Infonet phone system bugs many students

By TIM GIANOTTI and MARK POTTER Staff Reporters

Student frustration over faulty telephone service has been on the rise since the installation of pushbutton phones and the infonet networking system. Complaints of excessive static, overlapping conversations on the same line, system shutdown, inability to complete long-distance calls, and a spattering of various other gripes have accompanied the transition to the new system.

Thomas Mason, vice-president of business services and assistant to the comptroller, emphasizes that he and Mason agreed that there is reason to be optimistic, "that the difficulties thus far have been the result of minor problems, but that if we get the bugs out of the system and have it settled down, we should be able to complete long-distance calls as we are doing now." He feels that it wasn't bad enough just to try to install a new telephone system, but that the selection of a new computer "came through at the last minute" and that the new system has been routine ones that could be expected from any new system.

"If it wasn't bad enough just to try to install a new telephone system, we were hit with the selection of a new computer," said Joseph Scott, Notre Dame professor of sociology. Scott is the publicity chairman for the Third District Rainbow Coalition, Jackson's official campaign organization.

"What has to happen is that each Congressional district in the state has to have a minimum of 500 registered voters sign a petition saying they want a fighting kicker candidate on the ballot," said Scott. "So in the Third District, which covers South Bend, we were able to secure more than 500 valid signatures in about a ten-day period." Scott explained that he got in

VOL XVIII, NO. 74
THE OBSERVER
WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 25, 1983

The Observer/Neal Levenson

Law students hunger for marathon

By TOM POWERS Staff Reporter

Notre Dame law students are training for their own kind of olympics these days, only the training camp is not an athletic field, but a dinner table.

Tonight, the law students are sponsoring a 10K (calorie) run where approximately thirty law students will compete to eat a minimum of 10,000 calories. They will travel around to various eating establishments on campus and eat as much as they possibly can at each designated place.

At 5 p.m. the contestants will meet at the Law School lounge. They will first travel to the Oak Room Cafe, where they will be expected to eat at least two plates of spaghetti. From there they travel to the Huddle to eat a double dip ice cream cone, then to the A.C.C., (M.A. vs. Davidson basketball game) for a large cake and another double-dip cone. Each individual contestant will then drink a full pitcher of beer at the Senior Bar, and to cap off the evening they will all eat a small pizza from Domino's Pizza.

The contest is open only to law students and, according to one of the organizers, Don Hubbard, "It's just a way for the law students to relax and release a little tension." Hubbard says that the contestants have been training for the event by eating a lot more food than they normally do. The entire contest will cost each person about $10 for the food. The winners will be honored with a permanent trophy for his efforts.

The idea originally came from the members of the Law Students Bar Association on campus. Other upcoming events that the association will sponsor are the Law School, the 100 Days Party, the Recall Election, and a beach party.

Campus Ministry's Schlaver moves to Ave Maria Press

By JOSEPH MERCHANT Staff Writer

Father David Schlaver, director of Campus Ministry, has been appointed editor and publisher of Ave Maria Press, Notre Dame's Catholic printing house. He succeeds Father John Reddy, who died December 2.

The announcement was made in South Bend today by Father Richard Warner, provincial superior of the Indiana Province of Holy Cross. He also announced that Frank Cameron, present Managing Editor at the press, has been appointed General Manager.

Established in 1965 by the priests and brothers of Holy Cross, Ave Maria Press is one of the oldest Catholic publishing houses in America. Ave Maria operates a printing facility which serves the printing needs of the publishing division of the University of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's College, and of the Congregation of Holy Cross.

Schlaver, 41, entered the Congregation of the Holy Cross in 1965 after three years of study at Notre Dame. He made his first religious vows in 1964, graduated from Notre Dame in 1966, and was later ordained in 1971. He worked as an assistant editor at Ave Maria during his theology studies in Washington, D.C., at Notre Dame. He assumed his present position as Director of Campus Ministry at Notre Dame in the summer of 1981.

Cunningham is a graduate of St. John's College and holds a Master of Arts degree from St. Michael's College in Winnipeg, Manitoba. Cunningham has extensive experience in publishing, having worked as a reporter and editor for several newspapers and magazines.

Although University officials refused to speculate on Schlaver's replacement at Campus Ministry, Father Daniel Jenky, rector of Sacred Heart Church, is viewed as his probable successor. Jenky declined comment on the matter yesterday.
In Brief

Dr. Thomas Bergin, dean of continuing educa tion at Notre Dame, has been appointed chairman of a national task team on the accreditation of continuing education programs by the University Continuing Education Association in Washington, D.C. The task team, comprised of distinguished educators and institutions, will begin a two-year study of the association's priorities and the relationship with the educational institutions at a Notre Dame meeting scheduled for February 15 and 16. — The Observer

He's been blasted by the media bigwigs, but former President Jimmy Carter showed recently that he still has a thin skin.
When the student newspaper at Emory University, where Carter is a visiting professor, published a "cowardly" editorial against him, a local controversy was created.
Carter immediately asked the student newspaper to publish an apology, but Diamond says he will not retract the editorial, and Diamond says he accepts
Carter's clarification. — The Observer

The University will provide free transportation to the Notre Dame/Purdue game at the Indiana Hoosier Stadium in Bloomington on September 9. This was announced by Director of Student Activities James McDonnell, who is in charge of arranging the transportation, at the Hall President's Council meeting last night in Washington. McDonnell then asked for the president's help in determining the number of people who would use the transportation service, which is designed as a home game. The University feels compelled to provide free transportation," McDonnell said.
The possibility of chartering a train is being considered, but most students will make the three-hour trip by bus. Also at the meeting, Kecan Hall announced that tickets for the Kecan Hall Revue will be distributed this Sunday. The show will be on Feb. 1, 3, and 4.
Jim Fugger, co-chairperson of the Wuhan Winter Festival in Buchanan, Mich., gave hall presidents information about the event. The festival will be held from Feb. 3-5 and will include a snow shoe relay race, cardboard box races and a Las Vegas Casino night. — The Observer

America's television fixation reached an all-time high in 1983, with average daily viewing per household breaking the seven-hour mark. A.G. Nielsen's numbers revealed that average television watching per home increased 14 minutes over 1982's record. It was the year that featured the top-rated "M*A*S*H*' finals, two record album minutes, increased cable use and one controversial survey saying viewers were watching more but paying less attention. This was the sixth straight year of record-setting viewing, and the 14 minute increase tied 1964 for the biggest rise ever.
Network ratings stabilized after a period of decline, while overall viewing for independent and cable stations increased. For viewing 1983 was up every month, except for January, although the seven hour, 36-minute consumption level for January 1983 turned out to be the year's highest monthly average. In comparison, January 1982 had an average of seven hours, 47 minutes. February, another cold month in the nation's hibernating around the TV, ranked second in 1983 with an average of seven hours, 35 minutes. The low consumption level, six hours, 23 minutes, came in both June and July.
Viewing was up for all age groups, except children 2-11, said Niels-
en. — AP

Of Interest

Saint Mary's students, faculty, and staff will be able to purchase Apple Macintosh computers for the same discounted price offered to Notre Dame students. Richard Spencer, assistant professor of computer science, said yesterday that Apple Computers will allow the University to open the sale of the Macintosh personal computer to existing students. However, it will not become a member of the Apple University Consortium, a group of 24 schools aimed at developing new applications for computers in education.

The University will provide a $1,000 grant to students who are interested in computer science. The grants will be awarded to students who have completed at least one semester of computer science and are pursuing a degree in computer science.

Weather

Partly cloudy today. Highs in the mid to upper 50s. Considerable cloudiness tonight with 30 percent chance of light snow.
Lows in the upper 30s. Cloudy, with little wind or snow tomorrow.
Highs in the upper 40s. — The Observer

How 'bout them Apples?

So you've got an empty space on your desk that's just crying to be occupied by the latest in microcomputer technology? The new Macintosh personal computer from Apple could dry those tears, but the price for the system — even with the substantial discount offered Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students — merits a closer look at what one gets for his money.

According to economics professor William Davidson, students will be able to walk away with a Macintosh for $1,995. This base price includes the keyboard, a 19-inch resolution screen, one disk drive, one floppy disk, and a "cowardly" roll-up stand. A dot-matrix printer, almost a necessity, goes for $400, so the time you have that desk corner covered, your bank account will have been depleted of a grand total of $1,515.09, plus tax. That's not bad, considering that regular retail buyers will pay more than twice that. Even the IBM PC costs $2,900, with the current University discount.

Davidson says he was "very favorably impressed" by the new system, but he adds that he believes Apple could improve the system without necessarily including more features.

"It's a fine computer," he says. "It's just not the best computer available."

But it's the simplicity of the new Apple systems that seems to please Spencer. "If you can become a computer expert, you can be," says Spencer. "You shouldn't have to know how to program. Our enthusiasm for the Macintosh is that it's friendly; it's an adjunct to what a person does, like a calculator or a phone. It's a tool that helps the person do what he's doing, not a tool that helps him do something else."

Fifteen hundred dollars seems expensive for a Macintosh, too, but both men advise students to wait and try the computer when it arrives at the new computer center. They're hoping for the best.

"It's definitely worth checking into," says Davidson.

Dine among the antiques and enjoy our view of the new downtown! — The Observer

Reservations appreciated. 234-9000
121 South Niles South Bend

The Observer classifieds

Today's Observer was produced by:

Production Consultant: Jean Fontes
Design Editor: Guy Ohlman
layout: Kathy Krebs
Typesetters: Michelle Jenkins and Ted Thibodeaux
Copy Editor: Phil Monatte
Senior Assistant Copy Editor: Jim Fugger
Sports Copy Editor: Terry Young
Features Copy Editor: Bill O'Brien
Senior Staff Writer: Ken O'Brien
Sports Editor: Joseph O'Brien
Art Director: Barbara Serres
Editor: John Cifardi
Photographer: Paul Cifardi

The Observer is published weekly at Notre Dame and on home football Saturdays except during exam and vacation periods. Written and edited by the students of Notre Dame and published by the Student Publications Board. The Observer is not a part of Notre Dame and not a part of the University. The Observer is not responsible for opinions expressed in classifieds or elsewhere. The Observer is not responsible for the fitness of any product or service advertised in the classifieds. The Observer is not responsible for the fitness of any product or service advertised in the classifieds. The Observer is not responsible for the fitness of any product or service advertised in the classifieds. The Observer is not responsible for the fitness of any product or service advertised in the classifieds. The Observer is not responsible for the fitness of any product or service advertised in the classifieds. The Observer is not responsible for the fitness of any product or service advertised in the classifieds. The Observer is not responsible for the fitness of any product or service advertised in the classifieds. The Observer is not responsible for the fitness of any product or service advertised in the classifieds. The Observer is not respon
Pope appoints bishop for Boston

Associated Press

BOSTON — Pope John Paul II, starting a series of appointments to reshape the U.S. Catholic Church, reached into rural Missouri yesterday to name a bishop for Boston. Bernard Law, orthodox in doctrine but active in relations between races and faiths, was chosen.

Law, 52, bishop of 52,000 Catholics in the Springfield-Cape Girardeau diocese in the largely Protestant cattle and farm country of the Missouri Ozarks, was named spiritual leader of the nation's third-largest Catholic archdiocese. He succeeds Cardinal Humberto Medeiros, who died last fall.

A Harvard graduate, Law made his mark as a civil rights leader in Missouri in the 1960s and has been in the forefront of the Catholic church's efforts to embrace Episcopalians and Jews.

With his ability to speak Spanish, Law is expected to help unify Blacks, Hispanics, Irish and Italians who make up the bulk of 2 million Catholics in the Boston archdiocese.

"While the archdiocese is my primary responsibility, I look forward to working with leaders of other Christian communities, Jewish religious leaders, and public officials of the Boston area as we serve the common good," Law said.

Asked how he wants to be received in Boston, Law replied: "I come as a man of faith, a deep faith. I also come as a man of hope. I know it's wonderful, it's diligent," had a high academic reputation and course this semester to.

He is vice chairman of the English department at the institute. Calling Notre Dame students "wonderful, cooperative and diligent," Zhang commented, "I have heard of this school, that it had a high academic reputation and was very friendly. I have this same impression today, that they are wonderful people here. The whole environment makes students comfortable and relaxed," he said.

Zhang is optimistic about the summer program being offered this summer, which will deepen the friendship between the two people. Right now, the Chinese have a good impression of Americans. I hope that the relationship will be improved day by day.

Chinese professor adjusts to shift in lifestyle with move to Indiana

By JANE KRAVICK

The first week on campus is tough for any new professor, but especially if that professor is from the People's Republic of China.

Zhang is teaching a beginning Chinese language class on campus, and is preparing Notre Dame students for a summer program at the Tianjin Foreign Language Institute in Tianjin, China (See related story below). He is vice chairman of the English department at the institute.

"Our students are very lively. They will accompany the group as they go home every weekend," he said.

Zhang also studied and taught at an Australian university. American students are closer to Chinese students than Australian students because they are more cooperative. It is easier for me to become accustomed to Notre Dame than Australia," he said.

Classes at Tianjin are also different, said Zhang. "There are classes of about 20 students who stay together in one classroom for four years. There is a classroom which each student has a desk. The students only return to the dormitory to sleep." About 25 percent of the high school graduates in China go on to enter leading universities such as Tianjin. Acceptance is based upon entrance exams, high school grades and behavior record.

Upon graduation, most students are assigned jobs by the school. The rest go on to graduate studies in China or abroad. "There is much less variance open to students in China. This can be good and bad. There is less trouble if everything is arranged," said Zhang.

English is quickly becoming a very popular academic subject in China. It is offered in primary and secondary schools in addition to universities. "There are a fair number of Chinese students who know English and the number is sharply increasing," Zhang said, noting that English is important for the cultural relations between the United States and China.

Chinese professor adjusts to shift in lifestyle with move to Indiana

Words of wisdom

Professor Zhang Binjiang relaxes in his new American environment.

ND plans study program in China

By JANE KRAVICK

The first week on campus is tough for any new professor, but especially if that professor is from the People's Republic of China.

Zhang is teaching a beginning Chinese language class on campus, and is preparing Notre Dame students for a summer program at the Tianjin Foreign Language Institute in Tianjin, China (See related story below). He is vice chairman of the English department at the institute.

"Our students are very lively. They will accompany the group as they go home every weekend," he said.

Zhang also studied and taught at an Australian university. American students are closer to Chinese students than Australian students because they are more cooperative. It is easier for me to become accustomed to Notre Dame than Australia," he said.

Classes at Tianjin are also different, said Zhang. "There are classes of about 20 students who stay together in one classroom for four years. There is a classroom which each student has a desk. The students only return to the dormitory to sleep." About 25 percent of the high school graduates in China go on to enter leading universities such as Tianjin. Acceptance is based upon entrance exams, high school grades and behavior record.

Upon graduation, most students are assigned jobs by the school. The rest go on to graduate studies in China or abroad. "There is much less variance open to students in China. This can be good and bad. There is less trouble if everything is arranged," said Zhang.

English is quickly becoming a very popular academic subject in China. It is offered in primary and secondary schools in addition to universities. "There are a fair number of Chinese students who know English and the number is sharply increasing," Zhang said, noting that English is important for the cultural relations between the United States and China.

Chinese professor adjusts to shift in lifestyle with move to Indiana

Words of wisdom

Professor Zhang Binjiang relaxes in his new American environment.

ND plans study program in China

By JANE KRAVICK

Notre Dame students will have the opportunity for the first time to spend eight weeks this summer under a new foreign study program offered by the University. The program will involve six weeks of classes in Chinese language and culture, and two weeks of travel in China. The classes will take place at the Tianjin Foreign Language Institute, which is about 1.5 hours from Peking.

Students will travel to the Great Wall of China, Peking and Shanghai, according to Doctor Isaiah Berlin, director of the program. Any student or faculty member is eligible for the program which will begin sometime in June and continue until the beginning of August.

Although it is suggested that those going to China be enrolled in the beginning Chinese course being offered this semester, proficiency in Chinese is not absolutely necessary.

The trip will cost about $2,600. Students can earn two and six credit hours while in China.

Charles credits Provost Timothy O'Meara with helping get the program off the ground. O'Meara has shown great interest in such a program since traveling to China himself, according to Charles.

Professor Peter Moody of the Notre Dame government department will accompany the group as their on-site director. He feels that there are dire reasons to visit China. "Obviously, it depends on your personal taste and interest. It is the last country in the world and Chinese is the most widely spoken language. It is different from the west but compatible. Students going there should see it as an adventure more than a vacation," he said.

Moody said increased tensions between the United States and China probably would not affect the program. "Cultural exchanges have been affected in the past but academic exchanges are not usually affected because the Chinese feel that they benefit also." Senior psychology major Anne Pfister is one student who plans to participate in the program. "I went to Innsbruck my sophomore year and I was taken by a traveling spirit. I want to experience an eastern culture as opposed to a European culture."

A meeting for those interested in participating in the program will be held Wednesday, Jan. 25 at 7 p.m. in room 420 of the Administration Building.
Democrats and Republicans spar over cost of heating bills program

Associated Press

The Observer

Father Dan Jenny, rector of Sacred Heart Church, strewn a prayer during a lecture on "Scripture and Tradition," a portion of the Campus Ministry Faith Program. Approximately 50 persons attended the session last night in the Stanford Keenan Chapel.

Democratss call budget 'deranged'

Associated Press

WASHINGTON -- House Majority Leader Howard Baker, R-Tenn., has said bipartisanship is necessary to get control of federal spending, particularly in such areas as health and welfare payments to individuals.

He urged the GOP-controlled Senate to endorse House-passed measures for an economic summit of the president and congressional leaders to produce a plan to cut the projected deficit in half.

Majority Leader Howard Baker, R-Tenn., has said bipartisanship is necessary to get control of federal spending, particularly in such areas as health and welfare payments to individuals.

He and other congressional leaders conceded it will be virtually impossible to make any major deficit reductions in this election year while Reagan and House Speaker Thomas O'Neill, D-Mass., are at odds.

Ford said, "If you look at those outrcy (future) deficits of $755 billion to $800 billion, they're scary and something has to be done about them.

Reminded that Reagan opposes new taxes, Ford said, "I respectfully disagree with him. I can't justify the kind of deficits they are forecasting for calendar and fiscal 1989. The only dark, ominous cloud on the economic front is the forecast of those deficits."

Wright attacked the admin- istration's record on education, saying, "It is one thing to pray for better schools, but of little avail unless we are willing to pay for better schools."

He also recommended creating a computerized national job bank in the Labor Department to use con- stantly updated government statistics to keep track of "exactly what jobs are planned to become available in just what numbers and in what locations, six months in ad-

But his strongest rhetoric was reserved for an attack on increasing military spending, which Wright called a grotesque misuse of our God-given treasure."

He decried the "staidly ars race, adding that the cost alone should be sufficient to discourage the two countries to negotiate a solution."

Wright said the president's "take the initiative. I would like that someone to be the president of the United States."

"Wright said the president's "take the initiative. I would like that someone to be the president of the United States."

"Wright said the president's "take the initiative. I would like that someone to be the president of the United States."

"Wright said the president's "take the initiative. I would like that someone to be the president of the United States."

"Wright said the president's "take the initiative. I would like that someone to be the president of the United States."

"Wright said the president's "take the initiative. I would like that someone to be the president of the United States."

"Wright said the president's "take the initiative. I would like that someone to be the president of the United States."

"Wright said the president's "take the initiative. I would like that someone to be the president of the United States."

"Wright said the president's "take the initiative. I would like that someone to be the president of the United States."

"Wright said the president's "take the initiative. I would like that someone to be the president of the United States."

"Wright said the president's "take the initiative. I would like that someone to be the president of the United States."

"Wright said the president's "take the initiative. I would like that someone to be the president of the United States."

"Wright said the president's "take the initiative. I would like that someone to be the president of the United States."

"Wright said the president's "take the initiative. I would like that someone to be the president of the United States."

"Wright said the president's "take the initiative. I would like that someone to be the president of the United States."

"Wright said the president's "take the initiative. I would like that someone to be the president of the United States."

"Wright said the president's "take the initiative. I would like that someone to be the president of the United States."

"Wright said the president's "take the initiative. I would like that someone to be the president of the United States."

"Wright said the president's "take the initiative. I would like that someone to be the president of the United States."

"Wright said the president's "take the initiative. I would like that someone to be the president of the United States."

"Wright said the president's "take the initiative. I would like that someone to be the president of the United States."

"Wright said the president's "take the initiative. I would like that someone to be the president of the United States."

"Wright said the president's "take the initiative. I would like that someone to be the president of the United States."

"Wright said the president's "take the initiative. I would like that someone to be the president of the United States."

"Wright said the president's "take the initiative. I would like that someone to be the president of the United States."

"Wright said the president's "take the initiative. I would like that someone to be the president of the United States."

"Wright said the president's "take the initiative. I would like that someone to be the president of the United States."

"Wright said the president's "take the initiative. I would like that someone to be the president of the United States."

"Wright said the president's "take the initiative. I would like that some..."
Easy solution to care cover-up

Students who chose to leave their cars here over the holidays probably wish they hadn't. Several students returned to find their cars either surrounded or buried by snow which University-owned plows had left as a Christmas present.

John Moorman, director of maintenance, says the cars are "a real problem" for this snowplow, especially after major snowstorms. Moving the cars would take more time than plowing the lots.

And the quality of the University's equipment does not help matters any. To move the snow, the plows must gain twice about leaving their cars in the lots. Moving the cars would take more time than plowing the lots.

Many fly home for break or maintenance, says the cars are "a real problem" for this snowplow, especially after major snowstorms. Moving the cars would take more time than plowing the lots.

and the size of the space needed would be a chore.

But it seems the idea would save the departments time, if anything. The plows would be able to clear the lots faster, security would have fewer parking lots to patrol, and nobody would have to help the students dig out after the fact.

Even if some students didn't comply, they would have no one but themselves to blame.

So let's hope the University takes some time now to settle the problem. After all, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

University students no middle class

An unscientific survey of a class of 58 students bore out what we have probably all long thought — Notre Dame thinks it is a middle class university.

Six-five percent of the respondents thought that their annual family incomes placed them somewhere in the "middle class." The rest classified themselves as either "upper class" or "rich." Of those who said they were in the middle class, only 20 percent were correct according to their self-reported incomes. Middle class, thought the respondents, is somewhere between 15 and 35 thousand dollars. If we loosely define middle class as those households whose incomes make them wealthier than the bottom 25 percent and poorer than the top 25 percent, it is soon evident that most ND students are gravely mistaken about their class.

Middle class incomes range from 15 to 35 thousand dollars, according to the U.S. Statistical Abstract. Of those in the survey who said they were middle class, 80 percent were actually upper class, that is in the top 25 percent of the population according to income.

Well, so what, one might ask? Perhaps there is nothing wrong with a university composed primarily of upper-class students. Arguments could be made both ways, but they are essentially tangential to the point. There is, however, something very wrong with upper-class students mistakenly believing they are typical middle-class Americans.

The danger of this sort of economic fiction is that it represents a gross misunderstanding by Domers of how most Americans live. From a Christian perspective it shows a patent insensitivity to the simple dollars and cents problems that "75 percent, of our fellow Americans face.

Furthermore, while this misunderstanding is probably not malicious, its long-run implications are rather frightening. If most of us think we are middle-class Americans, we will naturally come to believe that most of the rest of society faces economic situations similar to our own. Facing similar realities, they probably have much the same opportunities to develop their talents, and in particular to advance their educations.

This is simply not the case. Most Americans do not have the economic wherewithal that entitles them to the opportunities most of us here at N.D. have had.

The results of our blindness are several. We will probably not congratulate ourselves on our eventual "success" in American society, attributing it to our hard work and prudent planning. For if we believe that we are in the middle class with the rest of America, we will probably think that others have had opportunities similar to our own.

This is hardly the case. Most of our peers haven't had the wealth that is so essential for a good start in our society's economic race.

Some might counter that parental income is a fair determinant of opportunities in our society. Others might raise serious questions about the equality of this situation.

The public policy impact of our false perceptions is also important. Our false-middle-class consciousness will certainly affect the way we think about the rest of society, how we believe our economic institutions should be structured, and consequently how we vote.

Many views on these matters are certainly valid, and this is not to advocate any particular view of public policy. It does seem self-evident, however, that if our society is to be made just in any sense of the term, its upper crust must at least have some understanding of how the rest of America lives. Otherwise we are quite likely to remain oblivious to the economic realities of our fellow countrymen and their problems.

The Observer Viewpoint Department is seeking questions for its "Campus Comments" feature. Please send suggestions to P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, IN 46556

Viewpoint

Wednesday, January 25, 1983 — page 5

The Observer

P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, IN 46556

(219) 239-5303

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The editors are as accurate and as objectively as possible. Opinions editorially represent the opinion of a majority of the Editorial Board. Columns are written by students. Each columnist presents the views of their authors. Columns space is available to all members of the community, and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged.

Editorial Board
Editor-in-Chief .................................. David Dateline
Managing Editor ................................. Margaret Footoe
Executive Editor .................................. Paul McGinn
News Editor ...................................... Mike Szilvas
Sports Editor ................................. Michael Sullivan
Features Editor ................................. Sarah Hamilton
Photo Editor ..................................... Scott Bower

Department Managers

Business Manager ............... Christopher Owen
Controller ................................. Alex Silvas
Advertising Manager ..................... Joanie Pool
Circulation Manager ............... Mark Mutno
Systems Manager ................. Kevin Williams

Founded November 3, 1966
AT HARRIS/GSSD SUCCESS IS SPELLED YOU!

AT OUR ADVANCED TECHNOLOGY CENTER IN SYOSSET, LONG ISLAND, HARRIS/GSSD TOUCHES THE PULSE OF SYSTEMS SUPPORT TECHNOLOGY WORLDWIDE

WE'LL BE ON CAMPUS

January 27th

TO INTERVIEW GRADUATING PROFESSIONALS IN THE FOLLOWING BS/MS/PhD DISCIPLINES

Electrical Engineering
Electrical Technology

A career with HARRIS/GSSD means professional growth within one of the most advanced environments in the industry. On a personal level, HARRIS/GSSD is proud to offer professionals a positive, active, and supportive environment where individual potential is fully realized in a "team" approach.

If you are unable to meet with us, we invite graduating professionals in the above disciplines to forward resumes to:

HARRIS Corporation
Government Support Systems Division
College Relations Office
6801 Jericho Turnpike
Syosset, New York 11791
516-364-0400
Miss Manners

The professor as captain of his class

by Judith Martin

Dear Miss Manners, I am a college professor and what bothers me more than the apathy and laziness of some students is their classroom manners. Particularly, I am referring to those who chew gum in class, who sit and blow and/or pop the bubbles in front of the teacher who is trying to lecture and concentrate on getting a message across to those who do care and are in class to learn.

One day, after having had it happen many times, I asked a young lady to please refrain from chewing gum and blowing pop while the professor is trying to keep their mind on their work. When it happened again, I asked her to please remove herself from the room and deposit the gum in the trash can, or, better yet, to remove it before entering the classroom. She acted insulted and as if her inalienable rights had been violated. I had embarrassed her but had asked her quietly.

Please say something to remind millions of students that this is very rude and annoying to the teacher. The same goes for chewing candy and drinking pop while the professor is trying to keep their undivided attention.

If they find the lectures boring, they needn't bother to come to class. Sleeping is even better than these annoying mannerisms. Perhaps I speak for many other professors.

Gentle Reader — Miss Manners will certainly endorse and help teach the rule that classroom decorum, for students of any age, requires being still with the appearance of paying rapt attention and refraining from activities, such as eating, chewing gum, that may distract others. (College students, unlike young pupils, may actually have to do with their eyes open.)

Through the high school level, it should be established that the teacher has the right to impose such restrictions as part of the instruction.

On the college level, it should be established that attendance of classes is a privilege that may be withdrawn by the professor if, like a judge or sea captain, he finds that unreasonable standards of behavior are violated. That should end the nonsense about inalienable rights. Your student has the inalienable right to behave as she wishes or has thrown her out of class.

Dear Miss Manners — My problem lies in the general category of whether rules that have become outmoded because their practical need no longer exists should continue to be honored in the face of declining standards and increased laziness in their enforcement.

It is vexing to accompany today's modern woman and duck behind her to change sides at a corner, only to have her edge in the same direction, misunderstanding thinking I plan a change in course. This forces me to run to head her off. Or, worse yet, modern women will stop coming in mid-sentence and look wildly about, as if I had suddenly flown away, and then sullenly drag her to the other side as if we were filled with cement.

Changing sides is a complicated maneuver, made more difficult without the cooperation of the ladies. Perhaps the entire custom should be discontinued.

Gentle Reader — Perhaps. But let us hear no more about abandoning courtliness simply because there is no practical need for them. That would include most of the civilized refinements and kindnesses that constitute our guard of civilization.

Frou Frou, Miss Manners keeps trying to explain, is folk custom. When it changes, it generally does so because a certain gesture has fallen into disuse to the extent that most people neither practice nor understand it.

The custom of the gentlema walking on the outside may, indeed, have fallen into disuse to the extent that most people neither practice nor understand it.

Of the Gentleman members who have left the group to launch solo careers have been far less well received by the public than his own following, evidenced by the success of “Satisfaction Hill,” “I’L Y,” “Games Without Frontiers,” and most recently, “Shock the Monkey.” Since 1976, Gabriel has released four studio albums and one double live album.

Of the three current members, both Banks and Rutherford have each released two solo albums. Neither has met with much acclaim for their solo efforts, though the title cut from Rutherford’s second album, Acting Strange, did receive some air play. Both performers’ first albums were released in 1979, and both second albums came out just prior to Genesis’ first album.

With the exception of the albums by Collins, both Banks and Rutherford have each released two solo albums. Neither has met with much acclaim for their solo efforts, though the title cut from Rutherford’s second album, Acting Strange, did receive some air play. Both performers’ first albums were released in 1979, and both second albums came out just prior to Genesis’ first album.

And divided they stand

Genesis

The exception to the rule. The whole is not necessarily greater than the sum of the parts. Tony Banks, Michael Rutherford, and especially Phil Collins, each enjoy a popularity and success that they enjoyed when they were part of the group.

On January 21, 1983, the first album released after the departure of Peter Gabriel, titled “Abacab”, was announced. The album cover of Genesis at Earls Court, 1977

Kevin Williams

Genesis on yet another track

features staff writer

Michael Rutherford, the band’s bassist/guitarist is noticeably inconspicuous (there goes my career as a writer) on the entire first side. He seems content to stay in the background for this side as much as the second.

The first song on the second side, “Illegal Age,” is almost reggae — tune with no redeeming artistic qualities, but it should be a lot of fun in concert. Everybody (including Michael Rut­ herford) has an opportunity to show off.

“Taking It All Too Hard” is probably the best反映出 in terms of instrumental/vocal relationship: neither is competing with the other; the music comple­ ments the lyrics and vice versa. This song is reminiscent of And Then There Were Three. The first album Genesis released after the departure of Steve Hackett.

Just a Job To Do” could have been another Phil Collins solo, but “Siberian Kitten” is another group effort along the same lines as “Taking It All Too Hard.”

The final cut on the album, “It’s Gonna Get Better,” was the flip side to the EP Single, Mama, released before the album. The song begins with a Banks keyboard intro. He uses his synthesizer to give the individual notes a long attack and a sharp decay. This results in a sound that could otherwise be achieved by playing the album backwards. While this sound is not unique, it has not been a Genesis mantra. One of the few other times in Styx heritage it was used is in collaboration with Phil Collins on the Phillips solo album The Geese and the Ghost.

Genesis is a solid effort that has much more to offer than its previous collaborative efforts. It is definitely not the best album Genesis has ever put out, but the variety of sounds makes it appealing.

Release of Genesis was delayed until each of the Genesis members had released their own solo albums. This timing sparked a rumor that Genesis was to be the group’s last album. Michael Rutherford, in an Associated Press interview, denies the rumor by saying that the solo projects were necessary. “One of the interesting things about our situation is that we’re the first band to have gone off and done endless individual ventures yet stayed together... We’re not disinterested. It’s just that if you’re not working, you have a constant Interests on your mind; you think, ‘What’s going to happen to me?’”

Worse yet, Steve Hackett is to go to the studio to record his first solo album. He plans to release it later in the year. Genesis is the exception to the rule, and divided they stand.

The album cover of Genesis

By Peter Gabriel left the group in 1975, make him the center of attention on this album. In fact, the entire work shows more keyboards than drums this time, with some very nice work by Banks.

Genesis has ever put out, but the variety of sounds makes it appealing. Release of Genesis was delayed until each of the Genesis members had released their own solo albums. This timing sparked a rumor that Genesis was to be the group’s last album. Michael Rutherford, in an Associated Press interview, denies the rumor by saying that the solo projects were necessary. “One of the interesting things about our situation is that we’re the first band to have gone off and done endless individual ventures yet stayed together... We’re not disinterested. It’s just that if you’re not working, you have a constant Interests on your mind; you think, ‘What’s going to happen to me?’”

Worse yet, Steve Hackett is to go to the studio to record his first solo album. He plans to release it later in the year. Genesis is the exception to the rule, and divided they stand.

The album cover of Genesis

By Peter Gabriel left the group in 1975, make him the center of attention on this album. In fact, the entire work shows more keyboards than drums this time, with some very nice work by Banks.

Genesis has ever put out, but the variety of sounds makes it appealing. Release of Genesis was delayed until each of the Genesis members had released their own solo albums. This timing sparked a rumor that Genesis was to be the group’s last album. Michael Rutherford, in an Associated Press interview, denies the rumor by saying that the solo projects were necessary. “One of the interesting things about our situation is that we’re the first band to have gone off and done endless individual ventures yet stayed together... We’re not disinterested. It’s just that if you’re not working, you have a constant Interests on your mind; you think, ‘What’s going to happen to me?’”

Worse yet, Steve Hackett is to go to the studio to record his first solo album. He plans to release it later in the year. Genesis is the exception to the rule, and divided they stand.
Sports Briefs

The ND Lacrosse team will have a mandatory practice today at 3 p.m. in the ACC Fieldhouse. This is different from the time and place that was announced in yesterday’s paper. — The Observer

Advanced Lifesaving will be offered Saturday afternoons from 12:30 at the Rockne Memorial Pool. Classes will begin Saturday, January 28, and will run for seven weeks. For more information, call Sharon Ashley at 277-8460. — The Observer

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes will be meeting tonight in the room 20 of Hayes-Healy. All are welcome to attend. — The Observer

Lifesaving and Water Safety instructor Courses will be offered at the Rockne Pool at the following times: 9-10:45, 10:45-12:30, 1-3:15 and 2:15-4 p.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, 11:05-12:05, 12:20-2:05 on Tuesdays and Thursdays, and 10:35-11:35 on Tuesdays. Water Safety instructor classes will be held from 9 a.m. to noon. There will be a charge of $40 for materials for Lifesaving classes and a $20 charge for Water Safety materials. For more information, call Brother Louis Hurick, C.S.C. at 259-6321. — The Observer

Workouts for the 54th Bengal Bouts have begun and will continue throughout the semester leading up to the fights. Perino at 3348, Tom Lezynski at 1728, or Mike Latz at 8508. — The Observer

Acrobics classes will begin today for both students and faculty. A fast-paced session will be offered at 4 p.m. on weekdays, and a slower-paced session from 5:15-5:55 p.m. Cost for students is $3 for 1.5 sets of tae and $5 for 27 sessions, while faculty prices are $12 and $22 for 15 and 27 sessions, respectively. Fees should be brought to the first session at the ACC Gym. Lockers are available, and both men and women are welcome. — The Observer

If you want to ski cross-country but don’t have any skis, the NVA office is renting skis throughout the day. Skis must be reserved in advance. Call 259-6000. — The Observer

Stresschrc exercises will be given by the NVA on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7:30 to 8:15 in the Auditory Gym of the ACC. The classes start tomorrow, and will emphasize stretching and light exercise. The classes are designed for faculty and staff who have not been active recently. If you have any questions, call 259-6690. — The Observer

Women’s fastpitch softball will begin practice tomorrow, January 25 at 7:30 p.m. at the ACC Fieldhouse by Gate 5. If there are any questions, call Chris Callahan at 7387 or Mary Georges at 6868. — The Observer

The ND Karate Club will have its first practice of the spring semester tomorrow night in the fencing gym of the ACC at 7 p.m. New members are encouraged to attend. — The Observer

An agility and quickness program will begin Monday, January 30. The workout will include quickness and agility drills along with stretching exercises. Sessions will be held on Mondays and Thursdays from 4 to 6 p.m. If you plan on participating, please attend the first meeting on Monday in the ACC Pits. — The Observer

The Notre Dame-Davidson game will be broadcast tonight on 750-AM. Vin Guglielmo and Bill Dempsey will do the play-by-play show. The broadcast will begin at 7:30. — The Observer

The ND Martial Arts Institute will have its first season of the spring semester tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. in the LaFortune Little Theater. New players are encouraged to attend. No experience is necessary. Contact Geoff Brammang (3665) for more information. The guest speaker will be Dr. Matt Zapf. — The Observer

The Notre Dame Rugby Club will hold an organizational meeting for the spring semester tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in room 219. Limited new membership will be given on a first-come, first-serve basis. If you have any questions, call 1384 or 3037. — The Observer

Sims trial scheduled for today

Associated Press

DETOUR — The trial to determine where Billy Sims will continue his professional football career begins in federal court today with Franchises in rival leagues claiming his services. U.S. District Judge Robert E. DeMascio will try to determine if the Detroit Lions of the National Football League or moves to the Houston Gamblers of the United States Football League. The trial, which has been set for 2 p.m., has signed five year contracts with each. Sims signed a $3.5 million contract with the Gamblers on July 1 and an undated agreement Nov. 12, the USFL team said. He got $197,608 in July as part of a $1 million signing bonus, the Gamblers said. He also signed a $1.6 million pact with the Lions Dec. 16, that team said. Sims were signed in various contracts both with the Lions and in Texas, but they eventually landed in federal court at the request of both parties because of the geographical diversity of the principals. The basic split has been split into two parts. One the question of contract Sims must honor. Then, if DeMascio decides that the Lions' contract, the Lions will be able to the same is true, a separate trial to determine whether Argos and the Gamblers owe the lions damages. But for now the question of contracts in the case is undecided.

Elbert Hatchett, Sims' attorney, said that the case is a 'daily and a half. Attorneys for the Gamblers, however, feel it could last up to five weeks. Hatchett said that he would call Sims, Argos, and "who people were present when the contracts were signed."
L.A. homecoming

Raiders celebrate Super Bowl win

Associated Press

LOS ANGELES — Los Angeles residents, who created the Raiders with casual indifference during most of their two years here, turned out in force yesterday to honor the Super Bowl champions.

A crowd put at 25,000 to 30,000 greeted members of the team during a noontime rally on the steps of City Hall in downtown.

"This magnificent team has brought the city together like never before in history," Mayor Tom Bradley said. "...Sunday's victory was a clear demonstration of a commitment to excellence."

The Raiders — 22 players at tended the civic celebration under clear skies and warm weather — were given keys to the city and proclamations from the City Council and the county Board of Supervisors. The crowd jammed onto a lawn outside City Hall and others watched the festivities from nearby office buildings — both from inside and on rooftops.

Three popular Raiders spoke to the crowd, many dressed in the team's colors of silver and black.

"I am in love with Los Angeles," said running back Marcus Allen, the Super Bowl MVP. "I'm extremely excited to have everyone here to celebrate the world championship we brought back to L.A. The L.A. Raiders are here to stay."

Allen, who gained a Super Bowl record 191 yards in Sunday's 38-9 victory over the Washington Redskins in Super Bowl XVIII, was the crowd favorite. The former Heisman Trophy winner from the University of Southern California was serenaded by that school's marching band, which entertained before the ceremony.

Defensive lineman (lyle Alzado, who symbolizes the Raiders spirit more than any other player, told the crowd he had been waiting a long time for a championship.

"It's a great experience," he said. "There's nothing like a world championship. Enjoy the world champ-

pionship."

Derrick Jensen, who scored the first touchdown Sunday after blocking a Redskins punt, said the title was "a result of the drive and dedication of (owner) Al Davis and (coach) Tom Flores."

Davis did not attend yesterday's celebration, but Flores did.

"This (the crowd's response) is unbelievable," said Flores, who has guided the club to two Super Bowl titles in four years. "The excitement of this crowd showed in our locker room every day. We have taken over Los Angeles as our home."

Rich Marotta, a Raiders' radio announcer and emcee for the celebration, quoted police as saying the crowd was the largest ever to honor one of the city's championship sports teams.

The crowd interrupted Bradley when he tried to introduce political figures, chanting "Raiders! Raiders! Raiders!"

Bradley suggested last week that the NFL should give Oakland an expansion team to replace the Raiders, who moved here two years ago after a bitter court fight that still is being waged.

Yesterday's crowd made it clear the town's sports fans certainly want the Raiders go without a struggle.

Continued from page 8

...Briefs

continued from page 8

The Observer

Wednesday, January 25, 1983 — page 9

NBA Standings

Associated Press

The two-year NROTC Scholarship Program offers you a two-year college scholarship that's worth as much as $20,000 in tuition. And it offers you the challenge of becoming a Navy officer with early responsibilities and decision-making authority.

During college, the Navy pays tuition, cost of textbooks, instructional fees, and an allowance of $100 a month up to 20 months during your last two years of college. Upon graduation and completion of all requirements, you are commissioned a Navy officer.

THE NROTC COLLEGE PROGRAM.

$2,000 EXPENSE MONEY AND A NAVY OFFICER COMMISSION.

The two-year NROTC College Program offers you two years of expense money that's worth up to $2,000 plus the challenge of becoming a Navy Officer with early responsibilities and decision-making authority.

During your last two years in college the Navy pays for uniforms, NROTC textbooks and an allowance of $100 a month up to 20 months. Upon graduation and completion of requirements, you become a Navy Officer, with important decision-making responsibilities.

If you have a C Plus GPA or better, call us now as scholarship opportunities have never been better. Ask for LCDR Northam at 259-7274 or 259-6442, or stop by the NROTC building on the Notre Dame campus.
The Observer

Notre Dame plans matchup with Longhorns in future

Associated Press

HOUSTON — Athletic directors at collegiate football powers Notre Dame and Texas are trying to schedule a home-and-home series, probably in the mid-1990s.

Gene (Notre Dame Athletic Director Gene Corrigan) and I have talked about it several times, and every time we talk about it, it’s a better deal,” Texas Athletic Director DeLoss Dodds told the Houston Chronicle yesterday.

“We’re going to happen,” Corrigan said. “We’ve talked at length about it and we have decided that we are going to do it.

The two teams have met eight times previously, with Notre Dame winning six of the contests.

Texas will replace Penn State on an Irish schedule while which already includes football powerhouses Michigan, Michigan State, Southern Alabama, and Pittsburg, according to Corrigan.

“There’s no way we’re going to play Penn State and Texas in the same season, not with the other tough games we have,” he said.

continued from page 12

wrestled well in defeat for the Irish. The 154-pounder lost a close match, 10-8.

“I was very impressed with Louis,” praised Toth-Fejel. “He fought hard throughout the match, and gave it his all.

The New Year opened on a pleasant note for the Irish with wins against Stetson and Central Florida in a tri-meet at Defend, Fla., on January 2.

The Irish, paced by eight wins, destroyed Stetson 35-6, and Stetson received six of their points because Notre Dame failed to enter a heavyweight wrestler.

Luke DiBartolo, a 142-pound softhammer, and Carnesale pinned their opponents. Freshman David Helfman was also impressive, beating his opponent, 13-3, for a superior decision.

Central Florida proved to be a tougher opponent for the Irish as they won by only eight points, 27-19. Junior Mike Gardeski, who sparked Notre Dame’s win with a pin at the 1:50 mark of his match.

Next weekend’s schedule for the wrestling team was a match with Georgia Tech and Louisiana State at Atlanta. The wins at this tri-meet boosted the team’s record to a lofty 12-3.

Against Tech, sophomore Glenn Giogas paced through with a pin, and once again Carnesale came through admirably with a major decision.

Eric Crown, a 126-pound sohhammer, also won with a major decision in Notre Dame’s 29-19 triumph.

Two pins by Buty and Giogas helped secure an Irish victory against a much weaker Olivet Nazarene, 41-9.

The New Year didn’t prove to be all good, however, and the luck of the Irish couldn’t help Notre Dame against Arizona State and Indiana State in Tecre-Hauser on January 10.

The Irish dropped two straight with a 57-6 loss to ISU and a 55-7 loss to Arizona State.

Mama Marriott’s

Wednesday Night Italian Buffet

Starting January 11th

Every Wednesday it’s Mama Marriott’s Italian Buffet in the Looking Glass Restaurant.

A “lean, green” army of antipasta, minestrone, fettuccine, cacciatore, lasagne, pasta with four sauces, cheese, breads and desserts.

It’s all served up in a festive Italian atmosphere — checkered table cloths, a stainless steel, — the works.

Every Wednesday

5:00 p.m. - 10:00 p.m.

All you can eat for $9.50.

Children under 12 $4.75.

Reservations appreciated.

SOUTH BEND Marriott

123 S. St. Joseph St., South Bend, Indiana (219) 234-2000

$1.00 Off

Each adult’s Wednesday night Mama Marriott Italian Buffet purchase.

One coupon per table only.

SOUTH BEND MARriott

123 S. St. Joseph St., South Bend (219) 234-2000

Aerospace Engineering

Georgia Institute of Technology

Major areas of graduate study and research (M.S. & Ph.D.):

Aerodynamics and Flight Mechanics

Aeromechanics

Computational Fluid Dynamics

Aerodynamics

Computer-Aided Design

Aerothermodynamics

Propulsion

Aeroelasticity

Structural Dynamics

Design Optimization

Structural Dynamics

Structural Dynamics

Structural Components

Individual Tuition & Fees are $1,452 per calendar year.

Total financial aid per calendar year:

$11,452 Center of Excellence in Rotary Wing Aircraft

Fellowships

$14,452 Lockheed/Georgia Tech Research Assistantships

$ 7,500+ Research Assistantships

$10,000+

All graduate students will participate in research.

For further information, contact:

Dr. A.L. Ducote, Director

School of Aerospace Engineering

Georgia Institute of Technology

Atlanta, Georgia 30332

(404) 385-3000

Wednesday, January 25, 1983 — page 10
Bloom County

Attention everyone! I'm looking for any interesting caricatures with a white thumb, big mouth, even and a square smile. Don't panic!"

Mellish

"Hi, I'm Cathy. I'm Cathy's father."

Powerless

"I need you to help me solve this mystery on my part of town."

Abominate

"I'll never hear that song again."

Wind

"I'm UNOFFICIAL FOR MY PARTY."

Celebes

"And a denial of area for area.""Aspen, Ft. Lauderdale & Miami, I'M FREE AND I HAVE TO GO."

Bottom

"People? Gee, I wish we'd check the thing chart more often.""Landing place for ships."

Guion

Richard Guion

The Far Side

Gary Larson

TV Tonight

6 p.m. 16 NewsCenter 16
20 Eyewitness News
22 Empire
22 Wednesday Night Movie
28 Dynasty
34 The Sailor's Return

7 p.m. 16 Barney Miller
22 Family Feud
28 Wheel of Fortune
34 Straight Talk
16 Red People
22 Domestic Life
28 Full Fat
34 A Walk Through the 20th Century

8:30 p.m. 22 Empire
9 p.m. 16 Facts of Life
22 Wednesday Night Movie
28 Dynasty
34 The Sailor's Return
9:30 p.m. 16 Family Ties
10 p.m. 16 St. Elsewhere
28 Hotel
11 p.m. 16 NewsCenter 16
22 Eyewitness News
28 Newsweek 20
34 Indiana Lawmakers
11:30 p.m. 16 Tonight Show
22 Police Story/ CBS Late Movie
28 Thick of the Night

Campus

Lunch and Dinner — World Hunger Coalition, Wednesday Lunch Fast Sign Ups

6:30 p.m. — Computer Minicourse, Introduction to Computing, Room 115 CCMB

7 p.m. — Dance Class, Ballet, Spring Semester Session, Holy Cross Hall Party Room, ND, Sponsored by Abiogenesis Dance Collective, $10

7:30 p.m. — Dance Rehearsal, Holy Cross Hall Party Room, ND, Sponsored by Abiogenesis Dance Collective

8 p.m. — Film, "Heaven Can Wait," Engineering Auditorium, Sponsored by Student Union, #1

TV Tonight

6:30 p.m. 16 NBC Nightly News
22 CBS News
28 ABC's World News Tonight
34 Contemporary Health Issues

7:30 p.m. 16 Barney Miller
22 Family Feud
28 Wheel of Fortune
34 Straight Talk
16 Red People
22 Domestic Life
28 Full Fat
34 A Walk Through the 20th Century

8:30 p.m. 22 Empire
9 p.m. 16 Facts of Life
22 Wednesday Night Movie
28 Dynasty
34 The Sailor's Return
9:30 p.m. 16 Family Ties
10 p.m. 16 St. Elsewhere
28 Hotel
11 p.m. 16 NewsCenter 16
22 Eyewitness News
28 Newsweek 20
34 Indiana Lawmakers
11:30 p.m. 16 Tonight Show
22 Police Story/ CBS Late Movie
28 Thick of the Night

The Daily Crossword

ACROSS
1 Landing place for ships
30 African
34 "Deutsch-
35 Sediment
38 Words of denial
39 Grief
41 Abominate
42 Interlace
44 "Bus as --
45 "Got (choice of words)
46 Radical
48 Morling about
50 Ham it up
52 Everything
26 Fruit tree
30 African
34 "Deutsch-
35 Sediment
38 Words of denial
41 Abominate
42 Interlace
44 "Bus as --
45 "Got (choice of words)
46 Radical
48 Morling about
50 Ham it up
52 Everything
28 Fearless
31 Guam capital
32 Once --,
33 Warn
36 Appear
40 Precide
43 Al- reer
47 Connecting line
48 Muslim clerical group
51 Sherry and
52 Muslim leader
54 Nothing to 200
55 Sk in
56 "Cla de-"
57 Arabian golf
58 Following
60 Hawaiian island
61 Military group
62 Ben Arthur role
64 Ford person
66 "-smile be your..."
67 Neck hair
68 Chop
69 Down
71 Cash
72 "Clai de-"
73 Muslim leader
74 Arabic -
75 Following
76 Following
78 Following
80 Following
82 Sunburn

Down
11 Mistletoe
13 Omp
14 Tolar
15 Or 16 Mary
17 Siro
25 "Nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a nap a
Sports

Digger Phelps will be looking to Tom Slaby, who is averaging almost 20 points per game, to help lead the Notre Dame basketball team past Davidson College tonight at the ACC. For more on tonight's matchup between the Wildcats and the Irish, see Phil Wolf's story below.

Notre Dame looking to gain some revenge against Davidson tonight

By PHIL WOLF
Sports Writer

The time has come to turn the tables.

One year ago, the Notre Dame men's basketball team was upset in overtime, 94-91, by Davidson College in the NCAA tournament.

Tonight, the Wildcats will be at the Athletic and Convocation Center, so the Irish will have an opportunity to even that televised upset. Tipoff is scheduled for 8 p.m.

The contest, which will be broadcasted on MetroSports and ESPN, is the fourth of six straight home games for Notre Dame.

The Irish are coming off an impressive victory over Villanova last Saturday and a rather unimpressive win over Rice on Monday. This Saturday, Notre Dame will face fifth-ranked Maryland, but Head Coach Digger Phelps insisted Monday night that he is playing the games one at a time.

"We're only thinking about Davidson," Phelps said. "They beat us in overtime down there last year. Believe me, we're thinking about Davidson and not Maryland."

According to Wildcat Head Coach Bobby Hussey, last year's victory was a case of experience triumphing over youth.

"I don't think that last year's win was that decisive," Hussey says. "But we were good as a group simply because we had experience and we could execute our offense and defense well."

The key to the game for the Irish will be stopping that one senior - forward Ken Wilson.

Wilson, who is averaging 18.8 points per game this year, scored 17 points in last year's game.

Hussey says he is aware that Wilson must play well if the Wildcats are to fare well in the ACC tournament.

"We really haven't had very much consistency to go with Ken," says the Davidson coach. "He's our senior and he normally plays well. As a general rule, he plays his better games against better people. I hope that's true again (tonight)."

"It's been kind of like going into it with a gun in your hand and trying to figure out who is going to play well along with Kenny. That's about the story of our season."

Last Saturday, Villanova came to the ACC with a high-scoring forward, but the Irish held that player - Ed Pinckney - to only five points. Hussey says he is concerned that Wilson may be shut down by the Irish in a similar manner.

"They definitely have the ability to do that (shut down Wilson)," he laments. "Especially with the fact that Kenny is 6-4, and they're going to try to use him to the front line at 6-10, 6-9, and 6-8."

The big men Hussey refers to are Ken Barlow, Tim Kempton, and Jim Dolan, respectively. These are the Notre Dame players who will have to contain Wilson.

Also in the Irish lineup should be captain Tom Hanan. Mullin says that Hanan has averaged nearly 20 points per game in the last eight games, and John Buc. Hanan.

Helping our Wilson on the front line will be sophomores Gerry Born and Jim McCorkery. Sophomore Pepper Bogo and freshman Caryl Dowson are expected to start in the backcourt for the Wildcats.

Irish Items

Steve Perry's Irish Scoop: Pepper Bogo has made the most of his opportunities this season. He's averaging 11.3 points per game and providing a spark off the bench.

Sports Writer

Record now 13-3 Wrestlers split pair at tri-meet

By JOE BRUNNETTI Sports Writer

Following a recent coaching change, the Notre Dame wrestling team seems to be full of renewed excitement and spirit.

This change in team spirit was evidenced last night at the ACC. The Irish took on Davidson in a tri-meet against Indiana University and Wisconsin Parkside.

The Irish wrestler commented on the new team spirit saying, "We're very motivated now."

The wrestler was referring to the marked change in the motivation of the team since the appointment of Tilman Tosh-Fejt as interim mentor of the Irish. This new spirit was definitely evidenced in Notre Dame's surprising defeat of IU, 25-11.

The Irish fought Parkside to the end, losing 21-20 with a loss in the final match of the evening.

Tosh-Fejt was quite pleased with his team's performance. "I expected to be blanked out by both schools," said Tosh-Fejt. "But our guys were up for it, and they really wrestled well."

Freshman Greg Fleming opened the evening with excitement by using his thumbs opponent, with an escape at the end of the match. Phil Barry also had a good win for the Irish in his 5-2 win.

"Phil wrestled really well," commented Tosh-Fejt. He had lost to his opponent a couple times before, but this time he won. I was very pleased with his performance."

Kevin Stavel-O'Carroll, in the 150-pound division, also wrestled extremely well, providing the Irish with 3 team points in his 4-0 deficit of IU opponent.

"Kevin was impressive," praised Tosh-Fejt. "He has an unorthodox style, but it works and he gets the job done."

The match against Parkside was a hammer-blow, as evidenced by the closeness of the score. In fact, it went down to the last match of the night - the 143-pound class.

Before the match Notre Dame led Parkside, 20-18, and the visitors needed a win from their wrestler to win the team competition.

Notre Dame freshman Scott Bussan wrestled for the Irish, and he took it down to the wire, losing 5-5.

The New York resident fought an uphill battle the whole match. He was behind for most of the period, and almost won by getting a take down at the end of the third period, but fell one point short as time ran out.

Junior Louis Carovale also saw WRESTLING, page 10

Basketball team ready for important games

Chuck Freeby
Sports Writer

Hello again, everybody.

After winning nine of their last 11 games, it can truly be said that Digger Phelps and the Fighting Irish basketball team are the hottest thing on the Notre Dame campus right now (including the weather and the dining hall food). Talk already is circulating about the Irish going to the NCAA tournament for the first time in March, but optimism should be guarded. There's no doubt this Notre Dame team is capable of getting into the field of 65, but with the toughest part of the schedule ahead, the Irish might have to take things one step at a time.

Two big steps towards the NCAA tournament come this week as the Irish face Davidson tonight, before taking on fifth-ranked Maryland Saturday afternoon. Forget about Davidson's dismal 6-10 record. The Wildcats weren't that bad last year in the ACC when they upset the Irish in Charlotte, so Phelps is certainly not looking past tonight's game in the ACC. On the other hand, Davidson is one of the best teams in the country this year and they enter Saturday's matchup with a 15-2 record. However, this series has developed into a great rivalry over the years, so the outcome of this game will be an expectation to the nip-and-tuck contests of the past decade.

How about Howard? ... One of the main reasons for the improved play of the Irish is the acquisition of point guard Howard. "Small Wonder" has made a huge impact on the court in fine fashion, sparking the Irish offense in a reserve role. While he is averaging only nine points per game, his contribution has come in his quickness and ball-handling abilities, where he has already shown an uncanny knack for driving the lane and finding the open man. Phelps remains only one game away, but his name is sure to be on the lips of every basketball fan these days.

Tracing the Terps ... Whether you like him or not, you have to admire Maryland's colorful coach Lefty Biasetti. The man has won his first division, also wrestled for the Wildcats. The match against Notre Dame led all the way, winning 88-52 in fine fashion, sparking the Irish offense in a reserve role. While he is averaging only nine points per game, his contribution has come in his quickness and ball-handling abilities, where he has already shown an uncanny knack for driving the lane and finding the open man. Howard's play will be a huge issue, but the indoor track of the ACC is the acquisition of point guard Howard. "Small Wonder" has made a huge impact on the court in fine fashion, sparking the Irish offense in a reserve role. While he is averaging only nine points per game, his contribution has come in his quickness and ball-handling abilities, where he has already shown an uncanny knack for driving the lane and finding the open man. Phelps remains only one game away, but his name is sure to be on the lips of every basketball fan these days.

The Wildcats weren't that good last season when they upset the Irish in his first season. The most striking aspect of this year's Maryland team is the fact they can hurt you anywhere from the floor. Forward Ken Pinckney scores the with a 14.8 average, but he is closely followed by center Ben Coleman (2nd leading in the ACC). The team is balanced, but the Indoor Track of the ACC is the acquisition of point guard Howard. "Small Wonder" has made a huge impact on the court in fine fashion, sparking the Irish offense in a reserve role. While he is averaging only nine points per game, his contribution has come in his quickness and ball-handling abilities, where he has already shown an uncanny knack for driving the lane and finding the open man. Phelps remains only one game away, but his name is sure to be on the lips of every basketball fan these days.

The Terps don't stop in the forecourt, though, as 6-8 guard Adrian Branch will provide the Irish defense with some difficulties matching up on defense. He and backcourt mate Jeff Adams also average in double figures, giving the Terrapins plenty of scoring guns to aim at the Irish. Hopefully, Notre Dame will be able to dodge the bullet in front of the NBC cameras on Saturday.

Irish Scoop Scoop ... If you have seen the last few games, I don't really need to tell you how well the Irish will be doing this year. Coach Cforcett's acquisition of point guard Tom Stuby. The Irish captain is doing a fine job of leading by example, averaging nearly 16 points a game. However, the nature of Washington, D.C. is that back courts has a tough road to top. The Irish front-line has started to impress over the past decade. The Irish are certainly not looking past tonight's game in the ACC. On the other hand, Davidson is one of the best teams in the country this year and they enter Saturday's matchup with a 15-2 record. However, this series has developed into a great rivalry over the years, so the outcome of this game will be an expectation to the nip-and-tuck contests of the past decade.

The problems don't stop in the forecourt, though, as 6-8 guard Adrian Branch will provide the Irish defense with some difficulties matching up on defense. He and backcourt mate Jeff Adams also average in double figures, giving the Terrapins plenty of scoring guns to aim at the Irish. Hopefully, Notre Dame will be able to dodge the bullet in front of the NBC cameras on Saturday.

Irish Scoop Scoop ... If you have seen the last few games, I don't really need to tell you how well the Irish will be doing this year. Coach Cforcett's acquisition of point guard Tom Stuby. The Irish captain is doing a fine job of leading by example, averaging nearly 16 points a game. However, the nature of Washington, D.C. is that back courts has a tough road to top. The Irish front-line has started to impress over the past decade. The Irish are certainly not looking past tonight's game in the ACC. On the other hand, Davidson is one of the best teams in the country this year and they enter Saturday's matchup with a 15-2 record. However, this series has developed into a great rivalry over the years, so the outcome of this game will be an expectation to the nip-and-tuck contests of the past decade.