In Afghanistan

Salang pass tunnel fire kills 2,700

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan (AP) — As many as 2,000 Afghan civilians and 700 Soviet soldiers were killed in an attack on a tunnel in Afghanistan jammed with buses and trucks when a fuel truck exploded into a raging inferno, Western diplomats said yesterday.

The diplomatic sources and Afghan rebels said victims burned to death or asphyxiated after the truck collided with another vehicle last week in the 1.5-mile long Salang pass tunnel in the Hindu Kush mountain range 70 miles north of the capital, Kabul.

The diplomats said Soviet troops guarding the tunnel blocked both ends with tanks because they thought the explosion signaled a rebel attack, and thereby sealed in all means of escape to the victims.

There was no official confirmation from Kabul or the Kremlin. The Soviet Union has sent at least 100,000 troops into Afghanistan since 1979 to help crush a Moslem guerrilla movement that seeks to topple the Moscow-backed government.

Guerrillas, who recently have ambushed Soviet trucks on the main highway that passes through the tunnel, which is believed to have been the explosion, is believed to have been occupied Nov. 2 or 3.

Conflicting reports emerged about the number of dead and injured. Estimates of Afghan civilian casualties ranged from 400 to 2,000, the diplomats said.

Victims were unable to obtain because Afghan authorities swiftly blocked all contact with foreign reporters.

The diplomatic sources, who refused to be identified by name or title, said 700 Soviet soldiers were confirmed dead and 1,000 civilians injured. Estimates of Afghan civilian casualties ranged from 400 to 2,000, the diplomats said.

Victims were unable to obtain because Afghan authorities swiftly blocked all contact with foreign reporters.

The diplomatic sources, who refused to be identified by name or title, said 700 Soviet soldiers were confirmed dead and 1,000 civilians injured. Estimates of Afghan civilian casualties ranged from 400 to 2,000, the diplomats said.

Victims were unable to obtain because Afghan authorities swiftly blocked all contact with foreign reporters.

The diplomatic sources, who refused to be identified by name or title, said 700 Soviet soldiers were confirmed dead and 1,000 civilians injured. Estimates of Afghan civilian casualties ranged from 400 to 2,000, the diplomats said.

Victims were unable to obtain because Afghan authorities swiftly blocked all contact with foreign reporters.

The diplomatic sources, who refused to be identified by name or title, said 700 Soviet soldiers were confirmed dead and 1,000 civilians injured. Estimates of Afghan civilian casualties ranged from 400 to 2,000, the diplomats said.

Victims were unable to obtain because Afghan authorities swiftly blocked all contact with foreign reporters.

The diplomatic sources, who refused to be identified by name or title, said 700 Soviet soldiers were confirmed dead and 1,000 civilians injured. Estimates of Afghan civilian casualties ranged from 400 to 2,000, the diplomats said.

Victims were unable to obtain because Afghan authorities swiftly blocked all contact with foreign reporters.

The diplomatic sources, who refused to be identified by name or title, said 700 Soviet soldiers were confirmed dead and 1,000 civilians injured. Estimates of Afghan civilian casualties ranged from 400 to 2,000, the diplomats said.

Victims were unable to obtain because Afghan authorities swiftly blocked all contact with foreign reporters.

The diplomatic sources, who refused to be identified by name or title, said 700 Soviet soldiers were confirmed dead and 1,000 civilians injured. Estimates of Afghan civilian casualties ranged from 400 to 2,000, the diplomats said.

Victims were unable to obtain because Afghan authorities swiftly blocked all contact with foreign reporters.

The diplomatic sources, who refused to be identified by name or title, said 700 Soviet soldiers were confirmed dead and 1,000 civilians injured. Estimates of Afghan civilian casualties ranged from 400 to 2,000, the diplomats said.

Victims were unable to obtain because Afghan authorities swiftly blocked all contact with foreign reporters.
Keenan Hall residents began their celebration of the dorm’s 25th anniversary last night with a speech by Digger Phelps. The former coach and current University Theodore Hesburgh was the keynote speaker at the Keenan-Stanford Chapel at 10 p.m. everyone is invited to attend. Other events for the hall include a 25th Birthday Party this Friday, noon to 3, and a talent show. The celebration is open to all Notre Dame and Saint Mary’s students. Men from other dorms are encouraged to purchase tickets in advance from the Resident Union or from dorm residents. Other events will include a showing,” Wake Up The Echoes,” Keenan Night at the Saz, a hall formal from 7 to 9 p.m. and an Anniversary mass at 4:30 p.m. on Sunday, Nov. 21, with University officials and hall fellows in attendance. Plans for the burning in effigy of Ellerbe and Associates architect to move back in with him, and now they share happy times. A TV repair shop owner has been ordered to exist his 10-foot Burmese python, named Snaggletooth, after police received complaints of missing cats and frightened neighbors. Doug Mead was arrested Tuesday afternoon and charged with the unlawful possession of a wild animal. Mead is said to have freed a 6-foot snake and a 36-inch corn snake named Monik. Mead had used the reptilian trio as watchdogs and attention-getters for his shop, even giving them a name and a favorite, ”Beautiful Texas.”” That’s the way he used to amuse himself while I was getting dinner, especially on Sundays,” Mrs. Kroll said. — AP

A 20 percent chance of showers today, gradual clearing this afternoon. High around 60. Fair tonight. Low in the mid 40s. Partly sunny tomorrow and pleasant. High in the mid 60s. — AP

The Observer published a letter last week that Dean of Students James Roemer sent to alcohol distributors in the South Bend area, urging them not to deliver beer to student off-campus residents. Roemer’s reasoning in sending such a letter was based on his fears that alcohol abuse has become a pressing problem.

I could only laugh at the letter at first. How can one expect a beer distributor to turn away business like that? Of course students can get the alcohol elsewhere? Fat chance. After thinking about it for a while, however, I realized the letter should not be a surprise to anyone; the letter was consistent with the University’s policy toward alcohol use, and a move to control it seemed like a sensible and necessary step.

Roemer’s concern about alcohol use has always been apparent. He has, on more than one occasion, mentioned alcohol as the top problem among college students. I do not deny the seriousness of alcohol abuse, nor do I question the belief that alcohol abuse is a rapid growing problem on college campuses. I do believe, however, that all the talk at Notre Dame has only served to magnify a situation on campus which does not exist in the proportions Roemer and others seem to be expressing. The situation can be compared to the one where fear of people who fear that all the horrors she bears in the news will happen in the near future.

I believe that to state that alcohol abuse never becomes a campus problem. I believe that the means being used to achieve the desired goal are out of line, and could be achieving the opposite goal.

Drinking in any amount has become the center of attention at Notre Dame. With all the restrictions governing the use of alcohol on campus, it has become almost impossible for one to drink socially without feeling uncomfortable. One can certainly not deny that students drink, but it is necessary to view the issue as an evil which only occurs behind closed doors? Why is it that if these issues are forced to drink like the teenagers, who drink in clandestine places to hide from their parents? Creating an atmosphere where drinking is looked upon as a serious character fault is just as dangerous as an atmosphere where there really is a problem. Students who drink to improve their relationships or to moderate their lechery should not be made to feel as if they are having a drinking problem.

As a result of all this tension, more and more students who would like to drink in a relaxed place to go will view Notre Dame as a place where they cannot, and consequently, will have their drink and socialize in a comfortable atmosphere, maybe fewer students would leave campus. In looking at the number of accidents that have happened to students who have left campus, one would have to agree that it is necessary to provide students with an atmosphere where moderate drinking won’t have to be swept under a rug.

Notre Dame and Saint Mary’s students are more intelligent and responsible than they’ve been given credit. With all the hand-holding and regulations that govern the way we live, study and socialize, I wonder under what qualifications we were accepted. I’d like to think that our records did a little more than hint at a sense of self-discipline and responsibility. Roemer’s letter is an insult to off-campus students, whose responsibility has been called into question.

I have not suggested a total abandonment of rules, rules have their place, especially in cases where certain people aren’t responsible enough to live by them. I would argue, however, that if these rules did not exist, student’s lives would change very little. I have spoken to several university administrators and responsible the average student is here. The policies made, however, seem to be geared for a different type of student, a student that needs many rules to keep him from doing things that are wrong and damaging to himself.

Notre Dame and Saint Mary’s students need to be treated more manfully than they are now. More attention needs to be given to how we have proven our wisdom, not to what we might fall on our faces if someone doesn’t hold our hand.

The views expressed in the inside columns are the views of the author, and do not necessarily represent the views of The Observer or its editorial board.

The Observer (ISSN 398 900) is published Monday through Friday and on-home UniversitybaseUrl Saturdays during fall quarter and vacation periods. The Observer is published by the Student News Service. Subscriptions may be purchased at The Observer office or through the Student News Service. On-campus subscriptions are: $7.00 for one semester. The Observer is a member of the Associated Press. Subscriptions are not refundable. Address changes take place at Notre Dame Indiana 46556.

The Observer’s Opinion Page offers a forum for the exchange of ideas and opinions. Columns reflect the views of the editors of The Observer and do not necessarily represent the views of the newspaper. The columns are written by students of the University of Notre Dame Indiana 46556.

Rhodes Food Services
Bratwurst- 10 lb. Box - $19.50
Hot Dogs- 10 lb. Box - $12.50
Hamburgers- 12 lb. Box - $17.50
MEATS FOR YOUR PARTIES
234-1021

ATTENTION: All classes welcome
ARTS & LETTERS STUDENTS
Seeking EMPLOYMENT after graduation
ATTEND THE PRESENTATION OF PROCTOR AND GAMBLE, featuring its CUSTOMERS-SERVICES OPERATIONS TUES., NOV. 9 7pm 124 Hayes-Healy
* Learn about OPPORTUNITIES in the BUSINESS for the ARTS & LETTERS GRAD.

A 20 percent chance of showers today, gradual clearing this afternoon. High around 60. Fair tonight. Low in the mid 40s. Partly sunny tomorrow and pleasant. High in the mid 60s. — AP

Easing the grip

By The Observer and The Associated Press
Who will succeed?
Brezhnev's health poses threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet President Leonid I. Brezhnev, 76 years old and in poor health, remains in office only as a symbol. His potential successors include Yuri Andropov, former head of the KGB, who asked not to be quoted by name.

Andropov, former head of the KGB, however, that the Soviet making process is able to function steadily eroding, in the view of experts as possible successors to the ailing Brezhnev. They are Yuri Andropov, former head of the KGB, who asked not to be quoted by name.

Brezhnev may go on for a number of years, but his abilities to manage the complexities of government are steadily eroding, in the view of American experts. They emphasize, however, that the Soviet decision-making process is able to function through an informal powersharing arrangement.

"I don't see any sign at all of paralysis," said one of these officials, who asked not to be quoted by name.

Three men near the top of the hierarchy have been identified by experts as possible successors to the aging Brezhnev. They are Yuri Andropov, former head of the KGB, the secret police; Konstantin Chernekov, the leader's closest aide; and Valerii Grishin, head of the Communist party in Moscow.

A fourth leading contender, Andrei Kirilenko, 76, is himself in poor health and is no longer considered in the running. Intelligence sources say Kirilenko will be dropped from the ruling Politburo when it meets Nov. 15 and also taken out of the succession.

"Brezhnev keeps going up and down, but each time he comes back he comes back at a lower level of energy," said one U.S. official who knows Kirilenko well.

"He's able to cope, and it's clear that he may go on for a number of years still," the official said. "But his abilities to manage all the complexities of government are decreasing over time."

Andropov was the Kennedys' choice. It was preferable to keep Brezhnev in office than have an open fight over succession.

Services provide priceless experience

By MARY EILEEN KENNEY
Staff Reporter

For over 50 years, the Logan Center has provided priceless experiences and memories for the disabled, children, adults and volunteers. It offers a variety of services for infants, pre-school children and adults.

Ronnie Rainey, director of program services at Logan Center, said that the Department of Mental Health since has received dozens of requests to determine whether or not they qualify for services. Rainey added those who qualify for Logan Center's services suffer from mental retardation, cerebral palsy, epilepsy, autism, or similar disabilities.

A group of parents began Logan Center in 1950. During its inception, the institution was funded by tuition and the United Way.

Rainey noted that today two-thirds of Logan Center's revenues are provided by state and federal funds. The Indiana Department of Mental Health acts as a "noncontrac tor" by purchasing services for the patients of Logan Center. The remaining one-third is contributed by the local community and government and by private benefactors.

Logan Center offers many programs. The major Day Services include the home start program for infants and pre-schoolers, the adult rehabilitation program for the severely handicapped, the Logan Industries and supervised workshops for the residential program or handicapped adults.

In addition to major Day Services, Logan Center also runs the Recreational Services, the Protection Services, and the Community Outreach Program which social workers does for those disabled people who do not participate in day programs.

The Recreational Services division runs the Special Olympics and conducts leisure and therapeutic activities at the Center Protective Services provides the handicapped with protection and support. According to Rainey, "the law mandates that school districts provide services for disabled school-age children and adolescents. Because of this, Logan Center does not serve this group except through the Recreational Programs during after school hours."

On Saturday mornings, Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students volunteer their time to run fun activities for the disabled patients of Logan Center and for disabled school-age children and adolescents in the community.

"The adults who volunteer find their experiences very valuable," Mary Decker, a co-coordinator of the Saturday morning program, finds "volunteering at Logan Center to be very rewarding." Decker added that she enjoys helping others in a warm, casual atmosphere, and she cited the Bowling Program on Friday afternoons as a fun way to extend a caring heart.

Freshman Mark Krebs explained that the Saturday morning song fest and arts and crafts hour are the highlight of many disabled people's week. According to Krebs, "the people have such a good time, and they look forward to it so much."

Tom McLaughlin, a sophomore, also enjoys volunteering, adding that "it really gave me a different perspective on life."

McLaughlin has found Saturday mornings at Logan Center "to be a great chance to see how fortunate I am and to learn the value of the gifts God has given me."

McLaughlin believes that the most important realization of Logan volunteers is that even though disabled people don't possess the same physical abilities, they possess the same inherent qualities of the people they help.

"The most important thing is to remember that we're people just like them," Krebs explained. "It's a great experience to volunteer their time to run activities for the disabled patients of Logan Center."

Nebraska University's Program for the Developmentally Disabled offers many services for infants, pre-school, children and adults.

McLaughlin believes that the most important realization of Logan volunteers is that even though disabled people don't possess the same physical abilities, they possess the same inherent qualities of the people they help. The Logan volunteers enjoy sharing with the disabled, for they give to the volunteers as much as the volunteers give to them.

Beaux Arts Ball clue found here

The Beaux Arts Ball tickets and a case of cheap beer have yet to be found. Clues to their location will appear in The Observer this week. The affair will be held Friday evening, November 12 from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. in the Architecture Building. All costumes are expected to be in "Bad Taste." Forbearance individuals need not apply. The event will be held in "Bad Taste." Tickets are $4 and will be sold in the dining halls and at the door. The Bands, The Kinetics and The Rooms, will play at least all night.

Father Sorin once made a gift to the Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students. It was a case of cheap beer. If you buy Observer classified Ads at the Saint Mary's Observer office, you can get $3 off. Contact Sister Carol.
ND receives $60,000 award from bank

By MIKE KRISKO
News Staff

The University of Notre Dame, along with 50 other colleges and universities nationwide, has been selected to receive a Chemical Bank Higher Education Grant, according to Donald C. Flaten, Chairman of the nation's sixth largest bank.

Marvin Stern, director of corporate contributions for the New York bank, indicated that $6,000,000 has been committed to 51 universities across the country.

"Notre Dame was awarded a total of $60,000 to be received as $20,000 installments over three years," she said.

"One of the reasons why companies are particularly interested in supporting N.D. is the quality of the students," said Sandman.

"Since the gift was given without restriction, the officers of the university will determine its use," said Joseph Sandman, director of Notre Dame's higher education programs, to private liberal arts colleges in the Northeast.

"Most of the significant thing about the grant is that it reflects the judgment of the Chemical Bank officers that N.D. is regarded among the best universities in the country," said Sandman.

The criteria determining which universities would receive grants weren't revealed, but Stern indicated that grants were awarded to major national universities that contribute significantly to educational and research programs, to private liberal arts colleges in the Northeast, and to private colleges and universities located in the New York metropolitan region.

"The criteria mainly dealt with quality," said Sandman. "The quality of faculty, students, and the reputation of the academic and research programs appear to be the major contributing factors to the university's selection," he said.

Sandman reflected on the growth of Notre Dame's credibility in the community when asked about the university's fund raising policy.

"We (Notre Dame) have a development office of about nine professionals who constantly seek funds from alumni, parents and friends. My division (of the development office) seeks funds from private foundations and corporations. In one campaign, 51 out of the country's top 14 companies (from Fortune magazine's ranking of the top 500 companies), made contributions to Notre Dame," said Sandman.

"During the most recent campaign, approximately 1,900 companies gave over $10 million to the university," he said.

"One of the reasons why companies are particularly interested in supporting N.D. is the quality of the students," said Sandman. "A good number of our students take jobs in business and do very well. This is evidenced by the fact that we have a large number of companies that compete on campus, which is much larger than you would expect for our size.

The fact that the gift from the Chemical Bank was unsolicited supports Sandman's statement, but reveals something about the Chemical Bank's priorities. Mr. Flaten said, "The bank believes that it is its responsibility, and in its shareholders' best interest, to work to strengthen our country's system of private higher education.

When asked about the future of the program, Stern said evaluation of the general funding and the individual universities will be an ongoing process over the three-year segment of the program, and decisions will be made accordingly.

This Friday

Seniors to kick off block party in ACC

Kicking off their last home football weekend, the class of 1983 will host the second annual "Block Party" for both the Notre Dame and Northeast neighborhood communities Friday.

Calling it a "big senior party," Class President Mark Mai expects an excellent turnout for this event which will last from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. in the ACC Fieldhouse.

One of the features of the party is live music — two bands playing rock and bluegrass will entertain block party-goers. Clowns and balloons along with open skating also have been slated to entertain the neighborhood children attending.

Our main objective is to throw a party which the seniors will enjoy and which will be a great time for everyone," Mai explained. A picnic and style meal serving steaks, hamburgers, beer and soft drinks will be available for a small fee.

In the past, the Senior Death March traditionally took place on the eve of the final home football game. Negative reactions voiced by both University and South Bend community officials about this drunken parade caused the change to a Block Party.

Local bars have agreed to close from 6 to 8 p.m. in an effort to discourage any behavor that might cause problems. Featured guests to appear at the party include South Bend Mayor Roger Parret and Father Theodore Hesburgh. University President faculty members and neighborhood families will also join the seniors.

According to senior class officials, this event is intended to begin a weekend of festivities that will mark the seniors last home football weekend.

Another event will be the green and gold "cards" that the senior section will hold up once again during the game on Saturday — this time in a different pattern — that of a 1. The last time this display was experimented in the shape of an ND, according to Senior Class officer Pat Conney, it was successful.

Poland

Senior to kick off block party in ACC

By PETER COTTA
News Staff

Polish authorities agreed Monday that Pope John Paul II could visit his native Poland in June. Poland's state news agency said permission for the visit indicated both the authorities and the Roman Catholic Church expected the nation to be calm by then.

A Polish government spokesman said it was not yet determined when the visit would take place.

Security received notification at 1:41 a.m. from a night desk director concerning student reports of a police "take advantage of what Security has to offer." The authorities may have calculated the papal visit would help them maintain calm, and the announcement was seen here as an effort to defuse today's protests as well as demonstrations planned by Solidarity beginning Dec. 13.

...Assault

The Observer

Wednesday, November 10, 1982 — page 4

...Assault

Security received notification at 1:41 a.m. from a night desk director concerning student reports of a green car being driven slowly around campus.

The LeBans and McCandless lots were checked by Security, but the car was not found. There is speculation that the assailant left campus for a short time and returned later.

"I don't blame Security at all (for not preventing the incident)... I don't think Security could have caught him," the second victim said.

The other victim said she would like other students to "take advantage of what Security has to offer." Both victims emphasized that students should utilize the phone located in the McCandless lot for escort service at night.

"We could have taken advantage of that," they said.
A basic manifestation of the importance of the athletic department to the student body at Notre Dame and Saint Mary's can be witnessed everywhere as you open to the back sections of your daily Observer. Our campus newspaper, which is the major source of daily information for most of the ND-SMC student body, is usually comprised of approximately 35-40 sport stories. Indeed, the sports section (and the comics) seem to be the only segment(s) of the paper that a sizeable majority of the students actually read.

Robert Lloyd Snyder

Then Mid-Week

There are other signs that reveal the unusually increased importance that the Notre Dame community places upon sports. There are the forty-five minute waits for court time at the Rock in basketball, or the huge crowds that Coaches Faust and Phelps regularly attract to their dormitory appearances. There cannot really be any argument that the most prevalent single discussion topic at Notre Dame is the standing of the various sports teams. Probably the readily explainable cause for the ND sports phenomenon is the fact that a great part of the Notre Dame student body has experienced highly athletic back grounds. Notre Dame is a university fairly unique in the respect that here we have for the first time an exclusively high school community of people who were simply not good enough to play major collegiate athletics at Notre Dame for one reason or another.

It is extremely frustrating to a former athlete who probably enjoys registration as much as the average sports fan that the competitive juices start flowing during the middle of a game. I have come to realize this during the past fall. Fortunately for me, I was able to make such a transition more easily because Lyons is in a different zip code than Campus View. (But does it matter that the Administration building is in front of the registration set during Notre Dame football and basketball game holds the upper hand, that their athletic prowess could be inferior to the gold- helmeted athletes on the screen.)

In day-to-day terms it will continue, no matter what happens to the business cycle or Social Security. The most trying experience for most of the ND-SMC student body at Notre Dame du Lac University is the trek to the Registrar's office. The Registrar has chosen to ignore us. Maybe they figure if we can't pre-register, we won't come back for quite a while. Moreover, the fact that Lyons is in a different zip code than Campus View. (But does it matter that the Administration building is in front of the registration set during Notre Dame football and basketball game holds the upper hand, that their athletic prowess could be inferior to the gold-helmeted athletes on the screen.)

Eventually, the first obstacle is surpassed when the administration has the campus going into Finance 202. Finding out how to go about signing up for courses and other important information is a collector's item on many parts of the campus. I've always heard to tell all of us yet, advanced registration starts this week.

Registration information is a collector's item on many parts of the campus. I've always found it interesting how all of my friends off campus will have their market nose forms by Thursday, while we in Lyons wonder if the Registrar has even come close to getting ours out. Maybe he figures if we can't pre-register, we won't come back for quite a while. Moreover, the fact that Lyons is in a different zip code than Campus View. (But does it matter that the Administration building is in front of the registration set during Notre Dame football and basketball game holds the upper hand, that their athletic prowess could be inferior to the gold-helmeted athletes on the screen.)

We want answers to our questions about it, we are morons. What I'm beginning to realize is that I'm in the majority. It becomes more diagnostic than practical. We love them when they win, we hate them when they take pride in their accomplishments. We hate them when they befriend and associate with us. We love them through our admiration. Perhaps we could all take a lesson from Father Hesburgh, the University President who most prestigious football teams in the country, a University President who mainly cares about the students. The result of which he has re-emphasized the student (and person) is the Observer.

Regrettably, this is the only segment(s) of the paper that a sizeable majority of the students actually read.

Diane Dirkers

Campus Quips

When is registration? Good question. You probably don't even know until I overhear someone in the dining hall saying that he got the last chance in the only class he thought he wanted to take or friends tried to sign up for in each of the last three tries or holding a ticket to the Illinois lottery. Maybe we haven't been told to tell all of us yet, advanced registration starts this week.

Registration information is a collector's item on many parts of the campus. I've always heard to tell all of us yet, advanced registration starts this week.

I also keep in mind that these athletes are the forty-five minute waits for court time at the Rock in basketball, or the huge crowds that Coaches Faust and Phelps regularly attract to their dormitory appearances. There cannot really be any argument that the most prevalent single discussion topic at Notre Dame is the standing of the various sports teams. Probably the readily explainable cause for the ND sports phenomenon is the fact that a great part of the Notre Dame student body has experienced highly athletic back grounds. Notre Dame is a university fairly unique in the respect that here we have for the first time an exclusively high school community of people who were simply not good enough to play major collegiate athletics at Notre Dame for one reason or another.

It is extremely frustrating to a former athlete who probably enjoys registration as much as the average sports fan that the competitive juices start flowing during the middle of a game. I have come to realize this during the past fall. Fortunately for me, I was able to make such a transition more easily because Lyons is in a different zip code than Campus View. (But does it matter that the Administration building is in front of the registration set during Notre Dame football and basketball game holds the upper hand, that their athletic prowess could be inferior to the gold-helmeted athletes on the screen.)

In day-to-day terms it will continue, no matter what happens to the business cycle or Social Security. The most trying experience for most of the ND-SMC student body at Notre Dame is the trek to the Registrar's office. The Registrar has chosen to ignore us. Maybe they figure if we can't pre-register, we won't come back for quite a while. Moreover, the fact that Lyons is in a different zip code than Campus View. (But does it matter that the Administration building is in front of the registration set during Notre Dame football and basketball game holds the upper hand, that their athletic prowess could be inferior to the gold-helmeted athletes on the screen.)

Eventually, the first obstacle is surpassed when the administration has the campus going into Finance 202. Finding out how to go about signing up for courses and other important information is a collector's item on many parts of the campus. I've always heard to tell all of us yet, advanced registration starts this week.

Registration information is a collector's item on many parts of the campus. I've always found it interesting how all of my friends off campus will have their market nose forms by Thursday, while we in Lyons wonder if the Registrar has even come close to getting ours out. Maybe he figures if we can't pre-register, we won't come back for quite a while. Moreover, the fact that Lyons is in a different zip code than Campus View. (But does it matter that the Administration building is in front of the registration set during Notre Dame football and basketball game holds the upper hand, that their athletic prowess could be inferior to the gold-helmeted athletes on the screen.)

We want answers to our questions about it, we are morons. What I'm beginning to realize is that I'm in the majority. It becomes more diagnostic than practical. We love them when they win, we hate them when they take pride in their accomplishments. We hate them when they befriend and associate with us. We love them through our admiration. Perhaps we could all take a lesson from Father Hesburgh, the University President who mainly cares about the students. The result of which he has re-emphasized the student (and person) is the Observer.

Regrettably, this is the only segment(s) of the paper that a sizeable majority of the students actually read.

Max Lerner

On and Off

In America, the biennial ritual of electoral choice has left the public mind bruised but not broken. The ashes of George Bush's 1980 campaign still seem to loom large, but the public doesn't remember. Father Hesburgh, the Notre Dame University President who once called for a nuclear freeze, does it matter that the Administration building is only a five minute walk away?)

In the 1984 election, the crucial question was whether the voters would accept a freeze or number of the candidates who won, including the President. It was a mix of his own. Neither group is likely to have voters in a position to ask questions about it, we are morons. What I'm beginning to realize is that I'm in the majority. It becomes more diagnostic than practical. We love them when they win, we hate them when they take pride in their accomplishments. We hate them when they befriend and associate with us. We love them through our admiration. Perhaps we could all take a lesson from Father Hesburgh, the University President who mainly cares about the students. The result of which he has re-emphasized the student (and person) is the Observer.

Regrettably, this is the only segment(s) of the paper that a sizeable majority of the students actually read.

Mario Caiconi

The issue skillfully handled by the Los Angeles Times in its recent story on Mario Caiconi's appointment as Director of Notre Dame's athletic program in Los Angeles. California. Democratic candidates have managed to protect themselves by joining in a campaign that sounds the alarm on the streets and in the home will haunt a liberal democratic like Reese, Father Hesburgh, the Notre Dame University President who once called for a nuclear freeze, does it matter that the Administration building is only a five minute walk away?)

In the 1984 election, the crucial question was whether the voters would accept a freeze or number of the candidates who won, including the President. It was a mix of his own. Neither group is likely to have voters in a position to ask questions about it, we are morons. What I'm beginning to realize is that I'm in the majority. It becomes more diagnostic than practical. We love them when they win, we hate them when they take pride in their accomplishments. We hate them when they befriend and associate with us. We love them through our admiration. Perhaps we could all take a lesson from Father Hesburgh, the University President who mainly cares about the students. The result of which he has re-emphasized the student (and person) is the Observer.

Regrettably, this is the only segment(s) of the paper that a sizeable majority of the students actually read.

Carmel S. Ryan

Advertising Manager

My name is Carmel S. Ryan and I am an independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Oklahoma. The Observer is the only student publication on campus that publicly and as objectively as possible: individuals, write letters, is encouraged...
Billy Joel has always displayed a talent for making upbeat, innocuous songs like "Only the Good Die Young" as well as catchy, explosive tunes like "Honesty" or "Just the Way You Are." While this knack has garnered him an extensive string of hits, it still hasn't enabled him to receive wide critical acclaim because many critics felt that he was simply wasting his ability through self-dramatization, a repetitious and immature lyrical stance, and a tendency for angst or related matter.

Monday night, Chicago came to Notre Dame. The group Chicago played Monday night for a rowdy, if not capacity, crowd in the South Dome of the ACC. At five minutes past nine, Chicago took to the stage with "Beginnings." The sound was polished and sharp as a razor. The smoothness of the sound hit the kick as it gave the listeners, especially during James Pankow's slide trombone solo, which included a quick riff of the "Nude Dame Victory March." Ed Konrad

As an awesome arrangement of "Feelin' Groovy Every Day" followed, with nice bass work by Cetera and some fantastic guitar filler by Bill Champlain, a guitarist hired for the tour. Champlain's deep, gravelly voice started "Ballad For A Girl From Bun- hana," which started with "Make Me Smile," and ended with "Colour My World." Lamm's piano working overtime, Champlain also sang "Colour My World," a very powerful voice, possibly too powerful for the song's original interpretations.

The main show ended with "Hard Rain," featuring Saraphine on an incredible drum solo that topped off a night of awesome drumming. Next came Cetera's version of "Goose Some Love!" that height lighted Chicago's excellent light show which enhanced the band without taking away from it. It was a very hot song that kept the crowd going. The encore was a very nice version of "25 or 6 to 4," with Pin Back showing himself as a possible successor to the late Terry Kath, and some inspired jamming by the entire group.

The second and final encore was "To Get You Into My Life," which closed the show with the crowd on its feet and the band rocking on into the night.

Behind the mask

As an actress, I wear many masks in addition to the ones that daily life requires of me. I may be asked to portray one of Shakespeare's great comic roles for a time and then one of Pinter's women. A different person acts under each different mask. But acting is separate from life.

The script has existed since time began, and because it is an integral part of daily living, the opening line is usually "Hi, how are you?" The response is a very standard, "Fine. And you?" There are two different ways one can act wearing the masks of courtesy and hospitality that dictate our behavior for a while, however standardized they may be. It's all a mask. We put on the "bright shining" faces and go on with the show. And what a show! Whether tragedy or comedy, it all ends the same.

The group Chicago played Monday night for a rowdy, if not capacity, crowd in the South Dome of the ACC. At five minutes past nine, Chicago took to the stage with "Beginnings." The sound was polished and sharp as a razor. The smoothness of the sound hit the kick as it gave the listeners, especially during James Pankow's slide trombone solo, which included a quick riff of the "Nude Dame Victory March."
The Observer Features Section
Wednesday, November 10, 1982 — page 7

Trivia quiz 55

Last week's quiz was on groups. I name a lineup, you name the group. The answers to that can be found in the lower right-hand corner of this page. But before that, take a look at today's offering. More groups, but can you identify them from their photos, courtesy of my massive 45 and LP collection?

The answers to last week's groups are as follows:
1. Robert Sarossi, Todd Rundgren, Carson van Osten, Thom Mooney — Nazz
2. Garth Hudson, Richard Manuel, Levon Helm, Rick Danko, Jaime Robertson — The Band
3. Andy McCluskey, Paul Humphrey — Orchestral Manoeuvres in the Dark
4. Claire Warwick, Graeme Edge, Denny Laine, Mike Pinder, Ray Thomas — The Moody Blues
5. Doug Ingle, Ron Bushy, Erik Brann, Lee Dorman — Iron Butterfly
6. Doug Fieger, Berton Averre, Bruce Gary, Prescott Niles — The Knack
7. Gary Richrath, Neal Doughty, Alan Gratzer, Gregg Philbin, Kevin Cronin — REO Speedwagon
8. Stevie Winwood, Chris Wood, Jim Capaldi, Dave Mason — Traffic
9. Curtis Williams, Dexter Tisby, Cleveland Duncan, Bruce Tate — The Penguins (of "Earth Angel" fame in 1955)
10. Felix Cavaliere, Eddie Brigati, Dino Danelli, Gene Cornish — The (Young) Rascals
Wednesday, November 10, 1982 — page 8

SPORTS BRIEFS

By The Observer and The Associated Press

Notre Dame volleyball team, 23-4, will travel to Valparaiso University tonight to take on the Lady Crusaders. First serve will be at 7. — The Observer.

Saint Mary's volleyball team will conclude its season in Fort Wayne tonight, playing IU-F Purdue. — The Observer.

Sears Sports

A Sports Law Forum will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 in Room 101 at the Law School. Martin Blackman, Esq., Chairman of the Practicing Law Institute Committee on Sports Law, and Martin Weis, Esq, with additional faculty and guest speakers, will discuss will include the status of the NFL players' strike, endorsements and merchandise of athletes, and the effect of cable TV on sports. — The Observer.

See SPORTS BRIEFS, page 9

The Observer will accept classifieds Monday through Friday 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. However, classifieds in sport section must be received by 3 p.m. the business day prior to mention. All classifieds must be prepaid either in person or in the mail.

INTERHALL

INTERNATIONAL WEEK IN REVIEW
November 11, 1982

WORLD UNIVERSITY SPORTS Commodities Market.

Family 5-6-8

Ferry through a brugh Parque di East warm-in, 6-12, to the sectional tournament to be held Nov. 6th. 7th. 8th. 9th and 10th. The Spring Sports Complex will be in use so the order of events may be changed. — See INTERHALL, page 9

The Observer
...Interhall

...Sports Briefs

continued from page 8

Fellowship of Christian Athletes will hold a meeting tonight at 8 in the Library Lounge. ND Women's tennis coach Sharon Penz will be the featured speaker. FCA promotes fellowship among athletes and coaches hoping that this will be shared with the larger community. All are invited to attend. — The Observer

ND-SMC ski team will hold a mandatory meeting for all members and prospective members in Room 2-C of Lafontaine this evening at 7. — The Observer.

Second Annual Senior Block Party
3:00 Friday, Nov. 12
under the hockey dome ACC
Plenty of Food, Refreshments, and Music. All Seniors, Faculty, and Local Residents Welcome

please Donate your Penn State student tickets for Big Brother/Big Sisters of MD/S
tCollection in dining halls tuesday, wednesday, thursday sat, nov 9, 10, 11 5:00-6:00 pm
Let a child enjoy an N.D. game

Milwaukee Brewers' shortstop Robin Yount was a runaway choice for American League Most Valuable Player. The selection of Yount, who batted .331 and clubbed 23 home runs for the 1982 champions, was announced yesterday. See story on the back page. (AP Photo)

...Items
continued from page 12

PACE SETTER — Plecikster

Mike Johnston needs only two more field goals to tie Harry Oliver's record of 108 successful field goals in a season. He has now made 16-of-17 for 94 percent efficiency. The record for a season is 90 percent and for a career, only 72 percent. Johnston is fifth in the nation in field goals, and 23rd in scoring. Not bad for a former walk-on in his first year of intercollegiate plecikstering.

Speaking of pace-setters, Penn State Coach Joe Paterno has compiled a 17-year mark of 150-54-1 for an 822 winning percentage — tops among active coaches with over 10 years experience.

CONVOCATION ON THE SOLUT1ONS TO THE NUCLEAR ARMS RACE
THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 11
11:30 a.m. Mass for Peace, Sacred Heart Church
Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., Celebrant
4:15 p.m. Lecture - Room 101, Law School
Asst. Dean William McLean, Delegate to the SALT I talks
7:30 Major Address - Library Auditorium
Professor Everett Mendelsohn, Harvard University.
"Beyond the Nuclear Threat"

EVERYONE WELCOME

Notre Dame participating with over 500 other campuses
Players choose sides on NFL owners' offer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys and Los Angeles Rams, and players on other teams, joined the New Orleans Saints Tuesday in giving conditional support to the National Football League club owners' latest contract offer, denouncing the union's publicly proclaimed solid front.

Many players, however, also reaffirmed their opposition to the five-year, $1.31 billion offer by the Management Council, and union leader Ed Garvey insisted that no team has formally voted to accept the proposal.

Not unexpectedly, the NFL also called off next weekend's games. Half of the 16-week regular season — 112 games — now has been affected by the strike, leaving no more than 10 games if the season resumes Nov. 21 and two weekends are made up.

Garvey said the next 68 hours are crucial. "Even if you accept our timetable for moving the schedule, you do start to run out of time," he said.

Also Tuesday, the Management Council filed an unfair labor practice complaint charging that New Orleans player representative Russell Erxleben had been threatened by union officials for his dissenting vote.

Garvey said Monday night that 25 teams had "more or less" rejected the owners' offer Tuesday, however, he said the player representatives had voted 26-1 last week to reject the offer and added: "Nobody thought it was worthy of a vote (on the club level) ... most of the teams did not take formal votes because they didn't think there was enough there."

Erxleben was absent when the player reps who voted on the management offer refused to say who cast the dissenting vote.

Union President Gene Upshaw said some disagreement among players is understandable. But he added:

"To disagree doesn't mean that you are against what we are doing ... we are still in control of our destiny."

"There is no one out there that is saying 'accept it, accept it, please.' What they are saying is give us a fair agreement, an agreement we can live with for five years."

Danny White, Dallas' starting quarterback, said the Cowboys would be willing to accept the owners' entire offer "if they will clarify some of the language."

The Los Angeles Times reported that the Rams had voted 15-11 in favor of the offer, but 20 Rams were absent and their votes were still to be counted.

A number of players have expressed serious reservations, while others have vented outrage opposition to segments of the owners' proposal. One of them would enable a team to immediately reduce its roster from 49 to 45 players. That, the union contends, could mean the immediate loss of 112 jobs.

... "Sugar"

continued from page 12

a commentator at the title fight of middleweight champion Marvin Hagler. Leonard had hinted he wanted a shot at Hagler.

Leonard bowed out with a 32-1 pro record to go with his 1976 Olympic gold medal. He avenged his only loss, to Roberto Duran, when he consolidated the welterweight title on Nov. 25, 1980. He also briefly held the World Boxing Association's junior welterweight crown.
Theological Issues, "The Lecture, "Beyond English Department Lecture, "C."
Speaker, Sharon Petro, for Doonesbury

Simon
Spike's World

T.J. Wrobel

The Daily Crossword

The Observer
Today
Wednesday, November 10, 1982 — page 11

Doonesbury

Simon
Spike's World

Get Psyched for the Final FIGHTIN' IRISH
Home Football Game with:

ARION
Keenan Hall Friday, Nov. 12 9:30-?
$3/person

Tickets available at the Student Union
Ticket Office (first floor LaFortune)
&from Keenan Hall residents

Garry Trudeau

Jeb Cashin

Campus

12:10 p.m. — Film, "A Matter of Choice," 105 Law School, Sponsored by Christian Legal Society
4:30 p.m. — Amnesty International Meeting, International Students Lounge
4:50 p.m. — Microbiology Seminar, "Role of Cellular Lipids in Macrophage Activation for Tumor Cytotoxicity," Dr. Seymour I. Schlegel, Galvin Auditorium
4:50 p.m. — Chemistry Lecture, "Nuclear Polarization Studies of Photo-induced Electron Transfer Reactions," Dr. Heinz D. Roth, 125 Nieuwland Science Hall
7 p.m. — Film, "Seems Like Old Times," Engineering Auditorium, Sponsored by Sophomore Class, 41
7:30 p.m. — Theological Issues, "The Church by Roman Catholicism," Rev. Herman Rein, C.S.C., 115 O'Shaughnessy Hall
8 p.m. — Speaker, Sharon Petro, Library Lounge, Sponsored by Fellowship of Christian Athletes Forum
8 p.m. — English Department Lecture, "C. S. Lewis and the Church of Rome," Prof. Christopher Derrick, Galvin Life Sciences Auditorium
9 p.m. — Concert, by the Rhythmic Union, O'Leary Hall, No. students
9:15 p.m. — Contemporary Issues Lectures, "Law and Evolution," Dr. Edward Murphy, 115 O'Shaughnessy Hall, Sponsored by Thomas More Society

T.V. Tonight

6 p.m. — 16 NewsCenter 16
22 Eyewitness News
28 Newswatch 28
4 5-2-1 Contact
6:30 p.m. — 16 NBC News Nightly News
22 CBS News
28 ABC World News Tonight
34 Over Easy
7 p.m. — 16 "M*A*S*H"
22 Laverne and Shirley
28 Grace's Place
34 The MacNeil/Lehrer Report
7:50 p.m. — 16 All in the Family
22 Family Ties
28 Tic Tac Dough
34 Family Talk
8 p.m. — 16 Real People
22 Seven Brides for Seven Brothers
28 Tales of the Gold Monkey
34 In Performance at the White House
9 p.m. — 16 Facts of Life
22 Lost
28 The Fall Guy
34 Going from the Forest
9:30 p.m. — 16 Family Ties
22 Home Improvement
10 p.m. — 16 Quark
22 Tucker's Witch
28 Dragnet
11 p.m. — 16 NewsCenter 16
22 Eyewitness News
28 Newswatch 28
34 The Dick Cavett Show
11:30 p.m. — Tonight Show
22 Archer, 3·2·1
28 ABC News Nightline
12 p.m. — 16 Late Night with David Letterman
12:30 p.m. — 16 A Matter of Choice — Film, 105 Law School, Sponsored by Christian Legal Society

Senior Bar This Wednesday, like every Wednesday-
 Draft Beer Special
9:30-11:00
Welterweight champ
Sugar Ray Leonard calls it a career

BALTIMORE (AP) — World welterweight champion Sugar Ray Leonard, whose career lasted until the last minute, announced his retirement from boxing Tuesday night.

"The final decision was made tonight, right here in the ring," Leonard said after making the announcement to a crowd of more than 9,000 in the Baltimore Civic Center, where he launched his pro career in 1973.

In answer to a question shouted from the ring, Leonard explained his indecision during the six months since an operation to correct a detached retina.

"Every day it was a different answer," he said. "I didn't want to make a public decision."

He said he had thought about returning to competition for a time, but added, "Then I forgot about it.

Answering another question from the audience, Leonard said: "The feeling is gone. I will not come back. That's it."

During his formal announcement, after which he said he would like to see Leonard go out with a win against Sugar Ray Leonard, Hagler thanked his family.

"I was able to do it because of my family," he said. "I'm blessed to have them."

Leonard said he had thought of the operation to correct a detached retina.

"I was able to do it because of my family," he said. "I'm blessed to have them."

Despite the fact that Hagler would be Fort Knox, and he's the middleweight champion Marvin Hagler, whom the defense that has yet to Robin Yount of Baltimore, who was named American MVP.

NEW YORK (AP) — Robin Yount of the Milwaukee Brewers, who capped his finest season by setting one World Series record and another, was voted Most Valuable Player of the American League with a large margin on Tuesday.

Yount, a 27-year-old shortstop, received 365 points in balloting to a special panel of 28 members of the Baseball Writers Association of America, two from each AL city. Eddie Murray of the Baltimore Orioles was second in balloting with 228 points.

Yount received all but one first-place vote. The other went to Reggie Jackson of the California Angels, who finished sixth in balloting with 107 points. Third in the vote was Don Scott of the Angels with 178 points, followed by Hal McRae of Kansas City with 175, Cecil Cooper of the Brewers with 152 and Jackson.

In all, 31 players received mention on the ballot on which panel members were asked to vote for 10 players. Each panelist was worth 10 points and on down to one point for 10th place.

Before this year, Yount's best season had been 1980 when he hit .342 with 16 home runs, stole 13 bases and had a .463 on-base percentage. This year, he improved his average to .367 and led the league in on-base percentage at .432.

He also drove in 11 runs, hit 29 homers, stole 14 bases and compiled only 24 errors, while improving his range at shortstop.

Yount was cooled out during the American League playoff series against California. He was outstanding as the Brewers met St. Louis in the World Series. He hit .414 with one homer and shared the team lead in RBIs with Cooper by driving in six runs.

Although the Brewers lost the Series in seven games, Yount kept alive his chase for glory. He set a record with four hits in each of two games and tied teammate Paul Molitor for another record with six hits in one game.

Asked of the ever Game One of the World Series if he felt he deserved MVP honors, Yount disavowed personal goals.

"The Milwaukee Brewers are the most valuable team," he said. "We have a great team. The year I had could not have come about if it wasn't for this club."

Yount played only one season in the major leagues, in 1973, when he joined the Brewers the following year. He played in 107 games his first year and has been the Brewers' regular shortstop ever since.

Yount entered this year as the first shortstop to lead the American League in both total bases (306) and slugging percentage (.579). He led the league with 210 hits and tied for the AL lead in doubles with 46. He was second to Molitor in RBIs with 129 and third in trips with 12.

DEFENSIVE DOMINATION — Notre Dame's defense figures prominently in this week's NCAA statistics as Notre Dame goes on defense. While Blackledge stands fourth on the offensive NCAA list. The Irish defense is currently ranked third in rushing defense, eighth in total defense, and 13th in scoring defense.

IRISH ITEMS

WE HATE TO SAY IT, BUT... — We told you so. Saturday's Penn State game will be televised regionally by the alphabet network (ABC). The start time has been moved to 3:45 p.m. Musco Lighting, Ltd. of South Bend, Ind., has been awarded the $58 total yards to the Pitt. The Panthers' 314 yards through the air and 1:34 on the ground were season highs for an Irish opponent. Notre Dame is currently ranked third in rushing defense, eighth in total defense, and 13th in scoring defense.

The Irish will be seeking to replace the nation's top quarterbacks with Todd Blackledge. Following the Jan 19 touch­down pass in two games, the pledge had a deal. He should be highly ranked in 200 or 200,000 miles from the Notre Dame. These programs. Notre Dame lists 677 miles at Notre Dame. 200 yards. The Notre Dame list is currently ranked 24th in rushing defense, eighth in total defense, and 13th in scoring defense.

The Notre Dame list is currently ranked 20th in rushing defense, eighth in total defense, and 13th in scoring defense.

The Notre Dame list is currently ranked third in rushing defense, eighth in total defense, and 13th in scoring defense.

HOV SOON THEY REMEMBER — Sports Illustrated has announced that the Notre Dame-Pitt game will be featured in their November issue. N. B. Breedt and his assistants have been with this game for the past two years.

This year, the game looks to be a classic confrontation, between a stingy defense and a prolific offense.

IN PREVIOUS ACTION — Penn State is making only its second trek to South Bend, Ind., in the Notre Dame series. The last visit was in 1926 with the Irish winning the game played on Carter Field 280. Notre Dame also has won 11 of 17 at Penn State. 9-0 in 1928 at Philadelphia. and in the 1976 Gator Bowl 20-7. They scored a miraculous tie in 1925 at PSU. Last season, it was 10-8 with the Lions in the fourth quarter.

PICK 'EM PERFORMS — Irish freshman Allen Pinket has joined some select company with his two successive over-100-yard games. Only Georgia's Cleon Jones and Tom Harmon have done it in the past 50 years.

The Nittany Lions are currently ranked third in total offense, and third in scoring offense. Saturday's game looks to be a classic confrontation, between a stingy defense and a prolific offense.

Since the Irish defense was prominently in this week's NCAA statistics as Notre Dame goes on defense. While Blackledge stands fourth on the offensive NCAA list. The Irish defense is currently ranked third in rushing defense, eighth in total defense, and 13th in scoring defense.

The Irish defense is currently ranked third in rushing defense, eighth in total defense, and 13th in scoring defense.

The Irish defense is currently ranked third in rushing defense, eighth in total defense, and 13th in scoring defense.

The Irish defense is currently ranked third in rushing defense, eighth in total defense, and 13th in scoring defense.

The Irish defense is currently ranked third in rushing defense, eighth in total defense, and 13th in scoring defense.

The Irish defense is currently ranked third in rushing defense, eighth in total defense, and 13th in scoring defense.