Mondale to address campus on Friday

"America's Values and America's Future" will be the subject of what is described as a major address by Sen. Walter F. Mondale, Democratic vice presidential nominee, Friday, Sept. 10 at Notre Dame.

While open to the public, Mondale's 10 a.m. speech in Stephen Center is expected to be delivered to an audience composed mainly of students and faculty of the University. The Minnesota senator is the first major party presidential or vice presidential candidate to accept Notre Dame's traditional quadrennial invitation to speak on campus during the national election campaign.

Mondale will arrive without airport ceremonies Thursday afternoon and proceed with Third District Congressman John Brademas to South Bend's Bendix plant for a tour. The Mondale party and its travelling press contingent will stay overnight at the Albert Pick Motor Inn in downtown South Bend.

Friday morning at 8 a.m. Mondale will greet guests and speak briefly at a Third District Democratic Committee fund-raising breakfast in the Monogram Room of Notre Dame's Athletic and Convocation Center.

University president, Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., will introduce Sen. Mondale at the Stephen Center address. Following his talk, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee will meet briefly with student volunteers who work with arrangements for his visit in the study lounge of nearby Grace Hall. He is scheduled to leave campus for Michiana Regional Airport at 11:30 a.m.

SMC student government reviews parietal policy

by Barb Langhenry
and Mary Browne
Staff reporters

The parietal system at St. Mary's will be discussed at 8 p.m. this Sunday in the SMC Clubhouse. The purpose of this meeting is to give Student Government an opportunity to understand student opinion in this area.

A poll was taken during the 1975-76 school year with a large number of students stating that they were dissatisfied with the present policy. Student Government is presently researching the issue.

A committee, consisting of Diane Smits, Cathy Hashan, Peggie Rodgers and Sherry Antonius, stated that if changes are not made, student morale may suffer. The committee also felt that parietals were hindered by the loss of student's privacy.

Smits stated, "This is not an effort to conform to any universities or college's parietal policy. In particular N.D.'s, but it is a positive and constructive attempt to make St. Mary's a better college with a student body who can grow in maturity both academically and socially. We feel the present parietal system hinders academic and social growth."

Dr. Kathleen Rice Dean of SMC stated that she stated that "I have formulated no opinion because I have not heard enough from students about what they want relative to parietals and why they want it. Furthermore I don't know about the history of the parietal issue at SMC and how the entire SMC community feels about it." Rice also views the Sunday night meeting as informative.

"I'll be at the meeting Sunday night to act as a resource person and not as a representative of the administration. Several other members of the administration have also been invited."

ND community sails & suns at St. Joe's. [photo by Paul Clevenger]

SMC student government reviews parietal policy

by Joe Gill
Staff Reporter

The freshman housing problem at St. Mary's is "under control," according to St. Mary's Dean of Students Kathleen Rice.

"We've now taken care of many of the undesirable sides of the problem, such as people in classrooms and lounges," she said, "and the rest of the freshmen are pretty content."

Meanwhile, the situation at Notre Dame has been cut in half, according to Housing Director Fr. John Mulcahy. "We're making good progress and should be through in a few weeks," he said.

The housing problem at Notre Dame though, is markedly different from St. Mary's. At Notre Dame, the freshmen have rooms, but with RA's as roommates. At St. Mary's, the problem is more extensive; the freshmen have no actual rooms and are living in study lounges and classrooms.

Rice outlined the steps that have been taken, stating that the first priority was to "free the two lounges at Holy Cross, and that's been done." Secondly, she said "the students housed in the emergency rooms, that are uncomfortable, like classrooms and study areas, are being taken care of, and that's been done now. Finally," said Rice, "those students housed in some of the nicer rooms, such as lounges, will be moved, and those will be unavailable until Friday, when the computer results will be in."

Of the 73 originally placed in emergency housing, 30 of them were "in really bad situations" said Rice, and twenty of these have been moved into dormitories. "Who's asked how soon the others would be moved," Rice replied. "I can't tell you that just yet because the information will be unavailable until Friday, when the computer results will be in."

At Notre Dame, of the 56 originally rooming with RA's, 35 have been placed in other rooms. The remaining 21 are occupying Alumni, Grace, Stanford, and Flanner.

CRUDEST FORM OF SERENADE

Approximately 1,500 Notre Dame students participated in the traditional pre-home-game party raid on the St. Mary's campus between 11 and 12 last night. SMC Security reported little property damage as a result of the raid.

For freshmen

Housing problems eased

by Joe Gill
Staff Reporter

Father Robert Hanauer, rector at Grace, commented that the situation at Grace is "fine, but it's becoming a bit of a strain. Most of the people in RA's," he said "would like to settle down somewhere permanently for the year."

Fr. Richard Conyers, rector at Krenen, said the cooperation between all involved has been "extraordinary." The upperclassmen that are rooming with freshmen are being very solicitous," he said. "Although the situation itself is not ideal (a freshman rooming with an upperclassman), as an alternative, it's working really well," he added.

Rectors at McCandless and Regina were unavailable for comment. Holy Cross Rector Kathy McWeen thought she "has no comment for the Observer." Rice commented on the morale at St. Mary's, saying that "St. Mary's have worried about student morale, but I haven't heard anything about it." The cooperation of the staff, the freshman and the RA's over here has been excellent."

Tin Men's' sick, cancel ACC concert

by Joe LaCosta
Staff Reporter

The scheduled appearance of the group Tin Men on Saturday, Sept. 18 has been cancelled. According to the group's manager the reason for canceling was illness. Dan Peck developed bronchitis and the rest of the group had started to catch it. In addition the stage crew had begun to develop colds.

American consisting of Dan Peck, Dewey Drummer and Gerry Becker is the first major party leg of its fall concert tour. This tour included sold out performances here at Notre Dame, Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis and the Mississippi river festival.

John Sebastian and Silver, the group scheduled to appear at American, also do not appear here or at any of the other scheduled stops previously mentioned.

Refunds for anyone who bought tickets will be available at the ACC ticket office starting next Monday. The ticket office is located at gate 10 and will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The refund will be a large scale operation since nearly 7500 tickets and $45,000 dollars will have to be exchanged.

American will probably schedule a spring tour to make up for the concerts stops missed. The concert Commission for the Student Union, headed by Ken Rico and Jim Sieber has said that they will try to schedule American then.

Rico stated that the group regrets having to cancel and American's manager labeled Notre Dame as a "good place to play." The concert Commissioners also stated that the concerts would have been an "obvious success."

There are three other dates open for concerts this fall but negotiations are still under way for all three dates at the present time.
Roemer OK's annual Dillon Run

Saturday, Sept. 9, 1976

On Campus Today

9 a.m. - meeting, meeting, alumni board of directors
5 p.m. - meeting, room 220, cce.
5:30 p.m. - meeting, college of engineering advisory council, cce.
7:30 p.m. - discussion, by al sondaj, a 1976 notre dame graduate.

Tickets available now for ND-Navy weekend

by Marti Hogan

The Notre Dame-Navy football game will highlight "one helluva weekend," according to Cathy Coyne, president of the SMCDN Cleveland Club.

The Cleveland Club and Notre Dame's Student Union are co-sponsoring a trip to this game.

Tickets will be on sale at the Cleveland Club table during Activit y, on Friday night, and in the Student Union ticket office Tuedayers and Thursdays between 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. until Sept. 17.

"This is mandatory for a ticket order," Coyne said, adding that this deposit is non-refundable.

"If you can reserve a room, ticket, transportation and a rally ticket when you place your order," she said, "students may also make their final payments at this time.

Rooms will be available at the Sheraton Hotel in Cleveland for $7 per person per night, and there will be four people to a room, and you may room with friends," Coyne explained.

"If you come alone, you will be tentatively assigned to a room."

This $7 fee also includes transportation to and from the game.

The busses are tentatively scheduled to leave Saturday, Oct. 3, at 6 p.m. and should arrive in Cleveland by 6:30 p.m. A "party in the Park" is scheduled to follow at 7 p.m. "Kids from Cleveland will know where the Park is," Coyne explained.

The Cleveland Alumni Association and the Cleveland Club are sponsoring a rally at the Sheraton.

Cheering section starts Saturday

A football cheering section has been formed in section 33 and 33 of the Notre Dame Stadium in "an attempt to boost school spirit" stated Bob Lombardo, one of its creators.

The section will have cards and will also work in conjunction with the cheerleaders in expressions of school spirit.

The card section of the cheering section, in section 33, rows 25 through 50, are to be in the stadium by 2:30 p.m. on Saturday.

Other members of the section should be at Stepan Center by 6:30 p.m. to follow the band into Stepan Center.

The Observer

Night Editor - Marti 'Peaches' Hogan

Sports Night Editor - Giacomo 'Rimandini in Italia' D'Aura

Letter - Drew Bauer

Copy Editor - Barb 'Miss Apple Pie' Langheber

Day Editor - Mary Mungovan

Editorials - Pat Hamlin, John Moore

Features - Chris Smith

Sports - Paul Stevenson

Typists - Cwen Coleman, Susan Shellyhoa, Kathy Edgar, Nancy Cueroni

Night Controller - Harry Blinder

Ad Layout - Tom Warth

Copyline Specialist - Tom 'The Wiz' O'Neil

by Bob Varanot!

Staff Reporter

Students planning to be a part of a student cheering section should anticipate no problems with the University, if they are careful, according to James Roemer, Notre Dame dean of students.

Roemer said the Dillon Run was basically "not related" to the trespassing violations that occurred in the past and "if they traveled together in smaller numbers."

"Of course there is no objection to a Notre Dame student entering any dorm he wishes, but if 30 or 40 people at a time genuinely cause a disruption, there is something wrong," he noted.

A few rectresses may feel less optimistic. This will be the first run for four of the six on campus. Sr. Kathleen Madden of Lyons Hall said she does not know what to expect. She's sure to open the doors to the Dillon freshmen "may cause unnecessary vandalism."

Sr. Jean Lema of Farley hall said the first time it happened while she was rectress she tried to lock the doors.

"I’ll never forget it," she said, "I didn’t know what was happening. But we’ve never had any damage or any trouble from the Dillon people. They usually run right in and right out."

Tickets, $7.50; for more info, call the Student Union, the night before or during the week.

The Observer
Lacks needed finances

South Shore may cut rail service to Chicago

by Mike Towle
Staff Reporter

"We've had to admit defeat," he said. This problem has been building up over the years, making for a bleak situation. Our passengers, cars being more than 50 years old, are rundown and in bad operating condition.

In order to remedy their plight, South Shore sees the need to formulate a public finance plan in the near future. Otherwise, it will be necessary to file for discontinuance of service with the Interstate Commerce Commission. Dudley believes that such a decision will be made by early December.

"We can't go on indefinitely," he adds. "There is no money to replace the cars, so the situation grows steadily worse. We have been a private enterprise since 1922, forcing us to depend on gate receipts to cover costs. Presently, our operation is costing us $2.7 million per year."

Mary's Dane and St. Mary's students have used the South Shore railroad for travel to and from Chicago. Jeff Dargin, a junior from Arlington Heights, states, "I've used the South Shore about four or five times since I've needed here. It's less expensive than other available transportation, but is in poor condition. From now on, I'll probably either hitchhike home or take an airplane. I think it's worth taxing the people of Indiana to help improve and finance the railroad.

Another resident of Arlington Heights, sophomore Barb Langheiny adds, "It's a pity that South Shore will probably not be operating in the future. It has been an economical way to travel." At the present time, the South Shore charges $1.10 for one way fare and 6.10 for roundtrip fare, to and from Chicago. Not only is this price less expensive than busfare or planefare, it is also cheaper than AMTRACK. South Shore's commuter counterpart on rails.

Dudley explains, "Although A-Mtrack costs more than $1 million per day, it is funded by the federal government. Since it was established by the National Rail Service Act in 1970, AMTRACK has realized increasing losses in revenue, but it is still supported by the government. Like other modes of public transportation throughout the country, the South Shore is facing financial problems that necessitate concern on the part of the public. For, it is believed that the South Shore can't go on indefinitely," he adds. "There is a need to find new sources of revenues, and to formulate a public finance plan in the near future. Otherwise, it will be necessary to continue running the South Shore railroad for travel to and from Chicago."

Carney picnic kicks off weekend

by Marian Ullery
Staff Reporter

Carney '76, an annual evening of outdoor festivities will be held on a Friday this year instead of a weeknight as was done in past years.

Nanette Busfield, Carney co-chairman stated, "We thought it would be nice to everyone's advantage to have it on Friday, and people would come to our events on the weekend. When it was on a work night, people drifted away to study. On Friday, it'll be the first day of the big weekend." A picnic on both the North and South quads will begin the evening. A music program will include typical outdoor fare as foot-long hot dogs, cold beer, lemonade, and watermelon.

The remaining Carney activities will center on the South quad where the band "Broadcasting Company" began at 5:3 p.m. Fr. Theodore Hesburgh, University president, is tentatively scheduled to speak at 6:30 p.m.

Throughout the evening, a disc jockey from WSNF will ask trivia questions, with prizes awarded for the correct responses.

St. Mary's offers voter registration

Caroline Casey
Staff Reporter

Thursday, Sept. 9, will be the last day for the registration of the November election. The Student Government will be administering the voter registration program on the second floor of the cafeteria. All student 18 or over may register during the dinner hour by filling out a form provided in the lobby. No period of residency is required for students wishing to vote in the St. Joe District.

Students already registered in different districts, who will be at school during the elections, should write immediately to their district requesting an absentee ballot. However, if a student prefers to vote in the St. Joe District, she should register here and it will cancel her previous registration.

The deadline for registering for the fall elections is Sept. 20. Students who are unable to register Thursday should contact one of the following students: Karen Hinks, 4197; Anna Monardo, 4093; Sasi Gathath, 4222; Mary Jo Hester, 4222; Ann Bathen, 4456.

Carney rafl es Springsteen

Since the America concert has been cancelled, the Carney's co- committee has announced it will be offered two tickets to the Bruce Springsteen concert. The tickets will be hidden in the same location throughout the evening. Anyone has the chance to win the tickets by placing his or her name in the box which will be on the stage at Carney '76 Friday night. A name will be picked from the box at 6:30 p.m. and that person can then guess where the tickets are located. The drawing will be held at 6:30 p.m.

Carney's activities will conclude in time for students to attend the Pitt pep rally at 7 p.m. in the Steph Center.

SMOKE STACK

MISHAWAKA

SPECIALIZING IN QUALITY

PAPES, TOBACCO & SMOKER'S ACCESSORIES.

IF YOU CRAVE

IGARRETTES, LOOK NO FURTHER

ROTHMAN, DONHILL EXPORTS AVAILABLE.

15% DISCOUNT ON ALL PIPES WITH NSMC ID.

255-9009

PIZZA KING

Welcomes back ND students

We invite you to try our delicious pizza, hot sandwiches and tasty salads.

BEER Special Monday nights.

Pitchers of Budweiser $1.50

Michelob $1.75

Tues. nite after 4pm-$1.00 off on all large pizzas.

Panty Raids

Anything that happens twice at Notre Dame is a tradition; if it happens three times it is an old tradition and change is in order. Let the rest of nation’s universities advance into the twentieth century if they wish. Notre Dame remains loyal to the nineteenth century style of student life. Panty raids are a beloved part of this style but perhaps it is time for a switch to a new way of expressing the annual pre-game insanity.

Though juvenile, there is nothing wrong with the raids as long as they are not destructive. Unfortunately, the last ones were destructive. Notre Dame paid St. Mary’s $1300 compensation for panty raid damage. In the hopes that their eagerness to snatch a piece of underwear, several hundred domers stamped over shrubbery, knocked out light fixtures, broke doors and windows, and ransacked rooms. At the end of the festivities most of them did not even have any panties to show for it.

As unusual as it is for The Observer to agree with the administration, we do think Boerner is right to oppose the raids as long as this sort of destruction is part of them. We hope, though, that his hard-line attitude will be transferred onto the big game.

“To drink: Vote”

What if they held an election and nobody voted? The tradition is not as sacred as it seems. The Notre Dame and St. Mary’s student bodies have shown an amazing apathy towards student governments elections, and one can’t help but wonder if this attitude will be transferred onto the big scale.

Granted, state and national politics are generally more important and more interesting but interest in local elections also calls for more effort on the part of the voter. Most states require that an unregistered voter register in person with his county board of election commissioners. All states require that absentee voters apply for a ballot in writing, at least one month before the election date.

Students who wish to vote in their home states and are already registered will have an opportunity to register in the coming weeks. Members of the Law School and Congressman John Brademas’ staff will be sponsoring voter registration drive tomorrow at Stepan Center before and after Sen. Mondaide’s speech and Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in front of the dining halls.

If you want to drink in Indiana, attend Susan’s next White House prom, or chat with Miss Susan in the Rose Room register. Vote.

Trespassing is a crime and will be treated as such” remark was only intended to worry prospective raiders. Destructive or not, panty raids show a tremendous lack of originality. If you have seen one pair of panties dangling out a window you have seen them all. With a little imagination students can invent more creative alternative for this popular, but often destructive fall sport. There are many other ways they can release the energy that accumulates before the first football game. They could:

1. Run over to the laundry during the day and have the workers throw men’s underwear out at them. They will get something useful and will have as much chance of getting their own clothing as they would if they waited for the usual bundles.

2. But many students who have not yet registered as voters will find that they are unable to do so in their home states (without returning home) before October. Others may wish to vote as residents of Indiana, in order to influence legislative decisions, especially on the 19-year-old drinking bill. All of these students will have an opportunity to register in the coming weeks. Members of the Law School and Congressman John Brademas’s staff will be sponsoring voter registration drive tomorrow at Stepan Center before and after Sen. Mondaide’s speech and Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in front of the dining halls.

If you want to drink in Indiana, attend Susan’s next White House prom, or chat with Miss Susan in the Rose Room register. Vote.

“I can’t be an lookout for the rest of my life.”

John Zygmunt

Don’t know why not? Let’s see what the situation.

Here and Loafing at Notre Dame

St. Louis bus terminal August 24, 1976 7:30 AM

Despite the fact Elott was a native Louisianan, I’m reasonable sure he never saw this bus station. In fact, if he had, he probably would have thought too even in England he was still too close to America for his own good. The only proof I have that he might have seen this unique structure (the only building I know that looks like two half-buried rooms first and then decided to enlarge it) is that the poem of from The Waste Land . . . this is ‘rats’ alley.

Every time I come here I look to see if the sign has changed, but so far it’s always “Bus Terminal.” The last time I was here I meant to suggest my proposed name change to the station manager. But my way over to his office I was stopped by a man calling for a horsey traveling columbia new sexual or some combination of the above. But “Bus Terminal” is appropriate too because there is definitely something very terminal about this place.

If I had more energy I might be promoting this story with a narrative structure and explain just what I mean by this different place at three in the morning but it’s not my business to catalogue the quicksand’s incompetence. The latest episode just ended with my girlfriend screaming at the telephone (well, I somehow knocked the telephone). But I never saw this bus station. In fact, if he had, he probably would have thought even in England he was still too close to America for his own good. The only proof I have that he never saw this bus station. In fact, if he had, he probably would have thought even in England he was still too close to America for his own good. The only proof I have that he never saw this bus station. In fact, if he had, he probably would have thought even in England he was still too close to America for his own good. The only proof I have that he never saw this bus station. In fact, if he had, he probably would have thought even in England he was still too close to America for his own good. The only proof I have that he never saw this bus station. In fact, if he had, he probably would have thought even in England he was still too close to America for his own good. The only proof I have that he never saw this bus station. In fact, if he had, he probably would have thought even in England he was still too close to America for his own good. The only proof I have that he never saw this bus station. In fact, if he had, he probably would have thought even in England he was still too close to America for his own good. The only proof I have that he never saw this bus station. In fact, if he had, he probably would have thought even in England he was still too close to America for his own good. The only proof I have that he never saw this bus station. In fact, if he had, he probably would have thought even in England he was still too close to America for his own good. The only proof I have that he never saw this bus station. In fact, if he had, he probably would have thought even in England he was still too close to America for his own good. The only proof I have that he never saw this bus station. In fact, if he had, he probably would have thought even in England he was still too close to America for his own good. The only proof I have that he never saw this bus station. In fact, if he had, he probably would have thought even in England he was still too close to America for his own good.
Bogen, Martin and the Armstrongs special service branch. They bought me a couple instruments. A girl gave me a mandolin. Water in the foxholes ran all over it, so the army gave me a new one, another fellow bought me a guitar. I've got the Marshall amp up in the army. When I came out, a lot of people would sing, but I couldn't play the tambourine, so I put an electronic pick-up on it to raise the volume and make it better. I've got my record cleared. Then they record all your music. They do it constructive, the way the people want it.

Bogen: I don't know if they've got a record of my music or not, but I've got a long road since then. I've had many songs other than blues. You see, I never had any trouble with anything, just blue and white people. We're all black. We've all got the same problems, and we can understand each other.

Observer: How do you know what you play for?

Martin: I'm not thinking about how much I can get. I'm thinking about getting the message across to the people. I'm thinking about the people. I'm thinking about the black. What kind of music do you play to them?

Martin: Most of our audiences were white. We were in Lima, Peru, and we went down to the dining room to get something to eat. The lights in the dining room were on as bright as day, and the waiters were standing all around, but they wouldn't pay any attention to us. So we walked in, and they said, "Nothing more." I don't think they even had any food. But that didn't make any sense, because they wouldn't be standing around in their white jackets. So we started at the door, and here comes two native girls. One was a mestizo, and the other was white, and sat down, and the waiters scurried around like a bunch of rats, getting all kinds of food. And the next morning, when we had breakfast, we ordered coffee, and they brought it first, so it would be cold before your eggs and bacon got to the table. If we ordered the bacon and eggs first, it would be cold before you got your coffee. That's what they did.

Observer: When did you start?

Martin: I've been playing for many years. Washington, D.C. for the folk festival. Then I met Bogen one day, he was drunk on the streetcorners, but that I had a fellow with me, and I didn't like the way he played guitar. He made him throw it down, and he picked it up, and had him play a complement, and me and Bogen got together. That was in '34, then later he went back home, and I retired from music, and we didn't see each other again until '70.

"In '70, some guy who had my records came looking for money. "Who's Carl Martin?" Someone told him "Well he's in Ohio, with a job." I said "Oh, OK," but I didn't have a fellowship with me, and he made him throw it down and pick up a real pick, and had him play a complement, and me and Bogen got together. Then I went to New York to record at that time, and I thought maybe they didn't have any food. We asked, "What kind of music do you want to listen to?" They just answered, "World music." Then I told the manager, "I don't know what kind of music you want to listen to, but you can't listen to music without food."

Observer: When did you start?

Martin: I've been playing for many years. Washington, D.C. for the folk festival. Then I met Bogen one day, he was drunk on the streetcorners, but that I had a fellow with me, and I didn't like the way he played guitar. He made him throw it down, and he picked it up, and had him play a complement, and me and Bogen got together. Then I went to New York to record at that time, and I thought maybe they didn't have any food. We asked, "What kind of music do you want to listen to?" They just answered, "World music." Then I told the manager, "I don't know what kind of music you want to listen to, but you can't listen to music without food."

Observer: When did you start?

Martin: I've been playing for many years. Washington, D.C. for the folk festival. Then I met Bogen one day, he was drunk on the streetcorners, but that I had a fellow with me, and I didn't like the way he played guitar. He made him throw it down, and he picked it up, and had him play a complement, and me and Bogen got together. Then I went to New York to record at that time, and I thought maybe they didn't have any food. We asked, "What kind of music do you want to listen to?" They just answered, "World music." Then I told the manager, "I don't know what kind of music you want to listen to, but you can't listen to music without food."

Observer: When did you start?

Martin: I've been playing for many years. Washington, D.C. for the folk festival. Then I met Bogen one day, he was drunk on the streetcorners, but that I had a fellow with me, and I didn't like the way he played guitar. He made him throw it down, and he picked it up, and had him play a complement, and me and Bogen got together. Then I went to New York to record at that time, and I thought maybe they didn't have any food. We asked, "What kind of music do you want to listen to?" They just answered, "World music." Then I told the manager, "I don't know what kind of music you want to listen to, but you can't listen to music without food."

Observer: When did you start?

Martin: I've been playing for many years. Washington, D.C. for the folk festival. Then I met Bogen one day, he was drunk on the streetcorners, but that I had a fellow with me, and I didn't like the way he played guitar. He made him throw it down, and he picked it up, and had him play a complement, and me and Bogen got together. Then I went to New York to record at that time, and I thought maybe they didn't have any food. We asked, "What kind of music do you want to listen to?" They just answered, "World music." Then I told the manager, "I don't know what kind of music you want to listen to, but you can't listen to music without food."

Observer: When did you start?

Martin: I've been playing for many years. Washington, D.C. for the folk festival. Then I met Bogen one day, he was drunk on the streetcorners, but that I had a fellow with me, and I didn't like the way he played guitar. He made him throw it down, and he picked it up, and had him play a complement, and me and Bogen got together. Then I went to New York to record at that time, and I thought maybe they didn't have any food. We asked, "What kind of music do you want to listen to?" They just answered, "World music." Then I told the manager, "I don't know what kind of music you want to listen to, but you can't listen to music without food."

Observer: When did you start?

Martin: I've been playing for many years. Washington, D.C. for the folk festival. Then I met Bogen one day, he was drunk on the streetcorners, but that I had a fellow with me, and I didn't like the way he played guitar. He made him throw it down, and he picked it up, and had him play a complement, and me and Bogen got together. Then I went to New York to record at that time, and I thought maybe they didn't have any food. We asked, "What kind of music do you want to listen to?" They just answered, "World music." Then I told the manager, "I don't know what kind of music you want to listen to, but you can't listen to music without food."

Observer: When did you start?

Martin: I've been playing for many years. Washington, D.C. for the folk festival. Then I met Bogen one day, he was drunk on the streetcorners, but that I had a fellow with me, and I didn't like the way he played guitar. He made him throw it down, and he picked it up, and had him play a complement, and me and Bogen got together. Then I went to New York to record at that time, and I thought maybe they didn't have any food. We asked, "What kind of music do you want to listen to?" They just answered, "World music." Then I told the manager, "I don't know what kind of music you want to listen to, but you can't listen to music without food."

Observer: When did you start?
ND women’s golf team varies style

by Mark Scribner

A new technique is being introduced to the women’s gold team this year which hopefully will improve the club sport’s program and caliber of play. According to Astrid Hotvedt, the squad’s coach, the club sport’s program and year which hopefully will improve reduced to the women’s gold team this begin an intense six-week workout program this Thursday in every Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday at 5 pm at the Rockne Memorial.

In addition to running, the girls will be exercising, working on weights, swimming and doing other activities to develop strength and stamina. The workout program is open to any girl, even if she doesn’t intend to try out for the team, but just wants to get in shape. Any girl who has serious intentions of trying out is advised to work out some on her own in addition to the scheduled workout. Also scheduled are two intramural meets, to be held in late September and early October, to be periodically given less tones to the club’s members. Miss Hotvedt feels these sessions are especially beneficial to the five freshmen on the squad, since they will be afforded many extra hours of practice outside of a competitive atmosphere.

These freshmen will be valuable additions to the golfers returning from last year who will be led by captain Barbara Breemen. The senior from Lewistown, Pennsylvania expects to be ably supported by senior teammates Louise Karas, Sue Fitzpatrick, and Kathy Riorde.

Further help should come from Ellen Hughes and Linda Sisson, two experienced golfers who didn’t play last season. Coach Hotvedt’s group is already invited to a number of weekend tournaments; the major tourney is sponsored by the Midwest Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women and will be held in mid-Oct.

Anyone who is interested can still join the team and is urged to attend the club meetings which are held every Wednesday night at 6:30 in the driving range room of the Rockne Memorial.

by Mark Perry

Approximately sixty girls will begin an intense six-week workout program this Thursday in preparation for the upcoming girls track season at Notre Dame.

Sue Behnke, who is in charge of the girls track program this season, said that practices will be held every Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday at 5 pm at the Rockne Memorial.

In addition to running, the girls will be working on weights, swimming and doing other activities to develop strength and stamina. The workout program is open to any girl, even if she doesn’t intend to try out for the team, but just wants to get in shape. Any girl who has serious intentions of trying out is advised to work out some on her own in addition to the scheduled workout. Also scheduled are two intramural meets, to be held in late September and early October, to be followed by the tryouts and the beginning of the indoor season. The schedule for the indoor season is still being worked out, and the amount of meets scheduled will be dependant on how much interest is shown over the fall. Any girl interested in trying out for the team or who just wants to know more about the workout program should contact Sue Behnke at 6169 or at 131 Lewis Hall, or come to the first practice session, tomorrow at the Rockne Memorial.

These freshmen will be valuable additions to the golfers returning from last year who will be led by captain Barbara Breemen. The senior from Lewistown, Pennsylvania expects to be ably supported by senior teammates Louise Karas, Sue Fitzpatrick, and Kathy Riorde.

Further help should come from Ellen Hughes and Linda Sisson, two experienced golfers who didn’t play last season. Coach Hotvedt’s group is already invited to a number of weekend tournaments; the major tourney is sponsored by the Midwest Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women and will be held in mid-Oct.

Anyone who is interested can still join the team and is urged to attend the club meetings which are held every Wednesday night at 6:30 in the driving range room of the Rockne Memorial.

Irish women hold track tryouts

The SR-56 is a tremendously powerful slide rule calculator. Yet you can program it whenever you’re ready. There are 74 preprogrammed functions and operations. You can do arithmetic within all 10 memories. It has AOS – a unique algebratic operating system that lets you handle problems with up to 9 levels of parentheses. There’s also a polar to rectangular conversion – built in. Mean, standard deviation, degrees, radians, grads. And, it works with Texas Instruments’ new printer – the PC-100. Chances are, you’ll be programing. That’s what professionals in your field are doing – right now. And with an SR-56 you’re ready. It has 100-merged prefix program steps. 6 logical decision functions. 4 levels of subroutine. You can decrement and skip on zero to iterate a loop as many times as you specify. There are 4 levels of subroutine to let you use your program steps to maximum advantage. And, you can even compare a test register with the display to make a conditional branch. So you can check an intermediate result for convergence, or a maximum.

The edge you need. Now. And in your career.

Texas Instruments will rebate $10.00 of your original SR-56 purchase price when you return this coupon and your SR-56 customer information card postmarked no later than October 31, 1976. To apply:
1. Fill out this coupon
2. Fill out special serialized customer information card inside SR-56 box
3. Return completed coupon and information card to:
   Special Campus Offer
   P.O. Box 122
   Richardson, Texas 75080

Texas Instruments Incorporated

* Suggested retail price
 added sales tax
© 1976 Texas Instruments Incorporated

ACTIVITIES NIGHT
All club leaders who missed meeting on Monday; MUST call Jodie 1333 today if they wish to participate in Activities night

SR-56
The super slide rule programmable powerhouse
...with 10 memories and 100 program steps.

$109.95*

The SR-56 is a tremendously powerful slide rule calculator. Yet you can program it whenever you’re ready. There are 74 preprogrammed functions and operations. You can do arithmetic within all 10 memories. It has AOS – a unique algebratic operating system that lets you handle problems with up to 9 levels of parentheses. There’s also a polar to rectangular conversion – built in. Mean, standard deviation, degrees, radians, grads. And, it works with Texas Instruments’ new printer – the PC-100. Chances are, you’ll be programing. That’s what professionals in your field are doing – right now. And with an SR-56 you’re ready. It has 100-merged prefix program steps. 6 logical decision functions. 4 levels of subroutine. You can decrement and skip on zero to iterate a loop as many times as you specify. There are 4 levels of subroutine to let you use your program steps to maximum advantage. And, you can even compare a test register with the display to make a conditional branch. So you can check an intermediate result for convergence, or a maximum.

The edge you need. Now. And in your career.

Texas Instruments will rebate $10.00 of your original SR-56 purchase price when you return this coupon and your SR-56 customer information card postmarked no later than October 31, 1976. To apply:
1. Fill out this coupon
2. Fill out special serialized customer information card inside SR-56 box
3. Return completed coupon and information card to:
   Special Campus Offer
   P.O. Box 122
   Richardson, Texas 75080

Texas Instruments Incorporated

* Suggested retail price
 added sales tax
© 1976 Texas Instruments Incorporated

ACTIVITIES NIGHT
All club leaders who missed meeting on Monday; MUST call Jodie 1333 today if they wish to participate in Activities night

SR-56
The super slide rule programmable powerhouse
...with 10 memories and 100 program steps.

$109.95*
Completely filled in your spare time. Call Beth - 811 for more info.

BEER BEER BEER for the two boys on keypad-6 days call Chip 286-1719.

Doc. Mr. Pott's Steak & Restaurant is hiring Full or Part-time Nurses. Bartenders, Waiters, Waitresses. Will advise about academic requirements. Apply in person between 2 and 4 PM at 100 North Main St. Winona Lake. Phone 255-7737. An Equal Opportunity Employer.

Montana Town East $80-130.
1 day, week, 2 panel interest due in 30 days. Lafayette Bank, Mt. P. 0. Box 236 Monta. Ind.

First meeting Great Community of Notre Dame September 3. Info: P. O. Box 236 Notre Dame.

Final copies of the 1978 Attack Convention Pamphlet are available to any interested student at the Student Center's office in 2nd hour Lafayette. Ask the secretary for a copy.

Accurate, Paid Typing. Mrs. Dennis 532-3744.

For Rent
Roommates needed. Own room $25.00 mo. plus utilities. 723 Howard. No phone yet, so come by Robert.

4 bedroom house for rent in ND area. $320 plus deposit. Call Jim Zimmer, (614) 443-2571, 7 a.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Lost & Found
Lost - Kubeka's: 8:31 - 1 Cross pck, great personal value. Howard Call Pkt 483-5954.

Wanted
Desperately need 1 Pitt tickets, GA or student. Call Mark at 280-3020.

Need 1 Pitt ticket desperately. Call Mary Ann at 477.

Needed: Football tickets to any ND home game. Call 6487 ask for Mark.

Desperately need one Pitt ticket for favorite Hollister farm girl. Call Tom, 6426.

Desperately need 4 Pitt tickets. Call Coleman 6-3720.

Need one Pitt ticket. Call Mary 1289.

Babyshower Mon-Fri 9:00-1:30. 253-8322.

needed: 5 GA. tickets for Purdue. Call Tim 1982.

General Admission fix needed for Pitt game. Call 4133.

Desperately need 4 GA Pitt tickets - at least two together. Money in object. Call Dick 1637 or 233-1115.

Desperately need one GA Pitt ticket. Contact Chuck 7274.

Desperately need 2 tickets to Pitt game. Call Joe 367-1027.

Desperately need 1 Pitt & Purdue ticket. Please call Julian 1448.

Mr. Bob C. Hanson is hereby announcing he is seeking a Purdue ticket. Insure 1690.

I will pay top dollar for GA. Pitt tickets. Call Tim 1688.

Desperately need two Purdue tickets. Call Russ at 8764.

Need 2 Pitt tickets. Call Tim at 7471 or 288-2417.

Need 1 ticket for America. Preferably pulled seats. No rip off! Call 289-1421.

In dire need of 2 Oregon tickets. Call Don at 8188.

Need 1 Pitt ticket. Call Jim at 337-6687.

Must have 2 Purdue tickets for tuition paying parents. Please help! 3549.

Need 2 GA tickets for Oregon. I will pay BBS. Call Steve 5156.

Babysitter needed for 1, 2 or 3 full days per week; in our home; must have own transportation. $1.20 per hour. Phone 283-6619 or 283-9992.

FOR SALE

For sale 2 GA Pitt tickets. will take best offer. Call 4-4004.

Teen costume deck, $315 or make offer. Linda 69 1699.

For sale, REFRIGERATOR Large, Regulation Room Size. In excellent condition. Contact 233-3721.

For Sale: 2 pairs of sunglasses. I will sell both. Call John 323 6116.

Xmas special $75!! To the lucky finder of a clear framed pair of glasses, lost in the vicinity of the bars. "Tom" Warholt 5-74 is impressed on frame. If found call immediately. My eyes are going bad. Tom, 286-0606.

DO WE HAVE ENOUGH COLDDraft BEER FOR EVERYBODY AT NOTRE DAME & ST MARY'S?

ALL STORES OPEN NIGHTS 'TILL 11PM

In our last edition, the following editorial was removed at the last minute. We apologize to Rick for the lack of foresight and would like to assure him that such actions will not be repeated in the future.
The Irish football managers: an integral part of ND sports

by Bob Kenne

The question always arises during the football season: Who are the most underrated people in the game of football? One might offer the names of Dan Buck, Bob Huggins, or any of the other Notre Dame football program." They are the head coaches of the Fighting Irish.

This tireless trio of seniors is handed over by the university to the athletic director from Allenstown. Pa. He explains, "I am the direct liaison between Coach Devine and the other managers, in that it is my responsibility to make sure that their directives are accomplished."

But it is in their coaching of the assistants under the full management of the football coaches that scheduling plans when on road trips so that these plans may be promptly made."

Tom Hackett, an accounting major from Middletown, Ohio, is the last member of this group. He works closely with the Head football manager. His duties require him to work in close conjunction with Joe O'Brien, business office manager. Hackett's responsibilities concern travel plans, tickets, and academic conflicts. "I am responsible for the general management of the coaches' schedules planning when on road trips so that these plans may be promptly made," Tom Hackett said."

The feelings of the group when he stated, "It gave me the opportunity to be a part of the Notre Dame football program." Tom conceived that, this was not the sole benefit of being a football manager. Such things as travel, financial aid and contacts with people in the program were regarded as major benefits of the managerial assignments.

They all believe that their present job is a very important one. The field is much different from that of the ordinary Joe. As Tom Hackett explains, "We feel the same intensity of emotion as the players and coaches. The playing field is a completely different world."

Hackett expressed his feelings of pride when he says, "Saturday afternoons make all the worries of late Friday worthwhile."

The head football managers perform the essential service for both the football team and Notre Dame. Without the assistance of the major from Middletown, Bob Hull, and Tom Hackett, the coaching staff's work may go unnoticed by the fans and coaches.

Tom Pabst

NFC Predictions

The past few seasons in the NFC have been rather repetitious; the same teams are always in the playoffs. This year the Dallas Cowboys, given to Bob Hull, an accounting major from Middletown, Ohio, to drive his point home, is the last member of this group. The Dallas Cowboys will have all they can do to win their division.

St. Louis at last?

St. Louis - The Cardinals have won two consecutive Eastern divisional titles, but they have yet to play in a playoff game. This season should bring an end to that losing skid. The offense, which has carried the Cardinals through the previous two years, is back and bristling. Quarterback Jim Hart, runners Terry Metcalf and Ottis Anderson, and tight end John Hicks, will have the Cardinals in the NFC's most explosive offense. The former midfielders have been converted into offensive linemen, providing a solid base which will help the team to turn around the defense. The Cardinals will still be playing for their division this season.

Chicago - Well the lovely Bears must face yet another season without a record of over .500. The Bears need time. In the meantime fans can only hope that the Bears will, as their fight song says, shatter NFC West.

Los Angeles - The Rams are the class of the NFC West. Talented players such as John Cappelletti rarely see playoff action. Los Angeles' defense is a bevy of talented individuals. Defensive lineman John Zook, Marv Upshaw, and Walt Pat Splittzki, a Notre Dame product, will continue to dominate the line.