Cardinal Cooke dies of cancer at 62

NEW YORK — Cardinal Terence Cooke, the archbishop of New York and the first black Catholic in the armed forces, died of cancer Thursday after weeks of suffering in which he declared life is ‘‘no less beautiful when it is accompanied by illness.’’

Tributes poured in from around the world's top political and religious leaders praising Catholic cardinal Cooke. The former president of the U.S. Conference of American Bishops, from President Reagan to Pope John Paul II.

Cooke, who was 62, died at his home behind St. Patrick's Cathedral at 4:45 a.m. after weeks of pain from acute leukemia complicating a chronic lymphoma condition, according to the archdiocese.

Cooke became the seventh archbishop of New York and military vicar in 1986, succeeding his mentor, the Rev. Patrick Schmitt. A year later, Cooke was elevated to cardinal by Pope Paul VI, becoming at that time the youngest cardinal in the world.

In a last reported, Reagan, Cooke ‘‘inspired us—with his personality by his involvement in the church, his devotion to his flock. But, in death as well, he has left us a special light and a special inspiration. The world has rarely seen a more moving display of the three cardinal virtues than in the faith, hope and love with which Cardinal Cooke confronted and conquered death.’’

A panel of more than 50 bishops and priests was expected to choose Cooke as a ‘‘very kind and gentle person. He had a real power of persuasion through his wisdom and his demeanor.’’

The Rev. Jerry Fabrell, bishop of the Moral Majority based in Lynchburg, Va., said, ‘‘The world has lost a true proponent for the dignity of human life at a time when many of our campaigns are rebuilding a culture of death. He also praised television evangelists Robert Schuller and Pat Robertson.

Bishop Walter Sullivan, Richmond, Va., a member of the Catholic Church’s new ‘‘deferred’’ field, described Cooke as ‘‘a very kind and gentle person. He had a real power of persuasion through his wisdom and his demeanor.’’

The appointment of Cooke’s successor, the Archdiocese of New York was at least two months away, according to the Rev. Peter Finnane, a spokesman for the archdiocese.

He described the selection process as ‘‘consultative,’’ in which various church officials make recommendations and the pope makes the final decision.

The pope announced Cooke’s death to bishops gathered for a world synod when led them in prayer, the Vatican said.

Archbishop John R. Roche of St. Paul-Minneapolis, president of the National Conference of Bishops and a key supporter of the bishops pastoral letter on nuclear war, called Cooke ‘‘a warm pastor, a man of quiet and deep holiness.’’

‘‘As military ordinary, his devotion to the military was a significant contribution to the country and to the church,’’ Roach said.

Cooke also was praised by television evangelists Robert Schuller and Pat Robertson.

The appointment of Cooke’s successor, the Archdiocese of New York was at least two months away, according to the Rev. Peter Finnane, a spokesman for the archdiocese. He described the selection process as ‘‘consultative,’’ in which various church officials make recommendations and the pope makes the final decision.

The pope announced Cooke’s death to bishops gathered for a world synod when led them in prayer, the Vatican said.

Archbishop John R. Roche of St. Paul-Minneapolis, president of the National Conference of Bishops and a key supporter of the bishops pastoral letter on nuclear war, called Cooke ‘‘a warm pastor, a man of quiet and deep holiness.’’

‘‘As military ordinary, his devotion to the military was a significant contribution to the country and to the church,’’ Roach said.

Cooke also was praised by television evangelists Robert Schuller and Pat Robertson.

Cooke became the seventh archbishop of New York and military vicar in 1986, succeeding his mentor, the Rev. Patrick Schmitt. A year later, Cooke was elevated to cardinal by Pope Paul VI, becoming at that time the youngest cardinal in the world.

In a last report, Reagan, Cooke ‘‘inspired us—with his personality by his involvement in the church, his devotion to his flock. But, in death as well, he has left us a special light and a special inspiration. The world has rarely seen a more moving display of the three cardinal virtues than in the faith, hope and love with which Cardinal Cooke confronted and conquered death.’’

A panel of more than 50 bishops and priests was expected to choose Cooke as ‘‘very kind and gentle person. He had a real power of persuasion through his wisdom and his demeanor.’’

The Rev. Jerry Fabrell, bishop of the Moral Majority based in Lynchburg, Va., said, ‘‘The world has lost a true proponent for the dignity of human life at a time when many of our campaigns are rebuilding a culture of death. He also praised television evangelists Robert Schuller and Pat Robertson.

Bishop Walter Sullivan, Richmond, Va., a member of the Catholic Church’s new ‘‘deferred’’ field, described Cooke as ‘‘a very kind and gentle person. He had a real power of persuasion through his wisdom and his demeanor.’’

The appointment of Cooke’s successor, the Archdiocese of New York was at least two months away, according to the Rev. Peter Finnane, a spokesman for the archdiocese. He described the selection process as ‘‘consultative,’’ in which various church officials make recommendations and the pope makes the final decision.

The pope announced Cooke’s death to bishops gathered for a world synod when led them in prayer, the Vatican said.

Archbishop John R. Roche of St. Paul-Minneapolis, president of the National Conference of Bishops and a key supporter of the bishops pastoral letter on nuclear war, called Cooke ‘‘a warm pastor, a man of quiet and deep holiness.’’

‘‘As military ordinary, his devotion to the military was a significant contribution to the country and to the church,’’ Roach said.

Cooke also was praised by television evangelists Robert Schuller and Pat Robertson.

The appointment of Cooke’s successor, the Archdiocese of New York was at least two months away, according to the Rev. Peter Finnane, a spokesman for the archdiocese. He described the selection process as ‘‘consultative,’’ in which various church officials make recommendations and the pope makes the final decision.

The pope announced Cooke’s death to bishops gathered for a world synod when led them in prayer, the Vatican said.

Archbishop John R. Roche of St. Paul-Minneapolis, president of the National Conference of Bishops and a key supporter of the bishops pastoral letter on nuclear war, called Cooke ‘‘a warm pastor, a man of quiet and deep holiness.’’

‘‘As military ordinary, his devotion to the military was a significant contribution to the country and to the church,’’ Roach said.

Cooke also was praised by television evangelists Robert Schuller and Pat Robertson.
In Brief

Three Notre Dame debate teams will compete this weekend in a national debate tournament at the University of Kentucky in Lexington. The three Notre Dame teams are John Monberg and Paul Konyn, Jim Malakowski and Kosti Sarthis, and Arnold Foley and Jane Kopp. They will be among 100 teams participating in a two-week national tournament at the University of Notre Dame. Malakowski and Sarthis were 4-4 in varsity division, and Monberg and Konyn were 1-3. The teams, under the direction of Brother John Doran, have gathered 10,000 pieces of evidence and typed 500 pages of argument on the issue of toxic waste disposal. — The Observer

Save the Lawns. Once again, that’s the message from Dean of Students James Roemer. In a directive this week, Roemer said “the grassy spots on the quad can be used for reading or relaxing, but the sidewalk is meant for strolling.” Roemer said new sidewalks put in this summer make it “more convenient to stay on the sidewalks.” — The Observer

Sales by the nation’s major retailers continued a strong fallclimb last week, despite a trend that temporarily wilted demand for fall and winter fashions, the retailers said Thursday. Sales were up 2.7 per cent at Sears, Roebuck and Co., the nation’s largest retailer, while No. 2 J.C. Penney Corp. posted an 8.8 per cent gain. The third largest retailer, J.C. Penney Co., Inc., had a 5.1 per cent increase compared with the same period a year ago. “Particularly in the apparel lines, sales were strong when temperatures were seasonably cool,” said K mart Chairman Bernard M. Fauber. “Once the weather is here to stay, we expect to see a return to double-digit sales increases.” Retail industry analysts said the gains were in line with expectations and continued a pattern of steady growth. “There is a strong pace of spending out there,” said Stanley I r vason, retail analyst for Duff & Phelps Inc. in Chicago. Most companies, who analyze the industry for the New York-based securities firm of Bear, Stearns & Co., said the sales gains “are relative to last year” and that they were more of the same for the rest of the year. The pattern of year-to-year increases should continue, said Jeffery Edelman, retail analyst for Dean Witter Reynolds Inc. “Consumers seem to be responding to the fall merchandising, outlasting it until it is offered at substantially reduced prices,” he said — AP

Willie Mak was sentenced to death yesterday in St. Louis after he had been convicted of the first degree murder in the massacre of 15 people in a Chinatown gambling club. The King County Superior Court jury deliberated less than two hours before passing sentence on the 22-year-old Hong Kong immigrant, Mak was convicted Wednesday in the Feb. 19 killings. Washington’s worst mass murder. Aggravated first-degree murder is the only crime in Washington punishable by death. Execution in the state is by lethal injection or hanging. Under state law, the jury was required to sentence Mak to death or to life in prison without parole. Defense lawyers pleaded for leniency because of Mak’s age and because he co differentiated. Defendant Ng. 20, earlier escaped the death penalty after his conviction on identical charges Aug. 24. A third man, Tony Ng. 26, no relation, also has been charged but is at large — AP

A high-ranking official in the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency said Thursday the Reagan administration is beginning to develop an “evolving and flexible” plan to fight acid rain. Pittsburgh Green, who as the agency’s associate administrator for international affairs is in charge of developing an acid rain program, told lawmakers at a hearing in Great Lakes states — including Indiana — that proposals to curb the airborne pollution have caused divisions within the administration. Green said a Cabinet council has not yet made recommendations to President Reagan from a range of acid rain proposals submitted by EPA administrator William Ruckelshaus. “It’s as hard for him to give you a sneak preview of our decision, I cannot. We haven’t made it,” Green told a meeting of the Great Lakes Commission. “We are leaning toward a plan that would be evolutionary and flexible.” — AP

Of Interest

Thorton Wilder’s play, “The Skin of Our Teeth,” opens tonight at 8 in O’Laughlin Auditorium on the Saint Mary’s campus. The play, which was this season sponsored by the Notre Dame/Saint Mary’s Theatre, is also due to run tomorrow night and Saturday night and Sunday night for tickets, call 2843162. — The Observer

Weather

Considerable cloudiness and mild today. High around 70. Mostly cloudy tonight with a low of 50. Tomorrow, high 56 to 60. Strong southwesterly winds will chill the air. — AP

Next round in gun debate

Jeff Harrington
Assistant News Editor

Inside Friday

For tickets, call 234-2000

All-You-Can-Eat Brunch

On Sundays, it’s Brunch at the Marriott

Every Sunday, from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., enjoy Brunch at the Marriott. A stupendous buffet of muffins, scones, bagels, plus hot coffee, salads, cheese, fruits, assorted hot entrees and vegetables.

Top your meal off with a tray of mouth-watering desserts. To add to your pleasure, there’s live entertainment too. All for $9.95 for adults, $4.95 for children under 12. For reservations, please call 234-2000.

South Bend Marriott

123 N. St. Joseph Street, South Bend, Indiana 46601

The Observer

Subscribe

Copyright 1983 by The Observer. All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced in any form without the written permission of The Observer.

The Observer - October 7, 1983 - page 2
Better safe than sorry, ND Fire Chief explains

By GRETCHEN PICHLER
Staff Reporter

A spider, a splash of water, even a dust particle may be all it takes to set off one of the many smoke detectors located in dorms and other campus buildings. The detectors' high sensitivity is one reason that 22 false alarms have been sounded so far this year.

Director of Fire Safety Jack Bland stressed that the alarms were not malfunctions, but rather were proof of their effectiveness in detecting a possible fire. "Technically speaking, they are as good as we can get," he said.

"We have increased the fire detection enormously in the last five years," said Bland. As the number of smoke detectors increases, so does the probability of something going wrong, and "out of that (comes) the degree of additional protection (and) increased life-saving probability for students," said Bland.

"We feel that we would much rather respond to an alarm caused by a pizza oven, reset the box and come back, than have a fire that goes undetected," he said.

In the Pasquerillas, even the Notre Dame student radio station has been known to set off the sensitive alarm.

Although no alarms have been sounded so far this year from fifteen of the twenty-four dorms, twenty-two alarms have been reported by the remaining nine dorms, the bulk of which coming from Senn (4), Holy Cross (2), Morgansey (3), and Fisher (5). "Whatever small annoyance (is caused by the false alarms), we're willing to say it's worth it," said Bland.

There has been only one actual fire, caused by a tension lamp that fell on a couch in Holy Cross Hall.

There is usually very little problem with pranksters setting off the alarm. "I think the students are as annoyed with them as much as anyone else," said Bland.

The fire department employs seven full-time firefighters, two per shift, as well as four student firefighters. The student firefighters live in the fire station, and work for the department as part of the student job program. The workers at the power plant also volunteer their time, during the day, if additional help is needed.

The Notre Dame Fire Department possesses Notre Dame, Saint Mary's, and Holy Cross Junior College.

New Ministry director to promote social reform through experience

By JOSEPH MURPHY
News Staff

The new director of the University's Institute for Pastoral and Social Ministry says he sees the ministry as a way of promoting social reform as well as his faith.

"I decided to combine my work for the spiritual enrichment of the human being as well as helping to promote human welfare in society," said Monsignor Joseph Gremillion of his new responsibilities. He said he began to realize "that there was a need for a social crusade in favor of social justice."

In 1976, the University of Notre Dame founded the Institute for Pastoral and Social Ministry to combine the University's resources for the betterment of the Roman Catholic Church and its members.

Today, the Institute coordinates the activities of a wide variety of programs such as the Center for Social Concerns, the Church Leaders Program, the Center for Pastoral Liturgy, the Institute for Clergy Education, and Retreats International. Effective July 1, 1983, Gremillion became the new director. He succeeds Monsignor John J. Egan, the Institute's founder.

Gremillion was born in 1919 and is a native of Louisiana. He grew up in a farm environment in which there existed a great chasm between blacks and whites, rich and poor. Referring to the conditions of the poor blacks who worked the fields, he said, "Their whole plight was horrible. They suffered hunger, cold, and indignity. It was only when I entered the seminary that I discovered how opposed to the principles of Christ that whole system was."

In 1950, Pope Paul VI asked him to serve as the chief executive officer for the Pontifical Commission for Peace and Justice and as chairman of the Committee on the Church and its Social Concerns. The Center for Pastoral Liturgy helps guide the 18,000 Catholic parishes in North America.

When asked how the programs, especially those geared towards the students, could help change society, he responded, "No one university can of itself reform society, but Notre Dame certainly has a great opportunity in the area of economic and social reform." He said that as each student goes out into the community he will take the message of social justice with him.

The Center for Social Concerns is the primary means of preparing the students for the cultural shock they will encounter in the outside world. "The Center offers the students an opportunity to put their big toe into the water before they plunge into the cold environment of inequality, oppression, and frustration that many of our brothers and sisters in the Lord undergo," he said. "The Center allows each student to work out his own degree of commitment."

His work here involves not only the students, faculty, and alumni of Notre Dame, but also catholics throughout the United States and Canada.

Cosmo Hair Design
18461 St. Rd. 23
277-1857

Men: Regularly $14.95, Special Price $10*
Women: Regularly $20, Special Price $15*
*with coupon

for Notre Dame students only

Pittsburgh Club
Bus Sign-Ups

Mon., Oct. 10 at 7 PM
LaFortune Little Theatre
Questions?... Call Bill 7873
Covert Sandinista rebel planes tied to CIA, says intelligence source

Associated Press

WASHINGTON -- The Central Intelligence Agency provided anti-Sandinista rebels with at least one of the planes used in bombing raids inside Nicaragua last month, intelligence sources say.

One source said it was a CIA supplied plane, piloted by a Nicaraguan rebel, that crashed at the base of the Panamanian air force'sCopan radar tower on May 5. Another source said the CIA had provided five light planes to the Covert Sandinista Action Network of former Sandinista leader Edén Pastora, who was allowed to do so by Senate resolution.

The source said that planes technically were "sold" to Pastora's forces because CIA officials "don't want their fingerprints on this." The accountant confirmed independently by a third source, who added: "Pastora's up to his neck in this.

The source also said the CIA bought the planes from the agency's secret "contingency fund," not from the $19 million allocated for the Nicaraguan covert action in 1983 budget. The CIA exceeded budgeted amount in March -- about halfway through the federal budget year -- and relied on the contingency fund to pay for the operation after that point, sources have said.

Reagan to 'welcome' Watt vote

Associated Press

WASHINGTON -- A White House spokesman said Thursday the Senate is "welcome" to vote on whether James Watt should be reappointed as Interior secretary, but President Reagan won\'t feel bound by it. Another source said the Interior secretary will resign, however, rather than be reappointed on Capitol Hill.

This administration official, who spoke on condition that he not be named, said Watt probably would step down in the next two weeks, in light of what looks to be a lackluster margin against him in the Republican-controlled Senate.

"There has been a request for a vote in the Senate -- will resign," the source said.

Deputy White House press secretary Larry Speakes, meanwhile, insisted that Watt has not been asked to resign. But Speakes refused to say whether Watt is still an active Cabinet member. "He's on vacation right now," he said.

Speakes was discussing the pending Senate vote, said: "We'd prefer that it not happen. But we'd prefer that the Cabinet secretary be allowed to do his job." Anderson said President Reagan would seek Watt's resignation if the Senate demands it. Speakes said: "The president would certainly make a Senate expression of its views on anything, but it would not be binding.

For his part, Watt was described by aides as enjoying his California vacation in the Coachella Valley and San Diego's downtowns.

Watt and his wife flew to California last week to spend a week's vacation, the budget office, the Interior Department.

Watt's wife spent days in Los Angeles and near San Diego but most of their days were spent on the citrus and wine farms of Orange County. She was seen at the Indian Wells Country Club and the Rancho Mirage Country Club.

They returned to Washington Wednesday night, but their week's vacation continued Thursday.

Austrian camera buff

Miss Austria is in the current Miss International Pageant, Estelle Ritty, takes time out for a few souvenir snapshots yesterday during the pageant entrants' visit to the International Sports Fair Jaihalon show in Tokyo. The pageant finals will be held Oct. 11 in Osaka, Japan.

Restaurant Opportunities

Applying for Person

Pizza Makers
Cooked Barbeque
Barbeque Servers
Delivery Personnel
Skilled Bakers

Apply in Person

Monday thru Friday

Oct. 3-Sept. 7

Dame 2046 South Bend Ave.

South Bend, IN 46637

5 minutes from Notre Dame
Woman's negligence suit unique, says University general counsel

By MARK POTTER

"If someone is injured on campus there is always the possibility that they will bring a case against the University," according to Philip Facenda, the general counsel to the University.

He noted, however, that he does not know of any cases ever being filed against the University by a person who has been assaulted or raped. In fact, he knows of no such cases anywhere.

However, such a case is currently being filed against the University. Christina Beanman sued the University for $200,005 because of an incident that occurred in the stadium parking lot after the 1979 Notre Dame-South Carolina football game, when a drunk allegedly knocked her to the ground, breaking her right leg.

In the same suit, her husband, James, also sought $50,000 in damages for the stress of his wife's services and companionship during her recuperation.

"Mrs. Beanman is claiming Notre Dame security was negligent. As Indiana Court of Appeals recently ruled that the case must be brought before a jury, which will decide whether the precautions taken by the University to protect fans were adequate.

"All the measures that an institution takes, or neglects to take, must be weighed in the total pattern. From these an attitude can be seen," said Facenda. "This attitude is what the jury looks for in a negligence case. The University has tried to anticipate security risks and respond to them. Facenda said.

Glenn Terry, director of Notre Dame security, said the case did not prompt an increase in security specifically designed to handle potentially drunk spectators. The only recent change in security at Notre Dame's scheduled night games, where darkness increased the need for security, Terry said.

He declined to describe the amount of security at a game and their assignments, explaining that public discussion of security might make people who might try to escape away with criminal acts.

"In our protection measures we try to be better than the absolute minimum," Facenda said, noting that there are two reasons for the protection of safety. First, if the University were to take only the absolute minimum security measures and someone was assaulted on campus, the University would be very likely be held negligent.

To explain the second reason, Facenda used the following example: "We can't ask our lawyers to go around and not do our best to protect the students. This demand for excellence is the main reason that Facenda feels that the University must do its best to insure the student's safety. "To do otherwise wouldn't be in keeping with the University in general," he said.

Theo prof takes abortion stand

By KAREN THOMPSON

News Staff

A professor of moral theology, who was hired by the University over the summer, believes that abortion "is acceptable in certain circumstances."

But University officials say the opinion of Dr. Dennis Maguire was not an issue in the decision to hire him as the John A. O'Brien professor of moral theology.

The theology department was aware of Maguire's stand on abortion when he was hired, said Father Edward Malloy, associate provost, said, "It was known that Dr. Maguire was hired because he is one of the more outstanding theologians in the country. The issue of abortion was not raised until later."

Maguire, who is the visiting John A. O'Brien professor for this school year, said he "is opposed to abortion, but for the prophylaxis movement approaches the issue in the wrong way.

He said, "People need to examine if the causes of abortion, and this includes taking into consideration both men and women."

When Maguire applied for the position, he submitted part of a book he had written, including a section dealing with abortion. The book, Death By Choice, had received an imprimatur, meaning the book was judged to be free from doctrinal error.

In an article that he wrote in The Christian Century, Maguire said, "It is a theological fact of life that there is no one normative Catholic position on abortion. The truth is insufficiently known in American policy because it is insufficiently acknowledged by American Catholic voices."

He also states that "prohibition is wrong because it attempts to impose a private moral position on a pluralistic society."

"In a Catholic university of this sort, academic freedom is vital if the university is to remain eligible for federal funds," Maguire said this week.

"If the University of Notre Dame we do not enforce on idea, we let people make up their own minds about the main idea in a Catholic university is many minds competing freely together," he added.

ND senior helps stop hold-up

By JENNIFER BILGOTT

News Staff

Senior Steve Carlile helped stop a man from robbing a cab driver early Monday morning in downtown South Bend.

Carlile, along with his friend Mike Nihart, a RTC graduate from Indiana University, South Bend, spotted the suspect holding a cab driver by the neck and decided to follow the vehicle. The cab driver, Michael Hurd, of the Michael Hurd Taxi Company, turned onto Madison Street, driving the wrong way on a one-way street.

At 3:12 Wabash Madison, the suspect jumped out of the cab and Carlile, along with Mike in some bushes, according to Carlile.

The two stopped their cars and confront the suspect who was the robber who had concealed himself in the foliage nearby. They were not sure if the man was armed or not, they themselves each had a knife on their person.

The cab driver's been complained to the police on the car radio, at an approximately 12:25 a.m. When the police arrived almost ten minutes later, the suspect had already been apprehended by Carlile and Nihart.

Appropriately, Nihart had lured the man out of the bushes by telling him to give himself up, because the police were driving the wrong way.

Felipe Hernandez, 25, of 617 North Walnut was arrested by the South Bend Police charged with robbery, a felony. He is being held in the St. Joseph County Jail on $1,500 bond.

A pair of scissors and $35 were recovered from Hernandez by the police. The cab driver was shaken by the incident, but the suspect was a pair of glasses which were lost in the confusion. Nihart suffered a cut on his hand, inflicted by Hernandez with the scissors.

Carlile said he and his friend decided to get involved because they "wanted to help the guy out."

SBB: 1050 W. Elkhart Road, Elkhart, IN 46516

Henry Melzer, (219) 267-7000

BIBLICAL ART GALLERY

Opening Reception Saturday, Oct. 8, 7 - 9PM

Isis Gallery Art Department

3rd Floor Art Building

University of Notre Dame}

ROCKY HORROR PICTURE SHOW

Time Warp Tonight! Midnight Friday & Saturday

GENERAL CINEMA THEATRES

Friday, October 7, 1983 — page 5
Jetliner tragedy sparks safety laws

Associated Press

WASHINGTON — The government, spurred by the death of 31 people aboard an Air Canada jetliner, proposed rules Thursday to cut桃花 from cabin fires. The requirements include flame-resistant seat covers, and new lights and other signals for faster evacuation.

Transportation Secretary Elizabeth Dole said the steps "could save hundreds of lives in the next 10 years" by giving passengers more time to escape — and enabling them to do so more quickly.

She said since 1965 there have been 914 fatalities involving fires in U.S. aircraft, with 68 percent of them the result of flames, smoke and toxic gases emitted from cabin materials, or problems with evacuation.

Even so, the new materials are not expected to be installed in all the nation's 2,000 commercial jetliners until late 1987, since carriers will be allowed to make changes as part of their routine seat refurbishing schedules.

The proposed regulation, which probably will not be made final until next summer at the earliest, would require installation of fire and smoke blocking covers on seats in all commercial jetliners. Although all new planes will have to be equipped with the covers, airlines will have another three years to equip their current fleet.

The seat covers, a flame resistant layer fitted between the polystyrene foam and the outer fabric cover, extend the time that flames are kept away from the seat cushions and for a time prevents the release of toxic gases and smoke from the flames.

The Federal Aviation Administration said tests showed that the blocking layer postpones the so-called "flashpoint" — when flames suddenly engulf the cabin — at least 40 seconds, giving passengers that much more time to escape.

\[\text{...Parties}\]

continued from page 1 to ensure that our entering students don't capitalize on the opportunity to profit? If the objective

baker continued that students should plan their parties farther in advance and issue personal invitations. She also states that the only way to prevent drifting is to station security guards outside of dorms to turn the drifters away.

Lynns Rector Suer Marietta Nattrie also had reservations about how social life should be organized at Notre Dame. "I can't be in favor of this resolution because I have questions with how the parties held today fit the image of Notre Dame." Still others thought the proposal was long overdue. Bernie Pelz-logris, president of Dillon Hall.

said, "Women think it as an obligation to pay for parties on other campuses across the nation."

Professor John Verhulst believes "It's about time girls paid for parties. That way the male halls don't lose as much. This will help rid the problem of drifters."

However, Lewis president Janene Olds did not share his optimism. "It won't do anything for the social life. Most girls won't be against paying a dollar for three or four beers. And the drifting will continue."

One important issue is the legality of the resolution. Farley president Kelly Fitzgerald thought that "the proposal doesn't encourage violation of the liquor laws. On the one hand, most of us are under age anyway."

DiChiaro (Grace) didn't think the proposal "would violate any liquor laws. It's a private party with Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students admitted as guests only."

Catering Dept. of St. Mary's College is currently in need of waiters/waitresses for a large banquet to be held on October 7. Please call Cindy at 284-5542 or stop into the dining hall office to apply.

12:30 - 4 Monday - Friday
Haggar Ctr - 3rd Floor

"DATE-A-CARD"tm

Datable singles: They ask for your phone, hand them your "DATE-A-CARD"tm. What a difference it makes.

Dateable singles: They ask for your phone, hand them your "DATE-A-CARD"tm. What a difference it makes.

Illegal to purchase or sell to minors. (219) 288-6621

PARMERLEE DETAQCTIVE AGENCY
MR. C. T. PARMEREE
Pompeo Director
1155 Scott Street Apt A
South Bend, IN 46601
(219) 286-6621

Work with the Best
In the Nuclear field

Parmerlee Detective Agency

NAVY OFFICERS GET RESPONSIBILITY FAST

Happy 21st Birthday Terri H.
You've come a long way, baby!
ND Food Sales:

Unique institutions provide hungry students with pizza and pop at reasonable prices

By Alan Parkin
News Staff

A September turns to October and the dining halls begin to serve meals that we've never seen or tasted before, we begin to count the days until fall break when we will be able to return home and eat some of mom's delicacies.

There are a few alternatives, of course. One can order a pizza from off campus or go to a restaurant, but this can become expensive and time consuming. For many on campus, there is a unique service: hall food sales, which provide students a fast and cheap supplement to their diets.

And food sales at Notre Dame are indeed unique. Some universities operate food sales themselves, keeping the profits. Here, however, the hall determines how profits will be distributed. The administration restricts sales to foodstuffs and non-alcoholic beverages.

Hall food sales provide the basic variety of junk food, such as chips, pop (not your father's), candy, fruit juices and everyone's favorite—pizza.

Some unique items include milkshakes, hot pretzels, sandwiches, cheese, pop tarts, and nachos. The manager of Flanner Hall food sales, Mike Mann, said his dream is considering eggs boys.

"I usually go to food sales twice a week, especially after the dining hall serves a meal which I do not care for," said Market Maloney, a freshman from San Francisco, who works at Keenan Hall food sales.

Some dorms, such as Zahm and Flanner, run food sales more as a service to students, attempting only to pay the bills and stay out of debt. "We are not out to make money," said Mike Sisko, Zahm Hall food sales manager. "We just try to make enough to pay the worker and the expenses."

Mike Mann makes sure there's enough money to pay the bills and gives any surplus to the hall government.

Other dorms keep a more careful eye on the profit margin. "We are set up as a profit-making organization," said Terry Hildner, the man in control at Stanford food sales. Laura Hamilton and Jeff Tuskan, managers at Lyons Hall and Keenan Hall, agreed. In these dorms, the manager (or managers) receive a percent of the profits and in some cases a set salary also.

Some dorms run promotions in order to increase profit. Lyons Hall delivers pizza to dorms on the South Quad. Flanner caters to some campus events; Stanford has a Thursday night special featuring a large pizza with a choice of toppings and four 16-ounce pops for $5.

The student workers are usually hired by the managers, and many dorms hold organizational meetings or post sign-up sheets at the beginning of the year in order to discover the next Julia Child.

Often the managers ask their old workers back. "I tried to rehire all of my workers from the year before so I would only have two or three new workers to train," said Flanner's Marn. "This year, however, many experienced workers moved off campus, so half of my workers are new."

The managers at Keenan had bigger problems than just choosing workers. "We started with $17.50 this year," explained Jeff Tuskan, "so we had to start from scratch."

Last year Keenan food sales had difficulty with its bookkeeping and went $8,000 into debt. "This year everyone was interested in starting up food sales again," said Tuskan. "To raise the necessary funds, we had a 'Take Stock in Za-Land' promotion. Anyone who donated $5 or more to food sales received a chance to win one of five pizzas on the night we reopened. We raised about $800, which gave us a good start."

Students give different reasons for giving up their time to work at food sales.

Mark Gorsak of Stanford said he works "for the money." Al Hunt, who works at Keenan, says he enjoys serving his friends and using his time to help the dorm. "It's a pretty easy job and I have fun doing it," he said.

Jeff Masciponti of Zahm also likes serving his friends. "The whole purpose of food sales is to provide a good snack for the students. We have an efficient system which helps us put out a good product."

Photos by Hamil Cupero
In the great tradition of this year's Emmy Awards, today's column features the Potato Head Awards (will they generate as much hate mail? These awards are given for acts of extreme stupidity in the face of reason and all around Potato Head stupidity.

The recipient of the first award is the person responsible for the construction of the dazzling North Quad Mall. The award is not for the new miniature sculpters hidden in each chunk of bushes (they only matter to the ground and people's ankles). Nor is it for the paved area at the west end which resembles a parking lot. Rather, the award is bestowed for starting construction of this sacred Nirvana in May, dragging their heels all summer, and then announcing it in October — just in time for the first snowfall.

The second award must go to the Observer's very own Cartoon Contest. Never before have so many students been insulted so much by so few. Let's examine the components of this five-pronged attack on humor. Meltzell just biffs Darby's World for the dogs. Schmenz truly enjoyed the illiterate. Aspire Man, this proponent of self-hate and consummate artistic skill can only cause migraines (sorry, sorry). Spike's the only one to put in some hard work. On a campus of 8,000 inn't there somebody out there who can do better? (Ah, thank God for the Far Side!)

The third award is bestowed upon that slinger of the inane, the man who suggested the creation of a new dining hall. This facility would be located between the Panquerrilla and the Memorial Library. While this building would solve the problem of sparse grass and weeds, it would only create more headaches. A new dining hall, besides being a multi-million dollar project, would have to be staffed with many new employees. Our "lowest room and board of the top twenty" would go skyrock. A much simpler solution to long lines would be for students to attend meals at peak hours or, yes, to eat in the North's infamous Atrium. Despite its repitition, it is allways nearly empty (when open). The fourth award goes to the wraith of equality, St. Michael's Laundry. All male students must re-examine their apparel to this expension (or susse their pre­

The Observer
Box Q, Notre Dame, IN 46556
(219) 234-9031
The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame. It is published weekly except during the summer months. It is financially supported by advertising, sales, and subscriptions. It is distributed free of charge to all members of the community and the fees expressing its views on opinions on campus. through letters, or encouraged.

The first annual Potato Head Awards

Dear Editor:

In her article "Chaos in Motion," Ms. Fosmoe displays a lack of the skills needed for a quality article. Ms. Fosmoe has not only written a totally one-sided article, she also chose to support her arguments are false and misleading.

1) University Village, although physically separated from the main campus, is a part of Notre Dame Student Housing. Its residents have every right to safe and reliable transportation to and from N.D.

2) Last week, I, my wife, and my friend awoke to the shuttle at 5:30 a.m. N.D. shuttles were used if Ms. Fosmoe had bothered to interview the Village residents, her numbers would have been quite different.

3) Ms. Fosmoe states that the new route shows a certain inflexibility. I beg to disagree. Some students inability to accept the new schedule is a sign of inflexibility.

4) The condition of Douglas Road has no bearing upon the necessity of the shuttle service to the Village. This is strictly a maintenance problem.

5) The "enemies" of the bus drivers is irrelevant. They do not use the service, they are paid to drive the buses.

In this year, N.D. students were forced, because of inadequate bus service, to use the secluded, unsafe, uphill path through the deserted fields. This is the same path between Douglas Road and "Rape Road" to get to and from campus.

Fortunately, the University has rectified this problem. Yet, a few students wish to neglect the necessity of the newly legislated "Ministry" in order that they be spared "inconvenience".

Mark Miotto '83
Gorden Hess '84
Carle M. Rutgers '83

K of C proposals

Dear Editor,

In response to Dean Roemer's denial of the social rights of Notre Dame students, when I first read of Dave McNary's proposal for parties in the K of C, I considered the restriction and concluded that K of C would be an ideal place to have parties. The available space in the K of C should be put to use.

Dean Roemer's suggestion to "develop this beautiful building into a non-alcoholic club" would I assume, in all respects, mean another Chaussaugus on the other side of campus. Although it is true that Chaussaugus is a great success and attracts the support of a number of N.D. students, I don't feel having another such facility across campus would be practical for the number of students here at N.D.

19) Dear Roemer: This is the decision I have on the flimsy excuse of supervision, he must have a narrow-minded approach to governing. I say this because it is a trivial problem to rec­

I have completed the problem I came up with the idea of having a rector or rectress supervise the parties. Although this is a hasty solution it is one which seems practical. Considering Dean Roemer's position I hope he has enough insight to solve this minor problem.

Another item I wish to comment on is the dagger Dean Roemer holds to the back of N.D. students. The dagger I'm referring to is the 21 drinking age requirement. It seems that whenever an issue of social life here at Notre Dame is raised Roemer puts pressure on the handle of the always evident dagger.

Being able to "drink" in a social atmosphere at college is just another lesson which the stu­

K of C proposals

Dear Editor,

In response to Dean Roemer's denial of the social rights of Notre Dame students, when I first read of Dave McNary's proposal for parties in the K of C, I considered the restriction and concluded that K of C would be an ideal place to have parties. The available space in the K of C should be put to use.

Dean Roemer's suggestion to "develop this beautiful building into a non-alcoholic club" would I assume, in all respects, mean another Chaussaugus on the other side of campus. Although it is true that Chaussaugus is a great success and attracts the support of a number of N.D. students, I don't feel having another such facility across campus would be practical for the number of students here at N.D.

1) Dear Roemer: This is the decision I have on the flimsy excuse of supervision, he must have a narrow-minded approach to governing. I say this because it is a trivial problem to rec­

I have completed the problem I came up with the idea of having a rector or rectress supervise the parties. Although this is a hasty solution it is one which seems practical. Considering Dean Roemer's position I hope he has enough insight to solve this minor problem.

Another item I wish to comment on is the dagger Dean Roemer holds to the back of N.D. students. The dagger I'm referring to is the 21 drinking age requirement. It seems that whenever an issue of social life here at Notre Dame is raised Roemer puts pressure on the handle of the always evident dagger.

Being able to "drink" in a social atmosphere at college is just another lesson which the stu­
The South tries to rise again
ND looks to end jinx of southern opponents

By LOUIE SOMOGYI
Sports Writer

When a Notre Dame football team travels south of the Mason-Dixon line, don’t expect it to be greeted with good old-fashioned Southern hospitality.
Indeed, if one takes a look at Notre Dame’s recent visits to Dixieland, he would find that the Irish football teams have been subjected to some very ungracious welcomes — from the teams and the “fans.”
“it’s enough in itself to come down here and play in front of their fans,” said former Notre Dame All-American Lusher Bradley after a hard fought 13-6 win over South Carolina in 1976.

By ED DOMANSKY
Sports Writer

Nicknamed the “Bobbsy Twins” by Head Coach Gerry Faust, Notre Dame fullbacks Chris Smith and Mark Brooks provide a one-two punch that is a necessary ingredient in maintaining a successful running game.
Both Smith and Brooks are juniors and, likewise, they were both from Cincinnati, Ohio. Smith attended Latulip High School, while Brooks was enrolled at football powerhouse, Moeller High School.
Since arriving at Notre Dame, the two have become the closest of friends, and now despite the fact that they are both competing for the same position, their friendship has not faltered. If anything, it has grown stronger.
Looking back to when it all started, Brooks recalls, “The first time we really got to know each other was at a banquet towards the end of the season. I realized that he was being recruited by Notre Dame and had in fact signed with them, and ever since then we’ve been hanging out together.”

The fact that the two do spend a lot of time together is just one reason for the nickname “Bobbsy Twins.” “He (Faust) has called us the Bobbsy Twins ever since freshman year when we were roommates,” says Smith, “and we just automatically know he’s going to call us the Bobbsy Twins whenever we’re together either on or off the field.”
Their complementary athletic abilities also seem to make the nickname very appropriate. “Naturally there are things that I think I do better than Mark, but just the same, there are other things that he thinks he does better than me,” says Smith. “But together I think we pretty much cover the running, passing, and blocking aspects that are required of a fullback.”

Steve Beuerlein
Quarterback

Mark Brooks
Fullback
A Gamecock Fight:

The Irish will have their hands full with Carolina's veer, quickness, and rushing defense

By Chuck Freeby

Sports Writer

It will be a battle of two football teams with something to prove when Gerry Faust's Fighting Irish take their 2-2 record to Columbia, South Carolina to take on Joe Morrison's Gamecocks.

The Gamecocks have a combined record of 2-2, while the Fighting Irish have a solid 7-2 mark as they line up at Williams-Brice Stadium at 7:00 p.m. EST kickoff, the first of two appearances in one week to show their fans last week's impressive win at 6-0 Colorado as an example of the type of football the Gamecocks will be on their way to show the nation their upset of USC a week ago was not a fluke.

Both teams are coming off with similar game plans. "I'm sure they try to run the ball against us, just like we use the same type of game plan. They've got tremendous quickness both offensively and defensively, and that scares me more than anything," said Tony Guarino, Carolina's head coach.

In Guarino's mind, the Gamecocks rely on the ground game at the expense of their passing game. Thomas Dendy and Kent Hagood are a speed merchant, who gets around the corner well in the Gamecock offense. He has compiled a 6-13 yards per carry average, and is a sure bet to continue that trend when the Gamecocks line up against Notre Dame. Hagood runs out of the fullback spot, and is a quick, bruising runner. Most of the time, he acts as a blocking back for Dendy, but he is the man to look for in short yardage situations.

In Guarino's words, the Gamecocks rely on sophomores Al McMillan and Mike White. While McMillan is not a passing threat, he has been quite good running the ball out of the option. Smith Morrison knows what McMillan is capable of, putting the ball in the air at 28-59 for 5,541 yards this year. McMillan is the key for the Gamecocks to have success against the Fighting Irish defense, which lines up for either Fullback Steve Hefley (5 catches for 22 yards) or tight end Dominic Blesingame (eight receptions for 51 yards).

Meanwhile, Notre Dame is going to try to establish their running game, as they are averaging an amazing 151.7 yards on the ground last week at 6-0 Colorado. Sophomore Allen Pinkett has been outstanding in the first four games, ranking 14th in the nation with 5.9 yards per carry average, and he has a fine supporting cast behind him. Fullbacks Chris Smith and John Buta have produced more than six yards per carry for the Fighting Irish offense.

In Guarino's words, the Gamecocks rely on both their rushing and passing offenses. "I thought I played pretty well," said Smith, "but to receive the award made me feel even better." In the game, he rushed for 129 yards, including a 29 yard and 13 yard run for touchdowns. He also caught one pass for 1 yard.

As Guarino's performance on Saturday against Colorado earned him the award, and outstanding offensive player of the game presented weekly by the coaches, "I thought I played pretty well," said Smith, "but to receive the award made me feel even better." In the game, he rushed for 129 yards, including a 29 yard and 13 yard run for touchdowns. He also caught one pass for 1 yard.

Brooks, on the other hand, has been a fullback from the beginning of his career. In his rookie season he saw action in only one game, and he scored his first touchdown against South Carolina the next week. He also scored a touchdown against Virginia Tech for 127 yards, and was the mainstay of the Gamecocks' offensive attack. Only Joe Howard played more minutes among the 1984 first-line offensive players for his 4-7-1 record with 2 rushing touchdowns and 2 receiving touchdowns. Smith Morrison demonstrated that he could fit into the bulldozing role as well as the pulling role in seven receptions for 53 yards. Five of these came in the red zone, making a key contribution to winning the game against Arizona as he carried the ball 15 times and totaled 141 yards. He started that game in place of an injured McMillan.

In 1984, Brooks has been designated the "number two fullback behind best friend Smith," but this designation doesn't bother him. "There's no problem with that at all," he says. "At the beginning of the season we were both informed that we would be able to contribute as much as possible. We would work as a tandem to each go a low few series at a time. That way we could both be fresh when we were in the game." While sharing duties with Smith last Saturday against the Fighting Irish, Brooks ran for 3 yards on three carries. His highlight was a 31-yard touchdown run. "It's very exciting," he said. "But a lot of credit has to go to the line for making it possible."

As far as the competition between these two friends is concerned, it is a factor that only seems to aid each one's performance. Running back Brooks is more than able to distinguish the line differences between the two, but he also feels that the competition is a real driving force. "They're pretty close. One's a little more consistent in one area and the other in another area. They kind of compliment each other, though, in this role," he says. "They push each other and that's what makes the game so good. It's just pure competition." Although they are competing for the same position, Smith Morrison feels that competition may be too hard of a word to describe the situation. "On the field we help each other out. We both play a lot, and when he's in there and when he's in there, we both look for one another," he says. "It's an unselfish type deal where we're always looking for each other. I'm hoping he's doing well. We just push each other and don't look for each other."

I don't know if you'll ever find two better friends who are competing for the same spot. On and off the field we just get along great! And Brooks echoes Smith's feelings with similar words. "He's my best friend here at the Mount, and I just hope that things continue to go well for him." With seven games still remaining in this season, the "one-two punch" provided by the "Bob & Tom" will be a force to be reckoned with!

And Brooks echoes Smith's feelings with similar words. "He's my best friend here at the Mount, and I just hope that things continue to go well for him." With seven games still remaining in this season, the "one-two punch" provided by the "Bob & Tom" will be a force to be reckoned with!

And Brooks echoes Smith's feelings with similar words. "He's my best friend here at the Mount, and I just hope that things continue to go well for him." With seven games still remaining in this season, the "one-two punch" provided by the "Bob & Tom" will be a force to be reckoned with!

And Brooks echoes Smith's feelings with similar words. "He's my best friend here at the Mount, and I just hope that things continue to go well for him." With seven games still remaining in this season, the "one-two punch" provided by the "Bob & Tom" will be a force to be reckoned with!

And Brooks echoes Smith's feelings with similar words. "He's my best friend here at the Mount, and I just hope that things continue to go well for him." With seven games still remaining in this season, the "one-two punch" provided by the "Bob & Tom" will be a force to be reckoned with!

And Brooks echoes Smith's feelings with similar words. "He's my best friend here at the Mount, and I just hope that things continue to go well for him." With seven games still remaining in this season, the "one-two punch" provided by the "Bob & Tom" will be a force to be reckoned with!

And Brooks echoes Smith's feelings with similar words. "He's my best friend here at the Mount, and I just hope that things continue to go well for him." With seven games still remaining in this season, the "one-two punch" provided by the "Bob & Tom" will be a force to be reckoned with!

And Brooks echoes Smith's feelings with similar words. "He's my best friend here at the Mount, and I just hope that things continue to go well for him." With seven games still remaining in this season, the "one-two punch" provided by the "Bob & Tom" will be a force to be reckoned with!

And Brooks echoes Smith's feelings with similar words. "He's my best friend here at the Mount, and I just hope that things continue to go well for him." With seven games still remaining in this season, the "one-two punch" provided by the "Bob & Tom" will be a force to be reckoned with!

And Brooks echoes Smith's feelings with similar words. "He's my best friend here at the Mount, and I just hope that things continue to go well for him." With seven games still remaining in this season, the "one-two punch" provided by the "Bob & Tom" will be a force to be reckoned with!

And Brooks echoes Smith's feelings with similar words. "He's my best friend here at the Mount, and I just hope that things continue to go well for him." With seven games still remaining in this season, the "one-two punch" provided by the "Bob & Tom" will be a force to be reckoned with!

And Brooks echoes Smith's feelings with similar words. "He's my best friend here at the Mount, and I just hope that things continue to go well for him." With seven games still remaining in this season, the "one-two punch" provided by the "Bob & Tom" will be a force to be reckoned with!

And Brooks echoes Smith's feelings with similar words. "He's my best friend here at the Mount, and I just hope that things continue to go well for him." With seven games still remaining in this season, the "one-two punch" provided by the "Bob & Tom" will be a force to be reckoned with!

And Brooks echoes Smith's feelings with similar words. "He's my best friend here at the Mount, and I just hope that things continue to go well for him." With seven games still remaining in this season, the "one-two punch" provided by the "Bob & Tom" will be a force to be reckoned with!

And Brooks echoes Smith's feelings with similar words. "He's my best friend here at the Mount, and I just hope that things continue to go well for him." With seven games still remaining in this season, the "one-two punch" provided by the "Bob & Tom" will be a force to be reckoned with!

And Brooks echoes Smith's feelings with similar words. "He's my best friend here at the Mount, and I just hope that things continue to go well for him." With seven games still remaining in this season, the "one-two punch" provided by the "Bob & Tom" will be a force to be reckoned with!

And Brooks echoes Smith's feelings with similar words. "He's my best friend here at the Mount, and I just hope that things continue to go well for him." With seven games still remaining in this season, the "one-two punch" provided by the "Bob & Tom" will be a force to be reckoned with!

And Brooks echoes Smith's feelings with similar words. "He's my best friend here at the Mount, and I just hope that things continue to go well for him." With seven games still remaining in this season, the "one-two punch" provided by the "Bob & Tom" will be a force to be reckoned with!

And Brooks echoes Smith's feelings with similar words. "He's my best friend here at the Mount, and I just hope that things continue to go well for him." With seven games still remaining in this season, the "one-two punch" provided by the "Bob & Tom" will be a force to be reckoned with!

And Brooks echoes Smith's feelings with similar words. "He's my best friend here at the Mount, and I just hope that things continue to go well for him." With seven games still remaining in this season, the "one-two punch" provided by the "Bob & Tom" will be a force to be reckoned with!

And Brooks echoes Smith's feelings with similar words. "He's my best friend here at the Mount, and I just hope that things continue to go well for him." With seven games still remaining in this season, the "one-two punch" provided by the "Bob & Tom" will be a force to be reckoned with!
The newsworthy occurrences in the Notre Dame football season included victory over Alabama to set the stage for their most impressive offensive performance of the year. Vagas Ferguson rushed for a Notre Dame record of 255 yards, and Montana completed his final 10 passes — tying a Notre Dame record — in leading the Irish to a 38-21 win. No results were hurled at the Georgia Tech locker room this time, but the fans got into the act by hurling their debris onto the Notre Dame sideline again.

"The Irish were a pleasant and memorable for a Notre Dame fan," said a dejected Mississippi. "I feel like I wasted an afternoon," said Beverly Devine after the game. \end{quote}

"The Irish were a pleasant and memorable for a Notre Dame fan," said a dejected Mississippi. "I feel like I wasted an afternoon," said Beverly Devine after the game.

The largest attendance ever in Tennessee, 86,689 people, greeted Notre Dame the next year at Knoxville in what was termed as one of the most important games in Tennessee history. The Volunteers proceeded to give the Irish a 14-3 win. The trip was more worthwhile for some of the Notre Dame players than the previous excursions to the South.

The "bills here are so pretty," said Notre Dame quarter-back Buzzy Lisch, a person who always kept football in perspective, after the game.

In another season that no one in the nation with a December 9 win was fired up Mississippi. "He ain't just whistlin Dixie, either."

"This is the most impressive offensive performance of the year," said Notre Dame backer Bob Golic. "I think some of these people look at it as something more than a victory for Notre Dame as it showed that it was worthy to be a national champion."

"The Irish redeemed themselves the following week at Alabama. Despite criticisms of "We owe it to Coach Bryant (who had never beaten Notre Dame in three previous tries)" by the Crimson Tide players, Notre Dame put on one of its most spectacular defensive performances ever to shut out Alabama, 7-0.

"I feel like I wasted an afternoon," said a dejected Mississippi. "I feel like I wasted an afternoon," said Beverly Devine after the game.

"The Irish redeemed themselves the following week at Alabama. Despite criticisms of "We owe it to Coach Bryant (who had never beaten Notre Dame in three previous tries)" by the Crimson Tide players, Notre Dame put on one of its most spectacular defensive performances ever to shut out Alabama, 7-0.

"I feel like I wasted an afternoon," said a dejected Mississippi. "I feel like I wasted an afternoon," said Beverly Devine after the game.

The largest attendance ever in Tennessee, 86,689 people, greeted Notre Dame the next year at Knoxville in what was termed as one of the most important games in Tennessee history. The Volunteers proceeded to give the Irish a 14-3 win. The trip was more worthwhile for some of the Notre Dame players than the previous excursions to the South.

The "bills here are so pretty," said Notre Dame quarter-back Buzzy Lisch, a person who always kept football in perspective, after the game.

In another season that no one in the nation with a December 9 win was fired up Mississippi. "He ain't just whistlin Dixie, either."

"This is the most impressive offensive performance of the year," said Notre Dame backer Bob Golic. "I think some of these people look at it as something more than a victory for Notre Dame as it showed that it was worthy to be a national champion."

"The Irish redeemed themselves the following week at Alabama. Despite criticisms of "We owe it to Coach Bryant (who had never beaten Notre Dame in three previous tries)" by the Crimson Tide players, Notre Dame put on one of its most spectacular defensive performances ever to shut out Alabama, 7-0.

"I feel like I wasted an afternoon," said a dejected Mississippi. "I feel like I wasted an afternoon," said Beverly Devine after the game.

The largest attendance ever in Tennessee, 86,689 people, greeted Notre Dame the next year at Knoxville in what was termed as one of the most important games in Tennessee history. The Volunteers proceeded to give the Irish a 14-3 win. The trip was more worthwhile for some of the Notre Dame players than the previous excursions to the South.

The "bills here are so pretty," said Notre Dame quarter-back Buzzy Lisch, a person who always kept football in perspective, after the game.

In another season that no one in the nation with a December 9 win was fired up Mississippi. "He ain't just whistlin Dixie, either."

"This is the most impressive offensive performance of the year," said Notre Dame backer Bob Golic. "I think some of these people look at it as something more than a victory for Notre Dame as it showed that it was worthy to be a national champion."

"The Irish redeemed themselves the following week at Alabama. Despite criticisms of "We owe it to Coach Bryant (who had never beaten Notre Dame in three previous tries)" by the Crimson Tide players, Notre Dame put on one of its most spectacular defensive performances ever to shut out Alabama, 7-0.

"I feel like I wasted an afternoon," said a dejected Mississippi. "I feel like I wasted an afternoon," said Beverly Devine after the game.

The largest attendance ever in Tennessee, 86,689 people, greeted Notre Dame the next year at Knoxville in what was termed as one of the most important games in Tennessee history. The Volunteers proceeded to give the Irish a 14-3 win. The trip was more worthwhile for some of the Notre Dame players than the previous excursions to the South.

The "bills here are so pretty," said Notre Dame quarter-back Buzzy Lisch, a person who always kept football in perspective, after the game.\end{quote}
NOTRE DAME VS. SOUTH CAROLINA

THE GAME

Fighting Irish vs. South Carolina Gamecocks
Williams-Brice Stadium (72,400)
GAME: 6:00 p.m. EST, Saturday, Oct. 8, 1983
SITE: SOUTH CAROLINA
TV-RADIO: WNDU-TV (Ch. 16), Jeff Jeffers and Jack Nolan

THE SCHEDULE

NOTRE DAME

SEPT. 10 vs Pittsburgh, 52-6
SEPT. 17 lost to MSU, 28-23
SEPT. 24 lost to Miami (Fla.), 20-0
OCT. 1 def Colorado, 27-5
OCT. 8 at South Carolina
OCT. 15 Army at Meadowlands
OCT. 22 SOUTHERN CAL
OCT. 29 N.Y.
NOV. 5 PITTSBURGH
NOV. 12 at Penn State
NOV. 19 AIR FORCE

SOUTH CAROLINA

SEPT. 3 lost to N. Carolina, 24-8
SEPT. 10 def Miami (Ohio), 24-3
SEPT. 17 def. Duke, 51-24
OCT. 1 def Southern Cal, 39-14
OCT. 8 NOTRE DAME
OCT. 22 at Louisiana State
OCT. 29 N. CAROLINA STATE
NOV. 4 at Florida State
NOV. 12 NAVY
NOV. 19 CLEMSON

THE STATISTICS

SCORE

NOTRE DAME

TD: 41 PPA: 0.57 FG TP: 4
PASSING: 14 TD 20 PA 22 PA: 0.50
NO YDS AVG TO LG

SOUTH CAROLINA

TD: 39 PPA: 0.75 FG TP: 4
PASSING: 9 TD 16 PA 24 PA: 0.30
NO YDS AVG TO LG

THE PERFORMANCE

NOTRE DAME

Tommy Reiss

SOUTH CAROLINA

Steve Smith

THE PROGNOSTICATORS

Joe Morrison

South Carolina

PEERLESS PROGNOSTICATORS

Louie Sosnovski

Mike Sullivan

Will Hare

Jane Bradley

David DelGuidice

Joe Plante

Kevin Howard

Sports Writer

Sports Editor

Sports Writer

Head Coach

Head Coach

Head Coach

Sports Writer

Michigan over MICHIGAN STATE by 14
Alabama over PENN STATE by 8
PITTsburg over Florida State by 1 5
Nebraska over OKLAHOMA STATE by 21
Illinois over MICHIGAN by 2
Texas over Oklahoma by 27
Louisiana over STANFORD by 8
Duke over TENNISSEE by 1
Alabama over KENTUCKY by 7
Georgia over MISSISSIPPI by 14
Texas over MICHIGAN by 11
Indiana over Minnesota by 10
Notre Dame over SOUTH CAROLINA by 7

Spartans

Wolverines

Spartans

Wolverines

Wolverines

Spartans

Wolverines

Tide

Lions

Tide

Seminoles

Lions

Seminoles

Lions

Tide

Seminole

Panthers

Panthers

Seminoles

Cardinals

Cardinals

Badgers

Badgers

Badgers

Badgers

Badgers

Gophers

Gophers

Irish

Irish

Irish

Irish

Irish

Irish

Irish

Irish

Irish

Irish

Irish
Life, they say, is what happens while you're making plans. I've been trying to write a letter of consolation to the parents of Brian Buescher, feeling very liminal indeed, for I did not know Brian as a student. This morning, a clipping sent by Brian's mother, Kay Buescher, of the Fort Wayne News-Sentinel, told me that Brian G. Buescher, 22, was 6 days old when he was born in a Fort Wayne hospital and died in a Fort Wayne apartment at 8 p.m. Sunday." Brian's mother wrote: "Last Sunday, the Notre Dame men's basketball team was at home. Brian was an 83rd-year Notre Dame student, a man who was loved and adored so much. Since then he has been in Florida in the Naval Nuclear Power School .... Wednesday, going to the post office, I was wondering how to celebrate my birthday. Today I am 58 years old. Wednesday, before the mail came, I would have lied about my age. After seeing a picture of the 22-year-old Buescher in a newspaper, I have mixed feelings about having lived so long.

When John Kennedy died, Allia Stevenson gave aに向 the world that old men could leave the scene if it must. In 1983, when I was 22 year old ensign, I have been struck down in his place.

I have been trying to write a letter to a lonely God. Last Monday, going to the post office, I was wondering how to celebrate my birthday.

"Honey," I said, doing the best I could explain, "Your grandmother, even though she's in heaven, keeps close to you." When my own grandmother died, I told her, I felt very lonely. So many things reminded me of her: every time I ate a sugar cookie, I realized because I needed to know that my grandmother lived on. The people who are special to our lives are always near, at our hearts, in a room, or as they come back to us with the aliveness of a sacred memory. So many things remind me of her. Sometimes," I said, "They wait for us from there.

At 58, my gallery of beloved ghosts is pretty full. In my first year as rec­ tor of Keenan, a student named Mike Madden.

"It's true," she wrote me: "You are one of the finest musical comedies of all time. You are the screen's answer to the musicals of the early stage. 'The Great White Hope,' her wrote me: 'The five o'clock Mass, and surprise everyone when I start singing.'

Later, his mother told me one entire album has been cut up by the cancer. Bob died at the end of September after two months' illness. The Glee Club of Notre Dame was formed in the 1880s to provide a musical outlet for students. In the early years, the Glee Club focused on performing religious and secular songs,

My former ND roommate re­ members "The Boneyard" scene: "It's a surprise to many who felt the band's sound had long since been outdated. The three most popular oriented songs on The Present have the same characteristic to repeat their performance. "Sitting at the Wheel," the first single, is a musical clone of "Genius." The "Genius," it is dominated by heavy keyboard work from Bob nett, lead vocals, normal­ ly restrained because of the material, is an exercise in the occasion and material, is a crescendo of keyboards, pounding drums and screaming guitars. "Blue World," another like­ ly hit for the band. In this song, a simple bass line and beautiful background vocals add up to a winner.

The three most popular oriented songs on The Present have the same characteristic to repeat their performance. "Sitting at the Wheel," the first single, is a musical clone of "Genius." The "Genius," it is dominated by heavy keyboard work from Bob.nett, lead vocals, normally restrained because of the material, is an exercise in the occasion and material, is a crescendo of keyboards, pounding drums and screaming guitars. "Blue World," another like­ ly hit for the band. In this song, a simple bass line and beautiful background vocals add up to a winner.

The three most popular oriented songs on The Present have the same characteristic to repeat their performance. "Sitting at the Wheel," the first single, is a musical clone of "Genius." The "Genius," it is dominated by heavy keyboard work from Bob.nett, lead vocals, normally restrained because of the material, is an exercise in the occasion and material, is a crescendo of keyboards, pounding drums and screaming guitars. "Blue World," another like­ ly hit for the band. In this song, a simple bass line and beautiful background vocals add up to a winner.

The three most popular oriented songs on The Present have the same characteristic to repeat their performance. "Sitting at the Wheel," the first single, is a musical clone of "Genius." The "Genius," it is dominated by heavy keyboard work from Bob.nett, lead vocals, normally restrained because of the material, is an exercise in the occasion and material, is a crescendo of keyboards, pounding drums and screaming guitars. "Blue World," another like­ ly hit for the band. In this song, a simple bass line and beautiful background vocals add up to a winner.

The three most popular oriented songs on The Present have the same characteristic to repeat their performance. "Sitting at the Wheel," the first single, is a musical clone of "Genius." The "Genius," it is dominated by heavy keyboard work from Bob.nett, lead vocals, normally restrained because of the material, is an exercise in the occasion and material, is a crescendo of keyboards, pounding drums and screaming guitars. "Blue World," another like­ ly hit for the band.
The Non-Varsity Athletic Office has announced its next set of deadlines. Wednesday, October 12 has been set as the deadline for the girls' volleyball tournament as well as the soccer team. October 18 is also the deadline for the girls' basketball team. Competitors must register by the deadline or be charged $25 per entry. If you have any questions, call 239-6180.

The Wind Surfing Club is having a meeting tomorrow at 2 p.m. at Joe's Beach. All members are asked to bring proof of insurance.

Saint Mary's basketball tryouts will start Sunday, October 9 from 1-3 p.m. at the Atlantis Athletic Facility.

The International Student Organization for women is an international club and are interested in playing, sign up at the I.S.O. office, or call 232-7425.

The Notre Dame women's volleyball team is looking for experienced players. If you are an international student and are interested in playing, contact your dorm office.
Match play championships

Palmer almost upsets Ballesteros

Associated Press

In a letter to New York City Mayor Edward I. Koch, Jets principal owner Leon Hess said the Jets "have been and will be playing our home games in a run-down, neglected stadium, which is well-known to be the NFL's poorest facility for athletes and spectators alike.'

Hess said that at a Sept. 20 meeting Koch promised to offer on Sept. 30 a plan for a new stadium but that on Sept. 28 he "held a news conference announcing a Jets move to New Jersey, although you knew very well that no such decision had been made."

In officially announcing the move to the Meadowlands, Hess also pledged to return to New York if the city will do the following:

- Build a first-class professional football stadium for the city of New York.
- Have all necessary permits, approvals and financing secured in place before Feb. 1, 1986.
- Guarantee the Jets occupancy starting in the 1989 season under a lease equitable to the city and the Jets.
- Hess, an oil magnate who owns 75 percent of the Jets — the rent is held by Mrs. Helen Dillon, the daughter of former club president Donald C. Lillis — said in the letter that Koch was guilty of "forcing the issue" at his news conference and that, as a result, "the Jets fans have expressed themselves."

In the week following the news conference, Hess said, "the Jets received 9,000 telephone calls from fans. Less than 60 people voiced opposition to the Meadowlands move, with virtually every caller requesting ticket information if the Jets move to the Meadowlands. The Jets also received more than 4,000 written requests to buy seats for next season if the Jets move to the Meadowlands."

"You cannot fool the public, Mr. Mayor," the letter said. "Jets fans want a clean, efficient, well-run facility built strictly for football, not the 'unsuitable' Shea. If you are interested in the Jets' pledge and the return of the New York Jets to New York City, please let me hear from you."

Harrison Goldin, the city's comptroller, has estimated the Jets' move would cost the city about $35 million a year in lost revenue.

Giants Stadium, a 76,891-seat facility built strictly for football, was completed in time for the New York Giants to begin play there in 1976.

THE ATHLETE'S FOOT:
* Carries the very latest styles.
* Has the best selection of athletic shoes in Indiana.
* Has the best service...people who really know athletic shoes and activewear.

$8.00 OFF

When you present your student I.D.

Offer is good at the Athlete's Foot Mall Store in the University Park Mall (South Bend) or any participating Athlete's Foot Store.

No one knows the athlete's foot like The Athlete's Foot

University Park Mall

Ballesteros, bidding to win the Suntory World Match Play tournament, continued with 36-hole matches from the second round today. The final is set for Sunday, with $225,000 going to the winner. A crowd of 13,350 — the biggest attendance for any one day in the tournament's history — followed the golf in the autumn sunshine.

The fans favorite was Palmer and for most of the morning he looked capable of giving them the upset they wanted. When he went 2-up by rolling in a 16-foot birdie putt at the 12th, the scene was like the 1960's again with Arnie's Army roaring with excitement.

Later Palmer talked about Ballesteros' chip at the 18th which turned the match.

"It was just one hell of a shot," Palmer said. "I thought I was going to win. But that's golf."

"If I had played the 17th properly there would not have been an 18th hole at all. That was the bad hole for me," Ballesteros got a birdie at the 17th, while Palmer wandered off course with his second shot and finished with a regulation 5.

While some matches see-sawed, Rogers, Irwin and Peete all reaped the benefit of a good start. Rogers took the first three holes against Hides of Japan and went on to an early 5 and 4 win.

Irwin began by rolling in a 70-foot birdie putt and overcame David Graham of Australia 2 and 1. Peete was ever present headed. He was 3 up on Tsuneyuki Nakajima after eight holes, but later lost ground and finally won by one hole.

NFL makes Jets' move official

Associated Press

NEW YORK — The National Football League formally announced yesterday that they will move to Giants Stadium in East Rutherford, N.J., next season but pledged to return to New York "if the city will build a proper football stadium."

In a letter to New York City Mayor Edward I. Koch, Jets principal owner Leon Hess said the Jets "have been and will be playing our home games in a run-down, neglected stadium, which is well-known to be the NFL's poorest facility for athletes and spectators alike."

Hess said that at a Sept. 20 meeting Koch promised to offer on Sept. 30 a plan for a new stadium but that on Sept. 28 he "held a news conference announcing a Jets move to New Jersey, although you knew very well that no such decision had been made."

In officially announcing the move to the Meadowlands, Hess also pledged to return to New York if the city will do the following:

- Build a first-class professional football stadium for the city of New York.
- Have all necessary permits, approvals and financing secured in place before Feb. 1, 1986.
- Guarantee the Jets occupancy starting in the 1989 season under a lease equitable to the city and the Jets.
- Hess, an oil magnate who owns 75 percent of the Jets — the rent is held by Mrs. Helen Dillon, the daughter of former club president Donald C. Lillis — said in the letter that Koch was guilty of "forcing the issue" at his news conference and that, as a result, "the Jets fans have expressed themselves."

In the week following the news conference, Hess said, "the Jets received 9,000 telephone calls from fans. Less than 60 people voiced opposition to the Meadowlands move, with virtually every caller requesting ticket information if the Jets move to the Meadowlands. The Jets also received more than 4,000 written requests to buy seats for next season if the Jets move to the Meadowlands."

"You cannot fool the public, Mr. Mayor," the letter said. "Jets fans want a clean, efficient, well-run stadium, built for football, not the 'unsuitable' Shea. If you are interested in the Jets' pledge and the return of the New York Jets to New York City, please let me hear from you."

Harrison Goldin, the city's comptroller, has estimated the Jets' move would cost the city about $35 million a year in lost revenue.

Giants Stadium, a 76,891-seat facility built strictly for football, was completed in time for the New York Giants to begin play there in 1976.

The Observer

Friday, October 7, 1983 — page 15

Basketball ticket distribution

Monday
All seniors

Tuesday
Juniors and all undergraduate students in the ninth semester or higher

Wednesday
Sophomores, graduate students, and law students

Thursday
Freshmen and any student who missed his/her appropriate day

All tickets are being distributed at Gate 3 of the ACC from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.
National League playoffs

Rookie Hudson set to face L.A.

Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA — A year ago, Charles Hudson was sitting at home in Dallas, watching baseball's pennant playoffs on television.

Today, he'll be on the mound at Philadelphia's Veterans Stadium, starting for the Phillies against Los Angeles and Bob Welch in Game Three of the National League Championship Series.

And, no matter how much he tries, the 24-year-old rookie who had never pitched above Class A before this season, knows he can't approach this as just another game.

"You try to imagine that it is," he said. "But everyone in the nation will be watching. I'm proud to say we're here, and I'm in the place to do the job."

The Rangers at Pittsburgh

After the teams split the first two games in Los Angeles, Game Three is a pivotal one that will leave the Rangers just one victory away from the National League playoffs.

"There was last year were we needed someone to get us to the playoffs," said pitching Coach Ray Miller. "And when we needed someone to give us a big game in the playoffs."

Rookie Hudson will face the Dodgers tomorrow at Veterans Stadium, Game Four of this series.

He throws well," said Welch, who was 15-12 during the season for the Dodgers, including a 1-0 shutout of the Phillies. "He has good mechanics. He's patient. He's aggressive. He goes after people."

Hudson also says he's a different pitcher than he was in his first two pro seasons, both spent in the low minors.

"Last year, I was just a power pitcher," he said. "I used the last half and my out pitch was the slider. I still use one, but I also have the change-up to keep the hitters off balance."

He's also benefited from pitching the dean of the Phillies' staff, 36-year-old Steve Carlton, who combined with reliever Al Holland to shut out the Dodgers 1-0 in the opener of this series.

"Levy showed me something all season," Miller said. "Keep the ball low and mix up the pitches."

Rookie Boddicker saves Orioles again

Associated Press

BALTIMORE — Rookie Mike Boddicker stepped into save the Baltimore Orioles in the playoffs, just as he did during the regular season.

"He was there when we needed someone to get us to the playoffs, said pitching Coach Ray Miller. "And when we needed someone to give us a big game in the playoffs."

Boddicker, recalled from the minor leagues on May 5 after starters Jim Palmer and Mike Flanagan were disabled, won 16 games while helping to stabilize an injury-riddled staff.

Placed in a more pressured situation after the Orioles lost the opening game of the best-of-five American League Championship Series, Boddicker blanked the Chicago White Sox in Game Three of five his last night and tied a playoff record with 14 strikeouts on five hits last October.
... Flags

On Tuesday, B.P. came back to defeat Lyons 14-0. Ehrhardt said the team played much better on Tuesday, especially the defensive line. Walsh's 12-6 upset victory over B.P. on Sunday, has "turned the team around," said Steber. "Not many people thought we would beat B.P."

Steber sees an optimistic conclusion for Walsh's 1985 season and says, "things are starting to go together."

Lyons' loss to B.P. on Tuesday was not encouraging to team captain Martha Burns since "B.P. is always a powerhouse." Tuesday's loss gives Lyons a 0-5 record and Burns is disappointed that her team was unable to score against B.P.

This Sunday, Lyons will face P.W. and Burns says the team will be preparing flag football and "practicing flag drills and blocking in preparation for the game. "We will determine our strengths and weaknesses before Sunday."

Farley's 14-0 victory over Lewis on Sunday built confidence in the Farley team.

"We started to work more as a team," said Farley team captain Sharon Koehler. "We blew holes in their defense."

Lewis team captain Jannene Ollis was disappointed with Sunday's performance but "we learned where we must improve." The loss to Farley gives Lewis a 2-1 record and, according to Ollis, "brought us down to earth and showed us we can't depend on the fancy plays."

---

What's up?

Here's what your teams are doing this weekend

Today

- cross country
  - Notre Dame Invitational: 2 p.m.
- soccer
  - vs. Findlay: 8 p.m.

Tomorrow

- soccer
  - at Wisconsin-Milwaukee Tournament
  - ND women's tennis at Irish Invitational Tournament
    - at St. Louis Univ.

---

McCarthy's

EST. 1983

Mon: Monday Night Football — Pitchers $2 during game

Tues: Two for One Draft

Two drafts '75

Wed: Talent and Ladies Nite — Happy Hour prices to ladies

Thurs: Cheers Nite —

25 draft 8-10 PM

Fri: Pre-Game Nite — wake up the echoes with us!

Sat: Sat. Morning Confusion —

Irish Omelets $2.50; draft 7 AM .10

up a dime every hour till noon

Sat. Afternoon Pre-Game Warm-Up —

$2.00 pitchers 2-8

Uncle Vinnie Says: "Olive doors to be different, Going Red"

Full line of Pub Grub served daily

Sat 7:00 AM - 2:00 AM

---

CHANCE TO DANCE

featuring

the

KINETICS

Friday, Oct. 7

LaFortune Ballroom

9:30 - 1:30

Adm. $1

---

Spend a “Neat” Evening

with DOUG NEIDT

Classical Guitarist

Beaut the Clock

Fri & Sat — 8-9-11-12

HOUSE COCKTAILS

8-9-10-11-12-13

FIGHTIN' IRISH INFILTRATORS

$2.50 pitchers

while you watch the

N.D. games on Sat. with us.

25 Beers

Mon. & Tues. 7-10

for 1 house drinks- Wed

$1 Molson - Thurs.

Happy Hour 4-7 Mon. - Fri.
American League playoffs

Orioles shut out Sox, even series

Associated Press

Baltimore — Rookie Mike Bod-
dicker, striking out a record-tying 14, pitched a five-hitter and Gary Roenicke staged a two-run seventh-inning homer as the Baltimore Orioles beat the Chicago White Sox 2-0 in a double-header and nipped their American League Championship Series at one victory apiece.

The Orioles, with the victory, avoided a gloomy situation. No team in the best-of-five series ever survived losing the first two games at home before starting three games — all if necessary — are scheduled for Comiskey Park at Chicago tonight, tomorrow, and Sunday night. Mike Hanagan will start for the Orioles in Game Three against Rich Dotson.

Roenicke, a platoon player who did not start in Baltimore's 2-1 loss Wednesday's opener, homered in the sixth inning, doubled, walked twice, scored three times and had two R�. Ken Singleton doubled home one run and the other scored on an error by Chicago third baseman Bob Watson.

Boddicker's 14 strikeouts, a career high, tied the AL championship record and were the most by any American League pitcher this year. He recorded No. 14 by getting Julio Cruz swinging in the ninth. The right-hander, who stepped on the sliders in the minor leagues, and White Sox left-hander Floyd Layden began the night in a struggle of power.

Boddicker, throwing an assortment of breaking pitches and curvy curveballs, struck out two in the first inning, and sustainable fanned three.

In the top of the second, Boddicker — and he's real, and he's going to start. He then hit Tom Paciorek with his next pitch and walked Ron Kittle on a 3-1 pitch to give the White Sox two baserunners. But, as they had in Game One when they stranded 10 baserunners, Chicago let another opportunity slip by.

On a 2-5 count, Roenicke struck out Vance Law, and Paciorek, on the front end of an attempted double steal, was thrown out at third by catcher Rich Dempsey for a double play.

In the bottom half of the inning, Roenicke led off with a double. It was his sixth hit off Boddicker in 18 career at bats and all have been for extra bases, including four home runs.

The next batter, designated hitter Ken Singleton, then hit a hard grounder toward third and Law, a converted shortstop, let it bounce off his glove. When he recovered, his throw went over Paciorek's head into the White Sox's dugout, allowing Roenicke to score.

Boddicker, who joined the Orioles on May 5 to replace the injured Jim Palmer, did not yield a hit until two were out in the third inning when Rudy Law singled. He struck out two more in the fourth, and Kittle led off the seventh inning with the second hit off Boddicker, a single.

But Boddicker struck out two more White Sox in that inning, and a pattern was developing in this series between two normally potent offensive teams. Chicago's LaMarr Hoyt had pitched a five-hitter in Game One to oustslut Baltimore's Scott McGregor. On this cool, clear night, however, the tables were squared.

The Oriole starting pitcher was 0-1 in his previous three outings and was further restricted in this series because of 1427 N.lronwood

http://PRINCEPIZZA.COM

Zhelyazkov (6737) v. Kennaugh (6527)

Columbus Day Special

Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Ga. — Payne Stewart, warmly attired in pink knick-ers, stepped five strokes off par yesterday with a 65 for a one-stroke lead in the first round of the $250,000 Southern Open Golf Tournament.

Stewart, 26, blistered the narrow, hilly, par 70, 6,791-yard Green Island Country Club course for seven birdies and two bogeys to take the lead over Gary Hallberg and Sam Torrance, a Bye Cup player from Scotland.

Gary Koch and Greg Jones were two shots off the pace at 67 after de-defending champion Bobby Clamp-tett led a group at 68.

Hal Sutton, the leading money winner on the tour, had some problems with an eye infection and staggered to a 76.

Stewart, in his third year on the PGA tour after two seasons on the Asian circuit, had birdies of 15, 25 and 10 feet and another of three inches in blasting out a 31 on the front nine.

The flamboyant Stewart, repul-dent in his pink knickers and socks and pink shirt with gray stripes and matching white sweater, cap and shoes, added a 10-foot birdie on the 10th hole but had bogeys on th 11th and 14th and 14th to go along with birdies of 4 and 3 feet on the 12th and 15th holes to complete a round of 69.

"I feel comfortable on this course," said Stewart, who also said he owns 4 knicker outfits.

"I believe I was the first on the U.S. tour to wear knickers. Now there are other guys wearing them. Why not? If you ever wore them playing golf, you see you have a lot more comfortable than slacks," said Stewart. He ranks 55th on the money list this year with just under $95,000 and has four finishes in the top 10, his best a tie for third at Milwaukee.

Columbus Day

Special REFRIGERATORS

$35 per School Year

FREE DELIVERY

CALL Taylor Rental

277 - 2190

1427 N. Ironwood

free delivery

Northern Mississippi

100% Satisfaction Guaranteed

prince of pizzas

1801 Miller Road (479-9944)

1288 Martin Luther King Jr.

1025 W. North St.

1520 Ponce de Leon

1114 Oakland St.

1440 W. Main St.

1239 N. Main St.

1300 S. Main St.

Jr. 10" 12" 14" 17"

SM. 10" 12" 14" 17"

LARGE 10" 12" 14" 17"

ALL PRICES INCLUDE SALES TAX

ITALIAN PIZZA

Jr. $10.00

SM. $12.00

LARGE $14.00

CHEESE 3.40 4.85 6.40 9.10

EXTRA INGREDIENTS .80 .90 1.20 1.35

INGREDIENTS: Cheese, Sausage, Pepperoni, Ham Peppers, Onions, Green Olives, Black Olives, Mushrooms

POLISH STYLE PIZZA

made with POLISH SAUSAGE - SAUERKRAUT - CHEESE Served on a very crisp crust

JUNIOR SMALL MEDIUM LARGE

10" 12" 14" 17"

4.20 5.90 7.80 11.00

SANDWICHES

Served on an 8 in. long roll

Polish Sausage, W/Kraut. $2.10

Italian Sausage, W/Sauce. $2.10

Italian Beef. $2.85

Combination, Italian Sausage & Beef. $3.75

Ham on Rye. $2.50

Ham & Cheese on Rye. $2.80

Submarine. $3.05

OPEN 4:00 P.M. 7 DAYS A WEEK

CALL DELIVERY (630) 272-8030

FREE DELIVERY ND / SMC

POLISH PRINCE PIZZERIA

272-8030

$2.75 (save .30)

Polish Prince Sandwich

Guaranteed Delivery

prince of pizzas

1801 Miller Road (479-9944)

1288 Martin Luther King Jr.

1025 W. North St.

1520 Ponce de Leon

1114 Oakland St.

1440 W. Main St.

1300 S. Main St.

1300 S. Main St.
Philosophy

Fate

"Tell someone if he's not well. I can't believe it, I can't believe it."

"I wonder what it's going to be."

"How's it going to be?"

"I don't even think it."

Photius

October 7, 1983 – page 19

Bloom County

Berke Breathed

The Daily Crossword

Mellish

Dave & Dave

Campus

Saturday, Oct. 8

Sunday, Oct. 9

Far Side

?”You call that movin’ the lawn?... Bad dog!... Noブno!!... Bad dog!”

Will you ever tip a robot your favorite restaurant?
Will you ever live on the moon or planet hebshub?
Will your children do their homework and write papers on your family home computer?
Will you have 'Radio Moscow' on your home computer?

“Next Century on Earth and in Space”

Friday, Oct. 7

D.J. Peter Burch

Logos Night

Drink specials according to your clothes

(wear a Bud shirt & get a Bud discount or any other Drink)

D.J. Peter Burch
Sports

B.P.'suptets Farley as women's flag football ends second week of play

By MARY SIEGER
Sports Writer

Women's intercollegiate football completed its second week last night with a fierce match between Breen-Phillips and defending champion Farley. B.P. defeated Farley, 8-6. In last week's, last evening, Walsh defeated Baldwin with an identical score.

Assistant captain, Lisa Ehrhardt, described yesterday's game as "a crucial mid-season game," which should set the pace for the rest of B.P.'s season. "If we play consistently, we should be able to get the championship back," said Ehrhardt. "It's do or die for the championship, we've been working for nothing else.

Baldwin said last evening's victory over Farley is a credit to B.P.'s defensive line. "Everyone seems to be having trouble scoring on our defense," he said. Even if we can just get ahead in a game, it should be enough for us to win."

The rivalry between B.P. and Farley was emphasized further when the team opened their season opener at Pasquerilla East.

ND tennis comes of age

Jane Healey
Assistant Sports Editor

The question that arises is what has been the motivating factor in this slow climb?

"The major influence is support of the administration for not only tennis, but all of women's athletics," Petro said. "They (Gene Corrigan and Mr. O'Brien) are very supportive. I know that the athletic department has really needed something for the betterment of the program, they will listen to me and they will take my words into consideration."

Having the backing of the athletic administration has helped Petro to attract a specific type of person and form a team.

"I'm looking for the women that has put in a lot of time and money into tennis (on the junior circuit), because often those girls really want something different. Most of the players don't have aspirations about going pro after graduation."

With the type of dedication Petro gets from this group of talented women, the improvement in performance is noticeable.

"There are so many changes that we've had to make over the years,"

P.W. did you know that last year, after you were already at home for the summer, the Notre Dame women's tennis team was invited to participate for third place in the NCAA Division II National Championship?

Regardless of your knowledge, though, the event did take place. Third place out of all the Division II teams in the country has a decent feat. But it wouldn't surprise you if you had followed the team over the last couple years.

Coach Sharon Petro, who has held her position for six years, points to the last three of those as an example of the advancement the Irish have made toward a championship without actually garnering that title.

In the 1980-81 season, Notre Dame was part of the AIAW Division II tournament, in which it finished 11th. In the 1981-82 season, Petro had kept the team in the Division II tournaments. The next season the Irish took fourteen steps towards their goal by finishing sixth in the country. The tournament was still divided into A and B, but No. 1 singles player was in one bracket, the No. 2 singles in another bracket, and so on down to the sixth position. The finalists in each slot were then chosen at all-Americans. Pam Fischer and Laura Lee both won that honor in the No. 3 singles and No. 5 singles positions, respectively.

Last year, the challenge was really on. Notre Dame switched to the NCAA, not only increasing the level of competition, but also changing the structure of post-season play. Instead of a flighted tournament, eight teams (four from the country and four wild cards) would meet in northern California to play in a head-to-head competition. Notre Dame was chosen from the Midwest region.

On the first day of play, the Irish defeated Western Colorado 8-1. Then, after the team tourney was over, the Irish stumbled before Cal State-Davis, putting them in the consolation match against the University of North Carolina, which they eventually won.

After the team tourney was over, the individual singles and doubles matches were to begin. Thirty two players and doubles players were invited to participate. From Notre Dame, freshman Mary Colligan received an invitation. In doubles, she was paired with Shannon Fischette. The match was never selected, of which Colligan and Pam Fischer were a team.

Before competition began, though, the news of a death in the family of one of the replacements was not allowed according to NCAA rules, causing the replacements to be held in custody. The All-Americans were chosen from a competition in which Notre Dame did not even participate.

"I watched those individual and doubles tournaments," Petro said. "I'm not being biased, but our doubles team could have won it - or they would have been very close."

To add even more plausibility to this string of events, the Irish are now 8-0 in their fall season.