For RA applicants

Green revises selection process

by Mary Ann Wisial
Staff Reporter

Due to a possible housing problem with its consequent early contract time, the Resident Assis­tant (R.A.) selection process schedule has been shortened. According to Fr. Gregory Green, assistant vice-president for student affairs, both the time of application and interview have been reduced.

"These times have been shortened so that all RA applicants will know of their status earlier in the event that housing plans a sooner contract date," Green said. "I am grateful to the rectors for agreeing to this earlier date because I know that the burdens ultimately fall on them," Green emphasized.

RA applications can be picked up in person with I.D.s in the Student Affairs Office, 315 Administration Building, from Dec. 4 to Jan. 30. Since the application period concludes during Christmas break, Green encourages students who are undecided about making appli­cations to take out application materials before they leave for vacation, and if during the vacation they so decide, have them then complete the appropriate forms.

All completed applications, including applicants required re­commendations, must be returned to the Student Affairs Office by Jan. 22. This filing deadline has also been shortened. Green will briefly screen the applications, checking for the necessary quali­fications and requirements. By January 30, all applicants will hear from Student Affairs whether or not they passed the initial screen­ing.

By Feb. 4, candidates are re­quired to contact the rectors of the "hall of choice" to discuss the possibility of an interview, Green said. "It will be at the discretion of the individual Rector to determine whether, when and how, the can­didates will be interviewed."

By March 1, "it is expected that all rectors will have presented a complete list of RA choices to their office. But, I suggest that rectors inform all their candidates of their (the rector’s) decisions.

The rector’s decisions will be considered final if no outlandish information about them has reached us," Green stated.

Appointed candidates will be notified of their selection. Letters of appreciation will also be sent to those not selected.

"The length of the application period is not the only change from last year’s RA selection process. Most of the application form has also been changed," Green noted.

The hall preference question on the form has been changed from listing the applicant’s first three choices of halls to merely listing the halls which the applicants wishes to seek interview.

"This was done to help alleviate the problems incurred in past years when applicants had to list their hall preferences—then rectors would only interview those appli­cants who listed their halls as the first choice," Green explained.

A question, entitles the Situation Board, was added to this year’s application and should be of interest to the hall rectors," Green said. The question requests the applicant to comment on the application form, and to write a letter to the rectors. The comments came from a South Bend Tribune article on Orientation at Notre Dame.

Again this year three re­commendations will be required for each applicant. Two must come from members (or former members of Hall Head Staff (Rectors and Assistant Rectors, not RA), and one from a former employer.

"Last year this was a require­ment, but this year it was not followed by all applicants. Many students had RA write recommendations for them. It is not that we don’t trust the RA’s recommendations, but we’d rather save them the time it takes to complete the recommen­dation forms," Green said.

As chairman of the Board of Trustees last year, financial need as demonstrated by the Parents Confidential Statement is not a requirement. "But rectors have always considered need while making a selection between equals, so the rectors are urged to be sensitive to the individual appli­cants financial status," Green stated.

The Campus Life Council (CLC) proposed on Nov. 13 that incoming senior RA candidates be given opportunity consideration over graduate candidates in an attempt to provide more housing accommo­dations for undergraduates, Green explained.

"But, I think that rectors should have the freedom to select who they want because they are the ones who will be working with the RAs," Green said.

Members of Head Hall Staff in each dorm received packets yester­day containing information pertaining to the application process. In these packets, Green outlines the pro­gram of Monday’s guidelines which will be the hall rectors.

"We, the members of Hall Head Staff, will also be asked to provide more housing accommoda­tions for undergraduates, Green explained. "But, I think that rectors should have the freedom to select who they want because they are the ones who will be working with the RAs," Green said.

MEXICO CITY (AP) Six strong earthquakes and aftershocks jolted the capital and much of southern Mexico yesterday, damaging build­ings and causing panic in towns and villages from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Officials said more than 100 persons were injured, but Capt. Juan Aciencio Loretto, head of the Red Cross national ambulance service, said, "There are no deaths caused by the earthquakes."

The quakes shattered windows, shook buildings and sent thousands of workers into the streets of Mexico City.

In a downtown hotel, "The bed started moving and a large opening came between the walls," said Yolanda Orozco of Colonia. "The new and old parts of the building came apart about a foot and a half. I jumped out of the opening to get to the stairs."

Vicente, 23, of Jack­sonville, N.J., said she "saw every­thing shaking" and there was "a tidal wave in the swimming pool" at her hotel.

Federal inspectors said some buildings were seriously damaged but that none were destroyed. The inspectors said some buildings twisted on their foundations, but did not cave in.

The tremors—measured as high as 8.5 on the Richter scale—reached through this city of 13 million people beginning at 2:53 a.m. EST. The first tremor was followed in 12 minutes by a stronger quake and about an hour later by another

The first tremor lasted 70 seconds, officials said, and was felt strongly in Guanajuato City, Cuernavaca, and in Chiapas State.

Dr. Jaime Yamamoto, of the Mexican Seismological station, said that all six quakes qualified as "remnants of the quakes that precipitated the devastating earthquake in 1985." Six seismographs measured the quake between 6.5 and 7.9 on the Richter Scale. A reading of 7 is considered a major earthquake.

"People need time. They need time," Eisenberg told a crush of reporters and officials outside the courtroom. He refused to comment on White's emotional state.

White, a 32-year-old former fire­man and policeman, was charged with two counts of first-degree murder, including two counts of first­degree murder, including second degree in the death penalty if White is con­victed.

California voters earlier this year approved a measure extend­ing the death penalty to the murder of police officers. The death penalty already applied to multiple murder.

Judge Reolvols set White’s hearing for Dec. 6 and said the defendant should be prepared to testify.

NEW YORK (AP) — Seven elderly members of the devastated Peoples Temple cult returned to the United States from Guyana yesterday.

Only two of the seven actually were at Jonestown last week when Rep. Leo J. Ryan, D-Calif., and four others were killed in an airstrip massacre and more than 900 followers of the Rev. Jim Jones committed suicide.

Regular passengers aboard the Pan American flight from Timehri to Kennedy International Airport in New York were being allowed to disembark first, then federal officials were to board the craft to talk with the survivors. It was to be up to the individual survivors to decide whether to talk to the media.

"I'm just taking one step at a time," said cult member Raymond Goddah, 62, of Los Angeles, before leaving Guyana. "I need a few days to think things over. I just lost my companion of 38 years. Her name was Viola. She's my wife. Naturally I felt quite badly about it, but you can't cry over spilled milk."

Guyanese authorities said the other 72 survivors of the Jonestown tragedy would not be released until it is certain they are not material witnesses of suspects in the murders of Ryan, other members of his party and cultists in Georgetown. Two survivors already are being held in connection with the Ryan killings.

The lawyer for Charles E. Belk, mustached with murdering cult member Sharon Ann and his three children at the sect's head quarters in Georgetown said yesterday he has filed a writ of habeas corpus for the release of two whose testimony he said was vital to his client's defense.

Attorneys Rex McKay said Paula Adams and Deborah Touchette, both cultists, were at the Georgetown headquarters Nov. 18 when the four were slain. They are among survivors held by Guyana authorities. A preliminary hearing is set Dec. 4 for Belkman, 43, of Indianapolis.

The other six aboard the plane were identified as Hyacinth Thrash, 76, who missed the mass poisoning because she was asleep; Grover Davis, 79, who hid in a ditch; Alvaray Satterwhite, 61; Marian Campbell, 61; Madelene Brooks, 72, and Carol Young, 78. Miss Thrash and Miss Brooks are from San Francisco and Davis said he was from Los Angeles. The Hometowns of the others could not be learned.

Miss Thrash and Davis, the only ones of the group who were in Jonestown during the mass deaths, have stayed in a hotel since. The other five, who were travelling or at the Georgetown headquarters, were kept under heavy guard at the cult head quarter.

Guyanese authorities refused to allow them to leave without express approval of the U.S. Embassy. One other survivor, 84-year-old Miguel DePina, was allowed to leave earlier.

The Guyanese Cabinet appointed an administrator for the cult's Jonestown settlement, 150 miles northwest of Georgetown, where more than 900 followers of the Rev. Jim Jones participated in a mass murder-suicide site following the Ryan shooting Nov. 18.

The seven carried few belongings; some were tennis shoes. They spoke briefly with reporters as they left Georgetown and then as they passed through customs here.

Goddah, a temple member for 13 years who had been in Guyana only two months, said he had respect for Jones. "I like what he was doing," he said. "He was helping people and taking the part of the underdog. I guess I've always done that before I met him, but in a minor way."

Assembly meets

Ellen Buddy
Assistant St. Mary's Editor

Last night the Saint Mary's Student Assembly met briefly to discuss necessary business. Financial Aid information was the first topic of the meeting, presented by Cindy Lenute, student representative from the Financial Aid Office.

Sofranko discussed the programs that are available to Saint Mary's women and explained that the Financial Aid Office wanted to make the information more readily available to all students.

She said, "As long as we can prove that we have more students who are in need of financial aid, we can obtain more Federal money, thus distributing more among the students.

The three programs Sofranko mentioned that are available are: loans, work-study and scholarships. All require consideration of the parents income, students income and expenses and the students' savings and checking accounts.

Once aid is obtained the student must re-apply annually and maintain a GPA of 3.0.

Campus Employment is another program that Sofranko mentioned. It is separate from the Financial Aid Programs in that it is not federally funded and not all many statements need to be filled out.

The second topic on the agenda pertained to a questionnaire sent to students by the Student Assembly regarding the possibility of providing a gynecologist on campus.

The committee, which consists of six students and one administrator, will meet this evening to review the questionnaires and discuss them.

The last business of the evening concerned Women's Opportunity Week (WOW). According to Student Body President, Gail Darragh, they hope to move away from straight lectures and aim toward more audience participation.

Seniors buy fewer Bowl tix this year than last year
by Don Schmid

Student demand for Cotton Bowl Football Tickets is “down considerably from last year” according to Mike Busick, ticket manager. Only 100 tickets of the 2700 available were sold to seniors yesterday, the first day of sales. Busick cited a number of causes for a decline in the demand for tickets this year. “The fact that there was a senior trip to California for the Southern Cal game this year and the fact that the Cotton Bowl game will not decide the national championship are the primary reasons for it,” Busick commented.

Busick added that he expects most of the student allotment of tickets will go to students who live in the Texas area.

Ticket order forms for contributing alumni and faculty were mailed out last Friday. Busick said that it was too early to judge the demand for tickets by alumni and faculty.

Juniors, graduate students, and law school students can purchase tickets today for $6.50 each, a 48 percent discount from the regular ticket price. Sophomores will be able to purchase tickets tomorrow and freshmen may obtain tickets on Monday.

The ticket window will be open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on the second floor of the ACC for students who wish to purchase tickets.

WSND FM, primarily a fine arts station, broadcasts throughout the Michiana area. Its staff consists of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students and interested area residents. WSND FM airs mostly music programs including opera, classical, Broadway, jazz, and Nocturne. Night Flight's progressive sounds Saturday mornings from 11 to noon. Fr. Robert Griffin reads stories on the Children's Hour, the station's only non-musical show.

WSND AM is staffed entirely by Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students. Regular popular music shows throughout the day are the main interest, augmented by special programming such as Radio Free Notre Dame, Blast from the Past, and Speaking of Sports, to name a few.

To keep a radio station running smoothly, many areas must be given attention and need to be well-staffed. WSND AM/FM has its own sales and engineering staffs, as well as extensive news and sports departments.

Of course, just listening or just visiting the station does not tell the entire story. These pictures could not possibly complete this chapter either, but they hopefully will give an idea of the intensity and dedication that makes WSND AM/FM the electrifying radio station that it is.

Egan offers mass for Thorman

A Mass will be offered at Notre Dame in memory of Rev. J. Egan, a friar who served as a priest at Notre Dame, on the second anniversary of his death.

The mass will be offered on March 11 at the Notre Dame University chapel. It will begin at 9:30 a.m.

Rev. J. Egan served as a priest at Notre Dame from 1969 to 1975. He was remembered for his work in the areas of social justice and environmentalism.

He was known for his commitment to social justice and his work with the poor and marginalized.

Thorman, who was 52 when he died, was editor of the Elkhart County Press, a weekly newspaper in Elkhart, Ind., and was also a member of the Elkhart County Democratic Committee.

The service will include a reading of the Holy Gospel and a reflection on the life and work of Egan.

During his time at Notre Dame, Egan was involved in many social justice efforts, including organizing for fair trade and environmental justice.

Van Wolvear allows frogs cars

Fr. John Van Wolvear, vice-president for Student Affairs, has decided to allow students to drive a 2019 Hyundai Ioniq with a color of their choice. The announcement was made during a meeting with Student Government Association leaders.

The decision comes after several weeks of negotiations and discussions with student representatives.

According to Van Wolvear, the policy change is intended to address concerns raised by students about the current policy of only allowing certain colors to be chosen.

Additionally, Van Wolvear stated that he hopes this decision will help foster a more inclusive and diverse campus environment.

Environmental Hazards to the Unborn Child" was the topic of a recent lecture at the University of Notre Dame. The lecture was given by Dr. John D. Cosentino, a professor of obstetrics and gynecology.

The lecture covered the impact of hazardous substances on the developing fetus and discussed the importance of minimizing exposure to these substances.

Several topics were covered during the lecture, including the effects of lead exposure, the dangers of tobacco smoke, and the risks associated with alcohol and drug use during pregnancy.

WASHINGTON [AP] - A sharp decline in exports of food, chemicals and gold pushed the nation's trade deficit down to $2.1 billion in October, the worst in three months, the government said yesterday.

Both the U.S. stock market and world currency markets reacted negatively to the news. The Dow Jones Industrial Average was down by 9 70s to 764 in the first few hours of slow trading, while the dollar fell against most other major currencies.

The U.S. trade deficit, which now totals $8.8 billion for the first 10 months of 1978, has been a major cause along with inflation of the steep decline in the dollar during the past two years.

Officials estimate there already are about 3.5 billion in U.S. dollars held abroad, most of them from past trade deficits. As the supply of dollars outpaces foreign demand, which it has, the value declines.

Chairmen G. William Miller of the Federal Reserve Board said yesterday the decline in the dollar has caused a 2 percent increase in the nation's inflation rate in 1978, and will raise it even more in 1979.

Reagan says cult attracts more members of Democratic Party

"I'm not too happy in saying this," Reagan said. "He supported some left-wing figures, but seemed to be more involved with the Democratic Party, seen anyone in the Republican Party having been helped by him or seeking his help."

Reagan, who lost the 1976 race for the Republican presidential nomination to George Ford, is currently in West Germany with European capitals and was interviewed here by AP's European Service.

Reagan said he had been "campaigining strenuously" for Rep. Barry M. Goldwater, whose third place in the 1964 race he had recently given up.

"San Francisco has undergone some changes and it's been a kind of mecca for various kinds of people," Reagan added.

Reagan termed Monday's shoot­ ing deaths of San Francisco Mayor George Moscone and City Super­ intendent Harvey Milk "an individual thing."

Former City Supervisor Dan White has been charged in connec­ tion with the deaths. Mayor Moscone refused to give White the chance to return to a post White recently gave up.

"San Francisco has undergone some changes and it's been a kind of mecca for various kinds of people," Reagan added.

Gov't to use muscle against companies

INDIANAPOLIS [AP] - The federal government will use its economic muscle if businesses violate voluntary price guidelines, one of President Carter's top inflation fighters said yesterday.

Barry P. Bosworth, director of the Council on Wage and Price Stability, said the cooperation of organized labor is also vital if the president's program is to work.

Bosworth told reporters follow­ ing a speech here that high wage increases and consumer prices at the root of inflation now, not than government deficit spending.

Bosworth said the government can help ensure business com­ pliance which violate the standards and by removing economic protec­tion, such as protective tariffs, from industries which fail to follow them.

Bosworth predicted that many major business unions will cooperate with the program, which seeks to limit wage increases to 7 percent, despite the opposition from AFL-CIO President George Meany.

"First of all, Mr. Messy is head of a coalition of individual labor unions, he does not negotiate any contracts," Bosworth said. "If we don't have the cooperation of organized labor, this program will not work."

Bosworth said that to get labor's cooperation, government must see that businesses abide by price guidelines.

"If you're saying that if the government stopping printing any more money it would stop inflation, you're right, but it would be at an extremely high social cost," Bosworth, who holds a doctorate in economics from the University of Michigan.

Bosworth said that cost would increase rates and increase unemploy­ ment. But he said government should try to reduce the costs that are needed to comply with some of its regulations.

Bosworth was in Indiana to meet business leaders. He also visited his brother, Brian, a top aide to Republican Gov. Otis R. Bowen.

Nixon arrives in London for lecture at Oxford Union

LONDON: (AP-Former President Richard M. Nixon told reporters yesterday that he plans to return to Europe and will feel "very much at home" if he is chosen as the Republican presidential candidate and will speak at a conference at the Oxford Union debating society.

Nixon, who resigned in 1974 as a result of the Watergate scandal, arrived at Heathrow Airport from Paris, where he appeared on a television program and answered his critics' questions.

Nixon would speak on foreign affairs and answer questions submitted by the 300 Oxford Union members, but added that he hoped the questions would not be longer than the answers.

American students at Oxford said they expected Nixon's lecture to be anti-Soviet propaganda, but American experts criticized the Oxford Union for inviting Nixon.

Undergraduate student president Charles Parsons said at least 1,000 demonstrators would protest his lecture today because they believe Nixon helped to prolong the Nixon administration and is responsible for the Watergate scandal.

Nixon was dressed in a gray suit and blue tie and went down the steps to the lavish Oxford Union from windows of building opposite Claridge's, his hotel in the elegant London city center. The U.S. Embassy in Grosvenor Square.

Said 44-year-old Parsons said he had a "nice, dicky little deal" going as a graceful way to president as vice president 20 years ago. He did not mention how great his appearance before 400 students at Oxford Nov. 28, 1958.

Center offers human relations course

The Counseling Center will offer a course on systematic human relations training during the spring semester to all students.

The program is designed to train individuals in developing skills through experiential learning in a small group setting. Such skills as the ability to appropriately express oneself, to confront and self-disclose, among others, are considered necessary to establish a helping relationship. The course may be of interest to students planning careers in such fields as law, medicine, psychology, social work and education.

Theoretical and practical aspects of specialty credit courses in psychology are offered.

The group will meet Thursday evenings from 6 to 10 throughout the semester. The course will be limited, and applicants will be considered primarily on the basis of two helpful skills they intend to develop.

These skills in particular are needed in the counseling process for the course are asked to visit the Counseling Center, 400 Administra- tion Bldg., between 8:30 and 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 and 4:30 p.m., no later than Friday December 8.

The question will probably be more serious, he added, "in the male dorms, we really don't have these types of problems." Rosman said.

To other bureaus, the shortened interview period proves to be an imperative. According to an NU Personnel Dept. rep., the shorter period fertility because they believe women are not capable of bearing children. Rosman said.

So, unfortunately, I will probably have to give preference to interviews between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. of candidates that are already in the hall. This is a problem because it is not fair to the candidate who applied for a job in B-P."

Whitehead concluded.

"Before the first question was asked, Rosman welcomed the position's requirements of time. A brief section on financial and must be completed. Students applying for the position may contact him or their rectors if they have questions or wish for additional information.

From eight in your own league to nine in another league in one month is quick moving. That is exactly what the Icers found themselves after their first 10 games posting a 7-3-1 record. The encouraging college hockey experts to lab for them an eighth-place finish in the WCHA. However, go ahead. So the Dutch coaches asked for permission to accentuate a marvelous and exciting team.

Little did you know that those question marks would turn to exclamation points this early in the year. It has been a most disappointing 12-24-2 season. The league begins Sunday, March 13, with top five scorers to graduation. This encouraged college hockey experts to lab for them an eighth-place finish in the WCHA. However, it's second in the league and best much less being on the top team in the nation.

The Dutch has movement has not been as big as I expected it to be," said Laurion. "The biggest disappointment is that you have less time to set up on a shot. The game is more refined and the increased overall quickness means you have to be ready."

Laurion will not remain a rookie for long if he continues to log so much time. He is presently the second busiest goalie in the league. As far as freshman counterparts go, Laurion is in a class by himself. Denver is the only other team to start a freshman goalie with two freshman sharing the time.

With success there is often a change of approach but Laurion insists that his goals are basically the same as when he arrived with a lot of learning still to come. "At the beginning of the year I just wanted to get to play in 10 or 12 games," said Laurion, "but I now hope to finish in the top four in the league. But I have a lot of learning still to come."

Laurion is easy to spot on the ice regardless of whether he has pads or not because of his distinctive stouter. "My size can be an advantage or a disadvantage," said Laurion. "I don't take any of eight guys upset. I have only had to handle a Joe Morgan."

Laurion has contributed more than a needle but clearly are second best total. Laurion to dual votes and became the coaches' All-American. Dave Laurion's success cannot be expected to turn a team around. "There is no one big thing that has helped us," said Laurion. "I think it is that we are all here to win."

Dave Laurion's success cannot be attributed to the performances that this International Falls, MN native has turned in during the last months. Laurion has looked as though the goalie is his senior year, the Valuable goalie in his senior year, the national Falls, MN native has looked to his lightening quick reflexes. "I hope to finish in the top four in the league. But I have a lot of learning still to come."

CINCINNATI [AP] - Sparky An­ders­on changed the last couple of years. He went from the club, according to Jack Billingham who pitched for the Reds until traded away last spring. "The adjustment has not been as much less being on the top team in the nation."

Billingham concluded that his former manager had lost the "grasp" that he had before on his players. "He got to be too friendly," Billingham said. "He couldn't get on them any more. But it is hard to get on a Pete Rose or a Johnny Bench or a Joe Morgan."

"It is a hard job knowing that if you make any of eight guys upset then you are the one to go. You can't really put your foot down. When you can't superstars, they almost handle yourself instead of you handling them."

"The adjustment was that every man has his tricks. I had him nine." We won more than any team in baseball. That says something, Anderson said. Another former Red, Tony Perez was a valuable ingredient in the Anderson pennant-winning team. He was traded after the Reds won (continued on page 11)

ND’s Golic elected to All-America team

DURHAM, N.C. [AP] - Quarter­backs Rick Leach of Michigan and Chuck Fusina of Penn State were elected to the American Football Coaches Association All-America team in the first tie vote in 10 years.

"The voting was simply too close to call," said AFC President Carmen Coza of Yale. "Both Leach and Fusina were great players and great leaders. They both clearly are All-Americans." The second tie vote in­volved quarterbacks Bobby Doug­lass of Miami, Florida and Skip Stanley of Notre Dame in 1968. The dual selection all but over­shadowed the selections of the Mandatory Interhall b-ball meeting set

There will be a mandatory meeting for all captains of Men’s Interhall Basketball teams today at 4:30 in the ACC auditorium. Schedules will be distributed and rules discussed, so it is imperative that you have a representative at the meeting. The $20.00 entry fee will be collected at this time. League play begins Sunday, Dec. 3. Thaddeus Wilson'sUntie the Knots
