INDIANAPOLIS AP - Most of Indiana burned to a ground yesterday as an afternoon blizzard with winds gusting up to 42 miles per hour swept across the state.

The high winds kept Gov. Otis B. Bowen from attending a Merrillville Chamber of Commerce dinner. Officials said drifting snow made it impossible for Bowen's "plane to land.

By mid-afternoon state police were urging citizens to stay off the roads because blowing snow was drifting thickly across a highway closer than highway department crews could clear them.

By early evening northwestern portions of limestone 6-1, 60, U.S. 31, 41, and U.S. 136 were closed as visibility fell to near zero in some areas.

Schools and government offices in Lake and Newton counties were closed by noon after the storm moved into northwestern Indiana.

Weather officials predicted winds would decrease to around 15 miles per hour early Thursday morning, but temperatures also were expected to plunge.

The extended outlook called for lows of 10 to 15 below zero being the low for Monday. Huffs for the period won't reach above 10 on Saturday and Sunday with a high of 20 expected Monday.

The sun was shining early, but the snowstorm in the afternoon destroyed this man's work.

"Before the sun was shining early, but the snowstorm in the afternoon destroyed this man's work."

(phtoto by Debbie Krichlik)
Howard forum plans events

by Gerry Delgado

Howard Hall held a staff leadership forum Saturday, Jan. 15 to Monday, Jan. 17 to discuss staff roles and to plan hall events.

Fr. Gene Gorski, Howard's rec- tor, expressed his main pur- poses of the forum. First, he said, it was to educate the residents of the nature and importance of leadership roles in Howard and secondly, to make plans for the hall activities for the spring semester.

The forum started out as an idea of Gorski's, according to Chris Bogan, Howard's president and was organized by Gorski and Mary Claire McCabe, director of student and staff development at Student Affairs.

Bogan stated that the main thrust behind the forum was to define the roles of the R.A.'s and the hall staff to get a better idea of their purpose and responsibility to Howard. "One of the things we were ranked low on in our annual survey," Bogan said, "was innovation. We're now working for an increase in support and community spirit, with an emphasis on public friendship among members of the hall."

According to Bogan, Howard has six different commissions, on which about 20 residents take part altogether. The Academic-Cultural Commission, says Bogan, "has come away from just administering the tests and finding out who's bringing speakers such as bigger Phelps and Rick Wohlhuter to Howard. Community Services and the Religious Commission also have a new-found importance in the hall. The Athletic Commission has also taken over the intrahall sporting tournament, at- tracting over a third of the Howard residents, and is busy planning "war games" between the various sections of Howard. Howard's other commissions are the Social Sciences Commission and the Hall Improvemen- t Commission.

Bogan stresses that the goal of the various activities is mainly to get the residents of Howard out and to meet each other. "We have to realize that this is the only time in life we'll be living with all our friends and we should make the most of it," Bogan related.

The forum seemed to give the hall staff of Howard a new aware- ness of their obligations and impor- tance to the hall community, ac- cording to Bogan. "Everyone who was at the forum (over 35 resi- dents) really took time to evaluate their roles and responsibilities in the hall structure, even those not in leadership roles," Bogan said. "We would like to look on the section leader not so much as a messenger from the section to the hall council, as it has been in the past, but almost as a junior R.A. One of the major responsibilities of all the hall staff will be an effort to go to know everyone in the hall."

Through the forum, Howard has been able to plan a full semester of events and activities for its resi- dents with such varying attractions as a possible Beethoven commen- orative festival in march to section trips to baseball trips to Chicago. Other hall interests in setting up such a leadership forum were a clean charge for Claire McCabe in Student Affairs at 841.

Pedtke memorial founded by former Glee Clubbers

by Cathy Nolan

Senior Staff Reporter

Daniel H. "Dean" Pedtke, for- mer Glee Club director, died Dec. 12, 1976 in his South Bend home. Pedtke, associate professor emeri- tuse of music, was a member of Notre Dame's faculty since 1936. Pedtke, aged 70, served as direc- tor of the Notre Dame Glee Club from 1938 to 1973. He had planned to retire in May, 1973 after the club's final concert. He suffered a stroke and a heart attack early in his South Bend home.

Pedtke was honored as a Fellow in the song, "Notre Dame, We don't mind." He wrote a music text book. Keyboard Harmony.

"Even after he retired as direc- tor, he remained in close contact with the members of the Glee Club," Dr. David Bele, Glee Club director, commented. "every fall, Dean Pedtke would invite the students to his house for a glee club football game and get-together. The newer members of the club never worked with Dean Pedtke, but they certainly respected him," Bele added.

"A memorial music foundation in Pedtke's name is being estab- lished, according to Isele. The foundation is being organized pri- vately by former Glee Club Mem- bers. The Glee Club, Bele said, is also planning a memorial service for Pedtke to be held at the annual Glee Club reunion next fall.

Pedtke is survived by his wife, Helen, four daughters and three sons.

ERRATUM

Ticket packets for Junior Par- ents' Weekend were not mailed to parents as was reported in yester- day's Observer. An information packet containing a request form for tickets was distributed. Anyone not receiving an information packet should contact Nan Bufalino, regis- terer for the weekend, at 7/890.

The Observer is published Mondays through Fridays, except during the summer session, Monday through Thursday. The Observer is published by the students of the University of Notre Dame and St. Mary's College. Subscriptions may be purchased for $3.50 per year ($1.50 per semester) from The Observer, Box Q, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556. Second class postage paid, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556.

The Observer is a member of the Associated Collegiate Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.
Laundromat location is tentative

The laundromat for male students will most likely be located on the first floor of Badmin Hall, according to the Assistant Vice President for Business Affairs, Bro. Kieran Ryan.

The Badmin location has not been finalized, however, and Ryan and Vice President for Student Affairs Bro. John Keenan are still looking for other locations. Ryan, who is responsible for the operation of the laundry service, said the lack of available space on campus is the reason the decision has been delayed.

If the Badmin location is used, the current tenants of the first floor must be relocated, and another building must be renovated for their use, according to Thomas Mason, vice-president for Business Affairs. "We're half settled on Badmin, mostly by default," said Mason.

Ryan indicated that a residence hall could not be used for the facility since it would have to be open 24 hours, posting security and privacy problems in the area.

The proposed location of the machines in the vacant laundry pickup area in the basement of Keenan and the basement of LuFortune were ruled out as possibilities because they were below ground, said Mike Gassman, student body president. He added that space will not be available in St. Michael's, Mason's laundry for more than a year, so that area was eliminated from consideration.

Once the final location of the laundry is determined, work will begin on the installation of the plumbing, sewer lines, and 220 volt electrical lines. The washers and dryers can be installed immediately once this is completed, said Mason. "There will be no substantial delay," he promised.

The same Whirlpool franchise that installed the washers and dryers in the women's dors will most likely be contracted for the work, Mason stated.

Further details will be available in the Observer after the decision on the location is finalized.

need resumes in a hurry!

insty-printsa
tear of the printing beat!

rag bond
25 - 8 1/2 x 11 $2.55
203 N. Main
SoBend
209-467

Keanon - Walsh Student Union Social Commission

Invite you to really ring out the old and ring in the new.......... New Year's Eve Party
Saturday, Jan. 29th
North Dining Hall
9pm-1am
admission $1.00
Music by North Star

Refreshments-Music-Party Favors

The Student Union Social Commission invites you to GET OFF OF YOUR

Meeting tonight at 7pm in the nazz
If you can give some of your time (an hour or two a week) ,

it would be greatly appreciated.

Here is what we need:

- General Staff
- Campus Dance Staff
- An Arkie
- Nazz Host or Hostess
- Comedians
- Other Creative People

---End---
Pardon and ND

President Carter's pardon of the Vietnam-era draft resisters and evaders is a noble step toward reuniting the country after the divisive disaster in Vietnam. It is also an action in which Notre Dame, especially Fr. Hesburgh, played a major role.

Opinion about the war is still as divided as it is deeply held; this will be the case for years. But differing beliefs about the rightness or wrongness of the war need not lead to differing beliefs about the correctness of the pardon.

It is part of the justice of or mercy. If the first, it is long overdue. If the second, America is certainly big enough to be magnanimous toward those who psychologically suffered, for whatever reason, from a national disaster.

Carter follows and expands upon pardon precedents set after other wars by Presidents Lincoln, Andrew Johnson, Harding, Coolidge (hardly a flaming radical), Roosevelt and Truman. Even the Confederate soldiers— who were technically guilty of the treasonous acts for which the United States— were pardoned or not prosecuted in the interests of re-unifying the country.

In your last issue of the Observer, one editorial that it is the money raising that is of primary importance in regard to the fasting.

Without a doubt, the main purpose of this fasting is to provide an opportunity for Notre Dame students to experience some of the feelings of solidarity with the poor and hungry throughout the world. We are trying to engender a genuine concern on campus for those less fortunate than ourselves; a concern which goes far beyond financial contributions and cannot be measured in terms of dollars and cents.

Further, we as students should realize that the good which the relatively small amount of money raised through fasting can do can be wiped out many times over by a single huge error in judgment on the part of the government of the United States (e.g., present lack of a food reserve system).

Dear Editor:

As much as we appreciate Tuesday's (Jan. 25) editorial supporting our Wednesday night fasting program, we must respectfully disagree with the claim that was made in that editorial that it is the money raised that is of primary importance in regard to the fasting.

Clearly, as students at Notre Dame, we realize the seriousness of the fact that real concern for world hunger and world poverty must be rooted in the idea of changing unjust economic and political structures which serve to keep the majority of the people in this world poor and hungry.

Michael Bowler
Co-ordinator, Notre Dame-Some World Hunger Coalition

Freshman car credit

Dear Editor:

In your last issue of the Observer of 1976, there appeared a letter written by Roy Bixby stating that I was responsible for the work done to allow freshmen to have cars on campus starting this fall.

I would like to point out that this was the work of the entire Freshman Advisory Council. We, as a council, work at trying to get the opinions of the freshmen we represent and then find ways of making those opinions a reality. The work of the council is just one example of how we can be an influential voice on campus.

There are other unpublished examples of how we do not operate. We, as a council, try to make sure that every method of working within the system which goes on. All we require is the help of the students. We appreciate your help.

Andy Bean
Flanner Hall Representative
Freshman Advisory Council

Phonebilljunkie

John yzgymnt

The following is the transcript of a public affairs program recently aired on WSNR Radio.

Title: "I WAS A TEENAGE PHONEBILLJUNKIE!"

Announcers: The pathetic man is you’re about to hear is not an actor. He is an authentic trained mental.

Student X: How does it begin for anyone? You’re just a little by once... not very long ones, just a couple of minutes. But then things went bad. I messed up a couple of tests, my girlfriend left me, I was lonely, and I saw the light. I saw clearly what I wanted.

I started out doing it. Just once, maybe twice a week... not very long ones, just a couple of minutes. But then things went bad. I messed up a couple of tests, my girlfriend left me, I was lonely. I saw the light. I saw clearly what I wanted.

I wanted to do it again. I wanted to do it again. I wanted to do it again. I wanted to do it again. I wanted to do it again.

So I would like to thank him for his help and support and all the entire freshman class. We appreciate your help.

Dear Editor:

As much as we appreciate Tuesday's (Jan. 25) editorial supporting our Wednesday night fasting program, we must respectfully disagree with the claim that was made in that editorial that it is the money raised that is of primary importance in regard to the fasting.

Without a doubt, the main purpose of this fasting is to provide an opportunity for Notre Dame students to experience some of the feelings of solidarity with the poor and hungry throughout the world. We are trying to engender a genuine concern on campus for those less fortunate than ourselves; a concern which goes far beyond financial contributions and cannot be measured in terms of dollars and cents.

Further, we as students should realize that the good which the relatively small amount of money raised through fasting can do can be wiped out many times over by a single huge error in judgment on the part of the government of the United States (e.g., present lack of a food reserve system).

Dear Editor:

As much as we appreciate Tuesday's (Jan. 25) editorial supporting our Wednesday night fasting program, we must respectfully disagree with the claim that was made in that editorial that it is the money raised that is of primary importance in regard to the fasting.

Without a doubt, the main purpose of this fasting is to provide an opportunity for Notre Dame students to experience some of the feelings of solidarity with the poor and hungry throughout the world. We are trying to engender a genuine concern on campus for those less fortunate than ourselves; a concern which goes far beyond financial contributions and cannot be measured in terms of dollars and cents.

Further, we as students should realize that the good which the relatively small amount of money raised through fasting can do can be wiped out many times over by a single huge error in judgment on the part of the government of the United States (e.g., present lack of a food reserve system).

Real concerns of fasting

Dear Editor:

As much as we appreciate Tuesday's (Jan. 25) editorial supporting our Wednesday night fasting program, we must respectfully disagree with the claim that was made in that editorial that it is the money raised that is of primary importance in regard to the fasting.

Without a doubt, the main purpose of this fasting is to provide an opportunity for Notre Dame students to experience some of the feelings of solidarity with the poor and hungry throughout the world. We are trying to engender a genuine concern on campus for those less fortunate than ourselves; a concern which goes far beyond financial contributions and cannot be measured in terms of dollars and cents.

Further, we as students should realize that the good which the relatively small amount of money raised through fasting can do can be wiped out many times over by a single huge error in judgment on the part of the government of the United States (e.g., present lack of a food reserve system).

Dear Editor:

As much as we appreciate Tuesday's (Jan. 25) editorial supporting our Wednesday night fasting program, we must respectfully disagree with the claim that was made in that editorial that it is the money raised that is of primary importance in regard to the fasting.

Without a doubt, the main purpose of this fasting is to provide an opportunity for Notre Dame students to experience some of the feelings of solidarity with the poor and hungry throughout the world. We are trying to engender a genuine concern on campus for those less fortunate than ourselves; a concern which goes far beyond financial contributions and cannot be measured in terms of dollars and cents.

Further, we as students should realize that the good which the relatively small amount of money raised through fasting can do can be wiped out many times over by a single huge error in judgment on the part of the government of the United States (e.g., present lack of a food reserve system).

Dear Editor:

As much as we appreciate Tuesday's (Jan. 25) editorial supporting our Wednesday night fasting program, we must respectfully disagree with the claim that was made in that editorial that it is the money raised that is of primary importance in regard to the fasting.

Without a doubt, the main purpose of this fasting is to provide an opportunity for Notre Dame students to experience some of the feelings of solidarity with the poor and hungry throughout the world. We are trying to engender a genuine concern on campus for those less fortunate than ourselves; a concern which goes far beyond financial contributions and cannot be measured in terms of dollars and cents.

Further, we as students should realize that the good which the relatively small amount of money raised through fasting can do can be wiped out many times over by a single huge error in judgment on the part of the government of the United States (e.g., present lack of a food reserve system).
Senior Class Fellow nominees list finalized

by Val Zurbisch

The list of Senior Class Fellow nominees was changed at Tuesday night's Senior Class Fellows Forum held in Hayes-Healy.

Added to the list were: Jesse Jackson, director of Operation PUSH and civil rights activist and Bob Dylan, folk singer and poet. Deleted from the list were Ronald Reagan, former governor of California and Red Smith, first Pulitzer Prize-winning sportswriter on the New York Times and ND graduate.

The rest of the 19 nominees for the Senior Class Fellows Forum were: Bob Woodward and Carl Bernstein, Woodward and Bernstein, a team, Lou Harris Jordan, Art Buchwald, Muhammad Ali, Garry Trudeau, Kurt Vonnegut, Henry Kissenger, Beverly Sills, Gerald Ford, Jerry Brown, Walter Cronkite, Jerry Lewis, John Wayne, Alexander Solzhenitsyn, Edward Kennedy, and Bill Cosby.

Following is the first part of a three part story describing each nominee:

Bob Hope began his career in vaudeville, has been on stage, screen, radio and television and has written books. He entertained overseas for the armed service forces for three decades in broadcasting and received the Peabody Award for "Conspicuous Efforts toward Conservation of Vision". He received the Distinguished Service Award by the southern Christian Leadership Conference, from 1966 to 1971. In recognition of his efforts toward conservation of vision, he was honored by the American Society of Ophthalmology at the University of Wisconsin in 1968 in recognition of his efforts toward conservation.

Jesse Jackson is a black American civil rights leader and Baptist minister. He is currently director of People United to Save Humanity (PUSH), an organization devoted to gaining economic power for blacks. He was a founder of Operation Breadbasket, the economic arm of the National Christian Leadership Conference, from 1966 to 1971. In this role he persuaded many white businessmen to buy black products and sell products made by black manufacturing companies. Jackson became a power essential to achieving black economic liberation. In 1972 he helped lead a group of Illinois delegates in challenging Chicago's mayor, Richard Daley, Jackson's slate of elected delegates defeated the Democratic National Convention. The convention voted to give the delegate positions to Jackson's group.

Alexander Solzhenitsyn, a Russian author, is a former political prisoner. His account of prison camp life under Joseph Stalin was acclaimed in his novel "One Day in the Life of Ivan Denisovich," which was brought to the screen during World War II. Solzhenitsyn was almost continuously at the front and was wounded several times and decorated twice. He made a desperate escape attempt about Stalin and was arrested in 1945. He spent eight years in prison, was exiled in 1953, and was freed from exile in 1962. He demanded an end to literary censorship from the Union of Soviet Writers in 1967 and was expelled from it in 1969. Solzhenitsyn received the Nobel Prize for literature in 1970. He was exiled again in 1974, and currently living in the United States.

Woody Allen, actor, filmmaker and author is one of today's most prosperous young comedians. At the age of 21 he received the Syracuse Award for his telewriting of a Sid Caesar show. Allen has written and acted in such popular New York shows as "Take the Money and Run," "Bananas," "Love and Death," Front. He was nominated for an Emmy Award as a television writer in 1965.

Carl Bernstein and Bob Woodward, Washington Post reporters and co-authors of "The Final Days", were the major investigators of the Watergate affair. For their coverage of the story, the pair earned virtually every major journalism award including the Sigma Delta Chi award for distinguished service to the field of Washington presswork. The George Polk Memorial Award and won for the Washington Post the 1973 Pulitzer Prize for meritorious public service. Woodward and Bernstein have also written the best-seller All The Presidents Men and the much-criticized The Final Days.

Beverly Sills is a Brooklyn-born opera singer who has been on stage for 25 years. Starting her career at age three when she won a Major News Amateur Hour prize on radio and by age seven she had appeared in five Twentieth Century-Fox films. A 10-year-old she debuted in opera as Hadley's Julliard's Causer, LaTraviata, and Tales of Hoffmann.

Bill Cosby is a comedian and actor. In 1965 he played Alex Scott in the TV series "Sp*rl." In 1969 and 1967 he received Emmy awards for his acting, but perhaps his most significant contribution to television has been his success as the first black to co-star in a weekly dramatic television series. He has received six Grammy awards and four Emmy awards.

The election will be held Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. Faculty, students, and staff are urged to vote. For further information, call Ron Kenyon, (8288).
Weather hinders motorists

by Michael Lewis

The harsh winter has made it difficult for student motorists who face the problems of stalled cars in snow-covered parking lots. Arthur Pears, director of security, said the security organization realizes these problems and tries to adjust to the situation.

"We began to clear the parking lots before the students returned from Christmas break, and finally spent roughly $4000 to remove the snow," Pears said.

Pears requested that the students try to park in an orderly fashion even though all markings have been covered by a thick layer of ice and snow.

Pears also spoke of the problem of a student's auto stalling in the wrong lot and occasionally resulting in parking violations depend upon how long the car has been stalled in the lot.

"If the car has been stalled in the wrong lot for a short period of time, we try to understand the situation and take care of it," Pears stated.

"If the car has been there for "two or three days," it is the student's own responsibility to move the car. The Notre Dame campus has no facilities where a student can receive mechanical help.

A student can deposit his ID at the security office to borrow a set of jumper cables. However, as Pears noted, "We have only one set of cables, and there is a big demand. Students often wait in line to borrow them." A student must therefore rely on nearby service stations for assistance with stalled autos.

Retarded council judges success

The ND-SMC Council for the Retarded will be evaluating the success of its Saturday morning recreation program tonight at 8:15 in the Library Auditorium. Possible changes in format and needs for greater flexibility will be discussed.

The Council maintains a recreation program at Logan Center every Saturday from 9-11:30 a.m. for both retarded children and adults. The program includes arts and crafts, singing, athletics and swimming. Special outings planned for this semester are the ice Capades and a trip to the Chicago Museum.

There are also programs for students to participate in during the week.

Any students interested in working with the retarded members of the South Bend community are strongly encouraged to attend tonight's meeting.

Terry Gwynn memorial mass to be offered

A memorial mass for senior Terry Gwynn will be offered Thursdays at 10:30 p.m. in Sacred Heart Chapel. Currently, the Notre Dame chapter of the Students' International Meditation Society, led by Father Robert Griffin in the Corkery Center in the Marycrest Building in South Bend.

According to Shirah, TM also requests that the student can deposit his ID at the security office to borrow a set of jumper cables. However, as Pears noted, "We have only one set of cables, and there is a big demand. Students often wait in line to borrow them." A student must therefore rely on nearby service stations for assistance with stalled autos.

Retired council judges success

The ND-SMC Council for the Retarded will be evaluating the success of its Saturday morning recreation program tonight at 8:15 in the Library Auditorium. Possible changes in format and needs for greater flexibility will be discussed.

The Council maintains a recreation program at Logan Center every Saturday from 9-11:30 a.m. for both retarded children and adults. The program includes arts and crafts, singing, athletics and swimming. Special outings planned for this semester are the ice Capades and a trip to the Chicago Museum.

There are also programs for students to participate in during the week.

Any students interested in working with the retarded members of the South Bend community are strongly encouraged to attend tonight's meeting.

Terry Gwynn memorial mass to be offered

A memorial mass for senior Terry Gwynn will be offered Thursdays at 10:30 p.m. in Sacred Heart Chapel. Currently, the Notre Dame chapter of the Students' International Meditation Society, led by Father Robert Griffin in the Corkery Center in the Marycrest Building in South Bend.

According to Shirah, TM also requests that the student can deposit his ID at the security office to borrow a set of jumper cables. However, as Pears noted, "We have only one set of cables, and there is a big demand. Students often wait in line to borrow them." A student must therefore rely on nearby service stations for assistance with stalled autos.

Retired council judges success

The ND-SMC Council for the Retarded will be evaluating the success of its Saturday morning recreation program tonight at 8:15 in the Library Auditorium. Possible changes in format and needs for greater flexibility will be discussed.

The Council maintains a recreation program at Logan Center every Saturday from 9-11:30 a.m. for both retarded children and adults. The program includes arts and crafts, singing, athletics and swimming. Special outings planned for this semester are the ice Capades and a trip to the Chicago Museum.

There are also programs for students to participate in during the week.

Any students interested in working with the retarded members of the South Bend community are strongly encouraged to attend tonight's meeting.
by Drew J. Bauer
Staff Reporter

Standing in food lines, riding in a police car through the worst section of town, sleeping in houses without heat, visiting legal aid offices and touring prisons were some of the things students did as part of "The Urban Plunge" program during Christmas break.

One hundred-sixty students undertook the program in 60 cities across the country "to try and orient themselves with the urban experience," according to the parents in their poor in their own home towns," according to one of the organizers of the program, Peggy Roach.

"I think that the students learned what it meant to live an experience. They have read in books about how the poor live and about the people who try to help them. I think this program lets the student feel what the poor go through. They experience it by spending 48 hours in places that they are not use to," said John Steineman, who participated in the program this semester. "You see a side of the city that you've never seen before," said Marianne Murphy who lived outside of Chicago and came into the city to spend time visiting nursing homes and senior citizens centers sponsored by the Catholic Church. "It was a very moving experience. It is really a challenge because there is so much to do yet in the area of social justice. The people involved with it are great. But they are exhausted. There is so much work to be done."

"It will help me to see how I can understand why a big university has to be cost-oriented," said John S. Urban Plunge program director and accounting student, Sue Urban. "I don't think I really didn't know about the inner cities. I think I need to go outside of, like so many other Notre Dame students.

The students received Dame Kitty O'Shea's "Urban Plunge" program during Christmas break. Should and Bella Sullivan thought the program should be expanded to areas outside of Catholic programs in the inner city. "This should not be just the cause of one religious order," Bells said. "We are all a part of community, and all religious orders should be involved," Bella Sullivan thought that the program visit other places next year. "By next year, other programs and different orders should be set up in the inner city and would like to support them," said Bella Sullivan.

"I really know what to expect," said Professor Salvatore Bella. "But it was really fantastic. I was amazed how the students were so much aware, so very engaged. We should be more aware that this is our community - the rich and the poor. Bridges must somehow be built between the Notre Dame campus and the social workers are working on."

Do you want to be a fundraiser or a social worker?" Bells said. "If you don't know about the social worker, you need to take the programs to build some kind of understanding on the system."

Sue Urban continued. "It was so much to do, but you can understand why a big university has to be cost-oriented," said John S. Urban Plunge program director and accounting student, Sue Urban. "I don't think I really didn't know about the inner cities. I think I need to go outside of, like so many other Notre Dame students.

"It is our payoff out of the system. That this was our society, not all of them. Is there's a point to that."

Sue Urban continued. "It was so much to do, but you understand why a big university has to be cost-oriented," said John S. Urban Plunge program director and accounting student, Sue Urban. "I don't think I really didn't know about the inner cities. I think I need to go outside of, like so many other Notre Dame students.

"It is our payoff out of the system. That this was our society, not all of them. Is there's a point to that."
I track please report to the track in the last two seconds of the first half as he threw the ball with 1.2 seconds left in the game off the court from out of bounds and then ran back to try to get the ball out of bounds.

Rich Brannigan followed Williams in scoring with 20 points. The freshman scored often from the outside. When questioned about his game plan, Williams admitted, "I think I was more aggressive defensively by blocking some more than he can take some of the pressure off of Duck (Williams)."

More good defensive play from Williams with 20 points. Batton and Knight were also in double figures with 14 and 11 points respectively. Knight finished the game with 19 rebounds.

Larry Harris paced Pittsburgh with 18 points followed by Sonny Lewis' 17 point while Michael Rice added in the losing cause.

The Panthers' record drops to 3-13 on the season. It will be the last time Notre Dame meets Pitts­burg on the hardwood as no future games are planned. The Irish upped their mark to 9-5. "This just builds up my confidence," explained Phelps. "We are just going to have go-to game by game, week by week to see the magic number of 20 wins."

"Against Chicago we played good defense, we moved the ball well and we got it to the right guy all game," said McAdoo. "That's the kind of ball we’re capable of playing. But we’ve got to stop saying it and go out and do it."

San Francisco wins 20th straight

San Francisco (AP) - 1st, shooting of Marlon and Winford Buehner brought the University of San Francisco from behind midway in the second half to win 74-68 over Santa Clara Wednesday night and the top-ranked Dons held on for a 74-68 victory over Santa Clara.

The Dons made their record 20-2 this season, 12-0 in college basketball, and improved their West Coast Athletic Conference mark to 11-0. The Broncos, 3-2 in the WCC, returned to their home court Saturday night for a break.

Redmond totaled 20 points and Boynes 21 in the victory which cut the season’s overall mark to 14-2.

Interhall meeting

There will be a meeting of all men’s interhall basketball teams this evening at 4:30 p.m. in the ACC auditorium. League play, playoff tournaments and new poli­cies for the next season will be repre­sentative of every team must attend.

The meeting will also be the interhall office by tomorrow to pick up the list of teams.

There will also be a mandatory referee meeting Monday at the ACC Interhall Office at 4:30 p.m. to discuss points on five outside jumpers to break atwood’s 18 shooting spell in the last two games. His best shot of the game came in the last two seconds of the first half as he threw the ball with 1.2 seconds left off of bounds and then ran back to try to get the ball out of bounds.

The Irish will be looking for "magic number" ten against Fordham this Saturday at 1 p.m. in the ACC.