Four votes decide state drinking age

by John Shaughnessy
Staff Reporter

Whether or not the Indiana House of Representatives approve changing the state’s drinking age to 19 will be decided by four votes, according to Tom Black, coordinator of the Notre Dame Student Lobby (NDSL).

The House convenes today at 1 p.m. to vote on the lowered drinking age proposal.

When asked if the House will approve the 19-year-old legal age, Black simply stated, "I think we’ll have the necessary five votes to pass the bill, including the four votes needed to get the bill passed.

Black explained that the lobby efforts have been focused on the four votes needed to pass the bill. "Because we have already secured the support of four more votes," Black noted.

"We have 41 representatives who are definitely in favor of the bill. Another six representatives who are on the fence and could be convinced to support the bill. At least four votes are needed to get the bill passed.

"Of those four votes, three seem to be leaning our way," Black stated. "If "we get 11 representatives to support the bill, several others will jump on the bandwagon." Black continued, "We could end up with 55 votes. The important thing though is to get the four votes we need."

Lobby efforts help

Ed Byrne, student body president, attributed the reason for the lobby’s improved chances of success to the efforts of a student lobbyist in Indianapolis last week under the direction of Black.

Last Thursday, a lobby composed of Black, Byrne, Jerry Klingenberg, Cresa Hizer, Ingrid Fegutzer, Darlene Palma, John Lochter, Robert Kovalchik, Rob Tully, Michelle Tate, Diana Merton and Stan Cardenas went to Indianapolis to convince legislators of the need for the 19-year-old drinking age.

Byrne stated, "When we showed up on Thursday, almost everyone had lost hope of getting the bill passed. The Indiana Student Association and the two co-sponsors of the bill (Rep. Jones and Byrne) I thought the bill was dead. This feeling was due to its being an election year and since no controversial legislation has been passed so far this year.

"As of its program of communicating with the Coalition will supply speakers, films and literature to schools, parishes and clubs in South Bend and on the Notre Dame-St. Mary’s campus." According to Byrne, the lobbying efforts were already responsible for getting the bill out of committee. (Last year, Chester Dobis, the chairman of the Public Policy Committee, let the bill die in committee.)

"We managed to get the bill further than anyone expected in an election year," Byrne commented. "And right now the chances for the bill’s passage are 50-50. We’ll be returning to Indianapolis on Monday in an attempt to convince more legislators that the bill should be approved."

According to Byrne, the lobby efforts have also been working this past week to have students who live in Indiana to either call or write their legislators to display support for the bill. Letters were delivered personally by the lobbyists to the representatives this morning.

Black revealed another strategy if the support of four more legislators cannot be gained.

"We won’t hold a vote on the bill if we don’t have the necessary votes to pass it," Black stated.

If that is the case when the House convenes today, Black will ask Rep. Jones to signal to the Speaker of the House, Philip Bainbridge, not to hold a roll call vote.

"The reason we won’t force the vote unless we have five votes is because it’s a liberal issue and if it falls, voting for it could hurt some of our supporters running in the election," Black explained.

"We’d like to have the people who support the bill to remain in office rather than have them lose their offices by casting a meaningless vote," state

In hunger fight

World education essential

by Mary Mungavan
Staff Reporter

"Education is today’s world is being realized that every major problem is not only global in content but global in solution," Fr. Theodore Hesburgh, university president, affirmed at a meeting Tuesday of the Notre Dame World Hunger Coalition.

Co-chairmen Barb Robinson and Doug Allen announced that the Coalition’s main projects for the semester would be "an education program to inform campus and South Bend communities on the hunger situation," the publication of the "Noteworthy Night Fast Program," and a letter-writing campaign in support of foreign assistance since World Food Day.

In an offering of Letters Drive throughout the week, students, graduate students to write their senators and congressmen to support a Right-to-Food Resolution. This drive was part of a nationwide letter campaign to use the threat for the World, a Christian citizens lobby.

According to Greg Gramlich, over 150,000 letters reached Washington. The biggest letter-writing campaign of the year, the National Coalition’s main projects for the year, is now scheduling hearings.

National Conference

Four Coalition members attended the National University Conference on Hunger, Nov. 21-23, in Austin, Texas. The Institute for World Order and Project Dialogue sponsored the conference, the first of its kind on a national scale, attended by 150 students, faculty and administrators.

(continued on page 7)
HHH comments on Reagan's comments

COLUMBUS, Ga.—Hubert Humphrey says Ronald Reagan's statement that citizens unhappy with the management of their state can move to another is "the most callous, brutal, political statement I've heard in the 20th century." Humphrey said the GOP presidential contender's plan to shift certain programs from the federal government to the states would result in drastic increases in state income, property and sales taxes.

Armed abductor still sought

SPRINGFIELD, N.J.—An armed man sought in the abduction of six people in the northeast New Mexico yesterday.

State police said the latest two hostages were abducted yesterday morning from their rural home near Springer. The other four hostages including the policeman were released unharmed Saturday night at a farm near Springer.

Police chief position violates law

LYNDON STATION, W.Va.—William Jessen is chief of police in this Juneau County community, despite a felony conviction that makes his employment a violation of state law.

"When this board appointed Jessen, we figured that as long as we were paying his salary, the state had nothing to say about who we hired," said John Adams, president of the village of 553 residents located in central Wisconsin.

---

The Observer

Mader, Flynn promoted

Bob Mader and Maureen Flynn have been appointed to fill major positions in the Observer news department and Editorial Board. Mader has been named Night Editor and Flynn has assumed the post of campus editor. Their appointments are effective today.

Mader, a junior American Studies major from Fairview Park, Ohio, has served as campus editor since September. His responsibilities include daily supervision of The Observer news department and reporting staff. Mader replaces Ken Giurot who resigned. Mader has worked at The Observer two years as staff reporter, copy reader and day editor. Flynn, a sophomore English major from St. Louis, Missouri, replaces Mader as campus editor. Her responsibilities include operation of reporter "beats" and recruitment of new reporters. Flynn has been with The Observer for two years. This year she has served as day editor, assistant night editor and senior staff reporter.

ERRATUM

The January 16th article on the 1976 Mock Political Convention plans incorrectly stated that Senator Philip Hart of Michigan has been invited to address the national convention Assembly on either Friday, March 18th or Saturday, March 19th. The correct speaker will be Senator Gary Hart of Colorado.

Founder of Feminists for Life

Goltz lectures at SMC

by Jean O'Meara

Staff Reporter

Patricia Goltz, the founder and international president of Feminists for Life delivered a low-keyed personal account of what makes a woman liberated to a near capacity audience yesterday afternoon. As a former member of the National Organization for Women (NOW) who was expelled for her public views against abortion, Goltz along with Cathy Callaghan, professor of Linguistics at Ohio State University, founded a new feminist movement which among other positive views, stresses pro-life.

Since the Women's Liberation Movement has gained strength in numbers and power since its inception, some of its original goals have been lost, according to Goltz. In earlier years, a woman was liberatd if she "had a choice in marrying and raising a family or having a professional career." But today, according to Goltz, the woman is in liberty only if she has a professional career in mind. It is Goltz' intention to bring back the original goals to the feminist movement.

In order to make this a reality, she conceives of a practical way for each individual woman to realize her own liberation; how society can help women in attaining their goals; and finally, how the Feminists for Life group is attempting to meet these challenges.

As an individual, a woman has got to "have got to self-discipline. Without this basic ingredient, she cannot be liberated. The key to carrying out one's choice is in planning the future. If "overriding instincts" take over, we can never achieve our goals, Goltz explained. This attribute must be allied with "a personal, well-thought out ethical code with well-defined absolutes."

Turning to the society in which women finds herself, Goltz said that the industrial world must now reshape itself in order to suit the needs of a family unit which must not be isolated one from the other over long periods. According to Goltz, woman must learn to live in harmony with her body. Industry must find a place to welcome the working family's children as the medical profession must find a way to help the woman live in harmony with her body. The Feminists for Life group for women are attempting to meet these challenges by attempting to set up a national grant which would accommodate working family's children.

Patricia Goltz is married to the Senior Vice President and Systems Programmer for Comp-U-Serv Network in Columbus, Ohio, and is the mother of four children.

Let your family know what's going on.

Send home The Observer For only $10 a semester

NAME ____________________________________________________________
ADDRESS _______________________________________________________

2 the observer Monday, January 19, 1976

News Briefs

International

Nobel prize winner gets kicked out

MOSCOW—Nobel Peace Prize winner Andrei Sakharov said Sunday his status as a resident in Moscow has been jeopardized in a change of apartments that left him without a residence permit.

The 54-year old human rights activist said he lost his residency permit after a request for a new one was rejected for all Soviet citizens—when he gave up one apartment registered in his name and then found he was denied permission to establish official residency in his wife's apartment in another part of town.

PLO ready to stop civil war

TEL AVIV, Israel—Units of the Palestine Liberation Army have crossed the border from Syria into Lebanon over the last few days and are poised to intervene in the civil war.

An official source said that a Palestinian force trained in Syria had arrived inside Lebanese territory "in the last few days." He would strongly resist any outside intervention in the Lebanese civil war which might endanger the security of the Jewish state.

National

HHH comments on Reagan's comments

COLUMBUS, Ga.—Hubert Humphrey says Ronald Reagan's statement that citizens unhappy with the management of their state can move to another is "the most callous, brutal, political statement I've heard in the 20th century." Humphrey said the GOP presidential contender's plan to shift certain programs from the federal government to the states would result in drastic increases in state income, property and sales taxes.

Armed abductor still sought

SPRINGFIELD, N.J.—An armed man sought in the abduction of six people in the northeast New Mexico yesterday.

State police said the latest two hostages were abducted yesterday morning from their rural home near Springer. The other four hostages including the policeman were released unharmed Saturday night at a farm near Springer.

Police chief position violates law

LYNDON STATION, W.Va.—William Jessen is chief of police in this Juneau County community, despite a felony conviction that makes his employment a violation of state law.

"When this board appointed Jessen, we figured that as long as we were paying his salary, the state had nothing to say about who we hired," said John Adams, president of the village of 553 residents located in central Wisconsin.

---

On Campus Today—

5:00 p.m. — speakers, leg chapel.
7:00 p.m. — meeting, chess club, math computing center rm. 236.
7:30 p.m. — lecture, transcentdental meditation program, lib. aud.

The Observer

Mader, Flynn promoted

Bob Mader and Maureen Flynn have been appointed to fill major positions in The Observer news department and Editorial Board. Mader has been named Night Editor and Flynn has assumed the post of campus editor. Their appointments are effective today.

Mader, a junior American Studies major from Fairview Park, Ohio, has served as campus editor since September. His responsibilities include daily supervision of The Observer news department and reporting staff. Mader replaces Ken Giurot who resigned. Mader has worked at The Observer two years as staff reporter, copy reader and day editor. Flynn, a sophomore English major from St. Louis, Missouri, replaces Mader as campus editor. Her responsibilities include operation of reporter "beats" and recruitment of new reporters. Flynn has been with The Observer for two years. This year she has served as day editor, assistant night editor and senior staff reporter.
Washington (AP) — President Ford on Sunday polished the image of a strong State of the Union message in which he tried to paint a brighter picture of the nation is improving as it emerges from the recession.

But in the address, he will add caution that economic recovery cannot continue if there is uncontrolled federal spending, as administration officials said.

Ford, in an address to a joint session of Congress and the nation, said he would propose a lean fiscal 1977 budget of $304 billion, $2.7 billion less than the current fiscal year. He will set aside another $10 billion in income tax cut onto the $18 billion cut passed earlier, they said.

Ford's half-hour message in the Oval Office Sunday on the half-hour message he had deliver to a joint session of Congress and occasional audience at 9 p.m. EST Monday.

He has been working on the address for several weeks. On Saturday, for holding a drawing of it, he told reporters, "This is my last draft, and we're going to have one more, and that's it."

Sources said the President's message will call for holding the line on spending as a first step toward a balanced federal budget in three years' time.

White House officials said the message will be more upbeat than Ford's first State of the Union message a year ago which said, "The state of the union is not good."

Then he cited problems of energy, employment and the economy.

The President on Monday will report many of the same problems still exist, but to a lesser degree. He'll note that in the last two months three alternatives of inflation has been cut by more than a million, unemployment has declined and industrial output may have increased.

The President will call on Congress' help to improve the economy in the 77th Congress, and he must have continued budget message to be unveiled in Congress and to subsequent economic and State of the World messages.

Is a large group of new professional people in the classroom," he said. "Standing on the floor of the House, he explained.

By Lee O'Brien

Are the College Boards, Graduate Record Exams and standardized tests useful? Are they necessary? Are they worth the time and money they cost? Are they fair to all students, or do they create a "academic caste?" Are they a measure of school performance or simply a test of an institution's "image?"

The only real boundary, aside from the test marketers themselves, is the success of some schools, drawing for comfort in their relations with school boards, legislators and governors," he said.

Robert J. Waddick, Asst. Dean of the College of Arts and Letters, corporation, investigated the use of the college boards and standardized tests. "Now I would say that the tests are not accurate. Don't get me wrong," he said. "I think that law school admission tests results come close to being accurate, but the college board's G.P.A. will predict success in the first year of law school about 46% of the time."

"Of course, that isn't perfect," he said. "However, it's better than nothing at all or just the G.P.A.," he added.

When asked if 46% accuracy justifies the tests, Waddick replied, "Yes, I wish, yes, I wonder what other test could be used to admit them to a law school -- the size of their foot or the length of their hair?"

The results suggest that standardized tests are creating paranoia in academic circles. Low SAT scores are pointing at teachers to accept that blame.

"In East Whittier, Calif., the school board instituted dismissal proceedings against 300 teachers, but withdrew them after the teachers struck against the standardized testing," Herndon said.

The teachers in East Whittier strongly felt that standardized testing would constitute a threat to their ability to perform as professionals in the classroom," he said.

Sidney P. Marland, President of the College Board, said in his article in College Board News (Jan. 75) that the understanding of the test objectives are often misconstrued.

"First," Marland said, "let me suggest what the SAT is not. It has not been designed as a measure of school performance and should not be used that way."

"Secondly," he added, "the test is not a measure of some innate and unchanging quality that somehow magically categorizes people."

"It is a measure of developed verbal and mathematical reasoning and abilities," he said.

Dr. Grande, of the Freshman Year of Studies, points out that the way Graduate Record Exams and College Board exams are evaluated determines their weight.

"Usually," Grande said, "most weight is placed on the quality of academic work. Secondly, recommendations and references are considered.

"Finally test results are considerably and have a tendency to be given too much emphasis on them," he said.

"The only problem with these tests is that the student has no means of knowing how well he or she did," Waddick said.

"If college boards are becoming ineffective, it has not been reflect in their usage. The best way to check this is to use what the SAT is for," Waddick said.

Waddick feels the importance of testing has increased for specific reasons.

"Grade inflation is one of the reasons. A 3.0 G.P.A. doesn't mean what it did five years ago," Waddick said.

"The Buckley amendment," he added, "where the student has access to his recommendations, has diminished the quality of recommendations."

"The interview has never really been a major factor since a 20 minute interview can not determine the character of a person," he said.

"At this rate, all that will be left are the college boards and that is why law schools are trying home exams," Waddick concluded.

The President will call on Congress' help to improve the economy in the 77th Congress, and he must have continued budget message to be unveiled in Congress and to subsequent economic and State of the World messages.

Pittsburgh celebrates Super Bowl victory

By Lee Gould

Associated Press Writer

Pittsburgh (AP) — The Steelers, who became an overnight sensation during the Super Bowl, are being written off as the biglosers. Overflows with several thousand jubilant fans Sunday night as temperatures in the low teens.

City police, veterans of past victories celebrations, moved with dispatch to clear the downtown area and dispel the confusion.

There were at least a dozen arrests as police shoved disorderly persons into the backs of police vans.

At 5 p.m., as the Steelers were clinching their second straight Super Bowl in Miami, downtown Pittsburgh was virtually empty — except for not-so-helpful police officers gathered at key intersections.

By 6 p.m. traffic was bumper-to-bumper with horn-horned cars overflowing with cheering fans.

Police moved quickly.

"Don't let nothing into town," the police dispatcher ordered some drivers, "this is too late," an anonymous police officer was heard to say, "don't drive for sure," another radioed.

The crowd wasn't deterred by temperatures that hovered around 10 degrees by early evening.

A largely young crowd of fans quickly rioted on Liberty Avenue, the city's major street, shouting: "Number One, Number One!" Climbing onto light posts and dancing in the street.

But police in Marengino's, their own exhibits do not prove, and they've never heard of a case in which there's been a policy decision that someone has taken, they're saying," said Waddick.

"We've been working on the address for several weeks. Now, for holding a drawing of it, he told reporters, "This is my last draft, and we're going to have one more, and that's it."

Sources said the President's message will call for holding the line on spending as a first step toward a balanced federal budget in three years' time.

White House officials said the message will be more upbeat than Ford's first State of the Union message a year ago which said, "The state of the union is not good."

Then he cited problems of energy, employment and the economy.

The President on Monday will report many of the same problems still exist, but to a lesser degree. He'll note that in the last two months three alternatives of inflation has been cut by more than a million, unemployment has declined and industrial output may have increased.

The President will call on Congress' help to improve the economy in the 77th Congress, and he must have continued budget message to be unveiled in Congress and to subsequent economic and State of the World messages.

Nixon, Kissinger tell conflicting FBI stories

New York (AP) — Former President Richard M. Nixon appears to have a different recollection of Secretary of State Henry Kissinger concerning an FBI wire-tapping operation in 1969, the New York Times reported.

In a story from Los Angeles, the paper reported that Nixon said that Kissinger had assured him he would be "in the clear" when the hubbub had subsided.

But in a letter to the editor, Waddick said: "I'm sorry, I wonder what stories were reflecting on the Times' story of a court's story of a court's story."

Harper was one of the four persons named at the meeting and he is suing the former president, Kissinger, other government officials, the FBI and the Chicago police and the Chicago Tribune. He is seeking $2 million in punitive damages.

During the Thursday meeting with Nixon, matters reported to The Times, Nixon was relaxed and appeared to have let his bearers on foreign policy

Get more out of your last 2 years of college

If for some reason you missed taking ARMY ROTC in your first two years of college, you can still take it in your last two. But only if you apply while you're still a sophomore.

In order to make up for the years you missed, you'll have to attend a special camp in the summer before your junior year.

You'll earn up to a total of $2,900 in the Two-Year Program. You'll be able to use some good management skills you've gotten. At least get a commission as an Army officer along with a college degree.

Auditions for Arthur Miller's The Crucible

Sun., Jan. 18 at 1:30 P.M. and Mon., Jan. 19 at 7:30 P.M.

Intermediate and advanced actors are invited. All parts open.

Auditions for Arthur Miller's THE CRUCIBLE

 elementary Powerful speech plays leading to Arthur Miller's masterpiece, THE CRUCIBLE. Prepare: The Crucible, "Standards of Man in the Making." Audition the week before the first rehearsal.

In AUDITIONS for ARTHUR MILLER'S THE CRUCIBLE

There is no charge for auditions.

The Auditions will be held in the Two-Year Program of the College of Arts and Letters.

The Auditions will be held in the Two-Year Program of the College of Arts and Letters.

The Auditions will be held in the Two-Year Program of the College of Arts and Letters.

The Auditions will be held in the Two-Year Program of the College of Arts and Letters.

The Auditions will be held in the Two-Year Program of the College of Arts and Letters.

The Auditions will be held in the Two-Year Program of the College of Arts and Letters.

The Auditions will be held in the Two-Year Program of the College of Arts and Letters.

The Auditions will be held in the Two-Year Program of the College of Arts and Letters.

The Auditions will be held in the Two-Year Program of the College of Arts and Letters.

The Auditions will be held in the Two-Year Program of the College of Arts and Letters.

The Auditions will be held in the Two-Year Program of the College of Arts and Letters.

The Auditions will be held in the Two-Year Program of the College of Arts and Letters.

The Auditions will be held in the Two-Year Program of the College of Arts and Letters.

The Auditions will be held in the Two-Year Program of the College of Arts and Letters.

The Auditions will be held in the Two-Year Program of the College of Arts and Letters.

The Auditions will be held in the Two-Year Program of the College of Arts and Letters.

The Auditions will be held in the Two-Year Program of the College of Arts and Letters.

The Auditions will be held in the Two-Year Program of the College of Arts and Letters.

The Auditions will be held in the Two-Year Program of the College of Arts and Letters.

The Auditions will be held in the Two-Year Program of the College of Arts and Letters.

The Auditions will be held in the Two-Year Program of the College of Arts and Letters.

The Auditions will be held in the Two-Year Program of the College of Arts and Letters.

The Auditions will be held in the Two-Year Program of the College of Arts and Letters.

The Auditions will be held in the Two-Year Program of the College of Arts and Letters.

The Auditions will be held in the Two-Year Program of the College of Arts and Letters.

The Auditions will be held in the Two-Year Program of the College of Arts and Letters.

The Auditions will be held in the Two-Year Program of the College of Arts and Lessons.
The Game Must End

Let’s stop playing games with the academic calendar. The vote in the Academic Council last month to schedule classes the day after Thanksgiving is suddenly and ill-considered. No one has yet provided a convincing rationale for it. Instead, a barrage of reasons have been advanced which have hidden the apparent motivation of the Council. If you wade through the rhetoric about the parents who want to bring their kids home twice each semester and about having a calendar with 70 days, you arrive at the real reason for the vote: the Academic Council wanted to prevent erosion in class attendance the week before Thanksgiving. Fr. Hebbert has claimed that the erosion was he worse than expected. This is in fact the number of the memories on the Council which, just one week after Thanksgiving, noted to have Friday class.

If the professors who voted for this class expected students to actually attend classes they must have intended to keep many students from going home for the holiday. But they themselves will spend the holiday with their own children.

However, the calendar will not prevent the class erosion. In fact, the calendar virtually assures that no one will attend classes Friday.

And most of those who cut on Friday will be able to cut the rest of the week, too. Many professors will not even hold serious classes on Friday. But how likely are students to take an entire week at Thanksgiving if they have a week-long vacation in October? Next year’s calendar removes the pressing motivation for students to skip a week at Thanksgiving because it schedules a break at mid-term.

Tomorrow the Academic Council will reconsider the calendar vote, if 10 members of the Council sign a petition to place the calendar on the agenda. Far only six members have signed it and some of the student representatives have not.

The calendar vote must be re-considered and the full Thanksgiving holiday re-instated for no other reason than that the present calendar profoundly disregards student opinion and common sense. No other issue has so united the student body as the opposition to this calendar. Over 4,000 student signatures against the calendar were collected just in three days. Notre Dame students have not gathered on the steps of the Administration Building in such large numbers since the days of the Cambodian invasion.

The game must end.

P.O. Box Q

Masterstroke

Dear Editor:
The Academic Council is to be congratulated for its courageous reappraisal of the Thanksgiving holiday. In a masterstroke of incisive planning, the Council has not only provided us with a calendar, but also rid us of a superfluous national holiday. Hopefully, the Council can continue its trend-setting pace by examining the Christmas break.

By reducing the Christmas holiday or even eliminating it, the Council could make an eloquent statement on behalf of Christian principles. The extra vacation days could be placed in the second semester. I would personally favor taking off the month of April. In fact, the Council could move Christmas, the Winter Holiday and Veterans Day to that month. This would also reduce the transportation costs to the student body.

Michael Melody

Thanks Father

Thank you for the vacation break, Fr. Bunchbich: it’s something we desperately needed.

Don’t worry, it doesn’t matter that the vacation comes at a time when none of our friends will be home. The fact that we’ve also lost Thanksgiving isn’t important either, after all we’ve still got ’70 days without a Saturday involved. Besides - who likes home cooked turkey anyway?

We all know that not having a Saturday class (instead of perhaps a Friday) did not come into consideration. Gee, only 76% favored it right? I think I figured it out. If we never see home or our friends we’ll love it here much more. That I’ll admit is very clever. Well, thanks Father, maybe we’ll see you in our rooms next Thanksgiving but please don’t interrupt our studying.

Jim Berrymen
Class of ’79

“Sometimes it’s tough heading ‘en to water.”

DOONESBURY by Garry Trudeau

seriously folks...good business for CIA

WASHINGTON—Mary stories have come out about the CIA, but this is one that is still buried secret in the archives. It has to do with an agent named Greensleeves. He was young, energetic and imaginative. The CIA decided to set him up in a souvenir shop across the street from the palace of a South American dictator where he could keep tabs on the comings and goings of government officials.

They gave him enough money to buy the shop and the souvenirs so the government would be legitimate exchange of offers, after all they were decoded, tells the story.

CIA Headquarters, Langley: Business excellent. Have sold $16,000 worth of souvenirs to neighbors. And most of those who cut on Friday will be able to cut the rest of the week, too. Many professors will not even hold serious classes on Friday. But how likely are students to take an entire week at Thanksgiving if they have a week-long vacation in October? Next year’s calendar removes the pressing motivation for students to skip a week at Thanksgiving because it schedules a break at mid-term.

Tomorrow the Academic Council will reconsider the calendar vote, if 10 members of the Council sign a petition to place the calendar on the agenda. Far only six members have signed it and some of the student representatives have not.

The calendar vote must be reconsidered and the full Thanksgiving holiday re-instated for no other reason than that the present calendar profoundly disregards student opinion and common sense. No other issue has so united the student body as the opposition to this calendar. Over 4,000 student signatures against the calendar were collected just in three days. Notre Dame students have not gathered on the steps of the Administration Building in such large numbers since the days of the Cambodian invasion.

The game must end.

P.O. Box Q

Masterstroke

Dear Editor:
The Academic Council is to be congratulated for its courageous reappraisal of the Thanksgiving holiday. In a masterstroke of incisive planning, the Council has not only provided us with a calendar, but also rid us of a superfluous national holiday. Hopefully, the Council can continue its trend-setting pace by examining the Christmas break.

By reducing the Christmas holiday or even eliminating it, the Council could make an eloquent statement on behalf of Christian principles. The extra vacation days could be placed in the second semester. I would personally favor taking off the month of April. In fact, the Council could move Christmas, the Winter Holiday and Veterans Day to that month. This would also reduce the transportation costs to the student body.

Michael Melody

Thanks Father

Thank you for the vacation break, Fr. Bunchbich: it’s something we desperately needed.

Don’t worry, it doesn’t matter that the vacation comes at a time when none of our friends will be home. The fact that we’ve also lost Thanksgiving isn’t important either, after all we’ve still got ’70 days without a Saturday involved. Besides - who likes home cooked turkey anyway?

We all know that not having a Saturday class (instead of perhaps a Friday) did not come into consideration. Gee, only 76% favored it right? I think I figured it out. If we never see home or our friends we’ll love it here much more. That I’ll admit is very clever. Well, thanks Father, maybe we’ll see you in our rooms next Thanksgiving but please don’t interrupt our studying.

Jim Berrymen
Class of ’79

“Sometimes it’s tough heading ‘en to water.”

DOONESBURY by Garry Trudeau

seriously folks...good business for CIA

WASHINGTON—Mary stories have come out about the CIA, but this is one that is still buried secret in the archives. It has to do with an agent named Greensleeves. He was young, energetic and imaginative. The CIA decided to set him up in a souvenir shop across the street from the palace of a South American dictator where he could keep tabs on the comings and goings of government officials.

They gave him enough money to buy the shop and the souvenirs so the government would be legitimate exchange of offers, after all they were decoded, tells the story.

CIA Headquarters, Langley: Business excellent. Have sold $16,000 worth of souvenirs to neighbors. And most of those who cut on Friday will be able to cut the rest of the week, too. Many professors will not even hold serious classes on Friday. But how likely are students to take an entire week at Thanksgiving if they have a week-long vacation in October? Next year’s calendar removes the pressing motivation for students to skip a week at Thanksgiving because it schedules a break at mid-term.

Tomorrow the Academic Council will reconsider the calendar vote, if 10 members of the Council sign a petition to place the calendar on the agenda. Far only six members have signed it and some of the student representatives have not.

The calendar vote must be reconsidered and the full Thanksgiving holiday re-instated for no other reason than that the present calendar profoundly disregards student opinion and common sense. No other issue has so united the student body as the opposition to this calendar. Over 4,000 student signatures against the calendar were collected just in three days. Notre Dame students have not gathered on the steps of the Administration Building in such large numbers since the days of the Cambodian invasion.

The game must end.

P.O. Box Q

Masterstroke

Dear Editor:
The Academic Council is to be congratulated for its courageous reappraisal of the Thanksgiving holiday. In a masterstroke of incisive planning, the Council has not only provided us with a calendar, but also rid us of a superfluous national holiday. Hopefully, the Council can continue its trend-setting pace by examining the Christmas break.

By reducing the Christmas holiday or even eliminating it, the Council could make an eloquent statement on behalf of Christian principles. The extra vacation days could be placed in the second semester. I would personally favor taking off the month of April. In fact, the Council could move Christmas, the Winter Holiday and Veterans Day to that month. This would also reduce the transportation costs to the student body.

Michael Melody

Thanks Father

Thank you for the vacation break, Fr. Bunchbich: it’s something we desperately needed.

Don’t worry, it doesn’t matter that the vacation comes at a time when none of our friends will be home. The fact that we’ve also lost Thanksgiving isn’t important either, after all we’ve still got ’70 days without a Saturday involved. Besides - who likes home cooked turkey anyway?

We all know that not having a Saturday class (instead of perhaps a Friday) did not come into consideration. Gee, only 76% favored it right? I think I figured it out. If we never see home or our friends we’ll love it here much more. That I’ll admit is very clever. Well, thanks Father, maybe we’ll see you in our rooms next Thanksgiving but please don’t interrupt our studying.

Jim Berrymen
Class of ’79

“Sometimes it’s tough heading ‘en to water.”

DOONESBURY by Garry Trudeau

seriously folks...good business for CIA
The Observer has openings for:

- Production workers
- Reporters
- Layout specialists
- Writers
- Artists & Cartoonists
- and other crazies of various talents

Join the Observer

...and make something of yourself

Drop by the Observer office (top floor - LaFortune)
Between 7 & 9 PM
Tonight thru Thurs. night or call Terry at 1715.

Democrats see unemployment as big issue

A government guarantee of a job to every American was advocated Sunday by four Democratic candidates, each indicating that unemployment will be a major campaign issue.

"I'd rather spend taxpayers money for someone working than not working," commented Sen. Lloyd Bentsen of Texas.

Approval of the guaranteed jobs concept was also voiced by Rep. Morris K. Udall of Arizona, former North Carolina Congressmen Terry Sanford and Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington as the four appeared on NBC's "Meet the Press" broadcast from Washington.

In Sacramento, Calif., Ronald Reagan's campaign manager said there is "no major difference in political philosophy between President Ford and the former California governor."

But Reagan has the unique ability to go over the heads of Democrats in control of Congress and use television to get his views to the public, Sen. Paul Laxalt of Nevada added in a speech before California Republican leaders.

Howard "Bo" Callaway, Ford's campaign chairman, also appeared Saturday before the same group of 1,000 volunteers and told them the President's State of the Union message Monday may not sound dynamic, but that it will make a lot of sense.

Callaway and Laxalt both predicted victory in the same early Republican primaries.

In the television appearance Bentsen said his first priority as president would be getting people back to work. What the people are really looking for, he said, is a return to self-confidence.

Bentsen added that he would move to moderate interest rates and hire more individuals and small businesses and proposed a tax credit for hiring the unemployed.

Another added that he would seek action to improve neighborhoods through housing and rent subsidies.

And Sanford said his health is excellent, although he suffered chest pains recently and was hospitalized. He has received a clean bill of health, he said.

Jackson said he feels detente should be a major issue, with the United States using its economic power to keep the Soviet Union out of Angola.

Not just the grain sales to Russia, but technology and other items should be considered means of pressure too, he said.

He said he supports a strong defense, although such unnecessary items as $7 billion for a supersonic bomber should be cut.

Jackson also reiterated his position on forced busing for racial integration, saying a better solution should be found.

Udall said he would seek to bring the races together to work out a solution. But he criticized Jackson's plan that a three-judge panel be required before busing can be imposed, noting that all busing orders have been appealed to such panels, and have been upheld.

Udall predicted that the 1970s and 1980s will be years of change with the end of cheap energy.

Americans will have to move over an era in which low-cost living is different, recycling items, being more thrifty and developing a just society, he said.
Occupied with own troubles

Europe views Angolan war with concern

Associated Press

Western European governments are consistent in their denunciation of the Angolan war and deploiting all foreign intervention, but none pressuring concern over the anti-Communist home — such as general relief — as in February, observers report its former West African colony which corrections officials, prisoners were shown picture of a child was shown the inmate was given a shock and escalated fighting with the "electrical shock treatment", he also said that only one of the 20 inmates who underwent the shock treatment before having been paroled has a solution for the program according to the minister.

Moleses spared

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Prison officials agreed under an agreement with the American Civil Liberties Union, Connecticut, after refusing to undergo the suit was dismissed.

When government has no more effort to find a solution with the "wait-and-see stance (even most influential of a suit against the state of a lesser extent other European countries, analysts point out that they do not necessarily see to lose everything with an MPLA victory, pro-Soviet left-wing parties as a recognized and integral part of their political system. In turn, a week ago former MPLA colonies and "activate and save Portuguese public and private interests in the new nations."

In Britain, Julian Amery, an influential Conservative and a former deputy foreign minister, denounced the Labour government in a speech for doing nothing to counter the threat of "a fatal blow to the European economy."

Army dance Friday

by Phil Cabley

Staff Reporter

The Student Union will sponsor a second Army Dance Friday Janu­ ary 23 following the theme "Brew 'n Brains" to honor the basketball game against UCLA on Saturday. Social Commissioner Kathy Smouse revealed yesterday.

The dance will be held Friday night from 8-10 in the Army fieldhouse. The Army Band will provide as well as a group of the Army Singers. Tickets go on sale Wednesday at the Student Union ticket window for a certain dorm lobbies at St. Mary's. The cost is three dollars per ticket. Sales will be limited to students and it is necessary to present a Notre Dame or St. Mary's ID to purchase a ticket. Anyone going to the dance must ride the buses provided by the Student Union to the Army. This is to protect the Student Union which is that taking sole responsibility for the dance. Buses will be leaving from the main circle starting at 8:30 p.m. and running until 9:30 p.m.

Persons attending the dance have their tickets taken at the main circle and will have their hands stamped. This is the only way that persons can obtain admittance to the dance. "The stamp will keep people from driving," Smouse said.

Buses will leave the Army beginning at 12:30 and will make stops at St. Mary's and the Campus View Apartments in addition to the main circle.

Along with the beer, soft drinks and pretzels, hot dogs will be on sale. Five cents from the sale of every hot dog will be donated to a fund under the National Union for the Hartford Social Commission March 26-28.

"One hundred dollars from the Army dance will hold the dancer to get off the campus and onto the grass free on Wednesday, February 4. Smouse said the 900 tickets for the Army Dance will be sold out in one and a half days and advised anyone interested in the dance to get tickets "as soon as possible."

"One hundred dollars from the Army dance will be used to purchase a ticket," she said. The band also played the Senior Army Band and would provide "better music than the band at the last Army Dance."

Smouse described the dance as a "hand in hand together getting in honor of the game," against UCLA on Saturday. She also commented that Dean of Students James Romer was present at the Army Dance held last fall and sent a letter to the Student Union complimenting them on how well it was run. "We're hoping this one will turn out as well," she added.

Classified Ads

IBM Selectric II typing, student rates, dissensions, Letters, 599-1573

For home delivery of the Chicago Tribune call 6299.

Will do typing, experienced. Term papers, manuscripts, etc. Call 332-8212

LOST AND FOUND

Lost calculator, checkbook, other items of value in plastic box in back of Stamford. PLEASE call 8780.

WANTED

Female housemother wanted to share for two or three weeks at Dartmouth. Call 293-4920 or 5 P.M. and 10 A.M.

Desperately need Marquette tickets.

Transfer student needs basketball ticket.

Need a ticket to Marquette basketball game. Call eiss.

Need a ticket to Marquette basketball game. Call Mike after a P.M. 289-0898.

Need 2 tickets to Marquette. Call 1639.

2 UCLA fix needed, student or GA call Joe 5699.

Wanted 2 UCLA fix and any number Marquette. Call John 8189.

For Sale

Your kind of people Serious high-fidelity sound systems to trade for house, yet at a price you get you up light. Stereo Components, 25% - 45% discount, RMS Audio, 231 S. Main, South Bend, Ind.

Hemka Ski boots, size B, good condition. Call Ray, 1757.

COUCHES $30.20. Free delivery to dorm. Call Cooper, 373-3384.

FOR RENT

Rent your upstairs, $60 per month. 333-1328.

Country house for rent, very reasonable. Two minutes from. 333-2413.

House for rent, partially furnished, extremely reasonable 287-7018 or 333-2612.

Rent your upstairs, $233, 1329, Patty

Available now. Large furnished house suitable for two. All utilities included. Call 294-8740 or 874-8871.

For rent: large house, 1 acre, 5 min. to hwy. 41. Must be married. Call. 294-8740 or 289-7777.

Must sublet, spacious, one bedroom duplex, price negotiable. 277-5842.

Lost: a blue striped flannel shirt with a new year's day crest on it. Leave the ACC, Thursday afternoon. Call 287-0714.
Irish win scuffle with Xavier 90-79

by Rich Odiloso

Xavier's Dale Haarman was a can of gasoline looking for a match Saturday. And when he finally struck a spark on his third try he ignited a fire that placed the Notre Dame basketball series in jeopardy.

Four minutes into the second half of Notre Dame's eventual 90-79 victory before 3,250 at the Cincinnati Gardens, Haarman and ND's Bruce Flowers squared off in a showing match that cleared the Xavier bench and drew angry words from Notre Dame Coach Digger Phelps, wearing a live television microphone.

With the Irish leading 55-31, Flowers rejected a Haarman shot and the two players frantically chased the loose puck down to the Xavier bench. It was there that Haarman commenced to lean on Flowers long after the loose ball at issue was forcing him down onto the Musketeer benchguards. Flowers angrily pushed Haarman's arm away and the two squared off. Kids out of this type of play.

Haarman was kept incommunicado after the preambled, wards, arm away and the two squared off. kids out of this type of play.

Flowers Xa
c

90-79

Western Michigan's Paul Paterno was exiled to the bench. This time he was assisting Clarke on his second goal of the night. All it took was a Digger was wired for sound during the scuffle and when commenting on the weren't much of a factor," he said. The Notre Dame freshman afterward, "Just a couple of shoves, no punches." There wasn't much take either. "He said something about my ancestry that's all," remembered Flowers. Haarman was kept incommunicado after the game by Xavier Coach Tom Baker.

Unfortunately their luminence was short-lived.

In an 8-2 victory over Michigan's Wolverines.

Some nights you have it and some nights you don't. Friday night Notre Dame's backcourt capitalized on the brilliant goal-tending of sophomore Lenny Mo- ther's leers. Then less than seven 20-31 complained to Baker about the of the night. All it took was a stick kill by Digger was especially

Two nights later he was assistant captain of the Irish skaters.

Michigan's blueliners jumped to an early 7-3 lead, but Notre Dame coach Pat Hughes' group of freshmen and sophomores, both he and Gary Whitfield accounted for the 20 of these points as Xavier made the final score respectable.

The game was light-fogged by 61 turnovers about evenly divided between teams. Referees BushiRoach and Ron Feiferstein seemed especially enraptured with Dantley's line. The Irish concluded the season 16-0, 3-1 in Big East play and 12-0-3 in the conference.

Digger was wired for sound during the scuffle and when commenting on the weren't much of a factor," he said. The Notre Dame freshman afterward, "Just a couple of shoves, no punches." There wasn't much take either. "He said something about my ancestry that's all," remembered Flowers. Haarman was kept incommunicado after the game by Xavier Coach Tom Baker.

Unfortunately their luminence was short-lived.

In an 8-2 victory over Michigan's Wolverines.

Some nights you have it and some nights you don't. Friday night Notre Dame's backcourt capitalized on the brilliant goal-tending of sophomore Lenny Mother's leers. Then less than seven 20-31 complained to Baker about the of the night. All it took was a stick kill by Digger was especially

Two nights later he was assistant captain of the Irish skaters.

Michigan's blueliners jumped to an early 7-3 lead, but Notre Dame coach Pat Hughes' group of freshmen and sophomores, both he and Gary Whitfield accounted for the 20 of these points as Xavier made the final score respectable.

The game was light-fogged by 61 turnovers about evenly divided between teams. Referees BushiRoach and Ron Feiferstein seemed especially enraptured with Dantley's line. The Irish concluded the season 16-0, 3-1 in Big East play and 12-0-3 in the conference.

Digger was wired for sound during the scuffle and when commenting on the weren't much of a factor," he said. The Notre Dame freshman afterward, "Just a couple of shoves, no punches." There wasn't much take either. "He said something about my ancestry that's all," remembered Flowers. Haarman was kept incommunicado after the game by Xavier Coach Tom Baker.

Unfortunately their luminence was short-lived.

In an 8-2 victory over Michigan's Wolverines.

Some nights you have it and some nights you don't. Friday night Notre Dame's backcourt capitalized on the brilliant goal-tending of sophomore Lenny Mother's leers. Then less than seven 20-31 complained to Baker about the of the night. All it took was a stick kill by Digger was especially

Two nights later he was assistant captain of the Irish skaters.

Michigan's blueliners jumped to an early 7-3 lead, but Notre Dame coach Pat Hughes' group of freshmen and sophomores, both he and Gary Whitfield accounted for the 20 of these points as Xavier made the final score respectable.

The game was light-fogged by 61 turnovers about evenly divided between teams. Referees BushiRoach and Ron Feiferstein seemed especially enraptured with Dantley's line. The Irish concluded the season 16-0, 3-1 in Big East play and 12-0-3 in the conference.

Digger was wired for sound during the scuffle and when commenting on the weren't much of a factor," he said. The Notre Dame freshman afterward, "Just a couple of shoves, no punches." There wasn't much take either. "He said something about my ancestry that's all," remembered Flowers. Haarman was kept incommunicado after the game by Xavier Coach Tom Baker.

Unfortunately their luminence was short-lived.

In an 8-2 victory over Michigan's Wolverines.

Some nights you have it and some nights you don't. Friday night Notre Dame's backcourt capitalized on the brilliant goal-tending of sophomore Lenny Mother's leers. Then less than seven 20-31 complained to Baker about the of the night. All it took was a stick kill by Digger was especially

Two nights later he was assistant captain of the Irish skaters.

Michigan's blueliners jumped to an early 7-3 lead, but Notre Dame coach Pat Hughes' group of freshmen and sophomores, both he and Gary Whitfield accounted for the 20 of these points as Xavier made the final score respectable.

The game was light-fogged by 61 turnovers about evenly divided between teams. Referees BushiRoach and Ron Feiferstein seemed especially enraptured with Dantley's line. The Irish concluded the season 16-0, 3-1 in Big East play and 12-0-3 in the conference.

Digger was wired for sound during the scuffle and when commenting on the weren't much of a factor," he said. The Notre Dame freshman afterward, "Just a couple of shoves, no punches." There wasn't much take either. "He said something about my ancestry that's all," remembered Flowers. Haarman was kept incommunicado after the game by Xavier Coach Tom Baker.

Unfortunately their luminence was short-lived.

In an 8-2 victory over Michigan's Wolverines.

Some nights you have it and some nights you don't. Friday night Notre Dame's backcourt capitalized on the brilliant goal-tending of sophomore Lenny Mother's leers. Then less than seven 20-31 complained to Baker about the of the night. All it took was a stick kill by Digger was especially

Two nights later he was assistant captain of the Irish skaters.

Michigan's blueliners jumped to an early 7-3 lead, but Notre Dame coach Pat Hughes' group of freshmen and sophomores, both he and Gary Whitfield accounted for the 20 of these points as Xavier made the final score respectable.

The game was light-fogged by 61 turnovers about evenly divided between teams. Referees BushiRoach and Ron Feiferstein seemed especially enraptured with Dantley's line. The Irish concluded the season 16-0, 3-1 in Big East play and 12-0-3 in the conference.

Digger was wired for sound during the scuffle and when commenting on the weren't much of a factor," he said. The Notre Dame freshman afterward, "Just a couple of shoves, no punches." There wasn't much take either. "He said something about my ancestry that's all," remembered Flowers. Haarman was kept incommunicado after the game by Xavier Coach Tom Baker.

Unfortunately their luminence was short-lived.

In an 8-2 victory over Michigan's Wolverines.

Some nights you have it and some nights you don't. Friday night Notre Dame's backcourt capitalized on the brilliant goal-tending of sophomore Lenny Mother's leers. Then less than seven 20-31 complained to Baker about the of the night. All it took was a stick kill by Digger was especially

Two nights later he was assistant captain of the Irish skaters.

Michigan's blueliners jumped to an early 7-3 lead, but Notre Dame coach Pat Hughes' group of freshmen and sophomores, both he and Gary Whitfield accounted for the 20 of these points as Xavier made the final score respectable.

The game was light-fogged by 61 turnovers about evenly divided between teams. Referees BushiRoach and Ron Feiferstein seemed especially enraptured with Dantley's line. The Irish concluded the season 16-0, 3-1 in Big East play and 12-0-3 in the conference.

Digger was wired for sound during the scuffle and when commenting on the weren't much of a factor," he said. The Notre Dame freshman afterward, "Just a couple of shoves, no punches." There wasn't much take either. "He said something about my ancestry that's all," remembered Flowers. Haarman was kept incommunicado after the game by Xavier Coach Tom Baker.

Unfortunately their luminence was short-lived.

In an 8-2 victory over Michigan's Wolverines.

Some nights you have it and some nights you don't. Friday night Notre Dame's backcourt capitalized on the brilliant goal-tending of sophomore Lenny Mother's leers. Then less than seven 20-31 complained to Baker about the of the night. All it took was a stick kill by Digger was especially

Two nights later he was assistant captain of the Irish skaters.

Michigan's blueliners jumped to an early 7-3 lead, but Notre Dame coach Pat Hughes' group of freshmen and sophomores, both he and Gary Whitfield accounted for the 20 of these points as Xavier made the final score respectable.

The game was light-fogged by 61 turnovers about evenly divided between teams. Referees BushiRoach and Ron Feiferstein seemed especially enraptured with Dantley's line. The Irish concluded the season 16-0, 3-1 in Big East play and 12-0-3 in the conference.

Digger was wired for sound during the scuffle and when commenting on the weren't much of a factor," he said. The Notre Dame freshman afterward, "Just a couple of shoves, no punches." There wasn't much take either. "He said something about my ancestry that's all," remembered Flowers. Haarman was kept incommunicado after the game by Xavier Coach Tom Baker.

Unfortunately their luminence was short-lived.

In an 8-2 victory over Michigan's Wolverines.

Some nights you have it and some nights you don't. Friday night Notre Dame's backcourt capitalized on the brilliant goal-tending of sophomore Lenny Mother's leers. Then less than seven 20-31 complained to Baker about the of the night. All it took was a stick kill by Digger was especially

Two nights later he was assistant captain of the Irish skaters.

Michigan's blueliners jumped to an early 7-3 lead, but Notre Dame coach Pat Hughes' group of freshmen and sophomores, both he and Gary Whitfield accounted for the 20 of these points as Xavier made the final score respectable.

The game was light-fogged by 61 turnovers about evenly divided between teams. Referees BushiRoach and Ron Feiferstein seemed especially enraptured with Dantley's line. The Irish concluded the season 16-0, 3-1 in Big East play and 12-0-3 in the conference.

Digger was wired for sound during the scuffle and when commenting on the weren't much of a factor," he said. The Notre Dame freshman afterward, "Just a couple of shoves, no punches." There wasn't much take either. "He said something about my ancestry that's all," remembered Flowers. Haarman was kept incommunicado after the game by Xavier Coach Tom Baker.

Unfortunately their luminence was short-lived.