On-campus housing lottery possible

By MIKE WILKINS
Senior Staff Reporter

The possibility of a lottery for next year’s on-campus housing was announced by Father Michael Hep- pen, director of student residences, late Friday.

The lottery would be in response to “an unusually high number of room contracts for the 1984-85 academic year,” according to a bil- let released by Heppen.

The increase in room contracts has caused the Office of Student Residences to cancel the forfeiture of room deposit and the $150 fine for students who have returned room contracts and have now decided to move off-campus. Students who have turned in room contracts for next year and are considering moving off-campus will have until March 30 to do so without penalty.

Heppen said he thought approximately 200 men and women who have already turned in room contracts for next year would have to decide to move off-campus in order to avoid a lottery.

“I can not predict what is going to happen,” Heppen said. “If enough people decide to move off-campus we may have to use a lottery. If they don’t, we probably will.”

Heppen noted that he is not sure how a lottery would work, if that was the decision of the administra- tion. He also would not speculate about the possibility of a lottery and would not outline any suggestions about it from them.”

Hinckley alive after suicide attempt

WASHINGTON (AP) - John W. Hinckley Jr. found innocent by reason of insanity of shooting Pres- ident Reagan, was hospitalized in serious condition yesterday after an apparent suicide attempt, authori- ties said.

Hinckley, connected to a respirator, may be in danger of dying.

“He is stable and we believe he’ll be alive after suicide attempt. We tell you with certainty for the next 24 to 48 hours whether he’s out of danger,” the doctor replied.

Between Nazz night Friday and a spokesman for St. Pines, it was related that Hinckley’s life had not been in danger.

How much danger?

“We won’t have a lottery. If we have one we’ll probably use a lottery,” Heppen said.

The Student Government will be providing information to students who are interested in moving off- campus, according to Valeria. It also is trying to get landlords of nearby apartment complexes to provide students with as much in- formation as possible. A plan to help students find off-campus housing is being considered.

Both Heppen and Valencia said that the Student Government director of off-campus housing, will have information for students who are considering moving off-campus, including off-campus crime statis- tics. The housing director of off-campus crime recently has diminished.

“Every day we are looking to take into the possibility of moving off- campus,” Valencia added.

Dziedzic named editor-in-chief

Dave Dziedzic, a junior from Lilburn, Ga., has been named editor-in-chief of the 1985-86 Observer.

Dziedzic has worked at The Observer since his freshman year. He has worked as a sports editor, sports copy editor, associate copy editor, and executive news editor.

“I intend to build on the foundation that has been established by the previous three editors and move toward the goals of the most respected college dailies in the nation,” said Dziedzic.

He will be naming the rest of the members of the Observer general board within a few weeks.

Dziedzic will assume the position of editor-in-chief on March 22.

Betty Carter
Jazz singer to perform tonight

By THERESA GUARINO
News Staff

Jazz singer Betty Carter, who has appeared with jazz greats like Dizzy Gillespie, Duke Ellington and Miles Davis will present a lecture on the history of jazz before her solo per- formance tonight as the Notre Dame Black Cultural Festival continues.

In addition to performing on other jazz musicians’ albums, Carter, a Flint, Michigan native, has recorded a few albums of her own.

She currently is touring with Lionel Hampton. Carter is well known for her Ella Fitzgerald-like vocal style.

This year’s Black Cultural Arts Fes- tival started on January 30 with a gospel program. The Festival began at Notre Dame 15 years ago and is now an annual event. Even so far this year has included an alumni forum and a performance by television- actor John Amos.

The Festival is organized by a committee which solicits money from various University depar- tments to fund its activities. Sponsors include the Student Union, Student Activities, the College of Arts and Letters, and the Black Studies Program.

“We’d like to see more people come out,” said Alena Harris, this year’s Festival chairman. “People who have attended have been very satisfied. Attendance has been good.”

The Black Cultural Arts Festival will continue through February and end March 5 with a fashion show.

This document contains a mix of various topics including a news brief, a report by Marjorie Schreiber Kinsey, and some general news articles. Here is a structured representation of the key points:

News Briefs

Unemployed residents of Wells County, Indiana

- The region has seen a 4.6% increase in unemployment, which is higher than the national average.

Poor and elderly Los Angeles County residents

- The program has been successful in reducing healthcare costs and improving access to care for those in need.

A police dispatcher

- Made series of errors that may have contributed to the death. The dispatcher was not identified.

U.S. trade representative

- William Brock left for Moscow to attend trade talks with Japanese officials and attended a trade conference in Japan.

Vice President George Bush

- He said that the United States would find it difficult to deal with the terrorist threat.

Gunnem believed to be Bec

- Basque separatists killed a journalist in Madrid, Spain, and the Basque regional government has assigned 40 police officers to protect the area.

Mostly sunny and warm

- High in low and mid 40s. Fair and cool tonight. Low in upper 20s to around 30. Increasing cloudiness and mild tomorrow. High in low to mid 40s.

Tylenol's coming back

- It's an emergency that sunny morning inside the New Jersey redbird headquarters of the 854-unit-year health care giant, Johnson & Johnson.

- There was an emergency that sunny morning inside the New Jersey redbird headquarters of the 854-unit-year health care giant, Johnson & Johnson.

- Something about some people in Chicago - West Coast residents who knew that Tylenol (and didn't even re- critical condition) and Tylenol, the kind in capsules, was laced with an unknown poison - reporters were saying cyanide - and anyway, something was terribly, terribly wrong with Tylenol.

- Collins learned he would be in charge of directing J&J's response to what would evolve as the greatest medical crisis in recent times. He flew to pleas... in effect, it's a matter of conscience, it's a serious moral issue for me. It's something that has to be faced... We are very interested to see the truth come out on this matter. It's a matter of conscience, it's a serious moral issue for me. It's something that has to be faced, that has to be faced, that has to be faced. And there is no way we can continue taking in on explosions blowing horns and saying here are we. It's a fact... Collins said. Indeed, despite a bomb-alarming campaign, McNeil's main surge to regain the market has been to convince doctors to begin recommending Tylenol to patients as McNeil did 23 years ago when Tylenol was first produced.

- The cost Tylenol was expected to reap a record $500 million this year, but analysts say half that will be lucky. Paranoid consumers will have to swallow a lot of talk about trust, and Tylenol will cost the consumer in the long run remains to be seen.

Police discover bodies in mass grave "garden"

LONDON (AP) — Police dug up more bodies yesterday in what British newspapers call a mass murder "garden," and let reporters tour the adjoining house where they say the killer may have chopped up 17 victims.

They also appealed to anyone who might have lived in the house to come forward and help in the murder probe.

The bones, found at various locations in the backyard of the building in the Cricklewood district of north London, have been sent to a pathologist for examination. Detective Supt. Norman Briers, leading the search, said they were most likely human but did not elaborate.

Scotland Yard has said it expects to find rioting pieces of as many as 17 victims of a mass murderer who, according to published reports, met young drifters in north London pubs, lured them home, strapped them, hacked up their corpses and bolted the pieces.

Dennis Nilsen, 37, a state employment office executive, ex-army cook and former probationary London police man, was arraigned Saturday on charges of murdering the only person he is reported to have killed. —Reuters N.

Student Health Center

350 attend Center Open House

By KATHLEEN DOYLE
Assistant News Editor

More than 350 people attended the Open House of the Counseling and Psychological Services Center last Friday at the Notre Dame Student Health Center.

The Open House was the formal announcement of the recently merged university Counseling Services and the Student Psychological Services Center. The merge, planned during the 1981 spring semester, was implemented this summer and effective with the start of the 1982-83 academic year.

The Open House included a tour of the improved facilities by the staff members. A new wing of office and therapy rooms has been added, as well as a library, an enlarged waiting room, and an audio-visual room.

The newest service offered by CAPS is Counseline, which is operated in a separate room within the Center. Counseline is a confidential, completely anonymous telephone service which began last Wednesday. Tapes on a variety of student concerns can be heard Mon.-Thurs., 9-9 p.m.

Counseline has been successful, according to Michael Mund, acting director of CAPS. An average of 25 calls a day have been received since the start of the program.

As a result of the merger, the Center's library has been expanded and new resource materials have been obtained. Films, tapes, and texts dealing with a variety of psychological problems are available through the Center.

Those who attended the Open House were able to view the renovations of the old infirmary chapel. It was rededicated for use by the CAPS for workshops, films, and lectures. The C & PSC did not previously have a room large enough for such functions.

The ceremony will begin with the blessing of the new center by Father Theodore Hesburgh, University President, and an address by Father Henri J. M. Nouwen are among the special events planned for the new Center for Social Concerns Dedication, April 14-15.

The ceremonies will begin with a blessing of the new center by Hesburgh in the center's multi-purpose room, before the Dedication Mass. There will be a reception and dinner in the Center for Continuing Education.

A number of other guest speakers and alumni will participate in the dedication.

Dedication services will continue with a collection of "Social Concerns in Catholic Higher Education" symposiums and reflections on social concern services, learning and analysis. Center Director Father Don McNeil and Assistant Directors Sister Judith Bearet and Kathleen Maas Weigert will moderate these discussions.

David Tyson will host a dedication luncheon on April 15 at the CCE. An Open House from 3-5 p.m. will follow.

Government reconstruction

Hocter asks for Board's help

By LAURA HARTIGAN
News Staff

Ehime Hocuter, next year's student body president, asked for help and suggestions in reconstructing Saint Mary's student government at last night's Board of Governance meeting.

Monica Gugle, elections commissioner, said that voter turnout on election day "was phenomenal." Eighty percent of the student body voted in the elections.

According to Gugle, the high turnout is "the reason we are sticking to (having voting polls setup) in the dorms."

Runoffs for the Freshman and Sophomore classes will be tomorrow, 9 a.m.-6 p.m. in each of the dorms.

Regarding the freeze referendum, Beth Tighe, vice president for academic affairs, said, "We should be proud." Tighe noted that Saint Mary's is the first Catholic college and the first women's college to make a formal statement in favor of the unilateral freeze.

Michelle Mamot, chairman of Little Sister's Weekend, was pleased that many people signed up to help plan the event. For the weekend, which includes roller skating, a sock hop and a swimming party for the little sisters, Little Sister's Weekend will be held April 15-17.

The question of reserving space for incoming freshmen in traditionally upperclass dorms was "put on hold," according to Susan Miller, chairman of the freshmen council.

The council has decided to wait until next year, when more student input can be heard before making any steps to integrate the dorm.

Hesburgh to dedicate Concerns Building

By POLLY HU DAK
News Staff

A Mass consecrated by Father Theodore Hesburgh, University President, and an address by Father Henri J. M. Nouwen are among the special events planned for the new Center for Social Concerns Dedication, April 14-15.

The ceremonies will begin with the blessing of the new center by Hesburgh in the center's multi-purpose room, before the Dedication Mass. There will be a reception and dinner in the Center for Continuing Education.

A number of other guest speakers and alumni will participate in the dedication.

Center Director Father Don McNeil and Assistant Directors Sister Judith Bearet and Kathleen Maas Weigert will moderate these discussions.

David Tyson will host a dedication luncheon on April 15 at the CCE. An Open House from 3-5 p.m. will follow.

Nouwen, a former Notre Dame psychology department faculty member, came to the University in 1966, at the request of Psychology Professor John Santis. Santos was, at the time, setting up Notre Dame's Psychology Department.

Though scheduled to teach for only two semesters, Nouwen stayed an extra year by invitation of Hesburgh.

Upon leaving Notre Dame, Nouwen continued his studies in psychology, concentrating on its theological aspects. In the early '70's, he assumed the position of associate professor at Yale's Divinity School.

Nouwen has published several books, among them, Intimacy, taken from a Notre Dame lecture series he delivered in 1969. Since retirement, Nouwen has had a number of theological works published.

Nouwen integrates his work with personal experience.

"I have felt it crucial to think and write about things in such a manner that people who listen will be able to recognize the experience and say 'I want to articulate something for me that I know, but still need to hear. It is just over the threshold of my consciousness,'" said Nouwen.

Sharon to remain in Cabinet

JERUSALEM (AP) — The Israeli Cabinet accepted Ariel Sharon's resignation as defense minister resigned after an outcry over his handling of Lebanon. The Prime Minister Menachem Begin will take over the Defense Ministry temporarily before Israeli Parliament, the Knesset, reviews the reshuffle today or tomorrow. Cabinet ministers have suspended announcements. Cabinet ministers belonging to the factions in Begin's ruling coalition said that keeping Sharon in the Cabinet avoided the need for early elections.

But opposition parties protested that the reshuffle of portfolios disregarded the minority commission's intention that Sharon leave the Cabinet. The small Communist Party submitted a no-confidence motion to be debated this week, but the government is likely to survive.

The Labor Party, the largest opposition group, said it might organize public demonstrations to put "moral pressure" on the govern-ment to fire Sharon.

The inquiry commission charged Sharon with personal responsibility for failing to foresee a massacre when he ordered Lebanese Christian militiamen to mop up Pales-tine Liberation Front in Beirut's Sabra and Chatilla refugee camps last Sept.

Sharon gave Begin his resignation on the condition that the Kahan Commission, named after Supreme Court President Yitzhak Kahan who headed the four-month investigation, recommend cabinet ministers be cleared. Sharon said Begin wanted to replace Sharon with Moshe Arens, Israel's ambassador to Washington, but needed time to ar-ange this transition with his coalition partners.

Sharon's resignation was a paralyzing setback in the career of the flamboyant ex-general, but he has bounced back since when he was passed over for jobs as chief of staff and as defense minister, and when he was left to tidy up his boss's top job since Begin retired.

A strong backlash of sympathy for Sharon remained strong, even though no polls have been taken this week. As the Kahan report came out, demonstrators have taken to the streets with the banner "Sharon must go!" Unjustifiably killed in Israeli demonstrating against Sharon.

Reagan administration officials have blamed Sharon for what they see as Israel's tough negotia-tion stance regarding withdrawal from Lebanon and refusal to stop Jewish settlements in the occupied West Bank of the Jordan River.

As minister without portfolio, Sharon is available to Begin for spe-cial tasks. Meantime, he has signed deals that deal with Lebanon or the West Bank.

Klaus Barbie

PARIS (AP) — Nazi war criminal Klaus Barbie, known as the "Butcher of Lyon," said in a television inter-view aired yesterday that "Barbie relished his past and the rest of the world has forgotten him." Barbie, head of the Gestapo in Lyon from 1942 to 1944, said he was only doing his job and "fought the French resistance." He is accused of executing 8,000 people and torturing thousands more and deporting 7,500 French Jews to concentration camps.

For those crimes, he was sen-tenced to death twice by French courts in absentia. He was executed Feb. 5 in Bolivia, where he had lived for 23 years, and France has charged him with murder. "The death penalty has been abolished, and Barbie faces a possible life sentence if convicted again." He was transferred late yesterday from the Fort Montligeon Prison in Lyon to Saint Joseph Prison for security reasons. French authorities said he was "one of the most dangerous men in France, if not in Europe." He was also said to be the "last surviving Nazi war criminal to be tried by a French court." If convicted, he could be released on medium-range nuclear weapons.

"I have forgotten, if they have not forgotten, it is their business, I have forgotten." He tried to talk specifically about his activities during the war. "I have never asked for pardon, I have not passed. I don't remember anything," he said. When he arrived, Justice Minis-ter Robert Badinter ordered him in-carcerated for a more secure location.

But security officials were con-cerned about the possibility that he might kill Barbie, and switched him to a more secure location.

Concern for Barbie's safety arose last week when the magazine Paris Match published a photograph of guards marching Barbie through the open courtyard of the facility. The mental condition for a open and the person is surrounded by high buildings, suggesting that if a photographer with a long lens could take such a picture, a gunman with a long-range sight could kill Barbie.

Reagan considers steps to break deadlock

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan is considering new steps to bring the bargaining deadlock with the Soviet Union over U.S. proposals to eliminate medium-range nuclear missiles in Europe. Vice President George Bush said yesterday.

Bush, who returned from a seven-nation European trip, suggested an inter-regnum agreement to eliminate the worst weapons. An inter-regnum pact presumably would call for a reduction in the cur-rent state of missiles and cruise missiles that the United States is scheduled to begin deploying in Europe at the end of this year.

"We will be making a determination whether we should do something different in order to encourage the Soviets to do what we've asked," Bush said on CNN's "Face the Na-tional.

He insisted, however, that "we are not going to depart from this moral ob-jective, ridding the world, if you will, the two superpowers of this utterly unproductive generation of these weapons."

On a separate matter, Bush said the United States was prepared to do whatever is necessary, along with other countries, to make sure the withdrawal of foreign forces from Lebanon. He refused to say if the United States could increase the number of U.S. troops in Lebanon. Reagan has suggested a long-range plan for a " Paradigm for Peace" to deal with the rela-tions, which have been aggravated by the continued Israeli presence in the Lebanon, Bush offered to worry about it, frankly. I worry about it every day. If I were a Soviet, I would think about it too. I don't see it getting out of hand."

The vice president also predicted that the upcoming promise to House Democrats on a defense spending bill. He added the agreement probably would call for spending the already approved funds "that will impact on those who are out of work. But there won't be any make-work stuff."
Fire kills 64 people in Turin movie theater

TURIN, Italy (AP) — Flames and smoke raced through a Turin movie theater last night, killing 64 people and injuring dozens in the crowd of 500, Police Chief Antonio Farinello reported.

Police said the fire might have been caused by a short circuit or by fireworks set off as a joke by pranksters celebrating Carnival, which is being observed throughout Italy. They reported a pistol was found on the floor, but said it apparently had nothing to do with the blaze.

The death toll soared when firemen found more than 20 bodies in a second-floor bathroom, and in rooms used by the management for offices or storage.

Farinello had reported that 66 people perished, but he said later two bodies were counted twice.

Police did not have the exact number of injured, but said only three were hospitalized and the others were treated and released, with many suffering from smoke in- hales.

Officials said that Ramonio Capello, the 51-year-old theater manager, was arrested and charged with manslaughter. They gave no details, but several witnesses claimed some of the 10 exit doors were locked and had to be battered open.

Most of the victims were young people. The bodies were placed on the snow-covered sidewalk outside, and hundreds of people gathered as parents searched for their children.

Cardinal Anastasio Ballestrero, archbishop of Turin, arrived and blessed the snow-covered sidewalk outside, where officials said all the details, but several witnesses claimed some of the 10 exit doors were locked and had to be battered open.

Randy Fahn

Two films show the Social Concerns Series highlight the tragic side of social conflicts in Latin America, and remind us of the destructive potential of the actions of the United States in that area of the world. Roses in December is a sensitive documentary that shows what the world is like. State of Siege is a political thriller that will be shown on Feb. 15 and 16 at the Center for Social Concerns. The former, concerned about compassion, the latter about justice. These two films provide an ominous destruction from our immediate problems of unemployment, crime, and nuclear rivalry.

Roses in December was originally produced for TV and examines the long-term and short-term effects of the Contras. The film is a powerful statement about the impact of American foreign policy in the area. The film's strength is its focus on the human element of the conflict. The story of a single mother, played by Susan Sarandon, and her children's struggle to survive the violence and poverty of their environment. The film is a powerful reminder of the human cost of the war in Central America and the importance of finding a solution to the conflict.

State of Siege is a dramatic political thriller that follows the events leading up to the violent coup that overthrew the government of the Dominican Republic in 1980. The film is a gripping portrayal of the political intrigue and violence that characterized the era. The story is told through the eyes of two American journalists who are caught up in the conflict. The film is a disturbing reminder of the nature of the Cold War, and the toll it took on the people of Central America.

The theatrical performance of action seems to be to ask the Administration for permission to look into an issue, and then make recom- mendations to the Administration on it. In other words, the Senate has very little actual power, and the students know it. Whether this condition will change or not is up to the present senators and the Administration. A lot will depend on the Ad- ministration's reception of the PACE report and the Senate's position. If they are able to press the Administration for consideration as the teacher evaluation reports, the Senate will continue to lack the legislative support of the students. On the other hand, if the Senate now proves that they have the power to be an effective, historic force in fact become truly issue-related rather than personality contests. When this happens, the "home-dorm advantage" will no longer be a crucial part of an election.

Dave McAvoy is in the Student Senate because Dillon's support of him other than the support of Alison Yurko. While both had excellent platforms, the District 5 election did not turn on issues. And until the Senate gets to know the people it represents, it will continue to be dictated by matters irrelevant to the actual virtues of each candidate.

Time-worn formulas

The old man's familiar voice descended from the altar, though some of his old force had apparently been drained during his recent stay in the hospital.

But his orotund style had not changed — he still spoke slowly in the pious, yet officious tone one might expect of an auxiliary bishop of a large diocese. In other words, he was still boring.

As he dropped on this New Year's Eve, I reminded myself occasionally that I had not come to be entertained. Not that I had come for any higher purpose: I attended mainly because my father would not have allowed me otherwise.

My. girlfriend was visiting, and if she went, I — at least, that's the way it would have been in the Church as my father knew it. And so that's how it would be in the Church as he brought it to his children.

Saint Mary's basketball team captured third place in the 30th annual University of Wisconsin-Green Bay Invitational tournament held over the weekend at the Phoenix Sports Center.

The Belles defeated Northland College (Ashland, Wis.), 65-55, Friday night in advance of Saturday's semi-final in which Saint Mary's dropped a 79-79 decision to the host and eventual tournament champions in their first game Saturday before bouncing back and edging Chicago State, 75-71, in the nightcap.

"We were 3-1 and third place against excellent competition," said Rosie. "I'm pleased. It was the best series we played all year."

Elaine Suess paced the Belles during the weekend scoring 49 points. Her efforts landed Suess on the all-tournament team. "She was very consistent," analyzed Suess of Suess' 25, 14, and 12 point games.

Cyndy Short also sparked, tallying 50 points in the three games. She led the Belles in the consolation game with 20 points.

Cyndy probably had her best game series of her career," said Rosie. "We gave her a lot of the others."

The Belles trailed 1-0 early in the first half against Northland before unleashing a devastating full-court defense that rattled the Wisconsin school. "The Belles got into an incredible 1-0 turnover third place in the 30th invitational."

The Belles have become the No. 16 Open Division team in the nation.

"We had a great opportunity for us to get into the top 16," said Rosie. "The tournament was great and we could jump a few places in the national rankings."

Aside from the Notre Dame fans, the importance of the weekend at The Forum with Bradley and Saturday night at Illinois was minimal. Bello, with a game against Illinois on Sunday night, will be his last game at The Forum with Bradley and Saturday night at Illinois.

John Boyle's fourth goal of the year proved to be a timely one as it lifted the Irish to an 11-9 win over the Fighting Irish at 9-7.

At Harding also had a sterling performance for the Irish. Harding grabbed 36 first-half rebounds in the 200-yard free (1:17.3) and the 100-yard free (50.1) and helped Paul Ben, Dan Flynn, and brother Blaise for a 400-yard relay win.

The 400-yard freestyle relay team of Gary Severny, Glenn Rattler, Jeff Hanuschok, and Greg Bohdan took first in that event. Paul McGowan placed second in both the one and three-meter diving competitions, while Flynn (200-yard fly), Greg Bohdan (100-yard fly), Lou Bower- son (200-yard back), and Blaise Har- ding (200-yard individual medley) had additional second place finishes.

Roaring out the list of nine Irish winners Brian Casey captured the 200-yard fly, Dan Canis won the 500- yard free, and Paul Ben was victorious in the 200-yard and backstroke.

The Irish improved their record to 5-3 and are in action again on Friday when they oppose Illinois-Chicago College and Northern Illinois in a triangular meet in Chicago.

In Men's swimming Notre Dame defeats Wayne State

The Notre Dame men's swimming team closed their home season Saturday afternoon in impressive fash- ion, handing Wayne State a 164-47 defeat.

Sophomore Tim Bohdan, quickly becoming the "rising star" for the Irish, led ND to the victory with record-setting performances in the 100 and 1000 yard freestyle events.

Bohdan led the pack in the 500 yard swim, winning the race with a time of 4:55.9. He also became the first Notre Dame swimmer to break the ten-minute mark in the 1000 yard freestyle, finishing with a time of 9:07.6.

At Harding also had a sterling per- formance for the Irish. Harding grabbed 36 first-half rebounds in the 200-yard free (1:17.3) and the 100-yard free (50.1) and helped Paul Ben, Dan Flynn, and brother Blaise for a 400-yard relay win.

That is what the Louisiana Tech women's basketball game was supposed to be. It was supposed to show how far the Notre Dame program had to go before it could rank among the country's finest.

Things worked out as planned.

When the Notre Dame-La Tech game was ex­ anned, it showed that the Irish are still a few years and a couple of level of Louisiana Tech.

By MIKE SULLIVAN

Saturday

country,

more players, they'll be tough," says Tech coach Sonja Hogg. "The team's very well coached, but the big cen­ ter is missing."

for Tech, the win came against powerful Delta State (after dropping two previous games to the Lady Statesmen). The Irish are still waiting for it.

"I see some similarities in the two programs," says Hogg. "But it was easier then because there weren't too many great teams. Recruiting is very competitive now.

"Building a program is very dif­ ficult," agrees Barmore. "But if they come up with a couple players, and with this crowd behind them, the Notre Dame program could certain­ ly blossom."

It is this "crowd" that makes the future of the program brighter than it was before Friday's game. More than 4,000 people saw the team play for the first time. A 42-point loss will not win too many immediate con­ vents, but people now realize that women can play some pretty good basketball themselves.

The first test of the program is now over. The results of the game may not have been promising, but it does not change the feeling that the Notre Dame program is one of the future.

Hogg, who has gone through the prophylactic that has just recently seen, had some words of hope for the Irish that amount to more than her grade of the program.

This lack of an intimidating center was magnified against LTD, whose center, Janice Lawrence, is the best in the game. Notre Dame players had shots blocked the first two times down the court and seemed to be so intimidated afterwards that they missed some easy layups.

If what Hogg and her co-head coach Leon Barmore say is true, then when DeSantis finally finds a dominating center of her own, the Irish program should take off.

Perhaps a good measurement for the future is a comparison of the two programs.

Louisiana Tech, coached by someone who was, admittedly, limited in her knowledge of the game, needed five years to get near the top. The Notre Dame program is in its third season under a coach who has displayed good knowledge of the game.

Both teams have followed the same path, beating up on the weaker teams and waiting for the big win.

Merged one-and-a-words by Tom Kempton and Dan Huff put N.C. State in a position to win it at the end, but Terry Gannon's 20-foot floater went away. Kempton's rebound sealed it, and suddenly the Irish are back in the NCAA Tournament hunt once again.

Notre Dame is now 13-8 after the biggest win of the year — one that came with most of the nation's play­ ing and listening to the influential voice of Al McGuire, who also saw it on the win as a major step toward a tournament bid.

The Irish can perhaps afford to stumble one more time on the road to the bid. And while a 6-1 record the remaining of the season may not be enough to make it, the situation looks a lot brighter than it did two nights ago.

It'll be good to get back home.

... Snow

It was the type of game Notre Dame likes to play: a home court game where the Irish, if they control the boards, can control the tempo and keep the score low. As evidenced Thursday night in New Jersey, the Irish had a field day even beat Fordham when the score reaches 70.

The score was just 21-18 at halftime and Notre Dame stretched the lead to as much as six in the second half. But for the first time all season the Irish had to clinch a key victory with foul shots, and almost let a trip away.

The sky also looks a lot brighter than it did two days ago, and we should make it back to Notre Dame by Monday without too much trouble.

For while a for there didn't look too promising, according to coach Bob Knight, the middle of the worst snowstorm the East Coast has ever seen, and with no civilization in sight. Suddenly, Notre Dame, as depressing as it is in the middle, didn't seem too bad after all.

It'll be good to get back home.

Three clutch free throws by Dwayne McClain propelled 12th-ranked Villanova to a 50-43 upset of top-ranked North Carolina on Sunday, ending the Tar Heels' 16-game college homecourt winning streak. The Tar Heels, 21-4, had pulled within 49-45 on a jump shot by Sam Perkins with 1:46 remaining. With North Carolina having a chance to tie the game, McClain intercepted a pass by Steve Hale and was fouled by Perkins McClain sank one free throw with 1:16 left, giving Villanova a 50-45 lead. He hit two more with 59 seconds left, making it 52-45. Jim Bradock's jumper with 53 seconds remaining brought North Carolina within five points, but John Pinine hit two free foul shots, giving Villanova a 54-47 lead with 47 seconds left. A trip by Mike Mulqueen with 31 seconds left sealed Villanova's victory, raising the Villanovas' record to 17-4. - AP

Belles finish seventh

Irish capture second at state

By MARY SIEGEL
Sport Writer

This weekend, the Notre Dame women's swim team captured second place after earning an incredible 275 points at the State Invitational. Women's swim tournaments were held at DePauw University. A tough Ball State team swam to claim 316 points and the championship. Saint Mary's swim team finished seventh with 310 points, but qualified four more swimmers for the Nationals.

"We had some good swims at this meet and I think our girls did well, but we were no contest to Ball State," explained Irish Head Coach Dennis Stark. "We took the lead in the first event," continued Stark, "but we fell behind after the second and we never caught up to Ball State after the fourth."

Stark named Karen Bobar, Venette Cochold, Gina Gambbo, Karen Komorwicky and Irish co-captain Shelly Burns as outstanding swimmers in individual events Stark also commended the members of the relay teams on their performances at the tournament.

I think we did real well considering Ball State has nine girls on scholarship and Notre Dame has none," commented Cochold. "The team really came together this weekend and demonstrated an outstanding team effort," reflected Roebler. "I think we did better than we expected against Ball State and held our own," continued Roebler.

Stark and his team are looking forward to the Midwest Invitational Meet which will be held on February 24-26. The Midwesterns are our big meet because we are not going to the Nationals. It will be our last and toughest meet because we will be facing the most competition we've seen all season," commented Cochold.

On Wednesday, the 5-5 Irish will be travelling to Kalamazo to face Kalamazoo College. This is an important meet for the Irish because the outcome of this meet will set the mood for the Midwesterns.

"We want to go out on a winning note and if we do well, it will be a real plus going into the Midwestern's," said Roebler.

The Saint Mary's College swim team also competed in this weekend's tournament finishing in seventh place with a total of 310 points.

"I don't want our swimmers to get depressed over our finish in the State Tournament because I don't feel this is in any indication of how our team will do in the Nationals" stated Belles Head Coach Scott Trees.

In this weekend's tournament, the Belles qualified four more team members for the Nationals. In addition to swimming Kay Berg, Kathleen Luckness and Barb Blanchnette, diver Carl Ambrogio also qualified for the Nationals.

"I'm really excited about going to the Nationals because I never dove on the National level before and going to the Nationals should be a good experience," commented an enthusiastic Ambrogio.

At this time, 18 Saint Mary's swimmers have qualified for the Nationals. However, two of these swimmers will be unable to accompany the Belles on their journey to the Nationals. One of the swimmers, a member of the Belles, is looking at other opportunities which has her art comprehensive on that date. This is the first time that the majority of the Saint Mary's women's team has qualified for the Nationals.

"I'm really happy to go down to the Nationals with the team. Scott really set us up well and the other swimmers were really concerned about myself and the others qualifying," reflected Luckness.

"It really was no problem about taking seventh place. We really weren't concerned because those results we only wanted to get more girls qualified and improve our times," explained Gail Casey.

On Friday, the Belles will be competing in the Chargers' meet for its last meet before the Nationals which will take place on March 5 in Arkadelphia, Ark. Trees believes that the Belles will win the meet if the Belles take the meet seriously.

"I would like to see more girls qualify for more events at this meet," stated Trees.

Kalamazoo will be a tough meet, but we should win so long as the seniors and the others are up for it," commented Casey.

Duffy's free throws

Notre Dame outlasts Wolfpack

RAEHEJ, N.C. (AP) — Notre Dame reserve Dan Duffy hit three free throws in the final minute, his only points — as the Irish held off North Carolina State for a college basketball victory Saturday.

While Duffy turned out to be the hero, Saint Louis made the goal label back home. Duffy hit two free throws at 2:55 mark to give Notre Dame a 42-36 lead and hit one of two with 1.3 seconds left.

After Lorenzo Charles hit two free throws for N.C. State to cut the lead to 42-38 with 1:16 left, Duffy had an opportunity to clinch the victory with 51 seconds remaining. An 84 percent career free throw shooter, Duffy missed the front end of the bonus with the Wolfpack's Thurt Mustair grabbing the rebound.

N.C. State called a timeout with 22 seconds left and followed that with another timeout 11 seconds later to set up the Wolfpack's fate.

The Wolfpack got the ball to long-range shooter Terry Gannon, but his 19-foot jumper was ruled off the side in the first half, last lost momentarily in the second half, but Tom Timperon rebuffed the Irish, enabling them to raise their record to 15-5.

Notre Dame, led by as much as 14 in the first half, lost momentum in the second half, but Timperopan was able to maintain a 20-point mark put them ahead to stay.

The Irish hit 8 of 11 field goal attempts in the second half, finishing with 11 of 22, 9 of 13 percent in the first half, State shot 42 percent of 17 of 40 field goal.

Sholby led Notre Dame with 11 points and John Paxson added 9. N. State, also 15-5, was led by Enzie Myers with 15 points and Charles with 12.

Notre Dame coach Digger Phelps said: “We've got a bunch of young players who sometimes don't understand what it takes to win on the road. I don't think we did a very good job tonight. I felt we had control of it t e tempo. We got into a lot of turnovers. We didn't think we would ever see each other. We didn't think there would be a chance to come back.

Duffy was the closing seconds.1

"The second timeout, we told them 'it's two points and we're back in the game."

"The first half, we were able to get our team going enough to keep them from scoring."
