Chernenko becomes 10th president of U.S.S.R.

Associated Press

MOSCOW — A triumphant Konstantin Chernenko became the Soviet Union's 10th president yesterday, giving him the top three leadership posts and a stature equal to that of his two predecessors.

Chernenko, 72, has been Communist Party secretary general, the most powerful position in the Soviet Union, since after the Feb. 9 death of leader Yuri Andropov. He also took over as chairman of the Defense Council.

He smiled broadly, waved and clapped his hands over his head when the joint session of the 1,500-member Parliament voted to also make him president.

"I certainly realize the great responsibility of the duties and powers connected with my position," he said in a brief acceptance speech. "We now, more than ever, need to work to improve the economy and the living conditions of the Soviet people."

Looking tanned and fit, he pledged to pursue a foreign policy of "constant activity, firmness, consistence in the search for ways to sensible accord. It is directed at overcoming international tension, ensuring security, our interests in the world arena, and upholding peace throughout the world."

The vote was unanimous as usual. As in all other actions of the Supreme Soviet, the nation's nominal parliament, it reflected the thinking of the 12-man ruling Politburo.

Chernenko's rise to the presidency was smoother than that of Andropov, who became president seven months after assuming the party leadership post.

The practice of having the Communist Party leader also serve as president was established by Leonid I. Brezhnev, Andropov's predecessor, who took over as Communist Party leader in 1964 and added the presidency in 1977. Brezhnev died in 1982.

The president, formally chairman of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet, serves as chief of state.

The Board of Regents will meet Saturday morning for the reports of the several committees and to approve the budgets of the committees.

Regents will attend a black tie dinner of the MADELEVA Society in the Stapleton Lounge of LeMans Hall Saturday night.

The wait continues - page 7
A coalition of Democrats and three Midwest Republicans maintained a slim majority yesterday in fighting off efforts in the House Energy and Commerce Committee to derail legislation aimed at forcing natural gas prices down next winter. The bill, passed overwhelmingly by Rep. Philip Sharp, D-Ind., and lobbied for heavily by consumer and labor groups, would cap prices on several categories of gas that, under a 1978 law, would otherwise be deregulated next January. — AP

If seasonal trends hold true, Indiana's employment figures are likely to continue rising from February's heartening figures. The Indiana Employment Security Division said preliminary figures show unemployment in the Hoosier state totaled 11 percent in February, a drop of 0.5 percent from last February, and a decrease of 1 percent from the previous month, the division reported yesterday. But Indiana was still above national figures. The national seasonally-adjusted unemployment rate in February was 8.6 percent. The seasonally adjusted figures show Indiana with a 10.4 percent unemployment rate, compared with 7.9 percent nationally. — AP

Five aerial nuclear bombs exploded over Indiana yesterday and two military installations were wiped out in a simulation conducted by the Indiana Department of Highways. Officials from the state Department of Highways were already in the neighborhood yesterday when the "attack" took place. Civil defense and police across the state were already assessing the damage. Shortly after the simulation began around 1:30 p.m. Gene Gallimore, director of the Indiana Department of Highways, smiled as he announced to department personnel that "Indiana has been hit." The series was conducted with federal funds and with the help of federal highway officials in an effort to determine the effect on the state's transportation system of a nuclear attack in the state. — AP

Attorneys don't expect charges to be filed in an incident in which former Center Township Assessor Henry Bayt shot an employee in his office and was escorted from the city-county building. The assessment center when the "attack" took place, Civil defense and police across the state were already assessing the damage. Shortly after the simulation began around 1:30 p.m. Gene Gallimore, director of the Indiana Department of Highways, smiled as he announced to department personnel that "Indiana has been hit." The series was conducted with federal funds and with the help of federal highway officials in an effort to determine the effect on the state's transportation system of a nuclear attack in the state. — AP

Camera Butz's fingerprints aren't famous yet, but they soon will be after they are seen in stores around Indianapolis. A month from now, the whorls, loops and papillary ridges on the 4-year-old third-grader's thumbs will be featuring in a race car championship. Others will be looking to know the dog riding in a hatchback under a hot-air balloon and roller skating. Cameron's fingerprints are featured on 500 colorful "Thumbing Special" posters promoting the Indianapolis 500 Festival's May 5 Children's Day activities. Making 500 of the thumbprints on children doing some of the things they'll be doing during Children's Day was the winning idea in the Festival's first poster contest. — AP

Cameron Butz's thumbprints aren't famous yet, but they soon will be after they are seen in stores around Indianapolis. A month from now, the whorls, loops and papillary ridges on the 4-year-old third-grader's thumbs will be featuring in a race car championship. Others will be looking to know the dog riding in a hatchback under a hot-air balloon and roller skating. Cameron's fingerprints are featured on 500 colorful "Thumbing Special" posters promoting the Indianapolis 500 Festival's May 5 Children's Day activities. Making 500 of the thumbprints on children doing some of the things they'll be doing during Children's Day was the winning idea in the Festival's first poster contest. — AP

Cameron Butz's thumbprints aren't famous yet, but they soon will be after they are seen in stores around Indianapolis. A month from now, the whorls, loops and papillary ridges on the 4-year-old third-grader's thumbs will be featuring in a race car championship. Others will be looking to know the dog riding in a hatchback under a hot-air balloon and roller skating. Cameron's fingerprints are featured on 500 colorful "Thumbing Special" posters promoting the Indianapolis 500 Festival's May 5 Children's Day activities. Making 500 of the thumbprints on children doing some of the things they'll be doing during Children's Day was the winning idea in the Festival's first poster contest. — AP

In Brief

Wait a second before you say a new alcohol policy is unfounded

Mark Potter
Copy Editor

Inside Thursday

The Observer/Saint Mary's Dance Theatre presents: La Fete Mal Gardée (The Unchaperoned Daughter) Adapted and choreographed by Dedra S. Stohl to be taken at a Catholic university. Drunkenness, some claim, is immoral in that it can cause people to take immoral actions they normally would not take. Many overlook the fact that there is a lot of alcohol abuse on campus. Look around and see if you don't know at least one person who could be categorized as an alcoholic. The administration touches rules on the use of alcohol will somehow reduce alcohol abuse on campus. If this is true, there is some justification for a new alcohol policy.

The lack of social function on campus without alcohol and the superfluity of social functions where alcohol consumption is encouraged are other reasons for a change. Currently few social activities on campus are held without alcohol and these are often not well attended. A more stringent alcohol policy may increase the number and popularity of non-alcoholic social functions.

Although the current policy is an intelligent treat­ment of students and alcohol, the University seems to feel that for these and other reasons it should be changed. Students should not lie down and meekly ac­cept the current policy when the new policy does come out, but they should keep in mind the reasons behind the changes the administration will probably make.

The views expressed in the Inside column are the views of the author, and do not neces­sarily reflect the views of the editorial board or staff.

Less sun but less cold today with partly cloudy skies and mild temperatures today with a low near 50 and a high near 60. A mix of sun and clouds will be present tonight. Low in upper 40s and low 50s. Showers likely and cooler tomorrow. High in low to mid 50s. — AP

The Observer

Weather

Notre Dame in Review, 1983-84 will be shown today at 2:30 and 4 in the Center for Continuing Education Auditorium. The 40-minute videotape is a pilot project to deter­mine whether there is a market among Notre Dame alumni clubs, as well as attending students, faculty and their parents, for such an annual review. An alumni news-anchor team, Mike Collins and Anne Thompson, appear on a specially designed set and act as hosts in introducing story segments. — The Observer

"Notre Dame in Review, 1983-84" will be shown today at 2:30 and 4 in the Center for Continuing Education Auditorium. The 40-minute videotape is a pilot project to determine whether there is a market among Notre Dame alumni clubs, as well as attending students, faculty and their parents, for such an annual review. An alumni news-anchor team, Mike Collins and Anne Thompson, appear on a specially designed set and act as hosts in introducing story segments. — The Observer

Of Interest

Our View

Alcohol and the superfluity of social functions where alcohol consumption is encouraged are other reasons for change. Currently few social activities on campus are held without alcohol and these are often not well attended. A more stringent alcohol policy may increase the number and popularity of non-alcoholic social functions.

Although the current policy is an intelligent treatment of students and alcohol, the University seems to feel that for these and other reasons it should be changed. Students should not lie down and meekly accept the current policy when the new policy does come out, but they should keep in mind the reasons behind the changes the administration will probably make.

The views expressed in the Inside column are the views of the author, and do not necessarily reflect the views of the editorial board or staff.

Less sun but less cold today with partly cloudy skies and mild temperatures today with a low near 50 and a high near 60. A mix of sun and clouds will be present tonight. Low in upper 40s and low 50s. Showers likely and cooler tomorrow. High in low to mid 50s. — AP

The Observer

Weather

Notre Dame in Review, 1983-84 will be shown today at 2:30 and 4 in the Center for Continuing Education Auditorium. The 40-minute videotape is a pilot project to determine whether there is a market among Notre Dame alumni clubs, as well as attending students, faculty and their parents, for such an annual review. An alumni news-anchor team, Mike Collins and Anne Thompson, appear on a specially designed set and act as hosts in introducing story segments. — The Observer

"Notre Dame in Review, 1983-84" will be shown today at 2:30 and 4 in the Center for Continuing Education Auditorium. The 40-minute videotape is a pilot project to determine whether there is a market among Notre Dame alumni clubs, as well as attending students, faculty and their parents, for such an annual review. An alumni news-anchor team, Mike Collins and Anne Thompson, appear on a specially designed set and act as hosts in introducing story segments. — The Observer

Of Interest

Our View

Alcohol and the superfluity of social functions where alcohol consumption is encouraged are other reasons for change. Currently few social activities on campus are held without alcohol and these are often not well attended. A more stringent alcohol policy may increase the number and popularity of non-alcoholic social functions.

Although the current policy is an intelligent treatment of students and alcohol, the University seems to feel that for these and other reasons it should be changed. Students should not lie down and meekly accept the current policy when the new policy does come out, but they should keep in mind the reasons behind the changes the administration will probably make.

The views expressed in the Inside column are the views of the author, and do not necessarily reflect the views of the editorial board or staff.
Come sail away
Two sailboats glide across St. Joseph's lake yesterday afternoon. The lakes, a popular spot for many students to escape from the pressures of school, are put to good use by these enterprising students who took advantage of the sailing club's boats at the first sign of clear skies and a steady breeze.

Mondale shirks front-runner label
By MARY JACOBY and TRIPP BALITZ
Staff Reporters
The Associated Press

The race for the Democratic presidential nomination slowed to a crawl yesterday after 51 topsy-turvy days that left things pretty much as they started. Walter Mondale ahead and sounding optimistic and chief challenger Gary Hart promising a second half filled with long bombs. Hart opposed that plan.

The Austrian Consul General for the Midwest, Dr. Hans Sabaditsch, addressed freshmen enrolled in the In- House Foreign Study Program on Monday.

Sabaditsch said foreign exchange programs like Notre Dame's are beneficial for both countries. Many Austrian students, he said, are eager to spend time in the U.S. because the experience is valuable in the Austrian job market.

A question and answer period followed Sabaditsch's presentation, which included a short talk and a

Lsat

SAVE $78 LEAD OVER Hart in national delegate count and completed a sweep of three industrial states that started with Illinois and New York, the former vice president shied away from the front-runner label like it was a bad New Hampshire dream.

"I am not the front-runner," he told one television interviewer Tuesday night even before the question was posed. He reiterated that disclaimer word-for-word to a group of auto workers yesterday in St. Louis and added, "There's a tough road ahead and I am not taking anything for granted."

Mondale couldn't keep the grin off his face and acknowledged that — for the first time since his campaign was knocked into a tailspin by Hart's upset victory in New Hampshire six weeks ago — he sees a chance to lock up the nomination before the July convention.

"I now believe I have a chance to get the delegates before the convention," he said. "Up until Pennsylvania, I didn't think I had that chance."

Mondale was in the St. Louis area reminding workers at a Chrysler plant how he helped work out federal loan guarantees to save the automaker four years ago and how Hart opposed that plan.

Mondale, who had started the campaign year with a win in the Iowa caucuses Feb. 20, headed to Arizona later in the day where he and Jackson campaigned for 55 delegates at stake in caucuses Saturday. After that, the only contests on the April calendar are caucuses in Utah, Missouri and Vermont.

When Mondale holds out hope for a pre-convention victory, he is talking about the 931 delegates he needs to meet the magic plateau of 1,067 — the number of votes that takes to award the nomination.

Hart, on the other hand, needs to win roughly two-thirds of those yet to be selected to accumulate the 1,389 additional supporters he will need at the convention.

"The calendar from now on favors me," Hart said in an interview en route from Washington to Denver after the die was cast in Pennsylvania. "We are headed into states where the positions he (Mondale) has taken are going to begin to cut the other way."

Hart was heavy on football analogies outlining his plans.

"We are happy because we just came out of our most difficult period," Hart said. "It is the second half. You know the sun is coming out. The field is going to be a lot faster."

The Colorado senator was back in Denver yesterday for his first day off the campaign since December — resting and trying to shake a cold aide Tom Gleason described as "nothing serious."

Austrian statesman speaks to freshmen

The Observer
Thursday, April 12, 1984 - page 3

The ever-growing political excitement is valuable in the Austrian job market.

And then there was the Rev. Jesse Jackson, a distant third in most of the primaries and caucuses held to date but an ever-growing political force at the national convention because of his demonstrated ability to galvanize black voters behind his cause.

Even though Mondale's victory Tuesday in Pennsylvania's primary gave him a 578 lead over Hart in national delegate count, and completed a sweep of three industrial states that started with Illinois and New York, the former vice president shied away from the front-runner label like it was a bad New Hampshire dream.

"I am not the front-runner," he told one television interviewer Tuesday night even before the question was posed. He reiterated that disclaimer word-for-word to a group of auto workers yesterday in St. Louis and added, "There's a tough road ahead and I am not taking anything for granted."

But Mondale couldn't keep the grin off his face and acknowledged that — for the first time since his campaign was knocked into a tailspin by Hart's upset victory in New Hampshire six weeks ago — he sees a chance to lock up the nomination before the July convention.

"I now believe I have a chance to get the delegates before the convention," he said. "Up until Pennsylvania, I didn't think I had that chance."

Mondale was in the St. Louis area reminding workers at a Chrysler plant how he helped work out federal loan guarantees to save the automaker four years ago and how Hart opposed that plan.

Mondale, who had started the campaign year with a win in the Iowa caucuses Feb. 20, headed to Arizona later in the day where he and Jackson campaigned for 55 delegates at stake in caucuses Saturday. After that, the only contests on the April calendar are caucuses in Utah, Missouri and Vermont.

When Mondale holds out hope for a pre-convention victory, he is talking about the 931 delegates he needs to meet the magic plateau of 1,067 — the number of votes that takes to award the nomination.

Hart, on the other hand, needs to win roughly two-thirds of those yet to be selected to accumulate the 1,389 additional supporters he will need at the convention.

"The calendar from now on favors me," Hart said in an interview en route from Washington to Denver after the die was cast in Pennsylvania. "We are headed into states where the positions he (Mondale) has taken are going to begin to cut the other way."

Hart was heavy on football analogies outlining his plans.

"We are happy because we just came out of our most difficult period," Hart said. "It is the second half. You know the sun is coming out. The field is going to be a lot faster."

The Colorado senator was back in Denver yesterday for his first day off the campaign since December — resting and trying to shake a cold aide Tom Gleason described as "nothing serious."

Austrian statesman speaks to freshmen

The Observer
Thursday, April 12, 1984 - page 3

And then there was the Rev. Jesse Jackson, a distant third in most of the primaries and caucuses held to date but an ever-growing political force at the national convention because of his demonstrated ability to galvanize black voters behind his cause.

Even though Mondale's victory Tuesday in Pennsylvania's primary gave him a 578 lead over Hart in national delegate count, and completed a sweep of three industrial states that started with Illinois and New York, the former vice president shied away from the front-runner label like it was a bad New Hampshire dream.

"I am not the front-runner," he told one television interviewer Tuesday night even before the question was posed. He reiterated that disclaimer word-for-word to a group of auto workers yesterday in St. Louis and added, "There's a tough road ahead and I am not taking anything for granted."

But Mondale couldn't keep the grin off his face and acknowledged that — for the first time since his campaign was knocked into a tailspin by Hart's upset victory in New Hampshire six weeks ago — he sees a chance to lock up the nomination before the July convention.

"I now believe I have a chance to get the delegates before the convention," he said. "Up until Pennsylvania, I didn't think I had that chance."

Mondale was in the St. Louis area reminding workers at a Chrysler plant how he helped work out federal loan guarantees to save the automaker four years ago and how Hart opposed that plan.

Mondale, who had started the campaign year with a win in the Iowa caucuses Feb. 20, headed to Arizona later in the day where he and Jackson campaigned for 55 delegates at stake in caucuses Saturday. After that, the only contests on the April calendar are caucuses in Utah, Missouri and Vermont.

When Mondale holds out hope for a pre-convention victory, he is talking about the 931 delegates he needs to meet the magic plateau of 1,067 — the number of votes that takes to award the nomination.

Hart, on the other hand, needs to win roughly two-thirds of those yet to be selected to accumulate the 1,389 additional supporters he will need at the convention.

"The calendar from now on favors me," Hart said in an interview en route from Washington to Denver after the die was cast in Pennsylvania. "We are headed into states where the positions he (Mondale) has taken are going to begin to cut the other way."

Hart was heavy on football analogies outlining his plans.

"We are happy because we just came out of our most difficult period," Hart said. "It is the second half. You know the sun is coming out. The field is going to be a lot faster."

The Colorado senator was back in Denver yesterday for his first day off the campaign since December — resting and trying to shake a cold aide Tom Gleason described as "nothing serious."
World economy recovery hindered by enormous U.S. budget deficits

Associated Press
WASHINGTON — Enormous budget deficits in the United States pose a "major potential danger" for the healthy recovery of the world's economy, the International Monetary Fund said yesterday.

A report by the fund's staff said budget red ink tends to keep interest rates higher than they would otherwise be. And that, it said, has "profound and far-reaching implications for the world economy," particularly for developing nations struggling to repay their debts.

"Fiscal restraint is thus clearly needed," it said.

The report, released as the World Economic Outlook was released as the spring meeting of the 146-member organization got under way at the fund's Washington headquarters. In recent years, the IMF has been instrumental in financing aid packages for debt-stricken countries.

The fund staff study said "substantial progress" was made last year in curbing debts with interest rates. At the end of 1983, the IMF said the debt-to-GDP ratios of 26 percent for developing countries.

The report forecast that if the industrialized nations maintained a healthy growth pace, with modest inflation and declining interest rates, the debt troubles of the poorer countries would gradually ease.

However, the study also found that the debt obligations of key countries would actually rise around 1987 because of payments of principal on their loans would start coming due.

Next on the agenda
Molly Glaun, Jane Aulalait, and Mary Sue Dunn seem to be listening intently at yesterday's Saint Mary's Programming Board meeting in the Haggar College Center. The board meets weekly to discuss issues of interest to the Saint Mary's community.

Americans still reading books, says survey
Associated Press
WASHINGTON — Despite competition from new media, more than one half of American adults read books a second, reading them last year and one reader in three manages to go through a book a week.

"In the age of electronic entertainment and personal computers, books are thriving," the study said. The study, conducted for the Book Industry Study Group by a non-profit organization representing publishers, book retailers, suppliers, librarians and others in the book business. The study was based on 1,501 hour-long interviews, made late last summer.

The percentage of Americans who say they read at least one occasional book, has barely changed in five years, the study said. It is 69 percent now and was 65 percent in a similar 1978 survey.

The busy distribution of readers in the population has changed, the report notes, and it terms the trend "disquieting."

Heavy readers are reading more books and light readers fewer. And young people aren't reading as much as the young used to.

The proportion of heavy readers has doubled, from 18 percent of all book readers five years ago to 35 percent today.

Heavy readers are those who claim to have read 20 or more books in the last six months -- at least one a week, on average. They said they spent 11 hours a week reading books.

The heavy readers buy about half of the books they read, borrowing others. They also read more magazines than non-book readers, but fewer newspapers, and are more likely to be filmgoers, to have cable and pay television and to watch public TV than non-book readers.

But the study found that book reading has declined among the young.

In 1978, three-quarters of those aged 17-21 said they read books, and that's down to 65 percent. The proportion of young people who confine their reading to newspapers and magazines grew from 19 percent to 20 percent.

People who said they read 10 to 24 books within the last six months accounted for 20 percent of all book readers, about the same as the proportion in 1978.

Those claiming to have read four to nine books in the last six months accounted for 25 percent of those who read books. That's down from 51 percent of the book-reading population in 1978.

Light readers -- one to three books in the past six months -- accounted for 16 percent. It was 24 percent in 1978.

The Observer
Senate campaign manager is kidnapped, released

Associated Press
LEXINGTON, Ky. — The Senate campaign manager for former Gov. John Brown Jr. was kidnapped at gunpoint and later released when a ransom was made in the abduction, the FBI said yesterday.

Wallace Wilkinson was abducted from his office here Tuesday morning and released about 9:30 a.m. yesterday after the payment of an undisclosed amount of money, said FBI special agent James Young.

Young said Wilkinson, a 44-year-old bookkeeper, was arrested near Wilkinson's office here yesterday afternoon by the Lexington-Fayette Urban County police, said detective Michael Myoynahan.

Wilkinson, the owner of the Capital Hotel in Frankfort, was abducted at gunpoint about 3 p.m. Tuesday and was taken to Frankfort, where he spent the night, Myoynahan said. Wilkinson was taken early today to Glasgow, where an undisclosed amount of money was delivered and Wilkinson was released.

A 1982 Lincoln Continental owned by Jim Aldridge, president of New Farmers National Bank in Glasgow, was reported stolen and later recovered by police.

The ransom has not been found, Myoynahan said.

Police received information yesterday that Jerrigan could be found at a Lexington hotel, where he was staying, or at Wilkinson's office, Myoynahan said.

Police staked out both locations and arrested Jerrigan, who offered no resistance, Myoynahan said.

Jerrigan was held in the Lexington-Fayette Urban County Detention Center and would be formally charged with extortion at a court appearance this morning before a U.S. magistrate, Young said.

Midwestern pizza parlors front for heroin smuggling ring

Associated Press

OLNEY, Ill. — Joe's Pizza Parlor, across from the high school in a popular spot where the Lions Club meets every Thursday.

But federal officials say Joe's also was a crucial link in an international heroin smuggling conspiracy that has smuggled more heroin into the United States than the notorious "French Connection." For three years, which involves a group of Sicilian­ born pizza shop operators in several Midwestern communities, has been dubbed the "Pizza Connection." Residends of the town of 9,100, about 115 miles east of St. Louis in southeastern Illinois, said they were shocked by the news. Until the Pizza Connection, Olney was known mainly as one of the few places in the country to have a population of al­ bino squirrels.

"The Pizza Connection is definite­ ly getting top billing" in coffee shop and other gossip, said editor James Small of the Olney Daily Mail. Small said he had received a hundred extra copies of the paper Tuesday to tell his readers about the federal officials' announcement in New York.

Joe's, a three-room, red brick cafe, has stayed open for business but the owner, Giuseppe "Joseph" Trupiano, is in jail after failing to post a $1 million bond.

On Monday, federal authorities in New York accused Trupiano and 30 others of participating in a ring that smuggled $6 billion worth of heroin into the country from Sicily over a five-year period. The heroin allegedly was shipped through three pizza parlors in Illinois and one in Wisconsin.

Small, who called Joe's Pizza Par­ lor "a nice, small, out-of-the-way cafe," said Trupiano was known as a "good Catholic" who "never missed Mass.

Trupiano, 33, even agreed to close his parlor until 4 p.m. each weekday because school officials complained that pupils were mixing classes to gain entry to pinball at the cafe. Small said.

Robert Malone, a leader in the Chamber of Commerce, called fellow­ member Joe Trupiano "a very personable young fellow" who had lived in Olney about 10 years.

"It just looked like a little old country town restaurant," Malone said.

Olney wasn't the only small-town link in the Pizza Connection. Officials said other suspects included Giuseppe "Joe" Vitale, 42, owner of Joe's Pizza and Italian Food in Paris, Ill., population about 10,000, who runs Alfano's, 71, who runs Alfano Pizza in Orlando, Florida, population about 4,600, and Emmanuele "Tony" Paradiso, 40, owner of the Pizzeria in Milford, Wis., population about 1,000.

Law enforcement officials said dis­ cussions about cleaning pizza tables and putting in trash cans for drug deals. "Oven," for example, was the code for a kilogram of heroin.

Sometimes, the white heroin was distributed in pizza boxes, said Bob Long of the FBI in Chicago, who sug­gested that the small-town pizza par­ lors were chosen because they were inconspicuous.

In New York, Associate At­ torney Deenon Young said the parlors generally became "way-stations," or transferral points, for the heroin, not selling points.

In Oregon, high school senior Joe Balcomb described Alfano Pizza as one of the town's teen-age hangouts.

"We have two pizza places," she said. One is "new, neat, clean, rowdy type," but the "cheerleaders, jocks, everybody hung out at Al­ fano's.'"

No one really expects a small town like that to have a heroin ring," she said. "When you think of drugs, you think of the city, New York and Chicago. We never thought of Oregon, you think of sweet, cutsey, small town, nothing happens, real dull."

But the FBI in Chicago said Mon­ day it seized "a 400-piece heroin ring," identified as a "small-town type of drug ring." The FBI in Oregon said they seized "a lot of heroin...and a large amount of cash."

In Paris, across the street from Vitale's restaurant, people at the Moss Grain Co. said they were puzzled about the news concerning the neighborhood they call Joe.

"He's an excellent neighbor. He's a family man, very very concerned about his children," Mary Moss, 46, said. "I live like Joe and his family very, very much."

Moss, 46, said, "He serves excellent pizza."

Customers knew Vitale as a man who made the best pizza around, and politely and treated well. "He'd just about take your coat and get you a soft drink," Deener said.

He'd like his name around and talk to people. Mossy said, "Dad was a very steady guy and people went on, he'd put a stop to it."

They said business improved since Vitale opened the restaurant in 1970, replacing the original pizzerias with a new, sit-down Italian res­ taurant.

In Milton, Wis., high school teach­ er James Polakow said of Emmanuele Palazzudo's restaurant; "We certainly didn't see any activity. There was no street peddling."
Chileans claim between University unemployment this will lion over litigation profits must much than a years. Vl'Stmentauthoritit:s and Juan U.S. military authoritarian a yt·ar ago now,” Paraguan he statdy boulevards others m·os, hasten their ml'llls tina inspired raising faint hopes in racks. Last October’s elections The drums Militarism yields to democracy in pots Aerras military governments to hard as Congress had across South Argentine nations turning away from military regimes toward democracy. Story at left.

“One million Brazilians took part in a protest rally in Rio De Janeiro Tuesday. The protesters demanded that the military implement direct presidential elections. Brazil is just one of several South American nations turning away from military regimes toward democracy.

"Growing public awareness, international condemnation of military coups and the armed forces own weariness... may slow the historic cycle of military coups"
Dear Editor:

I could not be happier with this 1984 edition of the Mock Convention. How could one not be thrilled over an event which drew more than 10,000 people? In retrospect, this was probably the first time in the history of the convention that the student body was treated to a sellout showing.

I hope everyone who attended the convention learned a little of our history. However, I believe that this is only the beginning of a national consciousness which will be present in many more come this June. I hope that some of this consciousness will be present in the students who attend this convention.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.

I hope that the students who will be attending this convention will learn to enjoy the American history that is presented to them.
Irish baseball team could manage only three runs as Michigan State swept a doubleheader yesterday at East Lansing. Michigan, 7-1 and 7-2. Right-handed pitcher and Eric Kenny pitching, combined on a five hitter for the Spartans in the first game. In the nightcap, the Irish, 2-0, led in the first inning when junior David Clark's triple knocked in Mike McManus to take the lead in the first, however, the Spartans scored three runs and never looked back. The Irish are now 11-12 on the season. — The Observer

An NBA Review featuring gems pro Dick Walker, will be held on April 14 at 4 p.m. on the Burke Memorial Golf Course. This will be a refresher class on the fundamentals of the various sports and for golfers at all levels who are looking for a short review. The cost is one dollar and registration is through the NVA office. The number there is 230-6100. — The Observer

Mike Bobinski former Irish baseball pitcher, has been named Notre Dame's ticket manager and assistant business manager. The 26-year old Bobinski replaces Steve Omini, who last month was named ticket manager for the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League. Bobinski assumes his duties immediately. — The Observer

The ND-SMC ski team awards banquet will be held Monday, April 14. Watch for your invitation by mail. For more information, call Julie Currie at 283-4454. — The Observer

Keep training for the Irish Spring Run, a six mile around campus, the lakes, and the golf course. It's coming up this Saturday at 10 a.m. Deadline for entries is tomorrow. Registration must be made in person at the NVA office, and a three dollar fee will be charged. Trophies and T-shirts will be awarded. — The Observer

The Bengal Bouts banquet will be held tonight at 6 p.m. at the Pote Express. Maps are available at the NVA office. For more information call Tom at 1728, Anjale at 5348, or Mike at 5508. — The Observer

Notre Dame cheerleaders for 1984-85 have been named. The squad features juniors Lynette Bogue, Lyn Thomas, Billy Thalhimer (captain) and Joe Buch (alternate), sophomores Helen McCormick, Julia Page, Kathy Ravotti, Anne Stubbs, Jeannie Poole (alternate), Rich Crow, Ron D'Angelo, Carl Gebo and Paul Mazelini, freshman Pat Wenning. The squad will make its debut at the Blue-Gold football game on Saturday, April 28. — The Observer

Glenn Watson's RBL single capped a four run inning rally, leading the Philadelphia Phillies to a 7-6 victory over the Houston Astros last night. Luis Aguirayo opened the inning by walking National's Ron Bryant to first. One out later, left-hander Garry Maddox reached on a shortstop Craig Reynolds' throwing error. Frank DiPino relieved and pinch-hitter John Wucktchen drove Aguirayo in with a single but was thrown out at second. Losing pitcher Bill Dawley. 0-1, then relieved and Virgil hit a 2-2 pitch out of the left field wall to tie the game. Mike Schmidt then walked and stole second, and Joe Lefty was intentionally walked. Before Watson delivered his game-winning hit off Dave Smith, the bases were loaded in the fifth inning. Bill Campbell, 1-0, pitched three scoreless innings of relief for the win, allowing just one hit. In other National League action, the Cincinnati Reds defeated the Chicago Cubs, 10-7. Gary Carter stopped St. Louis' four-game winning streak with a run-scoring double in Philadelphia. — Associated Press

An Irish Guard organizational meeting will take place today, April 12, at 5 p.m. in Griesen Feld. Many openings are available for the 1984-1985 season. All interested candidates should attend and must be at least 6-2. Those with questions should call 1211. — The Observer

Michael Bobinski leaves his desk at the Observer. He will be telegraphing for CBS, working out of New York City. — The Observer

Sports Briefs

The first, however, the Spartans scored three runs and never looked back. The Irish are now 11-12 on the season. — The Observer

Sports Briefs

The Observer's next round of lockers will be held on April 18 at 4 p.m. on the Burke Memorial Golf Course. This will be a refresher class on the fundamentals of the various sports and for golfers at all levels who are looking for a short review. The cost is one dollar and registration is through the NVA office. The number there is 230-6100. — The Observer

Los Angeles squeaks past Chicago, 2-1

Associated Press

LOS ANGELES — Mike Scioscia's sacrifice fly in the sixth inning scored Mike Marshall and gave the Los Angeles Dodgers a 2-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs last night.

Rick Honeycutt, 1-0, went the distance for Los Angeles, pitching his second complete game of the season and the first of his career, striking out seven and walking none. Scott Sanderson, 0-3, took the loss for the Cubs.

The Dodgers scored the second inning when Greg Brock doubled to right and scored on Scioscia's single. The Cubs tied the score in the fourth when Keith Moreland was hit by a pitch with a single, took second on an error by first baseman Bill Madlock, and scored on a single by Keith Hernandez.

Guerrero started the Dodgers' winning rally in the sixth with a single to left field that scored Brock. Guerrero followed with a single and one out later, Bill Russell sacrifice bunted to move the runners up. Scioscia followed with his scoring ball.

It also marked the second consecutive game-winning RBI for the Dodgers. Guerrero's hit capped a big third inning, bringing back the shoulder injury that sidelined him the final four and a half months of the '83 season.

The Observer's next round of lockers will be held on April 18 at 4 p.m. on the Burke Memorial Golf Course. This will be a refresher class on the fundamentals of the various sports and for golfers at all levels who are looking for a short review. The cost is one dollar and registration is through the NVA office. The number there is 230-6100. — The Observer

Los Angeles squeaks past Chicago, 2-1

Associated Press

LOS ANGELES — Mike Scioscia's sacrifice fly in the sixth inning scored Mike Marshall and gave the Los Angeles Dodgers a 2-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs last night.

Rick Honeycutt, 1-0, went the distance for Los Angeles, pitching his second complete game of the season and the first of his career, striking out seven and walking none. Scott Sanderson, 0-3, took the loss for the Cubs.

The Dodgers scored the second inning when Greg Brock doubled to right and scored on Scioscia's single. The Cubs tied the score in the fourth when Keith Moreland was hit by a pitch with a single, took second on an error by first baseman Bill Madlock, and scored on a single by Keith Hernandez.

Guerrero started the Dodgers' winning rally in the sixth with a single to left field that scored Brock. Guerrero followed with a single and one out later, Bill Russell sacrifice bunted to move the runners up. Scioscia followed with his scoring ball.

It also marked the second consecutive game-winning RBI for the Dodgers. Guerrero's hit capped a big third inning, bringing back the shoulder injury that sidelined him the final four and a half months of the '83 season.
Tom Weyenberg, Scott Cremeniski, Dam Edman-doza, Tom Wrench and Mike Stephen (left to right) otherwise known as WIMPS, ham it up during halftime of their bookstore game at Staples. The WIMPS lost to Darby and the Light
Raiders, 21-1.

The dowicz, Tom right) otherwise known as

ASSISTANTS available
* Gain valuable experience in women's oriented
* Engage in independent and feminist research
* Work closely with highly qualified interdisciplinary faculty
* Gain valuable experience in women's oriented institutions and activities
* Assistantships available

CINCINNATI — Pete Rose took free walks yesterday — four to first and one down the aisle.
The Montreal left fielder got marrred in his hometown early yesterday, then went 0-6 in 1 with four walks in the Expos 9-5 afternoon victory over the Cincinnati Reds to remain one hit shy of 4000.

His next shot at that mark will come in Montreal's home opener
Friday night against the Philadelphia Phillies, the only other team for which he has played.

"I'm going to get another hit this year. I'm not worried about that," Rose said. "I'm just happy we won today's game. I'm a little disappointed, but it was just one of those things that happen."

The wedding, Rose's second, was a private ceremony at his attorney's office. He married 29-year-old Carol Wolling of Lawrencetown, Ind.

"It was a short ceremony this morning, that's all," Rose said, shrugging it off. "That's something you do on your way to getting 4000."

"I had to get married because that was the only way I could get her on the train plane back to Montreal.

Only wives are allowed on the plane.

With the nuptials behind him,
Rose turned his attention to getting the lone hit that keeps him from the plateau reached only by Ty Cobb.

He swung only once, fouling off a pitch, while drawing walks in his first three trips to the plate against starter Bruce Berenyi. He walked on a 3-2 count and a pair of 3-1 counts, while the first boomed Berenyi's wildness.

Rose hit the first pitch back to reliever Frank Pastore in the sixth, and drew a walk on a 3-1 count from Pastore in his last at bat in the eighth.

Fans tossed derisive on the field
when Rose was taken out for a pinch runner, and Pastore was holed when he was removed.

"The only bad thing about the whole day, I think, is I didn't like the reaction toward Pastore," Rose said.

"He was just trying to do his job."

Cobb set the all-time record of 4,191 hits in 24 major league seasons with Detroit and Philadelphia in the American League.

Cobb reached 4,000 hits in his 23rd season at age 40, playing for Philadelphia in 1922.
Angels topple Brewers

Associated Press

ANAHEIM, Calif. — Rookie right-hander Ron Romack scattered nine hits for his first major-league victory before needing last-out help as the California Angels downed the Milwaukee Brewers 9-5 last night.

Romack, 1-0, in his second major-league game, walked three and struck out three. He was supported by California's big eighth-inning offensive outburst of the season, featuring three RBIs by Reggie Jackson.

Jackson gave the Angels a 1-0 lead with a first-inning single after Jose Cuas, 0-2, walked Gary Pettis and Rod Carew. Doug DeCinces sacrifice fly scored Carew to make it 2-0 and the Angels added two more runs in the second inning on Bob Wilking's leadoff homer, his first of the season, and Carew's single. After the Brewers scored their first run on Ben Ogilvie's triple and Jim Garnett's single in the fifth, Wilking's RBI single made it 5-1 in the bottom of the inning. DeCinces's second sacrifice fly made it 6-1 in the sixth and a sacrifice fly by Pettis plus Jackson's two-run single helped the lead to 9-1 in the seventh.

Rick Manning singled home Milwaukee's second run in the sixth and Luis Sanchez allowed a two-run single to Randy Ready and an RBI single to Steve Vaught before getting the final out.

---

Kings Cellar

Prices Good at South Bend Ave Store Only

BEER

- Old Milwaukee or Old Milwaukee Light
  - Lithia
  - Olympia
  - Pabst
  - Miller High Life
  - Guinness Stout

LIQUOR

- Wild Turkey
- Popov or King Cellar Vodka
- King Cellar Rum
- Kahula
- Lancers Table Wines

PRICE GOOD THRU APRIL 7, 1984

---

KEGS

- Busch
- Old Milwaukee
- Budweiser
- Old Style

TAP DEPOSIT

- NOW ONLY $30.00
Bloom County

Mellish

Mr. L. J. Ane, S. J. McC. PERSONALIZED
SAY A S. J. "ONE-EIGHTY"
WILL YOU
APPEAR TO ME?

~AND WHY IS
THE 'DON'T ANSWER
YOUR LOVES' JUST...
YOUR CLOTHES,
YOUR CAR AND
YOUR MIRRORED CELLS?

~
~

The Fridge returning to Capistrano.

Richard Guindon

Guindon

The Far Side

Gary Larson

Berke Breathed

AND NOW YOU'RE ASSOCIATING WITH LARGE ROBOTS?

~& Dave

THAT'S WHY
HOT, YOU SAW
THE

GUARDIAN A ROAD.

GEE, MINCE THIS "DIE-TO-LEADER"'S
WANTED SUCH A GREAT IDEA
AFTER ALL...?"

EVERYTHING YOU
27 Collective 23 Jose or
24
20 18
16

63 Peon of yore
64 Piques
67 Props
68 Soaks flex
69 Beach pest
70 Dowry
71 Cover
72 Chum
29 Astrolo-

5 Peon of
yore
11 Dowstailing
12 Iffed
14 Nap-raising
15-Flower
heads
16 Cover
21 Dowry
28 Mercantorial
item
27 Exhaust
28 Silkworm
29 Astrolo-

DOWN
1 - of Gillard
2 Ancient
3 Etruscan
4 Blind
5 Diamond
6 Ave, worker
7 Chicago
8 Judges
9 Decal
10 Meat cut

65 Peon of yore
66 Piques
67 Props
68 Soaks flex
69 Beach pest
70 Dowry
71 Cover
72 Chum
29 Astrolo-

doesn't

65 Peon of yore
66 Piques
67 Props
68 Soaks flex
69 Beach pest
70 Dowry
71 Cover
72 Chum
29 Astrolo-

43 Command
46 Anchorage
48 Novel
49 Gir. axle-

83 - boy!
86 Political
87 Controversy
88 The River
89 Meditation
90 Distress

55 Fr. river
56 Fender
damage
57 Stay or
58 - boy!
59 Political
60 Controversy
61 Distress

34 Proceed
tediously
37 Poets for meter or gram
38 Refuge
41 Payday
42 Ascend
44 Sheep
45 Chemical compound
47 — tonic
49 Easement
50 Apportioned
52 Reaverbrate
53 Russell
54 Ace cle-
nest
55 Madison
56 Ave, worker
57 Chicago
58 Judges
59 Decal
60 Meat cut

TODAY

BEAT THE CLOCK

HURRY HARRY,
TIME'S RUNNING OUT!

SENIOR BAR

DJ BILL DAVIS

JUNIOR NIGHT
IS SATURDAY
APRIL 14

7:00 9:00 11:00
Engineering Auditorium $1.00

The Daily Crossword

ACROSS
1 Lure
5 Alan
10 Robert
11 Mike
13 Him in the 15 Kll
16 Abound
17 Nantes' river
18 "In-
'--i'go"
19 Boner
20 Literary word finder
22 Nose of Callin'
24 "The cat-- the well!
25 Wall
27 Guipped
30 Money
32 Collective 33 Indian of Asia.

34 Proceed
tediously
37 Poets for meter or gram
38 Refuge
41 Payday
42 Ascend
44 Sheep
45 Chemical compound
47 — tonic
49 Easement
50 Apportioned
52 Reaverbrate
53 Russell
54 Ace cle-
nest
55 Madison
56 Ave, worker
57 Chicago
58 Judges
59 Decal
60 Meat cut

The Frisbees returning to Capistrano.

Daily Crossword

65 Peon of yore
66 Piques
67 Props
68 Soaks flex
69 Beach pest
70 Dowry
71 Cover
72 Chum
29 Astrolo-

11 Dowstailing
piece
12 Iffed
14 Nap-raising flower
heads
21 Cover
22 Chum
28 Mercantorial
item
27 Exhaust
28 Silkworm
29 Astrolo-

DOWN
1 — of Gillard
2 Ancient
3 Etruscan
4 Blind
5 Diamond
6 Ave, worker
7 Chicago
8 Judges
9 Decal
10 Meat cut

Wednesday's Solution

TV's Dan
43 Command
to Fiji
46 Anchorage
48 Novel
49 Gir. axle-

55 Fr. river
56 Fender
damage
57 Stay or
58 - boy!
59 Political
60 Controversy
61 Distress

TONIGHT
EVERYTHING YOU ALWAYS WANTED TO KNOW ABOUT SEX
(But Were Afraid To Ask)

7:00 9:00 11:00
Engineering Auditorium $1.00

Campus

• 3 p.m. — Tennis, ND Men vs Northern Illinois, Courteny Courts
• 5:30 p.m. — Tennis, ND Women vs Northern Ill.

Michael Eades, Rad. Lab Seminar, "Photogeneration and Characterization of Carbon Chl." Video" Dr. C. Vijaya Kumar, Rad. Lab Conference Room
• 3:30 p.m. — Graduate Fellowship Prayer Group Meeting, Bulls House
• 7 p.m. — Lecture, "US Foreign Policy in Central America," Prof. John Gilligan, Howard Hall, Sponsored by Lyons and Howard Academic Commissions.

• 7 p.m. — Fund Raiser Play, "The Sunshine Boys," Chantaraqu Ballroom, Sponsored by Cavanagh Hall, Free, Donations Appreciated

• 7:30 p.m. — Basketball, Harlem Globetrotters, ACC, 10.50 and 37.50

• 7:30 p.m. — Film, "Late Autumn," Washington Hall

• 8 p.m. — ND/SMC Dance Theatre, "La Fille Mal Gardée," "The Laughlin Auditorium, 8.50

• 8 p.m. — Lecture, "The Role Conscience and Personal Responsibility in the Bishop's pastoral," Gordon Zahn, Library Auditorium

• 8:15 p.m. — Music Dept. Concert, Notre Dame Chamber Orchestra, Annenberg Auditorium

TV Tonight

7:00 p.m. 16 Barney Miller
22 Family Feud
28 Wheel of Fortune
8 p.m. 16 Game A Break
12 Magnum P.I.
28 Two Marriages
8:30 p.m. 16 Family Ties
9 p.m. 16 Cheers
22 Simon and Simon
30 Lottery
9:30 p.m. 16 Buffalo Bill
10 p.m. 16 Hill Street Blues
22 Know Landing
28 20/20
11 p.m. 16 NewsCenter
22 16 Entertainment News
28 Newswatch 28
11:30 p.m. 16 Tonight Show
22 Trapper John/ CBS Late Movie
28 ABC News Nightline
Blowouts common as round one continues

By PHIL WOLF
Sport Writer

The first round of Bookstore Basketball XIII continued yesterday, the fourth day of action, as 80 teams took to the courts at Lyons, St. John's, and the Bookstore.

It was a beautiful day for Bookstore Basketball," Tournament Commissioner Jeff Miller said last night, and, indeed, it was a great day for some of the participants. Perhaps as a result of impatience from waiting four days to play, the teams participating in yesterday's games seemed to want to make up for their opponents quickly. In 19 of the 40 games played, the losing team scored fewer than 10 points, as the winners rolled to the required 21 points.

The most notable blowout of the day was White Lightning's 22-0 victory over We Never Practiced Ever. White Lightning shot an amazing 21 of 25, as not one of the players on the team missed more than one shot. Perhaps a little bit of luck in practice would have helped We Never Practiced Ever once Pat O'Brien's shot missed.

The high scorer for White Lightning was Kris VanderVelden, who accounted for six of We Never Practiced Ever's points. The high non-scorer for We Never Practiced Ever was Pat O'Brien's point guard.

We have to pick up from our bowl victory and improve from that point," explains Mooie. "We're using this time to give different banks to utilize our personnel. Everyone gets their chance and everyone has done well...but that doesn't mean there isn't any room for improvement." With this strive for perfection at titude and the talent to back it up, the Irish backfield promises to be an explosive and exciting part of the Irish offense.

Vander Velden, Higgs-Coulthard to represent U.S. in Leningrad

By MICHAEL J. CMIHEL
Sports Writer

Although the Notre Dame fencing team ended its season already with a third place finish in the NCAA Championships, two Irish fencers will be fensing next week in Leningrad, Russia, as they will be representing Notre Dame and the United States in the 1984 Junior World Olympics. The Junior World Olympics in fencing, which is restricted to athletes under the age of 20 on Jan. 1, 1984, will include the best young fencers from 65 different countries.

Irish assistant coach Steve Renshaw, who finished 13th in the Junior World Olympics six years ago, believes that the competition in Leningrad will be very tough. "It won't be easy (the competition) better any place else," commented Renshaw. "A lot of the kids you see there, you will also see in Los Angeles (at the 1984 Olympic Games)."

Notre Dame sophomore Mike VanderVelden and freshman Charles Higgs-Coulthard will be making this trip as the number two and one of the two fencers on the U.S. foil team. Their spots were won in the U.S. Junior Olympics and prior competition earlier this season.

VanderVelden (32-8 on the season and 66-28 lifetime) lost to the gold at the U.S. Junior Olymics held in Portland, Ore. in February to capture the top spot. He also finished second in a field of 25 at the 1984 Great Lakes Championships and 14th in a field of 30 at the 1984 NCAA Championships.

Higgs-Coulthard (45-6) captured the second spot with strong performances earlier in the year and at the NCAA tournament. On March 21, he won a gold in the NCAA Championships and went on to bring the 1984 national championship in the foil. He also captured fourth place in Great Lakes competition.

Mike Dengler, assistant foil coach for the Irish who fenced in the Junior World Olympics in 1981, notes that while the outing may not be without some glitches, the representatives should do well.

"Americans usually have a hard time overseas because they're not familiar and because the directors are not familiar with them," said Dengler.

"As far as I can see, they (VanderVelden and Higgs-Coulthard) are far better prepared than I ever was and that's to their credit because they've been working really hard."

"I'm looking for them to fence in at least three or four rounds and at least one medal."" Bringing pride to the United States, the two Irish fencers will fence in this championship meet next week, April 19-20, in Leningrad.

Mike VanderVelden

Belles sweep four, extend streak to eight

The Saint Mary's softball team extended its winning streak to eight games with a doubleheader sweep in the past two days.

Yesterday, the Belles demolished Beloit College, 15-8 and 16-4. Cathy Lagedon was the winning pitcher in the opener, as Mary Lynn McLain led the offense with four RBIs.

In the nightcap, Annie Dey won her second game in two days, 16-4. Elaine Swess had three RBIs. Five other players had RBIs in this night-piece, including Anne Trapp, who belted a home run.

In the nightcap, the Belles defeated St. Peter's College, 22-17. Grace took a 10 lead in the fifth inning when Anita Barc scored on Sue Fekter's single. The Belles tied the score in the bottom half of the inning when Katie Coo ran scored on a sacrifice by Kris Paaelaterla.

In the eighth inning, McLain doubled in Anne Trapp with a run. The game allowed only three hits, struck out five and walked none en route to the victory.

In Tuesday's nightcap, the Belles got off to a 4-0 lead and never looked back. McGarity allowed only six hits and no walks for the victory.

"This is the best around-town team I've ever coached at Saint Mary's," said Coach Scott Bely. The Belles now are 14-on-2 on the season.