Hasbush charges Saint Mary's students get sanctions

BY DIANE DIRKERS
Staff Reporter

Sanctions imposed on Saint Mary's students involved in a hashish crackdown in the Intramark program will be similar to those imposed on Notre Dame students, according to Saint Mary's Dean of Student Affairs Kathryn Rice.

Although the general disciplinary policies of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's differ somewhat, this year's program has been working together with Dean Rocker and Father Van Wolvrek discussing alternative disciplinary sanctions and procedures. We all felt we should impose similar or identical sanctions since the two institutions are interrelated.

This semester, the Saint Mary's students are being placed under Notre Dame discipline probation, which stipulates that any further infractions will result in immediate dismissal from the foreign program. As in the case of the Notre Dame students, those students who are convicted of drug crimes will be dismissed from the college at the end of this term, with opportunity for readmission in the fall if they wish.

There is no guarantee, though, that they will get back on campus.

In the words of the students, this spring has been the loss of pre-registration and room selection privileges. However, the students are also making plans on a waiting list for housing, should they be readmitted.

There is no guarantee, though, that they will get back on campus.

Disciplinary files will not be placed on any of the students' permanent college record, according to Rice.
The video tape showings of last week’s Nestle INFECT didn’t, scheduled for this weekend, have been cancelled. Student Activities Director James McDonnell cancelled the showings after meeting with Father John Van Woudraki, vice-president for student affairs. The tape is the property of the World Hunger Coalition, and was sent to National INFECT Chairperson Douglas Johnson in Minneapolis for review following McDonnell’s cancellation. — The Observer

Eleven cars of a Georgia railroad train derailed yesterday near downtown Greensboro, leaking a toxic chemical and forcing the evacuation of most of the town’s 2,195 residents, officials said. Mayor James P. Smith said a state of emergency was declared after the 6:50 a.m. derailment off the 27-car train. No injuries were reported, and the cause of the accident was not immediately determined. Harry Murphy, spokesman for the state Department of Transportation, identified the chemical as phosphorous trichloride. Smith said the substance “when breathed in high concentrations can cause skin burns and lung damage.” City Clerk Charlton Veazey said the chemical could explode when mixed with water. Twelve workers were closing off sewer lines. The National Weather Service predicted a chance of rain later in the day. “The majority of the citizens of Greensboro have been evacuated by noon,” said Veazey. Most were taken to Union Point, seven miles east. — AP

A Peruvian woman who had swallowed about 60 balloons filled with cocaine went into a seizure abroad a jet from South America and died of an apparent drug overdose, Inglewood Calif police said. Rebecca Focacci de Brandon, 30, died Wednesday at Centinela Hospital, where X-rays revealed the balloons, said Lt. Ray Smith. The smuggling method and resulting fatalities are “fairly common,’ Smith said. Paramedics met the plane when it landed at Los Angeles International Airport on Tuesday afternoon. The drug overdose was suspected after hospital personnel found 24 drug-filled balloons hidden in the Lima woman’s clothing. That corpse was worth an estimated $150,000, said Smith. An autopsy was scheduled today, a coroner’s spokesman said. — AP

Lee County Sheriff Farouk Thomas, accused of sexually harassing four female employees, resigned his post yesterday in the town of Sanford, N.C. District Attorney John Twisdale said he would begin action Mar. 1 to remove Thomas from office if necessary. In a letter addressed to reporters, Thomas said he believed resignation was in the best interest of his family and residents of the county. He said he would seek re-election last week, the district attorney released statements from four women accusing Thomas of sexual improprieties. Twisdale said his office also had evidence of irregularities involving the use of vending machine profits and the sale of weapons. Thomas said the accusations were politically motivated and without factual basis. After the resignation, Twisdale said he considers the case closed. — AP

Interior Secretary James Watt was cited for contempt of Congress yesterday in a vote that could set the stage for a historic confrontation between the legislative and executive branches of the government. The House Energy and Commerce Committee approved the contempt resolution 25-15, four months after Watt invoked President Reagan’s claim of executive privilege in refusing to produce documents relating to Canadian energy and investment policies. The vote sends the issue to the full House, which must decide whether to seek criminal prosecution. Contempt is a misdemeanor punishable by up to $1,000 in fines and up to a year in jail. The committee reserved the option of calling for Watt to be arrested by the sergeant-at-arms and brought before the House for impeachment. “We believe impeachment is unwarranted; however, that course, technical guilty a civil proceeding, has not been followed for more than 100 years and is considered unlikely. — AP

Senators led by Lowell Weicker, R-Conn., today abandoned a month-long battle to block tough new anti-busing legislation, clearing the way for Senate approval of the bill. The Reagan administration, saying it cannot defend the 1965 law under current government ban on tax breaks for racially biased private schools, asked the Supreme Court yesterday to ap point a special advocate to support the plaintiffs. The unusual request came as the Justice Department, in a reversal of the position it took six weeks ago, said the high court should settle the bitterly waged dispute after all. The administration said in documents filed with the Supreme Court it believes Congress, if it will, could deny exemptions to racially biased schools, even if they base their discriminatory policies on religious grounds. But the government made clear it still does not believe Internal Revenue Service bureaucrats had the authority to impose the tax exemption ban in 1970. That’s why it’s asking to have someone else to defend the IRS policy. The Reagan administration touched off a storm of protest Jan. 6 when it said the Supreme Court should drop the case because the government intended to reverse the tax-exemption policy. — AP

Mostly clear today and tonight. Cold with the high today around 30 and the low tonight around 10. Tomorrow partly cloudy and not as cold with the high in the mid and upper 30s. — AP

Wayne B. Williams leaves the Fulton Co. jail Wednesday morning to his trail where he is charged with the murders of two Atlanta blacks. It was the third day on the witness stand as the prosecution finished its questioning.
Panel discusses Hinckley trial date

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal appeals panel cancelled the Mar. 9 trial date for presidential assailant John W. Hinckley Jr. late yesterday — only six hours after the date was set by a lower court.

U.S. Court of Appeals ruled that the trial could not be scheduled until the government decides whether to seek rehetaring of a decision that let a key document obtained from Hinckley.

In a rejection of Hinckley's request to introduce evidence as part of their argument that Hinckley was sane when he shot President Reagan and three others last Mar. 30. The appeal court, on the other hand, prohibited the use of the materials.

The three-judge panel's two-page order yesterday placed the case under the higher court's control rather than in the hands of U.S. District Judge Harrington D. Parker.

Earlier in the day, the Parker set Mar. 9 as the Hinckley trial date for an oral session on the United States for trial on wounding Reagan, his press secretary, a Secret Service agent and a policeman.

The appeals panel acted on a motion by U.S. Attorney Stanley S. Harris. The prosecutor said that if the trial begins Mar. 9, the government may lose its chance to seek review of the evidence ruling barring the prosecution evidence.

The government has 45 days to ask the full 11-member appellate court for a review of the evidence ruling handed down last Tuesday by the same three-judge panel that cancelled the trial date.

Thus is appeared that Hinckley will not face trial for at least a year after the day he fired upon the president and his entourage outside a Washington hotel.

The panel had ruled that the government could not use an oral statement made by Hinckley the day of the shooting and handwritten notes taken from his cell last July because the evidence was obtained in violation of the defendant's constitutional rights.

After issuing its ruling Tuesday, the three-judge panel took the unusual step of immediately sending the case back to Parker. Usually the process of legal briefs are handed back to the trial judge after an appellate ruling takes several weeks.

Parker said he interpreted the panel's action as a "green light" to get the trial moving.

Parker said that since the Mar. 5 shooting, "Mr. Hinckley has been examined and reexamined by every expert in the field of psychiatry and psychology available ... I think it's time to proceed and proceed immediately."

Hinckley, 26, sat nearly motionless as Parker tried to bring him closer to the day when a jury will determine whether he will be sent to prison or a mental institution for attempted assassination of the president.

Hinckley has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity to a 13-count indictment charging federal offense, use of a firearm in commission of a federal offense, and assault with intent to kill while armed, assault with a dangerous weapon, assault on a police officer and carrying a pistol without license.

The potential trial delay centers around evidence the government wants to use to prove Hinckley's sanity — an oral statement from on the day of the shooting and handwritten notes seized from his cell in July. Though a three-judge panel of the U.S. Court of Appeals ruled Tues- day that the evidence was obtained illegally, U.S. Attorney Stanley Harris told the judge that the government might seek a rehearing by the full 11-member court.

The government has 45 days to petition for a rehearing, but Harris said the decision had to be made by next week.

W. Hinckley Jr. late yesterday prohibited use of the materials.

order yesterday placed the case under the higher court's control rather than in the hands of U.S. District Judge Harrington D. Parker.

Earlier in the day, the Parker set Mar. 9 as the Hinckley trial date for an oral session on the United States for trial on wounding Reagan, his press secretary, a Secret Service agent and a policeman.

The appeals panel acted on a motion by U.S. Attorney Stanley S. Harris. The prosecutor said that if the trial begins Mar. 9, the government may lose its chance to seek review of the evidence ruling barring the prosecution evidence.

The government has 45 days to ask the full 11-member appellate court for a review of the evidence ruling handed down last Tuesday by the same three-judge panel that cancelled the trial date.

Thus is appeared that Hinckley will not face trial for at least a year after the day he fired upon the president and his entourage outside a Washington hotel.

The panel had ruled that the government could not use an oral statement made by Hinckley the day of the shooting and handwritten notes taken from his cell last July because the evidence was obtained in violation of the defendant's constitutional rights.

After issuing its ruling Tuesday, the three-judge panel took the unusual step of immediately sending the case back to Parker. Usually the process of legal briefs are handed back to the trial judge after an appellate ruling takes several weeks.

Parker said he interpreted the panel's action as a "green light" to get the trial moving.

Parker said that since the Mar. 5 shooting, "Mr. Hinckley has been examined and reexamined by every expert in the field of psychiatry and psychology available ... I think it's time to proceed and proceed immediately."

Hinckley, 26, sat nearly motionless as Parker tried to bring him closer to the day when a jury will determine whether he will be sent to prison or a mental institution for attempted assassination of the president.

Hinckley has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity to a 13-count indictment charging federal offense, use of a firearm in commission of a federal offense, and assault with intent to kill while armed, assault with a dangerous weapon, assault on a police officer and carrying a pistol without license.

The potential trial delay centers around evidence the government wants to use to prove Hinckley's sanity — an oral statement from on the day of the shooting and handwritten notes seized from his cell in July. Though a three-judge panel of the U.S. Court of Appeals ruled Tues- day that the evidence was obtained illegally, U.S. Attorney Stanley Harris told the judge that the government might seek a rehearing by the full 11-member court.

The government has 45 days to petition for a rehearing, but Harris said the decision had to be made by next week.

Applications are now available for COMMISSIONERS and COMPTROLLERS

Commissions open:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Social</th>
<th>Cultural Arts</th>
<th>Services</th>
<th>Publicity</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

Due back March 3

And can be picked up at S.U. Office

2nd Floor LaFortune

The NROTC SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM.

TUITION PLUS $2,000 EXPENSE MONEY AND A NAVY OFFICER COMMISSION

The two-year NROTC 2 year Scholarship Program offers tuition plus $2,000 in expense money and a Navy officer commission.

The program is open to all students and no prerequisite of prior performances in the arts is necessary. In fact, stated second-year or any other entrance plans to enter the competition.

The actual competition will be held at noon on Feb. 28. The actual competition begins at 8 p.m. Local time on March 7 and 8.

The entries will be judged on eligibility for track and field, college computations, originality, competency, interest/impact, choice of music, and stage presentation.

The prizes for the show are first place: $125; second place: $100; third place: $50; fourth place: $25; and fifth place: $50.

The entries are free to all, and there's plenty of sitting space in the downstairs.

TO GET ON THE ROAD AGAIN...GOING PLACES THAT I'VE NEVER BEEN!

CALL TODAY FOR GUARANTEED RESERVATIONS!

Let the Easy Rider make your Springtime travel hassle-free!

EASY RIDER to O'Hare

EASY AMTRAK RIDER

Leaves

O'Hare

Leaves

Amtrak

UNIT

NAVY OFFICERS

NROTC UNIT, UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME

239-6442

NAVY OFFICERS GET RESPONSIBILITY FAST

University of Notre Dame: Great Women's B B Team will look

DePaul Saturday February 27 at 6:00 pm at the A.C.C.

Admission: FREE

Half-time Festivities:

Dance...Bring the kids to meet Mickey Mouse and Donald Duck

Fun kitten's Illusions and lots of fun

P.L.U.S.: Female Only Prom Team Central

Win $200 gift certificate and other prizes.

Come and see this Saturday at 6:00 pm and support the University's Basketball Team

For more information call

Arid Hallock

Women's Athletics Coordinator

239-5415

NROTC 2 year Scholarship Program offers tuition plus $2,000 in expense money and a Navy officer commission.

The program is open to all students and no prerequisite of prior performances in the arts is necessary. In fact, stated second-year or any other entrance plans to enter the competition.

The actual competition will be held at noon on Feb. 28. The actual competition begins at 8 p.m. Local time on March 7 and 8.

The entries will be judged on eligibility for track and field, college computations, originality, competency, interest/impact, choice of music, and stage presentation.

The prizes for the show are first place: $125; second place: $100; third place: $50; fourth place: $25; and fifth place: $50.

The entries are free to all, and there's plenty of sitting space in the downstairs.

TO GET ON THE ROAD AGAIN...GOING PLACES THAT I'VE NEVER BEEN!

CALL TODAY FOR GUARANTEED RESERVATIONS!

Let the Easy Rider make your Springtime travel hassle-free!

EASY RIDER to O'Hare

EASY AMTRAK RIDER

Leaves

O'Hare

Amtrak

UNIT

NAVY OFFICERS

NROTC UNIT, UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME

239-6442

NAVY OFFICERS GET RESPONSIBILITY FAST

University of Notre Dame: Great Women's B B Team will look

DePaul Saturday February 27 at 6:00 pm at the A.C.C.

Admission: FREE

Half-time Festivities:

Dance...Bring the kids to meet Mickey Mouse and Donald Duck

Fun kitten's Illusions and lots of fun

P.L.U.S.: Female Only Prom Team Central

Win $200 gift certificate and other prizes.

Come and see this Saturday at 6:00 pm and support the University's Basketball Team

For more information call

Arid Hallock

Women's Athletics Coordinator

239-5415
Freshmen who entered the University of Notre Dame last fall were more politically and socially conservative than their counterparts nine years ago, according to a recent statistical survey.

The survey, administered by the Freshman Year of Studies Office, in cooperation with the American Council on Education's Cooperative Institutional Research Program (CIRP), compared the attitudes of the 1981 incoming Notre Dame freshmen with those of a national sample of American freshmen at private, highly selective universities and with Notre Dame freshmen in 1972.

In 1981, 52 percent of Notre Dame's freshmen described their political orientation as "conservative," increasing by 15 percent the number of those willing to do so in 1972. A slightly larger percentage of Notre Dame freshmen endorsed the conservative position than their counterparts in the national sample, where 29 percent did so. The dominant "middle of the road" political orientation has not fluctuated much at Notre Dame, increasing from 45.4 percent in 1972 to 47 percent in 1981, while losing adherents nationwide from 45.2 percent in 1972 to 45 percent in 1981.

The liberal position declined from 34.3 percent in 1972 to 20 percent in 1981 at Notre Dame, while falling from 36.7 to 26.2 in the national sample.

Asked to identify those objectives they considered important, Notre Dame freshmen endorsed goals reflecting a considerable interest in careers and family. In 1981, 73.2 percent of them wanted to "be an authority in my field," an increase of 11.2 percent from those surveyed in 1972. The number of Notre Dame freshmen endorsing the objective of "raising a family" has increased moderately since 1972, from 73.2 percent to 76.5 percent. Raising a family seemed less attractive to the national group, in which 68.9 percent of the freshmen endorsed that objective.

More freshmen at Notre Dame than in the national group believe that abortion should be legalized. 59.4 percent of Notre Dame freshmen believe in the national group believed that abortions should be legalized (23.1 percent to 63 percent).

Substantial shifts in attitudes toward the legal status of marijuana and the size of families took place at Notre Dame from 1972 to 1981. In 1972, 53.4 percent of Notre Dame's freshmen believed that "large families should be discouraged." In 1981, only 28.9 percent would endorse that belief. In 1972, 47.8 percent of the Notre Dame freshmen thought that marijuana should be legalized, and in 1981 only 20.9 percent thought so.

Notre Dame freshmen seem to be living where they are. Eighty-eight percent of Notre Dame's entering freshmen indicated that Notre Dame was their first choice for a university, compared with 75 percent in the national group of students at highly selective private universities.
...Design

...Poetry

Philosophy meeting scheduled

The Philosophy Department will conduct a "Meet Your Major" information session on Sunday, Feb. 28 at 8:15 in Room 531 of O'Shaughnessy Hall.

All students interested in declaring a philosophy major should make plans to attend.

Refreshments will be served at the meeting. Anyone wishing further information should contact either Professor Richard Foley or Professor Michael Louis in Room 537 of O'Shaughnessy Hall.

are required by the codes.

City officials were not required to approve the design change made after construction was begun and there was no indication the change was submitted to the city, Pfrang said.

Kansas City officials involved in the approval of the designs could not be reached for comment on the federal findings.

The federal report gave no indication whether the architects and builders of the walkways city codes. Pfrang said the investigators, who did not have subpoena power, were kept from seeing the structural design calculations used by the engineers.

Pfrang said the bureau asked all parties involved in building the hotel for a "laundry list" of documents and for the most part, they complied. He said when the design calculations were requested, however, the investigators were told they could not be provided "due to the litigation" under way.

Spokesmen for Havens Steel Mfg., the Kansas City steel fabricator that built the walkways, and Eldridge & Sons Construction Co., the hotel's general contractor, said they believed the federal report exonerated them in connection with the collapse.

Wagner's Who Shall Be the Suef expresses the myths, legends, and folklore of the Indians.

A native of Massillon, Ohio, Wagner spent his childhood in Whiting, Indiana. He graduated from Penn State University in 1947 with a Bachelor of Arts degree. Two years later, he received his Masters Degree from Indiana University. Beginning his career as a journalist, Wagner turned to writing novels, short stories and poetry because it offered more literary freedom. With journalism, Wagner feels that "the subject chooses you"—because Wagner taught at Penn State and DePauw University before becoming an English professor at the University of Washington in Seattle.

He also serves as a Chancellor of the American Academy of Poets and previously held positions as editor for Struc for the Fire: From the Notebooks of Theodore Roethke: 1943-1963, a work by his mentor, Roethke. Wagner also served as editor for the magazine "Poetry Northwest." In 1976, Wagner was nominated for a National Book Award for his Collected Poems 1956-1976.

Editors assign stories.

Wagner taught in the Philosophy Department at the University of Washington in Seattle. He also serves as a Chancellor of the American Academy of Poets and previously held positions as editor for Struc for the Fire: From the Notebooks of Theodore Roethke: 1943-1963, a work by his mentor, Roethke. Wagner also served as editor for the magazine "Poetry Northwest." In 1976, Wagner was nominated for a National Book Award for his Collected Poems 1956-1976.

Wagner taught in the Philosophy Department at the University of Washington in Seattle. He also serves as a Chancellor of the American Academy of Poets and previously held positions as editor for Struc for the Fire: From the Notebooks of Theodore Roethke: 1943-1963, a work by his mentor, Roethke. Wagner also served as editor for the magazine "Poetry Northwest." In 1976, Wagner was nominated for a National Book Award for his Collected Poems 1956-1976.
Feature articles and responses to Nestle's boycott are under way, and The Observer are rife with charges and counter-charges. The Nestle — INF Aktions-Committee and The Observer are engaged in a battle of wits, each trying to outdo the other in the realm of public relations.

P.O. Box Q

Thank You

Dear Editor,

As chairman of the 1982 Martha Gris, we would like to thank the many people who helped make this year's Martha Gris a success.

Finally, The Observer deserves a word of thanks. You have helped us by providing us with features, excellent coverage and requests for last minute help. A special thank you goes to the student Activity Office, especially the Activities Director, for their help. They were there for us when we needed them most.

Edward

The Observer

Opinion

I have concluded an evaluation of the implementation of its code, country by country. Nestle stated that a 40 percent profit indicates no sustainable financial impact of the boycott. In a New York Times interview, a top Nestle official in Switzerland spoke of Nestle's shifting sales to developed country markets. It is certain that to continue the boycott will not be an effective tactic.
SUNDAY EVENING LECTURE SERIES

CONTEMPORARY MORAL ISSUES

Rev. Edward Malloy, CSC

Feb. 28: Issues of Life and Death, 1: Abortion, Infanticide, Euthanasia

March 7: Issues of Life and Death, II: War & Peace, Crime & Punishment

March 21: Sexuality and Family Life

March 28: Moral Responsibility: Addictions & Compulsions

There will be a discussion period following each lecture.

Time: 8:00 PM

Place: Downstairs in the Crypt
The Louisville Cardinals will accept classifications Monday through Friday 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. However, classifications to appear in the next issue must be received by the business day prior to insertion. All classifications must be prepaid, either in person or through the mail.

Cheryl Rапel and Suzanne Tavani, Louisville's assistant directors of ticket sales, are excited for this year's season. "We are thrilled to have a great turnout," said Tavani. "It's been an exciting season so far." Rапel added, "We are looking forward to the sold-out games."
Athletic teams need support

Director of the Week

SUNDAY MASSES
AT SACRED HEART CHURCH
Masses are for Sunday, Feb. 26, 1982
5:15 PM Saturday
Rev. Robert Griffin, O.S.C.
9:00 AM Sunday
Rev. James Shilts, O.S.C.
10:50 AM Sunday
Rev. David Schlave, O.S.C.
12:15 PM Sunday
Rev. David Schlaer, O.S.C.
7:15 PM Vespers
Rev. Dan Jenk, O.S.C.

NOTRE DAME’S GREAT BOOKS
PROGRAM
Consider a truly HUMANISTIC EDUCATION
talk with faculty and students
Monday, March 1
6:45 pm
GRACE PIT

PROGRAM OF LIBERAL STUDIES

Dear Editor:

This is the die-hard IRISH Athletic Booster coming to you again with something I wish to share with you, and hope to see happen.

Those of you who saw our Fighting Irish basketball team play and beat South Carolina this past Saturday saw the way these young men can play. In turn, this leads me to my next statement, which is: We, you have, or should I say you have a team which, in my mind and eyes, has a good chance to get an NIT bid, but they’re going to need all of you to back them. By doing this, you’ll be showing them you have confidence and faith that they can do it. I know one thing — I don’t!

When that team named DePaul comes in this weekend, I’d like to have it do so defensively loud right before they take the court that you won’t be able to hear John Lloyd, the public address announcer.

And for those of you who don’t know it, you have a Fighting Irish women’s basketball team who are now 10-7, after losing this past Saturday to South Carolina — while playing superbly. If you haven’t seen these girls play, you’re missing some very exciting basketball. And they, too, have a chance to get in the NCAA Tournament. They also need your support in the remaining two home games — in hopes of making it.

There are two games left, and I’m sure it’ll help them to get the backing of you students. So let’s start Saturday when they play that DePaul team, and again a week later on March 6.

The fifth-place Irish hockey team stayed in there after their loss to Michigan State this past weekend, and came back and beat them Monday night. There will be two last games this weekend against Western Michigan. I’m sure they too could use the large crowd and the support of you students.

So don’t count the Irish out yet.

Now you can see why I’m so proud, and feel it’s such an honor to be associated with the great tradition of this institution. You can, and should, be proud to be a part of it. For let me tell you, I surely am!! I’d like to think the whole university and the good Lord for allowing me to be a part of it.

Go Irish and let it be deafeningly loud right down the line.

Sincerely yours,

Your outside Athletic Booster

Keith Penrod

Bucs defeat Hoosiers; maintain tourney hopes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State star Clark Kellogg refused to call his performance in a 68-65 win last night against the best of his collegiate basketball career.

"But it would have ranked right up there with our most satisfying," said Kellogg after he hit 10-of-16 floor shots and four straight free throws for 24 points and grabbed six rebounds to keep the Buckeyes in Big Ten title contention.

Bobby Knight, Indiana’s coach, was impressed. "Kellogg played very well. He put a lot of pressure on us, particularly in the first half. He may be the best forward in the country," said the coach of the Hoosiers, now 9-5 in the league and 15-9 overall.

It was the fifth straight league victory for the Buckeyes, breaking a third-place tie with Indiana in the conference. Ohio State is 10-5 in the league and 19-8 for all games.

...Irish continued from page 12

sights to Saturday’s clash with DePaul, one of the better teams in this region.

The Lady Demons, 15-9 on the season, lost to Michigan (86-72) and beat Illinois (71-64), breaking a three-game losing streak.

Senior Debra Robinson, a 6-4 guard, has been on of the better teams in the Big Ten, scoring 14.6 points per game for 14-of-24 shooting.

The Lady Demons have also been consistent in their defense, ranking second in the nation this week in field goal percentage, shooting at a 62 percent clip.

For the last night’s game, Notre Dame was surrendering 52.4 points per game to the opposition, which ranks second in the nation this week, behind Montana’s 52.0. Until this week, the Irish had led the country in scoring defense for four consecutive weeks.

Notre Dame also ranks 11th this week in field goal percentage, averaging 49.4 percent shooting as a team.

The Irish have dropped out of the top 15 in field goal percentage defense and scoring margin.

Since you’re in BOTC, you’re desired to see the game CLASSIFIED information about insurance on auto insurance rates. Advance for scholarship BOTC, BOTC students are eligible for more than one million students in the United States since 1972.

In most states, USA auto insurance students are eligible for $250,000,000 worth of protection to each medical liability insurance companies, saving you money on insurance.

For more information on auto insurance, call toll-free to speaker

If you’re in BOTC, all you need to do is: CALL 800-521-5801. This is the Toll Free number to call for more information about auto insurance and life insurance.

But contact us at USA and we’ll get you the coverage you need.

For more information, call 800-521-5801.
Track team travels to Illini Classic

By EARL RIX
Sports Writer

Chuck Aragon broke the four-minute mile at last year's Illini Classic. The Irish hope to recapture some of that magic tomorrow when they return to Champaign for this year's version of the prestigious meet.

The Irish distance medley team of Jim Tyler, Jacques Eady, Tim Cannon, and Tim Mac lucy hopes to be pushed under 11:40 in the tough competition that the meet should provide. The Irish ran a distance medley time of 9:50.1 last weekend.

The improvement in the Irish program is illustrated by the fact that the three top Irish performers aren't even bothering to run in the meet this year. Senior tricaptain Paul Doyle, Steve Dzibas, and Jim Moyar, NCAA qualifiers all, are choosing to sit out this weekend in order to rest for the IC4As on March 6-7. The Irish didn't send a team to the IC4As last year because they didn't think that they could be competitive.

Senior John McCoughan will run the 60 high-hurdles tomorrow. Greg Bell and Phil Gilmore will run the 60-yard dash. Bell and freshman James Patterson will long-jump for the Irish. Patterson is only 5 inches from qualifying for the IC4As. Another freshman, Chuck Constable, hopes to improve his high jump by 2 inches in order to qualify for the IC4As.

Freshman Jim Tyler and Senior tri-captain Rick Rogers will run the half mile. Tim Mac lucy and Tim Cannon will run the mile and Tony Hatherly will run the 1000 meters. Andy Dil len, who broke the Irish three-mile record last weekend, will run the two-mile tomorrow. Bobby Figan will put the shot for the Irish. The Irish-mile relay team consists of Eady, Van Dyken, Rivera, and Kania. Tomorrow marks the return to action for Rivera and Cannon.

continued from page 8

Irish fencers face their toughest weekend of the year. Arch-rival Wayne State is in town for a meet tonight at 6 p.m. at the Angela Athletic Facility. Saturday, Notre Dame plays host to Illinois and Wisconsin at 11 a.m. in the ACC. The Irish men have a 25-match winning streak going and are 1-0 on the season. — The Observer

Disney Day is the theme for the Varsity Crowd tomorrow at the Notre Dame-St. Paul women's basketball game. Mickey Mouse and Donald Duck will be on hand to help the Irish end a three-game losing streak. At the end of the game, a women's free throw contest will be held, for which $80 in prizes will be awarded to the five finalists. Admission is free for the 4 p.m. contest. — The Observer

CCHA playoffs may be held at Notre Dame. The quarter-finals of the hockey tournament will be played Friday and Saturday, March 5-6. The games are at Notre Dame, face-off time will be 7:30 p.m. Student season ticket holders will have first priority in purchasing playoff tickets. Students who present the face of their season coupon book with their ID card on Monday, March 1, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., at Gate 10 of the ACC, will be able to purchase tickets in Section 8. All other Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students may purchase playoff tickets at the same time and place. There is a limit of one student ticket per game, for personal use, at the student price of $3. Additional tickets may be purchased for $4. ID must be presented at the time of purchase, and one student may present no more than two IDs. — The Observer

GREAT WALL
Chinese & American Restaurant
& Cocktail Lounge

Great Chinese & American Beef for only $2.99

Mass followed by supper every Friday at the Bulla Shed

For information or an interview, see your NAVY reps on campus: 3-4 March
The Observer

Today

Friday, February 26, 1982 — page 11

Molarity

Michael Molinelli

* Friday, February 25
  * 12:15 p.m. — Lenten Mass, Fr. Gofflin, Basement of LaFortune
  * 1:15 p.m. — Workshop, David Waggoner, Memorial Library Lounge, Sponsored by Sophomore Literary Festival
  * 5:30 p.m. — Colloquium, "Philosophy: Just Like Science Only Different", Professor Aron Edidin, Commentator Professor Gary Gutting, 124 Hayes Healy, Sponsored by Philosophy Department
  * 8 p.m. — Tertulia, Vera Vega para hablar con nosotros y practicas el arte de conversar. Basamento de LaFortune, Sponsored by Spanish Club
  * 9 p.m. — Fencing, Notre Dame Women vs. Wayne State, ACC
  * 9:30 p.m. — Workshop, Justice Workshop, Brother Ara, Stapleton Lounge, LeMans Hall, Saint Mary's College
  * 9:30 p.m. — Film, "M*A*S*H", Carroll Hall, Saint Mary's College, Sponsored by Student Activities Programming Board.

Simone

Garry Trudeau

The Daily Crossword

© 1982 Tribune Company Syndicate, Inc.
All Rights Reserved

This is your last chance!!! Don't miss the 1982 Sophomore Literary Festival

SUSAN FROMBERG SCHAEFFER novelist

Friday Feb. 26 Reading 7:30 Library Auditorium

ROBERT CREELEY

Saturday Feb. 27 Workshop 1:30 Library Lounge
Saturday Feb. 27 Reading 7:30 Library Auditorium

You've asked for it! Again, 10400 PARK is proud to supply all the MOOD BARB BAREND and dancing you can handle—TONIGHT!

ENJOY: BLUE TAIL FLIES, BRANDY ALEXANDERS, VELVET HAMMERS, GRASSHOPPERS, AND OTHERS!

Open 10-2:00

Sat. Nite: come on out for JAZZNITE We'll feature well known jazz music, free popcorn, MUG NIGHT, and Hurricanes!
Sports

Cornhuskers outlast Irish women

By MARK HANNUKELA

Sports Editor

If there's such a thing as a tough game to lose, this was it.

Trailing by 13 points on three occasions in the first half, Notre Dame's women's basketball team fought back but could not rally to obtain a five-point overtime lead, and finally succumbed to Nebraska, 98-88 in overtime last night.

The Irish dropped the Irish to 16-7 on the season, and may have eliminated entirely Irish hopes of an NCAA tournament bid.

In handing Notre Dame its third straight loss, Nebraska raised its record to 13-15.

A steal and subsequent layup by sophomore guard Kellie Benson broke the 84-84 tie that the first overtime lasted until and gave the visitors the lead for good just over four minutes left in the second extra session.

Benson then hit a 15-foot jumper from the left side of the lane with barely over a minute left in regulation; Laura Dougherty canned a 17-footer to the left of the lane to trail, 84-82, with less than a minute left in regulation; and Jacki Nelson hit a 10-foot jumper with 10 seconds left in regulation.

Nebraska then ran off six points, the last two coming on a layup by freshman Debra Powell following a steal, to take the lead with 2.2 seconds left.

Mary Beth Schuehw scored the final two points of the game to even the score at 88.

With a crowd of about 50 persons watching in arms behind the Nebraska basket, Powell stepped to the free throw line and hit both free throws, a shot that rolled around the rim before dropping.

Powell's second attempt also rolled around the rim, but this time, the ball was ruled to be out of bounds by referee Mary Marvey, making the second overtime mandatory.

Powell, who was replaced by freshman guard Crystal Coleman in the overtime, later scored two points for Nebraska, giving the Cornhuskers a 98-88 win.

Irish battle Broncos; seek playoff advantage

By MICHAEL WILKINS

Sports Editor

The pressure will be on both the Notre Dame and Western Michigan hockey teams this weekend when the two teams face off in the ACC for their last league games in the Central Collegiate Hockey Association this season.

The pressure will be on the Irish to clinch the home ice advantage for the first round of the CCHA playoffs. The Irish must win one more game this weekend than fourth-place Michigan, who play to allow Michigan to finish on its home ice.

The momentum is behind the Irish, coming off a Monday night victory over second-place Michigan State. Lefty Smith's squad can clinch the ACC regular season title and a berth to the conference quarterfinals if they can beat the Broncos in the last game of their three-game weekend series.

The Broncos, however, have won their last five games and are playing well.

The Irish seem to have the obvious advantage, coming off their last twelve league games and compiling a 11-4-1 record since their last twelve league games and compiling a 11-4-1 record since their last December 19th loss to Ohio State. Since then, the Demons have won their last six starts and have lost just twice in those last six starts and have given the Demons a 12-point lead in the ACC regular season standings. They are in second place behind only the top of the nation's college basketball heap.

In the spring of 1980, DePaul was the No. 1 team in the country, Mark Aguirre was the toast of the country, and the Demons lost in the first round of the NCAA Tournament. In the spring of 1981, DePaul was the No. 1 team in the country, Mark Aguirre was the toast of the country, and the Demons lost in the first round of the NCAA Tournament.

Now it is the spring of 1982, DePaul has lost just one game, and is sitting at the top of the CCHA and the AP polls. But Aguirre is in Dallas, anything but the top of the town.

And the Demons have visions of advancing far beyond the first round of the NCAA Tournament.

"The previous two years when we were beaten, we went in with the idea we could outscore anybody," confesses DePaul's coach of 40 years, Ray Meyer. "I don't think we'll go out on the court and say, 'We're DePaul. We've played DePaul. We've played Notre Dame.' The players want to make sure we're ready this time.

"This time, the Demons will have to do the job without Aguirre and go with the team. Will it be tougher?"

"It had more fun before this season even started than I had all last year," says Terry Cummings, the junior co-captain. "It's going to be a lot more fun if you have someone like Mark, you're going to have a business atmosphere, with him thinking about the pros. We are in college, and we should be thinking about the Notre Dame's and UCLA's. That's fun thinking.

"We've not going to have an mos., moaning and groaning." Aguirre is gone, and the moaning and groaning went with him as did Meyer's "anything's OK with me" coaching philosophy. All of that made DePaul a better basketball team.

"This is a good bunch of young men. They try hard and they work hard. I want us always to be on the attack, but play a constant defense. "We don't take the little things far granted as we did," Meyer says now. "We've worked on all that little stuff that can top you up.

"I hope this year we can go in on an upswing. The last two years, we have slid down. I just hope there're no sliding down in this time.

"It's hard to see how Meyer can clinch the 14-game winning streak the Demons took into last year's tournament "sliding down," for more like the notion is that DePaul's weak schedule—which featured powers like Louisville, Fla, and Butler down the stretch—finally caught up with us.

This year, DePaul winds up its regular season here; against Notre Dame. That will leave them with a full two-week layoff before the tournament even starts. As it stands, the schedule is too tough.

"That's the problem. There have been so many upsets this year—Meyer is planning on that time off to prepare.

"This is a good bunch of young men. They try hard and they work hard. I want us always to be on the attack, but play a constant defense. "We don't take the little things far granted as we did," Meyer says now. "We've worked on all that little stuff that can top you up.

"I hope this year we can go in on an upswing. The last two years, we have slid down. I just hope there're no sliding down in this time.

"It's hard to see how Meyer can clinch the 14-game winning streak the Demons took into last year's tournament "sliding down," for more like the notion is that DePaul's weak schedule—which featured powers like Louisville, Fla, and Butler down the stretch—finally caught up with us.

This year, DePaul winds up its regular season here; against Notre Dame. That will leave them with a full two-week layoff before the tournament even starts. As it stands, the schedule is too tough.

"That's the problem. There have been so many upsets this year—Meyer is planning on that time off to prepare.

"This is a good bunch of young men. They try hard and they work hard. I want us always to be on the attack, but play a constant defense. "We don't take the little things far granted as we did," Meyer says now. "We've worked on all that little stuff that can top you up.

"I hope this year we can go in on an upswing. The last two years, we have slid down. I just hope there're no sliding down in this time.

"It's hard to see how Meyer can clinch the 14-game winning streak the Demons took into last year's tournament "sliding down," for more like the notion is that DePaul's weak schedule—which featured powers like Louisville, Fla, and Butler down the stretch—finally caught up with us.

This year, DePaul winds up its regular season here; against Notre Dame. That will leave them with a full two-week layoff before the tournament even starts. As it stands, the schedule is too tough.

"That's the problem. There have been so many upsets this year—Meyer is planning on that time off to prepare.