Ford, Pat McLaughlin, and J. R. Paczesny discussed the matter of establishing a food co-op to open become a reality. The President stated that the plan, which he intended to present to the student body, was not a simple undertaking. Paczesny stressed that the plan, which would involve the establishment of a co-op, was important for the future of the university and its community. Pat McLaughlin, who had earlier requested a loan for the co-op, also commented on the feasibility of establishing a co-op. He said that a co-op would help students save money on their food costs and would be a valuable asset to the university. The President agreed with this statement and emphasized the importance of the co-op for the university's future.

Quickie service resumes

by Fred Herbst

Staff Reporter

The "Quickie" Shuttle service to Michigan sponsored by the Omundson and the St. Mary's Social Commission will resume operation this Friday night.

The "Quickie" bus will make stops at the Boar's Head, Denny's Village Inn Pizza, Kubisk's, Jay's Lounges, Heidelberg Inn and Portofino's.

The "Quickie" leaves the Notre Dame college at 8:30, 9:00, 9:30, 10:00, 11:00, 12:00, 1:00, 2:00 and 3:00. The bus will stop at Holy Cross Hall on the Saint Mary's Campus and leave five minutes after departing from Notre Dame.

As during last semester, the cost of the "Quickie" will be 10 cents each way or 75 cents for the entire night.

Nazz to reopen

The "Nazz" coffeehouse will reopen tonight at 10 p.m. with a "Jazz at the Nazz" series. This series will be offered every Wednesday night.

Tonight's edition will feature FY. Winkelen of the N.D. Jazz Combo. The regular "Nazz," which will reopen this weekend at 18 p.m. on both Friday and Saturday.

The "Nazz" is located in the basement of LaFortune. For further information and for those interested in performing, the numbers to call are 4913 (Ralph Pinnin), 4912 (Dave Shuster).

The Observer is published daily during the college semester except vacations by the students of the University of Notre Dame and St. Mary's College. Subscriptions may be purchased for 36 per semester by the students of Notre Dame and St. Mary's College.

The Heidelberg Inn has become popular for large parties and we have provided extra bus service for these parties. This extra bus service is greatly needed because of the limited funds we have to run the buses, so we have been forced to put a $5.00 deposit requirement on these parties to cover any losses we incur.

"We also would ask that anyone planning a party in Michigan, we would get at least a week's notice, if they wish to use the shuttle. Any large party requires that an extra bus be obtained and the stewards, to man that bus, must be found," he added.

"We want the Nazz" series. This extra bus service to be expanded this semester, Stedman said, "We had six 'Quickie' weekends last semester on an experimental basis. We had a total bus around $450, and averaged about $30-$50 less each weekend.

We hope to be able to offer this service for 8-10 weekends this semester, provided that the necessary funds can be found."

Noting that the Omundson and the St. Mary's Social Commission are more than willing to help transport these private parties in Michigan, Stedman stated, "The Heidelberg Inn has become popular for large parties and we have provided extra bus service for these parties. This extra bus service is greatly needed because of the limited funds we have to run the buses, so we have been forced to put a $5.00 deposit requirement on these parties to cover any losses we incur."

"We also would ask that anyone planning a party in Michigan, we would get at least a week's notice, if they wish to use the shuttle. Any large party requires that an extra bus be obtained and the stewards, to man that bus, must be found," he added.

Asking the consideration of students for the bus stewards, Muran mentioned, "The students should remember that the stewards are riding the buses and helping sick students on a volunteer basis, receiving no pay for the work."

It was stressed the large number of individuals involved in the "Quickie" service and added "Stewards are a necessary part of the 'Quickie', and we are always looking for concerned students who should be interested in helping as stewards If interested students should call the Omundson office at 7084 and leave their names."

Committee of U.S. clergy sanctions charismatics

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A key committee of bishops Tuesday gave its blessing to the Roman Catholic charismatic movement and suggested it could be compared with the Second Vatican Council as "one of the great movements of God in our time."

The charismatic gifts—healing, prophecy, speaking in tongues—usually not associated with fundamentalist Protestantism. But in recent years there has been a growing charismatic movement in mainstream Protestant churches such as the Lutheran Church and among Roman Catholics.

The statement said the charismatic renewal movement "has to have a strong bond with the total life of the Church," and it praised the openness of members of the movement with those who are not a part of it.
Lafortune remodeling continues

by Mike Edwards
Staff Reporter

The renovation of LaFortune is proceeding and nearing completion of the present schedule of plans, said Ron Blitch, director of student activities. The current push for renovation began in 1973 and in April of that year a plan was submitted to the Board of Trustees by a committee of students. Last year $200,000 was allocated by the Board and work was begun.

Ron Blitch, a fourth year architecture student and a member of the original board, said that work has been completed in most of the areas set forth in the original plans. "The old stairs have been torn out and new stairwells installed and extended up to the third floor," Blitch stated. The reduced number of all the student publications to the third floor has been successfully completed and the Student Union and Student Government have been provided with offices and a reception area on the second floor.

Over the Christmas break most of the building was repaired and bold letter graphic signs were painted to make it easier to locate the various offices and facilities of the building.

At present time the main lobby is still being worked on. New lighting has been installed and carpeting and new furnishings are scheduled to be in by the end of Easter break.

Purple futuristic and red chairs will be strung about in serpentine fashion throughout the lobby, interspersed by twenty rented live trees. Canvas strips may be hung lengthwise from the ceiling to dissipate light and provide a lowered ceiling while maintaining the classical integrity of the room, Blitch noted.

The original first priority of the renovation, a complete remodeling of the Huddle Snack Bar, has been put off till last. Blitch explained, "Because of the size and expense of the project the renovation of the Huddle was postponed. We have re-evaluate the food situation in see exactly what would be best for the students. The whole Huddle will probably be changed."

He added that the most favored plan included an extension of the dining area into a room over the pool hall and that some type of renovation should be completed for the upcoming fall semester.

Sclaver said that originally consideration was given to converting what is currently the Rathskeller into a bar, but the recent State Supreme Court rulings on the liability involved with the consumption of alcohol by minors skuddled the idea.

"The thing we want to emphasize is that renovation is an ongoing process with no plans or dates for completion," he observed. "LaFortune is a beautiful and useful building and it just needs to be adapted to the shifting interests of the students."

Sponsor tax program

by John Feeney
Staff Reporter

Beginning in February, the Notre Dame Tax Assistance Program (TAP) will once again go into operation. Sponsored by the Accounting Department of the College of Business Administration and under the supervision of Professor Don Slusher and Professor Jim Wittenberg, TAP is a service conducted for the benefit of South Bend residents, providing aid in the preparation of Federal and State Income Tax reports.

Now in its fourth year, the organization has gradually increased in scope and last year aided over 400 families. "The service is there, but we try to encourage only those who have an income below the poverty level to come," said Slusher. "Stuffed by Notre Dame Law, graduate, and undergraduate students, the program is conducted every day of the week except Sundays. Our intention is to start early in February (presently scheduled for Saturday, February 9) and continue until the filing deadline, Tuesday, April 15."

There should be almost no "taxmengers" has been set up which will include the Muder Civic Center and the Hanes Center. "We will be present to provide advice and supervision on the last-minute tax problems," Slusher added.

Throughout the program there have been no real difficulties and Milani praised both the Indiana Revenue Service and the Indiana Department of Revenue for their cooperation, stating, "They have been most helpful, providing forms and offering their services to all interested.

To publicize the organization, an extensive public relations campaign has been under way, under the direction of Bill Sullivan, a senior business major. A volunteer, as are all the other par-ticipants, has put it in a lot of time to promote the organization.

"I've been very busy lately," stated Sullivan, "contacting radio stations, the newspapers, and local offices in the area, providing them with a newsletter explaining how the organization functions."

Despite the effort involved, most students have found TAP to be very worthwhile. "It's been a good experience for me," offered Sullivan, "learning to work with other people, finding out about the public relations involved, and using the skills learned from class."

As the reaction of the people has been just great. They are all very grateful, thanking everyone profusely and often writing letters of thanks."

There will be a special training session offered next week by the accounting department, with an announcement concerning the time and place forthcoming. Anyone interested in the organization is urged to call Bill Sullivan at 389-4142.

Rare Earth to perform

The rock band Rare Earth will appear in concert on Tuesday, January 28 at 7:30 p.m. at the Morris Civic Auditorium. Pete Kernan, South Bend representative of Sunshine Productions, also announced that Pure Funk will open the show.

Tickets for the concert are $5.50 in advance or $6.00 on the day of the show. Tickets are now on sale at the Notre Dame Student Union Ticket Office, Morris Civic Box Office, and Bogie Records.

Senior Ball surveys due

All ND-SMC seniors are reminded that the Senior Ball surveys should be returned today. They can be brought to the Morrissey Loan Fund office at the basement of LaFortune anytime this afternoon or evening. If the office is closed, please slip the questionnaire under the door. The Senior Ball Committee is depending on these surveys for all plans and locations. Seniors are urged to include any comments or suggestions about the events and the format.

Telles calls for equality

by Mike Lyons
Staff Reporter

Charging that "No person can be fully American until he has opportunity, Telles appealed for recognition of the need for equal opportunities for all during a speech in the Library auditorium last night.

Telles is a member of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission which was created by the Civil Rights Act of 1964. He was the first Mexican-American to become mayor of a major city (El Paso, Texas). From 1961 to 1967 he served as Ambassador to Costa Rica.

Monday night, Telles called for the young people of today to provide the necessary leadership and action to the denial of equal opportunity, and prejudice in the job market. If we are to survive, Telles believes, we must cultivate human relationships and let the "good of the whole take precedence over the good of the part."

The Ambassador traced the development of the Civil Rights Movement beginning with the progress made by John F. Kennedy in 1961 when he created the first legislative committee specifically designated to investigate discrimination. Telles emphasized that though the summer of 1964 saw the bitter struggle over human rights and the elimination of "dependency," the country will be on a way to a way to a better tomorrow. Telles ascertained that the figure proves that the complaints filed with the Commission do not represent a few troublemakers but are typical of the frustration and despair felt by good workers who have been continually discriminated.

Telles listed problems with the EEOC as amassing a backlog of some 100,000 cases and the fact that once an investigation started, many different types of discriminatory practices other than the one being checked may be discovered. The Commission must then investigate all aspects of the company’s hiring practices.

The Ambassador also discussed a second type of discrimination, one which, although not exactly against the law, still is a source of unfair employment practices. Of such employment prerequisites as passing a written test in English or height and weight specifications are discriminatory when they are not necessary for the job the applicant is applying for.

Telles said that women have come a long way in job opportunities, but were still far behind. For every $5 made by a man, a woman will earn only $3 in comparable job, according to Telles.

The speech was ended on an optimistic note with Telles reminding his audience that he reminded his audience that he stood tallest who lifts others.

Telles: The Commission is bogged down with an overload of cases and it greatly interferes with its efficiency. The situation is getting worse rather than improving, and this was illustrated with a few statistics. In 1973, 40,000 cases were brought before the Commission for investigation. In 1974, 10,000 cases were filed, and an estimated 70,000 cases will appear in 1975. In approximately 63 percent of these cases, investigations turned out to be reasonable cause for the charges were found.

and to "preserve their human dignity." Some of the results of discrimination in employment include loss of vital manpower and the discouragement of young people from even trying to break into the job market. Any good executive realizes that people contribute to the success of an organization. Yet, America still refuses to fully develop her greatest, natural resource, human potential.

Woody Allen films
Cinema ‘75 spring schedule

by Shawn Scannell
Staff Reporter

A Woody Allen Film Festival will highlight this spring’s semester’s Cultural Arts Commission’s Cinema ‘75, according to co-chairman Bill Wylie and Tom McGarty. “The Spring Semester spring film series will offer a range of movies by some of the most consistently popular and successful members of the cinematic medium.”

Wylie said.

Starting this Sunday, Jan. 26, is a week of conspicuous mayhem in the form of the Woody Allen Festival. All six of Allen’s films will be shown, beginning with “Play It Again, Sam” this Sunday, the film that established Allen’s career. Monday, Jan. 27 - “What’s Up, Tiggy?” Tuesday “Bananas”; Wednesday “Take the Money and Run”; Friday – “Everything You Always Wanted To Know About Sex”, and finishing up on Saturday, February 1 with “Sleepers”, Allen’s most recent effort.

The first of the contemporary special series is the highly successful “American Graffiti”, to be shown Tuesday and Wednesday, February 4 and 5. The following week the second special series, “Summer Wishes, Winter Dreams”, will be shown Thursday and Friday, February 13 and 14. This film is the story of the soul searching of a middle-aged woman, played by Joanne Woodward.

Next on the agenda is the Literary Adaptations Festival, during which 25 films will be shown on successive evenings, beginning Sunday, Feb. 22 through Thursday, Feb. 27. The five films, in order of presentation, are: “The Heart Is a Lonely Hunter”, based on the novel by Carson McCullers, starring Alan Arkin; “To Have and Have Not”, from Ernest Hemmingway, starring Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall, and directed by Howard Hawks; “The Last Hurrah”, directed by John Ford and starring Spencer Tracy; “The Loved One”, from the novel by Evelyn Waugh; and the suspenseful thriller “Don’t Look Now”, starring Donald Sutherland and Julie Christie, adapted from Daphne du Maurier’s story of the same name. “The intent of this series is to present the definitive “best” adaptations of books to the screen, but to explore the paradoxical maxim that states that relatively good books make poor movies and vice-versa,” according to Wylie.

On Thursday and Friday, March 13 and 14, “Panic in Needle Park”, the third of the contemporary specials, will be shown. This film, starring Al Pacino, is a strikingly realistic study of heroin addiction in New York City.

One of the films of foreign directors, “The Last Laugh”, directed by F.W. Murnau, will be shown on Tuesday and Wednesday, March 18 and 19. This landmark silent film is from the golden age of the German cinema, which was highly instrumental in injecting camera movement into the then fledgling movie industry.

The winner of six Academy Awards in 1936, including best picture, “It Happened One Night”, will be shown Tuesday and Wednesday, April 15 and 16. The third of the foreign films, “Rashomon”, directed by Akira Kurosawa, will be shown Thursday and Friday, April 20 and 21. This film is billed as a sensitive, pictorially beautiful movie which opened Japanese film to the West.

The schedule finished up on Saturday and Wednesday, April 29 and 30, with Robert Altman’s “Brewster McCloud”, which is a kind of satirical look by a director whom many consider the best on the American film scene,” Wylie stated.

Admission to the movies, all of which will be shown in the Engineering Auditorium, remains at the customary $1.00 price. Cinema ‘75 patron cards are still available at the Student Union. For each card entitles the holder to half price admission to all films, except those in the Woody Allen Festival.

Proceeds from this Festival will go towards defraying expenses incurred by the Cultural Arts Commission’s Sophomore Literary Festival.

homosexuality - a separate community

by andy praskach

Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of articles dealing with the question of homosexuality at Notre Dame. The series will run today, Thursday and Friday.

Professional baseball refused to acknowledge the existence of black athletes until the mid-1940's and proved he was one of the best around. Inventors of the first airplane were men who thought they were on a mission to prove that black men could not fly. At one time, women were considered beneath the notice of the law, and the right to vote was a tragic mistake by America.

So, too, the gay community at Notre Dame is subjected to an existence of separateness from the rest of the Notre Dame community.

The organization was formed in October 1973 by a few gay students who realized that the need was there to meet, exchange ideas and experiences and offer each other the social reinforcement and support.
IN MEMORIAM

Two years ago today the U.S. Supreme Court legalized abortion in a decision that shocked the nation. The decision rendered unconstitutional the state laws which had restricted abortion. In effect the Court wiped out most State Abortion laws and now a woman may have "Abortion on Demand" during the first six months of her pregnancy. The Supreme Court ruling allows the states to prohibit abortion in the last three months except when the life or health of the mother is endangered. Today there is no legal protection for the innocent unborn child's right to live. Father Hesburgh will concelebrate a mass tonight at Sacred Heart Church at 8:00 P. M. for The Right to Life. All are invited to participate.

WHAT YOU CAN DO

1. Support a United States Constitutional Human Life Amendment.
2. Sign your name and address and mail these pages to one of your U.S. Senators.
3. Research for yourself the positive solutions to abortion and attend the presentation L.I.F.E. will give in your hall.
4. Clip this coupon and join L.I.F.E. (Life is for Everyone).

We thank those whose support is printed on the opposite & following pages.

Twombly column 'irresponsible'

by Greg Corgan

Sports Editor

The last rain claps the Notre Dame spirits before the Orange Bowl rolled out of San Francisco. "It was a good game," said San Francisco Examiner columnist Wells Twombly. "It was a good game." Then..."I'm not the player to reveal it."

Above that, in Twombly's column, he called a kicker that read "Irish collapse in USC game cognitio."

From where, Wells only knows, Twombly picked up a story of coaches and referred to a piece in the Headlight. "It's a real player to reveal it."

They didn't throw the game exactly. That much will never be proved. But they did relax. McHale was just one of those things. Everything just went legal wrong, been something behind that."

"It's amazing,"

"But it's not a story, " said a source at Notre Dame. "They were determined to drive him out of football. It's been an ugly mess here this season and much of it has been racial."

The black players have always felt uncomfortable at Notre Dame. They equate Catholicism with white people and the black kids we have been getting lately have all turned into instant militants. There is a potential strike on the football team that centers around Art and Eric Penick."

"That's amazing,"

The idea that a supposed "professional" like Twombly would allow such inaccurate reports to be printed, and would himself draw such ludicrous conclusions serves as a severe blow to responsible journalism. Throughout his story, Twombly connects the loss at Southern California to the six suspensions at the beginning of the season and ultimately to the resignation of Ara Parseghian. The inferences are sickening...

"Twombly, amid all his absurdity did come up with one grain of truth. "Coaching," he said, "beneath that golden dome carries with it vast responsibilities."

People like Twombly make it that much more difficult.

"The quote about losing one for Art Best is definitely untrue," offered one member of Notre Dame's offensive unit. "I wouldn't exactly say that Art was one of the most popular guys on the team. In fact, to be honest with you, most of the guys were disappointed with Art's attitude the entire season."

"As far as the Southern Cal game is concerned, it was just one of those things. Everything just went legal wrong, been something behind that."

"You can't believe it," added Parseghian. "During halftime I was walking back and forth between the two locker rooms when I saw Tony. He said, 'Hey, I don't believe it.'" When I decided to come over to the Southern Cal locker room."
