At dedication

Cronkite among six honored

By MICHELLE DIETZ

Walter Cronkite will be among six people to receive honorary degrees and will deliver the dedications of the new Stetson Chemistry Hall on October 2 and 3.

By adding the Columbia Broadcasting System to the list of names that are on the new Alumni Club for use of the building, William Hickey will become the manager of the newly planned alumni club. The new club will serve as an extension of the Alumni Club's weekend operation of menus and scheduling. According to Hickey, the non-alcoholic drinks and pizza will be served.

Senior Staff

The panel discussion will be called "Science and Our National Life: University, Industry, Government." Cronkite will join four of the other honorary degree recipients in this symposium, which will begin the various dedication activities.

Stetson Chemistry Hall, which will provide research facilities that were previously located in Old Chemistry Hall, will be dedicated at 1 p.m. on October 3 in the courtyard of the building. Roger K. Breithaupt, Professor of Chemistry and former Chairman of the Chemistry Department at Notre Dame, said, "With the new facilities we have, we will be able to do more and better research and attract more research dollars."

The dedication ceremony will feature remarks by Alfred C. Stepan, Jr., founder of Stetson Chemical Company, Northbrook, Ill., and the mayor of Evanston, Ill., who will open the talks. The dedication will be followed by a reception and dinner sponsored by the University of Florida's dairy farm, where Cronkite is expected to sell the new club.

"Lettuce serve you"

Food service announces changes

By CAROL CAMP

Adopting the motto "Lettuce serve you," Food Service Director William Hickey and his staff have made numerous changes in both the dining halls and the Huddle for this year.

According to Hickey, "lots of changes" have been made in terms of menus and scheduling. One of the most noticeable differences is the dining halls' weekend operation schedule. A continental breakfast will now be served on Saturday mornings from 7:10 a.m. and Sunday's from 9 a.m. To due to the popularity of Sunday's brunch, this meal will also be served on Saturdays from 11:32 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Additionally, lines in both dining halls will be closed at 12:45 p.m. on home football Saturdays.

Hickey intends to initiate changes in the Huddle as well by periodically introducing new menu choices. He added that changes will be made "from time to time," depending on the popularity of the items that are introduced.

Food Service Director William Hickey and his staff have planned many special meals for this year. Upcoming events include a picnic on Friday, Sept. 3, in front of Stetson Center. The menu includes fried chicken, barbeque ribs, hot dogs, corn-on-the-cob, potato salad, bread and coffee. Faculty members and students are invited.

Hickey estimates that between seven and eight thousand people will be served.

Other special dinners include a steak and rib dinner before the Notre Dame-Michigan football game, a Greek meal on October 5 featuring gyros, brioz, and baklava, and traditional Oktoberfest food on October 12.

Expected to open around September 9, the new Notre Dame Senior Alumni Club should make "twice the profits as the former one did," stated Dean of Students James Roemer.

The club, which is equipped with a smaller staff, is expected to have smaller operating expenses, said Roemer. "The additional revenues generated by the club will be used towards the upkeep and further improvement of the facility," said Roemer.

The University is charging an annual rent of $5,000 on the new $60,000,000, structure, to the Senior-Alumni Club for use of the building. The former Senior-Alumni Club made a profit of $1,000 last year, said Roemer.

The new regulations will allow undergraduates to attend the club on Sunday nights, 7-10 p.m., where non-alcoholic drinks and pizza will be served. Live music and dancing is also planned.

Any undergraduates or non-students who attempt to enter the club will be fined $100. This money will go into a Senior Alumni Bar fund for renovations, etc., said Roemer.

Kevin Woods, the student general manager of the new club, had saved approximately 600 bricks from the former club, before 200 of them were used, commented Dean Roemer. Woods is expected to sell the remaining bricks to raise funds for the new club later on this semester.

Memorial Library tours

Tour of the Memorial Library will be offered to the public three times a week, said Dean of Libraries Richard Conklin, Director of Information Services, and a member of the dedication committee, commented on the choice of Cronkite as moderator of the panel and degree recipient. "Cronkite has been associated with the coverage of the space program and host of the University. We were looking for someone the general public can relate to and who still has a scientific aspect to his career."
Jeffrey Jacob, associate professor of music at Saint Mary’s College, recently became the first American to receive the Peking Conservatory of Music’s prestigious Commemorative Medal. The Conservatory is China’s largest and most prestigious music school. A noted concert pianist, Jacob was presented the award during his recent two-week concert tour of the People’s Republic of China. Jacob performed the world premieres of piano works written for him by two of China’s leading composers, Chu Wang Hua of the Peking Conservatory of Music and Wang Lian San of Harbin University.

Five Czechoslovaksians crashed through a Yugoslav frontier crossing gate in a truck yesterday and asked for political asylum in Italy, police reported. Italian border guards fired into the air to stop the truck, which was moving at high speed, raced through the Italian checkpoint outside this border city, the police said. The Czechoslovakians fled but evidently wanted to reach Australia, where they have relatives. They were transferred to a refugee camp in Latvia, south of Rome, pending an investigation. Police said they had identified the man as Ivan Mully, 29, and his wife, Helena, 31; Josef Dostal, 28, his wife, Ludmilla, 27, and their four-year-old daughter, Alla. — AP

French police said yesterday they mistakenly held two British tourists for three days as suspected drug traffickers because of a misinterpretation produced by the language barrier. Police said the two 26-year-old tourists were quickly hustled off to jail and transferred to a refugee camp in Latina, south of Rome, pending an investigation. The added benefits give the impression that the designers went to enormous efforts to erase the image of the old library: massive floor space, modern living room comfort (rocking chairs and all!), excellent lighting and desk facilities, networking, and a 24-hour basement study lounge. Other features include conference rooms, several lounges, micro-film facilities, café area, computer terminals and study lounge.

Russell Hitchcock, lead singer of the Australian pop group Air Supply, was treated at a hospital in St. Paul Minn., after falling off the stage at the Minnesota State Fair. Hitchcock, 33, was taken by ambulance Monday night to the emergency room of St. Paul’s Mercy Hospital. A spokesman said he was treated and released. Your man John Slaterley said that Hitchcock suffered a broken wrist, bruises and a sore rib. "We think everything else is okay," the spokesman said. The accident occurred about an hour into the concert, before 8,000 people at the fair’s grandstand. The band finished the show and made an appearance the next day. Slaterley said it is uncertain if the group will make its next scheduled stop, Kansas City, Mo., today.

The Tates and Campbells, whose outrageous problems made "Soup" a hit ABC comedy for four years, held a "farewell party" yesterday to celebrate the show’s first venture into syndication. "This is wonderful," Katherine Helmond said Monday night at the ceremony held at the Cushwa-Leighton Library. The dedication of the new library should mean more than the mere presence of another building on campus in terms of community life, said Murphy. He has really stepped forward this time and achieved something worthy of its determination to develop and maintain a separate identity from Notre Dame. But will the Cushwa-Leighton Library succeed?

A woman shouting, "I must see the queen," theorists the police officer said a child before being arrested at the royal family’s summer residence at Balmoral Castle in Scotland, the Sunday newspaper reported today. A spokesman at the central police station in Aberdeen, where the woman was captured, said no one was available to discuss the report. The Sun said the incident occurred Wednesday night when Queen Elizabeth II was at the Victorian castle. According to the newspaper report, the unidentified woman was arrested and taken from the police station to a hospital. Parts of the 80,000-acre Balmoral estate are open to the public and the report said the woman, who was in her 40s, moved off the path and was not given a chance to escape detection.

If early reaction is any indication, the newly completed Cushwa-Leighton Library at Saint Mary’s will be a success. Incorporated within the new structure are all the features that the former library lacked.

Abortion rights for pregnant minors will be declared in a week if physicians have to notify parents before the procedure can be performed, the administrator of a South Bend abortion clinic will tell yesterday. Anne Pfeiffer, administrator of the Women’s Pavilion, was the first witness in a trial on the constitutionality of Indiana’s new abortion limits law. Planned Parenthood Affiliates of Indiana, two doctors who perform abortions and two pregnant girls under 18 have filed suit to set aside the law, scheduled to take effect Sept. 1. The measure makes it a felony for doctors to perform an abortion on a girl under 18 without telling her parents first. The law doesn’t apply to girls who move out of state, marry or are pregnant from rape. But many abortionists argue that the law interferes with the pregnant woman’s constitutional right to privacy as set out by the U.S. Supreme Court in the landmark 1973 abortion rights case. — AP

The Cushwa-Leighton should not follow in Memorial Library’s steps in becoming the latest wing in the Notre Dame/Saint Mary’s social structure. The new library has too much potential as a place of serious learning to be demeaned in such a manner. Let those who go to the library to fulfill their social urges contact in to inhabit Memorial Library.

Other dedication ceremonies for Cushwa-Leighton will be held this Friday, a 9:30 a.m. Mass of Thanksgiving will be held in the Holy Spirit Church of LeMans Hall. Dedication ceremonies will begin at 11:30 a.m. on the west lawn of the new library. Speaking at the ceremony will be Dr. Elizabeth Kenusan, president of Mount Holyoke College, and Congresswoman Jerry Hiler, in addition to various members of the College. Cuba jams airwaves; broadcasters upset

The Cuban broadcasts of news and propaganda that interfered with at least five AM radio frequencies in the United States were "the first firing of a radio war," the general manager of one affected U.S. radio station said yesterday.

Cuba broadcast on five frequencies, and possibly a sixth, on Monday night, affecting stations from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., to Chicago and Salt Lake City for four hours Monday night.

Maire Whitten, a Federal Communications Commission watch officer in Fort Lauderdale, refused to say whether the interference appeared to be in retaliation for the Reagan administration's proposal to set up Radio Marti, a pro-Western news and information station to be beamed from Florida to Cuba.

Cuba's broadcast's Monday included transmission at 10:40 on the AM dial, the slot proposed for Radio Marti.

The Des Moines (Iowa) Register said in a copyright story yesterday that another FCC watch officer who declined to be identified said "the Cubans specifically stated they were broadcasting to the U.S. they wanted to play tit-for-tat.''

"Cuba has been a renegade nation by ignoring international treaties which separate the frequencies that all nations agree to use in broadcasting, thereby avoiding situations such as this," said Vincent T. Wasiewski, president of the National Association of Broadcasters.

Mobile lights ready for ND-Michigan game

By VIC SCIULLI

Preparations for the mobile lighting system for the Notre Dame-Michigan game are well underway with only a few difficulties expected thus far, according to Athletic Director Gene Corrigan.

Corrigan believes that the preparation involved has not been very different from the normal day-to-day procedures. There will be a substantial increase in security for the game however, both inside and outside the stadium.

The computerized lighting system, developed by Musco Mobile Lighting Ltd., is sophisticated and powerful enough to illuminate the stadium to meet the requirements necessary for television cameras.

American Studies names
Max Lerner to chair

Max Lerner, syndicated columnist and professor of human behavior at the United States International University in San Diego, has been named a visiting professor and the first occupant of the W. Harold and Martha Welsh Chair in American Studies at the University of Notre Dame, according to Timothy O'Meara, university provost.

"The scope of Max Lerner's academic experience and the innovative nature of his scholarship amply qualify him for this new chair," O'Meara said. "His work reflects the purposes of the mass media with those of the individual intellect."

According to Donald P. Costello, chairman of Notre Dame's American Studies department, one of Lerner's courses in American Studies will be entitled "America as a Civilization: An Update," celebrating the 25th anniversary of the publication of his best known book, "America as a Civilization." The purpose of the course, Costello said, is "to examine the American experience from the differing perspectives of 1957 and 1982."

born in Minsk, Russia, Lerner emigrated to this country with his family in 1907 at the age of five. He holds law and social science degrees from Yale University, Washington University, and the London Brecon Graduate School of Economics and Government. In addition to having taught at Harvard University, Sarah Lawrence College, Williams College, and Brandeis University, where he was the dean of the graduate school, he has been a radio commentator, an editor of the Encyclopedia of Social Sciences and editor of "The Nation."

Freed sex offender taking poor health

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) - A 565-pound convicted sex offender who was freed after claiming he needs air conditioning and constant medical attention was recently seen smoking in a casino, according to evidence presented yesterday.

A doctor testified that Joseph "Jo-Jo" Giorgianni's breathing problems are mainly due to his obesity and that his life wouldn't be impaired if he were sent back to prison.

Superior Court Judge Richard J.S. Barlow Jr. said he would issue a statement today regarding his decision after hearing summations by lawyers for the state and Giorgianni.

Giorgianni, 33, was released after serving one week of a 15-year sentence. He was convicted in 1989 of carnal abuse and debauching the morals of a 14-year-old girl by customer at his Trenton sandwich shop in 1978. He had been free on appeals until his imprisonment this summer.

Giorgianni says he suffers from chronic asthma and other respiratory problems and that he could die without constant medical attention, good air conditioning and a ready supply of oxygen.

The decision to free him provoked outrage, and Gov. Thomas H. Kean ordered state officials to help prosecutors get Giorgianni's prison sentence re-instated.

Giorgianni did not appear at yesterday's hearing. Prosecutors presented six witnesses who testified that Giorgianni's medical problems weren't as severe as he had alleged and that he could be kept at a state prison facility without danger to his health.

Assistant Corrections Commissioner Gary Hilton and the prison's health services coordinator, Alan C. Koenigstedt, said there were staff doctors, nurses, psychiatrists, psychologists, dietitians and engineers who could handle Giorgianni's unusual needs.

Giorgianni's attorney, who said his client weighed 565 pounds, not the 500 estimated by prosecutors, called Simone McCarty, director of the Yardville Youth Correction and Reception Center, where Giorgianni was held.

When Giorgianni left the prison, Mrs. McCarty said, "He walked approximately 75 feet, and he said to me, 'I don't think I'm going to be able to make it.'"

Strikes delay schools in four states

By DAVID L. LANGFORD
Associated Press

Strikes by almost 6,000 teachers delayed the opening of some schools in four states yesterday, providing an extra holiday for about 100,000 students, while negotiations were still going on in many of the nation's largest cities.

But a spokesman for the National Education Association expects less militancy at the schoolhouse door this year than last when there were 17 school strikes across the country.

"This is the economy so depressed, there is a feeling of helplessness," said Mr. Carroll, the spokesman for the NEA, which represents about 1.7 million teachers. "There is an attitude of 'play it cool, stay in the foxhole.'"

Most schools aren't scheduled to open until next year, after Labor Day, and contract negotiations appeared headed for the wire in some cities.

Mafia informant murdered

NEW YORK (AP) - Investigators looking into the gangland-style murder of a contractor who had cooperated in a federal investigation of Labor Secretary Raymond Donovan said yesterday they had found no link to the attempted murder of a former mob bodyguard.

Anthony Mongelli, former bodyguard to the late mob boss Frank Tieri, remained in critical condition yesterday. He was shot Sunday night as he sat in a car in the driveway outside his Brooklyn home.

Detectives, meanwhile, searched for fingerprint evidence in the getaway car used in the slaying of Donovan's top financial officer of Scharfman Construction Co.

Last Wednesday night Masselli, whose imprisoned father had been brought to Manhattan for questioning by Silverman, was shot to death in his car in the Bronx.

Salvatore Odoreno, a reputed member of the Gambino crime family and alleged to be one of three men who fled the scene of the Masselli slaying in a red Pontiac, surrendered Saturday. He has refused to talk to investigators.

Mena's whose office is coordinat- ing the investigation, said detectives had two other suspects but he declined to identify them. He would not say if his office was close to striking agency warrants.

Masselli was the second figure in the Donovan probe to be murdered. In June, former Teamsters union official Fred Frono, who had been interviewed several times by Silverman, was found shot to death in the trunk of his car in Manhattan. No suspects have been identified.

Many business and labor leaders expressed hope that Lopez Portillo's message at noon today would counter some of the uncertainty, rumors sparked by Mexico's worst economic situation since the 1910-1920 revolution.

Miguel de la Madrid, a 47-year-old Harvard-trained economist, will be installed as president Dec. 1 for a six-year term. The constitution bars a president from seeking a second term. Both Lopez Portillo and de la Madrid belong to the Institutional Revolutionary Party, which has been in power for 52 years.

"Let's hope the president's sixth report on the government deficit dispels the doubts and dis-information," Fernando Mariana Janet, president of the Mexico City Chamber of Commerce, told reporters.

After four years of increasing prosperity, the bottom fell out of the economy as world market prices began dropping last fall for Mexico's main exports of oil, silver and coffee.
Most jurors thought Franklin shot Jordan

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Most jury members believed that avowed racist Joseph Paul Franklin shot Vernon Jordan, but acquitted him because the government failed to prove its civil rights case, two jurors say.

The jury on Aug. 17 acquitted Franklin, a drifter from Mobile, Ala., of federal charges that he violated Jordan's civil rights by shooting him.

The two jurors were contacted Monday by U.S. District Judge Alan Sharp modified his order barring Franklin, a drifter from Mobile, Ala., of federal charges that he violated Jordan's civil rights by shooting him.

Doctors work with balloons in surgery

If, like most people on campus, you decided to wait until the last possible second to return to school, you missed sort of a tem­ber 18 clash between Notre Dame and Michigan, which will be perfectly different story entirely.

Needles pursued this matter fur­ther, and found an apathetic, report that everything went their vehicles parked of their authors. Column of Oskaloosa, Ia., brought

Outside the stadium was a dif­ference prevalent in the administration. Needles quoted Athletic Director Gene Corrigan in his April 22 column as saying "There have been many night games played before (elsewhere) and nothing's ever happened. There's nothing to worry about."

Last week's two-day trial revealed several potential problems. Many areas outside the stadium were noticeably dark, most especially Green Field near Edison Road and out towards South Bend Avenue. Many trailers and Winnebagos occupy that area on football Saturdays, and will become prime targets for crime and vandalism that night. Then, of course, fans also will become tar­gets themselves in the darkness.

The solution is easy: more banks of lights are needed, these pointed to the unit areas outside the stadium. Also, security patrols will need to be beefed up to guard against potential crime. The Observer hopes that the admin­istration learned a valuable lesson last week and that these extra precautions will be taken.

But if the administration main­tains its cavalier attitude towards the situation, a potentially joyous evening can very quickly become a tragic one.

Keith Picher
Writings on the Wall

But the Prince Preppy was happy and dauntless and sagacious. While his dominions were half unemployed, he summoned to his presence a thousand hale and light hearted designers from among the knights and dukes of his court, and with these desired to keep a confusion of styles and colors in vogue. Their dress was expensive and typical of upper class luxury, the creation of the prince's own ec­centric and august taste. His will resembled a gate of iron. He resolved that by no means (either to impress or reprove) should one be caught by the sudden impulse to buy anything but preppy styles. The external world could take care of itself. The prince had provided clothes for leisure, for recreation, and for everyday. All such ridiculous clothes were "in." "Out" were the non-preps.

This rendition of Edgar Allan Poe's "Masque of the Red Death" suggests many of the shortcomings of "Preppyism," a contagion which has recently infected the land.

People are not only people who dress preppily. A non-prep can don nice clothing on occasion because he or she wants to look attractive. A prep would rather die than be caught in proletarian garb. The prep assumes that because he or she dresses better, somehow he or she is better. This kind of elitism is the backbone of the prep scene. The assumed message which the prep conveys is this: "I have the bucks to blow on these clothes, and I'm proud of it!" Some prep崽 insist that their luxurious and avant garde tastes are justified. Why should anyone care how others spend their money? The Roman Catholic tradition (as well as the traditions of most other denomina­tions) has long professed that an individual may spend money on personal and family needs, but that excessive wealth is not consis­tent with Christ's teaching. When we are someday asked by Jesus, "Where were you when I was hungry or thirsty or homeless?"

We'll have trouble justifying our allot­ter and socks and $40 dress shirts in the face of widespread hunger, thirst, and poverty.

Elitism is not, of course, an exclusively preppy phenomenon. Capitalism naturally eulogizes the greed within its souls. Those who acquire valuable skills are richly rewarded, those who don't must live a second-class exist­ence. Indeed we are a nation of elites, and hence rarely reflect on our situation. The dif­ference between a prep and a non-prep is namely this: a non-prep buys clothes he likes when he needs them; a prep buys clothes because they are expensive and fashionable, though totally unnecessary. Some preps assert that their style looks good, and are worth a little extra money. Personally, I think prep clothes are outrageous. Bottom button shirts cost several dollars more than non-buttom-downs. Shirts which sport the alligator are no more comfortable and good looking than those which don't. Preps don't want to display their status for everyone to see. I'm sorry they need such affirmation.

A surprisingly high number of everyday men and women have opted for the prep style. While they are not genuine preps, they desire the status which they believe comes with the style. Preps and non-preps alike hope to be pretentious enough to seem like they belong to an exclusive elite. Hence, many men and women have resorted to dressing in prep style for the fame and status which are attached to the style. Many wear prep clothes because they feel they belong to an upper class of society.

Since I am not a prep, I cannot pretend to fully understand their thoughts and emotions (I'm sure they won't believe the latter either). But several comments seem to be appropriate.

The nervous look on her face changed markedly. She seemed to forget that there was a place she had to be. The aura of cool preparation was replaced by friendly warmth and a smile.

"Do you go to Notre Dame?" she asked.

"Yes, 1 do," I replied.

She proceeded to explain that she was a third-year law student. She was delighted to meet another student from Notre Dame.

An isolated incident like that probably would not have devoted me as much as it did. After the isolated incident. In the subway station, at the window stop or working in an office, I stumbled upon alumni and students.

One of my assignments as a temporary secretary placed me in the office of a trade council. As with most of the people that I worked for, they wanted to know where I was from, what school I went to, etc. When I mentioned that I went to Notre Dame, the president of the council smirked and shook his head. He was a graduate.

Another hour or so later, as we were driving, I began to talk about Notre Dame. After graduating in 1941, he was drafted into the Army and has never returned to campus.

We talked about what the campus looked like, the changes in administration, the pros and cons of coeducation, virtually every facet of life here including the student body and athletics.

Our memories differed because there were four years that divided us. But there was something that bound our two memories together.

I could not figure it out.

During my lunch hour, I took advantage of the emptiness of the office to call my father. Towards the end of the conversation, I began to cry. My boss, the Notre Dame alumnus, returned to work just as I was hanging up the phone. He asked me if there was anything wrong. I lied, "No," and left it at that.

"If you ever need anything, or need a place to stay, don't be afraid to call. It's nothing personal.

In my mind I thought in that moment I figured out what bound our two sets of memories together. I think that I also began to understand what the site of a wedding, the sip of a hot fudge shake and the beauty of the Golden Dome mean.

To me, they meant "home bases." And I am very proud to be part of that family.

Author's Note: This is dedicated to the Ballman, Cremona and Roche families who reinvented my sense of belonging to the Notre Dame family by their faith and love.

The Go-Gos' vinyl

The Go-Go's have done what Boston, The Knack, and most groups with these successful debut albums could not do — they made a follow-up album that's even better than their highly successful predecessor.

The trouble with a follow-up album is that artists have from nine months to one year to put together a better album than the one they just finished. The Go-Gos did it with one of the most consistent, a feeling of experimentation and hesitation that overcomes the technical limitations of the genre.

With Vacation, the Go-Gos have given their prominent driving beat a smoother sound to pulse through, a studio sophistication that makes the debut seem like a one-shot wonder.

What helped the Go-Go's was the late rise of Beauy and The Beat on the charts. Their proposed second album was postponed by a tour with the Police with a few tracks already completed.

Formed in 1978 by Belinda Carlisle (lead vocals) and Jane Wiedlin (rhythm guitars), the group played in Los Angeles nightclubs for a year with lead guitarist Charlie Caffey. Drummer Gina Schock and bassist Kathy Valentine joined the group as they scored a record contract with International Record Syndicate, a subsidiary of A&M Records, and released Beauty and The Beat.

Four commercially successful albums have made them one of the most popular bands in the world. Their music, a combination of garage rock and pop, has a strong influence on the current pop scene.

The Go-Go's have become a household name with successful albums, including Beauty and The Beat, which has sold over a million copies. Their latest album, Vacation, has sold over three million copies and is still in the top 100.

The title track serves as the first cut and sets the tone for the album. The Go-Go's have a powerful sound that is hard to ignore.

The game is being organized by Notre Dame assistant basketball coaches Gary Beckore and John Shannon, both former Irish All-Americans who will play in the game. "It will be a great opportunity for all of us to help give something back to the South Bend community and enable local fans to do the same," says Beckore. Tip-off is set for 1 p.m. on Saturday, September 18, just seven hours before Notre Dame opens its 1982 football season against Michigan at Notre Dame Stadium. Tickets are $6 in the lower area and $4 for upper area. Tickets are selling fast at Gate 10 of the ACC. - The Observer

Haines, who graduated in 1979 and played from 1979-75, is most famous for his diving catch in the end zone with no time remaining in the 1979 Cotton Bowl, allowing Notre Dame to defeat the University of Houston, 35-14, in the most momentous match at 7 p.m. in Lafayette, first floor. Haines had been with the Bears for the past three seasons, seeing limited action. - The Observer

Angels acquire John from Yanks

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — The California Angels announced last night that they have acquired pitcher Tommy John from the New York Yankees.

California will send three minor league players, to be named later, to the Yankees for the left-handed pitcher.

The 39-year-old John played seven seasons with the Los Angeles Dodgers prior to signing as a free agent with the Yankees after the 1978 season. He also pitched for the Chicago White Sox from 1965-1971.

John had two 20-win seasons for the Yankees, as he went 21-9 in 1979 and 22-9 in 1980 before a 9-8 campaign last year. His best of seven seasons with the Dodgers was in 1977, when he was 20-7 with a 2.78 earned run average.

A left-hander known for his slider, John is one of 20 pitchers to be a 20-game winner in both leagues.

John, who will join the Angels immediately in Detroit, is 10-10 this season with a 3.66 ERA in 50 appearances. His lifetime record is 235-169.

Yankees 3, Twins 1

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Graig Nettles hit a two-run homer in the ninth inning last night to give New York Yankees left-hander Ron Guidry his 100th career victory, a 3-1 decision over the Minnesota Twins.

With one out in the ninth, Roy Smalley singled, and Nettles followed with his 17th home run of the year, a 375-foot shot to right field off Brad Havens, 8-11. It was his fifth homer in the last eight games.

Ken Griffey gave the Yankees a 1-0 lead in the sixth with his 10th homer of the year, a 400-foot shot into the right field stands off Havens. The Twins came back to tie it in the bottom of the inning with four straight hits off Guidry. John Castro led off with a single, went to third on a single by Tom Brunansky and scored on a single by Kent Hrbek. Gary Ward then loaded the bases with a bunt single, but Gary Gattis hit into a double play to take the pressure off Guidry.

Box 14, Indians 6

CHICAGO (AP) — Harold Baines doubled in the tie-breaking run to launch an eight-run sixth inning in which Cleveland committed three errors last night as the Chicago White Sox rolled to a 14-6 victory, extending the Indians' losing streak to six.

Braves 3, Phillies 0

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Tommy Boggs, pitching for the first time since injuring his shoulder April 20, threw six shutout innings as the Atlanta Braves downed the Philadelphia Phillies 3-0 last night.

Boggs, 2-0, who suffered a slight tear in his shoulder in the spring, allowed three hits, struck out two and walked two. Reliever Gene Garber completed the shutout to earn his 20th save.

The Braves took a 1-0 lead in the fourth inning without benefit of a hit against loser Ed Farmer, 2-5.

Clifford Washington and Dale Murphy walked opened the fourth with walks. After Bob Horner popped out, Chris Chambliss reached first on a fielder's choice, Washington advancing to third and scoring as shortstop Ivan DeJesus threw wildly past first base for an error.

Reds 2, Expo! 1

MONTREAL (AP) — Paul Householder stroked a one-out, 14th-inning single to score Dan Driessen from second base and lift the Cincinnati Reds to a 2-1 victory over the Montreal Expos last night.

Cesar Cedeno moved Driessen to second with a sacrifice bunt and Rafael Landestoy was intentionally walked. Householder foiled the strategy by lining a single to right.

Charlie Leibrandt, 6-7, the 8th Reds' pitcher, worked the final two innings.
Billie Jean loses in U.S. Open action

NEW YORK (AP) — Teenager Susan Mascarin, who was born the year Billie Jean King won her first U.S. Open title, eliminated the marquis of women's tennis 6-3, 6-2 yesterday in the opening round of America's national championships. In an evening match, second-seeded Chris Evert-Lloyd crushed Pilar Vasquez, 6-1, 6-0.

In men's play, third-seeded Ivan Lendl of Czechoslovakia and No. 11 Mats Wilander of Sweden, the French Open champion, won their first-round matches. The 38-year-old King, seeded No. 12, who won her first women's doubles title here in 1964, was the sentimental favorite of the crowd at center court in Louis Armstrong Stadium.

She ripped her first set and lead off the next six games to win the first set, then closed out the tiebreaker 8-6 with an ace.

"I was nervous at the beginning," she said. "After the second set, I felt great."

Wilander led a group of three Swedes into the second round. Also winning yesterday were brothers Hans and Stefan Simonsson, heavily favored to capture her first women's title — play their first matches today.

Lendl suffered a slight case of mid-match mistakes before defeating Ramesh Krishnan of India 6-4, 7-6, 6-1, while Wilander, playing in his first U.S. Open, began the two-week tournament by ousting Bill Scanlon 6-4, 6-3, 6-1.

Also winning his first-round match was 14th-seeded Brian Teacher, who eliminated John Sadri 6-3, 6-2, 6-2.

Mascarin has won a single-season record $1.2 million this year, has yet to win a Grand Slam title — Wimbledon and the Australian, French and U.S. Opens. Against Krishnan, he questioned several calls in the second set as he faltered slightly, dropping his serve and going into a tiebreaker.

The smart Czech was beaten back on his first two set points, but then closed out the tiebreaker 8-6 with an ace.

He then breezed through the final set, admitting later that he had expected an easier match against the smooth-playing Krishnan.

"I'm happy I won (in) three sets," Lendl said. "I'm 22 (years old). I feel good enough to win. If I don't, I'm not going to quit. I'll give it another shot.

"I was nervous at the beginning," he said. "After the second set, I felt great."

Wilander led a group of three Swedes into the second round. Also winning yesterday were brothers Hans and Stefan Simonsson, who had to qualify for the 128-player field, defeated Barson Lutsal of Zim­babwe 7-5, 6-1, 6-1, while Stefan out­lasted Jack Liskersky 6-7, 6-3, 5-7, 6-4, 6-1.

Wilander lost his serve in the sixth game of the opening set, but then reeled off the next five games to take the first set and lead 1-0 in the second. He broke Scanlon in the sixth game, the only break in the second set, then allowed Scanlon to hold serve just once, in the third game, in the third set before closing out the match.

Houston recalls Richard from minors

HOUSTON (AP) - The Houston Astros will gauge pitcher J.R. Richard's progress when he throws batting practice Monday, General Manager Al Rosen said.

Rosen said it was possible that Richard would pitch for the Astros during September.

"I wouldn't rule it out. I'd love to see him pitch, but it just depends on how he throws (batting practice)," Rosen said.

Richard will join the Astros effective today, when major league teams can increase their rosters from 25 to 40.

It is the second year in a row that Richard has been recalled, but he has not pitched in the major leagues since the stroke.

Richard was ineffective in five starts with the Astros' Triple A Tucson farm club. In five starts, he pitched only 18 2/3 innings and had a 14.95 earned run average. His record was 0-2. He yielded 28 hits, walked 27 batters and struck out nine.

Logan benefit game slated for Sept. 18

At last, there will be something to do during the day of the Michigan game besides drink.

The Council for the Renowned of St. Joseph County, together with the Logan Center, has organized a basketball game that will reunite nearly all Notre Dame basketball players of the last 15 years. The game, to be held at the ACC, will begin at 1 p.m. on September 18, just seven hours before the Notre Dame-Michigan kickoff.

The game is open to all the players who will be here who was identified with Logan. Logan is a Special Olympic during his playing career at Notre Dame and during his college basketball career by Coach Gary Brokaw, who along with fellow assistant John Shumate helped organize the event. It will be a great opportunity for all of us to remember some of the best basketball and academics of the South Bend community and enjoy the local community.

The ACC will also feature a silent auction of items donated by players, fans and alumni of Notre Dame basketball.

USFL job

Devine headed for Phoenix?

It seems the nomadic coaching career of former Notre Dame Head Coach Dan Devine will continue.

Reports from Phoenix, Ariz., say that the 56-year-old Devine, who has not coached a football game since he left Notre Dame after the 1981 season, has accepted the same position with Phoenix after the university accepted the last February. He had begun his illustrious coaching career at ASU in 1955, and compiled a 27-3-1 record in three seasons.

After the University of Arizona in 1962-63, Devine is expected to begin his 11th season as head coach of the Sun Devils.

Devine's name always seems to pop up whenever a coaching vacancy is filled. Last year, Devine was reported to have been a finalist for the South Carolina job, but President Bowers is currently conducting a search for a successor to the late Bill Shaw, who retired after the 1981 season.

Recently, he has been considered for the coaching position at the University of the Pacific.
