired Montgomery to write to Father Hesburgh on July 18, 1973. "I sincerely hope that the University will be prompt in responding to the situation that has occurred," wrote Montgomery. "I propose that a committee be formed by the University to investigate managers and owners, who advertise through the Housing Office, to insure that this kind of discrimination does not exist under the aegis of Notre Dame." The primary response to Montgomery's letter is coming from the South Bend community rather than the university. As of August 12, Montgomery had yet to hear from Hesburgh or any of the other Notre Dame officials who had received copies of the July 19th letter. He has received encouragement from the mayor's office and South Bend Urban League.

Montgomery's case is being supported by Cassel Lawson, the Director of Off-Campus Student Affairs. Lawson, former head of the Human Relations board in South Bend, is presently investigating Montgomery's case. He is pursuing the case on two levels: what Notre Dame can do and what the community and federal agencies can do.

"I am convinced, at this time, that the Urban League is trying to do something right now but this is not enough, not lawfully. It is important to see some action, not only for Montgomery but for others, too." Lawson, who was president of the Urban League when the open housing laws were passed, feels that the law has yet to be properly tested and legitimized. "We have got to make those laws real," Lawson stated. "But we must also consider this problem as proof of man's inhumanity to man. We must see that justice prevails for Mr. Montgomery." Lawson continued to cite the necessity of considering the landlords' position as well as the tenants' point of view.

Although the University failed to take action, Lawson believes it is important to let Montgomery and others in similar positions know that someone really cares and is trying to alleviate the problem of discriminatory off-campus housing.

Father Hesburgh could not be contacted for comment.

THE OBSERVER

School starts again!

Wednesday, September 5, 1973

Page 3

Glickstein
Increased enrollment cramps 100 freshmen

As a result of Notre Dame's mysterious inability to be affected by the nationally decreasing collegiate enrollment trends, recent results have been placed this fall in forced living quarters on the already overcrowded campus.

Despite the nationwide tendency toward decreased enrollment this year, Notre Dame experienced an increase of 3 per cent over 1972.

Summer arrests solve mystery of campus crimes

Two 17-year old South Bend youths were arrested and ultimately found delinquent by the St. Joseph County Juvenile Court this summer after a resident of Lyons Hall apprehended the two during an apparent break-in at the hall.

According to Director of Security, Arthur Pears, the two were trying to break into the hall. He apprehended them and held them until security came to the scene.

Pears said that the two confessed to and implicated others in ten campus crimes over the past year. The counts came to seven counts of breaking and entering, two counts of larceny, one count of attempted robbery, one count of entry to commit a felony and one count of assault on a security officer. However, the case on each of the counts was insufficient and conviction was sought only on two counts.

The confessions of the two cleared up ten recent campus crimes:

- the theft of several hundred dollars of camera equipment from Timothy Miller of Howard Hall on Jan. 21, 1973
- a break-in at the Senior Bar on Jan. 25, 1973
- the hold-up of a student as he crossed Greenfield St. in South Bend on Jan. 27, 1973
- a break-in at the A.C.C. on Jan. 31, 1973

The assault on a security officer in a parking lot on March 4, 1973 after the two were stopped for questioning.

- the break-in at the Student Union Ticket Office in LaFortune and the theft of tickets for an event
- the break-in and burglary at the Observer Office
- nine counts of larceny at the Bales Memorial Building where locks were cut to burglarize students' lockers
- a burglary at Pangeon Hall's food sale

When they were apprehended, the two had a card key to Alumni Hall in their possession, but Pears said that the two were not involved in the armed robbery this spring in Alumni Hall. That crime is still unsolved, he said.

Pears stated that the two were picked up several times in the past by Notre Dame Security, but have always been with enough substantial evidence to hold them. He also said that warrants have been issued for two accomplices who are presently serving in the U.S. Armed Forces.

Cancellations occur when an applicant who has been accepted and has confirmed his intention to attend Notre Dame, Pays the enrollment fee only to later reverse his decision.

As of August 8, when the number of cancellations historically exceeded 100, only 45 confirmed applicants had decided against Notre Dame.

But hopefully the overcrowded conditions for freshmen will only be temporary. Rev. John Mulchay, director of on-campus housing, said that an effort to "uncrowd" the freshmen will be made as space becomes available.

But upperclassmen, who agreed last spring to overtime their rooms in an effort to prevent large numbers of students from being kicked-off campus, will not be uncrowded.

Mulchay, who stressed that no freshmen were forced into upperclass rooms, said that the older students must become convinced that the decision to overcrowd was their own, and does not alter the fact that the demands for on-campus housing require specified numbers of students to move off campus yearly.

He pointed out that no public rooms were used. That crime is still unsolved, in contrast to last year when study lounges across campus were filled with excess students. Morrivey was hardest hit by the overcrowding, as their population jumped from its original 307 to a present total of 309. Alumina was also hit hard, increasing by 34 to its present 396.

Mulchay said that he expects the demands for on-campus housing to be as great this year as last, but declined to speculate as to the seriousness of next spring's situation. He said that he wants to keep all options open until the situation becomes more clear.

Goldrick was unable to project whether or not the current boom in enrollment would continue next year. He cited the start of overcrowding last year as a possible reason for the increase.

He said that it still must be decided whether the present increase should be used as the guide in determining policy for accepting applicants next year, or whether the same system should be again be used hoping that this year's increase was unique.

Women were not affected by the overcrowding, as the quotas were reached in August and transfer applications were immediately cut off. All of the overcrowding occurred in the men's dorms, and all forced rooms were determined with the cooperation of the individual hall rector.

Dr. Areson appointed Director of Counseling

Dr. Suzanne Areson has been appointed Director of Counseling at St. Mary's, replacing Dr. Mary Mantle, who now heads the nursing program.

In her new position, Dr. Areson will be responsible for personal counseling and vocational testing of students.

Prior to joining the college, Dr. Areson served two years as a resident counselor at Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti.

She was previously employed at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, training and supervising counselors, and coordinating the school of education's advising office. Dr. Areson received her Ph.D. in education as well as her master's in counseling and guidance from the University of Michigan. She holds a bachelor of science degree in psychology from Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo.
this is it!!!

OBSERVER

General Staff Meeting
Old and New Reporter Sign-up

Two dates to choose from:

6:30 tonight rm. 2-D LaFortune
-or-
6:30 tomorrow rm. 2-D LaFortune

All people interested in

- reporting
- advertising sales
- sports
- production
- any newspaper work

Find out about: newswriting classes, editorial positions, free classified ads, free Observer subscriptions, Observer staff parties, and much more.

SUPPORT YOUR DAILY NEWSPAPER

Editorial Board meeting tonight at 6:00 in The Observer offices.
Administrative changes made at St. Mary’s

by Maria Gallagher
St. Mary’s Faculty

In the wake of the summer administrative shuffle, three new positions have been created, and two posts refilled. In addition, five terms have expired on the Board of Directors, making an even more uncertain picture.

Mary Francesca Dunbarton, as registrar, is Sr. Mary Francesca, C.S.C., who held that post at Dunbarton College in Washington until it closed last June. She holds a bachelor’s degree from Dunbarton College, and a master’s degree from Catholic University. Information on her major fields was immediately available. She also holds an Ed.D from Columbia University, and was assistant professor of education at Dunbarton.

Sister Anna Mae Golden, C.S.C., takes over as director of admissions, succeeding Sister Raphaela Whalen, C.S.C. Sister Anna Mae joined Saint Mary’s in 1972 as assistant director of admissions. She holds a B.A. in mathematics from the University of Notre Dame and a M.A. in mathematics from the University of Chicago. She taught mathematics for eighteen years at Cardinal Cushing College, and served as its academic dean during the 1971-72 school year. Sr. Ellen Delores Lynch, C.S.C., will succeed Sr. Basil Anthony O’Flynn, C.S.C., as vice-president for development and public relations. She holds M.S. and Ph.D degrees in chemistry from the University of Notre Dame, and has published several articles in professional journals relating to her field. For the last twenty years she has taught at Dunbarton College where she also served as secretary for the planning committee and as a member of the advisory committee for the college. Prior to that, she taught at Saint Mary’s College, and did research for the Department of the Interior and the American Petroleum Institute. Currently she is a member of the Saint Mary’s Board of Regents and chairman of the student life committee.

Sister Basil Anthony will assume responsibilities as vice-president for campus affairs, a newly created position.

Sister Basil Anthony has served Saint Mary’s in several administrative capacities. She was vice-president for fiscal affairs, and, prior to that, dean of students. She holds a master’s degree in theology from the College and a master’s degree in education from the University of Notre Dame. Recently she was elected to the Board of Directors of the American Association of University Administrators (AAUA) for a three year term. She was also the general secretary of the Congregation of the Sisters of the Holy Cross for twelve years. Another new position, that of institutional researcher, will be filled by Sr. Jeannette Lester. This post is distinguished from the archivist’s who supervises over the college records, in that it will include data analysis and make projections from available data.

Former assistant to the president John J. Hof has been appointed director of development and recruitment for the Tucson program, which is being offered for the first time this semester. In his new position Hof will reside at Picture Rocks Resort House, headquarters of the Saint Mary’s Tucson campus. The assistant to the president post which he leaves vacant has not yet been filled, but Dr. Henry expressed the hope that it would be filled soon.

Dr. Hof came to Saint Mary’s from Tucson in July, 1972. He is a co-founder of the Thomas More Institute in Tucson, and still serves as executive director of the Institute, which is a secular educational organization that seeks to promote Christian humanism.

The other vacancy, director of business and financial affairs is currently being filled by Leslie Hitchcock, who takes interim charge of the office formerly headed by Jason Linder. Mr. Hitchcock serves full-time as chief accountant of a farm co-op in Beeton, Harbor, Michigan. A permanent appointee will be selected by late fall.

The five expired terms on the Board of Regents are those of Jordan Hamel, Franklin Schurra, Sr. Leonella Mile, faculty representative Dr. Bruno Schlesinger and student representative Sue Weite. Although their terms are not expired, Sr. Gerald Hartney and Mother Olivette Whalen will be doing missionary work in Africa during the coming year, and their seats are likely to be filled by two new appointees. Five or six new members will be added to the board’s present number of seventeen. Under bylaws, drawn up last year, as many as twenty members may sit on the Board. At least one-third must be sisters of the Holy Cross.

Provisions for faculty and student representation will be made as soon as possible, said Dr. Henry.

NOW OPEN...
Dean gives discipline new stress

by Anthony Aboud
News Editor

Developmental discipline will be the cornerstone of his job as he starts his new job as Dean of Students for the University of Notre Dame.

"Primarily, discipline is a developmental tool," explains Macheca. "My major concern is that we use resources that can help in growth and development of our students.

Macheca also sees his function in the traditional sense of keeping order in the ND student community, but he stresses that this will be only a secondary function for him. "Discipline has a place within the community. It can primarily function as a developmental force within the lives or our students and secondly as a function of good order. However, in extreme cases, order in the ND student community," he says. Since July Macheca has been Dean of Students. He replaced Fr. James Riehle who held the position for six years. Macheca is a 1962 graduate of ND with a degree in Latin American Studies. He did his graduate work in Mexico. After working for the Defense Department for several years, he came back to ND to run the Public Relations and Development Office in Chicago in December 1969. Mamca is impressed with the human resources on campus and hopes these will become his primary tool in executing his job. "We can do more than other places primarily because the human resources we have, starting with the students, are at one unbelievable level of quality. At this place there is staggering potential. There is a great group of young people. The other constituencies, the Student Affairs personnel, are people who care about the students," he says.

These human resources, Macheca hopes, will follow his lead and concenrate on developmental discipline. He has run numerous sessions to familiarize staff with the philosophy.

I’ve spent the entire orientation week explaining this philosophy to rectors, assistants and rectors and R.A.’s. "We really been putting this out so people can see it and commit themselves to it," Macheca says.

We also feel that awareness if the importance of a developmental discipline," he adds. Macheca hopes to set up a ‘service counselling service through the Dean of Students that would even include students.'

Along with increased awareness, Macheca would like greater flexibility in the types of punishments at his disposal. "Implicit in rehabilitative discipline are many more alternatives at my disposal in making decisions," he explains. "For example, I hope to have an array of options for a person who comes to me with an alcohol problem. Alcohol, drugs, dishonesty, immorality and violence rank high in Macheca’s list of major areas of concern. In addition to these problems Macheca is concerned with the image of a privileged class of students and a "double standard of justice' some students believe exist on campus."

"My understanding is that for some time people feel there are inconsistencies in justice on campus," Macheca explains. "There are also rumors at ND that privileged classes were given special consideration in the judicial process."

MACHeca is EMPATHIC in "in" response to these opinions. "I can’t be justice if it isn’t the same for everyone. It’s like the spirit of the Warren court—concerns because little and insignificant people are not guaranteed the same privileges as the more influential. It is just a question of equal rights."

SOME SUMMER decisions, Macheca points out, look into consideration this position. "Unlike the rules and regulations of the university," Macheca says, "this disposition toward enforcement, is effective immediately."

Fr. Terry Lally, Stanford rector and a teacher in the Theology Department, is Macheca’s assistant. "We will work closely together. We have no separate responsibility. My assistant is just as good as the dean if I’m not available," Macheca points out. "He is the perfect employer," Fr. Lally says. "He advises you of what’s going on in any area."

Macheca is confident that his developmental discipline will work. "I hope the philosophy will improve with experience to become more effective. It use challenges us to be imaginative and creative, but it’s going to take a total commitment," he says.

A young man with his eye to the future can look to Army ROTC.

Choose Army ROTC. The total time requirements of ROTC account for little in a student’s workload and no commitment is made by you until the Junior Year. While you’re looking at our program and deciding if you can offer you something, we will be looking at you. If we’re both satisfied we can offer each other something, upon graduation you will receive a commission as a Second Lieutenant in the United States Army Reserve. Right now chances are good you’ll only be required to serve on active duty for 3 to 6 months.

When you go back to a civilian career, you’ll have an edge. The management and leadership experience offered through ROTC are not duplicated by any other college courses. And, proven in the crucible of officer experience, these are important assets for any young man looking forward to a successful future. Assets which are readily marketable when seeking any position.

Success in a life choice today demands more than ever the right preparation. Education, of course, is essential. But the growing proportion of Americans going to college has lessened the diploma’s role as an automatic entree to the best jobs. Employers are demanding something more.
A potpourri—any mixture of unrelated objects, subjects, etc. A potpourri is what is offered here, but all bound together within the realm of Notre Dame.

The Dining Hall—The renovations at the South Dining Hall are amazing to say the least, but talk among students is skeptical about its workability. The new system can run efficiently and will run efficiently as soon as old habits are broken and the new system becomes acquainted to the students.

Security—There were big headlines this summer that two juveniles were apprehended and convicted of on-campus crimes. In their statements, they confessed to campus crimes from the past semester. Yet, the apprehension of the suspects was made by a resident of Lyons Hall, not security, the protectors of the campus. To least, but talk among students is skeptical about its workability. The new system can run efficiently and will run efficiently as soon as old habits are broken and the new system becomes acquainted to the students.

Security—There were big headlines this summer that two juveniles were apprehended and convicted of on-campus crimes. In their statements, they confessed to campus crimes from the past semester. Yet, the apprehension of the suspects was made by a resident of Lyons Hall, not security, the protectors of the campus. To least, but talk among students is skeptical about its workability. The new system can run efficiently and will run efficiently as soon as old habits are broken and the new system becomes acquainted to the students.

Security—There were big headlines this summer that two juveniles were apprehended and convicted of on-campus crimes. In their statements, they confessed to campus crimes from the past semester. Yet, the apprehension of the suspects was made by a resident of Lyons Hall, not security, the protectors of the campus. To least, but talk among students is skeptical about its workability. The new system can run efficiently and will run efficiently as soon as old habits are broken and the new system becomes acquainted to the students.

Fieldhouse—What a good restatement of things that have always existed at this university was most encouraging about the developmental rehabilitation policy, is in order. Students are not criminals and the rules with slight renovation, are important for the guys to notice some amount of growth. That's what I'm all about this year...helping guys grow, and appreciate their growth. Then maybe some patterns will become apparent in their lives, and growth will become a conscious habit. That would be great. Really great.

Security—There were big headlines this summer that two juveniles were apprehended and convicted of on-campus crimes. In their statements, they confessed to campus crimes from the past semester. Yet, the apprehension of the suspects was made by a resident of Lyons Hall, not security, the protectors of the campus. To least, but talk among students is skeptical about its workability. The new system can run efficiently and will run efficiently as soon as old habits are broken and the new system becomes acquainted to the students.

Security—There were big headlines this summer that two juveniles were apprehended and convicted of on-campus crimes. In their statements, they confessed to campus crimes from the past semester. Yet, the apprehension of the suspects was made by a resident of Lyons Hall, not security, the protectors of the campus. To least, but talk among students is skeptical about its workability. The new system can run efficiently and will run efficiently as soon as old habits are broken and the new system becomes acquainted to the students.

Security—There were big headlines this summer that two juveniles were apprehended and convicted of on-campus crimes. In their statements, they confessed to campus crimes from the past semester. Yet, the apprehension of the suspects was made by a resident of Lyons Hall, not security, the protectors of the campus. To least, but talk among students is skeptical about its workability. The new system can run efficiently and will run efficiently as soon as old habits are broken and the new system becomes acquainted to the students.

Security—There were big headlines this summer that two juveniles were apprehended and convicted of on-campus crimes. In their statements, they confessed to campus crimes from the past semester. Yet, the apprehension of the suspects was made by a resident of Lyons Hall, not security, the protectors of the campus. To least, but talk among students is skeptical about its workability. The new system can run efficiently and will run efficiently as soon as old habits are broken and the new system becomes acquainted to the students.

Security—There were big headlines this summer that two juveniles were apprehended and convicted of on-campus crimes. In their statements, they confessed to campus crimes from the past semester. Yet, the apprehension of the suspects was made by a resident of Lyons Hall, not security, the protectors of the campus. To least, but talk among students is skeptical about its workability. The new system can run efficiently and will run efficiently as soon as old habits are broken and the new system becomes acquainted to the students.
Poems, Prayers, and Promises

What of a Dream Deferred

By rights then, now that women live as "equals" at Notre Dame, the problem of Notre Dame's lack of catholicity in its attitude and actions towards women should be erased. This is not the case, and instead, the University is guilty of an attitude that threatens the very reason for bringing women into this community. The problem can be simply called paternalism: its manifestations many.

By way of example, women are not allowed to live off-campus unless their family lives in South Bend, while their male counterparts (except for freshmen) have been allowed to move off-campus for years. Anyone who has ever tried to secure student housing in South Bend may well question why anyone would move off-campus for years. Anyone who has ever tried to secure student housing in South Bend may well question why any student, male or female, should have the same right to determine her lifestyle as any other student. As for the thousands of dollars put into renovating student housing in South Bend, it is interesting that a similar male-female communication on this campus than there has been about the possibility in the upcoming year; it is certainly a goal worth working toward.

If one hopes to make any sense of the past year, coeducation and its impact upon the campus must be assessed. The difficulties of transforming a bastion of male education into an institution that could comfortably accommodate women, have been many and at times seemingly insurmountable. Even now, one would be foolish to think that those difficulties have all been overcome. The halls that once echoed the names of Lujak and Rockne must now sound female names. The transition has been less than totally smooth to say the least. In the two school years before coeducation became a reality, I shared with many, the belief that with women on campus, most of the social problems of the student body would disappear. It was easier to accept the disapproval of the institution by imagining the trouble free days that would follow the arrival of women. When looking back at those times and the ridiculous expectations coeducation was to fulfill, a person is somewhat shaken by the simplistic notion of women that can be gathered by a man in the company of 1,000 other men. Coordination has not proved to be the panacea that many had hoped. Instead, coeducation has brought its own set of problems; problems that must be addressed if coeducation is ever to be successful. There will always remain the disquieting thought that if the administration had been free to make a decision for or against coeducation without financial, student, and alumni pressures, the decision may not have been in favor of admitting women. This intuition stems from the belief that Notre Dame had reached a crisis point in the articulation of its raison d'etre as an educational entity. That crisis revolved around the realization that it had become increasingly difficult to justify the use of the word "catholic" in describing an institution that denied admission to over one half of the nation's population. The very absence of women made a mockery of any claims that the university lived on campus. Could it take its place among the other pieces that address the humanism and catholicity represented the personification of a "Christian community."

If anything, a person's sense of humanism and catholicity were continually assaulted by the implications of that omission.

The Observer today introduces to its campus readers the work of Pulitzer Prize winning cartoonist Pat Oliphant. His work, some of which is pictured on this page, has also merited for him the Sigma Delta Chi award for editorial cartooning. A native of Australia, Oliphant came to the United States with his family in 1944 and since that time has been displaying his prize-winning work in the Denver Post. At present, his art is syndicated to more than 300 other newspapers across the country.

"The basis of my cartoons is humor," says Oliphant, for "there is no better vehicle for satirical thought." In those instances where a particularly grim subject might require a straight approach, "the contrast that humor affords gifts theOrdinate home with fresh perspective."

Prior to his arrival in Denver, Oliphant had already established himself as a cartoonist of note. From 1965 until his departure for America, he was the editorial cartoonist of the Adelaide Advertiser, the state's oldest daily newspaper.

In 1968, he won two of the top prizes in London's "Great Challenge International Cartoon Competition," an international contest designed to find the finest editorial cartoonist in the world. All western nations were represented in the competition.

Besides the Pulitzer Prize and the Sigma Delta Chi award both of which he garnered in 1966, Oliphant is also a two-time recipient of the Reuben Award, presented by the National Cartoonists Society as Outstanding Cartoonist of 1972.

Artist Oliphant tackles the world of politics, foreign affairs, social attitudes, and customs in the tradition of European master cartoonists, but directly addresses an American audience. His international background, talent, and complete editorial freedom make this possible.

And Oliphant has a real grasp of the American point of view. He understands the American way of life and reflects its unique outlook in all of his cartoon panels.
Summer of 73

Robert Heinlein's last book, "I Will Fear No Evil," demonstrated what a death-fear productive: a lot of semi-moralistic musings and a lot of semi-moralistic worse. Heinlein's no dummy; he knows he can't come off as believable. Throwing in little possibilities; instead, he decides to rehash a whole section is little more than Long sitting out the form. Or perhaps the most curious event of the Notre Dame summer conference, for those who were merely bystanders was the fact that rain was heavily forecast all three Saturdays, but, except for a light shower late Saturday night, it didn't rain until Monday after the 22,000 people filled the gym floors and as far away as Goshen and Joe Lake beach was simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

Finally, Heinlein uses his book to pass on the advice and opinions of a lifetime. And believe me, that is a hell of a lot. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

They return to an old standby: the shotgun-patterned advice is simply too muchness and morals and some other bits of advice on how to attend Naval Academies. These are the lengths Heinlein has gone to for the later in July 31-August 4 the University played the end of summer at Notre Dame is quite extraordinary. joe Lake beach was aouchers of Gamma Rays on Renewal in loxons such as the Athletic and Convocation Center, where 100 people camped on the gym floors and as far away as Goshen and Valparaiso, to which buses traveled in the rain and sat again at night.

Perhaps the most curious event of the last" summer conference, for those who were merely bystanders was the fact that rain was heavily forecast all three Saturdays, but, except for a light shower late Saturday night, it didn't rain until Monday after the 22,000 people filled the gym floors and as far away as Goshen and Valparaiso, to which buses traveled in the rain and sat again at night. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

Finally, Heinlein uses his book to pass on the advice and opinions of a lifetime. And believe me, that is a hell of a lot. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

Finally, Heinlein uses his book to pass on the advice and opinions of a lifetime. And believe me, that is a hell of a lot. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

Finally, Heinlein uses his book to pass on the advice and opinions of a lifetime. And believe me, that is a hell of a lot. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

Finally, Heinlein uses his book to pass on the advice and opinions of a lifetime. And believe me, that is a hell of a lot. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

Finally, Heinlein uses his book to pass on the advice and opinions of a lifetime. And believe me, that is a hell of a lot. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

Finally, Heinlein uses his book to pass on the advice and opinions of a lifetime. And believe me, that is a hell of a lot. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

Finally, Heinlein uses his book to pass on the advice and opinions of a lifetime. And believe me, that is a hell of a lot. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

Finally, Heinlein uses his book to pass on the advice and opinions of a lifetime. And believe me, that is a hell of a lot. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

Finally, Heinlein uses his book to pass on the advice and opinions of a lifetime. And believe me, that is a hell of a lot. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

Finally, Heinlein uses his book to pass on the advice and opinions of a lifetime. And believe me, that is a hell of a lot. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

Finally, Heinlein uses his book to pass on the advice and opinions of a lifetime. And believe me, that is a hell of a lot. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

Finally, Heinlein uses his book to pass on the advice and opinions of a lifetime. And believe me, that is a hell of a lot. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

Finally, Heinlein uses his book to pass on the advice and opinions of a lifetime. And believe me, that is a hell of a lot. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

Finally, Heinlein uses his book to pass on the advice and opinions of a lifetime. And believe me, that is a hell of a lot. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

Finally, Heinlein uses his book to pass on the advice and opinions of a lifetime. And believe me, that is a hell of a lot. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

Finally, Heinlein uses his book to pass on the advice and opinions of a lifetime. And believe me, that is a hell of a lot. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

Finally, Heinlein uses his book to pass on the advice and opinions of a lifetime. And believe me, that is a hell of a lot. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

Finally, Heinlein uses his book to pass on the advice and opinions of a lifetime. And believe me, that is a hell of a lot. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

Finally, Heinlein uses his book to pass on the advice and opinions of a lifetime. And believe me, that is a hell of a lot. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

Finally, Heinlein uses his book to pass on the advice and opinions of a lifetime. And believe me, that is a hell of a lot. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

Finally, Heinlein uses his book to pass on the advice and opinions of a lifetime. And believe me, that is a hell of a lot. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

Finally, Heinlein uses his book to pass on the advice and opinions of a lifetime. And believe me, that is a hell of a lot. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

Finally, Heinlein uses his book to pass on the advice and opinions of a lifetime. And believe me, that is a hell of a lot. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

Finally, Heinlein uses his book to pass on the advice and opinions of a lifetime. And believe me, that is a hell of a lot. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

Finally, Heinlein uses his book to pass on the advice and opinions of a lifetime. And believe me, that is a hell of a lot. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

Finally, Heinlein uses his book to pass on the advice and opinions of a lifetime. And believe me, that is a hell of a lot. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

Finally, Heinlein uses his book to pass on the advice and opinions of a lifetime. And believe me, that is a hell of a lot. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

Finally, Heinlein uses his book to pass on the advice and opinions of a lifetime. And believe me, that is a hell of a lot. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.

Advice and more advice

Finally, Heinlein uses his book to pass on the advice and opinions of a lifetime. And believe me, that is a hell of a lot. The first and most unusual bit of Long sitting by, and God knows how many light years of space is simply too much to take.
Pentacostals praise the Lord in ND stadium

by Jerry Lukas

The Spirit of Jesus is among us, proclaimed two banners strung across the scoreboard in Notre Dame's stadium where over 25,000 people attended a general session of the International Conference on the Charismatic Renewal on Saturday, June 5. The movement, which gathered in Stepan, was started by Jerry Lukas.

These people are a group found within the Roman Catholic Church but ecumenical in membership, calling for a renewal of Christians.

"It's not only the Catholic Church here," said Father Duncan Macdonell who came from Edmonton, Alberta, Canada for the conference. "It's a real gathering of all Christians interested in uniting in spirit, a spirit of hope and sense of deep renewal.

Accommodations at Notre Dame were not sufficient to house the thousands who poured in from all over the United States, Canada, and the rest of the world. Housing was set up at Goshen College, St. Mary's College, South Bend schools, and even as far away as Valparaiso University.

In past years, the basic thrust of the conference was to have the leadership supplied by True House, a Notre Dame-based planning to renew His Church here. In 1968, the conference ended with a mass celebrated by the Bishop of the Fort Wayne-South Bend diocese prefaced the testimony, song, and prayer.

Mrs. Lavonne Harmon, who came with her husband and two children from Boise, Idaho to attend the conference, said they "came to find more openness to God.

Each year the conference is bigger and different," said Marilyn Bonen who was at her fifth conference. "The people are very warm and kind, of peace and it shows. Through us the Lord is planning to renew His church.

The conference is not without its dissident elements. According to the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, a few revivalists were asked to leave.

They prayed in darkness with their voices raised on a lighted platform in what normally would be the end zone at the southern end of the oval. Many prayed aloud, lifting their arms to receive the spirit and to receive the charisms, the gifts of the Holy Spirit.

The Lord was doing with them. Sister Marie Catherine of True House said the man last night was "clearly out of order.

"I should have believed that if he got this message from God then likewise someone on the platform with a microphone who could have communicated it to everyone would receive this message," she said.

As the evening continued, witnesses would give their testimony to Christ and in the interludes between statements, the hushed stadium would be filled with the slowly growing whispering of the thousands praying until it finally erupted into a prayer of song. The singing and praying, commonly referred to as speaking in tongues, filled into a harmonious arrangement that would defy any composer.

Saturday's session began in the bright sun at 10 a.m. when Jerry Koller from San Francisco called to the crowd, "Good Morning. Praise the Lord.

A welcome from Bishop Joseph Crowley of the Fort Wayne-South Bend diocese prefaced the testimony, song, and prayer.

"The people are very warm and kind, of peace and it shows. Through us the Lord is planning to renew His church."

The conference is not without its dissident elements. According to the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, a few revivalists were asked to leave.

They were thought to have come for "the theatrics," they said.

Jean Roch Roy, who brought a Canadian Broadcasting Corporation crew to film a documentary of it, complained that he was disappointed.

"I came all this way to see India, Belgium, France, Australia, Puerto Rico, and Montreal. Before, the spirit was only supposed to speak through the bishop," he said. "Now, it's only supposed to speak through the people on the platform. It's all screwed up."

25,000 people attended the International Conference on the Charismatic Renewal at ND in June.

The actual movement began seven years ago at Notre Dame. Rev. Edward O'Connor, C.S.C., one of the founders said, "When we started, we had 25 people gathered in a one-room house in South Bend and we were wondering what is going to come of this thing.

They stress renewal within the church through a personal relationship with the Holy Spirit and its gifts such as healing, prophecy and tongues. Intensive Bible study is an important facet of the Charismatic Renewal.

The movement has grown considerably as shown in the history of the Charismatic Renewal Conference. At the first event in 1967, 90 people from Notre Dame and Michigan State University joined together in what was called "a reflection of what the Lord was doing with them."

In 1968, 150 people came to Notre Dame for the affair and the number jumped to 600 in 1969. The 1970 conference ended with a mass celebrated by an episcopal conference and over 1,300 people in attendance.

1971 and 1972 found 4,500 and then 11,000 people coming to South Bend to "Praise the Lord.

At this year's conference, the plane flew over the stadium as Patty Gallagher of New Orleans gave her testimony Saturday. The stadium was filled with people from the U.S. and others from Ireland, Israel, Germany, South America, India, Belgium, France, Australia, Mexico, Puerto Rico, and Montreal. The noise reverberated the Lord's word.

The crowd as the Lord was doing with them. Sister Marie Catherine of True House explained that the Lord is among us.

Welcome Class of '77!!!

Please Compare!!! Before You Buy Or Lease a REFRIGERATOR

Look for these features:

- 4.6 Cubic Feet (The Legal Limit)
- Push Button Defrosting
- Sliding Shelves
- Work Top
- No Deposit
- FREE Delivery - Maintenance - Pickup
- Local Dealer - Student Reps

ECONOMICAL

CALL NOW ESLINGER LEASE SERVICE

259 2242
291 5767

The Windjammer has it all for you...

★ three expert barber stylists
★ complete line of RK hair care products
★ relaxed atmosphere

Long hair can be a problem, if it is not shaped properly. Our expert barber-stylists will take the time to help you find the style that best fits your needs.

all services by appointment

1637 lincoln way west 232-6622

The Windjammer

HAIR STYLING FOR DISCRIMINATING MEN & BOYS
MAIL ORDER SALE

We find that too often customers presume that they can save hundreds of dollars taking their chances with mail order houses. Our answer to this is bring your current mail order quotes. You might just find that our values are even better!!

20% OFF SUGGESTED RETAIL
ON SOME MODELS
receivers, amplifiers and tuners from famous brands whose names we cannot mention
due to these low prices

30% OFF SUGGESTED RETAIL
ON MANY MODELS OF
TURNTABLES AND RECORD
CHANGERS IN ALL PRICE RANGES ON
famous brands from...
★ BRITAIN ★ EUROPE
★ JAPAN ★ AMERICA

25% OFF SUGGESTED RETAIL
ON SOME MODELS OF
speakers from famous brands like...
★ AR
★ KLH
★ DYNACO
★ OTHERS

Sherwood
S7050

This is the lowest prices receiver we know of, which has received acceptance by the critical audio enth­ thusiasts. It was recently top-rated above all others in the under $200 price range by both MUSIC WORLD and STAFF magazine.

GARRARD 40 B
ADC 250 XE

The Garrard 40 B is the lowest-priced Garrard changer which can track a good magnetic cartridge like the ADC 250 XE.

GARRARD SL 55 B
SHURE M75ED

The Garrard SL 55 B includes Garrard's famous synchronous motor which ensures that speed variations are held to a minimum.

SHERWOOD
57050

SHERWOOD
57100a

SHERWOOD
310 North Michigan, South Bend, Indiana 46601
12-8 Weekdays 12-5 Saturdays Phone 232-1611

Audio Specialists

CREATIVE 66

Here's the luxurious sound of a big speaker system in a space-saving cabinet. It offers the clarity and musical definition you're expect to hear in a speaker many times its price. This is the ideal unit for a medium power stereo system and for use as a secondary set of speakers.

GARRARD
SL
55
B

SHERWOOD
57050

SHERWOOD
57100a

SHERWOOD
310 North Michigan, South Bend, Indiana 46601
12-8 Weekdays 12-5 Saturdays Phone 232-1611

Audio Specialists

LIST $395 NOW $269.95

LIST $538 NOW $429

LIST $538 NOW $429

EPILOG

This speaker has few, if any, peers in the under $100, price range. At recent speaker clinics, its frequency response, transient response, and dispersion were superior to 90 per cent of the speakers selling for more than twice its price.
21 new faculty members added at SMC

by Maria Gallagher
Saint Mary's Editor

Staff changes have been made in almost every academic department at Saint Mary's with the addition of 21 new full-time and 12 new part-time teachers. Four are returning from leave, and 18 are new. Most of the new faculty are experienced and hold advanced degrees in their fields, or are coming from other academically strong institutions. They represent an improvement in the teaching staff, and the administration has added them to the faculty on the understanding that they will have a team approach to the job of teaching. They have been added to the faculty in most departments, including English, Modern Languages, Economics, Music, Business Administration, Sociology, Political Science, History, Art History, Art, Mathematics, Chemistry, Biology, Physics, Computer Science, English, Mathematics, Economics, Music, Business Administration, Sociology, Political Science, History, Art History, Art, Mathematics, Chemistry, Biology, Physics, Computer Science, and the School of Education.

SMC govt to boost

Student Board

by Mary Janca
Staff Reporter

Getting the newly-structured Student Board of Governance to function successfully is the major goal for the current student government this year, according to its chairperson, Dr. Edward McKeeman. The Board is a triumvirate, composed of a chairman, the Hall Life Commissioner, and the Student Affairs Commissioner. Under the Hall Life Commissioner, the Student Affairs Commissioner, and the Student Relations Board are the 4 hall presidents, while the 4 class officers are under the Student Affairs Commissioner. The main idea of this structure, explained McKiernan, is "to diffuse student government." Class presidents were not really brought in and involved, and the hall presidents were isolated in each of their own halls.

Under the new system, she continued, class and hall presidents can exchange ideas and get help from each other. One has to do with other, she said.

THE BOARD will also get away from the "figurehead" type of student government, as it was. There is too much for 1 or 2 people to do. More people will be involved this way," she added.

McKernan also added the Board an experiment. However, "If positive it will work. The feeling of the school is up, and this is much better than old type of student government," she added.

However, other structural changes, such as the creation of a College Senate, review of the Student Relations Board, and the choosing of a student representative on the Board of Regents, are already in the making, according to McKiernan.

"THE COLLEGE SENATE is a step from the planning process, and will include alumnus, faculty members, and students serving in a senatorial capacity. It will work like the U.S. Senate," stated the Board of Trustees.

The Senate, the senate will have its meeting in DePauw, Edward Henry "a unified backing," senate proposed by President John B. C. and President John C. D. and President John D. Notre Dame, and the M.A. University of Chicago are included in the eight- person department.

Dr. Vatsalas Srinivasan will lecture part-time in the computer science and physics department. The department includes Dr. F. B. A. and M. A. University of Illinois, and the M.A. University of Illinois, and the M.A. University of Illinois, and the M.A. University of Illinois.

Two new faculty will join the English department. Sister Eva Mary Hooker, C.S.C., will be an assistant professor, coming from Denison University. She received her Ph.D. from the University of Chicago. She has taught at Indiana University and has teaching experience.

Sister Eva Mary Hooker, C.S.C., will be an assistant professor, coming from Denison University. She received her Ph.D. from the University of Chicago. She has taught at Indiana University and has teaching experience.

Sister Eva Mary Hooker, C.S.C., will be an assistant professor, coming from Denison University. She received her Ph.D. from the University of Chicago. She has taught at Indiana University and has teaching experience.

Sister Eva Mary Hooker, C.S.C., will be an assistant professor, coming from Denison University. She received her Ph.D. from the University of Chicago. She has taught at Indiana University and has teaching experience.

Sister Eva Mary Hooker, C.S.C., will be an assistant professor, coming from Denison University. She received her Ph.D. from the University of Chicago. She has taught at Indiana University and has teaching experience.

Sister Eva Mary Hooker, C.S.C., will be an assistant professor, coming from Denison University. She received her Ph.D. from the University of Chicago. She has taught at Indiana University and has teaching experience.

Sister Eva Mary Hooker, C.S.C., will be an assistant professor, coming from Denison University. She received her Ph.D. from the University of Chicago. She has taught at Indiana University and has teaching experience.

Sister Eva Mary Hooker, C.S.C., will be an assistant professor, coming from Denison University. She received her Ph.D. from the University of Chicago. She has taught at Indiana University and has teaching experience.
Notre Dame victim of U.S. beef shortage

Notre Dame has not gone unaffected by the recent beef shortage and food price increases that have plagued the country for some time. According to Food Services Director Edmund T. Price, concern has been drawn over the past few weeks among students and faculty. The beef shortage has been particularly severe, as it has affected the menu offerings and overall cost of meals at the university.

Price emphasized that the menus offered by the food service department have been adjusted to accommodate the beef shortage. The menu changes have been necessitated by the fact that the university is unable to purchase the same quantities of beef as in the past. As a result, the prices of beef-based meals have increased, and the university is working to strike a balance between cost and quality.

St. Mary's also plaguing

Saga switching to substitutes

Price instability and shortages of some food items will force Saga to modify their fall meal menu accordingly, says St. Mary's food service director, Robert Lee, who is also the food service director for St. Mary's and St. Stanislaus. In a statement for publication, Caswell recognized the nationwide food shortages and noted that efforts to cut costs in several areas, including meat consumption, would be necessary.

Caswell said, "We will all be much more careful with meat purchases and try to maintain a good balance of, fresh, frozen, and canned items as well as breads."

Despite price increases, Caswell assured students "We still serve eggs every morning," although not necessarily fresh eggs if the frozen, pasteurized variety proves cheaper and more readily available. He foresees no shortages in seafood, fresh fruits and vegetables, juices and pork. He further emphasized that no matter how severe the shortage, Saga will not purchase processed meats.

"Other than that, we'll use whatever meat is available," he said.

Caswell refused to buy back the market discount since, although beef is cheaper, he predicted "prices will be jumping all over the place. We won't buy anything until they stabilize."

"We have not increased food prices and we are still serving eggs every morning," although not necessarily fresh eggs if the frozen, pasteurized variety proves cheaper and more readily available. He foresees no shortages in seafood, fresh fruits and vegetables, juices and pork. He further emphasized that no matter how severe the shortage, Saga will not purchase processed meats.

"Other than that, we'll use whatever meat is available," he said.

Caswell refused to buy back the market discount since, although beef is cheaper, he predicted "prices will be jumping all over the place. We won't buy anything until they stabilize."

Sandock Says...

"A ROOM WITHOUT A RUG IS LIKE A KISS WITHOUT A HUG!!"

Sandock Remnant Sale

Carpet Remnant Sale

SAVE! UP

PERFECT FOR DORM OR APARTMENT!

Shop and save at Carpe-Way! Choose from 1000's of best quality remnants! Sandock's has outgoing or oversize, not to be missed bargains like 12 x 5' rugs worth up to $99 for only $19.25; 12 x 9' rugs worth up to $199 for only $58.65. All remnants cash-carry for biggest savings. Check the Sandock's for best selection.

"Michiana's Carpet King"

SANDOCK'S

CARPET-WAY

50760 U.S. 31 NORTH

3 Miles North of ND...

Near the State Line

1-232-2500
Irish attack faces the challenge

by Vic Deir
Sports Editor

From high atop Miami's Orange Bowl, the play did not look pretty. Quarterback John Demmerle guided the Irish to Nebraska's six-yard line, and now he took the snap from Joe Alvarez and rolled out to his right.

Clements was pursued, immediately, by a cluster of white-shirted Nebraska defenders, and as he neared the far sideline he stopped and gunned a hurried pass back across the middle of the field, into the end zone.

The touchdown was significant in that it avoided a shutout, but the significance did not end there. The three players who handled the ball during the scoring play—Alvarez, Clements, and Demmerle—were all sophomores last season, and all return this season with 9 years' experience and maturity behind them.

Are they the only ones? Two halfbacks, two fullbacks, a tackle-turned-tight end, and several linemen also return to spearhead what may be Notre Dame's most potent offensive team since the 1953 campaign.

"The great thing about athletics is that new challenges always lie ahead," said Tom Parseghian, ND's veteran coach, "and next season we're a year older, a year more mature, and a year more experienced.

That maturity, bought with experience, is particularly evident in Parseghian's two-number-one quarterbacks, Tom Clements and Cliff Brown. Clements, who started all eleven games last season, and Brown, who guided the Irish in seven of their ten outings in 1971, were competing for a wide-open qb slot during spring drills.

They stayed that way through the annual Blue-Gold game, and now, less than three weeks before the season opener, are still locked in a head-to-head duel for the starting job."

"You can go through a season with one quarterback," said Parseghian, "so it's definitely to the team's advantage that we have some real competition there. When two quarterbacks are battling nose-to-nose, it can only help both of them.

"There's a lot of things that happen in the Burbank of the Midwest, South Bend. Now don't get me wrong, Lincoln's got nothing to compare to South Bend. As a matter of fact, I'll take South Bend any day.

"South Bend has a tourist season which Lincolns will never have. It lasts from September to May. The people have a name for the tourist season, you know. It's more mature, and a year more experience."

At the other skilled positions—at wide receiver and running back—the Irish have been blessed with a wealth of talent. Senior Willie Townsend (6-3, 245) and Mark Brenneman (6-4, 245) are a pair of seniors, are struggling for the number-one center's position. There didn't figure to be any competition to either side of Brenneman and Alvarez. There, at the guards, the Irish had pre-season All-American Frank Pecora and talented junior Gerry DiNardo. But the picture was scrambled last Saturday when, during a scrimmage, Pecora tore the ligaments in his ankle and was replaced by senior Dan Mornin.

"The pass threaded its way around Andy Huff's shadow, has a solid hold on the vacant fullback position.

But sophomore Russ Kornman, senior Gary Diminick, junior AI Sylvester (6-4, 248) and Steve Casper, who left the interior line to make depth at tight end a priority during the spring. One, by the graduation of John Demmerle, and the other by the departure of Dave Cooper, who left the interior line to play tight end.

"We've got eleven boys on the offensive line, where Joe Alvarez, who returns to it every May. This student is used to things happening in the Burbank of the Midwest, South Bend. Now don't get me wrong, Lincoln's got nothing to compare to South Bend. As a matter of fact, I'll take South Bend any day.

"South Bend has a tourist season which Lincolns will never have. It lasts from September to May. The people have a name for the tourist season, you know. It's more mature, and a year more experience."

At the other skilled positions—at wide receiver and running back—the Irish have been blessed with a wealth of talent. Senior Willie Townsend (6-3, 245) and Mark Brenneman (6-4, 245) are a pair of seniors, are struggling for the number-one center's position. There didn't figure to be any competition to either side of Brenneman and Alvarez. There, at the guards, the Irish had pre-season All-American Frank Pecora and talented junior Gerry DiNardo. But the picture was scrambled last Saturday when, during a scrimmage, Pecora tore the ligaments in his ankle and was replaced by senior Dan Mornin.

"The pass threaded its way around Andy Huff's shadow, has a solid hold on the vacant fullback position.

But sophomore Russ Kornman, senior Gary Diminick, junior AI Sylvester (6-4, 248) and Steve Casper, who left the interior line to make depth at tight end a priority during the spring. One, by the graduation of John Demmerle, and the other by the departure of Dave Cooper, who left the interior line to play tight end.

"We've got eleven boys on the offensive line, where Joe Alvarez, who returns to it every May. This student is used to things happening in the Burbank of the Midwest, South Bend. Now don't get me wrong, Lincoln's got nothing to compare to South Bend. As a matter of fact, I'll take South Bend any day.

"South Bend has a tourist season which Lincolns will never have. It lasts from September to May. The people have a name for the tourist season, you know. It's more mature, and a year more experience."

At the other skilled positions—at wide receiver and running back—the Irish have been blessed with a wealth of talent. Senior Willie Townsend (6-3, 245) and Mark Brenneman (6-4, 245) are a pair of seniors, are struggling for the number-one center's position. There didn't figure to be any competition to either side of Brenneman and Alvarez. There, at the guards, the Irish had pre-season All-American Frank Pecora and talented junior Gerry DiNardo. But the picture was scrambled last Saturday when, during a scrimmage, Pecora tore the ligaments in his ankle and was replaced by senior Dan Mornin.

"The pass threaded its way around Andy Huff's shadow, has a solid hold on the vacant fullback position.

But sophomore Russ Kornman, senior Gary Diminick, junior AI Sylvester (6-4, 248) and Steve Casper, who left the interior line to make depth at tight end a priority during the spring. One, by the graduation of John Demmerle, and the other by the departure of Dave Cooper, who left the interior line to play tight end.

"We've got eleven boys on the offensive line, where Joe Alvarez, who returns to it every May. This student is used to things happening in the Burbank of the Midwest, South Bend. Now don't get me wrong, Lincoln's got nothing to compare to South Bend. As a matter of fact, I'll take South Bend any day.

"South Bend has a tourist season which Lincolns will never have. It lasts from September to May. The people have a name for the tourist season, you know. It's more mature, and a year more experience."

At the other skilled positions—at wide receiver and running back—the Irish have been blessed with a wealth of talent. Senior Willie Townsend (6-3, 245) and Mark Brenneman (6-4, 245) are a pair of seniors, are struggling for the number-one center's position. There didn't figure to be any competition to either side of Brenneman and Alvarez. There, at the guards, the Irish had pre-season All-American Frank Pecora and talented junior Gerry DiNardo. But the picture was scrambled last Saturday when, during a scrimmage, Pecora tore the ligaments in his ankle and was replaced by senior Dan Mornin.

"The pass threaded its way around Andy Huff's shadow, has a solid hold on the vacant fullback position.

But sophomore Russ Kornman, senior Gary Diminick, junior AI Sylvester (6-4, 248) and Steve Casper, who left the interior line to make depth at tight end a priority during the spring. One, by the graduation of John Demmerle, and the other by the departure of Dave Cooper, who left the interior line to play tight end.

"We've got eleven boys on the offensive line, where Joe Alvarez, who returns to it every May. This student is used to things happening in the Burbank of the Midwest, South Bend. Now don't get me wrong, Lincoln's got nothing to compare to South Bend. As a matter of fact, I'll take South Bend any day.

"South Bend has a tourist season which Lincolns will never have. It lasts from September to May. The people have a name for the tourist season, you know. It's more mature, and a year more experience."

At the other skilled positions—at wide receiver and running back—the Irish have been blessed with a wealth of talent. Senior Willie Townsend (6-3, 245) and Mark Brenneman (6-4, 245) are a pair of seniors, are struggling for the number-one center's position. There didn't figure to be any competition to either side of Brenneman and Alvarez. There, at the guards, the Irish had pre-season All-American Frank Pecora and talented junior Gerry DiNardo. But the picture was scrambled last Saturday when, during a scrimmage, Pecora tore the ligaments in his ankle and was replaced by senior Dan Mornin.

"The pass threaded its way around Andy Huff's shadow, has a solid hold on the vacant fullback position.

But sophomore Russ Kornman, senior Gary Diminick, junior AI Sylvester (6-4, 248) and Steve Casper, who left the interior line to make depth at tight end a priority during the spring. One, by the graduation of John Demmerle, and the other by the departure of Dave Cooper, who left the interior line to play tight end.
New South Dining Hall features scramble areas

by Jerry Latkus
Editor-in-Chief

A newly-renovated and completely air-conditioned South Dining Hall opened to students as they returned to campus over the Labor Day weekend. The renovation, drawn up by Ellerbe Architects, is in its final stages as workers complete the finishing touches.

The new design completely alters the flow of traffic within the dining hall. All students are to enter the hall by the front doors. DIRECTLY in front of them as they enter are the new doors which lead into the pay cafeteria, now named "the Oak Room."

Students then veer off to either the left or right, where a wrought-iron fence will guide them to the location of the "checkers." These dining hall employees will be sitting approximately in the area where the old doors to the pay cafeteria were located.

The flow of traffic will lead the students down a hallway, which used to be the side sections of the pay cafeteria, into the serving area in which the old kitchen used to be located. As the students walk into the serving area, in the center of the room will be a cart containing fruit, doughnuts and other similar items. On either side of the serving or scramble room are counters containing six of serving counters containing six... read it instead of leaving the paper on their trays.

Once finished, the students can exit the cafeteria by the side doors or the front doors, both which used to serve the students as entrances. Ryan emphasized that there are "two tremendous pluses" to the new system. "It has increased the seating by 400 in the dining hall and it took all the serving lines out of the dining room," he said.

According to Ryan, the kitchen area in the dining hall was "completely gutted" and all new, highly-automated equipment was installed. All the commissary items, including the butcher's shop and bakery, have been moved completely into the North Dining Hall.

The two men asked for patience on the students part while a traffic pattern is worked out through use of the new facilities. "We need your (the students) cooperation and patience to allow for the necessary changes in the traffic patterns and for you (the students) to become accustomed to the new scramble system of food service," they said. The entire renovation was accomplished this summer with work being done under the auspices of Black Construction Co. Mechanical work was done by Statkwy-Polts of South Bend and Morris Electric handled the wiring and lighting.

No cost estimate was available for the renovation.

The South Dining Hall has recently been renamed to more efficiently serve Notre Dame students. Renovations feature new "scramble areas" and conveyor belt systems.

ALL OF LAST YEAR'S TYPISTS, COMPIRUGIC OPERATORS, AND NIGHT CONTROLLERS WHO WISH TO WORK AGAIN THIS YEAR, PLEASE CONTACT HOWARD AT 1175 AS SOON AS POSSIBLE!

AUDITIONS for Mixed Choral Ensembles at Notre Dame university chorus chapel choir polyphonic choir

Wed., Thurs., Fri. 1-4 p.m.

Sign-up outside Room 247

Men—Watch for Glee Club auditions

WE'RE ALL THINGS

University TO ALL/MEN

Regardless of your taste or budget, we have the apparel and accessories that suit you: jeans, shirts, jackets, sweaters, suits, sportcoats, outer-coats, shoes, ties, belts...everything the university man could want...and all at competitive prices! Stop in and look over our brand new selections for this school year. We've got it all together, on campus, for you.

YOUR STORE

in style, price, and terms