In the wake of increased focus on South Africa and its apartheid system, the Notre Dame Board of Trustees has created a committee to evaluate current University investment practices with companies in that country.

Yesterday, the Board of Trustees Ad Hoc Committee on South Africa Investments met to review its policy statements and to discuss potential proposals to the Board of Trustees.

According to committee member Pat Williams, a Professor of Accounting and Management, and John Dettling, assistant to the student government University Investment Practices Committee, a tentative proposal was completed at meeting, which will be made into a formal document.

Neither member could elaborate on the specifics of the recommendation because of an agreement not to discuss the proposal until after the Board of Trustees and voted on at its October meeting.

According to Williams, the ad hoc committee was formed in response to increased awareness of the apartheid system practical and ethical students.

Dettling attributed the additional attention to the efforts of the University's African Studies Professor and Director of the African Studies A. Peter Waters, student government president at Notre Dame.

Both Waters and three student government representatives also served on the ad hoc committee. Waters said they had an active voice in the committee and were kept in the loop as equal members. He added that this opportunity is "the latest students have progressed in Univer-

The committee members also included: Bill Creer, student body president; Pat Baccaro, a member of the student government South Africa Investment Practices Committee; Thomas P. Carney, Notre Dame Board of Trustees chairman; John Caron, trustee; Philip J. Facenda, trustee; Lee A. Tavis, business department professor; and Robert Wilmouth, University Investment Practices committee chairman.

According to Williams and Dettling, the committee's final draft of the proposal will be sent to the Board of Trustees and voted on at their October meeting.

According to Williams, the committee was formed in the wake of increased focus on South Africa and its apartheid system.

The 1978 policy statement in part called for companies to adopt principles, such as the Sullivan Princip-

The committee met regularly over the summer, beginning its work by advertising and soliciting by mail and word of mouth. Two publications carried adversements for the position.

The committee was made "inexpensive" and "simple" by the University Times. In addition, the committee made a "quick contact" with educators around the country. "We sent letters over, to presidents of colleges around the country to solicit nominations," Feigli said. "We also looked at recommendations from faculty and alumni.

Feigli called the response "pretty good" in terms of those who replied. "A number were nominated and contacted," she said. "The pool is small.

The mechanics of advertising was the committee's first job. Letters were then sent out to those recommended, informing them of their nominations.

see PRESIDENT, page 5

Investment policy studied by Trustees

By SCOTT BEARBY

In the wake of increased focus on South Africa and its apartheid system, the Notre Dame Board of Trustees has created a committee to evaluate current University investment practices with companies in that country.

According to Williams, the ad hoc committee was formed in response to increased awareness of the apartheid system practical and ethical students.

Dettling attributed the additional attention to the efforts of the University's African Studies Professor and Director of the African Studies A. Peter Waters, student government president at Notre Dame.

Both Waters and three student government representatives also served on the ad hoc committee. Waters said they had an active voice in the committee and were kept in the loop as equal members. He added that this opportunity is "the latest students have progressed in Univer-

The committee members also included: Bill Creer, student body president; Pat Baccaro, a member of the student government South Africa Investment Practices Committee; Thomas P. Carney, Notre Dame Board of Trustees chairman; John Caron, trustee; Philip J. Facenda, trustee; Lee A. Tavis, business department professor; and Robert Wilmouth, University Investment Practices committee chairman.

According to Williams and Dettling, the committee's final draft of the proposal will be sent to the Board of Trustees and voted on at their October meeting.

According to Williams, the committee was formed in the wake of increased focus on South Africa and its apartheid system.

The 1978 policy statement in part called for companies to adopt principles, such as the Sullivan Princip-

The committee met regularly over the summer, beginning its work by advertising and soliciting by mail and word of mouth. Two publications carried adver-
sements for the position.

The committee was made "inexpensive" and "simple" by the University Times. In addition, the committee made a "quick contact" with educators around the country. "We sent letters over, to presidents of colleges around the country to solicit nominations," Feigli said. "We also looked at recommendations from faculty and alumni.

Feigli called the response "pretty good" in terms of those who replied. "A number were nominated and contacted," she said. "The pool is small.

The mechanics of advertising was the committee's first job. Letters were then sent out to those recommended, informing them of their nominations.

see PRESIDENT, page 5

SMC head hunt continues

By THERESA GUARINO

The search goes on at South Bend.

Walter Hickey, former vice president of student affairs, has taken the position of acting president since July 1. Dorothy Fial, chairwoman of the chemistry and physics department, has replaced Hickey as acting vice-president.

Williams, chairing the Board of Regents appointed a search committee to find candidates to recommend a candidate to the Executive Governing Board of the Board of Regents, the administrative members of the College. The search committee includes regents, faculty and student representatives.

Student Body President Anne Marie Kolmain is a committee member. "My role is student input," she said. "I think I can make a pretty big contribution."

The committee is still in the recruiting stages of work, according to Feigli, who is a member of the committee. "We're still gathering and reviewing data at this point."

The committee met regularly over the summer, beginning its work by advertising and soliciting by mail and word of mouth. Two publications carried advertisements for the position.

The committee was made "inexpensive" and "simple" by the University Times. In addition, the committee made a "quick contact" with educators around the country. "We sent letters over, to presidents of colleges around the country to solicit nominations," Feigli said. "We also took recommendations from faculty and alumni.

Feigli called the response "pretty good" in terms of those who replied. "A number were nominated and contacted," she said. "The pool is small.

The mechanics of advertising was the committee's first job. Letters were then sent out to those recommended, informing them of their nominations.

see PRESIDENT, page 5

Citizens raise stink over ethanol; demand elimination of foul odor

By DAN McCULLOUGH

After a summer away from South Bend, students returning to campus may have been surprised to smell the odor of ethanol still lingering in the air.

The odor from the ethanol plant on the city's west side, which is owned and operated by the New Energy Company of Indiana, has been a source of controversy and complaints among the citizens of South Bend as well as among members of the Notre Dame community since the plant opened last fall.

The odor comes from the plant's grate dryer and is vented into the atmosphere in part from through huge stacks. The odor varies in intensity, but on some days it can be smelled as far away as Elkhart and Granger.

Although city officials have been trying to avoid deodorizing the system, the city has not reached a consensus on the ideal solution to the ethanol problem by New Energy general plant manager Bill Grims.

The system, which carries a price tag of $5 million, is similar to one used in the Horne Walker distillery in Windsor, Ontario. Representatives of the mayor's office traveled to Canada in July to observe the system at work.

The whiskey deodorizing system is much smaller than the one being considered for South Bend, which would be unprecedented in size and cost, according to engineers from New Energy. Officials at the company have said the system would probably take more than a year to design and build.

Meanwhile, as tensions continue at the ethanol plant, the mayor has said the city cannot afford to pay for the system. New Energy said it cannot afford to pay for the system either and has required the city to assist in locating federal aid or other outside financing for the project. But Parent said outside funding is not an option.

see ETHANOL, page 7

LaFortune robbery investigated

By KEITH HARRISON JR.

Notre Dame Security is still investigating last week's theft at LaFortune Student Center, in which two pieces of furniture and Student Body President Bill Healy's office keys were taken.

A couch, a chair, four keys to student government offices and several office items were taken during the theft, which occurred between 8 p.m. Thursday and 8 a.m. Friday, ac-

According to Glenn Terry, director of Security.

The system, which carries a price tag of $5 million, is similar to one used in the Horne Walker distillery in Windsor, Ontario. Representatives of the mayor's office traveled to Canada in July to observe the system at work.

The whiskey deodorizing system is much smaller than the one being considered for South Bend, which would be unprecedented in size and cost, according to engineers from New Energy. Officials at the company have said the system would probably take more than a year to design and build.

Meanwhile, as tensions continue at the ethanol plant, the mayor has said the city cannot afford to pay for the system. New Energy said it cannot afford to pay for the system either and has required the city to assist in locating federal aid or other outside financing for the project. But Parent said outside funding is not an option.

see ETHANOL, page 7

see THEFT, page 4

Tuition - page 3

The Observer

VOL. XX, NO. 2

The independent student newspaper serving Notre Dame and South Bend

TUESDAY, AUGUST 27, 1985
Students pay price for education

We chose to attend a top University and must pay to keep it there. Those who attend Notre Dame generally make a commitment to graduate from Notre Dame. Why pay for three years of a Notre Dame education only to bail out the fourth year and graduate from another school because you are unwilling to foot a $756 increase? Financial aid, however, should keep pace with tuition increases. No one owes us a Notre Dame education; but if Notre Dame wants to attract top students, as it wants to attract top faculty, it must be willing to pay.

Thomas Mason, vice president for business affairs, said in an interview with The Observer reporter: "We certainly don’t want to become a rich-students-only university." Notre Dame is comprised of many middle to upper-middle class students. Were it to change, the character of the University would change significantly. And this would be a shame.

Notre Dame now doles out financial aid to 66 percent of the student body, and the average amount is more than $1,000. This figure, however, is deceiving as it includes ROTC and athletic scholarships which are available only to students who are willing to make special commitments outside of their regular coursework.

According to Mason, the University has a goal to raise the financial aid endowment from $80 million to $100 million. The administration should stick to this commitment and make it a reality, as just made increased faculty salaries a reality.

The University must show the same commitment to the students that it does to the faculty. It must keep its promises.

Welcome back. And enjoy your year at Notre Dame. You’re paying for it.

Amy

Managing Editor

Tuesday, August 27, 1985 - page 2
Three new trustees named to board

By MARK PANKOWSKI
Copy Editor

Three new trustees have been named to the Notre Dame board of trustees in June. The new trustees are Elizabeth T. Kennan, president of Mount Holyoke College; South Hadley, Mass.; James Rinehart, chairman of the board of the Clark Equipment Co., South Bend, Ind.; and Alfred Stepan, dean of the faculty of international and public affairs at Columbia University.

A specialist in medieval monasticism and intellectual history, Kennan has published extensively and lectured in colleges and universities in the United States and abroad.

Rinehart has done post-baccalaureate study in law and in management at Harvard University.

An authority on Latin American affairs, Stepan is the author of numerous monographs and two books, one dealing with Peru, the other Brazil.

His father, Alfred C. Stepan, who died last year, was for many years a trustee of Notre Dame.

University of Notre Dame
Notre Dame, Indiana

THE HAMES NOTRE DAME BOOKSTORE

Open Monday - Saturday
9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Extended Hours
Tuesday, August 27 and Wednesday, August 28
9 a.m. to 7 p.m.

YOUR FULL-SERVICE COLLEGE STORE

BICYCLE BONUS
Register to win a FIREZEE 12-SPEED BIKE. Fill out the coupon & return it to the Bookstore. No purchase required.

NAME

ADDRESS

PHONE

SAVORS

ADELIPIZZARIA

WELCOME BACK SPECIAL:
$5 buys you
a large pizza with
2 items with this ad.
“We’re Talkin’ Quality”

1551 Portage Avenue

one block north of Portage

Saint Mary’s students!

Need to publicize an event?
Need to place a classified ad?
Have a compliment or gripe?

The Observer

Tuesday, August 27, 1985 - page 3

309 Haggar Center
New student affairs position filled

By LYNN R. STRAND
Staff Reporter

There is a new lady at Notre Dame—but this time she is under the golden dome.

Dr. Ann M. Firth was appointed to the newly created position of director of residence life by the Office of Student Affairs last June.

Firth, who assumed her new position in August, described herself as the "primary hearing officer" dealing with University policies. As director, Firth handles all violations of University regulations severe enough to be referred to Student Affairs.

Such violations include the allowable policy, parental, theft, and property damage. One or two cases have already been reported, said Firth, but they were not serious.

As part of new role, Firth will be working closely with Dr. John Goldrick, associate vice president for student affairs.

"The primary purpose for creating this position is because residential life is so important and large. Goldrick couldn't be solely responsible (for residential matters)," said Father David Tyson, vice president for student affairs. "Now that area can be put in its proper place and expand (the position's) responsibilities."

The new director position was formed this year because the budget allowed the necessary funds, said Goldrick.

"We want policy decisions that benefit the students," said Firth, explaining the approach that she hoped to take in dealing with judicial matters. She added that extremely difficult decisions will arise when suspension or dismissal is required, or when serious injury or death result from a student's actions.

Such decisions also hurt those making them," she said, explaining the difficulty of making certain decisions.

Firth, formerly of Chicago, received her bachelor's degree from Notre Dame in 1981 and a law degree in 1984. "I never thought someday I'd be working here... This is something I'm very excited about, and I'm very well aware of students' concerns."

Firth's appointment is a positive step toward reconciliation of the academic and social life, "a reconciliation of both centers," said Tyson.

Firth, who was appointed by the office of student affairs, said Goldrick, "There's a great opportunity for the residentiality of Notre Dame to expand and integrate" the academic and social aspects of the University. He cited hall fellows and faculty parties as answers to residential and academic problems.

Before assuming her new position, Firth worked as a litigator for Orner, Wasserman, and Moore in Chicago.

Theft

continued from page 1

The thieves probably entered and exited through the main doors of LaFortune, according to Joni Neal, director of student activities.

"The front doors were locked, but they were probably opened by someone already inside the building," Neal said. "That door has a crash bar which leaves the door unlocked if you're not careful to replace it when you go out."

"Someone in the building probably left and didn't know about the crash bar," she added. "That left the front doors open for anyone to come in and take the couch."

A student band was rehearsing in the building from 7 p.m. to 11 p.m. and various class officers and Observer employees also were working in the building at the time, Neal said. She did not give the names of the band members. "I don't want to have them accused of something they didn't have anything to do with," she said.

The class officers and Observer employees entered through the north doors, which had been left open for them by Security, she added.

Neal said the couch could not have been taken through the north doors because the main lobby is separated from that area by a door which was locked at the time.

Goldrick couldn't be solely responsible (for residential matters)," said Father David Tyson, vice president for student affairs. "Now that area can be put in its proper place and expand (the position's) responsibilities."

The new director position was formed this year because the budget allowed the necessary funds, said Goldrick.

"We want policy decisions that benefit the students," said Firth, explaining the approach that she hoped to take in dealing with judicial matters. She added that extremely difficult decisions will arise when suspension or dismissal is required, or when serious injury or death result from a student's actions.

Such decisions also hurt those making them," she said, explaining the difficulty of making certain decisions.

Firth, formerly of Chicago, received her bachelor's degree from Notre Dame in 1981 and a law degree in 1984. "I never thought someday I'd be working here... This is something I'm very excited about, and I'm very well aware of students' concerns."

Firth's appointment is a positive step toward reconciliation of the academic and social life, "a reconciliation of both centers," said Tyson.

Firth, who was appointed by the office of student affairs, said Goldrick, "There's a great opportunity for the residentiality of Notre Dame to expand and integrate" the academic and social aspects of the University. He cited hall fellows and faculty parties as answers to residential and academic problems.

Before assuming her new position, Firth worked as a litigator for Orner, Wasserman, and Moore in Chicago.

The Observer /Hannes Hacker

Room shortage?

There's no shortage of rooms at Walsh hall, yet one would never know it by the looks of this hallway. Walsh is just one of many halls around campus where it seems there's as much furniture in the hallways as there is in the rooms.

Welcome Baptist Students

BAPTIST Student Union

Bible Study - Fellowship - Fun

Join Us!

* Monday, September 9, 1985
* Time: 7 p.m.
* At the Bulla House

CAN YOU AFFORD
TO PASS UP
LUNCH at

The Legendary Faculty Dining Room

* New * New *

BUFFET SERVICE
(Grand Opening)

Starting Aug. 27, 1985 - 11:30-1:15 p.m.

Come to dine by two's and we will Pay for one - Opening Day only

$2.99 Buffet

Another Innovative New Service to the Community
For Information Call - Host John Gerrity...7518
High steppin’
The born section tries to stop a little bigger during yesterday's band practice. With the 1985 football season looming on the horizon, the Notre Dame Marching Band is almost ready... just a little more marching.

Sunshine Promotions Present

STEVIE RAY VAUGHAN

The Guitar Virtuoso is coming to South Bend!

Friday, September 6
8:00 p.m.
Morris Civic Auditorium

All seats reserved $13.00

Tickets available at the Century Center Box Office, Night Winds (Niles and Mishawaka), J.R.’s (La Porte) and SuperSounds (Elkhart).

Don’t miss the hottest Guitarist on tour!!!

‘Mercy killer’ receives no mercy from Florida cabinet members

Associated Press

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. - A 76-year-old man sentenced to life in the “mercy killing” of his wife lost his bid for freedom yesterday when two more Florida Cabinet members rejected the governor’s recommendation to free him while he appeals his murder conviction.

“The law does not give one person the right to kill another because of illness or age,” said Comptroller Gerald Lewis, the last of the six-member Cabinet to take a stand on the case of Roswell Gilbert.

Lewis’ decision left Gov. Bob Graham with only two of the three votes required from members of the independently elected Cabinet to allow Gilbert to leave Avon Park Correctional Institution near Tampa.

“The law does not provide that an adult who commits a criminal act shall be judged according to age,” Lewis said.

Agriculture Commissioner Doyle Conner announced earlier yesterday that he would not support conditional commutation for Gilbert, who was convicted in May of first-degree murder.

Conner said he hoped his decision would send a message to young people who lose touch with their elderly parents.

“I’m condemning young people who live on Wall Street and practice law and go to banks and offices every day and have elderly parents in Florida and don’t know what’s happening to them,” Conner said.

“I think Florida is going to suffer as a result of this. But most importantly, elderly people, senior citizens in our state are the ones who are really suffering.”

Conner said his office had received calls on the case from across the nation and said he spoke with one of Gilbert’s neighbors who was uncomfortable about the possibility of the retired engineer returning home.

“We are receiving messages from all over the country,” Conner said. “They’re rather irregiment. Mr. Gilbert did not have the solution to this serious problem.

“There were some alternatives. I regret that Mr. Gilbert did not pursue these alternatives.”

Gilbert has been in prison since he was convicted in May.

President

continued from page 1

Committee members will gather and review credentials, then narrow the choices down before recommending candidates to the Board of Regents.

There is no limit on the number of candidates that can be presented to the board. “The search committee has no precise number in mind,” Frigi said. “We’re simply looking for good candidates.”

January, 1996, will not necessarily find Saint Mary’s with a new president. As of right now, there is no real target date for the committee to finish its work, she said.

According to Frigi, “We’ll take the time we need to get the person we need.”

PHOTOGRAPHERS

The Observer Photo Staff

Needs YOU

*Many paid positions available
*B&W darkroom exp. crucial
*Own equipment necessary

Pick up an application and job description at the Observer office, 3rd floor LaFortune or call Pete at 239-5313

AUDITIONS AUDITIONS AUDITIONS

The University of Notre Dame
Department of Communication and Theatre

announces

Auditions
for the Notre Dame/Saint Mary’s Theatre production of

End of the World
by Arthur Kopit

Thursday, August 29 at 7:30 pm.
Friday, August 30 at 7:30 pm

at the Washington Hall Theatre

auditions are open to all Notre Dame and Saint Mary’s students no experience is necessary
no prepared monologue is required call-backs will be Sunday, September 1, at 1:00 pm

for information call 239-5154

AUDITIONS AUDITIONS AUDITIONS
Little girl with big achievements dies in tragic plane crash in Maine

Associated Press

AUBURN, Maine - Samantha Smith, the schoolgirl whose correspondence with Soviet leader Yuri Andropov launched her on a tour of the Soviet Union to promote world peace, died in a fiery plane crash, her mother said yesterday.

Samantha's father and six other people aboard the Bar Harbor Airlines plane also died when the twin-engine turboprop plane crashed late Sunday in rain a half-mile from the Auburn-Lewiston Municipal Airport, authorities said.

Thirteen-year-old Samantha and her father, Arthur, 45, were returning from a trip to England, said Jane Smith, the girl's mother.

Smith said she visited the crash site, adding, "It's just a pit of ashes.

Samantha attracted worldwide attention two years ago when she wrote to the late Soviet leader Andropov expressing concern about the potential for nuclear war. Kennnedy leaders recorded her letter and mailed it to the Soviet Union.

In her letter Samantha asked Andropov, "Why do you want to conquer the whole world, or at least our country?" The Soviet leader replied that the United States did not want to conquer anyone.

In August, when Samantha and her father visited the Soviet Union as a guest of the late Soviet leader Yuri Andropov, she was met with a VIP treat: a parade, a reserved table at the Andropovs' home, and a stack of reference books, to help her get the most out of her experiences.

Talk-show hosts including Johnny Carson and Donahue lined up to interview her.

"I don't know what's going to happen to me," she said. "If people keep picking me up for other shows (such as 'Lime Street'), I might wind up being an actress after all. But things don't really happen after this show. I might end up being a veterinarian, or a hair stylist, or make up artist or, I don't know.

Samantha, upon returning to Manchester after her trip to the Soviet Union, was met with a limousine, given a key to the city by the governor, and cheered by thousands in a parade.

"I never thought it would result in this," she said last summer.

"Samantha couldn't accept man's inhumanity to man," her mother said in a statement. "She stood fast in the belief that peace can be achieved and maintained by mankind.

"It will be a matter of months" before the cause can be determined, said National Transportation Safety Board member Patrick Barnsley.

One woman who lives near the crash site said the plane barely missed her house and sheared off the tops of tall pine trees in her front yard.

A memorial service for Samantha and her father was planned for tomorrow at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Augusta, said Ted Warren, a friend of the family.

Samantha Smith, the thirteen-year-old girl who visited the Soviet Union as a guest of the late Soviet leader Yuri Andropov, was one of eight victims who died in a fiery plane crash yesterday. See story left.
Alumni given university honors, Mazzoli among the recipients

Special to The Observer

The Rev. John J. Cavanaugh C.S.C., Award, presented for the first time this year, will be given to Congres- sman Robert E. Mazzoli of Ken- tucky, a 1950 graduate who has been a leader in immigration reform in America.

The award is named for the Uni- versity's 14th president and honors a former student "performing out- standing service in the field of government, patriotism, public service and local, state or national government." Mazzoli has served as a U.S. representative since 1976 and is chairman of the House Judiciary Committee's Subcommittee on Im- migration, Refugees and Interna- tional Law. He is also active on the Board of Columbia and Small Busi- ness committees.

A former member of the national staff board in 1968, a second degree recipient at Notre Dame, he will receive the award on Oct. 18 at the Democrats national board on the campus.

The University of Notre Dame Alumni Association will present awards to three former students during activities planned on the campus this fall. Two of the awards for distinguished service were recently established and will be presented for the first time.

The Rev. William Corby C.S.C., President, a former student, living or deceased, "who has exemplified the values and true spirit of Notre Dame while ser- ving in the active or reserve armed forces.

Monsignor Sampson, a 1957 graduate, jumped with the 82nd Airborne Division during the Normandy invasion in June, 1944. He was awarded the second highest American military award, the Distin- guished Service Cross, after being wounded while ministering to 14 ser- vices who were unable to return with their groups to safer areas.

Father Fischer, a liturgical scholar, has lectured for many years in the Catholic Biblical Quarterly, coeditor of the Jerome Biblical As- sociation and the Society new of Biblical Literature.

Father McCool has been a mem- ber of the faculty in the 1984-86 academic year.

Four scholars will serve as visiting professors: An- tonio Dulles, of The Catholic Uni- versity of America, Washington, D.C.; Father Roland Murphy, of Duke University; Father Balduin Fischer, emeritus professor at Trier, West Germany; and Father Gerald McCool, of Fordham University.

Father Fischer is a specialist in ec- clesiastic and fundamental theol- ogy. The author of many books, he is also the editor of the Catholic Theological Society of America and the American Theological Society.

Father Murphy, an Old Testament scholar, has served as editor-in-chief of the Catholic Biblical Quarterly, coeditor of the Jerome Biblical As- sociation and editor-in-chief of Biblical Literature.

Father McCool has been a member of the faculty at the 1984-85 academic year since 1955 and is an expert on Catholic philosophy and theology in the 19th and early 20th centuries. He is the author of Catholic Theol- ogy in the Nineteenth Century.

Father Balthasar Fischer, of Duke University; Father Balthasar Fischer, Second

Ethanol continued from page 1

may be hard to find. In May, Parent traveled to Washington to lobby for federal financial assistance to deal with the problem.

On August 15, a petition with 10,000 signatures demanding a halt to the ethanol odor was presented to Parent by the Committee of En- vironmentalists Against the Smell of Ethanol, or CEASE. John Roberts, CEASE chairman, asked the mayor if the city was considering legal action against New Energy to solve the problem. Parent, however, said he has no plans for litigation.

"You think presenting me with 10,000 signatures will do someth- ing? I represent 109,000 people of South Bend," Parent said.

Walker has said that while CEASE is considering filing a lawsuit against New Energy to halt the odor, he would not be surprised if CEASE members have to raise as much as $100,000 to wage a costly court battle. But, he said, "We are capable of meeting that challenge."

Meanwhile, the New Energy plant is continuing normal operations and the ethanol odor remains a part of life in South Bend.

It's official

The Observer Tuesday, August 27, 1985 - page 7

varisty football player Hiaawatha Francisco makes sure his registration form is completed so he can take his key role on the field this fall. Most students spent part of yesterday officially regis- tering for classes.

The typical Navy man's locker.

A THREE-YEAR SCHOLARSHIP ($24,000) MAY BE EARNED BY JOINING THE NRTC UNIT IN YOUR FRESHMAN YEAR! CALL LT MCNULTY AT 239-7274.

Freshmen, we need your help!

The Observer news department has immediate openings for dedicated, energetic people interested in reporting and writing the news. We currently are staffed with a group of writers who care about what goes on at Notre Dame and Saint Mary's College, and who want to keep people well-informed. If you think this could be for you, why not give us a call? We'll stick a pencil in your hand and a notebook in your pocket and put you on the beat right away.

INTERESTED? Call Dan McCullough, Keith Har- rison or Tessa Guarino at 239-5303 TODAY!
since February 1983 the U.S.-directed war in El Salvador has been full scale, with civilian casualties mounting and gunship strafings of innocent civilians. purpose: terrorize civilians, force them to flee and thus separate guerrillas from their support population. since Duarte's election in June 1984, the air war has increased in frequency and firepower, including napalm and thus separate guerrillas from their gunship strafings of innocent civilians.

people are basically the same all over the world. individually they are driven by many different desires, needs and aspirations. but the universal need for acceptance, love and fulfillment that people are fighting back with their own desire and in some cases, the people thus had an impossible Brooks Brothers suit for his. whatever Duarte's good intentions and policies of the administration of either institution. the news is reported as accurately and as objectivity as possible. the Observer reserves the right to edit all letters which are not signed by the author. letters which are not signed by the author will not be published.

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's College. it does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. the news is reported as accurately and as objectivity as possible. the editor reserves the right to edit all letters which are not signed by the author.
How to keep wet on a dry campus

by Amy Stephan
features staff writer

Summer vacation may be over, but if we're lucky South Bend may be graced with a few more weeks of reasonable weather. Now, while the air is warm and the workload light, it's time to enjoy the last few days of sun and sand, and hit the beach.

The astute reader will have noted that we are now in Indiana, the nearest ocean is a good 12-hour drive away (if you drive the 'wrong' direction, a day at the beach may have to wait until spring break). It's true the beaches are as common as hills in Indiana, but for those who love the feel of sand between their toes, all is not lost. There are several (freshwater) beaches within striking distance.

The Warren Dunes in Michigan - the site of Emmi's famous freshman picnic - are a scant 45 minutes away. Located on Lake Michigan, the park features plenty of clean beach area, a challenging dune to scale, and year round swimming (for those who care to brave the waters of Lake Michigan in midterm winter).

The park is open from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m., and admission is $5 per car for out-of-state residents. And for hours, the dunes also feature a winter). waters of Lake Michigan in spring, and year-round swimming.

Also 45 minutes away is the New Buffalo beach. New Buffalo may not have dunes, but it does offer Redmonds, which holds itself as the home of the world's greatest hamburgers.

The New Buffalo beach is open year-round until 10 p.m. Alcoholic beverages are prohibited at this beach also, but said Tom John, city manager of New Buffalo, "normally people don't get too hauled" for having alcohol on the beach.

The rule against glass bottles, however, is strictly enforced. After all, the beach and broken glass are a hazardous mix.

John notes that the beach is "very large and there's lots of nice sand." There's no charge to swim, but there is a 45 parking fee. According to John, the quickest way to New Buffalo is to take the Indiana Toll Road west to the LaPorte exit and then follow Michigan 39 for about 8 miles to the beach.

If you don't have access to a car (and don't mind that hike) you can satisfy your craving for sand right on the Notre Dame campus. St. Joseph's beach (located on St. Joseph's Lake) will probably be open from noon to 5:30 p.m. on weekdays and from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on weekends, according to Brother Louis Hurcik, director of Notre Dame's swimming program. The weather and usage will determine when the beach will close for the season, said Hurcik.

The temperature of St. Joseph's lake is generally good for swimming between 75 and 80 degrees, since the water is heated by the power plant nearby. "It's the world's largest heated pool," said Hurcik.

Despite the warm water, generally "you'll find more people laying out, reading, than swimming," said Hurcik. "Serious swimmers come to the pool on the weekends. If you do choose to brave the waters of St. Joseph's lake, beware of the biting fish. "They'll get you" warns Hurcik. "Why do you think most people swim in the pool than in the lake?"

Right now, there's only one way to get to the Rockne Memorial, this 25-yard pool open for recreational swimming from 7:15 a.m. to 9 a.m., 12:05 p.m. to 1:15 p.m., 3:10 p.m. to 4 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. to 11 p.m. on weekdays, and from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. and 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. on weekends. The Rockne pool may not offer sun and surf, but it does provide clean towels and European spa body-shampoos. Most of the recreational swimming is lap swimming, according to Hurcik, so serious swimmers will find the Rockne pool a good place to work out.

"But be warned," the Rockne pool enforces a very strict dress code. No cutoffs, gym shorts or leotards will be tolerated. One must wear a "regular swimsuit," according to posted regulations. Men have the option of swimming in a one-of-a-kind Rockne swimsuit, or using their own. Until last year, men were required to wear the Rockne suits. Why? Because some men had a tendency to toss their wet swimsuits in their lockers. As anyone who has been in the Rockne locker rooms will tell you, the lockers are not exactly new and tend to rust. Wet swimsuits only accelerate this process. Because most swimsuits are now nylon, not cotton, they dry more quickly. Thus the ban on outside swimsuits was lifted and men are now free to wear whatever "regular swimsuit" they choose.

Freshmen enrolled in their campus maps may wonder if there aren't two pools on campus. But although it has been done, swimming in the library reflecting pool is "against the rules," said Bud Juday, library monitor.

Glass and other unsafe objects thrown in the pool are the main reasons swimming is prohibited, said Juday, adding "I don't know why anyone would want to swim in there anyway, it's so dirty."

In mid-October the Rockne is scheduled to be joined by a new aquatic facility in the ACC. According to Dennis Stark, who will administer this new pool, the facility will feature underwater music and two underwater viewing areas where swimmer's strokes can be videotaped.

The new pool will measure 50 meters by 25 yards, with two moveable bulkheads, which will allow the pool to be divided into three smaller pools. It was "designed for flexibility," according to Stark, and will be used extensively by all facets of the swimming population of Notre Dame.

Although the pool will be used mostly by the men's and women's swim teams during the competitive season, look for it to house physical education classes, aerobic conditioning, recreational swimming, and eventually synchronized swimming.

The new aquatic facility may be open after October break, and will literally quadruple the volume of water now available for indoor swimming at Notre Dame.

Racing the rapids in South Bend

by Mary Healy
features editor

I just getting wet isn't enough. We want to go all the way to the Snake River for water that's their speed.

Right here in South Bend, the nation's only artificial white water course was challenging enough for the U.S. kayak team tryouts last spring, and for an international kayak race a few weeks ago. Although its rushing currents are男人, this great challenge at one of South Bend's schools.

This week is the East Race's last of the summer, so enjoy it while it lasts. The race will be open for inner tubing tomorrow and Thursday from 5:30 to 75 p.m. If you go on an early night, rafting or kayaking is available from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., or from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday or Monday. For the very reasonable price of $1 a ride, you will receive a helmet, a life jacket, and a tube, kayak or raft.

The East Race is located on Niles Avenue in South Bend. According to South Bend Recreation Superintendent Paul McMinn, the 1,900-foot course is capable of moving 1,300 cubic feet of water per second. With the use of gates, the staff can control the speed and flow of water, adjusting its difficulty on the whitewater scale of 1 to 5. Level 2 is used for public recreation, and the course is open to 3 or 4 for professional use. The staff also can adjust obstacles in the course to "create any conditions we want," said McMinn. For the staff, the process is "kind of like a school of hydraulics - every time we change the obstacles we get a different effect," he added.

The Wabash project began in the 1970s, and only been open since July 1984. The project came from a similar course in Munich, Germany, where the 1972 Olympics were held. McMinn emphasized that safety is an important consideration at the East Race, and that although there have been several minor accidents, a safety staff of 13 has prevented any from becoming serious.

Get in on the action!

The Observer

Accent department

Accent is looking for talented, dedicated students to write feature stories, humor columns, movie and record reviews, and all about what's happening on campus. And is accepting applications for:

• Assistant features editor
• Features copy editor

Contact Mary Healy at the Observer office, 3rd floor of LaFortune, 229-5303

How to keep wet on a dry campus

by Amy Stephan
features staff writer

How to keep wet on a dry campus

by Amy Stephan
features staff writer

How to keep wet on a dry campus

by Amy Stephan
features staff writer

How to keep wet on a dry campus

by Amy Stephan
features staff writer

How to keep wet on a dry campus

by Amy Stephan
features staff writer

How to keep wet on a dry campus

by Amy Stephan
features staff writer

How to keep wet on a dry campus

by Amy Stephan
features staff writer

How to keep wet on a dry campus

by Amy Stephan
features staff writer

How to keep wet on a dry campus

by Amy Stephan
features staff writer

How to keep wet on a dry campus

by Amy Stephan
features staff writer

How to keep wet on a dry campus

by Amy Stephan
features staff writer

How to keep wet on a dry campus

by Amy Stephan
features staff writer

How to keep wet on a dry campus

by Amy Stephan
features staff writer

How to keep wet on a dry campus

by Amy Stephan
features staff writer

How to keep wet on a dry campus

by Amy Stephan
features staff writer

How to keep wet on a dry campus

by Amy Stephan
features staff writer

How to keep wet on a dry campus

by Amy Stephan
features staff writer

How to keep wet on a dry campus

by Amy Stephan
features staff writer

How to keep wet on a dry campus

by Amy Stephan
features staff writer

How to keep wet on a dry campus

by Amy Stephan
features staff writer

How to keep wet on a dry campus

by Amy Stephan
features staff writer

How to keep wet on a dry campus

by Amy Stephan
features staff writer

How to keep wet on a dry campus

by Amy Stephan
features staff writer

How to keep wet on a dry campus

by Amy Stephan
features staff writer
"Welcome Back Students!"

6325 State Road 23
Mishawaka, Indiana

Now Kroger gives you Cost Cutter Prices 24 Hours A Day, 7 Days A Week, so you can shop when it's convenient for YOU. Whatever you need... Whenever you need it... Go Krogering.

SAVE MORE THIS WEEK WITH MANUFACTURER’S DOUBLE COUPONS

12-Pack Cans, Refreshing BIG K COLA

20¢ OFF

Krogering Means Beer & Wine At Cost Cutter Prices...

This week only, Sunday, August 25 through Monday, September 2 your Manufacturers’ “Cents Off” coupons are worth double. Limit 1 coupon for any particular item. (We cannot redeem double coupons on more than one of a particular item. Only one Maxwell House, one Miracle Whip, etc. even if you have two coupons.) Limit 1 coffee coupon per customer please. State statutes do not permit doubling of cigarette or tobacco coupons. Offer limited to Manufacturers’ coupons of 50¢ value or less. Coupons over 50¢ will be redeemed at face value. You must purchase products in sizes specified on the coupon. This offer applies only to Manufacturers’ “Cents Off” coupons for items we carry and not “Free” coupons or Kroger or retail food store coupons. Amount refunded cannot exceed the cost of the item. While supplies last. No rainchecks and no substitutions.

Why take time out for a special trip when your Kroger store has all your favorite Beer & Wine brands at Cost Cutter Prices? Convenience, selection, and Cost Cutter Prices... What a combination!
The Student Activities Board Presents:

STEPAN MALL

Tuesday, August 27  9:00-5:00
Wednesday, August 28  9:00-5:00

- Refrigerator Rentals
- Lumber for your Loft and Shelves
  (Circle Lumber)
- Carpet - all colors and sizes
  (JC Penney)
- Furniture and Knick Knacks
  (Interior Concepts & Finishing Touches)
- School Supplies
  (Student Saver Store)
- Flowers and Plants
  (Irish Gardens)
- Newspapers
- Chris' Ice Cream!!!

PRICED AFFORDABLY FOR YOUR BUDGET

GET INVOLVED!!!
Students show ID and receive free med. drink with sandwich purchase. Offer expires 9/8.

Now at St. Rd. 23 and Terrace Lane across from Martin’s Supermarket 277-7744

Eslingers
Why rent when you can buy!!!
FROM $40.00

We are selling our entire stock of rental refrigerators priced $40 to $60
For Information 291-5676

2701 S. Michigan, South Bend

Carpet your dorm room with thick, beautiful carpet, but not empty your pocketbook! Sizes from 6X9, 12X7, 12X8 12X9, 12X12, 12X13, 12X14, 12X15, 12X16, 12X18 and up.

1801 South Bend Ave. Just east of Notre Dame 277-7727

RENT BY SEMESTER
Color TV *Microwave Ovens

Color City 259-7661

Stuffed Pizza
We have only good things for you
Serving You
Mon.-Thurs. 4-10 Fri.-Sat. 4-11
Free Campus Delivery Coming Soon

Corner of Notre Dame & South Bend Ave

Why wait?
Join Viewpoint today and become part of a winning team of writers.
Call Joe Murphy at 239-7471.
No experience necessary.

The Observer

All you have to do is sign up... to get involved in the fast-paced excitement of newspaper production. Positions are available on any day of the week - some are paid. If you have worked for The New York Times or have never even read a newspaper you are encouraged to apply at the Observer office on the 3rd floor of LaFortune Student Center.

The Observer

Now at St. Rd. 23 and Terrace Lane across from Martin’s Supermarket 277-7744
Welcome Back Students
The Colonial Pancake House
$1.00 OFF With This Ad
OUR SPECIALTY
OVEN-BAKED
APPLE PANCAKES
U.S. 31 North in Rowland
(Across from the Holiday Inn) 272-2433

BANKING...
ON CAMPUS AT SAINT MARY’S
1st Source Bank’s office, located at Saint Mary’s College in Haggar College Center, offers free checking to Saint Mary’s and Notre Dame students and faculty.
In addition, this office brings you the convenience of 24 hr. banking locations to serve you!

Banking Hours - Monday through Friday
Mon. thru Thurs. - 11:30 a.m. - 3:30 p.m.
Friday - 11:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m.

Join Michiana’s 1st Team
for unsurpassed banking service!

99.9 PERCENT
That is the percentage of letters to the editor that we print.
The Observer Viewpoint
Write us.
P.O. Box Q
Notre Dame, IN 46556

Support the March of Dimes
BIRTH DEFECTS FOUNDATION

Now at St. Rd. 23 and Terrace Lane across from Martin’s Supermarket
277-7744

Get The Fresh Alternative
Students show ID and receive free med. drink

Cash in...
The Observer needs creative, dedicated people to design ads, so if you’re interested, call Mary Carol Credon at 293-3461.
...on your artistic talent
Students show ID and receive free medium drink with sandwich purchase. Offer expires 9/8.

CARPET REMNANT SALE

- Over 500 Remnants
- Area's Lowest Prices
- Hundreds of Colors
- Small and Large Sizes
- Delivery Available
- Best Selection

FLOOR CENTER
402 SOUTH IRONWOOD, MISHAWAKA
PHONE: 259-5638
- CARPET • VINYL • TILE • CERAMIC • WOOD • AREA RUGS

LOCATED ON IRONWOOD ONE BLOCK SOUTH OF LINCOLNWAY, NEXT TO RAILROAD TRACKS

The Observer

$Student Pages

This Olde House Pizzeria & Pub
130 Dixie-way North
Across from Big C Lumber

This Tuesday, Aug 27 and Wednesday, Aug 28 we will deliver a medium 16" pizza with one topping for:
$7.95
(Save $2.00!) Each additional item $1
277-4519

CALL BEFORE 11 p.m. FOR DELIVERY

The Observer

Tuesday, August 27, 1985 - page 12
Sports Briefs

Returning varsity baseball players will be meeting today at 5 p.m. in the football auditorium in the ACC. All members of the 1985 team should attend and bring a pen or pencil. - The Observer

The ND Rowing Club will be holding a meeting for all returning members tomorrow at 7 p.m. in 123 Newswand Hall. - The Observer

Prospective ND baseball players will be meeting tomorrow at 5 p.m. in the football auditorium in the ACC. Anyone interested in trying out for the team should attend and bring a pen or pencil. - The Observer

A grad-faculty tennis tournament will be held by NVA on Sunday, Sept. 15. Students, faculty and staff may register as individuals or pairs. The deadline for submitting $4 greens fees to the NVA office is Sept. 11. - The Observer

Observer Sports Briefs are accepted Sunday through Friday until 4 p.m. at the Observer office on the third floor of Lauritzen Hall. Briefs should be submitted on the forms available at the office, and every brief must include the phone number of the person submitting it. - The Observer

Women's sports competitions in softball, soccer, tennis, golf and running (5K) will be part of Run, Jump, Run, a women's sports weekend, which will be held by the YWCA Sept. 15 through Sept. 17. Representatives will distribute information tomorrow and Thursday from 4:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. at the entrance to SAGA at Saint Mary's. Information and entry forms also will be available at the NVA office in the ACC until Sept. 6. - The Observer

An NVA biathlon will be held Saturday at 10:30 a.m. at St. Joseph Lake. Registration is free but limited to the first 50 entries. The deadline for entries is Friday at 5 p.m. at the NVA office in the ACC. - The Observer

A scramble golf tournament will be held by NVA on Sept. 13. Students, faculty and staff may register as individuals or pairs. The deadline for submitting $4 greens fees to the NVA office is Sept. 11. - The Observer

Positions Available

Walters
Waitresses
Bartenders
Attendants

Electronic Catering Employment Positions

Apply to:
Delores - North Dining Hall (6176)
Jean - South Dining Hall (6147)
Patt - Huddle (7157)

By providing your name and social security number, we will clear financial aid for you.
By JEFF BLUMB
Sports Editor

There was a shuffling of bodies this summer in the Notre Dame basketball offices, all of which was started by the departure of assistant coach Pete Gillen to take the head job at Xavier. The resulting changes saw part-time assistant Jim Baron promoted to the vacant full-time position and Matt Kilcullen hired to take Baron's spot.

Gillen left Notre Dame's employment on Aug. 12, when he accepted Xavier's offer to be head coach. He actually was interviewed for the job on a Friday night, Gillen recently said. He was the only person the Musketeers was interested in replacing the opportunity.

Once Gillen left for Cincinnati, Phelps immediately replaced him by promoting Baron.

"When Pete Gillen accepted the job at Xavier, there was no question in my mind that Jim Baron was the person who would move into that spot," Phelps said. "He has paid his dues as a part-time assistant for four years, and he know our program as well as anyone. He deserves this opportunity to increase his responsibilities as far as our overall staff is concerned."

Baron came to Notre Dame in time for the 1981-82 season following previous college coaching experience at St. Bonaventure, Loyola (Md.) and the University of Denver. His playing experience includes time as a three-year starter at guard for St. Bonaventure and a brief stint in the Continental Basketball League.

"I'm very happy for Pete," Baron said. "My new job will be more challenging and it is something that I definitely was looking forward to doing one day." Baron now will be allowed to go on the road to recruit. His responsibilities will be center more on recruiting and less on scouting, as they previously had. Part-time assistants are not allowed to do off-campus recruiting.

Kilcullen is no stranger to Notre Dame. He has been on the coaching staff of the Notre Dame basketball camp for each of the past 10 years. "We consider Matt to be one of the bright young talents in the coaching profession," said Phelps. "We've had a chance to watch him work and we work with him during our summer camp, so we're quite familiar with him. He comes from a solid basketball background."

The 30-year-old Bronx, N.Y., native had been an assistant at Siena College the past three seasons, and reportedly was all set to become an assistant at Rutgers before the Notre Dame job came along. Following a 23-7 record by Siena last season, its best mark in 33 seasons, Kilcullen was promoted earlier this summer to the position of associate head coach.

"Once I had worked at camps here," said Kilcullen, "it became a goal of mine to one day be a coach here. I've always kept in touch. I'm not overly familiar with Notre Dame's personnel, having only watched them on TV, but know that the nucleus is very good."

"Growing up as an Irish kid in the Bronx, I've always followed Notre Dame. I don't think I could be happier anywhere else right now." Previously, Kilcullen had been head coach at Castleton State College in Castleton, Vt. for three seasons.

Wrestling hits ACC tonight

If the excitement of professional wrestling is your cup of tea, prepare yourself. The World Wrestling Federation Super Stars of Wrestling comes to the ACC tonight with its bouts scheduled for an 8:00 starting time.

The night's main event will be an Inter-Continental title match between Tito Santana and Greg 'The Hammer' Valentine. In other bouts, Tony Atlas squares off with 'The Missing Link,' Ivan Popovskya matchs up with Adrian Adonis, George 'The Animal' Steele wrestles Mike Sharpe and Tony Garea faces King Kong Bundy. In a tag team match, The British Bulldogs meet Volkoff and The Sheik.

Tickets are $9 and 47 reserved and are on sale at the Gatre 10 box office of the ACC.

ALL-TRONICS
6502 N. GRAPE ROAD, UNIVERSITY CENTER, MISHAWAKA
PHONE 277-1801

ALL-TROJANS
1841 SOUTH BEND AVE.
State Road 23, 1/4 mile west of Martin's Supermarket

Welcome Back Students
(Especially Campus Zoo Animals)

KEGS $34.88
Bud, Bud Light, and Strohs
Free Bag of Ice with each Keg
Cooler Tubs Available
(Liberal Deposit Policy)

Bud Quarts
$9.99/ case

(while quantities last)

277-6805
LSU cancellation leaves ND, NBC with open date in Dec.

By PHIL WOLF
Assistant Sports Editor

It may seem as though there is a lot of time before basketball season starts, but the Notre Dame basketball team already has encountered difficulties. Although the scheduling of games usually is completed by the end of the summer, Notre Dame's 1985-86 schedule still is not finished.

The "final" schedule was released in late June, but since then, a nationally televised contest with Louisiana State has been canceled, forcing NBC Television officials to scramble to find a new opponent for the Irish.

NBC had arranged for LSU to visit the ACC for a Saturday afternoon contest on Jan. 18. The Tigers agreed to the date but then discovered that they were unable to rearrange their schedule to accommodate the game. As a result, LSU backed out of the agreement, leaving Notre Dame and NBC with an open date.

"(LSU) had committed to the Notre Dame game," NBC's Rich Hussey explained. "But we had worked very hard with the conference in order to get their SEC schedule juggled so that they could make it.

"The sticky point," Hussey said, "was that they could not get out of an away game outside of the conference. They tried, but they could not come up with anything that was satisfactory to the people they had contacts with."

Notre Dame Assistant Athletic Director Joe Valdiserri noted that LSU's backing out of the scheduled game was an unusual move.

"If UCLA were to play the next day? Would you play that team?" Hussey pointed out. "Most people have their schedules set."

As it now stands, the Irish schedule features 14 games against teams that play in post-season tournaments in 1985. Notre Dame will face NCAA qualifiers Maryland, DePaul and Dayton and NIT entrants UCLA, Marquette and Butler at the ACC.

Notre Dame will continue its home-and-away series against Midwest independent VanDyke. Dayton and DePaul. The Irish also will play at North Carolina, Duke and Syracuse on nationally televised games.

Valdiserri explained how the networks schedule the big contests which they televise. "The big matchups on TV are made by the networks," he said. "If they need a good matchup, they'll call us and say, 'Would you play that day? Would you play that team?'" They'll give us the name of a team or a selection of three or four teams.

"(That TV exposure) is what has helped college basketball," he continued. "It started with the Notre Dame/UCLA game years ago. They were such great games, and other teams want to be on, but the games had to be inter­national to maintain a good level of interest."

In addition, Valdiserri said, "when you make out your schedule, you try to arrange to meet good teams on weekends so that they can play that day? Would you play that team?" They'll give us the name of a team or a selection of three or four teams.

"(That TV exposure) is what has helped college basketball," he continued. 'It started with the Notre Dame/UCLA game years ago. They were such great games, and other teams want to be on, but the games had to be international to maintain a good level of interest."

Valdiserri explained how the networks schedule the big contests which they televise.

"The big matchups on TV are made by the networks," he said. "If they need a good matchup, they'll call us and say, 'Would you play that day? Would you play that team?'" They'll give us the name of a team or a selection of three or four teams.

"(That TV exposure) is what has helped college basketball," he continued. "It started with the Notre Dame/UCLA game years ago. They were such great games, and other teams want to be on, but the games had to be international to maintain a good level of interest."

In addition, Valdiserri said, "when you make out your schedule, you try to arrange to meet good teams on weekends so that they can play that day? Would you play that team?" They'll give us the name of a team or a selection of three or four teams.

"(That TV exposure) is what has helped college basketball," he continued. "It started with the Notre Dame/UCLA game years ago. They were such great games, and other teams want to be on, but the games had to be international to maintain a good level of interest."

In addition, Valdiserri said, "when you make out your schedule, you try to arrange to meet good teams on weekends so that they can play that day? Would you play that team?" They'll give us the name of a team or a selection of three or four teams.

"(That TV exposure) is what has helped college basketball," he continued. "It started with the Notre Dame/UCLA game years ago. They were such great games, and other teams want to be on, but the games had to be international to maintain a good level of interest."

Valdiserri explained how the networks schedule the big contests which they televise. "The big matchups on TV are made by the networks," he said. "If they need a good matchup, they'll call us and say, 'Would you play that day? Would you play that team?'" They'll give us the name of a team or a selection of three or four teams.

"(That TV exposure) is what has helped college basketball," he continued. "It started with the Notre Dame/UCLA game years ago. They were such great games, and other teams want to be on, but the games had to be international to maintain a good level of interest."

In addition, Valdiserri said, "when you make out your schedule, you try to arrange to meet good teams on weekends so that they can play that day? Would you play that team?" They'll give us the name of a team or a selection of three or four teams.

"(That TV exposure) is what has helped college basketball," he continued. "It started with the Notre Dame/UCLA game years ago. They were such great games, and other teams want to be on, but the games had to be international to maintain a good level of interest."

In addition, Valdiserri said, "when you make out your schedule, you try to arrange to meet good teams on weekends so that they can play that day? Would you play that team?" They'll give us the name of a team or a selection of three or four teams.

"(That TV exposure) is what has helped college basketball," he continued. "It started with the Notre Dame/UCLA game years ago. They were such great games, and other teams want to be on, but the games had to be international to maintain a good level of interest."

In addition, Valdiserri said, "when you make out your schedule, you try to arrange to meet good teams on weekends so that they can play that day? Would you play that team?" They'll give us the name of a team or a selection of three or four teams.

"(That TV exposure) is what has helped college basketball," he continued. "It started with the Notre Dame/UCLA game years ago. They were such great games, and other teams want to be on, but the games had to be international to maintain a good level of interest."

Additional information from NBC.

Wednesday Newton
December 30 Saturday North Carolina
January 4 Sunday UTADI
1 December 7 is still open.
2 UCLA game on January 18 is still tentative.
continued from page 20

Yves Audiol, former coach at Portland State for the past 10 years, was named head coach of the Saint Mary's tennis of the Saint Mary's team for her final District 21 of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics. A native of Edina, Minn., was a member of the United States National Olympic fencing coach at Belmont College for three seasons (1980-83). This followed four years as the tennis coach at Valparaiso.

A member of the United States Professional Tennis Association and the Intercollegiate Tennis Coaches Association, Gelfman also has earned various awards for her coaching ability and was a finalist for the East Coast Clay Court Championships a few years back.

Gelfman will direct the Irish women's team this year as it moves up to Division 1 play following a finish as national runner-up at the Division II level last spring.

Heading the Saint Mary's tennis team in her first head coaching position is Debra Laverie, a 1985 graduate of the College. Laverie, who played tennis for the Belles at the number-one singles and doubles position for four years, ended her collegiate career ranked 15th in both singles and doubles competition in Division 21 of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics. She currently ranks 10th nationally in the NCAA.

Laverie, a Columbus, Ohio, native who has played tennis competitively since the age of 12, served as captain of the Saint Mary's team for her final two years and earned most valuable player honors all four years. In addition, she also was awarded the College's prestigious Athlete of the Year award her junior and senior years.

Tom Carroll is set to join Irish hockey coach Lefty Smith's staff this fall as an assistant. The 24-year old native of Edina, Minn., was a member of two state championship teams at Edina High School, and later attended Wisconsin, where he played on two national championship teams of the Badgers.

He was an assistant coach at Culver Military Academy in Culver, Ind., last season.

Steve Beuerlein was selected as one of eight NCAA representatives on drug abuse. He will tape a public service announcement as part of a program to prevent youth drug abuse, with the announcements scheduled to run this fall during college football games.
Sports

Beuerlein will be ready, but Griffin out for year

QB says he'll play in opener vs. Michigan

By JEFF BLUMBERG Sports Editor

"I'll be ready for the Michigan game. There's no doubt in my mind," Notre Dame quarterback Steve Beuerlein said last Tuesday night. "I've been trying to rest any rumors to the contrary."

Beuerlein underwent successful shoulder surgery on April 16 to repair a painful chipped collarbone that hampered his throwing last season. Many observers had pinned Notre Dame's hopes for success in '85 on his ability to make a complete recovery in time for the season. That question mark now may have been erased with the junior's proclamation that he will be under center, when Sept. 14 rolls around. "I'll be fine, but the thing I feel bad about is Mike. He has worked so darn hard. He has overcome a number of injuries and he came back this fall in great football shape only to have this happen," said Rick Lantz, coach of the defensive line. "He was one of the leaders on the defense who really excelled both physically and by his consistent play."

Fifth-year senior Mike Kierman is listed behind Griffin on the depth chart with sophomore Matt Dingens very close behind him. Kierman played in five games last season, as well as in all five games his freshman year.

There also has been some talk of filling the hole created by Griffin's injury by moving senior Eric Dorsey from his starting left tackle position. "It's a tough break," said Notre Dame Ticket Manager Mike Bobinski. "But Mike Griffin is a tough player and he'll be back and ready to go next fall."

A two-year monogram winner, Griffin is a veteran of 22 games in his Irish career and is best known for his solid play against the run.

Sophomore quarterback Terry Andrasky also suffered recent injury, but it was one of a far less serious nature. In somewhat of a freak accident that occurred while playing basketball, Andrasky broke a bone in his left hand, below his little finger. The injury occurred two weeks ago, just before Andrasky was scheduled to return to campus for the opening of fall practice.

Andrasky's hand was fitted with a cast and returned to Notre Dame, and it is expected that he will have to continue wearing some sort of protection for the next four to six weeks. Because the finger is not on his throwing hand, however, he has not been forced to miss any practices, and he has suffered no limitations on his playing time in practice thus far.

Andrasky, along with classmate Tom Byrne, figures to be the main backup to returning quarterback Steve Beuerlein this season.

---

Football ticket distribution will begin with seniors on Sept. 2

It is time once again for that annual experience known as "ticket distribution." All students should receive season football ticket applications at their local on- or off-campus address by Friday.

Applications should not be mailed in. They should be brought, along with remittance (cash or check) and ID to Gate 3 of the ACC at the time specified for each class.

Any student who has not received his application by Friday should go to the LaFortune Ballroom between 3 a.m. and 7 p.m. on Friday or between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. on Saturday. Those students who have an incorrect class shown on their applications must obtain a letter from the dean's office before getting a ticket. This letter must be presented at Gate 3 along with the ticket application.

Any student who has not received his application by Friday should go to the LaFortune Ballroom between 3 a.m. and 7 p.m. on Friday or between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. on Saturday to pick up an application. The Ombudsmen will be on hand to help answer any questions.

Those students who have an incorrect class shown on their applications must obtain a letter from the dean's office before getting a ticket. This letter must be presented at Gate 3 along with the ticket application. The Ombudsmen will be on hand to help answer any questions.

"Some people may try to double up and get two tickets," he said, "but it is only a matter of time before we catch those people and are sure we are sending the right tickets to the right people."

---

Special announcement highlight summer of '85

To some people, it may have seemed quiet at Notre Dame during the summer months as most students left the two campuses for home. Still, there was quite a bit of activity related to ND athletic events over the summer. The following is a rundown of some of the more important happenings.

The coaching team of Gallo and Dennis Stark took on new responsibilities in the Notre Dame athletic department. As the new chairman of the University's Department of Physical Education and head coach of the Irish women's tennis team, Gallo assumed those positions to become assistant football coach at Johns Hopkins.

After coming to Notre Dame in 1977, Petro served three years as the first women's basketball coach, taking a walk-on program and coaching it to a 20-6 record and a berth in the NCAA national tournament by its third season.

Probably best known as coach of the women's tennis team, she put together an impressive 114-45 record over seven seasons. Under her direction, the Irish finished third in Division II play in 1983 and '84, before placing second last spring. That '89 squad went 25-3 and Petro was named NCAA Division II coach of the year.

She will continue to teach in the physical education department as she works in a number of administrative areas under Corrigan.

Gallo, in his sixth season as baseball coach, takes over the head coaching duties in 1981 and presently owns a 119-108-3 record following the '89 season. He owns both undergraduate and master's degrees from the University of Southern California.

Following 27 years as Notre Dame's men's and women's swimming coach, Stark took over the head coaching chores in 1981 and presently owns a 119-108-3 record following the '89 season. He owns both undergraduate and master's degrees from the University of Southern California.

Gallo, in his sixth season as baseball coach, takes over the head coaching duties in 1981 and presently owns a 119-108-3 record following the '89 season. He owns both undergraduate and master's degrees from the University of Southern California.

Stark took over as head women's swimming coach in 1981 and presently owns a 119-108-3 record following the '89 season. He owns both undergraduate and master's degrees from the University of Southern California.

---

Student Athlete of the Week

Junior quarterback Steve Beuerlein put to rest any rumors that he would not be ready for Notre Dame's opening football game with his recent proclamation that he would, indeed, be under center when the Irish take on the Michigan Wolverines on Sept. 14.