Notre Dame, NLRB come to agreement

by Mike Ridolfo

A tentative agreement has been reached between Notre Dame and the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) concerning the unfair labor practice charges against the University. Details of the settlement have not been disclosed.

"The University cannot discuss what provisions of the agreement are until it has been finalized," said Thomas Bull, director of Personnel and Michael Conklin, director of Information Services, echoed Bull's comment. "The details pertaining to the agreement cannot not be released due to the legal aspects involved," Conklin noted.

A NLRB district director in Indiana will review the agreement. "The University hopes the tentative agreement will be final and within the next several days," Bull stated.

The action comes on the eve of a scheduled hearing between the University and the NLRB. The hearing has now been cancelled. Mike Lawrence, Assistant Business Representative of Transmembrane Local 360, said he didn't know the terms of the agreement. "The NLRB is mailing it (a copy) to us so we cannot really make any comments now," Lawrence stated.

The original issue of the groundskeepers' unionization attempt cannot proceed until the unfair labor charges against Notre Dame have been settled. "If the district director finalizes the agreement, the NLRB can then rule on the groundskeeper issue," Conklin said.

Price new housing director

by Kevin Richardson

The appointment of Edmund T. Price as director of University Housing has been made official, according to the office of Thomas J. Mason, vice-president of business affairs. The announcement, which was made through the office of Information Services, was released Monday.

Price, who stated that he "would like to spend more time talking with students about their problems," foresees no major changes to housing policy.

"The Housing Office, which has just completed an administrative change, has left the jurisdiction of the Office of Student Affairs and moved under the authority of the Office of Business Affairs," the office will, however, "continue to be responsive to the needs of the students in every possible instance," Mason noted.

Concerning the appointment of Price as director of student housing, Mason said, "He was brought in originally as a replacement to fill a vacancy in the summer housing coordinator's position." From there, Mason noted, Price's appointment to housing director was "a natural progression based on his past experience in the field and his willingness to assume the duties of that office."

"The separation of duties between the Office of Student Affairs and the Office of Business Affairs in regards to housing is clearly defined," according to Fr. Gregory Green, assistant vice-president of Student Affairs. "Student affairs will still be involved in choosing the rectors and assistant rectors as well as the staffing of the halls," Green noted.

Green emphasized that the transfer of the housing office to business affairs "concerns only the physical plant of each hall. It is a move to consolidate and streamline the administrative workings of the Housing Office's daily business-related work."

Concerning the Campus Life Council social space proposal that was passed by the University Board of Trustees at their March 17 meeting, Price stated that "insular as I am at the present time, we are planning to go through with it." This proposal will mandate social space improvement in five south quad dorms and construction is to begin this summer.

Price stated that "the current dilemma for on-campus housing stems from the facts that more people are staying on campus than we anticipated." Commenting on rumors regarding a possible lottery for seniors-to-be for on-campus housing spots, Price said, "We have no plans for a lottery right now. He continued by saying, "People living on campus now shouldn't have any worries in regards to living on-campus next year."

In finding a needed 28 additional spots for females who will be living on campus next year, Price commented that "the rectresses were able to go up a couple and social in helping us solve the problem."

The possible overcrowding in residence halls is currently under investigation. "Holy Cross is being sought into as a possible solution," Price stated.

"The only problem with this is that it takes a lot of time to make the necessary preparations for additional students in Holy Cross," Price said. "Bat facilities, electrical and several other necessities have to be installed first," he said.

In his role as director of housing, Price will be responsible for the general supervision and maintenance of residence halls as well as the Off-Campus Housing Office.

The supervision of the work and activities of the Off-Campus Housing Office and the maintenance of a list of University inspected and approved off-campus housing is also under the charge of Price's office.

Price came to Notre Dame in 1969 after serving as general manager of two high-rise residence buildings at Memphis State University. Prior to his appointment, Price was an assistant professor of mathematics, is the new candidate to provost. O'Meara is currently a provost has been serving as president of the University of California at Davis as the administrative services office for the National Center for Primatological Biology and as a residence hall administrator.

O’Meara candidate for provost job

A new candidate for the position of provost at Notre Dame will be interviewed tomorrow. Members of the Academic Council, who will interview, include, O. Timothy O’Meara, president of the University. O. Timothy O’Meara, Kenna professor of mathematics, is the new candidate to provost. O’Meara is currently a provost has been serving as president of the University of California at Davis as the administrative services office for the National Center for Primatological Biology and as a residence hall administrator.

O’Meara, candidate for provost job

A new candidate for the position of provost at Notre Dame will be interviewed tomorrow. Members of the Academic Council, who will interview, include, O. Timothy O’Meara, president of the University. O. Timothy O’Meara, Kenna professor of mathematics, is the new candidate to provost. O’Meara is currently a provost has been serving as president of the University of California at Davis as the administrative services office for the National Center for Primatological Biology and as a residence hall administrator.
Car thieves outsmarted

WASHINGTON-The Transportation Department, leveling its sights primarily on local thieves, yesterday announced plans to require automobile manufacturers to install anti-theft equipment beginning with 1981 models. The devices include protected ignition wires to prevent a car from being started without a key, hood latches that can be released only from inside the car and rounded door-lock mechanisms to prevent thieves from gaining entry through a window crank. Joan Claybrook, the agency's administrator, said the proposed rule is aimed mostly at thwarting young thieves who steal vehicles for transportation or to steal parts.

Lettuce prices to decrease

Consumers who have watched lettuce prices soar until salad is almost as expensive as steak can expect some relief early next month, a government economist said yesterday. "This thing is temporary," said Charles W. Porter of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, adding that the high prices. "We're just going to have to wait it out." Porter said shipments of lettuce from California--the nation's largest producers are running half to less than half of what they were two years ago because rains in the Salinas Valley in February and March prevented farmers from planting, and in some cases, washed seeds already in the ground.

Today named ‘Sun Day’

From dawn's first light to darkness' fall, the sun will be in the spotlight at home and abroad today for the celebration of "Sun Day," an effort to focus national and international attention on solar energy, to be sponsored by a coalition of groups and agencies, and to be coordinated by Solar Action, Inc., a non-profit, Washington-based organization that has its roots in similar pro-sunlight events as "Earth Day" and "Food Day." The national observance began with a pre-dawn hike to the top of a 1,530-foot Cadillac Mountain in Maine, the point where the sun's rays first strike the continental United States each day.

Today named ‘Sun Day’

From dawn’s first light to darkness’ fall, the sun will be in the spotlight at home and abroad today for the celebration of "Sun Day," an effort to focus national and international attention on solar energy, to be sponsored by a coalition of groups and agencies, and to be coordinated by Solar Action, Inc., a non-profit, Washington-based organization that has its roots in similar pro-sunlight events as "Earth Day" and "Food Day." The national observance began with a pre-dawn hike to the top of a 1,530-foot Cadillac Mountain in Maine, the point where the sun’s rays first strike the continental United States each day.

Weather

Mostly sunny and a little warmer today, highs up to 50s. Fairly typical for this time of year--clear night, lows in the upper 30s. Partly sunny and mild tomorrow, highs mid to upper 50s. Northeast to east winds around 10 mph today.

On Campus Today

12:15 pm seminar, "lymphocyte stimulation by bacterial lipopolysaccharide," dr. diane m. jacobs, st. u. of n.y., buffalo, sponsored by dept. of microbiology, 278 galvin aud.

1 pm baseball, n.d. vs. u. of michigan.

3:30 pm survival day, "the problems of nuclear development," dr. barbara s. fischer, s.w., chem. s.m.c., and thomas sefior, s.m.c., all are welcome, dining hall, a.m.

4 pm seminar, "the theory of electron transfer processes in glasses & liquids," prof. neil kester, i.s. u. baton rouge, sponsored by rad. lab., conf. radiation lab.

5:15 pm mass, fr. jim buckley, c.c.s., the last faster's mass of school year, sponsored by hunger coalition, wallach hall chapel.

6:30 pm meeting, sailing club, 204 engr. bldg.

6:45 pm rosary, at the grotto.

7 pm informal lecture, "the legal aspects of abortion in the u.s. today," prof. charles rice, n.d. law school, sponsored by n.d.-n.-c.-c.-c. rights to life, all are urged to attend, laforede aud.

7:30 pm meeting, faculty senate meeting, seminar room, 202 c.c.e.

8:15 pm concert, dennis bamber, saxophone, lib. aud.

10:30 pm concert and dance, "the fabulous mamas," sponsored by the music junior section 1-b, free admission, fresher steps of morrissey.

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) Just a ferry ride from New York, where their ancestors landed before them, Soviet diaspora political asylum are finding a haven in New Jersey. Many of these families, most of them Jewish, have found homes in this North Jersey community, once infamous for its large number of corrupt politicians. Jersey City, across the Hudson River from New York City, was the "ideal regional placement to set up a placement center for Soviet emi­grants," said Mrs. Adolf Goldberg, founder of the Committee for the Absorption of Soviet Emigrants (CASE).

"Most of the immigrants coming in from the Soviet Union want to live in New York City or its environs," Goldberg said. "New York City is still the culture center of the world." There are more cultural things to which they can relate from an international and Jewish point of view.

The United States has provided a haven for Soviet emigres--refugees and defectors, scientists and other political dissidents. More than 4,000 Soviet Jews were given special refugee status last year to allow them to emigrate to the United States.

Goldberg, a 37-year-old investment banker in New York, said he founded CASE in 1974 because of his Lithuanian heritage and his desire to do a "mitzvah," a Talmudic term for a good deed.

Goldberg said the CASE-assisted Soviet emigres "integrate pretty well into the community. They may never go to becoming American Americans. You can't invest 25 years of your life."

He said the immigrants range "from the highly educated to blue collar workers, mostly in Jewish communities." Most are in their 20s or early 30s and typically have one child whom they send to private or religious schools in Jewish city. CASE sponsors relief so that they can obtain entry visas and serves as a housing and employment placement service once they arrive.

The immigrants have a marvelous infrastructure already established," Goldberg said. "Our name is passed around the immigrant grapevine to friends and relatives and friends of friends."

CASE, which receives funds from the U.S. government through charitable contributions, is6 raining six row houses and has "completed, under construction or under contract work on 35 to 200 units," Goldberg said.

The organization, he added is completing a deal on a five-story building in downtown Jersey City to turn it into a community center for the Soviet population here.

Jersey City, the state’s second largest city with a population of 207,000, is the home of the Hudson County Democratic political machine, once headed by Frank "I am the law" Hague.

Committee aids Soviet emigres

M.D./O.V.M. Degree--Europe/USA

IT IS NOT TOO LATE for you to enroll in university programs of the INSTITUTE OF INTERNATION­AL MEDICAL EDUCATION which offer:

1. Employment for Fall 1979 in medical schools in Europe.

2. M.S. in cooperation with recognized colleges and universities in the United States, leading to advanced professional medical schools in Spain, Italy, and other European countries.

3. Employment in medical schools in the Midwest.

4. Student's people. For more information contact the Institute of International Medical Education, 3 East 53rd Street, New York, N.Y. 10022. (212) 880-9999

M.D./O.V.M. Degree--Europe/USA

IT IS NOT TOO LATE to enroll in university programs of the INSTITUTE OF INTERNATIONAL MEDICAL EDUCATION which offer:

1. Employment for Fall 1979 in medical schools in Europe.

2. M.S. in cooperation with recognized colleges and universities in the United States, leading to advanced professional medical schools in Spain, Italy, and other European countries.

3. Employment in medical schools in the Midwest.

4. Student's people. For more information contact the Institute of International Medical Education, 3 East 53rd Street, New York, N.Y. 10022. (212) 880-9999

alumni senior picnic '78

Stevan center

Saturday may 6th

11 am - 1:30 pm

Come early, stay late! before blue (green) gold game

Meet the ND alumni Club Reps from your School

Maps, housing advice and business sense for each Club will be available

Bring your ND Alumni Association card to the Senior Bar after the Game.

Start Senior Week early.

The Observer is published Mon­day through Friday during the academic year by the students of Mary’s College. Subscriptions are offered at cost for $2 per year. The Observer, P.O. Box 6, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556. All subscriptions are payable in advance. All rights reserved. The Associated Press. All reprodu­tion rights are reserved.

SCHEDULE CHANGED AT SACRED HEART CHURCH

Beginning the first Sunday of the Summer the Mass schedule will change in the Main Church. New Sunday Mass times will be: 9:15 am, 10:30 am and 12:15 pm.
Proposed sale of war planes may be rejected by Congress

WASHINGTON [AP] - There may be enough votes in a House committee to reject President Jimmy Carter's proposed sales of war planes to three Mideast countries despite predictions to the contrary by theasset. A survey of lawmakers showed yesterday.

Nine House members--a bare majority of the 35-member House International Relations Committee--said they would approve, or are leaning in favor of, a resolution against the sale of jet fighters to Saudi Arabia unless Carter makes concessions for Israel.

The Carter administration wants to sell sophisticated, U.S.-made F-15 war planes to Saudi Arabia, 75 F-15s and 15 F-16s to Israel and 50 F-15s to Egypt -- a $4.8 billion deal.

A House or Senate vote against any one of the three sales -- the Saudi Arabian transaction, for instance -- would jeopardize the deal because Carter has suggested he'll drop the sales if Congress takes such action.

Under congressional procedures a proposed arms sale by the executive branch must be approved by both houses within 30 calendar days of the time the president submits it to Capitol Hill. However, no specific congressional approval is needed for Israel.

Under parliamentary procedure, a sale will go through unless Congress rejects it within 60 days. The House and Senate can halt such transactions only by passing resolutions of disapproval.

The Associated Press questioned each member of the House committee, which began considering the war plans Monday.

Dunne receives Sheedy Award

Fr. John S. Dunne, C.S.C., professor of theology, has been chosen the recipient of the Sheedy Award for outstanding teaching in the College of Arts and Letters.

A leading figure in what is known as the "narrative school" of theology, Dunne has been a popular teacher in the 21 years he has been on the Notre Dame faculty. In 1969 he received a Danforth Foundation Habibson Award, a distinction bestowed on the nation's outstanding young teachers.

Dunne has written five books, earning for himself such accolades as "the most original religious thinker of our time." His first book entitled The City of the Gods appeared in 1965. His latest, completed work, Reasons of the Heart, will soon be in print.

A 1951 Notre Dame graduate, Dunne did his postgraduate work at the Gregorian University in Rome. He held the Riggs Chair in Yale University's Department of Religious Studies in 1972-73 and gave undergraduate lectures at Oxford University in 1978.

Established by an anonymous donor to honor Fr. Charles E. Sheedy, C.S.C., former dean of the College, the award includes a $1,000 gift. Recipients are chosen by a student-faculty committee, and the award will be presented next month during the Arts and Letters Advisory Council meeting on campus.
WASHINGTON (AP)-Solar energy—everybody's for it; nobody's against it.

It isn't really free and easy, and adopting it in place of oil, gas, coal and uranium will be at best a long, costly and uncertain process.

But solar energy has so much going for it that optimists want an all-out drive, on the scale of wartime mobilization, to base the nation's economy on energy drawn directly or indirectly from the light and heat of the sun.

And the worst thing pessimists can say about it is that we can't switch to solar energy fast enough.

Denis Hayes, who organized "Earth Day" in 1970 to publicize the environmental movement and originated the idea of today's "Sun Day" demonstrations, is one of the optimists.

"Federal policy has, in the past, consistently discriminated against those forms of energy that represent our brightest hopes," he said. "The real leadership is not to be found in Washington," he said, but all over the country, where companies, local governments and private citizens are building, encouraging and inventing new solar projects.

First lady Rosalynn Carter, Energy Secretary James B. Schlesinger, the president's consumer affairs assistant Esther Peterson, and officials of 14 agencies proclaimed the government's support of solar energy development yesterday and outlined scores of federal projects.

But Hayes told them that all this effort still is not enough. "Solar supporters hoped to see the direct solar energy budget doubled," said Hayes, referring to the Carter administration's budget proposals for fiscal 1979. "Instead, it was cut 10 percent...A far more ambitious solar energy program must be designed."

In fact, administration officials say a new emphasis on solar energy will emerge in "Phase Two," the next round of national energy policies to be tentatively outlined this autumn and proposed to Congress early next year.

At first glance, everything seems to favor solar energy sweeping the world—which, in fact, it does every day. The sun shines "free" in the earth's oldest and most basic energy source, absorbed and converted by plants into man's food and animal fuels.

But collecting and using solar energy is not free. Solar equipment tends to be expensive—too expensive, in most cases, to compete economically with conventional fuels today.

However, that picture is rapidly changing as those fuel prices rise and solar equipment costs come down as a result of technical advances and the beginnings of mass production.

And the initial high investment in solar equipment looks less daunting when you realize there are no fuel costs once it is installed.

Still, solar energy is not quite ready to take over. The sun shines only during the day. Sunshine is reduced by cloudy weather and short days of winter. Rainfall and crop growth are irregular.

The technicians are still searching for adequate, inexpensive ways of storing energy to use when solar energy is not directly available.

Where continuous energy is required, solar energy now must be backed up by conventional, fuel-burning or electrical sources, greatly increasing the costs. "It has taken industry less than six years to reduce the price of solar electric panels from $100 per watt to $1 per watt," one veteran of solar development reported last month at a conference in Califorinia.

A similar reduction will occur during the next six years, from $10 to under $1 per watt," he predicted. That is the installation price that most experts consider nearly competitive with conventional power plants.

Swimming rules announced

Outdoor swimming on campus is restricted to St. Joseph's Lake, according to a recent directive from the office of James Roemer, Dean of Students.

The directive says that lifeguards will be on duty to oversee the cordoned area, the only area where swimming is allowed, from 9 a.m. each day at 10 a.m., conditions permitting.

Roemer also listed several rules for use of the beach. No food, fires, alcoholic beverages, vehicles, pets or flotation devices are allowed.

Those students wishing to use the beach must register with the security office.

University faculty, staff, spouses and children will be allowed to use the beach for a one-time $1 fee, payable upon registration with security.

"Do you feel a cold draft?"

STROHS
For the real beer lover.
ND student government survey asks students about environment

Aileen Lavin

Recently Notre Dame Student Government surveyed a cross-section of students in a questionnaire to gather information concerning their views on their environment.

The questionnaire was designed by Student Body Vice President Michael Lewis, Assistant Professor of Psychology, Sheridan P. McCabe, and students Andy Herring and Jim Seifert. The results of the survey will be tabulated by a committee of four students on the Council of Community Affairs, which will be published in the fall. The students on the committee are Carolynn Belvin Koval, Mary Ellen Pearce, and Bob Fontana.

According to Roohan, "The purpose of the poll is for Student Government to get in touch with the students' needs."

"As Student Government progresses through the year it is necessary to stay in touch with students' needs and desires to better serve them," Roohan explained.

Participants for the survey were chosen randomly from the Student Directory.

The questionnaire was designed to allow the participants to explain their feelings rather than have them choose an answer from a given list, Roohan said. "In the average survey you gain more hard-core statistical data, but you wanted more student input about problems on campus and what students want to change," Roohan emphasized.

The survey covers a variety of statements about campus environment. Following the statements the students were asked to describe their feelings about the subject ranging from "strongly agree" to "strongly disagree."

Participants were then given the chance to elaborate on these evaluations by answering three questions: what things exist or have happened to make you feel this way, how have you responded to this situation, and what could be done to change or improve the situation.

The first statement dealt with the quality of Student Government itself in representing the views of the students. Other general questions concerned security, the social value of class activities, and the drinking habits of Notre Dame students.

Participants were also asked to list three opinions on the awareness of students about third world concerns, the interracial studies on campus, and the opportunity for spiritual growth at Notre Dame.

Participants in the survey were asked to express their feelings on the adequacy of LaFerriere as a social center as well as the adequacy of career guidance for upper-classmen.

The subject of co-residential living as a step in the normalization of male-female relationships was also presented in the survey for students' opinions. "Most Com­munity Helene Marks is presently researching the subject; therefore, Student Government is interested in finding students' true feelings about this," Roohan said.

Basically, she is just examining the proposals brought before other authorities and this university, and introducing herself to what this would entail," Roohan explained.

The last statement of the survey considers the possibility of permitting lofts to be built as a way of dealing with residence hall overcrowding. Housing Commissioner John Simari is head of a committee that has written a proposal which will be brought before the Campus Life Council tomorrow.

In general, the proposal suggests that lofts be permitted as long as they strictly adhere to certain standards that would prevent them from being fire hazards.

Student Body President Andy McKenna said he is planning to continue the surveys on a monthly basis.

"We found it really helpful in getting the students' sentiments about life at Notre Dame," McKenna said. "There are a lot of things students feel strongly about that are not heard. We will use the poll to tap their feelings so that we can be more productive."

Egan speaks at meeting of local Alumni Club

by Michael Lewis

News Editor

The Notre Dame Alumni Club of the St. Joseph Valley met in the Monon Room of the Athletic and Convocation Center last night as a part of Notre Dame Night.

Mr. John Egan, special assistant to President Fr. Theodore Hesburgh, was the principal speaker.

Egan spoke on the theme of the night, "Notre Dame, facing new challenges." He said that he was "deeply honored" to work with Hesburgh. "To be able to work with Fr. Hesburgh for Notre Dame is a dream come true," he stated.

He noted that his duty is to "try to relate Notre Dame more effectively with the Church throughout the United States." Egan also stressed the on-academic programs, such as the Center for Human Development and the Center for Pastoral Liturgy, that this problem.

"Notre Dame is, and must be, a place­maybe the primary place­where the Church does it thinking," he said.

Egan also mentioned the important of the Campaign for Notre Dame, stating that the campaign was almost two-thirds of the way towards its goal of $30 million. The campaign has raised approximately $86 million in its first year.

Egan also mentioned the "agenda" of the University, that this year, Brian Regan, ND alumnus and assistant to Saint Mary's President John Regan, was presented with the Club's University of Notre Dame Award for his contributions to ND, Saint Mary's and the club.

An overflow crowd gathered last night in the Library Auditorium to listen to bloopers and goofs which were collected by Herb Graff. (Photo by Bill Reisteed)
Bookstore Basketball: Not Again

kathy gorman & nanette bufalino

We have just finished another season of Bookstore Basketball. Every year teams of students play to win and crowds of friends come to cheer. This year the stakes were small yet the wills were strong. But over the years, this time has become more than a battle between teams divided by friendly, racial or ethnic lines - it has become a battle being played on the floor of the bookstore and the crowd of fans watching from outside. It is now a larger basketball game among fans but a racial aggregation.

Anywhere, but especially at Notre Dame, this seems unbelievable and unmistakably hypothetical. When any minority student is representing ND, they are a part of an aggregate of students of many races. We can all be proud of - they are accepted, and most of, supported. Our student body is made up of individuals with many different backgrounds to play, the crowds become hostile.

But a few years ago, the students at the bookstore basketball games knew this is true. We have just completed a project on Racial Discrimination at Notre Dame. There are two kinds of racism - structural and personal. It would, in effect, make it much more difficult to get eaten by a wild lion, and it would make it much safer to walk the road at night. Secondly, it would make ND really more of a university, and this is something that is worth considering. The University has a golden opportunity to put up or shut down further discussion of the problems we are discussing here. In my three years at Notre Dame, I have come to believe that the solution is something that can be most appropriately addressed by the University's policies and actions. We have just finished another season of Bookstore Basketball.

Guardhouse best solution for security

Dear Editor:

It is indeed commendable that Dean Roemer (SMC) has recommended (among others) are searching for a solution to the problems we must deal with on the back road to Saint Mary's. But good intentions are never enough. Good actions must also be taken. Good actions must always be coupled with wise proposals. It is in this light that we offer the following proposal, which we believe represents a reasonable and effective solution to the problem.

The real solution was touched upon by Security Audit Inc. (SAI), and will be voiced by any student who travels the road: establish a permanent guardhouse at the west gate. If no other proposal is implemented, this one logically must be. There are many advantages to this proposal. First of all, it is a location halfway between Holy Cross (HC) and Holy Cross (HCW), the two main areas on campus where incidents have occurred in the past. Second, it would command a good view in all directions, thus making it possible to detect any potential threat from a distance.

Fourthly, it is ultimately the cheapest, most effective and most valuable solution. Instead of wasting time and money on less effective, temporary security guards, the guardhouse is a lasting, effective and extremely valuable proposal. It is also so painfully obvious a solution, that I am forced to write this letter.

Firstly, over a three years at Notre Dame, I have heard much about "brotherhood", "morality", "race relations", and "protection for our own good" (in loco parentis). In my view, this is a strange way to fit together a very valuable or just garbage. It seems a strange opportunity to put up or shut up.

In effect, I would like to see the students on campus will suffer from misinterpretations of the facts on the part of the Housing and Admissions offices. For example, this year in Lyons a small, three-room quartet was converted into three one-room doubles, in which it is difficult to avoid bumping into one's desk or roommate. Next year, two of the reasonably-sized R.A. rooms in Lyons will be designated as doubles, by any means in R.A.'s to occupy singles which have previously been available to upperclassmen. In Walsh, some quads which were designated has been converted to quints. In none of these rooms, as converted, will appeal to upperclassmen, freshmen will have to tolerate overwhelming conditions along with their other adjustment problems.

We realize that we are indeed in the minority in our concerns over the attitudes of many students on campus. But even if we are, we have not been, as a group, a group supportive of or accepting of the minority students. It seems pertinent that we all reflect the possibilities of our own beliefs and actions. The image of the University that we convey to the public is that of the University that we live in.

New frost stuck with crammed rooms

Dear Editor:

We are very disappointed to learn that, for the second consecutive year, a row, students on campus will be forced to live in overcrowded and even unlivable living conditions. This is a situation that most of the University's students will suffer from misinterpretations.

For example, this year in Lyons a small, three-room quartet was converted into three one-room doubles, in which it is difficult to avoid bumping into one's desk or roommate. Next year, two of the reasonably-sized R.A. rooms in Lyons will be designated as doubles, by any means in R.A.'s to occupy singles which have previously been available to upperclassmen. In Walsh, some quads which were designated as quints have been converted to quints. In none of these rooms, as converted,

Season's heroes reviled at bookstore

Dear Editor:

My sister wanted to write in response to actions I have seen during this week of basketball games. As a concerned student I felt it was necessary to express what is sure to be widespread. I have observed during the weekend's actions and activities to be a negative action against certain teams.

The report I would like to make is of the actions of the crowd during a post-game incident. The black team is on the court, the coaches are usually round and tight and the players and "fans" who are supporting the Truthbreak Express F. H., and the "fans" who are members of the team may be. To me and other observers, it makes for an extremely flicker point of view. For the people who were present it makes for an extremely flicker point of view. For the people who were present it makes for an extremely flicker point of view. For the people who were present it makes for an extremely flicker point of view. For the people who were present it makes for an extremely flicker point of view.

The incident occurred between two black girls who were performing in the N.C.A.A. quarterfinals that are the same people who were being hooted toiously on the Bookstore Basketball court. The same foot ball players who comprised the
My Section and Welcome to It

marcy mcbriden

Wednesday, May 3, 1978

The observer

Watch out for the suitcases on your way in. The floor is grungy, the walls are dirty, and the ceiling? Yeah, we think it lends character to the place. I can't take it. Well, I'm not sure if she washed them, she washed them behind the ears. I think she had a chugging contest last weekend; she's got a monstrous crush on some guy in room 575. She probably out in the library now; she's probably out of her mind looking for him. She's the only girl on campus with a moustache. She's probably out with Captain and Welcome to It.

The Sunday edition is out today at the Shoshone Hall front desk, but it didn't work out. I think he might have been busy last weekend. Scr eens has the only single in the hall; her roommate found out about her shrunken head collection and moved to the next room. Well, yes, it is a little noisy down there, but then she gets to food sales for anyone else.

When I was in the library last week, she happened to come across some guy in the elevator. I think she was a bit too surprised by the sudden appearance of an animal in her sight.

The room next door belongs to Blown-Away Koswec; affectionately referred to as B.A. B.A.'s room ever burned down, the whole campus would be high for three days. We first got the idea that she's had her mouth washed out with soap. We just can't hold their Dr. Pepper. It think she might be asleep. It's kind of hard to tell sometimes. Her name is Maybelle Koskewicz. We almost didn't get her to come down from the roof of the library in one piece, but Screeks had the brilliant idea of sending her an estimate for her funeral. Kate is a whole another story now; we heard she was trying to buy a Mount Rushmore so she could turn Abraham Lincoln's nose into a ski resort.

Well, that's about it. You should really come to our end-of-the-year party next Friday. Scr eens and Captain Sarah are collaborating on something they call Baby rump; one glass and you get a sort of mint. Our female dancers may possibly be there; we're going to lay her across some suitcases and chair her for a coat rack. Well, I hear they might be in love when she started spending hours sitting in front of the rock with a pair of binoculars.

B.A.'s roommate, Lavinia Fevich, hasn't been on speaking terms with the floor for a month now; she's got a monstrous crush on some guy in room 575. We first got the idea that they might be in love when she started spending half her waking hours sitting in front of the rock with a pair of binoculars. She sent him Valentine's Day carnations. I think she was a bit too surprised by the sudden appearance of an animal in her sight.

The room next door belongs to Blown-Away Koswec; affectionately referred to as B.A. B.A.'s room ever burned down, the whole campus would be high for three days. We first got the idea that she's had her mouth washed out with soap. We just can't hold their Dr. Pepper. It think she might be asleep. It's kind of hard to tell sometimes. Her name is Maybelle Koskewicz. We almost didn't get her to come down from the roof of the library in one piece, but Screeks had the brilliant idea of sending her an estimate for her funeral. Kate is a whole another story now; we heard she was trying to buy a Mount Rushmore so she could turn Abraham Lincoln's nose into a ski resort.

Well, that's about it. You should really come to our end-of-the-year party next Friday. Scr eens and Captain Sarah are collaborating on something they call Baby rump; one glass and you get a sort of mint. Our female dancers may possibly be there; we're going to lay her across some suitcases and chair her for a coat rack. Well, I hear they might be in love when she started spending hours sitting in front of the rock with a pair of binoculars.

B.A.'s roommate, Lavinia Fevich, hasn't been on speaking terms with the floor for a month now; she's got a monstrous crush on some guy in room 575. We first got the idea that they might be in love when she started spending half her waking hours sitting in front of the rock with a pair of binoculars. She sent him Valentine's Day carnations. I think she was a bit too surprised by the sudden appearance of an animal in her sight.

The room next door belongs to Blown-Away Koswec; affectionately referred to as B.A. B.A.'s room ever burned down, the whole campus would be high for three days. We first got the idea that she's had her mouth washed out with soap. We just can't hold their Dr. Pepper. It think she might be asleep. It's kind of hard to tell sometimes. Her name is Maybelle Koskewicz. We almost didn't get her to come down from the roof of the library in one piece, but Screeks had the brilliant idea of sending her an estimate for her funeral. Kate is a whole another story now; we heard she was trying to buy a Mount Rushmore so she could turn Abraham Lincoln's nose into a ski resort.

Well, that's about it. You should really come to our end-of-the-year party next Friday. Scr eens and Captain Sarah are collaborating on something they call Baby rump; one glass and you get a sort of mint. Our female dancers may possibly be there; we're going to lay her across some suitcases and chair her for a coat rack. Well, I hear they might be in love when she started spending hours sitting in front of the rock with a pair of binoculars.

B.A.'s roommate, Lavinia Fevich, hasn't been on speaking terms with the floor for a month now; she's got a monstrous crush on some guy in room 575. We first got the idea that they might be in love when she started spending half her waking hours sitting in front of the rock with a pair of binoculars. She sent him Valentine's Day carnations. I think she was a bit too surprised by the sudden appearance of an animal in her sight.

The room next door belongs to Blown-Away Koswec; affectionately referred to as B.A. B.A.'s room ever burned down, the whole campus would be high for three days. We first got the idea that she's had her mouth washed out with soap. We just can't hold their Dr. Pepper. It think she might be asleep. It's kind of hard to tell sometimes. Her name is Maybelle Koskewicz. We almost didn't get her to come down from the roof of the library in one piece, but Screeks had the brilliant idea of sending her an estimate for her funeral. Kate is a whole another story now; we heard she was trying to buy a Mount Rushmore so she could turn Abraham Lincoln's nose into a ski resort.

Well, that's about it. You should really come to our end-of-the-year party next Friday. Scr eens and Captain Sarah are collaborating on something they call Baby rump; one glass and you get a sort of mint. Our female dancers may possibly be there; we're going to lay her across some suitcases and chair her for a coat rack. Well, I hear they might be in love when she started spending hours sitting in front of the rock with a pair of binoculars.

B.A.'s roommate, Lavinia Fevich, hasn't been on speaking terms with the floor for a month now; she's got a monstrous crush on some guy in room 575. We first got the idea that they might be in love when she started spending half her waking hours sitting in front of the rock with a pair of binoculars. She sent him Valentine's Day carnations. I think she was a bit too surprised by the sudden appearance of an animal in her sight.

The room next door belongs to Blown-Away Koswec; affectionately referred to as B.A. B.A.'s room ever burned down, the whole campus would be high for three days. We first got the idea that she's had her mouth washed out with soap. We just can't hold their Dr. Pepper. It think she might be asleep. It's kind of hard to tell sometimes. Her name is Maybelle Koskewicz. We almost didn't get her to come down from the roof of the library in one piece, but Screeks had the brilliant idea of sending her an estimate for her funeral. Kate is a whole another story now; we heard she was trying to buy a Mount Rushmore so she could turn Abraham Lincoln's nose into a ski resort.

Well, that's about it. You should really come to our end-of-the-year party next Friday. Scr eens and Captain Sarah are collaborating on something they call Baby rump; one glass and you get a sort of mint. Our female dancers may possibly be there; we're going to lay her across some suitcases and chair her for a coat rack. Well, I hear they might be in love when she started spending hours sitting in front of the rock with a pair of binoculars.

B.A.'s roommate, Lavinia Fevich, hasn't been on speaking terms with the floor for a month now; she's got a monstrous crush on some guy in room 575. We first got the idea that they might be in love when she started spending half her waking hours sitting in front of the rock with a pair of binoculars. She sent him Valentine's Day carnations. I think she was a bit too surprised by the sudden appearance of an animal in her sight.

The room next door belongs to Blown-Away Koswec; affectionately referred to as B.A. B.A.'s room ever burned down, the whole campus would be high for three days. We first got the idea that she's had her mouth washed out with soap. We just can't hold their Dr. Pepper. It think she might be asleep. It's kind of hard to tell sometimes. Her name is Maybelle Koskewicz. We almost didn't get her to come down from the roof of the library in one piece, but Screeks had the brilliant idea of sending her an estimate for her funeral. Kate is a whole another story now; we heard she was trying to buy a Mount Rushmore so she could turn Abraham Lincoln's nose into a ski resort.

Well, that's about it. You should really come to our end-of-the-year party next Friday. Scr eens and Captain Sarah are collaborating on something they call Baby rump; one glass and you get a sort of mint. Our female dancers may possibly be there; we're going to lay her across some suitcases and chair her for a coat rack. Well, I hear they might be in love when she started spending hours sitting in front of the rock with a pair of binoculars.
Carter says new budgeting works

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Jimmy Carter's new budget rules ordered the federal government to rely exclusively on preparing spending requests for next year, a report by the Office of Management and Budget said.

The report said that despite some start-up problems, the technique is off to a good start after a one-year tryout.

In effect, federal agencies will be shedding the training wheels, they said last year when they gave the president's budget review officers two sets of requests, one prepared in the new zero-base format and the other in traditional form.

Traditionally, federal agencies have enough money to cover the costs of last year's programs, allowing for inflation, plus new programs. They tend to spend the most time and effort justifying those new programs. The idea of zero base budgeting is to justify all programs, even those that have been around for years, Carter said.

More importantly, agency officials are supposed to assign each spending alternative a rank, from the most important to the least important. This amounts to saying which spending project can be cut first, something government officials are reluctant to do.

While saying the new method is off to a good start, the report acknowledged some problems. Officials sometimes had trouble figuring out what they were supposed to accomplish with the taxpayer's money. Some officials simply warned higher-ups of potential cuts rather than describing how they could get by with less.

Most agencies had trouble figuring out what minimum level of money they could get by on.

The report didn't attempt to place a dollar value on savings from the first year of zero-base budgeting. "We don't want to oversell this thing," said George H. Strauss of OMB.

But the report did give some examples of the benefits claimed for the first year, including the trimming of 25 low-priority jobs from the Occupational Safety and Health Administration and a recommendation by the Coast Guard to phase out a program of assisting states to conduct safe-boating programs.

"The program had achieved its objective," the report said.

Bloopers delight

(continued from page 5)

was done in 1978. "The rhetoric the actors were using is the same thing that is heard today," he observed.

Graff concluded the talk by showing a film made by "the only genius I've had in all the Hassel I've taught." "The kid is a horror freak," he said. He took sequences from famous horror films, spliced them together, and set them to Frank Sinatra singing "The Kid from Philadelphia." "He said, 'After this, nothing can fol-low.'

ATTENTION! SOPHOMORES

Place your ring order before you leave for SUMMER VACATION: This will assure you of having it when you return to school in the fall.

HOURS: 9:00 A.M. TO 4:30 P.M.
MON.-FRI.
IN THE OFFICE ON THE FIRST FLOOR
HAMMES NOTRE DAME BOOKSTORE

Lord make me your bread... then break me up and pass me around...

CONGREGATION OF THE BLESSED SACRAMENT
Priests and Brothers serving Christ in the Eucharist and in Mankind for further information contact:
Rav. Ernest Falardeau, S.S.S. Blessed Sacrament Seminary
5384 Wilson Mills Road Cleveland, Ohio 44134 (216) 442-3410

C:

Alumni -Senior Picnic scheduled for Saturday

by Reed King

The first annual Alumni-Senior Picnic, sponsored by the Notre Dame Alumni Association and Student Government, will be held Saturday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Stetson Center. According to Patty Dondanville, outgoing alumni representative to Student Government, some 180 alumni from all over the country will be at the picnic to talk with graduating seniors. The visiting alumni and members of the Alumni Board and Alumni Senate, which represents the 58,000 members of the Alumni Association.

"The program had achieved its objective," the report said.

Special 10% Discount
On All Merchandise To Notre Dame & Saint Mary's Students.
SU Board votes to continue policy

On April 27, the Board of Commissioners voted 5-3 to continue the Student Union Complimentary Ticket Policy. At the same meeting, the board voted to publish the policy and to solicit student response to it.

According to the Student Union Steering Committee, who also approved the policy, it is a small attempt to think the people who put in many hours to free labor in working on Union projects.

Anyone who would like a copy of the policy can obtain it at the Student Union office, located on the second floor of LaFortune. If you would like to comment on the policy, please call the Ombudsman at 620 and register your opinion.

Sign up for FU

extended

The Free University course sign up deadline originally set for last Friday has been extended. Applications from those who wish to teach a Free University course will now be accepted until Friday. For more information, call 7575 or 1158.

Freshman class sponsors mass

The Freshman Advisory Council has planned a class mass for 6:30 this evening. Fr. Francis Caffarelli will celebrate the mass at the Grotto. In case of rain, the mass will be moved to Sacred Heart Church.

Immediately after the service, the class tree will be blessed in front of the Student Union. In case of rain, the mass will celebrate the mass at the Grotto. In case of rain, the mass will be moved to Sacred Heart Church.

ND German Club accepts members

The Notre Dame German Club is now accepting memberships for the 1978-79 school year. Those interested should give their names to Jean Thompson (629-4494) or Ken Shandre (629-4426) before the end of the semester.

This past year the German Club sponsored a variety of events including "Innsbrucker Night" at the Senior Bar, a reception for the German consulate at Detroit, and two trips to Chicago.

The club meets several times a semester to discuss current topics of interest and to hear presentations by faculty members on various aspects of German culture.

Hunger Coalition to hold interviews

Interviews will be held tomorrow morning for Hunger Coalition directorships. Secretary, treasurer, dining hall fastings and collections, public relations, education, research, liturgy and Saint Mary's directorships are open. Any students interested in a position should call John at 8732 or Maria at 4-736.

Rice to discuss abortion tonight

Tonight at 7 p.m. in the LaFortune Auditorium, Prof. Charles Rice of the Notre Dame Law School will discuss the legal aspects of abortion in the United States. The lecture is sponsored by the Notre Dame-Saint Mary's Right to Life Association.

Buckley celebrates last fasters mass

Fr. Jim Buckley, C.S.C., head of the German consulate at Detroit, and two trips to Chicago.

The club meets several times a semester to discuss current topics

Buses will run on the Saturday schedule, ending at 12:15 a.m. tomorrow and Tuesday, May 8 (Study Day). The regular MWF schedule will be followed on all exam days, until 4 p.m. Saturday. The regular Saturday schedule will be followed after 4 p.m. on that day.

There will be no bus service after Tuesday, May 16, at 2 p.m.

Seniors to receive $50 room refund

Notre Dame Seniors will receive their $50 room deposit refunds, minus any deductions for damages, this summer through the mail.

The checks are usually mailed out in mid-July. Any graduate who does not receive his refund or whose refund is delayed should contact Edmund Price, the new director of housing.

Curran publishes book on ethics

Ethical and medical ethics—primary concerns of contemporary moral theology—are the subjects of a collection of essays by Fr. Charles E. Curran recently published by the Notre Dame Press under the title "Issues in Sexual and Medical Ethics.

Curran, a diocesan priest from Rochester, NY, who teaches theology at The Catholic University of America, is a widely known author on ethical questions and a past president of both the American Society of Christian Ethics and the Catholic Theological Society of America.

Help wanted!

Part-time positions available this summer and next school year.

River City Records / The River City Review

Call Peter Kernan at 277-4242 for an appointment.

River City Records

SOUTH BEND'S LARGEST AND MOST COMPLETE RECORD STORE

$1.00 OFF!

Any L.P. Or Tape

With This Coupon!

Now thru May 22!

(The coupon per person. Coupons not valid for certain items in our sale section.)

River City Records

50970 U.S. 31 North

South Bend

277-4242

3 miles North of campus

Student Union Social Commission has it all for you!

and it's FREE!!!
HPC refuses comp tickets

Because of increasing student and faculty demand for tickets, Busick told DeGrande that he has reached "a sell-out situation," and that a new ticket policy might have to be put into effect this summer.

The policy proposed by Busick would increase the number of tickets available to SMC students from 181 to 200. It would eliminate the number of tickets available to freshmen in 400- about half the number of tickets ordered by the freshman class this year.

According to Busick's plan, enrolling freshmen would be sent ticket applications over the summer, probably in the first few weeks of July. All those applications received by a certain date-possibly August 1-would be included in a lottery to determine which freshmen would receive tickets.

Ticket distribution for sophomores, juniors and seniors will probably be run in a manner similar to the way in which it was run this year, DeGrande said.

In other matters, McKenna addressed the HPC with a statement of his objectives and goals for next year. McKenna stated that "The most difficult problem facing any student government is the annual turnover of its leadership."

"The projects of one administration, initiated through dedicated effort, can be stalled or ignored by ineffective transition of these ideas to the next administration," McKenna said.

According to McKenna, top student government priorities for next year include the completion of the LaFortune renovations, resolution of the housing and current overcrowding problems, a commitment to the provision of the Co-coed dormitory, greater service of the needs of the off-campus students, the establishment of an improved security program and the creation of innovative social responsibility programs.

Later in the meeting, Andy Hecker presented a proposal concerning the LaFortune renovations.

The proposal, which was unanimously supported by the HPC and will go to the CUC tonight, contained two requests. First, it asked that "the Administration follow up on what the Board of Trustees promised." Second, it suggested that the renovation of the basement, as outlined in the original renovation proposal be completed, "even though we realize that all parts of the plan are not feasible at this time."

The Administration had decided not to renovate the basement at all because of the legal problems that would have been encountered by serving beer. The original plan called for the construction of a pub in the basement.

In other business, DeGrande announced that HPC President and Executive Coordinator Andy Hecker will be replaced by a new executive coordinator to be chosen by DeGrande and presented to the HPC for approval at the first meeting of next semester.

Lebanese fighting erupts

BERUIT, Lebanon (AP) - Leftist guerrillas fired on French peace-keeping troops in southern Lebanon twice yesterday, killing one and wounding seven, a United Nations spokesman said. Five French soldiers and a Palestinian Liberation Organization officer were reported missing.

Among those wounded was Col. Jean Salvan, commander of the French forces in southern Lebanon. A United Nations spokesman in New York gave this account:

"Palestinian guerrillas ambushed a French vehicle northeast of Tyre yesterday evening, wounding one French soldier. At that time a Palestinian Liberation Organization (PLO) representative was at French battalion headquarters in Tyre talking with Col. Salvan. They drove to the ambush area to investigate and were followed by two French soldiers in a U.N. jeep.

Shortly after they left, Palestinian-opened fire on the harriers, killing one French soldier and wounding five.

Salvan's bulled-riddled jeep was found in Tyre. Salvan was reported out of danger in a Beirut hospital, but the fate of the PLO officer was not known. The U.N. jeep with the two French soldiers had not been located.

At about the same time a French armored car with a crew of three was reported missing. It was found destroyed near Tyre, but information was available on its crew.

Lebanese leftist militiamen allied to the PLO yesterday said they launched a mortar attack on French headquarters Monday in retaliation for an "ambush" incident by Palestinian militiamen Sunday by French troops.

The PLO said one of its men was killed and two French paratroopers were wounded in the revenge attack, which broke out while the PLO was mediating a dispute between the French and the militia.

Yesterday's casualties brought to six the number of U.N. troops wounded since the Lebanese leftist forces entered southern Lebanon in March to supervise an Israeli withdrawal.

Earl Campbell sets goals for new career with Oilers

NEW YORK (AP) - Earl Campbell, the No. 1 pick in the National Football League's college draft, said he doesn't expect to walk in and take over with the Houston Oilers.

"It's up to Coach Bum Phillips to raise me," said the 6-foot-1, 200-pound running back of the University of Texas.

"The pace is much faster in the pros than in college and I really don't anticipate too many problems. I'm just Earl.

"Campbell, the 1977 Heisman Trophy winner, ran for 1,744 yards in his senior year with the Longhorns. However, he said he won't put pressure on himself to produce right away.

"I'm not going to try to be Denny Brown, O.J. Simpson or Tony Dorsett. I'm just going to work hard and know what Earl can do.

"I look up to three different football players -O.J. Brown, John Riggins and Harris - they can all do block and catch the football; they're the kind of player I want to be.

"Campbell stressed that he has two major goals for his rookie season.

"I want my teammates to accept me as a human being as well as a football player. In order for this to happen, I can't be nervous. Anyhow, if I get nervous, my blood pressure will just go up," he said.

Campbell, an All-American, said he had reached a tentative contract agreement with the Oilers and that he expects to sign this week.

"The biggest part of this is being able to help my mother, she's not getting any younger. I'm glad to stay in Texas near my family. I'm in the process of buying my mother's house. She's told me I don't have to, but I want to," he said.

"The Oilers were able to draft Campbell after routing four draft picks and tight end Jimmy Giles to the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. Phillips had indicated he would use his first round pick on a running back.

"It doesn't matter to me whether I play halfback or fullback, just so long as I play," said Campbell. "I'll just try to get the job done my way. I someone likes my style, that's great."
Lewis beats Regina to claim football title, 20-0

In this year's annual clash between the Saint Mary's Championship Team and Regina's Football Buns, the Lewis Hall Team reigned victorious over Regina's footballers. Lewis won the scoring on the very first play of the game, when Safety Nolan Kelly ran back the opponent's kickoff for a touchdown. The extra point was missed, but Lewis led 6-0.

Lewis struck again in the second half, this time when quarterback Mary Ellen Pearce stepped in for Byron Murphy to throw the pass. Mary Ellen Pearce, who accounted for seven of Lewis' points, "Our team really worked well together, I feel proud to be a part of the campus championship team."
Jeff Carpenter woke up Monday morning with a sore, split lip. While it only hurt when he smiled, Carpenter was all smiles Monday morning as he savored the satisfaction of owning bragging rights in the sporting world that says a player can think what he wants as long as he does not think out loud. Carpenter broke this unwritten vow of silence and spoke to a now defunct Chicago Tribune about a gritty guard that lacked the outside shot but made up with hustle and a desire to play the game. He was admired by many for his court, but certainly he will not be remembered with names like Batton and Walter Camp Trophy as college football's outstanding lineman. Representing him at contract talks, coach Dan Devine had said that Cincinnati grabbed the 6-foot-3, ber, Bradley said he was the team's spark plug continued his fiery play when Digger allowed him one-handers and swishing foul shots. Indeed, Carpy had saved the best for last. Carpy's varsity career was brought to an end this weekend by defeating the University of Illinois-Edwardsville and San Francisco in the Notre Dame. Then I dreamed of the Lombardi Trophy for the past Notre Dame players. With the best pair of corners in the league, Carpy ended his career on a winning note; it was a 4-2 victory over the Bears. Carpy's appreciation. Carpy's son had been a member of little easier with one hand. "My brother, O.J. Simpson in us, but this choice was made on the basis of what it meant to the organization impressed fee when asked about his pro career. "It was a good season," Bradly said. "We had thoughts to get somebody in a more acute situation for us, but this choice was made on the basis of what it means to the team."

In the final contest, The Roadrunner was not as brilliant as the day before, but quite appropriately since Saturday's performance was out of the ordinary. Terry Miller broadcast the day before's performance. "We feel that with Carpy in the lineup, we have the best pair of corners in the league," Bradly said. "We had thoughts to get somebody in a more acute situation for us, but this choice was made on the basis of what it means to the team." Carpy's son, Ken MacAfee, AJI-American Sports Writer by Debbie Dahling Sports Writer The nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe... the nettters of Saint Mary's uppe...