ALCOHOL

The alcohol regulations at the University will be enforced by the Dean of Students in all situations which come to his attention. He is instructing Residence Assistants, Assistant Rectors, and Residence Assistants to enforce these alcohol regulations in and around their respective halls. Alcohol abuse at Notre Dame is a real problem. If people abuse alcohol and the alcohol regulations, strict sanctions will be imposed on the offenders as a means of instilling on adority and adherence to these regulations.

On University grounds, alcohol may be consumed only in licensed areas in accordance with appropriate Indiana laws. The University does not object to responsible consumption of alcohol in private residence rooms in accordance with the laws of the State of Indiana which require that a person be twenty-one years of age or older. No alcohol may be consumed or carried in an open container on the grounds of the University. In common rooms, lounges, corridors, parking lots, the Student Union, and all other buildings and grounds on University property except as specifically provided above.

If a student drinks beer, wine, or other alcohol in the football stadium, a fine of $50 will be the minimum sanction. If the abuse is serious, separation from the University may be imposed. The penalties will be applied to all students, whether at all the gates have been instructed to tell all students that they are not allowed to bring cans and bottles into the stadium.

Roohan speaks to HPC on overcrowded conditions

by Dan Lether

Overcrowding was the subject of Student Body Vice President Mike Roohan's address to the Hall President Council (HPC) in Keenan Hall chapel last night.

Roohan stated that the Student Government is "in the process of preparing a report for the Trustees in mid-October concerning overcrowded conditions." He passed out letters and asked that the hall presidents write responses. The letters will offer material for the report to be given to the Trustees. The letter asks the hall presidents whether they feel about freshmen living in dormitories and whether they believe the cause of this problem is, what can be done about it and how overcrowding affects hall and individuals' spirit.

Roohan stated that "input from hall presidents is essential." He also scheduled a meeting on September 11th at 7 p.m. in LaFortune Student Center. This meeting will focus on hall maintenance and plans to use and find more social space which Roohan stated was two other primary campus problems.

Mark Gou W. J. Chairman John McCausland announced that the event will take place on February 7th. Construct in Washington, D.C. is expected to start on January 27th.

Bob Morin, assistant chairman of the council, said that the council members that they should pick and choose the hall representatives and "not just tons the burden on anybody." Morin also said that "We cannot afford to fail." Signaling his conflict with Begin, the Egyptian president said: "This is no time for maneuver and for worn-out ideas. It is time for magnanimity and reason."

He got a red-carpet welcome at Andrews from Vice President Walter Mondale and Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance. Nearly 200 Egyptian W.S.-whirled sang a national song from behind a security barrier. Sadat walked through theorsk and waved.

After his arrival speech, Sadat boarded a helicopter for the final leg to his camp David, northeast of Washington, D.C. Carter was waiting. A similar honor was from a 134-acre hideaway in the Catoctin Mountains of western Maryland, on Monday. .

Conflict goals mark opening of Mideast summit conference

CAMP DAVID, Md. (AP) - Anwar Sadat and Menachem Begin headed into mountain top isolation and the uncertainties of a Mideast conference today, already in conflict over its goals and the role to be played by President Jimmy Carter. "We are here at a crucial crossroads," Sadat said on his arrival at Andrews Air Force Base outside Washington. "The challenge is tremendous. We have no choice but to accept the challenge. We cannot afford to fail." Signaling his conflict with Begin, the Egyptian president said: "This is no time for maneuver and for worn-out ideas. It is time for magnanimity and reason."

He has rejected Begin's suggestion of deliberate consideration over several months of the innumerable issues in conflict between Israel and its Arab neighbors. "I say not to long, drawn-out talks," Sadat said before leaving home. It was Carter who took the political gamble of inviting Begin and Sadat to Camp David. But Begin feels any settlement must flow from direct bargaining between Egypt and Israel and cannot be imposed by the United States. Carter, therefore, is seen by Begin as a mediator but not a formulator of peace terms.

At Sadat's urging, however, Carter has accepted the role of "full partner" in the talks. Sadat wants him to overcome Begin's resistance to committing Israel to withdrawal from the west bank of the Jordan River and to Arab sovereignty over the occupied territories.

One clear implication is that, if a breakthrough is not achieved, Sadat will review Egypt's options, including military measures. Most analysts do not think Cairo is strong enough to wage a war with Israel now, even if Sadat's repositioning alliance with Syria is headed.

Carter flew to Camp David, a 134-acre hideaway in the Catoctin Mountains of western Maryland, on Monday. .

Helmarrs arrive in time for first interhall game

Dominick Napoliato, Director of Interhall Sports, yesterday reported that football helmets were supplied with new safety specifications after several months of the innumerable issues in conflict between FRP Manufacturing, customers, and manufacturers. Napoliato stated that the item was purchased by the University for the protection of the student-athlete. Napoliato stated that the "best equipment is much more important than the length of the football season." He stressed that no injuries occurred in games with a student-athlete's safety.
Terrorist bombs in Israel

JERUSALEM - Two bombs planted by Arab terrorists exploded in Jerusalem yesterday on the eve of the Camp David summit, sending a gasoline station attendant and a police trench digger from America who emigrated to Israel after serving in the Vietnam War, authorities said. Both of the injured were hurt in a bomb blast near a gasoline station. The second bomb went off under an empty tourist bus outside the Jaffa Gate entrance to the Old City and no one was hurt, the police said. Those who had been on the bus are in Israel for a conference of international travel writers. In Beirut, Lebanon, the Palestinian Liberation Organization claimed responsibility for both blasts and vowed to step up "military action against vital targets in areas the enemy considers sealed off by security."

Postal wage talks resume

WASHINGTON - Union negotiators pressed the U.S. Postal Service yesterday for a bigger wage increase as bargainers, seeking to avert a mail strike, resumed face-to-face contract talks for the first time in nearly six weeks. With a Sept. 16 deadline hanging over them, officials from the postal service and three unions representing 365,000 workers held their first joint bargaining session since they reached a tentative agreement in July to avoid a strike. That earlier settlement was rejected by union members, reviving threats of an illegal, nationwide mail strike and prompting a new, 15-day set of talks under the guidance of a special mediator. The mediator, Harvard professor James Healy, called the bargainers into joint talks today and tomorrow in the upper 16th floor rm. of the Old Post Office building in Washington, D.C., for a meeting of the executive board of the Postal Workers Union.

Activities Night to seek members

by Tom McIntee

Student Activities Night, the final event of freshman orientation, is scheduled for September 11 in St. John's Center. "The purpose of Activities Night is to allow the various groups the opportunity to recruit new members, helping these groups to sustain themselves," John Reid, director of Student Activities, stated.

Activities Night is sponsored by the Freshmen Orientation Committee, a branch of Student Government. Carey Ewing, committee chairman, said that it is important "to get freshmen, upperclassmen and transfer students involved now, so at the end of the year they will not regret not getting involved."

According to Ewing, "Activities Night is the only time all the groups get together. It is an excellent opportunity for the student to see what the various groups have to offer and how much time is involved with each group, enabling the student to decide which he wants to do."

Ewing said that getting involved offers a type of release from studying and, depending on the club, a great educational experience.

According to Reid, "A part of a person's education should be involvement in extracurriculars. Extracurriculars offer an opportunity to meet new people, learn about yourself and possibly get some practical experience in a career."

Reid stressed that Activities Night is not just for freshmen.

"While Activities Night has been successful in the past in regards to the freshmen, it has not been particularly successful in attracting upperclassmen. It is an excellent opportunity for a senior who has never been involved to become involved," he said.

Most campus-registered volunteer organizations, departmental honor societies and clubs, athletic groups, campus media and student body and class governments will be represented, as well as some South Bend organizations.

The groups will provide information and answer questions about their policies, purpose and membership regulations.

"The clubs will be there. It is up to student participation to make the evening successful," Ewing stated.

Roohan was present at each HPC meeting because "it is a good place to get ideas, and valuable constructive criticism may be attained." DeGrande announced that he had appointed Mary Paulson as the New HPC executive coordinator. The HPC dinner next Tuesday was discussed, as DeGrande emphasized that the event is not a just a chance to "chit-chat." He stated that "the dinner serves to establish lines of communication between the halls on both campuses." Concerning HPC allocation, DeGrande asked each president to start thinking about his budget request. DeGrande hopes to have the budget allocation completed before the end of the semester. Each allocation application is due the second week of October.

Fr. Hesburgh visits Rome

Hesburgh noted that he had attended the installation of Pope Pius XII in 1939. "I enjoyed this one much more," he said, adding, "I was able to conceive Mass in the Holy Father for the first time."

He commented that with 250,000 people in attendance, the ceremony was "a great moving act of endorsement" for the new pope. "The sun was setting; the air was electric. All told, it was a very joyful family affair," he said.

Hesburgh emphasized that he was very impressed with a letter that President Jimmy Carter sent to Pope John Paul I. "I noted that the two men had much in common because neither expected Carter to be elected either. "It was long, two pages, and full of good hope," said Hesburgh, adding, "it was signed "Yours in Christ, Jimmy Carter.""

Hesburgh also found it interesting that Fritz Mondale, whose father was a Protestant minister, brought back the papal blessing to the American people. He added that Mondale did a "superb job of representing us. He had just the right touch," Hesburgh observed.

Hesburgh would not speculate on any changes that might occur under Pope John Paul's leadership. "No one knew him before, but everybody seemed impressed by what they saw," he said.

The new pope's style, as seen by Hesburgh, seemed to be one of simplicity. "His job will be to serve the people, not lord over them," he said, adding, "Obviously, he will be very interested in the poor." Hesburgh said that he talked to all the American cardinals who look forward to the new pope being a "John (XXIII)-like" leader. "The people seems to be a great hit with everybody who meets him," Hesburgh said.

Wire causes Keenan fire

A faulty extension wire was blamed for a small electrical fire yesterday morning in Keenan Hall. The fire, which broke out at about 11:30 a.m., was quickly extinguished by students. The two occupants of the room were both in class at the time of the fire. Damage was limited to a portable refrigerator.

Fr. Richard Conyers, Keenan Hall rector, explained that the extension cord used to hook up the refrigerator had deteriorated and added that it was insufficient in the first place. The extension cord left the ground wire exposed behind the refrigerator.

"This is a very common situation across campus, and students should be alerted to the danger and urged to purchase proper extension cords where necessary," Conyers said.

The fact that the fire was quickly extinguished prevented further problems since Keenan's fire alarm system had been shut off since yesterday morning. Conyers said that Fritz Mondale, whose father was a Protestant minister, brought back the papal blessing to the American people. He added that Mondale did a "superb job of representing us. Paulson summarized the criteria necessary to win the Trophy. "We look for unique hall-sponsored activities which serve the community, campaigns, and halls. It isn't just one or two activities that single out a dorm—it's more important that the dorm is active throughout the entire year."

DelCorio also stressed "that quality and performance in both intrahall and interhall activities play a major factor in determining who wins the award."
