IRAQ (AP) - The Iraqi government of President Sadd­am Hussein, whose troops invaded Kuwait in 1990, is outlining goals in its conflict with Iran, which started last week.

Iraqi intentions toward the oil-rich southwest corner, just across the Shatt al-Arab from Iraq, Iranian de­fenders of Abadan and the major port city of Khorramshahr apparently continued to hold out against the invaders, who reported laying siege to the two centers Tuesday.

Some indications of heavy casualties in the area were appeals by the local Abadan radio for blood donors, for all medical personnel to report to duty, and for automobile owners to volunteer to deliver wounded to hospitals.

The South Bend Chicken caused more than a few heads to turn as he ambled around the Michigan game tailgaters. [Photo by Chris Salveson]

The Observer

IRAQ outlines goals in Iran conflict

The three islands, which control the Strait of Hormus entrance to the Gulf, were seized by Iran from the United Arab Emirates in 1971.

Iraqi intentions toward Iran are not clear. The southern­est Iranian province is largely Arab-populated, and the Iraq­ans have long claimed that Iraq was assisting Arab dissidents there in an attempt to weaken the area from non-Arab Iran.

Virtual all the battle reports came from the official news media of the two sides. No Western reporters were at the front.

A leader of the paramilitary resistance in Iran, Baghadad executive of the Iraqis to do their part in the "jihad," or holy war against the Iranians. In Iran, Muslim cleric­men also declared their readiness to fight in a "jihad," and arrangements were being made to send clergy men to the front, the major-run Baghdad radio said.

In Baghdad Radio reports, the Iraqi military command claimed its greatest successes on the ground in the central border area some 100 miles east of Baghadad and at the northern end of the 100-mile-long front. It said armored troops com­pleted the capture of the major border town of Qurt-Sharin and Meh­ran.

The Iraqis claimed to have captured hundreds of Iranian prisoners.

In Iran's oil-rich southwest corner, just across the Shatt al-Arab from Iraq, Iranian de­fenders of Abadan and the major port city of Khorramshahr apparently continued to hold out against the invaders, who reported laying siege to the two centers Tuesday.

Some indications of heavy casualties in the area were appeals by the local Abadan radio for blood donors, for all medical personnel to report to duty, and for automobile owners to volunteer to deliver wounded to hospitals.

Robinson lectures on inflation

by Tim Verrilli

Staff Reporter

Dr. Joan Robinson, professor of economics at Cambridge University, discussed some of the causes of inflation and the problems involved in solving the economic crisis in a lecture yesterday. Her talk was the second in a two-part program entitled "Inflation and the Cri­sis in Economic Theory." The presentation was sponsored by the economics department.

Dr. Robinson is a crown in Galvin Auditorium that the arms race is in part responsible for today's economic difficulties. The Cambridge scholar pointed out that there are borders "pleading with the government to buy and sell military weapons." Robinson added that the government must depend on industry to revitalize the economy and that it chooses to purchase arms.

In academic terms, the supply of arms increases proportionally with the demand for arms.

Robinson supported her claim by quoting a report that revealed that worldwide military expenditures increased at a far greater pace than the rate of inflation, 7.9%, for the three years of the Vietnam War.

The economic ramifications of the arms race notwithstanding, Robinson called the current weapons composition "the most serious problem of the present time." She urged the Notre Dame faculty and students to study the arms race. "Don't give yourselves too optimistic a picture of how the United States is helping the Third World countries by trading weapons," Robinson said.

Robinson also cited other reasons for rapidly rising prices, one of them being that prices "each other." "Workers must request higher wages to sustain their livelihoods. This causes prices to rise. This is a link that shouldn't be forgotten," Robin­

Appeals to students

United Way plans annual fund drive

by Katie McDonnell

Notre Dame's annual United Way Campaign, seeking 100 percent participation throughout the University, will begin this Sunday, and continue through Oct. 2. Each member of the student body will be asked to contribute $2, while the faculty and staff are requested to contribute a small percentage of their earnings as well, all towards the University's pledge of $79,000 to the United Way.

Although the individual re­quest for students has been increased from last year's amount of $1, student Chair­man Mike Sezme believes that the adjustments are not too demanding, considering the rising costs of inflation in today's economy. "We realize that some people might take offense to our decision," he says, "but we hope that they might reconsider our plea once they recognize the meaning behind our efforts."

"If you think about it," he adds, "$2 won't even buy you a pizza."

Sexon and his assistants Sean Diggin, Joe Orie and Jay Traverse, all under the direc­tion of Brother Joe McGaggert, of Campus Ministry, will organize the collection within each dorm nightly throughout the fund-raiser. They will be assisted in each hall by a designated chairman, usually the vice-president of the hall or the chairman of the community services group, and section leaders within each floor.

The results of Pollard's research could eventually lead to clinical treatment of the drug to treat humans afflicted with cancer.

"It works under experimental conditions. That's the first step," Pollard explained.

"The scientists then divided the rats into two groups. To one group, the fed Indomethacin by injecting the drug in the rats' drinking water. The remaining half of the rats drank plain water.

After waiting an additional 20 weeks, the scientists then killed all the rats and performed extensive autopsies on the animals. They discovered over half of the rats treated with Indomethacin showed no signs of cancer.

"In over 50 percent of the animals, we couldn't find any tumors. One hundred percent of the untreated rats had tumors, though," Pollard said.

"This work gives support to optimism that science is on its way to a cure for this particular type of cancer," he commented.

Though scientists still need to learn more about Indomethacin, Pollard's discovery could well lead to clinical treatment in humans.

ND scientist finds cancer cure

by Mary Fran Callahan

Senior Staff Reporter

Advancing the quest for a cure for cancer, Notre Dame's Dr. Martin Pollard has discovered that the drug Indomethacin can cure internal tumors in rats.

The results of Pollard's research could eventually lead to clinical treatment of the drug to treat humans afflicted with cancer.

"It works under experimental conditions. That's the first step," Pollard explained.

"The scientists then divided the rats into two groups. To one group, the fed Indomethacin by injecting the drug in the rats' drinking water. The remaining half of the rats drank plain water.

After waiting an additional 20 weeks, the scientists then killed all the rats and performed extensive autopsies on the animals. They discovered over half of the rats treated with Indomethacin showed no signs of cancer.

"In over 50 percent of the animals, we couldn't find any tumors. One hundred percent of the untreated rats had tumors, though," Pollard said.

"This work gives support to optimism that science is on its way to a cure for this particular type of cancer," he commented.

Though scientists still need to learn more about Indomethacin, Pollard's discovery could well lead to clinical treatment in humans.
Jersey declared disaster area due to crop failures

The Garden State has been left a parched disaster area, with farmers watching crops shrivel, reservoirs running dry and water rationing looming in urban areas. New Jersey has suffered three-straight months of above normal temperatures and below normal rainfall, forcing bans on non-essential use of water in the industrialized northeastern section of the state. The federal Farmers Home Administration declared 15 counties—most of them in South Jersey—disaster areas.

Italian butchers deal bad meat despite court order

Italian butchers have been selling veal in defiance of or ignorance of a court order banning the meat because it contains estrogens hazardous to public health. The newspapers, we didn't get any official word, a Milan butcher said. "Customers are asking for veal, and I am selling it."—AP

Playboy leases huge tracts of land in New Jersey

Playboy Corp. and a Vernon Valley development group are seeking to lease about 11,000 acres of Newark-owned land in Sussex County. N.J., saying they have a sprawling $400 million recreation and convention complex. The plans for the development of the watershed acreage to create "the largest, most diverse four-season resort-recreation facility on the East Coast." Sponsors said construction of the complex would create between 7,000 and 10,000 jobs and could create $13 million a year for the city in rental fees. —AP

House committee votes to expel Penna. congressman

The House Ethics Committee voted yesterday to recommend that Rep. Michael Myers, D-Pa., be expelled from Congress for accepting a bribe. Rep. Charles E. Bennett, D-Fla., the panel's chairman, said the vote was 10-2 to strip Myers of his seat in Pennsylvania's First District. Bennett said a committee report would be filed in the House by midnight enabling that body to take up the expulsion matter Thursday. The two dissenting votes were those with "enough intention to have a House vote on Myers' expulsion before Congress adjourns Oct. 6. A detailed report will be filed for the public in a few days," Bennett said. He refused to comment further.—AP

Weather

Increasing cloudiness today with a slight chance of rain. Highs in the upper 60s. Clear and very cool tonight with lows in the 40s. Sunny and cooler tomorrow with highs in the upper 50s. —AP

Political contests shape up

Quayle the young (33) conservative selected to go after him. But there's more to it than that. Ronald Reagan and other Republicans have named Bayh specifically as one liberal they absolutely must get out of Congress. To com­ plish this, the National Conservative Political Action Committee has stepped in to campaign for Quayle against Bayh, and a Bayh spokesman claims that "in the late days of this campaign, there will be a monumental slut campaign against Birch Bayh." Bayh is fighting back. He has already filed a complaint with the Federal Elec­tion Commission, and will take the NC PAC to court if the FEC doesn't take action. Bayh says, "it's an effort to try to defeat a number of incumbent senators in a year when Republicans are trying to win with the right-leaning philosophers working in conjunction with this right-wing hate group."

The Senator's voting record is diametrically opposed to that of Rep. Quayle, a fact best evidenced in their 1976 ratings by the conservative group CQ. Last year's CQ report received a 0, Quayle a 96. Bayh spent over a million dollars in his last campaign, and reports say he has amassed more than $1.5 million for this race. Quayle is well backed also (the NC PAC can't hurt, though he denies any affiliation with it), and he won his last election to the House by a landslide.

Additionally, Bayh is running for a fourth term, and Indiana voters have dumped popular incumbent senators reaching for that goal before, such as Democrat Carter Goodwin in 1962 and Roosevelt Hatcher in 1976. Barring incident, we'll pick the upset—Quayle in a close one. The biggest contest doesn't seem to be as close. Popular Gov. Otis Bowen's lieutenant governor, Bob Orr, is running against Democrat John Hillenbrand. Hillenbrand had a tough scrape getting past Ray Townsend in the May primary, and his ad campaign is hard core, while Orr's has been rolling for weeks. In this strong year for Republicans, look for Orr to win easily.
Snite Museum of Art plans for public opening

By Sheila Shwirck

Notre Dame's $3.7 million Snite Museum of Art will open its doors to the public from 1 to 5 p.m., Sunday, November 9. The new museum will have six times the capacity of the old one, enabling it to exhibit all of the University's 12,000-piece, $15 million permanent collection.

The museum is named for Colonel Fred B. Snite of Chicago. Snite, the major benefactor of the museum, gave the University $2 million the year before his death in 1977 and also donated 41 Old Master paintings to the museum's son, Frederick B. Snite, Jr., a polo victim who died in 1954 after living 18 years with an iron lung.

During his life, the younger Snite, a 1933 graduate of Notre Dame, inspired millions as the nation's news media took up the cause of polio research. He named one of the museum's exhibition spaces the Boiler Room. The Boiler Room's permanent position in the museum's permanent collections includes a selection of sculptures, Fr. Anthony Lauck, and Christian Imagery in African Art, the Brita Family Collection.

The museum is named for Colonel Fred B. Snite of Chicago. Snite, the major benefactor of the museum, gave the University $2 million the year before his death in 1977 and also donated 41 Old Master paintings to the museum's son, Frederick B. Snite, Jr., a polo victim who died in 1954 after living 18 years with an iron lung.

During his life, the younger Snite, a 1933 graduate of Notre Dame, inspired millions as the nation's news media took up the cause of polio research. He named one of the museum's exhibition spaces the Boiler Room. The Boiler Room's permanent position in the museum's permanent collections includes a selection of sculptures, Fr. Anthony Lauck, and Christian Imagery in African Art, the Brita Family Collection.

The regular hours of the museum after Nov. 9 will be Tuesday-Friday 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m.

The new Snite Museum of Art, scheduled to open November 9, includes a 204 seat auditorium.

(continued from page 1)

...United Way

The United Way is affiliated with many programs here at Notre Dame, as well as with its world-wide interests to help poor, sick and disabled. Some of the organizations from South Bend to which the proceeds of the drive will benefit are the Big Brothers/Big Sisters program, the Logan Center, Alcoholics Anonymous, and the Red Cross. There are, however, a great many more which could be added to this list.

McTaggart feels that there is great Catholic educational value to be found in a student's involvement in the drive. "This campaign, really, is a Gospel project," he says. "We are a city responding to the needs of the city, and I am convinced the student body will respond to the help we are calling for. They always have and they always will.

These words of encouragement are indicative of those expressed by everyone involved with the drive. As shown by one of the many posters displayed throughout the campus, they feel that "We’re All in this Together."

[Continued on page 1]

WOMEN, YOU’RE EQUAL IN THE AIR FORCE.

Women start out on the same footing as men in the Force. ROTC. Women wear the same insignia and hold the same rated positions in ROTC, just as they do later on in the Air Force officers.

And the same AFROTC scholarship can be yours as a woman. If you qualify, you can have your tuition, book costs and lab fees paid by the Air Force, and receive $100 a month for other expenses. It helps you to concentrate on your education. And that’s important.

As an Air Force officer, you’ll be expected to use your training and education, and be a leader managing people and complex systems. You’ll be held executive responsibility, starting with your first job.

It’s a great way to be equal, and a great way to serve your country. Check into the AFROTC program at your campus. Be sure to ask about AFROTC scholarships—you may be helping yourself earn something new today.

Contact Capt. Gottrich 283-6634 for additional information.

ANYTHING GROWS

FLORIST - campus delivery

GARDEN CENTER

Gifts, Antiques

TOLL ROAD

DIRECTED

EAST OF CAMPUS

1/4 MILE N. OF DOUGLAS

HELP WANTED!

Northern Indiana's Leading Record Retailer is now accepting applications for part-time employment from ND/SMC students.

Applications accepted from 7:00pm-10:00pm Wed. Sept. 24 and Thurs. Sept. 25 only!

Apply in person to: Peter Kernan
River City Records
50970 U.S. 31 North
(3 miles North of Campus)
effective immediately, because of library construction, the following roads on the SMC campus will be closed: Douglas Road, west of the Science Hall parking lot; the McCormick road at Havican Hall; and, the east-west road on the north side of LeMans (closed for a few days beginning Sept. 10). The road in front of Madeleva and the road which goes behind Havican and Angela will stay open to traffic entering from the North Gate.

Robinson

[continued from page 1]

...Robinson

voiced two objections to this idea. "Number one, you cannot rely on the checking of wages; firms may still raise their prices. This is asking workers to fight with their hands tied behind their backs," Robinson stated. She also objected to the expansion of the bureaucracy that such a treaty would entail.

Robinson herself could not offer a concrete solution to the worldwide inflation. She did, however, favor an open dialog concerning current economic ills. "I hope we can discuss these issues and shed some light on the situation in which we find ourselves at the present," Robinson said. Robinson spoke at Notre Dame as part of a lecture series entitled "Inflation," which is being sponsored by the economics department. Speakers scheduled for the future include Professors Paul Davidson of Rutgers University, Robert Cower of UCLA and Dudley Seers of the University of Sussex.
by Kathy Corcoran

The Center for Experiential Learning (CEL) announces an organizational meeting for its 1981 Spring Semester in Mexico program tonight at 7:15 in Galvin Life Science Auditorium. The program is sponsored in collaboration with Augsburg College, Minneapolis, Minnesota, and Professor Joerg Tuecke of Augsburg will give a presentation on experiential learning programs in Latin American countries. The four students from last year's Spring Semester in Mexico Program will also be on hand to answer questions.

The meeting tonight marks the deadline for students to express interest in this particular trip.

The program offers two locations for study this year. One is in Cozumel, Mexico under the program in Global Community, for which Tuecke serves as director. The other site is new this year, and involves study and field education at the Universidad Iberoamericana, a Jesuit university in Mexico City.

Funding opportunities are offered to juniors of "very qualified" sophomores with at least one year in Spanish. Each program is designed to increase the students' awareness and understanding of social justice issues in Latin American countries through an integration of both classroom and experiential learning.

On the domestic scene, CEL sponsors the Urban Plunge and Summer Service Program. These programs allow students to confront problems of poverty and social justice in our own cities.

According to Fr. Don McNeill, Director of CEL, plans are in progress for a spring trip to Washington, D.C., where students can meet those involved with social justice in a legislative aspect.

McNeill referred to the Mexico Program as an "excellent intercultural learning experience." He hopes that students' exposure to various problems will cause them to question the structure and values of a society.

McNeill urges all students interested in a spring semester's study in Mexico to attend the presentation tonight, and to express interest in other CEL programs to the Observer for details.

CRIME INCREASES IN INDIA

NEW DELHI, INDIA (AP) -- The Crimes of rape, bride burning and dowry demand, reportedly on the rise in India, are causing a nationwide furor, reflected in street protests, heated editorials and irate speeches by politicians.

Indian newspapers carry daily reports of rape and sexual assault on women, some allegedly by policemen. In June, several police officers were accused of stripping and raping a housewife in the dusty north Indian town of Bisheshpur. One of the accused was shot and killed on the street by the rape victim's brother-in-law.

An investigation is continuing; none of the men has been tried. Protestors by women's organizations have increased since that incident, and the news media have been giving increasing attention to the problem of women in this tradition-bound, predominantly Hindu nation of 66 million.

Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's government has presented legislation to Parliament which would establish sentences of two years' hard labor for people who demand gifts and cash from a bride's family.

The legislation also seeks to toughen rape laws by specifically providing jail terms for police officers convicted of the offense. Current laws do not differentiate between police officers and other offenders.

An official Indian commission has joined the fray with a report backing the proposed two-year prison term for dowry offenders and also recommending a fine of 10,000 rupees, about $1250.

The current maximum penalty for demanding dowry in six months in jail and a 5000 rupee fine.

[continued on page 8]
Tale of an illegal keg confiscation

Dear Editor,

As members of the group of Cavanaugh residents whose keg was confiscated on White Field this past Friday, we feel that we should comment on this latest in a series of weekly keg policies handed down by Dean Roemer. According to Tuesday’s article, there was a "non-student" keg on White Field which was not confiscated because the people there "were not presently affiliated with the University." Sounds familiar, don’t it? Allow us to translate: The alumni may do what they please when they are here for a football weekend. JHT students are subject to the rules of the University. It might be safe to say that the Administration’s "Students vs. Alumni" double standard has struck again. Or has it? Not according to Dean Roemer, it hasn’t. He says Security should not have let the keg proceed any further, since "as far as (Dean Roemer) is concerned, there is no difference between students and guests." Add one point for student-alumni equality right? Wrong. Dean Roemer explains, "Alumni, visitors, and families are not subject to University jurisdiction." Thank you for clarifying, Dean Roemer, it’s very perfectly clear. Dean Roemer. We are glad to see that you are a man who sticks to his position. Let’s get right down to the directive now. It states that "when a keg is a non-studentkeg," it should not be "removed without just cause." It sounds as though the University will allow students to have kegs on Green Field. We hate the news to you, but we are all big boys and girls now, and we don’t need someone around to slap the back to keep us from drinking. To presume that a student’s home-town friends and family should be treated any differently than his or her Notre Dame friends and family is hogwash.

We think that a standard rule that all can follow is a long overdue necessity. We suffered under the burden of the Administration and Student Council’s past weekend. As stated in Tuesday’s article, we were told by a Security official to pick up our keg and tap on Monday morning so that we could at least get the deposit back. However, upon appearing at Security to discuss the situation, we were told that the keg was gone and that we were not receiving reimbursement. Furthermore, there have been kegs on Green Field on numerous Friday afternoons before, and yet they have not been confiscated. What has prompted the sudden change of this past weekend? When we asked this question during our stay at the Security office, we were told that “they had the guts.” It is ironic that this whole situation could have been avoided if it had been a mere twelve hours later. That would have made it Saturday, and the rule does not apply on football Saturdays. It seems that the "strength in numbers" rule applies then. As long as you are out on Green Field drinking, it is legal, but one or two groups with kegs are not.

After listening to so many reasons and rules, each of which was different from its predecessor, we have finally given up of weary of the weekly revisions in the University’s keg policy. We must find an end to this arbitrary and capricious enforcement of keg policies and get a standard rule that we can all try to follow.

Paul Costigli

Student sees N.D. gridders’ unbeaten season

Dear Editor,

In response to “Complacency a Problem?” in the Sept. 23 Observer, I have a message for Frank Leary...

I don’t!

David Mulhaun

Tale of an illegal keg confiscation

Dear Editor,

Cavanaugh residents whose keg was confiscated on Green Field were so evil, as accurately and as objectively as possible. Editorials reflect the policies of the administration of either institution, or of their authors. Column space is available to all members of the community, and majority of the Editorial Board. Commentaries, opinions, and letters are the views of their authors. The Observer is an independent newspaper, sponsored by the students of the University of Notre Dame and Saint Mary’s College. It does not necessarily reflect the opinions of the Board of Managers, the Notre Dame Alumni Association, or the University of Notre Dame.

Donesbury

by Garry Trudeau

Editorial Board and Department Managers

Editorial in Chief... Paul Mullally
Managing Editor... Mark Ross
Editorials Editor... Mike Orunik
Sports Editor... Jamie Oxford
Copy Editor... Pam Degen
New Editor... Tom Jackman
Production Manager... John McGrath
S.M.C. Executive Editor... Margie Brassil

S.M.C. News Editor... Mary Leavitt
Sports Editor... Beth Huffman
Features Editor... Kate Farmer
Photo Editor... John Macar
Business Manager... Greg Hedges

The Observer

SCE, Notre Dame, IN 46556

The Observer is an independent newspaper, sponsored by the students of the University of Notre Dame and Saint Mary’s College. It does not necessarily reflect the opinions of the Board of Managers, the Notre Dame Alumni Association, or the University of Notre Dame.
Poco draws a ‘poco’ crowd

At the outset of Friday night’s Homecoming concert featuring Poco, one might suspect that the band would employ a “get in and get out” attitude towards this show at the ACC, and who could really blame them. Only some 3000 fans showed up, and their enthusiasm throughout the evening left a great deal to be desired.

However, none of these difficulties seemed to fase Poco, for the provided the wise few who showed up with a great concert. Led by pedal steel virtuoso Rusty Young and guitarist Paul Cotton, the last remnants of the original band played a well mixed set of 20 songs with enough old material to please even vintage Poco enthusiasts.

The show began on an immediate up-beat note, as the band went into newer material, mostly from their newly released, electric, Under the Gun LP. Songs such as “Reputation,” “Made of Stone,” and “Boomerang,” highlighted Paul Cotton’s guitar improvisations.

Cotton’s work was complemented nicely by bass player Charlie Harrison and Rusty Young, who divided time between the electric and lap steel guitars. It was apparent that Young was much more comfortable with the latter.

Young’s anxieties soon disappeared as he and Paul Cotton picked up acoustic 12-strings and recreated the band’s distinct, older sound from the days when they played with the likes of Jim Messina, Richie Furay and Timmy Schmidt. They began with Young’s hit single of two years ago, “Crazy Love,” sung to perfection by Young. From there, they defied further into the past, playing tunes like “Bad Weather” from From the Flood, and “Fool’s Gold” from the Crazy Horse album.

“Bad Weather” provided convincing evidence that Rusty Young is the hands down kind of the pedal steel. He was almost in a trance throughout the song, playing magnificently yet still able to adjust his approach times in search for the perfect response from his instrument.

The instrumental “Fool’s Gold” highlighted a very clean acoustic set by Young and Cotton, featuring Young on the banjo accompanying Cotton’s 12-string guitar. After playing “Indian Summer,” which included an autumn visual background setting, Poco picked up the beat, and their electric guitars, and cranked out tunes from their last two albums, including favorites like “Heart of the Night,” highlighted again by Young on pedal steel, “Down to the Wire,” and “Legend” before they left the stage.

After moderate cheering from the crowd, which could have been interpreted as a call for an encore, Poco returned and played “Going to a Hoedown,” which left most everyone on their feet as the show ended.

The opening act for Poco featured John Hall, who attended school here in the early ’70s and later joined the pop group “Orleans.” His small selection of songs included familiar tunes “Still the One” and “Dance With Me,” done well despite the fact that Hall had no band behind him for support. Hall will return to NDF for the Country Rock Jam in early November.

Photos by
Phil Johnson

Rock trivia contest

The following is the first of a series of rock trivia quizzes which will appear weekly on the Thursday Musicviews pages in The Observer. Tim Neely, the author, has excerpted these from his yet unpublished book on rock-n-roll and popular music trivia, and has provided them with the intention of stumping and otherwise driving supposed rock experts out of their minds.

A $10 prize will be awarded out of a random drawing from all the correct entries. Please write your name, address, and phone number on the quiz and bring it to The Observer, third floor of LaFortune, before noon Friday. Good luck!

Who gave a (often uncredited) helping hand on the following songs?

1. Backing vocals on Carly Simon’s “You’re So Vain”
2. Lead guitar on the Beatles’ “While My Guitar Gently Weeps”
3. Harmonica on Harry Belafonte’s “Midnight Special”
4. Guitar on Tom Jones’ “It’s Not Unusual”
5. Co-producer of the Beach Boys’ “Vegetables”
6. Handclaps on the Archies’ “Sugar Sugar”
7. Instrumentals on Steve Martin’s “King Tut”
8. Saxophone on the Beatles’ “You Know My Name (Look Up My Number)”
9. Backing vocals on John Stewart’s “Gold”
10. Harmony vocals and guitar on Elton John’s “Lucy in the Sky with Diamonds”
Dump Bayh group misses budget

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - A conservative group that has targeted U.S. Senator Birch Bayh for defeat hasn't been able to raise as much money for the effort as it had hoped, the coordinator of the Indiana campaign said yesterday.

William Grier, a Lafayette advertising man who is heading the state effort of the National Conservative Political Action Committee, said the group originally had planned to spend $140,000 on its anti-Bayh campaign.

"We find we can't get our full budget, just like every other politician," he told reporters at a Statehouse news conference. "This isn't particularly a gold-encrusted year for fund raising."

Grier said the NCPAC has spent $94,000 so far in their Indiana effort against Bayh, a three-ter-

"We have another horse to ride in this situation," said Grier. "If we push extremely hard for the money in this state, really push hard, we're going to take some money away from Dan Quayle."

Grier said the NCPAC is concerned about getting only enough money to do its job and not hurt Quayle's own effort.

"We don't have a candidate and we must be aware of that continually," he said.

Earlier in the day, David Bochnowski, manager of the Birch Bayh for Senator Com-

"We were able to contribute that much money to her in-laws, and convictions are few from Quayle’s.

A woman sometimes "is tortured in every possible way and even deprived of marital rights" if she does not bring sufficient dowry to her in-laws, said the government report.

The report cited numerous cases of harassment and, in some cases, murder by husbands or in-laws if women fail to provide sufficient dowries at the time of their wed-

Dowry takes several forms, ranging from cash payments to household goods such as furni-

...Crime

[continued from page 3]

...
Campus

3:30 p.m. - lecture, its key issues lecture series "meeting the japanese economic challenge," william anderson, ncr corp.

4 p.m. - radiation laboratory seminar, "radiation chemistry studies with heavy ions: the radiosynthesis of aqueous ferrus sulfate solutions," conference room, radiation lab.

4:15 p.m. - faculty preview: "english drama," 242 oshaughnessy.

7:30 p.m. - "tues," washington hall, $15, 242 o'shaughnessy.

Saturday.

Peanuts

The Daily Crossword

by Charles Schulz

Yesterday's Puzzle Solved:

ACROSS
1 Much loved 26 Nineveh's river
2 Visual 27 'tis given
3 Author Rex 28 Mer
4 Vaughted church part 29 Clare
5 Eulalia 30 Poet
6 Slick 31 Me Verdon
7 Money for 32 Fire
8 Step inside 33 Others
9 Very, in 34 Tavern
10 Paris 35 Zodia sign
11 Rubik 36 Zodia sign
12 Anoxys 37 The East
13 Anoxys 38 To's item
14 Anoxys and Kramer 39 Perfume
15 Anoxys 40 Navy record
16 Middle East 41 Little Eva
17 Letters 42 For, in
18 Father meet: 43 West
19 Mile 44 "West"
20 Me 45 Figure
21 You and 46 Writer
22 Me 47 Figure
23 You 48 Drink
24 Once 49 Put
25 You 50 Make a pact
26 You 51 Alumnus
27 Me 52 Farm
28 You 53 Haul
29 Me 54 Offering
30 You 55 Hamburger's
31 Me 56 Fat
32 You 57 Maple tree
33 You 58 Make a pact
34 You 59 Haul
35 You 60 Ships
36 You 61 Designated
37 You 62 Warhol
38 You 63 Farm unit
39 You 64 "Mush" man
40 You 65 Judo
41 You 66 For your
42 You 67 Hamburger's
43 You 68 For
44 You 69 For
45 Me 70 Make a pact

DOWN
1 Brat 30 "High noon"
2 Eddy and 31 Mary Ann
3 MacDonald 32 First
4 Bennett 33 "I'm a Fool"
5 "Exodus" 34 "High noon"
6 Political 35 "The Old
7 Citizen" 36 "High noon"
8 "I'm a Fool" 37 "High noon"
9 Norma 38 "High noon"
10 Norma 39 "High noon"
11 Florence 40 "High noon"
12 Harry 41 "High noon"
13 "High noon" 42 "High noon"
14 "High noon" 43 "High noon"
15 "High noon" 44 "High noon"
16 "High noon" 45 "High noon"
17 "High noon" 46 "High noon"
18 "High noon" 47 "High noon"
19 "High noon" 48 "High noon"
20 "High noon" 49 "High noon"
21 "High noon" 50 "High noon"
22 "High noon" 51 "High noon"
23 "High noon" 52 "High noon"
24 "High noon" 53 "High noon"
25 "High noon" 54 "High noon"
26 "High noon" 55 "High noon"
27 "High noon" 56 "High noon"
28 "High noon" 57 "High noon"
29 "High noon" 58 "High noon"
30 "High noon" 59 "High noon"
31 "High noon" 60 "High noon"
32 "High noon" 61 "High noon"
33 "High noon" 62 "High noon"
34 "High noon" 63 "High noon"
35 "High noon" 64 "High noon"
36 "High noon" 65 "High noon"
37 "High noon" 66 "High noon"
38 "High noon" 67 "High noon"
39 "High noon" 68 "High noon"
40 "High noon" 69 "High noon"
41 "High noon" 70 "High noon"

RIVER CITY RECORDS
Northern Indiana's Largest Selection of Albums & Tapes and Lowest Prices! Why pay more at the malls? * $1.00 OFF! * Any regular album or tape purchase with this coupon. Limit one per person. Expires Oct 15, 1980.

Off-Campus Transfer Student Orientation Publicity

Applications available at s.g. offices, 2nd flr. LaFortune Deadline: Thurs. 5:00pm

Get Involved! Student Government is accepting applications for three new cabinet positions:

I.M.B. offers O'Hare shuttle

Indiana Motor Bus is offering shuttle service from both the South Bend Bus Station and Mishiana Regional Airport in Chicago, starting immediately. The non-stop bus leaves the bus station at 7 a.m. and again at 12:30 p.m., every day except Saturday. One way cost is $13, round trip is $26. Reservations are preferred but not required. Return trips depart O'Hare at 1 and 6:30 p.m. every day but Saturday. For additional information, call 234-2195.
BEST INVESTMENT I'VE EVER MADE

Bob Sykes, University of Washington student majoring in business administration.

In my opinion, the course was worth every penny!

"Not only can I use my reading skills while I'm in school, these same techniques will enable me to stay ahead in my field when I enter the job market. I'm more aware of what I'm reading. My comprehension has increased so I can take in more information and get through more material in less time."

Attend a Free Introductory Lesson and find out how you can invest in your future. (P.S. Increase your reading speed on the spot too!)

SCHEDULE OF FREE LESSONS
Today & Tomorrow 3:30 & 7:00pm
A.C.C. Room C-129
EVELYN WOOD READING DYNAMICS
The Observer

Thursday, September 25, 1980 - page 11

Atlanta defeats first place Astros

ATLANTA (AP) - Pitcher-batter Bill Pocoroba delivered a two-out, two-run sixth inning double to snap a 2-2 tie and power the Atlanta Braves to a 4-2 victory over the Houston Astros last night.

Pocoroba's liner to left-center field scored pitcher Doyle Alexander and Terry Harper, who both walked against Houston starter Joaquín Anduríaz. 3-7. Anduría's eight walks finally caught up with him.

The Braves had taken a 2-0 lead in the second inning, but the Astros tied it in the third. Anduría, however, seemed to make up for it in the sixth. He allowed a leadoff single to Dick Stigman before giving up a two-run double to Bob Horner, who hit his 35th, in Atlanta's five-run frame.

Ruggers play Boilers

The Notre Dame Rugby Club will host Purdue this Saturday.

---

Sports Briefs

Irish JV hosts Spartans

Notre Dame's junior varsity football unit entertains Michigan State's JV squad in a 1:30 p.m. contest Sunday at Carrier Field.

The Irish downed the Purdue junior varsity team 27-7 three weeks ago in West Lafayette. In that season opener freshman John Mosley led the Irish with 79 yards rushing and two touchdowns. Jim O'Hara completed two of three passes for 54 yards, while Kevin Smith connected on all three of his attempts for 28 yards. Stacy Tunor intercepted a Boilermaker pass and returned it 75 yards for a touchdown.

---

Classifieds

NOTICES

FOR SALE

1979 MG B Class A, Ludee w/ coach, 1992 MIK school item in the block, contact for either the game for sale. Please call Jane at 919 (MC).

LOT: Green Car Cover. Borrow Call 3231.

FOR RENT

1979 MG B. Ugly Duckling Rent A Car. Phone from 11:45 to 8:30 and seven cent a mile. Phone 250-3335 for reservations.

Exclusively nice home apt, furnished. Near Memorial Hosp. 325-4253 weekdays in weekdays.

WANTED

WANTED: 1976 BMW. For Class A Car. Phone from 11:45 to 7:00 and seven cent a mile. Phone 250-3335 for reservations.

Need Tide to Tomato GM. Minnesota, Chicago, Beavie 2918 6935.

Bikes needed to NEWARK Leaves for the Friday of this week Sunday Call Paul 875.

FOR SALE

Portables cassette player and microphone only 1 man the cost 249-0711.

PERSONALS

It takes a lack of a long time to lose one of these up-Up, inspiring personalities, but hardly any time to think the best way to his year's UNITED WAY EDDISON CAMPAIGN is a success.

WEDDING - NEAR ACCURATE, EXPERIENCED, REASONABLE BYV, CALL 287-8425

HAPPY B'DAY, ANNIVERSARY, CINDY & MICHAEL, LOVE YOU BOTH, WAPRIE.

HE IS COMING

HE WILL BE HERE SOON

COMING ON OUT AND SWING AT THE MANAGEMENT CLUB FRIDAY NIGHT, STUDENTS AGS. 17-21.

Wanted - need help daily with all grad thrusday after noon. Contact Volunteer Services, Student Union, 2918.

LEAVES - TAKE ONE OF MANY NICE CAMPUS - FOUR, LIKE

See Amy's pet SIT IN Aero Club RSt in Spr 3rd floor. 287-7427.

NOW SELLING KID KUP ON CAMPUS - LOVE THAT NIFTY NIBBLING

---

Mix’n' Match Special

Hamm's & Hot Dogs

any combination $1.00

Friday

September 26

4:30-6:30 pm

WANTED - Senior Arts Festival Chairman

Please call Student Union Office (6244) for appointment

Interviews will be Thurs. 9/25

Contemporary Arts

Notre Dame Student Union

---

...Milligan

(continued from page 12)

And all he did was set a high school record for touchdowns in a season. He visited Notre Dame when he was a senior and decided he wanted to continue his soccer career for the Irish.

"I went out for the freshman team and I worked pretty hard," he points out. "I really enjoy soccer here. They go on the team are great and so is Rich (Hunter). I'm glad I decided to keep playing when I came here."

An electrical engineering major, Milligan would like to get a job on the east coast after graduation. But that's still a few years down the road. Right now he'd like to contribute to the growth of the Notre Dame soccer program — a program that has reached a critical point in its existence.

"I think the best way to advance the soccer team is to defeat some of the top teams on our schedule," Milligan emphasizes. "A good place to start would be at Indiana on Sunday. I really think we can beat them and if that happens, people won't be able to ignore us any longer."

"I want to see soccer grow at Notre Dame the way it's growing at other schools."
Not Randy Ellis

Who says Moeller's best?

by Skip DesJardins
Sports Writer

Randy Ellis is a product of Texas football. “All I hear about is how powerful Cincinnati football is, what with Moeller and all the players that they have sent here. I get pretty tired of it,” Ellis says that high school football in Texas is extremely competitive, and that there are plenty of schools back home that could play well against Moeller or in Chicago's Catholic League. Back home for Ellis is Pearland, Texas. “It’s just outside of Houston, and folks down there don’t like Notre Dame too much.” Obviously, the feeling never rubbed off on the 6'5 offensive lineman.

``We are a proud bunch of guys. We are a team. I’d rather lose in the first game than 15 years from now sit on the bench and wonder why we didn’t play. But I’d rather lose than look at my opponent and say I beat him because I was afraid. That’s the way that they play. That’s the kind of situation helps the spirit of the team."

Many times, offensive linemen like Ellis are the ones who do the most work. They can win or lose a lot of ball games by the way they play. Nevertheless, the men who line up in front of the quarterback every game never seem to get the recognition that the offense deserves. That doesn’t bother Randy. We are a proud bunch of guys. If the man overall is good, the team will play well. Maybe we don’t get all the headlines. I’d rather lose pro ball, there’s no doubt. You can’t have it both ways. That band’s technical excellence, or the dedication of its members. But just because it’s the oldest collegiate marching band doesn’t mean it has to have a repertoire to match."

"And you have to keep your mind in the game. Sometimes, the euphoria of Saturday’s conquest of Michigan has everyone pointing to the Nov. 21 showdown with Alabama. Nov. 21, you think about it. Every day you wake up wanting to do something new. You can’t see the ball game going to Notre Dame on the TV, can you?"

"Well, a lot of my friends were playing and I thought it looked like a good game, he recalls. "So we planned to fly there."

Randy Ellis has his eyes on med school after Notre Dame.

"I was thrilled that Notre Dame even wanted to talk to me. As a kid, when you thought of college football, you always thought of Notre Dame. I mean even in Texas!" Ellis says that he figured that he would go to college in Texas somewhere, but when the chance to come to Notre Dame came along, he jumped at it. "My high school didn’t have the best football program, so I didn’t even think about getting a scholarship. When Notre Dame said that they interested, I couldn’t believe it."

There are always problems when a big high school player, especially one from an area with the football heritage that Texas has, goes on to play major college ball. Suddenly, he’s in a position where he is fighting for a spot in the lineup. But for the first time in his life, Ellis was no exception. "In high school, I got everything,“ he confesses, "but I was area-struck by the talent that they had here. He’s over the disappointment very quickly. He’s always felt I’ll get a shot at a starting role. I think that kind of situation helps the spirit of the team."

"The euphoria of Saturday’s conquest of Michigan has everyone pointing to the Nov. 21 showdown with Alabama. Nov. 21, you think about it. Every day you wake up wanting to do something new. You can’t see the ball game going to Notre Dame on the TV, can you?"

Afterthoughts of a miracle

by Craig Chval
Sports Writer

Thursday, September 25, 1980 - page 12

Milligan keeps Notre Dame defense on the ball

by Frank LaCrotta
Sports Writer

Riddle: What is eight feet high, 24 feet wide and stands at both ends of a soccer field.

Of course the answer must be a soccer goal. (Unless of course you are one of the Russians who have started giving steroids to their soccer players.) And soccer goals are something very familiar to John Milligan. A 6-1, 180-pound native of Palatine, Ill., Milligan spends a lot of time running around in front of one as players try to kick a ball over, around, even through him and into the net.

"Well, first of all, you have to be quick,’’ points out Milligan of the Notre Dame soccer team’s first-string goalkeeper. "And you have to be able to react almost immediately and cover the open area. You also have to help your defense because many times they play facing away from the action."

"And you have to keep your mind in the game. Sometimes, the euphoria of Saturday’s conquest of Michigan has everyone pointing to the Nov. 21 showdown with Alabama. Nov. 21, you think about it. Every day you wake up wanting to do something new. You can’t see the ball game going to Notre Dame on the TV, can you?"

Milligan’s stats from a year ago indicate how well he has worked this season in goal.

Sheffield is still one of the best-thrown pass of the season. Is there anything Hunter can’t do?

Give credit to Notre Dame’s offense. After a sparkling first half, the Irish didn’t manage a first down during the entire third quarter. But when it appeared that the Irish had two opportunities to score, the offense pushed the ball down the field for the go-ahead touchdown.

Irish coach Dan Devine said that he used Blair Kiel in the shotgun formation late in the fourth quarter during the entirety of the season. Now, it seems, the Insh, the team’s all-time placekicker, is back in the lineup, cause I always get the last minute to play and just one timeout remaining, it would elapse that it would be time never seem to get the timeout when the Irish fans began to whoop and holler at the last second.

"I think I’ll go to med school and get the last shot at a starting role. I think I’ll go to med school and get the recognition from the band’s technical excellence, or the dedication of its members. But just because it’s the oldest collegiate marching band doesn’t mean it has to have a repertoire to match.

"And you have to keep your mind in the game. Sometimes, the euphoria of Saturday’s conquest of Michigan has everyone pointing to the Nov. 21 showdown with Alabama. Nov. 21, you think about it. Every day you wake up wanting to do something new. You can’t see the ball game going to Notre Dame on the TV, can you?"

Milligan’s stats from a year ago indicate how well he has worked this season in goal.

Sheffield is still one of the best-thrown pass of the season. Is there anything Hunter can’t do?

Give credit to Notre Dame’s offense. After a sparkling first half, the Irish didn’t manage a first down during the entire third quarter. But when it appeared that the Irish had two opportunities to score, the offense pushed the ball down the field for the go-ahead touchdown.

Irish coach Dan Devine said that he used Blair Kiel in the shotgun formation late in the fourth quarter during the entirety of the season. Now, it seems, the Insh, the team’s all-time placekicker, is back in the lineup, cause I always get the last minute to play and just one timeout remaining, it would elapse that it would be time never seem to get the timeout when the Irish fans began to whoop and holler at the last second.