Academic Council polled concerning new calendar

by Howard Wood and
Claude Devany

In a survey of 35 members of the Academic Council, The Observer found that twelve of the respondents favored major changes in the new calendar proposed by the student body. The survey also revealed that seven members had "no objection to a recall vote." Six new members stated that they would have to hear new arguments before making a decision on the matter. Seven members had "no comment." The 12 members that object are returning members on the Council. They were on the Council in December 1972 that voted to give the Administration the right to draw up a new calendar.

Dr. Robert Gordon, vice president for advanced study, objects to a recall vote. "I don't believe in bringing back old issues in order to vote on them again." Dr. Morris Pullard, director of Leobnd Лalternation, opposes the proposed pre-Labor Day start but does not think that a recall vote will help. "A new vote would create more havoc. It's too late."

The seven members of last year's Council that do not object to a recall vote offered their comments. Fr. Jerome Wilson, vice president for student affairs, stated, "I accept all things Fr. Burtchase enunciated, but if there was a recall I would take careful consideration and think it over--very seriously before I would change my vote." Professor Frederick Crosson, of the College of Arts and Letters, who is "neutral" toward the new calendar, stated, "I have an open mind toward a recall vote. I want to hear arguments on both sides before I make a decision."

Six of the ten new members of the Academic Council interviewed said they would make a decision unless they heard the arguments presented.

These are the results of the survey.

Members who object to a recall vote:
Dr. Robert Gordon
Professor Le Corbaci
Dr. Bernard Waldman
Professor Thomas Murphy
Mr. Richard Sullivan
Mr. John Magee
Mr. John Goldrick

Members who did not object to a recall vote:
Dr. Edward Vasta
Dr. Timothy O'Hara
Dr. Kenyon Tweedell
Professor Francis Beytagh
Dr. John Fitzgerald

Members who did not object to a recall vote: Respondent Jerome Wilson, CSC
Professor Frederick Crosson
Mr. David Sparks
Dr. J. Philip Gleason
Professor Bernard Norling
Dr. Charles Mullin
Professor Stephen Kertesz

New members who did not object to a recall vote:
Dr. George Brinkley
Dr. Thomas Fechner
Mr. James Stevens
Bro. Finian Taylor
No new members objected to a recall vote. All the others would hear arguments before making a decision.

They were:
Professor Walter Kiegiorki
Professor James Robinson
Professor Mario Piccon
Professor R. Williamson
Dr. Gerard Jones
Mr. James Low

Members in favor of the new calendar:
Fr. Wilson
Dr. Gordon
Professor Corbaci
Dr. Waldman
Dr. Emil Hoffman
Mr. Goldrick
Professor Kertesz
Reverend Robert Auten, CSC
Mr. Sullivan
Dr. Vasta
Bro. Taylor

Members not in favor of the new calendar:
Dr. Pollard
Dr. Jones
Professor Norling
Dr. Gleason
Dr. Charles Allen
Dr. Mullin
Dr. Tweedell

Members indifferent to new calendar:
Professor Crosson, Dr. Magee
Mr. Sparks
Dr. Fitzgerald
Professor Beytagh

No comment concerning calendar:
Fr. Ferdinand Boul, CSC
Dr. Roosoph Hogan
Dr. William Burke

Powell explains CPA criteria

by Terry Keeney
Staff Reporter

Dr. Ray Powell, chairman of the department of accounting, desired any impropriety in using university grade point averages to determine eligibility for the baseball team last semester.

"I know of nothing in University annals which in the way of academic regulations prevents a chairman--already a Department or the University--from setting a standard for entry into a course or program," Powell explained in an interview over the weekend.

Powell admitted that of the 176 senior accounting majors only those with CPA above 2.775 were eligible for the 105 course cards. To Powell, the equitable way to distribute the course cards was the CPA criteria.

"Given the existence faculty availability and facing the problems," Powell said, "it was my professional judgment that this as equitable as any method."

Powell pointed out that a week of consultation with senior accounting majors could not produce a more efficient method.

GPA confidentiality

Powell denied that he had violated the confidentiality of the GPA by releasing a listing of all accounting majors in order from high to low. He insisted that he preserved the confidentiality.

"I said to the trustees as we got the opening: the student ranking I am making available to them in the enrollment process is confidential; they were not to remove it from the room," Powell said.

Powell noted that those enrolled in the CPA course were required to give the list of grade point averages to a professor as proof of enrollment. Only one student failed to return the GPA listing, Powell claimed.

"One student violated the confidence," charged (continued on page 3)

Dr. Powell, interviewed recently, discussed GPA as a criteria for CPA coaching course.

by Gary Ailletta
Staff Reporter

This year's Sugar Bowl has become the center of controversy for a group of Orleans' blacks. According to Dr. Guy Gipson, a black educator in the city, if the Mid-Winter Sports Association, which runs the Sugar Bowl does not meet his group's demands, there will be an "all out boycott" of the bowl games by blacks.

Chairman of the Leobnd Loband Association, which runs the Sugar Bowl does not meet his group's demands, the Sugar Bowl was my personal responsibility," Gipson reiterated.

"If there has been a black in the Sugar Bowl committee, it has been my professional responsibility," Gipson stated.

Dr. Powell and the University from the situation from city officials in New Orleans last week. Dr. Powell feels that the police are "trying to cool it," for taking action on this very sensitive latent problem would only encourage its eruption.

Dr. Powell, chairman of the department of accounting, desired any impropriety in using university grade point averages to determine eligibility for the baseball team last semester.

"I know of nothing in University annals which in the way of academic regulations prevents a chairman--already a Department or the University--from setting a standard for entry into a course or program," Powell explained in an interview over the weekend.

Powell admitted that of the 176 senior accounting majors only those with CPA above 2.775 were eligible for the 105 course cards. To Powell, the equitable way to distribute the course cards was the CPA criteria.

"Given the existence faculty availability and facing the problems," Powell said, "it was my professional judgment that this as equitable as any method."

Powell pointed out that a week of consultation with senior accounting majors could not produce a more efficient method.

GPA confidentiality

Powell denied that he had violated the confidentiality of the GPA by releasing a listing of all accounting majors in order from high to low. He insisted that he preserved the confidentiality.

"I said to the trustees as we got the opening: the student ranking I am making available to them in the enrollment process is confidential; they were not to remove it from the room," Powell said.

Powell noted that those enrolled in the CPA course were required to give the list of grade point averages to a professor as proof of enrollment. Only one student failed to return the GPA listing, Powell claimed.

"One student violated the confidence," charged (continued on page 3)

Dr. Powell, interviewed recently, discussed GPA as a criteria for CPA coaching course.

by Gary Ailletta
Staff Reporter

This year's Sugar Bowl has become the center of controversy for a group of Orleans' blacks. According to Dr. Guy Gipson, a black educator in the city, if the Mid-Winter Sports Association, which runs the Sugar Bowl does not meet his group's demands, there will be an "all out boycott" of the bowl games by blacks.

Chairman of the Leobnd Loband Association, which runs the Sugar Bowl does not meet his group's demands, the Sugar Bowl was my personal responsibility," Gipson reiterated.

"If there has been a black in the Sugar Bowl committee, it has been my professional responsibility," Gipson stated.

Dr. Powell and the University from the situation from city officials in New Orleans last week. Dr. Powell feels that the police are "trying to cool it," for taking action on this very sensitive latent problem would only encourage its eruption.

by Gary Ailletta
Staff Reporter

This year's Sugar Bowl has become the center of controversy for a group of Orleans' blacks. According to Dr. Guy Gipson, a black educator in the city, if the Mid-Winter Sports Association, which runs the Sugar Bowl does not meet his group's demands, there will be an "all out boycott" of the bowl games by blacks.

Chairman of the Leobnd Loband Association, which runs the Sugar Bowl does not meet his group's demands, the Sugar Bowl was my personal responsibility," Gipson reiterated.

"If there has been a black in the Sugar Bowl committee, it has been my professional responsibility," Gipson stated.

Dr. Powell and the University from the situation from city officials in New Orleans last week. Dr. Powell feels that the police are "trying to cool it," for taking action on this very sensitive latent problem would only encourage its eruption.
world briefs

ISRAEL—The Israeli military command reported nine incidents on the tense Egyptian and Syrian cease-fire lines Saturday and said guerrillas fired on Israeli troops near the Lebanese border.

A military spokesman claimed forces from Egypt's 2nd Army opened fire on Israeli troops four times during the day east of Lake Timnah southeast of Ismailia. He said units from Egypt's Third Army opened fire in four other incidents in the Small Bitter Lake area.

.. WASHINGTON—President Nixon plans to set up a new federal agency reporting directly to him to manage the fuel crisis, administration and congressional sources said Saturday.

An administration source said the agency, to be named the Federal Energy Administration and headed by Deputy Treasury Secretary William E. Simon, would be announced by Simon on Monday.

.. WASHINGTON—Roy Ash, director of the Office of Management and Budget, said the administration will fall short of its goal of a balanced budget this fiscal year by $2 billion to $3 billion.

No decision has been made, he added, as to whether to try again to balance the budget in fiscal 1976.

---

SMC Commissions denounce calendar

by Peggy Freeriks

Staff Reporter

The Hall Life Commission and the Student Affairs Commission at St. Mary's issued a joint statement last night denouncing the new student calendar. The statement supported the HPC's stance on the calendar.

Joanne Garrett of the Student Affairs Commission stated, "The commissions' objections against the new calendar are two-fold. The pre-Labor Day start will interfere with the summer jobs of many students. The commissions argued that the ten day break at the end of October is impractical. It would be too expensive for many students to go home during this break and again at Thanksgiving."

It would also break up the continuity of courses. The commissions will be channeling their dissatisfaction through the Academic Commissioner.

According to Ann Smith of the Hall Life Commission, "St. Mary's students are just as dissatisfied with the new calendar as Notre Dame students are because of its impracticality. We, along with the HPC, urge a reconsideration of the calendar."

---

Sorin resident stricken, listed in critical condition

by Melissa Byrne

Staff Reporter

Joseph Furlong, a Notre Dame sophomore and resident of Sorin Hall, was admitted to St. Joseph Hospital on Friday morning, Nov. 30, after suffering an aneurysm (an imperfect blood vessel which burst in the brain).

Furlong is still in critical condition. He is now breathing on his own and his heart beat is good. "He gained consciousness for a little longer period each day," said Fr. Richard Zang, rector of Sorin Hall. "He is still in the intensive care unit at the hospital."

Furlong went to the Notre Dame Infirmary on Friday morning where he was under treatment for a sore throat. He was at the infirmary when he lapsed into unconsciousness.

Furlong's parents flew to South Bend from their home in Pelham, New York, late Friday evening. "There has been widespread concern for Joe on campus," said Fr. Zang. "The Furlong family has been very pleased with the concern they've seen by everyone here at Notre Dame."

Sorin Hall offered a mass on Monday for Furlong's recovery. "About all we can do now is pray for Joe," said Tom Fortestel, Furlong's roommate.

---

Pier 1 Imports

Student Union Presents:

Notre Dame Football Special!

A Train Trip Package to the Sugar Bowl only $130.00★

Package includes:

- Round-trip train fare from Chicago
- Food and Party on the Train
- 4 days and 3 nights in the Brandiff Place Hotel (located 5 blocks from Bourbon Street)

Packages Available Monday 7-9 pm

Student Union Ticket Office

★Deposit of $25 required - balance due on Dec. 10

+Package does not include football ticket.

---

CAMPUS REPRESENTATIVE

NEED D

We custom make commemorative & personalized plaques that tend themselves to selling through an imaginative portion which promote to other individuals and groups such as fraternities, churches, high schools, etc. Our main achievement here is guiding our efforts with their own. The person that we select should be able to manage other sales people in the same line of work. Your reply should include the year you graduate and the amount of time each week that you can invest. Also include your thoughts on how a commemorative plaque could best be pronounced on your campus should Notre Dame win the Sugar Bowl.

NORTHCRAFT

Box 1 Westport, NY 12993

---

The Observer

Saturday, December 3, 1972
New reality therapy is stressed

by Mary Kay Baron
Staff Reporter

I am me
I am happy to be me
because being me is good!

Only I can be me,
So assist me in
Opening my eyes.

“We need to be accepted as an individual, genuinely, before we can work for a goal. Our own self-worth supersedes our working toward a career...”

Ideas such as these evolved from Saturday’s all-day “Success–Failure in An Identity Society” workshop, held in Carroll Hall Saint Mary’s College. Coordinated by Sister Maria C. McDermott, the workshop was the first of a 3 consecutive week series lecture program offered to all school personnel who have contacts with children in school on any level.

The workshop is open also to those who want to improve their knowledge of and implementation of good interpersonal relationships. Approximately 30 people attended the workshop.

Dr. Thomas McGuinness, director of research and development, Educator Training Center Institute for Reality Therapy, Los Angeles, California, led discussions about “Involvement in an Identity Society,” and conducted demonstrations of group dynamics

Powell: GPA is good course determinant

(continued from page 1)

Dr. Powell, who probably says more about the student’s professional attitude at this time. He called the complaints of GPA confidentiality a “red herring.” He feels the dissension among accounting seniors was not caused by the method of selection, but by individuals’ dissatisfaction on being refused the course.

Added no sections

The accounting department could not add sections of the CPA coaching course to accommodate all those wanting the course. Powell observed that his department had a 40 per cent increase in student enrollment over two years while the university administration denied permission to hire more faculty.

Powell added, “Meanwhile we have two less faculty due to retirements and terminations and it is impossible to add sections of CPA coaching which would permit enrollment beyond three sections of 15 students each.”

Powell favors the use of the GPA as the sole criteria for course determination. He cited a two-year study of CPA examination pass rates in Indiana and Illinois which demonstrates that the better the grade point average the better chance of passing the test. Only one Notre Dame student of 2,8 cumulative grade point who took the CPA test last year passed, according to Powell.

When asked if a university could legally use the grade point average as the sole criteria for course admittance, Powell replied that he saw no reason why it could not. “Having served in the post of Chairman for fourteen years I know of no prescription which precludes the university from doing this,” said Powell.

Dr. McGuinness contends that students today are searching for an identity or a role before a goal. They feel the internal pressures of “what I want to do” rather than the external pressures of school and parents. Today, students are more concerned with the internal locus of control, they want to know the rationale, and the concept of personal growth and change procedures, to maintain the status quo (It’s always done that way)-principle.

Some of the conditions which produced this change in priorities are the era of affluence, political ideologies, and the television and advertising industries, said Dr. McGuinness while the TV promises to solve all problems in 28 minutes, the advertisement replace the goal sell with the “role” sell.

Dr. McGuinness concluded that society has become established in which a person needs to know who he is before he decides what he is to become. Personal worth, caring about each other and interdependence in a changing society are key components of the new trend.

Other topics and guest speakers for the remaining two workshops in the series are: “Reality Therapy” demonstrated by Beth Crofoot, Institute of Reality Internalized or externalized? which will be presented by Sister Maria Concepta McDermott of Saint Mary’s.

Co-Ex Tickets

Dec. 3: Morrissey, Pangborn, Holy Cross
Dec. 4: Stanford, Howard, Sorin, Badin
Dec. 5: Flannor, Walsh, St. Joe’s
Dec. 6: Dillon, Pasley, St. Ed’s
Dec. 7: Keenan, Cavanaugh, B-P
Dec. 8: Grace Lyons
Dec. 9: Morrissey, Pangborn, Holy Cross
Dec. 10: Alumni, Zahm, Fisher

TB TESTS

MANDATORY FOR TUTORS

given 11-2 p.m. Tues. Dec. 4

checks 11-7 p.m. Fri. Dec. 11

at LaFortune

all must report

call 5731 for info

WHAT’S YOUR GIRL BACK HOME DOING TONIGHT?

Long distance still is the next best thing to being there. And you can save money by calling nights or weekends.

Get your shoes repaired BEFORE Christmas Break
at TONY’S Shoe Shop
Behind Adm. Bldg.
Some Class, Ice Fans

Friday night after the lackadaisical hockey team's loss to a slow Denver team, a frustrated fan hurled an empty glass bottle in the direction of the Denver bench, nearly missing a player. No frustration, not even the terrible performance of ND's "star-studded" team, justifies that criminal act. Yet, no usher grabbed the assailant and no person in the section around him turned him over to the authorities.

If the bottle had found its mark, a player could have been seriously injured and the bottle-throwing act could have been considered an assault—a criminal offense. Yet, the student who heaved the bottle got off scot-free.

It's really time for this kind of nonsense to stop. Steve Klein, hockey writer for The South Bend Tribune, claims that ND is getting a reputation around the WCHA as a really classless place because of the litter that is generally thrown on the ice and the abuse that is given to the officials. And incidents like this one merely serve to make the situation worse.

Jerry Lutkus

What Happened?

One year ago, the move to renovate LaFortune Student Center began in earnest. After a year of work, a final model, a philosophy and a complete renovation plan was completed. But since then, the renovation schemes have been sufficiently squelched. What happened to them?

Jerry Lutkus

Greet The Best

Tonight at 7:30, the Fighting Irish football team returns to Notre Dame with their 1-0 mark and carries with them a bid to play for the national championship in the Sugar Bowl.

When Digger's charges returned to ND last season with a second place finish in the NIT, the circle was mobbed with welcome back the next national champion.

Butch Ward

doonesbury
garry trudeau

P.O. Box Q

Frank's Monday night football column.

I would like to believe when we are given the opportunity to see some one as great as Dylan, and yes, even witness all time hit of history when a Saint, that we won't be deprived of that rare opportunity because of something with as little significance as a basketball game. I daresay, you would have heard an ACCLeon to the rafters with cheering, admiring people, rather than a perhaps two-thirds full arena with an occasion­ally choring crowd that everyone knows D. N. D. can only cheer when the team is doing well, if only we had been a little more aware of the opportunity to have here an artist such as Bob Dylan, a great sportsman, and that has been created here in our little community. The opportunity to have here an artist that has been created here in our little community.

Editor:

Regarding the piece by Father McNally in today's Observer in which he discusses the qualities of Professor Vassoli (Decreasing Mass Attendance, Diminishing Importance of Theology, Fewer Religious on Campus—and the generally recognized fact of the waning of Catholicism on this campus), Father McNally evidences a sign of either stupidity, blindness, dishonesty, or naivete. As a fellow priest and professor who has been on this campus for 35 years I hope the word "naivete" applies in another instance—what is defined in the Thorndike-Barnhart Dictionary, 1972 edition, as "simplicity, as in a small child". As a matter of fact it appears to me, that McNally's final sentence "despite its flaws, (Notre Dame) is a good place to be..." is an echo of another statement allegedly made by another USC priest a few years ago: "What better place for a man to lose his faith, than at Notre Dame?"

(Rev) Edmund J. Murray CSC

Dylan and the Dome

Editor:

It causes me great pain to know that even though the magnitude and greatness such as Bob Dylan can hold second fiddle to the great sportard that has been created here in our little community. The opportunity to have here an artist that has been created here in our little community. The opportunity to have here an artist such as Bob Dylan, a great sportsman, and that has been created here in our little community. The opportunity to have here an artist such as Bob Dylan, a great sportsman, and that has been created here in our little community.

It was a matter of fact it appears to me, that McNally's final sentence "despite its flaws, (Notre Dame) is a good place to be..." is an echo of another statement allegedly made by another USC priest a few years ago: "What better place for a man to lose his faith, than at Notre Dame?"

Sincerely,

Patrick Dillon

Frank's Monday night football column.

I would like to believe when we are given the opportunity to see some one as great as Dylan, and yes, even witness all time hit of history when a Saint, that we won't be deprived of that rare opportunity because of something with as little significance as a basketball game. I daresay, you would have heard an ACCLeon to the rafters with cheering, admiring people, rather than a perhaps two-thirds full arena with an occasion­ally choring crowd that everyone knows D. N. D. can only cheer when the team is doing well, if only we had been a little more aware of the opportunity to have here an artist such as Bob Dylan, a great sportsman, and that has been created here in our little community. The opportunity to have here an artist such as Bob Dylan, a great sportsman, and that has been created here in our little community. The opportunity to have here an artist such as Bob Dylan, a great sportsman, and that has been created here in our little community. The opportunity to have here an artist such as Bob Dylan, a great sportsman, and that has been created here in our little community.

Edmund J. Murray

We have a rather bizarre reaction from those 2000 or so students who desire home rule. The military assures our military...
Bright and since Friday will be Christmas specials in the coming weeks and film has Ben Johnson as a sports-on-the-issue for the semester. Hopefully, we will (Gleason is not too hot on the marriage) too with this paper, and hence this column they perform with an eye on timing and shall note the highlights up to the end of son after this week’s programs are reviewed, I brain father trying to push his highschool December since that is when my advance Naturally the game is football but it’s no Friday night when the family finds the true of The Summer of 42. Barbara Bain plays a Neal and Andrew Duggan have the original in 1944. Catch here is, the daughter (Kay somewhat a television phenomenon. The in Switzerland. If you can avoid the time does not concern a dis,ease, but there is Ekland star in The Double Man, about a CIA are usually portrayed on "Danger Mountain is slated for the ABC Suspense Movie" slot on Saturday. Appearing to be a take-off on the short story "The Most Danger Game" we have Richard Basehart as a hunter sighting off his nut letting loose a tiger against Ben Gazzara and Sharee North on Basehart’s preserve. Basehart has played madmen roles before and he is quite adept at it. So, if the plot doesn’t call for it being overtone, this film could be decent escapists fare. The rest of the films this week portend little in the area of enjoyment. How to Commit Marriage is two veteran comedians, BobHope and Jackie Gleason, as the fathers of a bride and groom. Usually they perform with an eye on timing and comedy but the script bags down the plot (Gleason is not too hot on the marriage) with unnecessary and not funny slapstick. It airs Saturday. Bloodsport, a made-for-TV film has Ben Johnson as a sports-on-the-brain father trying to push his highschool son into the college offering the most. Naturally the game is football but it’s not Brian’s Song. Tuesday’s made-for-TV ABC film is A Summer Without Boys, a variation of The Summer of 42. Barbara Bain plays a woman on the verge of losing her husband to a decaying marriage who falls for 44 Michael Moriarty (Bing the Drum Slowly) in 1944. Catch here is, the daughter (Kay Lenz - "Lisa - Bright and Dark") also loves the boy. And tonight Yul Brynner and Britt Ekland star in The Double Man, about a CIA who investigates the murder of his son in Switzerland. If you can avoid the card-board performances and phoney backdrops there is a pretty good plot with some neat twists hidden in it. Watch the game instead. The Steelers play the Dolphins at Miami at nine. Now for the specials. For daytime watchers, ABC has five one hour dramas slated at 1:30pm this week for their "Matinee Playbreak" semi-regular series. On NBC Tuesday, the story of "Hans Brinker" will be repeated and at ten tomorrow, ABC presents Alan King hosting Milton Berle, George Burns, Godfrey Cambridge, Angie Dickinson (for what reason I don’t know), Nancy Dussault, Tod Tilden, Don Knotts, Steve Landesberg, Rich Little, Howard Morris, Danny Thomas, and Henny Youngman in "The Many Faces of Comedy" reruns Thursday at eight and Jason Roberts, Jr., encore in "The House Without a Christmas Tree" following at 8:30 on 22. This last special, although produced first, is a sequel to "The Thanksgiving Treasure" a few weeks ago. On the serious side, Thursday, "CBS Reports" probes corporations, which had been postponed earlier this season. And for the kiddies, "Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer" is rerun again on 22 at eight. The specials coming up in future weeks include Bing Crosby and Bob Hope shows next Sunday on 16. An Andy Williams special premieres on the thirteenth and the "Hallmark Hall of Fame" unveils a new drama called "The Borrowers" on the fourteenth. G. E. Theater presentation as yet unannounced will occupy the CBS Tuesday movie slot Dec. 18 and the Rockefeller are examined Dec. 28 on CBS. I do not have the listings for future ABC offerings since channel 26 has been having trouble with their mailing system. There are a few good movies scheduled for the coming weeks again, I wish had the ABC schedules because their Sunday night films are usually worth the watching). On Monday Dec. 10, Key West premieres. Steve Boyd and Woody Strode star as a pair of Florida private-eyes in a plot that did not sell for this season. NBC also unveil Hesel that following Saturday. Based on the Arthur Haily (Airport) novel, this movie has the usual mash up of soaply plots and a suspenseful ending with Rod Taylor, Catherine Spaak, Karl Malden, and Michael Rennie heading an all-star cast. December 17 premieres Steve Yes Kiss a Stranger on NBC, a sleeper you can kiss off. Advancing a week, also on NBC, one should not miss the encore showing of My Sweet Charlie with Patty Duke and Al Freeman, Jr. on Christmas Eve. This excellent drama based on the Broadway play has pregnant unmarried bigoted Patty Duke living in a Louisiana house vacated by its owners during the winter. Enter black lawyer Freeman who is running from the law and the drama is set up. The film follows the development of their relationship until Christmas Eve when the outside world breaks in with devastating results due to the impending birth of Miss Duke’s baby. For a made-for-TV film, it is far above the average fare and good viewing.

And December 29 premieres Sweet Charity with Shirley MacClaine and Ricardo Montalban. This box office bomb concerns the trials and tribulations of the original happy hooker with some of the finest numbers being performed by a chorus of other women of the street. Its best song is "Hey, Big Spender!" so I suggest you spend a little time with the film that Saturday on NBC. There will be a new version of "The Miracle on 34th Street" sometime over the holidays, probably on ABC, so I suggest watching for it. It will bring back the days when Mary’s parades and Santa Claus had special and different meaning. Diverging a bit... I would like to congratulate the Notre Dame football team for their excellent season. I hope these remarks echo the sentiments of the rest of the senior class in thanking the team for adding a great deal to an already memorable year. Now dam the Tide and full speed ahead Dec. 31. Trivia questions: Edmund Gwenn copped an Oscar for his performance of Kris Kringle in the original Miracle on 34th Street. John Payne and Maureen O’Hara also starred in that 1947 film. What well-known actress today began her movie career as Miss O’Hara’s little girl (about 10 years old at that time) in that movie?
Research meeting slated

by David Salamski Staff Reporter

The Notre Dame branch of the Indiana Public Interest Research Group (InPIRG), will hold a reorganization meeting for all interested students on Monday night, Dec. 3, at 6:30 p.m. in the Fiesta Lounge of LaFortune Student Center. The InPIRG meeting will feature Mr. Mark Riddle, director of InPIRG at Indiana University at Bloomington. Riddle will describe the InPIRG activity at I.U. and suggest ways that Notre Dame can reorganize their InPIRG branch.

ND gives over $44,000 to United Way campaign

A total of $44,511.70 in gifts or about two percent more than the assigned goal of $43,780, was received from faculty members during the last day of the 1973 drive. The greatest share of campus gifts, totaling $27,912.00, came from 339 faculty members who gave an average gift of $82.45. Gifts varied widely in size with many donating twice to three times that "average gift." Participation was very cooperative in our efforts to secure a similar billing arrangement. The way to buy the insurance you need but may feel you can’t afford.

Train tickets

The Student Union has announced the following regulations regarding the sale and distribution of tickets for The Notre Dame Football Special. The Student Union sponsored $10 Sugar Bowl Train Trip packages go on sale this evening at 7:00 pm in the Fiesta Lounge of the Student Union. Sales are on a first come, first serve basis. This travel package is offered to Notre Dame and St. Mary’s Students Only.

A Student I.D. must be shown at the time of purchase. A $25.00 non refundable deposit is required for the purchase of each ticket (checks may be made payable to the University of Notre Dame Student Government Fund.) The balance of the purchase payment must be paid by Mon. Dec. 10 and at the time during the Student Union’s regular Ticket Office hours.

A maximum of 5 tickets may be picked up by one student. So long as there is a student I.D. and deposit for every ticket being purchased. A limit of 100 places will be available Monday evening. However, there exists a possibility of additional places becoming available, dependent upon securing additional transportation and lodging. After the first 100 places are sold, those wishing to place their names on a waiting list may do so with a deposit. In the event of places becoming available those people will be allowed to purchase. The additional travel packages will be sold according to the order of the waiting list.

The trip will be offered only as a package including train transportation and hotel accommodations. Train transportation cannot be separated from the additional reservations.

MISSED OUT?

The requirement for graduation from Notre Dame is one year of PE or ROTC. Now that many of you have sampled the physical education program you might consider Army ROTC this coming semester. You can catch up with your contemporaries already in ROTC and do not have any commitment to further military service during the next year and one half. Look the program over. MS I classes are scheduled for 09 TT. If you desire further information, stop by the Army ROTC offices on the Notre Dame campus or call Captain Weimer at 282-6364.
Irish open impressively, defeat Valparaiso 112-62

by Peggy Lawlor

Digger Phelps’ Irish got off to a good start Saturday afternoon, defeating Valparaiso University 112-62, before a capacity crowd of 11,434. For the first time in Phelps’ career as Notre Dame’s head coach, his team won the season opener. And that wasn’t the only first the Irish earned on Saturday. They scored 100 points for Digger, and they won by the widest margin of victory in almost two decades. But perhaps the most meaningful statistic for the Irish in looking ahead to the season is the fact that every member of the squad who dressed, scored.

Freshman Adrian Dayley led the team scoring with 16 points, and was also tops in the rebouncing category, with nine. Junior co-captain John Shumate tallied 10 points, and was also tops in the scoring category, with nine. Freshman Bill Drew, Irish co-captain and the fifth starter, had six points and seven rebounds. But the scoring didn’t stop with the starting team.

For the Crusaders, guard John Sommecheck was the high point man, with 17, and Jeff Holmes and Mark Kasmer each tallied 13.

“We had hoped to make a better showing, but the full court man-to-man pressure was too hard to stop,” explained Purden. “We tried to set up plays, but they just didn’t work.”

Accuracy seemed to be a problem for Valpo, as only Sommecheck and Kasmer shot over the .500 mark, for the team percentage of just .239. The Irish, on the other hand, shot an excellent .563 from the floor, including .500 or better performances from ten players.

The Irish were never in trouble, as they went ahead 9-4 in the early minutes of the game, and continued to add to their lead throughout the first half, making the halftime score 55-33. The second half was much the same; it was only a matter of how large the Irish margin would be.

For the Crusaders, guard John Sommecheck was the high point man, with 17, and Jeff Holmes and Mark Kasmer each tallied 13.

“We had hoped to make a better showing, but the full court man-to-man pressure was too hard to stop,” explained Purden. “We tried to set up plays, but they just didn’t work.”

The Irish, now 1-0, will attempt to add to their number of wins in the three games facing them this week. They travel to Ohio State on Monday, and to Northwestern on Thursday before returning home next Saturday to meet the St. Louis Billikens.

Guard Dwight Clay was just one of fifteen Irish players making his way into the scoring column in Saturday afternoon’s contest against Valpo.

For the Crusaders, guard John Sommecheck was the high point man, with 17, and Jeff Holmes and Mark Kasmer each tallied 13.

“We had hoped to make a better showing, but the full court man-to-man pressure was too hard to stop,” explained Purden. “We tried to set up plays, but they just didn’t work.”

Accuracy seemed to be a problem for Valpo, as only Sommecheck and Kasmer shot over the .500 mark, for the team percentage of just .239. The Irish, on the other hand, shot an excellent .563 from the floor, including .500 or better performances from ten players.

The Irish were never in trouble, as they went ahead 9-4 in the early minutes of the game, and continued to add to their lead throughout the first half, making the halftime score 55-33. The second half was much the same; it was only a matter of how large the Irish margin would be.

The Irish, now 1-0, will attempt to add to their number of wins in the three games facing them this week. They travel to Ohio State on Monday, and to Northwestern on Thursday before returning home next Saturday to meet the St. Louis Billikens.

Observer Christmas Party

For All Observer People

Dec. 7 8:00 pm
Holy Cross Halfway House

See editors or dept. heads for tickets and more information.

We want everyone there.
MIAMI—It ended as it began, with a 44-0 victory over a puzzling, potentially dangerous opponent. Miami was no longer a team to be taken lightly.

Just under three months ago, Notre Dame's Fighting Irish opened the season at Arizona State and were outscored 24-10. But against Miami's Hurricanes, they had possession of the first Orange Bowl for eleven months to the day. And on this occasion it was different, and they were, they fretted needlessly, over, that "they beat us to death quite badly, and are one of the great teams in the country.

"We'd like to have the games we had played this year. Alabama and Notre Dame will have to decide that for themselves."

And that decision will have to come in one month, when the Irish meet the Crimson Tide in a Sugar Bowl battle of unbeaten. Not for was that fact lost on anyone in the Irish locker room.

"The season feels very real right now," said Irish QB Clements, "but it's not over yet. We still have one left."

"Winning this one really feels good," echoed defensive end Jim Stock, "but as far as I'm concerned, the season isn't really over with."

But it was left to senior punter Brian Doherty, a specialist who performed only once during the evening, to sum up the Irish season. He did it with a sense of irony:

"How does it feel?" he said. "It feels like the end of four long, waiting years. It feels like the top of the world... And only one thing could possibly beat this—11-0."