Eleven arrested in Louie's raid

by Terry Keesey and Tom Drape

Nine Notre Dame and two St. Mary's students were arrested last night by South Bend police vice-squad officers at Louie's Restaurant, 744 N. Notre Dame Avenue, on charges of minors frequenting a tavern.

Ten of the 11 students were being held on a $50 bond at the South Bend police station, 701 W. Sample. The other student, a 17-year-old minor, was charged with a curfew violation and released without bond.

Two plain-clothed vice officers and three uniformed officers entered the restaurant about 11:15 p.m. Customers in the front bar area were told to produce identification. Underage students were then arrested and placed in custody.

Witnesses said that identifications of students in the rear, eating area of the restaurant were not checked by the officers. An estimated crowd of 40 people were in the bar at the time of the raid.

The 11 underage students in the front part of the restaurant were then taken into custody and placed into a police van.

One of the arresting vice-officers, Vinson Smith, said that the owner of Louie's, Louis Rappelli, had been warned four times during the past seven days about serving minors. Smith said that fair warning had been given.

"There were more kids in there underage but they were in the back in the eating area so we didn't get them," Smith said. "None were charged with consuming but only with minors frequenting a tavern."

Smith said that South Bend Safety Director, Pat Gallagher, had warned Dean of Students, John Macheca, about a crackdown on underage drinking. According to Smith, special notice was made of the seven bars south of the Notre Dame campus.

"We were directed by the mayor (Jerry Miller) about ten days ago to talk to all tavern owners on the northeast side," Smith said.

A number of complaints about students at those bars had also been made by the Northeast Neighborhood Association on Notre Dame Avenue.

Smith estimated that out of the approximate crowd of 40, nearly 30 students were underage. The total seating capacity of the restaurant is between 150 and 200.

In reaction to the raid, Rappelli said, "It's just an ordinary raid."

"What are you going to do - this is a restaurant. Louie's Restaurant is no different than Eddie's Steakhouse, no different than the Morris Inn," Rappelli said.

The owner of Louie's said that everyone served a beer there last night was 21. But added, "What they do with it isn't my business."

Among the 11 students arrested were: five Dilleen hall residents, two Alumni hall residents, one Pangborn hall resident, one McCandless hall resident and one Regina hall resident. Identification of the students were not released.

The one minor arrested was released to the custody of Brother John Beneish, Alumni Hall rector. Bond for the two St. Mary's women was posted by Stevie Wernig, assistant to the Vice-President for Student Affairs, from St. Mary's funds.

The other eight students were still in custody at the police station at 3 a.m. this morning. Court dates for those charged with frequenting a tavern were tentatively set for Sept. 24.

Angela Davis stirs controversy

Responding to recent controversy surrounding the appearance of Angela Davis tomorrow night, student government and student union officers yesterday restated their observance of the university's open speaker policy and demonstration rules.

Pat M. McLaughlin, student body president, Pat Burke, student union director and Andy Bury, s.u. academic commissioner all said that their support was adhered to the open speaker policy.

"We have had a number of inquiries about why Angela Davis is to be brought to speak on campus and whether people can demonstrate," Burke said. "And we wanted to make the clarification."

Bury said that the academic commission has always adhered to the open speaker policy. "As we have done always before, we will abide by it completely," he said.

In addition, any person or groups wanting to demonstrate at Davis's appearance will have to go through the Dean of Students office, McLaughlin said.

The University open speaker policy states:

Notre Dame students and student organizations are free to examine and to discuss all questions of interest to them, and to express opinions publicly and privately. They should exercise this freedom by the use of orderly means which do not disrupt the regular and essential operation of the University. Notre Dame students may invite and hear any guest speaker they choose, provided they observe all University regulations and followup on the event. The sponsoring group of the University, the Dean of Students office and the Academic Commission have the right to request that a guest speaker be excluded by the University.

Under university regulations, "all demonstrations must be registered with the Dean of Students and also must observe the following rules:" "

a. All demonstrations must be peaceful and orderly.

b. Only members of the University community may organize or lead a demonstration on campus.

c. Demonstrators may not impede the freedom of the University community.

McLaughlin said that he expected additional security assistance would be requested for tomorrow night's speaker.

"Mr. Peers (director of security) said that security will be increased," Burke said. He said assistance from the South Bend police and Indiana State Patrol would probably be sought.

Burke and Bury both said that speakers appealing to a wide range of people is a definite factor in scheduling appearances. All three officers agreed that future speaker policy would be affected by the present controversy.
Boston unrest continues

By United Press International

A fist fight between black and white children triggered a walkout by 40 blacks Wednesday in the court-ordered integration of Boston schools. Flag-waving protesters against controversial textbooks besieged the school board offices at Charleston, W.Va.

New teacher strikes hit two Chicago suburban high schools, the Erie, Pa., school system, and schools in a Bucks County, Pa., district. Scores of thousands of children were affected by scattered teacher strikes across the nation.

Four white youth at Boston's Washington Irving Junior High School received minor injuries in a schoolyard skirmish, the first physical clash between black and white students in the current controversy.

They were taken home by the parents and 40 black children walked out of school after the incident. Officials also reported a "hair-pulling" episode between a white girl and two black teenagers at a high school.

Large numbers of whites continued to boycott classes in Boston, but school officials said they believed attendance city-wide was up slightly.

Some 250 protesters at Charleston listened to Gospel music over a police loudspeaker, waved American flags and carried signs with slogans such as "God is not a myth to our children."

School board members studied their demand that new textbooks be removed from all Kanawha County Schools. The protesters charged that the textbooks were obscene and anti-American and give religion a "fairest" treatment.

About 20 per cent of the county's 45,000 pupils stayed away from classrooms and thousands of coal miners in four counties stayed off their jobs in the week-long protest.

The new teacher strikes in Pennsylvania brought to 12 the number of districts hit and to 61,520 the number of students affected. Schools remained open in Erie but attendance was down sharply.

Schools were closed in the Benzie district of Bucks County.

On the western fringe of Chicago, teachers walked out at Addison Trail and Willowbrook high schools. The strike kept some 5,000 students from attending classes.

A judge at Racine, Wis., imposed a news blackout on negotiations aimed at settling a dispute which had shut down classes for some 30,000 children for 16 days. Teachers, who say they were locked out by the school board, received letters telling them their request for unemployment compensation has been denied.

About 600 teachers in Federal Way, Wash., ended a 20-day strike. They overwhelmingly ratified the first general contract they have ever had.

---

Vote drive extended

by Catherine Brown

Staff Reporter

The final count of the number of students registered to vote in Indiana through the student government sponsored voter registration drive will probably be released "in about two weeks," reported the drive's chairman, Rich O'Connor.

The drive has been extended from registration at La Fortune and the dining halls to include a (continued on page 4)

---

Boiler House Flix

Two Theaters: 100 Center Complex, Mishawaka

Phone 265-9475 - Adults $2.50, Child 75c

---

Senior Hockey at the "Ice Box"

Pro Shop - Skate Sharpening - 2 Rinks - Public Skating - Figure Skating - Lessons - Snacks - Arcade - Skate Rental - Free Parking

---

Rock & Roll Nite

(Except Tuesday)

Pizza & Sandwiches

THE ICE BOX

4121 S. Walnut Street (219) 233-9441 South Bend, Indiana 46627

---

Senior Hockey

Check and No Check Divisions.

Play in either or both divisions - 16 men per team - Locker room available - 16 game season with holiday tournament and playoffs - Jackets and referees furnished - $3.50 per game - Game times 9:15 pm and 10:45 pm.

Send Check for one game, or both games.

Senior Hockey

Check and No Check Divisions.

Play in either or both divisions - 16 men per team - Locker room available - 16 game season with holiday tournament and playoffs - Jackets and referees furnished - $3.50 per game - Game times 9:15 pm and 10:45 pm.

Send Check for one game, or both games.

---

World briefs

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Congress is close to approving legislation that would give the consumer his best legal protection yet against the frustration and expense of buying a shiny new car in the showroom that turns out to be a "lemon" that the dealer and manufacturer refuse to fix at their own expense.

The bill, known on Capitol Hill as the "Lemon Law," is an amendment to a routine extension of the 1966 National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act. Its sponsors believe it would go a long way toward satisfying consumer complaints about defective automobiles.

---

Moscow (UPI) - Soviet scientist Grigory S. Khizin accused former U.S. Ambassador Poy. D. Kohler Wednesday of trying to sabotage the joint Soviet-American space program. Kohler rejected the charge.

---

Oakland (UPI) - Black activist Angela Davis filed a $75,000 claim Wednesday against the City of Oakland and Alameda County, charging she was unlawfully detained while deputies ran a warrant check.

---

Tel Aviv (UPI) - Israeli gunfire fired mortar shells Wednesday at suspected Arab guerrilla concentrations in Lebanon Wednesday in what a military source described as routine preventive action.

---

Saigon (UPI) - Government troops recouped a military output abandoned after a daylong fight that cost the Communist attackers 54 dead but the fate of 2,000 villagers is not known, field officers reported Wednesday.

---

On campus today

4 pm - seminar, "discussion on electron transport and scavenging reactions in non polar liquids" by dr. moisander, rad. lab. cont. rm.

7 pm - meeting, ingep town meeting, rm. 1313a fortunate.

7-9 pm - movie, "bonnie & clyde", washington hall, $1.

8 pm - recital, "composer's recital" by berton mclean, little theatre.

---

senior hockey at the "ice box"

Pro Shop - skate sharpening - 2 rinks - public skating - Figure skating - lessons - snacks - arcade - skate rental - free parking

Senior hockey, "check" and "no check" divisions. Play in either or both divisions - 16 men per team - locker room available - with showers available - 16 game season with holiday tournament and playoffs - jerseys and referees furnished - $3.50 per game - game times 9:15 pm and 10:45 pm. Sign up now for league starting October 18th.

For more information on this and our other programs call (219) 233-9441.

---

2. Application

SEND MORE INFORMATION

Age

Sun. "No Check"

Position

Name

Address

Phone
Ford foreign policy pledges food

By NICHOLAS DANILOFF
UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — President Ford pledged continued American leadership in helping the world States will do its best to help fill the world's food needs for food, and challenged the Arab countries to cooperate on answering the demands for oil.

In his first major foreign policy speech to 920 applauding delegates to the 26th session of the U.N. General Assembly, Ford said the twin crises of food and energy must "demonstrate the extent of our interdependence."

"The United States recognizes the special responsibility we bear as the world's largest producer of food... The United States will not only maintain its role in providing food shipments to nations in need, but we will do so at a reasonable cost," he said.

Now is the time for the oil producers to define their conception of a global policy on energy to meet the world's need — and to do this without imposing unacceptable burdens on the Commission and the trade system.

"We were required... to provide food and food to produce energy... and both to provide a decent life for the nations of the world... The United States is committed to cooperate on oil, food, and inflation could spell disaster for everyone," he said. "This is the moment to act.

Ford received a standing ovation when he was introduced. The 3,000 delegates from 136 countries were silent during his address, most of them listening through the earphones which provided instantaneous translation. But they gave him another 40-second standing ovation when he concluded.

Earlier, on the plane from Washington, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger had discussed with reporters the proposed new oil price increases announced this week in the Middle East and said "It's a serious situation.

In his speech, Ford made passing reference to various foreign policy concerns — continuing conflict in Cyprus, Indo-China and the Middle East; determination to bolster U.S. partnerships with its traditional allies; need to "seek out and expand" relationships with new adversaries; and the overweening requirement to "change the economic realities of the world.

But the thrust of his speech was to the worldwide shortage of food and fuel, and the inflationary impact of the shortage on the economy of all nations.

"A global strategy for food and energy is urgently required," Ford declared.

"It would be tempting for the United States — beset by inflation and soaring energy prices — to turn a deaf ear to external appeals for food assistance, or to respond to internal appeals for export controls," he added. "But however difficult our own economic situation, we recognize that the plight of others is worse."

Ford foreign policy pledges food

By Val Zurhil
Staff Reporter

Student Union Academic Conference Committee is scheduling one campus speaker for this semester. Among the scheduled speakers for this semester, Student Union Academic Commissioner Andy Kovatch, director of campus security at SMC, registration will require that the registrant is a member of the Georgia House of Representatives will talk Sept. 26 in the Rec Hall, Richard Lugar and Birch Bay, U.S. Senate candidates; Paul Sagin, mayor of Madison, Wis.; John Con­ way, president of the Common­ sense and David Halibest, author of The Best and the Brightest will lecture. The film "Executive Action" will also be screened.

James Smith
Staff Reporter

Theatre registration will continue until all the owners wishing to register their bikes have been accommodated.

A fee of seventy-five cents will be charged to cover a process etching the owner's social security number on the bikes.

Kovatch estimated that approxi­ mately two hundred bikes were registered last year. He anticipates that twenty per cent of the bikes on campus this year will be registered.

Kovatch offered some advice to bike owners stating that bikes should be kept inside if at all possible or in well-lit areas. He said bikes should be locked at all times.

Bury has announced. Julian Bend, a member of the Georgia House of Representatives will talk Sept. 26 in the Rec Hall, Richard Lugar and Birch Bay, U.S. Senate candidates; Paul Sagin, mayor of Madison, Wis.; John Con­ way, president of the Common­ sense and David Halibest, author of The Best and the Brightest will lecture. The film "Executive Action" will also be screened.

Bury explained the Academic Conference Committee's policy on bikes. "We won't spend more than a $15 per flat rate for a speaker."

"The speaker prices are outrageous," the commissioner continues. "They run from $70 to $800 a night." Bury feels the high prices are due to schools willing to pay them.

"In response to this interest, Friday's Observer will feature a supplement highlighting bicycle trips in the South Bend Area. The supplement will feature tips on shorter rides, longer tours, sample trips in the area, and a philosophical introduction to the cosmic implications of bicycling. (A definite must for fans of the cosmos!)"

AAUP clarifies report on University accounting method

By Fred Herbst
Staff Reporter

AAUP charges of "creative" accounting by the University administration were termed by Prof. Thomas Swartz, Chairman of Committee 2, as "misrepresenting what the AAUP said."

Swartz said the Observer's art­ icle of Wednesday implied what the AAUP document said. "We have not been our policy to discuss with reporters the AAUP document.

The Observer's article of Wednesday implied that the University's actual financial situation will be released after the release of the

WEEKEND JOB
Indiana's Largest Lake Developer Needs Several Ambitious Senior's Or Grad Students To Work Weekends Thru October Near Lake Wawasee.
Gas Paid. Free Housing. Minimum $50 CALL C. STONE (219) 636-7189
Ehrlichmann requests trial delay

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former White House aide John D. Ehrlichman Tuesday asked Judge John J. Sirica to grant a delay of up to three months in the Watergate cover-up trial because former President Richard M. Nixon's "personal appearance at the trial is indispensable" to his defense.

In an one paragraph request, Ehrlichman told Sirica that "recent public accounts of Mr. Nixon's health suggest that he may be physically unable to testify when called at the trial as now set."

He said the trial, no SCHEDULED TO BEGIN Oct. 1 for himself and five other defendants in the complete cover-up case, should be postponed because Nixon's personal testimony is required.

"A reasonable continuance of up to 60 to 90 days would afford Mr. Nixon the necessary time to assure the presence of Richard M. Nixon as a witness," Ehrlichman's brief said.

There have been recent reports from Nixon's doctors, family and friends that the ex-president in his left leg may require hospitalization.

Nixon's lawyers asked Tuesday that he be relieved for reasons of health from the need to give a deposition in California for a civil suit brought by several persons who felt they were illegally barred from a Nixon campaign rally in North Carolina in 1972.

Earlier, Sirica refused to allow Ehrlichman two subpoenas aimed at obtaining White House documents for his defense in the cover-up trial. Ehrlichman's lawyer, Andrew Hall, maintained that the documents were necessary to prepare an adequate defense.

Hall had issued two subpoenas for a variety of White House documents ranging from Ehrlichman's personal notes to all presidential taped conversations relating to the "Watergate matter."

After a brief afternoon hearing, Sirica quashed the subpoenas on grounds they were far too broad to qualify under federal pre-trial procedures, and because Hall did not describe with enough specificity what materials he wanted. The court could be considered relevant to the defense.

There will be two ticket packages for sale for Homecoming: Two tickets to the Rice-ND game and one party ticket (admits two) for $23 and one two ticket packages for sale for Homecoming:

Two tickets to the Rice-ND game and one party ticket (admits two) for $23 and

Two Gordon Lightfoot tix plus one party ticket for $21.

The package includes bus transportation to and from the game, game ticket, lunch, and all the beer you can drink. After the bus returns a mini-concert or dance will be held at Stegen Center with music being provided by fine outside talent.

"We have developed these projects to get the students away from the campus boredom, especially in the halls," continued Guitinan. He added that the Social Commission is striving for more parties off campus.
Jaworski authority sought

BY CLAY F. RICHARDS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democrats proposed Wednesday that Watergate Prosecutor Leon Jaworski be given authority to make public the evidence he has collected on former President Nixon's role in the scandal.

Democratic Whip Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia said he was studying possible legislation permitting Jaworski to make a full report of Nixon's actions.

Jaworski said in a letter to eight Democratic senators earlier that he lacked the authority to divulge grand jury evidence against Nixon.

Byrd also asked the Senate Judiciary Committee to hold a meeting, and hearings if necessary, "to determine if the public interest would be best served by making explicit the authority of the special prosecutor to include such material in his final report."

Another Democrat, Sen. Phillip A. Hart of Michigan, said he also favored a full public report and added that he wanted to make sure Nixon had "his day in court" and would be allowed to respond to Jaworski's report.

It was learned that several other Democrats were studying legislation to turn the Watergate grand jury into a special grand jury, giving it the power to make a "presentment" or statement of the evidence involving Nixon.

In a letter to Judiciary Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., Byrd also suggested that all of Nixon's tapes and documents remain at the White House until the issue is resolved.

"If the Judiciary Committee could go forward to President Ford urging him to keep such materials under his custody in Washington until the pending proceedings are resolved," Byrd said.

Byrd and Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield have sponsored a resolution calling on Ford to make public all facts connected with the Watergate scandal.

Hart said in an interview the Senate should "press forward to get a full report" on Nixon's involvement.

"We have a duty to do it, but we should first provide a draft to Nixon so he can spell out his response before it's made public," Hart said.

NATO claims Red spying

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A North Atlantic Treaty Organization announcement said Wednesday that Soviet planes and ships are "snooping" persistently on NATO ships and planes on their current exercise in Northern waters. It said Soviet planes have been repeatedly intercepted.

The office of the Commander-in-Chief East Atlantic headquarters said "Bear" planes were intercepted by Royal Air Force planes Tuesday night over the Shetland Islands. Later Soviet long-range "Bear" planes were intercepted by RAF Phantoms west of the Faroe Islands.

The announcement also said Canadian and Dutch reconnaissance planes have joined RAF planes to keep track of "numerous" Soviet ships and submarines in the exercise area in the North Sea and the Norwegian Sea.

The Soviets have all along been extremely sensitive to any Western defense movements in or close to the northern waters.

They have a strong fleet concentrated in the area and maintain a wide-ranging radar screen. Soviet submarines are known to be very active in the area, to watch movements of allied shipping and aircraft activities.

Defense experts said the Russians have frequently shadowed NATO ships on their maneuvers in the Atlantic and in the Mediterranean where they maintain a considerable fleet of their own since the Arab-Israeli wars.

The Soviets have in the past made little effort to camouflage their snooping activities on NATO exercises. At times their spy vessels came close to allied warships, barely avoiding collision.

Nevertheless defense experts said the current Soviet shadowing of the NATO exercise in northern waters seems particularly intense and persistent.

The announcement Wednesday underscored the persistence of Soviet "snooping" which required concerted Allied efforts to drive them off.
A rebuttal to Professor Rice

Professor Rice in his essay Right-to-Life (Observer, September 14, 1974) has challenged the right to abortion. Professor Rice distinguishes between murder as a crime of necessity and abortion as murder defined as a moral offense. He states that the latter case the offender is to be left to the mercy and justice of which was finally upheld by the Supreme Court in the Roe v. Wade case.

It is appropriate to use murder for assassination of Dr. Martin Luther because of its genocidal overtones. Professor Rice does not suggest undernourished. A recent widely publicized statement that was an articulate corporation was the assassination of the University of Notre Dame's President, Rev.ataway.

Father Hesburgh is quite correct in asserting that persons in support of his case. He argues, Professor Rice suggests that abortion was an effort to make women the responsible for their own actions.

Professor Rice presses his right, right to choose, Jesse Jackson by Professor Rice puts an unvarnished statement about the facts.

Where is home?

To the drive to register students to vote.

I very much admire the drive to register students to exercise the right of a woman to privacy of focus photograph, in roseate hues, finally motivated to voice the opinion of the "quiet" off-campus minority. This is my second year off-campus, and there has never been an on-campus song that I have regretted. Although that is not to say that there haven't been some disturbing times, like the recent list circulated by the Supreme Court's decision, wanting to get off your golden domes and go without the standard thermostat at 75 degrees with your car under four feet of snow. But all in all it has been one heck of a year.

Sincerely yours,

Steve Grimmer
Bloomington, Indiana

The opinion of a fellow journalist

To the Editor:

You have failed in the sixth degree in your coverage of the abortion issue. You strongly urge young to seek another person. You have been too late and too early. Your recent scandal on the Notre Dame campus, a recent study for the World Health Organization, a recent list circulated by the Supreme Court, and a recent list circulated by the Supreme Court’s decision. A great percentage of your Observer readers are not in agreement with Professor Rice or any other opposition pro-life writer.

Robert P. McIntosh
Professor of Biology

A veteran's view of off-campus life

Dear Editor,

After four years at Duke I am finally motivated to voice the opinion of the "quiet" off-campus minority. This is my second year off-campus, and there has never been an on-campus song that I have regretted. Although that is not to say that there haven't been some disturbing times, like the recent list circulated by the Supreme Court's decision, wanting to get off your golden domes and go without the standard thermostat at 75 degrees with your car under four feet of snow.

I wish your drive success, but...

Sincerely yours,

Steve Grimmer
Bloomington, Indiana

MFA President and Founder

Where is home?

To the drive to register students to vote.

I very much admire the drive to register students to exercise the right of a woman to privacy of focus photograph, in roseate hues, finally motivated to voice the opinion of the "quiet" off-campus minority. This is my second year off-campus, and there has never been an on-campus song that I have regretted. Although that is not to say that there haven't been some disturbing times, like the recent list circulated by the Supreme Court's decision, wanting to get off your golden domes and go without the standard thermostat at 75 degrees with your car under four feet of snow.

I wish your drive success, but...

Sincerely yours,

Steve Grimmer
Bloomington, Indiana
An American probably views English private education as some kind of cross between Charles Dickens and Goodbye Mr. Chips. The private education as some kind of cross between Charles Dickens and Goodbye Mr. Chips.

The Hawkline Monster is Brautigan's most popular book, but there is no girl on the cover. The cover is an illustration, not a photograph. That, in itself, is a major departure from the form of most Brautigan's books. Only one of his books features an illustration: A Caudefarde General From Big Sur.

After you begin reading this book, there are interesting contrasts to its American counterpart. It is a strong narrative present, with very believable characters, shots of thematic unity from the start.

The Hawkline Monster in Brautigan's most beloved work, and it is hard to think that this has calmed his imagination any. The metaphors, analogies, and images flow with such precision and humor that has always characterized his writing. A good example is the first description of the two main characters in the novel, a couple of middle-aged women. It is clear that "Greer and Cameron," writes Brautigan, "had an aura about them that was like a good meal and situation that came up with a minimum amount of effect resulting in a maximum result.

Then there is a chapter having to do with the funeral of a dear daddy. "It did make burying the bolder simpler. While Greer dug a grave small outside the house, an old woman beyond the influence get the frost, Miss Hawkline went upstairs and got a suitcase."

The novel opens with Greer and Cameron sitting in the middle of a posse field in Hawaii. Their living is killing people, and that's what they're in Hawaii for. But this time, the killers are dressed in white and have a body. For one thing, they look out of place in Hawaii; both dressed in clothes that belong in Eastern Oregon. For another, the man they are to kill is giving his son a riding lesson and Cameron says, "I can't stand a man when he's teaching his kid how to ride a horse. I'm not made that way."

And so it begins. A novel filled with the presence of strange, inordinate, out-of-place elements in the midst of the American West, hardly in the 20th century (1902).

There is in this novel, as in Brautigan's others, a sense of the subjective, a sense of the supremacy of the subjective, a sense of the triumph of the illusion.

The main characters in The Hawkline Monster have unusual names. But the names are different in a way that is not fitting with our romanticized view of the west. For example, there are two towns by the name of Billy and Brooks, directly across the mountain range from each other. As Brautigan relates: "The towns were named for Billy and Brooks Patterson: two brothers who had pioneered the country forty years before and had killed each other in a gunfight September afternoon over the ownership of a new ax."

Greer and Cameron are summoned to the home of the Hawkline sisters to kill the monster living in the attic bedroom of the house. From then on, Brautigan weaves a light and stunning tale of good and evil, with a collection of bizarre humor and wit.

In Trout Fishing in America, Brautigan years ago by the now-disappeared Professor Hawkline. The good Professor had hoped to gather in a journal, a novel, a story all over the world, from all periods of the past. That was a brighter and more beautiful future for all mankind.

Someday something amazing, though, and the mutation results in the release of a strange light, accompanied by an even stranger sound. It's the sound of a new world. Then it was gone. He thought that there was somebody else in the house. Ever been. The reader is not allowed to deny the seriousness of interest in so Catching the Trout in America.

The Hawkline Monster, as it turns out, is the result of a strange mutation in the mixing of "The Chemicals": a project begun many years ago by the now-disappeared Professor Hawkline. The good Professor had hoped to gather in a journal, a novel, a story all over the world, from all periods of the past. That was a brighter and more beautiful future for all mankind.

Someday something amazing, though, and the mutation results in the release of a strange light, accompanied by an even stranger sound. It's the sound of a new world. Then it was gone. He thought that there was somebody else in the house. Ever been. The reader is not allowed to deny the seriousness of interest in so "The Turn of the Screw." As Greer and Cameron approach the house, Greer sees something in a second-story light, something that is like a strange shadow. Then it was gone. He thought that there was somebody else in the house. Ever been. The reader is not allowed to deny the seriousness of interest in so Catching the Trout in America.

The Hawkline Monster A Gothic Western

Richard Brautigan

Reminiscences of an English education

by Brian Burke

professor at Queen's College who edited the Oxford edition of Homer, and appreciated a good meal.

The University brewed its own beer in a thirteenth century brewhouse. A student could purchase a barrel of "squirrel pub" for a penny and either drink it from a silver mug at the student's own risk or send the manservant to fetch it up to his room. The taverns of Oxford city were off limits to students, while the "boulings" or "boullings" of university took place. Mondays, all the students would be owning men in denim hats if an Oxfordian was detected by a proctor frequencing a session in a "boulings". Meat was comparatively expensive and potential and disappointments. But for each he also designs a peaceful death. In a way, he says, they remain in a state of shock, unprepared for the imminent, he is at least going to die with some blessed memories.

In comparing the situation at Oxford to the one here at Notre Dame, Professor Thomas believes that in Queen's College, every opportunity for students to get to know faculty members well. Since the professors would often keep sets of rooms with their respective students, there had been many chances to meet with them outside of the formality of the "boulings". Thomas has wished for a more modern, considered the ancient Hittite Empire. He also had an opportunity to meet J.R.R. Tolkien, creator of the Lord of the Rings trilogy.

Today, enmarized with life in the American Midwest, Professor Thomas finds that the "boulings" of Oxford are "a world of my own". He is wondering if he would want a child of his own to go through the same system. It is a question he does not dwell on.
Four Japanese gunmen end siege

By SELWA USTAWANI
DAKAR (UPI) — Four Japanese gunmen who wandered the skies of the Middle East for 18 hours after ending permission to land in Damascus broke their five-day siege of the French embassy in Holland Wednesday. Those remaining pistol and grenade-wielding Japanese were so mellowed by today that they were allowed to disembark from the plane before flying back to Amsterdam, an official said.

The second type of legislation, said a manager at the embassy, would increase in the coming weeks. "We have not seen a notable increase in abortion since the moment of conception up until the sixth month of pregnancy," he said.

Rice stated that abortion is "in spite of continuous attempts to maneuver by the French, Dutch, and Japanese imperialists, allies and conspirators with the Zionists enemy, to abduct the operation and capture our comrades."

Thus apparently ended a saga that began Friday when three of the gunmen seized the French embassy in The Hague and took the ambassador and 10 other people as hostages.

They released their hostages Tuesday in exchange for the fourth man, who had been freed from a prison on their demand and was turned over to them when the hostages were freed, plus $300,000 and an Air France airliner with a volun-

The Hague, French Ambas-
sador Jacques Senard recounted five days during which he and his fellow hostages were held at gunpoint 24 hours a day, systematically starved and prevented from leaving the embassy's office even to use the toilet.

Mr. Brademas, who directed the skies of the Middle East for 18 hours after ending permission to land in Damascus, was so mellowed by today that he was allowed to disembark from the plane before flying back to Amsterdam, an official said.

In the Hague, French Ambassador Jacques Senard recounted five days during which he and his fellow hostages were held at gunpoint 24 hours a day, systematically starved and prevented from leaving the ambassador's office even to use the toilet.

The second type of legislation, said a manager at the embassy, would increase in the coming weeks. "We have not seen a notable increase in abortion since the moment of conception up until the sixth month of pregnancy," he said.

Rice stated that abortion is "in spite of continuous attempts to maneuver by the French, Dutch, and Japanese imperialists, allies and conspirators with the Zionists enemy, to abduct the operation and capture our comrades."

Thus apparently ended a saga that began Friday when three of the gunmen seized the French embassy in The Hague and took the ambassador and 10 other people as hostages.

They released their hostages Tuesday in exchange for the fourth man, who had been freed from a prison on their demand and was turned over to them when the hostages were freed, plus $300,000 and an Air France airliner with a volun-

The Hague, French Ambas-
sador Jacques Senard recounted five days during which he and his fellow hostages were held at gunpoint 24 hours a day, systematically starved and prevented from leaving the ambassador's office even to use the toilet.

Mr. Brademas, who directed the skies of the Middle East for 18 hours after ending permission to land in Damascus, was so mellowed by today that he was allowed to disembark from the plane before flying back to Amsterdam, an official said.

In the Hague, French Ambassador Jacques Senard recounted five days during which he and his fellow hostages were held at gunpoint 24 hours a day, systematically starved and prevented from leaving the ambassador's office even to use the toilet.

The second type of legislation, said a manager at the embassy, would increase in the coming weeks. "We have not seen a notable increase in abortion since the moment of conception up until the sixth month of pregnancy," he said.

Rice stated that abortion is "in spite of continuous attempts to maneuver by the French, Dutch, and Japanese imperialists, allies and conspirators with the Zionists enemy, to abduct the operation and capture our comrades."

Thus apparently ended a saga that began Friday when three of the gunmen seized the French embassy in The Hague and took the ambassador and 10 other people as hostages.

They released their hostages Tuesday in exchange for the fourth man, who had been freed from a prison on their demand and was turned over to them when the hostages were freed, plus $300,000 and an Air France airliner with a volun-

The Hague, French Ambas-
sador Jacques Senard recounted five days during which he and his fellow hostages were held at gunpoint 24 hours a day, systematically starved and prevented from leaving the ambassador's office even to use the toilet.

Mr. Brademas, who directed the skies of the Middle East for 18 hours after ending permission to land in Damascus, was so mellowed by today that he was allowed to disembark from the plane before flying back to Amsterdam, an official said.

In the Hague, French Ambassador Jacques Senard recounted five days during which he and his fellow hostages were held at gunpoint 24 hours a day, systematically starved and prevented from leaving the ambassador's office even to use the toilet.

The second type of legislation, said a manager at the embassy, would increase in the coming weeks. "We have not seen a notable increase in abortion since the moment of conception up until the sixth month of pregnancy," he said.

Rice stated that abortion is "in spite of continuous attempts to maneuver by the French, Dutch, and Japanese imperialists, allies and conspirators with the Zionists enemy, to abduct the operation and capture our comrades."

Thus apparently ended a saga that began Friday when three of the gunmen seized the French embassy in The Hague and took the ambassador and 10 other people as hostages.

They released their hostages Tuesday in exchange for the fourth man, who had been freed from a prison on their demand and was turned over to them when the hostages were freed, plus $300,000 and an Air France airliner with a volun-

The Hague, French Ambas-
sador Jacques Senard recounted five days during which he and his fellow hostages were held at gunpoint 24 hours a day, systematically starved and prevented from leaving the ambassador's office even to use the toilet.

Mr. Brademas, who directed the skies of the Middle East for 18 hours after ending permission to land in Damascus, was so mellowed by today that he was allowed to disembark from the plane before flying back to Amsterdam, an official said.

In the Hague, French Ambassador Jacques Senard recounted five days during which he and his fellow hostages were held at gunpoint 24 hours a day, systematically starved and prevented from leaving the ambassador's office even to use the toilet.

The second type of legislation, said a manager at the embassy, would increase in the coming weeks. "We have not seen a notable increase in abortion since the moment of conception up until the sixth month of pregnancy," he said.

Rice stated that abortion is "in spite of continuous attempts to maneuver by the French, Dutch, and Japanese imperialists, allies and conspirators with the Zionists enemy, to abduct the operation and capture our comrades."

Thus apparently ended a saga that began Friday when three of the gunmen seized the French embassy in The Hague and took the ambassador and 10 other people as hostages.

They released their hostages Tuesday in exchange for the fourth man, who had been freed from a prison on their demand and was turned over to them when the hostages were freed, plus $300,000 and an Air France airliner with a volun-

The Hague, French Ambas-
sador Jacques Senard recounted five days during which he and his fellow hostages were held at gunpoint 24 hours a day, systematically starved and prevented from leaving the ambassador's office even to use the toilet.

Mr. Brademas, who directed the skies of the Middle East for 18 hours after ending permission to land in Damascus, was so mellowed by today that he was allowed to disembark from the plane before flying back to Amsterdam, an official said.

In the Hague, French Ambassador Jacques Senard recounted five days during which he and his fellow hostages were held at gunpoint 24 hours a day, systematically starved and prevented from leaving the ambassador's office even to use the toilet.

The second type of legislation, said a manager at the embassy, would increase in the coming weeks. "We have not seen a notable increase in abortion since the moment of conception up until the sixth month of pregnancy," he said.

Rice stated that abortion is "in spite of continuous attempts to maneuver by the French, Dutch, and Japanese imperialists, allies and conspirators with the Zionists enemy, to abduct the operation and capture our comrades."

Thus apparently ended a saga that began Friday when three of the gunmen seized the French embassy in The Hague and took the ambassador and 10 other people as hostages.

They released their hostages Tuesday in exchange for the fourth man, who had been freed from a prison on their demand and was turned over to them when the hostages were freed, plus $300,000 and an Air France airliner with a volun-

The Hague, French Ambas-
sador Jacques Senard recounted five days during which he and his fellow hostages were held at gunpoint 24 hours a day, systematically starved and prevented from leaving the ambassador's office even to use the toilet.

Mr. Brademas, who directed the skies of the Middle East for 18 hours after ending permission to land in Damascus, was so mellowed by today that he was allowed to disembark from the plane before flying back to Amsterdam, an official said.

In the Hague, French Ambassador Jacques Senard recounted five days during which he and his fellow hostages were held at gunpoint 24 hours a day, systematically starved and prevented from leaving the ambassador's office even to use the toilet.

The second type of legislation, said a manager at the embassy, would increase in the coming weeks. "We have not seen a notable increase in abortion since the moment of conception up until the sixth month of pregnancy," he said.

Rice stated that abortion is "in spite of continuous attempts to maneuver by the French, Dutch, and Japanese imperialists, allies and conspirators with the Zionists enemy, to abduct the operation and capture our comrades."

Thus apparently ended a saga that began Friday when three of the gunmen seized the French embassy in The Hague and took the ambassador and 10 other people as hostages.

They released their hostages Tuesday in exchange for the fourth man, who had been freed from a prison on their demand and was turned over to them when the hostages were freed, plus $300,000 and an Air France airliner with a volun-

The Hague, French Ambas-
sador Jacques Senard recounted five days during which he and his fellow hostages were held at gunpoint 24 hours a day, systematically starved and prevented from leaving the ambassador's office even to use the toilet.
British slate new elections

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson Wed­nesday called a snap parlia­mentary general election Oct. 19 to seek a new five-year mandate to take on what he called Britain's gravest crisis since World War II.

"The economic crisis is the gravest of all," he told the House of Commons Wednesday. "We have said in a television and radio broadcast address to the nation that "We have to meet this in a mood of determination, not of pessimism or writing Britain off."

"It will be the second time Britain has voted this year," he said. "Something few people would want to see," Wilson said.

But he said it was made "inevitable" by the political deadlock resulting from the general election Feb. 28.

The deadlock has tied up the country for the past six months. He said a new five-year mandate is essential to give his government powers to fight the crisis.

"The fight must be led by a government determined to con­quer inflation," he said. "The key word is victory in its resolve not to resort to unemployment to solve these problems." He said the United States refused a request from Allende for a $1 million contribution to his 1970 campaign.

Kerry made the statement at an Aug. 15 seminar at Georgetown University. UPI obtained a copy of the statement in the wake of a disclosure that the CIA had been secretly funded to "destabilize" the Allende government.

President Ford, who Monday acknowledged CIA activity in Chile, has called top congressmen to the White House Thursday to discuss whether such covert operations should be allowed.

Kerry indicated that Allende, who was killed in a military coup last year, received the offer from the United States in 1971 after his government had nationalized the Chilean operations of three U.S.-based ITT and two copper companies -Anaconda and Kennecott.

"To reach an accommodation," he said, "the U.S. offered Allende a deal which could only be described as the most incredibly generous package we have ever offered any govern­ment in an economic relationship."

He said Washington proposed to underwrite Chile bonds with "the full faith and credit of the American Treasury, if the Allende regime would negotiate a settlement with ITT and the two copper companies."

Kerry said Allende rejected the offer "for ideological reasons," fearing that he would have lost support for his Marxist-Socialist government by accepting help from the United States.

Allende felt, Kerry said, "that if he accepted the deal - which he told me himself there would be no 'Chilean revolution.'"

Kerry said that during the 1970 Chilean presidential elections, the U.S. embassy was pressed for contributions to "high-level fund raisers" of all three candidates. He said Allende's fund-raiser asked for $1 million.

"The U.S. government made no contributions to any of the candidates," he said. "This was in part to reinforce the policy of the Kennedy and Johnson administrations which, during the campaign for the 1964 Chilean election, provided considerable support for the election of President (Eduardo) Frei."

Kerry said the United States had infiltrated the leadership of Chile's Communist and Socialist parties. "We knew exactly what their intentions were toward U.S. investments when they came to power ... but we were prepared to bend backwards to try to reach some kind of agreement with Allende," he said.

"We first made every effort to work out an accommodation with the Allende government. But we also prepared to take defensive measures if that system of policy towards Chile assumed a hostile policy towards the United States."
Edith out of her religion for that who can't marry out of her religion ... or do anything else wanted her to do. myself, you telling her I am now saved from a new series of textbooks spread from this capitol city to farmlands of Appalachia. the nearby coal camps and poured into the streets, chant system saw shades of fascism, not unlike the fever that swept fearful of the anonymous death their capacity, dashing from moved his family into hiding, disturbances.

say the books, for all grades said at the height of the classrooms. They became the reading material and the lion's den from the and un-American teachings. became incensed by what they became the reading material and the lion's den from the in the center of the turmoil was Indiana-born Kenneth Underwood, the county schools superintendent.

"It's like a nightmare," he told UP. "I wonder, when people tell me to burn books, whether we live in Nazi Germany. But I have faith in the democratic process. It will work out. Despite the cross-fire of criticism from parents as well as teachers, Underwood said he at no time thought of abandon­ ing the post he has held here three years. But at one point, fearing a new outbreak of violence. Underwood closed all county schools for two days. He reopened them after Gov. Arch Moore agreed to use 200 state troopers in roving patrols to guard buses and school property.

Supporters of the books view them as harmless, they defend the off-color language and passages from revolutionary as chronicles of contemporary America. Unsanitized parents view things differently. "Anti-Christian, un-American, filthy and rotten," declared protest leaders, such as Rev. Horan like his followers, has voiced strong opposition to sexist texts such as "Man," "Informa­tive Articles." "The Dynamics of Communism," and a children's series entitled "Communicating." "Our children will not study textbooks that undermine the respect of duly authorized authority, call our policemen pigs, or urge the violent, overthrow of our government," an angry parent shouted at a rally.

"Our children will not read textbooks that in any manner profane the name of God and ridicule out religious beliefs."

By the end of the first week of the boycott, the protest had escalated from minor skirmishes to shootings incidents and beatings. Philip Cochran, 20, a United Parcel Service truck driver who was not involved in the protest, was wounded seriously at Rand, near Charleston, by a protester shooting at random. A packet received superficial wounds when shot by a junior whose path to work was blocked by demonstrators. Underwood and Horan then announced that they had reached a compromise in which the board agreed to a 30-day moratorium on the books. Horan's followers, however, refused to bend, and the minister backed out of the agreement. He said the board would not put its promise in writing.

Two days later, the board consented to a signed offer, and Horan relented. Miners who struck in at least four coal camps under fire from the United Mine Workers (UMW), and Bituminous Coal Operators Association (BMA) alike. UMW leaders tried to steer embittered miners clear of the protest, but the cry heard from the coalfields was: "We're parents first, and miners second.

Industry leaders said the book dispute was being used a ploy by miners to stage strikes at a time when the UMW was bargaining with coal producers for a new wage contract. Not all clergymen and not all parents sided with dissidents. Rev. James Lewis, one of 10 Episcopal clergymen who pub­ lished a statement condemning the violence, chided Gov. Moore for his initial reluctance to beef up sheriff patrols with state troopers.

Lewis said he read some of the books and saw nothing objectionable, but rather found the material "conducive to the kind of freedom our country was based on."

"The material opens up all kinds of human concern and godly concern," he said. "There is a lot of potential in it."

During the third week of the controversy, nearly 1,000 pa­ rents, waving American flags, demonstrated on the Capitol lawn and shut down the 30-day moratorium. They demand­ ed books be stricken on a permanent basis, without bene­ fit of a review.

Two parents decided to set wheels in motion for a legal settlement and filed suit in U. S. District Court in Charleston. Gary D. Williams Sr. and his wife, whose two children are in school, said they filed the suit because the books abused the "constitutional rights of free­ dom of religion."

We feel that the textbooks will teach our children anti­ Christian doctrine contrary to our belief, and our rights as parents," he said.
Dean Rusk advocates nuclear disarmament

by John F. Barton

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger was to testify today in the House committee's hearings on detente policy.

"I would support going back to zero nuclear weapons," Rusk said. For a start, he urged that all missiles with a range of less than 1,800 miles be eliminated and those with ranges of more than 1,800 miles be limited to 2,000 in each side. "I have just about reached the conclusion that, if real progress is to be made, the approach must be wholesale rather than retail and must involve dramatic simplicity," he said.

Rusk, who currently teaches political science at the University of Georgia, said he was interested in limiting arms races in Latin America, Africa, the Middle East and between India and Pakistan.

"I have been disappointed that more has not been achieved, but I suppose we will have to admit that these arms races also have their complications," he said.

Rusk opposed granting the Soviet Union special trade terms. "I see no particular reason why we should subsidize the Soviet economy with long range credits at concessional interest rates which would not represent a flow of good goods and services to us in exchange for what we send to them," he said.

Rusk said he was sympathetic to the plight of Soviet Jews desiring to emigrate to Israel, but added: "I doubt that we could have embarked upon the road of detente if we had qualified that effort by linking it with changes in the political economic and social structures of other nations."

---

In Vietnam

Peacekeeping operations in jeopardy

by Nguyen Anh Tuyen

SAIGON (UPI) — American contractors are threatening to force Wednesday to cut off vital supplies to International Commission on Control and Supervision unless the four-nation peace group pays its membership fees. The firms—Air America and Pacific Architects and Engineers—have provided food, transportation, security and administrative services for the ICCS mission over the past 20 months.

"We have informed the ICCS early August, and very recently, that we need payment if we are to continue to support their activities," a PA&E spokesman said. He has indicated that ICCS members "are in the process of withdrawing that support because it has become apparent that the ICCS is without operating funds." PA&E threatened to phase out all services to this end Friday. "We will be unable to judge, but we understand the ICCS has other alternative approaches to peacekeeping.

The truce team, made up of delegates from China, South Vietnam, North Vietnam and Viet Cong—to pay 23 per cent of each of these elements' peacekeeping budget. The truce nations pay the rest.

The United States, however, is the only signer to pay its share of the new &24.5 million peacekeeping fund. Vietnam has agreed but has yet to pay. North Vietnam and the Viet Cong have refused. In moves to cut back expenses, the truce team has grounded two of its helicopters and has made plans to move some regional units to Saigon, ICCS sources said.

Air America and PA&E are supposed to receive at least $16.5 million out of the truce fund's $24.5 million budget.

Air America, a commercial airdrop frequently used by the CIA in the Indochina conflict, has been forced to scale down its operations for ICCS delegates.

PA&E, which did construction work on the U.S. armed forces base during the Indochina war, has been asked to reduce spending, housing, security and food for the 26 regional truce teams.

---

CLASSIFIED ADS

FOR RENT

1 or 2 singles off campus. 1001 Demadeau Ave. $55.00 per month plus gas, water, electricity. Day nursery bakery. call 223-2772.

PERSONALS

Nuclear Physicist will destroy other Physicists attempting to make that same mistake.

Attention Mafia Terrorist Groups. Need to construct nuclear weapon. contact High quality or reasonable price. 1979.

2nd Floor B.P. Don't forget to cast your vote for "Last of the Month" by the end of this month.

Undelivered copy ripped from the word. Lm called a fool. Help. Boom Boom Boom.

To Souther, Bookie.—Beer.—Can. D.B. May be your dollars equal your credits this evening. Happy birthday, wonderland woo.

FOR SALE

For $200,000 house and land in the vicinity of Greenville Ave. 1941 Wedgwood Dr. and 19193 21,22 Fri 1 pm to 4 pm.

---

LOST & FOUND

Lost : Schwinn 10 speed reward $184. Call 1864.

Lost : Laniotn calculator in D. shop, Room 101. Reward offered. Call 3699 after 10 a.m. please.

Lost: Ladies Gold Bracelet Watch. Somewhere between Farley and Summer Sunday night. Call Betty 6887.

Lost: Pair of brown glasses somewhere during Saturday night in the vicinity of Flammier hall reward call 4289.

Lost: Virginity at Campus view. If found call aah-choo. sorry its my allergy.

Lost Silver woman's wristwatch Saturday night in the vicinity of Flammier hall reward call 4289.

Lost: NO Class ring Gold with inscription. Call Dennis 260 260 2911.

---

WANTED

WANTED

NOTICES

Wanted: 2 GA tickets for Purdue. Call Marianne 524.

Wanted: Single or GA ticket for Purdue. Desperately, will pay $ 371.

Wanted: 1 GA ticket. Craig, 233-1999

Wanted: 3 GA. O.A. of Rice. call Fred 223-1999

Desperately need two tit for Purdue. Call Trace 234-1980

Wanted: 2 GA for Purdue call Bob 221-1980

Top Dollar Paid for poor GA Rice tit. Dave 6181

Wanted: 2 GA Miami call Mark 654-6009

Wanted: 1 GA ticket. will pay. Call Scott 1205.

Wanted 2 GA tit for Pitt game. 728-2109, Bob

Desperately need Purdue tit & 3 of internals. Call Joe 3606

Need a 4 to GA tit for Pitt or Miami. 293-8213.

Wanted: 2 GA tit for Purdue. Call Jerry 289-7735.

Need 2 Purdue tickets call Pam. 5145.

Need 2 student tit for Northwestern game. call 6789.

Need: 2 GA tit for Purdue. call 223-9575.

Need one ticket for Northwestern John 5340 after 9.

Need 3 GA Purdue tit. Call Jerry 1999.

Wanted: 1 GA or student ticket for Purdue. Call Mike 1649.

Desperately need 4 GA tit for Miami. Call Rich 6981.

Need 6 GA Purdue tit will pay $ 5. Call regular 2951.

Wanted 2 GA Purdue tit. Call Roger 1055.

Need: 1-3 GA Purdue tit call Bill 6667.
Tryouts will be held Sunday, (6783) or Donna early next week and he has completely recovered because my knees were hurting me for the pains of law giving up a promising pro career. The traditional teaching employed by colleges is you're treated like a professional. You're told what to do, and if you don't do it, they get someone else to do it. The team isn't quite the same - the game is also quite similar: "The quick become quicker and the big become bigger and all of them are on the ball." Over the summer, Marx participated in supporting the union along with most of the Falcon veterans. The council knew what they were asking for and felt we couldn't delay law school, but it's not what I wanted because my knees were hurting me for the pains of law giving up a promising pro career.

Greg Marx displayed his defensive prowess two years ago, pursuing quarterback Bill Daniels of the Atlanta Falcons for four years to pursue the study of law at West Virginia. His sentiments toward Notre Dame are to say the least, subjective, "As long as Notre Dame continues the tradition of enthusiasm they've always had, there will always be number one with me.

As to this year's football team, he stated, "I've never seen a team to turn down by accidents, suspensions, and injuries as this Notre Dame team. However, even the best teams lose in the future, their tremendous depth has made up for the losses. I still think they can be a team that goes to the Superbowl. So who's going to argue with a 265 pound law student.

That mysterious sport

Rugby. That mysterious club sport played somewhere behind Streisand Center. What is rugby and who plays what and most importantly, why rugby? At first glance rugby and football may seem to have some similarities, but the similarity is merely superficial, contact and a similar shaped ball. Rugby has no downo, no regrouping after referee, no timeouts. Offensive rushes continue until the ball is thrown into the serum, 32 wildly flailing legs (hands are illegal in the serum) attempt to get the ball out to a waiting back, and the game continues to the endgame of the tide-like fluid motion up and down the field.

Rugby has been around for over 200 years, mostly in England. The game is played by a team of close friends in a close-knit sport. Rugby has been called "a great social sport, not a hate sport." Rugby is not about the result. The general philosophy behind the success of the Notre Dame rugby team is that of a group of close friends in a close-knit sport. With the support of the Notre Dame rugby club, this year's captain makes the team." The team wants to change the tide from defeat to a surge to victory. "I'll be in Atlanta next year," he said.

The Irish rugby club is run by a seven man council elected at the start of spring and fall season by their teammates. The various officers of the council organize fund-raising, scheduling and the postgame parties. The captain, elected for both seasons, runs practice and is more a coordinator than a captain-type leader.

The general philosophy behind the success of the Notre Dame rugby team is that of a group of close friends in a close-knit sport. With the support of the Notre Dame rugby club, this year's captain makes the team." The team wants to change the tide from defeat to a surge to victory. "I'll be in Atlanta next year," he said.

The Irish rugby club is run by a seven man council elected at the start of spring and fall season by their teammates. The various officers of the council organize fund-raising, scheduling and the postgame parties. The captain, elected for both seasons, runs practice and is more a coordinator than a captain-type leader.

The general philosophy behind the success of the Notre Dame rugby team is that of a group of close friends in a close-knit sport. The typical Irish rugger played high school football. The Irish rugby club means a group of close circle friends. But without the structure of football. "I play rugby because it provides a rugged, "The rapid turnover every spring after graduation, the Irish rugger is to be among the best in the Midwest. "The game itself is fun to play," remarked team captain Larry Casey. "The hard hitting is there not just for fun, but to hurt anyone, but because it is part of the game. Our program is geared to the individual putting out what he wants within a loose group sport."

Despite the repeated turnover every spring after graduation, the Irish rugger is to be among the best in the Midwest. "The game itself is fun to play," remarked team captain Larry Casey. "The hard hitting is there not just for fun, but to hurt anyone, but because it is part of the game. Our program is geared to the individual putting out what he wants within a loose group sport."

The typical Irish rugger played high school football.