Preliminary work begins on addition

By KATHLEEN DIAS  Staff News

A groundbreaking ceremony last week marked the beginning of work on the new addition to Notre Dame Law School. University President Father Theodore Hesburgh, Dean of the Law School, David T. Link, and the Law School Advisory Council all participated in marking the planned extension.

Major construction is not scheduled to begin until March, 1985, but already preliminary utility work has begun. To assure student safety, the entire area has been sectioned off by fencing which will remain in place until fall, 1986, when work is scheduled for completion.

The new facilities will include a four-story addition to the main building featuring classrooms, a courtroom, a research center, faculty offices and a five story addition to the library.

While several academic departments on campus offer internships to students within their discipline, the CCDC program is open to students of all majors. For example, a psychology major is eligible for an internship experience invaluable according to Keenan, externing allows a student valuable insights into the business world.

With their needs met, students converted the sculpture, "In Defense of a Surrealist," which will be shown in an exhibition of SMC's latest work in February. The reception for the audience. The reception will be held March 16, 1984.

Saint Mary's students participate in surrealist presentation last night

By HEATHER MILLER Staff News

"A social commentary on a reception," is how Muriel Magenta, artist-in-residence at Saint Mary's, described her presentation last night.

Magenta's latest work will be shown in an exhibition of SMC's latest work. The exhibition of SMC's latest work will be held on February 16, 1984. The exhibition is open to the public, and SMC students have been invited to attend.

The exhibition is open to the public, and SMC students are invited to attend.

SMC interns gain valuable job experience

By ANN SULLIVAN Staff News

"With my major, I'll never find a job." For many liberal arts students, the problem of finding a job is a constant one. However, at Saint Mary's, the problem of finding a job is not as severe.

Library Director Ted Smith and J-Board Coordinator of the program, the internships begin by completing a questionnaire, which best suits her major. According to Keenan, an internship allows a student valuable insights into the business world.

"You learn to be a professional. You have to be responsible even when there are days you don't want to go to work." Feldos saw the program as a link between the intern's academic and the workplace. Joan Grabowski, a former intern and now assistant manager of the South Bend Symphony Orchestra agrees. Grabowski praised the program, saying it gives the intern professional experience while still a part of the familiar college environment. "As an employee of an organization you are expected to act in a responsible and professional manner. Yet, there is always a supervisor on hand for support and for advice," she said.

Currently working for an organization which sponsors interns, Grabowski said the program is beneficial for the professional organization as well. Over the past four years, the South Bend Symphony has sponsored four interns, including an accounting major and an English major.

In addition to the South Bend Symphony, organizations sponsoring interns this semester in Chute Vangard Advertising, DuComb Center, Legal Services, and Shared Services on the Saint Mary's campus.

Along with their work commitment, interns attend weekly meetings. At the meetings they discuss problems they may face on the job and future jobs such as sexual harassment and the need to be assertive. Interns meet four additional times during the semester at Hagar College Center for "Women in the Workplace" Lecture Series.

The presentation will end with the singing of Bing Lighthart's "Honeymoon," leaving the audience with a lasting impression.

Magenta's work is inspired by Cristo, who does environmental mixed media works which incorporate outdoor locations. "He taught me to think big," claims Magenta.
Sometimes 'just downtown' is not just a few miles from campus

At 10 a.m. on a football Saturday, three Notre Dame students hop into their green mustang for a few hours of bargains and fun.

Broke, as usual, they decide to hit the resale shops in hopes of unearthing some cheap dorm furnishings and other '94 stuff.

Since the game is at night, they're able to leave campus before the alumni descended and traffic poured in one way toward the Dome. They breeze downtown, their conversation a mixture of stock South Bend complaints: plans, gossip and laughter, and pull into the parking lot of the St. Vincent de Paul Thrift Shop.

Inside, they root through boxes, books and furniture, quickly filling a shopping cart with irresistible bargains.

"Check out this Chinese coat. Wouldn't this be great at a Halloween party?" "Look at these jeans. I believe we actually used to think these elephant legs were cool!"

They stand, laughing at a pair of ridiculous pink platform shoes, when the sharp screams of a baby interrupt them. The cries come at regular intervals from a gentle grey baby carriage, one that reminds them, perhaps, of a carriage they in which walked their dolls many years ago.

A little girl with unruly red hair sits in the stroller. It is not her, however, but some unseen baby that seems to be crying.

A tired mother pushes the carriage, which cries out regularly, loudly. And the students stand and watch it pass, pondering only when the screams have rolled away.

Finally, when there are no rocks left to purse, the three sort through their overflowing carts of paraphernalia and select the items they actually intend to buy.

"Only buy this skirt if it's ever once it's worth the money."

"Sure, it's only a quarter."

As they stand in the checkout lane with armloads of '94 stuff, they baby carriage pulls up behind them. The carriage is still crying, but they now see the baby. It is not her, however, but some unseen woman.

A baby with small blue eyes, blue and dingy. He and his sister wear clothes that are indistinguishable from those on the thrift shop racks.

The mother lifts her child from the stroller and tries to soothe her screams with one arm and hold her purchases, mostly children's clothing, with the other. When the baby calms down, she hands him to the little girl, and the child's arms, barely bigger than her brot­her's, reach for the baby as though she is accustomed to the duty.

While the mother fumbles through her purse, the weight of the two children on one end of the carriage upsets its precarious balance. The children topple onto the linoleum, and glass shatters as one of the students upsets its precarious balance. The children topple onto the linoleum, and glass shatters as one of the students

The student quickly grabs the child, more frightened than hurt, and holding him close, tries to calm his screams. Then reluctantly, almost, she hands him to his embarrassed mother.

The baby is now in the carriage, and another student produces a tissues and tries to stop the bleeding.

The three girls step aside and let the carriage, once more full of screaming children, precede them in line. The mother's purchases come to $2.45, but she is 25 cents short. A sweet six year-old who has appeared from somewhere among the aisles is sent out to fetch dad and more money.

"Just listen, "'m just crying because I'm so tired."

When the baby calms down, she hands him to the little girl, returning to campus.

The views expressed in the Inside column are the views of the author, and do not neces­arily reflect the views of the editorial board or staff.
Staff Reporter

For Saint Mary's dorms was discussed. Anne McCarthy, member of the loft committee, said that "everything is still up in the air and no decisions have yet been made." A design for the lofts has not yet been chosen, and there still is a big liability issue to be discussed," said McCarthy.

Saint Mary's plans on offering the option of lofts to dorm residents next year, although only lofts built from the kits sold by the College would be allowed.

The board was surprised to hear that the cost for a loft is estimated at $100 per person. Commenting that supplies and labor lie behind the high costs, McCarthy said the cost brought in the problem of resale. "With the wear and tear taking place over the years, they just wouldn't sell for the same price."

Lee Ann Franks, student body president, addressed the board, urging them to attend the various student government functions. "It is needed for such a government to sponsor activities, and have no one attend them," she said. "I know that you can't come to every event, but at least talk to them up." Both Franks and Julie Strazzabosco, vice president for academic affairs, urged board members to attend the coming reflective slide show by artist Meierad Craig, on October 30. "If people show up for something different, it's where you should be," said Strazzabosco.

The partial survey, which took place last week, was discussed. Results of those surveys should be out after the mid-semester break. The board also talked about the Halloween events planned, such as the movie marathon in the Berceny Game Room, and trick-or-treating by the professors' children.

"I don't have your answers. But I will have your questions, something I found out of our survey about who we want to become and when, you won't know. For anyone who considered for the path of priesthood, the Holy Cross Fathers' One-Year Candidate Program provides an opportunity to see and explore the possibilities in community."

Contact: Rev. Andre Leveille, C.S.C.
Leveille Memorial Office
404 N. 4th Street
(219) 332-6100

---

The Observer Tuesday, October 16, 1984 - page 3

Saint Mary's loft policy still up in air according to Board

By ANNE GALLAGHER Staff Reporter

"No decisions have been made" was a phrase frequently heard during last night's Board of Governor meeting at Saint Mary's College. Once again, the prospect of lofts for Saint Mary's dorms was discussed. Anne McCarthy, member of the loft committee, said that "everything is still up in the air and no decisions have yet been made." A design for the lofts has not yet been chosen, and there still is a big liability issue to be discussed," said McCarthy.

Saint Mary's plans on offering the option of lofts to dorm residents next year, although only lofts built from the kits sold by the College would be allowed.

The board was surprised to hear that the cost for a loft is estimated at $100 per person. Commenting that supplies and labor lie behind the high costs, McCarthy said the cost brought in the problem of resale. "With the wear and tear taking place over the years, they just wouldn't sell for the same price."

Lee Ann Franks, student body president, addressed the board, urging them to attend the various student government functions. "It is needed for such a government to sponsor activities, and have no one attend them," she said. "I know that you can't come to every event, but at least talk to them up." Both Franks and Julie Strazzabosco, vice president for academic affairs, urged board members to attend the coming reflective slide show by artist Meierad Craig, on October 30. "If people show up for something different, it's where you should be," said Strazzabosco.

The partial survey, which took place last week, was discussed. Results of those surveys should be out after the mid-semester break. The board also talked about the Halloween events planned, such as the movie marathon in the Berceny Game Room, and trick-or-treating by the professors' children.

Campus Entertainment presents:

The Budweiser Comedy Shop Tour

Come enjoy 3 of America's hottest young comedians:

• Jeff Altman
• Elyse Boosler
• Richard Boozer

Appearing at O'Laughlin Aud, SMC
October 17 8:00 p.m.

7:45 Pre-show comedy acts featuring:

Bernie Pelligrino (1st place winner of Amateur Night)
Ruth Kaiser, Kevin Flynn, Ave Green

Tickets on sale at SAB Record Store - LaFortune, O'Laughlin Box Office and Century Center
Tickets will be sold the night of the show!

Admission $4 General Admission

RIDE UNITED LIMO TO DOWNTOWN CHICAGO AND MIDWAY AIRPORT

Special Offer

Round Trip Same day Return

Now you can commute to work, catch a flight or enjoy the day shopping with United Limo's dependable new downtown Chicago service.

TO DOWNTOWN CHICAGO

SAB Record Store
Presale: $4.00
At Door: $5.00

SWEETENED TODD

November 4, 2, 3, 4

TICKETS ON SALE NOW!

SAB Record Store
Presale: $4.00
At Door: $5.00

ARRIVE ARRIVE ARRIVE

Latvian American Assurance Agency office at Century Center
Tickets will be sold the night of the show!

Admission $4 General Admission

Budweiser Comedy Shop Tour

Come enjoy 3 of America's hottest young comedians:

Jeff Altman
Elyse Boosler
Richard Boozer

Appearing at O'Laughlin Aud, SMC
October 17 8:00 p.m.

7:45 Pre-show comedy acts featuring:

Bernie Pelligrino (1st place winner of Amateur Night)
Ruth Kaiser, Kevin Flynn, Ave Green

Tickets on sale at SAB Record Store - LaFortune, O'Laughlin Box Office and Century Center
Tickets will be sold the night of the show!

Admission $4 General Admission

RIDE UNITED LIMO TO DOWNTOWN CHICAGO AND MIDWAY AIRPORT

Special Offer

Round Trip Same day Return

Now you can commute to work, catch a flight or enjoy the day shopping with United Limo's dependable new downtown Chicago service.

TO DOWNTOWN CHICAGO

LEAVE OSEOILA LEAVE NOTRE DAME LEAVE SOUTH BEND
OFFICE TOWN & COUNTRY AIRPORT

5:30 A.M. 5:45 A.M. 6:00 A.M. 6:15 A.M.

ARRIVE MIDWAY AIRPORT ARRIVE MARSHALL INSTITUTE WATER TOWER PLACE

8:15 A.M. 8:30 A.M. 9:00 A.M. 9:15 A.M.

FROM DOWNTOWN CHICAGO

LEAVE MCDONALD'S
220 N. MICHIGAN

ARRIVE MIDWAY SOUTH BEND AIRPORT AIRPORT

6:00 P.M. 6:45 P.M. 8:45 P.M.

ARRIVE NOTRE DAME TOWN & COUNTRY OFFICE

9:00 P.M. 9:15 P.M. 9:30 P.M.

Ride United Limo to Midway Airport and Downtown Chicago

Same Day Return

CALL YOUR TRAVEL AGENT OR UNITED LIMO

674-6993

United Limo

10844 U.S. 20 (one and one-half miles east of Bittersweet)
Osceola, Indiana 46561

Saint Mary's's loft policy still up in air according to Board

By ANNE GALLAGHER Staff Reporter

"No decisions have been made" was a phrase frequently heard during last night's Board of Governors meeting at Saint Mary's College. Once again, the prospect of lofts for Saint Mary's dorms was discussed. Anne McCarthy, member of the loft committee, said that "everything is still up in the air and no decisions have yet been made." A design for the lofts has not yet been chosen, and there still is a big liability issue to be discussed," said McCarthy.

Saint Mary's plans on offering the option of lofts to dorm residents next year, although only lofts built from the kits sold by the College would be allowed.

The board was surprised to hear that the cost for a loft is estimated at $100 per person. Commenting that supplies and labor lie behind the high costs, McCarthy said the cost brought in the problem of resale. "With the wear and tear taking place over the years, they just wouldn't sell for the same price."

Lee Ann Franks, student body president, addressed the board, urging them to attend the various student government functions. "It is needed for such a government to sponsor activities, and have no one attend them," she said. "I know that you can't come to every event, but at least talk to them up." Both Franks and Julie Strazzabosco, vice president for academic affairs, urged board members to attend the coming reflective slide show by artist Meierad Craig, on October 30. "If people show up for something different, it's where you should be," said Strazzabosco.

The partial survey, which took place last week, was discussed. Results of those surveys should be out after the mid-semester break. The board also talked about the Halloween events planned, such as the movie marathon in the Berceny Game Room, and trick-or-treating by the professors' children.

Campaign rhetoric on the rise

President Reagan said yesterday that Walter Mondale had confused the liberation of Grenada from "Communist thugs" with the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan, while the Democratic opponent accused the president of timing toxic waste cleanups to coincide with the club and flow of the campaign.

Reagan campaigned in Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina, seeking to solidify his support in the region. Mondale, meanwhile, stopped at a toxic waste site in Missouri before heading to California.

The president told students at the University of Alabama, "When we liberated Grenada from Communist thugs, we being being a good friend to the Caribbean neighbor."

Reagan said Mondale initially criticized the military action, though more recently the Democratic presidential nominee has said it may have been needed to save American lives.

Continuing his anti-Mondale rhetoric as the second presidential debate approaches, Reagan said: "My opponent, by the way, seems to have that liberation confused with the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan. He said that what we did in Grenada eroded 'our moral authority' to defend the Soviet people."

The president cited statements by Mondale predicting that the Soviets would no longer dominate other nations by force. After the invasion of Afghanistan, the president quoted Mondale as saying: "It just baffles me why the Soviets the last few years have behaved as they did in Grenada."

In Weldon Spring, Mo., Mondale visited a radioactive waste dump, which he said the administration had refused to clean up until the campaign visit was announced.

The Weldon Spring site consists of four highly radioactive sludge ponds near a former uranium processing plant.

Bowler named production mgr.

Chris Bowler, a sophomore government/ALPA major from Edina, Minn., has been named production manager of The Observer.

Bowler said his goals include bringing stability and consistency to the department. He has been working as an assistant production manager since August.

Need LSU Tix

Call collect eves. 504-291-0642
Is the administration the students' keeper?

One of my high school teachers once told me not to say I am going to do something because I want to do something. He was correct when he said that. People make promises and have them broken on a regular basis.

For this reason, the same man thought Shakespeare’s Mark Anthony was a bad orator, at least when he says: “If you have ears, prepare to hear..."

David Kroeger

Wednesday’s child

Mondale gets victory by default

One of my high school teachers once told me not to say I am going to do something because I want to do something. He was correct when he said that. People make promises and have them broken on a regular basis.

For this reason, the same man thought Shakespeare’s Mark Anthony was a bad orator, at least when he says: “If you have ears, prepare to hear..."

David Kroeger

Wednesday’s child

Mondale gets victory by default

College football’s motto: Anything for the money

As usual, it’s all in the name of the almighty dollar. Just because some cable network is paid to show down a few dozen players in the game live, colleges all over the nation (ours is no exception) seem more than happy to move the start of the game.

I understand that the revenue generated helps to underwrite the cost of minor sports. And I also realize that if we don’t get the fix in, then that’s it. The window is closed. But is the money really that significant? Think about some of the implications of an early game.

For example, what about the players? I am not sure they’re able to play so early in the morning. Air Force probably had some sort of unhealthy breakfast. hamburgers and brats before 11:00 a.m.? Who’s hungry for that stuff at that hour? Not us. It is difficult not to picture the administration taking a $263 billion dollar mistake a few years ago.

What has been prevented is not the saying of grace oneself, but the presence of organized religion. How are they supposed to sell anything to the football fans? They are wearing religious clothing, under the influence of the establishment in the competitive world. Why doesn’t the president appeal, ought to be able to dictate its own terms to the courts? He refers to the Constitution, which guarantees life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

Yet, while there are so many moves to place the burden of responsibility on someone who else, the administration can never be said to be free of error being made. Whether the law says so or not, and whether it removes a cent from our precious treasury or not, the administration is still responsible for us. Does the phrase ‘Are my brother’s keeper’ ring a bell? Whether those who decree from under the dome do it on purpose or not, they are completely and totally responsible for us, for every last cell in our bodies and every last thought in our heads. All in all, it is a frightening responsibility, one which no directive can remove. It is certainly something to think about while seated on the fifty yard line during football games. In fact, such a burden does not leave, direct or no directive. It descends and it remains. Sleep well, you who lead us.

David Kroeger is a Sophomore in the College of Arts and Letters Honors Program and is a regular Viewpoint columnist.

College football’s motto: Anything for the money

This past summer the Supreme Court handed down a landmark decision affecting the lives of millions. Well, maybe not millions, but certainly one that touched the lives of millions. It was a decision that had widespread implications. The decision, which was certainly one that touched the lives of millions. It was a decision that had widespread implications.

Speaking of the unborn, Reagan said they are "protected under the Constitution, which guarantees life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

But, in any case, are the Democrats guilty of prohibiting the free exercise of religion? Reagan said: "If you want to say grace in a school cafeteria, and a court rules they (sic) can’t do it. And because it’s school property."

I defy the president to produce a single child ever prevented from saying grace if he wanted to. It is not big trick, you know. I have managed to do it in far more intimidating places than school property, and I roam the land unpunished for my pious transgression.

What has been prevented is not the saying of grace oneself, but the presence of organized religion. How are they supposed to sell anything to the football fans? They are wearing religious clothing, under the influence of the establishment in the competitive world. Why doesn’t the president appeal, ought to be able to dictate its own terms to the courts? He refers to the Constitution, which guarantees life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

Yet, while there are so many moves to place the burden of responsibility on someone who else, the administration can never be said to be free of error being made. Whether the law says so or not, and whether it removes a cent from our precious treasury or not, the administration is still responsible for us. Does the phrase ‘Are my brother’s keeper’ ring a bell? Whether those who decree from under the dome do it on purpose or not, they are completely and totally responsible for us, for every last cell in our bodies and every last thought in our heads. All in all, it is a frightening responsibility, one which no directive can remove. It is certainly something to think about while seated on the fifty yard line during football games. In fact, such a burden does not leave, direct or no directive. It descends and it remains. Sleep well, you who lead us.

David Kroeger is a Sophomore in the College of Arts and Letters Honors Program and is a regular Viewpoint columnist.

College football’s motto: Anything for the money

As usual, it’s all in the name of the almighty dollar. Just because some cable network is paid to show down a few dozen players in the game live, colleges all over the nation (ours is no exception) seem more than happy to move the start of the game.

I understand that the revenue generated helps to underwrite the cost of minor sports. And I also realize that if we don’t get the fix in, then that’s it. The window is closed. But is the money really that significant? Think about some of the implications of an early game.

For example, what about the players? I am not sure they’re able to play so early in the morning. Air Force probably had some sort of unhealthy breakfast. hamburgers and brats before 11:00 a.m.? Who’s hungry for that stuff at that hour? Not us. It is difficult not to picture the administration taking a $263 billion dollar mistake a few years ago.

What has been prevented is not the saying of grace oneself, but the presence of organized religion. How are they supposed to sell anything to the football fans? They are wearing religious clothing, under the influence of the establishment in the competitive world. Why doesn’t the president appeal, ought to be able to dictate its own terms to the courts? He refers to the Constitution, which guarantees life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

Yet, while there are so many moves to place the burden of responsibility on someone who else, the administration can never be said to be free of error being made. Whether the law says so or not, and whether it removes a cent from our precious treasury or not, the administration is still responsible for us. Does the phrase ‘Are my brother’s keeper’ ring a bell? Whether those who decree from under the dome do it on purpose or not, they are completely and totally responsible for us, for every last cell in our bodies and every last thought in our heads. All in all, it is a frightening responsibility, one which no directive can remove. It is certainly something to think about while seated on the fifty yard line during football games. In fact, such a burden does not leave, direct or no directive. It descends and it remains. Sleep well, you who lead us.

David Kroeger is a Sophomore in the College of Arts and Letters Honors Program and is a regular Viewpoint columnist.

College football’s motto: Anything for the money

As usual, it’s all in the name of the almighty dollar. Just because some cable network is paid to show down a few dozen players in the game live, colleges all over the nation (ours is no exception) seem more than happy to move the start of the game.

I understand that the revenue generated helps to underwrite the cost of minor sports. And I also realize that if we don’t get the fix in, then that’s it. The window is closed. But is the money really that significant? Think about some of the implications of an early game.

For example, what about the players? I am not sure they’re able to play so early in the day. Air Force probably had some sort of un­ fair edge over our players. I mean, being in the military, they’ve used to getting up early. If the football players here are anything like the average ND student (as everyone claims), they complain about being under the influence of the establishment, I mean, in all, it is quite a staggering responsibility, one which no directive can remove. It is certainly something to think about while seated on the fifty yard line during football games. In fact, such a burden does not leave, direct or no directive. It descends and it remains. Sleep well, you who lead us.

David Kroeger is a Sophomore in the College of Arts and Letters Honors Program and is a regular Viewpoint columnist.

College football’s motto: Anything for the money

As usual, it’s all in the name of the almighty dollar. Just because some cable network is paid to show down a few dozen players in the game live, colleges all over the nation (ours is no exception) seem more than happy to move the start of the game.

I understand that the revenue generated helps to underwrite the cost of minor sports. And I also realize that if we don’t get the fix in, then that’s it. The window is closed. But is the money really that significant? Think about some of the implications of an early game.

For example, what about the players? I am not sure they’re able to play so early in the morning. Air Force probably had some sort of unfair edge over our players. I mean, being in the military, they’ve used to getting up early. If the football players here are anything like the average ND student (as everyone claims), they complain about being under the influence of the establishment, I mean, in all, it is quite a staggering responsibility, one which no directive can remove. It is certainly something to think about while seated on the fifty yard line during football games. In fact, such a burden does not leave, direct or no directive. It descends and it remains. Sleep well, you who lead us.

David Kroeger is a Sophomore in the College of Arts and Letters Honors Program and is a regular Viewpoint columnist.

College football’s motto: Anything for the money

As usual, it’s all in the name of the almighty dollar. Just because some cable network is paid to show down a few dozen players in the game live, colleges all over the nation (ours is no exception) seem more than happy to move the start of the game.

I understand that the revenue generated helps to underwrite the cost of minor sports. And I also realize that if we don’t get the fix in, then that’s it. The window is closed. But is the money really that significant? Think about some of the implications of an early game.

For example, what about the players? I am not sure they’re able to play so early in the morning. Air Force probably had some sort of unfair edge over our players. I mean, being in the military, they’ve used to getting up early. If the football players here are anything like the average ND student (as everyone claims), they complain about being under the influence of the establishment, I mean, in all, it is quite a staggering responsibility, one which no directive can remove. It is certainly something to think about while seated on the fifty yard line during football games. In fact, such a burden does not leave, direct or no directive. It descends and it remains. Sleep well, you who lead us.

David Kroeger is a Sophomore in the College of Arts and Letters Honors Program and is a regular Viewpoint columnist.
The Notre Dame Boxing Office will be holding its annual open boxing tournament this weekend, and boxing fans will be able to watch the matches today and Thursday. The matches will begin at 6 p.m.

The Notre Dame Squash Club competed in a tri-city men's match with UConn and Boston College last weekend in West Lafayette. Irish winners were Chaitanya Panchal, Mark Ludke, Matt Kosevich and Sean Richardson. — The Observer

Sports Briefs

The ND/SMC Sailing Club will be meeting tonight at 6:30 p.m. at the boathouse. — The Observer

Speaking of Sports will have an open phone line for listeners to voice their thoughts tonight on WVIN AM-64. Call 239-6400 to express your thoughts. — The Observer

Co-rec basketball and volleyball leagues should attend meetings tomorrow in the football auditorium in the ACC. Basketball captains will meet at 6 p.m. and volleyball captains will be meeting at 5 p.m. — The Observer

see BRIEFS, page 6

Classifieds

NOTICES

EXPERT TYPING 277-4364 a.m. 5:30

TYING AVAILABLE 277-4663

EXPERT TYPING 277-4364 a.m. 5:30

TYING AVAILABLE 277-4663

EXPERT TYPING 277-4364 a.m. 5:30

TYING AVAILABLE 277-4663

EXPERT TYPING 277-4364 a.m. 5:30

TYING AVAILABLE 277-4663

WANTED

THANK YOU! TAKE OFF YOUR LEFT BLAINT SHOE! Call Detectiveadora at 372-7443 to arrange pickup.

FOR SALE

TICKETS

DAVID BOWIE and HEATH LEDGER TO PLAY / zespoł / INCHYRA HOUSE, ABERDEEN, SCOTLAND / SATURDAY, OCTOBER 13 / 23.50 / 0341-507-7800 / TICKETS AVAILABLE AT THE DOOR / TICKETS FOR SALE ON THE NIGHT / NO TICKETS SOLD ONLINE / MINIMUM AGE: 16 /

DO YOU NEED TO KEEP UP WITH THE TIMES? CHANGING DANCE HALLS TO BE TAKEN IN NOTRE DAME'S PEGASUS. CALL (219) 753-4300 or 753-4302.

UNDERWREAP SEIGNEE UPPICK SATURESS WITH A I/A) OF S.50 CENTS EACH / NO OTHER people / YOU DON'T HAVE TO BE A MUSICAL HEAL / TO COME TO THE ROYAL CENTER / 19TH-

Sport Briefs

Wednesday, October 9, 1984- page 5

The Observer Sports Office, located on the third floor of Lavelle Student Union, is open from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. The Observer Sports Main's office, located on the third floor of Haggler College Center, accepts classifieds from 12:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. All classifieds, except for those available online for a fee of $5 per classified, must be prepaid, either in person or by mail. Charge is 50 cents per classified, three paragraphs maximum.
South Carolina 11th

Washington vaults into top spot

Associated Press

The Washington Huskies have become the fifth team to be ranked No. 1 this season. In The Associated Press college football poll.

Thanks to Washington's 37-15 victory over Stanford white top-ranked Texas and No. 3 Oklahoma were battling to a 15-15 standoff, the Huskies vaulted from second place to the top spot with 37 of 59 first-place votes and 1,155 total points.

Texas not only fell off the top but dropped all the way to third place. Oklahoma jumped from third to second with 11 first-place votes and 1,072 points while Texas received four first-place ballots and 1,057 points.

"It's an honor," was the reaction from Washington Coach Don James, who had said he preferred not to be No. 1 early in the season.

Washington was No. 1 six straight weeks in 1982, fell as low as 13th and finished No. 7 with a 10-2 record.

Boston College, a 24-10 winner over Temple, held onto fourth place, while Nebraska jumped from sixth to fifth with 13 points after a 35-23 victory over Missouri.

Southern Methodist, which came from behind with two touchdowns in the final 3:01 to defeat Baylor 24-20 rose from seventh to sixth. Brigham Young, which wiped Wyoming 41-38, dipped from fifth to seventh.

Ohio State, a 45-38 winner over Illinois, remained in the eighth spot, while Miami of Florida upped a notch from 10th after truncating Cincinnati 49-25. Florida State, which had been ninth, dropped to 15th after losing to Auburn 42-41.

Rounding out the Top Ten consists of South Carolina, Oklahoma State, Auburn, Georgia, Florida State, Kentucky, Florida, Iowa, Penn State and West Virginia.

Soccer

continued from page 8

had all year. - an intensity problem," Grace explained. "We have people that don't work as hard as they should. We have people that don't know the price they have to pay to be successful.

To make the loss even harder to swallow, the Irish learned yesterday that Evansville, ranked second in the region, lost twice over the weekend, once to number-three Akron. Notre Dame will play host to Akron tomorrow afternoon at Alumni Field at 4 p.m., and had the Irish been victorious over the weekend, a win in that game would have guaranteed them a spot in the NCAA tournament.

Instead, the Irish will be playing tomorrow only to save face and improve their 10-2 record.

Baseball

continued from page 8

out that we have a very scrappy club," Moran says. "We know that we won't score a lot of runs, so we are going to have to be more aggressive on base paths and take that extra base. Since our pitching staff is much improved from last year, any extra run could turn out to be the winning margin.

"Our defense is strong up the middle and most likely, the corner positions will be platoonied," continues Moran. "Our outfield has plenty of speed, which will allow them to cover a lot of ground."

Another strength for the Irish will be the depth on the bench. "Our bench is very strong because of the talented first-year players we have," Moran says. "They know that they will be counted on during the more important spring season."

The team will need to improve, and Gallo plans to work the team very hard during the winter and early spring. He knows that once the hitting games around after more practicing, the road to the NCAA baseball will be easier.

The Irish Gardens

your Screw your Roommate Headquarters

Stay on campus and save $$$ by letting us take care of your flower needs

Dial M-U-M-6 (6867)

The Knights of the Castle

Men's Hair Styling at its finest minutes from campus

722-0312 277-1691

$5.00 HAIRCUTS

$8.50 Haircut shampoo blowdry

Seniors

EXPERIENCE LATIN AMERICA

WITH

HOLY CROSS ASSOCIATES PROGRAM IN CHILE

A two-year post-graduate commitment to living a simple lifestyle, teaching, serving and sharing in community.

For more information contact:

Mary Ann Roemer
Center for Social Concerns: 239-7949

John Fitzpatrick
Associates Office: 239-5521
239 Cavanaugh: 239-6522

NVA's Century Club is a program of exercise and fitness in which participants set their own exercise goals. For more information, contact the NVA office. - The Observer

A horseback-riding trip to Happy Trails Riding Stables is being sponsored by NVA on Sunday, Nov. 4. Trips will leave at 10 a.m., 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. if you have put your name on the waiting list or are interested in signing up, bring $5 to the NVA office to cover transportation and rides. - The Observer

The ND Field Hockey Team dropped a game to Ball State last night 2-1, in Muncie, Ind. Corinne DiGiacomo scored the lone goal for the Irish, with an assist from Christina Weinmann. Goalie Patti Gallagher had 11 saves in the contest. Notre Dame's record fell to 6-4-1 on the season. The team returns to action tomorrow in Ann Arbor against Michigan. - The Observer

The Saint Mary's volleyball team (toned Ancilla College in three games, 15-1, 15-1, 15-6 last night. The Belles controlled the match from the beginning with its talent overpowering Ancilla. The team will not play until after break, when it hosts Marion College on October 30. - The Observer

University of Notre Dame Foreign Study Programs Tienjin, China PRESENTS Lecture Series on China October 16 - November 26
Tuesday - Wednesday Private Enterprise in China Today
Peter Moody, Dept. of Government
Contemporary Chinese Culture
Tianjin Program Overview
November 8 - November 26
Thur - Wed
Joseph Scott, Dept. of Sociology
Zheng Yun-shen, Dept. of Government
Foreign languages Institute
St邙le Field Hockey Team dropped a game
S5

Fine Art Majors are Drawn to Domino's Pizza. $1.00 off any pizza. One coupon per pizza. Fast, Free Delivery* Plaza 23 Center 105 South Bend Ave. South Bend 277-2515 Expires in one week. - The Observer

University of Notre Dame Foreign Study Programs Tienjin, China PRESENTS Lecture Series on China October 16 - November 26
Tuesday - Wednesday Private Enterprise in China Today
Peter Moody, Dept. of Government
Contemporary Chinese Culture
Tianjin Program Overview
November 8 - November 26
Thur - Wed
Joseph Scott, Dept. of Sociology
Zheng Yun-shen, Dept. of Government
Foreign languages Institute
St卩le Field Hockey Team dropped a game
S5
The N.D. Student Activities Board presents

THE FIXX

opening act: Corey Hart

November 16th at the Notre Dame A.C.C.

Tickets on sale Tuesday, Oct. 16th

at S.A.B. Rec. Store and

S.A.B. ticket window (2nd floor LaFortune)

$10 and $11 seats available

limit six tickets per person

---

Doonesbury

- Seattle TV City Hall, 6:30 p.m.
- Meet the Press, 2:30 p.m.
- National Teleconference, 11:10
- VAT, 11:00
- Florida State University, 10:50
- Arkansas, 10:40
- National Teleconference, 10:30
- Ohio State, 10:20
- Pennsylvania State, 10:10
- Penn State, 10:00
- Tennessee, 9:50
- Michigan State, 9:40
- Minnesota, 9:30
- Wisconsin, 9:20
- Illinois, 9:10
- Iowa, 9:00
- Northwestern, 8:50
- Michigan, 8:40
- Michigan State, 8:30
- University of Wisconsin, 8:20
- Ohio State, 8:10
- Army, 8:00
- Notre Dame, 7:50
- South Carolina, 7:40
- Miami (Fla.), 7:30
- Boston College, 7:20
- Boston, 7:10
- Stanford, 7:00
- California, 6:50
- Arizona State, 6:40
- Arizona, 6:30
- UCLA, 6:20
- Southern California, 6:10
- Stanford, 6:00
- Colorado State, 5:50
- Colorado, 5:40
- Oregon State, 5:30
- Oregon, 5:20
- Washington State, 5:10
- Washington, 5:00

---

The Daily Crossword

Across

1. Part of Indonesia
2. David
3. Hudner's
4. Wrong
5. Baltic feeder
6. Furniture
7. Thicket
8. London district
9. A
10. Exculpate
11. Hook adjunct
12. Quarantine
13. Wrong
14. Furniture
15. Tropical vine
16. Lithe
17. Navarro of Ollie's quotation
18. Turk. coin
19. Hadrian's -
20. Indonesian films
21. Furniture
22. Whole: pref.
23. Dlmldate
24. Where Pusan
25. Fairy tale
26. Parasite
27. Where
28. Indigo
29. Feverspell
30. Thru.
31. Expel
32. Vermicelli (with 52 A)
33. Thursday
34. Flora
35. Lunar
36. Tax org.
37. Old
38. President
39. A
40. Parasite

Down

1. A
2. A
3. A
4. A
5. A
6. A
7. A
8. A
9. A
10. A
11. A
12. A
13. A
14. A
15. A
16. A
17. A
18. A
19. A
20. A
21. A
22. A
23. A
24. A
25. A
26. A
27. A
28. A
29. A
30. A
31. A
32. A
33. A
34. A
35. A
36. A
37. A
38. A
39. A
40. A

---

Campus

- 11 a.m. - Ticket Sales, The Fixx, Student Record Store, Sponsored by Student Activities Board Musical Entertainment, 11 & 10.
- 1:15 p.m. - World Food Day - National Teleconference, CCE Auditorium, Sponsored by Groups & Depts. Interested in World Hunger.
- 1:15 p.m. & 2 p.m. - Kellogg Institute Seminar, "Ulumband: Religion, Politics and Power," Prof. Bernato Ortiz, Federal Law of Minas Gerais, Brazil, Room 151 Declo.
- 1:30 p.m. - Graduate Seminar, "Forced Oscillations in Chemical Reactors," Prof. R. Arts, University of Minnesota, Room 181 Fitzpatrick Hall.
- 5:50 p.m. - Tennis, ND Mens B Team vs. Northwestern Illinois, Courtesy Courtaux.
- 6:30 p.m. - APROFC ND Alumni Career Day, Stepan Center.
- 4:50 p.m. - Biology Seminar, "Germfree Animals: Why & What For," Dr. Bernard Wesemann, ND, Room 278 Galvin.
- 6:30 p.m. - Finance Club Meeting, Mandatory NYC Trip Meeting, 223 Hayes Heyes, Sponsored by Finance Club, $1100 Hotel/Exit Otherwise.
- 6:30 p.m. - Lecture, "Private Enterprise in China Today," Joseph Scott, Dept. of Sociology, ND, Room 242 O'Hagany, Sponsored by Foreign Study Programs.
- 7:59 p.m. - Presentation Reception, Gallo Winery, Senior Mkt., Mgt., ALPA, Econ., Fin. Majors and MBA's, Alumni Room, Martin Ien, Sponsored by Career and Placement Services, Free.
- 7:59 p.m. - AIESEC Meeting, Little Theater, LaFortune, Sponsored by AIESEC.
- 7:59 p.m. - Film, "Wild Strawberries," Ingmar Bergman, Engineering Auditorium, Sponsored by ND Film Club, $1.
- 7:59 p.m. - Annual Faculty Seminar Lecture Series, "America as Laboratory: Felix's Exhuming the Mastodon," Garry Wills, Second Lecture of Series, CCE Auditorium.
- 7:59 p.m. - Tuesday Night Film Series, "The Tin Drum," Annenberg Auditorium.
- 7:59 p.m. - Meeting, Shakespeare Club, Organization of Christmas Party, Library Lounge, Sponsored by ND Shakespeare Club, Free.
- 7:59 p.m. - SMC Music Dept. Concert, Dr. Clayton Henderson, SMC, Piano, Guest Artist: Deborah Dectel, South Bend Symphony, Obbo, Little Theatre (SMC).

---

Psycho Chicken

---

Bloom County

---

Doonesbury

---

The Far Side

Gary Larson

---

Monday's Solution

---

The Daily Crossword

---

The N.D. Student Activities Board presents

THE FIXX

opening act: Corey Hart

November 16th at the Notre Dame A.C.C.

Tickets on sale Tuesday, Oct. 16th

at S.A.B. Rec. Store and

S.A.B. ticket window (2nd floor LaFortune)

$10 and $11 seats available

limit six tickets per person

---

Wednesday and Thursday at the Engineering Auditorium...

PATTON'

All shows $1.00!

9:00 & 11:00

Check it out in LaFortune!

SPONSORED BY THE S.A.B.

---

Today

Tuesday, October 16, 1984 — page 7
Sports

Irish lose contest and NCAA tourney hopes

By PHIL WOLF
Assistant Sports Editor

The stage had been set perfectly. The Notre Dame soccer team had an excellent opportunity to secure itself a spot in the NCAA Championship Tournament for the first time in the history of Irish soccer.

When Notre Dame lost 4-1 to Marquette, Tuesday, at the Sporting Park in Milwaukee, the team's hopes for a national tournament bid were destroyed.

Marquette had vaulted to the fourth spot in the regional last week. An Irish victory over the Warriors, coupled with a win over third-ranked Akron at Notre Dame, would have guaranteed a spot for Notre Dame in the NCAA tournament. The Irish, however, failed to convert on their opportunity, and the playoff outlook for the team now is dismal.

Notre Dame's chances for the upset looked fairly good early in the game, when the Irish came out and attacked the Warriors well at the start. Then, only 32:40 into the game, Notre Dame took the lead.

Senior tri-captain Rich Herdegen scored the unassisted goal, the 51st tally of his career. The goal brought Herdegen's season total to 11, and it was the first goal of the season for Notre Dame. The Irish lead was very short-lived, however, as the Warriors took the lead back on a controversial call when a Marquette player was tripped in front of the Irish goal.

The referee awarded a penalty kick, saying the infraction occurred inside the 18-yard penalty area. Grace, however, claimed that the penalty occurred outside of the box, but his protest was overruled by the official.

Tutaj later added to the Warriors' total with an unassisted goal at 85:30.

Statistically, the game was rather close. Both teams took four corner kicks in the contest. Marquette had 11 of its shots on goal to Notre Dame's eight.

"We got into the same thing we've seen SOCCER, page 6"

"I went into the same thing we've seen SOCCER, page 6"

Solves fumble problem

By MARK S. PANKOWSKI
Sports Writer

With Mike Kelley starting at center, the person who is playing behind him probably does not think that the opportunity to play will come around very often.

But when Robbie Finnegan was called into action during the second half of Saturday's Air Force game, he was ready to take that chance and make the most of it.

Finnegan's chance to play came when Mike Kelley and quarterback Scot Grooms had four fumbled exchanges in the first half. Because Finnegan and Grooms had practiced together on the second team all season, the 6-0, 246-pound senior had not the confidence that a game of fumbled snaps could be corrected.

"I don't have a lot of confidence together all year," Finnegan says. "I worked with Scot (Grooms) while Mike Kelley had worked with Steve (Beuerman), so the coaches put me in the game to cut down on the number of fumbled snaps.

One need not go any farther than the second half statistics to see that the move was successful, as there were no problems with the exchange between the center and quarterback after Finnegan entered the lineup.

Carl Selmer, the head offensive line coach, was pleased with Finnegan's play.

"I think Finnegan did a good job getting the ball to the quarterback, which was the thing he had to do," Selmer says. "He also carried out his blocking assignments like he was supposed to do.

Even though Finnegan was frustrated with the outcome of the game, he was encouraged with his play.

"What can I say, I don't want to sound happy but I think I played pretty well filling in for Mike," says the second-string center.

Centering the ball without dropping it was a lot easier said than done Saturday, as rain soaked the field throughout the game. As a result, Finnegan had a hard time keeping his hands dry.

"The weather was pretty dry, but my hands kept getting wet from the weather," Finnegan says.

"I hope to have a chance to play again," Finnegan states. "We were spinning a lot, but I don't want that to sound like an excuse.

Like everyone else, very few were very strong throughout the season and because of our pitching, we were able to win games," states Gallo. "I was very pleased with the performances of Buster Lopes, who is coming off a very serious eye injury, and Paul Mask.

With only a few aspects of the game that need to improve for the Irish, Gallo is anticipating the spring season.

"My prediction for the spring season will all depend on how the players assert themselves during the winter," offers Gallo. "If our bullpen can establish some control, we could have a very exciting spring season."

Jack Morran, the team captain for the Irish, knows that the Irish will have to do to be successful after playing the short fall season.

"Through this season, we found..." see BASEBALL, page 6