Trustees meet; discuss CLC, hear reports on bargaining

by Phil Cackley
Senior Staff Reporter

In action taken at its Oct. 21 meeting, the University of Notre Dame Trustees abolished the Student Life Council (CLC) and agreed, with a revision of the University's policy on Assigned Hours, to the principle of collective bargaining on the part of the groundskeepers and the faculty. The trustees also heard a report from a number of Board committee heads and approved a Statement of Mutual Commitments between the University and the Congregation of Holy Cross, in addition to considering other matters.

The nine-member CLC was replaced by the CLC at the recommendation of Dave Bender, student director, who presented the proposal to the Board last spring. The Student Affairs Committee accepted Bender's proposal to the Board last spring. The Student Affairs Committee accepted Bender's proposal Oct. 20 and submitted it to the Board for final approval.

The tri-partite CLC, composed of student, faculty and student affairs representa-tors, was created by the trustees as a group to consider University rules and regulations. The new CLC will be composed of rectors, hall vice-presidents, and representatives from Student Government, Student Union, the Hall Presidents' Council, the Faculty Senate and the administration. The new group will be primarily concerned with matters of campus life, not the day-to-day operation of the residence halls.

In a related action, the trustees created an off-campus council, which was recommended by the Student Affairs Committee. The council will focus on off-campus life, just as the CLC deals with campus life. The two groups will remain separate, however.

"Vice-President for Student Affairs Just Paceywa said yesterday that he is in the process of forming the CLC and plans to have it functioning within two weeks. Paceywa also will set up the off-campus council. He said he had not yet decided on its composition or personnel.

The extensive review of University disciplinary procedures was ordered this summer by the trustees, after the occurrence of "certain celebrated cases" last spring, and was drawn up by the administration and the Student Government working under the auspices of the Student Affairs Committee.

The trustees heard reports on collective bargaining efforts by both the groundskeepers and the faculty. Even while the trustees considered these issues, approximately 75 persons participated in a demonstration of support for the 21 groundskeepers seeking union membership with the Teamsters. The demonstrators marched to the Center for Continuing Education, where the Board meeting was being held.

Murphy said that because of the recent controversy over actions concerning the groundskeepers, it was this groups which continued more attention from the trustees. They reviewed Husk eby's Oct. 14 statement on the groundskeepers controversy, "the consensus was that the trustees had to be committed to the principle of collective bargaining, but that the right to organize does not necessarily mean the necessity to organize." Murphy also presented the report on collective bargaining to the Board for final approval.

A Statement of Mutual Commitment between the University and the Congregation of the Holy Cross (C.C.S.) was approved by the trustees. Murphy described this as "a philosophical statement signifying our commitment to the C.C.S. in the University." He said the agreement was signed "on behalf of the trustees by members of the University and the C.C.S. in a formal ceremony on Monday, Oct. 17.

The Student Affairs Committee added that "the new system of social space and renovation of..." (continued on page 4)
St. Mary’s HPC meets

The St. Mary’s Presidents Council (HPC) in its second year of existence will hold a meeting Thursday before October break to discuss goals for the upcoming year.

The main goals are to increase communication between the residence halls at SMCM, to improve communication between the student and the Board of Government through session representatives and the Hall Councils, according to HPC Secretary Teresa Valdivia. They also intend to sponsor one large social event between St. Mary’s and St. Mary’s.

This year’s HPC is comprised of Mary Jo Kelly of Holy Cross, Judy Eileen Leck of Le Mans, Teresa Valdivia of McCandless and Sue Gockler of Regina.

Senior Trip deposits returned

Those members of the Senior Class who put down deposits and were unable to go on the San Francisco trip should submit a written request with reasons for cancellation in order to be considered for a possible refund. The request should be submitted either by letter to the Friday Assistant Director of Student Activities John Reid or dropped off in Student Activities, office 45 in the first floor of the LaFortune Student Center.
Board approves du Lac revisions

by Mary Hogan
Editor in Chief

Student Government revision of Rules and Regulations section of du Lac, the need for increased social space and the Campus Life Council (CLC) dominated the meeting of the Student Affairs Committee of the Notre Dame Board of Trustees held Oct. 20. Tom Byrne, student government press secretary began the meeting with an explanation of the revised rules and regulations.

A few of the trustees questioned parts of the revision, but as a whole, it met with little or no opposition.

According to Jack Schneider, chairman of the student affairs committee, stated that the revisions were ready to be printed at the time of the meeting.

Dean of Students James Roemer announced yesterday that the student government revision of the rules and regulations has been approved by both the administration and the trustees and took effect yesterday.

Roemer emphasized that the procedures and not the rules of the University have been changed.

It was agreed that the rules and regulations section should be separate from du Lac. Bender indicated that the biggest challenge would be in communicating the changes to the students since the University does not plan to print copies for every undergraduate student.

Bender and four other Student Government officials, however, plan to visit the halls during the next few weeks to familiarize students with the new procedures. Printing the revised document in the The Observer was suggested as a way to inform the students, but nothing definite was set.

The problem of social space on campus was brought before the board again, but this time in the form of an audio-visual presentation. Slides were shown of so-called "wasted space" in Holy Cross Hall and many halls with little or almost no social space such as sorin and Howard.

Student Government also submitted a social space proposal to the board. Schneider acknowledged social space as a problem that is mentioned every year, but said the committee itself could not act on the proposal. Instead, the committee presented the proposal to the entire Board of Trustees at the meetings the following day.

Brother Just Pazienza, vice president for Student Affairs, and member of the Board, however, committed himself to work with the social space committee this year.

The SLC-CLC debate, first raised last April, was brought up again at this year's Board meeting. Schneider stated that since the Board of Trustees created the SLC, it is the board's role to decide whether the problem of the SLC's "ineffectiveness" in the past was poor leadership or poor structure. The committee agreed to present the proposal along with the arguments for retaining the present SLC which were presented by SLC chairman Pete Haley.

LaFortune renovations were discussed in a more decisive manner as Pazienza revealed that the University recently received a large sum of money from the LaFortune family to renovate the student center.

The new renovation plans, which include a pub for 21-year-olds, increased space for eating and studying and several small shops may be started this summer.

Minority student representatives attended the meeting to explain the reasoning behind the demonstration which took place last April as well as to restate their request for a minority student coordinator in the Student Affairs office.

Brenda Geuringer, president of Black Cultural Arts Commission said students are occasionaly made to feel that they are inferior or oppressed. Schneider recognized that the awareness was a continuing problem, and encouraged minority students to keep lines of communication open.

Student Body Vice President Tom Soma spoke briefly at the meeting to outline for the committee other activities in which Student Government has been involved since last spring's meeting.

The activities included the Logan budget cut controversy, the groundskeepers situation, the racial attitude forum with Student Government and the Black Cultural Arts Commission and Neighborhood Roots.

The trustees heard reports from the board committees on financial affairs, investments, the Campaign for Notre Dame, and academic and faculty affairs.

The Public Relations and Development Committee recommended that a briefing officer be appointed to release highlights of Board meetings to the media. The Board approved the recommendation and appointed Murphy as the briefing officer. This is the first time in the history of the Board that such an officer has been appointed, Murphy indicated.

According to Notre Dame Security, the coalition's protesters obtained permission for the demonstration in advance and there were no problems during the march. For the audience that gathered to hear Bryant, she sang religious songs, spoke about the moral decay of the country and quoted the Bible. She stated that many of the nation's social problems were the result of a failure to conform to "Bible morality."

Before the concert, protesters matched while several preachers from the Bible group lectured on homosexuality, urging them to repent. Jim Howard, an organizer of the rally, said that the protest's direction was not directed personally at Bryant, but at the ideas that she symbolizes. He said that the singer's actions were threatening American society by "preaching hate" and that the coalition had greeted her with "kindness and brotherly love."

Bryant, who is most well-known for her television commercials selling Florida orange juice, gained national attention last year for her outspoken efforts to repeal a Miami ordinance that banned discrimination against homosexuals. Her views brought organized opposition from gay rights groups from around the country giving performances similar to last Thursday's in the ACC.

The Florida Citrus Growers are reportedly considering replacing Bryant as their national spokes person due to a decline in sales.

The Nuclear 500. Are you good enough to be one of them?

This year the Navy will seek about 500 of the country's top college graduates for its nuclear energy program. It's the most comprehensive training available in today's most exciting energy field.

It's got to be. More than 70% of the country's nuclear reactors are operated by Navy men.

So our standards are extremely high. To qualify, you must have a solid background in engineering, math or physics. And have what it takes to become an officer in the U.S. Navy.

If you're selected, you'll be paid a starting salary comparable to most salaries given junior executives in private companies. And be placed in a position of responsibility quickly.

If you're still in college, there are several special programs for you, including a full scholarship available for your junior and senior years.

For more information about our programs, pay scales, or applications, contact your Navy Officer Representative when he visits your Career Placement Office or call: LT Steve Boaz (312) 657-2169 (collect).

Horse and Homecoming dubbed successful

by Florence Anne Standell

The defeat of the Trojans on the football field and a successful homecoming campaign sponsored by the Student Council, according to Student Commissioner Great Depression, was the most unique spectacle of the homecoming. Events such as the construction of the Trojan horse and painting the old tractor red were some of the activities that were used.

The horse was probably the most unique spectacle of the week. A 40-foot horse, designed by Student Council member Carroll Hall, offered him his gym and the students went to work.

Field Morgan, a sophomore, a second-year architecture student, designed the wooden head and a group of 20 to 30 helped build her out of 2 X 4's. After painting, the horse was placed on a trailer.

"We made enough room for six people to fit inside the horse," stated Sullivan. "We wanted members of the football team to jump out of it at the day of the game. But our Prostitutes, Assistant Athletic Director of the coaching staff said it was a little too dangerous," Sullivan explained.

"The plan was for football players adored in blue and gold jerseys and the leprechaun emerger­ning from the horse to create a capacity crowd and the television coverage," said Sullivan.

"The horse was certainly a hit," stated Deychakiwsky, "but not the only success story of the weekend." The happy hours drew in a larger audience than anyone could have expected. The book sale, a large, never used banner. Contact Ed at 8377-8378.

Irish trousce Trojans, 49-19

The Irish proved that they were of championship caliber when they totally outplayed Southern Cal. Many were surprised that Notre Dame would let down the following week and be challenged by a respectable Navy team.

However, the Irish handed the Midshipmen their worst defeat of the 1977 season, 43-10. The offense that seemed to be lacking at the beginning of the season has emerged as a very powerful unit for teams of this caliber. They may not be a super team, but the talent is there. If Georgia Tech, or any other team the Irish may face in the remainder of the season, fails to capitalize against Notre Dame, they will be in for a surprise.

This Saturday, the Yellowjackets come to South Bend with a 3-3 ledger and an intent to surprise the Irish once again. Notre Dame needs the victory to solidify its ranking in the polls and will certainly be awaiting their contest with Georgia Tech.

The Irish have revenge on their side for what the Yellowjackets did last season, before November 6, the Irish were in a similar situation.
