Hesburgh rejects Observer plan for third party accountability

By JEFF HARRINGTON

The University believes it can control The Observer's finances and third party accountability. Why? Why did James Dziedzic refuse to meet with you and discuss the paper's financial future? Why? Why did he contact you in a letter? The Observer's financial future is not in your hands; it is in the hands of the University, and you are responsible for its future. You, as the editor, are responsible for the financial future of the newspaper. The University is responsible for the editorial content of the newspaper. You, as the editor, are responsible for the financial future of the newspaper.

Dziedzic said that the key objection to the University proposal is that it would be too close to the Observer. I disagree. The University is responsible for the financial future of the newspaper. You, as the editor, are responsible for the financial future of the newspaper. The University is responsible for the editorial content of the newspaper. You, as the editor, are responsible for the financial future of the newspaper.

The University believes it can control The Observer's finances and third party accountability. Why? Why did James Dziedzic refuse to meet with you and discuss the paper's financial future? Why? Why did he contact you in a letter? The Observer's financial future is not in your hands; it is in the hands of the University, and you are responsible for its future. You, as the editor, are responsible for the financial future of the newspaper. The University is responsible for the editorial content of the newspaper. You, as the editor, are responsible for the financial future of the newspaper.

The University believes it can control The Observer's finances and third party accountability. Why? Why did James Dziedzic refuse to meet with you and discuss the paper's financial future? Why? Why did he contact you in a letter? The Observer's financial future is not in your hands; it is in the hands of the University, and you are responsible for its future. You, as the editor, are responsible for the financial future of the newspaper. The University is responsible for the editorial content of the newspaper. You, as the editor, are responsible for the financial future of the newspaper.

The University believes it can control The Observer's finances and third party accountability. Why? Why did James Dziedzic refuse to meet with you and discuss the paper's financial future? Why? Why did he contact you in a letter? The Observer's financial future is not in your hands; it is in the hands of the University, and you are responsible for its future. You, as the editor, are responsible for the financial future of the newspaper. The University is responsible for the editorial content of the newspaper. You, as the editor, are responsible for the financial future of the newspaper.

The University believes it can control The Observer's finances and third party accountability. Why? Why did James Dziedzic refuse to meet with you and discuss the paper's financial future? Why? Why did he contact you in a letter? The Observer's financial future is not in your hands; it is in the hands of the University, and you are responsible for its future. You, as the editor, are responsible for the financial future of the newspaper. The University is responsible for the editorial content of the newspaper. You, as the editor, are responsible for the financial future of the newspaper.

The University believes it can control The Observer's finances and third party accountability. Why? Why did James Dziedzic refuse to meet with you and discuss the paper's financial future? Why? Why did he contact you in a letter? The Observer's financial future is not in your hands; it is in the hands of the University, and you are responsible for its future. You, as the editor, are responsible for the financial future of the newspaper. The University is responsible for the editorial content of the newspaper. You, as the editor, are responsible for the financial future of the newspaper.

The University believes it can control The Observer's finances and third party accountability. Why? Why did James Dziedzic refuse to meet with you and discuss the paper's financial future? Why? Why did he contact you in a letter? The Observer's financial future is not in your hands; it is in the hands of the University, and you are responsible for its future. You, as the editor, are responsible for the financial future of the newspaper. The University is responsible for the editorial content of the newspaper. You, as the editor, are responsible for the financial future of the newspaper.

The University believes it can control The Observer's finances and third party accountability. Why? Why did James Dziedzic refuse to meet with you and discuss the paper's financial future? Why? Why did he contact you in a letter? The Observer's financial future is not in your hands; it is in the hands of the University, and you are responsible for its future. You, as the editor, are responsible for the financial future of the newspaper. The University is responsible for the editorial content of the newspaper. You, as the editor, are responsible for the financial future of the newspaper.

The University believes it can control The Observer's finances and third party accountability. Why? Why did James Dziedzic refuse to meet with you and discuss the paper's financial future? Why? Why did he contact you in a letter? The Observer's financial future is not in your hands; it is in the hands of the University, and you are responsible for its future. You, as the editor, are responsible for the financial future of the newspaper. The University is responsible for the editorial content of the newspaper. You, as the editor, are responsible for the financial future of the newspaper.
Dr. James W. Frick, assistant to the president at Notre Dame, has been elected to the University’s Board of Trustees. Frick, who stepped down as vice president for public relations, alumni affairs and development at Notre Dame Sept. 1, becomes the 47th member of the governing board created in 1867 when control of the University was put into lay hands. — The Observer

Michael Aiello, a student on a leave of absence from Notre Dame, returned recently. A resident of Armstrong Heights, Illinois, Aiello was a member of last year’s freshman class. During his sophomore year he resided at Carroll Hall. Surviving Michael are several brothers and sisters, including a brother who is a 1984 graduate. Details concerning the death were unavailable, but a spokesperson from Dean Beurman’s office stated that a wake would be held today and a funeral mass tomorrow. — The Observer

Raul Alfonsin and his left-of-center Radical Civic Union yesterday won Argentina’s first general elections in a decade, replacing the military government. It was a stunning defeat for the Peronist Party which has dominated national politics for nearly 40 years. The military-dominated government which has ruled since a 1976 coup said Alfonsin and vice presidential runningmate Victor Martinez, both attorneys, had received 7.74 million of the more than 14 million ballots cast in Sunday’s elections — good for 416 seats in the electoral college. The college will meet Nov. 30 to ratify the results. The government says the new leadership will take over by January 1984, but could move up by February. The Peronist presidential candidates, former Sen. Hinojado and his running mate, Deslindo Bittik, received 5.71 million votes — 258 electoral college votes, the government said. "We’ve won the election, but we haven’t defeated anyone," Alfonsin, 56, told cheering supporters at party headquarters in downtown Buenos Aires as election returns showed the Radicals building an unbeatable majority. — AP

Auditions for "Wheel of Fortune." NBC’s popular game show, start tomorrow in the Little Theatre of La Fortune. Those who signed up should report at 11:30 a.m. 5 p.m., 6:30 p.m. or 8 p.m. — depending on whichever time was assigned. Some openings still remain at each time. Sign up at Student Activities by 11 a.m. tomorrow. — The Observer

Sign-ups for the st·mary’s OUSJAM far begin today through Nov. 8 in the dining hall. Students may also sign up at the Campus Ministry office for the third Annual Oxford Committee for Famine Relief Fast on Nov. 17. The Social Justice Commissions and the World Hunger Coalition which is co-sponsoring the fast also will be conducting door-to-door sign-ups. — The Observer

Weather

It will be partly cloudy and warmer today, with a high of 65. — The Observer

Are you confused?

If so, you have plenty of company. The administration has left The Observer — join the University budget system or lose $70,000 worth of student fees — has left many students wondering what exactly is happening. The intricacies of this University decision may have been lost on the average student in the days before a break. With mid terms, the Trojans and Cap’n Crunch to deal with, many students had little time to do more than skim the newspaper.

Talk of five digit fees, deficits and financial management are now whirring around in the heads of most students. Technical jargon concerning interest-free loans, net deficits, double-entry bookkeeping and solicitation of sealed bids is lost on the average student.

Since The Observer’s $70,000 worth of student fees being discussed, the students have a right to demand an explanation in layman’s terms.

Intimations by the administration of new student fees, interest-free loans to employees, and bonuses to few top management personnel has left some students with some serious misconceptions.

"The $70,000 occurring deficit doesn’t indicate that The Observer employees pocketed $7,000, as some students have been led to believe. On the contrary, The Observer has $7,000 worth of unpaid bills sitting in the office. The Observer has always operated on a deficit because of a lack of parking and internal controls. The newspaper has openly admitted to a lack of internal controls and proper business procedures and implemented or agreed to implement all suggestions in the report.

Father Von Wolffcara’s comment that the present board ‘will in no way be able to regularize an accounting system for future staff’ is certainly a vote of confidence in the ability of students. Because it has never been attempted does not mean that this administration should not be given the chance.

An interest-free $1,000 loan to the paper’s systems manager is not an indication that The Observer makes a regular practice of issuing personal loans to its employees. The Observer isn’t in the savings and loan business. The loan helped to finance a car which served during business hours as an official Observer vehicle for the news and advertising departments. This is something the Universiy audit report failed to detail.

Are you confused?

Interested in Taking a Class in Ballroom Dancing?

Wednesday, November 2nd, will be the first lesson of a five week ballroom dance class that will be held on Mary’s Campus in the REGINA HALL BASEMENT from 6:30-8 p.m. This class will be taught by Ray Sexton from Indianapolis and total cost is only $25 for five weeks. If you would like to join this class, you can register at the front desk.

Margaret Fosmoe
Managing Editor

Inside Tuesday

•Bonuses to three top management personnel are not a revelation of graft, as some students are being led to think. Use any student who holds a job at college, some Observer employees are paid a salary. I view most working students, however, Observer employees salaries average far below minimum wage. The University report ignores the fact that bonuses were issued several times during the year to top board members (not just the top three) to supplement salaries, equaling less than $70,000 in an hour.

•The University audit report, to the average student, may seem to be just as valid as a third-party audit. This is questionable. The University has accused The Observer of improper business procedures. Yet by failing to let the newspaper’s offices review the audit before it was released, the University violated standard business procedures. The auditors did this in a consistent disclaimer accompanying the report, because of the possibility of "incurring unknown delays," not a single Observer employee was contacted before the release of the report.

In addition, Louis Cohen, director of internal auditing started the audit after seeing a copy of a University report which alleged that The Observer wasn’t that bad. It was a typical student run organization. Things were questionable, but there was no outright therovery.

Notre Dame is demanding financial accountability. The paper has offered third party involvement. The University deserves this for collecting the fees, it is sometimes forgotten. However, that it serves Notre Dame receives a little something in the form of a daily newspaper.

Applications for Chairman of the Mock Convention can be picked up in the Student Government Offices on the second floor of LaFonune They are due 4:30 p.m. on Wednesday, November 2
Organizer of 1983 AnTostal charged with theft of $3000

By DAVID SARPHIE
Assistant News Editor

One of the organizers of the 1983 AnTostal has been charged with the theft of $3000 from the festival's bank account, according to Dean of Students James Roemer.

A statement released yesterday by the Office of Student Activities said, "The suspected person called (Director of Student Activities James) McDonnell and admitted to stealing a substantial sum of money from the AnTostal account. The per- son then appeared at a meeting with University Auditors to review all items."

Roemer subsequently conducted a hearing and charged the person with the theft. According to the statement, the person has signed a promissory note to repay Student Government the $3000.

The Student Activities office released the name of the individual, but the name of any other disciplinary actions levied by the university was not available due to confidentiality in all disciplinary mat- ters as stated in the guide to student life. "

An internal audit of the AnTostal account was conducted by the auditor early in October and released. October 21st revealed that 95 percent of the money, or $2950, was stolen between Sept. 1982 and March 7, 1983, before the last April event. The remaining $150 was stolen during May.

The amount of the audit revealed a total deficit of $5,410.31. In addition to the $4000 theft, there was also a $2000 loan from the bank and a cash con- cert, the theft of $800 worth of equipment, and $800 worth of damage sustained by two rented vehicles.

The audit, conducted by the Notre Dame Internal Audit Depart- ment, was prompted by a suspicion discovered that Sister Marty's Primary School Day had not received its spring allocation of the Ugly Man Campus funds totaling $1,814.

The audit also noted that 90 percent of the theft occurred when the account was left open due to false statements made to a bank.
Cap'n Crunch eating contest closes week of campus wide festivities

By AMY STEPHAN
Copy Editor

With America the Beautiful blaring from loudspeakers all day long, hungry contestants vied for trips to Fort Lauderdale in the grand finale of April Crunch week — the Cap'n Crunch eating contest. Last Friday afternoon on South Quad, 400 students took part.

Cheers filled the air as contestants ran across the quad, gulped down two bowls of cereal, and raced to the stage, their hands shaking with anticipation as the first two names were called.

"I'm going to Florida," cried member of the studying body who had won the contest. "I'm not going to Portland, Oregon," said another contestant from the faculty in the unflattering response of some. Other contestants said they were "too good to be true." The winners, both junior; Brad Hering, Amy Griffin, Barbara Stevens, and sophomore, Cindy Broussard, we're wearing T-shirts decorated with the contest's logo, "The competition was exciting, but detrimental to the roof of the mouth," said Mike Lochen, echoing the sentiments of many other participants.

Spectators, many wearing Cap'n Crunch T-shirts, lined the roped-off contest area. "This is America for you," said freshman Eric Fisher Pruchnick, "anything to be a fool." Cries of "Let's hear it for the sophomores" were shouted as spectators and contestants alike crowded around the awards stand for the final presentation.

In both the general and the sophomore drawing among T-shirt winners, the first two names drawn were not present and therefore ineligible to win trips to Fort Lauderdale were finally awarded to Cathy Schaefer and Mike Pecoraro. Kathleen Jenson, who found the organizational treasure chest, donated the video cassette recorder prize to Change of Pace Experience Inc. through Lehigh Hall CAPE, operating mainly in the East, in a non-profit educational program that counsels parents of children who have died from cancer. "Thank you very much," we decided to keep these," said Mike Hayes when he and Mary Kay Meister received their Sony-Watchman television, cassette recorder, and solar-powered calculator. for finding the individual treasure chest in the bookstore's calculator case.

"The turnover was great, the crowd response great, and the enthusiasm was," said Lee Broussard, sophomore class president. The winners of Wednesday's Cap'n Crunch costume contest were sophomore Amy Griffin, Barbara Stevens, and Cindy Vera — were present and wearing their winning costumes. Henting said many girls on the third floor of Breen-Phillips dormitory made their winning outfits; a spoon, milk, a piece of cereal and, of course, the Capn.'s.

"It wasn't biased as if people want to miss out on a good time," said. Broussard added, commenting on the unfavorable response of some students to Cap'n Crunch week. Broussard said about twelve people wearing 'Cap'n Crunch Why?' signs were present at the start of the contest, but soon disappeared as the event got underway.

CIVIL ENGINEERS...

You're Needed All Over the World.

Ask Peace Corps volunteers with degrees in Civil Engineering why they travel half way around the globe to Africa and Asia — why they work with water, sanitation, road construction, and structural projects overseas. They'll probably say they want to help people, use their skills, learn a new language, and gain valuable career experience. And the Peace Corps is the toughest job you'll ever love.

Peace Corps Reaps on Campus Nov. 8, 9, 10. Interested Seniors sign up for interview in the Placement Office.

CREDIT FOR STUDENTS

CREDIT FOR STUDENTS

The Observer Tuesday, November 1, 1983 — page 4

$6.2 million faculty office building gift of University trustee Decio

Special to The Observer

The $6.2 million faculty office building under construction at Notre Dame is the gift of Elkhart bus in recent years, and University trustee Arthur Decio.

The announcement of the benefaction is the second largest to The University from a living person, made at a regular campus Trus- see meeting. If Father Theodore Hesburgh, University president. Decio faculty hall. It is located in the southeast quadrant of the campus, consists of three four-story sections, encompassing 7,500 square feet. Designed by Ellerbe Associates, Bloomington, Moos, the building will include offices for 250 College of Arts and Letters professors, a faculty lounge, a conference room, several small seminar rooms and several storage facilities. It will also house the University's Helen Kel- logs' fund for Social Research.

The dedication ceremony will be held in the basement of Notre Dame's Memorial Library, built in 1963.

Arthur J. Decio

Engineering and Business Ad- ministration Advisory Councils before becoming a trustee in 1971. He received an honorary doctor of laws degree from the University in 1975 and also holds honorary degrees from Salem College and Indiana State University. Born in Elkhart, Indiana, Decio graduated from Marion Military Academy, Auburn, Illinois, in 1948 and at- tended DePauw University. In 1951, he married Patricia George. Three of their five children have graduated from Notre Dame.

In 1956, Decio became President of Skyline Corporation, the nation's leading producer of manufactured housing and recreational vehicles. He has been Skyline's chairman of the board and chief executive officer since 1979. Widely known for his philanthropies and volunteer work, Decio has served as director and board member of more than thirty civic, religious, business and educational organizations including Washington Bank of Chicago, Goshen College, United Way, and the Catholic Diocese of Fort Wayne/South Bend.

The faculty members in the humanities and social sciences who will occupy Decio Faculty Hall have been housed in the basement of Notre Dame's Memorial Library, built in 1963.

The Amos Tuck School of Business Administration Dartmouth College • Hanover, N.H.

Men and Women Seeking Graduate Education for Management are invited to discuss the TUCK MBA

Tuesday, November 15
Scott Settle, Assistant Director of Admissions
Check with the Placement Office

Credit for Students

Visa and MasterCard Credit Cards Now Available to Students through "The College's ReactAction Program" No Minimum Income or prior requirements. Savings account and fees required. For more information contact your Student Financial Aid representative. Reader's Digest/Student Loan Program.

The Observer — Tuesday, November 1, 1983 — page 4

The Observer — Tuesday, November 1, 1983 — page 4

You're Needed All Over the World.

Ask Peace Corps volunteers with degrees in Civil Engineering why they travel half way around the globe to Africa and Asia — why they work with water, sanitation, road construction, and structural projects overseas. They'll probably say they want to help people, use their skills, learn a new language, and gain valuable career experience. And the Peace Corps is the toughest job you'll ever love.

Peace Corps Reaps on Campus Nov. 8, 9, 10. Interested Seniors sign up for interview in the Placement Office.
Stadium usher suspended pending investigation after striking student

By MARK WORSCHEL
News editor

An usher who University officials said attacked a Notre Dame sophomore in the head after the USC football game has been suspended pending the outcome of an investigation by the Security Department.

Joseph O'Brien, assistant athletic director, said yesterday that the usher had been suspended and that he did not report to work for the USC football game on Saturday.

Security Director Glenn Terry identified the usher as Spencer Grady, a supervisor in the crew. He said that Grady admitted hitting the student and that the usher believed he was hit and was only hitting back.

Grady refused to comment last night on the incident. According to Terry and reports from witnesses, the incident occurred at or near the end of the USC game. The student was part of a group attempting to run onto the field to celebrate the victory.

The students were attempting to keep the crowd back with a rope, said Terry, and Grady was knocked down. The student ran through the line of men and when he was a few yards past them, he was approached from behind and "struck by an usher by the name of Spencer Grady," said Terry.

The student was "knocked" by the whole incident. "I can't believe he did that," he said.

Terry would not estimate when the department's investigation would be finished. He said that statements were still being gathered from witnesses.

Judge throws out Craft verdict

Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—A federal judge on Monday threw out a $500,000 verdict won by former anchorwoman Christine Craft and ruled that her demotion by a TV station was not the result of sex discrimination.

U.S. District Judge Joseph E. Stevens Jr. said the jury verdict on Ms. Craft's allegations of fraud against Metromedia Inc. was the result of "passion, prejudice, confusion or mistake."

Citing Ms. Craft's "affinity for the beach life and her apparent indifference to matters of appearance," the judge said the station's actions were "appropriate to her unique circumstances."

Stevens also denied Ms. Craft's request for a new trial on her claim that equal pay laws were violated by Metromedia, which owned KMBC-TV at the time she was demoted in August 1981.

The jury that awarded Ms. Craft $500,000 in case in August had ruled against her on the equal-pay issue but had returned an adverse verdict in her favor on the sex discrimination complaint.

An attorney for Metromedia, Sandra L. Schermerhorn, said she wanted to limit her comments on Monday's ruling because "the judge is still very concerned about pre-trial publicity."

"We are pleased with the outcome," Ms. Schermerhorn said. "We are hopeful that the new trial on the issue of fraud will turn out favorable to Metromedia."

The judge had refused, at a Sept. 1 hearing, to issue a directed verdict in favor of Metromedia, but the company filed a motion asking for a reduction in the jury award or a new trial.

Stevens criticized the publicity surrounding the case, and said the new trial on the fraud complaint would begin Jan. 4 in Joplin, Mo., 120 miles south of Kansas City. The jury in that trial will be sequestered. Unlike the jury in the first trial, he said.

Ms. Craft, 38, returned to her old job at KENTV in Santa Barbara, Calif., after refusing to accept her demotion, but quit that job after the verdict to write a book and lecture.

Your Future in Sales and Marketing is Here...
At Inland Steel Company

Inland Steel is interested in talking with men and women who are seriously considering a career in Sales and Marketing.

If you'd like to join a company that encourages the brightest and the best to move ahead quickly, you'll feel right at home at Inland.

If you want to work for the best in the industry and enjoy an exciting and challenging profession in Sales and Marketing, then we want to meet you.

Meet with Inland Steel's Sales and Marketing People

...And so is yours.

Lone statue

U.S. invaders admit shelling of hospital

Associated Press

BRIDGETOWN, Barbados (AP) — U.S. invaders in Grenada sorted seized weapons and documents Monday, admitted they accidentally shelled a medical hospital and said the military leader of the ousted junta has been detained on a warship.

But the Pentagon denied reports in the Canadian news magazine Maclean's and the New York Post that about 50 mental patients died in the shelling attack, saying casualties were "substantially lower."

American forces burned the building, apparently without realizing it was a hospital, the White House said. Military officials said they did not learn about the casualties at the hospital until early Monday, although the shelling apparently had occurred on the first day of the invasion, Oct. 25.

Soviet and Cuban-made weapons were among the arms discovered on the island, Jamaican Prime Minister Edward Seaga, given a tour by military officials, said he was shown an estimated 100,000 grenades and 4 million rounds of ammunition, much of it piled in the backyard of Bishop's house.

ND trustee Foley dies at age 69

Special to The Observer

Richard Foley, a Notre Dame trustee and retired chairman and chief executive officer of the Interpublic Group of Companies, died Sunday in New York City. He was 69.

A 1957 journalism graduate of Notre Dame, Foley was a reporter for newspapers in Chicago and his hometown of Pontiac, Mich., before entering the advertising field in 1964. In 1964, he was named chairman of McCann-Erickson and in 1971 moved up to head its parent company, Interpublic, a holding company of advertising agencies.

Richard Foley

Foley was named to Notre Dame's Arts and Letters Advisory Council in 1967 and was elected to the Board of Trustees two years later. As chairman of the Board's Public Relations and Development Committee, he was influential in the planning of the University's $180 million development program, "The Campaign for Notre Dame."

Foley received an honorary doctor of laws from the University in 1976.
Dear Sir or Madam (choose one):

The President has asked me to respond to your letter inquiring about the AmericanGrace mission to Grenada. There have been many questions about this operation and it is the policy of your government to answer the queries of its citizens.

From the very first, our main concern was the matter of hostages. Even though there was no clear sign that American lives were in danger, we nevertheless had to act. Preventing a danger to a more serious possibility and a repeat of the Iranian hostage situation with all its damaging political impact.

It is also apparent that if the Grenadan army suspected an American invasion they might take hostages. Because of its preparations designed to avoid a hostage situation might have been a hostage situation. I'm sorry if this is not clear, but you can see why we had to act.

There were, after all, approximately 60 American medical students on the island of Grenada. Their lives were in danger. It is, of course, that the president of the medical school at St. George's said this was not the case, that the students themselves reported they were safe, that the parents played for American restraint, and that Grenada promised to have the safety, agreeing to carry out the operation. This confined us as first, but we finally concluded that the Cubans or the Grenada or someone was lying.
At any rate, we did not like the old government, either.

It is important to bear in mind that U.S. forces were invited to invade Grenada by other Caribbean nations. Our government knows that this is an invitation is that these governments really could not expect a way of like you inviting someone to dinner at my house without my knowledge. But you have to bear in mind that these nations are close, share a fondness for reggae music, talk in that wonderful idiom, and, like you, feared a government that - rational or not.

Your government understands that, strictly speaking, the invasion is a violation of the Organization of American States charter. This (sir or madam), is precisely the same charter that President Reagan has cited time and time again (see: collected speeches of R.W.
Reagan) in reference to the alleged Nicaraguan attempt to subvert El Salvador.

But we, as a major power with God on our side, have never subscribed to the dictum that's what good for the goose is good for the gal-mon. In fact, this strikes us as something akin to the ERA to which, for very good reasons, we are also opposed (see: above: collected

We in the government are aware of the criticism that if a bloody coup, such as the one in Chile which also resulted in the death of the head of state (Salvador Allende), had produced a government to our liking, we would not have tried. To this criticism, we respond with understandable shock, chagrin and horror and note that we were hostile to the Grenadan government all along Aside from that, all we can do is change the subject.

Your government hopes that this letter answers all your questions. To aussure you further, we suggest you watch the television set and not read any newspapers. Additional facts are likely only to confuse you and we resolve that there is no more than the President himself does.

Dr. James M. McDonnell
Director of Student Activities
The Flying Fathers, known as "the Harlem Globetrotters of ice hockey," will play a game on Wednesday, Nov. 9 at the ACC for the benefit of Phoenix House, the halfway house for recovering alcoholic women in South Bend. The fathers, an internationally-known group of priests, have all at one time played either amateur or pro hockey; price to enter the seminary. They will play 20-minute periods against the Notre Dame club hockey team, and the St. Joseph's High School hockey team, and the Ice Boxers of the Michiana Senior League. — The Observer

Dominator Six T-shirts are in at last! If you ran in the Dominator Six Mile race, please pick up your shirt this Saturday at 5 p.m. — The Observer

The second annual "Turkey Shoot," co-rec target shooting contest, is being sponsored by NVA. No experience is necessary. You must reserve a time for your team of two men and two women. The deadline for sign-up is Nov. 11. Call 239-6100 for more information. — The Observer

Wednesday, November 9, is an important deadline for many NVA activities. It is the deadline for both men's and women's intramural basketball sign-ups. The club and graduate basketball deadline is also on this day. November 9 is also the deadline for intramural hockey and squids. If you have any questions, call the NVA office at 239-6100 or talk to your hall athletic commissioners. — The Observer

The ND-SMC Ski team will hold a short meeting at 7 p.m. on Thursday, Nov. 3 at the Lafayette Little Theater. Everyone is strongly urged to attend for protective insurance. Those going to Jackson Hole should bring a $150 deposit. — The Observer

A one-day grad/fac soccer tournament set for Nov. 12 has been announced by NVA, in honor of a student who is going to graduate. The price for the tournament will be $2. — The Observer

Sports Briefs

Student basketball tickets are still available. They can be obtained from the ticket office on the second floor of the ACC. — The Observer

Windsurfing T-shirts are now in. The club will meet in Lafayette at 7 p.m. tomorrow. Members are asked to bring $1 to the meeting. — The Observer

Larry Williams, the outstanding offensive tackle for the Fighting Irish, will be the instructor for an NVA short course in weight training. There will be a group instruction session Nov. 8 and then the class will divide into two groups. Nov. 9th will be the women's evening to meet and on Nov. 10th the men will meet. The price for the evenings is $2. You must register in advance of the first session. For more details call NVA at 239-6100. — The Observer

Strength and conditioning professional Gary Will be the instructor for an NVA short course in weight training. There will be a group instruction session Nov. 8 and then the class will divide into two groups. Nov. 9th will be the women's evening to meet and on Nov. 10th the men will meet. The price for the evenings is $2. You must register in advance of the first session. For more details call NVA at 239-6100. — The Observer

The Observer's Lafayette office screens classified advertising from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Thursday. The Observer staff member, located on the first floor of Hager College Center, is open from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday. The deadline for ad copy is 3 p.m. on the last day classified service is available. All classifieds must be prepaid, either in cash or by check. Change is not given on seven days, one day...
continued from page 11

Navy's third-down play field to put 21 yards in the second quarter, but it did convert on a 30-yard field goal early in the second period to trim the Irish halftime lead to 14-7.

Early in the second half, Navy showed that it meant business as it drove 59 yards to the Notre Dame 31 from there. Steve Young kicked a 26-yard field goal to cut Notre Dame's lead to eight points.

That was incentive enough to restore some crunch in the Notre Dame offensive attack. It led to four straight first downs and a second-quarter}

fumble by Navy quarterback Bob Beuerlein, the Irish drove the ball 77 yards in 11 plays for a touchdown and a 21.7-12 lead, but the Notre Dame defense simply put too much pressure on the goalie, but outmaneuvered. Navy team.

McCallin and fullback Bryan Carvalex had respectable rushing days, but they were amazed with Notre Dame's ability not to give up the big play.

"Their defensive secondary and linebackers really pursue the ball in a crisp way," summarized Faust.

But it was the well-executed trick plays that helped Navy to a 21-12 lead, including the final three yards for the score. Highlights in the 52-yard, seven-play drive included a 22-yard scamper by Pinkett, and a 17-yard completion by Beuerlein to Howard on a third-and-eight situation.

Coming off an injury, fullback
Smith was another bright spot, as he gained 65 yards in 11 carries while providing his usual outstanding

Rod Carew,
a

30-year-old free contract. He hurled

4.77

RBI's for the Detroit Tigers last season. He missed the 1978 season while playing in the Mexican League.

He

had a

359 average for the California Angels.

He did not receive the free agency offer because he was eligible for

free agency

and did not play in the eight injuries.

He

was suspended from the Angels for the first

by the California

Angels.

He received a three-year contract.

The Observer

Tuesday, November 1, 1983 — page 8

... Tricks

tailback Pinkett also had difficulties Saturday. In the first half he butted on just 47 yards in 12 carries. He did manage to finish with 121 yards on 29 carries, as he broke a Notre Dame record by rushing for his fifth straight 100-yard game.

Pinkett gained 57 yards on four carries in Notre Dame's last touchdown drive, including the final three yards for the score. Highlights in the 52-yard, seven-play drive included a 22-yard scamper by Pinkett, and
a 17-yard completion by Beuerlein to Howard on a third-and-eight situation.

Coming off an injury, fullback
Smith was another bright spot, as he gained 65 yards in 11 carries while
providing his usual outstanding

Defensively, Mike Golic and Mike Kovalski led the team with twelve tackles apiece. Golic, Mike Gann, and Eric Dorsey each had two quan-terback sacks, and Kovaleski chipped in on another one.

"It wasn't a pretty game execution-wise," summarized Faust.

"It is the best game of the last two weeks, Irish coach Jerry Faust joked that maybe fullback Chris Smith, shown here turning the corner against Navy, would be abroading the ball this week. Details of the team's trick plays are given in the game stories on the back page.

Rod Carew
files for free agency

Associated Press

NEW YORK — Rod Carew, a seven-time American League batting champion, and outfielder Dan Ford of the world champion Baltimore Orioles were among the seven players who filed for free agency over the weekend, the Major League Players Association said yesterday.

With a Monday midnight deadline for filing, 46 players have made demands available for the free entry traits, set for next Monday.

Carew, 38, a first baseman, batted .359 for the California Angels this year. Ford batted .280 with nine home runs and 44 runs batted in for the Orioles.

Others filing over the weekend included pitchers J.R. Richard, the former Houston Astros' star who hasn't been in the majors since suffering a stroke in 1980, and Jerry Koosman, who posted an 11-7 record and a 4.77 earned run average for the Chicago White Sox this year. He turns 46 in December.

First baseman Enos Cabell, who batted .311 with five home runs and 46
RBI's for the Detroit Tigers last season, reserve infielder Kiko Garcia of the Philadelphia Phillies and receiver Bob Oates, who is Miguel Dilone of the Pittsburgh Pirates also opted for free agency.

Catcher Bob Boone, who had been eligible for free agency, resigned yesterday with the California Angels. He received a three-year contract.

50¢

Here's 50¢ to help you celebrate with General Foods* International Coffees.

50¢

MANUFACTURERS COUPON
TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1982

50¢

Here's 50¢ to help you celebrate with
General Foods* International Coffees.

50¢

MANUFACTURERS COUPON
TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1982

Here's 50¢ to help you celebrate with General Foods* International Coffees.

50¢

MANUFACTURERS COUPON
TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1982

Here's 50¢ to help you celebrate with General Foods* International Coffees.

50¢

MANUFACTURERS COUPON
TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1982

Here's 50¢ to help you celebrate with General Foods* International Coffees.

50¢

MANUFACTURERS COUPON
TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1982

Here's 50¢ to help you celebrate with General Foods* International Coffees.

50¢

MANUFACTURERS COUPON
TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1982

Here's 50¢ to help you celebrate with
General Foods* International Coffees.
Traditional champions apparently lose titles

By HERSHEY NISSENSON
Associated Press

The titles of Beast of the East and the Best in the West apparently have new owners.

"I guess they are No. 1 in the East if they beat us," Penn State Coach Joe Paterno said after the Nittany Lions, who had recovered from an 0-3 start by winning five in a row, fell to Notre Dame 27-17. The Eagles were tied for 10th with Notre Dame in last week's Associated Press college football poll.

Meanwhile, eighth-ranked Michigan, which has won or shared 10 of the last 14 Big Ten titles and whose fight song even proclaims the Wolverines as 'champions of the West,' dropped out of a tie for the league lead by losing to No. 9 Illinois, 16-6.

"Who are we kidding? I feel we are the favorites to go to the Rose Bowl," said Illinois Coach Mike White.

It was a weekend in which at least two more national championship hopefuls fell from the ranks of the unbeatens. Third-rated North Carolina saw its perfect record ended by No. 13 Maryland, 28-26, in the final period to seal the victory for the Terrapins as they took a one-game lead in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Previously unbeaten but once-tied, Nebraska dropped out of a tie for the league lead by losing to No. 9 Illinois, 16-6.

"We are a kidding? I feel we are the favorites to go to the Rose Bowl," said Illinois Coach Mike White.

Meanwhile, eighth-ranked Michigan, which has won or shared 10 of the last 14 Big Ten titles and whose fight song even proclaims the Wolverines as 'champions of the West,' dropped out of a tie for the league lead by losing to No. 9 Illinois, 16-6.

"Who are we kidding? I feel we are the favorites to go to the Rose Bowl," said Illinois Coach Mike White.

It was a weekend in which at least two more national championship hopefuls fell from the ranks of the unbeaten. Third-rated North Carolina saw its perfect record ended by No. 13 Maryland, 28-26, in the final period to seal the victory for the Terrapins as they took a one-game lead in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Previously unbeaten but once-tied, Nebraska dropped out of a tie for the league lead by losing to No. 9 Illinois, 16-6.

"Who are we kidding? I feel we are the favorites to go to the Rose Bowl," said Illinois Coach Mike White.
At age 88

Bears' founder, owner Halas dies

Associated Press

CHICAGO — George Halas, a pioneer of the National Football League and founder and owner of the Chicago Bears, died last night at the age of 88.

Halas, who founded the Bears and handed them their first televised games out of his own pocket, had been ill with heart disease, pancreatic disease and various other ailments for about one year.

Halas, born Feb. 2, 1889, was pioneer and patriarch of the National Football League. He was the last survivor of a group of men who founded and organized professional football in Canton, Ohio, automobile agency in 1920.

He played, he coached, he sold tickets and in the early days before the great media floods, he even wrote stories of the games and went to various newspapers to have results of the games printed.

Halas was around when the players passed hats throughout the stands to collect money and he was around when sponsors were paying hundreds and thousands of dollars for a commercial minute on television.

Despite the game's popularity today, it was a long and great struggle in the early years. There were times Halas put 10 players with 10 vs. 10 and in the throes of the Great Depression in the 1930s, Halas had to borrow $50,000 from the late sportswoman Charles Bidwill to keep the Bears afloat.

After graduating from the University of Illinois and a stint in the Navy during World War I, Halas briefly played right field for the New York Yankees until he broke his leg and was left on third base with a triple.

The following year, Halas went to work for the A.F. Staley Co., in Decatur, III., "to learn the starch business" and became the firm's athletic director.

Halas organized the Decatur Staleys football team and was in line for a promotion in the glucose department of the starchworks when the 1921 depression hit. The company couldn't underwrite the team any longer so Mr. Halas gave the franchise to Chicago and called them the Staleys for one year.

Halas moved the team to Wrigley Field and the following year adopted the name of the Chicago Bears. Despite great financial difficulties, Halas managed to hold onto the team. He was instrumental in changing the rules to step up scoring and modernized the game but it wasn't until 1925 that the game began to "catch on."

Then came the great maneuver. Halas eventually enticed Red Grange, the Galloping Ghost from Illinois, to professionalism after negotiating a $100,000 deal with C.C. (Cash) Card, probably the best football player's first noteworthy agent.

On Thanksgiving Day in 1925, Grange made his professional debut and the Bears packed Wrigley Field with a crowd of 60,000.

"If there had been room, we could have put in another 30,000," said Halas. "We went to New York and drew 65,000 the day after the Army-Navy game drew 60,000." It was the beginning of a coast-to-coast tour in which the Bears played 10 games from Nov. 26 through Jan. 31, interrupted by a two-week rest.

Halas had turned pro football into a big time sport.

Is this retirement?

Borg continues to beat the best

Associated Press

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. — Bjorn Borg is retired from professional tennis, right?

Then why is he still beating some of the best players in the world?

Borg is retired from competitive tennis forever.

"I'm happy with the way I'm doing everything," the Swedish player said. "I think maybe five hours a week now. Instead of 25, I like to stay in shape, but you have to work hard to train, and I like to do other things besides tennis too."

"I have no health problems or injuries. I've always been lucky, but I just decided to retire. The decision was hard to make, but now that I've made it, it's not going to change."

Still, since his retirement in January, Borg has played exhibitions and a few tournaments because of prior commitments. And among those he's defeated in the last 10 months are Jimmy Connors, Ivan Lendl and John McEnroe.

"Bjorn's game you can judge on the big point," Tanner said after losing the tie-breakers 7-3, 7-5.

"Look what he did in the tie-breakers. He hit passing shots, good winners. Nothing has changed."

Borg, who at 27, plays hockey, jog and oversees a designer clothing business, used nine service aces, a variety of deadly ground strokes and soft tops in displaying near championship form against Tanner, 3-2.

First battle

Ralph Sampson met a stiff test in his NBA regular season opener last Saturday night, as the Houston Rocket's rookie center faced the formidable Artis Gilmore and the equally tough San Antonio Spurs. Sampson and his teammates were the better team of Texas城市管理 twice, though.

Late Moseley kick gives Redskins victory

Associated Press

SAN DIEGO, Calif. — Mark Moseley, who had missed four field goals in the game, booted a 17-point field goal with 1:2 remaining on Rolf Benirschke's 44-yard field goal.

After losing a 1-point lead, the Redskins drove 72 yards in nine plays with Moseley kicking a field goal.

Until the dramatic comeback, the Redskins' defense had made life miserable for San Diego quarterback Ed Faber, who was intercepted six times, sacked once and fumbled once. The Redskins turned three of the interceptions into 17 points. But the Redskins failed to increase their margin as Moseley missed field goal attempts of 44, 52, 47 and 39 yards.

Then, in the fourth quarter, Lut­her, a 340-pound pro from San Jose State who was making his second career start, regained his composure and fired TD strikes of 23 and 27 yards to right end Pete Holohan and wide receiver Wes Chandler, respectively, in a four-and-one-half minute span.

Chandler's touchdown, which closed the gap to 24-21, came with 4:13 left and capped a 99-yard drive.

Benirschke's tying field goal came after James Brooks returned a punt 30 yards to the Washing­ton 30 with 2:50 remaining.

On the winning drive, Washing­ton quarterback Joe Theismann com­pleted a third-and-seven play with a seven-yard completion to running back Joe Washington to keep the drive alive. One play later, he hit wide receiver Art Monk on a 24-yard gain to the Redskins' 44.

"I knew what he did in the tie-breakers. He hit passing shots, good winners. Nothing has changed."

Borg, who at 27, plays hockey, jog and oversees a designer cloth-
IRISH WIN TWO OVER BREAK TO RAISE RECORD TO 6-2

By LOUIE SOMOGYI

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1983 — PAGE 12

Sports

Irish win two over break to raise record to 6-2

Take advantage of two early trick plays en route to routine win over Navy...

By LOUIE SOMOGYI

Sports Writer

Taking advantage of two early trick plays, the Notre Dame football team jumped out to a quick 14-0 lead in its first two possessions Saturday afternoon as the Irish made that lead stand up as they went on to a routine 28-12 victory over Navy.

In the four weeks prior to the Navy game, Notre Dame had scored its opponents by a 5-1-5 count in the first quarter. The Irish once again took the initiative in their opponent's early offense.

On the second defensive play, from their own 33, the Irish deferred Al-len Pinkett on a sweep and then ran a sweep around to the outside to Joe Howard. Led by a big block from a pulling Mike Kelley, Howard scooted 90 yards down to the Navy 37. On the clutch passing of Steve Beuerlein, the Irish gained a three-and-seven situation one minute later, the freshman signal caller finding receiver Mike Kelley for an eight-yard pass to Pinkett for another first down.

One play later from the five, Beuerlein hit the leaping Jackson in the slot for a gainer to Navy 7 to lead 14-0.

With the sophomore Jackson 19 yards to score his first career touchdown at Notre Dame, but it took him just 90 seconds to score his second, which on Notre Dame's next possession.

From the Navy 49, Pinkett carried the ball twice to the 29-yard line. On the next play, Howard was lateralized the ball for another apparent yard-down play. Time was up, however, as Howard pulled up with him Jackson, who was open downfield, for the score.

 huskers, 'Horns stay atop latest AP poll

By HERSCHEL NISENSON

Associated Press

Nebraska and Texas remained 1-2 for the seventh week in a row, a new daily in The Associated Press college football poll, while Auburn and Georgia remained on the 12 Southeastern Conference showdown. But the Trojans were the big story.

Nebraska, a 51-25 winner over Kansas State, received 57 of 99 first-place votes and 1,778 points in the Associated Press' 1983 Top Twenty College Football Poll, which was released Sunday afternoon for the second time.

In 1983, both teams lost at home to Southern Cal, and it was the same situation for autocat's big plays.

Just as Pinkett had failed to complete his trick pass in practice before the USC game, Howard had his own difficulties during the week.

November eight when they faced the Notre Dame football team. The Irish won by a score of 31-14.

The key for the Irish was the ability of the Notre Dame's defense to keep them in the game.

 Afterwards, both teams were beaten badly on national television as their hopes for No. 1 ended. November 1981, both classes had to make adoptions to a new coaching staff.

Both teams failed to go to the bowl game, and both teams lost at home to USC by seven points.

As juniors, in 1976 and in 1982, both classes proved to be competitors against the Trojans.

Both teams were beaten badly on national television as their hopes for No. 1 ended. November 1981, both classes had to make ad-

options to a new coaching staff.

Both teams failed to go to the bowl game, and both teams lost at home to USC by seven points.

As juniors, in 1976 and in 1982, both classes proved to be competitors against the Trojans.

Both teams were beaten badly on national television as their hopes for No. 1 ended. November 1981, both classes had to make ad-

options to a new coaching staff.

Both teams failed to go to the bowl game, and both teams lost at home to USC by seven points.

As juniors, in 1976 and in 1982, both classes proved to be competitors against the Trojans.

Both teams were beaten badly on national television as their hopes for No. 1 ended. November 1981, both classes had to make ad-

options to a new coaching staff.

Both teams failed to go to the bowl game, and both teams lost at home to USC by seven points.

As juniors, in 1976 and in 1982, both classes proved to be competitors against the Trojans.

Both teams were beaten badly on national television as their hopes for No. 1 ended. November 1981, both classes had to make ad-

options to a new coaching staff.

Both teams failed to go to the bowl game, and both teams lost at home to USC by seven points.

As juniors, in 1976 and in 1982, both classes proved to be competitors against the Trojans.

Both teams were beaten badly on national television as their hopes for No. 1 ended. November 1981, both classes had to make ad-

options to a new coaching staff.

Both teams failed to go to the bowl game, and both teams lost at home to USC by seven points.

As juniors, in 1976 and in 1982, both classes proved to be competitors against the Trojans.

Both teams were beaten badly on national television as their hopes for No. 1 ended. November 1981, both classes had to make ad-

options to a new coaching staff.

Both teams failed to go to the bowl game, and both teams lost at home to USC by seven points.

As juniors, in 1976 and in 1982, both classes proved to be competitors against the Trojans.

Both teams were beaten badly on national television as their hopes for No. 1 ended. November 1981, both classes had to make ad-

options to a new coaching staff.

Both teams failed to go to the bowl game, and both teams lost at home to USC by seven points.

As juniors, in 1976 and in 1982, both classes proved to be competitors against the Trojans.

Both teams were beaten badly on national television as their hopes for No. 1 ended. November 1981, both classes had to make ad-

options to a new coaching staff.

Both teams failed to go to the bowl game, and both teams lost at home to USC by seven points.

As juniors, in 1976 and in 1982, both classes proved to be competitors against the Trojans.

Both teams were beaten badly on national television as their hopes for No. 1 ended. November 1981, both classes had to make ad-

options to a new coaching staff.

Both teams failed to go to the bowl game, and both teams lost at home to USC by seven points.

As juniors, in 1976 and in 1982, both classes proved to be competitors against the Trojans.

Both teams were beaten badly on national television as their hopes for No. 1 ended. November 1981, both classes had to make ad-

options to a new coaching staff.

Both teams failed to go to the bowl game, and both teams lost at home to USC by seven points.

As juniors, in 1976 and in 1982, both classes proved to be competitors against the Trojans.

Both teams were beaten badly on national television as their hopes for No. 1 ended. November 1981, both classes had to make ad-

options to a new coaching staff.

Both teams failed to go to the bowl game, and both teams lost at home to USC by seven points.

As juniors, in 1976 and in 1982, both classes proved to be competitors against the Trojans.

Both teams were beaten badly on national television as their hopes for No. 1 ended. November 1981, both classes had to make ad-

options to a new coaching staff.

Both teams failed to go to the bowl game, and both teams lost at home to USC by seven points.

As juniors, in 1976 and in 1982, both classes proved to be competitors against the Trojans.

Both teams were beaten badly on national television as their hopes for No. 1 ended. November 1981, both classes had to make ad-

options to a new coaching staff.

Both teams failed to go to the bowl game, and both teams lost at home to USC by seven points.

As juniors, in 1976 and in 1982, both classes proved to be competitors against the Trojans.