Peace demonstration?

West Germans protesting the scheduled deployment of these rocket-launching demonstrations. Yesterday of the Pershing missile lob rocks at police outside the protests were more peaceful, as 20,000 marchers U.S. military base at Bremenhaven on Saturday. More gathered in the Rhineland, and 4,000 more in West Ber­lin, 200 persons were detained nationwide as a result.

Contestants for 'Wheel of Fortune' to be selected from student body

By MYCHAL SCHULZ

The "Wheel of Fortune" will be rolling through Notre Dame in a few weeks and is looking to take some students with it.

On Nov. 2 NBC's popular game show "Wheel of Fortune" will be at Notre Dame looking for students interested in taking part in its special College Week. Although 180 students will go through the screening process, only 3 students will be chosen to travel to Burbank, Calif. on Dec. 3 to participate in the show.

In addition, students will be given "rain checks". These people can call the NBC studios and possibly appear on the show whenever they are in Southern California.

Although nothing like this has happened at Notre Dame during McDonell's tenure, he said that there have been no objections to students participating in the show. "They first called Father Van Wolvhear (vice president for student affairs) who gave his OK, and then he referred the matter to me. I saw no problems with it since he gave it his OK."

Although the students will be representing Notre Dame against teams from Alabama, Pittsburgh, and UCLA, neither NBC nor the University will pay the travel expenses to Burbank for the taping of the show.

City trick-or-treaters to prowl at St. Mary's

By MEGAN KOREMAN

Mary South Bend ghosts and goblins will be running through the halls of St. Mary's rather than the dark, potentially unsafe streets this Halloween.

"Trick or treating isn't that safe anymore, especially in underprivileged neighborhoods," said Kate Hoban, co-commissioner of the Saint Mary's Christian Life Commission who is sponsoring the event. "The students here miss out on the fun of Halloween and little kids. It will be really good for all concerned by bringing fun to the campus and also being fun for the kids."

Hoban decided to try the idea, which originated at the University of Dayton, at Saint Mary's because "the campus is so pretty and there are so many people here, Halloween seemed like a good opportunity to do something for the community. The kids and parents won't have to worry because they'll be in a nice, supervised area."

The event is open to children of any age from the Neighborhood Help Study Program, Logan Center, and NDSS. Hoban, adding that "at this point the groups understand they have to provide their own transportation." Cara Hagman, Hoban's co-commissioner, explained. "There are legal troubles with driving children."

These children will trick or treat in LeMans, Holy Cross and McCandless "But," said Myrtam Hickey, treasurer of the CLC, "children of faculty have gone trick-or-treating in Regina every year for years so they'll keep that up and we won't go there." Hoban added. "We'd like to invite those faculty members not involved with Regina to help us." Members of the CLC will be there to organize it and keep order," said Hoban.

"There'll be loss of publicity to bring candy back after break. We're sending out a CLC newsletter and letters to BAX, and CLC commissioners in each dorm will talk it up to hall council," Hagman said. "Even if it's small this year I hope we make it a tradition so we need support." Hoban sees this as "a trial basis thing for something similar at Easter and Christmas."

It's "funny," she added. "Notre Dame dorms have their own volunteer groups and projects but we don't have those organizations."

The Christian Life Commission is part of the Saint Mary's student government. Hagman said, "It parallels Notre Dame's CIL, only over at Notre Dame it's not a part of the government."

The CLC was formed just last year. Hagman said that this year, "we've changed the structure, made it bigger by adding officers and more commissioners like volunteer services."

"It's the only Christian group on campus. Last year was the first year it became a big interest," said Hagman. "We try to remind people and keep them aware that this is a Catholic school. We try to bring Christianity into everyday life and we don't have those organizations."

The CLC also has sponsored the movie "Oh God!" a lemonade stand and a Redman dinner this year, and is in charge of organizing daily Masses in the dorms.

"The weeks after break will be the big ones for us," said Hagman. The CLC will be sponsoring a blood drive and a donut sale as well as sponsoring the Oxidan Fast.
In Brief

Marriott was raided during Tankard Night Thursday. Details were sketchy, but according to eyewitnesses, approximately 40 students were removed from the premises by Indiana State Police. The Observer was unable to confirm whether these persons were arrested. South Bend Police are expected to release more information today. — The Observer

Former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger returned to the States yesterday, speaking optimistically of peace for Central America after a hostile reception from Nicaragua. A bipartisan presidential commission headed by Kissinger’s cuffed six-person peace mission tour with a nine-hour visit Saturday to Nicaragua, a nation closely tied to Cuba and the Soviet bloc. When the panel arrived in the capital of Managua, it faced massive anti-American demonstrations and a hostile government reception. The 12-member commission, set up by the Reagan administration to work out long-term U.S. policy, conducted its tour during a week of new attacks staged by U.S.-backed rebels in Nicaragua. On his return, Kissinger told reporters at Andrews Air Force Base that while Central America is “an area in crisis,” it also is an area of great hope. He said the commissioners have agreed to meet with Nicaraguan-backed guerrillas fighting in El Salvador. — AP

Pope John Paul II yesterday canonized a 20th century Croatian monk known for his work as a confessor who celebrated the fifth anniversary of the pope’s election. More than 100,000 pilgrims and pigeons gathered under a blue sky at St. Peter’s Square for the double canonization to name the Capuchin Friar Bogdan Mandic to St. Leopold and to commemorate John Paul II’s election as head of the Roman Catholic Church on Oct. 16, 1978. “St. Leopold did not leave theological or literary works behind him; he did not fascinate others with his culture,” the pope said in a homily from a red papal flag atop the white steps of the square. “His greatness was written...in the communal cell. He was a heroic servant of reconciliation and penitence,” the pope said. — AP

A bus skidded off a suburban road in Calcutta, India, killing at least five patrons and injuring at least 10 others. Police said the accident occurred late Saturday in this eastern Indian city. Police said the injured had been rushed to two hospitals for treatment but gave no further details. — AP

Kenya’s President Daniel Arap Moi has ordered the government to stop buying Tylenol and competing painkillers, saying that developing countries such as Kenya are not ready for them. Such painkillers “do not reflect appropriate technology and must be discouraged,” government ceremonies, he said. The government is expected to submit a proposal to the United Nations. — AP

Described by police as “a chameleon” who labored at many jobs under many identities, James Lewis goes on trial today accused of trying to exploit last year’s seven Tylenol murders. Lewis is charged with attempted extortion in a federal indictment alleging that he wrote a letter demanding $1 million from Johnson & Johnson, parent company of Tylenol’s manufacturer, to “stop the killing.” Lewis’ attorney, Michael Monico, said he’ll seek a delay in the jury trial — which should take about a week — because of the government’s request Friday for additional handwriting samples from Lewis. The trial comes slightly more than one year after five women and a 9-year-old girl in the Chicago area died when they swallowed cyanide-laced Tylenol capsules. No arrests have been made in the deaths. But the 57-year-old Lewis, arrested last December in New York after a library clerk recognized him from a wanted poster that had been called by the Illinois attorney general the “prime suspect” in the deaths. — AP

Weather

Sunny and cool today, with highs in the low 60s. Clear and cool tonight with a low in the upper 50s. Mostly sunny and cool tomorrow, with highs in the low 60s. — AP

The Observer

Up to $16 Cash Per Week for your time.

INFLATION: GOT YOUR BLOOD BOILING?

How? We'll pay you up to $16 Cash per week for your time.

It's easy. Just come in to our new modern facility relax in comfy chairs while you donate LIFE-GIVING PLASMA.

We can help relieve some of that pressure!

How? We will pay you up to $16 CASH Per week for your time.

You can earn $7 for your first plasma donation and $9 for your second donation within the same week...AND WE WILL GIVE YOU A FREE physical exam and over $60 worth of free lab tests.

Plus

We will give you an Additional $4 IF you bring this ad with you. (Offer applicable to first time donors only)

For more information call 234-6010 or come by 515 Lincolnway West

Bring your I.D.

AMERICAN PLASMA SYSTEMS
A National Concern Dedicated to Extending the Lives of Others.
Tues and Sat 8am-5pm
Wed andFri 9am-5pm

The Observer

The Observer (USPS 585 820) is published Monday through Friday and Saturday by American Plasma Systems, Inc. except during exam and vacation periods. The Observer is published by the students of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's College. Subscriptions may be purchased for $25 per year ($15 for first year students). Send subscription to: The Observer, P.O. Box 9, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556. The Observer is a member of the American Press Institute. All reproduction rights are reserved.

In Brief

Marriott was raided during Tankard Night Thursday. Details were sketchy, but according to eyewitnesses, approximately 40 students were removed from the premises by Indiana State Police. The Observer was unable to confirm whether these persons were arrested. South Bend Police are expected to release more information today. — The Observer

Former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger returned to the States yesterday, speaking optimistically of peace for Central America after a hostile reception from Nicaragua. A bipartisan presidential commission headed by Kissinger’s cuffed six-person peace mission tour with a nine-hour visit Saturday to Nicaragua, a nation closely tied to Cuba and the Soviet bloc. When the panel arrived in the capital of Managua, it faced massive anti-American demonstrations and a hostile government reception. The 12-member commission, set up by the Reagan administration to work out long-term U.S. policy, conducted its tour during a week of new attacks staged by U.S.-backed rebels in Nicaragua. On his return, Kissinger told reporters at Andrews Air Force Base that while Central America is “an area in crisis,” it also is an area of great hope. He said the commissioners have agreed to meet with Nicaraguan-backed guerrillas fighting in El Salvador. — AP

Pope John Paul II yesterday canonized a 20th century Croatian monk known for his work as a confessor who celebrated the fifth anniversary of the pope’s election. More than 100,000 pilgrims and pigeons gathered under a blue sky at St. Peter’s Square for the double canonization to name the Capuchin Friar Bogdan Mandic to St. Leopold and to commemorate John Paul II’s election as head of the Roman Catholic Church on Oct. 16, 1978. “St. Leopold did not leave theological or literary works behind him; he did not fascinate others with his culture,” the pope said in a homily from a red papal flag atop the white steps of the square. “His greatness was written...in the communal cell. He was a heroic servant of reconciliation and penitence,” the pope said. — AP

A bus skidded off a suburban road in Calcutta, India, killing at least five patrons and injuring at least 10 others. Police said the accident occurred late Saturday in this eastern Indian city. Police said the injured had been rushed to two hospitals for treatment but gave no further details. — AP

Kenya’s President Daniel Arap Moi has ordered the government to stop buying Tylenol and competing painkillers, saying that developing countries such as Kenya are not ready for them. Such painkillers “do not reflect appropriate technology and must be discouraged,” government ceremonies, he said. The government is expected to submit a proposal to the United Nations. — AP

Described by police as “a chameleon” who labored at many jobs under many identities, James Lewis goes on trial today accused of trying to exploit last year’s seven Tylenol murders. Lewis is charged with attempted extortion in a federal indictment alleging that he wrote a letter demanding $1 million from Johnson & Johnson, parent company of Tylenol’s manufacturer, to “stop the killing.” Lewis’ attorney, Michael Monico, said he’ll seek a delay in the jury trial — which should take about a week — because of the government’s request Friday for additional handwriting samples from Lewis. The trial comes slightly more than one year after five women and a 9-year-old girl in the Chicago area died when they swallowed cyanide-laced Tylenol capsules. No arrests have been made in the deaths. But the 57-year-old Lewis, arrested last December in New York after a library clerk recognized him from a wanted poster that had been called by the Illinois attorney general the “prime suspect” in the deaths. — AP

Weather

Sunny and cool today, with highs in the low 60s. Clear and cool tonight with a low in the upper 50s. Mostly sunny and cool tomorrow, with highs in the low 60s. — AP

The Observer

Up to $16 Cash Per week for your time.

INFLATION: GOT YOUR BLOOD BOILING?

How? We will pay you up to $16 CASH Per week for your time.

It’s easy. Just come in to our new modern facility relax in comfy chairs while you donate LIFE-GIVING PLASMA.

We can help relieve some of that pressure!

How? We will pay you up to $16 CASH Per week for your time.

You can earn $7 for your first plasma donation and $9 for your second donation within the same week...AND WE WILL GIVE YOU A FREE physical exam and over $60 worth of free lab tests.

Plus

We will give you an Additional $4 IF you bring this ad with you. (Offer applicable to first time donors only)

For more information call 234-6010 or come by 515 Lincolnway West

Bring your I.D.

AMERICAN PLASMA SYSTEMS
A National Concern Dedicated to Extending the Lives of Others.
Tues and Sat 8am-5pm
Wed and Fri 9am-5pm

The Observer

The Observer (USPS 585 820) is published Monday through Friday and Saturday by American Plasma Systems, Inc. except during exam and vacation periods. The Observer is published by the students of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's College. Subscriptions may be purchased for $25 per year ($15 for first year students). Send subscription to: The Observer, P.O. Box 9, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556. The Observer is a member of the American Press Institute. All reproduction rights are reserved.
OBUD move to increase visibility

By TOM POWERS

Ombudsman's information bar, located on the first floor of LaFortune Student Center, will make OBUD more accessible to the students, said Andy Tucker, director of Ombudsmen.

"We are an information and complaint service," said Tucker. "We have all the campus events that are run by the Student Government, the halls, the clubs, the classes, and the University itself all kept up to date down here."

Tucker said that before the bar was installed "We could not be a centralized information service. With the bar, however, we are able to meet the foot traffic through LaFortune.

When the bar arrived four weeks ago, "it was not up to the standards that we had paid for so we decided to send it back," Tucker said. The renovated bar now in use arrived approximately two weeks ago.

The bar was donated by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph LaFortune to help OM - BUDSMAN reach more students and also to give LaFortune center a more meaningful purpose," according to Tucker. "Before the bar came, Tucker said, "people didn't know where to go with their complaints. With the bar we are exposed to students every day and now they can easily reach us."

An "Information" sign will be placed over the bar, said Tucker, noting that in addition to the OM - BUDSMAN service, students can pick up information about activities from posters which may be hung on the bar.

"We have about 25 people working for us now," Tucker said. "However, we need about 40 people to be in full capacity while keeping the bar running smoothly and efficiently."

"It's very easy for anyone to get involved in this organization, and we're always looking for people," Tucker said.

Pat O'Brien dies at 83

Associated Press

LOS ANGELES -- Actor Pat O'Brien, one of the last of the "Irish Mafia" actors who played tough guys and priests, was remembered yesterday by his fellow entertainers as a raconteur who loved jokes.

O'Brien died Saturday at St. John's Hospital in Santa Monica of a heart attack, three days after undergoing prostate surgery. He would have been 84 next month.

O'Brien appeared in 110 movies over six decades, most notably the title role as the famed Notre Dame football coach in "Knute Rockne -- All American," a film that co-starred Ronald Reagan as the "Gipper."

"It's so sad," said comedian Bob Hope. "I called Pat about two weeks ago" to make arrangements for an upcoming tour.

"We told jokes and we were laughing and he sounded great. He worked with him a lot of times. He was a raconteur. He loved jokes. He was a hell of a guy."

A Funeral Mass will be celebrated at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at St. Martin of Tours Catholic Church in Brentwood.

O'Brien's last performance was in a minor role in "Ragtime," a 1981 movie that co-starred his fellow Irish Mafia actor James Cagney.

In the 1930s, they were dubbed the Irish Mafia by O'Brien, Cagney, Spencer Tracy, Frank McHugh and John Ford. Now only Cagney is left.

Along with Knute Rockne, O'Brien is in such memorable roles

W O O D E N I N D I A N

Western Store Trading Post

50677 U.S. 31 No.-South Bend

Boots 1st pair full-price 2nd pair 1/2 price

Belt a friend!

Skirt-Jackets-Leather Blazers

Western Skirts and tops

Hat: Same Western Felt

$15.00

Open: Mon.-Thurs. 10:6-5:30

Fri.-Sat. 10-5

Behind Clayoquot Animal Clinic

GROUP PROGRAMS

Sponsored by the COUNSELING AND PSYCHOLOGICAL SERVICES CENTER UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME

BUILDING SELF-ESTEEM: A program designed to help students identify strengths, feelings, and areas that affect self-esteem, and to promote and practice ways to meet their personal needs.

BEGINNING DATE: Monday, October 17, 1983 TIME: 7:00-9:00 p.m.

RELATIONSHIP ENRICHMENT: A program designed to teach partners to communicate effectively and enhance their relationships by learning how to resolve conflict constructively. Both partners are required to attend.

BEGINNING DATE: Thursday, October 13, 1983 TIME: 7:00-9:00 p.m.

DEVELOPING ASSERTIVE BEHAVIOR: A program designed to help students to realize the importance of assertiveness, recognize and increase assertive behaviors, and distinguish assertive responses from other behaviors. Each student will learn the skills necessary to cope with others and to make interactions in ways that are effective and healthy.

BEGINNING DATE: Monday, October 31, 1983 TIME: 7:00-9:00 p.m.

STRESS MANAGEMENT: This program will focus on skills to successfully deal with stress. The purpose of the group will be to help students better understand and explore the nature of stress, how it affects them, and how they can effectively cope with stressful factors in their daily lives. The program will be conducted in designing his/her own stress management program to meet his/her own individual needs.

BEGINNING DATE: Thursday, November 3, 1983 TIME: 7:00-9:00 p.m.

MEN'S AWARENESS GROUP: The purpose of this group is to bring men together to examine the effects of being born male, the role society places on men, the expectations of being male, explore new ways of dealing with the demands made on males, to help men understand and clarify their own personal needs and goals, and discover new ways of relating with others. Membership is limited to men.

BEGINNING DATE: Wednesday, November 9, 1983 TIME: 7:00-9:00 p.m.

TO ENROLL: Call the Counseling and Psychological Services Center at 229-7229 between 8:30 a.m. and 10:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. In particular, we are interested in men of more than one race if you are interested. The Counseling and Psychological Services Center is located in the 3rd floor of the Student Health Center.
Israelis protest in short-lived strike

Associated Press

TEL AVIV, Israel - Nearly a million Israelis - 70 percent of the workforce - went on strike for two hours yesterday to protest government economic moves that threaten to increase the cost of living by 10 percent, union officials said.

The union strike was peaceful and virtually complete, said officials of the Histadrut labor federation. The union represents 1 million salaried workers in the public and private sector, or about 30 percent of the nation's work force.

In Jerusalem, the Cabinet failed to announce a replacement for Finance Minister Yoram Aridor, who quit Thursday in the worst economic crisis in the Likud coalition's six years in power. Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir's preferred candidate, Deputy Premier David Levy, refused the job.

Workers from the government, municipal offices, state television and radio, and public companies walked off their jobs, most between 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. Schools closed early when teachers went on strike. Some shops closed, but most store employees were not unionized.

El Al, the national airline, put tape recording on its telephone switchboard saying: "We are on a national strike. Please call back after 1 p.m." An El Al spokesman said the shutdown came during slack hours and did not seriously disrupt schedules.

Israel Radio was off the air for two hours. In the port city of Ashdod, the strike went on all day.

The state manpower office said it would dock the pay of all state employees who joined the strike.

The Histadrut took action after the government last week devalued the shekel 23 percent, hiked the price of basic foodstuffs 80 percent and said it would not grant the full compensation that salaried Israelis are used to receiving for inflation.

The increases are expected to boost the average family's cost of living by 10 percent, and that of poor families by 12 percent.

But the biggest test is still to come, when the stock exchange reopens. It has been closed for 10 days to head off a collapse of bank stocks, the most powerful force on the market.

The stock market's problems began three weeks ago after the Central Bureau of Statistics announced a sharp increase in the foreign debt and trade deficit.

The statistical office said the trade deficit for the first eight months of this year was $450 million, 21 percent higher than the deficit for the corresponding period of 1982.

Glenn avoids premiere

Associated Press

WASHINGTON - With Mr Right Stuff flying the lead plane, Hollywood's movie about America's astronauts swooped into Washington yesterday into a gala opening and a midday air show featuring simulations of World War II-vintage fighter planes thundering above the Potomac River.

""The Right Stuff"" was opening to an audience of film industry giants and Washington politicians, but one of the main characters portrayed in the movie, former astronaut John Glenn, who is seeking the Democratic presidential nomination, stayed away.

Newsmen Walter Cronkite and actor Charlton Heston officiated at the evening showing of the three-hour, $20 million film in the Kennedy Center on the edge of the Potomac.

Cronkite, who covered the U.S. space program from its inception, said, ""There was no greater thrill than to cover the first flight of an American to orbit the Earth."

Multiple Choice

Don't leave your dinner to guesswork.

3 oz. (serving) Preto 12g Fat 4g

4 oz. (serving) Preto 14g Fat 14g

5 oz. (2 Slices) Preto 21g Fat 14g

Domino's Pizza is the best choice. Just 2 slices are more nutritious, lower in fat and higher in protein than either a taco or cheeseburger. So give us a call and put us to the test.

Coke available 16 oz. bottles

Mondays only

Only $6.99 for 16"" 1-topping pizza plus 2 16 oz. bottles of Coke. One coupon per pizza. Express hours:

Fast, Free Delivery
1835 South Bend Ave.
Plaza 23 Center
Phone: 277-2151
Expires: October 20

Glenn avoids premiere

WASHINGTON - With Mr Right Stuff flying the lead plane, Hollywood's movie about America's astronauts swooped into Washington yesterday into a gala opening and a midday air show featuring simulations of World War II-vintage fighter planes thundering above the Potomac River.

""The Right Stuff"" was opening to an audience of film industry giants and Washington politicians, but one of the main characters portrayed in the movie, former astronaut John Glenn, who is seeking the Democratic presidential nomination, stayed away.

Newsmen Walter Cronkite and actor Charlton Heston officiated at the evening showing of the three-hour, $20 million film in the Kennedy Center on the edge of the Potomac.

Cronkite, who covered the U.S. space program from its inception, said, ""There was no greater thrill than to cover the first flight of an American to orbit the Earth."

Multiple Choice

Don't leave your dinner to guesswork.

3 oz. (serving) Preto 12g Fat 4g

4 oz. (serving) Preto 14g Fat 14g

5 oz. (2 Slices) Preto 21g Fat 14g

Domino's Pizza is the best choice. Just 2 slices are more nutritious, lower in fat and higher in protein than either a taco or cheeseburger. So give us a call and put us to the test.

Coke available 16 oz. bottles

Mondays only

Only $6.99 for 16"" 1-topping pizza plus 2 16 oz. bottles of Coke. One coupon per pizza. Express hours:

Fast, Free Delivery
1835 South Bend Ave.
Plaza 23 Center
Phone: 277-2151
Expires: October 20
Reagan aides prepare official election papers

Associated Press
WASHINGTON — Lacking only a formal declaration from their candidate but working with his blessing, President Reagan's advisers are filing today, 1,000 days into his first term, the documents that legally will make him again a presidential candidate.

Two of the president's key advisers said yesterday they were positive the president would seek a second term, despite Reagan's refusal to make that declaration himself.

"He is going to run, and those who work with him on a day-to-day basis feel that way," Chief of Staff James Baker said.

"I'm 100 percent convinced the president will be a candidate for re-election," said Edward Rollins, the presidential assistant who has been chosen to run the campaign.

But, said Baker, "in his own mind the president will not consider himself a candidate until he makes a formal announcement of his plans to seek a second term next year.

Today, Sen. Paul Laxalt, R-Nev., a longtime Reagan friend who will become general chairman of the Reagan-Bush '84 committee, will submit to the Federal Election Commission the documents establishing the committee and making Reagan, legally, a candidate.

Acting every bit the candidate, Reagan is using nearly every public opportunity to draw attention to what he sees as the economic improvements of the past three years — a key theme to a new campaign effort, aides say. On Saturday, he said in his weekly radio address that "the quality of American life is improving again."

Marines killed, injured by Beirut sniper fire

Associated Press
BEIRUT, Lebanon — One U.S. Marine was killed and three were wounded yesterday in seven hours of sniping and rocket-propelled grenade attacks on Marine positions at Beirut International Airport, spokesman Maj. Robert Jordan said.

It was the third consecutive day of attacks on the Marines and raised the toll of Marine combat deaths to six since the American peacekeeping contingent arrived here 13 months ago. A seventh Marine perished when a mine he was attempting to defuse exploded.

Jordan said the Marines serving with Alpha Company at the southernmost end of Beirut airport fires came under fire at about 4:20 p.m. (10:20 a.m. EDT) and that firing from small arms and rocket-propelled grenades continued until after 11 p.m. (5 p.m. EDT).

Attacks also were reported against Lebanese army positions on the mountain ridgeline above the U.S. Marine camp, and the government-run television said one Lebanese army soldier was killed by artillery fire from positions held by Druze militiamen.

 Renewed fighting was reported in the Kharoub region, just south of the Israeli defense line along southern Lebanon's Awali River, where Christian and Druze militiamen have been fighting for days.

In southern Lebanon, Israeli occupation troops fired at a hostile crowd after a confrontation with white Muslims at a religious festival in the city of Nabatiyeh.

Lebanese state radio said seven people were wounded. The Israeli military command in Tel Aviv said none of its soldiers had wounded any Lebanese, and an investigation showed the injuries resulted from an atmosphere of panic while the religious ceremony was interrupted.

An unconfirmed report said one of the injured Lebanese died later of his wounds.

There were conflicting reports on how the Nabatiyeh confrontation started, but reporters in the city said Shiites threw rocks and set two Israeli vehicles ablaze when an Israeli soldier tried to clear a path to let a convoy pass.

Burn's Creative Costume Shop

608 Liberty Drive, Mishawaka
259-4807

Fullfill Your Wildest Fantasies
With Our Costumes
Birthday Cake
Leprechauns
Spiders
Fly
Dancing Beer Cans
Sequin Gowns
Sequin Jackets
Bee

AND MANY MORE
Student Discounts
Stop in to Reserve
No Deposit with Notre Dame or St. Mary's ID
HOURS: Mon. - Fri. 9:00am - 5:00pm
Sat. 9:00am - 12:00 noon
Extended Hours for Halloween

Wondering where to go for dinner
Saturday
October 22?

Come to Ramada's
"After Game Buffet"
in our beautiful Vineyard room.

There will be a delicious buffet starting at 6:30 p.m. And Live Entertainment with the popular "Britches" Band.

From 7 - 11 p.m.
Adults $9.95
Children $4.95 (tax included)
Buy your tickets in advance at the catering office

272-5220
52990 U.S. 31 North
South Bend, IN 46637
CHICAGO COUPON SHEET INSERTED IN SOUTH BEND TRIBUNE

Monday, October 17, 1983 — page 5

Nuclear Engineers

EARN OVER $1,000 A MONTH AND OPEN YOUR OWN ENGINEERING FUTURE.

How many corporations would willing to pay you over $1,000 a month while you are still a college student. How many? We know of one. It's called the Nuclear Engineering Program at South Bend College.

Undergraduates earn as much as $1,000 a month while still in college.

Apply now and you can prepare for a career in nuclear engineering and other related fields.

For more information, call the South Bend College Campus, 239-5293.

APPLICATION DEADLINE NOVEMBER 1st

For further information, call the Nuclear Engineering Program Director, Willard J. Byrnes, South Bend College, 239-5293.

THE HOLY CROSS ASSOCIATES
PROGRAM IN CHILE
Santiago

THEENCYCLOPEDIA

TWO YEARS OF SERVICE AFTER TRAINING
SIMPLE LIVING
CHRISTIAN COMMUNITY

SENIORS CONTACT:
CENTER FOR SOCIAL CONCERNS
Mary Ann Roemer
239-5293

APPLICATION DEADLINE NOVEMBER 1st

FOR SOCIAL CONCERNS
OF SOCIAL CONCERNS

For more information, call the Nuclear Engineering Program Director, Willard J. Byrnes, South Bend College, 239-5293.

APPLICATION DEADLINE NOVEMBER 1st

FOR SOCIAL CONCERNS
FOR SOCIAL CONCERNS

APPLICATION DEADLINE NOVEMBER 1st

APPLICATION DEADLINE NOVEMBER 1st

APPLICATION DEADLINE NOVEMBER 1st
On fasting for the sake of hunger

For many of us, today is a day of prayer and fasting. We are doing this not out of desperation — as if we had to solve the problem of world hunger this very day, or as if we could, but because deep in our hearts we too hunger, or think we should. And we want to be sure we hunger for the right things. We also want to share the burden of hunger that others feel.

Guest columnist

David Schlaver, CSC

the pangs

of hunger

without poetry, the others, though longer

Chemical engineering

has caused dominating

that would warm

hut

Campus comments

David Schlaver,

Richard Cohen

Richard Cohen Column

Unfortunately, the lady’s letter is not an isolated phenomenon. It is just an extreme example of what would happen if we equate Christianity with Americanism. To some people, the two are one and the same and when they say Christianity they mean, of course, their own version of it which, as it goes without saying, is an American one.

Something like that is at the base of the Pawtucket case now before the Supreme Court. For over 40 years, that city has been using municipal funds to erect a Christmas nativity scene. Then several years ago, several Pawtucket citizens, joined by the American Civil Liberties Union, filed suit saying that the use of public funds to erect a creche was nothing more than government sponsorship of religion — a violation of the Constitution.

Two courts agreed and told Pawtucket to get out of the creche business. Now the issue is before the Supreme Court, where it has been joined by none other than the solicitor general representing the government of the United States. Speaking in the name of all the people — believers (of all kinds) and non-believers (also of all kinds) — he rose to the occasion by taking the side of Pawtucket, reminding his listeners of his very recent, very current disparity if they displace the majority.

There is something to consider here. Not only has Pawtucket used the funds of all people to erect a religious symbol of meaning to some, a symbol that can be defended its position. By joining the case, the federal government has done the same thing. In spirit, although not in substance, this is reminiscent of Southern states using the tax monies of blacks to fight integration. Talk about adding insult to injury! In the Pawtucket case, though, there is not only insult and injury, but Philadelphia lawyering as well. Both the city and the Feds take the position that the creche is not a religious symbol at all. It is secular. Not only is that ludicrous on the face of it and, possibly, insulting to those who take spiritual succor from it, but contradicted by the evidence. If that were the case, the city would have no case to begin with.

Clearly, there are some people in Pawtucket who take the view that a Christmas-time reproduction of the nativity scene depicting the birth of Christ is their right. If the creche of all things is not religious, then Christianity has gone the way of the tumbler. We might as well be talking about McGoo.

The upshot is that the government is telling us that is not what they think it is. It is telling Christians who know better that the creche is not what they think it is. It is telling Jews who also know better, the same thing and it is saying the same thing to anyone else who, for any reason, is opposed to governmental support of religion. This is more insulting to our nation than the mere erection of a creche.

But worse than that, the government is doing an extraordinary thing, precisely what the Virginia lady does in her letters. It is saying that Christi­anity and Americanism are one and the same thing — that a symbol that is clearly Christian, that depicts the birth of Christ and is therefore at the core of the religion, is really like the Good News for the Feds, who can teach us.

My own prayer and fast help us to uncomplicate and simplify our lives so that we might discover our hunger and search for living bread to satisfy them, a bread that the Lord provides in abundance for all people.

Richard Cohen

Richard Cohen Column

I'd go to Harlem’s red light district so I could visit my family.

I'd go to California because I miss my family, and because the weather out there is beautiful. I guess Detroit will have to do this year.

I'd visit my son and daughter-in-law in Houston, since I only have the chance when school is out of session.

I'd go to the Caribbean to see the son. I'd go to Jamaica, relax on the beach to the sound of reggae music, and drink tropical juices.

I'd have to do this year.

Tim Fallon

Chemical engineering

Class of ’88

Theresa Kramer

Freshman Year of Studies

Class of ’88

Sara Antidormi

Nursing

Class of ’84

Stuart McComas

Professor

Computational Engineering

Class of ’87

Dan Watzke

Marketing

Class of ’85

equating Christianity with Americanism

There is a lady in Virginia who occasionally reminds me that since I am not a Christian I cannot be a true American. I am grateful for this service and I meet to respond typically by saying, "Dear lady, stick your head in the toilet." I have yet to hear the flushing sound that would warm my cold, cold heart.

Richard Cohen

Richard Cohen Column

Unfortunately, the lady’s letter is not an isolated phenomenon. It is just an extreme example of what would happen if we equate Christianity with Americanism. To some people, the two are one and the same and when they say Christianity they mean, of course, their own version of it which, as it goes without saying, is an American one.

Something like that is at the base of the Pawtucket, R.I. case now before the Supreme Court. For over 40 years, that city has been using municipal funds to erect a Christmas nativity scene. Then several years ago, several Pawtucket citizens, joined by the American Civil Liberties Union, filed suit saying that the use of public funds to erect a creche was nothing more than government sponsorship of religion — a violation of the Constitution.

Two courts agreed and told Pawtucket to get out of the creche business. Now the issue is before the Supreme Court, where it has been joined by none other than the solicitor general representing the government of the United States. Speaking in the name of all the people — believers (of all kinds) and non-believers (also of all kinds) — he rose to the occasion by taking the side of Pawtucket, reminding his listeners of his very recent, very current disparity if they displace the majority.

There is something to consider here. Not only has Pawtucket used the funds of all people to erect a religious symbol of meaning to some, a symbol that can be defended its position. By joining the case, the federal government has done the same thing. In spirit, although not in substance, this is reminiscent of Southern states using the tax monies of blacks to fight integration. Talk about adding insult to injury! In the Pawtucket case, though, there is not only insult and injury, but Philadelphia lawyering as well. Both the city and the Feds take the position that the creche is not a religious symbol at all. It is secular. Not only is that ludicrous on the face of it and, possibly, insulting to those who take spiritual succor from it, but contradicted by the evidence. If that were the case, the city would have no case to begin with.

Clearly, there are some people in Pawtucket who take the view that a Christmas-time reproduction of the nativity scene depicting the birth of Christ is their right. If the creche of all things is not religious, then Christianity has gone the way of the tumbler. We might as well be talking about McGoo.

The upshot is that the government is telling us that is not what they think it is. It is telling Christians who know better that the creche is not what they think it is. It is telling Jews who also know better, the same thing and it is saying the same thing to anyone else who, for any reason, is opposed to governmental support of religion. This is more insulting to our nation than the mere erection of a creche.

But worse than that, the government is doing an extraordinary thing, precisely what the Virginia lady does in her letters. It is saying that Christianity and Americanism are one and the same thing — that a symbol that is clearly Christian, that depicts the birth of Christ and is therefore at the core of the religion, is really like the Good News for the Feds, who can teach us.

My own prayer and fast help us to uncomplicate and simplify our lives so that we might discover our hunger and search for living bread to satisfy them, a bread that the Lord provides in abundance for all people.

Editor’s note. Father David E. Schlaver is the Director of Campus Ministry at Notre Dame.
Editors note: This is the first of a two-part series examining Notre Dame investments and South Africa. It is a follow-up to Michael Sullivan's article, "Money talks. What is Notre Dame saying?" (October 12)

Dear Michael,

I have read your piece on the University and its investment policies with interest and not a little nostalgia. Permit an old campaigner, a veteran of many struggles with Notre Dame over the investment issue, to offer some advice on how to approach this battle. It would be a good idea for you to learn from the experiences we went through in the 1970's. Our chief mistake was that our expectations were too high, this problem, I suspect, proceeded from a certain naiveté. We thought moral suasion was all it took to change University policy and have Father Zang, like a good, solid, American, burning the offending stocks and shares in the South Quaill if it did not happen.

It is most important that you do not enter the struggle over investments as a child of light. You have to learn that there are things called machismo and the like. The University policy is certainly hemmed in by exhortations from the leadership of the Catholic Church and its bureaucratic and theological associates. We were proficient at using Niebuhr's formulation. Always bear in mind that those on the other side are benighted -- not wicked. Do not expect, this time around, to make a dent in the litanies of Father Zang or the University Trustees. You may have to adopt a more subtle approach, one of simply raising the issue, this naming of the problem is not unimportant. As Cardinal Sin of Manila (who has confronted President Marcos of the Philippines) reminded the recent Synod of Bishops in Rome, "Denunciation is the name of the Gospel" was his phrase to this effect. With God's grace, would lead to conversion and thereby eventually, reconciliation.

To understand those you are encountering — men like Father Zang for instance. Like like a member of the Notre Dame student body may be tempted to assume that a man of the cloth has a primary commitment to implement the teachings of Jesus. Not a bit of it. Catholic priests, ordinary mortals like the rest of us, frequently identify secular roles in the function of what they may have been designated in whatever institution they serve. Zang is in a case in point. I have no doubt that he is a nice enough chap, nevertheless, his identity, to a great extent, is defined by his role as Investment Chairman for the University of Notre Dame. His experience, is his raison d'être. So when you meet him, you will be less frustrated if you do not get your signals mixed. In Father Zang you are dealing with a servant of the University, a professional. Even Father Zang, if he goes for the Truman model, above all, that you are encountering people who are, perhaps unwittingly in some cases, captives of an ideology capitalism. Capitalism, like Communism, is one of the dominant religions of our time. It is America's evil religion as Communism is the state religion of the Soviet Union. For the Trustees to be moved by your arguments that the University should not profit from the arms race, or from the human misery generated by the structures of apartheid, they would first have to be converted. Dissemination, even as a non-moralistic view of the spread, would be the fruit of such a conversion from social sin.

It is right that you should bang away at them, but expect the message to continue to fall on stony ground. Do not expect results — for that is the road to disappointment and even to despair. This caveat is particularly important for Americans; being naturally optimistic, they expect results. Try to develop some insight into your opponents. Conversion is a risky business and a painful process for us all. Those who are shackled by an ideology are especially burdened. That is, I think, the meaning of Jesus' special delight when he encountered the Roman Centurion's faith.

Let me conclude with a story of a South African conversion. The Rev. Beyers Naude, a South African white and a minister in the Dutch Reformed Church (the church of the Afrikaners), was as fully committed as any creature of the state to the evil ideology of apartheid. Furthermore, he was at the very center of the Broederbond/Brotherhood of South Africa, like the Roman Catholic Church, is a society dominated by machismo's, the secret society which controls white South African political, economic and cultural life. He was also in line to be Moderator (Head) of the Dutch Reformed Church.

In 1960 Naude risked attending an international conference held at Cottesloe which examined apartheid in the context of the New Testament. Like St. Paul before him, the Rev. Beyers Naude underwent a painful and traumatic conversion. Since then he has been banned and persecuted in a particularly virulent way by those who remain committed to apartheid. (It is always more disturbing when a member of one's own tribe or family calls for a different faith. One way a family/tribe copes with this type of conversion is to label traitorous.) Naude, now almost seventy, has been banned (placed under house arrest) for the past six years. Following Jesus has exacted a price from this man, but he could not do other.

One of Naude's last public appeals before he was banned was to urge western corpora tions to stop investing in apartheid. Yours,

Peter Walsh

Guest Columnist

Bahama trip

Dear Editor,

In less than a week, nearly 200 Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students will be enjoying the sunshine in Nassau. As members of the Trip Committee, we were engaged by the enthusiasm shown at the Senior Bar meeting last Tuesday.

In the past few days, financial questions have been raised concerning the trip. The cost of the trip is $410.00 per person which includes a $12.00 fee. The committee was advised last spring to charge this $12.00 administrative fee — standard practice for an event of this type.

The purpose of the fee is to cover all public charges, a pre-trip party, group incurred liabilities, group subsidized events in the Bahamas, and participating costs for each committee member's airfare. This partial contribution amounts to $42.50 of each student's $12.00 ticket.

In addition, through competitive bidding, 1st Source Travel Agency provided the committee members complimentary accomodations plus two free air tickets. Each committee member paid for the balance of their trip cost.

We will be happy to answer any additional questions regarding the trip. You may call any committee member or the Student Activities Office.

The Bahamas Committee and Office of Student Activities

Hefner speech

Dear Editor,

I was like to comment on the October 12 article by Paul McGinn entitled, "Playboy's Boss's Daughter." First, I would like to discuss why and how I was called I was in the midst of meetings and my secretary asked who he was and the purpose of his call. He would not answer except to say it was "Playboy's Boss's Daughter." They also asked if it would be possible to have him back later that day. That call was never noted, when he indicated who he was and his purpose, I was basically "unavailable." I seriously question journalistic tactfulness and would like to raise these and other questions to the University community.

One of the authors of the article (August 23, 1982) is an ongoing case in a very interesting firm at a crucial point in their oppositional history, I have no doubt that he is a nice enough chap, nevertheless, his identity, to a great extent, is defined by his role as Investment Chairman for the University of Notre Dame.

I extended the invitation to Christie Hefner after an article entitled, "Playboy Makes the Boss's Daughter," appeared in Ms. (August 23, 1982). The article concerned her appointment as President of Playboy, Inc. that had been very successful but recently had suffered serious problems due to prior management practices. An obvious question was whether Ms. Hefner could turn the firm around using the large cash position provided by the sale of some assets.

We generally expose our students to winning success stories such as we did to Wednesday when Don Kelly, the President and Chief Executive Officer of Tamark talked to our students about the successful acquisition and integration of Norton-Simon into Emerson. I personally believe that one can learn at least as much from mistakes as from success, and Playboy presented an ongoing case history of a very interesting firm at a crucial point in its history.

In addition, when they agreed to my idea, they also asked if it would be possible to have a more general talk on a "social" topic. While recognized that such a talk could be much more controversial on the Notre Dame campus, I agreed to it in the interest of fostering an environment of freedom that should exist on every university campus.

P.O. Box Q

Monday, October 17, 1983 — page 7

P. O. Box Q

Dear Editor,

Mr. McGinn was correct in saying that Ms. Hefner deserved a chance to speak. He is not accurate, however, in calling her a businesswoman. She is a business daughter and not a businesswoman. She is the business daughter of Mr. McGinn's article shows that. All of us would grow up to be corporate presidents if our fathers were.

One of the University community might have invited a woman here whose own intelligence, business skills, ambition, and drive put her at the top.

James A. Zaraska
The Notre Dame-USC game, so be played Oct. 22, will also be shown live via closed-circuit signals in the arena of the ACC. All seats are $5 for the watching a theater-size screen, and tickets are only $5 at the ACC Gate and all regular outlets. NCAA regulations prohibit any live television showing of this game. — The Observer.

The Flying Fathers, known as "The Harlequin Globetrotters of Ice Hockey," will play a game on Wednesday, Nov. 23, at 8 p.m. for the benefit of Phoenix House, the halfway house for recovering alcoholic women in South Bend. The fathers, an international group of priests, have all at least eight years of minor seminary, either amateur or pro hockey prior to entering the seminary. They will play 20-minute periods against the Notre Dame club hockey team, the St. John High School hockey team, and the Ice Boxers of the Michiana Senior League. — The Observer.

The Notre Dame volleyball team traveled east last night, Mich. to compete in the Michigan State Invitational this weekend. Things did not go too well for the Irish as they lost all four games. The Irish lost to Ohio State 15-10, 13-15, 10-15, Northwood Institute (15-10, 15-12, 15-13), Cleveland State (16-16, 15-13, 15-6), and Michigan State (15-11, 52-12, 15-12). The team's next game will be Monday night at 8 p.m. against St. Francis. Also, the match this upcoming Saturday against St. Thomas will originally scheduled to be played in the morning has been changed to 8:30 p.m. in the Felt. — The Observer.

Stepan court reservations are now being accepted. Any club, organization, orball wishing court time should contact the activity Student Activities Office on Tuesday, October 18. Reservations for the period from Oct. 20 to April 1. Basketball and volleyball are sports which will receive prime consideration. — The Observer.

Joe Johnson, Irish defensive back, will be one of the featured guests on Speaking of Sports tomorrow night at 10 p.m. on WSNM-AM 644. Call in with your questions or comments to 239-6400 or 7425. — The Observer.

The Notre Dame soccer team won a pair of games over the weekend, defeating Marquette, 6-1, in overtime Friday night before running into Chicago, 1-1, yesterday. The victory improved the team's record to 13-3-3, heading into a big game against powerful Akron on Wednesday. More details on the upcoming and on Akron will appear in tomorrow's paper. — The Observer.
NFL Standings

NATIONAL FOOTBALL LEAGUE

AMERICAN CONFERENCE

East

W L T PG. PF PA Diff.

Dallas 7 0 0 0 215 120 +95
Washington 6 5 0 192 123 69 +24
Philadelphia 5 6 0 163 102 61 +1
Minnesota 4 7 0 149 149 0 0
Green Bay 3 9 0 130 130 0 0
St. Louis 2 10 0 96 136 -38

Central

Pittsburgh 5 2 0 174 163 120 +62
Cleveland 4 4 0 156 149 66 +21
Cincinnati 3 5 0 141 135 66 +27
Indianapolis 2 6 0 108 109 -7

West

Oakland 5 1 0 199 199 0 0
Denver 3 4 0 194 186 68 +22
Kansas City 3 4 0 188 193 -45
San Francisco 2 5 0 153 147 68 +22

Yesterday's Results

San Francisco 7, L.A. Rams 27, Atlanta 21

The Observer

San Francisco 34, Tampa Bay 27

The Observer

continued from page 12

"Thank you, sir. You can tell the Russians we're having an awfully good time over here playing baseball," Dempsey said.

For Altobelli, getting the job at Baltimore was a homecoming of sorts, since he spent 14 years in the Orioles organization. It also was a supreme test of his ability to manage without the designated hitter, which is used in the American League but only allowed in even-numbered
years in the World Series.

Altobelli said he believed that comparisons with Weaver would never end, but it really didn't matter.
You see, Altobelli is a company man, too.

In fact, they were all company men. Guys like Dempsey, who had cought more games than any other Oriole and who, despite only hitting .231 during the season, contributed annually in the American League but only allowed in even-numbered
years in the World Series.

It was in 1979 that the Orioles led team of 1970.

After losing the first game 2-1 at Baltimore, the Orioles won Game Two at home, then swept three in Philadelphia. They became only the fourth team to win in this manner and the first since the New York Mets did it to an earlier Baltimore club in 1969.

On this night, McGregor, who had lost three straight postseason games during Game Seven of the 1979
Series, was the quintessential
Orioles pitcher, a member of a staff
that turned in a postseason ERA of
1.11 - 10 earned runs in nine games.

Phillie Pete Rose's bungling on Friday pointed out a vital difference between these two clubs. White Rose protested, Altobelli moved his players around like chess pieces
without rebuttal. They were happy and loose, and they were also winning.

And Dempsey was their leader.
Ken Singleton, Baltimore's
designated hitter during the regular season, had dubbed the Orioles' sixth,
seventh and eighth hitters —
Richauer, Ted Cruz, and Dempsey —
the Three Stooges because they always left him stranded on base.

Dauer was Larry. He had three RBI
and three hits in the Orioles' 5-4 victory in Game Four Saturday.

Cruz was Curly. He had a pair of hits and helped continue a couple of rallies.

And Dempsey was Moe, the
leader.

He started the Orioles' fifth inning
yourself with his fifth extra-base hit,
a double that short-hopped the
wall in left-center and chased Hudson in favor of Marty Bystrom.
McGregor bunted, and Phillies
catcher Bo Diaz let the ball slip
through his fingers for an error
while trying to throw to first.

It was another good year for all
Orioles batters, as well as for all
Orioles catchers.

Designated hitter during the regular season, was the quintessential
Orioles pitcher, a member of a staff
that turned in a postseason ERA of
1.11 - 10 earned runs in nine games.

Phillie Pete Rose's bungling on Friday pointed out a vital difference
between these two clubs. White Rose protested, Altobelli moved his
players around like chess pieces
without rebuttal. They were happy
and loose, and they were also winning.

And Dempsey was their leader.
Ken Singleton, Baltimore's
designated hitter during the regular season, had dubbed the Orioles' sixth,
seventh and eighth hitters —
Richauer, Ted Cruz, and Dempsey —
the Three Stooges because they
always left him stranded on base.

Dauer was Larry. He had three RBI
and three hits in the Orioles' 5-4 victory in Game Four Saturday.

Cruz was Curly. He had a pair of hits and helped continue a couple of
rallies.

And Dempsey was Moe, the
leader.

He started the Orioles' fifth inning
yourself with his fifth extra-base hit,
a double that short-hopped the
wall in left-center and chased Hud-
son in favor of Marty Bystrom.
McGregor bunted, and Phillies
catcher Bo Diaz let the ball slip
through his fingers for an error
while trying to throw to first.

It was another good year for all
Orioles batters, as well as for all
Orioles catchers.

Designated hitter during the regular season, was the quintessential
Orioles pitcher, a member of a staff
that turned in a postseason ERA of
1.11 - 10 earned runs in nine games.

Phillie Pete Rose's bungling on Friday pointed out a vital difference
between these two clubs. White Rose protested, Altobelli moved his
players around like chess pieces
without rebuttal. They were happy
and loose, and they were also winning.

And Dempsey was their leader.
Ken Singleton, Baltimore's
designated hitter during the regular season, had dubbed the Orioles' sixth,
seventh and eighth hitters —
Richauer, Ted Cruz, and Dempsey —
the Three Stooges because they
always left him stranded on base.

Dauer was Larry. He had three RBI
and three hits in the Orioles' 5-4 victory in Game Four Saturday.

Cruz was Curly. He had a pair of hits and helped continue a couple of
rallies.

And Dempsey was Moe, the
leader.

He started the Orioles' fifth inning
yourself with his fifth extra-base hit,
a double that short-hopped the
wall in left-center and chased Hud-
son in favor of Marty Bystrom.
McGregor bunted, and Phillies
catcher Bo Diaz let the ball slip
through his fingers for an error
while trying to throw to first.

It was another good year for all
Orioles batters, as well as for all
Orioles catchers.

Designated hitter during the regular season, was the quintessential
Orioles pitcher, a member of a staff
that turned in a postseason ERA of
1.11 - 10 earned runs in nine games.

Phillie Pete Rose's bungling on Friday pointed out a vital difference
between these two clubs. White Rose protested, Altobelli moved his
players around like chess pieces
without rebuttal. They were happy
and loose, and they were also winning.

And Dempsey was their leader.
Ken Singleton, Baltimore's
designated hitter during the regular season, had dubbed the Orioles' sixth,
seventh and eighth hitters —
Richauer, Ted Cruz, and Dempsey —
the Three Stooges because they
always left him stranded on base.

Dauer was Larry. He had three RBI
and three hits in the Orioles' 5-4 victory in Game Four Saturday.

Cruz was Curly. He had a pair of hits and helped continue a couple of
rallies.

And Dempsey was Moe, the
leader.

He started the Orioles' fifth inning
yourself with his fifth extra-base hit,
a double that short-hopped the
wall in left-center and chased Hud-
son in favor of Marty Bystrom.
McGregor bunted, and Phillies
catcher Bo Diaz let the ball slip
through his fingers for an error
while trying to throw to first.

It was another good year for all
Orioles batters, as well as for all
Orioles catchers.

Designated hitter during the regular season, was the quintessential
Orioles pitcher, a member of a staff
that turned in a postseason ERA of
1.11 - 10 earned runs in nine games.

Phillie Pete Rose's bungling on Friday pointed out a vital difference
between these two clubs. White Rose protested, Altobelli moved his
players around like chess pieces
without rebuttal. They were happy
and loose, and they were also winning.

And Dempsey was their leader.
Ken Singleton, Baltimore's
designated hitter during the regular season, had dubbed the Orioles' sixth,
seventh and eighth hitters —
Richauer, Ted Cruz, and Dempsey —
the Three Stooges because they
always left him stranded on base.

Dauer was Larry. He had three RBI
and three hits in the Orioles' 5-4 victory in Game Four Saturday.
...Mauling

continued from page 12

end.

With Notre Dame seemingly well on their way to a first-half rout, the second quarter suddenly saw the offens’e end. On the first possession of the second quarter, the Irish moved from their own 22 to the 41 before the Army defense took hold and stoned any attempt to both Notre Dame march downhill. By the time a Brandon pass to Alonzo Jackson was broken up on third and seven, the Irish were forced to punt for the first time.

The defense then held Army to a total of 10 yards on plays forcing a punt from the 38. While Notre Dame got the ball back on their 22, it was time for the second-team to take their turn. With Kiel seeing his first action at the helm, the Irish drove to the 48, and again the Irish were forced to punt on fourth down. In the drive, Kiel completed 2-of-3 passes for 15 yards. Freshman tailback Harwara Machotfloch and junior fullback Dave Machotfloch also made their first appearances of the game, and each gained four yards. Machotfloch eventually ended the day as the second-leading Irish rusher, accumulating 45 yards on seven carries.

The Irish had the ball one more time in the first half, and despite not scoring a second touchdown, was highlighted by a 21-yard reverse to Joe Howard that moved the ball from the 11 to the 52. Leading 21-0 at the half, Notre Dame not surprisingly had dominated the play on both offense and defense. The offense totaled 200 yards while limiting Army to just 74 and two first downs. Army even failed to cross midfield.

After Army won the first half back, they deferred their option to the second half, so Notre Dame kicked off again to start the third quarter. Faust explained the reason for originally choosing to kick.

"We ended up kicking off twice today because we felt our offense had been getting stronger and stronger," he said. "Plus, field position was important when going against a wind." In the third quarter, the Irish scored two more times evening their lead to 21-0. Smith who injured his ankle during the second quarter, Army got their best chance for a score when Notre Dame tailback Byron Abraham was hit hard, fumbling the ball on the Notre Dame 20. Following three incomplete passes and a penalty for illegally touching the ball, the Cadets were faced with third and 15 from the 13. Bill Turner, then in at quarterback for Army, hit Travis Jackson who appeared to be nearing the first down by 15 yards, but a continuously-hustling Furman nailbiter Jackson three yards short of the mark.

Notre Dame then took over at their 21 with 17" to play in the quarter, and, behind a fired-up second-team line, the Irish marched down field. Two Kiel completions for 15 and 17 yards as well as runs by Abraham and Machotfloch for 11 and 15 yards respectively, highlighted the drive that culminated in Notre Dame's final touchdown as Kiel forced his way into the endzone on a broken play on first and goal from the three-yard line. The drive covered 79 yards in 13 plays and made Faut very happy.

"I was impressed the way our second-team drove all the way down the field for the score," he said. "They looked very good!"

In Notre Dame's final possession, two senior quarterbacks, Kevin Smith and Tom Cashling, received their chances to contribute. Lester Flemons also entered lineup at tailback. His play was highlighted by a 17-yard run up the middle. Both Smith and Cashling completed their only attempted passes, for 15 and 12 yards, respectively, in leading a drive from the Notre Dame 38. It ended when Flemons was stopped on fourth and goal from the seven. When Army took over with 1:08 to play, Dave Gresh entered at quarterback and led the Black Knights to their first successful crossing of the midfield stripe. The success was short-lived, however, as Wilson intercepted a Gresh pass on first and ten from the Irish 49 and ran it back for what appeared to be a 72-yard touchdown until flags flew. Notre Dame was penalized for clipping, thus nullifying the score. Smith's hand off to Machotfloch with 24 left brought the afternoon to an end in time run out on the outmatched Army squad.

On the day the Irish accumulated 438 total yards, of which 272 came on the ground and 166 through the air. In turn the defense held Army to just 159 total yards, 95 on the ground and 64 in the air. The defensive effort was led by Furman with eleven stops. Kroshaus was text with seven plus an interception.

Placekicker Mike Johnston was perfect on the day as he converted on all six extra point tries. Joe Howard tied a Giant's Stadium record for collegiate punt return as he pulled in eight for a total of 95 yards.
Bloom County

Fate

Mellish

The Daily Crossword

Saturday's Solution

Berke Breathed

Photius

Dave & Dave

TV Tonight

Far Side

Concert Ticket Lottery

9:00, November 4 (Fri.)
Sports

Irish outman Cadets, look toward Trojans

By ED DOMANSKY
Sports Writer

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. — On Saturday afternoon the Notre Dame football team returned to Giants Stadium in the New Jersey Meadowlands to take on the Black Knights of Army. It was the fourth visit to the site since 1977 for an Irish football team, and, by virtue of the 43-0 thrashing of the hapless Cadets, the Irish upped their record to a perfect 6-0 in the East Rutherford, New Jersey structure.

The game, played before 75,131 spectators, a large portion of which were Notre Dame supporters, was the second largest collegiate football crowd to fill Giants Stadium.

Saturday's game marked the third straight victory for the steadily improving Irish squad, and more importantly proved to be a total team effort as 65 of the 68-member travelling squad saw action. The win lifted the team's record to 4-2 heading into what many consider the most important game of the 1983 schedule which begins this coming weekend as the Irish return to Notre Dame Stadium after four consecutive road games to play host to the Trojans of Southern Cal.

In his post-game press conference, a pleased Gerry Faust addressed the media with his thoughts on the game.

"We're all fired up for the big win for us last week at South Carolina, I thought our players executed very well today," he said. "We're getting better. I think it's obvious we're a better team than we were two weeks ago. We got to play a lot of people and I thought we made some progress today.

"One of those who executed especially well was tailback Allen Pinkett, who topped the 100-yard plateau for the fifth time in six games. He carried 22 times and gained 132 yards.

"It's fun being 5-1 and winning, but the team's success is most important," he said. "We're finally playing relaxed and that's when it's easiest to execute. Playing simple, fundamentals is what's important." But putting up 43 points on Army's defense was a showbee for Faust.

"The Irish wasted little time in asserting their dominance and setting the stage for things to come as just two plays into the game, a swarming defense forced Army tailback Elton Akins to cough up the football. The ball rolled up field where freshman Tony Wilson, starting at strong corner for the injured Stacey Toran, recovered for the Irish and Army 42. Not to be outdone, however, the Army defense tightened and after three plays, forced Notre Dame to punt on fourth and one.

"Once again the Notre Dame defense went into action as Tony Fugate downed Blake Kiel's punt on the Army two-yard line.

"The Black Knights moved the ball out to the 10, but following an offside penalty, they were faced with a third and nine from the 15. Quarterback Rich Laughlin dropped back to pass, under heavy pressure from Rick Naylor and Mike Golic, and promptly threw into the waiting arms of a charging Mike Kordis who returned the interception to the five.

"It took the Irish just two plays to capitalize as Pinkett plunged over the pile for what was to be the first of his three touchdowns on Saturday in Notre Dame's 42-0 thumping of Army. Pinkett finished the game with 132 yards, tying a career best. For more on the game, see Ed Domansky's story at left.

"Company men" do it

Orioles win World Championship

Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA — Business is booming at the firm of Baltimore Orioles, Inc. Their field is baseball, and they are the champions.

Yesterday's 9-0 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies, wrapping up Baltimore's third World Series championship, was for an organization-oriented team. And the company line.

"We proved that you have to win World Series.

"We proved we've been saying all along," Murray said. "We have a ballclub that isn't made up of just two ballplayers.

"We proved that you have to have 25 guys to win a championship," McGrew said. "You can't do it with just one or two stars.

"McGrew, who set a record for home runs with 23, five-game series with five extra-base hits, four doubles and a homer, was the leader at the heart of nearly every Baltimore scoring chance.

"I've been here for 11 years and I've never been this hot," said Dempsey, who had only four home runs and 32 RBIs in the regular season. "I don't think anyone ever thought of my hitting a home run today or any other day in the World Series.

"And he was enjoying it.

In a jubilant Orioles locker room, Dempsey took a congratulatory telephone call from President Reagan.

see ORIOLES, page 9

ND tennis team demolishes conference tournament field

By JANE HEALEY
Assistant Sports Editor

Everyone expected the Notre Dame women's tennis team to do well this weekend in the Northeast Conference Championships. But "well" doesn't even come close to describing the Irish victory.

"The team did a super job," Coach Sharon Petro aptly commented. "We're very pleased with the team. Players have a tendency not to play well against weaker players, but they never let up.

"Not only did the Irish win all six singles flights and all three doubles flights garnering a maximum 27 points, but they did so without losing more than five games in any one match.

"No seed Mary Colligan of Notre Dame defeated the second seed, Karen Kohl of Xavier 6-3, 6-2, in the third flight of singles play. That is the closest any opponent came to an Irish player.

"In the first flight the final score was 6-3, 6-1 in favor of sophomore Suzanne Palm. Next, was a 6-0, 6-1 decision going to co-captain Lisa LaFruita, at No. 4 singles. Pam Fitch was defeated 6-0, 6-1 in the second flight of singles play. That is the closest any opponent came to an Irish player.

"In the first flight the final score was 6-3, 6-1 in favor of sophomore Suzanne Palm. Next, was a 6-0, 6-1 decision going to co-captain Lisa LaFruita, at No. 4 singles. Pam Fitch was defeated 6-0, 6-1 in the second flight of singles play. That is the closest any opponent came to an Irish player.

"In the first flight the final score was 6-3, 6-1 in favor of sophomore Suzanne Palm. Next, was a 6-0, 6-1 decision going to co-captain Lisa LaFruita, at No. 4 singles. Pam Fitch was defeated 6-0, 6-1 in the second flight of singles play. That is the closest any opponent came to an Irish player.

"In the first flight the final score was 6-3, 6-1 in favor of sophomore Suzanne Palm. Next, was a 6-0, 6-1 decision going to co-captain Lisa LaFruita, at No. 4 singles. Pam Fitch was defeated 6-0, 6-1 in the second flight of singles play. That is the closest any opponent came to an Irish player.

"In the first flight the final score was 6-3, 6-1 in favor of sophomore Suzanne Palm. Next, was a 6-0, 6-1 decision going to co-captain Lisa LaFruita, at No. 4 singles. Pam Fitch was defeated 6-0, 6-1 in the second flight of singles play. That is the closest any opponent came to an Irish player.

"In the first flight the final score was 6-3, 6-1 in favor of sophomore Suzanne Palm. Next, was a 6-0, 6-1 decision going to co-captain Lisa LaFruita, at No. 4 singles. Pam Fitch was defeated 6-0, 6-1 in the second flight of singles play. That is the closest any opponent came to an Irish player.

"In the first flight the final score was 6-3, 6-1 in favor of sophomore Suzanne Palm. Next, was a 6-0, 6-1 decision going to co-captain Lisa LaFruita, at No. 4 singles. Pam Fitch was defeated 6-0, 6-1 in the second flight of singles play. That is the closest any opponent came to an Irish player.

"In the first flight the final score was 6-3, 6-1 in favor of sophomore Suzanne Palm. Next, was a 6-0, 6-1 decision going to co-captain Lisa LaFruita, at No. 4 singles. Pam Fitch was defeated 6-0, 6-1 in the second flight of singles play. That is the closest any opponent came to an Irish player.

"In the first flight the final score was 6-3, 6-1 in favor of sophomore Suzanne Palm. Next, was a 6-0, 6-1 decision going to co-captain Lisa LaFruita, at No. 4 singles. Pam Fitch was defeated 6-0, 6-1 in the second flight of singles play. That is the closest any opponent came to an Irish player.