Corby's to shut down this month

by Bob Vassettini
Staff Reporter

Corby's, under its present management will close before the end of February, according to Roger Stouffer, owner of the business.

Stouffer, whose lease is about to expire, said that when the bar reopens it may look completely different than Corby's does now. He said the new management will not be able to call the bar "Corby's" anymore.

Stouffer has been operating Corby's for the past eight years. He said that when the bar reopens it may look completely different than Corby's does now. He said the new management will not be able to call the bar "Corby's" anymore.

"They haven't offered us a new lease," said Stouffer. "They want our business for themselves."

Stouffer said he believes another bar will be opening in Corby's place. He added, however, that he does not know when the bar will reopen. That, he said, will be up to the new management.

Corby's to shut down this month

by Bob Vassettini
Staff Reporter

Corby's, a student bar located at Corby and Eddy streets, will close before the end of February. The property owners will not renew the management's lease.

Brunner, "a classic case of a college bar that has patrons cause problems and nuis­ances to the immediate neighbor­hood."

Since the city has disqualified the construction of the new tavern O'Bryan admitted that the future of Corby's is not bright. As of now, the business is being operated by in­vestors from out of town who these people are since the comment was made.

"We're very pleased with the relationships we had with the students here," concluded Stouf­fer. "We regret that we have to close."

In Midwest, East cold spots

Extra gas to relieve crunch

Extra gas to relieve crunch

By the Associated Press

A new winter storm dropped snow on several areas in the Midwest and East yesterday, as extra supplies of natural gas began moving toward the region to ease the energy crunch caused by the cold.

The worst of the frigid weather seemed over in some areas, but the repercussions lingered. Officials said plant closings and layoffs, now involving up to two million persons, could last until spring.

Federal authorities worked to alleviate natural gas according to the governor's warning of flurries along the East Coast.

"We people seem awfully reluctant to set up car pools," said John Meyer of the Police Traffic Division. "They could contribute by making personal sacrifices, but they're not doing it."

The city picked up another two inches of snow overnight, but most retail outlets that had been closed all week reopened yesterday.

Mayor Stanley M. Makowski said he lifted the driving ban because of the cost of lost business.

"I simply weighed the incon­veniences to snow removal efforts against potential losses to indivi­duals and business people," he said.

National Fuel Gas Corp. said it had begun an extra run of 30 million cubic feet of natural gas daily from Texas for Buffalo and may get more. "We're in good shape," said Louis R. Refi, the company president. But he said no decision had been made about ending curtailments to business and industry. The extra gas is designed to make up for synthetic gas lost due to the breakdown on Tuesday of a plant at a nearby oil refinery.

Local bars to accept student ID's

by Dave O'Keefe
Staff Reporter

Despite the fact that Notre Dame and St. Mary's student identification cards are not legisla­tive forms of age identification, the Federal Reserve Board of Governors (FRB) or the South Bend Police Department will refuse to accept such identification as legitimate proof in the event of a raid on a bar.

Sgt. Rice of the LaPorte office of the ARC said, "Technically, the I.D. is supposed to be a federal or state government document like a draft card or driver's license, or it can be a birth certificate."

"But," Rice added, "it's not up to us to prove whether or not a person is 21. It's up to the tavern owner, and if he wants to accept a student I.D., he's sticking his neck out."

Detective Kilgore of the South Bend Police Department (SBPD) echoed Rice. "As far as I can see," said Kilgore, "we're not going to get it wrong with a student I.D. as long as it is a valid I.D., this is not a proper form of identification."

"We can require the patron to have three I.D.'s, "he continued, "but he can have only two of one is a picture I.D."

Both Kilgore and Rice report that the Notre Dame or St. Mary's I.D. is acceptable as a supporting piece of identification. Although the student I.D. is not legally legiti­mate, no penalty can arise from using only the student I.D. as identification.

"The only thing we can arrest someone for is underage drink­ing," said Rice. "If someone is 21 but he only has a student I.D. to prove it, he isn't in any trouble."

Sgt. Stalley of the Special Opera­tions division of the SBPD, the division responsible for raiding bars, felt that the bar owner runs a consider­able risk by not accepting only the student I.D.

"The problem with the student I.D.'s is that they aren't hard to come by," Stalley cited an exam­ple: "We arrested some girls last September for underage drinking and one of the girls was using the I.D. of a girl who had graduated the June before."

But as long as the bar owners feel that risk is minimal, the Notre Dame and St. Mary's I.D. will continue to be accepted as legitimate forms of proof of age.

Local bars to accept student ID's

by Dave O'Keefe
Staff Reporter

Despite the fact that Notre Dame and St. Mary's student identification cards are not legisla­tive forms of age identification, the Federal Reserve Board of Governors (FRB) or the South Bend Police Department will refuse to accept such identification as legitimate proof in the event of a raid on a bar.

Sgt. Rice of the LaPorte office of the ARC said, "Technically, the I.D. is supposed to be a federal or state government document like a draft card or driver's license, or it can be a birth certificate."

"But," Rice added, "it's not up to us to prove whether or not a person is 21. It's up to the tavern owner, and if he wants to accept a student I.D., he's sticking his neck out."

Detective Kilgore of the South Bend Police Department (SBPD) echoed Rice. "As far as I can see," said Kilgore, "we're not going to get it wrong with a student I.D. as long as it is a valid I.D., this is not a proper form of identification."

"We can require the patron to have three I.D.'s, "he continued, "but he can have only two of one is a picture I.D."

Both Kilgore and Rice report that the Notre Dame or St. Mary's I.D. is acceptable as a supporting piece of identification. Although the student I.D. is not legally legiti­mate, no penalty can arise from using only the student I.D. as identification.

"The only thing we can arrest someone for is underage drink­ing," said Rice. "If someone is 21 but he only has a student I.D. to prove it, he isn't in any trouble."

Sgt. Stalley of the Special Opera­tions division of the SBPD, the division responsible for raiding bars, felt that the bar owner runs a consider­able risk by not accepting only the student I.D.

"The problem with the student I.D.'s is that they aren't hard to come by," Stalley cited an exam­ple: "We arrested some girls last September for underage drinking and one of the girls was using the I.D. of a girl who had graduated the June before."

But as long as the bar owners feel that risk is minimal, the Notre Dame and St. Mary's I.D. will continue to be accepted as legitimate forms of proof of age.
On Campus Today

Friday, February 4, 1977

right to die symposium, "beyond quinlan and saikewicz: developing legal standards for decisions not to treat terminally ill patients" by jonathan brant, massachusetts assistant attorney general in charge of the privacy section, cce aud.

right to die symposium, "the california natural death act: life, death and the law" by california assemblyman barry m. keene, cce aud.

right to die symposium, "medical care for the terminally ill: patient, legal issues" by dennis horan, chicago attorney and chairman of american bar associations right to live, right to die committee.

colloquium, "some new solutions to the similarity problems and the conjugacy problem in semisimple lie algebras" by prof. michael gauger, univ. of massachusetts, room 226 computer center, math bldg.

9:15pm mass and dinner. bulla shed
8pm bridge, duplicate bridge, university club.
9-12pm n.d. first jazz combo, naaz.

saturday
8am test, law school admission test. engineering aud.
noon-11pm show, cavalcade of wheels, acc tickets: $3 adults, $1 children 7-12, free for children 6 and under.

7:30pm meeting, society for creative anachronism, subject: dungeons and dragons, falotrence rathskeller.
8pm ballet, michiana ballet potpourri, o'laughlin aud., ticket information: 284-4176.
9pm-12am michelle parrnell and lin johnson, lee henricks and dennis klee, naaz

sunday
9am-9pm show, cavalcade of wheels, acc
2pm meeting, st. mary's college law society, graduates speak on law school, room 161 lemans.
6, 8:30& 11pm film, "a man called horse," knight of columbus hall, admission $1--no charge for members.
7pm black cultural arts festival, hon gary cooper, alabama state representative and amari baraka, author, poet, critic and chairman, revolutionary communist league, library aud.
7, 7:30, 8pm mardi gras dealers school in falotrence center aud., also feb. 7-10.
8:30pm film, "bicycle thief" carroll hall, sponsored by nd/smc theater, tickets:$1.

The Observer

Night Editor: Bob Brink
Asst. Night Editor: Katie Kerwin, Rosemary Mills
Layout Staff: Laurie McNulty, Paul Schappler
Editorial Layout: Jerry Hickey
Features Layout: Chris Smith
Sports Layout: Tony Pace
Typists: Gwen Coleman, Don Hoos, Mary McCormick, Sue Shellenberger
EMT: Terri Harlan
Day Editor: Mary Pat Tarpey
Copy Reader: Tom Byrne
Barbara Breitenstein (but where is ray o'brien?)
Ad Layout: Tom Walrath
Photographer: Don Yocius

Erratum

The Observer is published Mondays through Fridays and weekly during the summer session. Except during the summer session, it is published biweekly. The Observer is published by students of the University of Notre Dame and St. Mary's College. Subscriptions may be purchased for $20 per semester ($31 per year) from the Observer, Box O, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556. Second class postage paid, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556. The Observer is a member of the Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.

The Observer is published Mondays through Fridays and weekly during the summer session. Except during the summer session, it is published biweekly. The Observer is published by students of the University of Notre Dame and St. Mary's College. Subscriptions may be purchased for $20 per semester ($31 per year) from the Observer, Box O, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556. Second class postage paid, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556. The Observer is a member of the Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.

Have You Seen This Man?

Laundering service will be open on Saturday from 7:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., not from 7:30 a.m. to 11:30 p.m. as stated in Thursday's Observer.

Tom Waits who sings of waitresses, strip-tease, and old cars, of down and outs who are into muscular and gin, and of late nights and smoky barrooms is back with "Small Change" his fourth album on Asylum Records. Waits' music is a lesson in reality with its bluesy, jazzy and cool presentation of pain, poverty and perversion. "Small Change," a small price to pay for a contemporary talent.

Boogie 919 College Square Records
Across from Town & Country Shopping Center
Hours: Mon-Sat 10-9 p.m.
Sun 12-6 p.m.

Need a friend?
N.D.-S.M.C. Hotline
a confidential listening service
4-4311
8-12 p.m. Sun.-Thurs. 8-2 a.m. Fri.-Sat

SUNDAY MASSES
(Main Church)
5:15 p.m. Saturday: Rev. Robert Griffin, C.S.C.
9:30 a.m. Sunday: Rev. Michael Goddard, C.S.C.
10:45 a.m. Sunday: Rev. James E. Kelly, C.S.C.
12:15 p.m. Sunday: Rev. William Toohy, C.S.C.

Vespers are at 7:15 p.m. in Lady Chapel. Rev. James E. Kelly, C.S.C. is celebrant.

Tom Waits who sings of waitresses, strip-tease, and old cars, of down and outs who are into muscular and gin, and of late nights and smoky barrooms is back with "Small Change" his fourth album on Asylum Records. Waits' music is a lesson in reality with its bluesy, jazzy and cool presentation of pain, poverty and perversion. "Small Change," a small price to pay for a contemporary talent. Tom Waits' new album, "Small Change," on Asylum Records and Tapes. Produced by Bone Howe for Mr. Bone Publications, Inc.

Gassman advises policy change

by Dave Rumbach

Student Body President Mike Gassman told the Student Body Congress last night that present University policies concerning the use of alcohol at on-campus parties should be changed to improve the social atmosphere in the halls.

"We want to prepare and propose a policy that would allow hall parties to return to the hall common rooms and would be compatible with state laws," said Gassman. He also stated that this proposal need not depend on the passage of the bill currently in the Indiana Senate that would lower the State's drinking age to 18.

This bill, according to a report by Jerry Klingenger, who heads the Notre Dame student lobby, is presently in committee in the Indiana Senate but should soon reach the floor where it will face its first test. Klingenger stated that all 1200 Indiana residents attending Notre Dame have received information about the bill and the names and addresses of Indiana senators and congressmen.

The congress also discussed the social space problem at Notre Dame and St. Mary's. Student Body Vice-President Mike Casey reported on the formation of proposals by the Student Life Council to equalize the amount of social space among the halls.

Gassman also discussed the proposed renovation of the LaFortune Student Center. "We want to improve the better existing student facilities by proposing changes based on the recent student government survey and the research we have done," he said.

The congress also considered the desirability of the 8 a.m. exams. Gassman expressed the desire to form a unified student opinion to be presented to the Academic Council by the student faculty representatives. The Academic Council will decide if a.m. exams will continue at their next meeting.

Co-Coordinator Rick Littlefield announced an increase in the number of North-South co-eds dinner and lunch tickets from 25 to 50. Littlefield also stated that the ND-SMC shuttle bus will make an additional stop at Notre Dame's Holy Cross Hall on the last two nights each week. The bus will reach Holy Cross at 1:15 p.m. and 12:15 a.m. on Sundays through Thursday nights and at 12:10 a.m. and 2:10 a.m. on Friday and Saturday nights.

SIP Mike Gassman announced that student purchasing cards are currently being processed and will be distributed to all Notre Dame and St. Mary's students free of charge. The cards will allow students to receive a 10 to 20 percent discount on 10 or 15 local businesses. In addition, the student laundromat was located in the basement of Bader Hall so that the Bader tailor shop could be moved. The decision should be definitely made by next fall and possibly immediately after spring break.

Quinlan family's attorney explores issues

by Darby LeBoume Senior Staff Reporter

Paul W. Armstrong, attorney for the family of Karen Anne Quinlan stated yesterday that men need faith in human reasoning when evaluating a person's "right to live."

At Notre Dame for a symposium exploring the "Ethical, Legal, and Medical Aspects of the Treatment of the Terminally Ill Patient," which is being held today, Armstrong explained points concerning the Quinlan case at a press conference.

"All the decision (New Jersey Supreme Court decision to allow Quinlan to be removed from a respirator) did was say 'yes, you as an individual have a right to make this decision,' he explained.

He added that the decision affects future cases similar to Quinlan's in that people will recognize the fundamental rights of the individual.

We as individuals have a constitutional right to make decisions like that," he said. If the person is incompetent it becomes the guardian's right, stated Armstrong.

"Karen became every man and the American people are able to empathize with her and her family," he remarked. That a nationwide poll indicated that most people would make the same decision the family was asking for in the case.

Armstrong noted the difference between euthanasia, which takes action to bring the demise of the individual, and a case of terminal illness where extraordinary means are stopped and replaced by modalities of support that do nothing to thwart the natural death process.

"The key is terminal illness," he remarked, attempting to draw a distinction between cases concerning terminal illness cases and euthanasia cases.

Armstrong stated that his primary arguments in the case were emphasizing a free exercise of the right to religious protection by the first amendment to the U.S. Constitution and pointing out that in the Catholic Church there is no clear obligation in the extraordinary means.

The American people were able to empathize with her and her family. We need to recognize the fundamental rights of the individual," he said.

On party situation

by Jerry Klingenger

For the Rise and Fall of the New Year

by Jerry Klingenger

Regina S.U. Social Commission present the...

"Ask Me To Dance" Dance
in Regina North
Saturday February 5

No Frills
No Theme
No Costumes
No Flowers

Music by Sahara
8:30-1:00
Admission $1.00

SQL STRENGTH
SPECIAL FORUM II
SAT· NITE ONLY
EXTRA SPECIAL FORUM II PROMPTLY AT 8:00 PM COME EARLY AS 6:00 OR LATE AS 8:00 SEE BOTH FEATURES FOR THE PRICE OF ONE
Judicial boards

Every hall should have an active judicial board available for students who want a hearing. Despite elaborate procedural guarantees in du Lac, the student handbook, most hall boards are weak and unenforceable. There is widespread ignorance among students and rectors of the merits of the boards. In some halls, a more democratic board can also exist: resistance by rectors, a violation of University rules.

There are several advantages to hall boards. They can help to promote harmony in the community by encouraging cooperation between students and hall staff on common problems. They provide a chance for students to participate in the governing of their own affairs, and to learn principles of due process. The rector is relieved of the necessity of playing the "reformer." Finally, the hall board offers an alternative for the student who fears the rector may be biased.

Several rectors have said they do not think hall boards would be workable. But the experiences of Keenan and Morrissey show otherwise. Both have very active boards which handle almost all cases arising in their halls and both rectors are enthusiastic supporters of the system.

Of course the student may want his case heard by the rector. Under the du Lac rules he can choose either rector or hall board. The board is optional and, in most cases, students should be aware that they are entitled to that option unless dealing with hall offenses. (Read du Lac and know your rights.)

Unfortunately the disciplinary procedures are in some halls where the rectors resist the system. This is a serious problem. The student government judicial coordinator, has worked very hard to facilitate the hall boards but there is little that student government can do about a rector like Fr. John Mulcahy of Flanner. If or who is openly hostile to letting anyone but himself deal with the cases.

In such situations some students fear that demanding their rights would amount to asking for a heavier penalty for bucking the system. Of course, putting people in penalties for demanding their rights is a further violation of their rights, but there seems to be little a student can do about it.

The Dean of Students, however, is required under Disciplinary Procedure No. 3 to see that the du Lac procedures are respected, but though Dean Boenke favors the hall boards he has little practical power in this matter. Rectors realize that their standing with the central administration is not going to be much affected by their attitude towards judicial boards. Further, the Dean's intervention would contradict the valuable and long-standing principle of hall autonomy.

The rectors should cooperate in the revival of judicial boards. As of now we have procedural rules that are not only unenforced, but are unenforceable as well. Once again we find that the rules at Notre Dame apply only to students, not to administrators. This raises a question we have asked before: Aside from rules which are valid, the various rules against theft, why should students follow rules that are not valid? Is there a need when administrators ignore rules they made for themselves?

P.O. Box Q

Dear Editor:

Through the abundance of criticism resulting from the Catholic Church's opposition to women priests, a positive step toward fulfilling Vatican's goal of a "natural resemblance" between Christ and his ministers has been taken. Notre Dame has a golden opportunity to follow the papal cue and initiate an investigation into determining what Christ really looked like.

"A natural undertaking would only be a preliminary step, to be followed by application of the findings in a world-wide search, a sort of a catchball contest, for men that fit the bill. These men would be chosen by a panel of priests but until then the unsuitable older priests could be encouraged to use make-up."

D.R. Johnson

DOONESBURY by Garry Trudeau

WASHINGTON. People who talk about the weather are now getting paranoid about it. They keep looking at the TV weather maps and they aren't laughing any more at the silly men and women who are bringing them bad weather news.

I know this for a fact. I was sitting in the living room with Seltzer and the weatherman said, "Well, I guess you folks out there are wondering when it's going to warm up. Would you believe things are going to get worse before they get better?"

"I'll kill the SOR," Seltzer said, as he made a move toward the screen.

He stopped him. "It's not his fault the news is bad."

Why does he have to grin when he's telling it? Cronkite doesn't grin when he tells you about an Amtrak train derailing in Ner Jersey. The weatherman was standing up in front of a screen. It's a look at the satellite map. This white stuff here means it's cloudy over the eastern part of the United States which means freezing temperatures, snow, sleet and icy winds. Over here in Southern California, there are no white spots, it means they're having sunny weather with tempera­tures in the 80s.

"He's a sadist," Seltzer says. "He gets his kicks pointing to white spots on white maps."

"It's his job," I said. "He doesn't like the white spots any more than you do."

The conversation continued. "Ordinarily, we would have gotten some relief except for this cold front which is coming in from Canada."

"Aha!" Seltzer shouted. "It's Canada again. How long are we going to take that stuff from Canada? Why don't we tell 'em we're more cold front than you people and we make Ottawa."

"If it really can't Canada's fault. The front probably originated in the Arctie and just passed through Canada."

WASHINGTON. Why does Canada set it pass through? Seltzer asked. "Tell me that.

"Because if she didn't let it pass through she would become a station­ary front and hang over Canada. No country wants a dark cloud hanging over its head all the time," Seltzer said.

The weatherman was still talk­ing. "Now behind this cold front is another cold front coming up from the South."

"I know it," shouted Seltzer. "The South is sending all its bad weather north. The people down there don't care any more about us Canadians."

"The South is suffering, too," I said. "Good. If they want to originate cold fronts they have it coming to them."

We turned back to the weather­ maps. "But what we really have to be concerned about is this low­ pressure system over here of warm moist air from the south which is pushing against cold air which could cause precipitation of up to two feet of snow."

Seltzer threw his shoe at the screen. The weatherman chuckled. "So be prepared to put on your long underwear and your galoshes and if you can start your car up, you'll have better luck than I did this morning."

"Let me ask you something," Seltzer said. "How come the newspapers have a little box somewhere with the weather which says sunny, cloudy, rain or snow?", and television spends 15 minutes telling about an artificial satellite snowflake in North Dakota?"

"It's a good spot to sell Bayer aspirin to or something like it," I said.

The weatherman had a puppet in his hands. "Let's talk to Ezra about how cold it really is outside. Ezra, if the temperature is 5 below and the wind is 35 knots, and the wind chill factor is 30 below, how do you get your car started in the mor­ing?"

"Era, the puppet replied, "You warm it up with your heart, honey."

"I'm still going to kill him," Seltzer said.

Write for the Observer editorial page
Letters to a Lonely God by REV. ROBERT GRIBBEN

In Search of Dog-O

At fifty three this morning, the birthday beast, Darby O’Gill, was leasing against the steeplechase secretaries. If you happen to be letting in looking for all the world as though he had spent the night drinking with the fellows. Derricks of the shabby dawn on their heads, he was stepping it up on the grass. He could have worn there was liquor on his breath, and that he was drunk, so I couldn’t help wondering if he had hoisted a few with his friends, as a birthday present for himself. He looked round about at that hour, reading and listening to music. It is not the silence on the Quads on me from sleep. It was drinking at the birthday; looking no worse than any other dog that would not be easy to find without the substitution and replaced it with a draft of Guinness. There is a water’s edge down by the lonely pathway, seemingly emerging from the murky somethings in this world that would move Franz Liszt to rhysophasia. It’s not true, though, that he as he staggered past me with his suspicion that some rowdy dog with dangling frills, no costume, no flowers. Admissions are $1, and the festivities begin at 8:30 p.m.

At five thirty this morning, the birthday beast is a dog of many moods, and it’s his birthday. Please bring him a bone. I wonder what the mood of the zoo keeper was, when his pet never came home at all. Although he has that could keep me from sleep. It was a day that convinced him that he had that would not be easy to find without the substitution and replaced it with a draft of Guinness. There is a water’s edge down by the lonely pathway, seemingly emerging from the murky somethings in this world that would move Franz Liszt to rhysophasia. It’s not true, though, that he as he staggered past me with his suspicion that some rowdy dog with dangling frills, no costume, no flowers. Admissions are $1, and the festivities begin at 8:30 p.m.

At five thirty this morning, the birthday beast is a dog of many moods, and it’s his birthday. Please bring him a bone. I wonder what the mood of the zoo keeper was, when his pet never came home at all. Although he has that could keep me from sleep. It was a day that convinced him that he had that would not be easy to find without the substitution and replaced it with a draft of Guinness. There is a water’s edge down by the lonely pathway, seemingly emerging from the murky somethings in this world that would move Franz Liszt to rhysophasia. It’s not true, though, that he as he staggered past me with his suspicion that some rowdy dog with dangling frills, no costume, no flowers. Admissions are $1, and the festivities begin at 8:30 p.m.

At five thirty this morning, the birthday beast is a dog of many moods, and it’s his birthday. Please bring him a bone. I wonder what the mood of the zoo keeper was, when his pet never came home at all. Although he has that could keep me from sleep. It was a day that convinced him that he had that would not be easy to find without the substitution and replaced it with a draft of Guinness. There is a water’s edge down by the lonely pathway, seemingly emerging from the murky somethings in this world that would move Franz Liszt to rhysophasia. It’s not true, though, that he as he staggered past me with his suspicion that some rowdy dog with dangling frills, no costume, no flowers. Admissions are $1, and the festivities begin at 8:30 p.m.

At five thirty this morning, the birthday beast is a dog of many moods, and it’s his birthday. Please bring him a bone. I wonder what the mood of the zoo keeper was, when his pet never came home at all. Although he has that could keep me from sleep. It was a day that convinced him that he had that would not be easy to find without the substitution and replaced it with a draft of Guinness. There is a water’s edge down by the lonely pathway, seemingly emerging from the murky somethings in this world that would move Franz Liszt to rhysophasia. It’s not true, though, that he as he staggered past me with his suspicion that some rowdy dog with dangling frills, no costume, no flowers. Admissions are $1, and the festivities begin at 8:30 p.m.

At five thirty this morning, the birthday beast is a dog of many moods, and it’s his birthday. Please bring him a bone. I wonder what the mood of the zoo keeper was, when his pet never came home at all. Although he has that could keep me from sleep. It was a day that convinced him that he had that would not be easy to find without the substitution and replaced it with a draft of Guinness. There is a water’s edge down by the lonely pathway, seemingly emerging from the murky somethings in this world that would move Franz Liszt to rhysophasia. It’s not true, though, that he as he staggered past me with his suspicion that some rowdy dog with dangling frills, no costume, no flowers. Admissions are $1, and the festivities begin at 8:30 p.m.
Senate bill to define person does not apply if the continuance goes out of its

to prevent the unborn."

The amendment goes out of its
to prevent the unborn."

We, as of, course, all for it and pleased has it been introduced." Right to Life followers at Notre Dame also held positive responses to the amendment. Frank Coughlin, a student worker for the group, said, "This bill is definitely needed because the change will not come through any other means. This is the only way to change the Supreme Court's past decision." Rich LaSalvia, a student spokesman for the group, feels the legislation protects the rights of all human life from the moment of conception to the time of death. "The amendment goes out of its way to protect the unborn," he said. LaSalvia noted that in addition to restoring personhood to the unborn, "something which he believes the Supreme Court took away, the new legislation "supports the 14th Amend ment which gives protection and due process to all human beings which includes not only the unborn, but the handicapped, elderly and the retarded." He added, "This may prevent future courts from deciding that these lives are unimportant."

LaSalvia indicated that the Uni versity, which is a Catholic insti tution, plays an important role in the Right to Life campaign. He said, "Many people feel that this is a Catholic issue, but it should concern everyone."

The media labels this a Catholic prob lem, but recent polls support the fact that abortion is a relatively equal issue to Protestants and Jews as well as Catholics. He concluded, "A Catholic institution has a special obligation to take this initiative in leading the support of the protection of human life which is created by God and, therefore, sacred."

Profs to discuss DNA research

Dr. Robert J. Erickson, assistant faculty fellow in microbiology, will discuss the recent controversy con cerning recombinant DNA research in the "Evolution, Ecology and Behavior" class at 2:20 p.m. in the engineering auditorium. Erickson will answer questions regarding his research at Notre Dame under the auspices of Miles Laboratories. In addition, Dr. Harvey Bender, pro fessor of biology, will speak on "The Ethical Implications of Genetic Research."

Ask me to dance

Regina Hall and the Notre Dame Student Union Social Commission will co-sponsor a dance with the theme "Ask Me to Dance" this Saturday night from 8:30 p.m. to 11 p.m. in Regina North.

The band is Sahara from Chicago which has previously made several appearances on campus. Admission is one dollar and includes free soft drinks.

Dining halls to host WSNDB

WSND-AM will be broadcasting from the South Dining Hall on Sunday and Monday, Feb. 6 and 7, and from the North Dining Hall on Tuesday, Feb. 8 from 5 to 6:30 p.m. During the dining hall broadcasts, students will be able to sign up for Mardi Gras game shows. Those interested in being a contestant on "The Gong Show" "The Game" or "Sports Challenge" should sign up at that time.

WSND AM will also be broad casting these games from Mardi Gras. For further information, call 4640.

Organ recital

Joseph Higginsbotham, a student in music and liturgy, will present his graduate organ recital this Sunday at 8:15 p.m. in Sacred Heart Church. A choir will assist in the singing of several selections of Gregorian chant.
Campus lighting problems solved

by Maureen Flynn

Although several areas continue to suffer from inadequate lighting, many of the worst areas on campus have been remedied.

In the past few months, numerous students have complained of the lack of lighting along the back of the Nieuwland Science Building and new lights have been hung.

Senior Fellow finalists named

by Val Zeidler

Executive Editor

The results of the preliminary Senior Fellow election were announced yesterday by chairman Ron Hattaway. The final ballot will consist of the top ten candidates for Senior Class Fellow.

In alphabetical order, the finalists are Muhammad Ali, Woody Allen, Bill Blass, Gerald Ford, Bob Hope, Barbara Jordan, Henry Kissinger, Alexander Solzhenitsyn, Groucho Marx, and Bob Woodward and Carl Bernstein.

The ten were chosen from about forty nominees. Nearly 500 seniors turned out to vote with several halls having 100 percent participation. "This is an excellent response," commented Hattaway, "especially because I would encourage more off-campus students to participate.

The final election will be held next Tuesday and Wednesday. Voting times and places will be the same as the preliminary election. Off-campus students may vote in the first floor lounge of LaFortune from 4 to 9, and 11 to 1:30 p.m. The last chance to vote will be at Senior Bar from 6 to 10 Thursday night.

"We appreciate the support of the senior class and are confident that the senior fellow choices will be well-received by the class," Hattaway remarked. When final arrangements are confirmed, the Senior Fellow will be announced.

Situations

satisfied between Lyons Hall and the Rockne Memorial and on the path from St. Mary's Lake to Holy Cross Hall.

Remaining areas of concern include the courtyard in front of the Crowley Music Hall to the middle of the Main Quad; the small quad bordered by Cavanaugh, Zahn, St. Edward's and Washington Halls; and portions of Dorr Road and Lake Drive.

Levitt Hall President Anne Thompson approached Fr. Jerome Wilson, executive administrator of physical plant, last week to discuss campus lighting problems that had been a source of concern for her and other Lewis residents.

The 272 kilowatts in the hall volunteered to walk around the campus and check the lighting," commented Thompson. "Then I want to Fr. Wilson and listed five areas we thought it was really bad.

Thompson said she walked around campus several times and noted some improvement in four of the areas where she had mentioned. "I talked to Fr. Wilson today (Thursday) and there are still other areas," she added.

Wilson told her that improvements in other areas will not be held up by lack of funds and aesthetic considerations, Thompson said.

"They want to install new mercury vapor bulbs and ballasts in most of the existing light fixtures," Thompson explained. "But the cost of replacing 30 poles is just about $100,000.

Thompson added that the cost of repairing the now-defunct old pole is approximately $10,000.

Another problem, particularly with the old pole, was that the pathway by St. Ed's, is that of 30 old poles creating the aesthetic beauty of the area.

The area by St. Ed's and on the rock is surrounded by older buildings," Thompson said. "The lamp posts are very old and we must mix old and new fixtures.

The old style lamp post is no longer available on the market.

"The University would like to remove the old style lamp posts from other parts of the campus and replace them with new ones," Thompson stated. "The old ones could then be shifted to these other areas.

Thompson said Wilson told her of a recommendation he had done about the St. Ed's area. The old lamp post was so narrow that a car often has to slow down to stop to pass pedestrians in the dark.

"The road is so narrow that you could only see the road and nothing behind it. You can really drive right up to the edge of the road at night. The cars might not see you," Thompson explained. "We have had some close calls.

No immediate plans have been made for widening the street. The road and no funds have been allocated.

Thompson said the University expected old style pole lamps to be used in May or June and hopes to have both these and the mercury vapor bulbs installed by September.

Thompson would like anyone interested in the campus lighting situation to contact her at 6535.

"Where There Is Always a Good Time!

The National Lampoon

The Up Your Book - a guide to self-realization across the front line of human potential.

No place like home.

A National Lampoon special edition. All new material. $2.50 at your newsstand or bookstore. Deluxe edition, $2.95. Or send order and money to: The National Lampoon, 635 Madison Ave. N.Y. 22222.

Send your honey a Valentine's Day Showbit and a dinner at the Dining Halls Feb. 6 and 7. Only 90 cents each. Call 289-2613 for details.

Crackerjack, Happy 21st!! Wishing you a special birthday, $5 in the mail. Send to: Mr. Crackerjack, 272-8303.

A ticket to tonight's party after the stop at the Auditorium Theatre in Chicago are now on sale for $40. Call 272-8303.

Dead Chasers. Happy New Year! $1000. A gift handpicked and personally autographed by the band. Send to: Dead Chasers, Box 283-1655.

Need it definition? Send $1 for a dictionary definition to your package come yet? Have your honey (s) a happy Valentines's Day. Send $1 for a dictionary definition to your package come yet? Have your honey (s) a happy Valentines's Day.

For Sale: 2 year old girl, $80 bonus. Monday, Wednesday, or Friday mornings 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. Call 289-9330.

A ticket to tonight's party after the stop at the Auditorium Theatre in Chicago are now on sale for $40. Call 272-8303.

ONE UP, ONE HIGH. Not a country group. $1000. Send to: Seven Days, 635 Madison Ave. N.Y. 22222.

Tune in, turn on, drop out. $2.50 plus utilities. Call 289-6929.

San Francisco, Berkeley. Happy Birthday! Birthdays get more fun when you're old!! Call 272-8303.
Monitoring recruiting

Tony Pace

Pace’s Picks

If you listen to any of the knowledgeable observers of the game, the key word for this season is "competition." It seems that there has been a major upset each week. If you looked last Friday afternoon, Northwestern was going to beat Michigan to the punch. Steve Reisman was interviewed. He had the Michigan team on three years probation. Steve said, "I know of any recruiting violations of other schools to the NCAA when they have the evidence." George Raveling carries the suggestion. "If I knew of any recruiting violations of other schools to the NCAA when they have the evidence, different college coaches offered different philosophies as answers. "As long as there is competition, there will be coaches who recruit illegally. If there is competition we must ask, is it the rules that are currently the NCAA or is it the coaches who are currently the NCAA?""

SATURDAY

Notre Dame over Davidson by 9 points. This game is in Greenberg and the southern fans really display a Southern hospitality. If the Irish play the flat first half as they did against Davidson, they may just blow the game wide open. In the second half the Irish will have a Southern hospitality and should have been called. It is going to be interesting to see what 32 points the NCAA selects for its tournament. Here are the weeks choices:

CINCINNATI over Marquette by 2 points. The probable reason for the Bearcats recent loss to Seton was the fact that they were looking forward to this contest; they should be ready. The Warriors have been playing well, but they are a different ball game this year, a much better one. They could get blown out.

LOUISVILLE over Providence by 4 points. Louisville has been an up and down team this season, but when they come to play, they have been great. The Friars beat the Cardinals in last year’s NIT but multiplying that victory in Louisville will be difficult.

NOTRE DAME over Xavier by 17 points. This will be one of those contests where the players on the other team catch abuse from the student body of the second half.

NOTRE DAME over Holy Cross by 3 points at last, against all odds. The Bears have been tough. They are a very competitive team and could blow this game out.

SUNDAY

Notre Dame over Davidson by 9 points. This game is in Greensboro and the southern fans really display a Southern hospitality. If the Irish play the flat first half as they did against Davidson, they may just blow the game wide open. In the second half the Irish will have a Southern hospitality and should have been called. It is going to be interesting to see what 32 points the NCAA selects for its tournament. Here are the weeks choices:

Kentucky over Vanderbilt by 18 points. The Wildcats have a physical team that should be able to dominate the smaller Sun Devils.

MONDAY

CINCINNATI over Marquette by 2 points. The probable reason for the Bearcats recent loss to Seton was the fact that they were looking forward to this contest; they should be ready. The Warriors have been playing well, but they are a different ball game this year, a much better one. They could get blown out.

LOUISVILLE over Providence by 4 points. Louisville has been an up and down team this season, but when they come to play, they have been great. The Friars beat the Cardinals in last year’s NIT but multiplying that victory in Louisville will be difficult.

NOTRE DAME over Holy Cross by 3 points at last, against all odds. The Bears have been tough. They are a very competitive team and could blow this game out.

NOTRE DAME over Holy Cross by 3 points at last, against all odds. The Bears have been tough. They are a very competitive team and could blow this game out.

WEDNESDAY

Wesleyan over Allegheny by 3 points. This will be a very competitive game.

THURSDAY

Notre Dame over Davidson by 9 points. This game is in Greensboro and the southern fans really display a Southern hospitality. If the Irish play the flat first half as they did against Davidson, they may just blow the game wide open. In the second half the Irish will have a Southern hospitality and should have been called. It is going to be interesting to see what 32 points the NCAA selects for its tournament. Here are the weeks choices:

Kentucky over Vanderbilt by 18 points. The Wildcats have a physical team that should be able to dominate the smaller Sun Devils.