President installs own personnel

WASHINGTON  (AP) President Ford named a team of "my guys" Monday night to manage national security affairs, and said he has a promise of 1976 campaign support from Adm. A. Rockfeller, the vice president who won't be running with him next year.

Vice-President Nelson A. Rockefeller said Monday he does not run with President Ford's ticket.

"After much thought, I have decided . . . that I did not wish to enter into your consideration for the upcoming vice-presidential nomination," Rockefeller said in a letter delivered personally to Ford.

The move follows Ford's promotion, himself happy and optimistic, of the staff for the administration, for U.S. foreign policy and national security, for the campaign, and for his election to a full term in the White House.

In a national and televised White House news conference, Ford said repeatedly that his shakeup at the top of the Pentagon, the Central Intelligence Agency and the National Security Council was designed to install his own people, "the individuals that I want to work with very, very, very intimately," and not to satisfy parochial interests.

In a day of overhaul for the administration, Ford announced that Elliot L. Richardson, now U.S. ambassador to Great Britain, will become his secretary of Commerce.

Changes Listed

Rockefeller announced yesterday that he will not run for re-election in '76. (AP Wirephoto)

Wealthy nations urged to share business assets

by Jill Truitt
Staff Reporter

By Theodore Hesburgh, University president and Rev. Robert Marshall, president of the Lutheran Church in America, last night urged affluent nations to share their industrial advantages with underdeveloped nations.

The address at a dinner at the Morris Inn highlighted the conference on Technology Transfer in the Furtherance of Distributive Justice. The speakers addressed 55 developmental officials of the United Nations and foreign nations, as well as industrial executives and educators from the U.S.

Hesburgh stated that multi-national corporations are the instruments of change in underdeveloped nations. The multi-nations are well maintained and directed. They have the capital, market, management and full capability of doing it," Hesburgh said.

World organizations such as the United Nations, World Bank and the International Atomic Energy Agency are also sources of aid for underdeveloped nations, he said.

"There is a need for a new kind of global compact that speaks to justice," Hesburgh added.

He compared world problems with space technology. "If we see the worst in the way astronauts see it as they come around the world. The world is a spacecraft with limited resources," Hesburgh said.

Christian role examined

Marshall said the "economy's complexity renders inadaptable the simple Church responses to the needs of underdeveloped nations."

He stressed the need for social action. "An increase in action and public demonstration will come if the frustration level gets high enough," Marshall added.

Even in its economic complexity, life occurs in just one world under God. Marshall quoted, "Humility is one family under God. Coherence then is its purpose," he said.

"A proper goal is to have the needed goods provided to all. These goods have to be distributed to all people fairly," Marshall stated.

Marshall stated that self-help community projects will lead to long-range solutions. "The project in Ethiopia involved 25,000 farmer cooperatives becoming self-determined," he said.

This project last year improved irrigation and produced a surplus of food. Marshall added.

Consumer action needed

Marshall stressed that legitimate or disruptive demonstrations are different issues. "In the church, the consumer must take the social action. He added, by challenging corporations to play fair in dealings with them."

"Personal integrity is strengthened by the awareness of a transcendent God and refined by an awareness of social integrity," he continued.

Dr. Marshall headed a delegation of 20 U.S. representatives to the Soviet Union last fall and was chairman of a reception by the National Council of Churches earlier this year for 19 Russian church leaders visiting the U.S.

He is presently preparing for the World Council of Churches meeting in Nairobi, Kenya next year. He is one of the two Protestant church leaders serving as vice-chairman of the committee planning the 4th Roman Catholic Ecumenical Congress in 1976.

Dr. Donald L. Guertin, senior planning advisor of Exxon Corp.; Dr.

President Ford yesterday officially confirmed reports of a re-shuffling in his administration. (Photo by Chris Smith)

Ford said yesterday he would run for public office in 1976, but that he would not run for re-election to the presidency in New York City.

Ford said he did not pressure Rockefeller to withdraw, but didn't try to talk him out of it, either. The President said it was Rockefeller's decision, and "I accepted it." He said Rockefeller has done a superb job and will continue to do so in the months ahead. "Vice-President Rockefeller has assured me categorically that he will support me in '76," Ford said.

(continued on page 3)
The Observer - Tuesday, November 4, 1975

world briefs

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a case which could affect the price motorists pay for gasoline, the Supreme Court agreed Monday to review President Ford’s appeal to curb oil imports by imposing license fees.

The court said it will hear arguments in the spring on the government’s appeal of a decision by the U.S. Court of Appeals in Washington that the license fees are illegal.

BERIUT, Lebanon (AP) — Premier Rashid Karami promised his battle-worn countrymen that Beirut’s street war was over Monday, but sniper fire marred his fragile cease-fire.

Police sources reported eight persons killed by the shining bullets.

Students teach retarded: use Logan Center gym

The St. Mary’s basketball team which practices in various places in South Bend, has secured the use of the Logan Center for a gymnasium for one week.

In the form of payment, the team has agreed to spend about 1 hour a week teaching the center’s residents. retarded children, the fundamentals of basketball.

All of us really thought it was a great idea—we'd much rather help someone actually involved in the sport. I think this helps the children's appreciation for the game.

David Locke, another St. Mary’s tutor. commented, “It's frustrating, but you feel so southeastern kids haven't answered in a variety of choral music, including Negro spirituals. The singers will perform works of course, AT&T had to wait a bit to get Jerry. But what they got for the wait was a seasoned manager, who is now a Supervising Engineer with his eye on the next step up.

Was the wait worth it to Jerry? “Well, to be honest” he says, “it had its pluses and minuses, but the pluses won. And I had to do it over again. I'd do it the same way.”

Army ROTC. Learn what it takes to lead.

By the time Gerald Lucas got his college degree, he had two good jobs waiting for him. A job at AT&T. And, since he was graduating with a commission through Army ROTC, a job as an Army officer.

He took them both. One at a time, of course.

Because, through Army ROTC, Jerry got some very practical experience in leading people and managing enterprises which he might not have got otherwise.

Of course, AT&T had to wait a bit to get Jerry. But what they got for the wait was a seasoned manager, who is now a Supervising Engineer with his eye on the next step up.

Army ROTC. Learn what it takes to lead.

Students tutor refugees

The Catholic Social Services, which is in charge of placing families, also locates jobs for the families.

Opening night hearing for SMC choral groups

The Collegiate Choir and the Women’s Chorus of St. Mary’s College will give their first public performance of the 1975-76 academic year Thurs., Nov. 6, at 8 pm in O’Laughlin Auditorium.

The annual Fall Choral Concert will consist of music from the 16th to the 20th centuries and will include a variety of choral music, ranging from a Bach Motet to Negro spirituals.

The singers will perform works by Henry Lou, Orlando di Lasso, J.S. Bach. Mechoir Franck, Felix Mendelssohn, Aaron Copland, and Leonard Bernstein.

Rick Blaylock, in simulator, will conduct both choral groups.

He earned his Master of Science degree in musical education from the University of Illinois in 1972. Before joining the Saint Mary’s College faculty this fall, he taught for three years in the Illinois public school system.

He is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, Sigma Educatior’s National Conference, and the American Choral Directors’ Association.

The Collegiate Choir includes both male and female voices. The choir has toured Europe twice and last year made a tour of the southeastern United States.

The Women’s Chorus is a group of 46 women from St. Mary’s.

Both choirs perform several concerts annually at civic and social functions throughout Indiana.

The Fall Choral Concert is open to the public free of charge.

The observer

Night Editor: Bob Brink

Day Editor: Don Reimer

Copy Editor: Kathy Mills

Editorials: Val Zurbitz

Sports: Bill Brink, Errie Terez

Typists: Mary Tobin, Cimile Howes

Compugraphic: Chip Spina

Night Controller: Dave Rust

The observer is published Monday through Friday and weekly during the summer session and vacation periods. The observer is published by the students of the University of Notre Dame and St. Mary’s College.

Subscriptions may be purchased for 12 dollars per semester (18 dollars per year) from the observer, Box Q, Notre Dame, Ind. 46556. Second Class postage paid, Notre Dame, Ind. 46556.

Teach English

by Marti Hogan

Staff Reporter

St. Mary’s Campus Ministry and the South Bend Catholic Social Services are directing a tutoring program for 25 Vietnamese families who have lived in the South Bend area since August.

St. Mary’s student volunteers were assigned to a specific family to tutor once a week.

The tutors also help the children, who are enrolled in area Catholic schools, with their homework.

"The kids are doing surprisingly well for being thrown into a new school where they have to learn a new language," said Linda Tempel, another St. Mary’s tutor.

Some of the families have a broader background in the language than others.

"Only one member of the family I tutor speaks any English," said Jenkins, “and he has to translate it to the rest of the family.”

However, Tempel said, "The mother and father of the family I tutor speak pretty good English.

"The kids haven’t answered in a uniform sentence yet, but some of them have only been speaking English for three months," she added.

A few members of the family, however, are unwilling to learn the language.

Some of the grandchildren refuse to learn English, Jenkins said. "She is in the lesson but won’t participate. That’s frustrating, but you feel so good," said Jenkins. "Last week when we left, they told us ‘Thank you for coming.’ They really appreciated it," she noted. "Tempel commented, ‘It’s a great personal experience.’

She also emphasized, “The family really appreciates you.”

The families are sponsored by Catholic churches in the area. "These churches pay the rent and supply money and transportation for the families,” said Jenkins.

The Catholic Social Services, which is in charge of placing families, also locates jobs for the families.

Opening night hearing for SMC choral groups

The Collegiate Choir and the Women’s Chorus of St. Mary’s College will give their first public performance of the 1975-76 academic year Thurs., Nov. 6, at 8 pm in O’Laughlin Auditorium.

The annual Fall Choral Concert will consist of music from the 16th to the 20th centuries and will include a variety of choral music, ranging from a Bach Motet to Negro spirituals.

The singers will perform works by Henry Lou, Orlando di Lasso, J.S. Bach, Mechoir Franck, Felix Mendelssohn, Aaron Copland, and Leonard Bernstein.

Rick Blaylock, in simulator, will conduct both choral groups.

He earned his Master of Science degree in musical education from the University of Illinois in 1972. Before joining the Saint Mary’s College faculty this fall, he taught for three years in the Illinois public school system.

He is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, Sigma Educatior’s National Conference, and the American Choral Directors’ Association.

The Collegiate Choir includes both male and female voices. The choir has toured Europe twice and last year made a tour of the southeastern United States.

The Women’s Chorus is a group of 46 women from St. Mary’s.

Both choirs perform several concerts annually at civic and social functions throughout Indiana.

The Fall Choral Concert is open to the public free of charge.

The observer

Night Editor: Bob Brink

Day Editor: Don Reimer

Copy Editor: Kathy Mills

Editorials: Val Zurbitz

Sports: Bill Brink, Errie Terez

Typists: Mary Tobin, Cimile Howes

Compugraphic: Chip Spina

Night Controller: Dave Rust

The observer is published Monday through Friday and weekly during the summer session and vacation periods. The observer is published by the students of the University of Notre Dame and St. Mary’s College.

Subscriptions may be purchased for 12 dollars per semester (18 dollars per year) from the observer, Box Q, Notre Dame, Ind. 46556. Second Class postage paid, Notre Dame, Ind. 46556.

Teach English

by Marti Hogan

Staff Reporter

St. Mary’s Campus Ministry and the South Bend Catholic Social Services are directing a tutoring program for 25 Vietnamese families who have lived in the South Bend area since August.

St. Mary’s student volunteers were assigned to a specific family to tutor once a week.

The tutors also help the children, who are enrolled in area Catholic schools, with their homework.

"The kids are doing surprisingly well for being thrown into a new school where they have to learn a new language," said Linda Tempel, another St. Mary’s tutor.

Some of the families have a broader background in the language than others.

"Only one member of the family I tutor speaks any English," said Jenkins, “and he has to translate it to the rest of the family.”

However, Tempel said, "The mother and father of the family I tutor speak pretty good English.

"The kids haven’t answered in a uniform sentence yet, but some of them have only been speaking English for three months," she added.

A few members of the family, however, are unwilling to learn the language.

Some of the grandchildren refuse to learn English, Jenkins said. "She is in the lesson but won’t participate. That’s frustrating, but you feel so good," said Jenkins. "Last week when we left, they told us ‘Thank you for coming.’ They really appreciated it," she noted. "Tempel commented, ‘It’s a great personal experience.’

She also emphasized, “The family really appreciates you.”

The families are sponsored by Catholic churches in the area. "These churches pay the rent and supply money and transportation for the families,” said Jenkins.

The Catholic Social Services, which is in charge of placing families, also locates jobs for the families.

Opening night hearing for SMC choral groups

The Collegiate Choir and the Women’s Chorus of St. Mary’s College will give their first public performance of the 1975-76 academic year Thurs., Nov. 6, at 8 pm in O’Laughlin Auditorium.

The annual Fall Choral Concert will consist of music from the 16th to the 20th centuries and will include a variety of choral music, ranging from a Bach Motet to Negro spirituals.

The singers will perform works by Henry Lou, Orlando di Lasso, J.S. Bach, Mechoir Franck, Felix Mendelssohn, Aaron Copland, and Leonard Bernstein.

Rick Blaylock, in simulator, will conduct both choral groups.

He earned his Master of Science degree in musical education from the University of Illinois in 1972. Before joining the Saint Mary’s College faculty this fall, he taught for three years in the Illinois public school system.

He is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, Sigma Educatior’s National Conference, and the American Choral Directors’ Association.

The Collegiate Choir includes both male and female voices. The choir has toured Europe twice and last year made a tour of the southeastern United States.

The Women’s Chorus is a group of 46 women from St. Mary’s.

Both choirs perform several concerts annually at civic and social functions throughout Indiana.

The Fall Choral Concert is open to the public free of charge.

The observer

Night Editor: Bob Brink

Day Editor: Don Reimer

Copy Editor: Kathy Mills

Editorials: Val Zurbitz

Sports: Bill Brink, Errie Terez

Typists: Mary Tobin, Cimile Howes

Compugraphic: Chip Spina

Night Controller: Dave Rust

The observer is published Monday through Friday and weekly during the summer session and vacation periods. The observer is published by the students of the University of Notre Dame and St. Mary’s College.

Subscriptions may be purchased for 12 dollars per semester (18 dollars per year) from the observer, Box Q, Notre Dame, Ind. 46556. Second Class postage paid, Notre Dame, Ind. 46556.
Nemeth favored in South Bend mayoral race

Nemeth favored in South Bend mayoral race

by Kathy Mills
Senior Staff Reporter

Heavily-favored Democrat Peter J. Nemeth will face John P. Slafkosky in the primary election, Independent Ronald R. Kronewitter in the South Bend mayoral elections today, and the office of city clerk are included in the municipal election. Nemeth is seeking his first elective office in South Bend.

In the primary election to select a Democratic mayoral candidate, Nemeth has attacked Slafkosky's proposal to move the municipal police headquarters downtown. Nemeth has also proposed the implementation of a parking downtown.

Kronewitter ran unsuccessfully in the Democratic primary.

Issue is crime

The primary issue in the campaign has been crime. Slafkosky has proposed the creation of neighborhood citizen patrols to reduce crime.

Both Nemeth and Kronewitter have favored expansion and improvement of the police force to reduce the time rate of crime. Nemeth has attacked Slafkosky's proposal of civic patrol programs as a "police gimmick." and vigilantism.

All three candidates have agreed that the south downtown area is necessary. They have said that Nemeth will work on it to get the area will help upgrade the area. Nemeth has also proposed parking downtown.

Nemeth refused to attend any forum with both Slafkosky and Kronewitter in the final days of the campaign. He clarified that he would participate if the area had been part of the proposals.

Nemeth, a graduate of Columbia Law School, served as Deputy Prosecuting Attorney for St. Joseph County for four years, that has served as city councilman since 1971. He defeated Mayor Jerry J. Miller in the April Democratic mayoral primary.

Kronewitter ran unsuccessfully in the Democratic primary.

Meeting poorly attended

Food co-op benefits explained

by Lonnie Luna
Staff Reporter

Savings, high quality food and a restorable membership fee for students are the main advantages of the formation of a food co-op, said Tom Fitzgerald, student body vice president.

Fitzgerald made these remarks at a meeting last night in the main lobby of LaFortune. He said that the co-op will be a "natural evolution" of the student body.

Approximately seven households joined the co-op at the meeting, which was not well attended due to lack of knowledge on the part of off-campus students about the meeting.

Arlene Margowsky, who is helping to organize the co-op, also spoke at the meeting. She is a member of the co-op and is a member of the student body.

There are two types of co-ops: a closed co-op where the members buy on order, a "buying club," the other is an open co-op which resembles a store," she explained.

The co-op will charge $2 per week service charge if the co-op is an open type. If the co-op is not a large number of members, it will follow the same rules. The membership fee will be $2 but the service charge will be included with the price of the food.

The service charge covers operational and overhead costs. The "good thing about the membership fee is that it is a temporary investment for students because it is releasable from one shop to another," explained Fitzgerald.

Margowsky organized an open co-op in Chicago which worked because "it eliminated the inventory, which isn't good to have in a co-op."

Members were able to save as much as 40 percent on cheeses plus additional savings on other foodstuffs, she added.

There are many distributors who do business with co-ops, Margowsky noted.

"It's time to form a co-op when supermarkets sell low quality food; it's time when the prices are rising every day; it's time when you want to stop impulse buying; it's time when you want to save money," said Margowsky.

For those who were unable to attend the meeting, last night, membership sign-ups will be in the main lobby of LaFortune today.

The co-op will be open for "anytime, 7 days a week, 7 days a week."
That the Colloquium Seminar has been a great disappointment to many teachers and students was well articulated in Bob Mader's commentary in the October 21 issue of the Observer. But the General Program of Liberal Studies centers its education around the seminar which is considered the most popular and effective means of education. GP students take one seminar every semester for six semesters, and the first two seminars are designated as the Colloquium Seminar. The difference is in the common understanding between teachers and students of the purpose and organization of a seminar.

The purpose of the seminar is to provide the students with an opportunity to read and discuss the Great Books. Reading expands one's knowledge. Speaking sharpens this knowledge by challenging the reader to explicate and defend his views. Plato, Aristotle, Homer— not Uncle Wiggly—and all the classic writers offer an alternative and deeper understanding of our beliefs. They provide a springboard for discussion.

But a seminar will not work even if the students read all the authors and understand their views. Students must reflect on their reaction to the author's views and be willing to share their observations with others. Even if one may fear criticism because the class appears either too ignorant or too intelligent, one must participate. The sharing of incomplete ideas is the beginning of communication and education. The student must also be willing to listen, which furthers the process. But most important, someone must respond and this completes the first of many endless cycles of communication. This exchange of ideas is probably the most difficult and yet the most basic means of education.

The teacher must be aware that more is demanded of him than taking attendance and lecturing when the discussion lags. A seminar requires more talent of the teacher than any other form of teaching. He must ask key questions to elicit the main themes of the reading that are of universal value. He must keep the discussion from wandering off the topic. He must try to consider the problem in depth and to avoid the trivial topics of mealtime chatter. This kind of skill demands a type of understanding of the book. But such skill will come only with time. And the teacher must have the time and space to grow in this. The seminar is a little bit of heaven, a great few books. Admittedly, these books are few; fortunately, the great problems are few. The idea that only a history professor can understand Herodotus, a philosophy professor Aristotle, or an English professor Shakespeare, is too narrow. Any educated person and any graduate of the P.D.'s are educated to the point of being beyond their narrow bounds. And if they cannot, they cannot even understand what is within our narrow bounds.

If the University of Notre Dame sincerely believes the Colloquium Seminar is of value in its purpose, it must make the seminars effective. The General Program Seminar has been in existence for over twenty-five years. It has inspired the establishment of the Colloquium Seminar, and it remains very effective. If the University does care about the intellectual value of reading great books, it could institute a seminar for teaching seminars, and the teachers in turn could pass on their knowledge. The seminars would be given in the few great books.

DONESBURY

by Garry Trudeau

"I SURE MISS HOME. I MEAN, IT'S NO HOME, BUT CALIFORNIA IS SPECIAL TO ME, MY WIFE..."

FOXY CHEERLEADERS

Dear Editor:

Are only the USC cheerleaders that looked so foxy? When I was a student we specifically went to have girl cheerleaders, but that was before girls were invented or maybe it was that the year they were all recalled for factory defects. Whatever the case may have been, the high time my alma mater got as much television coverage for its cheerleaders as USC or anywhere else. If necessary I will be willing to contribute a sum of money towards the development of a scholarship fund to bring foxy women to Notre Dame to dance with the band at halftime and between plays.

In closing I wish to extend my regards to Ted next time he passes through.

... Patrick Henry Buckley '71
Internal feud shakes Bangladesh

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The military-backed Bangladeshi government was shaken by an internal army feud Monday, but Khondaker Musharraf Ahmed remained as president although many of the officers who brought him to power Aug. 15 were believed arrested, diplomatic sources in New Delhi said.

They discounted an Indian news report that Musharraf Ahmed had been replaced by Brig. Khalid Musharaf, the No. 2 man in the army, and said it was possible that Musharraf would play an important role as one of the main powers behind the government.

According to diplomatic reports from Dacca, the day-long internal feud shakes Bangladesh

'Justice' conference continues with other scheduled speakers

Benders to direct Danforth session

Ford appoints 'team' to posts

Monetary policy stands out at conference

The military-backed Bangladeshi government was shaken by an internal army feud Monday, but Khondaker Musharraf Ahmed remained as president although many of the officers who brought him to power Aug. 15 were believed arrested, diplomatic sources in New Delhi said.

They discounted an Indian news report that Musharraf Ahmed had been replaced by Brig. Khalid Musharaf, the No. 2 man in the army, and said it was possible that Musharraf would play an important role as one of the main powers behind the government.

According to diplomatic reports from Dacca, the day-long internal feud shakes Bangladesh

'Justice' conference continues with other scheduled speakers

Benders to direct Danforth session

Ford appoints 'team' to posts

Monetary policy stands out at conference

The military-backed Bangladeshi government was shaken by an internal army feud Monday, but Khondaker Musharraf Ahmed remained as president although many of the officers who brought him to power Aug. 15 were believed arrested, diplomatic sources in New Delhi said.

They discounted an Indian news report that Musharraf Ahmed had been replaced by Brig. Khalid Musharaf, the No. 2 man in the army, and said it was possible that Musharraf would play an important role as one of the main powers behind the government.

According to diplomatic reports from Dacca, the day-long internal feud shakes Bangladesh

'Justice' conference continues with other scheduled speakers

Benders to direct Danforth session

Ford appoints 'team' to posts

Monetary policy stands out at conference

The military-backed Bangladeshi government was shaken by an internal army feud Monday, but Khondaker Musharraf Ahmed remained as president although many of the officers who brought him to power Aug. 15 were believed arrested, diplomatic sources in New Delhi said.

They discounted an Indian news report that Musharraf Ahmed had been replaced by Brig. Khalid Musharaf, the No. 2 man in the army, and said it was possible that Musharraf would play an important role as one of the main powers behind the government.

According to diplomatic reports from Dacca, the day-long internal feud shakes Bangladesh

'Justice' conference continues with other scheduled speakers

Benders to direct Danforth session

Ford appoints 'team' to posts

Monetary policy stands out at conference
Some pre-meds use 'cut-throat' techniques

by Pat Cuneo
Staff Reporter

For many students, being accepted to medical school becomes a rat race that produces anxiety, tension and sometimes ulcers, an obsession with grades rather than learning, according to Alton Blakeslee, Associated Press science writer.

Blakeslee recently conducted a survey of pre-med programs in major universities. "Some turn into grinds with the single goal of getting into med school and little interest in the broader world around them," he noted.

"Some cheat on exams. And some sabotage fellow students to win a higher relative grade," Blakeslee said.

He described competition for medical school as fierce since 43,000 men and women applied for only 14,763 places in the 114 United States medical schools last year.

Of the 180 pre-professional students from Notre Dame who applied to med school last year, 13 were accepted.

Blakeslee did not touch on the reasons for the limited number of spaces in medical schools, but several doctors have accused the American Medical Association of keeping the medical profession highly select.

Various physicians elaborated by saying the AMA does this in order to maintain a high demand of physicians and therefore insure top financial benefits.

Low percentage accepted

Whatever the reasons may be, at present only one out of every three pre-med majors will enter medical school compared to the one of two ratio of five years ago.

The Associated Press survey turned up a number of reported instances of student cheating and sabotaging of fellow students' lab experiments and notebooks to eliminate those students from the competitive field.

Medical school admissions committees and other doctors say they deplore such unethical conduct and cynicism, but the guilty are rarely caught.

Dr. Albert Gellhorn, director of the Center for Biomedical Education at City College of New York, told of attending a conference on undergraduate education at the University of Pennsylvania in 1970.

At this conference, pre-med students from several universities told him, "We cheat. We try to give wrong information to our colleagues. We take books from the medical libraries and destroy parts of them."

They added, "We don't share information. We sabotage others' chemistry experiments."

"Cut-throat" competition

Gellhorn said that things have become worse since, and termed the present situation "a real cut-throat thing."

"One of the most destructive things is the emphasis on high performance in organic chemistry, which the practicing doctor rarely uses anyhow," said Gellhorn. "It is just a tough screening course."

Up to five years ago, virtually every well-qualified student did get into med school, said Dr. Joseph C. Cheithaml, dean of students, division of biological sciences at the Pritzker School of Medicine, University of Chicago.

Describing current conditions, he said, "There is tremendous anxiety, and this is reflected in their (pre-med students') behavior. Sometimes they do things they would not think of otherwise."

"I repeatedly tell them, you don't have to have straight A's to get into medical school," he added.

Blakeslee's opinion poll also noted, "Students who were not premeds but going to become chemists, were not tampered with. It was all done with the attitude YOU might be the one who keeps ME out of med school."

Problems at ND

In relation to similar actions at Notre Dame, most students admit the problems of cheating and sabotage are inevitable since it is so difficult to reach med school.

One Arts and Letters student who recently switched from pre-med to biology said, "Just last week I sat down in the library auditorium and spotted a 'cheat sheet' for one of the upper level pre-med courses."

He added, "I'm sure cheating occurs in other courses as well but pre-meds certainly have a lot of incentive—they either do well and make it or forget it."

Several students stated the problem lies with the limited number of students accepted into med school when more doctors are needed and evidently more people are interested in the medical field.

One student declared, "What's the use in dealing with the effects of a problem when you can't even get near the source—the AMA?"
Mrs. Peron returned Sunday from her second weekend by the sea since resuming office, but after a month's health leave. She looked tanned and rested and waved at the scattered crowds at the airport.

The slain congresswoman was Ramon Pablo Rojas, who was found early Monday in his home city of San Juan, 806 miles west of here, with bullet wounds in his head. San Juan newspapers said the left-wing Peronista guerrillas, the Montoneros, called to claim credit.

Within the law enforcement establishment, they want Mrs. Peron replaced, also was on the news conference. When it became apparent that Mrs. Peron's third president, also was on the news conference.

In Argentina, as in Spain, the two-dollar bill is coming back the Bicentennial, but will next year after a 10-year lay·eome to voluntary retirement. President's office would try to

Mr. Hojas' death, and that of a to voluntarily retire. Mr. Hojas, called to claim credit.

Mr. Hojas, called to claim credit.

Mr. Hojas, called to claim credit.

Mr. Hojas, called to claim credit.

Prisoners and opposition politicians demand Huisking Chair donor, recipient to be recognized

The holder and the donor of the Charles L. Huisking Chair in Continuing Education at Notre Dame will be honored at a dinner Fri., Nov. 7, in the Center for Continuing Education.

Dr. Anthony M. Trozzolo, who has been named the Don per Huisking Chair from the technical staff of Bell Laboratories. He has been involved in there developing practical applications of organic photochemistry.

He has his doctorate from the University of Chicago and has received fellowships from the Atomic Energy Commission and the National Science Foundation. The position, announced in 1971, was named for the founder of C.L. Huisking & Co., the parent company of Glyco Chemicals, Inc.

It is one of two endowed professorships given to Notre Dame by the Huisking Foundation, which also has supported a scholarship fund at the University since 1947.

Charles Huisking served 12 years as the Science and Engineering Advisory Council at Notre Dame and his son, William, is a member of the University's Science Advisory Council.

The Huisking family and members of the Science Advisory Council will be guests at the dinner.

Earlier Friday, at 2 p.m. Trozzolo will deliver a public lecture entitled "The Image of Chemistry" in the Center for Continuing Education auditorium.

After ten years

$2 bill back, but only worth $1.22

WASHINGTON (AP) - The two-dollar bill is coming back next year after a 10-year lay-off, but don't expect it to buy what it used to buy.

Because of inflation, the new $2 bill will be worth only about a third of what the two were taken out in 1966.

"Treasury Secretary William V. Simon announced yesterday that the new bill will be placed into circulation by the nation's banks next April 13, 1976. The bill will be on the front of the bill, which is becoming a collector's item in connection with the nation's Bicentennial observance. Jefferson, the nation's third president, also was on the old bill.

Simon also stressed that the new bill is not just for the Bicentennial, but will become a fixed part of the American currency, if it is accepted. The back of the bill will portray the signing of the Declaration of Independence, as pictured on the back of the John Trumbull after the Revolution War."

Although there has been a $2 bill during other periods in our history, beginning in 1776, it was withdrawn from circulation in 1966 because American weren't using it. Simon said he hopes that the new bill will again find its way into circulation, and that American are going to use it, it was said at a press conference.

If American use the two, they said, they will end up paying more total bills.

Since 1966, the value of a dollar has slipped to about 61 cents, according to the Labor Department. That means that new $2 bill will be worth only about $1.22.

Franco's condition termed critical; internal bleeding causes concern

MADRID, SPAIN (AP) - General Francisco Franco, in critical condition from new internal bleeding after surgery Monday to remove an ulcer and repair an abdominal artery, an authorized government source said.

He reported the 82-year-old general came through the operation and anesthesia well. The newspaper said Franco halted before approving the operation because of his weak condition.

LOUIE'S.

N.D. AVE.

A JAWS OF A DEAL

ALL NIGHT SPECIAL DRINKS AND PIZZA REDEUced

WANTED

Necd 2 G.A. tickets for Georgia Tech. Please call Mike 8633.

Draperly area needs 4 G.A. tickets for Georgia Tech will pay! Call John 288-3923.

Wanted: Afternoon part-time help. 3-5 p.m. Call 287-2089 for job. 1-4 & Theatre.

Wanted: View to share apartment with another student. Call 357-9713.

Wanted: 2 G.A. Georgia Tech tickets. Call 239-0501 after 5 p.m.

Draperly area needs 3 G.A. fix to attend Georgia Tech, no charge. Call 287-2089.

I need 5 Georgia Tech tickets, available. Call GA. 11A5.

Wanted 2 G.A. 10 is to 10 at Georgia Tech. Call 298-0088.

Wanted 2 GA. Georgia Tech fix. Chris 4441.

WANTED

Josie 2 G.A. tickets for Georgia Tech. Please call Mike 8633.

Draperly area needs 4 G.A. tickets for Georgia Tech will pay! Call John 288-3923.

Wanted: Afternoon part-time help. 3-5 p.m. Call 287-2089 for job. 1-4 & Theatre.

Wanted: View to share apartment with another student. Call 357-9713.

Wanted 2 G.A. Georgia Tech tickets. Call 239-0501 after 5 p.m.

Draperly area needs 3 G.A. fix to attend Georgia Tech, no charge. Call 287-2089.

I need 5 Georgia Tech tickets, available. Call GA. 11A5.

Wanted 2 G.A. 10 is to 10 at Georgia Tech. Call 298-0088.

Wanted 2 GA. Georgia Tech fix. Chris 4441.

WANTED

Josie 2 G.A. tickets for Georgia Tech. Please call Mike 8633.

Draperly area needs 4 G.A. tickets for Georgia Tech will pay! Call John 288-3923.

Wanted: Afternoon part-time help. 3-5 p.m. Call 287-2089 for job. 1-4 & Theatre.

Wanted: View to share apartment with another student. Call 357-9713.

Wanted 2 G.A. Georgia Tech tickets. Call 239-0501 after 5 p.m.

Draperly area needs 3 G.A. fix to attend Georgia Tech, no charge. Call 287-2089.

I need 5 Georgia Tech tickets, available. Call GA. 11A5.

Wanted 2 G.A. 10 is to 10 at Georgia Tech. Call 298-0088.

Wanted 2 GA. Georgia Tech fix. Chris 4441.

WANTED

Josie 2 G.A. tickets for Georgia Tech. Please call Mike 8633.

Draperly area needs 4 G.A. tickets for Georgia Tech will pay! Call John 288-3923.

Wanted: Afternoon part-time help. 3-5 p.m. Call 287-2089 for job. 1-4 & Theatre.

Wanted: View to share apartment with another student. Call 357-9713.

Wanted 2 G.A. Georgia Tech tickets. Call 239-0501 after 5 p.m.

Draperly area needs 3 G.A. fix to attend Georgia Tech, no charge. Call 287-2089.

I need 5 Georgia Tech tickets, available. Call GA. 11A5.

Wanted 2 G.A. 10 is to 10 at Georgia Tech. Call 298-0088.

Wanted 2 GA. Georgia Tech fix. Chris 4441.

WANTED

Josie 2 G.A. tickets for Georgia Tech. Please call Mike 8633.

Draperly area needs 4 G.A. tickets for Georgia Tech will pay! Call John 288-3923.

Wanted: Afternoon part-time help. 3-5 p.m. Call 287-2089 for job. 1-4 & Theatre.

Wanted: View to share apartment with another student. Call 357-9713.

Wanted 2 G.A. Georgia Tech tickets. Call 239-0501 after 5 p.m.

Draperly area needs 3 G.A. fix to attend Georgia Tech, no charge. Call 287-2089.

I need 5 Georgia Tech tickets, available. Call GA. 11A5.

Wanted 2 G.A. 10 is to 10 at Georgia Tech. Call 298-0088.

Wanted 2 GA. Georgia Tech fix. Chris 4441.

WANTED

Josie 2 G.A. tickets for Georgia Tech. Please call Mike 8633.

Draperly area needs 4 G.A. tickets for Georgia Tech will pay! Call John 288-3923.

Wanted: Afternoon part-time help. 3-5 p.m. Call 287-2089 for job. 1-4 & Theatre.

Wanted: View to share apartment with another student. Call 357-9713.

Wanted 2 G.A. Georgia Tech tickets. Call 239-0501 after 5 p.m.

Draperly area needs 3 G.A. fix to attend Georgia Tech, no charge. Call 287-2089.

I need 5 Georgia Tech tickets, available. Call GA. 11A5.

Wanted 2 G.A. 10 is to 10 at Georgia Tech. Call 298-0088.

Wanted 2 GA. Georgia Tech fix. Chris 4441.

WANTED

Josie 2 G.A. tickets for Georgia Tech. Please call Mike 8633.
Regular IH season ends; playoffs on Wednesday

by Lou Severino

The South Quad championship will be decided Wednesday night at 9 when Pangborn (4-1-1) meets Dillon (4-1-1) at Carrier Field. The winner of that game will meet Keenan (6-0) for the championship Sunday afternoon.

Sorin 7 Sorin 6

Sorin got on the scoreboard first as defensive back Rich Holman picked off a pass and ran 51 yards for a touchdown. However, Sorin missed the extra-point.

University of Michigan edged out the Nittany Lions 5-4 in the meet which was held at University Park, Pennsylvania. Penn State's Paul Stenner covered the 5:2 mile course in 25:03 to finish first. Teammate George Malley placed second. Notre Dame's top performer was Steve Welch in 21st place as the Irish came in seventh among the thirteen teams that took part. Welch was followed by Jim Reinhart, 31st; Jim Hurt, 37th; Dennis Welch, 50th; and Steve Warneke, 6th.

The game definitely held more importance than just another win or loss. Why would major newspapers such as the New York Daily News the Washington Post and even the Los Angeles Times cover a Notre-Dame-service academy game, where an Irish victory is usually given?

The answer is that if Notre Dame lost, it was a story, a big story. Losing to a service academy, their third loss in a row, the first time a Notre Dame team has lost three regular-season games since 1963. It would have been ripe bait for national coverage. The decline of a national football power; sacrilege to the tradition and legend that have enhanced and mystified Irish football for decades. A loss would have been taken as the exterior representation of internal deterioration, a confirmation of all the rumors that have circulated about Notre Dame football for the last month, and any others that anyone might want to create.

That story never came off, but there is a story in the Irish victory, one that will never get national exposure. It stems from the very real possibility that the Irish were confronted by winning the game. There was more at stake than simply winning the game. The game was a dynamic team. You have to go with what you have to win. The campus reflected the team's adherence to these standards. After the loss to Southern Cal the Notre Dame players said they had a very respectable team, but because it may have been a very important point in Notre Dame football, the game definitely held more importance than just another win or loss. Why would major newspapers such as the New York Daily News the Washington Post and even the Los Angeles Times cover a Notre-Dame-service academy game, where an Irish victory is usually given?

The answer is that if Notre Dame lost, it was a story, a big story. Losing to a service academy, their third loss in a row, the first time a Notre Dame team has lost three regular-season games since 1963. It would have been ripe bait for national coverage. The decline of a national football power; sacrilege to the tradition and legend that have enhanced and mystified Irish football for decades. A loss would have been taken as the exterior representation of internal deterioration, a confirmation of all the rumors that have circulated about Notre Dame football for the last month, and any others that anyone might want to create.

That story never came off, but there is a story in the Irish victory, one that will never get national exposure. It stems from the very real possibility that the Irish were confronted by winning the game. There was more at stake than simply winning the game. The game was a dynamic team. You have to go with what you have to win. The campus reflected the team's adherence to these standards. After the loss to Southern Cal the Notre Dame players said they had a very respectable team, but because it may have been a very important point in Notre Dame football, the game definitely held more importance than just another win or loss. Why would major newspapers such as the New York Daily News the Washington Post and even the Los Angeles Times cover a Notre-Dame-service academy game, where an Irish victory is usually given?

The answer is that if Notre Dame lost, it was a story, a big story. Losing to a service academy, their third loss in a row, the first time a Notre Dame team has lost three regular-season games since 1963. It would have been ripe bait for national coverage. The decline of a national football power; sacrilege to the tradition and legend that have enhanced and mystified Irish football for decades. A loss would have been taken as the exterior representation of internal deterioration, a confirmation of all the rumors that have circulated about Notre Dame football for the last month, and any others that anyone might want to create.

That story never came off, but there is a story in the Irish victory, one that will never get national exposure. It stems from the very real possibility that the Irish were confronted by winning the game. There was more at stake than simply winning the game. The game was a dynamic team. You have to go with what you have to win. The campus reflected the team's adherence to these standards. After the loss to Southern Cal the Notre Dame players said they had a very respectable team, but because it may have been a very important point in Notre Dame football, the game definitely held more importance than just another win or loss. Why would major newspapers such as the New York Daily News the Washington Post and even the Los Angeles Times cover a Notre-Dame-service academy game, where an Irish victory is usually given?

The answer is that if Notre Dame lost, it was a story, a big story. Losing to a service academy, their third loss in a row, the first time a Notre Dame team has lost three regular-season games since 1963. It would have been ripe bait for national coverage. The decline of a national football power; sacrilege to the tradition and legend that have enhanced and mystified Irish football for decades. A loss would have been taken as the exterior representation of internal deterioration, a confirmation of all the rumors that have circulated about Notre Dame football for the last month, and any others that anyone might want to create.

That story never came off, but there is a story in the Irish victory, one that will never get national exposure. It stems from the very real possibility that the Irish were confronted by winning the game. There was more at stake than simply winning the game. The game was a dynamic team. You have to go with what you have to win. The campus reflected the team's adherence to these standards. After the loss to Southern Cal the Notre Dame players said they had a very respectable team, but because it may have been a very important point in Notre Dame football, the game definitely held more importance than just another win or loss. Why would major newspapers such as the New York Daily News the Washington Post and even the Los Angeles Times cover a Notre-Dam