Faculty Senate to discuss new ND calendar

by Norman Bower
Staff Reporter

Faculty reaction to the new academic calendar's August start has tended to be negative, according to an Observer survey. Several faculty members commented yesterday that the students probably suffered more from the early start of school than did the teachers.

The consistent view among teachers was that since the calendar was in effect, plans for vacations had been made accordingly, and so no major alterations in such summer activities had occurred. However, Dr. Reginald Bain, chairman of the Speech and Drama Department, mentioned that since the South Bend schools were not starting until September 3, some problems were caused for himself and other teachers with families.

Bain reacted quite strongly to the issue of pre-Labor Day School. "I hate it; I never voted for it and I don't want to do away with it," he said.

Bain also stated that he had worked all summer and the break between the summer session and the fall term was not long enough. "I'm still under the impression he had always enjoyed the later starting date."

Architecture Dean Ambrose Richardson is taking a "wait and see" attitude wishing to experience the total year before evaluating the University's scheduling. Arts and Letters Dean Frederick Crosson agreed with this sentiment and added, "If I had my druthers I'd start after Labor Day."

John R. Malove, associate Dean of the Business School, proposed a pre-Labor Day start and a rescheduling of the October break which, as now scheduled, he feels will cost people too much money and perhaps not fall at the most convenient time for students and faculty.

The repeated inclusion of pre-Christmas finals was an outstanding feature of the calendar according to Dean Joseph Hogan of the Engineering College.

Some University instructors voiced displeasure over the fact that the dorms will have an extended Labor Day weekend. Hogan felt Monday's inclement weather caused him to not feel too badly about having to work through a legal holiday. Weber explained that he had already approved the later starting date.

Many expressed the attitude that "if we're already late, it doesn't matter if we work on Labor Day or not," as American Studies Chairman Ronald Weber noted.

Fr. Marvin O'Connell, head of the History Department said, "In the sense that the August start necessitated the working on Labor Day, I object to it."

When asked if he minded working on Labor Day, Freeman responded, "No, chemicals work every day."

Student Government lists major priorities

by David Rust
Staff Reporter

Student Government's primary concerns at the beginning of the 1974-75 school year are final work on programs for off-campus students and projects related to the new University alcohol ruling, according to Student Body President Pat McLaughlin.

McLaughlin also outlined his administration's plans for the year and spoke about the problems and successes Student Government has had since he took office last April.

"We really made no campaign promises last year," said McLaughlin, "because we knew some of these things were going to be changed completely when we got back."

Annual spring elections, some things we've radically changed," he added, referring to the new alcohol directive from Dean of Students John Macheca, which effectively bars all under drinking on campus.

"We didn't have time to respond to the fears and concerns to off-campus students who at the time had several basic problems for which we offered possible solutions," McLaughlin said.

One of these "fears" concerned buying food. McLaughlin's ideal last year was to create some kind of cooperative wholesale unit to buy and distribute non-perishable groceries. Until this could be done he promised to price groceries in the area and publish the results, which he has done.

McLaughlin had hoped to have the final details on the food co-op ready by the end of this week, but legal snags have forced a delay.

"Our problem now is licensing," he said. "At first we thought we'd have the co-op in Stepan Center, and over the summer our plans for that looked pretty good," McLaughlin explained.

"But we've discovered we'd need a license for selling food," he continued.

McLaughlin also had considered obtaining food from distributors directly to neighborhood until distributors, but he was forced to abandon this idea because of "interior over food inspection." Nevertheless, the SSB expects final developments to come fairly soon.

Once the system is established, McLaughlin hopes that perishables, such as produce and meat and dairy products will be included.

"We have to do this right, though," McLaughlin cautioned. "Once we start letting this food go at prices lower than those of local retailers, those retailers are going to make sure we're not doing it just any old way."

Student Government, according to McLaughlin, has met with other off-campus problems but has found that some of these difficulties seemed to disappear when the fall term began. There is, for example, the problem of transportation, which inspired the abrasive shuttle bus system early last year, and which prompted McLaughlin to arrange carpools for off-campus residents.

Actual pledges of participation during registration were somewhat less than convincing, reported McLaughlin. Off-campus students were required to stop by a table set up for that purpose in the ACC. Of approximately 1500 off-campus students at Notre Dame, 700 came to the desk, nine offered to give rides and 20 wanted to take them.

"It seems to be one great myth that no one has a way to get to campus," McLaughlin concludes that transportation difficulties which appeared insurmountable in April were apparently settled by September.

McLaughlin has also promised an information packet and a booklet for off-campus students. The booklet, which explains how to find good off-campus housing will be distributed in late March.

Part of McLaughlin's optimism about off-campus situation is due to his confidence in Off-Campus Housing Director Father Thomas Tallarida.

"A super guy," commented McLaughlin. "He's been talking to landlords when students have complaints, fighting for our students. Now if students will only understand themselves and endanger their own safety."

Much of McLaughlin's advice has been focused on the problem of drinking on campus, spanned by the two Indiana Appellate Court decisions which prompted Macheca's directive to halt all underage drinking.

McLaughlin's plans center on a voter registration drive and a shuttle bus system which would take students to Michigan.

The practical aim of the voter registration drive is to insulate the election or re-election of legislators whose positions are consistent with those of the student majority, especially, but not exclusively, in lowering Indiana's legal drinking age.

The voter registration deadline is September 21.

"Registration day" and Student government offices will take place some time before then.

Local officials have told McLaughlin that some kind of basic modification of the drinking age laws will have to be made in order for any election to take place. Changes may mean lowering the age to 19 or allowing only certain alcohols beverages below 21.

Until passage of a new law, McLaughlin intends to operate a shuttle bus system which will allow students to go to Michigan without having to hitchhike or drive themselves or endanger their own safety.

It will be a two- or three-bus system, predicted McLaughlin, all based around student government for regular Friday and Saturday evening service. A possible route might take students from Notre Dame and Saint Mary's College to go diverse establishments as Riverbend Plaza, Scottsdale Mall, Town and Country Mall, Edd's, McDonald's, and finally, various night spots in Michigan.

The shuttle project, along with plans to buy a van for use at Mardi Gras, The Tostal and other functions, will cut back from existing programs which are a part of the student government budget. McLaughlin feels the activity that will suffer the most will be the Notre Dame University Jazz Festival. "The Festival costs $15,000, and we don't have the money," he continued.

The final budget, which annually amounts an $80,000 income, will be released before the end of the month.

McLaughlin heads a student government group which includes Frank Flanagan as Vice President, Mike Schuster as Treasurer, Louise Nye as Bookkeeper, Chris Knecht as Receptionist and Bill McLean as Head Ombudsman.

Activities Night collage

... See page 7
Cut-back in federal funds to delay tutoring program

Due to a cut-back in federal funds granted to the South Bend schools system in the Education Act of 1968, the Neighborhood Study Help Program will begin after mid-September instead of early in the month, according to its program coordinator, Tom Wild.

Under Title I the federal government had financed tutoring programs to and from several South Bend elementary schools, where approximately 400 Notre Dame and St. Mary's students tutored.

As a result of financial cut-back this year, the program must find other money, he said. Although the program has some funds in reserve, the amount is not enough to run the service as extensively as it was last year.

Wild stressed that the tutoring program is still in existence, but it will be delayed. He commented that the first semester budget will not be large as previous years, unless a new means of financing the program is determined.

In the past, the program received financial support from Mardi Gras activities and Mass collections. Wild is investigating other possibilities for raising funds, one of which is a proposed raffle.

Recruiting for tutors began during Activities Night and will continue into next week.

The reduction of the program's coordinators and captains believe the program is worthwhile and that it provides a necessary community service," he said. "We hope the people of South Bend feel the way we do about our program and will help us," Wild said.

Plans for renovating the Rathskellar have also been delayed. Schlaver mentioned that the Rathskellar was supposed to be turned into a pub, but with the present state statutes on alcoholic consumption, this plan becomes unfeasible. Schlaver explained that, if the Rathskellar is to be renovated, "it is going to have to be turned into something that all the students can use."

Fr. Schlaver stated his opinion that most social activities on this campus are based on the use of an alcoholic beverage. Therefore, any setup in the Rathskellar that did not provide for alcoholic consumption would not receive total student support," he advised.

It is not so much a building or the condition it is in that keeps people away," noted Fr. Schlaver. "We need more initiative from members of the Notre Dame community to plan activities. The Rathskellar could serve some function on this campus, but it is the attitude of the students that will help decide its future."
Lugar blasts Bayh voting record

by Marlene Elms
Managing Editor

Republican Richard G. Lugar, Indiana candidate for the U.S. Senate, blasted Sen. Birch Bayh's voting record Wednesday at the Notre Dame Law School Forum. Lugar and his supporters have been exchanging studies that listed Bayh between 45 and 87 percent on a list of spending votes. The Democratic Senator had earlier defended his record on the basis of his position on the list, but Lugar pointed out that 87 of 87 actually means Bayh is 23rd from the top in spending votes. (No. 87 was the most liberal on spending issues.)

When questioned concerning another aspect of the Task force study that listed Bayh between Sen. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., Sen. Howard Baker, R-Tenn., and Lugar characterized these two conservatives as "not necessarily economically conservatives."

Lugar also accused Bayh of "voting to spend more each and every year" he has been in Congress and expecting to get away with it because "he never thought we'd get to the record."

Turning to other matters, Lugar answered a variety of student questions dealing with amnesty, abortion, pending legislation, and gun control.

Lugar evaded taking a direct stance for or against amnesty but commented President Ford had "started an interesting dialogue." Lugar pointed out that "conditional" is the key word in considering amnesty and suggested public hearings on the subject, since any program "must be acceptable not only to those outside the country but to those here also."

Concerning amnesty for former President Nixon, the mayor explained that he was "not for amnesty for anyone" and that he considered it "not a proper Constitutional legal course.

However, Lugar added that Nixon has "already probably paid the highest penalty possible."

Asked about his position on the Equal Rights Amendment, Lugar stated that he is completely in favor of it and has encouraged its ratification in Indiana.

When asked a question about his opinion on abortion, the Republican candidate replied that the Supreme Court "was far too liberal in its ruling." He added that he favored a more limited law allowing abortions in cases of rape and incest, to save the life of a mother or where there is "a predictable malfunction of the fetus."

Questioned further, Lugar added that he saw no conflict with his abortion opinion and his support for the ERA.

About federal gun-control legislation, Lugar remarked that a strict prohibition of private ownership "would lead to insecurity" among the citizens and that the United States should try to "reform the criminal justice system and lower the crime rate."

Regarding bayh on gun control laws.

Back to the economy and inflation problems, Lugar suggested a billion dollar cut in the federal budget, half to come from the defense budget and the other half from social and public works programs. He did not include any special projects.

Asked whether he would support a suggestion by President Ford for a 10 cents per gallon gasoline tax hike, Lugar laughed and strongly against this idea, saying that it was not a Ford proposal, was "not supported by the President" and obviously "emanated out of some of the 'reliable sources' in Washington."

On Wednesday, the UPI reported President's Press Secretary Jerald F. terHorst as saying that Ford opposed a 10 cents tax hike, although it was "one of many" plans under consideration by White House economic advisers.

Concerning his own plans to fight inflation, Lugar said he realizes that "we must employ measures that probably a majority of the people will dislike."

"My position is not a popular one," he concluded, "but we do have a chance to get our house in order."

On south quad

Liturgic program planned

by Bill Gontezback

Student Reporter

Campus Ministry, in conjunction with eight halls on south quad, has initiated a new liturgical program, the program will be held Wednesdays at 11 p.m. in the participating halls, with each of the halls acting as host for one evening during the week.

Bro. Joseph McTaggart, of Campus Ministry stated that "the liturgy program does not necessarily have to be a Eucharistic Service." He commented that the hope is to examine the type of services offered in their halls for the week.

Secondly, he explained that Campus Ministry hopes to bring students, rectors, and hall staff together in a combined religious service that would hopefully initiate communication and friendship between people of the different halls.

Thirdly, he reported that campus Ministry wants to offer an opportunity for halls to develop creative, meaningful, religious services that develop a unity between the students and staffs of the participating halls.

The first services will be held Wednesday, Sept. 4, in Walsh Hall presided over by President Roberts and attended by the schedule of future services is as follows:

\begin{align*} \text{Sept. 11 - Alumni} \\
\text{Sept. 18 - Dillon} \\
\text{Sept. 25 - Badin} \quad \text{Oct. 2 - Howard} \\
\text{Oct. 9 - Fischer} \quad \text{Oct. 16 - Morgan} \\ \text{Oct. 23 - Lyons} \end{align*}

Any other hall on South Quad wishing to participate should contact Campus Ministry or 103 Library (638).

TALISMAN
Formerly The Mark Bloom Band and The Crow Brothers Band

NOW AVAILABLE FOR DANCES, CONCERTS, PARTIES, AND PRE-GAME PERFORMANCES

During Sept., Oct., & Nov.

Call 272-9895

For Bookings & Information

CALCULATOR PRICES SMASHED

TI-2500 Reduced To $44.95

TI SR - 10 Slide Rule Now $69.95

TI SR - 11 Slide Rule Now $79.95

Oth~ers From $19.95

Adds, subtracts, multiplies and divides. Instantly! Accurately! Easily!

Complete in minutes. Fits easily in briefcase. Never fear of错过 key.

Slide rule - pocket calculator.

Calculated answers instantly when you slide the rule. peasant

Calculation errors are eliminated. No fear of making mistakes.

Simple to use. You can operate the Slide Rule Now with one hand.

Grown up to the same standards as mini-calculators. You can pass the Four key roll over in a moment and you're in the clear. No need to Any calculator a cut-rate calculator. It is complete in every way. It's a

It is -- at being vacated by retiring democratic senator in Bible.

Radio Specialists

415 North Michigan

234-5001
Dear Editor:

Miss McCurry's column in last week's paper saddened me, because it revisited upon me the sense of frustration and anguish I experienced when I learned of the suicide of one of my former roommates at ND—a close friend because he was a close friend.

I personally had many female friends at school and count myself lucky for it.

Dr. Joyce Brothers, in her column of August 25, reported the findings of a survey on the effects of a co-ed dorm on student lives and values. The results were not at all surprising, although they could be a shock to the administration. The two most significant aspects were:

1) That the boarders in a co-ed dorm who live in the members of the opposite sex living in that dorm as people first (instead of prospective lovers). Indeed, the vast majority of boyfriends and girlfriends of the co-ed dorm inhabitants came from outside that dorm.

2) That the incidence of sex among the students did not differ significantly from that of the non-co-ed dorm students. In fact, the incidence of casual sex was lower.

I would not doubt that surveys taken some years from now would establish that those students which have lived in a co-ed dorm during their school career would have a significantly lower rate of divorce.

I would therefore hope that there would be, on the administration's timetable, a plan for turning Notre Dame into a truly co-ed institution and removing the barriers between the sexes. There are locks on the women's doors really needed during the day (or night for that matter)? Is there really any reason that men can visit other men at any hour while the women are strictly off limits during the 24 hours? Is the really any reason not to have co-ed dorms (other than alumni disapproval)?

I am waiting for some answers.

Gail Fisher

"You could shoot a cannon down the hall and ...

Editor, the Observer

It seems Dean Thompson finds it troublesome when he can find no targets for his cannon balls. His solution seems off-target also. As a student (and potential victim) I must protest his judgment of tendency before I am able to beshots. If our administrations, in their protest against alcohol in the hall, should be outlawed also, and thereby become as far greater that the evil eelixirs now banned.

Despite the university directive, I utilize in the interest of my own safety, the basis of culture, circumstances, emotion or fragmentary, the basis of ignoring the ability of Jesus to defeat death, in all its forms. Their whole choice was not villainous, holy or spiritual—it was simply wrong. They chose defeat, instead of the battle in which Jesus gives life.

Tom New, '69

Cooed Capers

Well, we're back to school time and it seems that the only change to come in our Notre Dame is that new light. Hall has lace curtains in the windows and locks on the doors. That's the news that wasn't noticed, as Lac is in the news of becoming a co-ed institution, although it still has quite a long road to travel.

DOONESURY

"Gone, gone, nothing's gonna bring him back......"

Nixon is out, Ford is in, and Barry Goldwater no longer threatens to sue the Washington Post for Watergate revelations. As a welcome relief, news of Watergate developments lie buried beneath front-page stories on President Ziegler and Cyprus. The Nixon scandals no longer grip the nation's throat and divisive Presidential confrontations are the law of the land..edu-administration. The dangerous polarization personified by Ron Ziegler and Congressman Sandman evaporated with the former's removal, and the latter's position is only reluctantly back over their shoulder at the wrenched Watergate episode, and try instead to focus on the road ahead.

Yet the Observer editorial of August 25 suggested that the resolution of the Watergate debacle has been "too easy." The editors contend that Richard Nixon must pay for his crimes, with the presumption that we must "give him the treatment he has given us." The August resignation letter which disappataed the Watergate storm cloud was not enough in their view. With reference to "due process," the Observer chiefs rendered their verdict, and await its execution.

While it is simplistic to suggest that Nixon be exonerated just so that we can forget about the Watergate unpleasanties, the issue of Nixon's prosecution involves more than the question of "an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth." The Observer editorial contends that a lack of prosecution would result in "The compromising of ourselves and our beliefs," but it ignores the uniqueness of the case of Richard Nixon, and also fosters a discredited view of individual punishment, such as a jail term, indicated retribution for wrongs committed.

The question of amnesty embraces a similar concern. In a very real sense, draft evaders have been permitted to escape, a forced absence from home. Although technically they have neither been prosecuted nor convicted. Now the nation, the judiciary Committee's call for impeachment straitjacketed Nixon, and he could not wriggle free.

Thus the Congressional verdict which charged Nixon with "high crimes and misdemeanors" carried with it a de facto punishment. Nixon is now "impeached," in his California home, and the disgraceful loss of the Presidency might be the worst possible pension for a person of his political, virtual, powerlessness. The political process designed to rid the President's office of a man who is simply not able to keep his promises and "misdemeanors" accomplished its goal, and Nixon resigned because he had no choice. The judiciary Committee's call for impeachment straitjacketed Nixon, and he could not wriggle free.

As a welcome relief, news of Watergate developments lie buried in the Observer editorial of August 25, which disappataed the Watergate storm cloud was not enough in their view. With reference to "due process," the Observer chiefs rendered their verdict, and await its execution.

"Behind Bars?"

by Garry Trudeau

Night Editor: Tom O'Neil

Asst Night Editor: Dan Sanchez

Layout: Don Longano, Mary Reber

Editorial: Fred "Happy Birthday Annie!" Cooper

Sports: Bill Delaney

Pictures: Albert "lost of business"

Copy Readers: Jim Eder, Jeanne Wagner

Features: Robert Baker

Typhina: Dave Rust, Barb Norcross, Barb Eiler, Tom Modglin, Jim Landis, Rick Copus (Outstanding of the month, Kathy)

Features: Robert Baker

Night Control: Howard Halle

On this date 21 yrs. ago—Ann McCorry Born (2 bottles of wine you say) life aboard the s.s. france

by bob quakenbush

Tonight at 7:30 theSM Company sponsors the first of seven special programs entitled "From Sea to Shining Sea." Robert Quip, of 15 G.P. and "Bob's in Cock & Cock A Faire," reknown, headlines the cast as John Freeborn, as American "Everyman" who is on the scene during several crucial moments of Revolutionary history. In tonight's episode, "How to Survive," Channel 22, Freeborn is caught up in the drive for independence from British rule. James Brolin takes down his "Dr. Kelley" shingle tomorrow night and spends several more accidentally locked inside a department store. His only companions? Vicious guard dogs trained to kill personnel, but all those who are caught up in the conflicting time slots. Unfortunately, that's a situation which surely will not last indefinitely. The poor, innocent, even near and historical dramas capture the ever-increasing amounts of broadcast time between now and July 4, 1976. CBS started the trend on the Fourth of July this summer with the 1971 film "Sea Hunt," starring Richard Boone. Photographed in and around London, the movie casts Burton as a dashing privateer on pilfering a Spanish ship and the plant's payroll. The thriller begins at eight on Channel 22.

In a lighter vein, all three networks present previews of their Saturday morning kid-friendly lineups. Today'sSM titles are "Scooby Saturday on CBS," "ABC's Saturday Snack Peek," and the "NBC Saturday Snack Preview." This year all three broadcast companies are trying to surpass their peers by including in their Saturday children's programming shows. (For comic book fans, SHAZAM, the original Captain Marvel, zooms into action at 9:30 a.m.)

QUESTION: Everyone remembers the cute little mice, Pete and Phee, but what was the name of the cat who exclaimed, "I hate mice to pieces!"

TIM O'REILLY

The events in American history series, a nightly offering of encapsulated tours throughout the country. As a matter of fact, when it left home it was still scheduled to be in its Detroit studio, but wonder how well tickets are selling at the Fisher Theater (just across the street from the General Motors Building).

Thursday night the Pittsburgh Steelers attempt to forge a victory over the Dallas Cowboys in an exhibition game on NBC. If you'd never start your fall football viewing yea seeing a really fine football team perform, wait till Monday night when the defending national champions open their season against the Rams. From NBC.

An alternative to NFL Thursday night football is "Villa," a 1971 film starring Richard Burton. Photographed in and around London, the movie casts Burton as a dashing privateer on pilfering a Spanish ship and the plant's payroll. The thriller begins at eight on Channel 22.

In a lighter vein, all three networks present previews of their Saturday morning kid-friendly lineups. Today'sSM titles are "Scooby Saturday on CBS," "ABC's Saturday Snack Peek," and the "NBC Saturday Snack Preview." This year all three broadcast companies are trying to surpass their peers by including in their Saturday children's programming shows. (For comic book fans, SHAZAM, the original Captain Marvel, zooms into action at 9:30 a.m.)

QUESTION: Everyone remembers the cute little mice, Pete and Phee, but what was the name of the cat who exclaimed, "I hate mice to pieces!"
Campus Briefs ...

South quad carney today
by Ken Bradford

"Carney '74," the final activity of the campus orientation program, will take place today on the South Quad, weather permitting. Highlighting the festivities will be addresses by University President Theodore St. Hesburgh and Student Body President Pat McLaughlin.

WSU, the student-operated radio station, will hold the finals of their week-long "Name That Tune" contest and broadcast live from the South Quad throughout the evening. Contest winners will be awarded gift certificates from Gilbert's, a local clothing store. A rock band and a variety of booths and games are also scheduled.

All members of the ND-SMC community are invited to participate in "Carney." Off-campus students, faculty, staff members, and their families may purchase meal tickets to the picnic for one dollar.

In case of rain, the entire schedule of activities will be cancelled.

New mail service
by Chris Bock

Staff Reporter

Beginning today, on-campus mail will be delivered to every Notre Dame building except Carroll and St. Joseph's halls. On-campus mail boxes can be found in front of the North and South dining halls, LaFortune Student Center and the Knights of columbus Building. Mail will be picked up at 12:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and delivered no later than the following day. There is no postage charge for this service. Problems encountered can be directed to the on-campus mailman, Drew Dank at 3150. This service is not available to St. Mary's students.

Yearbook staff changes
by Fred Herbst

Staff Reporter

Yearbook editor Susan Darin yesterday announced the appointment of the editorial staff for the 1974-75 Dome. The new staff consists of Tom Paulius, production manager; Steve Simpson, business manager; Dana Nahlen, student life editor; Bob Quakenbush, sports editor; Lisa Moore, organization editor; Chris Burger, senior editor; Zenon Bidzinski and Chris Smith, photographers.

When asked of the staff's future plans, Darin stressed that plans had been made but that she was not at liberty to elaborate on them. Her only comment on the sixty-sixth edition of the Dome was that she felt "confident that it'll be a good book."

Student union claims
by Chris Bock

Staff Reporter

The Student Union will be accepting claims on articles damaged or lost in summer storage today through Friday. Students having contracts with the Student Union should file a claim describing their loss and return it to the receptionist in the Student Union office.

Campus Security Director Arthur Fears announced yesterday that beginning Thursday morning citations will be issued to all vehicles parked at Notre Dame without registration decals. The citation involves a $2.00 fine which is applicable to the student's university account if not paid to security or appealed. A five day period is allowed during which the citation may be appealed.

Pears strikes again
by Susan Divita

Staff Reporter

Campus Security Director Arthur Fears announced yesterday that beginning Thursday morning citations will be issued to all vehicles parked at Notre Dame without registration decals. The citation involves a $2.00 fine which is applicable to the student's university account if not paid to security or appealed. A five day period is allowed during which the citation may be appealed.

Pears mentioned that his office has been registering cars prior to last Tuesday (registration day) and that vehicles may presently be registered at the Security Office between 8 a.m. and 3 p.m.

The dinner meal student exchange program between Notre Dame and St. Mary's will continue this year, according to Brother Kiernan Ryan, Asst. Vice President of Business Affairs at Notre Dame. Some difficulties the program experienced have been resolved, but a meeting will be held to work out exact details and to select the students who will be directing the program. Edmund to Price, Director of the Student Dining Hall, said the lunch co-exchange program is already operating for those students who have two of the three lunchtime classes at the opposite campus. Students need to show their schedule to be admitted.

Ruan said an announcement will be made as soon as the details are worked out concerning the co-exchange tickets.

DEBATE TEAM
MEETING FOR ALL INTERESTED
9:00 P.M.
WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 4
Room 1-C La FORTUNE

r•k'n roll lives as student union presents

SPECIAL GUEST: FRESH FLAVOR
Saturday, Sept. 28, 8:30 p.m.
Tickets: $5.50, $4.50, $3.00
ON SALE:
Wednesday, Sept. 4, from 9 to 5,
ACC Ticket Office, (gate 10)
and from 1:30 to 5:00
Student Union Ticket Office
(LaFortune Student Center).

HAVE YOU THOUGHT ABOUT EXPANDING YOUR FUTURE?
Success in a life choice today demands more than ever the right preparation. Education, of course, is essential. But even though you complete the requirements for a degree, potential employers are searching for individuals who can rapidly advance into the managerial fields. Employers are looking for LEADERS. And Army ROTC is one of the ways you can gain this leadership experience.

Army ROTC offers that "something more" to the college man or woman looking to expand his or her future.

Try us—call 283-8304 or 6385, or visit the Army ROTC office in Building No. 3. You'll get the facts.

Israelis kill guerrillas
TEL AVIV (UPI) - Israel reported its troops killed two Palestine guerrillas who tried to infiltrate across the western end of the Lebanese frontier in an attempt to attack Israeli settlements last night.

An Israeli military source says it was possible the guerrillas had been in Israel when they were spotted in the light of a full moon and were shot to death.

Israel has a chain-link fence running the length of the 44-mile hilly frontier with Lebanon. It has installed sensing devices and floodlights along side coils of barbed wire to keep the guerrillas out.

The Israeli military command says the guerrillas tried to cross the fence in the early part of the invasion of Hanita and Zarit, six miles east. Both are just below the frontier "no man's land" of Falhland in Lebanon.

Hanita is about 10 miles north of the "line," where most guerrilla killed 23 persons on May 15th. The guerrillas died in the attack.

Yesterday's incident was the first of its kind since Israeli troops stormed a apartment house June 25th and killed three guerrillas after the Arabs had shot three persons to death.

The total time requirements of ROTC account for little in your academic workload, and no commitment is incurred until your Junior year. While you're looking at our program and deciding if we can offer you something, we will be looking at you. If we're both satisfied we can offer each other something, upon graduation you will receive a commission as a Second Lieutenant in the United States Army Reserve. In return, you'll be required to serve on active duty for two years. The training, experience, and ability to manage people will give you that "something more" employers seek.

For more information, call 837-2834 or 837-2835, or visit the Army ROTC office in Building No. 3.
ACTIVITIES

NIGHT

1974

CARNEY '74

TODAY 4:30-DUSK

SOUTH QUAD

GAMES ★ PRIZES ★

CLOWNS ★ BALLOONS ★

PICNIC

CLASSIFIED ADS

FOR RENT

House for rent. 1136 E.
Sorin. 2 br., lv., dr., s.
Porch, Palt. Furn. Jim
Licata. 287-7851.

One room for rent. ND
student. $50 per month.
Call 388-9520 or 222-9211.

Attractive, clean, large apartment, fully furnished including utilities. Steaps 4 adults only. 401 N.
Inquire Kapal
Florist Shop

Last and Found

Lost: set of keys. Jim: 289-7615 or 232-6023.

Lost: Intermediate Accounting textbook in room 102 Bux. A. If found please call Bill 300B.

Lost: Application for University of Colorado in the vicinity of the Huddle. Very, very important. Contact Alec at 5321.

WANTED

Need 2 G.A. tickets for Purdue. Please call Dave 3458.

Wanted to buy: girls used bikes. Please call 234-6216.

Exchange 2 $10 bleacher
tickets for 2 sections B or C.
Will pay $50 a ticket with exchange. Jim at Sandy 287-9114.

Purdue G.A. tickets wanted.
Please call Mary 380-7923.

Caribbean needs experienced part time pizza help. $1.90 to start. Mostly weekends. Apply at Bar-naby's Restaurant 713 E.
Jefferson during the day.

Part-time babysitter needed for two small children for days. $2 per hour. Or 4 to 3 per day. Own transportation must be provided. Phone 283-4619 or 380-9992.

Wanted: Green or Blue rug.
$11 x 11 ft. Call Mary 380-7923.

FOR SALE

Selling antique Greek Rug. 3'3" x 4'2". 280 C.C. is $100 O.B.O., call 924.

Used furniture for sale. Call Standley 387-3019.

For Sale: Couch 69", single bed, $15, small clothes drawers $10. 3 comfortable chairs. 32 and 45. 250.

Sale: Couches, chairs,
lamps, rugs, at Cooper's.
Call after 6 p.m. daily except
Fri. all day Sat and Sun.
Free delivery. 222-9904.

$6 VW bug, runs well. $300 or best offer. Call Mike at 287-3463 after 6 p.m.

For sale: 1974 Kawasaki 250, only 1000 miles, must sell. Call 8429.

NANNY

Inquire office hours. 1-3 p.m.
daily. Student Govt. attics.
2nd floor LaFortune Tower.

International organization needs 4-part time students.
Work your own hours.
come depends on personal need. Contact Jeff Hartinn at 333-3012 Tues. or
Fri. 10 a.m. to 12 noon.

Money? Morrissey Loan Fund has limited money in 30 days. 1 per cent interest. 1 day waiting period.
11:15 12:15 daily.
Basement of LaFortune.

Tellisman (formerly the Mark Bloom Band) and the drew Brothers Band are now available for concerts, parties, and pre-game performances. For bookings and information,
call 272-9669.

Save money on used texts and paperback books, 4th D.
classes. Penderas books.
We buy, sell, trade books.
402 N. St. Louis Blvd.
Magazines, comics, artwork and prints for sale.

PERSONALS

Collected, new ran out. Xmas Christmas. I want to sell you remember all the happy times. 11 days left for the year. Love always, John Vor Icon.

To the Point of Remebrance of Church Evolution,
The Earthly One.

Blessings, Cleansliness is next to Godliness and THE SWINGS is even better.
Thank you from the bottom of our hearts. The motel crew and bars.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.

Tom, please put your burnt
arm is better.
Offense, kicking spark Irish 'O' by Bill Delaney

Coach Ara Parseghian brought his Irish football team into the stadium Saturday in what was to be the last full scrimmage before next Monday night's encounter with Georgia Tech. Before it was over, the team registered a 19-7 "victory.

A scrimmage characterized by long sustained drives, quarterback Tom Clements took the first team 68 yards in 10 plays in its first series of downs. Wayne Bullock and Al Samuel gained 23 and 27 yards respectively on particular drives, and Clements went around left end for the score. The next drive, covering 53 yards in five plays, highlighted by a 30-yard Bullock carry, ended with Clements going around right end for the second score. The first team's third and final drive covered 46 yards in eight plays, with Al Samuel eluding Pat Sarb on a twelve-yard run.

Clements finished the day fourth-four in the passing department for 62 yards and four carries for 25 yards, with two touchdowns. Samuel carried ten times for 100 yards and one touchdown, and Art Best garnered 36 yards in seven attempts also with one score.

Frank Allocco, Clements' backup at quarterback, in competition for the number two quarterback position, both ended with the team's second drive. Slager took the second team and 27 yards. Allocco led the team 73 yards in five plays, with Dave Reeve making a 30-yard field goal and 50 yards in six plays, with Art Best skirting right end for 15 yards and the score.

Kerry Maurer led the third team defense for the afternoon, and impressed the coaching staff with his running and red-zone ability.

McNeil named to new post

But McNeil and company are pinning their hopes on freshmen Jim Sciarra from Syosset, New York. Notes President Caron, "We are quite confident Jim can do a good job for us.

Throughout the fall all eyes will be focused on the weekend of Oct.11. As well as the much anticipated Alumni clash at 3:00 at Carter Field, the stickmen will be hosting a banquet which will feature the head coach of the national champion Johns Hopkins.

McNeil finished the afternoon with an even hundred yards in ten carries.

Ruggers look toward busy fall schedule by Bob Kissel

For most Notre Dame athletes the summer is the time to recover from past wounds and anticipate the coming season. Not so for the Irish rugby squad. On July 20th many ND ruggers flew into Chicago at their own expense from points as far as Florida, Pennsyl- vania, and Missouri to play a benefit game for the American Cancer Society against the Midwest champs, the Chicago Lions.

"We do have some problems against the wishbone" noted Coach Parseghian. "Since we haven't seen or played against many teams that use it, our experience with the different aspects of the wishbone are very weak. We do need practice against it, and that will be one of our keys to the upcoming week."

Offensive side, coaches Yento and Shoults are relieved that no injuries came out of Saturday's workouts. Steve Novak and Jim Stock continued their consistent play, while the linebacking crew of Greg Collins, Drew Mahalic and Marv Russell sparked an effort which limited the second and third team offenses to only two first downs. The defensive backfield, the area of critical concern to Parseghian was highlighted by the spirited play of Randy Harrison, the free safety. "Randy is coming along very well," commented Randy. "Although he's young and inexperienced, he's making up for it in his desire to learn and hit. Randy is getting the experience he needs day by day, and he will really help us.

Other highlights of this final scrimmage included Tony Novak's block of Tom Logien's punt for a safety. An interception by Drew Schueft on a Gary Forystek pass resulted for the Lions. The defensive shoulder, the wishbone has considerably improved since last spring, when we were completely dominated by the opposition.

We now have a capable snapper in Andy McNeil (replacing Joe Alvarado), who just went out and won the job. Tony Brantley's punting has been very consistent, and Reeve's improvement in just two months has been very noticeable. We had three critical areas that needed to be concentrated on this fall: our kicking game, depth on the defensive team, and also the defensive backfield. With this scrimmage, I feel that we have completed to a certain degree the first two, but we still need work on the third. If everything falls into place by Saturday, we should make a fine showing on Monday night."